INTRODUCTION

Owing to unfortunate labor conditions that prevailed last fall and winter, the publication of the 1919 Hand Book has been delayed several months.

Almost three-fifths of the last edition was destroyed by fire and water while being prepared for the bindery. Insurance saved the State from loss, but the plan of distributing the book had to be modified to meet conditions. Members of the Legislature received but ten copies each—as their allotment—instead of fifty.

“West Virginia in the War” was a special feature of the 1918 edition. Heads of the several war activities responded generously to an invitation to prepare articles covering their departments, and assist in recording history while it was being made. A great deal of time was devoted to the work; and while the armistice was declared shortly before the book came from the press, the Victory Loan, War Savings Stamps, Red Cross and Allied War Work campaigns were still on.

Because of the destruction of so large a part of the 1918 edition, and the limited circulation the war history received, it was decided to have that history revised and completed and made a special feature of the present edition, in order that it might all appear in one volume. And it has accordingly been done. It occupies so much space, that the usual matter pertaining to the several departments of the State government and State institutions has been cut down materially. However, owing to the delay in publication much of that matter is now out of date. After being revised and revived, it will appear in the next edition.

While this is a 1919 Hand Book, a material advantage has been taken of the delay heretofore referred to. The roster of officers and employes of the State government has been revised to date, and the alphabetical list of post offices corrected to March 1.

JOHN T. HARRIS.

WEST VIRGINIA MUNICIPALITIES

Note—In an effort to secure for publication in this department of the Hand Book a brief charter history of each West Virginia municipality, together with a conservative estimate of municipal population and a list of the more important officers, Mayors throughout the State were requested to furnish the necessary information on which to base such publication. The matter following was prepared from data received from them. In some instances the Mayors failed to comply with the compiler's request and their municipalities are necessarily omitted; in other instances the data for a brief charter history was supplied for a former edition but a list of municipal officers was not furnished for 1919.

DIGEST OF ELECTION LAWS.

Prepared by FRANK LIVELY, Assistant Attorney General.

REGISTRATION.

Appointment of Registrars.

County court of each county must hold regular or special session first Monday in March in years when president of the United States is to be elected, and in other years in which general election is held, on first Monday in May, and appoint two registrars, one from each of the then dominant political parties. The chairman of each dominant party may, by writing signed by him and filed with the court, select a registrar for his party to be so appointed. A person who has been convicted of a felony, or who holds an elective or appointive office, or who is an employee under the laws of this State, or the United States, or who is not a qualified voter of the precinct, or who cannot read or write in English, or who is a candidate to be voted for, is not eligible as registrar. If no person in the voting precinct is eligible, one may be recommended from the county by the chairman. Vacancies may be filled by the court or by the clerk in vacation in like manner. Registrars shall take and file oath to properly perform duties and that they are regular members of their respective parties. (Sec. 98-a-I.) County court must furnish proper registration books to the registrars. (Sec. 98-a-II).

Duties of Registrars.

Registrars must be notified of the appointment by clerk within five days, and copies of notice mailed to each chairman of his party registrars. In presidential years the clerk must see that registration books are delivered to registrars before third Monday in March; in other years before third Monday in May. Registrars must meet in presidential years on first Monday in April, in other years on first Monday in June, and proceed to register the voters, and must visit the usual place of abode of every voter; should one registrar fail or refuse to act, the other shall complete the registration, and the county court shall cause the names so registered by the one registrar to be copied on the other registrar's book for the precinct so as to complete the registration. Registrars must write the Christian name, surname, place of residence, age, color, native or foreign-born of each voter and other information required, in the proper places in the registration books. Violations by registrars of these provisions are punished by not less than fifty dollars fine and jail sentence of not less than thirty days. (Sec. 98-a-III). Registrars have the right to administer oaths to the registrant and must be satisfied of his right to vote and registry, and may propound stated questions to the registrant for that purpose. Persons who will become twenty one years of age between time of registration and election, or by having resided in the state and county sufficient time before the election, and otherwise qualified, shall be registered. (Sec. 98-a-IV). If registrar is not satisfied that any voter has a right to be registered he should require affidavit showing right, wherein voter shall give full information required in section four; if affidavit is satisfactory, then voter to be registered; but registrar may mark affidavit "challenged" and return same for preservation to county clerk and any citizen or voter may have the right of voter thus challenged determined by county court. A false affidavit subjects the voter to confinement in the penitentiary, or in the discretion of the court to jail for not less than one nor more than six months. (98-a-V). Registrars must sit together two days commencing first Monday in May in presidential years, in all other years first Monday in July, between nine o'clock A. M. to one o'clock P. M. and from two o'clock P. M. to nine o'clock, after posting notices thereof for ten days prior thereto in five most conspicuous places in the precinct, and the books shall be open for public inspection and for registration of all legal voters not registered. Two alphabetical lists shall then be made by registrars and returned to the county court on or before the second Monday in May in presidential years, and in other years on or before the second Monday in July. These lists shall then be open for public inspection until five days before election. Copies may be had by any person upon the payment of one cent a name to the registrars for each copy furnished. (98-a, VI.) Registrars are required to return lists on second Monday, whereas the county court is required to sit on first Monday to examine and correct these lists which may yet be in hands of registrars; a discrepancy).

Duties of County Court.

County court must convene on first Monday in month next preceding primary or general election (except in elections where no registration is required) and on the fifth day preceding any special election, (except in presidential years the court must sit on first Monday in May) to hear and determine all matters pertaining to registration, to examine return of registrars, and strike off or add thereto names of voters as the right may appear. In special elections the court shall adopt last registration and complete same by striking off or adding thereto as the right may appear. Appeals may be had from action of county court to circuit court, and thence to supreme court of appeals.

Twenty days before any general election the county court shall cause the books of registration to be placed with the registrars in each precinct, who shall again sit together in the precinct for two days beginning on the third Monday next prior to the election, after giving notice by posting for five days, and further amend and correct the same and register qualified voters; they shall then make out, sign and return two alphabetical lists to the county court, which shall sit on the Tuesday next preceding election and register legal voters who have not been registered and who appear and apply to be registered. No person shall be allowed to vote unless registered. (98-a-VII).

Circuit and Supreme Court to Sit.

Circuit and supreme court must hold such session as may be necessary to determine questions of registration prior to elections, giving preference thereto over all other cases. (98-a-VIII).

Transfers.

Not later than Saturday preceding the election any voter who has moved into another precinct may obtain a transfer either from the registrars of his former precinct, or from the clerk of the county court a certificate of transfer, which shall entitle him to vote in the precinct of his then residence. (98-a-IX).

Registration Books Furnished to Commissioners—Special Elections.

The county clerk must furnish one of the registration books, with ballot boxes and other election supplies to the election commissioners; except in special elections, in lieu of the registration book, a certified list of the voters in the precinct shall be furnished by the clerk, for which he shall be allowed two cents for each name so certified. (98-a-X).

Who Entitled to Vote.

Only those persons duly registered or legally transferred shall be entitled to vote.

Penalties.

Any election commissioner violating the provisions of the registration laws shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars and confined in jail not less than ten nor more than ninety days.

Any registrars wilfully refusing to register a legal voter or wilfully registering an illegal voter shall be guilty of a felony, or failing to perform any duty required by the registration act shall be subject to fine and imprisonment. The compensation of the registrars is ten cents for each name registered.

Return and Destruction of Registration Books.

Election commissioners must return registration books with election returns to county clerk, who will at end of one year from date of general election destroy the registration books by fire. (98-a-IV).

Municipal Elections.

The registration law does not apply to municipal elections, but the law-making power of a city, town or village may adopt the act.

Mandamus.

Any duty required by any person or officer may be compelled by mandamus by the circuit court or supreme court.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

(Amended in 1919.)

Persons Nominated—Political Party Defined.

All political committees, delegates and candidates for election, except candidates for judges, candidates to fill vacancies in special elections, presidential electors, and municipal candidates in towns of less than ten thousand inhabitants, must be nominated by primary election. A political party is an affiliation of electors representing a party or organization which at last preceding general election polled for its candidate for governor at least one per cent of the total vote for that office in the state.

Dates.

The date of holding state primaries in presidential years is the last Tuesday in May; in all other years the first Tuesday in August before elections. Notice thereof must be published in two newspapers of opposite politics of the dominant parties for two weeks next prior thereto. The date of holding municipal primaries is fixed by charter or ordinance, but cannot be on day of general primary, nor less than twenty five days prior to municipal election. A city or town of less than thirty thousand inhabitants may adopt its own method for nominating candidates. Polls at primaries must be opened at 6:30 A. M. and close at 6:30 P. M., eastern time.

Executive Committees—How Composed—Terms of Office.

State executive committee for each party is chosen at May primary and is composed of two from each senatorial district. The committee so chosen may appoint three committeemen at large. Congressional, judicial and senatorial committees are composed of one member from each county selected by the voters of the county. County committee is composed of two from each magisterial district, but where there is a city of ten thousand or more, an additional member is selected from each ward. A political party which cast less than ten per cent of the total vote for governor at the last preceding general election or any group of citizens, may nominate candidates and select committees by party conventions, or by petition or certificate from the voters as set out in Sec. 23, but such nominations must be made and certificates filed within twenty days after said primary. Term of committee shall be four years from June 15th, after the primary; vacancies may be filled by proper committee for the unexpired term. (Sec. 3).

Commissioners and Clerks.

County court on second Tuesday of month preceding primary must appoint three commissioners and two poll clerks, from the two dominant political parties of the county; and the executive committee thereof may request in writing—as in the general election—the appointment of commissioners and clerks named by them, and if qualified such persons so named must be appointed by the court. The persons so appointed must have same qualifications as those appointed to conduct general elections. Should none of the commissioners or clerks appear at the polls, the voters present being not fewer than ten, may select same, giving each dominant party the proper representation. List of persons appointed by county court must be published two weeks prior to elections in two newspapers of opposite politics. (Sec. 4). (See election commissioners and clerks, double election boards under head of "general elections.")

Ballot Commissioners.

County executive committees of the dominant parties, not later than second Monday of month preceding primary, shall select a ballot commissioner who with the clerk of the circuit court shall constitute board of primary ballot commissioners. (Sec. 5).

Election Books, Ballots and Boxes.

County clerk must deliver to one of the commissioners, three days before primary, registration book, affirmation books used at last primary, blank affirmation books, poll books with oaths of the commissioners and clerks printed thereon, booths and ballot boxes, and whatever else is necessary for holding election and making returns. (Sec. 6). The commissioners and clerks each must take and subscribe oath to conduct the election properly. At primaries where double election boards are appointed, two ballot boxes shall be furnished by county clerk. (Sec. 37).

Announcements of Candidates.

Candidates for office to be filled by voters of more than a county, must file declarations of candidacy with the secretary of state: for county offices, with circuit clerk. Within thirty days before the primary, secretary of state certifies names of candidates filed with him to circuit clerk giving name, residence and party affiliation.

Certificates of all candidates for nominations must be filed at least thirty days before primary.

Ballots.

A separate ballot of different colors selected by the secretary of state, shall be used by each party. Sample ballots shall be of same color as the party ballot. (Sec. 10).

At least twenty-five days before primary election the primary ballot commissioners must prepare from the announcements filed a sample primary ballot and publish same in a party paper, if there be one, in at least two issues. Said board must also cause the ballots to be printed and distributed as in general elections, sending to each voting precinct twice as many ballots as there were party voters at last general election. (Sec. 11). (Notice: Candidate for office in political division greater than county must file declaration of candidacy with secretary of state at least thirty days before primary: for county offices, or less, with the circuit clerk within thirty days before the day fixed for primary. Candidates for federal offices shall be placed in first column on the ballot; for state offices, (except supreme court candidates), state committee, and all other offices to be voted for by political divisions greater than a county, in second column; for county and district offices, (except for judges), congressional, senatorial and judicial committeemen, in third column; and for district offices and county committeemen in fourth column. The position of the names in each division must be changed in printing ballots, as many times as there are names therein. On the back, in plain legible black face type, shall be printed the name of the political party followed by the word "Ballot;" and below two black lines followed by "Poll Clerks."

Voting—Affirmation Book.

Voter must announce his name, and if duly registered or transferred, shall sign party affirmation book, then his party ballot is delivered to him, first being signed on back by poll clerks, and the ballot is cast by him in much the same manner as at a general election. (Sec. 13).

Result Certificates.

Before proceeding to ascertain result after polls closed, commissioners must first destroy by fire ballots not voted; next, ascertain the total vote cast by each party, as shown on affirmation books; next, the ballot box opened and votes counted as in general election, and the result set out in form of certificates for each party signed by commissioners and clerks; one certificate shall be returned to county clerk with election returns; one posted on front door of polling place; one mailed to clerk of circuit court; and the other mailed to secretary of state by registered mail, (vote for county and district candidates not included).

All party ballots must be sealed in separate envelopes and signed across seal by commissioners and clerks. Wilful failure or neglect to prepare and send out certificates of result is misdemeanor with fine and imprisonment. (Sec. 14).

Ballots and Election Supplies.

Ballot commissioners must appoint one commissioner to get the ballots and election supplies from the county and circuit clerks, and he shall attend there and receive them at least three days before the primary and deliver same at his election precinct before time to open. Upon failure of commissioner to appear for such supplies before close of second day prior to the primary, ballot commissioners must send them by special messenger. Upon loss or destruction of such supplies the ballot commissioners must immediately dispatch new supply. (Secs. 15 and 16). Election commissioners who received supplies shall return to county court ballot boxes and all other returns, except the sealed package directed to the circuit clerk, which he shall deliver to that official, and which shall contain one poll book, tally sheet and certificate of each party. (Sec. 17).

Canvass of Returns.

County court sits on Friday succeeding primary and publicly ascertains and records result showing number of votes each candidate received at each precinct; make up and sign certificates of result, and for political divisions greater than county send to secretary of state: certificates for county or less are filed with circuit clerk. If requested, the county chairman of each party shall be furnished certificate of result. Secretary of state must certify to circuit clerk the names of those candidates in divisions larger than county who have received majority of votes and are entitled to be placed on official ballot. He shall also certify to circuit clerk candidates nominated by political parties polling less than ten per cent of vote cast for governor. (Sec. 19).

Vacancies.

Vacancies occurring after the primary for failure of party nomination, or for any cause, shall be filled by the proper executive committee of that party, but vacancies for failure of nomination must be filled within 20 days after primary and a tie for nomination shall be settled by said committee by lot. (Act of 1919, Sec. 20). (Section 29, chapter 3, Code, 1918, general election laws, says vacancies in nominations may be filled and certified in the same manner as originally made; but if no filled within twenty days next preceding day of election, where office is for entire state, or within ten days before the election, for any other office, the chairman of the party may fill the vacancy).

Expenses of Primary.

Expenses of primary and per diem of election officers shall be paid by county court as other election expenses are paid, but no compensation to any executive committee shall be included.

Appeals—Contests.

A candidate may appeal from the action of party committee, or board of canvassers, to circuit court, thence to supreme court. Contests are governed by the law of contests in elections. (Sec. 22).

Primary not Exclusive Method of Nominating.

Political parties having national organization, and having cast less than ten per cent of total vote cast for governor, at the last preceding general election, may nominate candidates otherwise than by convention or primary. It may be done by certificate of the voters residing in the political division, to a number equal to one per cent of the entire vote cast in the political division in the last preceding general election. The signatures shall not exceed one thousand nor be less than twenty-five, and need not be all on one certificate. A person who has signed such certificate cannot vote in primary, nor can one who has voted in primary sign such certificate. It is a felony so to do. Such certificate must be filed not less than thirty days before the primary with the officers who make up the official ballot. (Sec. 23).

General Election Laws Applicable.

General election laws—so far as applicable and not in conflict with primary law—shall govern primary elections. (Sec. 24).

Offenses.

Any primary officer or committeeman wilfully neglecting any duty imposed by law or tampering with any ballot, return or certificate, or wilfully doing any act in any way to interfere with utmost honesty and fairness of nominating candidates; or any person who shall cast more than one vote, or vote under an assumed name, or make any false affidavit respecting his or another's right to vote at primary, is subject to confinement in penitentiary not less than one nor more than three years.

Expense Account.

No person shall be placed on ballot in general election until he has filed the affidavit of expenses required by law.

Political Committees.

State committee may make or change rules for party government not inconsistent with law. National committeemen are selected according to rules of national committee, and if no such rules exist then by state committee. Two state committeemen are elected from each senatorial district. Sub-committees may be appointed by any committee, but shall not discharge duties imposed by law on the whole committee. (Sec. 23).

Municipal Executive Committees.

The law governing executive committees generally, shall apply to municipal committees in regard to primaries, so far as applicable; and the primary election law shall govern municipal primaries, so far as applicable. (Sec. 28).

Nominations of Judges and Presidential Electors—Platforms.

Party platforms shall be adopted, presidential electors selected, and candidates for office of judge of the supreme court nominated, at party convention called by the chairman of state committee, to be held between 1st and 15th of August of presidential years. Candidates for circuit judges are nominated by conventions held on 2nd Tuesday of August in the year in which judges are elected, at the county seat of the county entitled to the largest number of delegates. County executive committees call district conventions to be held on the Tuesday before said judicial convention to select delegates thereto and one delegate must be selected for each one hundred votes or fraction thereof above fifty cast at preceding election for President. Said committee meets on the Thursday before judicial convention to hear contests, if any, from whose decision appeal lies to circuit or supreme court. Nominations for common pleas, intermediate or criminal courts are made by conventions to delegates elected or appointed in the same manner as delegates to conventions to nominate circuit judge. All such nominations shall be certified by chairman and secretary of convention within twenty days thereafter to the clerk of the circuit court of the county or circuit, as the case may be. (Sec. 29 Acts 1919).

Plurality Vote Governs.

The candidate receiving the plurality vote cast by party for the office in his political division, shall be declared nominated. (Sec. 30.)

Presidential Preference.

In presidential years the voters shall have opportunity for expressing their choice for president; and the names of such aspirants shall be printed at the head of the ticket upon the filing with the secretary of state of the announcement, and the vote for president shall be counted and certified and returned in the same manner as the vote for governor is counted, certified and returned. Candidate for delegate to national convention must file with his announcement, a statement whether or not he will support the choice of the people in the primary.

GENERAL ELECTIONS.Persons Entitled to Vote—Secret or Open Ballot.

The male citizens only, who have been residents of the state for one year and of the county sixty days, who are of sound mind, not paupers, nor under conviction of treason, felony or bribery in an election, shall be entitled to vote; and all voting shall be by ballot, either open, sealed or secret as the voter may select.

Duelling.

To send challenge or to fight a duel in or out of the state, or to act as a second, or to aid or assist in a duel prevents any citizen of this state from holding office.

Date for Holding Election—Beginning of Terms.

Election of state and county officers, and members of legislature are on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Terms of state offices begin March 4th after election, county offices on January 1st following except member of legislature, whose term begins December 1st after election, and county superintendent of schools whose term begins on July 1st after election.

Terms of Office.

Governor, secretary of state, state superintendent of free schools, treasurer, auditor attorney general, and commissioner of agriculture; prosecuting attorney, sheriff, surveyor, assessor, justices and constables are elected for four years, clerks of county and circuit courts for six years; circuit judges for eight years, and supreme court judges for twelve years. Congressmen are elected every two years, (terms beginning March 4th after election) and United States senators every six years, their terms beginning on March 4th after election.

Magisterial Districts.

Each county must be laid off into not less than three nor more than ten magisterial districts by county court, in each of which shall be elected a justice and constable, if population is less than 1200, if more, two justices and two constables for four-year terms, beginning January first after election, and a board of education for like term, which term shall begin July 1st following election.

Election Precincts.

County court must establish election precincts by designated boundaries, and if at any voting place two hundred and fifty votes or more are cast at any election the court shall at its next regular meeting divide the precinct so that the new precincts formed shall contain two hundred votes, as nearly as practicable. Should a voting place be destroyed by fire, or for any reason election cannot be held thereat, and no other place has been fixed by the court, commissioners may hold same at nearest practicable place, made known by proclamation at first named place. Any consolidation of districts or change of boundaries must be made by county court at least ninety days before election, and notice thereof duly published and posted.

Election Commissioners and Clerks—Double Election Boards—Certifying Result.

On the first Monday in the month preceding an election the county court must select three commissioners of election for every precinct from the two dominant political parties. Each executive committee, through its chairman, may nominate a commissioner to represent its party, and if he be qualified, the court must appoint him. Two commissioners are usually so selected by the two dominant political parties, and the other by the county court. Should a commissioner fail to appear to open the polls, the two others may select a commissioner of the same political party as the one absent; but the qualified voters of that party then present may nominate, and such nominee shall be appointed. If none of the commissioners appear to open the polls, the voters there—being not less than ten in number—shall select commissioners by viva voce vote, not more than two of whom shall belong to the same party. Commissioners shall appoint two poll clerks, one from each of the dominant parties in the state; but the voters of such parties present may by viva voce vote nominate a clerk to represent their party, who shall be appointed. In case of dispute over the nomination, the commissioner or commissioners of that party shall appoint such clerk. (Note: Where there are double election boards, the election officers shall be appointed "in the same manner as the boards of election officers now provided for by law" and take the same oath). At each precinct where at the last election there was cast one hundred or more votes for governor, there shall be appointed two boards of election officers, each board consisting of three election commissioners and two poll clerks, appointed in the same manner as above set out and taking the same oath. One board shall be designated by court as receiving board, and the other as counting board. Where there are two boards the receiving board shall take charge of the polls; and four hours after the polls are opened, the counting board shall appear and take charge of the ballot box containing ballots cast, proceed to count the ballots therein, in the election room partitioned for that purpose; the receiving board shall continue receiving votes in the other ballot box until the counting board has finished counting the votes in the first box and has sealed the ballots so counted in envelope, when exchange of boxes shall be had, and so on, until the hour of closing, when both boards shall continue counting, tabulating and summarizing the votes, and making certificates of results, both uniting in certifying and attesting to the returns. Four of the certificates of election for each party shall then be sealed in separately addressed envelopes, and one returned under seal to clerk of county court, with election returns, one posted on front door of voting place, one mailed by commissioner to clerk of circuit court, and one for each party sent to secretary of state by registered mail, leaving out of last named the votes for county and district offices, other than for members of legislature. This certification of returns and mailing of certificates shall apply to all election precincts in the state. (Acts 1917, chap. 37). (See headings, "Method of Ascertaining Result and Certifying same," and "Returns and Certificates".)

Additional Ballot Boxes and Supplies.

Where double election boards are appointed county clerk must furnish additional ballot box and necessary election supplies. Double election boards shall not receive pay for more than one day at either primary or general election.

Penalty for Divulging Vote or Failing to Certify.

Any primary or general election officer who shall wilfully fail, refuse or neglect to certify returns and mail certificate within twelve hours after ascertaining result, or who shall divulge results of count of vote before closing of polls is subject to fine of not more than five hundred dollars and jail sentence of not less than three nor more than six months.

Nominations not Certified.

Where a nomination is not certified and circuit clerk is satisfied by evidence that such nomination has been made, he shall include same in the list of nominations to be printed on ballot. (See heading "Vacancies in Primary Election Law.")

Publication of Nominations.

Circuit clerk at least ten days before election shall publish in two newspapers representing the two dominant political parties, in at least two issues of each, the nominations for office certified to and filed in his office; the last publication shall be in the issue next preceding the election. If there be only one newspaper the publication shall be therein; and if no newspaper, the clerk shall post printed notice of nominations in his office and in each voting precinct for at least ten days before election. The list so published or posted shall be in the order and form in which they will be printed on ballots.

Ballot Commissioners—Printing Ballots.

Circuit clerk must give county chairman of the two dominant parties five days notice of time and place of appointing two ballot commissioners, and if chairmen name a ballot commissioner to represent their respective parties, they shall be appointed by him, one for each dominant party. The board shall consist of three, and the clerk shall be chairman thereof. The board shall cause the ballots to be printed by contract, to the lowest responsible bidder, including thereon every candidate whose nomination has been certified to the clerk. No other ballots shall be received or counted at the election.

Ballots—Form—How Voted.

Ballots shall be printed in black ink on white paper, sufficiently thick, the heading shall be in display type, the tickets in brevier, the name of the office and residence of candidates in lower case, and name of candidate in capital letters. A blank space must be left at the left of each candidate's name, enclosed by heavy dark lines. A circle three-quarters of an inch in diameter, enclosed by a heavy line, must be printed between the device at the head of the ticket and the name of the party, encircled by the words, "For a straight ticket mark within this circle." All of the tickets to be voted must be printed on the ballot in parallel columns, each in a separate column with the proper party devices and headings, and in such order on the ballot as the secretary of state shall direct. On the back shall be printed "Official Ballot" with the date of the election, and underneath two black lines followed by the words "Poll Clerks," on which lines the poll clerks shall each write his name, before delivering to the voter. State executive committee of each party must adopt the party device and certify same to each circuit clerk. When a ticket is nominated by petition, the petitioners adopt the device.

Ballot—Rules for Voting.

"First. If the voter desires to vote a straight ticket, or in other words for each and every candidate of one party for whatever office nominated, he shall either:

(a) Make a cross mark in the circular space below the device and above the name of the party at the head of the ticket; or

(b) Make a cross mark on the left and opposite the name of each and every candidate of such party in the blank space provided therefor; or,

(c) Mark out, by lines through all the tickets in the ballot, other than the ticket he desires to vote.

Second. If the voter desires to vote a mixed ticket, or in other words for candidates of different parties, he shall either:

(a) Omit making a cross in the circular space above the name of the party, and make a cross mark in the blank space before the name of each candidate for whom he desires to vote on whatever ticket the name may be; or,

(b) Make a cross mark in the circular space above the name of the party for some of whose candidates he desires to vote, and then make a cross mark before the name of any candidate of any other party for whom he may desire to vote; in which case the cross mark in the circular space above the name of the party will cast his vote for every candidate on the ticket of such party, except for offices for which candidates are marked on other party tickets, and the cross marks before the names of such candidates will cast his vote for them; or,

(c) Write with black lead pencil the name of person for whom he desires to vote, in the space immediately below the name of the opposing candidate for the same office, on the ticket voted by him, and the name so written shall be counted.

"If in marking either a straight or mixed ticket as above defined, a cross mark is made in the circular space above the name of the party at the head of the ticket, and also one or more cross marks made before the name or names of candidates on the same ticket for offices for which candidates on other party tickets are not individually marked, such marks before the names of candidates on the ticket so marked, shall be treated as surplusage and ignored; and the ballot be counted for all the candidates on the ticket thus marked for offices for which no candidate on other tickets are marked.

"If the voter desires to vote for any person whose name does not appear on the ticket he can substitute the name by writing it with black lead pencil in the proper place, and making a cross mark in the blank space at the left of the name so written.

"If the voter mark more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for an office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office.

"No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not make it impossible to determine the voter's choice."

Penalty on Printer for Misprinting Ballot, or Unauthorized Delivery.

Delivery by printer of ballots to any person other than members of board of ballot commissioners, or printing the ballot in any other form than that furnished by the board is a felony punishable by three to ten years in penitentiary. Ballots must be printed exactly as prepared by board.

Number of Ballots, and Package for Precinct—Delivery.

Three ballots for each voter at each precinct must be printed and put in package by ballot commissioners, sealed with wax, plainly marked, with number of ballots; name of magisterial district and voting precinct thereon, to which it is intended to be delivered. One commissioner of election appointed so to do in writing by the other commissioners shall go to circuit clerk's office not more than four nor less than two days before election and receive the ballots and other things necessary for holding election.

Ballots: Unlawful Distribution or Removal.

Delivery of the ballots to any unauthorized person by the ballot commissioners, or removal of same without consent of lawful custodian, is a felony, punishable by confinement of not less than one nor more than five years.

Ballots and Supplies—Special Messenger to Deliver.

Should commissioner of election fail to call for ballots and supplies within time, the ballot commissioners shall deliver same to voting precinct by special paid messenger, who shall make oath to the delivery, in addition to taking receipt from person to whom he delivered. It is a misdemeanor for commissioner wilfully or negligently to fail to call for ballots and supplies.

Loss of Ballots—Substitutes.

If ballots be lost or destroyed, the county clerk upon affidavit to that fact by the commissioner or messenger shall dispatch new supply by special messenger; and where no ballots or boxes have reached the precinct, and none can be obtained in time, the board may have ballots printed or written and boxes made under stringent regulations.

Unused Ballots—Destruction.

At close of polls, the left-over ballots remaining with ballot commissioners must by them immediately be destroyed, and failure to do so is a misdemeanor.

Cards of Instruction to Voters.

Ballot commissioners shall have printed and sent with other election supplies to each precinct cards of instruction to voters telling them: (1) how to obtain ballots for voting; (2) to prepare ballot for deposit in ballot box; (3) how to obtain new ballot in place of one spoiled or destroyed. Sections 50, 62, 76, 79, 81 and 82 of election laws shall be printed on the cards. Sample or specimen ballots on colored paper shall also be printed and furnished, and the cards and sample ballots shall be posted at voting precincts by commissioners.

Election Rooms, Booths, etc.

Suitable election rooms, not less than two nor more than five booths, and proper supplies shall be furnished by county court, so that in preparation of ballot the voter may be secured from observation; and no one shall approach nearer than five feet while the voter is preparing his ballot except the poll clerks when called upon; and no one shall approach nearer than five feet of the ballot box during election, except the election officers, and the voters while preparing and depositing their ballots.

Disorder at Polls—Commissioners to Preserve Order—Penalty.

Commissioners of election shall preserve order at and near the polls, keep the way thereto open and free from obstruction, and may direct sheriff, constable, or other suitable person to arrest without warrant disorderly persons and remove them from the polls until sunrise next day, or for shorter time, but must allow such persons to vote, if they desire, before being removed and confined. Such disorderly persons are also liable to further penalties, and if any person refuse to assist in the prevention of intimidation, disorder or violence after being thereto commanded by commissioners, shall forfeit not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars.

Challengers and their Duties—Persons Challenged—Affidavit.

The two dominant political parties may each appoint a challenger, who shall have the right to remain in the voting room until result of the vote is ascertained. If challenger so appointed fails to be at opening of polls the voters of his party then present may make the appointment. The challenger shall take and subscribe an oath. If any voter be challenged, he shall not vote until he has made a proper affidavit in writing, which shall include the names of two persons having personal knowledge of his residence within the county sixty days next preceding the election. Blank affidavit shall be prepared and furnished by ballot commissioners.

Arrest of Illegal Voter—False Affidavits and Penalty Therefor.

If any qualified voter make affidavit before a commissioner that any person who has voted is an illegal voter, the accused shall be arrested by a constable or any person designated by the commissioner and delivered to the civil authorities. The affidavit shall be turned over to a justice as soon as polls are closed and the case proceeded with by him as if he had taken the affidavit. Any false affidavit taken under the election laws subjects the offender to confinement in penitentiary not less than one nor more than three years.

Employees Must Have Time to Vote—Penalty on Employer.

Every employer must give to every employee four hours to cast his vote at every national, state or county election. This provision may be enforced by mandate of court upon application of voter. Violation of this provision against the will of employees subjects the offender to fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

Number of Voters in Election Room.

Not more than one voter for each booth shall be allowed in election room at one time.

Sixty-foot Line from Election Room.

No one shall remain within sixty feet of the election room except persons going to vote and returning from voting, and persons living within that limit, or persons whose business requires them to pass the election room.

Opening of Ballots.

Before polls are opened commissioners must open sealed packages of ballots, preserving the seals intact, and deliver ballots to poll clerks.

Casting Ballot—Duty of Voter.

Upon entering voting room, voter must give his name and residence to one of poll clerks who shall announce same in loud voice; if voter be entitled to vote, poll clerk shall deliver to him one ballot; if in preparation of same it be defaced or spoiled, another shall be delivered to voter upon his return of defaced or spoiled ballot to poll clerk, who shall thereupon make note of same on poll list, and destroy the ballot in the presence of commissioners. When voter receives his ballot he must immediately go into booth, prepare his ballot, fold same so that names of poll clerks can be seen unless he elects to cast open ballot. When he has prepared his ballot voter must forthwith and without leaving room give his name and deliver his ballot to a commissioner, who shall repeat the name in a loud voice, and hand the ballot to another commissioner of a different political party, and if a majority of the commissioners are satisfied that it is a single ballot and that the person is a legal voter, one of them shall deposit the ballot in the box and poll clerks shall write the name on the poll books numbering the voters in the order of voting. The voter shall then return immediately beyond the sixty-foot limit.

One Voter Only in Booth—Time Allowed for Voting.

Only one person is allowed in booth at one time, (except when clerks are called by voter) and voter can not occupy booth any longer than five minutes in any event. Voter is not permitted to converse with any person in election room other than officers of election.

Illiterate or Disabled Voter; Assistance—Penalty.

A voter who is unable to read or write or is physically unable to prepare his ballot, may call on the poll clerks for assistance, who in his presence and in the presence of each other shall prepare his ballot, giving such information as may be requested; or they may give him, upon his request, information as to the relative position of the names of the candidates on the ballot, whereupon he shall return to the booth and prepare his ballot. Any clerk deceiving a voter in selecting or preparing his ballot, or preparing it for him in any other way than that requested, is liable to imprisonment, not less than two nor more than five years in the penitentiary.

Ballot Must Have Name of Poll Clerks on Back.

No ballot shall be put in box by commissioner unless names of poll clerks are signed on back.

Penalty for Removing Ballot from Election Room, or Having Ballot Outside.

Anyone who removes or attempts to remove a ballot from the election room, or has in his possession outside of the election room a ballot either false or genuine, is subject to imprisonment for not less than two nor more than five years.

Ascertainment of Result.

When polls are closed commissioners shall proceed to ascertain result at once and shall not adjourn nor delay until the result is ascertained, duly entered, certified and posted. (See heading "Election Commissioners and Clerks, Double Election Boards—Certifying Result").

Method of Ascertaining Result and Certifying Same.

When polls are closed commissioners shall count the ballots not voted, record the number on tally sheet, and destroy ballots not voted. The names entered on poll books shall then be counted, and the number thereof, in words and figures set down at the foot of the lists, and signed by clerks and commissioners; the box shall then be opened and one ballot at a time taken out by a commissioner who shall read same, hand it to a commissioner of opposite politics, who, if satisfied it has been correctly read, shall string it on a thread. The clerks shall record the contents as read, on the tally sheets, in ink, showing number of votes received by each person voted for. The ballots shall be counted as strung and when the number strung equals the number of persons recorded as voting the ballots remaining in the box shall be destroyed without anyone knowing the contents. (This governs counting board, see heading "Election Commissioners and Clerks—Double Election Boards—Certifying Result"). Where two or more ballots are folded together and the names voted for are the same, one shall be counted, if the names are different neither shall be counted. In either case commissioners shall place common number on the ballots and write in ink thereon that they were found folded together. If more than the proper number of names for any office be on any ballot it shall not be counted for that office. If a person be voted for for senator who is not a resident of the proper county (two senators shall be elected from a senatorial district, but both cannot be elected from same county) such ballot shall not be counted for that office. Any ballot not endorsed by poll clerks shall not be counted. Where it is impossible to determine voter's choice ballot shall not be counted as to candidates affected. Upon completion of count, commissioners shall immediately make memorandum of total vote cast for candidates, deliver copy to each member of board, post copy on front door, and transmit copy to clerk of county court, who shall post same in his office. (See heading "Election Commissioners, Clerks—Double Election Boards, etc." Important).

Returns and Certificates.

Code of 1918, chap. 3, sec. 67, requires two certificates of result to be made out and signed by commissioners giving complete returns of the precinct for every office to be filled, one of which shall be delivered to the clerk of the county court, with the ballots sealed up, and one set of poll books and tally sheets, and the other certificate to be delivered to the clerk of circuit court with the other set of poll books, and tally sheets, and all within three days after election, Sunday excluded.

"Double Election Board," Act of 1917, chap. 37, requires four certificates of result for each party to be made, one to be delivered to county clerk with election returns, one posted on front door, one mailed to circuit clerk and one for each party sent by registered mail to secretary of state. (See heading, "Election Commissioners and Clerks—Double Election Board," etc.)

Canvassing Board—Duties.

Commissioners of county court are ex-officio the canvassing board, and must keep a record of all its proceedings in ascertaining and declaring election results. On the fifth day, Sunday excepted, after every election in the county or in a district, the court shall sit and proceed to canvass the returns laid before them by the circuit and county clerks, and may require the attendance of any of the precinct election officers or other persons to appear and testify, and make other proper orders to attain the true result. All testimony and evidence shall be taken down in full and spread on the record. They may adjourn from time to time, but no longer than absolutely necessary. First step is to open sealed ballots, count same without unfolding, and enter the number in each package on the record. Then ballots are sealed up in new envelope each member writing his name across seal. After making canvass, they shall—upon demand of any candidate voted for—open the seals and recount the ballots, and then shall seal them up again with the envelope from which taken, the clerk of the court and each member signing in ink their names across the seal, marking thereon the precinct number, district, county and date of election. After making certificates of result the sealed packages, poll books etc., shall be delivered to said clerks who shall keep same for one year, and then, if no contest be pending, shall destroy them without opening and if contest is on, they shall be destroyed as soon as it is ended. Expenses of a re-count must be paid by party demanding it, if result is not changed.

Certificates of Canvassing Board—Where Recorded and Sent.

Certificates of result, setting forth the full name of every person voted for and the number of votes for each, shall be recorded and signed by the commissioners or a majority and also separate certificates for each office to be filled. For the offices of delegate and senator, one certificate shall be sent to each person voted for and one to secretary of state, who shall lay same before the house and before the senate, respectively, at ensuing regular session, with list of persons appearing to be elected to each. For governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, state superintendent of schools, and commissioner of agriculture, one as to each of such officers shall be sealed and transmitted to secretary of state and endorsed on the envelope, "Returns of election for governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, state superintendent of schools, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture, one as to each of such officers shall be sealed and transmitted to secretary of state and endorsed on the envelope, "Returns of election for governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, state superintendent of schools, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture" and the secretary of state shall deliver same to speaker of house at next session of legislature, who shall—as soon as the house is organized and before proceeding with other business—open and publish same in presence of majority of each branch assembled in the hall of the house for that purpose. Should there be a tie, the legislature shall choose for the office one of the persons who has received an equal and the highest vote for the office; and one of said certificates shall also be transmitted to the governor who shall tabulate the entire vote and publish same in a newspaper at the seat of government. For United States senator, judge of supreme and circuit court, presidential and vice-presidential electors, one certificate shall be sent to each person voted for and one to the governor, who shall ascertain who are elected and make proclamation thereof. Certificates for all county and district offices shall be transmitted to each person voted for.

(Note : While the election law does not specifically require certificates of vote for secretary of state and commissioner of agriculture to be sent, as above set out, the constitution in Article 7, section 3, does require it to be so done.)

Tie Vote—Who Decides.

When the governor is, or the canvassing board of a county are to declare result, and it appears to him or it, that two or more of the candidates have received the highest and an equal number of votes, he or it shall decide the election of one of said candidates.

Contested Election of County and District Officers.

County court is the judge of election and returns of its own members, and of all county and district officers.

Contests—Illegal Votes.

Illegal votes cast or illegal votes rejected at a precinct shall not set aside the returns of that precinct, but evidence may be introduced in a contest, and the illegal votes stricken out and the legal votes counted, and so far as shown the returns shall be corrected.

Election Offenses.

An election commissioner or clerk who shall knowingly make or cause to be made, or conspire to make a false return as to the vote cast, or who shall count or string a ballot not taken from the ballot box in lieu of one taken or which should have been taken from the box: or any commissioner who shall receive a ballot from a voter and put another ballot in the box instead of the one received; any member of canvassing board, clerk of a court, or other person who shall take a ballot from those returned as a part of the returns from any precinct and substitute another ballot in its place, or change in any manner such ballot as voted at any time; any member of county court, as such or in any capacity, who shall knowingly enter of record or in any way aid, counsel, advise, or permit the same to be done without his objection any false or fraudulent statement of election result: and any person who shall aid, assist, counsel or advise the commission of any of the above offenses, upon conviction shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than five nor more than ten years, and may be fined also not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars.

"Any person who shall falsely make or fraudulently deface or fraudulently destroy any certificate of nomination, or any part thereof, or file any certificate of nomination, knowing the same, or any part thereof, to be falsely made, or suppress any certificate of nomination which has been duly filed, or any part thereof: or forge or falsely make the official endorsement of any ballot, or print or cause to be printed, any imitation ballot, or circulate the same: or erase, deface or change in any manner, any election record, or any ballot, poll book, tally sheet or certificate of election, deposited with either of the clerks of the county or circuit courts; or conspire with another to do any of said acts or induce or attempt to induce any other person to do any of said acts, whether or not said acts, or any of them, be committed or attempted to be committed, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years."

Opening, Destruction or Misdelivery of Ballots.

It is a felony punishable by from three to five years imprisonment for any election officer or messenger to open any of the packages containing ballots or permit it to be done, or destroy or permit to be destroyed, or deliver to any unauthorized person, the said packages; or connive, aid or abet a robbery, loss or destruction of same.

Marks on Ballots.

Inducing or attempting to induce, or conspiring with another to induce, or attempt to induce any voter to place a distinguishing mark, sign, name or device on a ballot by which to indicate how such voter cast his ballot is punishable by confinement of not less than three nor more than five years; or in the discretion of the court by fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and imprisonment in jail of not less than one nor more than six months.

Revealing How Vote Cast.

It is a felony punishable by confinement of not less than two nor more than five years for commissioner or poll clerk to reveal how any person voted.

Influencing Poll Clerk or Commissioner to Violate Law.

Inducing or attempting to induce commissioner or poll clerk to violate any election law is a felony punishable by confinement for not less than two nor more than five years.

Miscellaneous Offenses.

No officer shall disclose how voter cast his ballot, nor do any electioneering on election day. No electioneering shall be done within sixty feet of election room. No person shall apply for or receive ballot except where he is entitled to vote, nor examine a ballot which has been prepared by voter, nor attempt to do so, nor make any arrangement with voter to open ballot. No voter shall receive a ballot from any one except poll clerk. No voter shall deliver to commissioner any ballot except that which he received from poll clerk, nor shall he place any mark, or allow another to do so, upon any ballot by which it may be identified; all under penalty of confinement of not less than one nor more than two years.

Neglect of Officers to Perform Duty.

Willful neglect by any election officer to perform any official duty is punishable by confinement of not less than one nor more than three years.

Sixty-Foot Limit.

Any unauthorized person entering the election room or remaining within sixty feet thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and confined in jail not less than thirty days.

Removal of Election Supplies.

Destruction or removal of election supplies from election room, or defacing or removing cards of instruction, or inducing or attempting to induce another to do so, is punishable by confinement not less than six nor more than twelve months.

Affidavits Taken at Elections

All affidavits shall be placed in sealed envelope by commissioners, who shall write their names on back thereof and within three days delivered by one of the commissioners to circuit clerk, who shall preserve same unbroken, and deliver to foreman of next grand jury which shall investigate truth or falsity of such affidavits.

Special Elections.

All special elections in county or district for election of officers shall conform to the general election laws in the manner of holding same and ascertaining result, and subject to the same penalties for violations.

Municipal Elections.

Every municipal election shall be governed by the general election laws, the municipal clerk or recording clerk performing duties therein required of the county and circuit clerks in general elections; the council performing duties of county court; marshal, sergeant or chief of police performing duties of sheriff, and chairman of political committees shall have right to designate election officers, as in general law. Municipal officers must perform same duties as county officers under same provisions and subject to same penalties. Where a municipality at its last preceding election cast less than six hundred votes, and no nominations of candidates have been made and certified by at least two political parties or organizations, the election may be held under the old law in force before 1893, but the votes shall be counted, certified and result declared as herein set out.

Election Expenses.

Commissioner, poll clerk, challenger and ballot commissioner receive two dollars per day and election commissioner—who receives and delivers election supplies and who deliver returns to county clerk—receives two dollars per day for so doing and five cents per mile travelled. Ballot commissioners cannot receive compensation for more than two days. All election expenses are paid out of the county treasury, except municipal election expenses, which are paid by the municipality.

Election Day a Holiday.

All election days are legal holidays, throughout the district or municipality in which the election is held.

Compelling Performance of Duties.

Any officer or person upon whom any duty is placed by the election laws may be compelled to perform same by circuit court or judge thereof in vacation, or by the supreme court or a judge thereof in vacation, by writ of mandamus, which shall take precedence over all other business pending and shall be heard and decided without delay. The remedy of prohibition or certiorari may also be invoked in proper cases.

Witnesses Compelled to Testify.

In any prosecution for violation of election laws, any witness shall be compelled to testify, and if he testifies fully, he shall be exonerated and not prosecuted for the offense about which his testimony is given.

ABSENT VOTERS IN MILITARY SERVICE.Who May Vote by Registered Mail.

Legal voters engaged in military service and absent by reason of such service may vote by registered mail.

Such absent voter may be registered upon making affidavit that he has been a resident of state for one year, of the county sixty days, and a bona fide resident of the voting precinct, and a legal and qualified voter at such precinct. Form of affidavit shall be sent such voter when his ballot is mailed to him. Such voter, his friend or relative may give notice, in writing to the ballot commissioner, by registered mail, or in person, of his intention to vote and if in a primary, of the party ballot he desires to vote; and the notice shall give the voter's address. Upon receipt of such notice, ballot commissioners shall enroll name and address, and when ballots are prepared enclose same to voter, by registered mail, recording date of sending, and enclose therewith ballot, necessary envelopes, blank affidavit, and printed instructions. After marking the ballot the absent voter must return same, properly sealed, to the ballot commissioner by registered mail.

Board of ballot commissioners prior to each primary or general election shall have ballots and necessary blanks printed. The ballots shall have printed at the top "Absent Soldiers Ballot", and in general elections, be of a different color from the ordinary official ballot.

Receiving and Counting Soldier Ballot.

When ballot is received by mail, ballot commissioner shall record date of receiving and depositing same in sealed box, unopened. As soon as polls are closed, ballot commissioners shall open sealed boxes containing such ballots, and as each envelope is removed therefrom the voter's name shall be called and checked as if voting in person, and the ballots shall be counted and tallied as if voted in person at the voting precinct. Each ballot commissioner, excepting the circuit clerk, shall appoint a poll clerk who shall take same oath and perform same duties as poll clerks at the precincts. The result of such vote shall be ascertained by the board of ballot commissioners and returns and certificates made in the same manner and under same regulations governing commissioners and clerks of election. Ballot commissioners and their poll clerks shall receive same pay as election commissioners and clerks. Seven days prior to election ballot commissioners shall post, at front door of court house, list of all who have applied for ballots, giving magisterial district and precinct in which applicants propose to vote. When the ballots have been counted, the empty envelopes, the sealed package of letters of application, the rejected envelopes, if any, with cause of rejection written thereon, or attached thereto, shall be returned to original box, which shall be then sealed and sent to the county clerk with the other returns.

Nominations to fill vacancies on the ballot, shall not affect the soldiers ballot if same does not appear thereon, but if such nomination be made before ballot is mailed to applicant, then ballot commissioner shall paste the nomination over the proper place on the ballot before sending.

Ballot Commissioners; Other Duties, Fees.

For posting list of voters, the ballot commissioner shall receive ten cents for every name in list, but in no case less than one dollar; for every voter, twenty-five cents, and all supplies and postage must be furnished by county clerk. Ballot commissioners must have prepared and printed at least three times as many ballots as there are soldiers absent from the county, properly proportioned to the districts, as soon as nominations are made.

Penalties.

Attempting to aid or abet fraud in connection with voting under the act is punishable by imprisonment not less than one nor more than five years, and shall be deemed to be committed in county where vote is cast or attempted to be cast. Any person attempting to vote by fraudulently signing the name of a regularly qualified voter, shall be guilty of forgery. Any public official who knowingly violates any provisions of the act, and thereby aids or attempts to aid illegal casting, or attempt to cast vote, or who connives to commit fraud therein, shall be debarred from holding office and disfranchised.

Construction of Act.

The absent voters' law must be construed liberally.

OFFENSES IN ELECTIONS—CORRUPT PRACTICES.Failure of Duty Where no Penalty is Prescribed.

Failure of an officer to perform any election duty where no penalty is prescribed subjects him to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars for every offense.

Failure of Commissioner or Canvasser to Attend.

Any commissioner or canvasser who fails to attend an election, without sufficient cause, shall forfeit not less than five dollars nor more than thirty dollars.

Refusal to Assist in Holding Elections.

Any officer or person being present and refusing to help hold election, being requested so to do; or who neglects to deliver ballots, poll books, or certificates, or make returns, in the manner and time required by law, shall forfeit not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars; or if he refuse to deliver poll books, ballots or certificates as required by law, he shall forfeit not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, and be confined in jail not less than thirty nor more than ninety days.

False Count, Certificate or Return.

If commissioner, canvasser or clerk make, procure, or assist in making any false count, certificate or return, knowing same to be false, he shall be confined in penitentiary not less than one nor more than two years.

Illegal Voting—Deceiving Voters.

One who votes knowing he is not entitled to vote; or voting more than once; or voting or attempting to vote more than one ballot; or procuring or assisting in procuring an illegal ballot to be cast, knowing it to be illegal; or rejecting a legal vote knowing it to be legal or deceiving a voter by marking his ballot in any other way than directed by the voter; or in any manner causing the voter to vote for any person he did not intend to vote for, shall be fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and may be confined also in jail not less than one nor more than six months.

Tampering with Ballot Box or Poll Books.

Any person who shall unlawfully open ballot box before ballots therein have been counted, or unlawfully takes any ballot therefrom, or alter, deface or destroy any ballot before counted, or unlawfully deface, destroy or alter any poll book, he shall be confined in penitentiary not less than one nor more than two years.

Failure of County Clerk to Preserve Unaltered Election Records.

County clerk who fails to preserve certificates declaring result, or poll books or ballots deposited with him, or shall wilfully alter, change, deface or destroy certificate, poll book, or ballot; or take from or introduce into any sealed package of ballots anything purporting to be a ballot; or make false entry of result upon county records, shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisoned not exceeding six months.

Removal or Alteration of Certificates, Poll Books, or Ballots.

Any person who shall conceal or take from county clerk's office certificate, poll book, or sealed ballots, or take from or introduce into such sealed package anything purporting to be a ballot, or take from or put into ballot box anything purporting to be a ticket, or who shall alter, change, injure, deface or destroy certificate, poll book, or ballot shall be confined in penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years.

Interfering with Election by Violence or Fraud.

Any person who by force, menace, fraud or intimidation prevents or attempts to prevent any election officer from discharging his official duties; or in any manner prevents or attempts to prevent the holding of election; or prevents a voter from attending an election to vote, or from fully exercising his privilege of suffrage, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and may be imprisoned not more than three weeks.

Corporation Preventing Employees from Voting.

Any corporation which in any manner prevents or attempts to prevent its employees from attending an election, or from freely exercising their right to vote as they desire, shall be fined not less than five thousand dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars in the discretion of the jury.

Bribery at Election.

Any person who accepts money or other thing, or any promise, express or implied, for reward or profit, under any agreement, express or implied, that he will vote for any particular candidate, or in any particular manner on any question at the election; or that he will procure or assist in procuring any false count, certificate or return, shall, together with the person with whom he contracts or agrees, be imprisoned not less than one year nor more than three years; or be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and be confined not less than three nor more than twelve months.

Corporations Furnishing Money to Corrupt Voters.

Any corporation which furnishes money or other thing of value, or attempts so to do, for the purpose of influencing voters at elections to vote for any particular candidate, or on a particular side of any question submitted to the electorate, shall be fined not less than five thousand dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars in the discretion of the jury.

Witnesses.

Any witness called in relation to any election offense shall testify fully, even though he be implicated, and if he does fully testify he shall not be prosecuted although implicated in the offense.

Bribery at Primaries, etc.

Any candidate for nomination to office of profit or trust at any convention or primary who furnishes or promises to furnish in any way money or other thing of value to a delegate for the purpose of securing his vote or influence for the nomination, or whoever hires a person to work for the nomination of any person, or for selection of any delegate at a party convention or primary shall be fined not less than three hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars and imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than six months.

Bribery by Candidates at Elections.

Any candidate who loans or gives directly or indirectly or offers or promises any money or other thing of value to any elector for his vote or to keep him from voting, or to work or labor for the election of such candidate, or to refrain from working for the election of such candidate; or to refrain from working for the election of another candidate; or to any person to secure the influence of such elector in his behalf, or to be used to influence voters generally for himself or any candidate or ticket; or whoever hires any person to work at the polls for the election of any candidate, shall be fined not less than three hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars and imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than six months.

Bribery by any Other Person.

Any person who shall give or offer to give any money or other thing of value to any elector to influence his vote; or who shall receive or solicit the same for such purpose; or who shall aid or cause the use of such means in an election for hiring or inducing a voter to vote or refrain from voting, for any candidate, or to remain away from the polls, shall be punished as last above set out.

Hiring Voter to Remain Away from Polls

The same punishment as last above designated shall be imposed on any person who directly or indirectly gives, offers, or promises to give money or other thing of value to a voter to keep him from voting, or from coming to the polls.

Tampering With Ballots or Other Election Records.

Any person, not authorized by law, who shall break open the seals or locks on any ballot box, paper envelope or box in which ballots have been deposited at or after an election, or who shall obtain possession of same, or who shall conceal, withhold or destroy such ballots; or fraudulently add to or diminish such ballots, or fraudulently make any erasure or alteration upon any tally sheet, poll book, list of voters or election returns therein, shall be confined in penitentiary not less than one nor more than three years.

Charge to Grand Jury—Compelling Testimony.

At every circuit court the judge is required to give to the grand jury special charge on election offenses. Any person called as a witness to any violation of election laws shall be compelled to testify fully, but his evidence shall not be given against himself in any prosecution for such offense.

Speakers—Demonstration—Literature.

It is lawful to employ political speakers, to pay for holding political demonstrations, and distribute campaign documents and literature for party purposes.

Accounts of Election Expenditures to be Kept.

At all elections, either primary, general or special, (except for local offices in towns of less than five thousand, and for school district offices) there shall be kept by and on behalf of all candidates for public office, (except candidates for president and vice president of the United States, and presidential electors), records of receipts and expenditures for political purposes. Sworn statements thereof shall be made and filed as public records by such candidates, their agents or representatives, and by the treasurer of all political committees. "Public office" shall mean any office provided for by the constitution or laws to which a salary or other compensation attaches.

Political Committee—Treasurer—Duties.

Before a political committee or any of its members can receive any moneys for election purposes, it must appoint and maintain a treasurer through whose hands all moneys, received by the committee or its members, shall pass. It is unlawful for a committee or any of its members to disburse money for election purposes until it shall have passed through the treasurer's hands.

No person shall act as such treasurer, or as financial agent of any candidate, where the office is to be filled by votes from the entire state, unless a written statement designating him as such treasurer or financial agent be filed with the secretary of state at least sixty days before the election; nor where the political division is less than state and greater than a county, including candidates for state executive committees and delegates to national conventions, until such written statement be filed with the clerk of the county court of each county in such division at least sixty days before the election; nor where the political division is a county or less than a county until such statement be filed a like length of time with the clerk of the county court; nor in a city (for city elections) unless written notices of such designation be filed with the clerk or recorder at least twenty days before the election.

Receipts and Expenditures—How Kept.

Every candidate, financial agent and the treasurer of every political committee, shall keep detailed accounts of all money, or its equivalent, received by them, and of all expenditures, disbursements made, and liabilities incurred by such candidate agent or political committee for political purposes, or by any of the officers or members of such committee, or any person acting under its authority or on its behalf.

Sec. Sb (5) chap. 5, page 100 Barnes Code, 1918.

Sworn Financial Statements.

Not less than seven nor more than fifteen days before each primary or other election, and again within thirty days after each primary or other election, every candidate for public office, (except in towns of less than five thousand population), and every financial agent, and the treasurer of every political committee, shall file with the officers hereinafter prescribed a detailed, itemized statement subscribed and sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths, setting forth all financial transactions in connection with such primary or other election. Such statement shall show each and every sum of money or other thing of value contributed or advanced; the name of each person, firm, association or committee by whom it was contributed or advanced; the amount and purpose of every expenditure made or liability incurred, and the name of each person, firm, association or committee to whom such expenditure was made or liability incurred, with dates of each transaction. Any unexpended balance remaining in the hands of the treasurer of any political committee at the time of making the statement herein provided for, shall be properly accounted for in said statement and shall appear as a balance in the next following report of such treasurer or his successor in office. Such sworn statements shall be filed with the secretary of state by candidates for state and other offices to be nominated or elected by the votes of a political division greater than a county; with the clerk of the county court by candidates for offices to be nominated or elected by the votes of a county or district therein, and by all candidates for other offices not otherwise provided for, and with the clerk or recorder of the city in the case of candidates for city offices.

Forms for Financial Statements—Preservation of Statements.

Forms for such financial statements can be procured by candidates, treasurer, financial agents and all other persons required to file statements, from clerk of county court or secretary of state. All statements filed shall be preserved one year after the election to which they relate.

Penalty for Failure to File Statements.

Failure to file financial statement within the time prescribed by law subjects offender to fine of not less than fifty dollars or imprisonment for not more than six months or both. Forty days after the primary or election, the officer with whom such statements are required to be filed shall notify the prosecuting attorney of any failure in filing same. No candidate nominated at a primary who has failed to make and file financial statement, shall have his name placed on the ballot, unless there has been filed by or on his behalf, or by his financial agent, the statement relating to nominations; and it shall be unlawful to issue a commission or certificate of election, or to administer oath of office to a person elected who has failed to file such statement; and no person shall enter upon his official duties, nor receive any salary for any period prior to filing such statement.

Corporation—Campaign Contributions.

Unlawful for a corporation, domestic or foreign, to give, pay or lend money of the corporation to any candidate, or to any one for him, for the payment of primary or other election expenses; and it is unlawful for any one to solicit or receive such contributions from corporation, or its officers or agents.

Legitimate Election Expenditures.

No candidate, committee or agent shall expend for election expenses except:

1. For rent, maintenance and furnishing of offices to be used as political headquarters and for the payment of necessary clerks, stenographers, typewriters, janitors and messengers actually employed therein.
2. For printing and distributing books, pamphlets, circulars and other printed matter relating to political issues and candidates and painting, printing and posting signs, banners and other advertisements.
3. For renting and decorating halls for public meetings and political conventions, for advertising public meetings, and for the payment and transportation of speakers and musicians at such meetings.
4. For the necessary travelling and hotel expenses of candidates, political agents and committees, and for stationery, postage, telegrams, telephone, express, freight and public messenger service.
5. For preparing, circulating and filling petitions for nomination of candidates.
6. For examining the lists of registered voters, investigating the right to vote of the persons listed therein, and conducting proceedings to prevent unlawful registration or voting.
7. For conveying infirm or disabled voters to and from the polls. Every liability incurred and payment made shall be at a rate and for a total amount which is proper and reasonable, and fairly commensurate with the services rendered.

Limitation of Election Expenditures.

Unlawful to expend more than the following amounts for following offices: United States senator or any state office, seventy five dollars for each county in state for the primary, and like sum for the election.

Member legislature, one hundred and twenty-five dollars in each county where candidate is voted for, for primary and like amount for general election.

United States house of representatives seventy-five dollars for each county in district and like amount for general election.

Any county office, two hundred dollars for primary, and like sum in general election.

Any other office, fifty dollars in the political division for primary, and like amount for general election.

The aggregate amount of payments and liabilities incurred by the candidate, agent or political committee on his behalf, shall not exceed the amounts above set out.

Corrupt Practices.

(a) Any person, other than financial agent or member of political committee, who solicits candidate for public office, for money, or its equivalent, for himself, or others, or for club organization, religious body, company or association, or for expenses of primary or other election campaign:

(b) Or who shall ask or demand of a candidate contribution or obligation to any religious, charitable or fraternal cause, or to buy tickets to any entertainment or subscribe or pay for space in book, program, periodical, newspaper or other publication; or any candidate who shall make or promise any such payment or contribution with hope of influencing the election: (But this shall not apply to ordinary business advertising, or to a periodical in which candidate regularly advertised before becoming candidate, nor to regular and normal payments to religious, charitable or other organization to which candidate may have been contributor for more than six months before his candidacy).

(c) Or any person who threatens violence or damage, or by any other means attempts to intimidate or exert undue influence, in order to induce any person to vote or refrain from voting, or who shall by abduction, duress or by any fraudulent device impede or prevent free exercise of suffrage for any particular candidate or measure:

(d) Or, any employer who directly or indirectly gives any notice or information to his employees containing any threat, direct or indirect, intended or calculated to influence them politically.

(e) Or, any person who shall, knowingly, make or publish, or cause to be made or published, any false statement in regard to any candidate which statement is intended or tends to affect any voting at any election whatever:

(f) Or, any person who shall pay any owner, publisher, editor, employee of a newspaper or periodical to advocate or oppose editorially any candidate for nomination or election, or any political party, or measure to be submitted to vote of the people; or any owner, publisher, editor or employee who shall solicit or accept such payment: Each (those violating a, b, c, d, e and f above) shall be disqualified from voting or holding office or employment for five years from date of conviction, and if elected to or holding any public office or employment, such office or employment shall be vacated from date of conviction. A second conviction renders convicted person forever disqualified from voting or holding public office.

(a) No person shall publish, issue or circulate any anonymous letter, circular, placard or other publication tending to influence voting at any election.

(b) No one connected with a newspaper or other periodical shall publish any matter, paid for or to be paid for, which tends directly to influence voting, unless it is distinctly designated as a paid advertisement, the name of the person authorizing it, and the candidate in whose behalf published.

(c) No person shall in any room or building occupied for discharge of official duties by any officer or employee of the state, or political division thereof, solicit, in any manner whatever, contribution for party or political purpose from any postmaster, or employee of the federal government, or officer or employee of the state or a political subdivision thereof; no officer, agent or employee of either the state or federal government having control of such office, room or building shall permit any one to enter same for the purpose of soliciting campaign contributions or receiving same from any officer or employee. Those violating these provisions, (a, b, and c, last above) shall be disqualified from voting or holding public office for five years from conviction, and if holding office or employment same shall be vacated from date of conviction.

Corrupt Practices—Penalties—Corporations.

Corporation violating corrupt practices act by giving, promising or loaning money for political purposes, shall be fined for first offense not less than one thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars, and for second offense shall forfeit charter, if domestic corporation, and if foreign corporation, shall forfeit its right to carry on business in this state. Officers, agent or employees of corporation violating corrupt practices act shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisoned not more than twelve months and shall not vote nor hold office for three years.

Voter Offering to Sell or Selling His Vote—Penalty.

Any voter who in any manner, directly or indirectly, for any consideration, express or implied, or by any means whatever offers or agrees to vote or to refrain from voting, for or against any person or measure, or who after the election solicits, demands or receives directly or indirectly, anything of value for voting or having refrained from voting, or for having induced another to vote or refrain from voting, shall be disqualified from holding office for five years; but if any such person shall fully testify for the state in a prosecution against the giver or promiser he shall not be prosecuted.

Buying Votes—Penalty.

Any person who directly or indirectly in any manner for money or other consideration attempts to induce or induces another to vote for any particular candidate or measure, or refrain therefrom, or in any manner directly or indirectly pays a voter for having voted or refrained from having voted for any candidate or measure, shall be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than fifty dollars; may be imprisoned not more than ninety days, and be disqualified from voting or holding office in this state for five years.

Buying Votes Through Another—Penalty.

Any person who furnishes money or other thing of value directly or indirectly to another with intent that the same or any part shall be expended in bribery at a primary or other election, or knowingly furnish same for such bribery already accomplished, shall be disqualified from voting or holding public office for five years.

Exacting Promise From Candidate to Vote for Person or Measure—Penalty.

Any person, firm corporation, association or organization, or the individual members thereof, who directly or indirectly through another or others shall solicit, demand or require any candidate before a primary or other election a promise or pledge directly or indirectly to vote for or against any particular candidate or measure, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars. Any candidate who shall so promise or pledge shall be disqualified from holding office to which he may be elected.

Judicial Inquiry of Corrupt Practices.

Within sixty days after a primary or election, the attorney general, any prosecuting attorney, any candidate voted for, or any one hundred qualified voters upon giving bond, may proceed in circuit court by petition, against any person elected, for corrupt practices, and if the court be of the opinion that the public interests require, he shall authorize judicial inquiry, and shall have power to compel attendance of witnesses and production of books and papers, and all evidence taken shall be made a part of the record.

Judicial Inquiry of Corrupt Practices in Election of Presidential Electors and Members of Congress.

Evidence and opinion of court in judicial inquiry of corrupt practices in election of presidential electors, United States senator or member of house of representatives shall be certified to the governor, who shall transmit same to proper federal authorities for such action as they may deem proper.

Same for Other Officers.

Evidence and opinion of court in judicial inquiry of corrupt practices, in election of any officer of executive department of state, or member of legislature, shall be certified to speaker of house of delegates, or to the president of the senate if a senator's election has been in question, for such action as may be deemed proper. In case of circuit judge, such inquiry and proceedings shall be by the circuit court of an adjoining circuit. In case of any other public office, the trial court shall certify to the governor his decision with reference to the existence of corrupt and illegal practices, the effect of such on the validity of the election and the guilt or innocence of any candidate or his agent. If the court decides that any such successful candidate or his political agent has been guilty of corrupt practices sufficiently to materially influence result, the election of such candidate shall be void, and the governor shall within twenty days after receipt of such decision, (except in case of primary election) issue a writ of new election to be held in forty days.

Same—Witnesses.

Witnesses shall be compelled to attend upon judicial inquiry of corrupt practices, produce books, papers, etc., and testify, and shall not be excused for the reason that the testimony, books, etc., would tend to incriminate; but no person shall be subject to any penalty or forfeiture, except forfeiture of nomination or election to office, for or on account of any transaction or thing concerning which he may so testify, or produce evidence against him in any criminal investigation except in an action for perjury in giving such testimony.

Same—Costs—Appeals.

The costs, in a corrupt practices inquiry may be awarded against the losing party, and the court may award punitive costs against the petitioner, if it find the allegations untrue, and the proceeding brought from vexations or malicious motives. Appeals may be had as in civil cases, except in case of presidential electors, United States senator and member of house of representatives.

Betting on Elections.

A person betting anything of value on an election shall forfeit the value of the bet, and fifty dollars additional.

Treating Voters.

Any candidate, directly or through another, who gives or offers to give another intoxicating liquors on day of election shall forfeit his office, if elected. Any person who shall offer, give or distribute to a voter on day of election any intoxicating drink shall forfeit not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

Sale of Liquors on Election Day—Penalty.

Any person who shall, on election day, sell, offer or expose for sale any intoxicating liquors, or permit any person to drink same on any premises under his control, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for every offense.

Drunkenness at Polls—Penalty.

Drunkenness at or near polls subjects offender to fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars and he shall give bond for good behavior for six months and upon failure to give such bond, he shall be imprisoned not less than five nor more than twenty days.

Prosecution for Election Offenses to be Begun Within One Year.

All prosecutions for violations of the election laws shall be begun within one year after the offense was committed.

THE STATE CAPITOL AT CHARLESTON.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.*

[This Constitution went into operation on the first Wednesday-in March, 1789, 5, Wheat. 420 and is identical as to spelling, punctuation, and capitalization, with the original document on file at Washington.]

PREAMBLE.

WE THE PEOPLE of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

Legislative Power Vested in Congress.

Section. 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

*In May, 1785, a committee of Congress made a report recommending an alteration in the Articles of Confederation, but no action was taken on it, and it was left to the State Legislature to proceed in the matter. In January, 1786, the Legislature of Virginia passed a resolution providing for the appointment of five commissioners, who, or any three of them, should meet such commissioners as might be appointed in other States of the Union, at a time and place to be agreed upon, to take into consideration the trade of the United States; to consider how far a uniform system in their commercial regulations may be necessary to their common interest and their permanent harmony; and to report to the several States such an act, relative to this great object, as, when ratified by them will enable the United States in Congress effectually to provide for the same. The Virginia commissioners, after some correspondence, fixed the first Monday in September as the time, and the city of Annapolis as the place for the meeting, but only four States were represented, viz: Delaware, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Carolina and Rhode Island failed to attend. Under the circumstances of so partial a representation, the commissioners present agreed upon a report (drawn by Mr. Hamilton, of New York), expressing their unanimous conviction that it might essentially tend to advance the interests of the Union if the States by which they were respectively delegated would concur, and use their endeavors to procure the concurrence of the other States, in the appointment of commissioners to meet at Philadelphia on the second Monday of May following, to take into consideration the situation of the United States; to devise such further provisions as should appear to them necessary to render the Constitution of the Federal government adequate to the exigencies of the Union; and to report such an act for that purpose to the United States in Congress assembled as, when agreed to by them and afterwards confirmed by the Legislature of every State, would effectively provide for the same.

Congress, on the 21st of February, 1787, adopted a resolution in favor of a convention and the Legislatures of those States which had not already done so (with the exception of Rhode Island), promptly appointed delegates. On the 25th of May, seven States having convened, George Washington, of Virginia, was unanimously elected President, and the consideration of the proposed constitution was commenced. On the 17th of September, 1787, the Constitution as engrossed and agreed upon was signed by all the members present, except Mr. Gerry, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Mason and Randolph, of Virginia. The President of the convention transmitted it to congress, with a resolution stating how the proposed Federal Government should be put in operation, and an explanatory letter. Congress, on the 28th of September, 1787, directed the Constitution so framed, with the resolutions and letter concerning the same, to "be transmitted to the several Legislatures in order to be submitted to a convention of delegates chosen in each State by the people thereof, in conformity to the resolves of the convention."

On the 4th of March, 1789, the day which had been fixed for commencing the operations of Government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by the convention chosen in each State, to consider it, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February

Composition of the House of Representatives.

Section. 2. 1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

Qualifications of Representatives.

2. No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Apportionment of Representatives and Direct Taxes—Census.

3. * [Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths, of all other Persons.] The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

Filling of Vacancies in Representation.

4. When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

Selection of Officers—Power of Impeachment.

5. The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

Of the Senate.

Section 3. 1. † [The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.]

Classification of Senators—Filling of Vacancies.

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; † [and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788. The President informed Congress, on the 28th of January, 1790, that North Carolina had ratified the Constitution November 21, 1789; and he informed Congress on the 1st of June, 1790, that Rhode Island had ratified the Constitution May 29, 1789. Vermont, in convention, ratified the Constitution January 10, 1789, and was, by an act of Congress approved February 19, 1791, "received and admitted into this Union as a new and entire member of the United States."

*The clause included in brackets is amended by the fourteenth amendment, second section.

†The first paragraph of Section 3, of Article I, and that part of the second paragraph of Section 3, of Article I, included in brackets have been superseded by the seventeenth amendment. (Article XVII.)

the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.]

Qualifications of Senators.

3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

Vice President to be President of Senate.

4. The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

Selection of Senate Officers—President pro tempore.

5. The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore in the Absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

Senate to Try Impeachments.

6. The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two-thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment.

7. Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and Disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, trust or profit under the United States: but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, trial Judgment and punishment, according to law.

Control of Congressional Elections.

Section 4 1. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

Time for Assembling of Congress.

2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day.

Each House to be the Judge of the Election and Qualifications of its Members—Regulations as to Quorum.

Section 5. 1. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do Business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House to Determine its Own Rules.

2. Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Journals and Yeas and Nays.

3. Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Adjournment.

4. Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Compensation and Privileges of Members of Congress.

Section. 6. 1. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

Incompatible Officers—Exclusions.

2. No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

Revenue Bills to Originate in House.

Section. 7. 1. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Manner of Passing Bills—Veto Power of President.

2. Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Concurrent Orders, Resolutions, &c., to be Passed on by President.

3. Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be re-passed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

General Powers of Congress—Taxation.

Section 8. 1. The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

9. To constitute Tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court.

Piracies, Felonies, &c.

10. To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offenses against the Law of Nations;

War—Marque and Reprisal.

11. To declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water;

*By Article XVI of the amendments to the Constitution, Congress is given the power to lay and collect taxes on incomes.

Armies.

12. To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for longer Term than two Years;

Navy.

13. To provide and maintain a Navy;

Land and Naval Forces.

14. To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces;

Calling Out Militia.

15. To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions; Organizing, Arming and Disciplining Militia.

16. To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the Appointment of Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

Exclusive Legislation Over District of Columbia, &c.

17. To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, Dock Yards, and other needful Buildings;—And

To Enact Laws Necessary to Enforce Constitution.

18. To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

Migration or Importation of Certain Persons not to be Prohibited Before 1808.

Section 9. 1. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

Writ of Habeas Corpus not to be Suspended—Exception.

2. The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the Public Safety may require it.

Bills of Attainder and Ex-Post Facto Laws Prohibited.

3. No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

Capitation and Other Direct Taxes.

4. No Capitation, or other direct, Tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

Exports not to be Taxed.

5. No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

No Preference to be Given to Ports of any State—Interstate Shipping.

6. No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another; nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

Money, How Drawn from Treasury—Financial Statements to be Published.

7. No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

Titles of Nobility not to be Granted—Acceptance by Government Officers of Favors from Foreign Powers.

8. No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no person holding any office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any Kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign State.

Limitations of the Powers of the Several States.

Section 10. 1. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

State Imposts and Duties.

2. No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its Inspection Laws; and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Control of the Congress.

Further Restrictions on Powers of States.

3. No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

Of the President—The Executive Power.

Section. 1. 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows:

Appointment and Qualifications of Presidential Electors.

2. Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

Original Method of Electing the President and Vice President.

3. * [The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes, shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; a quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two thirds of the States, a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice President.]

Congress may Determine Time of Choosing Electors and Day for Casting Their Votes.

4. The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day, on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

†Qualifications for the Office of President.

5. No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

Filling Vacancy in Office of President.

6. In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the Same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation, or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

Compensation of the President.

7. The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Oath to be Taken by the President.

8. Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

*This clause has been superseded by the twelfth amendment.

†For qualification of the Vice President, see Article XII of the Amendments.

The President to be Commander-in-Chief of Army and Navy and Head of Executive Departments—May Grant Reprieves and Pardons.

Section. 2. 1. The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the Actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offenses against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

President May, with Concurrence of Senate, Make Treaties, Appoint Ambassadors, &c.—Appointment of Inferior Officers, Authority of Congress Over.

2. He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law; but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

President May Fill Vacancies in Office During Recess of Senate.

3. The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

President to Give Advice to Congress—May Convene or Adjourn it on Certain Occasions—To Receive Ambassadors, &c.—Have Laws Executed and Commission all Officers.

Section. 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may Adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the officers of the United States.

All Civil Officers Removable by Impeachment.

Section. 4. The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

Judicial Power—How Vested—Term of Office and Compensation of Judges.

Section. 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their offices during good Behavior, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

*Jurisdiction of Federal Courts.

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

[ARTICLE X.]

Powers not Delegated, Reserved to States and People Respectively.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

[ARTICLE XI.]*†

Judicial Power of United States not to Extend to Suits Against a State.

The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.

[ARTICLE XII.]‡

Present Mode of Electing President and Vice President by Electors.

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, § and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate:—The President of the Sen-

*The eleventh amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Legislatures of several States by a resolution of Congress passed on the 5th of September, 1794, at the first session of the Third Congress; and on the 8th of January, 1798, at the second session of the Fifth Congress, it was declared by the President, in a message to the two Houses of Congress, to have been adopted by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States, there being at that time sixteen States in the Union.

†See Article III, Sec. 2.

‡The twelfth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Legislatures of the several States, there being then seventeen States, in lieu of the original third paragraph of the first section of the second article, by a resolution of Congress passed on the 12th of December, 1803, at the first session of the Eighth Congress, and was ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States in 1804, according to a proclamation of the Secretary of State dated the 25th of September, 1804.

§On the second Monday in January by act of Congress, approved February 3, 1887.

ate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted:—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

[ARTICLE XIII.]*

Slavery Prohibited.

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Congress Given Power to Enforce this Article.

Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Citizenship Defined—Privileges of Citizens.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

|| On the second Wednesday in February, by Act of Congress approved February 3, 1857.

*The thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Legislatures of the several States, there being then thirty-six States, by a resolution of Congress passed on the 1st of February, 1865, at the second session of the Thirty-eighth Congress, and was ratified, according to a proclamation of the Secretary of State dated December 18, 1865, by the Legislatures of twenty-seven of the thirty-six States, viz: Illinois, February 1, 1865; Rhode Island, February 2, 1865; Michigan, February 2, 1865; Maryland, February 3, 1865; New York, February 3, 1865; West Virginia, February 3, 1865; Maine, February 7, 1865; Kansas, February 7, 1865; Massachusetts, February 8, 1865; Pennsylvania, February 8, 1865; Virginia, February 9, 1865; Ohio, February 10, 1865; Missouri, February 10, 1865; Indiana, February 10, 1865; Nevada, February 16, 1865; Louisiana, February 17, 1865; Minnesota, February 23, 1865; Wisconsin, March 1, 1865; Vermont, March 9, 1865; Tennessee, April 7, 1865; Arkansas, April 20, 1865; Connecticut, May 5, 1865; New Hampshire, July 1, 1865; South Carolina, November 13, 1865; Alabama, December 2, 1865; North Carolina, December 4, 1865; Georgia, December 9, 1865. The following States not enumerated in the proclamation of the Secretary of State also ratified this amendment: Oregon, December 11, 1865; California, December 20, 1865; Florida, December 28, 1865; New Jersey, January 23, 1866; Iowa, January 24, 1866; Texas, February 18, 1870.

†The fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the Legislatures of the several States by the Thirty-ninth Congress, on the 16th of June, 1866. On the 21st of July, 1868, Congress adopted and trans-

Apportionment of Representatives.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Disqualification for Office—Removal of Disability.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Public Debt not to be Questioned—Payment of Debts and Claims Incurred in Aid of Rebellion Forbidden.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Congress Given Power to Enforce this Article.

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE 1.

Relations to the Government of the United States.

1. The State of West Virginia is, and shall remain, one of the United States of America. The Constitution of the United States of America, and the laws and treaties made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land.

Internal Government and Police.

2. The government of the United States is a government of enumerated powers, and all powers, not delegated to it, nor inhibited to the States, are reserved to the States or to the people thereof. Among the powers so reserved to the States is the exclusive regulation of their own internal government and police; and it is the high and solemn duty of the several departments of government, created by this Constitution, to guard and protect the people of this State from all encroachments upon the rights so reserved.

Continuity of Constitutional Operation.

3. The provisions of the Constitution of the United States, and of this State, are operative alike in a period of war as in time of peace, and any departure therefrom, or violation thereof, under the plea of necessity, or any other plea, is subversive of good government, and tends to anarchy and despotism.

Representatives to Congress.

4. For the election of representatives to congress, the State shall be divided into districts, corresponding in number with the representatives to which it may be entitled; which districts shall be formed of contiguous counties, and be compact. Each district shall contain, as nearly as may be, an equal number of population, to be determined according to the rule prescribed in the Constitution of the United States.

ARTICLE II.

The State.

1. The territory of the following counties, formerly parts of the Commonwealth of Virginia, shall constitute and form the State of West Virginia, viz.:

The counties of Barbour, Berkeley, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Calhoun, Doddridge, Fayette, Gilmer, Grant, Greenbrier, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Kanawha, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Marlon, Marshall, Mason, McDowell, Mercer, Mineral, *Mingo, Monongalia, Monroe, Morgan, Nicholas, Ohio, Pendleton, Pleasants, Pocahontas, Preston, Putnam, Raleigh, Randolph, Ritchie, Roane, Summers, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Webster, Wetzel, Wirt, Wood and Wyoming. The State of West Virginia includes the bed, bank and shores of the Ohio river, and so much of the Big Sandy river as was formerly included in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and all territorial rights and property in, and jurisdiction over the same, heretofore reserved by and vested in the Commonwealth of Virginia, are vested in and shall hereafter be exercised by the State of West Virginia. And such parts of the said beds, banks and shores, as lie opposite, and adjoining the several counties of this State, shall form parts of said several counties, respectively.

Powers of Government in Citizens.

2. The powers of government reside in all the citizens of the State, and can be rightfully exercised only in accordance with their will and appointment.

Requisites of Citizenship.

3. All persons residing in this State, born, or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall be citizens of this State.

Equal Representation.

4. Every citizen shall be entitled to equal representation in the government, and, in all apportionments of representation, equality of numbers of those entitled thereto, shall as far as practicable, be preserved.

Provisions Regarding Property.

5. No distinction shall be made between resident aliens and citizens, as to the acquisition, tenure, disposition or descent of property.

Treason, What Constitutes—Penalty.

6. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. Treason shall be punished according to the character of the acts committed, by the infliction of one, or more of the penalties, of death, imprisonment or fine, as may be prescribed by law.

"Montani Semper Liberi"—State Seal.

7. The present seal of the State with its motto, "Montani Semper Liberi," shall be the great seal of the State of West Virginia, and shall be kept by the Secretary of State, to be used by him officially, as directed by law.

Writs, Commissions, Official Bonds—Indictments.

8. Writs, grants and commissions, issued under the authority of this State shall run in the name of, and official bonds shall be made payable to the State of West Virginia. Indictments shall conclude, "Against the peace and dignity of the State."

ARTICLE III.

Bill of Rights.

1. All men are, by nature, equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights, of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot, by any compact, deprive or divest their posterity, namely, the enjoyment of life and liberty, with the means of acquiring and possessing property, and of pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety.

Magistrates Servants of People.

2. All power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people. Magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at all times amenable to them.

Rights Reserved to People.

3. Government is instituted for the common benefit, protection and security of the people, nation or community. Of all its various forms that is the best, which is capable of producing the greatest degree of happiness and safety, and is most effectually secured against the danger of maladministration; and when any government shall be found inadequate or contrary to these purposes, a majority of the community has an indubitable, inalienable, and indefeasible right to reform, alter or abolish it in such a manner as shall be judged most conducive to the public weal.

Writ of Habeas Corpus.

4. The privilege of a writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended. No person shall be held to answer for treason, felony or other crime not cognizable by a justice, unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury. No bill of attainder, ex-post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of a contract, shall be passed.

Excessive Bail not Required.

5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted. Penalties shall be proportioned to the character and degree of the offense. No person shall be transported out of, or forced to leave the State for any offense committed within the same; nor shall any person, in any criminal case, be compelled to be a witness against himself, or be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty for the same offense.

Unreasonable Search and Seizures Prohibited.

6. The right of citizens to be secure in their houses, persons, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated. No warrant shall issue except upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, or the person or thing to be seized.

Freedom of Speech and Press Guaranteed.

7. No law abridging the freedom, of speech, or of the press, shall be passed; but the Legislature may by suitable penalties, restrain the publication or sale of obscene books, papers or pictures, and provide for the punishment of libel, and defamation of character, and for the recovery in civil actions, by the aggrieved party, of suitable damages for such libel, or defamation.

Relating to Civil Suits for Libel.

8. In prosecutions and civil suits for libel, the truth may be given in evidence, and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous, is true, and was published with good motives, and for justifiable ends, the verdict shall be for the defendant.

Private Property, How Taken.

9. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use, without just compensation; nor shall the same be taken by any company, incorporated for the purpose of internal improvements, until just compensation shall have been paid or secured to be paid, to the owner; and when private property shall be taken, or damaged, for public use, or for the use of such corporations, the compensation to the owner shall be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by general law; provided, that when required by either of the parties, such compensation shall be ascertained by an impartial jury of twelve freeholders.

Safeguards for Life, Liberty and Property.

10. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, and the judgment of his peers.

Political Tests Condemned.

11. Political tests requiring persons, as a pre-requisite to the enjoyment of their civil and political rights, to purge themselves by their own oaths, of past alleged offenses, are repugnant to the principles of free government, and are cruel and oppressive. No religious or political test oath shall be required as a pre-requisite or qualification to vote, serve as a juror, sue, plead, appeal, or pursue any profession or employment. Nor shall any person be deprived by law, of any right, or privilege, because of any act done prior to the passage of such law.

Military Subordinate to Civil Power.

12. Standing armies in time of peace, should be avoided as dangerous to liberty. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power; and no citizen unless engaged in the military service of the State, shall be tried or punished by any military court, for any offense that is cognizable by the civil courts of the State. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, except in the manner to be prescribed by law.

Right of Jury Trial.

13. In suits at common law, where the value in controversy exceeds twenty dollars exclusive of interest and costs, the right of trial by jury, if required by either party, shall be preserved; and in such suit before a justice a jury may consist of six persons. No fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any case than according to the rules of common law.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of March 7, 1879, Acts 1879, p. 182, and adopted at the next election.)

Trial of Crimes—Provisions in Interest of Accused.

14. Trial of crimes, and of misdemeanors, unless herein otherwise provided, shall be by a jury of twelve men, public, without unreasonable delay, and in the county where the alleged offense was committed, unless upon petition of the accused, and for good cause shown, it is removed to some other county. In all such trials, the accused shall be fully and plainly informed of the character and cause of the accusation, and be confronted with the witnesses against him, and shall have the assistance of counsel, and a reasonable time to prepare for his defence; and there shall be awarded to him compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor."

Religious Freedom Guaranteed.

15. No man shall be compelled to frequent or support any religious worship, place or ministry whatsoever; nor shall any man be enforced, restrained, molested or burthened, in his body or goods, or otherwise suffer, on account of his religious opinions or belief, but all men shall be free to profess, and by argument, to maintain their opinions in matters of religion; and the same shall, in no wise, affect, diminish or enlarge their civil capacities; and the legislature shall not prescribe any religious test whatever, or confer any peculiar privileges or advantages on any sect or denomination, or pass any law requiring or authorizing any religious society, or the people of any district within this State, to levy on themselves, or others, any tax for the erection or repair of any house for public worship, or for the support of any church or ministry, but it shall be left free for every person to select his religious instructor, and to make for his support, such private contract as he shall please.

Right of Public Assembly Held Inviolable.

16. The right of the people to assemble in a peaceable manner, to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives, or to apply for redress of grievances, shall be held inviolate.

Courts Open to All—Justice Administered Speedily.

17. The courts of this state shall be open, and every person, for an injury done to him in his person, property or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law; and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay.

Conviction Not to Work Corruption of Blood or Forfeiture.

18. No conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

Hereditary Emoluments, Etc., Provided Against

19. No hereditary emoluments, honors, or privileges shall ever be granted or conferred in this State.

Preservation of Free Government.

20. Free government and the blessings of liberty can be preserved to any people only by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.

ARTICLE IV.

Elections and Officers.

1. The male citizens of the State shall be entitled to vote at all elections held within the counties in which they respectively reside; but no person who is a minor, or of unsound mind, or a pauper, or who is under conviction of treason, felony, or bribery in an election, or who has not been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county in which he offers to vote, sixty days next preceding such offer, shall be permitted to vote while such disability continues: but no person in the military, naval or marine service of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this State by reason of being stationed therein.

Mode of Voting by Ballot.

2. In all elections by the people, the mode of voting shall be by ballot; but the voter shall be left free to vote by either open, sealed or secret ballot, as he may elect.

Voter not Subject to Arrest on Civil Process.

3. No voter, during the continuance of an election at which he is entitled to vote, or during the time necessary and convenient for going to and returning from the same, shall be subject to arrest upon civil process, or be compelled to attend any court, or judicial proceeding, as suitor, juror or witness; or to work upon the public roads; or, except in time of war or public danger, to render military service.

Persons Entitled to Hold Office—Age Requirements.

4. No person, except citizens entitled to vote, shall be elected or appointed to any State, county or municipal office; but the Governor and Judges must have attained the age of thirty, and the Attorney General and Senators the age of twenty-five years, at the beginning of their respective terms of service, and must have been citizens of the State for five years next preceding their election or appointment, or be citizens at the time this Constitution goes into operation.

Oath or Affirmation to Support the Constitution.

5. Every person elected or appointed to any office, before proceeding to exercise the authority, or discharge the duties thereof, shall make oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this State, and that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his said office to the best of his skill and judgment, and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification, unless herein otherwise provided.

Provision for Removal of Officials.

6. All officers elected or appointed under this Constitution, may, unless in cases herein otherwise provided for, be removed from office, for official misconduct, incompetence, neglect of duty, or immorality, in such manner as may be prescribed by general laws, and unless so removed they shall continue to discharge the duties of their respective offices, until their successors are elected, or appointed and qualified.

General Elections, When Held—Terms of Officials.

7. The general elections of State and county officers, and of members of the legislature, shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, until otherwise provided by law. The terms of such officers not elected, or appointed to fill a vacancy, shall, unless herein otherwise provided, begin, on the first day of January; and of the members of the Legislature, on the first day of December next succeeding their election. Elections to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term. When vacancies occur prior to any general election, they shall be filled by appointments, in such manner as may be prescribed herein, or by general law, which appointments shall expire at such time after the next general election as the person so elected to fill such vacancy shall be qualified.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 21, 1883, Acts 1883, p. 137, and adopted at the next election.)

Further Provisions Regarding State's Officers and Agents.

8. The Legislature, in cases not provided for in this Constitution, shall prescribe, by general laws, the terms of office, powers, duties and compensation of all public officers and agents, and the manner in which they shall be elected, appointed and removed.

Impeachment of Officials.

9. Any officer of the State may be impeached for mal-administration, corruption, incompetency, gross immorality, neglect of duty, or any high crime or misdemeanor. The House of Delegates shall have the sole power of impeachment. The Senate shall have the sole power to try impeachments, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto. When sitting as a court of impeachment, the President of the Supreme Court of Appeals, or if from any cause it be improper for him to act, then any other judge of that court, to be designated by it, shall preside; and the Senators shall be on oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust or profit, under the State; but the party convicted shall be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law. The Senate may sit during the recess of the Legislature, for the trial of impeachments.

Fighting of Duels Prohibited.

10. Any citizen of this State, who shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, either in, or out of the State, fight a duel with deadly weapons, or send or accept a challenge so to do, or who shall act as a second or knowingly aid, or assist in such duel, shall, ever thereafter, be incapable of holding any office of honor, trust or profit in this State.

Safeguards for Ballots.

11. The Legislature shall prescribe the manner of conducting and making returns of elections, and of determining contested elections; and shall pass such laws as may be necessary and proper to prevent intimidation, disorder or violence at the polls, and corruption or fraud in voting, counting the vote, ascertaining and declaring the result, or fraud in any manner, upon the ballot.

Registration Laws Provided For.

12. The Legislature shall enact proper laws for the registration of all qualified voters in this State.

E. T. ENGLAND
Attorney General

ARTICLE V.

Division of Powers.

1. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments shall be separate and distinct, so that neither shall exercise the powers properly belonging to either of the others; nor shall any person exercise the powers of more than one of them at the same time, except that justices of the peace shall be eligible to the Legislature.

ARTICLE VI.

Legislature.

1. The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and House of Delegates. The style of their Acts shall be "Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia."

Composition of Senate and House of Delegates.

2. The *Senate shall be composed of twenty-four, and the House of Delegates of sixty-five members subject to be increased according to the provisions hereinafter contained.

Senators and Delegates—Term of Office.

3. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years and Delegates for the term of two years. The Senators first elected, shall divide themselves into two classes, one Senator from every district being assigned to each class; and of these classes, the first to be designated by lot in such manner as the Senate may determine, shall hold their seats for two years; and the second for four years, so that after the first election, one-half of the Senators shall be elected biennially.

Division of State into Senatorial Districts.

4. For the election of Senators, the State shall be divided into *twelve Senatorial Districts, which number shall not be diminished, but may be increased as hereinafter provided. Every district shall elect two Senators, but where the district is composed of more than one county, both shall not be chosen from the same county. The districts shall be compact, formed of contiguous territory, bounded by county lines, as nearly as practicable, equal in population, to be ascertained by the census of the United States. After every such census, the Legislature shall alter the Senatorial Districts, so far as may be necessary to make them conform to the foregoing provision.

(*There are now fifteen senatorial districts, as provided by Acts 1901. Ch. 101.)

Senatorial Districts Designated.

5. Until the Senatorial †Districts shall be altered by the Legislature as herein prescribed, the counties of Hancock, Brooke and Ohio shall constitute the first Senatorial District; Marshall, Wetzel and Marion, the second; Ritchie, Doddridge, Harrison, Gilmer and Calhoun, the third; Tyler, Pleasants, Wood and Wirt, the fourth; Jackson, Mason, Putnam and Boone, the fifth; Kanawha, Clay, Nicholas, Braxton and Webster, the sixth; Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln, Boone, Logan, Wyoming, McDowell and Mercer, the seventh; Monroe, Greenbrier, Summers, Pocahontas, Fayette and Raleigh, the eighth; Lewis, Randolph, Upshur, Barbour, Taylor and Tucker, the ninth; Preston and Monongalia, the tenth; Hampshire, Mineral, Hardy, Grant and Pendleton, the eleventh; Berkeley, Morgan and Jefferson, the twelfth.

(†By the provisions of the reapportionment act of 1901. [Acts 1901, ch. 10], the number of senatorial districts was increased to fifteen, and the counties constituting each district changed.)

Provision for Delegate Representation.

6. For the election of Delegates, every county containing a population of not less than three-fifths of the ratio of representation for the House of Delegates, shall, at each apportionment, be attached to some contiguous county or counties, to form a †Delegate District:

(‡By the provisions of the Acts of 1901, ch. 10, the House of Delegates consists of eighty-six members, each county having at least one member. After the general election of 1916, the House of Delegates consisted of ninety-four members, each county having at least one member. See Ch. 30, p. 270. Acts 1915, Regular Session.)

After Census, Delegate Apportionment.

7. After every census the Delegates shall be apportioned as follows: The ratio of representation for the House of Delegates shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of the State by the number of which the House is to consist and rejecting the fraction of a unit, if any, resulting from such division. Dividing the population of every Delegate District, and of every county not included in a Delegate District, by the ratio thus ascertained, there shall be assigned to each a number of Delegates equal to the quotient obtained by this division, excluding the fractional remainder. The additional Delegates necessary to make up the number of which the House is to consist, shall then be assigned to those Delegate Districts, and counties not included in a Delegate District, which would otherwise have the largest fractions unrepresented, but every Delegate District and county not included in a Delegate District shall be entitled to at least one Delegate.

Designation of Delegate Districts.

8. Until a new apportionment shall be declared, the counties of Pleasants and Wood shall form the first Delegate District, and elect three Delegates; Ritchie and Calhoun the second, and elect two Delegates; Barbour, Harrison and Taylor the third, and elect one Delegate; Randolph and Tucker the fourth, and elect one Delegate; Nicholas, Clay and Webster the fifth, and elect one Delegate; McDowell and Wyoming the sixth, and elect one Delegate.

Further Apportionment.

9. Until a new apportionment shall be declared the apportionment of Delegates to the counties not included in Delegate Districts, and to Barbour, Harrison and Taylor counties, embraced in such districts, shall be as follows:

To Barbour, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Doddridge, Fayette, Hampshire, Hancock, Jackson, Lewis, Logan, Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer, Mineral, Morgan, Grant, Hardy, Lincoln, Pendleton, Putnam, Roane, Gilmer, Taylor, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzel, Wirt, Pocahontas, Summers and Raleigh counties, one delegate each.

To Berkeley, Harrison, Jefferson, Marion, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia and Preston counties, two Delegates each.

To Kanawha county, three Delegates.

To Obio county, four Delegates.

Arrangement of Senatorial and Delegate Districts.

10. The arrangement of the Senatorial and Delegate Districts, and apportionment of Delegates, shall hereafter be declared by law, as soon as possible after each succeeding census, taken by authority of the United States. When so declared they shall apply to the first general election for members of the Legislature, to be thereafter held, and shall continue in force unchanged, until such Districts shall be altered, and Delegates apportioned, under the succeeding census.

Additional Territory May be Admitted Into State.

11. Additional territory may be admitted into, and become part of this State, with the consent of the Legislature and a majority of the qualified voters of the State, voting on the question. And in such case provision shall be made by law for the representation thereof in the Senate and House of Delegates, in conformity with the principles set forth in this Constitution. And the number of members of which each house of the Legislature is to consist, shall thereafter be increased by the representation assigned to such additional territory.

Senators and Delegates Required to be Residents of Districts.

12. No person shall be a Senator or Delegate who has not for one year next preceding his election, been a resident within the District or county from which he is elected; and if a Senator or Delegate remove from the District or county for which he was elected, his seat shall be thereby vacated.

Eligibility to Seat in Legislature.

13. No person holding a lucrative office under this State, the United States, or any foreign government; no member of Congress; no person who is a salaried officer of any railroad company, or who is sheriff, constable, or clerk of any court of record, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature.

Bribery Conviction Forfeits Eligibility.

14. No person who has been, or hereafter shall be convicted of bribery, perjury, or other infamous crime, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature. No person who may have collected or been entrusted with public money, whether state, county, township, district, or other municipal organization, shall be eligible to the Legislature, or to any office of honor, trust or profit in this State until he shall have duly accounted for and paid over such money according to law.

Senators and Delegates Not to Hold Civil Office for Profit.

15. No Senator or Delegate, during the term for which he shall have been elected, shall be elected or appointed to any civil office of profit under this State, which has been created, or the emoluments of which have been increased during such term, except offices to be filled by election by the people. Nor shall any member of the Legislature be interested directly or indirectly, in any contract with the State, or any county thereof authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected.

Oath of Senators and Delegates.

16. Members of the Legislature, before they enter upon their duties, shall take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of West Virginia, and faithfully discharge the duties of Senator (or Delegate) according to the best of my ability;" and they shall also take this further oath, to-wit: "I will not accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing, from any corporation, company, or person, for any vote or influence I may give or withhold, as Senator (or Delegate), or any bill, resolution or appropriation, or for any act I may do or perform as Senator (or Delegate)." These oaths shall be administered in the hall of the house to which the member is elected, by a Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, or of a Circuit Court, or by any other person authorized by law to administer an oath; and the Secretary of State shall record and file said oaths subscribed by each member; and no other oath or declaration shall be required as a qualification. Any member who shall refuse to take the oath herein prescribed shall forfeit his seat; and any member who shall be convicted of having violated the oath last above required to be taken, shall forfeit his seat and be disqualified thereafter from holding any office of profit and trust in this State.

Members of Legislature Privileged From Civil Arrest.

17. Members of the Legislature shall, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session, and for ten days before and after the same; and for words spoken in debate, or any report, motion or proposition made in either house, a member shall not be questioned in any other place.

Time of Assembly of Legislature.

18. The Legislature shall assemble at the seat of Government, biennially and not oftener, unless convened by the Governor. The first session of the Legislature, after the adoption of this Constitution, shall commence on the third Tuesday of November, 1872, and the regular biennial session of the Legislature shall commence on the second Wednesday of January, 1875, and every two years thereafter, on the same day.

Convening of Legislature by Governor.

19. The Governor may convene the Legislature by proclamation whenever, in his opinion, the public safety or welfare shall require it. It shall be his duty to convene it, on application in writing, of three-fifths of the members elected to each house.

Seat of Government.

20. The seat of Government shall be at Charleston, until otherwise provided by law.

Provision for Assembling of Legislature Other Than at the Seat of Government.

21. The Governor may convene the Legislature at another place, when, in his opinion, it can not safely assemble at the seat of Government, and the Legislature may, when in session, adjourn to some other place, when in its opinion, the public safety or welfare, or the safety of the members, or their health shall require it.

Length of Legislative Session.

22. No session of the Legislature, after the first, shall continue longer than forty-five days without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each House.

Concerning Adjournment.

23. Neither House shall, during the session, adjourn for more than three days without the consent of the other. Nor shall either, without such consent, adjourn, to any other place than that in which the Legislature is sitting.

Rules Governing Legislative Proceedings.

24. A majority of the members elected to each House of the Legislature, shall constitute a quorum. But a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, as each House may provide. Each House shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members. The Senate shall choose, from its own body, a President; and the House of Delegates, from its own body, a Speaker. Each House shall appoint its own officers, and remove them at pleasure. The oldest Delegate present shall call the House to order, at the opening of each new House of Delegates, and preside over it until the Speaker thereof shall be chosen, and have taken his seat. The oldest member of the Senate present at the commencement of each regular session thereof, shall call the Senate to order, and preside over the same until a President of the Senate shall have been chosen and have taken his seat.

Authority to Punish Members.

25. Each House may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.

Provisions for Undisturbed Transaction of Business.

26. Each House shall have power to provide for its own safety, and the undisturbed transactions of its business, and may punish by imprisonment, any person not a member, for disrespectful behavior in its presence; for obstructing any of its proceedings, or of its officers in the discharge of his duties, or for any assault, threat or abuse of a member, for words spoken in debate. But such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session, and shall not prevent the punishment of any offense, by the ordinary course of law.

Accounting for State Monies.

27. Laws shall be enacted and enforced, by suitable provisions and penalties requiring sheriffs, and all other officers, whether State, county, district, or municipal who shall collect or receive, or whose official duty it is or shall be, to collect, receive, hold or pay out any money belonging to, or which is, or shall be, for the use of the State or of any county, district, or municipal corporation, to make annual account and settlement therefor. Such settlement, when made, shall be subject to exceptions, and take such direction, and have only such force and effect, as may be provided by law; but in all cases, such settlement shall be recorded, and be open to examination of the people at such convenient place or places as may be appointed by law.

Origination of Bills.

28. Bills and resolutions may originate in either House, but may be passed, amended or rejected by the other.

Requirement for Reading of Bills.

29. No bill shall become a law until it has been fully and distinctly read, on three different days, in each House, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays on each bill, this rule be dispensed with; Provided, in all cases, that an engrossed bill shall be fully and distinctly read in each House.

Acts to Embrace but One Object—Time of Effect.

30. No act hereafter passed shall embrace more than one object, and that shall be expressed in the title. But if any object shall be embraced in an act which is not so expressed, the act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed, and no law shall be revived, or amended, by reference to its title only; but the law revived, or the section amended, shall be inserted at large, in the new act. And no act of the Legislature, except such as may be passed at the first session under this Constitution, shall take effect until the expiration of ninety days after its passage, unless the Legislature shall by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each House, taken by yeas and nays, otherwise direct.

How Bills May Be Amended.

31. When a bill or joint resolution passed by one House, shall be amended by the other, the question on agreeing to the bill, or joint resolution, as amended, shall be again voted on, by yeas and nays, in the House by which it was originally passed, and the result entered upon its journals; in all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to such House shall be necessary.

"Majority" Defined.

32. Whenever the words, "a majority of the members elected to either House of the Legislature," or words of like import, are used in this Constitution, they shall be construed to mean a majority of the whole number of members to which each House is, at the time, entitled, under the apportionment of representation, established by the provisions of this Constitution.

Compensation of Members.

33. The members of the Legislature shall each receive for their services the sum of four dollars per day and ten cents for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government by the most direct route. The Speaker of the House of Delegates and the President of the Senate shall each receive an additional compensation of two dollars per day for each day they shall act as presiding officers. No other allowance or emolument than that by this section provided shall directly or indirectly be made or paid to the members of either House for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatever.

Distribution of Laws and Journals Provided For—Contracts for Printing.

34. The Legislature shall provide by law that the fuel, stationery and printing paper, furnished for the use of the State; the copying, printing, binding and distributing the laws and journals; and all other printing ordered by the Legislature, shall be let by contract to the lowest responsible bidder, bidding under a maximum price to be fixed by the Legislature; and no member or officer thereof or officer of the State, shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in such contract, but all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the Governor, and in case of his disapproval of any such contract, there shall be a reletting of the same in the manner prescribed by law.

State Not to be Made Defendant in any Court.

35. The State of West Virginia shall never be made defendant in any court of law or equity.

Lotteries Prohibited.

36. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize lotteries or gift enterprises for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale of lottery or gift enterprise tickets in this State.

Term of Office Not to be Extended After Election.

37. No law shall be passed after the election of any public officer, which shall operate to extend the term of his office.

Salaries of Officials Cannot be Increased During Official Term.

38. No extra compensation shall be granted or allowed to any public officer, agent, servant or contractor, after the services shall have been rendered or the contract made; nor shall any Legislature authorize the payment of any claim or part thereof, hereafter created against the State, under any agreement or contract made, without express authority of law; and all such unauthorized agreements shall be null and void. Nor shall the salary of any public officer be increased or diminished during his term of office, nor shall any such officer, or his or their sureties be released from any debt or liability due the State; Provided, The Legislature may make appropriations for expenditures hereafter incurred in suppressing insurrection, or repelling invasion.

Local Laws Not to be Passed in Enumerated Cases.

39. The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases; that is to say, for:

- Granting divorces;
- Laying out, opening, altering and working roads or highways;
- Vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys and public grounds;
- Locating or changing county seats;
- Regulating or changing county or district affairs;
- Providing for the sale of church property, or property held for charitable uses;
- Regulating the practice in courts of justice;
- Incorporating cities, towns or villages, or amending the charter of any city, town or village containing a population of less than two thousand;
- Summoning or impanelling grand or petit juries;
- The opening or conducting of any election, or designating the place of voting;
- The sale and mortgage of real estate belonging to minors, or others under disability;
- Chartering, licensing, or establishing ferries or toll bridges;
- Remitting fines, penalties or forfeitures;
- Changing the laws of descent;
- Regulating the rates of interest;
- Authorizing deeds to be made for land sold for taxes;
- Releasing taxes; releasing title to forfeited lands.

The Legislature shall provide, by general laws, for the foregoing and all other cases for which provision can be made; and in no case shall a special act be passed, where a general law would be proper, and can be made applicable to the case, nor in any other case in which the courts have jurisdiction and are competent to give the relief asked for.

Limiting Powers of Court or Judge.

40. The Legislature shall not confer upon any court, or judge, the power of appointment to office, further than the same is herein provided for.

Each House to Keep Journal of Proceedings.

41. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and cause the same to be published from time to time, and all bills and joint resolutions shall be described therein, as well by their title as their number, and the ayes and nays on any question, if called for by one-tenth of those present, shall be entered on the journal.

Appropriation Bills to be Specific.

42. Bills making appropriations for the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, and for salaries for the officers of the Government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.

Board of Court of Registration of Voters Prohibited.

43. The Legislature shall never authorize or establish any board or court of registration of voters.

Election of Legislative County and Municipal Officers.

44. In all elections to office which may hereafter take place in the Legislature, or in any county, or municipal body, the vote shall be viva voce, and be entered on its journals.

Bribery and Attempt to Bribe—Punishment.

45. It shall be the duty of the Legislature, at its first session after the adoption of this Constitution, to provide, by law, for the punishment by imprisonment in the penitentiary, of any person, who shall bribe, or attempt to bribe, any executive or judicial officer of this State, or any member of the Legislature in order to influence him in the performance of any of his official or public duties; and also to provide by law for the punishment by imprisonment in the penitentiary of any of said officers, or any member of the Legislature, who shall demand, or receive, from any corporation, company or person, any money, testimonial, or other valuable thing, for the performance of his official or public duties, or for refusing or failing to perform the same, or for any vote or influence a member of the Legislature may give or withhold as such member, and also to provide by law for compelling any person, so bribing or attempting to bribe, or so demanding or receiving a bribe, fee, reward, or testimonial, to testify against any person or persons, who may have committed any of said offences; Provided, That any person so compelled to testify, shall be exempted from trial and punishment for the offence of which he may have been guilty, and concerning which he is compelled to testify; and any person convicted of any of the offences specified in this section shall, as a part of the punishment thereof, be forever disqualified from holding any office or position of honor, trust, or profit in this State.

Manufacture and Sale of Liquor Prohibited—Exceptions.

46. On and after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, the manufacture, sale and keeping for sale of malt, vinous or spirituous liquors, wine, porter, ale, beer or any intoxicating drink, mixture or preparation of like nature, except as herein after provided, are hereby prohibited in this State; provided, however, that the manufacture and sale and keeping for sale of such liquors for medicinal, pharmaceutical, mechanical, sacramental and scientific purposes, and the manufacture and sale of denatured alcohol for industrial purposes may be permitted under such regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. The Legislature shall without delay, enact such laws, with regulations, conditions, securities and penalties as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

(This section, prior to its amendment, read as follows: "Laws may be passed regulating or prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within the limits of this State." The amendment as above set forth was proposed by joint resolution of February 9, 1911, Acts 1911, p. 289, [see also Acts 1911, ch. 15], and was adopted at the general election of 1912. Chapter 32-A, Hogg's Code of 1913, was enacted pursuant to this section, as amended.)

Incorporation of Religious Denominations Prohibited.

47. No charter of incorporation shall be granted to any church or religious denomination. Provision may be made by general laws for securing the title to church property, and for the sale and transfer thereof, so that it shall be held, used, or transferred for the purpose of such church or religious denomination.

Homestead Exemptions.

48. Any husband or parent, residing in this State, or the infant children of deceased parents, may hold a homestead of the value of one thousand dollars and personal property to the value of two hundred dollars, exempt from forced sale subject to such regulations as shall be prescribed by law. Provided, That such homestead exemption shall in no wise affect debts or liabilities existing at the time of the adoption of this Constitution; and provided further, That no property shall be exempt from sale for taxes due thereon, or for the payment of purchase money due upon said property, or for debts contracted for the erection of improvements thereon.

Property of Married Women.

49. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be necessary to protect the property of married women from the debts, liabilities and control of their husbands.

Plan of Proportional Representation.

50. The Legislature may provide for submitting to a vote of the people at the general election to be held in 1876, or at any general election thereafter, a plan or scheme of proportional representation in the Senate of this State; and if a majority of the votes cast at such election be in favor of the plan submitted to them, the Legislature shall, at its session succeeding such election, rearrange the Senatorial Districts in accordance with the plan so approved by the people.

The Budget System.

51. *The Legislature shall not appropriate any money out of the treasury except in accordance with the following provisions:

Sub-Section A.

Every appropriation bill shall be either a budget bill, or a supplementary appropriation bill, as hereinafter mentioned.

Sub-Section B.

First: Within ten days after the convening of the Legislature, unless such time shall be extended by the legislature for the session at which the budget is to be submitted, the board of public works, which shall consist of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, superintendent of free schools and commissioner of agriculture, shall submit to the Legislature, two budgets, one for each of the ensuing fiscal years. Each budget shall contain a complete plan of proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the particular fiscal year to which it relates; and shall show the estimated surplus or deficit of revenues at the end of such year. Accompanying each budget shall be a statement showing: (1) the revenues and expenditures for each of the two fiscal years next preceding; (2) the current assets, liabilities, reserves and surplus or deficit of the state; (3) the debts and funds of the State; (4) an estimate of the State's financial condition as of the beginning and end of each of the fiscal years covered by the two budgets above provided; (5) any explanation the board of public works may desire to make as to the important features of any budget and any suggestion as to methods for the reduction or increase of the State's revenue.

*This section—added to Article VI—was ratified by a vote of the people at the general election held on the fifth day of November, 1918, as an amendment to the Constitution known as "The Budget Amendment."

Second: Each budget shall be divided into two parts, and the first part shall be designated "Governmental Appropriations" and shall embrace an itemized estimate of the appropriations; (1) for the Legislature as certified to the board of public works in the manner hereinafter provided; (2) for the executive department; (3) for the judiciary department, as provided by law, certified to the governor by the auditor; (4) to pay and discharge the principal and interest of any debt of the State of West Virginia hereafter created in conformity with the Constitution, and all laws enacted in pursuance thereof; (5) for the salaries payable by the state under the Constitution and laws of the State; (6) for the aid of public schools in conformity with the laws of the State; (7) for such other purposes as are set forth in the Constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof.

Third: The second part shall be designated "General Appropriations," and shall include all other estimates of appropriations.

The board of public works shall deliver to the presiding officer of each House the budgets and a bill for all the proposed appropriations of the budgets clearly itemized and classified; and the presiding officer of each House shall promptly cause said bill to be introduced therein, and such bill shall be known as the "Budget Bill." The board of public works may, before final action thereon by the Legislature, amend or supplement either of said budgets to correct an oversight or in case of an emergency, with the consent of the Legislature by delivering such an amendment or supplement to the presiding officers of both Houses; and such amendment or supplement shall thereby become a part of said budget bill as an addition to the items of said bill or as a modification of or a substitute for any item of said bill such amendment or supplement may affect.

The Legislature shall not amend the budget bill so as to create a deficit but may amend the bill by increasing or diminishing the items therein relating to the Legislature, and by increasing the items therein relating to the judiciary, but except as hereinbefore specified, may not alter the said bill except to strike out or reduce items therein; provided, however, that the salary or compensation of any public officer shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office, and such bill when and as passed by both houses shall be a law immediately without further action by the governor.

Fourth: The governor and such representatives of the boards, officers and commissions of the State expending or applying for State's money as have been designated by the board of public works for this purpose, shall have the right, and when requested by either House of the Legislature it shall be their duty to appear and be heard with respect to any budget bill during the consideration thereof, and to answer inquiries relative thereto.

Sub-Section C.—Supplementary Appropriation Bills.

Neither House shall consider other appropriations until the budget bill has been finally acted upon by both Houses, and no such other appropriations shall be valid except in accordance with the provisions following:

(1) Every such appropriation shall be embodied in a separate bill limited to some single work, object or purpose therein stated and called herein a supplementary appropriation bill; (2) Each supplementary appropriation bill shall provide the revenue necessary to pay the appropriation thereby made by a tax, direct or indirect, to be laid and collected as shall be directed in said bill unless it appears from such budget that there is sufficient revenue available; (3) No supplementary appropriation bill shall become a law unless it be passed in each house by a vote of a majority of the members present, and the yeas and nays recorded on its final passage. Each supplementary appropriation bill shall be presented to the governor of the State as provided in section fourteen of article seven of the Constitution and thereafter all the provisions of said section shall apply.

Nothing in this amendment shall be construed as preventing the Legislature from passing in time of war an appropriation bill to provide for the payment of any obligation of the State of West Virginia within the protection of section ten of article one of the Constitution of the United States.

Sub-Section D.—General Provisions.

First: If the "Budget Bill" shall not have been finally acted upon by the Legislature three days before the expiration of its regular session, the governor may, and it shall be his duty to issue a proclamation extending the session for such further period as may, in his judgment, be necessary for the passage of such bill: but no other matter than such bill shall be considered during such extended session except a provision for the cost thereof.

Second: The board of public works for the purpose of making up its budgets shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to require from the proper State officials, including herein all executive departments, all executive and administrative officers, bureaus, boards, commissions and agencies expending or supervising the expenditures of, and all institutions applying for state moneys and appropriations, such itemized estimates and other information, in such form and at such times as said board shall direct. The estimates for the legislative department, certified by the presiding officer of each House, of the judiciary, as provided by law, certified by the auditor, and for the public schools, as provided by law, shall be transmitted to the board of public works in such form and at such time as it shall direct, and shall be included in the budget.

The board of public works may provide for public hearings on all estimates and may require the attendance at such hearings of representatives of all agencies, and all institutions applying for State moneys. After such public hearings it may, in its discretion, revise all estimates except those for the legislative and judiciary departments, and for the public schools as provided by law.

Third: The Legislature may, from time to time, enact such laws, not inconsistent with this section, as may be necessary and proper to carry out its provisions.

Fourth: In the event of any inconsistency between any of the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of the Constitution, except amendments thereto heretofore made and ratified by the people, the provisions of this section shall prevail. But nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the governor from calling extraordinary sessions of the Legislature, as provided by section seven of article seven, or as preventing the Legislature at such extraordinary sessions from considering any emergency appropriation or appropriations.

If any item of any appropriation bill passed under the provisions of this section shall be held invalid upon any ground, such invalidity shall not affect the legality of the bill or of any other item of such bill or bills.

ARTICLE VII.

Executive Department.

1. The Executive Department shall consist of a Governor, Secretary of State, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor, Treasurer and Attorney-General, who shall be ex-officio, Reporter of the Court of Appeals. Their terms of office, respectively, shall be four years, and shall commence on the fourth day of March, next after their election. They shall, except the Attorney-General, reside at the seat of government during their term of office, and keep there the public records, books and papers pertaining to their respective offices and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law.

Election.

2. An election for governor, secretary of state, state superintendent of free schools, auditor, treasurer and attorney general, shall be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and adopted at the next election.)

3. The returns of every election for the above named officers shall be sealed up and transmitted by the returning officers to the secretary of state, directed to the speaker of the house of delegates, who shall immediately after the organization of the house, and before proceeding to business, open and publish the same, in the presence of a majority of each house of the Legislature, which shall for that purpose assemble in the house of delegates. The person having the highest number of votes for either of said offices, shall be declared duly elected thereto; but if two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the Legislature shall, by joint vote, choose one of such persons for said office. Contested elections for the office of Governor shall be determined by both houses of the Legislature by joint vote, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and adopted at the next election.)

Eligibility.

4. None of the executive officers mentioned in this article shall hold any other office during the term of his service. The Governor shall not be eligible to said office for the four years next succeeding the term for which he was elected.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and adopted at the next election.)

Chief Executive—Powers.

5. The chief executive power shall be vested in the Governor, who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Governor's Message.

6. The Governor shall at the commencement of each session give to the Legislature information by message of the condition of the State, and shall recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient. He shall accompany his message with a statement of all money received and paid out by him, from any funds, subject to his order with vouchers therefor; and at the commencement of each regular session present estimates of the amount of money required by taxation for all purposes.

Extraordinary Legislative Sessions.

7. The Governor may on extraordinary occasions, convene at his own instance, the Legislature; but when so convened it shall enter upon no business except that stated in the proclamation by which it was called together.

Governor to Nominate Certain Officers.

8. The Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate (a majority of all Senators elected concurring by yeas and nays), appoint all officers whose offices are established by this Constitution, or shall be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise provided for; and no such officers shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature.

Recess Vacancies—How Filled.

9. In case of a vacancy, during the recess of the Senate, in any office which is not elective, the Governor shall, by appointment, fill such vacancy, until the next meeting of the Senate, when he shall make a nomination for such office, and the person so nominated, when confirmed by the Senate (a majority of all the Senators elected concurring by yeas and nays), shall hold his office during the remainder of the term, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. No person, after being rejected by the Senate, shall be again nominated for the same office, during the same session unless at the request of the Senate; nor shall such person be appointed to the same office during the recess of the Senate.

Governor's Power of Removal.

10. The Governor shall have power to remove any officer whom he may appoint, in case of incompetency, neglect of duty, gross immorality, or malfeasance in office; and he may declare his office vacant and fill the same as herein provided in other cases of vacancy.

Executive May Remit Fines and Forfeitures.

11. The Governor shall have power to remit fines and penalties in such cases and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; to commute capital punishment and, except where the prosecution has been carried on by the House of Delegates, to grant reprieves and pardons after conviction; but he shall communicate to the Legislature at each session the particulars of every case of fine or penalty remitted, of punishment commuted and of reprieve or pardon granted, with his reasons therefor.

Governor Commander-in-Chief of Military Forces.

12. The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military forces of the State (except when they shall be called into the service of the United States), and may call out the same to execute the laws, suppress insurrection and repel invasion.

Official Bond of State Officers.

13. When any State officer has executed his official bond, the Governor shall, for such causes and in such manner as the Legislature may direct, require of such officer reasonable additional security; and if the security is not given as required his office shall be declared vacant, in such manner as may be provided by law.

How Bills Become Laws.

14. Every bill passed by the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which House shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the members elected to that House, agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall be reconsidered, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to that House it shall become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. But in all such cases the vote of each House shall be determined by yeas and nays to be entered on the journal. Any bill which shall not be returned by the Governor within five days (Sunday excepted), after it shall have been presented to him, shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature shall, by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case, it shall be filed with his objections in the office of the Secretary of State, within five days after such adjournment, or become a law.

Respecting Appropriation of Monies.

15. Every bill passed by the legislature making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, shall before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he disapproves the bill, or any item or appropriation therein contained, he shall communicate such disapproval with his reasons therefor to the House in which the bill originated; but all items not disapproved shall have the force and effect of law according to the original provisions of the bill. Any item or items so disapproved shall be void, unless re-passed by a majority of each House according to the rule and limitations prescribed in the preceding section in reference to other bills.

Vacancy in Governorship, How Filled.

16. In case of the death, conviction on impeachment, failure to qualify, resignation, or other disability of the Governor, the President of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy is filled, or the disability removed; and if the President of the Senate, for any of the above named causes, shall become incapable of performing the duties of Governor, the same shall devolve upon the Speaker of the House of Delegates; and in all other cases where there is no one to act as Governor one shall be chosen by joint vote of the Legislature. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of Governor before the first three years of the term shall have expired, a new election for Governor shall take place to fill the vacancy.

Vacancies in Other Executive Departments.

17. If the office of secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, state superintendent of free schools or attorney general, shall become vacant by death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the governor to fill the same by appointment, and the appointee shall hold his office until his successor shall be elected and qualified in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The subordinate officers of the executive department and the officers of all public institutions of the State shall keep an account of all moneys received or disbursed by them, respectively, from all sources, and for every service performed, and make a semi-annual report thereof to the Governor under oath or affirmation; and any officer who shall wilfully make a false report shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and adopted at the next election.)

Executive Heads to Make Reports.

18. The subordinate officers of the Executive Department and the officers of all the public institutions of the State, shall at least ten days preceding each regular session of the Legislature severally report to the Governor, who shall transmit such report to the Legislature and the Governor may at any time require information in writing, under oath, from the officers of his department, and all officers and managers of State institutions, upon any subject relating to the condition, management and expenses of the respective offices.

Salaries of Officials.

Sec. 19. The officers named in this article shall receive for their services a salary to be established by law; which shall not be increased or diminished during their official terms, and they shall not, after the expiration of the terms of those in offices at the adoption of this amendment, receive to their own use any fees, costs, perquisites of office or other compensation, and all fees that may hereafter be payable by law, for any service performed by any officer provided for in this article of the Constitution, shall be paid in advance into the State treasury.

(The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 13, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and adopted at the next election.)

ARTICLE VIII.

Judicial Department.

1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in a supreme court of appeals, in circuit courts and the judges thereof, in such inferior tribunals as are herein authorized and in justices of the peace.

(The amendment of this entire article was proposed by joint resolution of March 6, 1879, Acts 1879, p. 175, and adopted at the next election.)

Supreme Court of Appeals.

2. The supreme court of appeals shall consist of *four judges, any three of whom shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. They shall be elected by the voters of the State and hold their office for the term of twelve years, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by this Constitution, except that the judges in office when this article takes effect shall remain therein until the expiration of their present term of office.

(*The supreme court of appeals consists of five judges by the provisions of the "Judicial Amendment" set forth at the end of the Constitution, and Acts 1903, ch. 19 amending and re-enacting section 1 of chapter 113.)

Scope of Jurisdiction.

3. It shall have original jurisdiction in cases of habeas corpus, mandamus, and prohibition. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy, exclusive of costs, is of greater value or amount than one hundred dollars; in controversies concerning the title or boundaries of land, the probate of wills, the appointment or qualification of a personal representative, guardian, committee or curator, or concerning a mill, roadway, ferry or landing; or the right of a corporation or county to levy tolls or taxes; and also, in cases of quo warranto, habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari and prohibition, and in cases involving freedom or the constitutionality of a law. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases where there has been a conviction for felony or misdemeanor in a circuit court, and where a conviction has been had in any inferior court, and been affirmed in a circuit court, and in cases relating to the public revenue, the right of appeal shall belong to the State as well as the defendant, and such other appellate jurisdiction, in both civil and criminal cases, as may be prescribed by law.

Binding Authority of Decisions.

4. No decision rendered by the supreme court of appeals shall be considered as binding authority upon any of the inferior courts of this State, except in the particular case decided, unless such decision is concurred in by at least three judges of said court.

Reversal or Affirmance of Judgments.

5. When a judgment or decree is reversed or affirmed by the supreme court of appeals, every point fairly arising upon the record of the case shall be considered and decided; and the reasons therefor shall be concisely stated in writing and preserved with the record of the case, and it shall be the duty of the court to prepare a syllabus of the points adjudicated in such case concurred in by three of the judges thereof, which shall be prefixed to the published report of the case.

Writ of Error, Supersedeas and Appeal.

6. A writ of error, supersedeas, or appeal shall be allowed only by the supreme court of appeals, or a judge thereof, upon a petition assigning error in the judgment or proceedings of the inferior court and then only after said court or judge shall have examined and considered the record and assignment of errors, and is satisfied that there is error in the same, or that it presents a point proper for the consideration of the supreme court of appeals.

Provision for Filling Supreme Court Vacancies.

7. If from any cause a vacancy shall occur in the supreme court of appeals the Governor shall issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy at the next general election for the residue of the term, and in the meantime he shall fill such vacancy by appointment until a judge is elected and qualified. But if the unexpired term be less than two years the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term.

Officers of Supreme Court.

8. The officers of the supreme court of appeals, except the reporter, shall be appointed by the court, or in vacation by the judges thereof, with the power of removal; their duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

Terms of Supreme Court.

9. There shall be at least two terms of the supreme court of appeals held annually at such times and places as may be prescribed by law.

Circuit Courts.

10. The state shall be divided into *thirteen circuits. For the circuit hereinafter called the first, two judges shall be elected, and for each of the other circuits one judge shall be elected by the voters thereof. Each of the judges so elected shall hold his office for the term of eight years unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed in this Constitution. The judges of the circuit courts in office when this article takes effect shall remain therein until the expiration of the term for which they have been elected in the circuits in which they may respectively reside, unless sooner removed as aforesaid. A vacancy in the office of a judge of the circuit court shall be filled in the same manner as is provided for in the case of a vacancy in the office of a judge of the supreme court of appeals. During his continuance in office the judge of a circuit court shall reside in the circuit of which he is judge. The business of the first circuit may be apportioned between the judges thereof, and such judges may hold courts in the same county or in different counties within the circuit at the same time or at different times as may be prescribed by law.

(*Now twenty-three. See Acts 1913, chapters 54, 56 and 57. Hogg's Code of 1913, chapter 112-A.)

Terms of Circuit Court.

11. A circuit court shall be held in every county in the State at least three times in each year, and provisions may be made by law for holding special terms of said court. A judge of any circuit may hold the courts in another circuit.

Circuit Court Jurisdiction.

12. The circuit court shall have the supervision and control of all proceedings before justices and other inferior tribunals, by mandamus, prohibition and certiorari. They shall, except in cases confined exclusively by this Constitution to some other tribunal, have original and general jurisdiction of all matters at law where the amount in controversy, exclusive of interest, exceeds fifty dollars; of all cases of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto and prohibition; and of all cases in equity, and of all crimes and misdemeanors. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, civil and criminal, where an appeal, writ of error or supersedeas may be allowed to the judgment or proceedings of any inferior tribunal. They shall also have such other jurisdiction, whether supervisory, original, appellate or concurrent, as is or may be prescribed by law.

Division of State into Circuits.

13. Until otherwise provided by law, the State shall be divided into the following circuits: The counties of Brooke, Hancock, Ohio, and Marshall shall constitute the first circuit; the counties of Monongalia, Marion, and Harrison, the second; the counties of Preston, Taylor, Barbour, Tucker and Randolph, the third; the counties of Wetzel, Tyler, Ritchie and Doddridge, the fourth; the counties of Wood, Wirt and Pleasants, the fifth; the counties of Clay, Gilmer, Jackson, Roane and Calhoun, the sixth; the counties of Putnam, Kanawha and Mason, the seventh; the counties of Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln and Logan, the eighth; the counties of McDowell, Mercer, Raleigh, Wyoming and Boone, the ninth; the counties of Greenbrier, Monroe, Summers, Fayette and Pocahontas, the tenth; the counties of Upshur, Lewis, Braxton, Nicholas and Webster, the eleventh; the counties of Grant, Hardy, Hampshire, Mineral and Pendleton, the twelfth; the counties of Jefferson, Berkeley and Morgan, the thirteenth.

(Acts of 1913, chapters 54, 56 and 57, prescribe the number of circuits in the State. See, also Hogg's Code of 1913, ch. 112-A.)

Re-arrangement of State into Circuits.

14. The Legislature may re-arrange the circuits herein provided for at any session thereof, next preceding any general election of the judges of said circuits, and after the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, may, at any such session, increase or diminish the number thereof.

15. The Legislature shall provide by law for holding regular and special terms of the circuit courts, where from any cause the judge shall fail to attend, or, if in attendance, cannot properly preside.

Provision for Special Court Terms.

16. All judges shall be commissioned by the Governor. The *salary of a judge of the supreme court of appeals shall be two thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and that of a judge of the circuit court shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; and each shall receive the same mileage as members of the Legislature; Provided, that Ohio county may pay an additional sum per annum to the judges of the circuit court thereof; but such allowance shall not be increased or diminished during the term of office of the judges to whom it may have been made. No judge, during his term of office, shall practice the profession of law or hold any other office, appointment or public trust, under this or any other government, and the acceptance thereof shall vacate his judicial office. Nor shall he during his continuance therein, be eligible to any political office.

(*The salaries of the judges of the supreme court of appeals and of the judges of the circuit courts were fixed by section 288, Hogg's Code of 1913. Salaries of supreme judges were again fixed by the Legislature, chapter 67, Acts Regular Session, 1919; and of circuit judges chapter 3, Acts Extraordinary Session, 1919. See also the "Judicial Amendment" set forth at the end of the Constitution.)

How Judges May be Removed.

17. Judges may be removed from office by a concurrent vote of both houses of the Legislature when from age, disease, mental or bodily infirmity or intemperance, they are incapable of discharging the duties of their office. But two-thirds of all the members elected to each House must concur in such vote, and the cause of removal shall be entered upon the Journal of each house. The judge against whom the Legislature may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least twenty days before the day on which action is proposed to be taken therein.

General Provisions.

18. The voters of each county shall elect a clerk of the circuit court, whose term of office shall be six years; his duties and compensation and the manner of removing him from office shall be prescribed by law, and when a vacancy shall occur in the office, the circuit court or the judge thereof in vacation shall fill the same by appointment until the next general election. In any case in respect to which the clerk shall be so situated as to make it improper for him to act, the said court shall appoint a clerk to act therein. The clerks of said courts in office when this article takes effect, shall remain therein for the term for which they were elected, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by law.

Courts of Limited Jurisdiction.

19. The Legislature may establish courts of limited jurisdiction within any county, incorporated city, town or village, with the right of appeal to the circuit court, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law; and all courts of limited jurisdiction heretofore established in any county, incorporated city, town or village, shall remain as at present constituted until otherwise provided by law. The municipal court of Wheeling shall continue in existence until otherwise provided by law, and said court and the judge thereof, shall exercise the powers and jurisdiction heretofore conferred upon them; and appeals in civil cases from said court shall lie directly in the supreme court of appeals.

Regarding Participation in Civil War.

20. No citizen of this State who aided or participated in the late war between the government of the United States and a part of the people thereof, on either side, shall be liable in any proceeding, civil or criminal; nor shall his property be seized or sold under final process issued upon judgments or decrees heretofore rendered, or otherwise, because of any act done in accordance with the usage of civilized warfare in the prosecution of said war. The Legislature shall provide, by general laws, for giving full force and effect to this section.

Parts of Common Law Effective.

21. Such parts of the common law, and of the laws of this State as are in force when this article goes into operation, and are not repugnant thereto, shall be and continue the law of the state until altered or repealed by the Legislature. All civil and criminal suits and proceedings pending in the former circuits of the State, shall remain and be proceeded in before the circuit courts of the counties in which they were pending.

County Courts.

22. There shall be in each county of the State a county court, composed of three commissioners, and two of said commissioners shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. It shall hold four regular sessions in each year, and at such times as may be fixed upon and entered of record by the said court. Provisions may be made by law for holding special sessions of said court.

Terms of Office of County Commissioners.

23. The commissioners shall be elected by the voters of the county, and hold their office for the term of six years, except at the first meeting of said commissioners they shall designate by lot, or otherwise, in such manner as they may determine, one of their number, who shall hold his office for the term of two years, one for four years and one for six years, so that one shall be elected every two years. But no two of said commissioners shall be elected from the same magisterial district. And if two or more persons residing in the same district shall receive the greater number of votes cast at any election, then only the one of such persons receiving the highest number shall be declared elected, and the person living in another district who shall receive the next highest number of votes shall be declared elected. Said commissioners shall annually elect one of their number as president, and each shall receive two dollars per day for his services, in court, to be paid out of the county treasury.

Authority of County Courts—Clerks.

24. The county courts, through their clerks, shall have the custody of all deeds and other papers presented for record in their counties, and the same shall be preserved therein, or otherwise disposed of, as now is or maybe prescribed by law. They shall have jurisdiction in all matters of probate, the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees, curators, and the settlement of their accounts, and in all matters relating to apprentices. They shall also, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, have the superintendence and administration of the internal and police and fiscal affairs of their counties, including the establishment and regulation of roads, ways, bridges, public landings, ferries and mills, with authority to pay and disburse the county levies; Provided, That no license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in any incorporated city, town or village, shall be granted without the consent of the municipal authorities thereof, first had and obtained. They shall, in all cases of contest, judge of the election, qualification and returns of their own members, and of all county and district officers, subject to such regulations, by appeal or otherwise, as may be prescribed by law. Such courts may exercise such other powers, and perform such other duties, not of a judicial nature, as may be prescribed by law. And provisions may be made, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, for the probate of wills and for the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees and curators during the recess of the regular sessions of the county court. Such tribunals as have been heretofore established by the Legislature under and by virtue of the thirty-fourth section of the eighth article of the Constitution of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two for police and fiscal purposes, shall, until otherwise provided by law, remain and continue as at present constituted in the counties in which they have been respectively established, and shall be and act as to police and fiscal matters in lieu of the county court created by this article until otherwise provided by law. And, until otherwise provided by law, such clerk as is mentioned in the twenty-sixth section of this article, shall exercise any powers and discharge any duties heretofore conferred on, or required of, any court or tribunal established for judicial purposes under the said article and section of the Constitution of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, or the clerk of such court or tribunal respectively, respecting the recording and preservation of deeds and other papers presented for record, matters of probate, the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees, curators and the settlement of their accounts, and in all matters relating to apprentices.

Relating to Actions, Suits and Other Proceedings.

25. All actions, suits and proceedings not embraced in the next preceding section, pending in a county court when this article takes effect, together with the records and papers pertaining thereto, as well as all records and papers pertaining to such actions, suits and proceedings, as have already been disposed of by said courts, shall be transmitted to and filed with the clerk of the circuit court of the county to which office all process outstanding at the time this article goes into operation shall be returned; and said clerk shall have the same power and shall perform the same duties in relation to such records, papers and proceedings as were vested in and required of the county court on the day before this article shall take effect. All such actions, suits and proceedings so pending as aforesaid, shall be docketed, proceeded in, tried, heard and determined in all respects by the circuit court, as if such suits and proceedings had originated in said court.

Clerk of County Court—Term of Office.

26. The voters of each county shall elect a clerk of the county court, whose term of office shall be six years. His duties and compensation and the manner of his removal shall be prescribed by law. But the clerks of said courts, now in office, shall remain therein for the term for which they have been elected, unless sooner removed therefrom, in the manner prescribed by law.

Districting of County.

27. Each county shall be laid off into districts, not less than three nor more than ten in number, as nearly equal as may be in territory and population. There shall be elected in each district containing a population not exceeding twelve hundred, one justice of the peace, and if the population exceeds that number, two justices shall be elected therein. Every justice shall reside in the district for which he was elected and hold his office for the term of four years, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by law. The districts as they now exist shall remain till changed by the county court.

Jurisdiction of a Justice of the Peace.

28. The civil jurisdiction of a justice of the peace shall extend to actions of assumpsit, debt, detinue and trover, if the amount claimed, exclusive of interest, does not exceed three hundred dollars. The jurisdiction of justices of the peace shall extend throughout their county; they shall be conservators of the peace and have such jurisdiction and powers in criminal cases as may be prescribed by law. And justices of the peace shall have authority to take the acknowledgment of deeds and other writings, administer oaths, and take and certify depositions. And the Legislature may give to justices such additional civil jurisdiction and powers within their respective counties as may be deemed expedient, under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by general law, except that in suits to recover money or damages their jurisdiction and powers shall in no case exceed three hundred dollars. Appeals shall be allowed from judgments of justices of the peace in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

Re-formation of County Court Provided for.

29. The Legislature shall, upon the application of any county, reform, alter or modify the county court established by this article in such county, and in lieu thereof, with the assent of a majority of the voters of such county voting at an election, create another tribunal for the transaction of the business required to be performed by the county court created by this article; and in such case all the provisions of this article in relation to the county court shall be applicable to the tribunal established in lieu of said court. And when such tribunal has been established it shall continue to act in lieu of the county court until otherwise provided by law.

Incompatible Officers.

30. The office of commissioner and justice of the peace shall be deemed incompatible. Vacancies in the office of commissioner, clerk of the county court and justices of the peace shall be filled by the county court of the county until the next general election.

ARTICLE IX.

County Organization.

1. The voters of each county shall elect a surveyor of lands, a prosecuting attorney, a sheriff, and one and not more than two assessors, who shall hold their respective offices for the term of four years.

Constables, Coroners and Overseers of the Poor.

2. There shall also be elected in each district of the county, by the voters thereof, one constable, and if the population of any district shall exceed twelve hundred, an additional constable, whose term of office shall be four years and whose powers as such shall extend throughout their county. The assessor shall, with the advice and consent of the county court have the power to appoint one or more assistants. Coroners, overseers of the poor and surveyors of roads shall be appointed by the county court. The foregoing officers, except the prosecuting attorneys, shall reside in the county and district for which they shall be respectively elected.

Sheriffs—Consecutive Terms Prohibited.

3. The same person shall not be elected sheriff for two consecutive full terms; nor shall any person who acted as his deputy be elected successor to such sheriff, nor shall any sheriff act as deputy of his successor; nor shall be during his term of service, or within one year thereafter, be eligible to any other office. The retiring sheriff shall finish all business remaining in his hands, at the expiration of his term; for which purpose his commission and official bond shall remain in force. The duties of the office of sheriff shall be performed by him in person, or under his superintendence.

Malfeasance and Misfeasance in Office.

4. The presidents of the county court, the justices of the peace, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, clerks of the circuit and of the county courts, and all other county officers, shall be subject to indictment for malfeasance, misfeasance, or neglect of official duty, and upon conviction thereof their offices shall become vacant.

Commissioning of Officers Not Otherwise Provided For.

5. The Legislature shall provide for commissioning such of the officers herein mentioned, as it may deem proper, not provided for in this Constitution, and may require any class of them to give bond with security for the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective offices.

Compensation—Deputies.

6. It shall further provide for the compensation, the duties and responsibilities of such officers, and may provide for the appointment of their deputies and assistants by general law.

Conservators of the Peace.

7. The president of the county court and every justice and constable shall be a conservator of the peace throughout his county.

Formation of New Counties.

8. No new county shall hereafter be formed in this State with an area less than four hundred square miles; nor with a population of less than six thousand; nor shall any county, from which a new county, or part thereof, shall be taken, be reduced in area below four hundred square miles, nor in population below six thousand. Nor shall a new county be formed without the consent of a majority of the voters residing within the boundaries of the proposed new county, and voting on the question.

ARTICLE X.

Taxation and Finance.

1. Taxation shall be equal and uniform throughout the State, and all property, both real and personal, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as directed by law. No one species of property, from which a tax may be collected, shall be taxed higher than any other species of property of equal value; but property used for educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes; all cemeteries and public property may, by law, be exempted from taxation. The Legislature shall have power to tax, by uniform and equal laws, all privileges and franchises of persons and corporations.

Capitation Tax.

2. The Legislature shall levy on annual capitation tax of one dollar upon each male inhabitant of the State who has attained the age of twenty-one years, which shall be annually appropriated to the support of free schools. Persons afflicted with bodily infirmity may be exempted from this tax.

Receipts and Expenditures of Public Monies.

3. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in pursuance of an appropriation made by law, and on a warrant issued thereon by the Auditor; nor shall any money or fund be taken for any other purpose than that for which it has been or may be appropriated, or provided. A complete and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public moneys, shall be published annually.

Limitation of Contract of State Debt.

4. No debt shall be contracted by this State, except to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the State, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion or defend the State in time of war; but the payment of any liability other than that for the ordinary expenses of the State, shall be equally distributed over a period of at least twenty years.

Power of Taxation.

5. The power of taxation of the Legislature shall extend to provisions for the payment of the State debt, and interest thereon, the support of free schools, and the payment of the annual estimated expenses of the State; but whenever any deficiency in the revenue shall exist in any year, it shall, at the regular session thereof held next after the deficiency occurs levy a tax for the ensuing year, sufficient with other sources of income to meet such deficiency, as well as the estimated expenses of such year.

Credit of State Not to be Granted in Certain Cases.

6. The credit of the State shall not be granted to, or in aid of any county, city, township, corporation or person; nor shall the State ever assume, or become responsible for the debts or liabilities of any county, city, township, corporation or person; nor shall the State ever hereafter become a joint owner, or stockholder in any company or association in this State or elsewhere, formed for any purpose whatever.

Duties of County Authorities in Assessing Taxes.

7. County authorities shall never assess taxes, in any one year, the aggregate of which shall exceed ninety-five cents per one hundred dollars valuation; except for the support of free schools; payment of indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, and for the payment of any indebtedness with the interest thereon, created under the succeeding section, unless such assessment, with all questions involving the increase of such aggregate shall have been submitted to the vote of the people of the county, and have received three-fifths of all the votes cast for and against it.

Bonded Indebtedness of Counties.

8. No county city, school district, or municipal corporation, except in cases where such corporations have already authorized their bonds to be issued, shall hereafter be allowed to become indebted, in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate, exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness; nor without, at the same time, providing for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay, annually, the interest on such debt, and the principal thereof, within, and not exceeding thirty-four years; Provided, That no debt shall be contracted under this section, unless all questions connected with the same shall have been first submitted to a vote of the people, and have received three-fifths of all the votes cast for and against the same.

Corporate Taxes to be Uniform.

9. The Legislature may, by law, authorize the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages, for corporate purposes, to assess and collect taxes; but such taxes shall be uniform, with respect to persons and property within the jurisdiction of the authority imposing the same.

ARTICLE XI.

Corporations.

1. The Legislature shall provide for the organization of all corporations hereafter to be created, by general laws, uniform as to the class to which they relate, but no corporation shall be created by special law; Provided, That nothing in this section contained, shall prevent the Legislature from providing by special laws for the connection, by canal, of the waters of the Chesapeake with the Ohio river by the line of the James river, Greenbrier, New River and Great Kanawha.

Corporate Liability for Indebtedness.

2. The stockholders of all corporations and joint stock companies, except banks and banking institutions, created by laws of this State, shall be liable for the indebtedness of such corporations to the amount of their stock subscribed and unpaid, and no more.

Exclusive Privileges Prohibited.

3. All existing charters or grants of special or exclusive privileges under which organization shall not have taken place, or which shall not have been in operation within two years from the time this Constitution takes effect, shall thereafter have no validity or effect whatever; Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent the execution of any bona fide contract heretofore lawfully made in relation to any existing charter or grant in this State.

Rights of Stockholders.

4. The Legislature shall provide by law that in all elections for directors or managers of incorporated companies, every stockholder shall have the right to vote in person or by proxy, for the number of shares of stock owned by him, for as many persons as there are directors or managers to be elected, or to cumulate said shares, and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock, shall equal, or to distribute them on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit, and such directors or managers shall not be elected in any other manner.

Street Railways.

5. No law shall be passed by the Legislature, granting the right to construct and operate a street railroad within any city, town or incorporated village, without requiring the consent of the local authorities having the control of the street or highway, proposed to be occupied by such street railroad.

Banks.

6. The Legislature may provide, by general banking law, for the creation and organization of banks of issue or circulation, but the stockholders of any bank hereafter authorized by the laws of this State, whether of issue, deposit or discount, shall be personally liable to the creditors thereof over and above the amount of stock held by them respectively to an amount equal to their respective shares so held, for all its liabilities accruing while they are such stockholders.

Railroads.

7. Every railroad corporation organized or doing business in this State shall annually by their proper officers, make a report under oath, to the auditor of public accounts of this State, or some officer to be designated by law, setting forth the condition of their affairs, the operations of the year, and such other matters relating to their respective railroads as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall pass laws enforcing by suitable penalties the provisions of this section.

Rolling Stock Considered Personal Property.

8. The rolling stock and all other movable property belonging to any railroad company or corporation in this State shall be considered personal property and shall be liable to execution and sale in the same manner as the personal property of individuals; and the Legislature shall pass no law exempting any such property from execution and sale.

Railroads Public Highways.

9. Railroads heretofore constructed, or that may hereafter be constructed in this State, are hereby declared public highways and shall be free to all persons for the transportation of their persons and property thereon, under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law; and the Legislature shall, from time to time, pass laws, applicable to all railroad corporations in the State, establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight, and providing for the correction of abuses, the prevention of unjust discriminations between through and local or way freight and passenger tariffs, and for the protection of the just rights of the public, and shall enforce such laws by adequate penalties.

Stations to be Established.

10. The Legislature shall, in the law regulating railway companies, require railroads running through, or within a half mile of a town or village containing three hundred or more inhabitants, to establish stations for the accommodation of trade and travel of said town or village.

Competing Lines—Legislative Permissions.

11. No railroad corporation shall consolidate its stock, property or franchise with any other railroad owning a parallel or competing line, or obtain the possession or control of such parallel or competing line by lease or other contract, without the permission of the Legislature.

Right of Eminent Domain.

12. The exercise of the power and the right of eminent domain shall never be so construed or abridged as to prevent the taking, by the Legislature, of the property and franchises of incorporated companies already organized, and subjecting them to the public use, the same as of individuals.

ARTICLE XII.

Education.

1. The Legislature shall provide, by general law, for a thorough and efficient system of free schools.

State Superintendent of Free Schools.

2. The State Superintendent of Free Schools shall have a general supervision of free schools, and perform such other duties in relation thereto as may be prescribed by law. If in the performance of any such duty imposed upon him by the Legislature he shall incur any expenses, he shall be reimbursed therefor; Provided, the amount does not exceed five hundred dollars in any one year.

County Superintendents.

3. The Legislature may provide for county superintendents and such other officers as may be necessary to carry out the objects of this article and define their duties, powers and compensation.

Existing Permanent and Invested School Fund.

4. The existing permanent and invested school fund, and all money accruing to this State from forfeited, delinquent, waste and unappropriated lands; and from lands heretofore sold for taxes and purchased by the State of Virginia, if hereafter redeemed or sold to others than this State; all grants, devises or bequests that may be made to this State, for the purposes of education or where the purposes of such grants, devises or bequests are not specified; this State's just share of the literary fund of Virginia, whether paid over or otherwise liquidated; and any sums of money stocks or property which this State shall have the right to claim from the State of Virginia for educational purposes; the proceeds of the estates of persons who may die without leaving a will or heir, and of all escheated lands; the proceeds of any taxes that may be levied on the revenues of any corporations; all moneys that may be paid as an equivalent for exemption from military duty; and such sums as may from time to time be appropriated by the Legislature for the purpose, shall be set apart as a separate fund to be called the "School Fund," and invested under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, in the interest bearing securities of the United States, or of this State, or if such interest bearing securities cannot be obtained, then said "School Fund" shall be invested in such other solvent, interest bearing securities as shall be approved by the Governor, Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor and Treasurer, who are hereby constituted the "Board of the School Fund," to manage the same under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and the interest thereof shall be annually applied to the support of free schools throughout the State, and to no other purpose whatever. But any portion of said interest remaining unexpended at the close of a fiscal year shall be added to and remain a part of the capital of the "School Fund," Provided, That all taxes which shall be received by the State upon delinquent lands, except the taxes due the State thereon, shall be refunded to the county or district by or for which the same were levied.

(This section is modified by the "Irreducible School Fund Amendment" set forth at the end of the Constitution.)

Support of Free Schools.

5. The Legislature shall provide for the support of free schools by appropriating thereto the interest of the invested "School Fund," the net proceeds of all forfeitures and fines accruing to this State under the laws thereof; the State capitation tax, and by general taxation of persons and property or otherwise. It shall also provide for raising in each county or district, by the authority of the people thereof, such a proportion of the amount required for the support of free schools therein, as shall be prescribed by general laws.

School Districts.

6. The school districts into which any county is now divided shall continue until changed in pursuance of law.

Levies for School Purposes.

7. All levies that may be laid by any county or district for the purpose of free schools shall be reported to the clerk of the county court; and shall, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, be collected by the sheriff or other collector, who shall make annual settlement with the county court; which settlement shall be made a matter of record by the clerk thereof, in a book to be kept for that purpose.

Mixed Schools Prohibited.

8. White and colored persons shall not be taught in the same school.

Certain Acts Prohibited.

9. No person connected with the free school system of the State, or with any educational institution of any name or grade under State control, shall be interested in the sale, proceeds or profits of any book or other thing used, or to be used therein, under such penalties as may be prescribed by law; Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to apply to any work written, or thing invented, by such person.

Creation of Independent Free School Districts.

10. No independent free school district, or organization shall hereafter be created, except with the consent of the school district or districts out of which the same is to be created, expressed by a majority of the voters voting on the question.

Appropriations for State Normal Schools.

11. No appropriation shall hereafter be made to any State normal school, or branch thereof, except to those already established and in operation, or now chartered.

Legislature to Foster General School Improvements.

12. The Legislature shall foster and encourage moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement; it shall, whenever it may be practicable, make suitable provision for the blind, mute and insane, and for the organization of such institutions of learning as the best interests of general education in the State may demand.

ARTICLE XIII.

Land Titles.

1. All private rights and interests in lands in this State derived from or under the laws of the State of Virginia, and from or under the Constitution and laws of this State prior to the time this constitution goes into operation, shall remain valid and secure and shall be determined by the laws in force in Virginia, prior to the formation of this State, and by the constitution and laws in force in this State prior to the time this constitution goes into effect.

Land Entry Prohibited.

2. No entry by warrant on land in this State shall hereafter be made.

Forfeited Lands.

3. All title to lands in this State heretofore forfeited, or treated as forfeited, waste and unappropriated, or escheated to the State of Virginia or this State, or purchased by either of said States at sales made for the non-payment of taxes and become irredeemable, or hereafter forfeited, or treated as forfeited, or escheated to this State, or purchased by it and become irredeemable, not redeemed, released or otherwise disposed of, vested and remaining in this State, shall be, and is hereby transferred to, and vested in any person (other than those for whose default the same may have been forfeited or returned delinquent, their heirs or devisees), for so much thereof as such person has, or shall have had actual continuous possession of, under color or claim of title for ten years and who, or those under whom he claims, shall have paid the State taxes thereon for any five years during such possession; or if there be no such person, then to any person (other than those for whose default the same may have been forfeited, or returned delinquent, their heirs or devisees), for so much of said land as such person shall have title or claim to, regularly derived, mediately or immediately from, or under a grant from the Commonwealth of Virginia or this State, not forfeited, which but for the title forfeited would be valid, and who, or those under whom he claims has, or shall have paid all State taxes charged or chargeable thereon for five successive years, after the year 1865, or from the date of the grant, if it shall have issued since that year; or if there be no such person, as aforesaid, then to any person (other than those for whose default the same may have been forfeited, or returned delinquent, their heirs and devisees), for so much of said land as such person shall have had claim to and actual continuous possession of, under color of title for any five successive years after the year 1865, and have paid all State taxes charged or chargeable thereon for said period.

Waste and Unappropriated Lands.

4. All lands in this State, waste and unappropriated, or heretofore or hereafter for any cause forfeited, or treated as forfeited, or escheated to the State of Virginia, or this State, or purchased by either and become irredeemable, not redeemed, released, transferred or otherwise disposed of, the title whereof shall remain in this State till such sale as is hereinafter mentioned be made, shall by proceedings in the circuit court of the county in which the lands, or a part thereof, are situated, be sold to the highest bidder.

Former Owner's Privileges.

5. The former owner of any such land shall be entitled to receive the excess of the sum for which the land may be sold over the taxes charged and chargeable thereon, or which, if the land had not been forfeited, would have been charged or chargeable thereon, since the formation of this State, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, and the costs of the proceedings, if his claim be filed in the circuit court that decrees the sale, within two years thereafter.

Land Books—Taxes.

6. It shall be the duty of every owner of land to have it entered on the land books of the county in which it, or part of it, is situated, and to cause himself to be charged with the taxes thereon, and pay the same. When for any five successive years after the year 1869, the owner of any tract of land containing one thousand acres or more, shall not have been charged on such books with State tax on said land, then by operation hereof, the land shall be forfeited and the title thereto vested in the State. But if, for any one or more of such five years, the owner shall have been charged with State tax on any part of the land, such part thereof shall not be forfeited for such cause. And any owner of land so forfeited, or of any interest therein at the time of the forfeiture thereof, who shall then be an infant, married woman, or insane person, may, until the expiration of three years after the removal of such disability, have the land, or such interest charged on such books, with all State and other taxes that shall be, and but for the forfeiture would be chargeable on the land, or interest therein for the year 1863, and every year thereafter with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum; and pay all taxes and interest thereon for all such years and thereby redeem the land or interest therein. Provided, Such right to redeem shall in no case extend beyond twenty years from the time such land was forfeited.

ARTICLE XIV.

Amendments.

1. No convention shall be called, having the authority to alter the Constitution of the State, unless it be in pursuance of a law, passed by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to each House of the Legislature and providing that polls shall be opened throughout the State, on the same day therein specified, which shall not be less than three months after the passage of such law, for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters on the question of calling a convention. And such convention shall not be held unless a majority of the votes cast at such polls be in favor of calling the same; nor shall the members be elected to such convention until, at least, one month after the result of the vote shall be duly ascertained, declared and published. And all acts and ordinances of the said convention shall be submitted to the voters of the State for ratification or rejection, and shall have no validity whatever until they are ratified.

How Amendments Are Made.

2. Any amendment to the Constitution of the State may be proposed in either House of the Legislature; and if the same, being read on three several days in each House, be agreed to on its third reading, by two-thirds of the members elected thereto, the proposed amendment, with the yeas and nays thereon, shall be entered on the journals, and it shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide by law, for submitting the same to the voters of the State for ratification or rejection at the next general election thereafter, and cause the same to be published at least three months before such election in some newspaper in every county in which a newspaper is printed. And if a majority of the qualified voters, voting on the question at the polls held pursuant to such law, ratify the proposed amendment, it shall be in force from the time of such ratification, as part of the Constitution of the State. If two or more amendments be submitted at the same time, the vote on the ratification or rejection shall be taken on each separately.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.The Judicial Amendment.

(House Joint Resolution No. 15, Acts 1901, p. 402. Ratified in November, 1902.)

The Supreme Court of Appeals shall consist of five judges. Those judges in office when this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until their term shall expire, and the Legislature shall provide for the election of an additional judge of said court at the next general election whose term shall begin on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and five, and the Governor shall, as for a vacancy, appoint a judge of said court to hold office until the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and five. The judges of the supreme court of appeals and of the circuit courts shall receive such salaries as shall be fixed by law, for those now in or those hereafter to come into office.

The Irreducible School Fund Amendment.

(House Joint Resolution No. 18, Acts 1901, p. 465. Ratified in November, 1902.)

The accumulation of the school fund provided for in section four of article twelve, of the Constitution of this State, shall cease upon the adoption of this amendment, and all money to the credit of said fund over one million of dollars, together with the interest on said fund, shall be used for the support of the free schools of this State. All money and taxes heretofore payable into the treasury under the provision of said section four, to the credit of the school fund, shall be hereafter paid into the treasury to the credit of the general school fund for the support of the free schools of the State.

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Apportionment Act of 1863.

By an act of the legislature passed September 10, 1863, the State of West Virginia—for the purposes of congressional representation—was divided into three districts, as follows:

First District—Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Wetzel, Tyler, Pleasants, Doddridge, Harrison, Ritchie, Wood, Wirt, Gilmer, Calhoun and Lewis counties.

Second District—Taylor, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Tucker, Barbour, Upshur, Webster, Pocahontas, Randolph, Pendleton, Hardy, Hampshire, Berkeley and Morgan counties.

Third District—Kanawha, Jackson, Mason, Putnam, Cabell, Clay, Wayne, Logan, Boone, Braxton, Nicholas, Roane, McDowell, Wyoming, Raleigh, Fayette, Mercer, Monroe and Greenbrier counties.

Under the first apportionment act the State had the following representation in the lower house of congress, the names of the members coming in the numerical order of the districts which they respectively represented, and the same applies to subsequent re-apportionment acts.

*At the beginning of the session of 1899, protests were made against Harry C. Getzendanner and E. G. Pierson participating in the deliberations and proceedings of the Senate, they having served in the United States Army, in the Spanish-American war; the former as Captain of Company M, 2d Regiment West Virginia Infantry; and the latter as Second Lieutenant of Company H, Second Regiment West Virginia Infantry—both being lucrative offices under the United States Government—but the Senate on January 24, 1899, decided that they should retain their seats.

†William R. D. Dent, of Taylor county, took his seat in the House, February 14, 1899, he having successfully contested the seat of Humphrey F. Brohard.

In the session of 1899, J. D. Logan, of Monroe county, successfully contested the seat of Charles M. Via, and by decision of the House qualified January 16, 1899.

THE STATE FLAG

[The St. Louis World's Fair was responsible for the adoption of West Virginia's State flag. The West Virginia State Commission at that exposition found it necessary to adopt a flag of special design to distinguish West Virginia from other states of the Union represented. Therefore, it undertook the task of designing a flag itself. The following year the Legislature ratified this design, amending it only by the addition of a fringe or border of gold or orange. The law provides that the proportions of the flag shall be the same as those of the United States banner; that the field shall be pure white, upon the center of which, on the obverse side, shall be the great seal or coat-of-arms of the State, showing the date of the admission of the State into the Union, with the motto "Montani Semper Liberi" (Mountaineers always freemen), and beneath that, in a scroll, the legend, "State of West Virginia." On the reverse side of the flag appears a sprig or sprigs of rhododendron maximum, or big laurel, the State flower—having a blossom and leaves. The field of pure white is bordered by a strip of blue, and this in turn by a strip or fringe of old gold. The flag of the State is to be employed on all occasions where a special display of the State's individuality shall become necessary or be regarded as appropriate.]

WEST VIRGINIA IN THE WAR

A WAR GOVERNOR

By JESSIE V. SULLIVAN,

Secretary Advisory Council of Defense.

A month and two days after John Jacob Cornwell, of Hampshire county, became the fifteenth Governor of West Virginia, the congress of the United States adopted a resolution declaring a state of war existed with the Imperial Government of Germany.

John Jacob Cornwell thus became and to generations yet to come he will be known as the "War Governor of West Virginia."

How well the War Governor succeeded in his efforts to place all the human and material resources of his State behind the Government in the prosecution of the war is most easily discerned from the proud record achieved by the State. This record excels not only in the providing of men for military service, a record unequalled in the annals of time, but in the unparalleled super-production of those who formed the line of communication in every county of the State.

The writer, attached to the State Council of Defense, during the period of the war, is familiar with the war work of Governor Cornwell, probably more so than any other person outside of his office force.

From the moment of the declaration of war on April 6, 1917, until the signing of the armistice at the eleventh hour of the eleventh month of 1918, John Jacob Cornwell unstintedly devoted his time and talents to awaken the people of his State to the necessity of putting every ounce of strength and atom of energy behind the nation in the world war for liberty and democracy. He was the commanding head of the military and civil forces of the State and as such he directed the great patriotic movement that gave impetus to the valiant sons of the State in the attacking line.

Long after the accomplishments of his civil administration, splendid as they may be, are obscured by the floating mist of time, the devotion of John Jacob Cornwell, War Governor of West Virginia, to the cause of America, his unflinching courage in the rout of slackerism and the tremendous power that he wielded in the awakening of a latent patriotism, will be recorded among the notable deeds of West Virginia's most renowned sons. His acceptance of responsibility, his use of authority, his endurance of personal discomfort, are incidents of tenure that will be long remembered by brave men and courageous women.

OUR STATE AND THE WAR PROGRAM.

By JOHN J. CORNWELL,

Governor of West Virginia.

A state of war against Germany was declared by the congress of the United States on April 6, 1917. I became Governor of West Virginia on March 4, 1917, only thirty three days before it was officially recognized by constitutional authority that Germany had been making war on the United States of America. Consequently, practically my entire time, as the chief executive of the State, has been consumed with war work and those industrial, social and commercial problems growing out of the prosecution of the war.

When I was inaugurated Governor of West Virginia the world was in the throes of the greatest cataclysm that ever engulfed the peoples of civilized nations, but comparatively few of us realized, even then, that in the brief period to follow, our own country would be forced to take up arms against Germany to protect the lives and property of our citizens and to preserve our national honor.

As chief executive of the State, I had naturally anticipated that my administration would be concerned solely with the internal affairs of the State. My campaign for the governorship—to which the people gave their assent—was made on matters affecting our State system of government. I had deemed it necessary to provide a more efficient and a more economical method of making appropriations and expenditures of the public revenue. I had desired to devote the greater part of my administration to the nation-wide advertising and the consequential development of our great resources, mineral and agricultural.

Aim of Present Administration.

May I be permitted to say here that the chief aim of my administration was to try to unite and solidify the people of our great State; to try to eliminate political prejudices; to help the people forget racial characteristics and to promote unity of purpose, causing all to understand that our common aim and inspiration should be to make West Virginia a better place for all of us to live in.

However, when war descended upon the American people, when their rights on the high seas became a matter of dispute with another nation, when millions of American freemen were to be summoned from peaceful pursuits to defend the nation's honor in military service, all other considerations naturally became submerged to the successful prosecution of the war.

That the act of congress, recognizing a state of war, has merged our people in West Virginia into a closer unit of American brotherhood, there is no doubt. The ends for which I hoped to strive in time of peace have at least been promoted by our common cause in a year and a half of war and, while the price has been paid in the blood of our kinsmen it has not been without some compensation.

United for Common Defense.

Those of our families and friends who have died on foreign soil fighting the greatest battles ever waged by mortal man for the safety of the world, or who have died in camps where they were being made into soldiers, have caused all West Virginians to feel more keenly—even through a grief that the years can but little assuage—the ties of kindred and the unity of common impulse, purpose and direction. Let us hope and trust that under their inspiration has been provided the full assurance that hereafter all West Virginians will be firmly united in defense of common aims, that partisan tyranny has been subdued if not eradicated, and that brave men—no matter what political beliefs they may entertain—regardless of their form of religious worship, and forgetful of racial prejudices, may work together in common unison for the common destiny of West Virginia and its splendid citizenship.

While I have been advised by the author of the "Blue Book" that the heads of the several war administrations and departments have been solicited to provide a narrative of their achievements since the outbreak of the war, and while I do not desire to trespass on their various and several fields of war endeavor, I deem it but fair to the people of the whole State to say that West Virginia has not failed, at any time, in any matter, to respond to the desires of those in authority when a request has been made.

Execution of Selective Service Act.

Soon after the declaration of war, Provost Marshal General Enoch H. Crowder called upon the Governor of West Virginia, in accordance with the direction of the Secretary of War, to prepare for the raising of West Virginia's quota of the National Army through the operation of the selective service law.

Before the act was approved by congress Col. George S. Wallace, of Huntington, had been made the draft executive of the State by appointment of the Governor, which was later approved by the Provost Marshal General, and together we made the necessary plans for the execution of the law through the selection of local boards in the several counties of the State, and the two district boards, so that on June 5, 1917—less than two months after the declaration of war—the local machinery had been perfected in each county for the raising of West Virginia's quota. On that date the first registration was made.

Through the successive administrations of Colonel Wallace, who was later called to Washington and sent to France attached to the Judge Advocate General's Department; Captain Breckenridge Jones, later called to Washington to serve on the staff of the Provost Marshal General, and under the present draft executive Captain Fleming N. Alderson, the selective service machinery has been as perfect as men are capable of making it.

The work of the district and local boards, registering, classifying and selecting men for military service, has been tedious and exacting. It is not within the power of human beings to perform such a task to the satisfaction of everybody, but I cannot allow this opportunity to pass without recording my testimony as to the unselfish, patriotic and self sacrificing spirit manifested by the great majority of the members of the boards. Of course there have been some failures, but often where there was criticism the persons making it did not understand fully the situation or did not have at hand all the facts. Numerous exhaustive investigations of complaints filed with me against the action of certain boards almost invariably proved either a misunderstanding or a personal prejudice. The selection of millions of fighting men from among our civil population with expedition and with the slightest friction in a few States—with absolutely none in West Virginia—was a performance at once novel and unique in the history of human kind.

It is not unnatural that, with the responsibility for that work resting upon the Governor, I should feel a pride in the performance of our State.

West Virginia at Top of States.

Despite bad communications with many interior counties, West Virginia was among the first to complete and report the result of the first registration. Its per capita cost was among the lowest of the States and out of the class of registrants of June 5th, 1918, it developed a higher percentage of fighting men than any State in the Union, 64.7 percent, North Dakota coming next with 58.7 per cent, while Connecticut fell to 28.4 percent. Among my priceless possessions is a chart showing the standing of the several States, presented to me personally by General Crowder, on which he autographed the following:

“Presented to the Governor of West Virginia with the congratulations and compliments of E. H. Crowder, Provost Marshal General.”

While General Crowder gave me the congratulations, they properly belong to the members of the boards who did their work in such a faithful and conscientious manner.

A table printed elsewhere in this book will show the number of men registered on each registration day and the number sent to camp under each call up to the time this is written. However, it must not be forgotten that besides the thousands of volunteers in the army and navy, the State also sent into the service two regiments of national guard, which were recruited to war strength. These two regiments were mobilized by me in April and May, 1917—the First regiment at Fairmont and the Second regiment at Charleston. After doing guard duty on lines of communication for a time, they were sent to Camp Shelby, at Hattiesburg, Mississippi, in the autumn of 1917, where they underwent training until they were sent abroad in 1918.

The Council of National Defense called a conference of Governors and State representatives at Washington May 2nd and 3rd, 1917, for the purpose of outlining as far as was advisable, the Federal Government's plans and to secure a co-ordination of State and Federal Government efforts. This was my first personal contact with any part of the federal war organization. Immediately thereafter I began trying to carry out the national program, the first effort being toward greater food production. The special session of the Legislature followed shortly thereafter, with the adoption of a series of war acts, including the State council of defense act, the deputy sheriff law for home defense and the first compulsory work law passed in the United States, the direct result, I think, of a census of idlers I caused to be taken prior to the assembling of the Legislature.

War Opposition Overcome.

At that time there was considerable unrest in some of the coal fields and a few sporadic strikes. It would serve no good purpose to conceal the fact that in some sections, among some people, there was opposition to the war and the selective service law—not defiant opposition, but sufficient to give no little anxiety to those charged with the enforcement of it. This speedily vanished in the face of public discussion and the unanimity with which the people of the State of all classes, professions and avocations took up the burdens the war imposed, has not only been gratifying but truly inspiring. The wage workers, organized and unorganized, have responded to every appeal to the very limit of their respective abilities. The officers and members of the various labor organizations have constituted—with a very few exceptions—a potent army of defensive support of the men in uniform.

The state's record in the various war-work activities is one of which its citizens may very well be proud. As the second coal-producing State in the Union—furnishing the smokeless coals used on our war ships as well as bi-product coals, so essential in the manufacture of munitions and explosives—a tremendous task was imposed upon operators and mine workers alike. Despite the loss of man power the coal production was well maintained. The supply of fuel, coal, oil, gasoline and natural gas which West Virginia contributed, has been a mighty factor in the prosecution of the War.

Generous Subscriptions for War.

The State and its citizens have likewise met the calls upon them for funds—not only in the several Liberty Loan campaigns, over-subscribing their allotment each time—but for all other purposes also.

In the first Red Cross drive the State was allotted $500,000 and subscribed $580,000. In the second drive its allotment was $700,000 and it subscribed $1,276,000. In the first Y. M. C. A. drive the allotment was $30,000 while $35,825.19 was subscribed. In the second Y. M. C. A. campaign the allotment was $250,000 with subscription of $317,000. With an allotment of $30,000 for the Salvation Army War Fund, $33,770.34 was subscribed. The Liberty Loan allotments and subscriptions are given elsewhere in detail and show gratifying results, especially in the fourth campaign which came just at a time when the epidemic of Spanish influenza was sweeping over the State, which prevented public meetings and proved a great hardship.

As this is written Germany and Austria are suggesting an armistice and talking peace. As yet it is a German peace of which they still dream—a peace not of honor, but a peace of plunder, a peace that will save Germany from any of the devastation she has inflicted on Belgium, France, Poland, Roumania and Servia; a peace that will enable her to retain the loot she has taken and to hold Russia for future exploitation. But if she is not forced to surrender now she will be later, and peace will come, a peace of justice according, not to German brute force, but in accordance with American ideals and principles as enunciated by President Wilson and which have found an echo even in the hearts of some of the disillusioned Austrian and German subjects.

The Problems of Peace.

Peace, when it comes, will present its problems no less than war. Those problems will not be presented to the Federal Government alone. Our State will be confronted with its share. The war has brought West Virginia to the attention of the country as it was never seen before. The whole war program hinged upon West Virginia coal, gas and oil. That commanding position must be maintained. Instead of lapsing into partisan schemes and partisan wrangles, the unity of war times must be continued not only through the period of reconstruction and readjustment but throughout all the years to come. In that way the State will come into its own. In that way our civic, social and moral life, as well as our economic condition will be improved and the State made a better place in which to abide and our people finer and happier.

To that end I here make an appeal to all the people.

Compiler's Note—The above foreword to West Virginia's record of participation in the war, was written by Governor Cornwell while the treaty of Versailles was in process of negotiation by representatives of the Allied Nations in Paris.

STATE COUNCILS OF DEFENSE.

By JESSE V. SULLIVAN,

Secretary Advisory Council of Defense.

By resolution of the National Congress adopted in August, 1916, the Council of National Defense was created for the express purpose of creating relations which would render possible in time of need "the immediate concentration and utilization of the resources of the Nation."

There are now forty-eight State Councils of Defense—one representing each State of the Union—each of which is the outgrowth of the Council of National Defense.

When Congress created the Council of National Defense it provided that it should consist of the following members of the Cabinet:

The Secretary of War;
The Secretary of the Navy;
The Secretary of Agriculture;
The Secretary of the Interior;
The Secretary of Commerce; and,
The Secretary of Labor.

In addition the President was authorized by Congress to appoint an Advisory Commission of seven civilians for the Council of National Defense and the following were named:

Daniel Willard, President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Chairman of the Committee on Communications and Transportation;

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, Chairman of the Committee on Labor;

Howard E. Coffin, Vice-President of the Hudson Motor Car Company, Chairman of the Committee on Munitions and Manufacturing;

Julius Rosenwald, President Sears, Roebuck & Company, Chairman of the Committee on Supplies;

Bernard M. Baruch, expert in commerce and finance, Chairman on the Committee on Raw materials;

Dr. Franklin Martin, Chairman of Committee on Medicine and Sanitation.

Dr. Hollis Godfrey, President of Drexel Institute, Chairman of Committee on Science, Research and Engineering.

Many special committees were created by the Council of National Defense which brought together hundreds of experts from each State in the Union, many of whom served the government without compensation and others who were in official authority at a fixed compensation of $1.00 per year.

First State Council of Defense.

West Virginia's first State Council of Defense was an unofficial body summoned to the Capitol by Governor Cornwell and was comprised of State leaders in industrial, labor, commercial, agricultural and other lines of endeavor and all the surviving ex-governors of the State. It met, created an executive committee and offered to the State executive a number of valuable suggestions on the mobilization of the State's resources.

The declaration of Congress that a state of war existed between the government of the United States and the Imperial Government of Germany was approved on April 6, 1917. The Council of National Defense had then been organized for a number of months and had made a partial survey of the resources of the Nation. Immediately after the declaration of war, the authorities at Washington asked the several States of the Union to organize State Councils of Defense to cooperate with the national body. A meeting was held at Washington on May 2, 1917, exactly one month after the war resolution had been introduced in Congress, which was attended by the Governors of many of our States and their representatives. At this meeting the initial plans of the authorities of the Federal Government to prosecute the war vigorously and successfully were discussed. The support of all the States was solicited by Hon. Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, who presided at the conference.

Prior to the conference at Washington Governor Cornwell had convoked the Legislature of West Virginia in special session to enact legislation that would strengthen the arm of the State in cooperating with the National Government in aims directed toward the prosecution of the war. On May 14, 1917, the Legislature of West Virginia met in special session at the Capitol and there was absent from the Session one member of the State Senate, Hon. Roy E. Parrish, of Clarksburg, then in training at the First Officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, who later made the supreme sacrifice on the soil of France in behalf of his State and Nation. Hon. Wells Goodykoontz, of Williamson, president of the Senate, presided over its deliberations and Hon. Joseph S. Thurmond, of Alderson, was the Speaker of the House in this notable war session of the State Legislature. Governor Cornwell sent a forceful message to the legislative branch of the government on the subject of war legislation.

This second extraordinary session of the State Legislature was convened on May 14, as previously stated, and adjourned on May 26, following the enactment of legislation which was deemed necessary to fully mobilize the resources of West Virginia and throw the entire resources of the State to the support of the National Government in the crisis forced by Germany by her ruthless warfare on the seas and her repeated failures to respect the national honor of America. Among the measures enacted by the special or extraordinary session of the Legislature were the following acts with reference to the prosecution of the war:

War Measures Enacted by Legislature.

- (1) An act creating the Executive and Advisory State Councils of Defense.
- (2) An act providing for a direct levy of two cents and an excise corporation tax of one-fourth of one percent levied on the net earnings of corporations to create a war defense fund.
- (3) An act relating to the protection of sheep and the conservation of the food supply by providing for the licensing of dogs.
- (4) An act empowering sheriffs and County Courts to appoint special deputy police for the protection of the lives and properties of the people of West Virginia.
- (5) An act to prevent idleness and vagrancy in West Virginia during the continuance of the war.
- (6) An act to permit registered voters required by military duty to their States or to the United States to be absent from their voting precincts on the day of the election to vote by registered mail.
- (7) An act to punish speculation for the purpose of cornering the market in foodstuffs, fuel, or the necessities of life.

The act creating the State Councils of Defense gave broad and practically plenary powers to the Executive State Council of Defense, which consists of all the elective state officers. The personnel is as follows:

Governor John J. Cornwell, chairman; Secretary of State Houston G. Young, secretary; and Auditor John S. Darst, State Superintendent of Schools M. P. Shawkey, Attorney General E. T. England, Treasurer Wm. S. Johnson, and Commissioner of Agriculture Jas. H. Stewart, members.

This act vested practically all control on war matters initiated by the State in the Executive State Council of Defense. This Executive Council was given power to subpoena witnesses and require their testimony, compel the production of account books, files and all documents relative to an investigation or matter which might be taken under consideration or investigation. The specific duties of the Executive Council are set forth in the Act as follows:

Duties of State Council of Defense.

"To adopt, publish and enforce all reasonable rules and regulations governing the operation of railroads, mills, mines, manufacturing plants and other industrial works in this State and for the conservation of the resources of this State, insofar as such rules and regulations are not in conflict with the rules and regulations adopted by the Council of National Defense; to employ assistants; to create and appoint bureaus and committees from the Advisory Council and perform such other acts as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

"To cooperate with and assist the Council of National Defense in the execution of the duties prescribed by an act of Congress of the United States approved August twenty-nine, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, entitled 'an act making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June thirty, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and for other purposes,' or any acts amendatory thereof or supplemental or additional thereto, and the orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder by the National Council of Defense.

"To suppress insurrections or rebellions and to carry out within the State of West Virginia such plans of national defense as are mutually agreed upon between it and the Council of National Defense.

"To cause to be taken a census and inventory of the resources of the state in men and materials, to make investigation and report to the governor the location and availability of military supplies, and the location and capacity of railroads, automobiles and all other means of transportation and convenience within the state, so as to determine their availability for military purposes of the state, and to render possible the expeditious mobilization and concentration of state troops and supplies at points of defense and military advantage.

"To give information to producers of materials as to supplies needed by such military forces.

"And in general to take such steps as may be, in the opinion of said councils, necessary or advisable for the public defense and security, for the protection of routes of communication; for the public care and assistance of individuals and classes upon whom the hardships of war would fall most heavily; for the development of the resources of the state, particularly those from which will be derived the supplies of food and other commodities upon which the conduct of war makes a special drain; to regulate food and fuel prices; to encourage the military training of the citizens of the state, and such other measures as may be necessary to meet the exigencies of all situations occasioned by war, if not in conflict with any rule promulgated by the National Council of Defense."

Advisory State Council of Defense.

The members of the Advisory Council which were to be appointed by the Governor were empowered and authorized to make any suggestions, inquiries or investigations as might be authorized by the Executive Council or to render such services or perform such duties as might be required by the Executive body. The personnel of the Advisory State Council of Defense as named by Governor Cornwell on May 29th, 1917, pursuant to the terms of the act consisted of:

- C. P. Snow, Huntington, President of the State Board of Trade.
- D. A. Arnold, Keyser, President State Horticultural Society.
- T. C. Atkeson, Buffalo, Master State Grange,
- A. B. C. Bray, Ronceverte, President State Bankers' Association.
- G. H. Caperton, Charleston, coal operator,
- Mrs. Joseph G. Cochran, Parkersburg, President Federation of Women's Clubs.
- Dr. John Lee Coulter, Morgantown, Dean of the College of Agriculture.
- Howard Gore, Clarksburg, President State Live Stock Association.
- Lynn S. Hornor, Clarksburg, President West Virginia Natural Gas Association.
- Frank Keegan, Wheeling, General Superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.
- W. C. McConaughy, Parkersburg, President Wholesale Grocers' Association.
- G. O. Nagle, Wheeling, President Manufacturers' Association.
- Dr J. E. Rader, Huntington, President State Medical Association,
- William Rogers, Fairmont, President State Federation of Labor.
- C. A. Short, Shinnston, President West Virginia Lumber and Supply Dealers' Association.

Mr. Bray, of Ronceverte, resigned as a member of the Advisory State Council in October, 1917, following the expiration of his term as president of the State Bankers' Association. He was succeeded by H. O. Ale-shire, of Huntington. Frank Keegan, of Wheeling, also resigned as a member of the Advisory Council and his successor is J. W. Scott, of Wheeling.

Following the selection of the writer as Secretary of the Advisory Council of Defense and his designation by the chairman and secretary of the Executive State Council as their official representative, headquarters of the Council were opened in the rooms of the Capitol which had previously been occupied by the clerk of the House of Delegates. These official quarters were opened on July 1, 1917.

Food Production and Conservation.

Prior to that time the Governor of the State, the Commissioner of Agriculture, the College of Agriculture and the Agricultural Extension Department of the State University had been waging an effective campaign to "help West Virginia feed herself." Although a large army of men had been registered for military service in West Virginia and skilled men were being called from the farms and the mines into war industries, a splendid showing was made by the State in the increased production of food.

About the same time the necessity for the conservation of foods of the most nutritious value, including meats, fats, sugar and wheat, became generally recognized throughout West Virginia and the Nation as the result of an intensive campaign made by the Federal Food Administrator, Herbert Hoover, for conservation of these foods to permit their exportation to France to feed our soldiers and to the allied countries to assist in the feeding of their populations; the larger part of the man power of the Allies having been forced to the battle fronts.

One of the first tasks imposed upon the State Council of Defense was a campaign for the voluntary enlistment of the housewives of West Virginia in the voluntary movement for the conservation of these foodstuffs. With the aid of the women's defense organization, headed by Mrs. Joseph G. Cochran, of Parkersburg, a member of the Advisory State Council, 50,000 postcards were distributed by the women of the State and housewives asked to sign the same and mail them to the United States Food Administration and on which they pledged themselves to help win the war by obeying the rules and regulations of the Food Administration. Although the conservation sentiment, that later manifested itself throughout the State and Nation, had not become prevalent in the rural districts of the State at that time, a large percentage of these cards were signed and sent to Washington.

The initial food-pledge campaign was made before the appointment of the State Food Administrator and subsequent to his appointment a second and more intensive campaign, where the women of the State with other forces, attempted to visit every family, was much more effective in impressing upon the people the necessity for food conservation and in achieving voluntary results which were effective in saving thousands of lives among the people of the Allied nations. This second campaign was waged during the week of October 28th to November 4th. Chas. H. Hall, of Pittstown, Pa., was sent here by the Federal Food Administrator as its field representative to assist in the organization and campaign. J. Frank Marsh, secretary of the State Board of Regents, was designated as the secretary of this food pledge campaign which was conducted from the headquarters of the State Council of Defense.

Prior to the second food-pledge campaign the organization of County Councils of Defense in each county of the State had been effected and they were of material value in this food campaign, as was the women's organization.

Support of Aviation School.

One of the first official acts of the Executive State Council of Defense taken at the meeting held on May 29, 1917, was a contribution made by that body to Louis Bennett Jr., of Weston, who made application for aid in the training of a dozen aviators at Beech Bottom, near Wheeling, to be attached to the military department of the United States army. Mr. Bennett made a personal contribution to this patriotic work and he was given $10,000 by the Executive Council to help carry on the training of the aviators. Bennett was flying with the Royal Flying Corps when his plane came down behind the German lines and he was reported missing.

The first official service rendered by the State Council in behalf of any of the official or quasi-official war organizations operating with the army was a resolution adopted by the Executive Council of Defense on June 12, 1917, when the Council requested the Governor and Chairman to instruct the members of the Advisory State Council to immediately organize committees for the prosecution of the first Red Cross campaign which was to end on June 26 so that West Virginia's portion of the $100,000,000 Red Cross war fund would be subscribed. At this same meeting the State Council agreed that no effort would be made to raise an additional regiment of infantry as a unit of the State's National Guard.

On June 22, 1917, the first joint meeting of the Executive and Advisory Councils was held at the Capitol and plans were discussed providing that when inquiries or investigations were necessary, the Executive Council would delegate such work to the members of the Advisory Council as stipulated by the Act of the Legislature.

Organizing Social Forces.

Another early act of the Executive Council was the bringing to West Virginia of Dr. Hastings H. Hart, of the Russell Sage Foundation, New York City, to make a survey of the State's institutions, not only with reference to the ability of the State to care for tubercular or crippled soldiers, at the existing institutions, but to report as to the most feasible and particable method of caring for the dependant families of men in the military service of their country, as well as the proper organization of the social forces of the State.

Dr. Hart brought with him to West Virginia Chas. L. Stonaker, of Newark, New Jersey, Secretary of the State Charities Aid and Prison Reform Association, who with James S. Lakin of the Board of Control visited the State institutions, making a survey of their resources. The report of Dr. Hart, known as "A Suggested Program for the Executive State Council of Defense" was based on the study made by Mr. Stonaker. It was printed and circulated in every State of the Union. Dr. Hart, well known throughout the Nation in sociological work, later met with the State Conference of Charities and Correction at Fairmont on December 4, 1917, and made an address on his report. This latter meeting was attended by representatives of the County Councils of Defense from many sections of the State. Some of his recommendations have been carried out and the social program that he suggested has received the careful study of many of the students of sociological problems in the State. With the end of the war his suggestions have added import.

Increased Production of Coal.

Early in the war it became apparent to those who were in authority in West Virginia that the production of coal in the State was of the utmost value to the Nation. The coals from the celebrated New River and Pocahontas fields were being used exclusively by the Navy. The conservation of the product was not of such importance in West Virginia as in many other States because of the great quantity of natural gas consumed within the borders of the commonwealth, but West Virginia was the second coal producing State of the Union, and as coal was the prime essential of the war in the production of the materials which would supply our armies and the Allies, the relative importance of the State was determined largely by the production of this commodity.

Through the coal fields the State Council of Defense sent a number of returned soldiers who depicted to the miners the necessities that existed for increased production. One of these returned soldiers was sent here by General John J. Pershing. He was Private Herbert N. Nicholas, of Rhode Island, who was one of the first 50 American soldiers who were returned to the States after seeing service in France. Two British officers, Major L. Gordon Sandford and Captain E. Lucas Guest were also effective in impressing the miners of the State with firsthand information from the warfare which was going on 3,000 miles away. The West Virginia Coal Association and the several district mining associations were also engaged in the same work with the same purpose in view, while the Emergency Fleet Corporation sent a number of speakers into the several districts of the State.

Many complaints received concerning the illicit distilling and sale of intoxicating liquors in the mining districts, thus retarding the production of coal, resulted in the Executive Council making an appropriation of $10,000 upon the application of State Commissioner Walter S. Hallanan, which would permit that official to send deputies into the affected districts.

Notwithstanding the serious inroads made on the mine labor supply by the application of the selective service system, many experienced miners being taken from the several coal districts, the miners of West Virginia, as well as the coal operators, proved their patriotism by increasing the tonnage of the State.

Various Other Activities.

Since the creation of the State Council of Defense it has authorized the formation of four companies of "home defense guards" in the cities of Huntington, Point Pleasant, Morgantown and White Sulphur Springs. The company at Huntington saw service when a detail accompanied a United States Marshal to Mingo and Lincoln counties to round up a number of army deserters and military slackers who had killed a party of officers who had attempted the arrest of the slackers.

In response to the request of the Council of National Defense the State Council of Defense appointed an Auxiliary Advisory Council of Defense, consisting of a number of colored men and women who had been promiment in the affairs of the Negro race. John C. Gilmer was elected secretary of this organization and effected an organization of the Negroes in the counties where this race is most populous. He also waged a continuous and effective publicity campaign among the colored population in behalf of every war activity in which the people of the State have been engaged.

One step taken by the Executive Council upon the petition of the colored population which seemed to meet with general approval was the adoption of a resolution barring "The Birth of a Nation," a motion picture film which the Negro race opposed on the ground that it was calculated to incite race prejudice at a time when there should be a unity of thought and action on the part of the citizenship of the State.

State Geologist I. C. White, of Morgantown, with a corps of assistants, is now engaged in the making of a map of West Virginia which will give certain information of importance to the War Department of the Federal Government. This work was authorized by the Executive Council upon the request of representatives of the War Department.

Publicity and Information.

The State Council of Defense has been responsible for an unceasing publicity campaign of education and the dissemination of a large amount of war information among the people of the State. The press, loyal to the core, has been a great factor in stimulating the patriotic efforts of the population and while at first there was inclined to be some opposition to the selective service law, the situation continually improved until there was unity of sentiment that the war must be won regardless of the sacrifice. A war pageant was brought into the State by the Council soon after it was organized as a means of stirring the people to a realization of the immensity of the struggle. Newspaper columns were filled with patriotic propaganda and hundreds of thousands reached by other means of communication.

At the suggestion of the State Council of Defense William Burdette Mathews, Clerk of the Supreme Court of Appeals, was appointed the State Director of the Four Minute Men by the Committee on Public Information. He immediately began an organization that has reached into every county of the State and which reached the zenith of success in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign which ended on October 19, 1918. These Four Minute Men have carried the spoken word of patriotism into every motion picture house in West Virginia and almost into every schoolhouse. There has been the closest cooperation between the State Council organization and the Four Minute Men organization.

The Council of Defense organization has given effective cooperation in the successful prosecution of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Liberty Loan compaigns; in the First and Second Red Cross campaigns; in the First and Second Y. M. C. A. war fund campaign and in the United War Work campaign. It has cooperated with the War Savings organization, the Food Administration and the Fuel Administration. With the aid of the county organizations, the State Council early in 1918 sought to secure the reform of the retail delivery service for the sole purpose of saving manpower and materials needed in more vital service and with the same agencies and through the press sought to promote a thrift and economy campaign.

Legal Booklet Published.

In the interest of the West Virginia soldier in the military service, the Council published a legal booklet containing a digest of the war risk insurance law, the civil rights act affecting soldiers and other laws which the citizen should become familiar with before engaging in warfare. The booklet was completed by the Central Legal Advisory Committee consisting of Wells Goodykoontz, of Williamson; Attorney General E. T. England; J. W. Vandervort, of Parkersburg, and Fleming N. Alderson, of Richwood. More than 30,000 copies were circulated among the men in the military service, through the county councils of defense and the county legal advisory committees.

That the construction of all building projects not absolutely necessary should be discontinued during the period of the war in order to release labor and materials, as well as capital, for war purposes, was advocated by the war Industries Board and on October 19, 1918, a State Committee on Proposed Construction was appointed by the Executive Council, consisting of James S. Lakin, member of the Board of Control, Chairman; G. R. C. Wiles, member of the Public Service Commission, and David W. Patterson, of Charleston. This committee has for its task the consideration of every application for a building permit, the dealers in building materials having entered into a contract with the War Industries Board that they would not sell their products for building purposes without permits.

Local Building Representatives.

In each county the County Council of Defense has an appointee who is the local building representative and a person proposing a building project must make a statement under oath showing the character of building and the necessity for same and file it with this local building representative. The representatives of the committee in the several counties are:

Barbour, E. W. S. Kennedy, Philippi; Berkeley, John T. Nadenbousch, Martinsburg; Boone, A. H. Sutphin, Madison; Braxton, F. D. Stalnaker, Sutton; Brooke, C. S. Underwood, Wellsburg; Cabell, S. G. Biggs, Huntington; Calhoun, Fred S. Hathaway, Graptsville; Clay, Richard Butcher, Clay; Doddridge, V. B. Lowther, New Milton; Fayette, George Love, Fayetteville; Gilmer, Fred Lewis, Glenville; Grant L. J. Forman, Petersburg; Greenbrier, A. E. Creigh, Ronceteve; Hampshire, James W. Crawford, Romney; Hancock, H. H. Robb, New Cumberland; Hardy, Thomas J. Bergdoll, Moorefield; Harrison, Harry C. Hoffman, Clarksburg; Jackson, C. C. Staats, Ripley; Jefferson, P. P. State War Convention.

A closer understanding of their duties was conveyed to the County Councils of Defense when their Chairmen or representatives met here September 17-18, 1918, with the Chairmen of the Liberty Loan Committees and the County Chairmen of the Four Minute Men in a State war convention, devoted principally to a discussion of plans of organization, primarily for the Fourth Liberty Loan, but also for other war activities.

As the State representative of the United States Department of Labor to assist in the solution of the problems growing out of the manpower shortage, the State Council recommended the appointment of State Commissioner of Labor Samuel B. Montgomery, who is the State Director of the United States Public Service Reserve. He appointed agents in each county of the State in building up a reserve of skilled labor for war industries. His first task was the enrollment of shipyards volunteers and the county councils of defense cooperated with the Commissioner and his enrolling agents.

All the members of the Executive Council have been engaged in patriotic work during the period of the war. The Chairman has probably made more speeches than any Governor the State has had, appealing for the support of the entire population in the successful prosecution of the war. The Auditor and Attorney General have made many addresses on various phases of war work. The Secretary of State has been the executive secretary of the State Council and also the State Director of the Boys Working Reserve, affiliated with the federal Department of Labor. The Commissioner of Agriculture organized the Patriotic Garden League to promote the raising of food products. The State Superintendent of Schools has given personal service of great value and has also brought the school organization behind every patriotic movement. The State Treasurer has answered every call and given his support to the war cause.

Compulsory Work Law.

West Virginia led all other States of the Union in the early definition of the moral duty of the citizen to support those who had been privileged to fight for the Nation.

The Legislature meeting in May, the month following the declaration of war, enacted the first compulsory work law ever enacted in any State, and its enactment together with the subsequent enforcement of the law has been the object of observation throughout the country.

At the outbreak of the war those in authority in West Virginia seemed to grasp the necessity that existed for every one to support the fighting men. Our observation of the conduct of the war by the European belligerents taught us to know that it was to be a war in which the whole united nation must engage and serve, if not on the battlefield, then in the mine, in the mill, on the farm. It has been aptly stated that General Pershing's line of communication extended from "No Man's Land" to San Francisco.

The enactment of the original compulsory work law was due primarily to a census of idlers taken by the municipal police in the cities and towns of the State at the instance and under the direction of Governor John J. Cornwell.

This census showed an amazing number of idlers and unemployed in the municipalities of the State and when the executive sent his message to the special session of the Legislature, he remarked that "It is almost inconceivable where there is a great shortage of labor on the farms, in the factories and in the mines, and the nation is in a great war urging every man, woman and child to conserve food supplies and produce something, thousands of young able-bodied men should be idle in the cities and towns of this industrial State, idle not because they cannot get work, but because they do not want it. Idleness must be penalized. Public sentiment will be so aroused that it will be impossible for the idle person to live content in any community. In this crisis, idleness is unpatriotic."

Delegate John Drafts Original Law.

The compulsory work law was drafted by W. S. John, member of the House of Delegates, from Monongalia county, who came to Charleston with several other members of the Legislature at the request of Governor Cornwell to draft tentative war measures for the consideration of the lawmaking body. Delegate John in a letter to the writer, says:

"When I studied that part of Governor Cornwell's message, I could only see that the failure of every able-bodied man, rich or poor, to produce commodities or support for this war would be guilty of neglect of a high moral duty. Unless producing something useful instead of consuming, he would be a dead weight on society and a slacker. The failure being a moral crime ought also be a legal crime. The ordinary vagrancy laws in existence in nearly every State and municipality were directed against the criminal and the worthless. But in this war it was felt the rich and able-bodied must serve in some useful and productive occupation. The Governor's message on this point gained popular support and when I introduced the bill it was cheered heartily and public sentiment has always strongly supported the idea. The State should continue to impress upon the minds and hearts of the people the idea that failure to engage in useful occupation is unpatriotic."

Since the enactment of the West Virginia compulsory work law, the States of Maryland, Kansas, Minnesota, South Dakota, New Jersey, New York and Rhode Island have enacted similar measures. The Council of Canada in pursuance of the war measures act of 1914, made idleness a crime by order in council promulgated April 4, 1918. The Dominion has placed its law solely upon the ground that every able-bodied man owes useful and productive service to the nation.

Enforcement of Act.

On September 20, 1918, as Secretary of the Council of Defense, I submitted to the State Council a report on the enforcement of the compulsory work law. Reports from 143 incorporated municipalities were received and collated, showing up to that date that 811 arrests had been made under the provisions of the act. In seeking information as to the enforcement of the act, I asked the municipal authorities to estimate the number of loafers who were forced to engage in some lawful and productive occupation as a result of the moral suasion resulting from the existence of the law. From 103 municipalities estimates were received, aggregating 2,705 persons.

The following is an excerpt from the report made by the secretary to the State Council of Defense:

While requesting reports from the various municipal authorities I also solicited the opinion of the Mayors of these cities and towns concerning their personal opinion of the act. Without a single exception there was a unanimity of opinion that the legislation was of a most important character, many declaring that it was the best law ever enacted by the State and many others advocating the permanent retention of the law on the statute books.

Before setting forth in detail the reports from these municipalities, permit me to say that a vigorous effort has been made to have the local peace officers enforce this statute. In response to an appeal from the Governor of the State the newspapers gave liberal space to demands for the enforcement of the act, while letters were mailed from this office to every peace officer in West Virginia and to the individual members of the County Councils of Defense, reciting the necessity that existed for every man to be engaged in a lawful and useful occupation.

An opinion from the Attorney General in which he stated that it was the duty of all peace officers, such as Mayors and Justices of the Peace, to enforce this statute without waiting for citizens to initiate complaints, dispelled the doubt that existed in the minds of many of the officials in the smaller and more remote localities that they were without jurisdiction to try offenders unless some citizen stepped forward and swore to a complaint. Another opinion by the Attorney General, showing that the burden of proof rested upon the alleged offender to show that he had worked the required thirty-six hours per week, has also been a factor in securing more uniform enforcement of the act.

Economic Value of Law.

From an economic standpoint the enactment of the compulsory work law has been a signal success. It has paid, many times over, the cost of the special session of the Legislature which enacted it. Heretofore, I have advised you that 811 persons were arrested and 2,705 persons had engaged in lawful employment for fear of arrest. This is a total of 3,516 persons who have gone to work. Taking $500 as their average annual compensation in one year these former idlers have earned $1,758,000. This is, indeed, a low estimate of the wealth created by the operation of the statute, for I am convinced that at least 5,000 persons in the State have been forced to find employment which would increase this newly created wealth or earning capacity to $2,500,000.

Although the statute has not been enforced in some of the mining communities with the zeal that should mar the work of the local officers in time of war it has been a factor in the prosecution of the war insofar as it has tended to increase the production of coal by keeping those miners who are disposed to remain idle at their employment for at least thirty-six hours per week.

On July 2, 1918, the State Council of Defense adopted a resolution requiring employers of labor to report weekly the names and addresses of their employes who failed to work the required thirty-six hours per week. More than 3,500 letters were mailed out from this office to those who had been reported for failure to work the thirty-six hours required by the act, reciting the necessity for increased production and requiring the reported employe to file here his reason for absence from employment. Never before have I realized that the human family was afflicted with so many boils as these slackers reported, while the belief that has existed in my mind that smallpox had succumbed to modern science, was entirely dissipated by the explanations I received. Many of those reported, of course were idle for legitimate reasons.

The County Councils of Defense.

The most forward step taken by the State Council of Defense since the day it was created by the act of the Legislature was the authorization given for the formation of County Councils of Defense, and then in turn Community Councils of Defense, which extends the National defense organization into every community.

While at the present hour this extension of the defense organization into every community of the State is not an accomplished fact, many counties where the full purpose is understood and the leaders of the local defense councils are imbued with both the spirit and inclination, as well as the energy requisite for such an undertaking, such progress has been made that the value of such an organization is a proved fact.

I have no desire to pick out any certain county of West Virginia for an example of efficiency in the organization of Community Councils, but it is only just to Wood county to say that she leads in the organization of these local councils of defense. The secretary of the Wood County Council of Defense is largely responsible for that unusual fabric of patriotic organization. In a recent report to the State Council he recites that forty-eight of these Community Councils have been organized.

Before the Council of National Defense had suggested the organization of these Community Councils, pamphlets were circulated from this office advising the County Councils of Defense of the necessity to organize the community councils for the purpose of decentralizing the defense organization. A State Council of Defense without the County Councils of Defense is of little value to either the State or Nation to carry out requests. Therefore, because of the size and population of many of our counties the County Councils of Defense are likewise impotent unless they have a decentralized organization existing in every Community.

Object of Defense Organization.

The main object of the Council of Defense as a patriotic entity is to concentrate and mobilize our resources—to arouse and bring the people of the entire country behind the government in support of its war aims. For this reason it is essential that the national defense organization should be extended into every community.

The Council of National Defense and the President suggested the school district as the natural center of territory for the Community Council. In many respects the school district is sufficient, but in many counties of West Virginia the school districts are of such area that it was necessary to bring the community council down to a smaller unit. That was done in Wood county where the schoolhouse rather than the school district has been the unit for the organization of the Community Councils.

Because of its educational and patriotic value the Community Councils of Defense, working in each county under the guidance of a well regulated and active County Council of Defense, would prove of value in time of peace as well as in time of war.

This statement is based upon the fact that the Community Council, forgetful of partisan, religious or racial bias or prejudice, meets for the common good, aims to promote Americanism and to solve local problems and to assist in the solution of State and National problems. In many instances the activities they initiate are worthy of reproduction in many other communities of the nation.

The State Council of Defense authorized the organization of the County Councils of Defense just prior to the campaign for the purchase of the Second Liberty Loan. By authorization of the State Council the Governor asked the local conscription boards in the several counties to recommend the personnel of the original County Councils.

For various reasons they have undergone changes, but in every county of the State there exists a County Council which has been effective in placing before the people of the State the various matters suggested by the Council of National Defense from Washington and at the same time have aided materially in solving the State and local problems which have arisen in connection with the prosecution of the war. In many instances they have initiated activities which have been responsible for increased war interest and stimulated action for the furtherance of war activities.

Public Opinion Behind Councils.

The County Councils of Defense in West Virginia have no legal existence. All their power is derived from the State Council of Defense, but this has not proved to be a serious obstacle to their undertakings. All their acts have been based on the broad plan of patriotism and those who feel aggrieved at any decision they render can appeal to public opinion for reversal. At the same time it is the broad force of public opinion that sustains the County and Community Councils for it is the most potent weapon that can be utilized in a crusade against disloyalty or indifference to the public weal.

The National Council at Washington has long realized that the County Council of Defense, with the Community Councils working under its direction, is the most forceful weapon it can employ to reach the people and the support of the people in a democratic government is necessary to difference to the public weal.

Co-ordination of War Agencies

To bring about a co-ordination of the existing war agencies in the State and Nation and a consequent correlation of their activities, a meeting was held at Charleston on March 27, 1918, attended by the State representatives of the Council of Defense, the Liberty Loan Committee, the War Savings Committee, the Food Administration, the Fuel Administration, the State College of Agriculture, the Labor Department, the Four Minute Men, the Woman's Division and the American Red Cross.

At this meeting it was deemed necessary to make the County Council of Defense the clearing house in each county of the State for all war activities, and that the head of the several departments and administrations doing war work in the several counties should comprise the County Council of Defense, or the executive committee of the County Council of Defense.

This co-ordinated plan of organization has been completed in many of the counties and the experience of this State together with that of other States has proved that it is the most substantial form of organization that can be devised.

The recommendation of the State Council of Defense that an executive secretary be employed in each county who can devote full time to the work has not been generally followed, for the reason that the County Councils have not sought to finance their organization to such an extent that would make the plan practicable. The employment of such secretary and the maintenance of county headquarters, however, would mean a permanent organization for war work that would be effective not only in the big drives where it is necessary to enlist the support of the whole public, but in many other matters which the County Councils have not undertaken because of inability of the membership to give the necessary time and attention.

One of the strongest County Councils of Defense is found in Kanawha county where support was guaranteed by the banks and a fund collected for the use of that body. Primarily the Kanawha Council was organized for the Liberty Loan, War Savings and Red Cross work, but many other vital matters have been disposed of. In this statement, it is not amiss to recite that a rent profiteering committee, serving without compensation, investigated many cases where rents were abnormally increased by rent profiteers after government war plants were located in the vicinity of Charleston and in many instances the rents were reduced to reasonable figures.

To supplement the work of the defense organization in the several counties, among the colored population, there have been organized auxiliary county councils of defense and auxiliary community councils comprised of colored people. These local organizations have been effective in awakening the Negroes of West Virginia to the vital problems of this war.

What County Councils Have Done.

The following is a partial list of bulletins on war activities which were referred to the County Councils of Defense for definite action:

THE AUXILIARY ADVISORY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE.

By JOHN C. GILMER, Secretary.

By virtue of the authority vested in it by Sec. 7 of Chapter 4, second extraordinary session of the Legislature of 1917, the Executive State Council of Defense created, by resolution on March 21, 1918, and additional Auxiliary Advisory Council of Defense, naming as its members thirty Negroes—the presiding officers of religious and fraternal organizations and other prominent members of the race.

Those appointed were: J. Frank Brisco, Martinsburg; Rev. George E. Fountain, Parkersburg; Rev. J. T. Gibbons, Clarksburg; Rev. Edward D. Howard, Omar; Rev. I. V. Bryant, Huntington; Dr. W. L. Jones, Charleston; Edward L. Morton, Beckley; D. C. Coleman, Excelsior; Dr. A. S. Adams, Northfork; Rev. R. D. W. Meadows, Huntington; Charles W. Williams, Wheeling; John H. Hunt, Morgantown; P. A. Goines, Bluefield; Dr. W. C. Lawrence Montgomery; J. C. Gilmer, Charleston; Rev. N. C. Harris; Alderson; Rev. C. A. McGee, Clarksburg; Rev. S. H. Brown, Harper's Ferry; Rev. R. P. Johnson, Kimball; J. S. Noel, Montgomery; Rev. J. W. Robinson, Northfork; Dr. Chas. B. Anderson, Mount Hope; B. B. Daulton, Smithers; Rev. Mordecai W. Johnson, Charleston; Mrs. M. A. W. Thompson, Red Star; Mrs. Hattie C. A. Washington, Hill Top; Miss Henrietta M. James, Montgomery; Mrs. Grayce Seams, Parkersburg; Miss Ethel B. Brown, Montgomery; and Mrs. Lillian B. Gray, Giatto. J. C. Gilmer was designated secretary.

The membership of the Council was increased on April 16th by the nomination of Rev. R. H. McKoy, of Bramwell, and Albert E. Goodwyn, of Bluefield.

Duties of Auxiliary Council.

The purposes and duties of the Auxiliary Council, as set forth in the resolution creating it, were "to cause a complete and thorough organization of the Negroes of the State in order that they may be a more potent factor in our National defense in the way of conserving food, buying Thrift Stamps, War Stamps and Liberty Bonds, and in giving their labor in the various occupations so essential to the successful prosecution of the war. In short, this Negro organization is created in order to bring about a greater efficiency in the Negro race in the State in the things necessary to make them a greater factor in the winning of the war."

Immediate steps were taken by the Secretary, as directed, to organize County Councils following closely the plan of organization of the white County Councils of Defense, of which the colored Councils were to be auxiliaries and with which they were to cooperate.

The work, having to be done wholly by correspondence, was necessarily slow in its accomplishment, but with the assistance of the resident Auxiliary Advisory Council members and others, County Councils were organized in a few weeks in Berkeley with J. Frank Briscoe, chairman and H. B. Cheairs, secretary; Cabell, Rev. I. V. Bryant, chairman, J. B. Hatchett, secretary; Fayette, Rev J. H. Peters, chairman, Miss Henrietta James, secretary; Greenbrier, Prof. E. A. Bolling, chairman, Andrew Robinson, secretary; Harrison, Prof. D. H. Kyle, chairman, Miss J. L. Spriggs, secretary; Jefferson, Prof. J. M. Arter, chairman, Howard Dennis, secretary; Kanawha, Rev. M. W. Johnson, chairman, James Arthur Jackson, secretary; Logan, E. D. Howard, chairman, Mrs. Pearl Gill, secretary; Mercer, Rev. R. H. McKoy, chairman, E. L. Dickason, executive secretary; Mingo, Dr. H. E. Kingslow, chairman, R. W. Austin, secretary; McDowell, Rev. J. W. Robinson, chairman, Prof. E. L. Rann, executive secretary; Ohio, C. O. Johns, chairman, Earl Jones, secretary; Raleigh, E. L. Morton, chairman, Brown W. Payne, secretary; and Wood, Mrs. Grayce Seams, chairman, Miss Ame Lotterbury, secretary.

Extending Defense Organization.

Each of these County Councils, in order to reach the districts, organized local or community councils in most of the communities having a considerable number of colored people.

Effective work was done by these county organizations and their subsidiaries, especially in the way of distributing the literature sent out from the secretary's office and holding meetings for the purpose of explaining the Government's war aims and the desirability of its bonds as investments; for enlightening the masses as to the activities of War Work agencies; and for the formation of Red Cross auxiliaries, garden clubs, canning clubs and war savings clubs. Parades to promote financial campaigns and stimulate patriotism were held in the larger centers.

Many of these organizations also participated directly in securing subscriptions for bonds, stamps and the various welfare agencies. In the communities where they had soliciting committees many subscriptions were obtained which, otherwise, were not available, and the results were most gratifying. Particularly was this true in cities where employers could not exert the influence over their employees possible in the mining centers.

Activities in Loan Campaigns.

For the reason that subscriptions were not generally separated as to races by the agencies securing them, it is not possible to state definitely what the colored people of the State contributed financially to the winning of the war. The chairman of the Third Liberty Loan Committee of McDowell County, who alone designated the race of subscribers to Government Loans and War Charities, reported the total amount subscribed in the county as being $1,473,750.00; the total number of subscribers 13,603, of whom there were 4,403 colored, or 32 percent. Their subscriptions amounted to, approximately, $400,000.00, or about the same per cent of the amount subscribed as there were of the number of subscribers. Figures coming from operations in other coal producing counties show practically the same general results, as do those from mercantile and manufacturing centers, furnishing fairly conclusive evidence that the colored people throughout the State subscribed to this and other war loans in the ratio and to the amount commensurate with their number and wealth.

The same may be said of their participation in Red Cross and similar war fund campaigns. Colored workmen responded as cheerfully as other elements of labor to requests for contributions of fixed percentages of their wages, and colored committees to which quotas were assigned raised them and the subscriptions were paid with commendable promptness.

Every city and town and many of the smaller communities had their sewing and knitting clubs among the women and girls, who not only financed their own activities but contributed to the National organization with which they were affiliated. Many of these clubs in the early months of the war confined their efforts to the purchase and making of comforts for soldiers of their own race, but they too, when requested by the Auxiliary Advisory Council, joined the Red Cross and worked for the common cause.

Negroes Respond to War Appeals.

In the various occupations so essential to the successful prosecution of the war, colored men and women fulfilled all expectations. Appeals for increased coal production, in which occupation the largest number of colored men is engaged met with a ready response from them and they furnished from among their ranks the record individual coal producers in the Cabin Creek and Fairmont fields. Women and girls entered many branches of labor formerly closed to them, but it was in the production and conservation of food that they made the most appreciable contribution to the winning of the war. Their garden and canning clubs were widespread and popular organizations which made possible the family's ability to buy more bonds and stamps and to give more liberally to welfare work.

In all these activities the Auxiliary Advisory Council and its subsidiaries took a leading part, organizing and directing forces which awaited only to be told what and how to do. It found a willing constituency, loyal to the core and almost pathetic in its eagerness to give its men, its money and its labor with the hope that it might share fully in the glory of the victory and the blessings of peace.

NATIONAL GUARD OF WEST VIRGINIA.

Since 1889 and until the time of draft into the United States Service, August 5, 1917, the National Guard of the State consisted of two regiments of infantry and the prescribed staff corps and departments.

Pursuant to the President's proclamation of June 18, 1916, the Second Infantry Regiment was called into the United States service for duty on the Mexican border and after remaining in the State mobilization camp at Kanawha City, Charleston, West Virginia, until the middle of October, was sent to Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, where the regiment remained until it was returned to the State and mustered out March 24, 1917.

At the time the Second Regiment was called, the members of the First Infantry Regiment volunteered their services but the regiment was not called.

Both regiments were extended Federal recognition under the act of congress approved June 3, 1916.

The First Regiment was called into the United States service March 28, 1917, to protect property believed to be in danger because of the break between the Government of the United States and the Imperial German Government. On April 2, 1917, the Second Regiment was called into Federal service for the same purpose, and on July 15, 1917, the enlisted National Guard Reserves was also called. Both regiments remained on this duty within the State until August 1, 1917, the First Regiment having its headquarters at Fairmont and the Second at Kanawha City.

The two regiments, all the enlisted men, and part of the officers of the quartermaster's corps were drafted into the United States service August 5, 1917, thereby being discharged from the militia and under the present law will not be returned to the State as organizations at the end of the war. These organizations received their training at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, and are now with the American Expeditionary Forces.

The strength of the First Regiment, when mustered into service August 5, 1917, was: Officers 53; enlisted men, 1,618.

The strength of the Second Regiment, when mustered into service, August 5, 1917, was: Officers 58; enlisted men, 2,011.

There are also in service a number of the officers of the staff corps and departments.

MILITARY CENSUS AND ENROLLMENT.

On April 25, 1918, George S. Wallace, Major Judge Advocate General, O. R. C., of Huntington, was appointed by Governor Cornwell as head of the newly formed Department of Military Census and Enrollment, to take charge of the execution of the selective service act for the State of West Virginia. It was then definitely known that this act would become a law and preliminary preparations were immediately gotten under way, so that on May 19, the day the selective service act became a law, the state was in readiness. Under the plans adopted, the registrars of the last general election were appointed wherever possible to serve in connection with the registration of all men of military age and 3,630 registrars were used in this manner, two to every precinct in the State, with a few exceptions, where local conditions demanded more than two. Of these 2,423 gave their service voluntarily. The registration was decentralized under the direct supervision of registration boards, consisting of the sheriff, the county clerk and county health officer and two citizen members in the counties and the mayor and five citizen members in cities of over thirty thousand.

The registrars were appointed, sworn furnished with supplies and ready for registration by the evening of May 26th.

The total registration of the State in the Class of June 5, 1917, including late registrants, was 126,505. On June 26th, the registration boards completed their work and turned over their registration cards and other records to the newly appointed Draft Boards.

From time to time as preparations at the different camps were completed calls were made upon this State by the Provost Marshal General Enoch H. Crowder for its proportion of men necessary to complete the general call. A majority of the men in the first net quota were sent to Camp Lee, Va., and the last increment was forwarded to Camp Greenleaf, Georgia, during the five-day entrainment period beginning March 4, 1918.

On September 26, 1917, Major George S. Wallace was succeeded by Captain Breckenridge Jones as Chief of the Department of Military Census and Enrollment. Captain Jones was in charge of the administration of the draft until June 7, 1918, when he was succeeded by Captain F. N. Alderson, of Richwood, W. Va., as Chief of the Department.

During the spring of 1918 a large part of the German Army, released by the downfall of Russia, was transferred to the Western Front, where it immediately engaged in a great drive which resulted in phenomenal success. The Allied Army seemed in great danger of being destroyed.

It having become evident that every precaution was necessary to insure success, or at least the strongest defense, the President issued a proclamation May 20, 1918, calling upon all male persons who had attained the age of twenty-one years since June 5, 1917 to register June 5, 1918.

The registration of June 5, 1918 is known as the second registration. As the selective service system had been in operation nearly a year, the work of registration was completed with dispatch. The registration was accomplished by means of registrars at the customary polling places under the direction of the Local Board having jurisdiction of the area wherein the person was registered.

On August 13, 1918, President Wilson issued a proclamation calling upon all male persons who had since the 5th day of June, 1918, attained their twenty-first birthday to register August 24, 1918. This registration was accomplished in a manner similar to the registration of June 5th. Those who registered August 24, 1918, were considered late registrants of June 5, 1918, and for that reason they were considered registrants of the second registration.

The total registration of the State in the second registration, including late registrants, was 14,179.

By this time all the men of the first registration qualified for general military service had either been called or sent to camp, and the boys of the second registration were quickly forwarded to meet the urgent demands upon the State.

On August 31, 1918, President Wilson, by proclamation, appointed September 12, 1918, as a day of registration for all male persons in the United States between the ages of 18 and 46, who had not previously registered or were otherwise exempt.

These were, perhaps, the most trying days to local and district boards and others connected with the draft, of any period during the war. The demand for men at the front created a scarcity of industrial and agricultural workers, and the proper classification of registrants was a problem requiring all the energy and wisdom at the disposal of the highly competent men who were members of the local and district boards. The successful result of the manner in which this problem was solved, is something of which every West Virginian should feel proud.

The registration of September 12, 1918, following close upon the exhausting labor of the summer, rendered almost superhuman efforts necessary to meet the occasion. All the local, district, medical and legal advisory boards, and others connected with the draft, responded nobly to the leadership of Captain F. N. Alderson, and the work connected with the largest registration during the war was begun, as the matter of registration is merely a beginning.

The total registration of the State in the class of September 12, 1918, was 182,699.

In France, the Allied and American Forces had stopped the great German drive and were contending desperately for the possession of "No Man's Land". From the American Army in France, through the press of the nation, the enthusiasm of battle was conveyed to the draft boards, and the work of classification and examination was being rushed to completion when the German Army, following the example of the armies of Bulgaria, Turkey and Austra-Hungary, laid down its arms on November 11, 1918.

The total registration of the State during the war was 323,383 male persons between the ages of 18 and 45, inclusive, and is indicated by counties in a table following:

TABLE SHOWING WEST VIRGINIA REGISTRANTS FOR MILITARY SERVICE DURING THE WAR WITH GERMANY

(The column at the right—showing the total number of registrants in the State—does not agree with the totals of the four registrations, for the reason that it includes late registrants who were registered after the other tables for the four separate registrations were prepared)

THE FLAG!

It speaks sublimity, and every part has a voice.
Its stripes of alternate red and white proclaim the original union of thirteen states to maintain the declaration of independence. White is purity; red, for valor; blue, for justice.

—Charles Sumner (1873).

WEST VIRGINIA HONOR ROLL.

Complete to February 14, 1920.

The following Casualty List was compiled from the reports of the Commanding General of the American Expeditionary Forces to the War Department, published in the United States Official Bulletins to June 23, 1919 inclusive. From that date to February 14, 1920, inclusive, they were published in Casualty Lists issued by the War Department News Bureau. The complete list has been compiled for the West Virginia Legislative Handbook Manual and Official Register under the supervision of Clifford R. Myers, State Historian and Archivist.

THE LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGNS.

By HON. WILLIAM A. MACCORKIE,
State Chairman Liberty Loan Committee.

The history of the Liberty Loans in West Virginia for the great war is divided into two sections for the reason that West Virginia is not under the same Federal Reserve Banking jurisdiction. The greater portion of the state is under the jurisdiction of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. The counties of Marshall, Tyler, Wetzel, Ohio, Brooke and Hancock are under the jurisdiction of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, and these counties report to Cleveland, and the management of them is entirely under the control of the Cleveland Reserve Bank. This makes it bad for West Virginia in many particulars. The great bulk of the state being in the Federal Reserve District of Richmond, when reports are made by the Richmond bank, they only report the counties which are in the Richmond jurisdiction. This leaves out a very important portion of West Virginia. In this section is the richest city in the state, the city of Wheeling; and when the report is made people look to it as embodying everything in the State of West Virginia, when, as a matter of fact, six of the richest counties are out.

Under the regulations in the beginning of the Liberty Loans in pursuance of the laws made in and about the Liberty Loan, the banks within the Richmond jurisdiction in West Virginia met at the capital city, Charleston, and chose the writer as State Chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee. A committee was appointed, in pursuance to the provisions of the law, and the State Chairman took charge of the Loan. Mr. Waller C. Hardy, of Charleston, was chosen secretary, and gave most valuable service in the First and Second Loans.

The plan adopted by the State Chairman was to organize the state by group chairmen, and by chairmen in each county. The group chairmen in the First Liberty Loan were as follows:

- Robert L. Archer, of the Huntington District.
- L. J. Hooper, of the Bluefield District.
- C. T. Hiteshew, of the Parkersburg District.
- Glenn F. Barnes, of the Fairmont District.
- H. W. Chadduck, of the Grafton District and
- P. M. Robinson, of the Clarksburg District.

The above named gentlemen were the group chairmen in the Second Liberty Loan also, with the exception of Robert L. Archer of the Huntington District and L. A. Hooper of the Bluefield District. In their places were appointed H. O. Aleshire for the Huntington District and Edwin Mann for the Bluefield District. Senator Gray Silver was appointed chairman of the Martinsburg District. In the Fourth Liberty Loan, Henry Lively was appointed in place of Mr. Barnes of the Fairmont District.

Decentralized Loan Committee.

In each county chairmen were appointed by the State Chairman, and these chairmen reported directly to the State Chairman and were in direct touch with him. The general plan of county organization was by committees, which varied in numbers and duties in every section. In the counties the general plan was to appoint district and precinct chairmen and committees. Of course the plan of organization varied with the conditions surrounding the situation. In many instances the county chairman or city chairman appointed a large executive committee, which appointed sub-committees, according to occupation or profession, and divided up the territory, making the committees responsible for the territory. The community organization plan was found, in many places, the most effective. It was under C. T. Hiteshew and Lyle Jones, found to be most satisfactory in Wood County. In many instances the cities and counties were divided so that the organization practically reached every person in the city, country districts, magisterial districts, precincts, or communities. In nearly every county in the state there was a very complete organization, and in only about five counties was it not so compact and effective. The general idea was to have the State Chairman in complete touch with the county organization.

The county chairmen, with two or three exceptions, rendered tremendous service, and no official in charge of an organization ever had a more thorough, earnest and efficient body of men to carry on an important work. It would hardly be fair to mention the names of any one in this splendid service, but in the large cites the work of H. O. Aleshire of Huntington, C. T. Hiteshew of Parkersburg, Glenn F. Barnes, and Henry S. Lively of Fairmont, P. M. Robinson of Clarksburg, H. W. Chaddock and O. J. Fleming of Grafton, Prof. R. T. Goe of Weston, Bernard McClauherty of Bluefield, and Senator Gray Silver of Martinsburg, were so efficient that it is but fair to mention their names. In the Fourth Loan, when it seemed, by reason of the terrible influenza epidemic, that failure might possibly come, upon appeal to these gentlemen by the State Chairman, they immediately turned again to their work to increase their amount over their quotas. In this connection it is but just to state that West Virginia is under great obligations to Judge D. J. F. Strother for the able and brilliant manner in which he conducted the loans in McDowell county. A call to him from the State Chairman for an extra million dollars was always heeded, and the extra million was there when the Loan closed. Throughout the state was as efficient service, and while it was in smaller amounts the state should be and is grateful.

Plans for Fourth Campaign.

The Convention, composed of the Liberty Loan Chairman, the Chairmen of the County Councils of Defense, the Chairmen of the Four-Minute Men and the Chairmen of the Women's Liberty Loan of each County in the state, which met at Charleston, September 17th and 18th, was a great essential in the success of the Fourth Loan. It allowed all of the organizations in the state to coordinate their work and to get together and understand the general plan of organization. If it had not been for this Convention, as it afterwards turned out, it would have been very difficult to have succeeded in the Fourth Loan campaign in West Virginia. The general plan for the Fourth Loan in the state, as outlined by the State Chairman, and agreed upon by the organization in the state, embodied a most elaborate speaking campaign in every district in the state. It was intended that every school house in the state should have three or four meetings; community speakers were also agreed upon, and carried out and automobile tours in every section of every county in the state were also arranged for. The publicity campaign was intended to be as elaborate and careful as any ever inaugurated in the state. By reason of the influenza epidemic in the midst of the campaign all this was changed. The State Chairman had brought into the state sixteen returned wounded American soldiers, and four returned foreign officers, and an elaborate military organization, but by reason of the health conditions in the state that was absolutely rendered of no avail, and in the midst of the campaign the plan of organization was entirely changed to a man-to-man and house-to-house solicitation, which turned out to be successful.

The First Liberty Loan.

In the First Loan, the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond did not make a complete tabulation of the population, number of subscribers, percentages, or per capita subscription. The First Loan in West Virginia, Fifth District, is reported as follows:

Population, 1,239,000.

Total Banking Resources, $175,000,000.00.

Apportionment on this basis for State of West Virginia, $11,000,000.00.

The State of West Virginia in the Fifth District, subscribed $12,147,700.00. The number of subscribers is not given, nor is the per cent of population. The subscription per capita in this First Loan was $9.81. The division of the state into two districts bears its trouble in this report, for the statement as sent out by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond gives the total banking resources $213,000,000.00, the apportionment for the Fifth District at $15,000,000.00, and the amount subscribed $12,- 147,700.00. This of course is entirely incorrect, and was a mistake in the report. The total banking resources of West Virginia, Fifth District, were $175,000,000.00, and its proportion was $11,000,000.00, which the state oversubscribed. The report has taken the total banking resources of the whole state, including that part of West Virginia in the Cleveland District, when as a matter of fact it should have only included that part of West Virginia in the Fifth District. In both that part of West Virginia in the Cleveland District, and that part in the Richmond District, all the Loans were largely oversubscribed. This mistake has been corrected by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, but the statement was sent out and it is apt to be misleading.

Fifth Federal District Figures.

In the counties comprising the West Virginia section of the Fourth Federal Reserve District, reporting to Cleveland, Baird Mitchell, of Wheeling, was the field representative of the district and the success in that district can be attributed to the splendid organization he effected in the half-dozen counties of the district.

The report of the Fourth District Federal Reserve Bank is as follows:

The State Chairman wishes to say that everything has been done that could be done to carry out this great enterprise. The whole of the time of the State Chairman, since the beginning of these Loans, has practically been given to this work, and all the various details of the state organization have been carried to as complete fruition as possible. The State Chairman was in touch with every bank in the state, and if a report was not forthcoming, or a subscription lagging, every effort was made by him to correct the situation. The State Chairman here wishes to make his obeisance to the patriotism of the people of this state. Rarely has any one been called upon that he did not go. He wishes particularly to extend his sincere appreciation to the splendid work of the banks throughout West Virginia. With few exceptions they have done their full duty and have done it vigorously, earnestly and willingly and have given their full energy and the service of the employes without stint or complaint.

Component Elements of Organization.

The State Chairman here wishes to make public acknowledgment to the Bar of West Virginia. His offices had in charge all of the organization, including the speaking campaign, and he can say that when a member of the Bar was called upon to take charge of any meeting, no matter how inconvenient it may have been, he went, and patiently and earnestly gave his service.

The campaigns were greatly assisted by the State Council of Defense, and the plan was to coordinate in every county the County Council of Defense, the Four-Minute Men, the School Department, the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee, and the Liberty Loan Committee. This plan was carried out and formed a great organization in every county which did enormous good. Governor John J. Cornwell, the Chairman of the Defense Council of West Virginia, gave most earnest, able and patriotic assistance, and Colonel J. V. Sullivan, Secretary of the Defense Council of West Virginia, was never ceasing in his able and constant endeavors to make the Loan a success.

Hon. W. B. Mathews, the efficient Chairman of the Four-Minute Men of West Virginia, with the splendid organization under his hand, was most valuable to the organization. Hon. M. P. Shawkey, State Superintendent of Schools, gave the full measure of his mature ability and great knowledge of school affairs in the state to the organization of the school superintendents and teachers in the state.

Mrs. Livia Simpson Poffenbarger, State Chairman of the Woman's Liberty Loan, did splendid work, and to her is due the success of the woman's organization. By reason of her enthusiasm and earnestness in this great work, millions of dollars were collected, which, without her help, would have been difficult, if not impossible to have been gotten.

The Coal Operators' Association of the Liberty Loan Committee, in the Fourth Loan, composed of Geo. T. Watson of Fairmont; A. R. Beisel of Huntington; S. A. Scott of Macdonald; John J. Lincoln of Elkhorn; J. G. Bradley of Dundon; Ernest Chilson of Raleigh, and C. A. Cabell of Charleston, did exceptional work among the coal operators. J. G. Bradley and C. A. Cabell did most earnest and able service.

The writer, who has been State Chairman of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Liberty Loans in West Virginia, wishes in closing to make public acknowledgment of the earnest and unremitting attention which has been given to the work by his Secretary, Miss Rose Sell, who has had charge of all the office details, and the supervision of the distribution of all posters, advertising material and the printing and mailing of the application blanks. In each Loan there were sent out from the Liberty Loan Headquarters several carloads of material which was distributed throughout the state. In the Fourth Loan in two days there were sent out from the State Chairman's office, forty-five hundred telegrams, and the work was all under the busy, efficient and patient administration of Miss Sell. The State Chairman takes pleasure in making this public acknowledgment for her efficient work.

One of the most potent factors in bringing the Fourth Liberty Loan to a successful conclusion in West Virginia was the action of churches. On account of the dreadful epidemic of influenza which was raging all over the State, meetings were not allowed to be held, public demonstrations were called off, and, in many instances, even house to house canvassing was prohibited. On October 12th—when the outlook seemed very dark for the success of the loan—a conference composed of representatives of every religious denomination in the State—Jewish, Catholic and Protestant—met at the office of the State Chairman, and after learning that the State had subscribed but one-fourth of its quota and that it would take herculean efforts to save the pride and honor of the State, they unanimously and unhesitatingly agreed to ask the clergymen and laymen of their faith to devote all of the following week to Liberty Loan campaign work. Over 4,500 telegrams were sent by the heads of the different denominations to their clergymen throughout the State, appealing for help in the campaign, and asking for their co-operation. This appeal was met with generous response everywhere. The action of the churches put the Loan over. Without it the Loan would have failed.

THE FIFTH LIBERTY LOAN.

The Fifth Liberty Loan came at a time when it seemed to be impossible to subscribe the amount. The state had already given vast sums. Mere subscription to the Loans was not the sole burden of the state. In addition to the subscription to the technical loan there was the Y. M. C. A. subscription drive, the Salvation Army drive, and Y. W. C. A. drive, the Knights of Columbus drive, the Jewish Welfare drive. These were not mere passing affairs. They were dreadfully intense and were pushed by thorough organizations, controlled by men whose hearts were in the transaction and demanded by people to whom the money was existence itself.

In addition to all of this was the Belgian Relief Fund, the Armenian Relief Fund, the Fund for Crippled and Homeless Children. Every class of charity provoked by a horrible war was demanding of the people their money. So in addition to the mere Loan the people of the state had contributed thousands upon thousands to these deserving charities.

Moreover there was another element which was harmful. The war was over. The vast majority of people had the idea that when guns were not cracking and men were not dying that the government would be able to take care of the emergency. A vast number of people did not consider that the exigency of the government was as great and the sums of money to be supplied as enormous as obtained in the midst of the war.

Knew People Would Subscribe.

We were met by the proposition that we could not raise the loan in West Virginia and that the government ought to provide for the money by the regular loans and not by a drive. An illustration of this feeling occurred in the convention at Washington which was taking into consideration the Victory Loan. In my statement to the convention I informed them that I believed that I was the only man in West Virginia who believed that the loan could be made. It was not that I had more prescience than any man in West Virginia. It was because I had been in the four previous loans and knew the temper of the people when it came down to the real things of this war. A large number of the county officials who had previously helped me shared in the belief that the loan could not be put over and they had spent so much time and money in the previous loans that they were unable to go into this one.

Notwithstanding this a fair number took hold and we began with a careful organization to drive the loan along. Col. J. V. Sullivan who had so ably assisted me in the previous loan again undertook the Publicity Department and acted generally as secretary to the chairman. We summoned a meeting of all the county chairmen, the Four-Minute Men, the Women's Department of the Liberty Loan organization and all of the newspaper men to a convention in Charleston on the 4th and 5th of April. This was the beginning of the campaign. The newspaper men obligated themselves to a vigorous campaign. The chairmen who were appointed were on hand, and after a most earnest and thoughtful convention of two days, everyone went home with a determination that West Virginia's good name should be protected and that the loan should be absolutely concluded.

A careful organization was begun in every county in the state. The government had on hands as its greatest asset in this campaign the broken bodies of splendid men who had been maimed and crippled in the war. Over fifty of these young heroes were used in the campaign and to the credit of the overseas soldiery of this country every one of the fifty, maimed and crippled as he was, did full and valiant service towards bringing the loan to a completion.

The County Organizations.

A more thorough organization was required this time than ever. A more complete stirring up of the patriotism of the people was demanded this time than in any of the previous campaigns. The result was that when the people understood that the loan was needed by this government and that to stop at this time would not be to finish the job, everyone took hold and it would be invidious for me to mention any to the exclusion of others. It would be unfair, however, to the splendid efforts of some of the chairmen did I not mention them and some of the counties should go down in this record for having done such patriotic and splendid service at such a crucial time in the history of our country. I cannot forbear to mention the splendid patriotic efforts of the citizens of Cabell county, headed by H. O. Aleshire, the efficient and able chairman of that county. It would be unfair to history did I not mention the splendid patriotic results in Wood county under the leadership of C. T. Hiteshew and John Romine who labored night and day and brought up the quota of that county in such a wonderful and efficient manner. It gives the Chairman enormous pleasure to call attention to the patriotic services of Chairman Harry Friedman in Taylor county who never despaired when the horizon was dark and who, by his organization, his energy and his character, made such a tremendous success in Taylor County. So I wish to inscribe in this record the name of Chairman W. C. Dotson of Pleasants county for his splendid, prompt and accurate work during the five campaigns. And Monroe county, backed by the splendid energy and organizing ability of Rev. Robert B. Hudson, should be placed on this honor roll. The Hon. Gray Silver of Martinsburg did splendid and effective work in his district.

Great credit should be given Chairman Ben Williamson of Mingo county for his efficient work and universal success in all five campaigns. And Roane county did herself proud under the chairmanship of H. J. Simmons and through the active, enthusiastic work of Mrs. Simmons.

The result in Greenbrier was largely due to the splendid organizing ability and untiring energy of Hon. J. Scott McWhorter who was chairman in that county.

I wish also most earnestly to commend the splendid efforts of Hon. J. C. McWhorter of Upshur County; Hon. J. S. Spencer of Mason; Reed T. Goe of Lewis; W. F. Alexander of Charles Town; R. E. Talbott of Barbour; A. B. Abbott of Fayette; L. V. Thompson of Hampshire; B. J. Baker of Grant; Geo. W. Sharp of Pocahontas; Arthur Cunningham of Hardy; Hon. E. H. Morton of Webster; Warren Wilson of McDowell; Hon. B. H. Hiner of Pendleton, the last of whom was chairman during the five campaigns; A. H. Land of Logan; Jas. C. Gibson of Preston; Dr. D. F. Strock of Randolph and Hon. H. L. Taylor of Summers.

The Chairman desires here to present his thanks to L. H. Putnam who acted as Field Manager in many capacities and places and who had particularly in charge the army war tanks which were such successful exhibits in the loan and did so much to make it a success.

The Women's National Loan Organization in charge of Mrs. Geo. Poffenbarger of West Virginia did most splendid and efficient service. Without their enthusiasm, energy and vigor the Loan could not have been put over in West Virginia, and here upon the conclusion of this great epoch in the history of our country and of West Virginia, I wish to make my obeisance to Mrs. Poffenbarger, the Chairman of the Women's Loan Organization in West Virginia, for her energy, enthusiasm, strong and sterling common sense and her tactful management. She was a tower of strength and always to be depended upon to do everything that was possible in any emergency however important or crucial it was.

Kanawha Shares in the Victory.

It might not seem in good taste from a citizen of Kanawha county but this statement would be incomplete without mentioning her splendid services in the Liberty Loans and Victory Campaign. She did not make her assessments or overassessments in thousands but in millions, and whenever the Chairman summoned her bankers and citizens together on the last days of the campaign, however dark it may have looked, and informed them of the amount of money he needed, in all of the five campaigns, by a unanimous vote the amount needed was immediately given. Mr Isaac Loewenstein of the Charleston National Bank was chairman in all five loans. His services were efficient and earnest. During two of the loans the outlying work in the county was largely carried out through the instrumentality of J. D. Steele whose patriotic and able services should be remembered in this statement.

This is the end of two years of earnest work in which practically the Chairman's whole time, all of his attention, his life and energy were given to this work and he desires here, as this in all probability will be his last public service, to thank the people of the state, the chairmen of the county committees, and the secretaries and all of those who by their patience and their energy and their organizations contributed to the great result which we have attained.

At least for many, many years there will never be such a campaign as this one in West Virginia. All of the energies, patriotism and character of our people was called into requisition and it gives me enormous pleasure to say that never once in all of these dark times did that energy, character or patriotism inherent in the people ever falter or fail. The state has contributed many millions more than was demanded by the authorities at Washington and her character is safe for all time for her contributions during this terrible, terrible time. The result has justified the statement made to the bankers and the citizens by the Chairman when asking for the subscription when he stated that the over-subscription would be more than equaled by the increase in the banks. This has been verified notwithstanding the millions which have gone out by loans, drives and subscriptions and contributions. Today the savings accounts in the state are enormously increased over what they were at the beginning of the war and the deposits in the banks are millions greater than they were at the beginning of the hostilities.

The Chairman desires to return his thanks to the people for the un-failing courtesy and kindness with which he was treated in this campaign and to congratulate them upon the outcome of their exertions which speak so potently of the high character and citizenship of our state, of the deep and undying patriotism when our country needs their services or their money.

COMPILER'S NOTE—In view of the services rendered by Hon William A. MacCorkle, State Chairman of the War Loan organization, that gentleman has been presented with two large silver loving cups. At a banquet tendered him by the citizens of Charleston at the Kanawha hotel on Tuesday night, July 22, 1919, arranged by a committee headed by David W. Patterson, he was given the first cup. At the annual meeting of the West Virginia Bankers' Association, held at White Sulphur Springs, September 11-12, 1919, the second cup, one of the most beautiful ever given a citizen of the nation, was presented by the bankers of West Virginia. There are three sides to the latter cup. One side reads: "Presented to William Alexander MacCorkle by the Banks of West Virginia." Another side: "A tribute to valued services as Chairman of the Liberty Loan Organization," and the third side "White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, September 12, 1919."

In addition to the tables that appear in Governor MacCorkle's article covering the total of the several Liberty Loans, by counties, a broadcast table will be found immediately following, showing alphabetically by counties and by places the result in detail of each Loan. The figures for the First Liberty Loan were obtained from records in Governor Cornwell's office and from the banks direct; those for the last four Loans were consolidated from the official statements of the Richmond and Cleveland Federal Reserve Banks—the latter bank embracing in its territory the counties of Brooke, Hancock, Marshall, Ohio, Tyler and Wetzel, and the Richmond bank the remaining counties of the state.

NOTE: The above compilation showing subscriptions to the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Liberty Loans was prepared from official figures furnished by the Federal Reserve Banks of the Fourth and Fifth Federal Reserve Districts, at Cleveland and Richmond. Figures for the First Liberty Loan—in which there was no allotment to banks or counties—were submitted by the banks. Any discrepancy in figures shown in the totals of subscriptions by counties and totals of subscriptions by banks, is the result of apportionments made to many of the counties by the Federal Reserve Banks, which do not show in the subscriptions by banks.

WAR SAVINGS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

By ROBERT L. ARCHER, War Savings Director.

In 1917 Congress authorized the issue of two billion dollars in war savings stamps, to be of the denomination of five dollars, maturity value; and the issue of a smaller stamp, known as a thrift stamp, of a value of twenty-five cents. The details of the war savings plan were left to the secretary of the treasury. In fact, the authority for the issue of this enormous sum in quantities of such small denominations is contained in one short paragraph of the act of September 24th, 1917.

Shortly after that time, the secretary of the treasury appointed a national war savings committee with Frank A. Vanderlip as chairman. Mr. Vanderlip is president of the largest national bank in the United States, and is a recognized authority on finance. He relinquished his duties as a bank president, and since October, 1917, has devoted his time and splendid ability to the war savings campaign as a patriotic duty and without compensation.

The national war savings committee is composed of Mr. Vanderlip, and Messrs. Charles L. Baine, Frederic Delano, Henry Ford, Eugene Meyer, Jr., and Mrs. George Bass.

Shortly after the organization of the national war savings committee, the secretary of the treasury appointed six Federal war savings directors, each one of whom is in direct charge of certain territory composed of a certain number of states. The Federal director for this district is Hon. J. D. Lyon, a Pittsburg banker and manufacturer, and his territory consists of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Delaware and West Virginia.

After the Federal directors had been appointed, the secretary of the treasury then appointed a state war savings director for each state and territory, all of whom serve as a patriotic duty and without compensation.

The state directors were given wide latitude as to methods of organization. The generally adopted plan has been the appointment of war savings chairmen in each county, and vice chairmen in the larger cities.

The State Organization.

In this State we have fifty-five loyal, devoted war savings chairmen, all of whom are carrying on the work for the whole year as a patriotic duty and without compensation. In fact all expenses of local committees have been met by local contributions. In each case the county chairman has surrounded himself with an equally loyal and devoted county committee. These committees vary in size from eight or ten up to as many as one hundred members. Space forbids naming all these patriotic men and women, but the following is a list of the war savings chairmen in this State:

Attached to the State director's office are the necessary stenographers and other assistants to handle the vast amount of correspondence which centers there, as well as the many shipments of printed matter in connection with the campaign sent to county chairmen and others throughout the state.

In addition to those mentioned above, attached to the State director's office are Mr. Wiatt Smith, in charge of publicity, advertising and distribution; Mr. John E. Norman, educational director and organizer; Mr. Harry Wright, industrial organizer; and Miss M. Virginia Foulk, woman's and school organizer.

The above is a brief outline of the war savings organization in West Virginia. The success we have so far achieved, and the full measure we expect to achieve by the end of the campaign will be due largely to the patriotic devotion of the county chairmen and other loyal and patriotic workers.

West Virginia's Quota.

The problem that confronted the organization was the sale in West Virginia of $28,403,000 in war savings stamps during the year 1918; and it was believed that full success would not be achieved unless this large sum in stamps was sold to at least 400,000 persons.

The apportionment to each state and county was made by the treasury department, and is based on twenty dollars per capita. With an estimated population of one million four hundred and twenty thousand, this gives West Virginia an apportionment of $28,403,000. The apportionment to each county was likewise based on estimated population. The following tabulation shows the apportionment for each county, and cash sales up to December 31, 1918:

*These figures cover sales up to November 1, 1918. Figures for November and December in these counties are unavailable.

As I have stated, this enormous sum of $28,403,000 was offered in securities of the denominations of five dollars and of twenty-five cents each, described as follows:

Description of Stamps.

There are two kinds of stamps and but one denomination of each kind. The first that I shall describe is known as the war savings certificate stamp, and has a value at maturity on January 1st, 1923, of five dollars. On the face of the stamp is shown the price at which it will sell each month, beginning with four dollars and twelve cents in January, 1918, and ending with four dollars and twenty-three cents in December, 1918. When the purchaser buys his first war savings certificate stamp, he will be given a certificate on which the purchaser's name will be inscribed with his full street address. On this certificate are spaces for twenty stamps to be affixed, but whether he affixes one stamp, or ten, or twenty, the rights of the holder are the same. For each stamp affixed the United States government promises to pay five dollars at maturity on January 1st, 1923. That is equal to four per cent interest compounded quarterly. If the holder finds that he is compelled to have his money back before the stamp is due, the Government gives him that opportunity. He may go to any postoffice and after giving ten days' written notice the government undertakes to repay him his money. But in that event he receives interest on his money for the time the government has had it at a rate of a little less than three per cent per annum. Whereas, if he carries it to maturity, he gets interest at the rate of four per cent. On the back of the certificate is printed a table showing the redemption price each month, so that the holder knows exactly what he can get for his investment. This is surely the best savings proposition ever offered to any people anywhere—a bond of the strongest and wealthiest nation on earth, payable practically on demand and exempt from taxation.

The other stamp is for those who want to accumulate so that they can buy the war savings certificate stamp. It is a small stamp called a thrift stamp. It sells for twenty-five cents. The purchaser of a thrift stamp gets a thrift card. This card has spaces for sixteen thrift stamps. The sixteen stamps will cost the purchaser four dollars, and he may then take his card and twelve cents additional in January, or thirteen cents additional in February, or whatever the difference may be, and exchange his card containing sixteen thrift stamps and the small additional cash payment for a war savings certificate stamp.

Encouragement of Thrift.

There are, of course, easier ways to raise two billion dollars than by the sale of war savings stamps, and the thought will at once occur that the government must have had some other purpose in mind than the mere raising of money. I think I may say that the fundamental idea was the encouragement of habits of thrift, economy and saving among the people. During the early days of the war this country—as had previously been the case in England—used rather extensively the slogan "business as usual".

It soon became apparent, however, that if we were to make our full contribution to the winning of the war that business certainly could not go on as usual. It was soon realized that the war could not be won by money, nor by men alone; that this was a war of nations rather than a war of individuals; that the question of supplies and equipment was of major importance; and that the government would not be able to obtain the enormous volume of materials and labor that were absolutely necessary unless the people to a great extent got out of the market for the purchase of unnecessary and non-essential things, and let the government have a free hand for the purchase of its large requirements of material, and for the satisfaction of its enormous demands for labor. The promotion of this campaign for the sale of stamps is one way in which the government is attempting to bring this fact home to the people.

President Wilson—in a short address to the State directors at Washington—said that there was possibly but one by-product that could come out of this war, but if by means of this war savings campaign we were able to implant habits of thrift and economy in any considerable number of our people, that in his judgment we would have thereby repaid to our country the entire money cost of the war.

The campaign in West Virginia proceeded along normal lines, keeping in view the fact that the principal idea was to promote habits of thrift and economy, and that the actual raising of the state's apportionment was of secondary importance.

With that end in view a special effort has been made for the organization of war savings societies, and there now are more than two thousand such organizations in the state. Their contribution in the purchase of stamps has been important, but the spread of the propaganda of thrift through them has been of vastly more importance. West Virginia ranks well up with the leaders in the organization of such societies. A great many have been organized in the schools, and the effect of the thrift propaganda on the minds of the school children is bound to be of incalculable benefit in the years to come.

Many other war savings societies have been organized in factories, stores, banks, churches and other places where people congregate.

The results achieved have been quite remarkable. Each society reports to the State director's office monthly its sales of stamps to its members. Their part in the war savings campaign has been an important one.

War Savings Pledge Campaign.

The war savings campaign was launched to continue throughout the year 1918. About the middle of the year it was proposed to have a pledge campaign throughout the United States, and endeavor to have the people pledge the purchase of the whole of the unsold part of the authorized issue of two billion dollars. The State directors unanimously adopted this plan, known as the "Nebraska Plan" by reason of its success in that state, and June 28th was proclaimed by the President and the Governor as "National War Savings Day." The people were notified to assemble at their school houses and voting precincts on that day, and pledge themselves by signing a pledge card to the purchase of a certain amount of war savings stamps during the remainder of the year; and also to pledge themselves to save and economize to help win the war.

The pledge campaign in West Virginia resulted in sales and pledges of upwards of twenty-five million dollars to more than four hundred thousand persons, and it is confidently believed that the state's apportionment of $28,403,000.00 will be absorbed before the end of the year.

To this brief résumé of the war savings campaign I would like to add a word of personal thanks for the splendid co-operation I have received as state war savings director from persons in all walks of life, both men and women. I know that many of the war savings workers have sacrificed their time, their money and their pleasure in order to do something to help "win the war". At times it may seem to some of them that their efforts have been but little noted or long remembered. They may, however, rest secure in the consciousness of a duty well done, and in the knowledge of their own loyalty, love of country, and fidelity to their own state.

WEST VIRGINIA WAR LOAN ORGANIZATION.

JOHN E. NORMAN, State Director.

GOVERNMENT'S 1919 THRIFT CAMPAIGN IN WEST VIRGINIA.

By N. W. YATES, Publicity Director, West Virginia War Loan Organization.

When the government at the first of the year decided that the war-time savings movement should be made a permanent peace-time measure to establish thrift as a fundamental characteristic of the American people for the lasting prosperity and enduring strength of the nation, it became necessary to revamp the West Virginia War Loan Organization.

The organization in this state was an integral part of the Fifth Federal Reserve War Loan Organization during the war. Headquarters of this vast organization which included West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and South Carolina organizations were maintained in the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank with Albert S. Johnstone, of Columbia, S. C., as Director.

Robert L. Archer, of Huntington, was West Virginia Director with headquarters in the First National Bank Building in Huntington. But, when the government decided to make the savings organization a permanent peace-time establishment, it was necessary in West Virginia, as well as in the other states of the Fifth Federal Reserve District to put the organization on a peace-time foundation.

Mr. Archer, who was cashier of the First National Bank before entering the service of the government as a "dollar-a-year man," found that his affairs were such that he could no longer neglect them. He found that he must return to his former duties.

District Director Johnstone meanwhile abolished all state organizations in the district with the exception of West Virginia where the work had been carried on so successfully. Upon recommendation of Mr. Archer, when the latter resigned in March of this year, Mr. Johnstone appointed John E. Norman, of Huntington, who had formerly acted as assistant state and educational director, as State Director.

Mr. Norman then set out to build up a new organization along the lines designated by his chief in Richmond. The plan, in brief, was to organize a staff which would prove efficient in the campaign founded upon the idea of encouraging thrift, rather than to conduct a forced sales campaign.

Mr. Norman maintained the county chairmen's organization, which had been built up by his predecessor. This organization is still intact and functioning. Only eight counties have no chairmen.

Loyalty of County Chairmen.

These county chairmen have proved very loyal to this great cause, and they deserve commendation for their efforts in the government's great Thrift Campaign despite the fact that the war had ended.

With this organization as a nucleus he set out to form an efficient staff. Riley J. Morehouse, former lieutenant of infantry in the army, was employed as agency director. Mr. Moorehouse resigned October 15 to enter the insurance business, but during the time he was connected with the War Loan Organization he was instrumental in enlisting the cooperation of the banks of the state. He was not connected with the West Virginia office during his entire time of governmental service. During the last two months he was transferred to the Richmond office's jurisdiction as director of sales of Treasury Savings Certificates in West Virginia.

Alex Garred, another Huntington business man and also a returned soldier, having served as a lieutenant of aviation overseas, was appointed industrial director. He remained with the organization two months, resigning to enter business for himself.

N. W. Yates, a former Huntington newspaper man, who had just been discharged from the service as lieutenant of artillery, was appointed as publicity director.

Mrs. Waitman Barbe, of Morgantown, prominent worker in women's clubs, was appointed woman's director, and in this capacity she served efficiently until September 1st, when she resigned. She was instrumental in organizing the women's clubs in the government's Thrift Campaign, as well as acting as one of the Teachers' Institute instructors, which service will be explained later.

To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Garred, Mr. Norman named Byron R. Cisco, another discharged lieutenant of artillery. He is resigning as industrial director at present.

To complete his staff Mr. Norman then named John E. Stage as educational director. The latter, prior to his service in the Y. M. C. A. overseas, was principal of the Enslow Junior High School at Huntington. He was educational director of the army Y. M. C. A. Because of his fitness for the work, Mr. Stage was named for this particular position with the West Virginia War Loan Organization.

Thus, the state director's staff at present consists of Messrs. Yates.

Stage and Cisco in addition to his office assistants. Headquarters of the organization are maintained in Rooms 716, 717, 718, 719 First National Bank Building, Huntington.

Conversion From War to Peace Basis.

When it was decided by the government to convert the war-time savings system into a peace-time establishment there were numerous spokes to revolve about this hub. There were the children's savings societies and education, savings in industrial plants, mines, mills and factories, savings in lodges, churches, woman's clubs and civic organizations, as well as presenting an opportunity to each individual to buy these "baby bonds" at the banks and postoffices.

This plan is almost the same as the war-time plan, except that it is saving now for another purpose, and it is robbed of its forced sales feature, because this was to be an educational campaign, the ultimate beneficiaries to enlist voluntarily.

As can be seen, this was to be a campaign from which the country as well as the savers were to reap dividends in the future.

This at once made the thrift education of school children paramount. That was to be the foundation, the rock upon which the whole structure must be built.

West Virginia this year, perhaps, has gone into the school system on a more elaborate scale than any other state. It was seen that if thrift was to be made a part of the curriculum of each school, the teachers must first be taught before they could teach the children.

State Director Norman, formerly an educator, formulated the plan, to send specially trained thrift instructors to each of the county teachers' institutes in the state. It was first necessary to train these experts. Mr. Norman selected the following men and women from the leading educators of West Virginia to perform the work:

Frank R. Yoke, superintendent of schools, Weston; Otis G. Wilson, superintendent of schools, Fairmont; Mrs. Waitman Barbe, woman's director, Morgantown; Miss Virginia Foulk, teacher, high school, and former woman's director, Huntington; E. Q. Swan, former principal Central Junior high school, Huntington; Riley J. Moorehouse, agency director, Huntington; John E. Stage, educational director, Huntington.

Through the very kind cooperation of Hon. M. P. Shawkey, State Superintendent of Schools, and his assistants, and the county superintendents, a part of the program for each county institute was to be devoted to Thrift, and one of Mr. Norman's lecturers was to be given time to present the proposition as Mr. Norman had instructed them at a staff meeting held in August.

The plan has been a success from every standpoint, and West Virginia before the end of 1919 will have an army of 250,000 thrifty young Americans.

Ninety per cent of the teachers in the state signed pledges to form a school savings society in their rooms on the first Monday after school started. Ninety per cent of these have kept their pledge and packages containing a complete supply of society materials have been forwarded to a majority. Societies are being formed daily.

This has been accomplished chiefly through the cooperation of the leading educators and teachers of the state. For instance Hon. M. P. Shawkey, as a testimony of his opinion of the Thrift Campaign, furnished Mr. Norman with the following statement:

Statement of Hon. M. P. Shawkey.

Through the great war the teachers of America's public schools and the public schools themselves, have taken on a new importance. War-time experience taught that no great educational campaign could be conducted successfully without the aid of the schools.

One undertaking in which the government early turned to the schools for assistance was that of thrift education, through the medium of War Savings. The lesson of thrift was a hard one for America to learn—too hard to be absorbed in the time which elapsed before the signing of the armistice. And, unfortunately, the coming of peace dissipated some of the good effects already obtained. But this educational campaign is to go forward. The treasury department has condensed in the Thrift Campaign of 1919 a method by which the American people may learn a lesson of permanent and growing value to the nation and every individual in it.

West Virginia schools are in advance of those in most other states in this matter of Thrift education. When the 1919 campaign was launched the West Virginia War Savings Organization laid greater stress than those of other states upon the thrift idea. I now appeal to you as heads of the school organizations in counties and districts to put your best efforts into the promotion of the thrift education plan for the government for 1919.

First. The teaching of the value of Thrift as a habit.

Second. To help supply necessary revenue to meet the debt of honor incurred during the war. These objectives form a sound educational plan—offering as they do the lesson and an easily available application. The test comes in application—"by their fruits ye shall know them."

Jno. E. Norman, the state director, an educator, is fittingly the head of the movement for thrift education in his state. He deserves your cooperation. This is serious business. The war is ended, but if the teacher is to sustain the place he has won through his participation in the war endeavors, he cannot fail to prove himself worthy in this task in which he is asked to continue. I have faith that the teachers of West Virginia will not fail.

The organization of the War Savings Societies, one in every school room in West Virginia, is to be undertaken on Monday after the first Friday in the coming school year. I urge upon every teacher the duty of forming and fostering such a society.

(Signed) M. P. SHAWKEY.

A copy of this statement was sent to each teacher in the state with the package of thrift society materials. There were hundreds of others in the state who helped to make the 1919 Thrift Educational Campaign a success. They have worked as valiantly as those who were so active during the war-time campaign.

Total 1180.

These figures are encouraging, but they tell only half of the story. There are enough teachers' pledges being redeemed each day to indicate twice as many societies will be formed in the schools for January 1, 1920.

This is only a part of the campaign. Societies have been organized in churches, mines, mills, lodges, factories and other places where men and women come together in their natural groups, and they are functioning, as monthly savings reports will show.

It has been said that the fruits of this thrift education will be harvested in the years to come. The manner in which West Virginians have taken hold of it makes it certain that "The Little Mountain State" will clinch its claim to the nickname of "The Switzerland of America." It will be not only for its scenery, but for its Thrift.

While Mr. Norman gives to his staff a great deal of the credit for the success of the 1919 campaign, he feels that he owes more to Hon. Robert L. Archer, the former state director, than to any other. Mr. Archer's foundation for the campaign was kept intact, and his wise counsel was sought and was heartily given on all important matters.

THE FEDERAL FOOD ADMINISTRATION FOR WEST VIRGINIA.

By L. M. DAVIS,
Director of Education.

The law providing for the National Food Administration was signed by President Wilson August 10, 1917, and Herbert Hoover was appointed as Federal Food Administrator.

The first step towards perfecting a National Organization was the selection of a man in each state of the Union qualified to handle the food problem of his state. With this in view, Mr. Hoover called a meeting of representative citizens of each of the states to a conference at Washington, where he outlined the food problem and his plans in a general way. He said in part:

"The Food Administration's task in any country is a gigantic one, and requires the willing service of the ablest patriots. Such men as are required cannot be secured for government salaries, or by the ordinary means of political appointment. We have, therefore, organized the Food Administration on a voluntary basis. This work is as necessary as the work in the trenches, and must appeal to the same patriotic motives that have led our best men to enlist in the army. The Food Administration work will involve constant and great sacrifice on all of us, especially on those of us who have been chosen to lead the work.

"We must have a Food Administrator in each state, a man who is thoroughly conversant with local conditions, strongly imbued with the necessity of increasing production, of conserving food, and especially of educating every individual to do his part of this necessary work willingly, as a patriotic service."

E. W. Oglebay, Selected Administrator.

West Virginia had just such a man as Mr. Hoover described in the person of Earl W. Oglebay. Mr. Oglebay has for years been actively identified with the agricultural extension work and educational advancement in the state, and is known to be a man of great organizing and executive ability. He, being a practical farmer, understands the problem of production and his business experience has been such that he knows how to handle big business problems, such as the Food Administration work. He was asked to take this work by Mr. Hoover, but at that time he was giving much of his time to service on a patriotic committee, and the demands of his own business were such that it did not seem possible for him to assume the additional responsibilities the position involved. After having received a strong personal appeal from Mr. Hoover to join his organization, Mr. Oglebay agreed to call together a delegation of the leading men of the state for consultation and advice. The conference was held at Waddington Farm, and attended by Governor Cornwell, State Superintendent of Free Schools M. P. Shawkey, and other state officials, F. B. Trotter, President of the State University, and other leading university officials, by Bishop Donahue and leaders of the Protestant Churches, leading bankers, manufacturers, merchants, farmers, editors and many others representing as far as possible every interest of the state.

After outlining the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Oglebay turned the conference over to Governor Cornwell, who called upon those present to express their views. They unanimously agreed that Mr. Oglebay was the man for the place. Without consulting Mr. Oglebay further, Governor Cornwell put the following motion to the delegation—"Mr. Oglebay accepts the position of Food Administrator for West Virginia." This was unanimously carried and a wire to this effect was sent to Washington, and thus it was that West Virginia secured a very able man to handle this work.

The wisdom of this selection has been shown in the splendid organization Mr. Oglebay has built up in the state, and the results which have been accomplished.

A competent organization has been perfected in each county of the state with a County Administrator, and a competent staff of assistants at the State Headquarters at Wheeling.

The organization of the counties was delegated to Wm. Hill, Director of Organization, who with the assistance of Mr. J. F. Marsh, Secretary of the State Board of Regents, and Mr. C. R. Titlow of the Agricultural Extension Department of the University, established a county organization in each county.

A complete system of inspection of groceries is in force throughout the state, and dealers are regularly checked up as to their cost and selling prices to prevent the charging of excess profits.

Hotel keepers, bakers and restaurant proprietors are organized, and are co-operating with the State Food Administration in carrying out the rules and regulations necessary to make the plans of conservation effective. In fact the Food Administration and the people of the state joined friendly hands to not only do their "bit", but their "utmost" towards saving food and winning the war.

Division of Distribution and Enforcement.

J. R. Trotter, who has charge of distribution and enforcement has a big problem constantly before him. Especially has this been so since the restraint upon the use of sugar has been in force. The sugar department at State Headquarters is one of the busiest offices in the state, and it requires the constant supervision of this department to see that the rules and limitations regulating the use of sugar are lived up to, and to insure that equitable and prompt distribution of all sugar allotted to this state is made.

Much of the work of the Food Administration consists of the proper distribution of food commodities and the regulation of profits and prices. In charge of this work is a Director of Distribution and Enforcement. The basic rules and regulations are formulated at Washington, but the interpretation and the drafting of them so that they will fit into the local conditions of this state is the work of the Director of Distribution, and as such he has charge of their enforcement. The sale and distribution of all licensed commodities come under his supervision and regulations are published for the guidance of the producers, the wholesaler and the retailer. The authority over these is direct in some cases and indirect in others.

All wholesale grocers and retailers whose sales amount to $100,000 per annum are licensed and the control is therefore direct. In the case of retail grocers the control is indirect, through the licensed wholesalers. If the retailer refuses or neglects to observe the regulations laid down for his guidance and control, the licensed wholesalers are immediately notified to cut off his supplies. If the wholesaler refuses, his license is immediately suspended or revoked. In this way there is complete control over all distributors.

There is only one criminal offense of which a retailer or a consumer may be guilty under the Food Administration Act. Fine and imprisonment may be imposed for hoarding. A force of inspectors examine all the wholesale houses at frequent intervals, and the retailers as occasion demands or opportunity offers.

If a wholesaler is found guilty of profiteering, his house is closed for a time, or he may be allowed to make a money contribution to a war activity, or a donation of food commodities to an army camp or the like. In some cases if the punishment does not cause a hardship to the community, he is not allowed to sell the particular article, as sugar or flour on which he has profited, until the close of the war. If the offense is slight, the inspector may settle it, or if large, he reports to the Wheeling office where a formal trial is held and punishment imposed, subject in case license is suspended, to approval of the Enforcement Division at Washington.

The authority of the Food Administration is probably felt more in the distribution of sugar and flour than elsewhere. The Sugar Division of the Food Administration allots each month the sugar that may be used in the state during that month. This is then allotted to retailers, bakers, hotels and boarding houses, hospitals, soda fountains, soft drink makers, ice cream makers, bee keepers, packers preservers, in fact to all commercial users of sugar.

No one except a household consumer can buy sugar if he does not have a sugar certificate issued by the Federal Food Administrator. In this manner the baker is limited to 70% of his former consumption; a soda fountain to 25% and a candy maker to 50%.

For August, September and October, the sugar for ordinary household uses was limited to two pounds per person per month. On the first of November this was increased to three pounds and on December first to four pounds. From January 26th to September first every consumer was required to purchase fifty pounds of wheat flour substitutes with fifty pounds of wheat flour. August 31st to November 12th this was reduced to one pound of substitutes with four pounds of flour, and on the latter date the substitutes were entirely removed. This rule was enforced directly by requiring retailers to buy substitutes with flour and indirectly through the licensed jobbers.

In addition to this, this department has the duty of settling differences that frequently arise between consignor and consignee. If a consignee refuses to receive a carload of foodstuffs, the Enforcement Department insists that he unload the car at once, and settle the trouble later—generally by arbitration under the direction of this department.

Co-operation With Agricultural Extension Department of the University.

Mr. C. R. Titlow has accomplished wonderful results in stimulating agricultural production throughout the state. In most parts of the state boys' and girls' clubs have been organized and the production output of these little patriots has added materially to the aggregate crop tonnage of the state.

He has not only interested the boys and girls, but he has reached the farmer in a practical manner, causing him to adopt more intensive methods of farming and to till his soil in a more intelligent and scientific manner.

There are now 449 of these clubs today holding regular monthly meetings, and have regular sets of officers, making monthly reports to the Agricultural Extension Department of their activities. There are 12,386 boys and girls enrolled in these clubs and in the last two years have produced the following foodstuffs:

Corn and Potatoes	61,521 Bushels
Brood Sows	1,050
Fowls'	79,680
Cans of Vegetables and Fruits	77,045
Butter	1,813 Pounds

Total value of these clubs' production amounts to $151,637.23.

In addition to this amount practically as many thousand dollars worth of products were grown by about 15,000 associated club members who followed all the instructions and plans as provided by the Agricultural Extension Department, but who did not make complete reports of their work. Two hundred and eighty of these boys and girls representing forty-two counties of the state attended the last two annual prize winner courses at the University. This fine showing by the Agricultural Extension Department of the University meets with the hearty approval of Federal Food Administrator Oglebay, who is a practical farmer himself and one of the strongest supporters this department of the University has.

Schools and Colleges Cooperate.

The schools and colleges throughout the country are being asked by the United States Food Administration to incorporate in their course of study instructions in the principles of Food Conservation. This course was recommended by resolutions passed by the National Educational Association and has been approved by Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator. All the leading schools and colleges of West Virginia have been asked to co-operate in extending the school work, and many of the schools already have taken up the work actively. Eighty-four of the high schools took up these courses last year, according to a report to the Food Administration made by M. P. Shawkey, State Superintendent of Free Schools, and he further says that he believes that every school that has a teacher competent to do the work, has done more or less of it.

West Virginia Wesleyan College has also been teaching the Food Conservation in their department of Home Economics, and W. B. Fleming, president of that institution, says that their school will gladly co-operate to the limit in the good work which the Food Administration is doing. Letters from C. B. Clark, president of Salem College, and C. A. Tague, head of Morris Harvey College, also report that they will co-operate with the Food Administration in this work.

During the months of last spring twelve special workers were assigned through a co-operative plan between the Food Administration and the West Virginia University, to give demonstrations in the use of substitutes for wheat flour to groups of women consisting of members of women's clubs, church societies, parent-teachers' meetings, associations, lumber and mining camps, boarding house cooks, colored people and foreign settlements. These meetings were held in forty-two counties and 21,135 homes were represented. The results thus far show a reduction of flour consumption from 30 pounds per week per family attending these special meetings to 14 pounds per family.

The 107 farm women's clubs with a membership of over 3,000 women, adopt annually a plan of work for the advancement of the homes of their community. Monthly meetings are held to consider the progress made and to further develop the plan of the club work.

The girls' and boys' clubs now have a membership of 2,178 and are growing vegetables, canning, making butter, and taking regular courses of study in better home methods.

It is doubtful if any state in the Union can make a better report than West Virginia for food conservation work in the schools. All schools of West Virginia should have instructions in the principles of food conservation. Instructions should be given concerning the quality of supply, amount of such foods, and the probable consumption. The food problem is a big one, not only in war times, but in times of peace, and every child should be taught the proper uses of foods and the relative nutritive value of different food products. The course of study from which these suggestions are taken were prepared after the National Educational Association had requested such a course in a resolution passed at the annual meeting in Pittsburg.

Bakeries, Hotels and Restaurants.

J. H. Brennan, Executive Secretary, has charge of the regulation of bakers, hotels and restaurants. Certainly a man's size job which he is filling most satisfactorily.

The large percentage of the country's wheat crops which pass through the hands of the bakers, renders the co-operation and regulation of these dealers of extreme importance. Fortunately, the bakers themselves have realized the necessity of special assistance to the Food Administration, and have given freely of their help—not only to the National Board in Washington, but also to every Food Administrator. The American Association of the baking industry has seen to the establishment of a National Board in Washington. This service board works with the Food Administration and assists in framing and carrying out proper provisions.

For the work of the West Virginia Baking Service Board, the State of West Virginia is divided into twenty-three districts. With the exception of three districts, each one of these districts is presided over by a baking captain chosen from the representative bakers of his community. The West Virginia District (Ohio County) is presided over by the Central Executive Committee of the Service Board, which also directs the work of the several captains. This Central Committee, is composed of the following members:

Fred G. Stroehman, Chairman,
Lewis D. Storch,
P. F. Bayha,
D. H. Crock,
Harry F. Spriggs.

This committee holds its meetings in the offices of the Food Administration, and is brought into conference with the Administration Staff when any important changes of policy are contemplated. In addition to this part of their work, the Committee sees to the several captains, giving personal interest to the bakeries in their respective territory, informing them of all new regulations and orders, and help police the state.

The inspection of the bakeries is taken care of by a staff of state inspectors operating from the Wheeling office, and by a number of volunteer inspectors, each one of whom has charge of one county wherein he assists the state inspector. These local inspectors are all on a voluntary basis, and they have performed most admirable service in their department.

Hotel and Restaurant Division.

At the head of the Hotel and Restaurant Division is Mr. R. L. O'Neal of Fairmont. While this is generally referred to as the hotel and restaurant division, it includes boarding houses, boarding camps and every other public eating place.

In the larger counties of the state, associations of the proprietors of public eating places have been organized by Mr. O'Neal in order to bring about co-operation among the persons directly concerned. In most of these counties, the bakers also are included in the membership of these associations, and thus one line of work assists the other.

Each organization has an executive committee with a president and secretary, and although these officers hold no appointment under the Food Administration, they are nevertheless in direct communication with the main office and receive instructions therefrom. In most of the counties where these organizations exist, their work has been of inestimable benefit in securing uniform observance of the federal rules and regulations.

In the smaller counties the governing of the public eating places is deputed entirely to the county administrator. It is believed, however, that by reason of the success in the larger counties of this work, an effort will be made to extend the same system even into the rural communities, but of necessity on a smaller scale.

Price Interpretating Committee.

In December, 1917, the first Price Publication Committee in West Virginia was organized. The duty of this committee was to publish each week in the local newspapers a list of wholesale and retail prices of staple commodities, which list has served as a guide both to the consumer and dealer of the proper amounts which should be charged for the foods in daily use. The work of this committee was soon assisted by the appointment of a general committee in Huntington and Charleston. Today there are twenty-five of such committees in the state of West Virginia publishing prices in each city of size in the state, and in a number of smaller towns. This feature of the administration may also be extended to the rural communities.

The State Organization.

The state organization including clerks and stenographers, exclusive of the county officials numbers about fifty people, and is as follows:

Executives.

E. W. Oglebay	Federal Food Administrator
J. R. Trotter	Director Food Distribution
J. H. Brennan	Executive Secretary
A. C. Kimpel	Private Secretary
Howard M. Gore	Director Field Organization
C. H. Copp	Associate Director Distribution

All the members of the organization are imbued with a sense of patriotic duty and the feeling that they are engaged in a real war work and a general service of the country. This feeling pervades the atmosphere, and one does not have to stay about the headquarters long to become fully inoculated with this same feeling of loyalty and responsibility.

There is no clock watching—no refusal to do a little extra work—no stipulated number of hours to work, but when there is a task on hand to be done, all hands are ready and willing to stick until the job is finished.

They all know that they are not only a part of a great national organization helping Uncle Sam to bear his burdens, but they realize that they are a part of the great international organization engaged in the biggest business in the world—the handling and control of the food supply.

They realize that the comfort and sustenance of over a quarter billion people comprising the allied nations who are fighting for world wide democracy and the freedom of the people from the oppression of plutocracy and military domination depended upon the winning of the war against Germany, and the annihilation of the Hun as a world power, and that the winning of the war depended upon the feeding and the sustenance of the army of the allies on the battle front.

With the double purpose of increasing production of foodstuffs and the conservation of the same, appeals have been made to the people of the state to co-operate in this movement, and there has been a general patriotic response to the plans outlined by the administration resulting in increased farming and gardening activities, and a systematic plan of saving and conserving the food supply. Several statewide campaigns have been successfully inaugurated and carried out reaching the individual households and a large majority of the people have signed pledge cards aligning themselves effectively and actively in the service of conservation.

There are comparatively only a few people of the state who realize and understand the importance and extent of the work of the United States Food Administration for West Virginia.

One year has passed since this work was started here and bigger and better things are expected to be accomplished before the work is completed.

When it is known that the National Food Administration at a cost of two cents per person has saved the people of this country $180,000,000 during the past year on sugar, and over $900,000,000 on flour alone, making a total saving of approximately $12.00 per person, or $60.00 for the average family of five, in addition to affording sustenance and relief to our allies in Europe, the public will be grateful enough to get behind the Food administration, and help push the work along. The Food Administration now practically controls the price and distribution of about sixty per cent of the food products of the country.

These great benefits have all been derived without any hardships being inflicted upon the American people, and mostly by the voluntary and patriotic co-operation of the people. Speculation and profiteering in food-stuffs have been practically eliminated from commerce.

Director of Education.

A Director of Education (Publicity) has recently been appointed. It will be his duty to keep the people of the state informed as to the activities of the Food Administration through the press and various other avenues of publicity. This can only be accomplished by the co-operation of the newspaper publishers, and other agencies of publicity. The press has been most patriotic and loyal in promoting the various governmental activities connected with the war work. Without the patriotic service rendered by the newspapers of the country, there could have been no successful Liberty Loan Drives, War Saving Stamp Campaigns, nor Red Cross subscriptions put "over the top" in such record breaking time as these things have all been accomplished within the last year from time to time.

The accomplishment of the American people in the way of conservation of food and their voluntary response to the call of our Allies and their willing sacrifice to divide their rations with them in the furthering of a great ideal, the establishment and preservation of a world wide democracy, is one of the greatest miracles of the ages.

Lord Rhondda, Food Controller for England, recently said, "I can say without hesitation that had it not been for the establishment by President Wilson and Congress of a Food Administrator, the outlook for the Allies would be very dark indeed. Neither American nor Allied troops can fight on empty stomachs, and the civilian population in their rear cannot provide them with money, munitions or moral support unless they have a maximum of essential food wherewith to sustain output and efficiency. The wonderful organization on behalf of the Allies and of America's own military effort of the food resources of the United States, although only legalized a few months ago, has so far enabled us to delay the menace of famine."

"But if we are to fight through to the finish, no compulsory restrictions of rationing which I have imposed or may impose, and no sacrifice which our people here may make, will be of avail unless the American people keep up a full head of steam, and continue to provide to the utmost of their patriotism and their capacity their food supplies upon which victory depends."

FEDERAL FUEL ADMINISTRATION.

By J. WALTER BARNES,

Administrator for West Virginia.

The Fuel Administration was created by an act of Congress known as the "Lever Law," which authorized the President to place the control of all fuel under the Federal Trade Commission, or appoint a Fuel Administration. The act was passed on the 10th day of August, 1917. Acting under this authority, President Wilson appointed Dr. H. A. Garfield, President of Williams College, as Fuel Administrator. He was appointed to carry out the broad provisions of the act, and "do and perform such acts and things as may be required of him from time to time by direction of the President, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed."

The Fuel Administrator was given the power to employ assistants, and the other departments of the government were directed to cooperate with him. The Fuel Administrator stated that his task must be first to secure the largest possible production of fuel at prices just to the producers and reasonable to the consumers.

In making up his organization Dr. Garfield stated that we were blazing a new trail; that there were no precedents to guide, and that matters would have to be determined as they came up in the course of carrying out the purposes and provisions of the act. At first there were created the Administrative, Production, and Distribution Divisions, Labor Representative, Operators' Representative, Engineering and Technical Department, State Organization, Conservation, Transportation, Coke, Legal Appointments, Supplies, and Acting Divisions. The plan for the organization was based largely on the organization plan of the government, that is to say, a federal head, a head for the several state organizations, and, in turn, heads of county organizations. The Fuel Administrator appointed a Federal Fuel Administrator for each state. Some of these appointments were made as early as September 25, in states where there was urgent demand, and from time to time other appointments have been made.

On October 25 J. Walter Barnes received a wire from the Fuel Administration asking him to come to Washington to consider the matter of taking charge of West Virginia for the Fuel Administration. Mr. Barnes stated that he would take the matter under advisement, and soon after his return home he was urged to accept the same in the following telegram:

Washington, D. C.,
Oct. 27, 1917.

Prof. J. Walter Barnes,
Fairmont, W. Va.

With the approval of the President I desire to appoint you Federal Fuel Administrator for your State. Your chief duties in that capacity will be to select a small Advisory Committee for the State and appoint local committees in the counties and cities for the purpose of investigating and reporting on local conditions, and in cooperation with the Fuel Administrator to take all possible steps to relieve and improve fuel conditions within your State. It will be a service to your country and particularly to the people of your State as well as a favor to me if you will undertake this important and vital work. Please wire reply collect Government rate.

H. A. GARFIELD.

After consulting with different people throughout the State. Mr. Barnes decided to accept the same, though the service to be rendered was on a voluntary basis and without compensation. The first duty devolving upon the State Administrator was to effect a state organization, and appoint local chairmen and committees for each county. It has been the rule not to appoint on the local committee persons connected with the coal industry, though in some cases it has been found advisable to have one or more such persons on the committee.

The State Administrator, has, through his local committee, complete supervision of local distribution, and is charged with enforcing the rulings of the President and Fuel Administrator with relation to prices. The local committee has authority to fix the price of coal locally, or rather to fix the gross margin at which coal may be sold in the community, with the approval of the State Administrator. In case of hardship the dealer or consumer may investigate the price and remedy such hardship by reversal.

It is the duty of the local administrator to keep the State Administrator informed as to local conditions, and render assistance in providing relief. The State Administrator organized his office by appointing H. H. Rose, Esq., Executive Secretary, a gentleman who has proved both capable and efficient; and also necessary stenographers were appointed to assist in the office work. As members of the Advisory Committee, Honorable H. L. Snyder, Shepherdstown, and Professor W. J. Holden, Parkersburg, were appointed. The following were appointed as County Fuel Administrators for the various counties:

Barbour R. E. Talbott, Philippi
Boone Dr. Alvin Hall, Madison

Berkeley	E. C. Henshaw, Martinsburg
Braxton	John A. Grose, Sutton
Brcoke	James Paull, Wellsburg

Tyler	O. C. Carter, Middlebourne
Tucker	Lewis Spangler, Parsons
Upshur	J. M. N. Downs, Buckhannon
Wayne	J. M. Rigg, Wayne
Webster	W. T. Talbott, Webster Springs

Wetzel	George P. Umstead, New Martinsville
Wirt	G. W. Roberts, Elizabeth
Wood	F. F. Eubank, Parkersburg
Wyoming	S. D. Frantz, Mullins

In the organization of the State the Administrator found that it was advisable to divide the State into eight districts as follows:

FIRST DISTRICT—The counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, and Wetzel.

SECOND DISTRICT—The counties of Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Taylor, Barbour, Randolph, and Tucker.

THIRD DISTRICT—The counties of Mineral, Grant, Morgan, Berkeley, Jefferson, Hampshire, Hardy, and Pendleton.

FOURTH DISTRICT—The counties of Harrison, Doddridge, Lewis, Gilmer, Webster, Upshur, Braxton, and Nicholas.

FIFTH DISTRICT—The counties of Wood, Pleasants, Tyler, Ritchie, Wirt, Calhoun, Jackson, Roane, and Mason.

SIXTH DISTRICT—The counties of Cabell, Wayne, Mingo, Lincoln, Logan, and Boone.

SEVENTH DISTRICT—The counties of Kanawha, Clay, Fayette, Putnam, Raleigh, Summers, Monroe, Greenbrier, and Pocahontas.

EIGHTH DISTRICT—The counties of Mercer, Wyoming, and McDowell.

This was done as a matter of convenience for the meeting of the County Fuel Administrators to take up work peculiar to their sections. Meetings have been held in all these districts at various times during the past year, at which times instructions were given as to the duties of the county administrators. In all these cases the county administrators are men who are serving without compensation. The duties of the local committees are as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the local committees (1) to gather information regarding the supply of fuel in their several communities; (2) to ascertain the fuel needs of the communities, with special regard to the points of immediate need; (3) to investigate carefully and report at once on prices at which each size and quality of coal is sold in the community, and continue to so report at such regular intervals as the State Fuel Administrator may deem advisable; (4) to ascertain at once and report to the State Administrator the gross margin which is being charged by each dealer in each community for every size and quality of coal and whether such margin is excessive; and (5) when called upon to do so to investigate the status of contracts between jobbers or operators and the industrial plants of the community, especially where such contracts call for delivery at prices below the President's price, with a view to insuring prompt deliveries under these contracts.

Also, the powers and duties of the State Fuel Administrators are set out as follows:

"State Fuel Administrators have no power to regulate or control coal production. All questions relating to production will be decided by the United States Fuel Administrator. This does not mean, however, that the fuel administrators, in coal producing states, should not give careful attention to the problems relating to production. They should forward to the United States Fuel Administrator any information obtained by them relating to coal production, accompanied by any recommendations which they believe will be of assistance to him in enabling him to keep in touch with the situation in each such state, especially for the purpose of carrying out the main object for which he is striving, viz: the lowest possible price to the consumer consistent with a reasonable profit to the operator.

"The State Fuel Administrators will be expected to forward at once to Washington any information whatever relating to the coal situation which comes to their attention which they believe will be of assistance to the United States Fuel Administrator in his work. This information should be sent in letters in which one subject only is dealt with in a single letter, in order that the information may be properly classified in the files in the office. All recommendations and conclusions stated should be substantiated always by carefully verified facts.

"One of the most important duties of the State Fuel Administrators is to take immediate measures looking to the conservation of the fuel supply. A definite program will soon be announced, looking to this end. The conservation work of the Fuel Administration will be done in conjunction with the conservation campaigns of the Food Administration. The State administrators should submit any suggestions which they have as to conservation measures relating to their own States or the nation at large, and do all in their power, within the limits of their authority, to encourage the saving of fuel.

"A report from the State Administrator to the United States Fuel Administrator under separate headings should be forwarded to Washington for the present once each week. This will be in the nature of a report of progress, stating in general terms what has been done, and including a general survey of conditions within the State, with special reference to any unusual situations which may arise. As stated above, State Fuel Administrators should require reports from local representatives in order that the State representative may carefully compare the prices charged in the different localities."

The principal duty, as will be seen, is that the State Fuel Administrator sees that all parts of West Virginia are supplied with fuel, and at proper prices. This seemed in West Virginia at that time to be matter of very small moment, but owing to the fact that a great many people had neglected to purchase coal, the lack of transportation, and the severities of the winter, it became a very difficult matter to furnish fuel even for domestic supply in various localities. But in reviewing the work of the year, and in comparing it with what other states have done, we find that in no place were our people forced to suffer any great hardships by reason of the lack of fuel.

Another matter of enforcement thrust upon the Fuel Administration was the order establishing heatless days, beginning January 18, and continuing for certain days for an indefinite period. This order was to close all places of business at certain times, particularly on Monday of each week, beginning January 21 and ending Monday, March 25.

The celebration of "Tag the Shovel" was observed by the Conservation Department, looking to the saving of fuel by having every home save a shovel full of coal a day. This undoubtedly resulted in the saving of a vast quantity of coal throughout the county.

There is still a shortage of coal facing the country for the coming winter, and looking to the conservation of the same the Fuel Administration has created the office of Administrative Engineer, for each state, whose duties require him to examine all industrial plants within the state, suggesting saving by improved methods of firing, covering pipes, stopping leaks, and various other methods to be suggested by him. The Administrative Engineer for the State of West Virginia is R. E. Rightmire, who has had long and valuable experience in carrying on this line of work.

E. E. Meredith has been the very efficient Director of Publicity for the Fuel Administration, and has handled the matter so that the public has been kept well-informed regarding the proper orders of the Fuel Administration.

*West Virginia being a coal producing state, deals with a number of representatives. In the northern Panhandle, R. W. Gardner of Pittsburg; in the eastern part of the state, John C. Brydon; in Fairmont District, D. R. Lawson; in the Huntington-Logan District, A. H. Land; Charleston District, W. R. J. Zimmerman; in the extreme southern part of the state, G. D. Kilgore; and in the Pomeroy District, W. D. McKinney. The following order shows how the fuel in the country is to be distributed:

"1. Under the new coal budget plan each State Fuel Administrator has been advised of the total amount of coal allotted to his State, the producing districts from which the coal will be shipped and the tonnage which will go forward from each individual producing district. Each District Representative has been correspondingly advised of the amount of coal he is to ship into each State.

"2. Each State Fuel Administrator will have the responsibility and authority for the distribution of the coal allotted to his State, except for shipments which will go forward to some few certain plants that will be under the direct supervision of Washington. District Representatives will include tonnage going forward to these particular plants in their reports to State Fuel Administrators and these plants will also be required to make weekly reports to State Fuel Administrators the same as other plants so that State Fuel Administrators will have complete records of the coal moving into their respective states under direction from Washington.

"4. District Representatives have been definitely instructed to honor requisitions received from a State Fuel Administrator provided they can do so without over-shipping the State Fuel Administrator's budget.

District representatives will ship as follows:

"1. Ship on all orders from Washington.

"2. After you have shipped all orders under 1, ship on all requisitions from State Fuel Administrator and follow their instructions in regard to either increasing or curtailing shipments to individual consumers, regardless of whether the requisitions or instructions pertain to plants that are on the Preference List or to plants that are not on the Preference List. On the State Fuel Administrators rests the responsibility of seeing that plants not on the Preference List do not run at the expense of plants that are on.

There has also been created since the organization of the Fuel Administration a Production Department for the Northern part of West Virginia, at the head of which is Brooks Fleming, and a Production Department for the Southern portion of West Virginia, at the head of which is J. W. Dawson.

Early last spring the campaign was waged urging the public to buy coal early. In many instances this was done, and those counties which had the foresight to procure the coal are not now worried about the lack of fuel, but there were a number of persons in different counties who thought to wait and procure coal as they needed it. These people are now finding it difficult to obtain the needed supply, but it is not believed that in West Virginia any one will fail to obtain what is necessary for domestic consumption.

The men who compose the County Fuel Administrators and County Committees are all men of high grade, and patriotic motives, and have willingly given their time to carry on the work of the Administration, and deserve sincere thanks for their earnest labor and helpful advice.

In attending the various conferences of the State, and State Administrators at Washington, and learning from their reports of the difficulties involved, the task in West Virginia has been a comparatively light one for the Fuel Administrator, and yet it has taken a very great deal of time to perfect the organization, to direct the routine work, hold conferences, settle prices, etc., but the State Administrator has done the same, according to the highest sense of patriotic duty and resolve, willing to contribute his part, whatever it might be, in the winning of the war.

UNITED STATES PUBLIC SERVICE RESERVE.

By SAMUEL B. MONTGOMERY,

State Director.

The State Commissioner of Labor was appointed in January, 1918, Federal State Director of the United States Public Service Reserve and began the duties of the office immediately upon his appointment. The director's first official act was to name Enrollment Agents in each county and supply them with blanks and instructions to carry on the work which they readily consented to perform. Like the Federal State Director they were not to receive any salary or emoluments. Most of the Enrollment Agents became active at once and as a result there was enrolled in the reserve three thousand skilled and unskilled mechanics, who offered their services to the Government, in its various activities, to speed up the great war schedule. Many of these mechanics were called to service in the shipyards, in the erection of cantonments, explosive plants and at numerous other works that had been put on a war basis.

The Reserve was intended for all men who wanted to work to help win the war and who were willing to give up jobs which were not vitally important in war times and take jobs where their country needed them and where their services counted for victory.

General instructions were sent to each enrollment agent throughout the State. The instructions read:

"The task of enrolling men who are willing to serve our country where they are most needed when the call to such service comes, is entrusted to the enrollment agents of the United States Public Service Reserve.

"The men most needed as members are those who have especial training in the trades—men who can work with tools or are willing to learn. Other kinds of men will be needed though not in such great numbers. Any man who is so situated that he can devote his work to his country for adequate compensation is a welcome member. No loyal citizen should be refused membership.

"Men likely to be called soon to the army, under the draft, are not valuable members. The army takes precedence over most forms of industrial service. Enrollment in the Reserve does not affect in any way a member's standing under the draft.

"You will be informed from time to time, of the kinds of men who are most likely to be needed in the near future. You should make personal efforts to find and enroll such men. In this effort you can and should enlist volunteer assistance from patriotic citizens in your community.

The Functions of the Reserve.

"As its name implies, the United States Public Service Reserve is not an agency to secure immediate employment for its members. It aims to have on hand a reserve of available men who, while staying at their posts in the industrial life of the country, stand ready to go when the Government notifies them that they can be of greater service elsewhere.

"All labor, of any kind, if industrially and patriotically performed, is valuable to the nation as a whole in these days of strain. A scurrying of men from one employment to another in search of something different to do is harmful in the extreme. The best place for most men is where they are. Their duty is fully performed if they enroll for service, work energetically at their present tasks until the Government wants them to do something else, and then respond to the call."

For men who want immediate jobs they are referred to the nearest office of the United States Employment Service which has offices established throughout the country, six offices being established in West Virginia.

The United States Public Service Reserve and the United States Employment Service work together in supplying essential industries with the men required to perform the necessary work in order that there shall be no curtailment of production. Plants working exclusively on war material are given preference, while those working partly on war material are rated according to their output for Government use.

Community Labor Boards have been organized in the various industrial communities, each board being composed of three members, one member representing employers, one member representing the employees, and the third member neither classed as employer nor employee. Their duties are numerous and they have supervision over the classification of work, as to being essential or non-essential and to place men in industries that have to do with the winning of the war.

There is also a State Advisory Board which has jurisdiction over the Community Labor Boards and it is through the Advisory Board—after suggestions are received as to whom would be best suited to serve—that the Community Labor Boards are appointed.

Howard S. Jarrett, Chief Clerk State Bureau of Labor, served as Clerk of the United States Public Service Reserve and Miss Nellie C. Schaeffer, stenographer of the Bureau of Labor, served as stenographer for the Reserve.

In addition to the appointment as Federal State Director of the United States Public Service Reserve, Mr. Montgomery was commissioned as the official inspector for all government plants and factories engaged on war work within the State. This commission, conferred upon the Commissioner of Labor, carries with it the authority to enter and make inspection of government owned plants and plants that have government contracts. The authority given under the commission is similar to the powers vested in the Commissioner by the State labor laws. He is further empowered with authority to enforce all contracts that may be entered into by the government with any of the State's industries.

County Directors and Enrollment Agents of the United States Public Service Reserve and the State Advisory Board and Community Labor Boards are as follows:

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

U. S. Employment Service

Public Service Reserve

Washington

August 21, 1919.

Mr. Samuel B. Montgomery,
Bureau of Labor,
Charleston, West Virginia.

Dear Mr. Montgomery:

On behalf of the Government, I enclose herewith your salary. (One Dollar.)

Secretary Wilson, Director General Densmore and I wish to thank you most sincerely for the splendid service you rendered at a great personal sacrifice during the war.

The mobilization of labor in war production was one of the most critical problems which the Government had to solve, and your-unselfish, efficient and patriotic efforts thus helped to make victory certain.

The Department of Labor and its officials have been honored in having you associated with us, and please know that you have our greatest respect and gratitude.

Faithfully yours,
 (Signed) WILLIAM E. HALL,
 National Director.

GOVERNMENT EXPLOSIVE REGULATIONS.

By EDWIN M. GILKESON,

Explosive Inspector for West Virginia.

"The Explosive Act" passed by Congress October 6th, 1917, was "a war measure"—a law passed to safeguard life and property. The act was amended July 1st, 1918, limiting the sale, possession and use of platinum, iridium and palladium and compounds thereof. Explosives and platinum, under the law, now cannot be manufactured, purchased, sold, handled or possessed "with rare exceptions" until a Government license has been secured. The Government needs platinum and the like badly, and under the law proposes to restrict the general use of the same.

Explosives are a great menace to life and property and none except those licensed can handle the stuff "except in infinitesimal amounts where there is absolutely no danger." "Keep explosives out of the hands of malefactors." is our slogan, and to do this our chief concern is the magazines or depositories, and we are working with might and main to see to it that these depositories are of good strong construction, bullet proof, etc., with hinges, hasps, locks, etc., of the most improved type.

We have an Advisory Committee that is most helpful in the administration of the law—made up of good strong men in the various walks of life, coal men, insurance men, educators, State mine inspectors, chiefs of police, druggists, etc. Following are the names and home addresses of the members of our committee:

J. W. REED, Fairmont,	SAMUEL DAVIS, Huntington,
R. P. DEVAN, Charleston,	C. R. TITLOW, Morgantown.
EARL A. HENRY, Clifton,	M. E. KENT, Eccles,
F. W. SHIRER, Wheeling,	WILLIAM VINSON, Huntington,
F. O. HARRIS, Cannelton,	JOHN E. MILLER, Huntington,
	SAMUEL BRADY, Fairmont.

We have gotten in touch with men of affairs in almost every community or city in the State. Police departments, prosecuting attorneys, mayors, sheriffs, county clerks, the superintendents of our coal mines, the chief mine inspector and his nineteen deputies, and the United States officers, hold themselves in readiness to render us any service in their power. One of the most helpful agencies is that of the United States Licensors, and through them, especially, we are kept well advised as to the happenings in West Virginia. Our State, next to Pennsylvania, is the largest producer of bituminous coal in the United States, and it goes without saying that we are among the very largest users of explosives. So far we have been quite lucky and have had no serious or sad catastrophies chargeable to the improper use of explosives, but we must continually keep on the watch tower—"Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty." If we can keep our coal operators at work, our manufacturing plants undisturbed and our great transportation lines uninterrupted, we shall at the close of this cruel war have the feeling present with us that we have stood behind the boys at the front.

THE SCHOOLS IN THE WAR.

By J. F. MARSH,

Secretary State Board of Regents.

The schools of West Virginia did not wait to be drafted, but from the beginning of the war volunteered their services. Since the educational system was the one organization directly in touch with all of the people of the State it was one of the most powerful agencies for putting the citizens and our national leaders in touch with each other, and in getting statewide action upon all war demands. The following synopsis indicates some of the work done by our schools in the great emergency, although the reports cover only a small percentage of the actual service rendered.

War Campaigns.

The first Food Pledge Campaign was directed by a member of the State Department of Schools and carried on almost entirely through the teachers and pupils of the State. In spite of the misunderstandings at that early state of the war, the educational campaign resulted in about 125,000 personal pledges for food conservation. A large number of the county food administrators are school men. In the winter of 1918, the schools responded to the call to tag the schools of the state in the interests of fuel conservation and responded effectively. Through a special fuel conservation day set apart by the government, the schools were again used by the fuel administration in the fall of 1918. In a great measure the schools became the center of campaigns for war charities like the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. smileage books, and for the organization of war savings societies, Junior Red Cross, et cetera. The actual accomplishments in some of these fields will be noted below.

Liberty Loan.

In the beginning this great business undertaking was carried on without much reference to the schools, but as more loans were called for, the schools were called upon more and more until the Fourth Loan when a Liberty Loan Day was set apart for the schools or which a special program sent to all teachers by the State Superintendent was rendered, with the school house as the center of a rally that brought the loan to the attention of all citizens. Practically every teacher in the State owns a liberty bond, the aggregate being estimated at $1,000,000.00.

War Savings.

Thrift stamps and war savings stamps offered the school children a definite opportunity to give their savings to the use of the Government. According to reports to July 1, 1918, our schools had 1550 War Savings Societies with a membership of 40,000, and purchases aggregating $602,806.50. The State Director expects to have 6,000 societies in the schools by November 15, 1918, with a corresponding increase in sale of stamps.

Red Cross.

About 50,000 pupils became members of the Junior Red Cross during the year 1917-18. Some idea of the great amount of the work done in the schools through this organization can be given by reference to the fact that more than 2,000 garments were made for refugees, and $5,146 articles for camp supplies were made and forwarded to national headquarters by our schools. The manual training department of the high schools made much furniture for Red Cross Houses.

Food Production and Conservation.

Nearly all of the schools of the State had War Gardens or caused increased production in home gardens. About 25,000 boys and girls joined the agricultural club army each being pledged to produce food for a soldier. Definite food conservation lessons were given in 84 high schools, and production and conservation propaganda carried by teachers and pupils to every nook and corner of the state.

Teaching Mechanics for Soldiers.

Through evening classes in high schools, the State vocational board acting under the authority of the Federal Smith-Hughes Act offered training in mechanics to several hundred conscripts many of whom are now doing expert service in the army. To date (Oct. 28, 1918) classes have been organized at Charleston, Huntington and Parkersburg. The following list of classes reported to July 1, 1918, shows the nature of this service:

Wheeling war classes:

Chauffeurs	34	enrolled
Sheet Metal Working	17	"
Engine Repair	45	"

Airplane Carpentry	24	enrolled
Ignition and Magneto Repair	28	"
Oxy-Acetylene Welding	25	"

Total 173

Parkersburg war classes:

Radio-Buzzer	11	enrolled
Gas Engine and Motor	17	"
Oxy-Acetylene Welding	12	"
Forge Work	12	"

Total 52

War Work of Higher Educational Institutions.

It is impossible, in this brief article, to give an adequate idea of the win-the-war work accomplished by our state educational institutions. In short, they took strong leadership in the activities enumerated above, and in others suited to their respective equipment and places in the state organization. Their reduced attendance attests to their direct contribution in men and the complete history of West Virginia's part in the world war will show many honored names and conspicuous services to the credit of our higher institutions of learning.

The position and equipment of our State University made it possible for it to render unusual service in the crisis. The College of Agriculture through the extension department did much to "speed up" production, reports showing an increase in acreage in 1917 for potatoes 9,000 acres; for wheat, 63,000 acres; and for corn 235,000 acres. The farmers were thoroughly mobilized through this department.

The college of engineering aided by the department of physics gave training in war mechanics and science to 167 draftees during the year 1917-18; and, as this is being written, the University as a whole is almost a military camp where a contract to train 700 collegiate students, 60 naval reservists and 800 more men in the vocational section is being carried out. The high standards of the military department before the war came to us made it possible for our University to furnish a large quota of officers and trained soldiers for active service.

The members of the faculties of our educational institutions, and our leading school men throughout the state have rendered high grade service as investigators, speakers, and specialists in many fields.

Private and Denominational Institutions in Line.

In all of the activities discussed in this article, the private and denominational institutions of the State have responded generously, turning their equipment, students, teachers and high spirit to good account. Bethany College, West Virginia Wesleyan College, and Davis and Elkins College each has a student army training corps being trained in military tactics and in allied academic subjects under government contract.

German Language Ousted.

During our first year in the war the pupils in our schools almost eliminated the German language by failing to elect it as a study. Later, the state board of education, by official action, dropped it from the high schools and the state board of regents, the heads of the schools assenting, ordered the discontinuance of the study of German in the higher state educational institutions. Thus, in 1917-18, no pupil from the kindergarten to the University was studying the language of our enemy, but a greatly increased number were studying French and Spanish in preparation for the new and better times.

War Work in Course of Study.

The State Board of Education, by order, made Junior Red Cross work a part of the regular course of study for which school credit may be given. Much of the study in arithmetic, spelling, writing, history, geography, agriculture, and home economics is being based upon the war. One-third of the time of the teachers institutes of 1918 was given to the discussion of the schools and the war, and the teachers are now at work on a special reading circle book on the same subject. The schools are indeed mobilized.

From the primary grades to the post-graduate class of our University our schools have lined up in scores of activities in the interest of a high morale at home and in the fighting forces, and have contributed substantial services in the interest of the ideals taught in the public schools of America.

WOMEN IN THE WAR.

BY LIVIA SIMPSON POFFENBARGER

(MRS. GEORGE POFFENBARGER)

The story of West Virginia's war activities would be but half told were no record made of the services of the women of the state. It did not take the declaration of the Congress of the United States to induct them into the war. When the message of the invasion of Belgium by the brutal Hun and the story of devastated cities, towns, hamlets and homes was made known and as from day to day came tidings of the desecration of women, the mutilation of the aged, and that of the women and children, the heart and soul of the women of America was wrung as never before. Then was there no greater awakening of sympathy and latent power than that of the women of West Virginia.

The women of the State, outside of their church affiliation knew little of organizations and therefore little of the power of concerted action. Their first wholesale introduction thereto was when the great American Red Cross reached out its hands, not only to aid the stricken ones of Europe, but in pleading to all America to enlist. Nowhere did that appeal touch a greater vibrant chord than in West Virginia.

The record of the work of the American Red Cross is written upon the pages of American history. In it, West Virginia will engross its full share of space. The priceless record has been engraved upon the grateful hearts of those sick and wounded in hospitals or camps. Therein the pillow of the dying has been smoothed and ministering human hearts have accompanied in spirit to the river, those who passed the Stygian waters far from home and loved ones. Or if left wounded on the battlefields, it was the Red Cross volunteer who went out even to the cannon's mouth, that he might gather up the wounded and bear them to safety and if possible, to restoration. If, however, it be the wisdom of a Divine Providence that on the field of honor, the lift of our own or of that of our Allies, should have been offered up as the supreme sacrifice, then it was that a member of the Red Cross established identity and set in Flanders Field, or elsewhere, a cross, that "Row on row should mark their place," until a grateful nation shall bring their sacred dust back home to mingle with that of their kindred. These have been the ministrations, not only of men, but of women. To this West Virginia has contributed her full share. The honored names of these women are a part of the country's records, whether they be Red Cross nurses or in other well established fields of the Red Cross service.

Today in every county, city and hamlet is found organized a Red Cross society, chapter or auxiliary. The Red Cross insignia is not only eloquent but one of honor. Nor has any badge ever been wore more proudly than that of the Red Cross upon its field of white.

Efficient Service by Red Cross.

No service has ever been given so ungrudgingly as that which has fashioned the hospital garment, prepared the surgical dressings, or knitted until the "wee sma" hours or employing each available moment that the boys "over there," or at home, or in cantonments might be made comfortable, safe, restored and returned.

The American Red Cross organization is directed first through the National head at Washington, thence through divisional headquarters. That of the Potomac is the one through which the work of West Virginia is directed. Therein be it said to the everlasting credit of West Virginia, her record is a proud one. In it is preserved not only the name of every incorporated American Red Cross Society of the counties and cities of the State, but of each chapter, auxiliary and individual member thereof. West Virginia more than holds her quota of memberships in the United States.

The woman in West Virginia who holds place on the Potomac Divisional Board is Mrs. O. I. Woodley of the city of Huntington.

West Virginia has been more than generous. She has been magnanimous in contributing to each of the National Red Cross drives. She has, too, made notable donations of service, buildings and equipment, the re-counting of which would do the state proud.

West Virginia has not only prepared and delivered for war, but will meet bravely and efficiently the exigencies following the conclusion of an honorable peace. She is now trained and equipped to meet every emergency that may befall any part of the State in the future, be it flood, fire, mine disaster, famine or epidemic, or to send aid to other states or nations in time of affliction.

Through the Red Cross, the spirit of American women has had a new birth. It will be manifest throughout the years.

Women's Defense Work.

A West Virginia woman was named by the Woman's Division of the Council of National Defense as the State representative of that division. Mrs. Joseph G. Cochran, of Parkersburg, was the woman designated for this important service. She was at the time the President of the Federated Women's Clubs of West Virginia and was also appointed by Governor Cornwell to represent the women's defense work on the Advisory State Council of Defense.

Mrs. Cochran organized practically all of the counties of the State, naming a chairman of the women's defense organization, who in turn enlisted the aid and assistance of many of the prominent women in the several counties.

Probably the strong statewide movement for food conservation that developed in the State in response to the requests of the United States Food Administration was due to the early efforts of the women who under the leadership of Mrs. Cochran and working with the State Council of Defense, conducted the first food pledge campaign in West Virginia.

The patriotic women who conducted this work were face-to-face with problems that were later more thoroughly understood, for when the first food pledge campaign was made, the people almost as a whole were unfamiliar with the need for sending nutritive foods to Europe. The pledge card which the women left at the homes of the people, when signed and forwarded to Washington, pledged the housewife to obey the rules and regulations of the Food Administration. The kitchen card which was later left at these homes, pointed out the way in which the foods of greater nutritive value could be saved and other foods could be used as substitutes. For instance, it was necessary to educate and explain that corn, the great American cereal, could not be sent to France for two reasons, first the people of that nation were unfamiliar with the making of corn bread, and second shipping facilities were so limited that it was necessary to save cargo space, by shipping wheat instead of corn.

In this campaign 80,000 food pledge cards were distributed in the State. Thousands were signed and mailed to Washington and this initial campaign conducted in August, 1917, made the second campaign, conducted in November, much easier.

Mrs. Cochran has been actively interested in all forms of war work and without compensation, even for expenses incurred, attended many patriotic meetings in the State and nation.

Kanawha War Relief.

We are privileged to append the report of the Kanawha War Relief by Miss Sue Staunton, whose activities have been made possible because of organized effort and volunteer subscriptions which have resulted in great service. Their channel of entrance to war stricken France has been through the National Surgical Dressings Associations of New York now a branch of the American Red Cross. The members of the Kanawha War Relief are almost 100% members of the Red Cross and their organization will be continued.

"The Kanawha War Relief Association was organized in March, 1916. Its object was to assist in every way possible the Entente Allies.

"It was composed of people who were keenly alive to the sufferings and needs of our Allies long before we entered the war and before Charleston had a Red Cross Chapter.

"Until December, 1916, the contributions consisted of money only. The need of hospital and civilian supplies then became most urgent and a work room was opened in the Parish house, 108 Broad Street, with Mrs. G. S. Plumley as its first Chairman.

"A few months later she resigned and Miss Elizabeth Gallaher took her place, followed soon after by Mrs. George Doane, who has ever since given nearly all her time to the work.

"The work has steadily increased. About two hundred women have been actively interested. This includes those who work in the Parish House in the large rooms donated by the Colonial Dames and the Ladies of the Episcopal Church and the outside units.

"The South Charleston unit with Mrs. Wm. Pence, chairman, has done and is still doing fine work. Mrs. Doane, chairman of work rooms, has many able assistants who with her have given much time and energy to the work.

"The motor service unit delivers and collects the work for the outside units. All these units have been much interested and most faithful. Articles to the number of 122,806 have been shipped to France. These include surgical dressings, hospital supplies, sheets, pillow-cases, comfort-pillows, comfort-bags, slings, shirts, pajamas, etc. Much new and second hand clothing has been sent for the devastated districts of northern France.

"Most of the supplies have been sent through the American Fund for French wounded which has done such wonderful work in France.

"Since our soldiers have been fighting they have cared for many of them in the French hospitals. The Kanawha War Relief is the Charleston committee of this organization.

"Most of its money has been raised by generous contributions of members and friends of the Association and by entertainments given.

"In addition to money subscriptions, much material and many generous gifts for the work rooms have been received.

"A list of money disbursements follows:

Permanent blind relief war fund	$	445.00
Polish victims relief fund		300.00
Commission for relief in Belgium		560.00
Serbian relief committee		290.00

The officers of the association are:

Miss Sue A. Staunton, president; Mrs. George Doane, chairman work rooms; and F. C. Milair, secretary-treasurer.

Executive Board—Harrison B. Smith, Mrs. Harrison B. Smith, W. B. Mathews, W. E. Connell, Rabbi Israel Bettan, Henry Sydnor Harrison Mrs. Montague Blundon (Miss E. C. Gallaher), and Mrs. Gardner S. Plumley are former members of the executive board."

Women in Industries.

While statistics are not available as to the number of women of the state, actually engaged in labor during the war, outside of the plants directly contracting with the Government, their work was creditable and indispensable. They entered fields throughout the State releasing so many men for war that it seemed for every man at the front from West Virginia there was a woman in industry. In the county of Wayne, a saw mill was run by women. The great railroads employed them to clean cars and engines, to signal at railroad crossings, to operate telegraphs. The telephone systems of the State, without them would have been paralyzed. They filled the vacancies in stores and shops from which men had gone to the war. They went into the postoffices, banks and offices of professional business men and corporations. They became trained nurses. In time of distress when the great influenza epidemic swept the state, taking toll far greater than did that of the God of War, there was found the fearless, patient, tender West Virginia woman unflinchingly at her post. Without her efforts the story of death's harvest in West Virginia would have been so ghastly as to astound the world.

With women filling places of men, the servant class was so dispensed with as to leave that class almost negligible and women unused to labor and hardship, not only uncomplainingly did the most laborious work in their homes, cheerfully and uncomplainingly, but found time to do a large share, each of Red Cross or other war work. They found in their new duties that they had within themselves that power which has forever emancipated them from a dependence that heretofore, though unknowingly, had made them largely the slaves of labor. They have so developed as not only to be able for future exigencies but daily every West Virginia woman has well profited thereby.

With the farmers called to the war, the women went to the field. They drove teams, cultivated the soil, operated tractors, planted and harvested. Without the aid of women the great fruit crops of the eastern panhandle would not have been harvested and the loss would have reached more than the million mark.

The war garden was an adjunct not only of the farmer's wife on a broad scale, but the village one produced enough for each family need and even the city back door had its "pocket handkerchief" garden, so called because it was diminutive, but in it the green stuff grew, so that many toothsome and wholesome supplies were produced.

Canning schools and home demonstrations together with the sagacity and thrift of the American house wife, canned vegetables and fruits and preserved and dried food, not only conserved food, but has been a saving of transportation, whose money value would be difficult to estimate.

They went into the dairy business on a large scale or took over that industry that had been conducted by men who must go to war. They raised poultry and in such great quantities as to demonstrate that West Virginia is for the first time able, if she choose, to feed herself and that we have resources latent that can be extended so as to produce vast wealth in the future.

When pledges were asked that the women of West Virginia conserve food, the first drive resulted in the pledged enlistment of 80,000 homes, the second of 125,000 homes, but that is only an instance. No slackers were revealed. All the women of the state, not only conserved food and wherever possible, produced food, but they put such thought into its preparation and distribution that the family were bountifully and well fed. A garbage pail became a useless accessory in West Virginia and as unpopular as a pink tea. That the future will profit by this lesson and service is unquestioned.

The Third Liberty Loan Campaign.

What was accomplished by the women of West Virginia in the recent Third Liberty Loan campaign is recited by Mrs. George Poffenbarger, chairman of the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee in the following letter to Governor John J. Cornwell, chairman of the State Council of Defense.

Charleston, W. Va., May 25, 1918.

Reports from the various counties were daily referred to Major C. A. Wood of the State Tax Commissioner's Office, which have resulted in above totals and will be made a part of the Treasury Department reports at Washington.

It will be seen that but forty-two counties were reporting. Repeated efforts were made to secure chairmen in all the other counties, but to no avail. In many counties, women worked in conjunction with men's committees or banks and had no separate credits reported. In all the unorganized counties of the state, women bought bonds direct through the banks and in many instances where women were organized, thinking banks would not otherwise secure the credit, which, of course, was error. Banks report men's and women's credits as a total to Federal Reserve Banks.

In the counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Tyler and Wetzel the Fourth Federal Reserve District, the campaign was directed by Mrs. H. Maynard Kimberland, of Wheeling, my efficient and loyal vice-chairman.

Hancock women reported no sales. The other counties of West Virginia were a part of the Fifth Federal Reserve of Richmond District.

In the forty-two counties in which the women have conducted the Liberty Loan Campaign, the organization from the first was intended to continue until the war is won. The entire number were ready to answer the call of the Red Cross and be directed by the Red Cross Chairman of their several counties of the State.

The following is a list of those organized to direct the Flying Squadron of West Virginia, the "Minute Men," ready to answer the call of the alarm as did the men of 1776. It is a pleasure to have been able to assemble such a body of women and their organized companies, who have given such splendid demonstration already of duty well done.

I wish to thank every woman and man in the State who has in any way contributed to the success of the Third Liberty Loan Campaign in West Virginia. Especially do I wish to thank those who gave me such valuable aid. No organization ever worked in greater harmony; no women ever displayed greater zeal or patriotism; no campaign was ever more economically waged. Every woman felt it her duty to get money for her country, not to expend it, and the result was marvelous from a financial standpoint.

I am personally grateful for the service West Virginia women have rendered me in the campaign, but the gratification of having done your State, your Nation, and your Country so valuable a service is yours as well as having demonstrated your ability to serve.

It is a matter of congratulation that notwithstanding but forty-two counties were organized and carried the per capita responsibility of the fifty-five counties of the State (and too, this was the first campaign the women of West Virginia have participated in the bond sales), that West Virginia ranks fourth in the United States as is witnessed by the following telegram issued from the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee at Washington, D. C.

"May 15, 1918.—According to reports received to date West Virginia ranks fourth in proportion of women subscription to state quota. Missouri forty-nine and six-tenths per cent.; Kentucky forty-nine and one-tenth per cent.; Alabama forty-six and five-tenths per cent.; West Virginia forty-six and four-tenths per cent. Returns from States vary from one-tenth to over one-third. Congratulations on wonderful work you have accomplished. Will be interested in your final report giving number of subscribers.

MRS. GEO. BASS, Secy."

It is hoped that ere another campaign for Liberty Bonds rolls around, the women in every county in the State will be in line ready for duty.

It has been a privilege to have worked with the women of West Virginia and the honors rest on all.

Cordially and truly,

LIVIA SIMPSON POFFENBARGER.

McDowell.....	Mrs. Charles T. Hicks.....	Welch

The Womans Liberty Loan Committee, with few exceptions, was the same as that conducting the Third Liberty Loan Committee in West Virginia. The Third Loan aggregating $10,312,600.00 was 48% of the State's quota for that Loan and was secured at an expense of $733.00 making the banner record of economy in the United States.

William B. Mathews, State Chairman, National Four Minute Men, aided greatly. By his persistence there resulted the appointment of a number of women, who were not only authorized to wear the 4-M.-M.-4 badge, but who aided most materially in putting over the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The sacrifice club suggestion for Charleston, resulting in $13,500.00, with Mrs. J. F. Youse, Chairman, was an idea that called for the following appeal from the State Chairman.

"October 18, 1918.

Inaugurate today a sacrifice club. Name of every member to be published who makes a sacrifice until it hurts to buy another bond. This is to be one of West Virginia's honor rolls. Act quickly. Use telephone and make personal canvass by women. Keep this a special record and report to me.

MRS. GEORGE POFFENBARGER."

It resulted in many thousands raised on the last day of the Loan, Wheeling leading with $100,000.00 additional subscriptions.

The counties in the state raising the highest total amounts were those in which the men and women co-operated on an equal division basis. In these counties women had made previous remarkable records notably being the counties of Ohio, Marion, Taylor, McDowell and Kanawha, while all counties had made fine records.

The influenza epidemic retarded greatly the work of the Liberty Loan as no public meetings were held in the state after the first week's drive and necessitated large subscriptions by corporations and banks in which women's committees were not generally apportioned a part.

The women's committees in most instances took charge of the emergency hospitals of the counties, nursed the sick and looked after stricken homes, generally. Volumes would be necessary to record not only the patriotic record of the women of West Virginia, but the spirit of bravery and self sacrifice in time of the state's distress as well, that stamps them as heroic as though engaged in the front line trench.

The next is the "Victory Loan" and the women of patriotic, loyal West Virginia will be found standing by their guns until a righteous peace is assured and established.

Four Minute Men.

The following women have been commissioned as Four Minute Men in West Virginia:

THE FOUR MINUTE MEN.

By WILLIAM BURDETTE MATHEWS,

The Four-Minute Men of West Virginia number over one thousand speakers drawn from the various walks of life who carried the war messages of the United States Government to the people of their respective communities. They were organized under governmental authority originally to bring to the audiences of theatres and moving picture shows the messages of the government on subjects bearing directly on the "Win-the-War" program. The movement soon developed and broadened into a speaking bureau for other occasions as well, such as churches, Sunday schools, picnics, fairs, lodges, and many other regular meetings. It did not stop at "ready made" audiences and the four-minute limit, but carried the militant message of America to her citizens in specially arranged meetings in stores, factories, shops and on the city streets and country highways.

Four Minute Men have given freely of their time and energies wholly without cost to the government, preaching the doctrine of undiluted Americanism and educating the people on the subjects of vital interest that constantly arise in the prosecution of the triumphant struggle for decency and democracy.

Through the cooperation of the owners and managers of theaters and moving picture houses Four-Minute Men presented to their audiences four minute epitomes of subjects assigned by the government, each speaker appearing two or three times a week in purely educational campaigns, but in money-raising campaigns the speakers and theaters were utilized every night.

In West Virginia the work was begun shortly after the entry of the United States into the war by the appointment of a State Chairman, who was nominated by the State Council of Defense, and later commissioned as State Director. The organization rapidly was extended into the various counties. In Charleston, Clarksburg, Huntington and Wheeling the work has been under the direction of committees appointed by the respective Rotary Clubs of those cities, and these clubs in some instances have given considerable financial support to the local organization.

Extent of Service by Speakers.

The services of Four-Minute Men have been tendered to the managers of all war work activities, and were used without exception. Their work is without precedent or parallel. In the Liberty Loan campaigns they penetrated far into the rural sections. The heartiest cooperation prevailed between the Four-Minute Men and each of the other war agencies in the State.

In view of the vast amount of war literature in newspaper and pamphlet form, it might be thought that speakers were not so essential, but because of its very volume the majority will not read and digest it. When a speaker condenses the message and gives it in clear-cut form it carries conviction. The Four-Minute Men are the apostles of the spoken word and the solidarity of this country in the present war, in contrast with the conditions in our previous wars, is in large measure, because the aims and purposes of the government were given and explained to the people through the agency of speakers from among the people themselves. They fully appreciated the honor of being the mouthpiece of their government and faithfully, even cheerfully, discharged the responsibilities of the trust. The night was never too dark or the roads too bad for them to go wherever assigned and bear their own expenses. In short, they were

A number of loyal West Virginia women have rendered honorable service as Four Minute speakers. Without disparagement to the others, it may be said Mrs. George Poffenbarger, State Chairman of the Woman's loyal to the sacred cause of Liberty in the sphere in which assigned.

Liberty Loan Committee, who toured the State under direction of this organization, was especially effective in securing the desired results.

In a number of counties the work among the colored population was well organized. This was notably so in McDowell, Mercer, Cabell, Harrison, Fayette and other counties. No more devoted loyalty was shown anywhere than by the speakers of that race.

German propaganda had to be counteracted with American propaganda. The Four-Minute organization met the need. As an extension of its work the idea has been operated successfully in our public schools. The Juniors working through our schools already have accomplished wonders particularly in the spread of Americanism in the minds and hearts of the children of our foreign-born population. It saturates the whole public school system with a proper spirit of patriotism which should prevail in all schools and colleges.

The following is a complete list of the campaigns conducted by the Four-Minute Men giving name and date of each:

Reaching the Millions.

A bulletin was prepared and issued for each campaign by the committee on Public Information at Washington and distributed to all speakers through the county and sub-chairmen. These chairmen made careful reports of each campaign to the State Director, who in turn made a summary report to the National Director, giving the number of theater and other speeches made and the number of people reached. For example, in the Second Liberty Loan campaign 497 speeches were made in 78 theaters to 84,075 people, while in the Third Liberty Loan 1665 speeches were made to 498,821 people or nearly half the population of the State. It was the ambition of the Four Minute Men to reach the entire population of the State in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive, but were prevented by the ban placed upon public meetings owing to the influenza epidemic.

When a speaker served faithfully through three campaigns he was given a registration card and insignia of his position in the form of a "4MM4" button.

The work of the organization as such has been ordered terminated on December 24, 1918, with a four minute tribute to the Allies. Although honorably discharged and officially "mustered out", there is no doubt but that the Four Minute Men are much more loyal and patriotic citizens, and better informed men and women by reason of this service and will be just as devoted to civic duties in the future as they were to their more intensive task in helping to win the great world war.

The list of Four Minute Men, including women, so far as reported at State Headquarters, is as follows:

HISTORY OF THE RED CROSS.

By DR. H. A. GILTNER, of Parkersburg.

At the battle of Solferino, in the Italian war of 1859, Henri Dunant, of Geneva, who witnessed the battle and described the suffering of the soldiers, suggested the idea of organizing in all civilized countries, a permanent society of volunteers which, in war, would render succor to the wounded without distinction of nationality. The matter was taken up by the Geneva Society of Public Utilities, a committee appointed, and a call issued to all European governments, as well as military, medical and philanthropic notabilities, to meet at Geneva, October 26, 1863, at which thirty-six delegates including representatives of fourteen nations, responded to the call.

The first Red Cross Society was organized in Wurtenburg in December, 1863, and in 1864 the Geneva convention provided for the neutrality of ambulances and military hospitals, and adopted the red cross as the emblem. This agreement was signed by delegates of twelve European countries, and practically every civilized nation has acceded to it, and in light of recent events, some to whom this term can not be applied.

Although the convention was international, the society of each country is national in scope, and independent from the others, and each governed by laws of its own. An international committee, composed of nine Swiss residents of Geneva, occupies itself with the general interests of the movement and acts as an official medium of communication between the organizations. The president is Gustave Ador, and international conferences are held every five years.

The prototype of the American Red Cross was the United States Sanitary Commission, organized for relief work during the Civil War. The first American Red Cross Society, founded in 1866, failed through lack of support, but in 1877, a self-appointed committee was formed, which met in Washington, D. C., with Clara Barton at its head, and from this dates the American Red Cross, as we know it today.

Red Cross Work in War.

The magnificent work done in peace times on the occasion of any disaster is so well known that it is merely mentioned in passing, for that work pales into insignificance when compared with the stupendous undertaking rendered necessary by the world war, and it is along that line that this paper will be directed concerning the organization, purpose and a brief outline of the actual relief work.

The American Red Cross is an incorporation with headquarters in Washington, the president of which is the President of the United States, ex-officio, the affairs of which are administered by a certain committee through its various subdivisions and bureaus, this function since the beginning of the war being largely taken over by the war council appointed by the President. This council consists of seven members, of which Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co., is chairman.

The medical advisory committee consisting of some of the most eminent medical men of the country, acts in conjunction with the war council in matters of medicine and sanitation. The active head of the organization is now centered in the general manager, Harvey D. Gibson, president of the Liberty National Bank of New York City.

Field Divided.

The field is broadly divided into the department of military relief, bureau of naval relief and department of civilian relief, each with an executive responsible to the general manager. These grand divisions are still further subdivided into bureaus and divisions for special lines of activity.

The actual relief work is performed by surgeons, nurses and the necessary subordinates, incorporated into various organizations, such as ambulance companies, base hospitals, hospital units, surgical sections, sanitary training detachment, etc.

An ambulance company consists of one captain, four first lieutenants, one first sergeant, eleven sergeants, five mechanics, two cooks, two assistant cooks, twenty chauffeurs, two musicians and forty-three privates, a total of ninety-two.

A typical base hospital unit contains twenty-two physicians and surgeons, two dentists, sixty-five Red Cross nurses and 152 enlisted men. Most of the base hospital units have been built around the personnel of various hospitals and medical schools.

Hospital units are intended to supplement and assist military hospitals already established, and in general is organized in connection with the staff of a civil hospital, with a staff too small to organize a base hospital. It is composed of one director, one adjutant, two chiefs of service, four staff physicians, four staff surgeons, one head nurse, twenty nurses, three clerks and the necessary orderlies, not to exceed a total of fifty.

Sanitary training detachments are for the purpose of instructing men for sanitary service.

Part of Service.

During time of peace, the Red Cross personnel is the reserve for the army and navy, but when called into active service in time of war become an integral part of the service, wear the uniform and receive the same pay as one of similar grade in the regular service, are transported, subsisted and furnished suitable quarters at government expense.

The Red Cross is a voluntary organization, financed by the different chapters and by individual contributions, and in war time acts only through co-operation with the army and navy. It contributes, broadly speaking, to these great aims:

1. To be ready to care for our soldiers and sailors on duty wherever and whenever needed.

2. To shorten the war, by strengthening the morale of the allied peoples and their armies by alleviating their sufferings in the period which must elapse before the American army can become fully effective abroad.

3. To lay the foundation for an enduring peace, by extending relief and sympathy to the civilian population among our allies and carrying to them an expression of sympathy in a practical way.

The preparation of this work must be carried on in America, and is:

1. To take such measures as are necessary in co-operation with the army and navy, for the protection of the health and welfare of our fighting men in camps and cantonments, and of civilians whose welfare is involved in war conditions.

2. To stimulate and guide the work in the manufacture of supplies and comforts needed by troops and civilians abroad and by men training in this country.

3. To co-operate with the government and relief agencies in caring for dependent families of men in our services and to relieve, as always, suffering caused by disaster.

4. To maintain, at the lowest cost consistent with efficiency, machinery to assure the uninterrupted performance of these duties and of the relief work in Europe.

The enormous activities of the Red Cross are made possible only by money in unlimited quantities, and thanks to the untiring energy of faithful workers and the generosity of the American people, this essential element has been produced in great abundance.

During the recent "Red Cross week," when $100,000,000 was called for, $14,000,000 in excess of that figure was pledged, and while reports are not yet available regarding the second campaign for new members, it is positive that more have been secured than was anticipated. Untold sums will yet be required, and no one can doubt but what the patriotic public will respond whenever future calls are made.

Why Private Endeavor.

The question may well be asked why private endeavor should undertake a work of such magnitude, instead of the government. The answer is:

Through the Red Cross, women and children, who can not go to the front, may aid those who can, and by this means fully one-half the nation can serve the country in the war emergency, and by concentrating through a voluntary organization, relief work can be accomplished with less delay and more economy. The war gives the opportunity to show the generosity and sympathy of all true patriots, regardless of age or sex, and by the close co-operation, through the Red Cross, make it possible to do this great work for humanity on a scale demanded by the immense numbers involved in sorrow and suffering.

Magnificent work is being done in equipping hospital and ambulance units, in handling special problems of health and sanitation in connection with cantonments and camps, and in supervising the manufacture of surgical dressings and hospital supplies in such quantities that military hospitals, wherever located, shall not be handicapped by lack of them.

By co-operation with various hospitals and medical schools, fifty base hospitals have been organized, and forty-five ambulance companies have been mustered into the army medical corps, most of which are seeing active service. Similar work has been done for the navy, which includes five base hospitals and eight naval station hospital units. A general hospital of two hundred and fifty beds has been established at Philadelphia, and is now being used by the United States navy.

A Staunch Friend.

Four mobile laboratory units for emergency service have been authorized, each unit being housed in a Pullman car remodeled for the purpose, completely equipped with laboratory apparatus and supplies and manned by a staff of expert bacteriologists.

Soldiers and sailors in camp have a staunch friend in the Red Cross, which looks out for their welfare in every way possible, care being used that the work of other organizations is not duplicated. This work is carried on through field directors, one at each camp or cantonment.

The field directors not only stand ready to supply necessities (not furnished by the government) and measures for comfort and contentment, but are also assisting in sanitation work in some communities adjoining the camps.

Refreshment units supplement the work of the government in providing sustenance and comforts while traveling, while the attention service mails letters, handles telegrams, money orders, etc.

The Work in Europe.

Here the Red Cross work reaches its climax, makes beneficent application of its resources in personnel, money and supplies, where is assimilated the products of generous and patriotic Americans already prepared for that purpose on this side of the Atlantic.

While the work is being carried on in all the allied and devastated countries of Europe, under five separate commissions, the most important is that in France, under the supervision of Major Grayson M. P. Murphy, who also has general charge of all Red Cross work in Europe. While the activities in all European countries are carried on in the same general manner, that in France is typical of all, and of that we shall speak in more or less detail.

The French commission is composed of sixteen members, assisted by a medical advisory committee, headed by Dr. Joseph A. Blake. On the staff of the French commission are 864 persons, 517 of whom are serving without salary or allowances. This shows the intense zeal and patriotism of these red-blooded Americans, many of whom are prominent business men and technical experts, who, for the time being, have given up their own business to enlist under the banner of the Red Cross and serve humanity in the best way they know.

Broadly Divided.

The work is broadly divided into that for our soldiers and those of our allies and that for the civilian population.

Besides the hospital and ambulance units to be discussed later, there are for the soldiers, regardless of nationality, canteens, rest houses, recreation facilities, supplementary equipment and supplies to hospitals and relief for our soldiers held as prisoners by the enemy, very few at present, and if we could only hope, there would be no more.

For the civilian population, care and education of destitute children, care of sick and disabled French soldiers, no longer able to fight for their cause, relief work in devastated areas, and guarding against the increase of tuberculosis, as well as caring for those who have already fallen victims.

It is not only necessary to assist the people of France because of the great suffering she has endured, and is still enduring, for the sake of relieving their distress, but it is highly essential to strengthen their courage and morale at this critical period before our army has been massed on the battlefield and had the necessary training to become fully effective.

Wounded soldiers and their families are assisted, hospitals and dispensaries established, dressings and supplies distributed, infant welfare stations established, refugees supplied with food, shelter and clothing, houses are repaired, and large warehouses for supplies are built.

Large warehouses have been established in Paris, in which 200 tons of supplies are received daily, and 125 tons shipped out to various points. The total capacity of this warehouse is 100,000 tons, and the transportation department has a force of 125 men at the present time, and can handle about 250 tons of supplies daily.

In the work of transportation, 400 motor vehicles are in use, the repairs for which are made in seven garages, all under the control of the Red Cross. The warehouses, supplies and personnel must all be greatly increased as additional American troops arrive in France.

As necessary and exemplary as the aid to the people of France may be, the first and supreme effort, when the time arrives, is to care, of course, for our own army and navy.

Rest Stations.

Infirmaries and rest stations are established along the route followed by our troops while being transported, each in charge of a trained nurse. For soldiers in health, there are canteens, where food, baths and rest may be obtained, and tobacco, soap, writing materials and other comforts are supplied. Large donations of tobacco and cigarettes have been made in America, which are distributed by the Red Cross.

Dispensaries are maintained in the army zone, to care for civilians and improve sanitary conditions in the vicinity of our camps.

There are at present more than a dozen base hospitals in active service in France and at least six hospital units have charge of British base hospitals.

Two large hospitals, formerly under other supervision, are now under the Red Cross, and are designated as American Red Cross hospitals Nos. 1 and 2. These hospitals are intended for the use of our own forces, but are open to French soldiers until such time as our army in France will demand their full capacity.

The hospital supply committee, with Stanley Field, of Marshall Field & Co., of Chicago, at its head, supplies all military hospitals maintained by American and foreign societies and individuals, thus centralizing and systematizing this important function.

The goods carried in stock in the warehouses of this service include medical supplies of every kind, surgical instruments, foodstuffs, clothing, building material and tools of every description.

The larger portion of these supplies is received from America, but where possible, purchases are made in France to save shipping.

Adequate provision for anesthetics is made, large quantities of ether being shipped in, and Major Murphy has been authorized by the war council to install a plant for the manufacture of nitrous oxide in large quantities, the machinery for which will be sent from the United States, and American experts will carry on the work. With the equipment, will be included hundreds of tanks for storing and transporting, as well as complete apparatus for its administration.

It is a matter of interest to the profession that nitrous oxide is a very valuable anesthetic for the numberless short operations, where a longer anesthesia would not only be unnecessary, but detrimental to the patients.

Factory for Repair.

It is planned to have a factory for the repairing of surgical instruments and apparatus, and the manufacture of splints and hospital appliances.

Ten portable ice plants will be installed for the use of American base hospitals, this being the answer to certain critics who maintained that ice plants were not necessary.

Of untold value to the people of France is the relief work among the refugees, which are numbered by millions, and embraces all classes and ages, except able-bodied men.

As the cost of food increases, the position of these people becomes more difficult, their housing condition is bad, an entire family some times living in a single room, and under these conditions malnutrition and disease are sure to follow. The Red Cross is supplying food and aiding the authorities to lessen the congestion by supplying furniture, by completing buildings already partly constructed, and even by furnishing portable houses when necessary.

Frenchmen of the twentieth century have to begin again where the North American Indian would begin—by hunting for food, temporary shelter, a few clothes to cover them, a handful of household goods and pots, pans, knives and spoons, an agricultural implement or two, and, perhaps, a rabbit and some chickens, and, if they are very fortunate, a goat or a donkey. It is to help such people as these that the Red Cross has located its relief warehouses just behind the lines at strategic points, and is shipping food, clothes, blankets, beds, mattresses, stoves, kitchen utensils, reapers and binders, mowing machines, threshing machines, garden tools and hundreds of other articles of prime importance to people who were prosperous and contented only three years ago.

Assistance is given to invalided soldiers who must have temporary relief until they recover and find employment.

A factory has been established near Paris for the manufacture of American artificial limbs, and more than six hundred artificial legs of the best type have been provided for mutilated French soldiers.

Children's Hospital.

The Children's Hospital, a gift of an American committee, is the center of the welfare work among children, many of whom are found in looted villages, homeless, destitute, practically without medical attention, all miserably dirty, half of them infected with skin diseases, and many actually ill. The obvious needs of these poor children are being alleviated by the Red Cross in conjunction with the local authorities.

It is estimated that there are half a million persons in France afflicted with tuberculosis, as a direct result of the war, and efforts to control the spread of this disease are not only of great concern to France herself, but they are of great importance in making France healthful for our own troops.

In co-operation with the Rockefeller Foundation, a commission for the prevention of tuberculosis is being formed. The headquarters of the administration is in Paris in conjunction with the central committee for the aid of tubercular soldiers. Workers are being educated to man the dispensaries, and it is expected ultimately that between 300 and 400 anti-tubercular dispensaries will be maintained, largely by local funds.

The Red Cross commission in France is completing the unfinished building of the tuberculosis sanitarium at Bligny, about 20 miles from Paris, and when completed it will be a splendid institution. In addition, assistance is being given to tubercular patients in the Paris hospitals, and a number of private estates have been turned over to the Red Cross, which will be converted into sanitariums.

In Belgium, where conditions are quite similar to those in France, the same magnificent work is being carried on, especially in the work for the children, assisting refugees and reconstruction of villages. Six hundred children from especially dangerous places have been brought to France and there maintained by the Red Cross.

In England, the work is carried on in conjunction with the British Red Cross, and is devoted more to the establishment and maintenance of hospitals.

Other countries of Europe in which the Red Cross is operating are Italy, Russia, Roumania and Serbia.

While there are probably not many over a hundred American prisoners held in Germany at present, plans have been worked out for the care of them, and will be extended as necessity demands.

Bread and assorted food parcels, as well as clothing, will be supplied, and it is probable that a complete scheme for sustaining prisoners will be worked out jointly with the war and navy departments. Food parcels are sent to the prisoners held in Germany three times every two weeks, and a supply of foodstuff is being accumulated in Berne for further use in this way.

In Broad Field.

Thus we may gather some faint idea of the large and varied field which the Red Cross is covering, and the important part it is playing in the great world war. Those men and women who are devoting their time and risking their lives in this great field in Europe are serving the Stars and Stripes just as nobly as the men behind the guns, and the work they are doing is just as essential. Many records of bravery and self-denial will be written of these soldiers of mercy.

The representatives of the medical profession are nobly bearing their part in the Red Cross, the only hope of reward being the knowledge of a duty well done, and that their efforts have counted for something in achieving the object for which we are fighting.

When asked by a correspondent what message he had to send to America, Major Murphy replied: "Save for small overhead expenses, every dollar of the Red Cross millions is being turned into actual relief work. We get direct action; we don't have to wait for an act of congress every time we hang up our hats. The people of the United States may congratulate themselves that their money is a direct gift, and not congressional apportionment, subject to government red tape. Other societies are being assisted; there is no monopoly of relief work by the Red Cross."

The Red Cross is not merely a humanitarian organization separate and distinct from others, but it is the mobilized heart and spirit of the whole American people. The Red Cross is carrying a message of love and sympathy to American soldiers and sailors, and to the troops and civilian population of our allies.

RED CROSS WORK IN WEST VIRGINIA.

During the 18 months following the entry of the United States into the world war, April 6, 1917, the people of the 48 States voluntarily contributed to the American Red Cross the stupendous sum of $325,000,000. Necessarily, such a vast contribution of private wealth can be considered only as a vote of public confidence.

From the time of its organization the American Red Cross, chartered by the national congress, with the President of the United States as its honorary head, has commanded the confidence of all the people. It is the one great organization, engaged in charitable and humane work, against which there has never been a breath of suspicion.

One month after America had entered the war against Germany, Henry P. Davison, New York financier, was named as the chairman of the war council and the contribution of the sum stated above, representing the gift of the American people, was announced November 1, 1918, by Chairman Davison.

On this date the report of the Chairman of the War Council of the Red Cross disclosed the fact that 24,000,000 people of the United States were members of the American Red Cross. When America entered the war the total membership of the Red Cross in the United States was less than 2,000,000.

Chairman Davison astounded the Nation when he announced one month after the declaration of war that the Red Cross would ask for a contribution of $100,000,000 from the American people. The people gave it and in May, 1918, when the second war fund campaign was launched, and again the organization of mercy asked for another $100,000,000, the people generously responded and gave almost double that sum.

The American Red Cross followed the American soldiers not only overseas, but it followed the American soldiers "over the top" and was ever present to administer to the men who wore the khaki in the service of the Nation. In the alleviation of suffering, doctors and nurses, wearing the insignia of the Red Cross, followed the soldiers into "No Man's Land," often sacrificing their lives in the interest of humanity.

First War Fund Campaign.

When the first $100,000,000 was asked for by the Red Cross war council, West Virginia had been only partially organized. The goal for the State was fixed at $500,000, but the people of the State responded with fervor to the appeals to make the world "fit for democracy" and gave $579,770. The contributions of this campaign, waged in May, 1917, show only the larger counties represented, the record standing as follows:

County.	Chapter.	Amount.
Berkeley	Martinsburg	$ 2,500
Cabell	Huntington	64,751
Doddridge	West Union	1,000
Hancock	Weirton	33,071
Harrison	Clarksburg	46,447

Following the first war fund campaigns the country was divided into a number of divisions by the Red Cross, West Virginia being placed in the Potomac Division, with headquarters at Washington. Besides West Virginia, the States of Virginia and Maryland and the District of Columbia were in the same division.

Organization of Potomac Division.

Hon. Henry White, of Washington, was selected as the Manager of the Potomac Division and the growth and expansion of the Red Cross organization in the Potomac Division is a tribute to his efficient leadership. Directly associated with him were Col. William Cary Sanger and Albert B. Eastwood, as associate managers. The divisional directors of the several departments, all located in the headquarters of the division at 930 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D C., are:

Department of development—David H. Brown.

Department of supplies—Nelson A. Elsasser.

Department of publicity—J. W. Purdy.

Department of military relief—E. H. Hewitt.

Department of civilian relief—T. J. Edmonds.

Department of nursing—Miss Georgia M. Nevins.

Department of personnel—Albert Douglas.

Department of accounts—Wm. E. Nicoll.

Chief clerk—Harold E. Verrill.

Following the successful conclusion of the First Red Cross war fund campaign an intensive drive was made in the organization of chapters throughout every county of West Virginia. This drive was made under the direction of David H. Brown, director of the department of development, and the splendid organization achieved in West Virginia, even in the remote counties, is attributable to his perseverance and his ability for organization.

West Virginia Women Are Praised.

Director Brown was asked for a statement which would show the number of garments, sweaters and surgical dressings which were made by West Virginia women in response to the appeal of the Red Cross, but when this publication was issued, he was unable to furnish the same. He said, however, in a letter to the Secretary of the State Council of Defense:

"I wish it were possible at this time to give an accurate report of the number of hospital garments, sweaters, surgical dressings, etc., that have been produced by the faithful and loyal women of the West Virginia chapters during the last year, but owing to the great pressure of work in this office, it is impossible for me to do so.

"It would be, however, an oversight, were I to give mere statistics, and not express the appreciation of the Potomac Division for that wonderful spirit the women of West Virginia have manifested at all times since the Potomac Division has been in existence. The women of these chapters have never failed to do the work they were called upon to do, and sometime in the near future, I hope it will be possible to issue a statement through which we will be able to show what each individual chapter did, other than a report which shows the amount of money raised.

"The women of West Virginia have made a great memorial contribution in the work of the Red Cross, and words are inadequate to express our appreciation for all that work done by the women and also the men of West Virginia in response to those calls issued through the department of development."

Mr. Brown has submitted a comprehensive table showing the membership of the Red Cross in West Virginia on October 1, 1918, and the contributions to the second war fund campaign in May, 1918. In this campaign the quota of the State was $695,500 while the contributions amounted to $1,408,503.60. one of the best records made in any State of the Union. The table follows:

HOME SERVICE SECTION.

The work of the Red Cross does not consist entirely of administering to the sick and wounded at the battle front. Each chapter maintains a home service section which administers to the dependent families of those who are in the military service of the country.

The home service section not only serves the families of the soldiers, but also the military men themselves, giving them legal advice, advising them of the war risk insurance act enacted for the benefit of soldiers and sailors. This section also seeks to make the families of soldiers familiar with the provisions of the law concerning allotments and allowances for dependents. In many instances it renders financial aid to the needy. The following is a list of the home service chairmen and secretaries in the several counties of West Virginia:

The following statement from the assistant director general of the Potomac division gives a survey of the work of the home service section:

"It is the object of home service to assist soldiers' and sailors' families to preserve the essential home standards of home life, to meet problems arising out of diminished income, sickness, care, discipline and education of children, household management, business and legal difficulties, unsatisfactory working conditions, loneliness, mental depression or defect, vice or physical disability. Furnishing information about the war risk insurance law and how to proceed to procure government allowances, compensation and insurance; how mail should be addressed to soldiers and sailors. How to obtain news of wounded, captured or missing relatives, is also an important phase of home service.

"To accomplish this object, home service sections have been provided for in every Red Cross chapter. Home service sections are composed of men and women who are responsible, representative members of the communities which the chapters represent. Especial attention has been paid to making home service sections representative of the important racial and religious and professional elements of the community. Roman Catholics, Protestants, Jews, physicians, lawyers, educators and social workers are included in the membership. Each section has an executive secretary, usually assisted by a staff of volunteer and paid workers. The assistance or home service is made readily accessible to soldiers' and sailors' families in all parts of the territory included within the jurisdiction of Red Cross Chapters through the establishment of branches.

"Attached to the Red Cross staff in each army cantonment and to army units abroad are home service representatives to whom soldiers who are troubled over family problems are referred and through whom the helpful service of the home service workers in the families' home communities are invoked. In communities in the vicinity of cantonments, the Red Cross has placed special home service workers to cope with the grave and urgent problems growing out of the migration of soldiers' families to such places. Through these representatives the Red Cross has provided many helpless families with food and shelter, medical care and transportation back to their homes.

"Home service extends also to the after-care of enlisted soldiers and sailors: The constant, sympathetic influence of home service upon the returned soldier and upon his family may be expected to have a marked effect in assuring the success of the government's plan for his rehabilitation."—J. Byron Deacon, Assistant Director General, Department of Civilian Relief, National Red Cross Headquarters.

Organization of chapters for home service was begun in West Virginia in December, 1917. By the end of the month, nine sections were organized. Visits by field representatives were not made until February when a special representative visited Charleston, Huntington and other large cities for the purpose of giving impetus to home service in these centers.

At the end of May, 1918, 56 chapters were organized for home service service.

At the end of February, 1918, 27 chapters were organized for home service.

At the end of March, 1918, 28 chapters were organized for home service.

At the end of April, 1918, 43 chapters were organized for home service.

At the end of May, 1918, *56 chapters were organized for home service.

Divisional conferences were held at Parkersburg and Huntington in April and May and regional home service conferences were held at Wheeling and Charleston in June and in Fairmont and Morgantown, in July, all of which were well attended by representatives of chapters and home service sections through the division department of civilian relief. These conferences proved invaluable for the purpose of enabling the director and his associates to form personal contact with the members of West Virginia home service sections.

Arrangements were made with Governor Cornwell whereby all letters received by him from men in service or their families involving matters within the province of home service were to be referred by him to home service sections through the division department of civilian relief. The Governor later expressed himself well satisfied with the manner of treatment of cases referred by him.

Co-operation was established with the members of the Governor's staff in charge of draft boards and the cordial co-operation of the draft boards throughout the State was particularly gratifying.

Excellent co-operation was had with the West Virginia State Council of Defense. On June 21, 1918, a joint letter was sent to the county councils and home service sections of West Virginia, outlining the plan of co-operation. It stated that two of the important purposes of the Council were:

1. To promote the activities of other agencies engaged in helping to win the war.
2. To prevent duplication in such activities.

It then set forth under eight headings, the function of "Home Service." Special attention was given to legal service and the legal committees were practically made a part of home service section.

Arrangements were made also with the State Tuberculosis Association and the Board of Health whereby home service sections were to function on behalf of these bodies where the tuberculosis association had no organizations—which meant practically all the State except the largest centers. Home service had the only state wide organization in the social service field.

Co-operation was established also with the State Humane Society.

With the approval of the Board of Regents and the State Superintendent of Education, all teachers' institutes in the State were addressed by home service speakers and syllabi on home service placed in the hands of every teacher in the State.

*As there are only 56 chapters in West Virginia, the end of May therefore found the State organized 100% for home service.

A University extension course in home service was arranged for in at least thirty localities covering the entire state in co-operation with the University of West Virginia which assigned its professor of sociology as lecturer for the first semester. Two division staff representatives were assigned to work with him. The staff representatives were advance agents, spending three or four days in each town enrolling students for the lecture course and talking to various clubs and other groups of people. Some time later, the lecturer followed, giving a series of eight lectures on home service and general social service topics. These lectures covered a period of two days and were given at intervals of one week. One week later, the staff representative again visited the town giving two final lectures and completing any organization work that had been started on her first visit. The course was decidedly successful in most places.

A home service exhibit is being displayed in conjunction with the State Board of Health exhibit car. It consists of two series of pictures; one illustrates the relationship of home service to the man in service; the other illustrates its relationship to his family.

Canteen Work Done in West Virginia.

There are seven Red Cross canteens in the State of West Virginia, located at:

- Bluefield—Chairman, Mrs. W. G. Baldwin.
- Charleston—Chairman, D. C. Lovett.
- Grafton—Chairman, E. L. Sawyer.
- Hinton—Chairman, Mrs. W. H. Durrett.
- Huntington—Chairman, Mrs. Dan A. Mossman.
- Parkersburg—Chairman, Mrs. Furgus O'Connor.
- White Sulphur Springs—Chairman, Mrs. Thornton Lewis.

*Of this number, 5604 were rendered friendly and substantial service such as money relief, visits to the home, letters written to relatives or other interested parties and 3903 received information (concerning the war risk insurance law, civil relief act, etc.) only.

Most of these canteens were organized during the early months of 1918 and have been working steadily ever since. During this time they have served approximately 46,525 soldiers, sailors, marines and drafted men in transit.

The service rendered has varied greatly, depending on the location of the canteen. At some stations, where the trains have stopped for only a few minutes, there has been time for the canteen workers to give the men only post-cards, chocolate, chewing gum, cigarettes, fruit, magazines, newspapers, and a smile and cheerful greeting.

At Bluefield, Huntington and Charleston the trains stop long enough to allow for more elaborate service. Bluefield, for instance, serves two early morning trains with breakfast, consisting of hot buttered biscuits, jam or jelly, and sausage, or creamed chicken on toast and coffee. Sandwiches, cakes, pies and coffee are served at these points to all other regular and troops trains, in addition to magazines, post-cards, chocolate, cigarettes, etc. Hot meals are served upon request from troop train commanders.

There is a first aid equipment in connection with most of the canteens, with a nurse on duty. Any slight injuries or cases of sickness are attended to by her, or if the man is too sick to continue his journey, he is removed and cared for by the canteen until his case is taken in charge by the Home Service section. During the recent influenza epidemic the canteens rendered most valuable assistance, not only to the soldiers in transit, but to the civilian population as well. In several places the canteens were used as diet kitchens, preparing and serving the food for the sick, but not providing it, as this was done by the city authorities.

In all places the railroad authorities and employees have been most courteous and have co-operated with the canteen workers in every possible way.

In Overseas Service.

The following is a list of West Virginians who have been sent overseas in the service of the American Red Cross:

Production Work of Various Chapters.

Acting Manager David H. Brown of the Potomac Division on November 19, 1919, furnished the compiler with a list of various miscellaneous articles provided by the several chapters of the Red Cross in the State from November 1, 1918 to a corresponding date in 1919. It should be remembered that this work was done after the signing of the armistice when the need was not so urgent, but the figures indicate the tremendous amount of work done by the West Virginia members of the Red Cross during the war.

Under the heading of miscellaneous articles are property bags, comfort kits, scrapbooks, houseknives, bedside bags, tray covers, quilts, button bags, handkerchiefs, bath towels, gun wipes, etc. The table follows:

ALLIED WAR RELIEF WORK.

"Millions for morale" was the slogan adopted by Geo. W. Perkins, chairman of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. at the inception of the nation-wide United War Work Campaign of 1918 for $170,500,000 to be expended in maintaining the morale of the American soldiers and the fighting men of the Allied armies.

Seven great organizations which administer to the American soldier, surrounding him with all the comforts of home, conducted this united campaign for the above sum during the week of November 11-18, even after an armistice had been signed which means practically the unconditional surrender of Germany and the central powers with their allies, so these war relief associations may continue their work among our fighting men until these soldiers return from abroad and are demobilized.

These seven great relief organizations are the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, American Library Association and the War Camp Community Service.

Prior to the time when President Wilson advised them they should unite in a war work campaign, these seven organizations had conducted separate and distinct drives for funds with which they administered to the American soldier from the moment he was selected for service in the army. All of these war relief associations were recognized by the government through the War Department and were given the official sanction of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, of which the chairman is Raymond B. Fosdick.

With the exception of the War Camp Community Service the several organizations maintained headquarters in the camps and with the armies overseas. The War Camp Community Service has its place in those communities adjacent to the cantonments where the soldiers are quartered for training purposes.

Originally it had been stated that separate campaigns would be waged during the winter months for the several organizations, but they were consolidated at the express request of President Wilson, who made an emphatic appeal for their support. As a result of this merger of campaigns Dr. John R. Mott, who had previously been the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was selected as the Director General of the United War Work Campaign, and directed the amalgamated forces throughout the nation. The amount asked for by these war relief associations was the greatest ever sought in charitable contributions from the public.

Keep the Army on Fighting Edge.

Primarily the object of this great fund is to maintain the morale of the army. The morale of an army is its fighting edge. Without morale the biggest army will crumble. The military experts mean by that expression that immoral conditions must be eliminated from the vicinity of the soldier; that he must be given an opportunity to relax from the severe training and strict discipline enforced; that he must be amused; must be entertained; must be cured of homesickness; and not be permitted to remain idle when he is away from his actual military service. Idleness breeds in the soldier homesickness and distrust. It is the greatest factor in destroying the morale of an army. It is a matter of history that the once large, powerful, brave Russian armies, passing their time in idleness during the long, long days of a northern winter, became easy victims for the enemy because their morale was totally destroyed.

West Virginia had contributed liberally to the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus campaigns. A successful campaign had been waged for the Salvation Army. Both money and books were given to the American Library Association. Without a military camp in the State several thousand dollars had been contributed to the War Camp Community Service. In the latter part of May and the forepart of June, 1917, without practically any war organization existing in any of the counties, an excess of $35,000 was given to the Y. M. C. A. for war work.

On October 18, 1917, a meeting was held at the State Capitol attended by delegates from many of the counties of the State and a state-wide organization was effected for a second Y. M. C. A. war work campaign. Dr George E. Vincent, of New York, President of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Fletcher S. Brockman, Associate General Secretary, attended this meeting and made addresses on the work of this organization in France, Italy, Russia and the Balkans. At this meeting C. W. Campbell, of Huntington, state chairman, and Hon. M. P. Shawkey, state treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. campaign organization, both of whom had served in these positions in the first campaign, were re-elected. George L. Goodwin, interstate secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who directed the first campaign, was selected as the director of the second war fund campaign. The quota set for West Virginia in the second campaign was $200,000 but in the campaign which was waged during the week of November 11-18 the state over-subscribed with a total subscription of $317,007.10. The following table shows the quotas and subscriptions from each county in both the first and second campaigns.

Personnel United War Work Campaigns.

John B. Stevenson, of Huntington, was chosen as the state chairman of the United War Work Campaign. Previously, he had been selected as the state chairman of the Y. M. C. A. campaign. John W. Ensign was the treasurer of this campaign and George L. Goodwin was the state campaign director. Director Goodwin had associated with him Miss Anna E. Caldwell, director of women's work; Gilbert Bush, director of the victory boys; M. T. Whittico, director of the colored work; Dr. S. W. Walker, director of the speakers' bureau; and E. E. Meredith, director of publicity. The Executive Committee in this campaign was: John B. Stevenson, chairman; Mrs. Julian G. Hearne, Wheeling, Young Women's Christian Association; Daniel B. Leonard, Parkersburg, Knights of Columbus; Joseph Schwab, Charleston, Jewish Welfare Board; George W. Dudderer, Clarksburg, War Camp Community Service; C. Burgess Taylor, Wheeling, American Library Association; and M. T. Whittico, Keystone; W. M. Rogers, Fairmont; and J. G. Bradley, Dundon, members at large.

For the purpose of waging an intensive campaign the State was divided into fifteen districts with an experienced director in charge of each district. These district chairmen were:

DISTRICT 1 AND 2—Dr. J. L. Dickey, Wheeling.

DISTRICT 3—J. W. Crawford, Parkersburg.

DISTRICT 4—J. S. Spencer, Pt. Pleasant.

DISTRICT 5—Paul Hardy, Huntington.

DISTRICT 6—Graham Sale, Welch.

DISTRICT 7—C. W. Dillon, Fayetteville

DISTRICT 8—John Davidson, Charleston.

DISTRICT 9—J. H. Slocum, White Sulphur Springs.

DISTRICT 10—Riley Gregg, Weston.

DISTRICT 11—P. H. Koblegard, Clarksburg.

DISTRICT 12—Jas. O. Watson, Fairmont.

DISTRICT 13—John T. Davis, Elkins.

DISTRICT 14—Harry G. Fisher, Keyser.

DISTRICT 15—Gray Silver, Martinsburg.

MEMBERS AT LARGE—Bishop J. P. Donahue, Wheeling;

Isaac T. Mann, Bluefield;

Harry L. Heintzleman, Fairmont;

Dr. E. B. Stephenson, Charleston, and

W. A. Hersch, Parkersburg.

The County Organization.

In each county a county chairman was appointed by the central organization directing the campaign. They co-operated with existing organizations such as the County and Community Councils of Defense, the Red Cross and other organizations to make the campaign a success. These county chairmen were:

SALVATION ARMY WAR FUND CAMPAIGN.

By JOHN S. DARST, Chairman.

This campaign was started soon after the first of the year 1918. Governor John J. Cornwell named a chairman for each of the counties. I accepted the chairmanship for the State, and M. M. Williamson agreed to act as State treasurer. We were ably assisted by Brigadier J. R. Wiseman, of New York City, and his daughter, Miss Maud Wiseman.

The State's allotment was $30,000, and the most of the money so collected was to be used by the Salvation Army in assisting our boys and those of the allied nations over the sea: the remainder was to be used for the benefit of the boys in the different camps at home.

Some difficulty was encountered at the start to secure the State's allotment, because in many of the counties the people did not know the Salvation Army and the good results that attend their efforts in whatever their hands find to do. Many other people objected because they said it was a duplication of the Y. M. C. A. work, and in one of the large counties of the State we were refused the privilege of conducting a campaign at all. In a few of the other counties we could not secure a county chairman.

But with all these misunderstandings, the money was raised. While there were honest differences of opinion at that time about the advisability or necessity for this campaign, no one who is informed at all can have an honest doubt now. The Salvation Army has made itself so useful to our boys that its representatives have been honored with positions close up to the firing line, and their heroic work under fire has endeared them to all. They have ministered to many of our wounded from this State, and their efforts over there have been such as to attract special attention and favorable comment among all the allied nations.

No other similar organization in the world gets more results from a dollar than the Salvation Army. Every dollar goes to the spot it was intended for. The officers work for barely enough to keep soul and body together. It is an exposition of self denial that can not be excelled anywhere, and I congratulate the county chairmen, and all those in their respective counties, who contributed in any manner to the success of this fund. It must be a source of great satisfaction to them to know that through their efforts such splendid work has been made possible. I believe it will be bread cast upon the waters, coming back again and again to bless, brighten and prosper all those that have taken a part in it.

I submit a table giving the name of the county chairman of each county, and the amount contributed up to this time.

NATIONAL LUTHERAN COMMISSION FOR SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' WELFARE

By W. E. WHITEMAN.

When our country was drawn into and began to prepare for the present war, it was recognized that, among other provisions necessary for the success of the army and navy and the country in general, something must be done for the morale of the forces. Accordingly, in addition to the regular chaplains provided, the various agencies, organized to minister to and make for the physical, mental, social, moral and religious uplift and welfare of the forces, were encouraged by the Government. Side by side with other agencies,—as soon as the Government recognized and created a place in which the Christian churches might be active,—through their appointed representatives, the National Lutheran Commission for Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare was organized, the purpose being especially to provide camp pastors for the 200,000 Lutheran boys then already being in the service, and as many others as might choose to avail themselves of their services. A drive was inaugurated, February 16-26, 1918, to raise a fund among Lutherans, to finance the matter, the goal being set at $750,000; but they went "over the top" and raised a fund of $1,500,000.

Among other states that had gone far over their apportionment, West Virginia particularly distinguished herself in raising four times the amount assigned. Other states largely Lutheran, raised greater amounts than West Virginia, where the Lutheran church is not so numerically strong; but, pro rata, West Virginia led all states. Owing to the fact that these funds were raised entirely within the Lutheran church, whose members at the same time contributed liberally to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and similar organizations, they are elated as Lutherans and West Virginians at this evidence of their patriotism.

Statement of Organization and Contributions.

Following is a complete statement, showing the State and local organizations and amounts contributed by the various churches:

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

By DANIEL B. LEONARD, of Parkersburg.

In 1916, during the trouble with Mexico, the Knights of Columbus maintained camps and recreation centres for the soldiers on the border. The expenses of these camps and recreation centres were paid by the Knights of Columbus out of the treasury of the order, and no appeal was made for any assistance whatever from outside sources.

When our government declared war against the Imperial German Government, the Knights of Columbus tendered their services to President Wilson. The offer was gladly accepted. As the number of men enlisting increased rapidly, government officials were confronted with the important work of keeping up the morale of the men, and the Knights of Columbus welcomed the opportunity of the privilege extended to them by army and navy officials to enter the camps and cantonments and naval stations in this country, to erect buildings, to equip same, to supply soldiers with stationery, entertainment, athletic equipment, and competent men to see that all the needs of the soldiers in the camps, cantonments, and naval stations were attended to in so far as it was possible.

For this work the Knights of Columbus in April, 1917, decided to raise $1,000,000.00 among the members of the order. This sum was collected from the members of the order, the membership of over 400,000 being assessed $2.00 each, and the balance and more, was raised by popular subscription among the members of the order.

The work of the government in recruiting men increased, so the work of the Knights of Columbus increased. In August, 1917, in convention assembled the Knights of Columbus decided to raise $3,000,000.00 by popular subscription. This amount was expected to be raised by a campaign to be conducted by the members of the order. The quota to be raised by each state was based on the proportion of $10.00 for each member in the state.

Fourteen Counties in State.

The membership of the order in West Virginia, at that time was 2010 and the amount to be raised therein was $20,100.00. The order had in this state fourteen councils, located in the following cities and towns: Wheeling, Parkersburg, Fairmont, Grafton, Clarksburg, Weston, Piedmont, Martinsburg, Elkins, Huntington, Charleston, Hinton Bluefield and Gary. Necessarily the campaign had to be confined to the places where there were councils and territory adjacent thereto.

The campaign was conducted in the early part of this year (1918) under the direction of Dan B. Leonard, State Deputy of West Virginia, and resulted in a total of $52,208.70 being collected and remitted in cash to the Supreme Treasury of the order, to be credited to the war camp fund.

The success of the campaign was not only due to the untiring efforts of the officers and members of the order, but to good people of the state, Catholic and non-Catholic, who so generously contributed to this worthy cause. Quite a substantial amount included in the above was collected under the direction of Rt. Rev. Bishop Donahue from the churches and missions within the diocese of Wheeling.

The total amount received by the order from all jurisdictions in this campaign amounted to $12,246,566.

Personnel of State Organization.

The present officers of the State Council, Knights of Columbus are: Dan B. Leonard, State Deputy, Parkersburg; Dr. B. H. Swint, State Secretary, Charleston; J. L. J. Miller, State Treasurer, Elkins; J. H. S. Barlow, State Advocate, Grafton, Thos. Gillooly, State Lecturer, Weston, and C. T. Bryant, State Warden, Huntington.

All expenses connected with the campaign, accounting, etc., are borne by the order, so the entire amount raised is available for the purposes for which it was collected.

The total membership of the Knights of Columbus is 416,255, composing 1798 subordinate councils. The order has councils throughout the United States, in Canada, Cuba and Porto Rico.

Since the close of the campaign for the Knights of Columbus war camp fund in this state, a new council has been instituted at Moundsville, making the total membership in the state as of June 20, 1918, 2,292.

Third District—Stuart F. Reed, Republican; Clarksburg, Harrison county.

Fourth District—Harry C. Woodyard, Republican; Spencer, Roane county.

Fifth District—Wells Goodykoontz, Republican; Williamson, Mingo county.

Sixth District—Leonard S. Echols, Republican; Charleston, Kanawha county.

Terms expire March 4, 1921.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

Under the constitution of West Virginia the legislative power is vested in a Senate and House of Delegates. The term of a member of the Senate is four years and of a member of the House of Delegates two years, their terms commencing the first day of December succeeding their election on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

The State is divided into fifteen senatorial districts, and the Senate is composed of thirty members, or two from each district, one-half of whom are elected at each biennial election for a term of four years.

The House of Delegates is composed of ninety-four members, who are elected biennially. Each county has its representative. There are no delegate districts. Under the act of the Legislature passed on the 15th day of February, 1915, the following re-apportionment of members of the House was made:

To the counties of Barbour, Boone, Brooke, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Gilmer, Grant, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Jefferson, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Mineral, Mingo, Monroe, Morgan, Nicholas, Pendleton, Pleasants, Pocahontas, Putnam, Ritchie, Summers, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Webster, Wirt and Wyoming, one delegate each.

To the counties of Berkeley, Braxton, Greenbrier, Jackson, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia, Preston, Raleigh, Randolph, Roane, Wayne and Wetzel, two delegates each.

To the counties of Marion, Mercer and Wood, three delegates each.

To the counties of Cabell, Fayette, Harrison, McDowell and Ohio, four delegates each.

To the county of Kanawha, six delegates.

The Legislature convenes in regular session in the State capitol at Charleston on the second Wednesday in January in the odd numbered years. This is a constitutional provision. No regular session shall continue longer than forty-five days without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each House. The Governor, however, may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature in extraordinary session "when-ever, in his opinion, the public safety or welfare shall require it"; and it is his duty, under the constitution, "to convene it on application in writing of two-thirds of the members elected to each House."

Members of the Legislature receive a compensation of four dollars per day during the session, (Sundays included) with mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile. The presiding officers of the two houses receive two dollars per day each, in addition to their allowance as members. These provisions are constitutional and can only be changed by a vote of the people.

At the opening of each regular session the Senate proceeds to the election of a President, Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper; the House of Delegates to the election of a Speaker, Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper.

While the compensation of members (merely nominal as of today) is the same as it was forty-seven years ago, when fixed by a constitutional provision, the Legislature of 1919—owing to abnormal conditions growing out of the world war, with the resultant "high cost of living,"—advanced the pay of attaches, making allowance therefor in the legislative section of the "Budget Bill."

The Clerks of the two Houses receive fifteen dollars per day each; desk assistants ten dollars per day each; other assistant clerks and the clerks and stenographers to the committees on the Judiciary and Finance, eight dollars per day each; general committee clerks and floor stenographers six dollars per day each. There was also an extension of time, by resolution, to the Clerks of the two Houses, the desk clerks, and other necessary assistants, to enable them to complete the work of the session by the proper arranging, labeling and filing of all papers, proof reading, indexing and publishing the corrected journals of the two Houses, and getting out the advance and regular editions of the acts of the regular and extraordinary sessions.

The Sergeants-at-Arms of the two Houses, with one assistant, received seven dollars per day each; the Doorkeepers six dollars per day each; assistants five dollars per day each; Librarian six dollars per day; day and night watchmen five dollars per day each; messengers five dollars per day each; cloak-room keepers and toilet room attendants five dollars per day each.

The mail and banking pages and journal pages received four dollars per day each and the floor pages three dollars per day each.

RECENT LEGISLATIVE HISTORY.

The Legislature convened in its thirty-fourth regular session, at the capitol, in the City of Charleston, on the second Wednesday in January, 1919, that being the eighth day of the month. An organization was promptly effected, after which the bi-ennial message of the Governor was received and read. This was immediately followed by a special message, transmitting "a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States," duly signed and certified by Hon. Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, and known as the "Prohibition Amendment." The ratification of this proposed amendment—on the opening day of the session—was the first official legislative act of the Senate, and was followed the next day by similar action on the part of the House of Delegates. The Legislature continued its work until Friday, February 21st, when it adjourned sine die, having been in session the constitutional limit of forty-five days.

On the 28th day of February following the adjournment of the regular session, Governor John J. Cornwell issued his proclamation calling the Legislature in extraordinary session on Tuesday, March 11, to consider and act upon the following subjects:

First: To carry into effect, through proper legislative enactment, the settlement of the judgment obtained by the state of Virginia against the state of West Virginia in the supreme court of the United States, in accordance with the proposition made by the state of Virginia, through its representative, to the legislature of West Virginia and accepted by the latter in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6.

Second: To consider and enact any proper revenue measure or measures, and to amend and re-enact any existing revenue statutes.

Third: To consider and enact legislation providing military or police protection for the state.

Fourth: To consider and enact legislation amending the primary election law, as requested in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 7.

Fifth: To amend and re-enact section two, of Senate Bill No. 12, passed at the late regular session of the legislature, entitled, "An act to amend and re-enact chapter twenty-eight-a of the code of West Virginia of one thousand nine hundred and sixteen codifying and embracing in one act all the general laws relating to the rate and manner of laying levies * * * *" so that the emergency levy provided in said sub-division (b) of said section two may be changed so as to provide a county levy for roads and bridges, the fund derived from which to be used on district or class "B" roads as such roads are defined in chapter sixty-six of the acts of the legislature of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and to amend and re-enact sub-division (c) of said section two so as to harmonize the same with section thirty-one of a bill passed at the late regular session of the legislature known as House Bill No. 46.

Sixth: To consider and pass a concurrent resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to co-operate with the interior department of the federal government in the soldiers' land settlement project.

Seventh: To consider and adopt a joint resolution or to pass an act, if deemed necessary, empowering the state council of defense to co-operate with the federal government in the work of the Americanization of foreign-born residents, and to provide work for the unemployed.

Eighth: To consider and pass an enabling act allowing Grant district,

Wetzel county, to provide funds to complete certain unfinished school buildings.

Ninth: To consider and act upon the question of the compensation of circuit judges.

Tenth: To make necessary appropriations of public moneys to pay the expense of the special session.

Pursuant to the Governor's proclamation the Legislature convened on Tuesday, March 11th, and was in session up to and including Monday, March 31st. During the twenty-one days it was in session it gave consideration to the matters set out in the Governor's call, and acted upon all except the fourth, sixth and seventh subjects therein mentioned. At the conclusion of its labors the Legislature adjourned sine die.

At the time the 1919 edition of the Hand Book goes to press, there are four vacancies in the legislative bodies—one in the Senate and three in the House of Delegates.

Hon. Archibald R. Montgomery, Jr., a member of the Senate from the Eighth district, removed from the State during the summer of 1919. He is now located in the thriving city of Peoria, Illinois, where he is following his profession as civil engineer in connection with road construction.

Hon. Theodore F. Imbach, one of the members of the House of Delegates from Berkeley county, died on the 29th day of November, 1918, and no election has been held to fill the vacancy caused by his death.

Hon. Leroy Shaw, one of the Delegates from the county of Preston, died at his home in Kingwood on the 7th day of April, a few days after the close of the extra session, at which he was unable to be present.

Shortly after the adjournment of the extra session, Hon. W. T. Cox, Delegate from Wirt county, passed out of life. He was too ill to attend the extra session, and his death occurred on the 14th day of April, at his home in the town of Elizabeth.

DR. CHARLES A. SINSEL,
President of the Senate.

Biography.

DR. CHARLES A. SINSEL, President of the Senate, was born at Pruntytown, Taylor county, West Virginia, on the 5th day of June, 1864. His primary education was received in the public schools; afterwards he attended the State University, at Morgantown, and Dennison University, at Granville, Ohio. By profession he is a physician and surgeon, with a large practice in the city of Grafton and surrounding country. He received his professional education at the University of Maryland, Baltimore.

Dr. Sinsel has served as President of the Board of Education and also as Commissioner of the public schools of Grafton. He was a member of the House of Delegates from Taylor county in the legislative sessions of 1915-16. In November of the latter year he was elected to the Senate from the Eleventh Senatorial District. In the sessions of 1917 he was Chairman of the Committee on Railroads and served, also, on the Senate Standing Committees on Prohibition and Temperance, Public Buildings and Humane Institutions, Penitentiary and to Examine the Clerk's Office.

The evening prior to the opening of the regular session of 1919, the Republicans—in caucus assembled—named Dr. Sinsel as the candidate of their party for the presidency of the Senate. At the organization the following day he was elected to fill the position, and during the arduous work of the regular and extraordinary sessions presided over the deliberations of the body in a fair and impartial way that commanded the respect of the entire membership.

J. LUTHER WOLFE,
Speaker of the House of Delegates.

Biography.

HON. J. LUTHER WOLFE, Speaker of the House of Delegates, was born near the town of Ripley, the county seat of Jackson county, West Virginia, on the 15th day of February, 1875. After receiving a common school education he entered the State University, at Morgantown. He is an attorney at law, located at Ripley, and is actively engaged in practice in the State and United States courts. He obtained his professional education at the University law school. Mr. Wolfe has been County Surveyor and Road Engineer of his native county, and has also served as Coroner and as a Commissioner of the Courts. In the summer of 1914 he was nominated by the Republicans of Jackson as one of their candidates for the House of Delegates and elected the following November. In the session of 1915 he was Chairman of the House Committee on Railroads, and was a member of the Judiciary, Forfeited and Unappropriated Lands and Redistricting committees. In 1918 he was again elected to the House of Delegates. At the Republican caucus held on the evening of January 7, 1919, he was named as the party candidate for Speaker of the House, and at the organization on the following day was elected to fill that important position. During the regular and extraordinary sessions he showed marked ability as a parliamentarian, and as a presiding officer was courteous and dignified.

Joint Committee on Passed Bills on the Part of the House.

Messrs. Godfrey (Chairman), Scott, Grove, Mahan and Peck.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

Adopted January 23, 1919.

Messages Between the Houses.

1. When a message is sent by one house to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the house to which it is sent by the Doorkeeper thereof, if it be in session, and then be respectfully communicated to the presiding officer by the person by whom it may be sent. But the Clerk of one house may communicate a message to the Clerk of the other after adjournment, and any message so sent shall be received by the house to which it is sent whenever it may be in session.

Joint Committee on Passed Bills, Otherwise Known as the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills.

2. After a bill has been passed by both houses, the type from which it was originally printed shall be corrected as to any typographical errors that may not theretofore have been corrected and to meet any amendments that may have been made by either house since the last printing of the bill, and after the type has been so corrected two hundred copies of the bill shall be printed (except charter bills, of which only twenty-five of each shall be printed.) on eight by ten heavy bond paper for the use of the Joint Committee on Passed Bills, otherwise known as the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, one of which copies, when properly authenticated, shall become the Enrolled Bill. The Joint Committee on Passed Bills, otherwise known as the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, shall consist of five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Delegates, to be appointed by the presiding officer of each house, whose duty it shall be to compare carefully all bills and joint resolutions passed by both houses, with the enrollment thereof, and to correct any errors or omissions they may discover and to make report to their respective houses each day of the correctly enrolled bills or joint resolutions. They shall be authenticated by the signature of the chairman of the House Committee and the chairman of the Senate Committee, composing such Joint Committee on Passed Bills, otherwise known as the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, but in the absence of such chairman another member of the committee may act in his stead, and they shall require all bills and joint resolutions before such authentication to be free from interlineations or erasures and destroy any previous enrollment containing any interlineations or erasures. After enrolled bills and joint resolutions are authenticated as aforesaid, they shall be signed by the Speaker of the House and by the President of the Senate.

Bills and Joint Resolutions.

3. It shall be in order for the Committee on Enrolled Bills to report at any time.

4. After a bill shall have thus been signed in each house, it shall be presented by the said committee to the Governor, for his approbation (it being first endorsed on the back of the roll, certifying in which house the same originated, which endorsement shall be signed by the clerk of the house in which the same did originate), and shall be entered on the Journal of each house. The same committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor; which time shall also be carefully entered on the Journal of each house.

5. Where a bill or joint resolution, which shall have passed in one house, is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the house in which the same shall have passed.

6. After each house shall have adhered to their disagreement the bill or resolution respecting which they have disagreed shall be lost.

7. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Delegates shall have power to regulate the use of the halls and stairways of the Capitol building for refreshments and like purposes, when the Legislature is in session.—Joint Resolution No. 8, Acts 1881.)

Action of Governor on Bills.

(Adopted January 31, 1873.)

8. Every bill disapproved by the Governor shall be returned by him to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto unless the Legislature shall by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after said adjournment.

9. Every bill approved by the Governor shall, within five days after it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and the fact of said approval communicated by the Governor to the house in which said bill originated. Provided, That bills heretofore approved by the Governor shall be disposed of as aforesaid within five days after the passage of the resolution.

10. Every bill which shall be neither approved nor disapproved by the Governor, shall immediately after the expiration of five days from the time it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith engross thereon a certificate to the following effect: "I certify that the foregoing act, having been presented to the Governor for his approval, and not having been returned by him to the house of the Legislature in which it originated within the time prescribed by the Constitution of the State, has become a law without his approval," and shall date and sign the same.

11. Upon each bill returned to either house of the Legislature with the objections of the Governor, the Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates shall engross the action of their respective houses on the reconsideration and passage of said bill, and sign the same.

Manner of Printing the Journal and Bills.

(Adopted January 18, 1887.)

12. In printing the daily Journals of the proceedings of each house there shall be printed at the top of each page, except the first, the date of the Journal, and on the last page of each day's Journal shall be printed the calendar for the next day.

13. At the top of the first page of each bill, preceding the title and number thereof, there shall be printed the name of the person by whom or the committee by which it was introduced, the date when introduced; and at the top of each page, except the first, shall be printed the number of the bill.

Counting Votes for State Officers.

(Adopted January 11, 1877.)

14. As soon as the Senate is informed that the House of Delegates is ready to proceed, as provided by section three of article seven of the Constitution, to open and publish the returns of the election for State officers, the Senate, preceded by their president and other officers shall repair in a body to the hall of the House of Delegates. Upon their arrival the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Delegates, shall announce the presence of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall then address the Speaker of the House, stating that a majority of the Senate have assembled in the hall of the House of Delegates to be present at the opening and publishing of the returns of the election for State officers, held on the — day of —. The Speaker of the House of Delegates shall invite the President of the Senate to a seat upon his right, and the other members of the Senate and officers thereof to take seats assigned them, and after announcing that a majority of the House of Delegates is present, shall then open and publish the returns of said election, proceeding by counties in alphabetical order, the Clerks of the two houses each taking down the returns as announced by the Speaker, to be entered upon the Journal of the House; and when completed and estimated, the Speaker shall announce the votes received by each person voted for, for each of said offices, and those receiving the largest number of votes shall be by him declared duly elected; and the Senate shall then return to its hall; and if any two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the two houses shall immediately proceed to choose one of such persons for said office.

JOHN T. HARRIS,
Clerk of the Senate.

HOMER GRAY,
Chief Assistant Clerk.

LOUIS E. SCHRADER,
Official Reporter.

RULES OF THE SENATE.

(Adopted January 8, 1919.)

1. The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present the Journal of the preceding day shall be read; to the end that any mistake may be corrected that may have been made in the entries.

2. The President may call a member to the chair, who shall exercise its functions for the time; but no member by virtue of such appointment shall preside for a longer period than three days.

3. The presiding officer of the Senate shall have the regulation of such parts of the Capitol and of its passages as are, or may be set apart for the use of the Senate, its officers and committees.

4. No person except members of the House of Delegates, their Clerks, the heads of the executive departments, the Governor's private secretary, ex-members of the Legislature, Judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals, and Circuit Court Judges shall be admitted within the Senate Chamber.

Duties of the Clerk.

5. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk and after being examined by the President shall be read the succeeding day. It shall be printed under the supervision of the Clerk and delivered to the members without delay. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for corrections the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith, and from the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto ten copies shall be printed on 69 heavy weight bond paper, with blank lines at the end of each day's proceedings for the signature of the President and the Clerk, and these shall be the official journals of the Senate. They shall be bound in flexible bindings and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the Senate of West Virginia," with designation of regular or extra session and the year. After being signed by the proper officers two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk and one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History and one with the Clerk of the House of Delegates.

6. The Clerk of the Senate shall not suffer any records or papers to be taken from the table, or out of his custody, by any person except a chairman of a committee; but he may deliver any bill or paper, directed to be printed, to the printer of the Senate, or to any member of the Senate on taking his receipt for the same.

7. The Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates may interchange messages at such times between the hours of adjournment and that of meeting on the following day, so that said message may be read immediately after the usual orders of the day.

Powers of the Senate Over Its Members.

8. A majority of the Senators shall be necessary to proceed to business; two members may adjourn, and three may order a call of the Senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. On a call of the Senate, the doors shall not be closed against any member until his name shall have been twice called.

9. In case a less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply, as well to the first convention of the Senate at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour has arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned.

10. No Senator shall be taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms, on any question of complaint of breach of privilege, until the matter is examined by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and reported to the Senate, unless by order of the President of the Senate.

11. The Senate may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 25.)

12. The Senate may punish by imprisonment, any person not a member, for disrespectful behavior in its presence; for obstructing any of its officers in the discharge of their duties; or for any assault, threat or abuse of any member for words spoken in debate; but such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 26.)

Privileges of Members.

13. Every member, when speaking, shall stand in his own place, and address the President and when he has finished take his seat.

14. Every member within the Bar, when a question is put, shall vote unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the Senate excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting must be made before the Senate divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason why, in his opinion, it ought to be adopted.

15. If a member be called to order, for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate. If any member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exceptions to them have been taken.

16. No member of the Senate, or other person except the Clerk and his assistants, shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called or counted.

17. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject, without leave of the Senate; nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

18. While the President is reporting or putting a question none shall entertain private discourse, read, stand up, walk into, out of, or across the Senate Chamber.

19. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the chair, and then the mover shall have the right to explain his views, in preference to any other member.

20. While the President is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter may speak to the question before the negative is put.

21. During any debate, any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may arise and speak to the orders of the Senate, if they be transgressed, in case the President do not; but if the President stands up at any time, he is first to be heard.

22. If any member of the Senate absent himself from the service thereof without leave, except in case of his sickness or other unavoidable cause which may prevent his attendance, the Senate may by order or resolution, direct his absence to be entered on the Journal, and that no per diem be allowed for the period of such absence without leave.

23. No member of the Senate shall absent himself from its service without leave first obtained. When an application for leave of absence is made for a Senator, the Senate shall determine and enter upon its Journal whether such absence shall include a suspension of per diem during such absence.

24. At the commencement of each session the following standing committees shall be appointed, to consist of not less than five nor more than nine members, except the committees on the Judiciary, on Finance, on Forestry and Conservation, and on the Virginia Debt shall each consist of eleven members.

I. On Privileges and Elections.

II. On the Judiciary.

- III. On Finance.
- IV. On Education.
- V. On Counties and Municipal Corporations.
- VI. On Roads and Navigation.
- VII. On Banks and Corporations.
- VIII. On Public Buildings and Humane Institutions.
- IX. On Penitentiary.
- X. On Railroads.
- XI. On Mills.
- XII. On Federal Relations.
- XIII. On Insurance.
- XIV. On Immigration and Agriculture.
- XV. On Mines and Mining.
- XVI. On Medicine and Sanitation.
- XVII. On Labor.
- XVIII. On Claims and Grievances.
- XIX. On Forfeited, Delinquent and Unappropriated Lands.
- XX. On Public Printing.
- XXI. On Rules (The President of the Senate to be ex-officio Chairman.)
- XXII. On Public Library.
- XXIII. To Examine Clerk's office (to consist of three members.)
- XXIV. On Temperance.
- XXV. On Forestry and Conservation.
- XXVI. On the Virginia Debt.
- XXVII. On Redistricting.

And there shall also be appointed on the part of the Senate five members of the Joint Committee on Passed Bills, otherwise known as the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills.

25. All standing committees shall be appointed by the President of the Senate, unless otherwise directed, and the chairman of each committee shall be designated by the President of the Senate.

The chairman of each standing committee of the Senate shall cause to be kept, in a well bound book to be kept for the purpose, a record of every meeting of such committee, wherein shall be entered:

(a) The time and place of each committee meeting, and every hearing had before the committee.

(b) The attendance of members of the committee at each meeting thereof.

(c) The name of any person appearing before the committee, and the interest represented by him.

Any member of such standing committee may cause a notation to be made upon the record aforesaid of the reason for his absence at any former meeting of the committee; and in the absence of any such explanatory note, the presumption shall be that his absence was without reasonable excuse.

All meetings of the committees, other than executive sessions, shall be open to the public.

On the adjournment of each session of the Legislature, the chairmen of the respective committees shall deliver to the Clerk of the Senate the record book herein provided for, and it shall be the duty of such clerk to preserve the same among the archives of his office.

26. Select committees shall consist of not less than three nor more than five members unless the Senate direct otherwise.

27. The Committee on Privileges and Elections shall report in all cases of privileges and contested elections, the principles and reasons on which their resolutions are founded.

28. The Committee on Privileges and Elections shall examine the oaths taken by each member, and the evidence of their election, and report to the Senate.

29. The Committee to Examine the Clerk's Office shall see that all papers belonging thereto are properly filed, labeled and put away in the presses, and the books belonging to the office are chronologically arranged, and shall make report thereof to the Senate at each session.

Committee of the Whole.

30. When the Senate shall resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, the President shall leave the chair and appoint a chairman to preside in the Committee.

31. The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the Senate. The rules of the Senate shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking, concerning the previous question, and taking the yeas and nays. The proceedings in the Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the Senate, except so far as reported to the Senate by the chairman of the committee.

Order of Business.

32. The first two hours of each daily session of the Senate, after the sixth order of business, to-wit: the consideration of unfinished business of the preceding day and resolutions lying over from the previous day, shall be called the "afternoon hour," and shall be devoted to the consideration of the business then on the calendar, unless the Senate, by a two-thirds vote of all the members present, suspend this rule.

I. To read the Journal.

II. To dispose of Communications from the House of Delegates and the Executive.

III. To receive reports from Standing Committees.

IV. To receive reports of Select Committees.

V. To receive bills, resolutions motions and petitions.

VI. To act upon unfinished business of the preceding day, and resolutions lying over from the previous day, and no resolution shall lose its place on the calendar by not being acted upon the day following that on which it was offered.

VII. Senate and House Bills on third reading.

VIII. Senate and House Bills on second reading.

IX. Senate and House Bills on first reading.

33. All bills originating in the Senate shall be read on three several days, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays, on each bill, this rule be dispensed with.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

34. In the title of all bills to amend chapters or sections of the Code, or acts passed since the Code was adopted, the several committees to whom they are referred, or by whom they originated, shall insert the subject matter of the chapter.

35. All engrossed bills shall be fully and distinctly read when put upon their passage.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

36. All bills or business originating in the Senate, shall be considered in the order in which they are introduced and all bills and resolutions received from the House of Delegates shall be introduced in the order in which they are received, unless in either case the Senate otherwise direct.

37. All joint resolutions and all other resolutions, except those requiring a committee to inquire and report, shall lie on the table one day at least, after they are introduced.

38. Bills making appropriations for the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, and for salaries, for officers of the government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 42.)

39. Bills may be introduced on leave being granted; but no bills excepting appropriation bills, and bills of an emergency nature, shall be considered after the fourth day of the session.

40. All bills reported from the House of Delegates shall be referred to the appropriate committee on the first reading. All bills introduced on leave shall be read by their title and referred to the appropriate committee without printing, and shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry, and if the committee report a bill different from the one introduced such bill shall be received and treated by the Senate as the original bill, and shall be read a first time and printed, unless in any of the aforesaid cases the Senate shall direct otherwise.

41. Before reading each bill, the Clerk shall state whether it is the first, second or third reading of the bill.

42. On the demand of any two members when a bill is being read for amendment, it shall be read section by section, and when the amendments which may be moved shall be disposed of, the question, unless the Senate otherwise order, shall be taken on ordering the bill to be engrossed and read the third time. If a bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments thereto have been made, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform to the amendments. The bill shall then be reprinted, and shall be the engrossed bill. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill. All Senate bills so ordered shall be jacketed, endorsed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the House and returned to the Senate without amendments, or if amended, and the amendment or amendments should be agreed to, it shall then be turned over to the Joint Committee on Passed Bills, otherwise known as the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a House bill on second reading, if the same be amended by the Senate and passed as amended, the amendment or amendments shall be noted in full in typewriting on slips of paper, and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the House, and all the amendments shall appear in the Senate Journal.

43. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of its passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

Petitions.

44. No petition of a private nature, having been once rejected, shall be acted on a second time, unless it be supported by new evidence, nor shall any such petition, after a third rejection, be again acted on.

45. No petition shall be received claiming a sum of money or praying the settlement of unliquidated accounts, unless it be accompanied with a certificate of disallowance from the Executive or Auditor, containing the reason why it was rejected. But this order shall extend to no person applying for a pension.

46. When any petition, or bill founded on one, is rejected, such petition shall not be withdrawn, but the petitioner or member presenting the petition, or any member from the county or corporation in which the petitioner resides, may, with leave, withdraw any document filed therewith, and a list of all documents so withdrawn shall be preserved by the Clerk. All petitions not finally acted on may, with the accompanying documents, be in like manner withdrawn after the expiration of the session at which they were presented.

47. No petition shall be read in the Senate unless particularly required by some member, but every member presenting one shall announce the name of the petitioner and the nature of the application, and that, in his opinion, no similar application had been previously made by the same petitioner. He shall also endorse on the back of his petition his own name, as a pledge that it is drawn in respectful language, whereupon it shall be delivered to the Clerk, by whom it shall be laid before the proper committee.

Messages.

48. Messages may be introduced in any stage of business except when a question is being put by the presiding officer, while the yeas and nays are being called by the Clerk, or while the ballots are being counted.

Motions.

49. When a bill or joint resolution is put upon its passage, the President shall propound the question, "Shall the bill (or joint resolution as the case may be), pass?" On the passage of every bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the Journal. When the bill is on a second reading, and the question is upon striking out, the President shall propound the question: "Shall these words be stricken out?"

50. When the question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, for the previous question, to lie on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to adjourn the question to a different day, to commit or amend, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein arranged.

51. On the first reading of the bill, no motion shall be in order except a motion to reject the bill, and if the committee shall have reported adversely to the bill, the President, immediately after its first reading, shall propound the question: "Shall the bill be rejected?" When the Senate refuses to reject the bill the question shall be: "Shall the bill be ordered to its second reading?" This question shall be duly put by the chair and acted upon by the Senate.

52. The question, being once determined, must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the session be drawn again into debate unless reconsidered, and it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration of the same within two succeeding business days.

53. When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee, and a standing committee, the question in reference to the standing committee shall be first put.

Division of the Question.

54. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided: but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition; nor prevent a subsequent motion to simply strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

55. In filling up blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be first put.

Previous Question.

56. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which being ordered by a majority of members present, if a quorum, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the Senate to direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions or may be made to embrace all authorized motions and amendments and include the bill to its engrossment and third reading and then, on renewal and second of said motion, to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order pending a motion for or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the President to entertain and submit a motion to commit with or without instructions to a standing or select committee; and a motion to lay upon the table shall be in order on the second and third reading of a bill.

A call of the Senate shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the President that a quorum is not present.

All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether an appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Yeas and Nays.

57. When the yeas and nays are ordered, or a call of the Senate is directed, the names of the members shall be called in alphabetical order.

58. The yeas and nays on any question shall at the desire of one-tenth of the members present, be entered on the Journal, and any member may enter any protest on the Journal upon the determination of any question. After the yeas and nays shall have been taken, and before they are county or entered on the Journal, the Clerk shall read over the names of those who voted in the affirmative and those who voted in the negative, at which time any member shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name.

59. When a bill or joint resolution passed by the Senate shall be amended by the House of Delegates, the question on agreeing to the bill or joint resolution, as amended, shall be again voted on by yeas and nays in the Senate, and the result entered upon its Journal; in all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 7, sec. 31.)

60. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote shall be à viva voce, and be entered upon the Journal.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 44.)

Executive Session.

61. When nominations shall be made in writing by the Governor to the Senate, a future day shall be assigned, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise, for taking them into consideration.

62. When acting on the nominations of the Governor, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Clerk, his assistants, the Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper, and all such officers shall be sworn to secrecy.

63. All confidential communications made by the Governor to the Senate, and all proceedings thereon, shall be by the members thereof kept secret until the Senate shall, by the unanimous affirmative vote of the members present, remove the injunction of secrecy.

64. All information and remarks touching the character or qualifications of any person nominated by the Governor to office, shall be kept secret. The Legislative proceedings and the executive proceedings of the Senate shall be kept and recorded in separate books.

Constitutional Amendment.

65. When an amendment to be proposed to the Constitution is under consideration, the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate shall not be requisite to decide any question for amendments, or extending to the merits, being short of the final question.

Adjournment.

66. When the Senate adjourns each day, it shall stand adjourned to 2 o'clock, p. m., the next day, unless the Senate otherwise direct.

67. When the Senate adjourns each day, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the chair.

Parliamentary Practice.

68. The Rules of Parliamentary Practice comprised in "A Manual of General Parliamentary Law, with Suggestions for General Rules," by Thos. B. Reed, shall govern the Senate in all cases not provided for by the rules of the Senate or in the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Delegates. In any case not governed by the said Manual of said rules, the Senate shall be governed by the practice in the Congress of the United States.

69. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded or changed without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate present.

C. L. TOPPING,
Clerk of the House of Delegates.

M. J. MALAMPHY, JR.,
Chief Assistant Clerk.

G. A. BOLDEN,
General Assistant Clerk.

RULES OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

(Adopted January 8, 1919.)

Absence From the House.

1. No member shall absent himself from the service of the House unless he have leave, or be sick and unable to attend; but any member who conscientiously believes that the seventh day of the week ought to be observed as a Sabbath shall be excused from attending upon the House on that day.

Adjournment.

(a) Motion to adjourn, and to fix time to which the House shall adjourn—always in order.—Rule 65.

(b) Motion to adjourn put without debate.—Rule 66.

Amendment of Rules.

(a) One day's notice required.—Rule 56.

Amendments.

2. No motion on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

3. A motion to amend a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of, no other motion to amend will be in order. But, pending such amendment, a motion to amend in the nature of a substitute, and a motion to amend that substitute, may be received, but shall not be voted upon until the original matter is perfected.

4. If a substitute for a bill or resolution be offered, a motion to amend the original bill or resolution shall have precedence.

5. If a motion be made to strike out part of a bill or resolution, a motion to amend the part proposed to be stricken out shall have precedence.

6. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time proposed shall be first put, and the question shall be put on names in the order they were nominated.

7. No amendment by way of rider shall be received to any bill after engrossment.

8. After commitment of a bill, and report thereof to the House, it may be amended; but the amendments (if any) reported by the committee, shall be disposed of before any other amendment is considered, unless it be an amendment to an amendment.

9. When a House bill or House joint resolution shall be amended by the Senate, the question on agreeing to the bill or resolution as amended shall be again voted on by yeas and nays, and the result entered on the Journal, and in such a case the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the House shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 7, sec. 31.)

(a) When bill recommitted and amended, question shall again be put on the engrossment of the bill.—Rule 13.

(b) Reading of bill for amendment on second reading.—Rule 19.

(c) If a motion to strike out certain words be lost, it shall not preclude a motion to strike out part of the same words or a motion to amend, or strike out and insert.—Rule 45.

NOTE.—Laying on the table a motion to amend the Journal, does not carry the Journal with it.

Appeals.

Debate upon, limited.—Rule 88.

Ayes and Noes.

May be demanded by one-tenth of members.—Rule 95.

Ballots.

No ballot permitted.—Rule 48.

Bills.

10. Bills shall be introduced on the part of the committee, or on leave being granted.

11. All bills introduced by motion for leave shall be referred to the appropriate committee without printing and all such bills shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry, and if the committee report a bill different from the one so introduced, such bill shall be received and treated by the House as the original bill.

12. Before any bill is read by the Clerk, he shall state to the House whether it is on its first, second or third reading.

13. A bill may be recommitteed at any time before its passage. Should such recommitment take place after its engrossment, and an amendment be reported and agreed to by the House, the question shall be again put on the engrossment of the bill.

14. No bill shall become a law until it has been fully and distinctly read on three different days, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays on each bill, this rule be dispensed with. Upon any bill there may be a motion to dispense with the Constitutional rule, in order that the bill may be read twice or three times on the same day, and upon the first or second reading of any bill, there may be a motion to dispense with the constitutional rule, in order that the bill may, upon such reading, be read by its title. Provided, in all cases, that there be three readings of each bill, and that an engrossed bill shall be fully and distinctly read.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

15. On the passage of a bill by the House, a motion may be made that it take effect from its passage; and if said motion be adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the House, taken by yeas and nays, the Clerk shall communicate that fact to the Senate along with the bill.—(Const. art. 6, sec. 30.)

(a) No amendments by way of rider.—Rule 7.

(b) Amendments after commitment.—Rule 8.

Bills—First Reading.

16. The first reading of a bill shall be for information; and if opposition be made to it, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected?" If no opposition be made, or if the question to reject be lost, it shall be regarded as ordered to its second reading, unless the House otherwise specially direct. All bills reported from the Senate shall be referred to the appropriate committee on the first reading.

17. On the first reading of a bill, it may at any stage of the reading be rejected on motion. If the committee to which the bill was referred shall have reported adversely to the bill, the Speaker shall, immediately after the same is reported by its title, propound the question, "Shall the bill be rejected?"

Bills—Second Reading.

18. No bill shall be put upon its second reading until the same shall have been printed and delivered to the members of the House at least one day previous to such reading, unless in cases of emergency.

19. On the second reading of a bill, on the demand of any two members, it shall be read section by section for amendment, and when the amendments as may be moved are disposed of, the question, unless the House otherwise order, shall be, if a House bill, "Shall the bill be engrossed and ordered to the third reading?" If a House bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments have been made thereto, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform with the amendment. The bill shall then be re-printed and shall be the engrossed bill, and shall be designated as such. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill, and shall be designated as such. All House bills ordered to their engrossment and third reading shall be jacketed and endorsed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the Senate and returned to the House without amendment, or if amended and the amendment or amendments be agreed to, it shall then be turned over to the Joint Committee on Passed Bills otherwise known as the Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a Senate bill on second reading, if the same be amended by the House and passed as amended, the amendment or amendments shall be noted in full on slips of paper in typewriting and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the Senate, and all the amendments shall also appear in the House Journal.

Clerk.

20. It shall be the Clerk's duty to read to the House all papers ordered to be read; to call the roll and note and report the absentees, when a call of the House is ordered; to call the roll and note the answers of members, when a question is taken by yeas and nays; to assist, under the direction of the Speaker, in taking the count when any vote of the House is taken; to notify committees of their appointment and the business referred to them; to superintend the execution of all printing ordered by the House, and to report to the Speaker, to be submitted to the House, every failure of the printer to execute the same properly and promptly.

21. The Clerk shall have the custody of all records and papers of the House, and shall not allow them to be taken from the table or out of his possession without the leave of the House, unless to be delivered to committees to whom they may have been referred. He shall endorse on bills and papers brief notes of proceedings had thereon by the House and preserve the same in convenient files for reference.

Committee of the Whole.

22. When the House shall resolve to go into the Committee of the Whole, the Speaker shall leave his chair and appoint a Chairman to preside in the Committee.

23. The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the House. The rules of the House shall be observed by the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable, except the rules limiting the times of speaking, concerning the previous question, and taking the yeas and nays. The proceedings in Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the House except so far as reported to the House by the Chairman of the Committee.

Committees.

24. The following standing committees, to be appointed at the commencement of each session shall consist of not less than five nor more than fifteen members, namely:

- On Elections and Privileges.
 - On the Judiciary.
 - On Federal Relations.
 - On Taxation and Finance.
 - On Military Affairs.
 - On Prohibition and Temperance.
 - On Education.
 - On Counties, District and Municipal Corporations.
 - On Private Corporations and Joint Stock Companies.
 - On Roads and Navigation.
 - On Forfeited and Unappropriated Lands.
 - On Claims and Grievances.
 - On Humane Institutions and Public Buildings.
 - On Printing and Contingent Expenses.
 - On the Executive Offices and Library.
 - On Forestry and Conservation.
 - On Arts, Science and General Improvements.
 - On the Penitentiary.

- On Mines and Mining.
- On Immigration and Agriculture.
- On State Boundaries.
- On Railroads.
- On Labor.
- On Medicine and Sanitation.
- On Game and Fish.
- On Insurance.
- On Rules.
- On Re-districting.

25. The Committee on Elections and Privileges shall examine and report upon all the certificates, and other evidences referred to them, touching the right of persons claiming to have been elected members of this House, or to any office for the State at large; and also upon other petitions and matters touching elections and returns, or relating to the privileges of members and officers of the House, or witnesses attending the House or any committee thereof, as shall be referred to them.

26. The Committee on Taxation and Finance shall, as soon as possible, after the commencement of the regular session, report the general tax and appropriation bills with an estimate of the probable revenue and expenditures of the two years, and of the public debt. They shall from time to time report such measures for equalizing and reducing taxation, supplying revenue and facilitating the collection thereof, reducing the public expenditure, and providing for the principal and interest of the public debt as may seem to them expedient; and they shall further examine into and report upon all such matters and propositions relating to taxation and finance as shall be referred to them by the House.

All motions directing payment of money to be referred to Committee on Taxation and Finance.—Rule 68.

27. All claims against the State, which may be presented to the House, shall be referred to the Committee on Claims and Grievances, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

28. The Committee on Executive Offices and Library shall examine the several public offices and library, and report whether their books and accounts are properly kept; whether the public money has been disbursed according to law; and diligence used in the collection of revenue; and whether the money received is properly accounted for. They shall report from time to time such measures as may seem to them necessary to add to the economy of the executive offices and the accountability of their officers.

29. Every committee, by a majority of their number, may elect a chairman, but if no such election be made, the first named member of the committee, if it be appointed by the Speaker, shall act as chairman.

30. Every committee shall meet at such time as they may appoint, or on the call of the chairman or any two of its members.

31. The several standing committees shall have leave to report by bill or otherwise. All committees shall submit their reports to the House in writing.

32. No committee shall sit without special leave while the House is in session.

33. Special committees shall consist of five members, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

34. A majority of a committee shall be a quorum thereof.

35. The Speaker shall name the members who are to serve upon committees, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

Debate.

36. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Speaker; and then the mover shall have the right to explain his view in preference to any other member.

37. When a member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the House he shall first rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid all personality and indecorous or disrespectful language.

38. When a member arises and addresses the Chair, the Speaker shall recognize him by name; but no member in debate shall designate another by name.

39. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the person to speak; but in all cases the member who shall first rise and address the Chair shall speak first.

40. No one shall disturb or interrupt a member who is speaking, without his permission, except to call to order if he be transgressing the rules.

41. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

42. When the Speaker is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter, may speak to the question before the negative is put.

Division of House.

43. When the question is put and the Speaker shall have doubt as to the result of the vote, or a division be called for, the House shall divide, and those in the affirmative of the question shall rise from their seats and remain standing until they are counted, and afterwards those in the negative. The count may be made by the Speaker, or if he so directs, by the Clerk, or two members, one from each side, to be named for that purpose by the Speaker. When the result is ascertained the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House.

Any member may call for division.—Rule 57.

Division of Question.

44. Any member may call for a division of any question pending, before the vote thereon is taken, if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition will remain for the decision of the House, but the member calling for the division of a question shall state in what manner he proposes it shall be divided.

45. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed divisible, and though a motion to strike out be lost, it shall not preclude a motion to strike out part of the same words or a motion to amend or to strike out and insert.

Doorkeeper.

46. The doorkeeper shall attend the House while in session, and under the direction of the Speaker execute the orders of the House respecting the admission and the exclusion of persons from the Hall. He shall, when required by the Speaker, aid in the enforcement of order.

Election of Officers.

47. The House, at the commencement of each session, shall elect its Speaker, Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper.

48. In the election of officers by the House, the vote shall be given viva voce, and a majority of the whole number of votes given shall be necessary to elect. If, upon any vote there be no election, the person having the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and any votes thereafter given to such person shall not be taken into the count to affect the result in any way. But if two or more have the lowest and equal number of votes they may be voted for again. No question before the House, or in committee of the whole, shall be voted on by ballot.

Floor.

Who entitled to privilege of.—Rule 72.

Indefinite Postponement.

49. When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session.

50. The Janitor, under the direction of the Speaker, shall have care of the Hall and committee rooms of the House, and keep the same, at all times, in a neat and proper condition.

Journal.

51. The Clerk of the House, under the direction of the Speaker, shall keep a full and correct Journal of the proceedings; and it shall be the duty of the Speaker to examine the Journal daily before it is read and cause all errors and omissions therein to be corrected.

52. When the Journal has been read to the end that any mistake made in the entry may be corrected, if no objection be made, it shall stand approved, but if objection be made the first question of the House shall be to dispose of the same, and when such objections are disposed of and the Journal corrected, as the House may order, it shall stand as approved. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for correction, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith. From the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto six copies shall be printed on 8x10 heavy weight bond paper, with blank lines at the end of each day's proceedings for the signatures of the Speaker and Clerk, and these shall be the official journals of the House. They shall be bound in flexible binding, and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the House of Delegates of West Virginia," with designation of regular or special session, as the case may be, and the year. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, and one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History, and one with the Clerk of the Senate.

53. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to furnish a copy of each day's proceedings of the Journal to the printer, to be printed and distributed without delay.

54. Every written motion made to the House shall be inserted in the Journal with the name of the member making it, unless it be withdrawn on the same day it is submitted.

Lie on the Table.

(a) Motion to lie on table not debatable.—Rule 66.

(b) When a resolution is presented containing no reference of subject matter to committee, it shall lie on the table for one day.—Rule 67.

(c) When motion to take from table in order.—Rule 76.

Manual and Rules.

55. The rules of the parliamentary practice, comprised in Jefferson's Manual, shall govern the House in all cases not provided for by the rules of the House or joint rules of the Senate and House of Delegates.

56. No standing rule or order of the House shall be rescinded or changed without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor, and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present, unless the same is reported by the Committee on Rules when either may be done by a majority vote of the members present.

Meeting of the House.

57. The House, unless it shall be otherwise directed by special order, shall meet every day, except Sunday, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

58. There shall be appointed by the Speaker an Official Chaplain of the House whose duty it shall be to be present at the convening of each day's session for the purpose of opening the House with prayer. His compensation shall be fixed by the Committee on Taxation and Finance.

Messages.

59. The Speaker shall take the chair and call the House to order precisely at the hour of meeting, and, if a quorum be present, cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read.

60. When a message from the Executive or Senate is announced, other business shall be suspended until it is received, unless the House be at the time actually engaged in taking a vote on some question, in which case it shall be received as soon as the result of the vote is announced. When received, it shall lie on the table to be disposed of in its turn, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

Motions and Resolutions.

61. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, but to adjourn, to lie on the table, for the previous question, to postpone to a specific day, to commit, to amend, or to postpone indefinitely, which motions shall severally have precedence in the order in which they are here arranged.

62. When a motion is made it shall be stated by the Speaker, or being in writing, shall be handed to the Chair, and read aloud by the Clerk, and shall then be deemed to be in possession of the House; it may be withdrawn by the mover before any order of the House respecting the same has been made.

63. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desires it.

64. When a motion is made to commit any subject to a special committee, a motion to commit the same to the Committee of the Whole, or a standing committee, shall have precedence.

65. A motion to adjourn, and a motion to fix the time to which the House shall adjourn, shall always be in order if the mover be entitled to the floor.

66. The motion to adjourn and to lie on the table shall be put without debate.

67. When a resolution is presented, containing no reference of the subject thereof to a committee, it shall lie on the table for one day, to come up under the eighth order of business, unless a majority of the House order otherwise.

68. Every motion or resolution directing the appropriation or payment of money shall, unless otherwise ordered by the House, be referred without debate, to the Committee on Taxation and Finance.

Oaths.

69. The Speaker or Clerk shall have authority to administer any oaths required by the business of the House.

Objection.

Resolutions, not of inquiry, shall lie over one day.—Rule 67.

Order and Decorum.

70. While the Speaker is putting any question, or ascertaining the result, no one shall walk out of or across the House, nor when a member is speaking pass between him and the Chair.

71. If a member speaking or otherwise transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order: in which case, the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed. If any member object, without leave of the House, and if the case require it, shall be liable to the censure of the House.

72. No member or other person shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called; and no person, except members, ex-members and officers of the Legislature, State officers, members and ex-members of the Judiciary, shall be admitted upon the floor of the House, except by permission of the Speaker.

73. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table. And no member shall be held to answer, or be subjected to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate. If any other member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words were spoken and before the exception to them was taken,

Speaker to preserve order.—Rule 87.

Order of Business.

74. The order of business for each day shall be :
- I. To read, correct and approve the Journal.
 - II. To receive and consider reports of standing committees.
 - III. To receive and consider reports of select committees.
 - IV. To receive and consider messages from the Executive.
 - V. To receive messages from the Senate, and consider amendments, proposed by the Senate, to bills passed by the House.
 - VI. To receive resolutions and petitions.
 - VII. Bills introduced on motion for leave and referred to appropriate committees.
 - VIII. To act on unfinished business of preceding day, and resolutions lying over from the previous day, but no resolution shall lose its place on the calendar by not being acted on the day following that on which it was offered.
 - IX. House and Senate Bills on third reading.
 - X. House and Senate Bills on second reading.
 - XI. House and Senate Bills on first reading.
 - XII. The order of the day, unless a subject was made the order of the day for a particular hour, in which case it may be called for by any member when the hour arrives.
 - XIII. Miscellaneous business.
75. All questions relating to priority of business shall be decided without debate.
76. A bill or resolution laid on the table may be taken up by a vote of the House at any time after the seventh order of business is disposed of.

Petitions.

77. The member who presents a petition or memorial, or offers a resolution on which a vote of the House is taken, shall be named on the Journal.

Previous Question.

78. If the previous question be demanded by not less than seven members, the Speaker shall, without debate, put the question, "Shall the main question be now put?" If this question be decided in the affirmative, all further debate shall cease and the vote be at once taken on the proposition pending before the House. When the House refuses to order the main question, the consideration of the subject shall be resumed as if the previous question had not been demanded.

79. The previous question shall not be admitted in the Committee of the Whole.

Printing Documents.

80. Documents printed by order of the House shall be printed in pages of the same size as those of the Journal; and a copy of every such document, bound up with the Journal, shall be furnished by the printer to each member of the House at the close of the session, or as soon as possible thereafter; and twenty additional copies, bound as aforesaid, shall be delivered to the Clerk of the House, to be distributed as the House may order.

Printing of bills, before second reading.—Rule 18.

Reconsideration.

81. A question being once determined must stand as the judgment of the House, and cannot again be drawn into debate during the same session, unless reconsidered. But it shall be in order for any member of the majority, on the same or succeeding day, to move for a reconsideration thereof, and such a motion, if seconded, shall take precedence of all other questions except a motion to adjourn, and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House; and if the House decides to reconsider any member may thereafter call the subject up for consideration.

82. When a majority of members present vote in the affirmative on any question, but the question be lost because it is one in which the concurrence of a greater number than a majority of a quorum is necessary to an affirmative decision, any member may move for a reconsideration.

Resolutions.

See "Motions and Resolutions."

Rules.

See "Manual and Rules," and Rules 55 and 56.

Sergeant-at-Arms.

83. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall give bond, with surety, in the penalty of two thousand dollars, payable to the State of West Virginia, and conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office; such bond to be approved by the Speaker and filed with the Clerk of the House for safe keeping.

84. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to attend the House while in session; to aid in the enforcement of order, under the direction of the Speaker; to execute the commands of the House, from time to time, together with all such process issued under its authority as may be directed to him by the Speaker.

85. The Sergeant-at-Arms, under the direction of the Speaker, shall superintend the distribution by the pages of all documents and papers to be distributed to the members.

86. It shall also be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms, to keep the accounts for pay and mileage of members, officers and attaches, to prepare and sign warrants or requisitions for the same, and if required by any member, who shall endorse his warrant or requisition for that purpose to draw the money thereon and pay over the same to the member entitled thereto.

Speaker.

87. It shall be the duty of the Speaker to preserve order and decorum while the House is in session; to enforce the rules and orders of the House; to prescribe the order in which business shall come up for consideration, subject to the rules and orders of the house; to announce the question of business before the House when properly requested by any member; to receive all messages and other communications; to put to vote all questions which are properly moved; to announce the result of all votes and to authenticate, when necessary, the acts and proceedings of the House.

88. The Speaker shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House. He may speak to questions of order in preference to other members, and may make the concluding speech on any appeal from his decision, notwithstanding he may have before spoken on the question; but no other member shall speak more than once on such appeal without leave of the House.

89. When properly requested by a member, he shall inform the House upon any point of order or practice pertinent to the business before it.

90. If any question be put upon a bill or resolution, the Speaker shall state the same, without argument.

91. If there be any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby or gallery, the Speaker or Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may order the same to be cleared.

92. The Speaker, subject to the orders of the House, may assign convenient seats within the bar to stenographers and reporters wishing to take down the proceedings.

93. The Speaker may name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but no one by virtue of such appointment, shall act as Speaker for more than three days.

94. If the Speaker be absent at the time appointed for the meeting of the House, it shall be called to order by the Clerk, and a Speaker pro tem. appointed by the House.

94-a. The Speaker, shall, as soon as practical after his election, appoint for the House such number of Committee clerks, Floor pages, Journal pages, and other attaches as the House may by resolution direct, and may at his discretion, remove any person so appointed and appoint another in his stead. He may also appoint, without resolution, a Private Secretary, and a stenographer to himself.

The Clerk of the House of Delegates, in addition to the Assistant Clerks, provided for by section 18 of chapter 12 of the Code, may appoint a stenographer to himself, and such other assistants as the House may by resolution direct, and shall have power at any time to remove such appointee from office and appoint others in their stead at his discretion.

All resolutions relating to the appointment of persons mentioned in this section, or prescribing the salary or pay of such persons, shall originate in and come from the Committee on Rules.

94-b. The Speaker may, from time to time, designate such times as he may deem necessary for the consideration of bills of a local nature, and such bills shall be placed in a special calendar.

Voting.

95. On the passage of every bill (and when the yeas and nays on any question are called for by one-tenth of those present), the Speaker shall direct the roll to be called, and every member present shall answer "aye" or "no," when his name is called. Before the result is announced the Clerk shall read to the House the names of those who voted in the negative, at which time any member may correct a mistake committed in taking down his vote; but such verification of the vote shall not be made when there are no votes in the negative, unless demanded by a member of the House. The result shall then be announced, and the yeas and nays entered on the Journal, but if the House so orders, the announcement of the result and the entry of the yeas and nays entered upon the Journal may be postponed to the succeeding day, with liberty to absent members, at any time before the result is announced by the Speaker, to appear and vote aye or no, in the presence of the House; and any member may in the presence of the House change his vote before the result is announced.

96. Upon calls of the House, in taking the yeas and nays, the names of the members shall be called alphabetically.

97. Every question shall be first put in the affirmative and then in the negative; each member present shall vote on every question, and the Speaker shall declare whether the yeas or nays have it, which declaration shall stand as the judgment of the House, unless a member call for a division, in which event the Speaker shall divide the House.

98. Every member within the bar, when a question is put, shall vote, unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the House excuses him. A motion to excuse a member from voting must be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason why, in his opinion, it ought to be adopted.

99. No member shall vote on any question in the result of which he is immediately and particularly interested; and, except in the case provided for in the ninety-fifth rule, no member shall vote if he was not within the bar when the question was put, unless leave be given him by the House.

(a) Voting for officers.—Rule 48.

(b) Voting on bills amended by Senate.—Rule 9.

Writs, Warrants and Subpoenas.

100. All writs, warrants and subpoenas ordered by the House shall be signed by the Speaker and attested by the Clerk.

Yeas and Nays.

May be demanded by one-tenth members present.—Rule 95.

REVIEW OF SOME IMPORTANT CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.Framing of the First Constitution.

When delegates from most of the counties now within the confines of West Virginia, met in the city of Wheeling on the 26th day of November, 1861, to frame a constitution for the proposed new State, the country was in the throes of civil strife and the men composing the convention were faced with duties most arduous and delicate in their nature. Their work, when completed, not only had to have the sanction of a majority of the people, but it had to receive the approval of the Congress of the United States, as well.

Provisions as to Salaries.

When the State of West Virginia was admitted into the Union in June, 1863, it started in business on borrowed money, pending the enactment by its first legislature of laws for raising public revenue, and creating machinery and putting it into operation for the enforcement of those laws. But much time was necessary for the accumulation of a fund sufficient to meet the State's expenses. Foreseeing these difficulties the framers of the constitution—notwithstanding a depreciated national currency and the inflation of values growing out of war conditions—endeavored to place as light a burden as possible on the people, in fixing the amounts to be paid officers of the State government; and the salaries of those officials were locked up in constitutional provisions and could not be increased or diminished by legislative enactment. It was provided that the governor should receive two thousand dollars per annum; the secretary of state thirteen hundred dollars; the treasurer fourteen hundred dollars; the auditor fifteen hundred dollars; supreme judges two thousand dollars each; and circuit judges eighteen hundred dollars each. In addition to their salaries the judges were allowed mileage at the same rate as members of the legislature. Members of the senate and house of delegates were to receive for their services a compensation not to exceed three dollars per day during a session of the legislature, and ten cents a mile for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the place of meeting, by the most direct route. The president of the senate and speaker of the house of delegates each received an additional compensation of two dollars per day. As long as the first constitution remained in effect, there were no changes in compensation paid to State officers and to members of the legislature.

Salary Provisions In the Second Constitution.

When West Virginia was in the seventh year of its existence it experienced a political revulsion from which many changes eventually resulted. In 1872 a constitutional convention was called and met at Charleston. It thoroughly overhauled the organic law of the State and its work was ratified by a vote of the people. And again the salaries of executive and judicial officers and the compensation of members of the legislature were locked up in the constitution. The salary of the governor was fixed at twenty-seven hundred dollars per annum; of the secretary of state at one thousand dollars; of the state superintendent of free schools at fifteen hundred dollars; of the treasurer at fourteen hundred dollars; of the auditor at two thousand dollars; and of the attorney general at thirteen hundred dollars. However, fees were subsequently fixed by statute to be paid certain officers, and from this source emoluments were eventually derived that caused their salaries to dwindle into insignificance.

The constitution as adopted in 1872 provided that each of the four supreme judges should receive an annual salary of two thousand two hundred dollars, and each circuit judge one thousand eight hundred dollars. In addition they were allowed the customary mileage.

Members of the legislature were to receive for their services four dollars per day, during a session, and ten cents a mile for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government, by the most direct route. The president of the senate and speaker of the house of delegates were allowed an extra compensation of two dollars per day each, during the time they were presiding; but no other allowance or emolument than that expressly provided for, could directly or indirectly be made or paid to members of either house for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatever. This latter clause was inserted because it was claimed that under the first constitution some of the members of the legislature were allowed bills for postage, newspapers, &c., that exceeded their three dollars per diem.

Some Reminiscences.

Many years ago the compiler of this Hand Book asked one of the leading framers of the constitution of 1872 why it was that so much statutory matter was locked up in that constitution, (referring particularly to the question of salaries,) and why it was that the salaries themselves—if they had to be included in the constitution—were not materially increased, in view of the State's rapid development. The reply was: "We were anxious that our work should be ratified by the people and were afraid if we increased salaries even to what they should have been as of that time, and took the power of regulating them away from the people, that the proposed new constitution would be turned down at the polls."

With the wonderful growth and development of the State there has evidently come—in later years—a pronounced sentiment in favor of compensating public servants in an amount commensurate with their services and the responsibilities of their positions.

Amendment as to Salaries of Executive Officers.

In 1901, the legislature—by a joint resolution adopted February 13th—proposed an amendment to Section 19 of Article VII, which made it read as follows:

"19. The officers named in this article" [that is to say the "Executive Department," consisting of the governor, secretary of state, state superintendent of free schools, auditor, treasurer and attorney general,] "shall receive for their services a salary to be established by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during their official terms; and they shall not—after the expiration of the terms of those in office at the adoption of this amendment—receive to their own use any fees, costs, perquisites of office or other compensation, and all fees that may hereafter be payable by law, for any service performed by any officer provided for in this article of the constitution, shall be paid in advance into the State treasury."

At the November election of 1902 the people ratified this amendment, thus taking the salaries of the executive officers out of the constitution and providing that they should "be established by law," which means, of course, that they shall be fixed by the legislature. In making the change there were two objects in view: First, to wipe out a fee system that had become enormous in its proportions and vicious in its tendencies; Second, to leave it to the legislature to fix definite, living salaries, from time to time, as the State's business increases, conditions change and the State grows in wealth.

Under the amendment as ratified, the legislature, in 1903, allowed the governor a salary of five thousand dollars per annum; the secretary of state, four thousand dollars; the state superintendent of schools, three thousand dollars; the auditor, four thousand five hundred dollars; the treasurer, two thousand five hundred dollars; the attorney general two thousand five hundred dollars. In 1913 the salary of the state superintendent of schools was increased to four thousand dollars; of the treasurer to three thousand five hundred dollars; and still later the salary of the attorney general was increased to four thousand dollars. By an act of the legislature passed January 28th, 1919, the governor—from and after the fourth day of March, 1921—will receive an annual salary of ten thousand dollars.

The Judicial Amendment.

At the same election the "Executive Department" amendment was passed upon, the people ratified what is known as the "Judicial Amendment." It provided that the supreme court of appeals should consist of five judges and also that "the judges of the supreme court of appeals and of the circuit courts shall receive such salaries as shall be fixed by law, for those now in or those hereafter to come into office." Here, again, by the affirmative vote of the people of West Virginia, salaries fixed in the organic law were done away with, and the question of what they should be was left to the wisdom of the legislature.

Under this amendment the legislature, in 1903, fixed the salary of each of the supreme court judges at four thousand dollars per annum, and of circuit judges at three thousand three hundred dollars. In 1909 the salaries of the supreme court judges were increased to five thousand five hundred dollars.

By an act passed February 28th, 1919, the salary of each of the judges of the supreme court of appeals was increased to eight thousand dollars per annum, "from and after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen;" and at the First Extraordinary Session, (that is to say on the 19th of March, 1919,) an act was passed allowing each of the circuit judges an annual salary of five thousand dollars, except in circuits of over sixty thousand population, in which the salary was fixed at five thousand five hundred dollars.

The Proposed Legislative Amendment.

At the general election to be held in November, 1920, the voters of West Virginia will have an opportunity to express themselves on another proposed amendment to the constitution, known as the "Legislative Amendment." On the 13th day of January, 1919, Mr. Duty, of Ritchie,—one of the Senators from the Third District—introduced a joint resolution, the full text of which is as follows:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 3.—Proposing an amendment to sections twenty-two and thirty-three of article six of the constitution of this State.

Resolved, by the Legislature of West Virginia, two-thirds of all the members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following amendments to sections twenty-two and thirty-three of article six of the constitution of this State, be, and the same are hereby agreed to, to-wit:

That sections twenty-two and thirty-three of article six of the constitution of the State of West Virginia be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 22. All sessions of the legislature, other than extraordinary sessions, shall continue in session for a period not exceeding fifteen days from date of convening, during which time no bills shall be passed or rejected, unless the same shall be necessary to provide for a public emergency, shall be specially recommended by the governor and passed by a vote of four-fifths of the members elected to each house; whereupon, a recess of both houses must be taken until the Wednesday after the second Monday of March following. On reassembling of the legislature, no bill shall be introduced in either house without a vote of three-fourths of all the members elected to each house taken by yeas and nays. The regular sessions shall not continue longer than forty-five days after reconvening, without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house.

Sec. 33. The members of the legislature shall each receive for his services the sum of five hundred dollars per annum and ten cents for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government by the most direct route. The Speaker of the House of Delegates and the President of the Senate shall each receive an additional compensation of two dollars per day for each day they shall act as presiding officers. No other allowance or emolument than that by this section provided, shall directly or indirectly be made or paid to the members of either house for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatever.

This joint resolution was adopted by the legislature on February 12th, and on the 17th an act was passed providing for the submission of the amendment to the voters of the State.

The purposes of the amendment are too plainly set forth in the resolution itself to need explanation. Persons familiar with West Virginia legislation know that the business of the two houses has increased from session to session, and that it has been impossible—within the present constitutional limit of forty-five days—to give it the careful consideration it deserved. Calendars have suffered from the severest of congestion, and much time and labor have been lost in committee service, on the floor and in clerk hire, in the handling of bills that died on the calendar.

The plan proposed in the amendment of having the legislature meet and remain in session fifteen days, during which time bills may be introduced but not passed, unless they should be of an emergency nature, is a meritorious one. It will give time for the introduction, consideration and printing of bills, and during the recess, the people of the State will have an opportunity to become familiar with proposed legislation and to consult and advise with their representatives concerning it. Then, the members, when they return to complete the work of the session, will be in position to act more in accordance with public sentiment than they otherwise would.

As to the provision in the amendment allowing a compensation of five hundred dollars per annum to a member of the legislature, attention is directed to the fact that there is no attempt here to take the fixing of the compensation away from the people and lodge it with the legislature itself; but it is a plain submission to the people of the question as to what their representatives should receive. The amount they are now getting is not sufficient in most cases to pay half their ordinary, legitimate expenses.

The general assembly of Pennsylvania, at its last session, fixed the salary of members at twenty-five hundred dollars for each biennial session and five hundred dollars for each extraordinary session, with thirty cents per mile as a mileage allowance and one hundred and fifty dollars for postage for each regular session and fifty dollars for each extraordinary session. The governor approved the bill and in doing so, among other things, said:

“Of course, it was never contemplated that a place in our legislative bodies should be a post of profit—the honor and the opportunity for public service which is given here is a proper recompense for the time and trouble involved. But it surely was never intended that in a commonwealth so great and so favored as Pennsylvania, those called to vital public service must suffer such serious personal loss that only those with ample private means may afford to aspire to the positions. The doors of our law making bodies must be open to all of our people, and citizens of vision and ambition must not be deterred from trying for the election because the compensation is insufficient to at least reimburse them for the expense incurred in performing these public duties.

“It is my opinion that the increase in the salaries of our legislators, as provided in this measure, is thoroughly justified, and is in accord with public policy, and I am glad to approve the bill.”

Under present conditions a member of the legislature of West Virginia receives a compensation of one hundred and eighty dollars for forty-five days' service, and is denied any allowance for postage and stationery; a member of the legislature of Pennsylvania receives one hundred and fifty dollars for postage alone, during a regular biennial session, or within thirty dollars of the total amount paid a West Virginia legislator for forty-five days' service.

In order that the readers of this Hand Book may be fully informed on the question of the compensation of legislators, there will be found immediately following a table showing the amounts paid in each of the states and territories.

Proposed Good Roads Amendment to the Constitution.

At the regular session of the legislature of 1919—on the 15th day of February—a resolution was adopted by the unanimous vote of both houses submitting to the people for ratification or rejection, at the general election in November, 1920, a proposed amendment to the State constitution, which reads as follows:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 15—Proposing an amendment to the constitution of this State.

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia, two-thirds of all the members elected to each house agreeing thereto:

That the following amendment to the constitution of this State be and the same is hereby agreed to, to-wit:

The legislature shall make provision by law for a system of state roads and highways connecting at least the various county seats of the state, and to be under the control and supervision of such state officers and agencies as may be prescribed by law. The legislature shall also provide a state revenue to build, construct, and maintain, or assist in building, constructing and maintaining the same and for that purpose shall have power to authorize the issuing and selling of state bonds, the aggregate amount of which, at any one time, shall not exceed fifty million dollars.

When a bond issue as aforesaid is authorized, the legislature shall at the same time provide for the collection of an annual state tax sufficient to pay annually the interest on such debt, and the principal thereof within, and not exceeding thirty years.

The proposed amendment was introduced by Hon| E. R. Staats, of Wood county, one of the members of the Senate from the Third District, and would have the effect of eliminating the provision in the present constitution of the proposed amendment. H. R. Wylie, of Huntington, is president of the proposed amendment. H. R. Wylie, of Huntington, is president of the proposed amendment. H. R. Wylie, of Huntington, is president of the federation and N. W. Yates, of Huntington, is secretary.

EXECUTIVE MANSION

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

THE GOVERNOR.

The chief executive power is vested in the governor, who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. He must give information by message of the condition of the State and recommend such measures as he may deem expedient, at the beginning of each legislative session. He may convene the legislature in extraordinary session. He nominates and appoints all officers, whose offices are established by the constitution, or created by law, whose appointment or election is not otherwise provided for by law. He may remove any officer, whom he shall have appointed, for incompetency, neglect of duty, gross immorality or misfeasance in office, and fill the vacancy. He is vested with the pardoning power, and may remit fines and penalties, commute capital punishment, and grant reprieves and pardons after conviction. He is commander-in-chief of the military forces (except when they shall be called into service of the United States) and may call out the same to execute the laws, suppress insurrection and repel invasion. Every bill passed by the legislature must be submitted to him before it becomes a law, and he must either veto, approve, or permit the same to become a law without action on his part. He is a member of the board of public works and president of the board of the school fund. All the subordinate officers of the executive department, and the officers of all the public institutions of the State are required to make report to him before each session of the legislature. He has power to make requisition on other governors for fugitives from justice and to honor like requisitions from other governors.

[Photo Engraving of Governor Cornwell. Frontispiece.]

THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

The secretary of State is required to keep a journal of the executive proceedings, to arrange and keep all records belonging to the executive department, and to render to the governor such service as he may require in the dispatch of executive business. He is a member of the board of public works and secretary thereof. He must attest all proclamations and commissions issued by the governor and affix the State seal thereto, issue certificates of incorporation to all corporations formed under the laws, superintend public printing, receive from the canvassing boards certificates of election held for State offices and lay the same before the house of delegates, receive, file and record the bonds of all State officers; sell the supreme court reports and session acts and generally to keep, record and certify State records and public documents.

M. P. SHAWKEY,
Superintendent of Free Schools.

THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

The general powers of the State superintendent of schools are to see that the school laws are properly observed, interpret the school laws, upon request, and to carry out the lawful orders and rules of the State board of education; to prepare all forms and school blanks, institute proceedings to enforce the school laws, or to enforce the rules or directions of the State board of education, or for the removal of any school official because of dishonesty, neglect of duty, or failure to comply with the school laws or rules of the State board of education; to hold conferences with county, district or city superintendents; to see that the minimum standards prescribed by State board of education are maintained in the public schools; to distribute the school laws and lists of books suitable for school libraries, and make biennial reports to the governor showing the condition of the public school system. He is a member of the board of public works, also of the board of school fund, and of the State board of education, and is executive officer of the latter. He examines and licenses teachers in the public schools; apportions State monies to the various counties and districts, and classifies the high schools.

JOHN S. DARST,
State Auditor.

THE AUDITOR.

The auditor is a member of the board of public works, one of the commissioners of public printing, member and secretary of the board of the school fund, and is insurance commissioner. He examines and audits all claims for money payable out of the State treasury, and issues warrants therefor on the treasurer. He keeps the financial accounts of the State, and all payments out of the State treasury are by warrants drawn and signed by him. He keeps the accounts of the various sheriffs with the State, and requires them to make settlement of State funds in their hands. He has authority to institute suits for collection of claims due the State. Copies of the land books of the various counties are filed and preserved in his office; and he keeps record of all sales of lands for taxes when purchased by individuals or the State, and of all delinquent and forfeited lands. He collects corporation license taxes including taxes on insurance companies; appoints the State fire marshal; exercises general supervision over all insurance companies and companies issuing annuity contracts; enforces the "blue sky law"; and is generally the fiscal agent of the State to oversee the collection and distribution of the State's revenues. He is required to make an annual report to the governor of the fiscal affairs of the State, showing the balance in the treasury at the end of the year, and an estimate of the revenues and expenditures of the current year; in short, a general report of the State's financial affairs.

W. S. JOHNSON,
Treasurer.

THE TREASURER.

The treasurer is the custodian of the revenues and public moneys of the State, and keeps a general account of the receipts and disbursements, and separate accounts with each depository. No money can be paid out of a depository of State funds except upon the check of the treasurer upon a warrant of the auditor authorizing such check. The treasurer is a member of the board of public works, and of the board of school funds, and is custodian of the workmen's compensation fund, under special bond.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The attorney general is the chief law officer of the State, and a member of the board of public works. He is required to give his written opinion and advice in writing when requested by the governor, secretary of state, auditor, state superintendent of free schools, board of public works, tax commissioner, state archivist and historian, commissioner of banking, adjutant general, chief of the department of mines, and the heads of the State educational, penal and eleemosynary institutions. He is counsel in all causes in the supreme court of appeals or in the federal courts in which the State is interested. All bonds issued which are paid by taxation must be approved or disapproved as to the validity thereof by the attorney general. The various official bonds, as well as the bonds of all State depositories are passed upon by him as to form. He is ex-officio the reporter for the supreme court of appeals.

[Photo Engraving of E. T. England, Attorney General, page 373.]

J. H. STEWART,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

The commissioner of agriculture must be a practical farmer and learned in the science of agriculture. He is a member of the board of public works, and is charged with the duty of advancing the agricultural interests of the State, and to that end is directed to advertise the State's resources and industrial opportunities, to induce immigration and attract capital. He is required to investigate and report upon the minerals of the State and their value; to prevent, control and eradicate transmissible animal diseases, and to that end prevent infected animals from coming into the State, and establish quarantine of animals; and to test seeds sold for agricultural purposes in the State both for purity and viability. The commissioner is required to make biennial report to the governor of the operations of his department containing information on practical agriculture, horticulture and kindred subjects.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The governor, secretary of state, auditor, superintendent of free schools, treasurer, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture compose this board, which is a public corporation under the style of "the board of public works." This board represents the interests of the State in all works of internal improvements; fixes the rate of direct taxes for State purposes; assesses property of railroads, pipe lines, and all other public utilities, for taxation, appoints members of boards of review and equalization; and generally, looks after the interests of the State.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES.

Created in 1905 for supervision of the enforcement of laws for the inspection of mines, for the safety of persons employed therein, and protection of mining property. The executive officer is the "Chief of Department of Mines" appointed by the governor for a term of four years. The State is divided by him into fifteen mining districts, with an inspector appointed by him for each district. He is authorized to appoint an additional inspector of sand mines, sand pits, clay mines and pits, quarries and cement works. The chief and his inspectors are required to visit, enter and inspect all mines at least four times each year, and to observe and report upon the condition as to ventilation, drainage and general safety, and see that all the mining statutes are strictly carried out. The chief is required to make full written annual reports to the governor of mine inspections, including the quantity of coal mined in the State, coke produced, number of men employed in the industry, number of mines operated, ovens in and out of blast, improvements made, prosecutions had, etc. The chief may also appoint a director of rescue work to have charge of the operation of a rescue mine car authorized to be purchased by the legislature of 1915.

WALTER S. HALLANAN,
State Tax Commissioner.

THE STATE TAX COMMISSIONER.

The office of State tax commissioner was created in 1904, filled by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate, for a term of four years at a salary of $4,000. His duties are too numerous to mention in detail. Generally, he is directed to see that all the laws concerning the assessment and collection of all taxes and levies by every levying and collecting body or person are faithfully enforced. He is authorized to institute and conduct suits and prosecutions for any violation of the tax or license laws. He assists the board of public works in matters of assessments or revenue. One of his most important duties is to inspect and supervise public offices, install systems of accounting and reporting thereon, and at least once a year, if practicable, examine into all financial affairs of every public office, and to see that all public moneys are properly collected and disbursed. In this capacity he is ex-officio chief inspector and supervisor of public offices, and he and his assistant inspectors have the right to compel witnesses and boards to be brought before him in any matter under his jurisdiction. The system of accounting, and the audits made by him, have saved the State, counties and municipalities hundreds of thousands of dollars. He collects inheritance taxes, and special excise taxes on the net income of corporations. He is also ex-officio commissioner of prohibition, and as such enforces all the provisions of law relating to the manufacture, sale and keeping of all liquors or in any way relating to the liquor traffic.

THE COMMISSIONER OF BANKING.

The personnel of the banking department consists of the commissioner of banking, appointed by the governor for a term of four years, at a salary of $3,500 a year, and three assistants appointed by the commissioner. At least twice a year the commissioner or one of his assistants must make a thorough examination of the affairs of every banking institution and other like institutions subject to the banking laws; all building and loan associations and similar institutions, and ascertain if the books are properly kept, and ascertain fully and carefully the assets and liabilities and the financial condition of each bank and institution subject to his authority. And generally, to observe whether all the laws of the State pertaining to such institutions are properly observed; to correct irregularities; require reports; close insolvent banks and institutions and appoint receivers; require assessments to cover impairment of capital stock, and give permission to banks and other institutions to begin business. Bonds tendered by banks as depositories of State funds must be first approved by him. He is required to make annual reports to the governor of the work of his department, showing the total resources and liabilities of all banks.

GEORGE R. C. WILES,
Chairman.

ERNEST D. LEWIS,
Commissioner.

E. G. RIDER,
Commissioner.

R. B. BERNHEIM,
Secretary.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

The public service commission—created in 1913—consists of three members, appointed by the governor, each for a term of six years, at a salary of $6,000.00, with general offices in the capitol, open each working day. Its jurisdiction includes: Common carriers, railroads, street railroads, express companies, sleeping car companies, freight lines, car companies, toll bridges, ferries and steam and other boats engaged in transportation of freight or passengers, telegraph and telephone companies, pipe line companies for the transportation of oil, gas or water; gas companies, electric lighting companies and municipalities furnishing gas or electricity for lighting, heating or power; hydro-electric companies, water companies, and municipalities furnishing water; all other public service corporations and all persons, associations, corporations and agencies engaged in any of the businesses hereinbefore enumerated, or in any other public business whether enumerated or not.

The commission has power to investigate all methods and practices of public service corporations, or other persons subject to the act; make them conform to the laws, and to such lawful rules and regulations promulgated by it; it may change any intra-state rate, charge or toll which is unjust or unreasonable and prescribe just and reasonable rates, fares, charges and tolls; it may change or prohibit any practice, device or method of service in order to prevent undue discrimination or favoritism between persons, localities or classes of freight; it may enforce, originate, establish, modify, change, adjust and promulgate tariffs, rates, joint rates, tolls and schedules for all public service corporations, including municipalities supplying gas, electricity or water. The commission may ascertain the quantity and healthfulness of water used for domestic consumption and furnished by water companies in municipalities, as well as the quantity of gas and electricity supplied in municipalities, and may require such improvements as will best promote the public interests, and preserve the public health.

The commission has power of visitation over all subject to the act, and may inspect public service plants, and examine the books and affairs of any corporation, company or person investigated by it; summon witnesses, take evidence, appoint inspectors of water and gas meters, and correct abuses generally. It shall annually collect information of the value of all property owned or controlled by any public service corporation, or any person subject to the act, for taxation purposes. In short, the commission is an always open forum or agency by which differences between the public and the public service utilities, and between the utilities themselves, can be speedily adjusted at nominal cost.

The public service utilities are required to pay a special license fee into the State treasury to the aggregate amount of sixty thousand dollars for the purpose of paying the salaries and expenses of the commission, including those of its agents and employees. The final orders of the commission may be appealed from by any person in interest to the supreme court of appeals.

Appropriate penalties are prescribed for violations of the act, and for violation of the lawful orders of the commission.

LEE OTT,
State Compensation Commisloner.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

This law—enacted in 1913 and amended in 1915 and in 1919—is designed to provide and distribute a fund for the benefit of injured workmen for injuries arising out of and in the course of their employment in the State; and to the dependents of such employees where death ensues from such injuries. The fund is made up by the employers and is administered by the State compensation commissioner who is appointed by the governor for a term of six years, beginning on May 31, 1915. He receives a salary of $6,000 per annum. His office is in the capitol and is open every day except Sundays and holidays.

All persons, firms, associations and corporations regularly employing other persons for profit, or for the purpose of carrying on any form of industry or business in this State (casual employment excepted), county and municipal corporations, the State, and all State offices or departments are employers and subject to the act; but employers of employees in domestic or agricultural service, persons prohibited by law from being employed, traveling salesmen, employees of an employer while employed without the State, members of a firm of employers, any officers of a corporation employer, including managers, superintendents, assistant managers or superintendents, are not covered by the law. The industries are divided into classes of schedules by the act, and they may be reclassified and scheduled by the commissioner, and the risk of the different classes, is determined from the records of the employers forming each class as shown by the commissioner's books, from which the commissioner fixes the rate of premiums for each class according to the risk. Accurate accounts are kept by the commissioner, and each class or schedule is charged such a rate as will take care of the demands therein occasioned by injuries to the employees therein. All employers subject to the act who elect to be protected thereby, and who continue to comply therewith, are not liable to respond in damages for the injury or death of an employee thereafter however occurring, if the employee after having notice that his employer is so protected, remains in the employment. Employers who have elected to be covered, must keep printed or typewritten notices of the fact posted in conspicuous places about their works.

The premium must be paid by the employer in order to create the fund, into the treasury, on or before the twenty-fifth day of each month, for the preceding month. Failure of an employer to elect to be covered, or failure to keep his premiums paid, renders him liable to his injured employee, or dependents, in case of death, where the injury is occasioned by a wrongful act, neglect or default of the employer or his agents, officers or employees; and in such cases the common law defenses of the fellow servant's rule; assumption of risk; contributory negligence; or that the negligence in question was that of some one whose duties are prescribed by statute, shall not be available to the employer. An employee is not allowed compensation where the injury is self inflicted or caused by wilful misconduct or disobedience to rules of the employer approved by the commissioner, or by intoxication of the employee.

Reasonable medical and funeral expenses may be paid by the commissioner. Benefits in case of disability or death are classified by the act, and are too voluminous to be enumerated here.

Application for compensation by the injured employee, or his dependents, in case of death, must be made within six months after the injury or death, to the commissioner, in due form; and all proofs of dependency in fatal cases must be filed with the commissioner within nine months from the death.

Benefits are not liable to claims of creditors of the injured employee, or his dependents, in case of death.

The commissioner is not bound by technical rules of procedure or evidence; and appeal from his findings—which deny the right of the claimant to participation in the fund, or directly from the employer—may be had to the supreme court of appeals.

Provision is made by which an employer of sufficient financial responsibility to insure compensation equal to that provided by the act, or who maintains his own benefit funds or systems of compensation to which the employees are not required or permitted to contribute, may be relieved from contributing to the compensation fund by the commissioner, upon giving bond with proper security to be approved by the commissioner sufficient to insure proper compensation to his injured employees or their dependents. Such employer is required to contribute to the expense of the administration of the fund, and when permitted to carry his own risks by the commissioner, is relieved from damages for injuries and death of his employees arising out of and in the course of the employment.

Penalties are prescribed on employers for failure to perform duties required by the commissioner, or for making any false report or false statement required, or testifying falsely in any proceedings before the commissioner. Penalties are also prescribed on any employee knowingly seeking to obtain larger compensation or compensation for a longer time, or compensation to which he is not entitled.

The commissioner is required to make annual reports under oath to the governor, giving in detail the management of the fund, its condition, number of awards, causes of the accidents leading to the injuries for which awards were made, and all other pertinent matters, with his recommendations, if any.

The act requires the traveling and incidental expenses of the commissioner, the salaries and other compensation of all his officers and employees, and all expenses for books, furniture, maps, stationery and appliances and property of all kinds, shall be paid out of the fund, and the sum of $140,000 is set aside annually for that purpose.

THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

A commission—which serves without pay—composed of the governor, treasurer, president of the West Virginia University, and director of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, has general charge of the State Geological and Economic Survey and appoints the superintendent, assistants and employees and fixes their compensation.

SAMUEL B. MONTGOMERY

Commissioner of Labor

The survey is for the purpose of ascertaining the economic value of building stones and other constructive materials; clays, ores and other mineral substance and fuels; the prevention of their waste and utilization of by-products; classification of soils and a study of their adaptability to particular crops; examination of forests and timber lands for economic utilization, and preservation of their waste; examination of the physical features of the State with reference to their practical bearing upon the occupations of the people; preparation of geological and economic maps to illustrate the State's resources; special reports giving general and detailed description of the geology and natural resources of the State; the consideration of other scientific and economic questions of value to the people; and the immediate establishment and proper markings of true meridian points in the several county seats.

Report is made to each legislature of the progress and condition of the survey; and the regular and special reports are distributed or sold as the State's interest may demand; and all material collected after having served its purpose, is distributed by the commission to the educational institutions; or put on permanent exhibition, as the commission may determine. The engineers and other persons employed for the survey—and also for the United States Geological Survey—have the right to enter upon lands, either public or private, and enter all mines and examine any property or products or development, for the purpose of effecting the objects of the survey, without molestation or arrest and without liability to the owners, except for actual damage done to the property.

STATE BUREAU OF LABOR.

The legislature of 1889 created this bureau, which is under the commissioner of labor, who is appointed by the governor for the term of four years at a salary of $2,400 and traveling expenses. His duties are to collect and compile statistical reports to the governor relating to all departments of labor and industrial interests, especially in relation to the financial, social, educational and sanitary condition of the laboring classes; inspect factories and work shops, or other places where labor is employed; establish and maintain a free public employment bureau; appoint two factory inspectors, and divide the State into inspection districts; and generally to assist in bettering the labor conditions in the State. He is ex-officio commissioner of weights and measures, and as such is directed to inspect, try and ascertain if all weights and measures are correct, and if not, to correct them, and in a proper case to prosecute a violator of the weights and measures law. He has power to require all weights and measures to be made correct, and if not, to condemn and confiscate them.

BUREAU OF ARCHIVES AND HISTORY.

This bureau was created in 1905 for the purpose of preserving all valuable papers and documents relating to the settlement of the State, its erection and formation, biographical matter pertaining to its then prominent men, preservation of State papers, reports of the various departments and institutions and generally, for the preservation and classification of all State archives of past, present and future, and for the further purpose of establishing a museum illustrative of history, science, and the social conditions and life of the people. The bureau is located at the capitol annex, and is in charge of the State historian and archivist, who is appointed by the governor for a term of four years, and directed to carry out the purposes of the act and make annual reports to the governor.

STATE ROAD COMMISSION.

STATE ROAD COMMISSION.

The State road bureau, now the State road commission, was created by chapter 66. Acts of 1915, and consists of two members appointed by the governor selected from the two dominant political parties, for a term of four years at a salary of $3,500 per year and actual expenses, with offices at Charleston. The commission is charged with manifold duties under the good roads act, the chief of which are to classify roads and provide a connecting system of "Class A" roads throughout the State, collect license taxes on motor vehicles, superintend road construction, adopt regulations, compile statistics, advise with county officers, aid in establishing grades and systems of drainage, and in the construction, improvement and maintenance of roads, and generally to see that all laws and regulations relating to the public roads are enforced.

FORESTRY, GAME AND FISH.

The forest, game and fish warden is appointed by the governor for a term of four years, with a salary of eighteen hundred dollars and mileage while necessarily traveling in discharge of his duties, but not to exceed five hundred dollars a year.

He has power to appoint any number of deputies in the various counties, who receive one-half of all fines imposed and collected in suits instituted by them for violations of the forest, game and fish laws. The object of this office is for the enforcement of the forest, game and fish laws, and for the collection and dissemination of such statistics and information as will be useful in the protection of forests, and in the protection and propagation of game fish. The warden has the power to appoint also two chief deputy wardens, each at a salary of $900 per year. The warden and all his deputies are also fire wardens, and are required to assist in extinguishing forest fires and are given certain powers of entry upon lands for that purpose, and may summon and require the services of residents, and may hire volunteers to put out such fires.

The warden and his deputies have power to make arrests under warrants issued from any court for violations of any of the forest, game and fish laws; and may make search for and seizure of game and fish taken in violation of law, without warrant.

The warden is required to make biennial reports to the governor showing all he has done, the amount of moneys received by him, from what sources and in detail, and his disbursements in detail.

THE STATE BOARD OF CONTROL.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY.

This department—created at the extra session of 1919—was designed to provide protection for the lives and property of the people.

The superintendent is the administrative head and is appointed by the governor for a term of four years, on a salary of $3,000. The department is composed of two companies, each composed of a captain, lieutenant, first sergeant, four sergeants, four corporals and such number of privates as the superintendent may decide, but not less than thirty nor more than fifty-five at any one time. Each member must have been a resident of this State for at least two years at the time of his appointment; not less than twenty-one nor more than forty-five years of age; able to ride horseback; and of sound constitution and good moral character. Members may carry arms without license, and shall be furnished uniforms and suitably equipped horses when superintendent deems it necessary. Any member has authority to make arrests; to serve criminal process issued by any court or justice of the State; and co-operate with local authorities in detecting crime. Each member is a forest patrolman, game and fish warden and deputy prohibition officer, with all the powers and duties of such officers. The superintendent may remove any member for causes specified in the act; but an appeal will lie to a non-partisan board of commissioners composed of two persons who are appointed by the governor for a term of two years. Charges against any member may be preferred to and tried by said board after notice. Railroads are required to transport members and their prisoners anywhere in the State, and the charges therefor are paid as other claims against the State are paid.

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL.

This board was created by chapter 58, Acts 1909, and is composed of three members, appointed by the governor, for a term of six years, each at a salary of $5,000. The board has full power to manage, direct and control the asylums for the insane, penitentiary, reform school, industrial home for girls, miners' hospitals and schools for the deaf and blind. It controls the financial and business affairs of the university and its preparatory branches, the normal school and its branches, the West Virginia collegiate institute and the Bluefield colored institute, and purchases all supplies needed for their support. The board has control and charge of all insurance on public buildings, except property at the seat of government which must first be authorized by the board of public works. The act creating this board placed all of the State institutions under one financial and business management, and has so systematized their affairs that many thousands of dollars have been saved to the state.

OTHER STATE BOARDS.

BOARD OF DENTAL EXAMINERS.

This board consists of five practicing dentists, appointed by the governor for a term of five years, and is charged with the duty of examining and licensing dentists, and generally to enforce the laws governing the practice of dentistry.

BOARD FOR EXAMINATION OF ACCOUNTANTS.

This board was created in 1911. It consists of three members, appointed by the governor for a term of three years, with allowance of ten dollars per day for each day in discharge of duties, to be paid out of the fees paid by applicants for examination; and is charged with the duty of examining and certifying the result of such examination to the governor of all persons applying for certificates as certified public accountants. The governor issues said certificates to the persons successfully passing such examination. The examinations are held in Charleston, annually, in May and November.

BERKELEY SPRINGS BOARD.

This board was created in 1901, for the purpose of leasing or selling the public property known as Berkeley Springs, in Morgan county, and by act of 1911 consists of five members appointed by the governor who may remove any member at his discretion. The board has power to lease or sell the Berkeley Springs subject to the approval of the board of public works.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS FOR NURSES.

In 1907 the legislature directed the governor to appoint a board of examiners consisting of five persons, two of whom may be women, for the purpose of examining applicants for registration as nurses, and to determine their fitness and ability to give efficient care to the sick. The examiners serve three years, and receive four dollars per day and expenses for actual service, and hold at least one meeting each year. The applicants after successfully passing examination are registered by the board and receive from it a certificate as "Registered Nurse." A fee of ten dollars is required from each applicant, out of which the per diem and expenses of the board are paid and also that of the secretary who must be an experienced graduate and duly registered nurse. (Chap. 32, Acts 1917.)

BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN OPTOMETRY.

This board was created by chapter 73, of the Acts of 1909, and is composed of five residents, appointed by the governor for a term of three years. Their duties are to examine and register applicants for the practice of optometry and issue certificates to the successful applicants. The fee for such examination and registry is $15, which is paid into the treasury of the State, out of which sums so paid the legislature appropriates sufficient to meet the expenses incurred, including five dollars per day to the members and traveling expenses while on official business.

BOARD OF PHARMACY.

The board of pharmacy consists of five members—voters of the State—licensed as pharmacists and actively engaged as such, appointed by the governor, each for the term of five years. Its duties are to hold examinations and issue to those successfully passing, licenses as pharmacists; to revoke the same for cause, institute and carry on prosecutions for violations of the pharmacist act; keep proper registry of those licensed and full records; collect fees from the applicants and pay the same into the State treasury, out of which the expenses of the members are paid including a per diem of five dollars for each day in the discharge of their duties; and make annual written report to the governor of its proceedings, receipts and disbursements, and persons licensed. (Acts of 1907-'09.)

BOARD OF EMBALMERS.

The board of embalmers consists of one practical embalmer of at least five years' experience and resident of the State for five years, appointed for each congressional district, for a term of three years, receiving for their services a per diem of three dollars and expenses, to be paid out of fees received for registration, examinations, and licenses issued by the board. It is required to hold annual or special meetings, register persons engaged in the practice of embalming, hold examinations, and issue licenses to the successful applicants and collect fees for same, renew annually certificates and licenses, revoke either for cause, and make an annual report to the governor. (Acts 1899-1905.)

BOARD OF VETERINARY SURGEONS.

This board is composed of three competent veterinarians who are appointed by the governor for a term of three years; and is charged with the duty of examining and registering all persons who engage in the practice of veterinary surgery, veterinary medicine, veterinary dentistry, or prescribe treatment for, or perform any surgical operation on any domestic animal for compensation. Examinations are held at least once a year at the annual meeting of the State veterinary medical association. Each applicant for examination is required to deposit with the board a fee of five dollars, which is paid into the State treasury and credited to a special fund for the purpose of paying the expenses of the board.

STATE BOARD OF CHILDREN'S GUARDIANS.

This board was created in 1919 and consists of three members appointed by the governor from the two largest political parties, not more than two of whom shall belong the same political party. Terms began on July 1, 1919, and are for six years (except first members who shall be appointed for two, four and six years). The board, its officers or agents, may take or receive into its custody dependent and neglected children—the ages for boys being under sixteen and for girls under eighteen years—and place them in suitable institutions for care, maintenance and education, or in its discretion place them in suitable homes. All institutions or associations receiving children under the Act are subject to visitation, inspection and supervision by the board. The board may, upon the request of the superintendent of the industrial home for girls, or the industrial school for boys, make investigation and report on children paroled from these institutions. The board takes place of the former humane society, and as its name implies, is designed to look after the general welfare of neglected, dependent, delinquent and defective children.

The State Board of Children's Guardians of West Virginia is responsible for all dependent children who have been committed, after thorough mental and physical examinations, as wards of the State. It is not responsible for the care or commitment of deficient or delinquent children. This board is interested in all phases of child and public welfare and cooperates with every legitimate agency.

The State Board of Children's Guardians places normal children in normal homes and is anxious to receive applications from good homes wishing to receive children to be treated as real members of the family.
