INTRODUCTION.

The adoption by the Legislature of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 7, at the regular session of 1921, effected a change in the plan of publishing the Hand Book by providing for the issuing of the Official Register Division in the off year and of the main, illustrated edition as early as practicable in the year following.

The matter contained in this volume—pertaining to the State government and to the several counties—has been carefully revised, and much new matter added. One of the most important features is included between pages 276 and 286, showing the number of inhabitants of the State, —by counties and minor civil divisions—in 1900, 1910, and 1920, as reported by the United States Bureau of the Census.

The joint rules of the two houses of the Legislature and the rules of the Senate and House of Delegates—as amended at the extraordinary session of May, 1921—appear herein, followed by a carefully prepared synopsis of the laws enacted at the two sessions.

Tables showing the results of the general election of 1920 are official, and the lists of political committees and municipal officers have been fully revised. The alphabetical list of post offices has been corrected to July 1st, 1921.

JOHN T. HARRIS.

But the Clerk of one house may communicate a message to the Clerk of the other after adjournment, and any message so sent shall be received by the house to which it is sent whenever it may be in session.

Printing and Distribution of Bills

Duties of the Clerk

5. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk and after being examined by the President shall be read the succeeding day. It shall be printed under the supervision of the clerk and delivered to the members without delay. After the printed journal has been approved and fully marked for corrections the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith, and from the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto ten copies shall be printed on 6x9 heavy weight bond paper, with blank lines at the end of each day's proceedings for the signature of the President and the clerk, and these shall be the official journals of the senate. #### Powers of the Senate Over Its Members

8. A majority of the senators shall be necessary to proceed to business; two members may adjourn, and three may order a call of the senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. On a call of the senate, the doors shall not be closed against any member until his name shall have been twice called.

9. In case a less number than a quorum of the senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the sergeant-at-arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply, as well to the first convention of the senate at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour has arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned.

10. No senator shall be taken into custody by the sergeant-at-arms, on any question of complaint of breach of privilege, until the matter is examined by the committee on privileges and elections, and reported to the Senate, unless by order of the President of the Senate.

11. The Senate may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 25.)

A RECENT PRESIDENTIAL ORDER AFFECTING POSTMASTERS AT OFFICES OF THE FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD CLASS.

(From the May and June Official Postal Guide.)

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

WHITE HOUSE, May 10, 1921.

When a vacancy exists or hereafter occurs in the position of postmaster at an office of the first, second, or third class, if such vacancy is not filled by nomination of some person within the competitive classified civil service who has the required qualifications, then the Postmaster General shall certify the fact to the Civil Service Commission, which shall forthwith hold an open competitive examination to test the fitness of applicants to fill such vacancy, and when such examination has been held and the papers in connection therewith have been rated, the said commission shall certify the results thereof to the Postmaster General, who shall submit to the President the name of one of the highest three qualified eligibles for appointment to fill such vacancy, unless it is established that the character or residence of any such applicant disqualifies him for appointment: Provided, That at the expiration of the term of any person appointed to such position through examination before the Civil Service Commission, the Postmaster General may, in his discretion, submit the name of such person to the President for renomination without further examination.

No person who has passed his sixty-fifth birthday, or who has not actually resided within the delivery of such office for two years next preceding such vacancy, shall be given the examination herein provided for.

If, under this order, it is desired to make nomination for any office of a person in the competitive classified service, such person must first be found by the Civil Service Commission to meet the minimum requirements for the office.

WARREN G. HARDING.

There are more than 400,000 men and women participating in governmental work who are in classified service. All of these are under the permanent provisions of the civil service law and rules.

These permanent rules provide for the certification of the highest three eligibles, from which list of three, each necessary appointment is made. The successful operation of the principles of the civil service law has demonstrated the wisdom of this provision. This leaves in the appointing power, who has the ultimate responsibility for efficient administration, the necessary constitutional right of choice. This right of selection is the kind of responsibility which cannot legally be and is not abridged by act of Congress, and is in exact harmony with the spirit of the civil service principle.

There are 52,332 postmasters. Of these, 39,433 are in the fourth class, and are now under such civil service laws and regulations as bring them within the privileges and conditions of the classified service.

Of the remaining 12,899 post offices, 700 are first class, 2,617 are second class, and 9,582 are third class. Obviously these offices are business agencies of the Government in legal purpose and should become so in fact. The only certain ultimate way to bring this about is to classify first, second, and third class postmasters. This will require an act of Congress. It is a step forward, measured by the requirements of progress, and is one which I hope will be made. Under existing laws the Executive has no power to require that these offices be placed in the classified service.

Moving in that direction, however, the Executive order issued to-day provides that if any such vacancy is not filled by nomination for promotion of one from within the competitive classified civil service, then an open competitive examination shall be held and the appointment shall be made from one of the highest three eligibles, as required now by law in the classified civil service.

This order, which is for our own guidance in making these appointments, will bring an operation squaring with the requirements of any probable future legislation.

Under this order the kind of test and plan of investigation and examination which shall be provided for shall be approved by the President and shall be based on the applicant's business training, experience, fitness, organizing and executive ability, and general qualifications for an efficient administration, and shall in no sense be a cloistered, scholastic examination which might result in a high grade of theory, but not a guaranty of efficiency in fact.

This order applies to all present incumbents of post offices whose terms have expired, and will apply to all other incumbents as their present terms expire.
