WEST VIRGINIA STATE FLAG

Because the state flag adopted in 1925 was impractical of manufacture and the cost of same was prohibitive, the legislature of 1929, Senate Joint Resolution No. 18, adopted a new state flag of the following design and proportions, as set out in said resolution :

The proportions of the flag of the state of West Virginia shall be the same as those of the United States ensign ; the field shall be pure white, upon the center of which shall be emblazoned in proper colors, the coat-of-arms of the state of West Virginia, upon which shall appear the date of the admission of the state into the Union, and the motto "Montani Semper Liberi" (Mountaineers Always Freemen). Above the coat-of-arms of the state of West Virginia there shall be a ribbon lettered, "State of West Virginia," and arranged appropriately around the lower part of the coat-of-arms of the state of West Virginia a wreath of rhododendron maximum in proper colors. The field of pure white shall be bordered by a strip of blue on four sides. The flag of the state of West Virginia when used for parade purposes shall be trimmed with gold colored fringe on three sides and when used on ceremonial occasions with the United States ensign, shall be trimmed and mounted in similar fashion to the United States flag as regards fringe, cord, tassels and mountings.

INTRODUCTION

The matter contained in this volume of the Legislative Hand Book and Manual and Official Register has been carefully compiled from information obtained from the best sources available; the county registers, in all but a very few counties, from the county clerks and county superintendents; legislative matter from the legislative records; gross sales and gasoline tax revenues and the tables showing assessments, levies, etc., from the records of the State Tax Commissioner's office; newspaper data from the publishers or editors, except in a few instances where the requests for the information was not answered; concerning municipalities, from the mayors or recorders; concerning state road bonds, state routes, etc., from the records of the State Road Commission and the population tables from the official reports of the 1930 census.

The new matter used includes the report of the 1929 Constitution Commission and the message of Governor Conley transmitting it to the legislature; personnel of departments, boards and commissions created by, and a synopsis of the laws and resolutions passed by the 1931 Legislature; the 1930 general election returns; tables showing the composition of the state's 1930 population, by counties, as to, sex, color, nativity, school attendance, illiteracy, etc.; various tables dealing with the assessment of property and collection and distribution of taxes, some covering a period of seven years; and data concerning receipts from motor vehicle registration, state road bonds and state routes.

The thanks of the editor is extended to all who have assisted him in securing the information used in this volume.

M. S. HODGES.

STATE BOARDS—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Under Chapter 30, article one, Code 1931, all boards of examination and registration, are governed by the following general rules, unless otherwise specifically provided:

Each board is required to adopt an official seal, make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as it deems best, and hold at least two meetings each year.

Each board is given power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and its officers have power to administer oaths.

Every applicant for license or registration must transmit with his application an examination fee of twenty dollars, unless a different fee is especially provided by law. Each board is allowed to charge five dollars for each license or certificate issued and the same sum for every duplicate thereof.

All licenses or certificates of registration are required to be numbered serially and to be signed by a majority of the members of the board.

Each board has power to revoke, for cause, the certificates it issues.

xxxiv OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES STATE GOVERNMENT

An applicant who has been refused a license, or a licensee whose certificate has been revoked, has the right of appeal from the action of the board to the Circuit Court of the county in which he resides.

Members, unless otherwise specified, are allowed ten ($10.00) dollars per day for each day actually spent in attending sessions of the board or of its committees and in necessary travel, and are entitled to reimbursement for all actual and necessary expenses in carrying out their official duties.

Each board is required to make a report annually to the Governor on or before the first day of January.

The secretary of each board is required to prepare and maintain a complete roster of all persons licensed or registered by it.

Declaration of Independence

In Congress July 4, 1776.

NOTE.—The delegates of the United Colonies of New Hampshire; Massachusetts Bay; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations; Connecticut; New York; New Jersey; Pennsylvania; New Castle, Kent and Sussex in Delaware; Maryland, Virginia; North Carolina, and South Carolina, Congress assembled at Philadelphia, Resolved on the 10th of May, 1776, to recommend to the respective assemblies and conventions of the United Colonies, where no government sufficient to the exigencies of their affairs had been established, to adopt such a government as should, in the opinion of the representatives of the people, best conduce to the happiness and safety of their constituents in particular, and of America in general. A preamble to this resolution, agreed to on the 15th of May, stated the intention to be totally to suppress the exercise of every kind of authority under the British crown. On the 7th of June, certain resolutions respecting independency were moved and seconded. On the 10th of June it was resolved, that a committee should be appointed to prepare a declaration to the following effect: "That the United Colonies are, and of right ought to be free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown; and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved." On the preceding day it was determined that the committee for preparing the declaration should consist of five, and they were chosen accordingly, in the following order: Mr. Jefferson, Mr. J. Adams, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Sherman, Mr. R. R. Livingston. On the 11th of June a resolution was passed to appoint a committee to prepare and digest the form of a confederation to be entered into between the colonies, and another committee to prepare a plan of treaties to be proposed to foreign powers. On the 12th of June, it was resolved: that a committee of Congress should be appointed by the name of a board of war and ordnance, to consist of five members. On the 25th of June, a declaration of the deputies of Pennsylvania, met in provincial conference, expressing their willingness to concur in a vote declaring the United Colonies free and independent States, was laid before Congress and read. On the 28th of June, the committee appointed to prepare a declaration of independence brought in a draft, which was read, and ordered to lie on the table. On the 1st of July, a resolution of the convention of Maryland, passed the 28th of June, authorizing the deputies of that colony to concur in declaring the United Colonies free and independent States, was laid before Congress and read. On the same day Congress resolved itself into a committee of the whole, to take into consideration the resolution respecting independency. On the 2d of July, a resolution declaring the colonies free and independent States was adopted. A declaration to that effect was, on the same and following days, taken into further consideration. Finally, on the 4th of July, the Declaration of Independence was agreed to, engrossed on paper, signed by John Hancock as president, and directed to be sent to the several assemblies, conventions, and committees, or councils of safety, and to the several commanding officers of the continental troops, and to be proclaimed in each of the United States, and at the head of the Army. It was also ordered to be entered upon the Journals of Congress, and on the 2d of August, a copy engrossed on parchment was signed by all but one of the fifty-six signers, whose names are appended to it. That one was Matthew Thornton of New Hampshire, who on taking his seat in November asked and obtained the privilege of signing it. Several who signed it on the 2d of August were absent when it was adopted on the 4th of July; but, approving of it, they thus signified their approbation.

(Adopted by the Continental Congress July 2, and authenticated and proclaimed July 4, 1776.)

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained, and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly for opposing with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states, for that purpose obstructing the law for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither and raising the conditions of new appropriation of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure to their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has effected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation—

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states;

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury;

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offenses;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province; establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments;

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty, and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrection amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress, in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time of attempts, by their legislature, to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity; and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

Articles of Confederation

And Perpetual Union Between the States.

NOTE.—Congress Resolved, on the 11th of June, 1776, that a committee should be appointed to prepare and digest the form of a confederation to be entered into between the Colonies; and on the day following, after it had been determined that the committee should consist of a member from each Colony, the following persons were appointed to perform that duty, to-wit: Mr. Bartlett, Mr. S. Adams, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Sherman, Mr. R. R. Livingston, Mr. Dickinson, Mr. M'Kean, Mr. Stone, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Hewes, Mr. E. Rutledge, and Mr. Gwinnett. Upon the report of this committee, the subject was, from time to time, debated, until the 15th of November, 1777, when a copy of the confederation being made out, and sundry amendments made in the diction without altering the sense, the same was finally agreed to. Congress, at the same time, directed that the articles should be proposed to the legislatures of all of the United States, to be considered, and if approved of by them, they were advised to authorize their delegates to ratify the same in the Congress of the United States; which being done, the same should become conclusive. Three hundred copies of the Articles of Confederation were ordered to be printed for the use of Congress; and on the 17th of November, the form of a circular letter to accompany them was brought in by a committee appointed to prepare it, and being agreed to, thirteen copies of it were ordered to be made out, to be signed by the president and forwarded to the several States, with copies of the confederation. On the 29th of November ensuing, a committee of three was appointed, to procure a translation of the articles to be made into the French language, and to report an address to the inhabitants of Canada, &c. On the 26th of June, 1778, the form of a ratification of the Articles of Confederation was adopted, and, it having been engrossed on parchment, it was signed on the 9th of July on the part and in behalf of their respective States, by the delegates of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and South Carolina, agreeably to the powers vested in them. The delegates of North Carolina signed on the 21st of July, those of Georgia on the 24th of July, and those of New Jersey on the 26th of November following. On the 5th of May, 1779, Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Van Dyke signed in behalf of the State of Delaware, Mr. M'Kean having previously signed in February, at which time he produced a power to that effect. Maryland did not ratify until the year 1781. She had instructed her delegates, on the 15th of December, 1778, not to agree to the confederation until matters respecting the western lands should be settled on principles of equity and sound policy; but on the 30th of January, 1781, finding that the enemies of the country took advantage of the circumstances to disseminate opinions of an ultimate dissolution of the Union, the legislature of the State passed an act to empower their delegates to subscribe and ratify the articles which was accordingly done by Mr. Hanson and Mr. Carroll, on the 1st of March of that year, which completed the ratifications of the act; and Congress assembled on the 2d day of March and under the new powers.

(Adopted by the Congress of the United States November 15, 1777, and submitted for ratification to the several states. Ratification consummated and proclaimed March 1, 1781.

TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, WE THE UNDERSIGNED DELEGATES OF THE STATES AFFIXED TO OUR NAMES, SEND GREETING:

Whereas, the delegates of the United States of America in congress assembled, did on the fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, and in the second year of the independence of America, agree to certain articles of confederation and perpetual union between the states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, in the words following, viz:

ARTICLES OF CONFEDERATION AND PERPETUAL UNION, BETWEEN THE STATES OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, MASSACHUSETTS BAY, RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS, CONNECTICUT, NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY, PENNSYLVANIA, DELAWARE, MARYLAND, VIRGINIA, NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTH CAROLINA AND GEORGIA:

ARTICLE 1. The style of this confederacy shall be "The United States of America."

ART. 2. Each state retains its sovereignty, freedom and independence, and every power, jurisdiction and right which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States, in congress assembled.

ART. 3. The said states hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other for their common defense, the security of their liberties, and their mutual and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to or attacks made upon them, or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade or any other pretense whatever.

ART. 4. The better to secure and perpetuate mutual friendship and intercourse among the people of the different states in this union, the free inhabitants of each of these states, paupers, vagabonds and fugitives from justice excepted, shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of free citizens in the several states; and the people of each state shall have free ingress and egress to and from any other state, and shall enjoy therein all the privileges of trade and commerce, subject to the same duties, impositions and restrictions as the inhabitants thereof respectively; provided that such restrictions shall not extend so far as to prevent the removal of property imported into any state to any other state of which the owner is an inhabitant; provided, also that no imposition, duties or restrictions, shall be laid by any state on the property of the United States, or either of them.

If any person guilty of or charged with treason, felony or other high misdemeanor in any state shall flee from justice, and be found in any of the United States, he shall upon demand of the governor or executive power of the state from which he fled, be delivered up and removed to the state having jurisdiction of his offense.

Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these states to the records, acts and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other state.

ART. 5. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, delegates shall be annually appointed, in such manner as the legislature of each state shall direct, to meet in congress on the first Monday in November, in every year, with power reserved to each state to recall its delegates, or any of them, at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead for the remainder of the year.

No state shall be represented in congress by less than two, nor by more than seven, members; and no person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years in any term of six years; nor shall any person, being a delegate, be capable of holding any office under the United States for which he, or another for his benefit, receives any salary, fees or emoluments of any kind.

Each state shall maintain its own delegates in a meeting of the states, and while they act as members of the committee of the states.

In determining questions in the United States in congress assembled, each state shall have one vote.

Freedom of speech and debate in congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place of congress, and the members of congress shall be protected in their persons from arrest and imprisonments, during the time of their going to and from and attendance on congress, except for treason, felony or breach of the peace.

ART. 6. No state, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance or treaty with any king, prince or state; nor shall any persons holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, or any of them, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state; nor shall the United States in congress assembled, or any of them, grant any title of nobility.

No two or more states shall enter into any treaty, confederation or alliance whatever between them, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.

No state shall lay any imposts or duties which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties, entered into by the United States in congress assembled, with any king, prince or state, in pursuance of any treaties already proposed by congress, to the courts of France and Spain.

No vessels of war shall be kept up in time of peace by any state, except such number only as shall be deemed necessary by the United States, in congress assembled, for the defense of such state, or its trade, nor shall any body of forces be kept up by any state, in time of peace, except such number only as in the judgment of the United States, in congress assembled, shall be deemed requisite to garrison the forts necessary for the defense of such state, but every state shall always keep up a well regulated and disciplined militia, sufficiently armed and accoutered, and shall provide and constantly have ready for use, in public stores, a due number of field pieces and tents, and a proper quantity of arms, ammunition and camp equipage.

No state shall engage in any war, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be actually invaded by enemies, or shall have received certain advice of a resolution being formed by some nation of Indians to invade such state, and the danger is so imminent as not to admit of a delay till the United States, in congress assembled, can be consulted; nor shall any state grant commissions to any ships, or vessels of war, nor letters of marque or reprisal, except it be after a declaration of war by the United States, in congress assembled, and then only against the kingdom or state, and the subjects thereof, against which war has been so declared, and under such regulations as shall be established by the United States, in congress assembled, unless such state be infested by pirates, in which case vessels of war may be fitted out for that occasion, and kept so long as the danger shall continue, or until the United States, in congress assembled, shall determine otherwise.

ART. 7. When land forces are raised by any state for the common defense, all officers of or under the rank of colonel shall be appointed by the legislature of each state, respectively, by whom such forces shall be raised, or in such manner as such state shall direct, and all vacancies shall be filled up by the state which first made the appointment.

ART. 8. All charges of war, and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defense or general warfare, and allowed by the United States in congress assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several states, in proportion to the value of all land within each state, granted to, or surveyed for, any person, as such land and the building and improvements thereon, shall be estimated, according to such mode as the United States in congress assembled shall, from time to time, direct and appoint.

The taxes for paying that proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the several states within the time agreed upon by the United States, in congress assembled.

ART. 9. The United States, in congress assembled, shall have the sole and exclusive right and power of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the sixth article, of sending and receiving ambassadors, entering into treaties and alliances, provided that no treaty of commerce shall be made whereby the legislative power of the respective states shall be restrained from imposing such imposts and duties on foreigners as their own people are subjected to, or from prohibiting the exportation or importation of any species of goods or commodities whatsoever; of establishing rules for deciding, in all cases, what captures on land or water shall be legal, and in what manner prizes taken by land or naval forces in the service of the United States shall be divided or appropriated; of granting letters of marque and reprisal in times of peace; appointing courts for the trial of piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and establishing courts for receiving and determining finally appeals in all cases of capture; provided that no member of congress shall be appointed a judge of any of the said courts.

The United States, in congress assembled, shall also be the last resort on appeal in all disputes and differences now subsisting, or that hereafter may arise, between two or more states concerning boundary, jurisdiction, or any other cause whatever which authority shall always be exercised in the manner following: Whenever the legislature or executive authority or lawful agent of any state in controversy with another shall present a petition, to congress, stating the matter in question and praying for a hearing, notice thereof shall be given by order of congress to the legislative or executive authority of the other state in controversy, and a day assigned for the appearance of the parties by their lawful agent, who shall then be directed to appoint, by joint consent, commissioners or judges to constitute a court for hearing and determining of the matter in question; but, if they can not agree, congress shall name three persons out of each of the United States, and from the list of such persons each party shall alternatively strike out one, the petitioners beginning, until the number shall be reduced to thirteen, and from that number not less than seven nor more than nine names, as congress shall direct, shall, in the presence of congress, be drawn out by lot, and the persons whose names shall be so drawn, or any five of them, shall be commissioners or judges to hear and finally determine the controversy, so always as a major part of the judges who shall hear the cause shall agree in the determination; and if either party shall neglect to attend at the day appointed without showing reasons which congress shall judge sufficient; or, being present shall refuse to strike, the congress shall proceed to nominate three persons out of each state, and the secretary of congress shall strike in behalf of such party absent or refusing; and the judgment and sentence of the court to be appointed in the manner before prescribed shall be final and conclusive; and if any of the parties shall refuse to submit to the authority of such court, or to appear or defend their claim or cause, the court shall nevertheless proceed to pronounce sentence or judgment which shall in like manner be final and decisive; the judgment or sentence and other proceedings being in either case transmitted to congress, and lodged among the acts of congress, for the security of the parties concerned; provided that every commissioner before he sits in judgment, shall take an oath, to be administered by one of the judges of the supreme or superior court of the state where the cause shall be tried, "well and truly to hear and determine the matter in question, according to the best of his judgment, without favor, affection or hope of reward;" provided, also, that no state shall be deprived of territory for the benefit of the United States.

All controversies concerning the private right of soil, claimed under different grants of two or more states whose jurisdiction, as they may respect such lands, and states which passed such grants, are adjusted, the said grants or either of them being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such settlement of jurisdiction shall, on the petition of either party to the congress of the United States, be finally determined, as near as may be, in the same manner as before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial jurisdiction between different states.

The United States, in congress assembled, shall also have the sole and exclusive right and power of regulating the alloy and value of coin struck by their own authority, or by that of the respective states, fixing the standard of weights and measures throughout the United States; regulating the trade and managing all affairs with the Indians, not members of any of the states; provided, that the legislative right of any state within its own limits, be not infringed or violated; establishing and regulating post offices from one state to another, throughout all the United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requisite to defray the expenses of the said office; appointing all officers of the land forces in the service of the United States, excepting regimental officers; appointing all officers of the naval forces, and commissioning all officers whatever in the service of the United States; making rules for the government and regulation of the said land and naval forces, and directing their operations.

The United States, in congress assembled, shall have authority to appoint a committee, to sit in the recess of congress, to be denominated "A Committee of the States," and to consist of one delegate from each state, and to appoint such other committees and civil officers as may be necessary for managing the general affairs of the United States under their direction; to appoint one of their number to preside; provided that no person be allowed to serve in the office of president more than one year in any term of three years; to ascertain the necessary sums of money to be raised for the service of the United States, and to appropriate and apply the same for defraying the public expense; to borrow money or emit bills on the credit of the United States, transmitting every half year to the respective states an account of the sums of money so borrowed or emitted; to build and equip a navy; to agree upon the number of land forces, and to make requisitions from each state for its quota, in proportion to the number of white inhabitants in such state, which requisition shall be binding; and thereupon the legislature of each state shall appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and clothe, arm and equip them, in a soldier-like manner, at the expense of the United States; and the officers and men, so clothed, armed and equipped, shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on, by the United States, in congress assembled, but if the United States in congress assembled, shall, on consideration of circumstances, judge proper that any state should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than its quota, and that any other state should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed and equipped in the same manner as the quota of such state, unless the legislature of such state shall judge that such extra number can not be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared, and the officers and men, so clothed, armed and equipped, shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on, by the United States, in congress assembled.

The United States, in congress assembled, shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor ascertain the sums and expenses necessary for the defense and welfare of the United States, or any of them, nor emit bills, nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of vessels of war to be built or purchased, or the number of land or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a commander-in-chief of the army, or navy, unless nine states assent to the same, nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day, be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States, in congress assembled.

The congress of the United States shall have power to adjourn to any time within the year, and to any place within the United States so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months, and shall publish the journal of their proceedings monthly except such parts thereof relating to treaties, alliances or military operations as in their judgment requires secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the delegates of each state, on any question, shall be entered on the journal, when it is desired by any delegate; and the delegates of a state or any of them, at his or their request, shall be furnished with a transcript of the said journal, except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislature of the several states.

ART. 10. The committee of the states or any nine of them, shall be authorized to execute, in the recess of congress, such of the powers of congress as the United States, in congress assembled, by the consent of nine states shall, from time to time, think expedient to vest them with; provided, that no power be delegated to the said committee, for the exercise of which by the articles of confederation, the voice of nine states, in the congress of the United States assembled, is requisite.

ART. 11. Canada acceding to this conference and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into and entitled to all the advantages of this union; but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine states.

ART. 12. All bills of credit emitted, moneys borrowed and debts contracted by or under the authority of congress, before the assembling of the United States in pursuance of the present confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a charge against the United States, for payment and satisfaction whereof the said United States and the public faith are hereby solemnly pledged.

ART. 13. Every state shall abide by the determination of the United States, in congress assembled, on all questions which by this confederation are submitted to them. And the articles of this confederation shall be inviolably observed by every state, and the union shall be perpetual nor shall any alteration at any time hereafter be made in any of them, unless such alteration be agreed to in a congress of the United States, and be afterwards confirmed by the legislatures of every state.

And whereas it hath pleased the great Governor of the world to incline the hearts of the legislatures we respectively represent in congress to approve of, and to authorize us to ratify the said articles of confederation and perpetual union. Know ye, that we, the undersigned delegates, by virtue of the power and authority to us given for that purpose, do, by these presents, in the name and in behalf of our respective constituents, fully and entirely ratify and confirm each and every of the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, and all and singular the matters and things therein contained. And we do further solemnly plight and engage the faith of our respective constituents that they shall abide by the determinations of the United States, in congress assembled, on all questions which by the said confederation are submitted to them; and that the articles shall be inviolably observed by the states we respectively represent, and that the union shall be perpetual. In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands, in congress.

sider how far a uniform system in their commercial regulations may be necessary to their common interest and their permanent harmony; and to report to the several States such an act, relative to this great object, as, when ratified by them will enable the United States in Congress effectually to provide for the same. The Virginia commissioners, after some correspondence, fixed the first Monday in September as the time, and the city of Annapolis as the place for the meeting, but only four States were represented, viz: Delaware, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Carolina and Rhode Island failed to attend. Under the circumstances of so partial a representation, the commissioners present agreed upon a report (drawn by Mr. Hamilton, of New York), expressing their unanimous conviction that it might essentially tend to advance the interests of the Union if the States by which they were respectively delegated would concur, and use their endeavors to procure the concurrence of the other States, in the appointment of commissioners to meet at Philadelphia on the second Monday of May following, to take into consideration the situation of the United States; to devise such further provisions as should appear to them necessary to render

PREAMBLE

WE THE PEOPLE of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I

LEGISLATIVE POWER VESTED IN CONGRESS

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

COMPOSITION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Section 2. 1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

QUALIFICATIONS OF REPRESENTATIVES

2. No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

APPORTIONMENT OF REPRESENTATIVES AND DIRECT TAXES—CENSUS

3. *[Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths, of all other Persons.]. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; the Constitution of the Federal government adequate to the exigencies of the Union; and to report such act for that purpose to the United States in Congress assembled as, when agreed to by them and afterwards confirmed by the Legislature of every State, would effectively provide for the same.

Congress, on the 21st of February, 1787, adopted a resolution in favor of a convention and the Legislatures of those States which had not already done so (with the exception of Rhode Island), promptly appointed delegates. On the 25th of May, seven States having convened, George Washington, of Virginia, was unanimously elected President, and the consideration of the proposed constitution was commenced. On the 17th day of September, 1787, the Constitution as engrossed and agreed upon was signed by all the members present, except Mr. Gerry, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Mason and Randolph, of Virginia. The President of the convention transmitted it to congress, with a resolution stating how the proposed Federal Government should be put in operation, and an explanatory letter. Congress, on the 28th of September, 1787, directed the Constitution so framed, with the resolutions and letter concerning the same, to be transmitted to the several Legislatures in order to be submitted to a convention of delegates chosen in each State by the people thereof, in conformity to the resolves of the convention.

On the 4th of March, 1789, the day which had been fixed for commencing the operations of Government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by the convention chosen in each State, to consider it, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788. The President informed Congress, on the 28th of January, 1790, that North Carolina had ratified the Constitution November 21, 1789; and he informed Congress on the 1st of June, 1790, that Rhode Island had ratified the Constitution May 29, 1789. Vermont, in convention, ratified the Constitution January 10, 1789, and was, by an act of Congress approved February 19, 1791, "received and admitted into this Union as a new and entire member of the United States."

*The clause included in brackets is amended by the fourteenth amendment, second section, and by the sixteenth amendment.

and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

FILLING OF VACANCIES IN REPRESENTATION

4. When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such vacancies.

SELECTION OF OFFICERS—POWER OF IMPEACHMENT

5. The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speakers and other officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

OF THE SENATE

Section 3. 1. †[The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.]

CLASSIFICATION OF SENATORS—FILLING OF VACANCIES

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the Second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the Third Class at the Expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; †[and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.]

QUALIFICATION OF SENATORS

3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

VICE-PRESIDENT TO BE PRESIDENT OF SENATE

4. The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

SELECTION OF SENATE OFFICERS—PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

5. The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore in the Absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

SENATE TO TRY IMPEACHMENTS

6. The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two-thirds of the Members present.

JUDGMENT IN CASES OF IMPEACHMENT

7. Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and Disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

†The first paragraph of Section 3, of Article I, and that part of the second paragraph of Section 3 of Article I, included in brackets have been suspended by the seventeenth amendment. (Article XVII.)

CONTROL OF CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS

Section 4. 1. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

TIME FOR ASSEMBLING OF CONGRESS

2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different Day.

EACH HOUSE TO BE THE JUDGE OF THE ELECTION AND QUALIFICATIONS OF ITS MEMBERS—REGULATION AS TO QUORUM

Section 5. 1. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do Business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

EACH HOUSE TO DETERMINE ITS OWN RULES

2. Each house may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for Disorderly Behavior. and, with the Concurrence of two-thirds, expel a Member.

JOURNALS AND YEAS AND NAYS

3. Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one-fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

ADJOURNMENT

4. Neither House, during the Sessions of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

COMPENSATION AND PRIVILEGES OF MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

Section 6. 1. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

INCOMPATIBLE OFFICERS—EXCLUSIONS

2. No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected. be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in office.

REVENUE BILLS TO ORIGINATE IN HOUSE

Section 7. 1. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

MANNER OF PASSING BILLS—VETO POWER OF PRESIDENT

2. Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approves he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by the two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

CONCURRENT ORDERS, RESOLUTIONS, &amp;C., TO BE PASSED ON BY PRESIDENT

3. Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

*GENERAL POWERS OF CONGRESS—TAXATION

Section 8. 1. The Congress shall have Power to lay and collect Taxes, Duties, imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and General Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

EXCLUSIVE LEGISLATION OVER DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, &amp;C.

17. To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, Dock Yards, and other needful Buildings; And

TO ENACT LAWS NECESSARY TO ENFORCE CONSTITUTION

18. To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

MIGRATION OR IMPORTATION OF CERTAIN PERSONS NOT TO BE PROHIBITED
BEFORE 1808

Section 9. 1. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such Importations, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS NOT TO BE SUSPENDED—EXCEPTION

2. The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the Public Safety may require it.

BILLS OF ATTAINDER AND EX-POST FACTO LAWS PROHIBITED

3. No Bill of Attainder or ex-post facto Law shall be passed.

CAPITATION AND OTHER DIRECT TAXES

4. No Capitation, or other direct Tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

EXPORTS NOT TO BE TAXED

5. No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

NO PREFERENCE TO BE GIVEN TO PORTS OF ANY STATE—INTERSTATE SHIPPING

6. No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another; nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

MONEY, HOW DRAWN FROM TREASURY—FINANCIAL STATEMENTS TO BE PUBLISHED

7. No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

TITLES OF NOBILITY NOT TO BE GRANTED—ACCEPTANCE BY GOVERNMENT OFFICERS OF FAVORS FROM FOREIGN POWERS

8. No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States; And no person holding any office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any Kind whatever, from any King, Prince or Foreign State.

LIMITATION OF THE POWERS OF THE SEVERAL STATES

Section 10. 1. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

STATE IMPORTS AND DUTIES

2. No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imports or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection Laws; and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Control of the Congress.

FURTHER RESTRICTIONS ON POWERS OF STATES

3. No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any duty or Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II

OF THE PRESIDENT—THE EXECUTIVE POWER

Section 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows:

APPOINTMENT AND QUALIFICATIONS OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS

2. Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

ORIGINAL METHOD OF ELECTING THE PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT

3. * [The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two-thirds of the States; a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there shall remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice President.]

CONGRESS MAY DETERMINE TIME OF CHOOSING ELECTORS AND DAY FOR CASTING THEIR VOTES

4. The Congress may determine the Time of choosing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

‡ QUALIFICATIONS FOR THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

5. No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained the Age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

FILLING VACANCY IN OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

6. In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the Same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation, or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

COMPENSATION OF THE PRESIDENT

7. The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

*This clause has been superseded by the twelfth amendment.

‡For qualification of the Vice-President, see Article XII of the Amendments.

OATH TO BE TAKEN BY THE PRESIDENT

8. Before he enters on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

THE PRESIDENT TO BE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF ARMY AND NAVY AND HEAD OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS—MAY GRANT REPRIEVES AND PARDONS

Section 2. 1. The President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the Actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offenses against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

PRESIDENT MAY, WITH CONCURRENCE OF SENATE, MAKE TREATIES, APPOINT AMBASSADORS, &C.—APPOINTMENT OF INFERIOR OFFICERS, AUTHORITY OF CONGRESS OVER

2. He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the Supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

PRESIDENT MAY FILL VACANCIES IN OFFICE DURING RECESS OF SENATE

3. The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

PRESIDENT TO GIVE ADVICE TO CONGRESS—MAY CONVENE OR ADJOURN IT ON CERTAIN OCCASIONS—TO RECEIVE AMBASSADORS, &C.—HAVE LAWS EXECUTED AND COMMISSION ALL OFFICERS

Section 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may Adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the officers of the United States.

ALL CIVIL OFFICERS REMOVABLE BY IMPEACHMENT

Section 4. The President, Vice President, and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III

JUDICIAL POWER—HOW VESTED—TERM OF OFFICE AND COMPENSATION OF JUDGES

Section 1. The judicial Power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their offices during good Behavior, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

*JURISDICTION OF FEDERAL COURTS

Section 2. 1. The judicial power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority,—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls;—to all Cases of Admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another state;—between Citizens of different States;—between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

ORIGINAL AND APPELLATE JURISDICTION OF SUPREME COURT

2. In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be a Party, the supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other Cases, before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

TRIAL OF ALL CRIMES, EXCEPT IMPEACHMENT, TO BE BY JURY

3. The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

TREASON DEFINED—CONVICTION OF

Section 3. 1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open court.

CONGRESS TO DECLARE PUNISHMENT FOR TREASON—PROVISO

2. The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture, except during the Life of the Person attained.

ARTICLE IV*EACH STATE TO GIVE FULL FAITH AND CREDIT TO THE PUBLIC ACTS AND RECORDS OF OTHER STATES

Section 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws Prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

PRIVILEGES OF CITIZENS

Section 2. 1. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

EXTRADITION BETWEEN THE SEVERAL STATES

2. A Person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

†PERSONS HED TO LABOR OR SERVICE IN ONE STATE, FLEEING TO ANOTHER, TO BE RETURNED

3. No person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.

*This section is abridged by Article XI of the Amendments.

†See Thirteenth Amendment.

NEW STATES

Section 3. 1. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction or two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislature of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

REGULATIONS CONCERNING TERRITORY

2. The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

REPUBLICAN FORM OF GOVERNMENT AND PROTECTION GUARANTEED THE SEVERAL STATES

Section 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

ARTICLE V

WAYS IN WHICH THE CONSTITUTION CAN BE AMENDED

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three-fourths thereof; as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of its equal Suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI

DEBTS CONTRACTED UNDER THE CONFEDERATION SECURED

1. All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

CONSTITUTION, LAWS AND TREATIES OF THE UNITED STATES TO BE SUPREME

2. This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States, which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

WHO SHALL TAKE CONSTITUTIONAL OATH—NO RELIGIOUS TEST AS TO OFFICIAL QUALIFICATION

3. The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the Several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States, and of the several States shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII

CONSTITUTION TO BE CONSIDERED ADOPTED WHEN RATIFIED BY NINE STATES

The Ratification of the Conventions of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same.

DONE in Convention by the Unanimous Consent of the States present the Seventeenth Day of September in the Year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and Eighty seven and of the Independence of the United States of America the Twelfth. IN WITNESS whereof We have hereunto subscribed our Names.

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, § and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice President, and they shall make distinct lists of all the persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate:— The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of *The eleventh amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Legislatures of the several States by a resolution of Congress passed on the 5th of September, 1794, at the first session of the Third Congress; and on the 8th of January, 1798, at the second session of the Fifth Congress, it was declared by the President, in a message to the two Houses of Congress, to have been adopted by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States, there being at that time sixteen States in the Union.

†See Article III, Sec. 2.

‡The twelfth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Legislatures of the several States, there being then seventeen States, in lieu of the original third paragraph of the first section of the second article by a resolution of Congress passed on the 12th of December, 1803, at the first session of the Eighth Congress, and was ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States in 1804, according to a proclamation of the Secretary of State dated the 25th of September, 1804.

§On the second Monday in January by act of Congress, approved February 3, 1887.

Representatives, open all the certificates || and the votes shall then be counted:— The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice President, shall be the Vice President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice President of the United States.

||On the second Wednesday in February, by Act of Congress approved February 3, 1887.

*The thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Legislatures of the several States, there being then thirty-six States, by a resolution of Congress passed on the 1st of February, 1865, at the second session of the Thirty-eighth Congress, and was ratified, according to a proclamation of the Secretary of State dated December 18, 1865, by the Legislatures of twenty-seven of the thirty-six States, viz: Illinois, February 1, 1865; Rhode Island, February 2, 1865; Michigan, February 2, 1865; Maryland, February 3, 1865; New York, February 3, 1865; West Virginia, February 3, 1865; Maine, February 7, 1865; Kansas, February 7, 1865; Massachusetts, February 8, 1865; Pennsylvania, February 8, 1865; Virginia, February 9, 1865; Ohio, February 10, 1865; Missouri, February 10, 1865; Indiana, February 16, 1865; Nevada, February 16, 1865; Louisiana, February 17, 1865; Minnesota, February 23, 1865; Wisconsin, March 1, 1865; Vermont, March 9, 1865; Tennessee, April 7, 1865; Arkansas, April 20, 1865; Connecticut, May 5, 1865; New Hampshire, July 1, 1865; South Carolina, November 13, 1865; Alabama, December 2, 1865; North Carolina, December 4, 1865; Georgia, December 9, 1865. The following States not enumerated in the proclamation of the Secretary of State also ratified this amendment: Oregon, December 11, 1865; California, December 20, 1865; Florida, December 28, 1865; New Jersey, January 23, 1866; Iowa, January 24, 1866; Texas, February 18, 1870.

†The fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the Legislatures of the several States by the Thirty-ninth Congress, on the 16th of June, 1866. On the 21st day of July, 1868, Congress adopted and transmitted to the Department of State a concurrent resolution declaring that

APPORTIONMENT OF REPRESENTATIVES

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one year of age in such State.

DISQUALIFICATION FOR OFFICE—REMOVAL OF DISABILITY

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection, or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

PUBLIC DEBT NOT TO BE QUESTIONED—PAYMENT OF DEBTS AND CLAIMS INCURRED IN AID OF REBELLION FORBIDDEN

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

CONGRESS GIVEN POWER TO ENFORCE THIS ARTICLE

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

“the Legislatures of the States of Connecticut, Tennessee, New Jersey, Oregon, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Illinois, West Virginia, Kansas, Maine, Nevada, Missouri, Indiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Iowa, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Alabama, South Carolina and Louisiana, being three-fourths and more of the several States of the Union, having ratified the fourteenth article of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, duly proposed by two-thirds of each House of the Thirty-ninth Congress: Therefore, Resolved, That said fourteenth article is hereby declared to be a part of the Constitution of the United States, and it shall be duly promulgated as such by the Secretary of State.” The Secretary of State accordingly issued a proclamation, dated the 28th of July, declaring that the proposed fourteenth amendment had been ratified, in the manner hereafter mentioned, by the Legislatures of thirty of the thirty-six States, viz: Connecticut, June 30, 1866; New Hampshire, July 7, 1866; Tennessee, July 19, 1866; New Jersey, September 11, 1866, (and the Legislature of the same State passed a resolution in April, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it); Oregon, September 19, 1866; Vermont, November 9, 1866; Georgia, rejected it November 13, 1866; and ratified it July 21, 1868; North Carolina rejected it December 4, 1866, and ratified it July 4, 1868; South Carolina rejected it December 20, 1866, and ratified it July 9, 1868; New York ratified it January 10, 1867; Ohio ratified it January 11, 1867 (and the Legislature of the same State passed a resolution in January, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it); Illinois ratified it January 15, 1867; West Virginia, January 16, 1867; Kansas, January 18, 1867; Maine, January 19, 1867; Nevada, January 22, 1867; Missouri, January 26, 1867; Indiana, January 29, 1867; Minnesota, February 1, 1867; Rhode Island, February 7, 1867; Wisconsin, February 13, 1867; Pennsylvania, February 13, 1867; Michigan, February 15, 1867; Massachusetts, March 20, 1867; Nebraska, June 15, 1867; Iowa, April 3, 1868; Arkansas, April 6, 1868; Florida, June 9, 1868; Louisiana, July 9, 1868; and Alabama, July 13, 1868. ## ARTICLE I

RELATION TO THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES

1. The State of West Virginia is, and shall remain, one of the United States of America. The Constitution of the United States of America, and the laws and treaties made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land.

INTERNAL GOVERNMENT AND POLICE

2. The government of the United States is a government of enumerated powers, and all powers not delegated to it, nor inhibited to the States, are reserved to the States or to the people thereof. Among the powers so reserved to the States is the exclusive regulation of their own internal government and police; and it is the high and solemn duty of the several departments of government, created by this Constitution, to guard and protect the people of this State from all encroachments upon the rights so reserved.

CONTINUITY OF CONSTITUTIONAL OPERATION

3. The provisions of the Constitution of the United States, and of this State, are operative alike in a period of war as in times of peace, and any departure therefrom, or violation thereof, under the plea of necessity, or any other plea, is subversive of good government, and tends to anarchy and despotism.

REPRESENTATIVES TO CONGRESS

4. For the election of representatives to congress, the State shall be divided into districts, corresponding in number with the representatives to which it may be entitled; which districts shall be formed of contiguous counties, and be compact. Each district shall contain, as nearly as may be, an equal number of population, to be determined according to the rule prescribed in the Constitution of the United States.

THE STATE

1. The territory of the following counties, formerly parts of the Commonwealth of Virginia, shall constitute and form the State of West Virginia, viz:

The counties of Barbour, Berkeley, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Fayette, Gilmer, Grant, Greenbrier, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Kanawha, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Marion, Marshall, Mason, McDowell, Mercer, Mineral, Monongalia, Monroe, Morgan, Nicholas, Ohio, Pendleton, Pleasants, Pocahontas, Preston, Putnam, Raleigh, Randolph, Ritchie, Roane, Summers, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Webster, Wetzel, Wirt, Wood and Wyoming. The State of West Virginia includes the bed, banks and shores of the Ohio River, and so much of the Big Sandy River as was formerly included in the Commonwealth of Virginia, and all territorial rights and property in, and jurisdiction over the same, heretofore reserved by and vested in the Commonwealth of Virginia, are vested in and shall hereafter be exercised by the State of West Virginia. And such parts of the said beds, banks and shores, as lie opposite, and adjoining the several counties of this State, shall form parts of said several counties respectively.

[All of the territory of West Virginia was taken from the Commonwealth of Virginia and in the first constitution forty-four of the above named counties were designated as forming the State of West Virginia, and in addition the counties of Berkeley, Hampshire, Hardy, Jefferson, Morgan and Pendleton were to be admitted should the constitution be adopted by a vote of the people of the districts comprising the counties. The districts adopted the constitution and these six counties became part of the state.

The remaining five counties were created by acts of the legislature as follows: Mineral County, from Hampshire County, on February 1, 1866; Grant County, from Hardy County, on February 14, 1866; Lincoln County, from parts of Cabell, Putnam, Kanawha and Boone Counties, on February 23, 1867; Summers County, from parts of Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer and Fayette Counties, on February 27, 1871; Mingo County, erected since the adoption of the constitution and not included in the above list of Counties, was erected from Logan County, on February 23, 1895.]

POWERS OF GOVERNMENT IN CITIZENS

2. The powers of government reside in all the citizens of the State, and can be rightfully exercised only in accordance with their will and appointment.

REQUISITES OF CITIZENSHIP

3. All persons residing in this State, born, or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall be citizens of this State.

EQUAL REPRESENTATION

4. Every citizen shall be entitled to equal representation in the government, and, in all apportionments of representation, equality of numbers of those entitled thereto, shall as far as practicable, be preserved.

PROVISIONS REGARDING PROPERTY

5. No distinction shall be made between resident aliens and citizens, as to the acquisition, tenure, disposition or descent of property.

TREASON, WHAT CONSTITUTES—PENALTY

6. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. Treason shall be punished according to the character of the acts committed, by the infliction of one or more of the penalties of death, imprisonment or fine, as may be prescribed by law.

“MONTANI SEMPER LIBERI”—STATE SEAL

7. The present seal of the State with its motto, “Montani Semper Liberi,” shall be the great seal of the State of West Virginia, and shall be kept by the Secretary of State, to be used by him officially, as directed by law.

WRITS, COMMISSIONS, OFFICIAL BONDS—INDICTMENTS

8. Writs, grants and commissions, issued under the authority of this State, shall run in the name of, and official bonds shall be made payable to, the State of West Virginia. Indictments shall conclude, "Against the peace and dignity of the State."

ARTICLE III

BILL OF RIGHTS

1. All men are, by nature, equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights, of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot, by any compact, deprive or divest their posterity, namely, the enjoyment of life and liberty, with the means of acquiring and possessing property, and of pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety.

MAGISTRATES SERVANTS OF PEOPLE

2. All power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people. Magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at all times amenable to them.

RIGHTS RESERVED TO PEOPLE

3. Government is instituted for the common benefit, protection and security of the people, nation or community. Of all its various forms that is the best, which is capable of producing the greatest degree of happiness and safety, and is most effectually secured against the danger of maladministration; and when any government shall be found inadequate or contrary to these purposes, a majority of the community has an indubitable, inalienable and indefeasible right to reform, alter or abolish it in such a manner as shall be judged most conducive to the public weal.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

4. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended. No person shall be held to answer for treason, felony or other crime not cognizable by a justice, unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury. No bill of attainder, ex-post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of a contract, shall be passed.

EXCESSIVE BAIL NOT REQUIRED

5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted. Penalties shall be proportioned to the character and degree of the offense. No person shall be transported out of, or forced to leave the State for any offense committed within the same; nor shall any person, in any criminal case, be compelled to be a witness against himself, or be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty for the same offense.

UNREASONABLE SEARCH AND SEIZURES PROHIBITED

6. The rights of citizens to be secure in their houses, persons, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated. No warrant shall issue except upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, or the person or thing to be seized.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS GUARANTEED

7. No law abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, shall be passed; but the Legislature may, by suitable penalties, restrain the publication or sale of obscene books, papers or pictures, and provide for the punishment of libel, and defamation of character, and for the recovery in civil actions, by the aggrieved party, of suitable damages for such libel or defamation.

RELATING TO CIVIL SUITS FOR LIBEL

8. In prosecutions and civil suits for libel, the truth may be given in evidence, and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives, and for justifiable ends, the verdict shall be for the defendant.

PRIVATE PROPERTY, HOW TAKEN

9. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use, without just compensation, nor shall the same be taken by any company, incorporated for the purpose of internal improvement, until just compensation shall have been paid or secured to be paid, to the owner; and when private property shall be taken, or damaged, for public use, or for the use of such corporations, the compensation to the owner shall be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by general law; Provided, That when required by either of the parties, such compensation shall be ascertained by an impartial jury of twelve freeholders.

SAFEGUARDS FOR LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY

10. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, and the judgment of his peers.

POLITICAL TESTS CONDEMNED

11. Political tests requiring persons, as a prerequisite to the enjoyment of their civil and political rights, to purge themselves of their own oaths, of past alleged offenses, are repugnant to the principles of free government, and are cruel and oppressive. No religious or political test oath shall be required as a prerequisite or qualification to vote, serve as a juror, sue, plead, appeal, or pursue any profession or employment. Nor shall any person be deprived by law, of any right, or privilege, because of any act done prior to the passage of such law.

MILITARY SUBORDINATE TO CIVIL POWERS

12. Standing armies, in time of peace, should be avoided as dangerous to liberty. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power; and no citizen, unless engaged in the military service of the State, shall be tried or punished by any military court, for any offense that is cognizable by the civil courts of the State. No soldier shall in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, except in the manner to be prescribed by law.

RIGHT OF JURY TRIAL

13. In suits at common law, where the value in controversy exceeds twenty dollars exclusive of interest and costs, the right of trial by jury, if required by either party, shall be preserved; and in such suit before a justice a jury may consist of six persons. No fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any case than according to the rules of common law.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of March 7, 1879, Acts 1879, p. 182, and adopted at the next election. Prior to being amended the section read as follows: "In suits at common law, where the value in controversy, exclusive of interest and costs, exceeds twenty dollars, the rights of trial by a jury of twelve men, if required by either party, shall be preserved; except that in appeals from judgments of justices, a jury of a less number may be authorized by law; but in trials of civil cases before a justice no jury shall be allowed, and no fact tried by a jury shall, in any case, be otherwise re-examined, than according to the rules of common law."]

TRIALS OF CRIMES—PROVISIONS IN INTEREST OF ACCUSED

14. Trials of crimes, and of misdemeanors, unless herein otherwise provided, shall be by a jury of twelve men, public, without unreasonable delay, and in the county where the alleged offense was committed, unless upon petition of the accused, and for good cause shown, it is removed to some other county. In all such trials the accused shall be fully and plainly informed of the character and cause of the accusation, and be confronted with the witnesses against him, and shall have the assistance of counsel, and a reasonable time to prepare for his defense; and there shall be awarded to him compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM GUARANTEED

15. No man shall be compelled to frequent or support any religious worship, place or ministry whatsoever; nor shall any man be enforced, restrained, molested or burthened, in his body or goods, or otherwise suffer, on account of his religious opinions or belief; but all men shall be free to profess, and, by argument, to maintain their opinions in matters of religion; and the same shall, in no wise, affect, diminish or enlarge their civil capacities; and the legislature shall not prescribe any religious test whatever, or confer any peculiar privileges or advantages, on any sect or denomination, or pass any law requiring or authorizing any religious society, or the people of any district within this State, to levy on themselves, or others, any tax for the erection or repair of any house for public worship, or for the support of any church or ministry, but it shall be left free for every person to select his religious instructor, and to make for his support such private contract as he shall please.

RIGHT OF PUBLIC ASSEMBLY HELD INVIOLEATE

16. The right of the people to assemble in a peaceable manner, to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives, or to apply for redress of grievances, shall be held inviolate.

COURTS OPEN TO ALL—JUSTICE ADMINISTERED SPEEDILY

17. The courts of this State shall be open, and every person, for an injury done to him in his person, property or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law; and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay.

CONVICTION NOT TO WORK CORRUPTION OF BLOOD OR FORFEITURE

18. No conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

HEREDITARY EMOLUMENTS, ETC., PROVIDED AGAINST

19. No hereditary emoluments, honors or privileges shall ever be granted or conferred in this State.

PRESERVATION OF FREE GOVERNMENT

20. Free government and the blessings of liberty can be preserved to any people only by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.

ARTICLE IV

ELECTIONS AND OFFICERS

1. The *male citizens of the State shall be entitled to vote at all elections held within the counties in which they respectively reside; but no person who is a minor, or of unsound mind, or a pauper, or who is under conviction of treason, felony, or bribery in an election, or who has not been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county in which he offers to vote, for sixty days next preceding such offer, shall be permitted to vote while such disability continues; but no person in the military, naval or marine service of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this State by reason of being stationed therein.

MODE OF VOTING BY BALLOT

2. In all elections by the people, the mode of voting shall be by ballot; but the voter shall be left free to vote by either open, sealed or secret ballot, as he may elect.

---

VOTER NOT SUBJECT TO ARREST ON CIVIL PROCESS

3. No voter, during the continuance of an election at which he is entitled to vote, or during the time necessary and convenient for going to and returning from the same, shall be subject to arrest upon civil process, or be compelled to attend any court, or judicial proceeding, as suitor, juror or witness; or to work upon the public roads; or, except in time of war or public danger, to render military service.

PERSONS ENTITLED TO HOLD OFFICE—AGE REQUIREMENTS

4. No person, except citizens entitled to vote, shall be elected or appointed to any State, county or municipal office; but the Governor and Judges must have attained the age of thirty, and the Attorney General and Senators the age of twenty-five years, at the beginning of their respective terms of service, and must have been citizens of the State for five years next preceding their election or appointment, or be citizens at the time this Constitution goes into operation.

OATH OR AFFIRMATION TO SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION

5. Every person elected or appointed to any office, before proceeding to exercise the authority, or discharge the duties thereof, shall make oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this State, and that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his said office to the best of his skill and judgment, and no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification, unless herein otherwise provided.

PROVISION FOR REMOVAL OF OFFICIALS

6. All officers elected or appointed under this Constitution may, unless in cases herein otherwise provided for, be removed from office, for official misconduct, incompetence, neglect of duty, or gross immorality, in such manner as may be prescribed by general laws, and unless so removed they shall continue to discharge the duties of their respective offices until their successors are elected, or appointed, and qualified.

GENERAL ELECTIONS, WHEN HELD—TERMS OF OFFICIALS

7. The general elections of State and county officers, and of members of the legislature, shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, until otherwise provided by law. The terms of such officers not elected, or appointed to fill a vacancy, shall, unless herein otherwise provided, begin on the first day of January; and of the members of the Legislature, on the first day of December next succeeding their election. Elections to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term. When vacancies occur prior to any general election, they shall be filled by appointments, in such manner as may be prescribed herein, or by general law, which appointments shall expire at such time after the next general election as the person so elected to fill such vacancy shall be qualified.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 21, 1883, Acts 1883, p. 137, and ratified at the next election. The original section provided that the general election should be held on "the second Tuesday in October," and the change was made in order that the election of State officers would fall on the same day as the presidential election. As a consequential amendment the term of office of members of the Legislature was made to begin on the first day of December instead of the first day of November, as in the original article.]

FURTHER PROVISIONS REGARDING STATE'S OFFICERS AND AGENTS

8. The Legislature, in cases not provided for in this constitution, shall prescribe, by general laws, the terms of office, powers, duties and compensation of all public officers and agents, and the manner in which they shall be elected, appointed and removed.

IMPEACHMENT OF OFFICIALS

9. Any officer of the State may be impeached for maladministration, corruption, incompetency, gross immorality, neglect of duty, or any high crime or misdemeanor. The House of Delegates shall have the sole power of impeachment. The Senate shall have the sole power to try impeachments, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto. When sitting as a court of impeachment, the President of the Supreme Court of Appeals, or if from any cause it be improper for him to act, then any other judge of that court, to be designated by it, shall preside; and the Senators shall be on oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust or profit, under the State; but the party convicted shall be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law. The Senate may sit during the recess of the Legislature, for the trial of impeachments.

FIGHTING OF DUELS PROHIBITED

10. Any citizen of this State who shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, either in or out of the State, fight a duel with deadly weapons, or send or accept a challenge so to do, or who shall act as a second or knowingly aid or assist in such duel, shall, ever thereafter, be incapable of holding any office of honor, trust or profit in this State.

SAFEGUARDS FOR BALLOTS

11. The Legislature shall prescribe the manner of conducting and making returns of elections, and of determining contested elections; and shall pass such laws as may be necessary and proper to prevent intimidation, disorder or violence at the polls, and corruption or fraud in voting, counting the vote, ascertaining or declaring the result, or fraud in any manner, upon the ballot.

REGISTRATION LAWS PROVIDED FOR

12. The Legislature shall enact proper laws for the registration of all qualified voters in this State.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 22, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 472, and adopted at the next election. The original section read as follows: "No citizen shall ever be denied or refused the right or privilege of voting at an election, because his name is not or has not been registered or listed as a qualified voter."]

DIVISION OF POWERS

1. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments shall be separate and distinct, so that neither shall exercise the powers properly belonging to either of the others; nor shall any person exercise the powers of more than one of them at the same time, except that justices of the peace shall be eligible to the Legislature.

ARTICLE VI

LEGISLATURE

1. The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and House of Delegates. The style of their Acts shall be, "Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia."

[†The Senate is now composed of thirty, and the House of Delegates of ninety-four members.]

[*There are now fifteen senatorial districts, as provided by Acts 1901, Ch. 101.]

COMPOSITION OF SENATE AND HOUSE OF DELEGATES

2. The Senate shall be composed of twenty-four, † and the House of Delegates of sixty-five * members subject to be increased according to the provisions hereinafter contained.

SENATORS AND DELEGATES—TERMS OF OFFICE

3. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years and Delegates for the term of two years. The Senators first elected, shall divide themselves into two classes, one Senator from every district being assigned to each class; and of these classes, the first to be designated by lot in such manner as the Senate may determine, shall hold their seats for two years; and the second for four years, so that after the first election, one-half of the Senators shall be elected biennially.

DIVISION OF STATE INTO SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

4. For the election of Senators, the State shall be divided into *twelve Senatorial Districts, which number shall not be diminished, but may be increased as hereinafter provided. Every district shall elect two Senators, but where the district is composed of more than one county, both shall not be chosen from the same county. The districts shall be compact, formed of contiguous territory, bounded by county lines, and, as nearly as practicable, equal in population, to be ascertained by the census of the United States. After every such census, the Legislature shall alter the Senatorial Districts, so far as may be necessary to make them conform to the foregoing provision.

SENATORIAL DISTRICTS DESIGNATED

5. Until the Senatorial Districts shall be altered by the Legislature as herein prescribed, the counties of Hancock, Brooke, and Ohio shall constitute the first Senatorial District; Marshall, Wetzel and Marion, the second; Ritchie, Doddridge, Harrison, Gilmer and Calhoun, the third; Tyler, Pleasants, Wood and Wirt, the fourth; Jackson, Mason, Putnam and Roane, the fifth; Kanawha, Clay, Nicholas, Braxton and Webster, the sixth; Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln, Boone, Logan, Wyoming, McDowell and Mercer, the seventh; Monroe, Greenbrier, Summers, Pocahontas, Fayette and Raleigh, the eighth; Lewis, Randolph, Upshur, Barbour, Taylor and Tucker, the ninth; Preston and Monongalia, the tenth; Hampshire, Mineral, Hardy, Grant and Pendleton, the eleventh; Berkeley, Morgan and Jefferson, the twelfth.

[By the provisions of the reapportionment act of 1901 (Acts 1901, ch. 10), the number of Senatorial Districts was increased to fifteen, the number of Senators to thirty, and the counties re-arranged into districts.]

PROVISION FOR DELEGATE REPRESENTATION

6. For the election of Delegates, every county containing a population of not less than three-fifths of the ratio of representation for the House of Delegates, shall, at each apportionment, be attached to some contiguous county or counties, to form a Delegate District.

[By the provisions of the Acts of 1901, ch. 10, the House of Delegates consisted of eighty-six members, each county having at least one member. Since the general election of 1916, the House of Delegates consists of ninety-four members, each county having at least one member. See Ch. 30, p. 270, Acts 1915, Regular Session.]

AFTER CENSUS, DELEGATE APPORTIONMENT

7. After every census the Delegates shall be apportioned as follows: The ratio of representation for the House of Delegates shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of the State by the number of which the House is to consist and rejecting the fraction of a unit, if any, resulting from such division. Dividing the population of every Delegate District, and of every county not included in a delegate district, by the ratio thus ascertained, there shall be assigned to each a number of Delegates equal to the quotient obtained by this division, excluding the fractional remainder. The additional Delegates necessary to make up the number of which the House is to consist, shall then be assigned to those Delegate Districts, and counties not included in a Delegate District, which would otherwise have the largest fractions unrepresented, but every Delegate District and county not included in a Delegate District shall be entitled to at least one Delegate.

DESIGNATION OF DELEGATE DISTRICTS

8. Until a new apportionment shall be declared, the counties of Pleasants and Wood shall form the first Delegate District, and elect three Delegates; Ritchie and Calhoun, the second, and elect two Delegates; Barbour, Harrison and Taylor, the third, and elect one Delegate; Randolph and Tucker, the fourth, and elect one Delegate; Nicholas, Clay and Webster, the fifth, and elect one Delegate; McDowell and Wyoming, the sixth, and elect one Delegate.

[There are now no delegate districts, each county having at least one member.]

FURTHER APPORTIONMENT

9. Until a new apportionment shall be declared the apportionment of Delegates to the counties not included in Delegate Districts, and to Barbour, Harrison and Taylor counties, embraced in such districts, shall be as follows:

To Barbour, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Doddridge, Fayette, Hampshire, Hancock, Jackson, Lewis, Logan, Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer, Mineral, Morgan, Grant, Hardy, Lincoln, Pendleton, Putnam, Roane, Gilmer, Taylor, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzel, Wirt, Pocahontas, Summers and Raleigh counties, one Delegate each.

To Berkeley, Harrison, Jefferson, Marion, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia and Preston counties, two Delegates each.

To Kanawha County, three delegates.

To Ohio County, four delegates.

[Many changes have been made in this apportionment and Kanawha County, the largest in population, now has six delegates.]

ARRANGEMENT OF SENATORIAL AND DELEGATE DISTRICTS

10. The arrangement of the Senatorial and Delegate Districts, and apportionment of Delegates, shall hereafter be declared by law, as soon as possible after each succeeding census, taken by authority of the United States. When so declared they shall apply to the first general election for members of the Legislature, to be thereafter held, and shall continue in force unchanged, until such Districts shall be altered, and Delegates apportioned, under the succeeding census.

ADDITIONAL TERRITORY MAY BE ADMITTED INTO STATE

11. Additional territory may be admitted into, and become part of this State, with the consent of the Legislature and a majority of the qualified voters of the State, voting on the question. And in such case provision shall be made by law for the representation thereof in the Senate and House of Delegates, in conformity with the principles set forth in this Constitution. And the number of members of which each house of the Legislature is to consist, shall thereafter be increased by the representation assigned to such additional territory.

SENATORS AND DELEGATES REQUIRED TO BE RESIDENTS OF DISTRICTS

12. No person shall be a Senator or Delegate who has not for one year next preceding his election, been a resident within the District or county from which he is elected; and if a Senator or Delegate remove from the District or County for which he was elected, his seat shall be thereby vacated.

ELIGIBILITY TO SEAT IN LEGISLATURE

13. No person holding a lucrative office under this State, the United States, or any foreign government; no member of Congress; no person who is a salaried officer of any railroad company, or who is sheriff, constable or clerk of any court of record, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature.

BRIBERY CONVICTION FORFEITS ELIGIBILITY

14. No person who has been, or hereafter shall be convicted of bribery, perjury, or other infamous crime, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature. No person who may have collected or been entrusted with public money, whether State, county, township, district, or other municipal organization, shall be eligible to the Legislature, or to any office of honor, trust or profit in this State, until he shall have duly accounted for and paid over such money according to law.

SENATORS AND DELEGATES NOT TO HOLD CIVIL OFFICE FOR PROFIT

15. No Senator or Delegate, during the term for which he shall have been elected, shall be elected or appointed to any civil office of profit under this State, which has been created, or the emoluments of which have been increased during such term, except offices to be filled by election by the people. Nor shall any member of the Legislature be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the State, or any county thereof authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected.

OATH OF SENATORS AND DELEGATES

16. Members of the Legislature, before they enter upon their duties, shall take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of West Virginia, and faithfully discharge the duties of Senator (or Delegate) according to the best of my ability;" and they shall also take this further oath, to-wit: "I will not accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing, from any corporation, company, or person, for any vote or influence I may give or withhold, as Senator (or Delegate), on any bill, resolution or appropriation, or for any act I may do or perform as Senator (or Delegate)." These oaths shall be administered in the hall of the house to which the member is elected, by a Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, or of a Circuit Court, or by any other person authorized by law to administer an oath; and the Secretary of State shall record and file said oaths subscribed by each member; and no other oath or declaration shall be required as a qualification. Any member who shall refuse to take the oath herein prescribed, shall forfeit his seat; and any member who shall be convicted of having violated the oath last above required to be taken, shall forfeit his seat and be disqualified thereafter from holding any office of profit or trust in this State.

MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE PRIVILEGED FROM CIVIL ARREST

17. Members of the Legislature shall, in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session, and for ten days before and after the same; and for words spoken in debate, or any report, motion or proposition made in either house, a member shall not be questioned in any other place.

TIME OF ASSEMBLY OF LEGISLATURE

18. The Legislature shall assemble at the seat of government, biennially, and not oftener, unless convened by the Governor. The first session of the Legislature, after the adoption of this Constitution, shall commence on the third Tuesday of November, 1872, and the regular biennial session of the Legislature shall commence on the second Wednesday of January, 1875, and every two years thereafter, on the same day.

CONVENING OF LEGISLATURE BY GOVERNOR

19. The Governor may convene the Legislature by proclamation whenever, in his opinion, the public safety or welfare shall require it. It shall be his duty to convene it, on application in writing, of three-fifths of the members elected to each house.

SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

20. The seat of government shall be at Charleston, until otherwise provided by law.

PROVISION FOR ASSEMBLING OF LEGISLATURE OTHER THAN AT THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

21. The Governor may convene the Legislature at another place, when, in his opinion, it can not safely assemble at the seat of Government, and the Legislature may, when in session, adjourn to some other place, when, in its opinion, the public safety or welfare, or the safety of the members, or their health, shall require it.

*LENGTH OF LEGISLATIVE SESSION

22. All sessions of the Legislature, other than extraordinary sessions, shall continue for a period of sixty days from the date of beginning. But all regular sessions may be extended by the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house.

CONCERNING ADJOURNMENT

23. Neither house shall, during the session, adjourn for more than three days, without the consent of the other. Nor shall either, without such consent, adjourn to any other place than that in which the Legislature is sitting.

RULES GOVERNING LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

24. A majority of the members elected to each house of the Legislature shall constitute a quorum. But a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, as each house may provide. Each house shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members. The Senate shall choose, from its own body, a President; and the House of Delegates, from its own body, a Speaker. Each house shall appoint its own officers, and remove them at pleasure. The oldest delegate present shall call the House to order at the opening of each new House of Delegates, and preside over it until the Speaker thereof shall have been chosen and have taken his seat. The oldest member of the Senate present at the commencement of each regular session thereof shall call the Senate to order, and preside over the same until a President of the Senate shall have been chosen and have taken his seat.

AUTHORITY TO PUNISH MEMBERS

25. Each house may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.

PROVISIONS FOR UNDISTURBED TRANSACTION OF BUSINESS

26. Each house shall have power to provide for its own safety, and the undisturbed transactions of its business; and may punish, by imprisonment, any person not a member, for disrespectful behavior in its presence, for obstructing any of its proceedings, or any of its officers in the discharge of his duties, or for any assault, threat or abuse of a member for words spoken in debate. But such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session, and shall not prevent the punishment of any offense by the ordinary course of law.

*[This section originally read as follows: "No session of the Legislature, after the first, shall continue longer than forty-five days without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each House." Under Senate Joint Resolution No. 3 (Acts 1919, p. 498) at the general election in November, 1920, it was amended to read: "All sessions of the Legislature, other than extraordinary sessions, shall continue in session for a period not exceeding fifteen days, from date of convening, during which time no bills shall be passed or rejected, unless the same shall be necessary to provide for a public emergency, shall be specially recommended by the Governor and passed by a vote of four-fifths of the members elected to each house; whereupon, a recess of both houses must be taken until the Wednesday after the second Monday of March following. On reassembling of the Legislature, no bill shall be introduced in either house without a vote of three-fourths of all the members elected to each house, taken by yeas and nays. The regular sessions shall not continue longer than forty-five days after reconvening, without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house." Under Joint Resolution No. 9, Acts 1927, page 350, at the general election in November, 1928, this section was again amended to read as given in the text.]

ACCOUNTING FOR STATE MONIES

27. Laws shall be enacted and enforced, by suitable provisions and penalties, requiring sheriffs, and all other officers, whether State, county, district or municipal, who shall collect or receive, or whose official duty it is or shall be to collect, receive, hold or pay out any money belonging to, or which is, or shall be, for the use of the State or of any county, district, or municipal corporation, to make annual account and settlement therefor. Such settlement, when made, shall be subject to exceptions, and take such direction, and have only such force and effect, as may be provided by law; but, in all cases, such settlement shall be recorded, and be open to the examination of the people at such convenient place or places as may be appointed by law.

ORIGINATION OF BILLS

28. Bills and resolutions may originate in either house, but may be passed, amended or rejected by the other.

REQUIREMENT FOR READING OF BILLS

29. No bill shall become a law until it has been fully and distinctly read, on three different days, in each house, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays on each bill, this rule be dispensed with; Provided, In all cases, that an engrossed bill shall be fully and distinctly read in each house.

ACTS TO EMBRACE BUT ONE OBJECT—TIME OF EFFECT

30. No act hereafter passed shall embrace more than one object, and that shall be expressed in the title. But if any object shall be embraced in an act which is not so expressed, the act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed, and no law shall be revived, or amended, by reference to its title only; but the law revived, or the section amended, shall be inserted at large, in the new act. And no act of the Legislature, except such as may be passed at the first session under this Constitution, shall take effect until the expiration of ninety days after its passage, unless the Legislature shall, by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, taken by yeas and nays, otherwise direct.

HOW BILLS MAY BE AMENDED

31. When a bill or joint resolution passed by one House shall be amended by the other the question on agreeing to the bill, or joint resolution, as amended, shall be again voted on, by yeas and nays, in the house by which it was originally passed, and the result entered upon its journals; in all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to such house shall be necessary.

"MAJORITY" DEFINED

32. Whenever the words, "a majority of the members elected to either house of the Legislature," or words of like import, are used in this Constitution, they shall be construed to mean a majority of the whole number of members to which each house is, at the time, entitled under the apportionment of representation, established by the provisions of this Constitution.

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS

33. *The members of the Legislature shall each receive for his services the sum of five hundred dollars per annum and ten cents for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government by the most direct route. The Speaker of the House of Delegates and the President of the Senate shall each receive an additional compensation of two dollars per day for each day they shall act as presiding officers. No other allowance or emolument than that by this section provided shall directly or indirectly be made or paid to the members of either house for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatever.

[*The amendment of sections 22 and 33, Art. VI, was proposed by joint resolution of January 13, 1919, Acts 1919, p. 456, and ratified at the general election November 2, 1920. The only change made in section 33 was to strike out the words "four dollars per day" and insert "five hundred dollars per annum."]

DISTRIBUTION OF LAWS AND JOURNALS PROVIDED FOR—CONTRACTS FOR PRINTING

34. The Legislature shall provide by law that the fuel, stationery and printing paper furnished for use of the State; the copying, printing, binding and distributing the laws and journals; and all other printing ordered by the Legislature, shall be let by contract to the lowest responsible bidder; bidding under a maximum price to be fixed by the Legislature; and no member or officer thereof or officer of the State, shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in such contract, but all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the Governor, and in case of his disapproval of any such contract, there shall be a reletting of the same in such maner as may be prescribed by law.

STATE NOT TO BE MADE DEFENDANT IN ANY COURT

35. The State of West Virginia shall never be made defendant in any court of law or equity.

LOTTERIES PROHIBITED

36. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize lotteries or gift enterprises for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale of lottery or gift enterprise tickets in this State.

TERMS OF OFFICE NOT TO BE EXTENDED AFTER ELECTION

37. No law shall be passed after the election of any public officer, which shall operate to extend the term of his office.

SALARIES OF OFFICIALS CANNOT BE INCREASED DURING OFFICIAL TERM

38. No extra compensation shall be granted or allowed to any public officer, agent, servant or contractor, after the services shall have been rendered or the contract made; nor shall any Legislature authorize the payment of any claim or part thereof, hereafter created against the State, under any agreement or contract made, without express authority of law; and all such unauthorized agreements shall be null and void. Nor shall the salary of any public officer be increased or diminished during his term of office, nor shall any such officer, or his or their sureties, be released from any debt or liability due the State; Provided, The Legislature may make appropriations for expenditures hereafter incurred in suppressing insurrection or repelling invasion.

LOCAL LAWS NOT TO BE PASSED IN ENUMERATED CASES

39. The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases; that is to say, for:

- Granting divorces;
- Laying out, opening, altering and working roads or highways;
- Vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys and public grounds;
- Locating or changing county seats;
- Regulating or changing county or district affairs;
- Providing for the sale of church property, or property held for charitable uses;
- Regulating the practice in courts of justice;
- Incorporating cities, towns or villages, or amending the charter of any city, town or village containing a population of less than two thousand;
- Summoning or impaneling grand or petit juries;
- The opening or conducting of any election, or designating the place of voting;
- The sale and mortgage of real estate belonging to minors, or others under disability;
- Chartering, licensing, or establishing ferries or toll bridges;
- Remitting fines, penalties or forfeitures;
- Changing the laws of descent;
- Regulating the rate of interest;
- Authorizing deeds to be made for land sold for taxes;
- Releasing taxes; releasing title to forfeited lands.

The Legislature shall provide, by general laws, for the foregoing and all other cases for which provision can be so made; and in no case shall a special act be passed where a general law would be proper, and can be made applicable to the case, nor in any other case in which the courts have jurisdiction and are competent to give the relief asked for.

LIMITING POWERS OF COURT OR JUDGE

40. The Legislature shall not confer upon any court, or judge, the power of appointment to office, further than the same is herein provided for.

EACH HOUSE TO KEEP JOURNAL OF PROCEEDINGS

41. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and cause the same to be published from time to time, and all bills and joint resolutions shall be described therein, as well by their title as their number, and the yeas and nays on any question, if called for by one-tenth of those present, shall be entered on the journal.

APPROPRIATION BILLS TO BE SPECIFIC

42. Bills making appropriation for the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, and for salaries for the officers of the government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.

BOARD OR COURT OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS PROHIBITED

43. The Legislature shall never authorize or establish any board or court of registration of voters.

ELECTION OF LEGISLATIVE, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL OFFICERS

44. In all elections to office which may hereafter take place in the Legislature, or in any county, or municipal body, the vote shall be viva voce, and be entered on its journals.

BRIBERY AND ATTEMPT TO BRIBE—PUNISHMENT

45. It shall be the duty of the Legislature, at its first session after the adoption of this Constitution, to provide, by law, for the punishment, by imprisonment in the penitentiary, of any person who shall bribe, or attempt to bribe, any executive or judicial officer of this State, or any member of the Legislature, in order to influence him in the performance of any of his official or public duties; and also to provide by law for the punishment, by imprisonment in the penitentiary, of any of said officers, or any member of the Legislature, who shall demand or receive, from any corporation, company or person, any money, testimonial, or other valuable thing for the performance of his official or public duties, or for refusing or failing to perform the same, or for any vote or influence a member of the Legislature may give or withhold as such member, and also to provide by law for compelling any person, so bribing or attempting to bribe, or so demanding or receiving a bribe, fee, reward, or testimonial, to testify against any person or persons, who may have committed any of said offenses; Provided, That any person so compelled to testify shall be exempted from trial and punishment for the offense of which he may have been guilty and concerning which he is compelled to testify; and any person convicted of any of the offenses specified in this section shall, as a part of the punishment thereof, be forever disqualified from holding any office or position of honor, trust or profit in this State.

MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF LIQUOR PROHIBITED—EXCEPTIONS

46. On and after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, the manufacture, sale and keeping for sale of malt, vinous or spirituous liquors, wine, porter, ale, beer, or any intoxicating drink, mixture, or preparation of like nature, except as hereinafter provided, are hereby prohibited in this State; Provided, however, That the manufacture and sale and keeping for sale of such liquors for medicinal, pharmaceutical, mechanical, sacramental and scientific purposes, and the manufacture and sale of denatured alcohol for industrial purposes, may be permitted under such regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. The Legislature shall, without delay, enact such laws, with regulations, conditions, securities and penalties as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

[This section, prior to its amendment, read as follows: "Laws may be passed regulating or prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within the limits of this State." The amendment as above set forth was proposed by Senate joint resolution No. 6, adopted February 9, 1911, Acts 1911, p. 289 (see also Acts 1911, ch. 15), and was adopted at the general election of 1912.]

INCORPORATION OF RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS PROHIBITED

47. No charter of incorporation shall be granted to any church or religious denomination. Provision may be made by general laws for securing the title to church property, and for the sale and transfer thereof, so that it shall be held, used, or transferred for the purposes of such church or religious denomination.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

48. Any husband or parent, residing in this State, or the infant children of deceased parents, may hold a homestead of the value of one thousand dollars and personal property to the value of two hundred dollars, exempt from forced sale subject to such regulations as shall be prescribed by law. Provided, That such homestead exemption shall in no wise affect debts or liabilities existing at the time of the adoption of this Constitution; and, Provided, further, That no property shall be exempt from sale for taxes due thereon, or for the payment of purchase money due upon said property, or for debts contracted for the erection of improvements thereon.

PROPERTY OF MARRIED WOMEN

49. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be necessary to protect the property of married women from the debts, liabilities and control of their husbands.

PLAN OF PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION

50. The Legislature may provide for submitting to a vote of the people at the general election to be held in 1876, or at any general election thereafter, a plan or scheme of proportional representation in the Senate of this State; and if a majority of the votes cast at such election be in favor of the plan submitted to them, the Legislature shall, at its session succeeding such election, rearrange the Senatorial Districts in accordance with the plan so approved by the people.

THE BUDGET SYSTEM

51. The Legislature shall not appropriate any money out of the treasury except in accordance with the following provisions:

SUB-SECTION A

Every appropriation bill shall be either a budget bill or a supplementary appropriation bill, as hereinafter mentioned.

SUB-SECTION B

First: Within ten days after the convening of the Legislature, unless such time shall be extended by the Legislature for the session at which the budget is to be submitted, the board of public works, which shall consist of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, superintendent of free schools and commissioner of agriculture, shall submit to the Legislature, two budgets, one for each of the ensuing fiscal years. Each budget shall contain a complete plan of proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the particular fiscal year to which it relates and shall show the estimated surplus or deficit of revenues at the end of such year. Accompanying each budget shall be a statement showing: (1) the revenues and expenditures for each of the two fiscal years next preceding; (2) the current assets, liabilities, reserves and surplus or deficit of the State; (3) the debts and funds of the State; (4) an estimate of the State's financial condition as to the beginning and end of each of the fiscal years covered by the two budgets above provided; (5) any explanation the board of public works may desire to make as to the important features of any budget and any suggestion as to methods for the reduction or increase of the State's revenue.

Second: Each budget shall be divided into two parts, and the first part shall be designated "Governmental Appropriations" and shall embrace an itemized estimate of the appropriations: (1) for the Legislature as certified to the board of public works in the manner hereinafter provided; (2) for the executive department; (3) for the judiciary department, as provided by law, certified to the Governor by the auditor; (4) to pay and discharge the principal and interest of any debt of the State of West Virginia hereafter created in conformity with the Constitution, and all laws enacted in pursuance thereof; (5) for the salaries payable by the State under the Constitution and laws of the State; (6) for the aid of public schools in conformity with the laws of the State; (7) for such other purposes as are set forth in the Constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof.

Third: The second part shall be designated "General Appropriations," and shall include all other estimates of appropriations.

The board of public works shall deliver to the presiding officer of each House the budgets and a bill for all the proposed appropriations of the budgets clearly itemized and classified; and the presiding officer of each House shall promptly cause said bill to be introduced therein, and such bill shall be known as the "Budget Bill." The board of public works may, before final action thereon by the Legislature, amend or supplement either of said budgets to correct an oversight or in case of an emergency, with the consent of the Legislature by delivering such an amendment or supplement to the presiding officers of both Houses; and such amendment or supplement shall thereby become a part of said budget bill as an addition to the items of said bill or as a modification of or a substitute for any item of said bill such amendment or supplement may affect.

The Legislature shall not amend the budget bill so as to create a deficit but may amend the bill by increasing or diminishing the items therein relating to the Legislature, and by increasing the items therein relating to the judiciary, but except as hereinbefore specified, may not alter the said bill except to strike out or reduce items therein; Provided, however, That the salary or compensation of any public officer shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office, and such bill when and as passed by both houses shall be a law immediately without further action by the governor.

Fourth: The governor and such representatives of the boards, officers and commissions of the State expending or applying for State's money as have been designated by the board of public works for this purpose, shall have the right, and when requested by either House of the Legislature it shall be their duty to appear and be heard with respect to any budget bill during the consideration thereof, and to answer inquiries relative thereto.

SUB-SECTION C—SUPPLEMENTARY APPROPRIATION BILLS

Neither House shall consider other appropriations until the budget bill has been finally acted upon by both Houses, and no such other appropriations shall be valid except in accordance with the provisions following:

(1) Every such appropriation shall be embodied in a separate bill limited to some single work, object or purpose therein stated and called herein a supplementary appropriation bill; (2) Each supplementary appropriation bill shall provide the revenue necessary to pay the appropriation thereby made by a tax, direct or indirect, to be laid and collected as shall be directed in said bill unless it appears from such budget that there is sufficient revenue available; (3) No supplementary appropriation bill shall become a law unless it be passed in each house by a vote of a majority of the members present, and the yeas and nays recorded on its final passage. Each supplementary appropriation bill shall be presented to the governor of the State as provided in section fourteen of article seven of the Constitution and thereafter all the provisions of said section shall apply.

Nothing in this amendment shall be construed as preventing the Legislature from passing in time of war an appropriation bill to provide for the payment of any obligation of the State of West Virginia within the protection of section ten of article one of the Constitution of the United States.

SUB-SECTION D—GENERAL PROVISIONS

First: If the "Budget Bill" shall not have been finally acted upon by the Legislature three days before the expiration of its regular session, the governor may, and it shall be his duty to issue a proclamation extending the session for such further period, as may, in his judgment, be necessary for the passage of such bill; but no other matter than such bill shall be considered during such extended session except a provision for the cost thereof.

Second: The board of public works for the purpose of making up its budgets shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to require from the proper State officials, including herein all executive departments, all executive and administrative officers, bureaus, boards, commissions and agencies expending or supervising the expenditures of, and all institutions applying for state moneys and appropriations, such itemized estimates and other information, in such form and at such times as said board shall direct. The estimates for the legislative department, certified by the presiding officer of each House, of the judiciary, as provided by law, certified by the auditor, and for the public schools, as provided by law, shall be transmitted to the board of public works, in such form and at such times as it shall direct, and shall be included in the budget.

The board of public works may provide for public hearings on all estimates and may require the attendance at such hearings of representatives of all agencies, and all institutions applying for state moneys. After such public hearings it may, in its discretion, revise all estimates except those for the legislative and judiciary departments, and for the public schools as provided by law.

Third: The Legislature may, from time to time, enact such laws, not inconsistent with this section, as may be necessary and proper to carry out its provisions.

Fourth: In the event of any inconsistency between any of the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of the Constitution, except amendments thereto heretofore made and ratified by the people, the provisions of this section shall prevail. But nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the governor from calling extraordinary sessions of the Legislature, as provided by section seven of article seven, or as preventing the Legislature at such extraordinary sessions from considering any emergency appropriation or appropriations. If any item of any appropriation bill passed under the provisions of this section shall be held invalid upon any ground, such invalidity shall not affect the legality of the bill or of any other item of such bill or bills.

[This section—added to Article VI—was proposed by Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, (Acts 1917, page 69, Extraordinary session) and was ratified by a vote of the people at the general election held on the fifth day of November, 1918, as an amendment to the Constitution known as "The Budget Amendment."]

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

1. The Executive Department shall consist of a Governor, Secretary of State, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor, Treasurer and Attorney General, who shall be ex-officio Reporter of the Court of Appeals. Their terms of office, respectively, shall be four years, and shall commence on the fourth day of March, next after their election. They shall, except the Attorney General, reside at the seat of government during their terms of office, and keep there the public records, books and papers pertaining to their respective offices and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law.

ELECTION

2. An election for Governor, Secretary of State, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor, Treasurer and Attorney General, shall be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and adopted at the next election. The section, prior to being amended, read as follows: "An election for Governor, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor, Treasurer and Attorney General, shall be held at such times and places as may be prescribed in this Constitution or by general law."]

CERTIFICATION OF ELECTION RETURNS—CONTESTS

3. The returns of every election for the above named officers shall be sealed up and transmitted by the returning officers to the Secretary of State, directed to the Speaker of the House of Delegates, who shall, immediately after the organization of the House, and before proceeding to business, open and publish the same, in the presence of a majority of each house of the Legislature, which shall for that purpose assemble in the Hall of the House of Delegates. The person having the highest number of votes for either of said offices, shall be declared duly elected thereto; but if two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the Legislature shall, by joint vote, choose one of such persons for said office. Contested elections for the office of Governor shall be determined by both houses of the Legislature by joint vote, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and ratified at the next election. The effect of the amendment was to strike out the following at the end of the original section: "The Secretary of State shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and shall continue in office, unless sooner removed, until the expiration of the official term of the Governor by whom he shall have been appointed."]

ELIGIBILITY

4. None of the executive officers mentioned in this article shall hold any other office during the term of his service. The Governor shall not be eligible to said office for the four years next succeeding the term for which he was elected.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 460, and adopted at the next election. The section, prior to being amended, read as follows: "Neither the Governor, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor, Treasurer, nor Attorney General, shall hold any other office during the term of his service. The Governor shall be ineligible to said office for the four years next succeeding the term for which he was elected."]

CHIEF EXECUTIVE—POWERS

5. The chief executive power shall be vested in the Governor, who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

6. The Governor shall at the commencement of each session, give to the Legislature information by message, of the condition of the State, and shall recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient. He shall accompany his message with a statement of all money received and paid out by him, from any funds, subject to his order, with vouchers therefor; and at the commencement of each regular session, present estimates of the amount of money required by taxation for all purposes.

EXTRAORDINARY LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS

7. The Governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene, at his own instance, the Legislature; but when so convened it shall enter upon no business except that stated in the proclamation by which it was called together.

GOVERNOR TO NOMINATE CERTAIN OFFICERS

8. The Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, (a majority of all Senators elected concurring by yeas and nays), appoint all officers whose offices are established by this Constitution, or shall be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise provided for; and no such officer shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature.

RECESS VACANCIES—HOW FILLED

9. In case of a vacancy, during the recess of the Senate, in any office which is not elective, the Governor shall, by appointment, fill such vacancy, until the next meeting of the Senate, when he shall make a nomination for such office, and the person so nominated, when confirmed by the Senate, (a majority of all the Senators elected concurring by yeas and nays), shall hold his office during the remainder of the term, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. No person, after being rejected by the Senate, shall be again nominated for the same office, during the same session, unless at the request of the Senate; nor shall such person be appointed to the same office during the recess of the Senate.

GOVERNOR'S POWER OF REMOVAL

10. The Governor shall have power to remove any officer whom he may appoint, in case of incompetency, neglect of duty, gross immorality, or malfeasance in office; and he may declare his office vacant and fill the same as herein provided in other cases of vacancy.

EXECUTIVE MAY REMIT FINES AND FORFEITURES

11. The Governor shall have power to remit fines and penalties in such cases and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; to commute capital punishment and, except where the prosecution has been carried on by the House of Delegates, to grant reprieves and pardons after conviction; but he shall communicate to the Legislature at each session the particulars of every case of fine or penalty remitted, of punishment commuted and of reprieve or pardon granted, with his reasons therefor.

GOVERNOR COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF MILITARY FORCES

12. The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military forces of the State (except when they shall be called into the service of the United States), and may call out the same to execute the laws, suppress insurrection and repel invasion.

OFFICIAL BOND OF STATE OFFICERS

13. When any State officer has executed his official bond, the Governor shall, for such causes and in such manner as the Legislature may direct, require of such officer reasonable additional security; and if the security is not given as required, his office shall be declared vacant, in such manner as may be provided by law.

HOW BILLS BECOME LAWS

14. Every bill passed by the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve, he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which House shall enter the objections at large upon its journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the members elected to that House, agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to that House, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. But in all such cases, the vote of each House shall be determined by yeas and nays to be entered on the journal. Any bill which shall not be returned by the Governor within five days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case, it shall be filed with his objections in the office of the Secretary of State, within five days after such adjournment, or become a law.

RESPECTING APPROPRIATIONS OF MONIES

15. Every bill passed by the Legislature making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, shall before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he disapproves the bill, or any item or appropriation therein contained, he shall communicate such disapproval with his reasons therefor to the House in which the bill originated; but all items not disapproved shall have the force and effect of law according to the original provisions of the bill. Any item or items so disapproved shall be void, unless re-passed by a majority of each House according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the preceding section in reference to other bills.

VACANCY IN GOVERNORSHIP, HOW FILLED

16. In case of the death, conviction on impeachment, failure to qualify, resignation, or other disability of the Governor, the President of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy is filled, or the disability removed; and if the President of the Senate, for any of the above named causes, shall become incapable of performing the duties of Governor, the same shall devolve upon the Speaker of the House of Delegates; and in all other cases where there is no one to act as Governor, one shall be chosen by joint vote of the Legislature. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of Governor before the first three years of the term shall have expired, a new election for Governor shall take place to fill the vacancy.

VACANCIES IN OTHER EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS

17. If the office of Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, State Superintendent of Free Schools or Attorney General shall become vacant by death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to fill the same by appointment, and the appointee shall hold his office until his successor shall be elected and qualified in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The subordinate officers of the executive department and the officers of all public institutions of the State shall keep an account of all moneys received or disbursed by them, respectively, from all sources, and for every service performed, and make a semi-annual report thereof to the Governor under oath or affirmation; and any officer who shall wilfully make a false report shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 15, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and ratified at the next election. The only change in the original section was by the insertion of the words "Secretary of State" in the first line, and by substitution of the word "prescribed" for the word "provided" in the fifth line.]

EXECUTIVE HEADS TO MAKE REPORTS

18. The subordinate officers of the Executive Department and the officers of all the public institutions of the State, shall, at least ten days preceding each regular session of the Legislature severally report to the Governor, who shall transmit such report to the Legislature and the Governor may at any time require information in writing, under oath, from the officers of his department, and all officers and managers of State institutions, upon any subject relating to the condition, management and expenses of their respective offices.

SALARIES OF OFFICIALS

19. The officers named in this article shall receive for their services a salary to be established by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during their official terms, and they shall not, after the expiration of the terms of those in offices at the adoption of this amendment, receive to their own use any fees, costs, perquisites of office or other compensation, and all fees that may hereafter be payable by law, for any service performed by any officer provided for in this article of the Constitution, shall be paid in advance into the State treasury.

[The amendment of this section was proposed by joint resolution of February 13, 1901, Acts 1901, p. 459, and ratified at the next election. This section, prior to amendment, read as follows: "The Governor shall receive for his services a salary of twenty-seven hundred dollars per annum and no additional emolument, allowance or perquisite, shall be paid or made to him, on any account. Any person acting as Governor shall receive the emoluments of that office. The Secretary of State shall receive one thousand; the State Superintendent of Free Schools, fifteen hundred; the Treasurer, fourteen hundred; the Auditor, two thousand, and the Attorney General, thirteen hundred dollars per annum; and no additional emolument or allowance, except as herein otherwise provided, shall be paid or made out of the treasury of the State to any of the foregoing executive officers on any account."]

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in a supreme court of appeals, in circuit courts and the judges thereof, in such inferior tribunals as are herein authorized and in justices of the peace.

[The amendment of this entire article was proposed by joint resolution of March 6, 1879, Acts 1879, p. 175, and ratified at the next election.]

SUPREME COURT OF APPEALS

2. The supreme court of appeals shall consist of *four judges, any three of whom shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. They shall be elected by the voters of the State and hold their office for the term of twelve years, unless sooner removed, in the manner prescribed by this Constitution, except that the judges in office when this article takes effect, shall remain therein until the expiration of their present term of office.

SCOPE OF JURISDICTION

3. It shall have original jurisdiction in cases of habeas corpus, mandamus, and prohibition. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy, exclusive of costs, is of greater value or amount than one hundred dollars; in controversies concerning the title or boundaries of land, the probate of wills, the appointment or qualification of a personal representative, guardian, committee or curator, or concerning a mill, road, way, ferry or landing; or the right of a corporation or county to levy tolls or taxes; and also, in cases of quo warranto, habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari, and prohibition, and in cases involving freedom or the constitutionality of a law. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases where there has been a conviction for felony or misdemeanor in a circuit court, and where a conviction has been had in any inferior court, and been affirmed in a circuit court, and in cases relating to the public revenue, the right of appeal shall belong to the State as well as the defendant, and such other appellate jurisdiction, in both civil and criminal cases, as may be prescribed by law.

BINDING AUTHORITY OF DECISIONS

4. No decision rendered by the supreme court of appeals shall be considered as binding authority upon any of the inferior courts of this State, except in the particular case decided, unless such decision is concurred in by at least three judges of said court.

REVERSAL OR AFFIRMANCE OF JUDGMENTS

5. When a judgment or decree is reversed or affirmed by the supreme court of appeals, every point fairly arising upon the record of the case shall be considered and decided; and the reasons therefor shall be concisely stated in writing and preserved with the record of the case, and it shall be the duty of the court to prepare a syllabus of the points adjudicated in each case concurred in by three of the judges thereof, which shall be prefixed to the published report of the case.

WRIT OF ERROR, SUPERSEDEAS AND APPEAL

6. A writ of error, supersedeas, or appeal shall be allowed only by the supreme court of appeals, or a judge thereof, upon a petition assigning error in the judgment or proceedings of the inferior court and then only after said court or judge shall have examined and considered the record and assignment of errors, and is satisfied that there is error in the same, or that it presents a point proper for the consideration of the supreme court of appeals.

PROVISIONS FOR FILLING SUPREME COURT VACANCIES

7. If from any cause a vacancy shall occur in the supreme court of appeals the Governor shall issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy at the next general election for the residue of the term, and in the meantime he shall fill such vacancy by appointment until a judge is elected and qualified. But if the unexpired term be less than two years the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term.

OFFICERS OF SUPREME COURT

8. The officers of the supreme court of appeals, except the reporter, shall be appointed by the court, or in vacation by the judges thereof, with the power of removal; their duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

[*The supreme court of appeals consists of five judges, by the provisions of the "Judicial Amendment" set forth at the end of the Constitution, and Acts 1903, ch. 19, amending and re-enacting section 1 of chapter 113 of the Code.]

TERMS OF SUPREME COURT

9. There shall be at least two terms of the supreme court of appeals held annually at such times and places as may be prescribed by law.

CIRCUIT COURTS

10. The State shall be divided into *thirteen circuits. For the circuit hereinafter called the first, two judges shall be elected, and for each of the other circuits one judge shall be elected by the voters thereof. Each of the judges so elected shall hold his office for the term of eight years unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. The judges of the circuit courts in office when this article takes effect, shall remain therein until the expiration of the term for which they have been elected in the circuits in which they may respectively reside, unless sooner removed as aforesaid. A vacancy in the office of a judge of the circuit court shall be filled in the same manner as is provided for in the case of a vacancy in the office of a judge of the supreme court of appeals. During his continuance in office the judge of a circuit court shall reside in the circuit of which he is judge. The business of the first circuit may be apportioned between the judges thereof, and such judges may hold courts in the same county or in different counties within the circuit at the same or at different times as may be prescribed by law.

TERMS OF CIRCUIT COURT

11. A circuit court shall be held in every county in the State at least three times in each year, and provisions may be made by law for holding special terms of said court. A judge of any circuit may hold the courts in another circuit.

CIRCUIT COURT JURISDICTION

12. The circuit court shall have the supervision and control of all proceedings before justices and other inferior tribunals, by mandamus, prohibition and certiorari. They shall, except in cases confined exclusively by this Constitution to some other tribunal, have original and general jurisdiction of all matters at law where the amount in controversy, exclusive of interest, exceeds fifty dollars; of all cases of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto and prohibition; and of all cases in equity, and of all crimes and misdemeanors. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, civil and criminal, where an appeal, writ of error or supersedeas may be allowed to the judgment or proceedings of any inferior tribunal. They shall also have such other jurisdiction, whether supervisory, original, appellate or concurrent, as is or may be prescribed by law.

DIVISION OF STATE INTO CIRCUITS

13. Until otherwise provided by law, the State shall be divided into the following circuits: The counties of Brooke, Hancock, Ohio and Marshall shall constitute the first circuit; the counties of Monongalia, Marion and Harrison, the second; the counties of Preston, Taylor, Barbour, Tucker and Randolph, the third; the counties of Wetzel, Tyler, Ritchie and Doddridge, the fourth; the counties of Wood, Wirt and Pleasants, the fifth; the counties of Clay, Gilmer, Jackson, Roane and Calhoun, the sixth; the counties of Putnam, Kanawha and Mason, the seventh; the counties of Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln and Logan, the eighth; the counties of McDowell, Mercer, Raleigh, Wyoming and Boone, the ninth; the counties of Greenbrier, Monroe, Summers, Fayette and Pocahontas, the tenth; the counties of Upshur, Lewis, Braxton, Nicholas and Webster, the eleventh; the counties of Grant, Hardy, Hampshire, Mineral and Pendleton, the twelfth; the counties of Jefferson, Berkeley and Morgan, the thirteenth.

[By various acts of the legislature the above division has been changed and the number of circuits increased to twenty-four.]

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF STATE INTO CIRCUITS

14. The Legislature may rearrange the circuits herein provided for at any session thereof, next preceding any general election of the judges of said circuits, and after the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, may, at any such session, increase or diminish the number thereof.

[*Now twenty-four.]

SPECIAL TERMS AND JUDGES OF CIRCUIT COURTS

15. The Legislature shall provide by law for holding regular and special terms of the circuit courts, where from any cause the judge shall fail to attend, or, if in attendance, can not properly preside.

SALARIES OF AND LIMITATIONS ON JUDGES

16. All judges shall be commissioned by the Governor. The *salary of a judge of the supreme court of appeals shall be two thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and that of a judge of the circuit court shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; and each shall receive the same mileage as members of the Legislature; Provided, That Ohio county may pay an additional sum per annum to the judges of the circuit court thereof; but such allowance shall not be increased or diminished during the term of office of the judges to whom it may have been made. No judge, during his term of office, shall practice the profession of law or hold any other office, appointment or public trust, under this or any other government, and the acceptance thereof shall vacate his judicial office. Nor shall he during his continuance therein, be eligible to any political office.

HOW JUDGES MAY BE REMOVED

17. Judges may be removed from office by a concurrent vote of both houses of the Legislature, when from age, disease, mental or bodily infirmity or intemperance, they are incapable of discharging the duties of their office. But two-thirds of all the members elected to each House must concur in such vote, and the cause of removal shall be entered upon the journal of each House. The judge against whom the Legislature may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least twenty days before the day on which action is proposed to be taken therein.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

18. The voters of each county shall elect a clerk of the circuit court, whose term of office shall be six years; his duties and compensation and the manner of removing him from office shall be prescribed by law, and when a vacancy shall occur in the office, the circuit court or the judge thereof in vacation shall fill the same by appointment until the next general election. In any case in respect to which the clerk shall be so situated as to make it improper for him to act, the said court shall appoint a clerk to act therein. The clerks of said courts in office when this article takes effect, shall remain therein for the term for which they were elected, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by law.

COURTS OF LIMITED JURISDICTION

19. The Legislature may establish courts of limited jurisdiction within any county, incorporated city, town or village, with the right of appeal to the circuit court, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law; and all courts of limited jurisdiction heretofore established in any county, incorporated city, town or village, shall remain as at present constituted until otherwise provided by law. The municipal court of Wheeling shall continue in existence until otherwise provided by law, and said court and the judge thereof, shall exercise the powers and jurisdiction heretofore conferred upon them; and appeals in civil cases from said court shall lie directly in the supreme court of appeals.

REGARDING PARTICIPATION IN CIVIL WAR

20. No citizen of the State who aided or participated in the late war between the government of the United States and a part of the people thereof, on either side, shall be liable in any proceeding, civil or criminal; nor shall his property be seized or sold under final process issued upon judgments or decrees heretofore rendered, or otherwise, because of any act done in accordance with the usage of civilized warfare, in the prosecution of said war. The Legislature shall provide, by general laws, for giving full force and effect to this section.

PARTS OF COMMON LAW EFFECTIVE

21. Such parts of the common law, and of the laws of this State as are in force when this article goes into operation, and are not repugnant thereto, shall be and continue the law of the State until altered or repealed by the Legislature. All civil and criminal suits and proceedings pending in the former circuit courts of the State, shall remain and be proceeded in before the circuit court of the counties in which they were pending.

COUNTY COURTS

22. There shall be in each county of the State a county court, composed of three commissioners, and two of said commissioners shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. It shall hold four regular sessions in each year and at such times as may be fixed upon and entered of record by the said court. Provisions may be made by law for holding special sessions of said court.

TERMS OF OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

23. The commissioners shall be elected by the voters of the county, and hold their office for the term of six years, except at the first meeting of said commissioners they shall designate by lot, or otherwise, in such manner as they may determine, one of their number, who shall hold his office for the term of two years, one for four years and one for six years, so that one shall be elected every two years. But no two of said commissioners shall be elected from the same magisterial district. And if two or more persons residing in the same district shall receive the greater number of votes cast at any election, then only the one of such persons receiving the highest number shall be declared elected, and the person living in another district, who shall receive the next highest number of votes shall be declared elected. Said commissioners shall annually elect one of their number as president, and each shall receive two dollars per day for his services in court, to be paid out of the county treasury.

POWERS OF COUNTY COURTS

24. The county courts, through their clerks, shall have the custody of all deeds and other papers presented for record in their counties, and the same shall be preserved therein, or otherwise disposed of, as now is or may be prescribed by law. They shall have jurisdiction in all matters of probate, the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees, curators, and the settlement of their accounts, and in all matters relating to apprentices. They shall also, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, have the superintendence and administration of the internal and police and fiscal affairs of their counties, including the establishment and regulation of roads, ways, bridges, public landings, ferries and mills, with authority to lay and disburse the county levies: Provided, That no license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in any incorporated city, town or village, shall be granted without the consent of the municipal authorities thereof, first had and obtained. They shall, in all cases of contest, judge of the election, qualification and returns of their own members, and of all county and district officers, subject to such regulations, by appeal or otherwise, as may be prescribed by law. Such courts may exercise such other powers, and perform such other duties, not of a judicial nature, as may be prescribed by law. And provision may be made, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, for the probate of wills and for the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees and curators during the recess of the regular sessions of the county court. Such tribunals as have been heretofore established by the Legislature under and by virtue of the thirty-fourth section of the eighth article of the Constitution of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, for police and fiscal purposes, shall, until otherwise provided by law, remain and continue as at present constituted in the counties in which they have been respectively established, and shall be and act as to police and fiscal matters in lieu of the county court created by this article until otherwise provided by law. And, until otherwise provided by law, such clerk as is mentioned in the twenty-sixth section of this article, shall exercise any powers and discharge any duties heretofore conferred on, or required of, any court or tribunal established for judicial purposes under the said article and section of the Constitution of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, or the clerk of such court or tribunal respectively, respecting the recording and preservation of deeds and other papers presented for record, matters of probate, the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees, curators, and the settlement of their accounts, and in all matters relating to apprentices.

REMOVAL OF CAUSES

25. All actions, suits and proceedings not embraced in the next preceding section, pending in a county court when this article takes effect, together with the records and papers pertaining thereto, as well as all records and papers pertaining to such actions, suits and proceedings, as have already been disposed of by said courts, shall be transmitted to and filed with the clerk of the circuit court of the county to which office all process outstanding at the time this article goes into operation shall be returned; and said clerk shall have the same power and shall perform the same duties in relation to such records, papers and proceedings as were vested in and required of the clerk of the county court on the day before this article shall take effect. All such actions, suits and proceedings so pending as aforesaid, shall be docketed, proceeded in, tried, heard and determined in all respects by the circuit court, as if such suits and proceedings had originated in said court.

CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

26. The voters of each county shall elect a clerk of the county court, whose term of office shall be six years. His duties and compensation and the manner of his removal shall be prescribed by law. But the clerks of said courts, now in office, shall remain therein for the term for which they have been elected, unless sooner removed therefrom, in the manner prescribed by law.

DISTRICTING OF COUNTY

27. Each county shall be laid off into districts, not less than three nor more than ten in number, as nearly equal as may be in territory and population. There shall be elected in each district containing a population not exceeding twelve hundred, one justice of the peace, and if the population exceeds that number, two justices shall be elected therein. Every justice shall reside in the district for which he was elected and hold his office for the term of four years, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by law. The districts as they now exist shall remain till changed by the county court.

JURISDICTION OF A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

28. The civil jurisdiction of a justice of the peace shall extend to actions of assumpsit, debt, detinue and trover, if the amount claimed, exclusive of interest, does not exceed three hundred dollars. The jurisdiction of justices of the peace shall extend throughout their county; they shall be conservators of the peace and have such jurisdiction and powers in criminal cases as may be prescribed by law. And justices of the peace shall have authority to take the acknowledgment of deeds and other writings, administer oaths, and take and certify depositions. And the Legislature may give to justices such additional civil jurisdiction and powers within their respective counties as may be deemed expedient, under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by general law, except that in suits to recover money or damages their jurisdiction and powers shall in no case exceed three hundred dollars. Appeals shall be allowed from judgments of justices of the peace in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

RE-FORMATION OF COUNTY COURTS

29. The Legislature shall, upon the application of any county, reform, alter or modify the county court established by this article in such county, and in lieu thereof, with the assent of a majority of the voters of such county voting at an election, create another tribunal for the transaction of the business required to be performed by the county court created by this article and in such case all the provisions of this article in relation to the county court shall be applicable to the tribunal established in lieu of said court. And when such tribunal has been established it shall continue to act in lieu of the county court until otherwise provided by law.

INCOMPATIBLE OFFICES

30. The office of commissioner and justice of the peace shall be deemed incompatible. Vacancies in the office of commissioner, clerk of the county court and justices of the peace shall be filled by the county court of the county until the next general election.

ARTICLE IX

COUNTY ORGANIZATION

1. The voters of each county shall elect a surveyor of lands, a prosecuting attorney, a sheriff, and one and not more than two assessors, who shall hold their respective offices for the term of four years.

CONSTABLES, CORONERS AND OVERSEERS OF THE POOR

2. There shall also be elected in each district of the county, by the voters thereof, one constable, and if the population of any district shall exceed twelve hundred, an additional constable, whose term of office shall be four years and whose powers as such shall extend throughout their county. The assessor shall, with the advice and consent of the county court, have the power to appoint one or more assistants. Coroners, overseers of the poor and surveyors of roads shall be appointed by the county court. The foregoing officers, except the prosecuting attorneys, shall reside in the county and district for which they shall be respectively elected.

SHERIFFS—CONSECUTIVE TERMS PROHIBITED

3. The same person shall not be elected sheriff for two consecutive full terms; nor shall any person who acted as his deputy be elected successor to such sheriff, nor shall any sheriff act as deputy of his successor; nor shall he during his term of service, or within one year thereafter, be eligible to any other office. The retiring sheriff shall finish all business remaining in his hands, at the expiration of his term; for which purpose his commission and official bond shall remain in force. The duties of the office of sheriff shall be performed by him in person, or under his superintendence.

MALFEASANCE AND MISFEASANCE IN OFFICE

4. The presidents of the county court, the justices of the peace, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, clerks of the circuit and of the county courts, and all other officers, shall be subject to indictment for malfeasance, misfeasance, or neglect of official duty, and upon conviction thereof their offices shall become vacant.

COMMISSIONING OF OFFICERS NOT OTHERWISE PROVIDED FOR

5. The Legislature shall provide for commissioning such of the officers herein mentioned, as it may deem proper, not provided for in this Constitution, and may require any class of them to give bond with security for the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective officers.

COMPENSATION—DEPUTIES

6. It shall further provide for the compensation, the duties and responsibilities of such officers, and may provide for the appointment of their deputies and assistants by general laws.

CONSERVATORS OF THE PEACE

7. The president of the county court and every justice and constable shall be a conservator of the peace throughout his county.

FORMATION OF NEW COUNTIES

8. No new county shall hereafter be formed in this State with an area of less than four hundred square miles; nor with a population of less than six thousand; nor shall any county, from which a new county, or part thereof, shall be taken, be reduced in area below four hundred square miles, nor in population below six thousand. Nor shall a new county be formed without the consent of a majority of the voters residing within the boundaries of the proposed new county, and voting on the question.

ARTICLE X

TAXATION AND FINANCE

1. Taxation shall be equal and uniform throughout the State, and all property, both real and personal, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as directed by law. No one species of property, from which a tax may be collected, shall be taxed higher than any other species of property of equal value; but property used for educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes, all cemeteries and public property may, by law, be exempted from taxation. The Legislature shall have power to tax, by uniform and equal laws, all privileges and franchises of persons and corporations.

CAPITATION TAX

2. The Legislature shall levy an annual capitation tax of one dollar upon each male inhabitant of the State who has attained the age of twenty-one years, which shall be annually appropriated to the support of free schools. Persons afflicted with bodily infirmity may be exempted from this tax.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES OF PUBLIC MONIES

3. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in pursuance of an appropriation made by law, and on a warrant issued thereon by the Auditor; nor shall any money or fund be taken for any other purpose than that for which it has been or may be appropriated or provided. A complete and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public monies shall be published annually.

LIMITATION ON CONTRACTION OF STATE DEBT

4. No debt shall be contracted by this State, except to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the State, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion or defend the State in time of war; but the payment of any liability other than that for the ordinary expenses of the State, shall be equally distributed over a period of at least twenty years.

POWER OF TAXATION

5. The power of taxation of the Legislature shall extend to provisions for the payment of the State debt, and interest thereon, the support of free schools, and the payment of the annual estimated expenses of the State; but whenever any deficiency in the revenue shall exist in any year, it shall, at the regular session thereof held next after the deficiency occurs, levy a tax for the ensuing year, sufficient with other sources of income to meet such deficiency, as well as the estimated expenses of such year.

CREDIT OF STATE NOT TO BE GRANTED IN CERTAIN CASES

6. The credit of the State shall not be granted to, or in aid of any county, city, township, corporation or person; nor shall the State ever assume, or become responsible for the debts or liabilities of any county, city, township, corporation or person; nor shall the State ever hereafter become a joint owner, or stockholder in any company or association in this State or elsewhere, formed for any purpose whatever.

DUTIES OF COUNTY AUTHORITIES IN ASSESSING TAXES

7. County authorities shall never assess taxes, in any one year, the aggregate of which shall exceed ninety-five cents per one hundred dollars' valuation; except for the support of free schools; payment of indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this Constitution; and for the payment of any indebtedness with the interest thereon, created under the succeeding section, unless such assessment, with all questions involving the increase of such aggregate shall have been submitted to the vote of the people of the county, and have received three-fifths of all the votes cast for and against it.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF COUNTIES

8. No county, city, school district, or municipal corporation, except in cases where such corporations have already authorized their bonds to be issued, shall hereafter be allowed to become indebted, in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate, exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness; nor without, at the same time, providing for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay, annually, the interest on such debt, and the principal thereof, within, and not exceeding thirty-four years; Provided, That no debt shall be contracted under this section, unless all questions connected with the same shall have been first submitted to a vote of the people, and have received three-fifths of all the votes cast for and against the same.

MUNICIPAL TAXES TO BE UNIFORM

9. The Legislature may, by law, authorize the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages, for corporate purposes, to assess and collect taxes; but such taxes shall be uniform, with respect to persons and property within the jurisdiction of the authority imposing the same.

ARTICLE XI

CORPORATIONS

1. The Legislature shall provide for the organization of all corporations hereafter to be created, by general laws, uniform as to the class to which they relate; but no corporation shall be created by special law; Provided, That nothing in this section contained, shall prevent the Legislature from providing by special laws for the connection, by canal, of the waters of the Chesapeake with the Ohio River by the line of the James River, Greenbrier, New River and Great Kanawha.

CORPORATE LIABILITY FOR INDEBTEDNESS

2. The Stockholders of all corporations and joint stock companies, except banks and banking institutions, created by laws of this State, shall be liable for the indebtedness of such corporations to the amount of their stock subscribed and unpaid, and no more.

EXCLUSIVE PRIVILEGES PROHIBITED

3. All existing charters or grants of special or exclusive privileges under which organization shall not have taken place, or which shall not have been in operation within two years from the time this Constitution takes effect, shall thereafter have no validity or effect whatever: Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent the execution of any bona fide contract heretofore lawfully made in relation to any existing charter or grant in this State.

RIGHTS OF STOCKHOLDERS

4. The Legislature shall provide by law that in all elections for directors or managers of incorporated companies, every stockholder shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, for the number of shares of stock owned by him, for as many persons as there are directors or managers to be elected, or to cumulate said shares, and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock, shall equal, or to distribute them on the same principle among as many candidates as he shall think fit; and such directors or managers shall not be elected in any other manner.

STREET RAILROADS

5. No law shall be passed by the Legislature, granting the right to construct and operate a street railroad within any city, town or incorporated village, without requiring the consent of the local authorities having the control of the street or highway proposed to be occupied by such street railroad.

BANKS

6. The Legislature may provide, by general banking law, for the creation and organization of banks of issue or circulation, but the stockholders of any bank hereafter authorized by the laws of this State, whether of issue, deposit or discount, shall be personally liable to the creditors thereof over the above the amount of stock held by them respectively to an amount equal to their respective shares so held, for all its liabilities accruing while they are such stockholders.

RAILROADS

7. Every railroad corporation organized or doing business in this State shall annually, by their proper officers, make a report under oath, to the auditor of public accounts of this State, or some officer to be designated by law, setting forth the condition of their affairs, the operations of the year, and such other matters relating to their respective railroads as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall pass laws enforcing by suitable penalties the provisions of this section.

ROLLING STOCK CONSIDERED PERSONAL PROPERTY

8. The rolling stock and all other movable property belonging to any railroad company or corporation in this State shall be considered personal property and shall be liable to execution and sale in the same manner as the personal property of individuals; and the Legislature shall pass no law exempting any such property from execution and sale.

RAILROADS PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

9. Railroads heretofore constructed, or that may hereafter be constructed in this State, are hereby declared public highways and shall be free to all persons for the transportation of their persons and property thereon, under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law; and the Legislature shall, from time to time, pass laws applicable to all railroad corporations in the State, establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight, and providing for the correction of abuses, the prevention of unjust discriminations between through and local or way freight and passenger tariffs, and for the protection of the just rights of the public, and shall enforce such laws by adequate penalties.

STATIONS TO BE ESTABLISHED

10. The Legislature shall, in the law regulating railway companies, require railroads running through, or within a half mile of a town or village, containing three hundred or more inhabitants, to establish stations for the accommodation of trade and travel of said town or village.

COMPETING LINES—LEGISLATIVE PERMISSION

11. No railroad corporation shall consolidate its stock, property or franchise with any other railroad owning a parallel or competing line, or obtain the possession or control of such parallel or competing line by lease or other contract, without the permission of the Legislature.

RIGHT OF EMINENT DOMAIN

12. The exercise of the power and the right of eminent domain shall never be so construed or abridged as to prevent the taking, by the Legislature, of the property and franchises of incorporated companies already organized, and subjecting them to the public use, the same as of individuals.

ARTICLE XII

EDUCATION

1. The Legislature shall provide, by general law, for a thorough and efficient system of free schools.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF FREE SCHOOLS

2. The State Superintendent of Free Schools shall have a general supervision of free schools, and perform such other duties in relation thereto as may be prescribed by law. If in the performance of any such duty imposed upon him by the Legislature he shall incur any expenses, he shall be reimbursed therefor; Provided, The amount does not exceed five hundred dollars in any one year.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS

3. The Legislature may provide for county superintendents and such other officers as may be necessary to carry out the objects of this article and define their duties, powers and compensation.

EXISTING PERMANENT AND INVESTED SCHOOL FUND

4. The existing permanent and invested school fund, and all money accruing to this State from forfeited, delinquent, waste and unappropriated lands; and from lands heretofore sold for taxes and purchased by the State of Virginia, if hereafter redeemed or sold to others than this State; all grants, devises or bequests that may be made to this State, for the purposes of education or where the purposes of such grants, devises or bequests are not specified; this State's just share of the literary fund of Virginia, whether paid over or otherwise liquidated; and any sums of money, stocks or property which this State shall have the right to claim from the State of Virginia for educational purposes; the proceeds of the estates of persons who may die without leaving a will or heir; and of all escheated lands; the proceeds of any taxes that may be levied on the revenues of any corporations; all moneys that may be paid as an equivalent from exemption from military duty; and such sums as may from time to time be appropriated by the Legislature for the purpose, shall be set apart as a separate fund to be called the "School Fund," and invested under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, in the interest-bearing securities of the United States, or of this State, or if such interest-bearing securities can not be obtained, then said "School Fund" shall be invested in such other solvent, interest-bearing securities as shall be approved by the Governor, Superintendent of Free Schools, Auditor and Treasurer, who are hereby constituted the "Board of the School Fund," to manage the same under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and the interest thereof shall be annually applied to the support of free schools throughout the State, and to no other purpose whatever. But any portion of said interest remaining unexpended at the close of a fiscal year shall be added to and remain a part of the capital of the "School Fund"; Provided, That all taxes which shall be received by the State upon delinquent lands, except the taxes due to the State thereon, shall be refunded to the county or district by or for which the same were levied.

[This section is modified by the "Irreducible School Fund Amendment" set forth at the end of the Constitution.]

SUPPORT OF FREE SCHOOLS

5. The Legislature shall provide for the support of free schools by appropriating thereto the interest of the invested "School Fund," the net proceeds of all forfeitures and fines accruing to this State under the laws thereof; the State capitation tax, and by general taxation of persons and property or otherwise. It shall also provide for raising in each county or district, by the authority of the people thereof, such a proportion of the amount required for the support of free schools therein, as shall be prescribed by general laws.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS

6. The school districts into which any county is now divided shall continue until changed in pursuance of law.

LEVIES FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES

7. All levies that may be laid by any county or district for the purpose of free schools shall be reported to the clerk of the county court; and shall, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, be collected by the sheriff or other collector, who shall make annual settlement with the county court; which settlements shall be made a matter of record by the clerk thereof, in a book to be kept for that purpose.

MIXED SCHOOLS PROHIBITED

8. White and colored persons shall not be taught in the same school.

CERTAIN ACTS PROHIBITED

9. No person connected with the free school system of the State, or with any educational institution of any name or grade under State control, shall be interested in the sale, proceeds or profits of any book or other thing used, or to be used therein, under such penalties as may be prescribed by law; Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to apply to any work written, or thing invented, by such person.

CREATION OF INDEPENDENT FREE SCHOOL DISTRICTS

10. No independent free school district, or organization, shall hereafter be created, except with the consent of the school district or districts out of which the same is to be created, expressed by a majority of the voters voting on the question.

APPROPRIATION FOR STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS

11. No appropriation shall hereafter be made to any State normal school, or branch thereof, except to those already established and in operation, or now chartered.

LEGISLATURES TO FOSTER GENERAL SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

12. The Legislature shall foster and encourage moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvements; it shall, whenever it may be practicable, make suitable provision for the blind, mute and insane, and for the organization of such institutions of learning as the best interests of general education in the State may demand.

ARTICLE XIII

LAND TITLES

1. All private rights and interests in lands in this State derived from or under the laws of the State of Virginia, and from or under the Constitution and laws of this State prior to the time this Constitution goes into operation, shall remain valid and secure and shall be determined by the laws in force in Virginia, prior to the formation of this State, and by the Constitution and laws in force in this State prior to the time this Constitution goes into effect.

LAND ENTRY PROHIBITED

2. No entry by warrant on land in this State shall hereafter be made.

FORFEITED LANDS

3. All title to lands in this State heretofore forfeited, or treated as forfeited, waste and unappropriated, or escheated to the State of Virginia or this State, or purchased by either of said States at sales made for the non-payment of taxes and become irredeemable, or hereafter forfeited, or treated as forfeited, or escheated to this State, or purchased by it and become irredeemable, not redeemed, released or otherwise disposed of, vested and remaining in this State, shall be, and is hereby transferred to, and vested in any person (other than those for whose default same may have been forfeited or returned delinquent, their heirs or devisees), for so much thereof as such person has, or shall have had, actual continuous possession of, under color or claim of title for ten years, and who, or those under whom he claims, shall have paid the State taxes thereon for any five years during such possession; or if there be no such person, then to any person (other than those for whose default the same may have been forfeited, or returned delinquent, their heirs or devisees), for so much of said land as such person shall have title or claim to, regularly derived, mediately or immediately from, or under a grant from the Commonwealth of Virginia or this State, not forfeited, which but for the title forfeited would be valid, and who, or those under whom he claims, has, or shall have, paid all State taxes charges or chargeable thereon for five successive years, after the year 1865, or from the date of the grant, if it shall have issued since that year; or if there be no such person, as aforesaid, then to any person (other than those for whose default the same may have been forfeited, or returned delinquent, their heirs and devisees), for so much of said land as such person shall have had claim to and actual continuous possession of, under color of title for any five successive years after the year 1865, and have paid all State taxes charged or chargeable thereon for said period.

WASTE AND UNAPPROPRIATED LANDS

4. All lands in this State, waste and unappropriated, or heretofore or hereafter for any cause forfeited, or treated as forfeited, or escheated to the State of Virginia, or this State, or purchased by either and become irredeemable, not redeemed, released, transferred or otherwise disposed of, the title whereto shall remain in this State till such sale as is hereinafter mentioned be made, shall by proceedings in the circuit court of the county in which the lands, or a part thereof, are situated, be sold to the highest bidder.

FORMER OWNER'S PRIVILEGES

5. The former owner of any such land shall be entitled to receive the excess of the sum for which the land may be sold over the taxes charged and chargeable thereon, or which, if the land had not been forfeited, would have been charged or chargeable thereon, since the formation of this State, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, and the costs of the proceedings, if his claim be filed in the circuit court that decrees the sale, within two years thereafter.

LAND BOOKS—TAXES

6. It shall be the duty of every owner of land to have it entered on the land books of the county in which it, or a part of it, is situated, and to cause himself to be charged with the taxes thereon, and pay the same. When for any five successive years, after the year 1869, the owner of any tract of land containing one thousand acres or more, shall not have been charged on such books with State tax on said land, then, by operation hereof, the land shall be forfeited and the title thereto vested in the State. But if, for any one or more of such five years, the owner shall have been charged with State tax on any part of the land, such part thereof shall not be forfeited for such cause. And any owner of land so forfeited, or of any interest therein at the time of the forfeiture thereof, who shall then be an infant, married woman, or insane person, may, until the expiration of three years after the removal of such disability, have the land, or such interest charged on such books, with all State and other taxes that shall be, and but for the forfeiture would be chargeable on the land, or interest therein for the year 1863, and every year thereafter with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum; and pay all taxes and interest thereon for all such years and thereby redeem the land or interest therein: Provided, Such right to redeem shall in no case extend beyond twenty years from the time such land was forfeited.

ARTICLE XIV

AMENDMENTS

1. No convention shall be called, having the authority to alter the Constitution of the State, unless it be in pursuance of a law, passed by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to each House of the Legislature and providing that polls shall be opened throughout the State, on the same day therein specified, which shall not be less than three months after the passage of such law, for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters on the question of calling a convention. And such convention shall not be held unless a majority of the votes cast at such polls be in favor of calling the same; nor shall the members be elected to such convention until at least one month after the result of the vote shall be duly ascertained, declared and published. And all acts and ordinances of the said convention shall be submitted to the voters of the State for ratification or rejection, and shall have no validity whatever until they are ratified.

HOW AMENDMENTS ARE MADE

2. Any amendment to the Constitution of the State may be proposed in either House of the Legislature; and if the same, being read on three several days in each House, be agreed to on its third reading, by two-thirds of the members elected thereto, the proposed amendment, with the yeas and nays thereon, shall be entered on the journals, and it shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide by law, for submitting the same to the voters of the State for ratification or rejection at the next general election thereafter, and cause the same to be published at least three months before such election in some newspaper in every county in which a newspaper is printed. And if a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question at the polls held pursuant to such law, ratify the proposed amendment, it shall be in force from the time of such ratification, as part of the Constitution of the State. If two or more amendments be submitted at the same time, the vote on the ratification or rejection shall be taken on each separately.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

THE JUDICIAL AMENDMENT

(House Joint Resolution No. 15, Acts 1901, p. 462. Ratified in November, 1902.)

The Supreme Court of Appeals shall consist of five judges. Those judges in office when this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until their terms shall expire, and the Legislature shall provide for the election of an additional judge of said court at the next general election whose term shall begin on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and five, and the Governor shall, as for a vacancy, appoint a judge of said court to hold office until the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and five. The judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals and of the circuit courts shall receive such salaries as shall be fixed by law, for those now in or those hereafter to come into office.

THE IRREDUCIBLE SCHOOL FUND AMENDMENT

(House Joint Resolution No. 28, Acts 1901, p. 465. Ratified in November, 1902.)

The accumulation of the school fund provided for in section four of article twelve of the Constitution of this State, shall cease upon the adoption of this amendment, and all money to the credit of said fund over one million of dollars, together with the interest on said fund, shall be used for the support of the free schools of this State. All money and taxes heretofore payable into the treasury under the provisions of said section four, to the credit of the school fund, shall be hereafter paid into the treasury to the credit of the general school fund for the support of the free schools of the State.

THE GOOD ROADS AMENDMENT OF 1920

(Proposed by Senate Joint Resolution No. 15, Acts 1919, p. 502. Ratified November 2, 1920.)

The Legislature shall make provision by law for a system of state roads and highways connecting at least the various county seats of the state, and to be under the control and supervision of such state officers and agencies as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall also provide a state revenue to build, construct, and maintain, or assist in building, constructing and maintaining the same, and for that purpose shall have power to authorize the issuing and selling of state bonds, the aggregate outstanding amount of which, at any one time, shall not exceed fifty million dollars.

When a bond issue as aforesaid is authorized, the Legislature shall at the same time provide for the collection of an annual state tax sufficient to pay annually the interest on such debt, and the principal thereof, within and not exceeding thirty years.

THE GOOD ROADS AMENDMENT OF 1928

(Proposed by House Joint Resolution No. 17, Acts 1927, p. 361. Ratified November 6, 1928.)

The legislature shall have power to authorize the issuing and selling of state bonds not exceeding in the aggregate thirty-five million dollars in addition to the state bonds which were authorized to be issued and sold by the amendment to the Constitution proposed by Senate Joint Resolution No. 15, adopted February 15, 1919, and afterwards ratified by a vote of the people. The proceeds of said additional bonds hereby authorized to be issued and sold shall be used and appropriated solely for the building and constructing, or for assisting in building and constructing, the system of state roads and highways provided for by the amendment to the Constitution above mentioned.

When a bond issue as aforesaid is authorized, the legislature shall at the same time provide for the collection of an annual state tax sufficient to pay annually the interest on such debt and to pay the principal thereof within and not exceeding thirty years.

REPORT OF COMMISSION APPOINTED PURSUANT TO HOUSE
JOINT RESOLUTION NUMBER FIVE ADOPTED BY THE LEG-ISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA, MARCH 9, 1929, TO STUDY THE CONSTITUTION AND TO SUBMIT AMENDMENTS THERETO

CHARLESTON, W. VA., DECEMBER 1, 1930.

TO THE HONORABLE WILLIAM G. CONLEY,
Governor of West Virginia,
Charleston, W. Va.

SIR:

The Commission appointed pursuant to House Joint Resolution Number 5, adopted by the Legislature of 1929 on March 9, 1929, to study the Constitution of West Virginia and to submit amendments thereto, respectfully submits the following report:

The duties of the Commission are thus defined in said resolution, which reads as follows:

"Be it Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

"That as soon as practicable after March fourth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, the Governor of the State of West Virginia be and he is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a commission to study the Constitution and the needs of the State and to submit to the Governor at least thirty days prior to the next regular session of the Legislature, such amendments to the State Constitution as the commission deems necessary to remove existing barriers and restrictions to the further and greater development of the State and its diversified interests. Said commission shall consist of eleven members, including a judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals. In the appointment of other members of the said commission, the Governor is hereby directed to designate at least one member from each of the six congressional districts and to give consideration in making such appointments to those interests generally known as agriculture, public utilities, labor, coal, manufacturing, oil and gas and to the legal profession. Upon the completion of the report the commission shall file same with the Governor who is hereby directed to make it public in order that it may have the thorough consideration of the people of the State prior to the assembling of the legislature and to transmit said report to the next regular session of the legislature."

ORGANIZATION

Pursuant to the terms of the resolution your Excellency appointed a Commission consisting of George M. Alexander, Fairmont; J. G. Bradley, Dundon; Charles W. Dillon, Fayetteville; John B. Easton, Williamstown; E. S. Humphrey, Belleville; Edward W. Knight, Charleston; Judge Frank Lively, Charleston; H. C. Ogden, Wheeling; D. J. F. Strother, Welch; Emory Tyler, Keyser, and Kemble White, Fairmont. Subsequently, Mr. Ogden declined the appointment and Wright Hugus, Wheeling, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The commission held its first meeting at Charleston, West Virginia, on the 18th day of December, 1929, and organized, electing D. J. F. Strother, of Welch, chairman; E. W. Knight, of Charleston, vice-chairman, and Wright Hugus, of Wheeling, secretary. The commission selected J. V. Sullivan, of Charleston, as assistant secretary.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Through the courtesy of the Press and by general invitation given to the public and various organizations throughout the State, much publicity was given to public hearings held by the commission and many helpful suggestions were made. A direct invitation was given to the members of the Legislature to appear before the commission and a number of them did so and presented beneficial suggestions. We are forwarding for your information, stenographic reports of these public hearings.

EXPENSES

The Legislature when providing for the appointment of the commission failed to make any provision to defray expenses. The necessary expenditures for secretarial assistance and stenographic help has been met through the cooperation of your Excellency and the Board of Public Works, by providing funds from the State Emergency Fund. We attach a detailed statement of expenses incurred. The members of the commission have served without compensation. We transmit to your Excellency a statement showing the actual traveling and personal expenses of the several members.

GENERAL POLICY

The Legislature in adopting the foregoing resolution has indicated that constitutional revision is desirable. In submitting this report the commission believes that the suggested changes are important and that the Legislature of 1931 should be urged to consider and act thereupon.

The general policy of the commission has been to consider only subjects of paramount importance and to suggest amendments which are deemed wise and conducive to more efficient government. Where a provision of the Constitution has been changed by a subsequent amendment without a direct repealing clause, or has been changed by an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the commission has not deemed it necessary to eliminate from the Constitution these non-effective provisions inasmuch as amendments doing so would only lead to confusion and be productive of no real results.

PURPOSE

The guiding purpose of the commission has been to enable the Legislature to exercise larger powers so as to secure to the State and to its political subdivisions more elastic forms of government, capable of being adjusted from time to time to new conditions. The Legislature is closest to the people and its powers to adapt the government in its details to the needs of the people should not be unreasonably restricted. At the same time, the commission is of the opinion that these legislative powers should be reasonably limited to prevent abuses in public administration.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

The commission gave particular attention to the several articles of the Constitution concerning taxation, the judiciary, education and the organization and government of the State, counties, cities and towns, including the subjects commonly known as municipal home rule and the short ballot.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

By reference to the Constitution and the proposed amendments which are hereto attached as part of this report, it will appear that for the purpose of easy comparison each page is set up in parallel columns. In the left-hand column is placed the existing Constitution with proposed amendments incorporated therein. Where no amendment is proposed the original section appears in the left-hand column with the right-hand column showing the word "Unchanged." In other words, the left-hand column presents the whole Constitution as it will be if the proposed amendments are adopted; and the right-hand column reproduces only the original sections in respect to which amendments are proposed. We briefly outline here those believed to be the more important.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—See explanatory note immediately following this report.)

ARTICLE VI

Section 35. In order to permit persons who have been injured through the wrongful act of a State agency, either through breach of contract or by tort, to recover damages suffered by them by reason thereof, it is proposed that this section be amended so as to permit the Legislature to pass laws providing that the State may be sued under such circumstances as seem to justify such a suit, all as may be provided by statute.

Section 39a. This would be a new section and set up what is commonly known as Municipal Home Rule, prohibiting the passage of special charter bills and providing for the government of cities, towns and villages and the limitation of all municipal levies, by general law.

Section 51. The commission recommends the executive type of budget.

Section 52. This would be a new section and is intended particularly to prohibit the Legislature from making appropriations to sectarian schools. It is believed that public funds should not be used for the support of other than public schools and that unless this field of expenditure is closed, the Legislature, urged by sectarian groups, singly or in combination, might appropriate funds for the support of such sectarian schools when the citizenry of the State is already heavily burdened in the support of public free schools.

ARTICLE VII

Sections 1 and 2. The suggested amendment provides for a limited short ballot, making provision that only the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor and Attorney General would be elected by popular vote, and that all other officers of the State would be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate. It further provides that the terms of the State officers would commence on the first Monday following the second Wednesday in January, instead of upon the fourth day of March as now provided. It is believed that more efficient government can ordinarily be obtained by making some of the present elective officers appointive.

Section 14. The suggested amendment would extend the period of time within which the Governor may veto a bill presented to him by the Legislature for approval.

ARTICLE VIII

The amendment of the whole Judicial Article of the Constitution is proposed and attention is called to the detailed report hereinafter contained.

Section 1. Justices of the peace in most counties would no longer have civil jurisdiction. Such number of justices in each county as may be deemed necessary by the Legislature, with a minimum of two, would be selected as provided by law, with limited civil jurisdiction in counties of less than 20,000 population and with such limited criminal jurisdiction as the Legislature may provide.

Section 3. This proposed amendment would increase the jurisdictional amount required for appeal to the Supreme Court from $100.00 to $300.00, and the writ of certiorari is included in the original writs which may issue from this court. This section would also give the Supreme Court general supervision over all other courts and through rules regulate the procedure and practice of such courts, and thereby minimize technicalities and expedite the hearing of causes upon the merits.

Section 8. This proposed amendment would permit the Legislature to determine the number of circuit judges in each circuit, authorizes the assignment of judges and makes provision for dividing the business of a circuit so as to minimize the cost and promote the efficient administration of justice, at the same time securing to existing judges their tenure of office.

Section 9. This section would increase the minimum original jurisdiction of the circuit courts from $50.00 to $200.00, except as hereinafter noted.

Section 13. This amendment would require the creation of courts of limited jurisdiction in counties having a population of more than 20,000 and permit such courts in counties of less than 20,000 in population. It is thought that justice may be more efficiently rendered if a court of limited jurisdiction is set up in the more densely populated counties than through the maintenance in such counties of the present justice of the peace system. It is recognized that in sparsely settled counties it may be desirable to continue the civil jurisdiction of justices of the peace and in such counties justices may be maintained. In all counties justices may be continued by appropriate legislation as conservators of the peace and examining magistrates. The method of compensating justices is a matter for legislative determination.

ARTICLE IX

Section 1. As proposed, the amendment would abolish the offices of Surveyor of Lands, Constables, Coroners, Overseers of the Poor, and Surveyor of Roads, as constitutional offices. This would permit the Legislature to provide for such of these officers as it would seem necessary to continue. The section would also create a new office, that of County Treasurer, who would collect and disburse all taxes now handled by local officers. The commission believes that this would create an office which would effect a great saving in the collection and disbursement of local taxes. The present constitution is sufficiently elastic to enable the Legislature to make such changes in the laws relating to county organization and government as may be desired from time to time to promote efficient administration of local affairs.

Section 4. (Old Section 8.) This proposed amendment would practically prevent the creation of new counties and also permit legislation authorizing two or more counties to consolidate or to select the same person to fill the same office in each of such counties. It is thought that great economy would be secured if this provision were made effective and materially assist counties now suffering from heavy tax burdens in financing their absolute needs.

ARTICLE X

The commission has realized that the subject of taxation is of first importance and has given particular attention to it. There is widespread criticism of the operation of our government, state and local, and complaint that its structure is antiquated, inefficient and needlessly expensive, and the increased burden of taxation has been the subject of most complaint. In consideration of the subject of taxation, the commission is conscious of the limited nature of its duties, that it is not a legislative body and that it should not undertake to advise the Legislature in matters of detail. But consideration of the subject of taxation has necessarily involved consideration of the laws under which our present tax system is operated, and of the questions (a) whether responsibility for the conditions complained of is chargeable to the laws or to the administration thereof, and (b) to the extent to which such responsibility may be that of the laws, whether our present Constitution will permit such further legislation as may seem necessary.

The criticisms of the operation of the existing tax system may be summed up under two heads, viz, (a) that the burden of taxation is excessive and unnecessary and (b) that the burden is unequally distributed. That the taxpayers have just and real cause for complaint cannot be denied, but it does not necessarily follow that the fault is solely or primarily that of the existing laws or that constitutional amendments are necessary for relief.

In the opinion of the commission the excessive tax burden and the inequality of its distribution are due primarily and principally to (a) lack of effective administration of the existing laws respecting assessments of property and the levying and collecting of taxes, (b) to extravagant and wasteful expenditure of public funds, and (c) to the great number of local and special laws (many of doubtful constitutionality) under which officials of the State's governmental sub-divisions have raised funds, large in aggregate amount, which have been expended extravagantly and uneconomically.

No administration of a governmental unit, large or small, can be perfect or completely efficient. We have always had, and probably always will have, some more or less injudicious and/or extravagant governmental expenditure. And the authorizing of special levies to be laid by one governmental sub-division or another is no new thing. But the world war began an era in which it was apparently believed that the public purse, the ability of the taxpayers to pay taxes, was inexhaustible, and in which extravagance in governmental expenditure and the demands upon the Legislature for authority to lay special levies have vastly increased. The tax burden which causes complaint is principally local, the moneys are raised by local officials and expended by them for local purposes, and in the last analysis the fault lies with the people who elect and re-elect these officials, who often demand unwise expenditures, seemingly overlooking the fact that an added expenditure must mean an added tax. The tax burden, the aggregate of moneys raised for governmental purposes, can be lightened only by the application of sound business methods in the administration of public affairs, and the practice of the utmost economy consistent with efficient administration. The world war era was a period of individual as well as governmental extravagance. In this period of readjustment the wise individual has done away with, or greatly curtailed, his personal extravagances. There has been retrenchment everywhere except in governmental expenditures. And it is time for our governmental agencies to cut down expenditures to figures that can be covered by reasonable demands upon the taxpayers.

The inequality of distribution of the tax burden may likewise be charged in no small degree to the inflation, financial and mental, of the world war era. In and following the world war assessments for taxation of real estate, including farm lands, homes, coal, timber, mineral and other properties, were based upon valuations which were highly speculative and have proven temporary and not representative of actual values over even a brief period. During the brief period of inflated values the public and public servants felt justified in doing the public business, raising and expending public funds, for local purposes particularly, on a corresponding scale, and it is difficult alike for people and officials to bring themselves to a realization of changed values and the necessity of retrenchment in order that taxes shall not consume an undue proportion of the yield, not only of individual properties and classes of property, but of the State's property as a whole.

Lax administration has contributed to the unequal distribution of the tax burden, as probably has the law requiring the annual valuation of real estate for tax purposes. Increases and reductions in real estate values are never uniform, such values depending as they do on many factors, including location, and has been particularly true of these eras of inflation and readjustment. And lax administration, and to a considerable extent the indifference of taxpayers, their unwillingness or neglect to take effective measures for the protection of themselves or others, have led to irregularities in assessment as between similar properties and as between kinds and classes of properties, real and personal.

Assessments in some counties have shown recognition to a greater or less degree of the reductions in real estate values which have taken place. In others there has been little or no recognition of the facts. The assessments in different counties of similar lands and improvements, used for similar purposes and possessing substantially equal value for purposes other than taxation have varied widely. Similarly, under different assessors the valuation of different items of tangible personal property have varied widely from county to county. To arrive at fair standards of values of tangible personal property for the purpose of taxation should not be very difficult. It is unreasonable to expect carefully considered and accurate re-assessments of all real estate annually in most of our counties, and it may very well be that better results would be secured by careful and thorough re-assessments of lands to be effective for periods of more than one year. But in tax, as in other matters, much of the blame charged to the laws and the Legislature belongs to the administration of the laws and the officers acting thereunder.

Governmental organization and regulation and a system of taxation necessary to support governments, state and local, being completely interdependent, the aggregate of the tax burden, whatever its distribution, cannot be decreased except by increased efficiency and economy in governmental administration. The commission accordingly has recommended certain amendments believed necessary to enable appropriate legislation conducive to greater efficiency and economy in public affairs.

These may be briefly enumerated as follows:

(a) The "short ballot" for State Officers, whereby the responsibility of the Governor and his ability to discharge such responsibility are increased by vesting in him the power of appointment to purely administrative state offices. It may be pointed out that without further amendment the Legislature has power to provide for the consolidation of many existing boards, bureaus and commissions into a limited number of administrative departments and to introduce sound business methods into the conduct of the business of the State.

(b) Limiting the legislative power and increasing the power of the Legislature to resist unreasonable demands for the authorization of extravagance under local and special laws (1) by prohibiting the granting of special charters to municipalities, and requiring their incorporation and classification under general laws with limitations of levies and bond issues as to each class; (2) by prohibiting the creation of any additional school district with special powers of taxation, and on the contrary looking to a consolidation of existing districts and the establishment of the county unit for school purposes as and when practicable; (3) requiring that all levies and bond issues for public school purposes shall be authorized only by general laws.

(c) Abolishing certain county and district offices as constitutional offices and providing for the creation of the office of county treasurer to collect all local taxes, including municipal levies, thereby eliminating much duplication of effort and expense in the collection of taxes and the disbursement of public funds.

(d) Providing for the consolidation of existing counties and permitting two or more counties to select one person to hold the same office in each of such counties.

(e) Changes in the organization and jurisdiction of the Judiciary such as will result in an unified system of courts, a more efficient administration of justice and a material reduction in the costs chargeable against the public revenues in the prosecution of crime.

(f) Setting up in each county a Board of Tax Supervisors, appointed by the Governor, and vested with the final power in the matter of approval, or if deemed to the public interest in the reduction, of levies made by the levying bodies of a county and every political sub-division thereof, including municipalities, which it is believed will result in an effective restraint upon the extravagant or unreasonable expenditure of public funds for local purposes.

(g) Recommending the executive type of budget.

Article X of the Constitution constitutes the fundamental law in respect of taxation, and the commission after critical study thereof in the light of existing tax legislation and aided by public hearings recommends changes in Sections 1, 2 and 5 thereof and the addition of a new Section 7a as set forth below.

The effect of these proposed amendments of said Article may be stated as follows:

(a) Section 1 would retain the principle that all property, real and personal, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, with a proviso that the rate upon personal property used in agriculture as defined therein, products of agriculture while owned by the producer, and money, notes, bonds, bills and accounts receivable, stocks and other similar intangible personal property, shall not exceed 50 cents on each $100.00 of value, would authorize the Legislature to extend an exemption to such agricultural property, and would require the exemption of household goods to the value of $200.00, in addition to property which may now be exempted.

(b) Section 2 would require the capitation tax to be paid without regard to sex.

(c) Section 5 would provide that, after the year 1933 the state property tax shall not exceed the rate of one cent on each $100.00 of valuation, except to pay bonded indebtedness of the State, or when it shall be determined by a two-thirds vote of each house of the Legislature that a necessity therefor exists.

(d) New section 7a would provide for county Boards of Tax Supervisors referred to above.

The limited rate to be applied to agricultural personal property with power by law to give total exemption thereto, should furnish some relief to and encourage this field of industry, and if this amendment is adopted and the Legislature should see fit, all agricultural personal property in the ownership of our farmers might be freed from tax.

The exemption of household goods to the value of $200.00 should relieve a great number of householders of a tax which is annoying and sometimes burdensome to the small property owner, the aggregate amount of which is not relatively important, and the net yield of which, above the cost of collection, is small.

The limitation of the tax upon that class of personal property commonly referred to as "intangibles" is considered necessary in order that this fluid wealth may be effectively taxed. Universal experience has shown that this form of wealth, to some extent by unlawful tax evasion, to a large extent by lawful tax avoidance, can and will escape any law that seeks to impose a property tax thereon at a rate which will make ownership thereof unprofitable. It is estimated by conservative students of the subject that within five years from five hundred millions to perhaps one billion dollars of such property, not at present taxed, and most of which is not now subject to taxation, will be made available in form which should be, and will be, returned for taxation, to the manifest relief of the existing tax burden upon real estate and to the general benefit of all. It will especially as a "by-product" inure to the relief of small borrowers who are now unable to secure loans upon their property and homes, except at exorbitant expense, amounting in effect to grossly usurious rates of interest.

The extension of the capitation tax is proposed in order to abolish discrimination, and upon the theory that every adult inhabitant should pay some tax.

The proposal in respect of the State property tax of a maximum of one cent, with the exceptions stated, is intended (1) to practically free property, real and personal, from direct taxes other than for local purposes, except in emergencies, (2) at the same time preserving the public credit, enabling the State to borrow needed funds upon favorable terms, and exercising good faith toward existing creditors of the State, (3) securing land titles by continuing in effect our present forfeiture laws so long as may be necessary, and (4) reserving property as a source of taxation for State purposes in case of an emergency requiring extraordinary revenues, but only in such cases.

The elimination of a direct tax for State purposes would not cripple the State government since it would still have the whole of the wide field of indirect taxation available to meet its expenditures. Reserving property, real and personal, exclusively, or practically so, for taxation by local sub-divisions would neutralize to a large extent the effect of inequalities in assessments as between counties, and should serve to bring home to the taxpayer the fact that the severity of the tax burden is largely due to local government, for which he and his fellows are responsible.

At public hearings held by the commission four major propositions in respect of taxation were urged as required in the public interest, viz:

(a) A proposal by the representatives of the free school system that a considerable part, the proportion not stated, of the present burden of taxation for free school purposes be shifted from local property and carried by extensive state aid from revenues to be derived by indirect taxation.

(b) A proposal by the Taxpayers League for limited classification of property for the purposes of taxation and a limitation of the tax on intangibles to 50 cents on each one hundred dollars. This the commission adopted with some additions.

(c) A proposal by the Tax Commissioner for unlimited classification of property for purposes of taxation which is set forth in more detail and discussed below.

(d) A proposal by representatives of the West Virginia Forestry Association that cut-over timber lands be exempted from taxation pending their reforestation and that they be taxed by a production tax upon the regrown timber when cut and marketed.

The commission is of opinion that the proposal to shift part of the present burden of the free school system as stated does not involve any constitutional question, but is a question of public policy and addressed solely to legislative discretion.

The plan of the State Tax Commissioner would abolish the present constitutional principle that taxation shall be equal and uniform and all property taxed in proportion to its value, and that no one species of property shall be taxed higher than any other species of property of equal value, and would grant authority to the Legislature to classify all property for taxation into any number of classes, to prescribe a different rate of tax for each class, and to designate the purposes for which the tax upon each class of property should be used, with the proviso that intangible personal property in the general form of credits or investments should constitute a single class, not subject to legislative change, and that the maximum limits of levy per $100.00 of valuation upon various kinds of property should be as follows:

|  |        |
|--|--------|
| Upon such intangibles.....                                       | $ .50 |
| Upon agricultural land.....                                      | 1.00   |
| Upon homes occupied by owners thereof exclusively for residences | 1.00   |
| Upon all other property outside municipalities.....              | 1.50   |
| Upon all other property within municipalities.....               | 2.00   |

The plan would also require the Legislature by general law to limit all local levies, subject to an increase if authorized by vote of the people; would authorize personal and corporation income taxes and the imposition of business, privilege and franchise taxes; would authorize certain exceptions from taxation in the main now existing, but with the addition of authority to provide for exemption of manufacturing plants in respect of municipal taxes for a limited period.

The commission disapproves the suggestion that classification of property in general, and especially real estate, be authorized, or that maximum rates of levy be prescribed in the Constitution, except as the commission has recommended. In West Virginia from early days uniform and equal taxation of property has been a fundamental policy, and is believed by the commission to be a sound principle of taxation. And it may be added that several states that have recently adopted amendments permitting the classification of property, including the neighboring state of Ohio, have expressly provided that land with improvements thereon should be taxed at uniform rates according to value, and practically all states adopting classification of property for taxation have retained constitutional provisions that uniform rates should prevail upon property of the same class.

Legislative power of unlimited classification of property for taxation would inevitably divide property owners and business interests into factions, each seeking an advantage or resisting a disadvantage at every session of the Legislature, crowding out other legislative business, and making what should be a tax system an unstable, constantly changing and unscientific structure. The results would be damaging, even disastrous, to governmental administration, public revenue and private industry, since nothing is so likely to repel an investor as a tax system subject to radical changes biennially.

The maximum limits of levy proposed upon the various kinds of property would reduce the public revenues from this source by approximately forty percent on the present basis of assessments and levies, or about twenty millions of dollars. In a number of counties in the state, dependent almost wholly on the taxation of real and personal property to meet public obligations, the local governments could not function normally under such limitations of levy except by increasing valuations on real and personal property, which would deny the relief to the taxpayers ostensibly offered by such limitations. And the condition of such counties would be greatly aggravated if the tax on intangibles should be taken wholly by the State. Also such proposed limitations would tend to impair the credit of political sub-divisions of the State and deprive the Legislature of an essential power of government. It may be added that the limitation of local levies by general laws is now within the legislative power, and the exercise of this power, particularly if aided by efficient functioning of the proposed Board of Tax Supervisors, should accomplish the desired results in checking the evil of excessive local levies.

The Tax Commissioner in argument in support of the amendment proposed by him urged as an important part of the plan of taxation to be based on such amendment the segregation of the tax on intangibles exclusively for state purposes. In view of the ample power of the State to tax privileges and franchises, with broad powers of classification in respect of such taxes, and the fact that the whole field of indirect taxation is open to it, the commission believes that the tax on intangibles, as on other property, should be devoted to purposes of local government. If the local governments can have the benefit of the great increase of revenues that a limited tax on intangibles seems certain to afford the tax burden upon real estate can be considerably diminished.

The proposal to separately classify and limit the tax "upon homes occupied by owners thereof exclusively for residences" does not appeal to either reason or emotion. Such homes in West Virginia vary from a few hundreds of dollars to $10,000, $50,000, $100,000 and more in value, and no justice is perceived in a proposition to tax $5,000 or $100,000 invested by a man in a home occupied by him exclusively for residential purposes at a limited rate while his neighbor, living in a rented house and paying in the rental the taxes on that house at a higher rate, would also pay directly or indirectly higher rates of taxation on $5,000 or $100,000 invested in productive industry or a commercial enterprise.

A constitutional limitation of the tax upon "agricultural land" would present many difficulties in its application and administration, including the legislative definition of such lands and determinations whether particular tracts were within such definition, and would offer opportunities for unfair advantages in the matter of taxation to owners of suburban real estate not quite ready for sub-division and development, undeveloped mineral lands, land held in reserve for extension of industrial plants, etc., of arable quality and perhaps under cultivation, but not primarily or principally valuable for agricultural purposes.

Exemption from municipal taxation of manufacturing plants, for a limited time, would furnish no relief from existing burdens of taxation, but to the contrary, and the policy thereof involves preferential treatment of new business enterprises at the expense of other taxpayers, including established similar industries, with which the new industry would be in competition in respect of both labor and customers.

The commission decided against recommending the exemption from property tax of cut-over timber lands and substituting a production tax as and when another growth of timber shall have been grown and cut, for sundry reasons, including the facts that many such cut-over lands have mineral deposits of greater or less value under them, some cut-over lands will never be devoted to re-growing a commercial forest but will be put to other uses or to no use, and the period during which a crop of timber may be advantageously harvested extends over a number of years, that is to say, after the bulk of the timber on a given tract is ready for cutting there is a considerable period during which such deterioration as occurs is off-set, or perhaps more than off-set, by the continued growth of other timber.

For these reasons undertaking to exempt large areas in some counties of the State from taxation would involve much difficulty and tend to abuses in administration and would impair the public revenues. In particular it would be difficult in many cases to determine whether a given tract was so devoid of value for purposes other than the growing of timber as to justify its exemption from taxation. And the people of a county with limited taxable wealth would feel outraged to see the harvesting of a timber crop delayed for years after it could be profitably cut. It is believed that under the existing laws the slight value of cut-over lands useful only for timber growing can and should be recognized in the assessment of the same.

The commission is of opinion that legislation imposing an income tax is now within the legislative power and would not require a constitutional amendment. But our constitution has, since 1872, made specific provision for taxes upon privileges and franchises which, like the income tax, might be imposed in the absence of a constitutional prohibition. The commission would not recommend any surrender of the State's power to tax incomes and inasmuch as it is preserving the specific authorization of privilege and franchise taxes now found in the constitution, in the proposed amendment of Section 1 of Article X it has deemed it wise to include income taxes therein as well.

ARTICLE XII

Section 7. The effect of this proposed amendment would be to prevent special acts of the Legislature authorizing boards of education to lay levies for special purposes, but all such levies would be laid as provided by general law. In this way, it is thought the present tendency to over-burden a local school district by authority of special acts of the Legislature, of which the local community affected has no means of approving or disapproving, would be effectively curbed.

Section 10. This suggested amendment would prevent the creation of additional school or independent school districts, except by consolidation with an existing district or districts.

ARTICLE XIII

Section 6. With reference to the sale of delinquent lands, the definition of real estate is extended to include any "undivided interest" therein. It also expressly provides that the Legislature may refrain from levying State and State school taxes on real property and in that event there shall be no forfeiture of such land for failure to have it charged for such taxes.

COMMENT UPON SUGGESTIONS MADE TO THE COMMISSION

Many of the subjects to which our attention has been called as requiring constitutional change, have upon consideration been found to be within the legislative power and the commission has accordingly not included in the proposed amendments matters which should be left to the Legislature. Among such subjects were the following:

ARTICLE III. Section 9 providing for the taking of property by condemnation for public purposes. The present system whereby possession of private property can be taken for public use, particularly for the construction and maintenance of State highways, without compensation therefor being available at the time of the taking, in the opinion of the commission, can be corrected by legislative enactment.

ARTICLE IV. Section 2. The suggestion that this section be changed to permit the use of voting machines in elections was deemed not necessary, as it is thought that voting machines can be used if the Legislature wishes so to provide.

ARTICLE VI. Action upon the suggestion that legislative reapportionments are necessary due to the increase of the population in some counties and a decrease in others, is deemed not necessary inasmuch as this Article makes ample provision for reapportionments.

ARTICLE VII. Present agitation for the consolidation of schools throughout a county, ordinarily referred to as the county unit plan, can be settled by legislative action. The commission does not find any constitutional provision which prohibits the county unit plan.

A number of other suggested changes were likewise found to be matters addressing themselves to the Legislature.

FINAL REPORT

The report herewith submitted is the composite work of the members of the commission and is the expression not of the individual but of the combined judgment of the commission. The proposed amendments after a full and thorough consideration were adopted by the unanimous vote of the commission.

The commission recommends that the State Legislature adopt resolutions submitting to the vote of the people the proposed amendments. The amendments suggested may be submitted by Article rather than by separate Sections, and comparatively few amendments will be required to submit all proposals.

Respectfully submitted,

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The remainder of this report, for purposes of easy comparison, carried the present constitution and the proposed changes in parallel columns, but as only forty sections out of the total of one hundred and ninety-four were changed and three new sections added and as the constitution in its present form is printed immediately preceeding this report, thus furnishing a means of comparison, only the changed and added sections included in the commission's report, together with explanatory notes to other sections are given here.)

ARTICLES I AND II

No changes were proposed to these articles nor explanatory notes appended.

ARTICLE III

No changes were proposed to this article, but the following note to Section 9 and to Sections 13 and 14 were added:

"NOTE TO SECTION 9—(TAKING PRIVATE PROPERTY FOR PUBLIC USE)

The commission was urged to propose changes to Section 9 in order to correct abuses which have arisen out of the taking or damaging of private property for public use, especially for roads and highways. No citizen should be disturbed in his possession of private property where it is proposed to take the same for public use, until just compensation therefor shall be ascertained and adequately secured to him by making current funds available to him before the taking, except in cases of real and pressing emergency, but the commission is of the opinion that Section 9 contains all restrictions necessary for protection of private rights, if adequate legislation were enacted.

NOTE TO SECTIONS 13 AND 14—(TRIAL BY JURY)

No change is suggested in Sections 13 and 14, but an amendment hereinafter proposed as Section 13 of Article VIII provides that a petit jury before a Justice of the Peace or in the proposed Summary Court shall consist of six jurors only. No change is suggested in the jury impaneled by a Circuit Court."

ARTICLE IV

No changes were proposed in this article, but notes were added to Sections 1, 2, 4 and 7.

"NOTE TO SECTION 1—(QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS)

The 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States granted the right to vote to women. This Federal Amendment necessarily amended Section 1 of this Article, but the commission does not believe it necessary to suggest the inclusion of the words "and female" as nothing substantial would be gained thereby.

The veterans of foreign wars filed with the commission a petition asking for the amendment of Section 1 on the ground that persons in the military, naval or marine service of the United States were precluded from voting by reason of being stationed within the State. The final inhibition in this Section does not preclude persons in the marine, military or naval service of the United States from voting in West Virginia, provided they are originally or have become citizens of the State and otherwise qualified to vote, and no change in this section is deemed necessary.

NOTE TO SECTION 2—(MODE OF VOTING)

The suggested change of this Section to permit the use of voting machines in elections was deemed not necessary, as is thought that voting machines may be used if the Legislature wishes so to provide.

NOTE TO SECTION 4—(AGE REQUIREMENTS OF OFFICE HOLDERS)

No change is made in this Section, but the proposed Summary Court amendment, Article VIII, Section 13, fixes the age limit of Summary Court Judges and will to that extent modify this Section.

NOTE TO SECTION 7—(TERMS OF OFFICIALS)

This Section would be affected by an amendment to Section 1 of Article VII hereinafter proposed with reference to the commencement of the terms of elective and appointive state officers."

ARTICLE V

No changes were proposed in this article.

ARTICLE VI

A note was added to Sections 2, 4, 5, 8 and 9, and to Section 39 and Section 43 as follows:

"NOTE TO SECTIONS 2, 4, 5, 8 AND 9—(NUMBER AND APPORTIONMENT, LEGISLATURE)

Re-apportionment acts of the Legislature, authorized by this Article, have changed the Senatorial and Delegate Districts as set out in the present Constitution. No useful purpose would be served in adopting amendments to bring these sections in harmony with existing statutes.

NOTE TO SECTION 39—(WHEN LOCAL LAWS NOT TO BE PASSED)

No amendment is proposed to this Section but provisions with reference to the incorporation of cities, towns or villages would be superseded by the addition of a new Section submitted as Section 39a.

The proposed amendment hereinafter set forth with reference to the prohibition against the making of appropriations for certain classes of schools would further limit the powers of the Legislature to pass local or special laws upon that subject.

NOTE TO SECTION 43—(PROHIBITING BOARD OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS)

This section is in conflict with Section 12 of Article IV. The latter section, however, having been adopted subsequent to the adoption of Section 43 of Article VI, annuls Section 43."

The Commission proposed to change Section 24 to read as follows:

"Sec. 24. Rules Governing Legislative Proceedings.—A majority of the members elected to each House of the Legislature shall constitute a quorum. But a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, as each House may provide. Each House shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members.

The Lieutenant Governor shall be President of the Senate and shall be entitled to vote only in case of a tie. The Senate shall choose from its own body a President pro tempore who shall preside over the Senate in the absence or disability of the Lieutenant Governor or when the Lieutenant Governor shall exercise the office of Governor of the State.

The House of Delegates shall choose from its own body a Speaker. Each House shall appoint its own officers, and remove them at pleasure.

The oldest Delegate present, in point of continuous service, shall call the House to order at the opening of each new House of Delegates, and preside over it until the Speaker thereof shall have been chosen, and have taken his seat.

NOTE TO SECTION 24

This suggested amendment provides that the Lieutenant Governor shall preside over the Senate and that in his absence or disability, or when he acts as Governor, the President pro tempore, who shall have been chosen by the Senate, shall preside. It also provides that the oldest delegate in point of continuous service shall preside until a Speaker is chosen."

The following change was proposed by the Commission in Section 33:

"Sec. 33. Compensation of Members.—The members of the Legislature shall each receive for his services the sum of Five Hundred Dollars per annum; and in addition he shall receive ten cents for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the seat of Government by the most direct route for each regular and extraordinary session of the Legislature.

The Speaker of the House of Delegates shall receive an additional compensation of Five Dollars per day for each day he shall act as such Speaker. The President pro tempore of the Senate shall receive an additional compensation of Five Dollars per day for each day he shall preside over the Senate due to the absence or disability of the Lieutenant Governor. No other allowance or emolument than that by this section provided, shall directly or indirectly be made or paid to the members of either House for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatever.

NOTE TO SECTION 33

The proposed amendment to this Section provides for additional mileage to the members of the Legislature in attendance upon extraordinary sessions. Under the existing section it is not clear whether or not a member of the Legislature is entitled to such additional mileage. The amendment would also increase the allowance to the Speaker and the President pro tempore from two dollars per day to five dollars per day."

The Commission proposed to change Section 35 as follows:

"Sec. 35. State Not to be Made Defendant in Any Court.—The State of West Virginia shall never be made defendant in any court of law or equity without its consent, hereafter duly given by the Legislature.

NOTE TO SECTION 35

At present a number of the agencies of the State Government have the authority to, and do make contracts with private individuals. There is no method by which such private individuals may have adjudicated their claims for breach of such contracts. State agencies through their agents and employees may commit torts upon private individuals and their property without being required to answer in a court of law or equity for damages sustained thereby. The commission is of opinion that remedies should be provided under proper safeguards whereby just claims arising either out of breach of contract or tort may be adjudicated and satisfied."

The following new section was suggested by the Commission:

"Sec. 39a. Municipal Home Rule.—No local or special law shall hereafter be passed incorporating cities, towns or villages, or amending their charters. The Legislature shall provide by general laws for the incorporation and government of cities, towns and villages and shall classify such municipal corporations, upon the basis of population, into not less than three nor more than five classes. Such general laws shall restrict the powers of such cities, towns and villages to borrow money and contract debts, and shall limit the rate of taxes for municipal purposes. Under such general laws, the electors of each municipal corporation, wherein the population exceeds five thousand, shall have power and authority to frame, adopt and amend the charter of such corporation, or to amend an existing charter thereof, and through its legally constituted authority, may pass all laws and ordinances relating to its municipal affairs, provided that any such charter or amendment thereto, and any such law or ordinance so adopted, shall be invalid and void if inconsistent or in conflict with this Constitution or the general laws of the State then in effect, or thereafter from time to time enacted.

NOTE TO SECTION 39a

The foregoing would be a new section intended to provide for what is commonly known as Municipal Home Rule. Under the provisions of this proposed section, cities, towns and villages would be classified according to population and a general law passed to govern the municipalities of each class. City charters would no longer be amended by the Legislature but would be amended by the local communities in accordance with general law, thus eliminating much special legislation and the evils incident thereto. The form and efficiency of municipal government are necessarily local subjects and any defects therein in the last analysis can only be corrected by the electors of the locality involved. The granting or amending by the Legislature of special charters has solved no problem of municipal government. The volume of legislation upon this subject would seem to condemn the present method. Under present method the electors of a community have been, or feel that they have been, deprived of the inherent right of governing themselves in local affairs."

Section 51 is changed to read:

"Sec. 51. The Budget System.—All appropriations of money from the treasury shall be made by the Legislature in a Budget Bill or other appropriation bills, as hereinafter provided.

The Governor shall prepare and transmit to the Legislature two Budget Bills, one for each of the two fiscal years next ensuing, embracing proposed appropriations for the various Departments of the State Government and for such other purposes as may be authorized by the Constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof. The Legislature shall insert in each such Budget Bill only such appropriations as may be necessary to pay the salaries and compensation of its members and officers and such expenses as may be incurred in the performance of its duties, and may amend the bill by diminishing or eliminating but not by increasing any item therein, provided, that the salary or compensation of any public officer shall not be diminished during his term of office.

After the Budget Bill has been finally acted upon by both Houses, but not before, the Legislature may pass other appropriation bills. Each Budget Bill or other appropriation bill when passed by both Houses shall be immediately presented to the Governor, who may approve or veto the same as a whole, veto any item therein or decrease any item therein.

If the Governor veto the Bill as a whole, or any item therein, or decrease any item therein, he shall return the bill to the House in which it originated, together with a statement of his reasons for so doing. The Legislature may by a two-thirds vote of the members present in each House, taken by yeas and nays, override the veto of the Governor, in which case it shall become a law as originally passed, notwithstanding the veto of the Governor.

The Legislature shall, by law, prescribe the form of the Budget Bills, require the Governor to include therein the estimated revenues and proposed expenditures for each fiscal year and empower the Governor to require from the proper state officials, all Executive and Administrative Officers, Boards, Bureaus, Commissions and Agencies expending or supervising the expenditure of, and all institutions applying for, public revenues or appropriations, such itemized estimates and other information, in such form and at such times as he shall direct.

Nothing in this amendment shall be construed as preventing the Legislature from passing an appropriation bill to provide for the payment of any obligation of the state incurred to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the state, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion or defend the state in time of war.

NOTE TO SECTION 51

Upon the subject of budgetary control of public expenditures, various forms, statutory and constitutional, have been tried. The Commission is of opinion that a budget plan, brief in form, defining in the constitution the respective powers of the Governor and of the Legislature in respect to such expenditures is to be preferred. Under the proposal the Governor is made the budget officer with all the responsibilities of such officer. If the Legislature desires it may make additional appropriations, subject to the veto of the Governor.

In the opinion of the Commission the present budget system does not place the government upon the business-like basis originally intended. The proposal, it is expected, will assist materially in this respect, and will definitely fix the responsibility for every item of expenditure."

A new section is proposed by the Commission, to be added, numbered 52:

"Sec. 52. Appropriations to Sectarian Institutions.—No appropriation shall be made or authorized by the Legislature to any church, denominational or sectarian educational institution, or to any denominational or sectarian society, association or institution of any kind which is entirely or partly, directly or indirectly, controlled by any church or sectarian society.

NOTE TO SECTION 52

This would be a new section and is intended to prohibit the appropriation of public moneys for educational purposes to any institution controlled directly or indirectly by any religious sect."

ARTICLE VII

The following notes were added to sections of this article which were left unchanged:

"NOTE TO SECTION 15—(APPROPRIATION BILLS)

The budget amendment recommended would modify this section in respect of the vote necessary to override the executive veto.

NOTE TO SECTION 17—(VACANCIES IN AND REPORTS BY EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS)

The first sentence of this Section will become inoperative if Sections 1 and 2 as proposed are adopted. The balance of this section pertaining to accounting by public officials will remain in full force and effect."

Sections 1 and 2 were changed to read as follows:

"Section 1. Executive Department.—The Executive Department of the State shall consist of a Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney General, State Superintendent of Free Schools and Commissioner of Agriculture, who shall reside at the seat of government during their term of office, and keep there the public records, books and papers pertaining to their respective offices, and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law. The term of office of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor and Attorney General, respectively, shall be four years, and shall commence on the first Monday following the second Wednesday in January next after their election. The terms of office of the persons who shall be Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney General, State Superintendent of Free Schools and Commissioner of Agriculture, respectively at the time this amendment becomes effective, shall expire January, 193.....

Sec. 2. Election.—An election for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor and Attorney General shall be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law. If the office of Auditor or Attorney General shall become vacant by resignation or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to fill the same by appointment, and the appointee shall hold his office until his successor shall be elected and qualified in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

NOTE TO SECTIONS 1 AND 2

The amendments proposed in Sections 1 and 2 provide in effect for a so-called short ballot. If the amendments are adopted, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor and Attorney General would be elected by the voters. All other executive officers would be appointed by the Governor. The term of State officers would commence on the first Monday following the second Wednesday in January after their election or appointment, instead of upon the 4th day of March following their election as now provided. The proposed date for taking office is suggested because of the requirement that the Legislature shall canvass the election returns and make the proper certificates with reference to election of State Officers. The amendment would further eliminate from the present Section of Article VII the exception as to the residence of the Attorney General and require him to reside at the seat of government. Section 2 likewise provides for the filling of a vacancy in the office of Auditor or Attorney General."

The Commission proposed to change Section 5 to read:

"Sec. 5. Chief Executive—Powers.—The chief executive power shall be vested in the Governor, who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

The Governor shall appoint, by and with the consent of the Senate, a Secretary of State, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Treasurer and Commissioner of Agriculture, each for a term coincident with that of the Governor making such appointment. Provided, however, that the first appointments under this section shall be made upon the expiration of the term of office of the Secretary of State, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Treasurer and Commissioner of Agriculture which began March 4, 19.....

NOTE TO SECTION 5

The proposed amendment is in line with the recommendation of the short ballot suggested in Section 2 and would provide for the appointment by the Governor of the Secretary of State, State Superintendent of Free Schools, Treasurer and Commissioner of Agriculture. The Commission is of opinion that the offices suggested to be appointive are purely administrative offices, requiring a high degree of scientific or technical knowledge, and that more efficient government can ordinarily be secured by having these offices filled by appointment rather than election. On the other hand, the Commission is of opinion that the offices of Auditor and Attorney General, being respectively the chief fiscal and legal offices of the State are of such nature and have such powers and responsibilities in maintaining a check upon the other state departments as to require their selection to be by vote of the electors."

The following change in Section 14 is suggested by the Commission :

"Sec. 14. How Bills Become Laws.—Every bill passed by the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approves, he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which House shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members elected to that House, agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members elected to that House it shall become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. But in all such cases, the vote of each House shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered upon the journal of each house, respectively. Any bill which shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature shall, by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the Governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the Legislature unless approved by the Governor within thirty days after such adjournment.

NOTE TO SECTION 14

This proposed amendment would extend the period of five days to ten days within which the Governor may veto a bill presented to him while the Legislature is in session. It also extends the period of five days to thirty days following the adjournment of the Legislature within which he may veto a bill. It is believed by the commission that the present limitations of five days each give insufficient time for the Governor to consider the large number of measures which may be presented to him for approval or disapproval. The proposed amendment, also, would require a two-thirds vote of each House to override the veto of the Governor, instead of a majority."

Section 16 is changed to read ;

"Sec. 16. Vacancy in Governorship, How Filled.—In case of the death, conviction or impeachment, failure to qualify, resignation, or other disability of the Governor, the lieutenant governor shall act as Governor until the expiration of the term thereof or until the disability is removed; and if the lieutenant-governor, for any of the above named causes shall become incapable of performing the duties of governor, the same shall devolve upon the president pro tempore of the Senate, and if he is unable to act, then upon the Speaker of the House of Delegates; and in all other cases where there is no one to act as Governor, one shall be chosen by a joint vote of the Legislature.

NOTE TO SECTION 16

The above proposed amendment makes provision for the election of a Lieutenant-Governor and provides for his duties."

ARTICLE VIII

The following changes are proposed by the Commission in this article:

"Section 1. Judicial Department.—The judicial power of the State shall be vested in a supreme court of appeals, in circuit courts and the judges thereof, and in such inferior courts and tribunals as are herein authorized.

NOTE TO SECTION 1

This section would be changed by omitting the words "and in justices of the peace," who, under the re-draft, may continue under existing or future statutes. The only inferior courts or tribunals with judicial power would be those authorized under Section 13 as redrafted.

Sec. 2. Supreme Court of Appeals.—The Supreme Court of Appeals shall consist of five judges. They shall be elected by the voters of the State and hold their office for the term of twelve years, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. They shall receive such salaries as may be fixed by law, and any change in salaries shall apply to the judges in office at the time as well as to those thereafter elected. The Legislature may provide for the election, after the year 1935, of two additional judges of said Court, and prescribe when their terms shall begin. A majority of the judges of said Court shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

No decision rendered by the Supreme Court of Appeals shall be considered as binding authority upon any of the inferior courts of this State, except in the particular case decided, unless such decision is concurred in by a majority of the judges of said court.

When a judgment or decree is reversed, modified or affirmed by the Supreme Court of Appeals, every point fairly arising upon the record shall be considered and decided; and the reasons therefor shall be concisely stated in writing and preserved with the record; and it shall be the duty of the court to prepare a syllabus of the points adjudicated in each case, concurred in by a majority of the judges thereof, which shall be prefixed to the published report of the case.

NOTE TO SECTION 2

This section rewrites sections 2, 4, 5 and a portion of the judicial amendment, ratified in 1902. The material changes are as follows:

(a) The Legislature is authorized to provide for two additional judges of the Supreme Court, after the year 1935, and to fix the salaries of the judges of this court, applying any change therein to the judges then in office.

(b) Providing that a majority of such judges shall constitute a quorum, the change being necessary when the number of judges is increased.

(c) Original section 4 is included in re-drafted Section 2 and the expression "at least three judges" is changed to "by a majority of the judges."

(d) Original section 5 is incorporated in re-drafted Section 2 and provision is made that a syllabus shall be concurred in by a majority of the judges.

(e) Original section 5 is incorporated in Section 2 and provision is made for instances wherein the Supreme Court modifies a judgment or decree.

Section 3 is changed to read:

"Sec. 3. Scope of Jurisdiction.—The Supreme Court of Appeals shall have original jurisdiction in cases of habeas corpus, mandamus, prohibition and certiorari. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy, exclusive of costs, is of greater value or amount than $300.00; in controversies concerning the title or boundaries of land, the probate of wills, the appointment or qualification of a personal representative, guardian, committee or curator; or concerning a mill, road, way, ferry, or landing; or the right of a corporation or county to levy tolls or taxes; and also, in cases of quo warranto, habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari, and prohibition, and in cases involving freedom or the constitutionality of a law. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases where there has been a conviction for felony or misdemeanor in a circuit court, and such appellate jurisdiction, where there has been a conviction in a criminal case in an inferior court, as may be conferred upon it by law, and in cases relating to the public revenue, the right of appeal shall belong to the State, as well as the defendant; and such other appellate jurisdiction, in both civil and criminal cases, as may be prescribed by law. It shall have general supervisory control over all circuit and inferior courts and tribunals under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

NOTE TO SECTION 3

Original Section 3 is changed as follows:

(a) By adding certiorari to the writs of original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. It is considered advisable that the original jurisdiction of this Court be enlarged to include this writ, because the other original writs issuing therefrom are inadequate to allow this Court to exercise the necessary jurisdiction of a court of last resort. In the absence of constitutional authority the Legislature has from time to time attempted to vest in the Supreme Court jurisdiction to review acts of public officials and administrative bodies. All doubt as to the validity of this legislation should be removed and this Court should be expressly authorized to issue this customary writ of courts of last resort.

(b) By changing the appellate jurisdiction, where the matter in controversy is of greater value than One Hundred Dollars, to the sum of Three Hundred Dollars.

(c) Vesting the Supreme Court with such appellate jurisdiction where there has been a conviction in a criminal case in an inferior court, as may be conferred by law; so that writs of error may lie from the Supreme Court even to an inferior court.

(d) Vesting the Supreme Court with such supervisory control over circuit and inferior courts and tribunals as may be prescribed by law. This control is deemed necessary to secure an efficient and expeditious administration of justice and will expressly authorize the Supreme Court to exercise the inherent rule-making powers of courts."

Present Sections 4 and 5 are redrafted and included in new Section 2.

Present Section 6 is renumbered Section 4.

Present Section 7 is renumbered Section 5.

Present Section 8 is renumbered Section 6.

Present Section 9 is renumbered Section 7.

New Section 8 reads as follows:

"Sec. 8. Circuit Courts—The Legislature shall determine the number of judges to be elected in each circuit by the voters thereof. Each of the judges so elected shall hold his office for the term of eight years unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed in this Constitution. During his continuance in office the judge of a circuit court shall reside in the circuit of which he is a judge. The Legislature shall by law make provision for dividing the business of those circuits in which there shall be more than one judge between the judges thereof so as to promote and secure the convenient and expeditious transaction of such business. A vacancy in the office of a judge of the circuit court shall be filled in the same manner as in the case of a vacancy in the office of a judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals.

A circuit court shall be held in every county in the State at least three times in each year and provision by law may be made for holding regular and special terms of the circuit courts, where from any cause the judges shall fail to attend, or cannot properly preside. A judge of any circuit may be authorized or required to hold court in any other circuit. The existing judicial circuits shall remain as they are until changed by law, but the Legislature may rearrange the circuits herein provided for at any session thereof next preceding any general election of the judges of said circuits, and increase or diminish the number thereof. A judge of the circuit court in office at the time of any such change shall continue a judge of the circuit in which he shall reside after such change until the expiration of the term for which he has been elected, unless sooner removed as aforesaid.

NOTE TO SECTION 8

Original sections 10, 11, 13, 14 and 15 are consolidated and rewritten as Section 8 with the following changes:

(a) Existing judicial circuits shall remain, until changed by law, but the Legislature may rearrange the circuits, at any session preceding any general election of such judges, and increase or diminish the number thereof.

(b) The number of circuit judges in each circuit shall be fixed by law, and, where a circuit has more than one circuit judge, provision shall be made by law for dividing business therein between the judges, so as to secure the convenient transaction thereof.

(c) In any change of judicial circuits, the circuit judges in office, and affected thereby, shall remain judges of the respective circuits in which they reside after such change, until the expiration of their respective terms.

(d) A circuit judge may be authorized or required to hold court in any other circuit. This change should result in economy, not only of public funds, but of time of litigants, witnesses and jurors, and also expedite the trial of cases in congested circuits."

New Section 9 reads as follows:

"Sec. 9. Circuit Court Jurisdiction.—The circuit court shall have the supervision and control of all proceedings before all inferior tribunals by mandamus, prohibition and certiorari. They shall, except in cases confined exclusively by this Constitution to some other tribunal, have original and general jurisdiction of all matters at law where the amount in controversy, exclusive of interest, exceeds $200.00; of all cases of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto and prohibition; of all crimes and misdemeanors. They shall have exclusive, original and general jurisdiction in all cases in equity and in all matters of probate, the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees, curators, and the settlement of their accounts. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, civil and criminal, where an appeal, writ of error, or supersedeas, may be allowed to the judgment or proceedings of any county court, summary court, or inferior tribunal. The circuit court shall have all judicial power, authority, or jurisdiction not vested by this Constitution or by the laws consistent therewith, in some other court or tribunal. They shall also have such other jurisdiction, whether supervisory, original, appellate, or concurrent, as is or may be prescribed by law.

NOTE TO SECTION 9

The following changes in original Section 12 (now proposed Section 9) are suggested:

(a) The circuit court control over proceedings "before justices" is deemed to be included in the phrase "and other inferior tribunals" without expressly designating justices; hence the phrase "before justices" is omitted.

(b) The minimum original jurisdiction of the circuit court in all matters at law, is fixed at an amount in excess of two hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, whereas the present minimum original jurisdiction is fifty dollars.

(c) The circuit court is vested with exclusive original and general jurisdiction in all cases in equity; also like jurisdiction in all matters of probate, the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, committees, curators, and the settlement of their accounts. The transfer of this jurisdiction from county courts to circuit courts need not create any new office or additional expense. The functions in this respect now performed by county clerks may be performed by circuit clerks by appropriate legislation.

(d) The circuit court is vested with all judicial power, authority or jurisdiction not vested by this Constitution, or by the laws consistent therewith, exclusively in some other court or tribunal."

Present Sections 13, 14 and 15 are consolidated and rewritten in new Section 8.

New Section 10 would read:

"Sec. 10. Relating to Judges.—All judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals and of the circuit courts shall be commissioned by the Governor and shall receive such salaries as may be fixed by law, which shall not be diminished during the term for which any such judge shall have been elected, and shall be paid solely out of state funds. Such judges may receive the mileage provided by law. No judge, during his term of office, shall practice the profession of law or hold any other office, appointment or public trust under this, or any other government, and the acceptance thereof shall vacate his judicial office; nor shall he, during his continuance therein, be eligible to any political office.

NOTE TO SECTION 10

This proposed section would change original number 16 to 10 and as redrafted would eliminate the provision as to Ohio county, and incorporate therein so much of the Judicial Amendment of 1902, as provides that the salaries of the Supreme Court and Circuit Court Judges shall be fixed by law. The changes are as follows:

(a) Such salaries shall not be diminished during the term for which any such judge shall have been elected.

(b) All such judges shall be paid their respective salaries solely out of state funds. Local acts authorizing county courts to pay additional compensation to circuit judges out of county funds are deemed inadvisable. The practice has a tendency to involve circuit judges in controversies with county courts, impairing the independence of the judiciary. This tendency is deemed a grave public evil and should be prohibited. It is of first importance that judges of courts of general jurisdiction be paid adequate compensation, and should not be placed in the position of being suppliants before political bodies. If the Legislature deems it advisable, it may classify circuits in fixing salaries.

(c) Each such judge shall receive the mileage provided by law, instead of the same mileage as members of the Legislature."

Present Section 17 is unchanged and renumbered 11.

New Section 12 reads:

"Sec. 12. General Provisions.—There shall be in each county the office of clerk of the circuit court thereof, whose term of office, duties, responsibilities, compensation and manner of selection to and of removal from office shall be prescribed by law. Provision shall be made by law when a vacancy in the office shall occur, and for any case wherein the clerk shall be so situated as to make it improper for him to act. The clerks of said courts in office when this article takes effect shall remain therein for the term for which they were elected, unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed by law.

NOTE TO SECTION 12

Original number 18 would be changed to 12 and redrafted so as to leave the method of selection of a circuit clerk, and filling of a vacancy in such office, and the term of such office, to the Legislature, to be prescribed by law. It may be to the public interest that the clerks should be selected by and be under the control of the court."

New Section 13 reads:

"Sec. 13. Courts of Limited Jurisdiction.—The Legislature may establish in each county of the State, and shall establish in each county having a population of more than twenty thousand a summary court, which shall be a court of record. The court shall consist of one or more judges, to be elected in each county by the voters thereof. Each of the judges so elected shall hold his office for the term of four years unless sooner removed in the manner prescribed herein. During his continuance in office such judge shall reside in the county of which he is a judge. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of summary judge unless he shall have attained the age of twenty-three years, be a voter in and resident of such county and shall have been admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of Appeals. A summary judge shall be commissioned by the Governor, shall receive such salary, allowance and mileage as may be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected, and shall be paid by the county. No such judge during his term of office shall practice the profession of law or hold any other office, appointment or public trust under this or any other government, and the acceptance thereof shall vacate his judicial office; nor shall he during his continuance therein be eligible to any political office. Judges of summary courts may be removed from office, for cause, by the Supreme Court of Appeals, after reasonable notice of the causes alleged for such removal, the procedure to be prescribed by law.

In those counties where there shall be more than one summary judge, the Legislature shall make adequate provision for the distribution, assignment and conduct of the business of such court, as shall promote and secure the convenient and expeditious transaction thereof. Provision shall be made by law in cases where it is improper for a summary judge to act, or where, for any reason, a summary judge cannot exercise the jurisdiction of such court, or in case of a vacancy in such office.

The Legislature shall make provision for a clerk of a summary court, and prescribe his term of office, duties and compensation.

A summary court shall be held at the county seat but the Legislature may provide that a summary judge may hold, and exercise the jurisdiction of, his court anywhere within the county.

Summary courts shall always be open for the exercise of the jurisdiction thereof, which shall be uniform in each county throughout the State and shall be regulated by general law.

The jurisdiction of a summary court shall extend throughout the county. Such courts shall have such jurisdiction, original or appellate, in criminal matters, as may be prescribed by law, and exclusive jurisdiction in all civil actions at law for the recovery of money, including actions in which damages are claimed as compensation for an injury or wrong, or for the possession of personal property, where the value of the matter in controversy, exclusive of interest, shall not exceed two hundred dollars, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court, in all such matters, where the value thereof exceeds two hundred dollars and does not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and in actions of unlawful detainer of real estate or for trespass on real estate or damages to the same or to rights pertaining thereto if the damages claimed do not exceed five hundred dollars and the cause of action arose in the county; provided that a summary court shall have no jurisdiction in any civil action where the sum or value of the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, nor in which the title to real estate is sought to be recovered, or is drawn in question, nor in any action for false imprisonment, or for malicious prosecution, or for slander, verbal or written, or for breach of marriage contract, or for seduction; and no person shall be put in jeopardy of life or liberty for a felony in such court, or by a justice.

Appeals or writs of error shall lie from the judgments of a summary court to the circuit court of the county, in such cases and in such manner as may be prescribed by law; and writs of error shall lie from the Supreme Court of Appeals to judgments of a summary court therein, in such cases and in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

There shall be selected, in the manner prescribed by law, within each county, two or more justices of the peace, whose term of office and compensation shall be fixed by law. Their jurisdiction shall extend throughout the county. They shall be conservators of the peace, shall have such jurisdiction and powers in criminal cases and perform such duties respecting the same as may be prescribed by law, and may be authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds and other writings, administer oaths and take and certify depositions. Appeals shall lie from judgments of justices of the peace in such cases and pursuant to such regulations as may be prescribed by law. No justice of the peace shall have jurisdiction in any civil cause; provided, that in counties wherein there may not be a summary court, justices of the peace may have such jurisdiction as is hereinbefore conferred upon the summary courts in civil actions wherein the value of the matter in controversy or the damages claimed in actions involving real estate do not exceed two hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, but in such counties the circuit court shall have concurrent jurisdiction of such actions and shall have the jurisdiction hereinbefore conferred upon the summary courts in all other cases. No judgment of a summary court or of a justice in any action involving real estate or any right pertaining thereto shall bar the title of any party or any remedy therefor.

Any petit jury impaneled in a summary court or by a justice of the peace shall consist of six jurors.

NOTE TO SECTION 13

Original number 19, authorizing creation of courts of limited jurisdiction, original Section 28, prescribing jurisdiction of justices of the peace, and so much of original Section 27 as pertains to the office of justice of the peace, are entirely rewritten as number 13, with the following proposed changes and effect:

(a) In lieu of existing courts of limited jurisdiction, to require the Legislature, in counties having a population of more than twenty thousand, to establish a summary court, which shall be a court of record, with one or more judges, to be elected for a term of four years, and who shall reside within the county, and who shall be qualified to practice law in the Supreme Court, the salary of such judges to be fixed by law and paid by the county. Such judges are disqualified from holding any other office and from practicing law, and may be removed, for cause, by the Supreme Court.

(b) In counties having a population of less than twenty thousand, the establishment of such summary court by the Legislature is permissive.

(c) In counties having more than one judge of a summary court, provision shall be made by law for the conduct of the business of such court.

(d) There shall be a clerk of the summary court, whose method of selection and duties shall be prescribed by law. The duties of such clerk might be performed by Circuit Clerks.

(e) The summary court shall always be open for the exercise of its jurisdiction, which shall be uniform in each county, and the judges thereof may exercise their jurisdiction anywhere within their respective counties.

(f) Its jurisdiction shall extend throughout the county and be as follows:

(1) Such original or appellate jurisdiction in criminal matters, not of a felony grade, as may be prescribed by law.

(2) Exclusive jurisdiction in all civil actions at law for the recovery of money, or damages for a wrong, or possession of personal property, where the matter in controversy shall not exceed two hundred dollars.

(3) Concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court in all such actions at law, where the value exceeds two hundred dollars and does not exceed five hundred dollars, and in actions of unlawful detainer of real estate, or damages thereto, not to exceed five hundred dollars, and the cause of action arose in the county.

(4) Specific prohibition against the summary court exercising any civil jurisdiction where the amount in controversy is in excess of five hundred dollars, or where title to real estate is drawn in question, or in actions for false imprisonment, malicious prosecution, slander, breach of marriage contract or seduction.

(g) Provision for appeals or writs of error from any judgment of a summary court to the circuit court in the manner prescribed by law, and provision that writs of error may lie from the Supreme Court to any judgment of a summary court in the manner prescribed by law.

(h) The selection, in the manner prescribed by law, in each county, of two or more justices of the peace, who shall be conservators of the peace, whose jurisdiction shall extend throughout the county and who shall have such jurisdiction and powers in criminal causes as may be prescribed by law. Appeals from judgments of justices shall lie in such cases and manner as may be prescribed by law.

(i) No justice of the peace shall have any jurisdiction in any civil cause in any county wherein the Legislature has established a summary court.

(j) In counties wherein no summary court exists, justices of the peace may have such jurisdiction as is herein conferred upon a summary court in civil actions wherein the amount in controversy does not exceed two hundred dollars, but, in all such counties, the circuit court shall have concurrent jurisdiction of such actions, with justices of the peace, and also shall have the jurisdiction herein conferred upon summary courts in all other cases.

(k) No judgment of a summary court or justice in any action involving real estate or right pertaining thereto shall bar the title or any remedy therefor.

(1) Sections 13 and 14 of Article III (Bill of Rights) are modified by providing that any jury impaneled by a summary court or justice of the peace shall consist of only six jurors. The purpose of this change is to preserve inviolate the right of trial by jury even in petty matters, but to reduce the number of jurors impaneled, thereby reducing the expense of, and expediting litigation."

Present Sections 20, 21 and 22 are unchanged and renumbered 14, 15 and 16, respectively.

New Section 17 would read:

"Sec. 17. Terms of Office of County Commissioners.—The commissioners shall be elected by the voters of the county, and hold their office for the term of six years, except that at the first meeting of said commissioners they shall designate by lot, or otherwise, in such manner as they may determine, one of their number who shall hold his office for the term of two years, one for four years, and one for six years, so that one shall be elected every two years. But no two of said commissioners shall be elected from the same magisterial district. And if two or more persons residing in the same district shall receive the greater number of votes cast at any election, then only the one of such persons receiving the highest number shall be declared elected, and the person living in another district, who shall receive the next highest number of votes, shall be declared elected. Said commissioners shall annually elect one of their number as president and each shall receive such salary as may be prescribed by law. No commissioner shall receive other than such salary any reward, compensation or benefit out of public funds for services, nor shall he be interested in any contract with the county.

NOTE TO SECTION 17

Original number 23 is changed to 17. The suggested amendment would permit the Legislature to fix the salary of the members of the county court which would eliminate the present and questionable practice of paying them through special acts additional compensation for "additional" services. Such compensation as fixed by law would be all the compensation a member could receive. The re-draft likewise prohibits a member of the county court from being interested in any contract to which the county is a party. The nature of the duties of the members of county courts does not differ from those of other county officers who are on a salary basis and should be compensated for in like manner."

Section 24 is unchanged and renumbered 18, with the following note:

"Section 12 of Article VIII, transferring probate matters to the Circuit Court would supersede and annul so much of this section as relates to probate matters."

Sections 25 and 26 are unchanged and renumbered 19 and 20, respectively.

New Section 21 reads:

"Sec. 21. Districting of County.—Each county shall be laid off into districts, not less than three nor more than ten in number, and as nearly equal as may be in territory and population. The districts as they now exist shall remain until changed by the county court.

NOTE TO SECTION 21

Original Section 27 changed to 21. Reference in the old section to justices of the peace would be annulled in view of the provisions of Section 13 of this Article as proposed."

A note to present Section 28 states:

"The provisions of this section would be superseded by the provisions of Section 13 as proposed."

Section 29 is unchanged and renumbered Section 22.

Present Section 30 is unchanged and renumbered Section 23, with this note:

"There is no change proposed in this section, except original number 30 is changed to 23, but the adoption of proposed Section 13 of Article VIII would permit a change in the method of filling vacancies in the office of justice, as may be provided by law.

ARTICLE IX

The changes proposed in this article are as follows:

Section 1. County Organization.—The voters of each county shall elect a prosecuting attorney, a sheriff, an assessor, and a county treasurer, who shall hold their respective offices for the term of four years. The Legislature shall prescribe by general law for their duties, responsibilities, and compensation, and for the selection of their deputies and assistants. The Legislature shall provide by general law for the selection of such other county and district officers as may be necessary and shall prescribe their duties, responsibilities and compensation.

NOTE TO SECTION 1

This section as re-drafted would change the present Constitution in the following respects:

(a) It would re-draft and consolidate provisions of old sections 1, 2, 3, and 6 of this Article.

(b) It would abolish the offices of Surveyor of Lands, Constables, Coroners, Overseer of the Poor and Surveyor of Roads as constitutional offices. The Legislature would be free to retain or abolish these offices as it sees fit.

(c) It would create a new office, that of County Treasurer, who it is contemplated would collect all the taxes of a county and the political sub-divisions thereof and municipalities therein as may be provided by law. The re-drafted section would permit the re-election of a sheriff and contemplates that he shall no longer collect or keep public funds, but, with his deputies, shall be the officer to execute the writs and orders of all courts. Constables would no longer be necessary under this provision. If the duty of collecting taxes is removed, there would seem to be no reason why the sheriff might not be eligible for re-election. The county treasurer may be eligible or ineligible for re-election, as may be provided by law.

Sec. 2. Malfeasance and Misfeasance in Office.—All officers of a county or political sub-division thereof, however selected shall be subject to indictment for malfeasance, misfeasance or neglect of official duties, and upon conviction thereof, their offices shall become vacant.

NOTE TO SECTION 2

Original number 4 changed to 2. The result of this provision is to subject all officers, regardless of title, whether of a county or a political sub-division thereof, to indictment for malfeasance, misfeasance or neglect of official duties, while in office, and upon conviction thereof, for their automatic removal."

Present Section 5 is unchanged and renumbered Section 3.

Present Section 6 is included in new Section 1.

Present Section 7 is unchanged and renumbered Section 4.

*“Sec. 5. Formation of New Counties.—*No new counties shall hereafter be formed in this State with an area of less than 600 square miles nor with a population of less than 35,000; nor shall any county from which a new county or part thereof shall be taken be reduced in area below 600 square miles nor the population below 35,000.

The Legislature may provide for the consolidation of contiguous counties upon the vote of a majority of the qualified voters of each of such counties, voting at an election held for that purpose, and in like manner the Legislature may provide that any two or more counties may elect the same person to fill the same office in each of such counties.

NOTE TO SECTION 5

Original number 8 changed to 5. This proposed re-draft would require the area of a new county to be 600 square miles instead of 400 square miles, and the population to be 35,000 instead of 6,000. The second paragraph of this section is new and would permit one or more counties to select the same person for sheriff, prosecuting attorney, etc., for each of such counties. The practical effect of this change would be to prevent the formation of new counties and would encourage the consolidation of counties as well as the selection by two or more counties of one person to fill the same office for each of such counties, thereby effecting economy in county expenditures.”

ARTICLE X

The following changes are proposed in this article:

*“Section 1. Taxation and Finance.—*Subject to the exceptions in this section contained, taxation shall be equal and uniform throughout the State, and all property, both real and personal, shall be taxed in proportion to its value to be ascertained as directed by law. No one species of property from which a tax may be collected shall be taxed higher than any other species of property of equal value; except that the aggregate of taxes assessed in any one year upon personal property employed exclusively in agriculture, including horticulture and grazing, products of agriculture as above defined, including live stock, while owned by the producer, and money, notes, bonds, bills and accounts receivable, stocks and other similar intangible personal property shall not exceed 50 cents on each $100.00 of value thereof, and the revenue derived from this source shall be apportioned by the Legislature among the levying units of the State in proportion to the levy laid in said units upon real and other personal property; but property used for educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes, all cemeteries, public property, the personal property, including live stock, employed exclusively in agriculture as above defined and the products of agriculture as so defined while owned by the producer may by law be exempted from taxation. Household goods to the value of $200.00 shall be exempted from taxation. The Legislature shall have power to tax by uniform and equal laws all privileges, franchises and incomes of persons and corporations.”

(EDITOR'S NOTE—In accordance with the suggestion contained in the message of Governor Conley, transmitting this report to the legislature, the words “all cemeteries, public property” are inserted in the sixth line from the bottom of the section.)

NOTE TO SECTION 1

“Reference is made to the discussion under the heading “Article X” in our report.

*Sec. 2. Capitation Tax.—*The Legislature shall levy an annual capitation tax of one dollar upon each inhabitant of the State who has attained the age of twenty-one years, which shall be annually appropriated to the support of the free schools.

NOTE TO SECTION 2

It is proposed to extend here the capitation tax for school purposes to all inhabitants, whether male or female. There has also been omitted the sentence

"Persons afflicted with bodily infirmity may be exempted from this tax." Bodily infirmity alone does not seem to be a ground for exemption and inasmuch as the Legislature has enacted no statute on the subject, there seems to be no need for this clause."

Sections 3 and 4 are unchanged.

"Sec. 5. Power of Taxation.—The power of taxation of the Legislature shall extend to provisions for the payment of the State debt, and interest thereon, the support of free schools, and the payment of the annual estimated expenses of the State; but whenever any deficiency in the revenue shall exist in any year, it shall, at the regular session thereof held next after the deficiency occurs, levy a tax for the ensuing year, sufficient with the other sources of income, to meet such deficiency, as well as the estimated expenses of such year. Provided, however, that after the year 1933 the rate of State tax upon property shall not exceed one cent per $100.00 of valuation, except to pay the principal and interest of bonded indebtedness of the State, either now existing or hereafter created. Provided, further, that the Legislature, if it shall determine that it be necessary for other purposes, may increase said rate for any two year period by the vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each House, taken by yeas and nays.

NOTE TO SECTION 5

As suggested the part of this section beginning with the proviso is new. The commission believes that a direct tax for State purposes should not be levied, except a nominal tax for the purpose of securing land titles, and such direct tax as may be necessary to meet the State's outstanding bonded indebtedness. Subject to the foregoing, this field of taxation would be reserved to the local units. In case the public interest should require it, the rate of direct tax could be raised by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Legislature."

Sections 6 and 7 are unchanged.

A new section, numbered 7a is proposed as follows:

"Sec. 7a. Tax Supervisors.—There shall be created in each county, a board of tax supervisors consisting of three freeholders, resident therein, who shall be appointed by the Governor. The term of office of each member thereof shall be six years, except that the terms of those first appointed when this amendment takes effect, shall be for terms of two, four and six years, respectively. No person shall be eligible to appointment to this Board who holds any other office, appointment or public trust under, or is in the employ of this State, or any political sub-division thereof. No levy shall be laid or tax assessed in any county or political sub-division thereof, or taxing district thereof, or municipality located thereon, without the approval of said Board first had and obtained, under the provisions of general law. Said Board is hereby vested with power and authority to reduce, but not to increase, any levy laid by any levying unit within the county. The Legislature shall enact laws necessary to give effect to this section.

NOTE TO SECTION 7a

A new section is proposed creating a Board of Tax Supervisors to pass upon levies made by levying units within a county. It is the opinion of the commission that such a Board, not concerned directly in the laying of levies or the expenditure of public funds, would be very instrumental in curtailing local extravagance and useless expenditures. The necessity for some sort of regulation of or limitation upon levies and over public expenditures for local purposes is generally conceded. States have experimented with different methods to accomplish this result. One suggestion is to write the limitations in the Constitution. Such limitations have proved ineffectual for this purpose. Another is to vest this final power in a central State board located at the Capital, thereby taking away from local communities the final power to determine for themselves their local requirements. The commission is of opinion that the power should remain local and proposes to set up this Board which, if properly constituted, will serve to accomplish the purpose desired."

Sections 8 and 9 are unchanged.

ARTICLE XI

Article XI as proposed, is as follows :

Section 1 is unchanged.

*“Sec. 2. Corporate Liability for Indebtedness.—*The Legislature may provide by general law for the creation and organization of banks and trust companies. The stockholders of any bank or trust company shall be personally liable to the creditors thereof over and above the amount of stock held by them, respectively, to an amount equal to the par value of their respective shares so held, for all of its liabilities, and any such stockholders who shall have transferred their shares in any bank or trust company, or registered the transfer thereof, within sixty days next before the failure of such bank or trust company to meet its obligations, or with knowledge of such failure impending, shall be liable as if they had made no such transfer to the extent that subsequent transferees shall fail to meet such liability; provided, that this provision shall not affect in any way any recourse which such shareholders might otherwise have against such subsequent transferees. The stockholders of all other corporations shall be liable for the indebtedness of such corporations to the amount of their stock subscribed and unpaid and no more.

NOTE TO SECTION 2

This is a consolidation and revision of Sections 2 and 6 of this Article. Under present Section 2, stockholders of a trust company not doing a banking business appear not subject to the personal liability of bank stockholders. The provisions of Section 6, imposing the personal liability for a given liability of the bank on the stockholders at the time such liability accrues, enable former stockholders of a failed bank to be held liable on debts of the bank contracted while it was solvent, and long before its failure, require different creditors of a failed bank to look to different stockholders or former stockholders for satisfaction of their debts, and have led to complicated litigation. The Commission thought it best to definitely fix upon trust company stockholders the same personal liability as that of bank stockholders and to adopt the simpler and fairer provisions of the National Banking Act concerning the personal liability of stockholders.”

Sections 3, 4 and 5 are unchanged.

Section 6 is included in proposed new Section 2.

Sections 7-12 are unchanged, but renumbered 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, respectively.

ARTICLE XII

Article XII as proposed, would read as follows :

Sections 1 to 6, inclusive are unchanged.

Section 7 is changed to read :

*“Sec. 7. Levies for School Purposes.—*No local or special law shall hereafter be passed authorizing the laying of a levy by a board of education, or other levying body or officials of any school district, or independent school district; but all levies by such boards, bodies or officials of school districts, shall be authorized by general law. All levies which may be authorized and laid, shall be reported to the clerk of the county court, and shall, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, be collected by the treasurer, or other collector, who shall make annual settlement with the county court; which settlements shall be made a matter of record by the clerk thereof, in a book to be kept for that purpose.

NOTE TO SECTION 7

The first sentence of this section is new. It would provide that no special act may hereafter be passed permitting a Board of Education to lay a levy other than those authorized by general law. As appears elsewhere in this report, the Commission is of the opinion that such a provision would prevent extravagances by Boards of Education requiring all special levies under a general law to be submitted to the voters of a local community for approval."

Sections 8 and 9 are unchanged.

Section 10 would read as follows:

"Sec. 10. Creation of Independent Free School Districts.—No additional free school district or independent free school district or like organization shall hereafter be created, except by consolidation with existing district or districts in such manner as may be provided by general law.

NOTE TO SECTION 10

This provision would prevent the creation of additional independent free school districts but would permit consolidation of present districts with each other. The Commission believes that such consolidation would ordinarily be advantageous and economical. Such consolidations would tend to equalize the school expenses between the richer and poorer sections of communities.

It has been suggested to the Commission that it recommend an amendment providing for the so-called county unit plan. The Commission is of the opinion that the Legislature is vested with adequate powers in respect thereto."

Sections 11 and 12 are unchanged.

ARTICLE XIII

The only change proposed in this article is in Section 6 as follows:

"Sec. 6. Land Books—Taxes.—It shall be the duty of every owner of land, or of an undivided interest therein, to have it entered on the land books of the county in which it, or a part of it, is situate and to cause himself to be charged with the taxes legally levied thereon and pay the same. When for any five successive years the owner of any tract of land, or undivided interest therein, shall not have been charged on such land books with State, county and district taxes thereon, then by operation hereof, the land, or undivided interest therein, shall be forfeited and the title vested in the State. But if, for any one or more of such five years, the owner shall have been charged with State, county and district taxes on any part of the land, such part thereof, or undivided interest therein, shall not be forfeited for such cause. And any owner of land so forfeited, or of any interest therein, at the time of the forfeiture thereof who shall then be an infant, married woman, or insane person, may, until the expiration of three years after the removal of such disability have the land or such interest charged on such land books with all State or other taxes that shall be, and but for the forfeiture would be, chargeable on the land or interest therein for the year 1863, and every year thereafter with interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and pay all taxes and interest thereon for such years and thereby redeem the land or interest therein; provided, such right to redeem shall in no case extend beyond twenty years from the time such land was forfeited; and, provided further, that the Legislature may levy or refrain from levying State and State School taxes on real property, and if such taxes be not levied, then there shall be no forfeiture of land under this section for the failure to have it charged with such taxes.

NOTE TO SECTION 6

The amendments herein proposed have been suggested for the reason that as the Constitution now reads it is thought that the Legislature must provide for a State tax upon real estate, otherwise it would bring in question the title to real estate, notwithstanding the fact that the State might desire not to have any direct State levy. In 1905 an amendment similar in substance to the one here recommended was passed by the State Senate but for some reason the House did not approve it. The change "or of any undivided interest or estate therein" has been inserted to overcome the question recently raised to the effect that the law now providing for taxation of an undivided interest in real estate is in conflict with this section of the Constitution. It also expressly provides that the Legislature may refrain from levying State and State School taxes on real property, and in that event there shall be no forfeiture of such land for failure to have it charged for such taxes."

ARTICLE XIV

No changes are proposed in this article.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

A note to the judicial amendment states that it has been incorporated in the proposed amendments to Article VIII, and under the irreducible school fund amendment, reference is made to Article VII, Section 4.

The good roads amendments of 1920 and 1928 are unchanged.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE TRANSMITTING REPORT

The report of this commission was transmitted to the legislature on January 28, 1931, by Governor Conley, with the following special message:

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

CHARLESTON

JANUARY 28, 1931.

To the Legislature of West Virginia:

I have the honor to submit for your consideration the report of the Constitution Commission appointed pursuant to House Joint Resolution No. 5 adopted by the Legislature of the State of West Virginia on March 9, 1929, to study the condition of, and to submit amendments to, the Constitution of West Virginia.

The Commission completed its labors and submitted its report in writing to the Governor on the 1st day of December, 1930, which report has been printed and made public as provided in said resolution. A copy was mailed you as soon as it was printed, and an additional copy will be placed on the desk of each member of the Legislature. I recommend a most careful and painstaking consideration of the report in its entirety. From this report you will note the personnel of the Commission, its organization, the public hearings held, and its consideration, treatment and recommendation of certain articles of the Constitution. All recommendations of the Commission were unanimously agreed to. Your attention is called to the last paragraph of the report at page XII which reads as follows:

"The commission recommends that the State Legislature adopt resolutions submitting to the vote of the people the proposed amendments. The amendments suggested may be submitted by Article rather than by separate Sections, and comparatively few amendments will be required to submit all proposals."

The question of whether the proposed amendments, or any of them, shall be submitted is addressed exclusively to the discretion of the Legislature. I submit my views for what they may be worth. The responsibility is now yours. It is not my purpose to comment in detail upon the amendments, but I feel that comment is justified, perhaps called for, upon some of them, including the four amendments which were submitted to the vote of the people at the last general election which then failed of adoption for lack of information furnished to the voters of their purpose and meaning. These four amendments in substance, though somewhat changed in language, have been recommended by the Commission. They are the Probate Amendment, the Circuit Court Amendment, the Lieutenant Governor Amendment, and the Budget Amendment.

It is believed that the probate, the circuit court, and the lieutenant governor amendments were mistakingly objected to in the supposed interest of economy on the theory that since they provided for the election of additional officers or the imposing upon existing officers of additional duties they necessarily imported additional governmental expense. Contrary to what seems to have been the popular belief, each of the proposed amendments should result in substantial economies, and I believe that the members of the Legislature will reach this conclusion after a careful consideration of their provisions. It is hoped that if they are resubmitted to the people in the form, or substantially the form, recommended by the Commission, they may be adopted by the voters of an electorate more fully advised of their provisions.

COUNTY COURT AMENDMENT

As you know, the county court is a body corporate and primarily an administrative and fiscal organization which may properly exercise judicial or quasi-judicial powers where the exercise of such powers blends with its administrative powers, such as ascertaining the results of elections, establishing roads, ferries, etc. However, there is nothing but precedent to support the jurisdiction of county courts of the probate of wills and the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians and committees. Every contest of a will and every question of disputed acts of fiduciary may, on appeal or otherwise, be tried in and determined by the circuit court, and simplicity and economy will be served by vesting jurisdiction in all such matters in the court in which must be tried all questions concerning such acts. The change need not involve any additional officers or any additional expense. The circuit court clerk can perform all duties in such matters as the county court clerk now performs and the fees will eventually reach the same treasury and be effective for the same public purposes. That precedent supports the jurisdiction of the county court in matters of probate and the administration of estates of decedents and incompetents is not, in my opinion, an argument in favor of its continuance. That argument would forbid any change at any time in the Constitution. The Legislature of 1929 by its resolution authorizing the appointment of the Constitution Commission recognized and declared the need for changes. The same Legislature recognized and declared the need for a change in this respect, and the Constitution Commission, composed of men of ability, integrity and wide experience coming from broad fields of endeavor, has endorsed its recommendations.

CIRCUIT COURT AMENDMENT

Our state Constitution, adopted fifty-nine years ago, in 1872, limits each circuit except the first to one judge. The members of the Constitutional Convention of 1872 recognized that the business of the first circuit was sufficient to require more than one judge and provided two for that circuit. They recognized also that with the growth of the state it might be necessary to have in some counties additional courts, and they provided for the establishment of such courts as inferior tribunals subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the circuit court. The expected growth in population and business has not only occurred, but has come far beyond what could have been the expectation of the members of that Convention. The number of circuits has been increased and made smaller in territory in an endeavor to make it possible for one judge to handle the business. In counties where this has been impossible one or more inferior courts have been created with limited, and in some instances specific jurisdiction, each by special act of the Legislature. The county of Kanawha, for instance, constitutes one circuit with a single circuit judge, but it has more population than the four counties of the first circuit with its two judges. And the Kanawha Circuit Court, in addition to the volume of business naturally arising in that county, has special jurisdiction in certain classes of litigation in which the State is interested, which otherwise would be tried in other circuits. Endeavoring to meet the needs in this county, it has had for many years two inferior tribunals, the Intermediate and the Common Pleas Courts. All three of these courts are in practically continuous session and a large part of the time each court has its own jury panel. The congestion of the circuit court docket is increased by its appellate jurisdiction over the Intermediate and Common Pleas Courts, and the delay and expense of appeals in writs of error are increased by the fact that final determination of controversies in the Supreme Court can only be reached at the present time by the round-about course through the Circuit Court. If the circuit court amendment be adopted and appropriate legislation enacted, one circuit court with three judges can be substituted for the present three courts, and this would apply to other counties where the same or similar conditions exist. With such an amendment the judges in the circuit would have coequal jurisdiction and the business would be apportioned between them, one judge hearing chancery causes, another trying civil actions at law, and the third trying criminal cases. One jury panel of no more than half the aggregate number now summoned and subject to call on the jury panels of the three courts now functioning, perhaps less, would suffice, and appeals and writs of error would lie direct to the Supreme Court in each case tried and determined. The Legislature can trust itself to see that additional judges are not added in circuits where the business in the circuit does not justify such action.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR AMENDMENT

The Constitution now provides that when there shall be a vacancy in the governorship, the president of the Senate, or if he be disqualified, the speaker of the House, shall act as Governor until the vacancy is filled, and that when a vacancy occurs before the first three years of the governor's term shall have expired, an election for governor shall take place. Adoption of the proposed amendment providing for a lieutenant governor to serve the unexpired term in case the office for any reason becomes vacant, is earnestly recommended.

The salary attached to the office should be a nominal one and not exceeding one thousand dollars per annum. This slight expense would be more than offset by the advantage of having the lieutenant governor as presiding officer of the Senate without a vote, except in case of a tie, thus avoiding the consumption of time and interference with the ordinary dispatch of business that have not infrequently in the past accompanied the organization of the Senate. The proposed amendment has the greater advantage of enabling political parties to deliberately nominate, and the people by their votes to elect, a person deemed the best fitted of those available for the dual position of presiding over the deliberations of the Senate and succeeding to the governorship in the case of a vacancy. It has the further advantage of enabling the person thus elected by the vote of the people to serve out the gubernatorial term, thus avoiding the expense of a special election. The expense of a state-wide election to fill a vacancy in the office of governor would in all probability cost more than the salary of the office of lieutenant governor would amount to in a century.

BUDGET AMENDMENT

Since a West Virginia governor is ineligible for reelection, my personal interest in the budget amendment is only that of a citizen and taxpayer. My experience in the gubernatorial office impels me to recommend its adoption.

Under the budget plan submitted by the Constitution Commission, the responsibility is placed on the Chief Executive, not on a board of seven members, each of whom, the Chief Executive included, can attribute responsibility for alleged errors of omission or commission to the others. Under the plan proposed it is believed that the power sought for succeeding governors, not myself, is reasonable and not dangerous to the public welfare, and if granted, will bring about economies in state government. And, too, the Legislature has full and final authority over the budget, under this proposed plan. In this connection I am taking the liberty of quoting, in part, from the biennial message of Governor John J. Cornwell to the Legislature of 1921, which clearly sets forth the advantages of a budget system on the plan here recommended, to-wit:

While there still may be a few persons who do not understand the advantages to the State of having the appropriation Bill made up in advance of the session of the Legislature and submitted with a complete statement of expenditures for the previous biennial period, along with the estimated revenues, through a budget bill, yet every person who has had anything to do with it or who has been fully informed on the subject will realize its advantage. Most of the States have adopted the budget system in some form or other, and the Federal Government is preparing to do the same. In practically all of the states, however, the duty of making up the Budget is imposed upon the Governor, where it belongs. I drew the Budget Amendment with that end in view and had it introduced in the Legislature at the second extraordinary session of 1917. The Legislature, at the suggestion of certain persons who felt their interests might be prejudiced if it were allowed to go through in that form, substituted the Board of Public Works, as a Budget Committee, for the Governor in the Bill. There was absolutely no reason for imposing this work upon the Board of Public Works or for investing it with the authority to do this work. The Governor, and not the Board of Public Works, appoints the members of the Board of Control, the heads of the various State institutions and the heads of the various State Departments. He is responsible for their success or failure; he is responsible for their economy or their extravagance in expenditures, as the case may be. The other State officers are not responsible and have no first hand knowledge as to the workings of the various institutions and departments or as to their necessary requirements. I endeavored to point out those things to the members of the Legislature when the amendment as drawn was being changed, but members of the Board of Public Works, or some of them, were desirous of being given that authority and the Legislature passed the Budget Bill in its present form. I either had to accept it that way and allow it to go to the people for their approval as passed or I had to veto it and perhaps see many years elapse before the State fell into line with a practical budget system. I earnestly hope the Legislature will now submit an amendment to the Budget Amendment, taking away from the Board of Public Works the duty of making up the budget and of making recommendations on the subject of revenue, and place that authority with the Governor, where it properly belongs."

COUNTY TREASURER AMENDMENT

It seems that no well founded objection can be raised against the proposed amendment which would provide for a county treasurer who should collect, handle and dispose of public funds of the county and its political subdivisions. The amendment proposed would avoid much duplication of offices and effort and should result in improved financial methods and accounting in the case of the smaller subdivisions. In a multitude of governmental units and business organizations one treasurer with a small staff handles efficiently and relatively inexpensively large sums involving more detail than would be required of such a county commission in any of our West Virginia counties for a long time to come. The sheriff's duties would be those generally required of sheriffs in other states; that is, the preservation of peace, the service of process and the execution of writs, including distrains for taxes, and fewer deputies would be required.

CLASSIFICATION TAX AMENDMENT

There seems to be a mistake by way of omission in the printed copy of the Report of the Constitution Commission in Section 1 of Article 10 at page 38. The original report filed with the Governor shows that there should be inserted in line eight from the bottom of said Section 1, after the word "purposes," the following: "all cemeteries, public property." It is recommended that the section be corrected accordingly.

Your attention is particularly called to what the Commission has said with reference to the proposed classification tax amendment. So long as there continue to be large amounts of securities wholly or partially tax exempt available for purchase; so long as a man of wealth may legally transfer his technical residence to a locality where tax laws are favorable; so long as the federal laws and Constitution remain what they are, liquid wealth can lawfully and effectively avoid any assessment of taxation that the owners deem unfair or unreasonably burdensome. Such owners may have to be content with a lesser rate of return than they would like, but the hardship falls on the public exchequer and the private individuals of the community from whose laws and their administration escape is sought. The public gets practically no tax while it might have a reasonable one and money which would be preferably loaned at reasonable rates to neighbors on property under the eye of the investor is tied up in tax exempt securities or otherwise placed beyond the reach of local borrowers.

Experience has taught that five mills per dollar is about the maximum tax that can be imposed upon intangible wealth without driving it into hiding or non-taxable investments. It seems to be generally agreed by those who have studied the problem in this state that not less than half a billion dollars of such wealth can be reclaimed from investments non-taxable in West Virginia and made available for taxation and the uses of home owners, industry, and commerce in this state, if the proposed amendment of the Commission on this subject is adopted. A limitation of fifty cents on each one hundred dollars is recommended by the Commission to be imposed on the taxation of property employed exclusively in agriculture, with permissive exemption for such property in addition to the other permissive exemptions recommended. It also recommends that household goods to the value of two hundred dollars shall be exempt from taxation.

It is claimed by many well-informed persons on taxation that unrestricted power of classification, particularly if accompanied by the segregation of the tax yielded by different classes to particular public purposes, would bring chaos to business and industry of the state and tumult to the biennial sessions of the Legislature. On the other hand, argument is advanced by proponents of broad classification that property in West Virginia is more diversified than in any state in the Union and this fact in itself is evidence that any rule of "equality and uniformity" of treatment of all property is impossible. The proponents of broad classifications argue that the kinds and classes of property in West Virginia vary so essentially in their value and commercial use that the Legislature should be left free to deal with them.

Whatever plan of classification may be adopted, all property should be fairly assessed, and it will then be up to the taxpayers and voters and tax levying authorities to see that public expenditures are kept within the compass of a reasonable tax rate. To that end the Legislature should fix a maximum rate beyond which a tax levying body may not go without a vote of the people on the question.

CONSOLIDATION OF OFFICES

There is merit in the Commission's proposal to permit the consolidation of two or more counties when both the population and the value of taxable property are relatively small and in which the minimum expense of government including education is burdensome. There is also merit in their recommendation to permit two or more such counties to select one person to hold the same office in each. Pride of history or tradition may stand in the way of consolidation and the sacrifice of the county name and identity, but there should be no such objection to combining for the purpose of jointly selecting and employing certain officers, such as Judge of the proposed Summary Court, Sheriff, Prosecuting Attorney, Superintendent of Free Schools, Overseer of the Poor, and Surveyor of Lands. Substantial economies could be effected by proper utilization of such opportunities as afforded by the proposed amendment.

As you will note, I have not discussed all of the proposed amendments. To discuss all of them at length would make this message unduly long, and then, they are clearly presented and ably discussed in the Report of the Commission. In my opinion, the report of the Constitution Commission is a splendid work of statesmanship, and I commend each and all of the Commission's recommendations to the most careful consideration of the Legislature. But whether any or all of the proposed amendments are submitted to a vote of the people is a question for the Legislature to decide.

The necessary resolutions and bills have been prepared by the Commission and copies thereof are herewith submitted to the Senate and House respectively.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. G. CONLEY,
Governor.

THE STATE GOVERNMENT

---

In this article the editor has given an outline of the organization of the three coordinate branches of the state government.

The powers of the state are vested in three branches, legislative, executive and judicial, which, in the language of the constitution, "shall be separate and distinct so that neither shall exercise the powers properly belonging to either of the others."

The only qualification for election or appointment to any state, county or municipal office in the state, with the few exceptions herein noted, is that of being a citizen of the state entitled to vote. Any citizen of the state, who has resided therein for one year and in the county in which he offers to vote for sixty days, and who is not a minor, of unsound mind, a pauper, or is not under conviction of treason, felony or bribery in an election, is entitled to vote.

The executive department consists of the governor, secretary of state, state superintendent of free schools, auditor, treasurer, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture. These are elected by all the voters of the state in presidential election years for a term of four years, beginning on March 4, next following their election. Together, they constitute the board of public works, which exercises the powers conferred upon it by various legislative enactments. None of these officers can hold any other office during his term of office. Vacancies in any of these offices, except the governorship, are filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term, if less than two years and six months or until the next general election if the unexpired term is for a longer period. The president of the senate and the speaker of the house of delegates, in the order given, are next in succession to the governorship.

The governor must have attained the age of thirty years and the attorney general the age of twenty-five years at the beginning of their terms of office. The governor cannot succeed himself in the gubernatorial office.

The chief executive power is vested in the governor and the constitution provides that he shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. As a part of his powers and duties, the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoints the various commissions, boards and heads of state institutions, except those of the educational institutions which are selected by the state board of education with the one exception of the president of the state university, who is selected by the board of governors of that institution. The governor may remove any of his appointees in the manner provided by the constitution and laws.

The judicial department is composed of the judges of the supreme court of appeals, the judges of the circuit courts, inferior tribunals established by the legislature under the authority of the constitution, and justices of the peace. All judges, like the governor, must be thirty years of age at the beginning of their terms.

Judges of the supreme court of appeals are selected in a state-wide election, for a term of twelve years. This court, when first formed, consisted of three members, but owing to the rapid increase in the work of the court, the number has been increased to five. The salaries of the members and the expenses of the court are paid from the state treasury. At least two terms of court must be held each year.

The state is, from time to time, divided by the legislature into judicial circuits. When the constitution of 1872 was adopted there were thirteen such circuits, but with the subsequent growth of the state and the increase in litigation, the number was increased at various times and there are now twenty-four circuits, and not less than three regular terms of court must be held yearly in each county in each circuit. One judge is selected in each circuit by the voters of the counties composing the circuit, except in the first judicial circuit, composed of the counties of Brooke, Hancock and Ohio, where two judges are elected. The term of office is eight years and the salary of the judge is determined by the population of his circuit and is paid from the state treasury. The legislature may authorize additional compensation, payable from the county treasuries of the counties forming the circuit.

In some of the more populous circuits, in order to relieve the congestion of the circuit court docket, various inferior tribunals, such as intermediate, common pleas and domestic relations courts, have been established. They have such jurisdiction and powers as are given by the acts creating them. The salary of the judge and the expenses of these courts are borne by the county in which the inferior court is established.

Judges may be removed from office for the causes and in the manner set out in Article VIII, paragraph 17, of the constitution of the state. Vacancies in the office of judge are filled by appointment by the governor until the next general election, if the unexpired term is more than two years, otherwise the appointment is for the unexpired term.

Each magisterial district having a population of more than twelve hundred can elect two justices of the peace, but in districts of less population, only one may be chosen. Justices' courts have only such jurisdiction, both civil and criminal, as is given them by the legislature. Justices of the peace are not salaried officers, but receive their compensation from fee charged in cases before them, the amount of the fees being fixed by law. The term of office begins on January 1, next following election and is for four years. A justice of the peace, although a part of the judicial branch of the government, is, by a specific provision of the constitution, eligible to a seat in the legislature.

The legislative branch of the state government is composed of the senate and house of delegates and the concurrence of each body is necessary in the passage of legislation. Each is equal in power to the other, except that only the senate has the power to confirm or reject the governor's nominations for appointments. The house of delegates has the sole power to originate articles of impeachment, while the senate has the sole power to try impeachments.

The constitution of 1872 fixed the number of senators at twenty-four and the membership of the house of delegates at sixty-five, but the number of senators has been increased to thirty and the membership of the house to ninety-four. The terms of the members begin on December first, next following their election, the terms of the senators being for four years and of the delegates for two years. The members of the legislature must reside in the district or county which they are chosen to represent and removal therefrom vacates the office. They must also have been for one year preceding their election, residents of their respective districts or counties.

The legislature meets at the capitol, in Charleston, in regular session, on the second Wednesday in January, in the odd numbered years. The governor may, by proclamation, convene the legislature in extraordinary session, whenever, in his opinion, the public safety or welfare requires it. When so convened on the initiative of the governor, no business can be entered upon except that stated in the governor's proclamation by which the legislature was called together. It is his constitutional duty to so proclaim an extraordinary session upon the application, in writing, of three-fifths of the members elected to each house.

Previous to 1921, the length of the session was forty-five consecutive days, Sundays included. Beginning with the session of 1921 and including that of 1927, the legislature met for fifteen days and then adjourned until the Wednesday after the second Monday in March following, when it reconvened for a period not longer than forty-five days. This was commonly called the "split session" and during the first part of fifteen days, no bills could be passed unless they were necessary to provide for a public emergency, were especially recommended by the governor and passed by a four-fifths vote of the members elected to each house. In the second part no bills could be introduced in either house except by permission of three-fourths of all the members elected to each house. Following the adoption of a constitutional amendment in 1928, the session now continues for sixty consecutive days, Sundays included. With the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, the legislature may extend the session beyond the sixty-day limit, and if the appropriation (budget) bill is not finally acted upon by the legislature three days before the expiration of the sixty days, it is the duty of the governor to extend the session for such time as he considers necessary for the passage of the bill, but during the extended session no matter, other than the budget bill and the cost of the extended session can be considered. All bills and joint resolutions, except the appropriation bill, must be presented to the governor for his approval or disapproval, the appropriation bill, as passed by the legislature, becoming a law without action on it by the governor.

Upon the constitution of 1872 the members of the legislature were paid four dollars per day and ten cents mileage for each mile traveled in going to and from the seat of government. By the constitutional amendment adopted in 1920, the compensation was fixed at five hundred dollars per annum, with the same mileage as before.

The following are not eligible to a seat in the legislature: Any person holding a lucrative office under this state, the United States or any foreign government; member of congress; salaried officer of a railroad company; sheriff, constable or clerk of any court of record, or anyone who has been convicted of bribery, perjury or other infamous crime.

Upon convening, each house elects one of its members as presiding officer, known in the senate as president and in the house as speaker. Each presiding officer receives an additional compensation of two dollars per day for presiding. Each house also elects, outside of its membership, a clerk, sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper and fixes their compensation, and provides by resolution for the appointment and compensation of assistant and committee clerks and other attaches.

When, from any cause, there is a vacancy in the legislature, the county executive committee of the political party in which the vacancy exists, if the vacancy is in the house, or the senatorial committee, if the vacancy is in the senate, selects three duly qualified persons of the same political faith as that of the member originally chosen and certifies the names to the governor, whose duty it is to fill the vacancy by the appointment of one of the three whose names are so certified to him. The appointment to fill a vacancy in the legislature is for the unexpired term, unless the unexpired term in the office of state senator is for a longer period than two years and two months, in which case the appointment is until the next general election, when the vacancy is filled by election. Lists of the present membership of each legislative body and the rules governing their deliberations and actions will be found elsewhere in this volume.

For the purpose of representation in the senate, the state is divided by the legislature into senatorial districts, which the constitution prescribes shall be compact, formed of contiguous territory bounded by county lines and as nearly equal in population as is practical. The constitution of 1872 fixed the number of districts at twelve and designated their boundaries; it also provided that this number could be increased, but not diminished. By subsequent legislation the number has been increased to fifteen. Each district has two senators, one being chosen at each biennial election. When the district is composed of more than one county (as all the districts have been and are at present), both senators may not be chosen from the same county.

Like the attorney general, a senator must be twenty-five years of age at the beginning of his term of office. This age limit does not apply to members of the house of delegates, who, if otherwise eligible, need be but twenty-one years old.

For the purpose of representation in the house of delegates, the legislature determines the number of which the house is to consist and then apportions that number among the fifty-five counties of the state on the basis of population, but, regardless of population, each county is entitled to at least one delegate. In the constitution of 1872 six delegate districts were provided for; two, and in some cases three, counties were joined to form the district, but all such delegate districts have been abolished, each of the fifty-five counties having at least one delegate.

The membership of the house of delegates is now apportioned as follows:

For the counties of Barbour, Boone, Brooke, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Gilmer, Grant, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Jefferson, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Mineral, Mingo, Monroe, Morgan, Nicholas, Pendleton, Pleasants, Pocahontas, Putnam, Ritchie, Summers, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Webster, Wirt and Wyoming, one delegate each;

For the counties of Berkeley, Braxton, Greenbrier, Jackson, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia, Preston, Raleigh, Randolph, Roane, Wayne and Wetzel, two delegates each;

For the counties of Marion, Mercer and Wood, three delegates each ;

For the counties of Cabell, Fayette, Harrison, McDowell and Ohio, four delegates each ;

For the county of Kanawha, six delegates.

A synopsis of the laws passed and resolutions adopted by the session of 1931 is found elsewhere in this section.

It may be of interest to note that under the first constitution of the state, the executive department consisted of the governor, secretary of state, treasurer and auditor, all elected at the same time for a period of two years. Under the judiciary department it also provided for the election of an attorney general for a similar term, and contained a provision that the legislature could provide by law for the election of a general superintendent of free schools, with the same length of term as the governor's.

The time necessary to establish a voting residence in the county was thirty instead of sixty days, and the governor, judges, attorney general and senators must have been citizens of the state for a period of five years next preceding, or at the time the constitution went into operation.

Under this constitution the supreme court of appeals consisted of three members, and the state was divided into nine judicial circuits. Judges must have been at least thirty-five years of age.

For legislative representation there were nine senatorial districts with two senators from each district, and the house of delegates consisted of forty-seven members, including six delegate districts. The length of the session was forty-five days and the members received three dollars per day for the session and mileage. The length of the term of the senators was two years and of the delegates one year.

As the counties of Pendleton, Hardy, Hampshire, Morgan, Berkeley, Jefferson and Frederick were not, at the time of the adoption of the first constitution, part of the state of West Virginia, provision was made for their representation in the legislature should they later become part of the state, by increasing the number of senatorial districts to eleven and the number of senators to twenty-two and the number of delegates to fifty-seven. All of these counties, except Frederick, later were included within the boundaries of West Virginia, Frederick continuing as a part of the commonwealth of Virginia. Five new counties have been established since the formation of the State, Grant (1866), Mineral (1866), Lincoln (1867), Summers (1871) and Mingo (1895).

STATE LAW LIBRARY

J. A. JACKSON, State Law Librarian

The West Virginia state law library, consisting of law books and legal periodicals only, is situated on the third floor of the second unit of the capitol building.

The library is in charge of the state law librarian, appointed by the Supreme Court.

The books of the library consist of text-books purchased, and reports of other states as well as many foreign countries, all except text books coming in by exchange for West Virginia reports provided for by the state law librarian, as consecutive volumes of the reports of West Virginia and elsewhere are published.

The state law librarian, from West Virginia reports furnished him by the superintendent of public printing, supplies all judges of courts, state officers and some of the other law libraries of the state with copies of these reports.

The law governing the state law library provides that the library shall be open to the judges of the supreme court and the clerks, judges of the United States and circuit courts, state officers, and members and officers of the legislature during the session of that body.

It is also provided that no other person shall be permitted to remove any book or paper from the place where the library is kept.

The law further provides that no book or paper shall be taken from the library until the person authorized to take the same shall sign a receipt therefor in a book to be kept by the state law librarian for that purpose.

A provision is also made, that "other persons than those prescribed above may be permitted to use the library at the place where it is kept."

RULES OF PRACTICE IN THE SUPREME COURT OF APPEALS OF WEST VIRGINIA

IN EFFECT DECEMBER 4, 1925

BILLS OF EXCEPTIONS

1. Office and Contents. It is the office of a bill of exceptions to point out errors committed by the court during the progress of the trial. The bill or bills should contain only a concise statement of the facts necessary to present the points intended to be relied on as grounds of error, or only so much of the evidence as may appear necessary to present fairly the rulings of the court to which exceptions are taken. No bill of exceptions should contain matter irrelevant or unnecessary to the presentation of the question intended to be raised.

2. Points Must be Clearly Stated. It is the duty of the exceptor to see that the points and objections on which he relies are correctly and clearly stated, so as to show plainly that an erroneous ruling was made to his prejudice, and he should not leave that fact to appear merely by inference or conjecture.

3. Rulings on Evidence or Instruction. An exception to the admission or rejection of evidence or to the granting or refusal of instructions to the jury, should state only so much of the evidence or facts proven as may be necessary to show the relevancy or irrelevancy of such evidence or the pertinency or impertinency of such instruction. The judge of the trial court should require all unnecessary matter to be stricken out before signing a bill of exceptions.

RULE I.—PETITIONS.

1. Must Assign Errors—Not Argue the Case—Note of Argument Required. A petition for an appeal or writ of error may briefly state the case and must assign errors, naming the particular decrees or judgments complained of and the date of their rendition, and in the prayer of the petition it should be stated whether or not a supersedeas is desired; but the case is not to be argued in the petition.

A separate note of argument, setting forth the points and authorities relied on, shall be submitted with the petition, and will be considered by the court, but such note is not to be considered as a part of the petition or to be printed with it. A note of argument may be filed in opposition to such petition.

When the court is in term counsel will not be heard orally on petitions for writs of error or appeals, except on argument days, in open court, and then only to state briefly the points relied on and the facts pertaining thereto. But this rule may be varied when the circumstances call for such action.

2. Certificate of Counsel. The petition must be accompanied by the certificate of some attorney duly qualified to practice in this court that in his opinion the decree or judgment complained of ought to be reviewed.

3. Names of Parties to be Summoned. It is also recommended to counsel presenting petitions, that they furnish to the clerk a memorandum of the names of parties to be summoned to answer the appeal or writ of error.

4. Status of Question or Questions Certified. No question or questions shall be certified under the provisions of section one of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code, as amended by chapter twenty-eight of the Acts of the Legislature of 1925, until after decision thereof by the trial court, and such decision shall be certified with the question or questions.

5. Form of Certificate for Case Certified. The certificate of all questions arising upon the sufficiency of summons or return of service, or as to the sufficiency of a pleading, certified pursuant to section one of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code, as amended by chapter twenty-eight of the Acts of the Legislature of 1925, shall be in form or effect following:

In the Circuit Court of.....County: A. B. v. C. D.
In assumpsit (Debt, etc., or In Equity, as the case may be.)

To the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia :

The Circuit Court of said County, of its own motion (or on the joint application of the parties to said suit, as the fact may be) hereby certifies to the said Supreme Court of Appeals, that on the summons (return thereon, or on the declaration, plea, bill, answer or other pleading, as the case may be) of the plaintiff ..... (or the defendant....., as the case may be) the following points of law or fact, have been made : (Here set forth by number the several grounds of any motion to quash, correct, amend, strike out, exclude or grounds of demurrer, etc., that may have been interposed to such summons, return or pleading.)

A certified copy of said summons (return, or pleadings, as the case may be, or so much thereof as may be necessary to present the point made against it), and of the affidavits, documents, etc., filed in support thereof (if any), on which the judgment of your honors is desired, together with a copy of the court's decision upon such question or questions is (or are) herewith presented.

Given under my hand this.....day of....., 19.....

Judge of the Circuit Court.

6. Notes of Argument in Certified Cases. The parties in a certified case shall file typewritten notes of argument when the case is presented as an aid to the court in determining whether the rulings certified should be reviewed, and the case docketed for hearing.

RULE II.—DOCKETING AND PROCESS.

1. Notice to Court Below and Summons. When an appeal or writ of error has been awarded, it shall be the duty of the clerk to notify the clerk of the court below of the fact of such allowance and of the penalty of the bond necessary to give effect to such appeal or writ of error when such bond is required, and the clerk of this court shall thereupon docket the case and issue process in accordance with the order of the court, summoning all parties other than the petitioner or petitioners.

2. Non-resident Parties. Whenever it is necessary that a non-resident party should be summoned to answer an appeal or writ of error, or have notice for any other purpose, order of publication may be had in the manner prescribed by law, which order shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper published at the seat of government.

RULE III.—PRINTING THE RECORD.

1. Dismissal for Failure to Print. If the appellant or plaintiff in error, except in case of felony, shall fail to deposit with the clerk of this court within three months after the case has been docketed herein, a sum sufficient to pay for printing the transcript of the record, or shall fail to have the transcript of the record printed and eighteen copies thereof filed in the clerk's office within three months after the case has been docketed in the court, the appeal or writ of error shall be dismissed.

2. How Procured. To procure such dismissal the appellee or defendant in error must serve upon the opposite party within reasonable time, a written notice that he will, on a day specified, move the court to dismiss the case, and set forth in such notice, the grounds of the said motion. The motion may be made on any day when the court is open whether in regular or special term.

3. Costs. But if, when the motion is made the record has been already printed or the cost of such printing deposited with the clerk and no actual delay in the hearing of the cause has resulted from the failure to print the record or make such deposit within the three months allowed by law, the dismissal will be without costs, otherwise costs will be awarded against the party in default.

4. Renewal. An appeal or writ of error dismissed in accordance with this rule may be renewed upon presenting a new petition reciting the fact of the former petition and allowance and dismissal and referring to the assignments of error contained in the former petition, if the same be presented within eight months from the date of the decree or judgment appealed from, and new process will be ordered and a new bond must be given.

RULE IV.—ARGUMENT DOCKET.

1. How Arranged. Sixty days before the first day of each regular term, or of any special term at which an argument docket may be ordered, the clerk shall prepare a list of the cases then ready and matured, and distribute the printed lists to counsel of record in each case.

2. Docketing the Cases Certified. At the time of preparing the docket of any regular or of any special term, the clerk also shall make a docket of all cases certified for decision and docketed for hearing, pursuant to section one, of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code, as amended by chapter twenty-eight of the Acts of the Legislature of 1925, which shall be given precedence over all other cases, and next after cases upon original jurisdiction begun in the Supreme Court of Appeals.

3. Agreement to Docket for Hearing. By written agreement of counsel and consent of the Court, or, in vacation, of the president thereof, cases may be placed upon the argument docket for any regular or special term after the docket therefor has been prepared.

4. Copy of Bond. No case in which an appeal or supersedeas bond is required shall be placed upon the argument docket until the clerk shall have received a duly attested copy of such bond.

5. Appellee May Expedite Hearings. An appellee or defendant in error desiring to expedite the hearing of his case may have the record printed at his own expense and the cost of such printing will, when the case is decided, be taxed among the costs incurred by such appellee or defendant in error, provided the appellant or plaintiff in error does not dismiss his appeal before hearing.

6. Felony Cases. When a writ of error has been allowed in the case of a party convicted of a felony, the clerk shall cause the record to be printed with all convenient dispatch, and the case will be called for hearing at the next regular term of court, wherever it may be held, without notice or consent being required, provided the record has been printed sixty days before the first day of such term.

7. Cases Certified. The record of cases certified for decision pursuant to section one of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code, need not be printed, unless by order of the court; and without further notice all such cases docketed for hearing will be called at the next regular or special term for which they are docketed pursuant to section two hereof.

8. Postponement of Docket. The court will postpone, on its own motion, any docket or portion thereof to a day or days later in the term than that or those for which it has been set for hearing, or to a later term, regular or special, whenever, in its opinion, the public interests require such action, and in such case, the clerk will give notice of the postponement to the attorneys of record of all parties interested.

RULE V.—BRIEFS.

1. Time of Filing. In any case on appeal or writ of error, the counsel for the appellant or plaintiff in error at least thirty days, and counsel for the appellee or defendant in error, at least ten days, before a case is called for hearing, shall file with the clerk of this court not less than fifteen copies of a printed brief, one of which copies shall, upon request, be furnished to each of the counsel engaged upon the opposite side. Each brief shall show the name or names of the persons on whose behalf it is filed. All reply and supplemental briefs, shall be filed at least five days before a case is called for hearing, and no brief shall be filed later unless by consent of counsel. It is also desired by the court that counsel upon each side will furnish promptly to counsel on the opposing side their respective briefs as soon as printed, but their doing so will not obviate the requirements of this rule as to filing copies in the office of the clerk, and it is recommended that the printed brief shall correspond in size of page with the printed record, and bear the same docket number.

2. Form and Contents of Appellant's Brief. The brief of appellant shall contain a short and clear statement disclosing:

First—The kind of action or suit, and a closely condensed statement, without argument or quotation of evidence of all facts necessary to a determination of the points in controversy.

Second—What the issues were and how raised.

Third—How the issues were decided and what the judgment or decree was.

Fourth—The errors relied upon for reversal.

Fifth—A concise statement of so much of the record as fully presents every error and exception relied on referring to the pages of the record. If the insufficiency of the evidence to sustain the verdict or finding, in fact or law, is assigned, the statement shall contain a condensed recital of the evidence in narrative form so as to present the substance clearly and concisely. The statement will be taken to be accurate and sufficient for a full understanding of the questions presented for decision, unless the opposite party in his brief shall make the necessary corrections or additions.

Following this statement, the brief shall contain, under a separate heading of each error relied on, separately numbered propositions or points, stated concisely, and without argument or elaboration, together with the authorities relied on in support of them; and in citing cases, the names of the parties must be given, with the book and page where reported. No alleged error or point, not contained in this statement of points, shall be raised afterwards, either by reply brief, or in oral or printed argument, or on petition for rehearing, but the court, at its option may notice a plain error not assigned or specified.

3. Form and Contents of Appellee's Brief. The brief of appellee on the assignment of errors shall point out any omissions or inaccuracies in appellant's statement of the record and shall contain a short and clear statement of the propositions by which counsel seek to meet the alleged errors and sustain the judgment or decree, or by which such errors are obviated. Following this statement, the brief shall contain the points and authorities relied on in like manner as required in the appellant's brief. The brief of appellee on cross errors shall be prepared in the manner required in the case of appellant's brief. The brief of appellant, in answer to the cross assignment of errors, shall be prepared in the same manner required of appellees in answer to the assignment of errors. Reply briefs shall be prepared in like manner to answer briefs.

4. Argument. The briefs of any party may be followed by an argument in support of such briefs which shall be distinct therefrom, but shall be bound with the same. The argument shall be confined to discussion and elaboration of the points contained in the briefs. The names of counsel shall be affixed to all briefs filed by them.

5. Non-Compliance—Effect of. The court, on its own motion, may refuse to allow submission of any case until the briefs of the party demanding it, complying with this rule in respect to form and contents, shall have been filed, and may also strike out on submission, briefs not complying therewith.

6. Control of Case. Either party whose brief has been filed in compliance with the rule may insist upon a hearing when the case is regularly called, although no brief shall have been filed by the opposite party, and when one party has complied with the rule and the other has not, the party complying with the rule may have the case either submitted or continued at his option. If one of the parties omits to file such brief, in accordance with section one of this rule, he cannot be heard, but the case may be submitted or heard ex parte upon the argument of one counsel only for the party by whom the brief has been duly filed.

7. Continuance for Non-Compliance—No Briefs After Submission. If no printed brief has been filed by either party within the time prescribed by this rule, the case will be continued when called, unless both parties are present in court, by counsel, with their respective briefs, and consent to submit the case with or without oral argument or file an agreement in writing to submit, but in no case can briefs be filed after the case is submitted.

8. Submission in Absence of Counsel. It is not necessary for counsel to appear in court in person in order to have a case submitted; when the party desiring the submission of a case has filed his brief in compliance with the rule, he may by written request addressed to the court or to the clerk have his case submitted when called.

9. Cases Certified—Motions to Dismiss, etc.—How Submitted. All certified cases docketed for hearing pursuant to the last paragraph of section one of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code, as amended by chapter twenty-eight of the Acts of the Legislature of 1925, shall be submitted on typewritten or printed briefs, or arguments, filed in the clerk's office at least five days before the case is set for hearing and on oral argument, if desired by counsel or required by the Court. And this rule as to briefs and oral arguments shall apply to all motions to dismiss, affirm, modify or reverse, made pursuant to section twenty-six of said chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code. Certified cases will be submitted on brief or briefs filed in accordance with the foregoing rule without a formal request to submit.

RULE VI.—CALLING THE DOCKET.

1. Cases—When and How Called. The cases on the docket will be called on the days on which they are set for hearing in the order appearing thereon.

2. Set for Hearing. No case shall be set for hearing on any other days than those assigned to the circuit from which the case comes unless it be such as from its peculiar character or the mandate of the law may be regarded as a privileged case.

3. Exceptional Cases. Cases of general public interest or of peculiar hardship may be heard at a special term according to the provisions of section thirteen of chapter one hundred and thirteen of the Code, under such conditions and regulations as may be consented to by the parties or as the court may prescribe.

4. Agreement of Counsel. All agreements of counsel in regard to any case or matter pending in court shall be reduced to writing, signed by counsel and delivered to the clerk.

5. Re-argument. Whenever the court desires further argument in any case which has been argued and submitted, it will fix a day therefor, and cause notice of the time and place, as well as of the subject or branch of the case, on which argument is desired to be given to counsel.

RULE VII.—CERTIORARI.

1. How Obtained.—No certiorari for diminution of the record shall be awarded unless a motion therefor shall be made in writing, stating the facts on which the motion is founded, and all motions for such certiorari should be made at the earliest period possible after the diminution is discovered, either in regular or special term.

2. When to be Printed. If the necessity for such certiorari is caused by the failure of the appellant or plaintiff in error to have enough of the record brought up to present fairly both sides of all errors complained of by him, it shall be his duty to have the additional record printed, or in default thereof, his appeal or writ of error may be dismissed; otherwise such additional record shall be printed at the expense of the party asking for the certiorari, but when, in either case, the additional record brought up does not exceed ten pages of manuscript, it need not be printed unless so ordered by the court.

RULE VIII.—MOTIONS AND AFFIDAVITS.

1. Must be in Writing. All motions, except motions of course, made to the court, shall be reduced to writing and shall contain a brief statement of the facts and objects of the motion. A motion to dismiss (whether involving the merits or otherwise), and motions to affirm, modify or reverse, made pursuant to section twenty-six of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code, shall state the points on which it is based and notice thereof stating such grounds shall be served on the opposite party or parties and returned to the clerk's office at least thirty days before the day to which the notice is returnable.

2. Notice to be Given. No affidavit shall be read in support of or in opposition to any motion hereafter made to the court unless reasonable notice be given to the opposite party or his attorney of the time and place of taking the same, or good cause be shown why such notice has not been given and every motion, which is not a motion of course, shall be supported by affidavit.

3. Notice to Confess Error—Time. Where a party desires to confess error, he shall give notice in writing thereof to counsel of record for the opposing party, which shall be returned and filed with the clerk of this court at least ten days before the day set for the motion.

RULE IX.—ORAL ARGUMENT.

1. How Many May be Heard. Only two counsel shall be heard on each side in the argument of any case unless by special leave of court, and the counsel for the appellant or the plaintiff in error shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument.

2. Time Allowed. Forty-five minutes only shall be allowed to the appellant or plaintiff in error for the opening and conclusion, and thirty minutes to the appellee or defendant in error for his reply, but by special leave of the court granted before the argument begins, a longer time may be allowed to each side. The time allowed may be apportioned between the counsel on the same side at their discretion. But in all cases a fair opening of the case shall be made by the party entitled to the opening and concluding arguments.

3. Who to be Deemed Counsel. The attorneys of the respective parties in the court below shall be deemed to be the attorneys of the same parties in this court until others have been retained and have notified the clerk of this court of that fact.

4. Record. In no case is it proper or necessary to consume the time allowed for argument by reading the record to the court, but counsel may refer thereto and state what they consider as proven by any exhibit or deposition on which they rely.

5. Commissioner's Report. No oral argument will be permitted upon exceptions to a commissioner's report except upon pure questions of law and without reference to details of evidence.

RULE X.—CROSS ASSIGNMENT OF ERROR.

1. When to be Considered. In any appeal or writ of error, if error is perceived against the appellee or defendant in error, the court will consider the whole record as being before it, and will reverse the proceedings, either in whole or in part, and in the same manner as it would were the appellee or defendant in error to assign errors and bring the case before the court, unless such error be waived by the party prejudiced thereby, which waiver shall be considered as a release of all error committed against him. It is, however, advisable for the appellee or defendant in error, if he is of opinion that there is error in the record to his prejudice, to call attention to the same by a formal counter-assignment of error filed at the hearing of the case, or by pointing out and complaining of the same in his brief.

RULE XI.—ABANDONED CASES.

1. When to be Dismissed. When a case has been called for argument at four successive regular terms, and upon the call at the fourth term neither party is prepared to argue the same, the case shall be considered as abandoned and shall be dismissed at the costs of the appellant or plaintiff in error unless sufficient cause be shown for further continuance.

2. Reinstatement. No appeal or writ of error which shall have been dismissed or abated by the court, shall be reinstated or revived after the close of the next regular term after such dismissal or abatement.

RULE XII.—REHEARING.

1. How Obtained. All petitions for rehearing must be filed not later than thirty days from the date of the decision complained of therein, and no petition for a rehearing will be entertained by the court in any case unless the reasons therefor are printed and filed with the petition. No oral arguments will be permitted upon any application for a rehearing. When a rehearing is allowed, the court may fix the time for re-argument and re-submission, notice of which shall be given by the clerk to the attorneys of record, but in case it fails to fix such time the clerk shall enter the case upon the docket as if it had never been heard.

RULE XIII.—INDEX TO RECORDS.

1. Must be Indexed—Certificate as to Costs. The Clerk of any court assembling the record, and in making transcripts thereof for writ of error or appeal shall annex thereto a complete descriptive index, giving pages of the record on which its chief component parts are to be found, including all orders, decrees and exhibits, as well as where the evidence of each witness appears in such record. Such clerk also shall endorse on the petition a certificate that deposit has been made or bond given for the costs thus incurred and expenses of transmission of said record in accordance with section five of chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code. Unless such complete index accompanies the record, the clerk of this court shall return the record to the clerk of the court from which it is certified and the case or cause will not be considered until such complete index and certificate are made in accordance with this rule.

RULE XIV.—OFFICERS OF COURT.

1. Accounts. The officers attending this court and receiving an allowance per diem therefor, shall, at the end of each term, furnish an account of the number of days so employed, verifying their accounts by affidavit, and orders of allowance will then be made by the court and certified to the Auditor of State, but such accounts will not be considered or allowed before the close of the term.

RULE XV.—REPORTS.

1. Arguments to be Omitted. In publishing the opinions of this court, the reporter shall not publish the arguments of counsel, but he shall report the names of counsel on each side, and when the counsel on the side adverse to the decision of the court shall furnish to him the points and authorities relied on, clearly and briefly stated, he may publish in the report such points and authorities; but in no case shall such points and authorities occupy more than one page of the printed report unless express authority therefor be given by the court.

RULE XVI.—ORIGINAL PAPERS.

1. Not to be Withdrawn. No transcript of record, petition or other original paper or opinion of the court, shall be withdrawn from the custody of the clerk of this court unless upon motion made in court for this purpose and upon order of court permitting such withdrawal, except as provided in section nineteen, chapter one hundred and thirty-five of the Code.

Rules of the Senate

(Adopted January 21, 1931)

1. The President of the Senate may appoint a President pro tempore, who during the absence of the President shall preside and perform all the duties of the President. The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present the journal of the preceding day shall be read, to the end that any mistake may be corrected that may have been made in the entries.

2. The presiding officer of the Senate may call a member to the chair who shall exercise its functions for the time being, but no member by virtue of such appointment, shall preside for a longer period than three days.

3. The presiding officer of the Senate shall have the regulation of such parts of the Capitol and of its passages as are, or may be, set apart for the use of the Senate, its officers and committees.

4. No person except members of the House of Delegates, their Clerks, the heads of the executive departments, the Governor's private secretary, ex-members of the Legislature, Judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals, and Circuit Court Judges shall be admitted within the Senate Chamber.

DUTIES OF THE CLERK

5. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk and after being examined by the President shall be read the succeeding day. It shall be printed under the supervision of the clerk and delivered to the members without delay. After the printed journal has been approved and fully marked for corrections the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith, and from the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto ten copies shall be printed on 6x9 heavy weight bond paper, with blank lines at the end of each day's proceedings for the signature of the President and the Clerk, and these shall be the official Journals of the Senate. They shall be bound in flexible bindings and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the Senate of West Virginia," with designation of regular or extra session and the year. After being signed by the proper officers two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the clerk and one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History and one with the Clerk of the House of Delegates.

6. The Clerk of the Senate shall not suffer any records or papers to be taken from the table, or out of his custody, by any person except a chairman of a committee but he may deliver any bill or paper, directed to be printed, to the printer of the Senate, or to any member of the Senate on taking his receipt for the same.

7. The Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates may interchange messages between the hours of adjournment and that of meeting on the following day, so that said message may be read immediately after the usual order of the day.

POWERS OF THE SENATE OVER ITS MEMBERS

8. A majority of the Senators shall be necessary to proceed to business; two members may adjourn, and three members may order a call of the Senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. On a call of the Senate, the doors shall not be closed against any member until his name shall have been twice called.

9. In case a less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply, as well to the first convention of the Senate at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour has arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned.

10. No Senator shall be taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms, on any question of complaint of breach of privilege, until the matter is examined by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and reported to the Senate, unless by order of the President of the Senate.

11. The Senate may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 25.)

12. The Senate may punish by imprisonment, any person not a member, for disrespectful behavior in its presence; for obstructing any of its officers in the discharge of their duties, or for any assault, threat or abuse of any member for words spoken in debate; but such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 26.)

PRIVILEGES OF MEMBERS

13. Every member, when speaking, shall stand in his own place, and address the President and when he has finished, take his seat.

14. Every member within the Bar, when a question is put, shall vote unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the Senate excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting must be made before the Senate divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason why, in his opinion, it ought to be adopted.

15. If a member be called to order, for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate, if any member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exceptions to them have been taken.

16. No member of the Senate, or other person except the Clerk and his assistants, shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called or counted.

17. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject, without leave of the Senate; nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

18. While the President is reporting or putting a question none shall entertain private discourse, read, stand up, walk into, out of, or across the Senate Chamber.

19. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Chair, and then the mover shall have the right to explain his views, in preference to any other member.

20. While the President is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter may speak to the question before the negative is put.

21. During any debate, any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may arise and speak to the orders of the Senate, if they be transgressed, in case the President does not; but if the President stands up at any time, he is first to be heard.

22. If any member of the Senate absent himself from the service thereof without leave, except in case of his sickness or other unavoidable cause which may prevent his attendance, the Senate may by order or resolution, direct his absence to be entered on the Journal.

23. No member of the Senate shall absent himself from its service without leave first obtained.

24. At the commencement of each session the following standing committees shall be appointed to consist of not less than five nor more than nine members, except the Committees on Forestry and Conservation and on Public Buildings and Humane Institutions which shall each consist of not less than eleven members and not more than fifteen. The Committees on the Judiciary and on Finance shall consist of eighteen members and the Committee on Roads and Navigation shall consist of seventeen members.

- I. On Privileges and Elections.
- II. On the Judiciary.
- III. On Finance.
- IV. On Education.
- V. On Counties and Municipal Corporations.

- VI. On Roads and Navigation.
- VII. On Banks and Corporations.
- VIII. On Public Buildings and Humane Institutions.
- IX. On the Penitentiary.
- X. On Railroads.
- XI. On Militia.
- XII. On Federal Relations.
- XIII. On Insurance.
- XIV. On Immigration and Agriculture.
- XV. On Mines and Mining.
- XVI. On Medicine and Sanitation.
- XVII. On Labor.
- XVIII. On Claims and Grievances.
- XIX. On Forfeited, Delinquent and Unappropriated Lands.
- XX. On Public Printing.
- XXI. On Rules. (The President of the Senate to be ex-officio Chairman.)
- XXII. On Public Library.
- XXIII. To examine Clerk's Office (to consist of three members).
- XXIV. On Temperance.
- XXV. On Forestry and Conservation.
- XXVI. On Redistricting.

And there shall also be appointed on the part of the Senate five members of the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills.

25. All standing committees shall be appointed by the President of the Senate, unless otherwise directed, and the chairman of each committee shall be designated by the President of the Senate.

The chairman of each standing committee of the Senate shall cause to be kept for the purpose, a record of every meeting of such committee, wherein shall be entered:

- (a) The time and place of each committee meeting, and every hearing had before the committee.
- (b) The attendance of members of the committee at each meeting thereof.
- (c) The name of any person appearing before the committee, and the interest represented by him.

Any member of such standing committee may cause a notation to be made upon the record aforesaid of the reason for his absence at any former meeting of the committee; and in the absence of any such explanatory note, the presumption shall be that his absence was without reasonable cause.

All meetings of the committee, other than executive sessions, shall be open to the public.

On the adjournment of each session of the Legislature, the chairman of the respective committees shall deliver to the Clerk of the Senate the record book herein provided for, and it shall be the duty of such Clerk to preserve the same among the archives of his office.

26. Select committees shall consist of not less than three nor more than five members unless the Senate shall direct otherwise.

27. The Committee on Privileges and Elections shall report in all cases of privileges and contested elections, the principles and reasons on which their resolutions are founded.

28. The Committee on Privileges and Elections shall examine the oaths taken by each member, and the evidence of their election, and report to the Senate.

29. The Committee to Examine the Clerk's Office shall see that all papers belonging thereto are properly filed, labeled and put away in the presses, and the books belonging to the office are chronologically arranged, and shall make report thereof to the Senate at each session.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

30. When the Senate shall resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, the President shall leave the chair and appoint a chairman to preside in the Committee.

31. The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the Senate. The rules of the Senate shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking, concerning the previous question, and taking the yeas and nays. The proceedings in the Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the Senate, except so far as reported to the Senate by the chairman of the committee.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

32. The first two hours of each daily session of the Senate after the sixth order of business, to-wit: The consideration of unfinished business of the preceding day and resolutions lying over from the previous day, shall be called the "afternoon hour," and shall be devoted to the consideration of the business then on the calendar, unless the Senate, by a two-thirds vote of all the members present, suspend this rule.

- I. To read the Journal.
- II. To dispose of Communications from the House of Delegates and the Executive.
- III. To receive reports from Standing Committees.
- IV. To receive reports from Select Committees.
- V. To receive bills, resolutions, motions and petitions.
- VI. To act upon unfinished business of the preceding day, and resolutions lying over from the previous day, and no resolution shall lose its place on the calendar by not being acted upon on the day following that on which it was offered.
- VII. Senate and House Bills on third reading.
- VIII. Senate and House Bills on second reading.
- IX. Senate and House Bills on first reading.

33. All bills originating in the Senate shall be read on three separate days, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays, on each bill, this rule be dispensed with.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

34. In the title of all bills to amend chapters or sections of the Code, or acts passed since the Code was adopted, the several committees to whom they are referred, or by whom they originated, shall insert the subject matter of the chapter.

35. All engrossed bills shall be fully and distinctly read when put upon their passage.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

36. All bills or business originating in the Senate, shall be considered in the order in which they are introduced and all bills and resolutions received from the House of Delegates shall be introduced in the order in which they are received, unless in either case the Senate otherwise directs.

37. All joint resolutions and all other resolutions, except those requiring a committee to inquire and report, shall lie on the table one day at least, after they are introduced.

38. Bills making appropriations for the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, and for salaries for officers of the government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 42.)

40. All bills reported from the House of Delegates shall be referred to the appropriate committee on the first reading. All bills introduced on leave shall be read by their titles and referred to the appropriate committee without printing, and shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry; and if the committee report a bill different from the one introduced such bill shall be received and treated by the senate as the original bill, and shall be read a first time and printed, unless in any of the aforesaid cases the Senate shall direct otherwise.

41. Before reading each bill the Clerk shall state whether it is the first, second or third reading of the bill.

42. On the demand of any two members when a bill is being read for amendment, it shall be read section by section, and when the amendments which may be moved shall be disposed of, the question, unless the Senate otherwise order, shall be taken on ordering the bill to be engrossed and read the third time. If a bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments thereto have been made, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform to the amendments. The bill shall then be reprinted, and shall be the engrossed bill. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill. All Senate bills so ordered shall be jacketed, endorsed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the House and returned to the Senate without amendments, or if amended, and the amendments should be agreed to, it shall then be turned over to the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a House bill on second reading if the same be amended, the amendment or amendments shall be noted in full in typewriting on slips of paper, and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the House, and all the amendments shall appear in the Senate Journal.

43. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of its passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

PETITIONS

44. No petition of a private nature, having been once rejected, shall be acted on a second time, unless it be supported by new evidence, nor shall any such petition, after a third rejection, be again acted upon.

45. No petition shall be received claiming a sum of money or praying the settlement of unliquidated accounts, unless it be accompanied with a certificate of disallowance from the Executive or Auditor, containing the reason why it was rejected. But this order shall extend to no person applying for a pension.

46. When any petition, or bill founded on one, is rejected, such petition shall not be withdrawn, but the petitioner or member presenting the petition, or any member from the county or corporation in which the petitioner resides, may, with leave, withdraw any document filed therewith, and a list of all documents so withdrawn shall be preserved by the Clerk. All petitions not finally acted on may, with the accompanying documents, be in like manner withdrawn after the expiration of the session at which they were presented.

47. No petition shall be read in the Senate unless particularly required by some member, but every member presenting one shall announce the name of the petitioner and the nature of the application, and that, in his opinion, no similar application had been previously made by the same petitioner. He shall also endorse on the back of his petition his own name, as a pledge that it is drawn in respectful language, whereupon it shall be delivered to the Clerk, by whom it shall be laid before the proper committee.

MESSAGES

48. Messages may be introduced in any stage of business except when a question is being put by the presiding officer, while the yeas and nays are being called by the Clerk, or while the ballots are being counted.

MOTIONS

49. When a bill or joint resolution is put upon its passage, the President shall propound the question, "Shall the bill (or joint resolution as the case may be) pass?" On the passage of every bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the Journal. When the bill is on a second reading, and the question be upon striking out, the President shall propound the question: "Shall these words be stricken out?"

50. When the question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, for the previous question, to lie on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to adjourn the question to a different day, to commit or amend, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein arranged.

51. On the first reading of a bill, no motion shall be in order except to reject the bill, and if the committee shall have reported adversely to the bill, the President, immediately after its first reading, shall propound the question: "Shall the bill be rejected?" When the Senate refuses to reject the bill the question shall be: "Shall the bill be ordered to its second reading?" This question shall be duly put by the chair and acted upon by the Senate.

52. The question being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the session be drawn again into debate unless reconsidered, and it shall be in order to reconsider any vote only within two legislative days next after the one upon which such vote was taken. A motion to reconsider shall be in order only when made by a Senator who voted with the prevailing side, and when the vote was not taken by ayes and nays all Senators will be conclusively presumed to have voted with the prevailing side.

53. When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee, and to a standing committee, the question in reference to the standing committee shall be first put.

DIVISION OF THE QUESTION

54. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition; nor prevent a subsequent motion to simply strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

55. In filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be first put.

PREVIOUS QUESTION

56. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which being ordered by a majority of the members present, if a quorum, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions or may be made to embrace and authorize motions and amendments and include the bill to its engrossment and third reading and then, on renewal and second of said motion, to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order pending a motion for or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the President to entertain and submit a motion to commit with or without instructions to a standing or select committee; and a motion to lay upon the table shall be in order on the second and third reading of a bill.

A call of the Senate shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the President that a quorum is not present.

All incidental questions or orders arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether an appeal or otherwise, without debate.

YEAS AND NAYS

57. When the yeas and nays are ordered, or a call of the Senate is directed, the names of the members shall be called in alphabetical order.

58. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-tenth of the members present, be entered on the Journal and any member may enter any protest on the Journal upon the determination of any question. After the yeas and nays shall have been taken, and before they are counted or entered on the Journal, the Clerk shall read over the names of those who voted in the affirmative and those who voted in the negative, at which time any member shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name.

59. When a bill or joint resolution passed by the Senate shall be amended by the House of Delegates, the question on agreeing to the bill or joint resolution, as amended, shall be again voted on by yeas and nays in the Senate, and the result entered upon its Journal. In all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 7, sec. 31.)

60. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 7, sec. 31.)

61. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote shall be viva voce, and be entered upon the Journal.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 44.)

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

62. When nominations shall be made in writing by the Governor to the Senate, a future day shall be assigned, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise, for taking them into consideration.

63. When acting on the nominations of the Governor, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Clerk, his assistants, the Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper, and all such officers shall be sworn to secrecy.

64. All confidential communications made by the Governor to the Senate and all proceedings thereon, shall be by the members thereof kept secret until the Senate shall, by the unanimous affirmative vote of the members present, remove the injunction of secrecy.

65. All information and remarks touching the character or qualification of any person nominated by the Governor to office, shall be kept secret. The Legislative proceedings and the executive proceedings of the Senate shall be kept and recorded in separate books.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

66. When an amendment to be proposed to the Constitution is under consideration, the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate shall not be requisite to decide any question for amendments, or extending to the merits, being short of the final question.

ADJOURNMENT

67. When the Senate adjourns each day, it shall stand adjourned to 2 o'clock p. m. the next day, unless the Senate otherwise direct.

68. When the Senate adjourns each day, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the chair.

PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE

69. The Rules of Parliamentary Practice comprised in "A Manual of General Parliamentary Law, with Suggestions for General Rules," by Thos. B. Reed, shall govern the Senate in all cases not provided for by the rules of the Senate or in the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Delegates. In any case not governed by the said manual of said rules, the Senate shall be governed by the practice in the Congress of the United States.

70. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate present.

Rules of the House of Delegates

(Adopted January 28, 1931.)

ABSENCE FROM THE HOUSE

1. No member shall absent himself from the service of the House unless he have leave, or be sick and unable to attend, but any member who conscientiously believes that the seventh day of the week ought to be observed as the Sabbath shall be excused from attending upon the House on that day.

ADJOURNMENT

(a) Motion to adjourn, and to fix time to which the House shall adjourn always in order.—Rule 65.

(b) Motion to adjourn put without debate.—Rule 66.

AMENDMENT OF RULES

(a) One day's notice required.—Rule 56.

AMENDMENTS

2. No motion on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

3. A motion to amend a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of no other motion to amend will be in order. But pending such amendment, a motion to amend in the nature of a substitute, and a motion to amend that substitute, may be received, but shall not be voted upon until the original matter is perfected.

4. If a substitute for a bill or resolution be offered, a motion to amend the original bill, or resolution shall have precedence.

5. If a motion be made to strike out part of a bill or resolution, a motion to amend the part proposed to be stricken out shall have precedence.

6. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time proposed shall be first put, and the question shall be put on names in the order they were nominated.

7. No amendment by way of rider shall be received to any bill after engrossment.

8. After commitment of a bill and report thereof to the House, it may be amended; but the amendments (if any) reported by the committee, shall be disposed of before any other amendment is considered, unless it be an amendment to an amendment.

9. When a House bill or House joint resolution shall be amended by the Senate, the question on agreeing to the bill or resolution as amended shall be again voted on by yeas and nays, and the result entered on the Journal, and in such a case the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the House shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 7, sec. 31.)

(a) When bill recommitted and amended, question shall again be put on the engrossment of the bill.—Rule 13.

(b) Reading of bill for amendment on second reading.—Rule 19.

(c) If a motion to strike out certain words be lost, it shall not preclude a motion to strike out part of the same words or a motion to amend, or strike out and insert.—Rule 45.

NOTE—Laying on the table a motion to amend the Journal, does not carry the Journal with it.

APPEALS

Debate upon, limited.—Rule 88.

AYES AND NOES

May be demanded by one-tenth of members.—Rule 96.

BALLOTS

No ballot permitted.—Rule 48.

BILLS

10. Bills may be introduced by any member on leave being granted, or by any standing committee of the House at any time during the session of the Legislature, in conformity with the order of business regulating the procedure of the House.

11. All bills introduced by motion for leave shall be referred to the appropriate committee without printing, and all such bills shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry. If the committee report a bill different from one so introduced, such bill shall be received and treated by the House as the original bill, but the committee report and the journal of the House shall show the bill amendment in committee by a re-draft thereof.

12. Before any bill is read by the Clerk, he shall state to the House whether it is on first, second or third reading.

13. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its passage. Should such recommitment take place after its engrossment, and an amendment be reported and agreed to by the House, the question shall be again put on the engrossment of the bill.

14. No bill shall become a law until it has been fully and distinctly read on three different days, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present; taken by yeas and nays on each bill, this rule be dispensed with. Upon any bill there may be a motion to dispense with the Constitutional rule, in order that the bill may be read twice or three times on the same day, and upon the first or second reading of any bill, there may be a motion to dispense with the Constitutional rule, in order that the bill, may, upon such reading, be read by its title. Provided, in all cases that there be readings of each bill, and that an engrossed bill shall be fully and distinctly read.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

15. In the passage of a bill by the House, a motion may be made that it take effect from its passage, or at some time other than ninety days after its passage; and if said motion be adopted by a vote of two thirds of all the members elected to the House, taken by yeas and nays, the Clerk shall communicate that fact to the Senate along with the bill.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 30.)

(a) No amendment by way of rider.—Rule 7.

(b) Amendments after commitment.—Rule 8.

BILLS—FIRST READING

16. The first reading of a bill shall be for information; and if opposition be made to it, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected?" If no opposition be made, or if the question to reject be lost, it shall be regarded as ordered to its second reading, unless the House otherwise specially direct. All bills reported from the Senate shall be referred to the appropriate committee on the first reading.

17. On the first reading of a bill, it may at any stage of the reading be rejected on motion. If the committee to which the bill was referred shall have reported adversely to the bill, the Speaker shall, immediately after the same is reported by its title, propound the question, "Shall the bill be rejected?"

BILLS—SECOND READING

18. No bill shall be put upon its second reading until the same shall have been printed and delivered to the members of the House at least one day previous to such reading, unless in cases of emergency.

19. On the second reading of a bill on the demand of any two members, it shall be read section by section for amendment, and when the amendments as may be moved are disposed of, the question, unless the House otherwise order, shall be, if a House bill, "Shall the bill be engrossed and ordered to the third reading?" If a House bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments have been made thereto, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform with the amendments. The bill shall then be reprinted and shall be the engrossed bill, and shall be designated as such. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill, and shall be designated as such. All House bills ordered to their engrossment and third reading shall be jacketed and engrossed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the Senate and returned to the House without amendment, or if amended and the amendment or amendments be agreed to, it shall then be turned over to the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a Senate bill on second reading, if the same be amended by the House and passed as amended, the amendment or amendments shall be noted in full on slips of paper in typewriting and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the Senate, and all the amendments shall also appear in the House Journal.

CLERK

20. It shall be the Clerk's duty to read to the House all papers ordered to be read; to call the roll and note and report the absentees, when a call of the House is ordered; to call the roll and note the answers of members, when a question is taken by yeas and nays; to assist, under the direction of the Speaker, in taking the count when any vote of the House is taken; to notify committees of their appointment and the business referred to them; to superintend the execution of all printing ordered by the House, and to report to the Speaker, to be submitted to the House, every failure of the printer to execute the same properly and promptly.

21. The Clerk shall have the custody of all records and papers of the House, and shall not allow them to be taken from the table or out of his possession without the leave of the House, unless to be delivered to committees to whom they may have been referred. He shall endorse on bills and papers brief notes of proceedings had thereon by the House and preserve the same in convenient files for reference.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

22. When the House shall resolve to go into the Committee of the Whole the Speaker shall leave his chair and appoint a Chairman to preside in the Committee.

23. The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the House. The rules of the House shall be observed by the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable, except the rules limiting the times of speaking, concerning the previous question, and taking the yeas and nays. The proceedings in Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the House except so far as reported to the House by the Chairman of the Committee.

COMMITTEES

24. The following standing committees, to be appointed at the commencement of each session, shall consist of not less than five nor more than fifteen members, except the Committee on Taxation and Finance, which shall consist of twenty-one members, and the Committee on Roads, which shall consist of seventeen members, namely:

- On Election and Privileges.
- On the Judiciary.
- On Federal Relations.
- On Taxation and Finance.
- On Military Affairs.
- On Prohibition and Temperance.
- On Education.
- On Counties, Districts and Municipal Corporations.
- On Banks and Corporations.
- On Roads.
- On Forfeited and Unappropriated Lands.
- On Claims and Grievances.
- On Humane Institutions and Public Buildings.
- On Printing and Contingent Expenses.
- On the Executive Offices and Library.
- On Forestry and Conservation.

On Arts, Science and General Improvements.
 On the Penitentiary.
 On Mines and Mining.
 On Agriculture.
 On State Boundaries.
 On Railroads.
 On Labor.
 On Medicine and Sanitation.
 On Game and Fish.
 On Insurance.
 On Rules.
 On Redistricting.

25. The Committee on Elections and Privileges shall examine and report upon all the certificates, and other evidences referred to them, touching the right of persons claiming to have been elected members of this House, or to any office for the State at large; and also upon other petitions and matters touching elections and returns, or relating to the privileges of members and officers of the House, or witnesses attending the House or any committee thereof, as shall be referred to them.

26. The Committee on Taxation and Finance, shall as soon as possible, after the commencement of the regular session, report the general tax and appropriation bill with an estimate of the probable revenue and expenditures of the two years, and of the public debt. They shall from time to time report such measures for equalizing and reducing taxation, supplying revenue and facilitating the collection thereof, reducing the public expenditure, and providing for the principal and interest of the public debt as may seem to them expedient; and they shall further examine into and report upon all matters and propositions relating to taxation and finance as shall be referred to them by the House.

All motions directing payment of money to be referred to Committee on Taxation and Finance.—Rule 68.

27. All claims against the State, which may be presented to the House, shall be referred to the Committee on Claims and Grievances, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

28. The Committee on Executive Officers and Library shall examine the several public offices and library, and report whether their books and accounts are properly kept; whether the public money has been disbursed according to law; and diligence used in the collection of revenue; and whether the money received is properly accounted for. They shall report from time to time such measures as may seem to them necessary to add to the economy of the executive offices and the accountability of their officers.

29. Every committee, by a majority of their number, may elect a chairman, but if no such election be made, the first named member of the committee, if it be appointed by the Speaker, shall act as chairman.

30. Every committee shall meet at such time as they may appoint, or on the call of the chairman or any two of its members.

31. The several standing committees shall have leave to report by bill or otherwise. All committees shall submit their reports to the House in writing.

32. No committee shall sit without special leave while the House is in session.

33. Special committees shall consist of five members, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

34. A majority of a committee shall be a quorum thereof.

35. The Speaker shall name the members who are to serve upon committees, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

DEBATE

36. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Speaker, and then the mover shall have the right to explain his view in preference to any other member.

37. When a member is about to speak to debate, or deliver any matter to the House he shall first rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid all personalities and indecorous or disrespectful language.

38. When a member arises and addresses the Chair, the Speaker shall recognize him by name; but no member in debate shall designate another by name.

39. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the person to speak; but in all cases the member who shall first rise and address the Chair shall speak first.

40. No one shall disturb or interrupt a member who is speaking, without his permission, except to call to order if he be transgressing the rules.

41. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

42. When the Speaker is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter, may speak to the question before the negative is put.

DIVISION OF HOUSE

43. When the question is put and the Speaker shall have doubt as to the result of the vote, or a division be called for, the House shall divide, and those in the affirmative of the question shall rise from their seats and remain standing until they are counted, and afterwards those in the negative. The count may be made by the Speaker, or if he so desires, by the Clerk, or two members, one from each side, to be named for that purpose by the Speaker. When the result is ascertained the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House. Any member may call for a division.—Rule 97.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

44. Any member may call for a division of any question pending, before the vote thereon is taken, if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition will remain for the decision of the House, but the member calling for the division of a question shall state in what manner he proposes it shall be divided.

45. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed divisible, and though a motion to strike out be lost, it shall not preclude a motion to strike out part of the same words or a motion to amend or to strike out and insert.

DOORKEEPER

46. The doorkeeper shall attend the House while in session, and under the direction of the Speaker execute the orders of the House respecting the admission and the exclusion of persons from the Hall. He shall, when required by the Speaker, aid in the enforcement of order.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

47. The House, at the commencement of each session, shall elect its Speaker, Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper.

48. In the election of officers by the House, the vote shall be given viva voce, and a majority of the whole number of votes given shall be necessary to elect. If, upon any vote there be no election, the person having the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and any votes thereafter given to such person shall not be taken into the counting to affect the result in any way. But if two or more have the lowest and equal number of votes they may be voted for again. No question before the House, or in committee of the whole, shall be voted on by ballot.

FLOOR

Who entitled to privilege of.—Rule 72.

INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT

49. When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session.

50. The Janitor, under the direction of the Speaker, shall have care of the Hall and committee rooms of the House, and keep the same, at all times, in a neat and proper condition.

JOURNAL

51. The Clerk of the House, under the direction of the Speaker, shall keep a full and correct Journal of the proceedings; and it shall be the duty of the Speaker to examine the Journal daily before it is read and cause all errors and omissions therein to be corrected.

52. When the Journal has been read to the end that any mistake made in the entry may be corrected, if no objection is made, it shall stand approved, but if objections be made the first question of the House shall be to dispose of the same, and when such objections are disposed of and the Journal corrected, as the House may order, it shall stand as approved. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for correction, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith. From the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto six copies shall be printed on 6x9 heavy weight bond paper, with blank lines at the end of each day's proceedings for the signatures of the Speaker and Clerk, and these shall be the official Journal of the House. They shall be bound in flexible binding, and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the House of Delegates of West Virginia," with designation of regular or special session, as the case may be, and the year. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, and one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History, and one with the Clerk of the Senate.

53. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to furnish a copy of each day's proceedings of the Journal to the printer, to be printed and distributed without delay.

54. Every written motion made to the House shall be inserted in the Journal with the name of the member making it, unless it be withdrawn on the same day it is submitted.

LIE ON THE TABLE

(a) Motion to lie on the table not debatable.—Rule 66.

(b) When a resolution is presented containing no reference of subject to committee it shall lie on the table for one day.—Rule 67.

(c) When motion to take from table in order.—Rule 76.

MANUAL AND RULES

55. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in "A Manual of General Parliamentary Law with Suggestion of General Rules" by Thomas B. Reed, shall govern the House of Delegates in all cases not provided for by the Rules of the House, or in the joint rules of the House and Senate. In any case not governed by said rules or Manual, the House shall be governed by the practice in the House of Representatives of the United States.

56. No standing rule or order of the House shall be rescinded or changed without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor, and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present, unless the same is reported by the Committee on Rules when either may be done by a majority vote of the members present.

MEETING OF THE HOUSE

57. The House, unless it shall be otherwise directed by special order, shall meet every day, except Sunday, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

58. There shall be appointed by the Speaker an Official Chaplain of the House whose duty it shall be to be present at the convening of each day's session for the purpose of opening the House with prayer. His compensation shall be fixed by the Committee on Taxation and Finance.

MESSAGES

59. The Speaker shall take the chair and call the House to order precisely at the hour of meeting, and, if a quorum be present, cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read.

60. When a message from the Executive or the Senate is announced, other business shall be suspended until it is received, unless the House be at the time actually engaged in taking a vote on some question, in which case it shall be received as soon as the result of the vote is announced. When received, it shall lie on the table to be disposed of in its turn, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

61. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, but to adjourn, to lie on the table, for the previous question, to postpone to a specific day, to commit, to amend, or to postpone indefinitely, which motions shall severally have precedence in the order in which they are here arranged.

62. When a motion is made it shall be stated by the Speaker, or being in writing, shall be handed to the Chair, and read aloud by the Clerk, and shall then be deemed to be in possession of the House; it may be withdrawn by the mover before any order of the House respecting the same has been made.

63. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the Speaker or any member desires it.

64. When a motion is made to commit any subject to a special committee, a motion to commit the same to the Committee of the Whole, or a standing committee, shall have precedence.

65. A motion to adjourn, and a motion to fix the time to which the House shall adjourn, shall always be in order if the mover be entitled to the floor.

66. The motion to adjourn and to lie on the table shall be put without debate.

67. When a resolution is presented, containing no reference of the subject thereof to a committee, it shall lie on the table for one day, to come up under the eighth order of business, unless a majority of the House order otherwise.

68. Every motion or resolution directing the appropriation or payment of money shall, unless otherwise ordered by the House, be referred without debate, to the Committee on Taxation and Finance.

OATHS

69. The Speaker or Clerk shall have authority to administer any oaths required by the business of the House.

RESOLUTIONS LYING OVER

Resolutions, not of inquiry, shall lie over one day.—Rule 67.

ORDER AND DECORUM

70. While the Speaker is putting any question, or ascertaining the result, no one shall walk out of or across the House, nor when a member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair.

71. If a member speaking or otherwise transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker, shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case, the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed, if any member object, without leave of the House, and if the case require it, shall be liable to the censure of the House.

72. No member or other person shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called; and no person, except members, ex-members and officers of the Judiciary, shall be admitted upon the floor of the House, except by permission of the Speaker.

73. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table. And no member shall be held to answer, or be subjected to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words were spoken and before the exception to them was taken.

Speaker to preserve order.—Rule 87.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

74. The order of business for each day shall be :
- I. To read, correct and approve the Journal.
  - II. To receive and consider reports of standing committees.
  - III. To receive and consider reports of select committees.
  - IV. To receive and consider messages from the Executive.
  - V. To receive messages from the Senate, and consider amendments, proposed by the Senate, to bills passed by the House.
  - VI. To receive resolutions and petitions.
  - VII. Bills introduced on motion for leave and referred to appropriate committees.
  - VIII. To act on unfinished business of the preceding day, and resolutions lying over from the previous day, but no resolution shall lose its place on the calendar by not being acted upon on the day following that on which it was offered.
  - IX. House and Senate Bills on third reading.
  - X. House and Senate Bills on second reading.
  - XI. House and Senate Bills on first reading.
  - XII. The order of the day, unless a subject was made the order of the day for a particular hour, in which case it may be called for by any member when the hour arrives.
  - XIII. Miscellaneous Business.
75. All questions relating to priority of business shall be decided without debate.
76. A bill or resolution laid on the table may be taken up by a vote of the House at any time after the seventh order of business is disposed of.

PETITIONS

77. The member who presents a petition or memorial, or offers a resolution on which a vote of the House is taken, shall be named in the Journal.

PREVIOUS QUESTION

78. If the previous question be demanded by not less than seven members, the Speaker shall without debate, put the question, "Shall the main question be now put?" If this question be decided in the affirmative by a majority of the members present, if a quorum, all further debate shall cease and the vote be at once taken on the proposition pending before the House. When the House refuses to order the main question, the consideration of the subject shall be resumed as if the previous question had not been demanded.

79. The previous question shall not be admitted in the Committee of the Whole.

PRINTING DOCUMENTS

80. Documents printed by order of the House shall be printed in pages of the same size as those of the Journal; and a copy of every such document, bound up with the Journal, shall be furnished by the printer to each member of the House at the close of the session, or as soon as possible thereafter; and twenty additional copies bound as aforesaid, shall be delivered to the Clerk of the House, to be distributed as the House may order.

Printing of bills before second reading.—Rule 18.

RECONSIDERATION

81. A question being one determined must stand as the judgment of the House and cannot again be drawn into debate during the same session, unless reconsidered. But it shall be in order for any member of the majority, on the same or succeeding legislative day, to move for a reconsideration thereof, and such a motion, if seconded shall take precedence of all other questions except a motion to adjourn, and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House; and if the House decides to reconsider, any member may thereafter call the subject up for consideration.

82. When a majority of members present vote in the affirmative on any question, but the question be lost because it is one in which the concurrence of a greater number than a majority of a quorum is necessary to an affirmative decision, any member may move for a reconsideration.

RESOLUTIONS

See "Motions and Resolutions."

RULES

See "Manual and Rules," and Rules 55 and 56.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

83. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall give bond, with surety, in the penalty of two thousand dollars, payable to the State of West Virginia, and conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office; such bond to be approved by the Speaker and filed with the Clerk of the House for safe keeping.

84. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to attend the House while in session; to aid in the enforcement of order, under the direction of the Speaker; to execute the commands of the House, from time to time, together with all such process issued under its authority as may be directed to him by the Speaker.

85. The Sergeant-at-Arms, under the direction of the Speaker, shall superintend the distribution by the pages of all documents and papers to be distributed to the members.

86. It shall also be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to keep the accounts for pay and mileage of members, officers and attaches, to prepare and sign warrants or requisitions for the same, and if required by any member, who shall endorse his warrant or requisition for that purpose, to draw the money thereon and pay over the same to the member entitled thereto.

SPEAKER

87. It shall be the duty of the Speaker to preserve order and decorum while the House is in session; to enforce the rules and orders of the House, to prescribe the order in which business shall come up for consideration, subject to the rules and orders of the House; to announce the question of business before the House when properly requested by any member; to receive all messages and other communications; to put to vote all questions which are properly moved; to announce the result of all votes and to authenticate, when necessary, the acts and proceedings of the House.

88. The Speaker shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House. He may speak to questions of order in preference to other members, and may make the concluding speech on any appeal from his decision, notwithstanding he may have before spoken on the question; but no other member shall speak more than once on such appeal without leave of the House.

89. When properly requested by a member, he shall inform the House upon any point of order or practice pertinent to the business before it.

90. If there be any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby or gallery, the Speaker or Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may order the same to be cleared.

91. The Speaker, subject to the orders of the House, may assign convenient seats within the bar to stenographers and reporters wishing to take down the proceedings.

92. The Speaker may name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but no one by virtue of such appointment, shall act as Speaker for more than three days.

93. If the Speaker be absent at the time appointed for the meeting of the House, it shall be called to order by the Clerk, and a Speaker pro tem appointed by the House.

94. The Speaker shall, as soon as practical after his election, appoint for the House such number of Committee Clerks, Floor Pages, Journal Pages and other attaches as the House may by resolution direct, and may at his discretion, remove any person so appointed and appoint another in his stead. He may also appoint, without resolution, a Private Secretary, and a stenographer to himself.

The Clerk of the House in addition to the Assistant Clerks, provided for by section 18 of chapter 12 of the Code, may appoint a stenographer to himself, and such other assistants as the House may by resolution direct and shall have power at any time to remove such appointees from office and appoint others in their stead at his discretion.

All resolutions relating to the appointment of persons mentioned in this section, or prescribing the salary or pay of such persons, shall originate in and come from the Committee on Rules.

95. The Speaker may, from time to time, designate such times as he may deem necessary for the consideration of bills of a local nature, and such bills shall be placed on a special calendar.

VOTING

96. On the passage of every bill, and joint resolution, and when the yeas and nays on any question are called for by one-tenth of those present, the Speaker shall direct the roll to be called, and every member shall answer aye or no, when his name is called. Before the result is announced the clerk shall read to the House the names of those who voted in the affirmative, and then those who voted in the negative, at which time any member may correct a mistake committed in taking down his vote. The result shall then be announced, and the yeas and nays entered on the Journal, but if the House so orders, the announcement of the result and the entry of the yeas and nays entered upon the Journal may be postponed to the succeeding day, with liberty to absent members at any time before the result is announced by the Speaker, to appear and vote aye or no, in the presence of the House; and any member may, in the presence of the House, change his vote before the result is announced.

97. Upon calls of the House, in taking the yeas and nays, the names of the members, shall be called alphabetically.

98. Every question shall be first put in the affirmative and then in the negative; each member present shall vote on every question, and the Speaker shall declare whether the yeas or nays have it, which declaration shall stand as the judgment of the House, unless a member call for a division, in which event the Speaker shall divide the House.

99. Every member within the bar, when a question is put, shall vote, unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the House excuses him. A motion to excuse a member from voting must be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason why, in his opinion, it ought to be adopted.

100. No member shall vote on any question in the result of which he is immediately and particularly interested; and, except in the case provided for in the ninety-sixth rule, no member shall vote if he was not within the bar when the question was put, unless leave be given him by the House.

(a) Voting for officers.—Rule 48.

(b) Voting on bills amended by Senate.—Rule 9.

Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Delegates

MESSAGES BETWEEN THE HOUSES

1. When a message is sent by one house to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the house to which it is sent by the Doorkeeper thereof, if it be in session, and then be respectfully communicated to the presiding officer by the person by whom it may be sent, but no message shall be received during a call of the roll. But the Clerk of one house may communicate a message to the Clerk of the other after adjournment, and any message so sent shall be received by the house to which it is sent whenever it may be in session.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

2. No bill, other than an appropriation bill, shall be introduced in either House after the fiftieth day of the session unless permission to introduce the bill be given by a concurrent resolution, setting out the title of the bill, and adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each House present and voting.

JOINT COMMITTEE ON ENROLLED BILLS

3. After a bill has been passed by both houses, the type from which it was originally printed shall be corrected as to any typographical errors that may not theretofore have been corrected and to meet any amendments that may have been made by either house since the last printing of the bill and after the type has been so corrected fifty copies of the bill shall be printed (except charter bills, of which only twenty-five of each shall be printed,) on eight by ten heavy bond paper for the use of the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, one of which copies, when properly authenticated, shall become the Enrolled Bill. The Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, shall consist of five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Delegates, to be appointed by the presiding officer of each house, whose duty it shall be to compare carefully all bills and joint resolutions passed by both houses, with the enrollment thereof, and to correct any errors or omissions they may discover and to make report to their respective houses each day of the correctly enrolled bills or joint resolutions. They shall be authenticated by the signature of the chairman of the House Committee and the chairman of the Senate Committee, composing such Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, but in the absence of such chairman another member of the committee may act in his stead, and they shall require all bills and joint resolutions before such authentication to be free from interlineations or erasures and destroy any previous enrollment containing any interlineations or erasures. After enrolled bills and joint resolutions are authenticated as aforesaid, they shall be signed by the Speaker of the House and by the President of the Senate.

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

4. It shall be in order for the Committee on Enrolled Bills to report at any time.

5. After a bill shall have thus been signed in each house, it shall be presented by the said committee to the Governor, for his approbation (it being first endorsed on the back of the roll, certifying in which house the same originated, which endorsement shall be signed by the clerk of the house in which the same originated and the date it takes effect, which endorsement shall be signed by the Clerk of the House of Delegates), and shall be entered on the Journal of each house. The same committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor; which time shall also be carefully entered on the Journal of each house.

6. Where a bill or joint resolution, which shall have passed in one house, is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the house in which the same shall have passed.

7. After each house shall have adhered to their disagreement the bill or resolution respecting which they have disagreed shall be lost.

8. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Delegates shall have power to regulate the use of the halls and stairways of the Capitol building for refreshments and like purposes, when the Legislature is in session.— (Joint Resolution No. 8, Acts 1881.)

ACTION OF GOVERNOR ON BILLS

9. Every bill disapproved by the Governor shall be returned by him to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto unless the Legislature shall, by its adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after said adjournment.

10. Every bill approved by the Governor shall, within five days after it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and the fact of said approval communicated by the Governor to the house in which said bill originated. Provided, That bills heretofore approved by the Governor shall be disposed of as aforesaid within five days after the passage of the resolution.

11. Every bill which shall be neither approved nor disapproved by the Governor, shall immediately after the expiration of five days from the time it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith engross thereon a certificate to the following effect: "I certify that the foregoing act, having been presented to the Governor for his approval, and not having been returned by him to the house of the legislature in which it originated within the time prescribed by the Constitution of the State, has become a law without his approval," and shall date and sign the same.

12. Upon each bill returned to either house of the Legislature with the objections of the Governor, the Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates shall engross the action of their respective houses on the reconsideration and passage of said bill, and sign the same.

MANNER OF PRINTING THE JOURNAL AND BILLS

13. In printing the daily Journals of the proceedings of each house there shall be printed at the top of each page, except the first, the date of the Journal and on the last page of each day's Journal shall be printed the calendar for the next day.

14. At the top of the first page of each bill, preceding the title and number thereof, there shall be printed the name of the person by whom or the committee by which it was introduced, the date when introduced; and at the top of each page, except the first, shall be printed the number of the bill.

COUNTING VOTES FOR STATE OFFICERS

15. As soon as the Senate is informed that the House of Delegates is ready to proceed, as provided by section three of article seven of the Constitution, to open and publish the returns of the elections for State officers, the Senate, preceded by their president and other officers shall repair in a body to the hall of the House of Delegates. Upon their arrival the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Delegates, shall announce the presence of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall then address the Speaker of the House, stating that a majority of the Senate have assembled in the hall of the House of Delegates to be present at the opening and publishing of the returns of the election for State officers, held on the.....day of..... The Speaker of the House of Delegates shall invite the President of the Senate to a seat upon his right, and the other members of the Senate and officers thereof to take seats assigned them, and after announcing that a majority of the House of Delegates is present, shall then open and publish the returns of said election, proceeding by counties in alphabetical order, the Clerks of the two houses each taking down the returns as announced by the Speaker, to be entered upon the Journal of the House; and when completed and estimated, the Speaker shall announce the votes received by each person voted for, for each of said offices, and those receiving the largest number of votes shall be by him declared duly elected; and the Senate shall then return to its hall; and if any two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the two houses shall immediately proceed to choose one of such persons for said office by a joint vote, as provided by Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution.

BARBOUR COUNTY

Barbour county, formed in 1843, has an area of 348 square miles, and in 1930 had a population of 18,628, a gain of 530 since the census of 1920. It was named for Philip Pendleton Barbour, a distinguished jurist of Virginia.

The county has eight magisterial districts, Philippi, Pleasant, Union, Valley, Barker, Cove, Elk and Glade, and in 1930, had an assessed valuation of $16,600,397, divided as follows: Real estate, $10,018,345; personal property, $2,344,822, and public utility property, $4,237,230. It has valuable coal deposits, which have been largely developed.

Philippi, the county seat, established in 1844, has an elevation of 1,310 feet, and with a 1930 population of 1,767, made a gain of 224 over the 1920 census return. Here the Baptists of West Virginia maintain Broadus College, an institution of higher learning. Philippi has an independent school district.

The first land engagement of the Civil War was fought at Philippi on June 3, 1861, the Federal troops, commanded by General B. F. Kelly, surprising and routing the Confederate forces under Colonel Porterfield. A commission to recommend suitable markers and monuments to commemorate this action was appointed by the Legislature in 1927.

Belington, with a population of 1,571, and Junior with 560, are the other municipalities in the county.

BERKELEY COUNTY

The narrow strip of West Virginia extending to the east between Virginia and Maryland is comprised of three counties and is known as the Eastern Panhandle.

Berkeley County, one of the three, became a separate county in 1772 and was named for Norborne Berkeley, Baron Botetourt, colonial governor of Virginia from 1768 to 1770. Its land area is 324.78 square miles and the census returns for 1930 shows a population of 28,030, a gain of 3,486 since the 1920 census.

In 1930, the assessed valuation of the property in the county was $30,461,714, of which $16,730,045 was real estate, $6,698,708 personal property and $7,032,961 public utility property. Arden, Falling Waters, Gerrardstown, Hedgesville, Martinsburg, Mill Creek and Opuequon are the seven.

magisterial districts, the City of Martinsburg having an independent school district. Berkeley County is the center of a great horticultural and agricultural district and is well known for the excellence of its fruits, particularly apples. Its mineral resources include ores, sands and limestone.

Martinsburg, the county seat, named for Colonel Thomas Bryan Martin, increased its 1920 population of 12,515 to 14,857 in 1930. Its elevation above sea level is 457.7 feet.

Hedgesville, the only other municipality in the county, had a 1930 population of 361.

At Bunker Hill, in Berkeley county, in 1726, Morgan Morgan founded the first permanent settlement in Western Virginia. In commemoration of this settlement and in memory of its founder, the state of West Virginia, in 1924, placed a monument at the grave of Morgan Morgan.

BOONE COUNTY

Boone County, in the southwestern tier of counties, was organized in 1847 and contains a land area of 506 square miles. Its important natural resource is coal. The 1920 population of 15,319 increased, according to the 1930 census report, to 24,586. The county was named for Daniel Boone, the famous hunter and explorer.

The returns to the State Tax Commissioner of the taxable property in the county in 1930, show a total assessment of $28,807,221, comprising $14,236,935 in real estate, $6,449,324 personal property and $8,120,962 public utility property.

The county is divided into five magisterial districts, Crook, Peytona, Scott, Sherman and Washington.

The county seat is Madison, with an elevation of 603 feet. Its population in 1920 was 604, which had increased to 1,156 in 1930.

Danville, also incorporated, in 1930 had a population of 486.

BRAXTON COUNTY

Braxton county, the central county of the state, erected in 1836, takes its name from Carter Braxton, the Virginia statesman and signer of the Declaration of Independence. Its area is 517 square miles and its 1930 population was 22,579. The assessed valuation of the county, as returned for 1930 was: Real estate, $8,068,950; personal property, $2,917,744 and property of public utilities, $5,540,133; total valuation, $16,526,827.

Birch, Holly, Otter and Salt Lick are the four magisterial districts of the county and there are two independent school districts, which include the towns of Sutton and Flatwoods.

Sutton, the county seat, originally called Newville, was established as Suttonville in 1826, the name being changed to Sutton in 1837. Located on the Elk River, it has an elevation of 843 feet and its 1920 population of 947 increased to 1,205 in 1930.

The other municipalities of the county, with their 1930 populations, are Burnsville, 868; Gassaway, 1,618, Flatwoods, 299 and Rosedale, (lying in both Gilmer and Braxton counties), 175.

BROOKE COUNTY

Brooke county, in the Northern Panhandle, was formed from part of Ohio County in 1796 and named for Robert Brooke, governor of Virginia (1794-1796). It has an area of 89 square miles and its population in 1930 was 24,663, an increase of 8,136 in the last decade. In 1930 its assessed property valuation was as follows: Real estate, $26,818,200; personal property, $5,198,380; public utility property, $7,771,212; total, $39,787,792.

The county has three magisterial districts, Wellsburg, Buffalo and Cross Creek and one independent school district, which includes the City of Wellsburg.

Wellsburg, on the Ohio river, established in 1791, is the county seat. Its elevation above sea level is 635 feet and in 1920 it had a population of 4,918, which increased to 6,398 in 1930.

Bethany, near Wellsburg, had a population of 439 in 1930. It is the site of Bethany College, established in 1840, but with a history dating back to 1818.

Other municipalities in Brooke county are Follansbee, which had a population of 3,135 in 1920 and of 4,841 in 1930, and Holliday's Cove, whose 1920 population of 1,213 grew to 4,480 in 1930.

CABELL COUNTY

Cabell county, established in 1809 from part of Kanawha county, is in the southwestern part of the state, on the Ohio river. It was named in honor of William H. Cabell, governor of Virginia from 1805 to 1808. Its land area is 261 square miles.

The 1920 population of 65,746 in the county increased to 90,786 in 1930. The total assessed valuation of the property in the county in 1930 was $127,842,846, divided as follows: Real estate, $82,946,225; personal property, $20,992,544; public utility property, $23,904,077.

The seven magisterial districts in the county are Barboursville, Grant, Guyandotte, Kyle, Gideon, McComas and Union. Huntington and Barboursville have independent school districts and Barboursville magisterial district and Barboursville independent school district constitute the Barboursville Joint High School District.

Huntington, the county seat, located on the Ohio river, 564 feet above sea level, was established in 1871 and took its name from Collis P. Huntington, the then president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. The county seat was moved from Barboursville to Huntington in the early 1890's. Although one of the youngest cities of the state, Huntington is now the most populous and its population increased from 50,177 in 1920 to 75,572 in 1930, a growth of 25,395.

Marshall College, established in 1838 as Marshall Academy and then as a college in 1858, is located at Huntington. This school came under state control in 1867 as a state normal school. It is now under the direction of President Morris P. Shawkey.

The Huntington State Hospital, of which Dr. W. D. McClung is Superintendent, is also located in Huntington. Established in 1903, it has become one of the important state institutions for the care of those suffering from mental disorders.

The Colored Orphans Home, H. H. Railey, Superintendent, and the State Industrial Home for Colored Girls, Mrs. Fannie Cobb Carter, Superintendent, are located on the same farm, near Huntington, and the State Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Men and Women, Jacob H. Johnson, Superintendent, is located at Huntington.

Barboursville, with a population of 1,508 in 1930, as compared with 974 in 1920, was formerly the county seat of the county and is the site of Morris-Harvey College, a denominational school maintained by the West Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Milton, another municipality in Cabell County, has increased its population from 1,023 in 1920 to 1,305 in 1930.

CALHOUN COUNTY

Calhoun, an agricultural and oil and gas producing county, was formed from a part of Gilmer county in 1856 and was named for John C. Calhoun, the eminent statesman from South Carolina. It has a land area of 286 square miles. The population of 10,268 in 1920 increased to 10,866 in 1930. In 1930 the taxable property in the county was assessed as follows: Real estate, $3,384,920; personal property, $2,625,030; public utility property, $3,854,595; a total of $9,864,545.

Center, Sheridan, Sherman, Lee and Washington are its five magisterial districts; the town of Grantsville being included in an independent school district; the county maintains a county high school.

Grantsville, on the Little Kanawha river, is the county seat and has an elevation above sea level of 726 feet. Its population more than doubled in the last decade, being 450 in 1920 and 1,018 in 1930. This is the only municipality in the county.

DODDRIDGE COUNTY

Doddridge county, named for Philip Doddridge, a distinguished lawyer of western Virginia, was formed in 1845. It is a grazing and agricultural county, with oil and gas as its important natural resources. The county has an area of 317 square miles, and a population of 10,488 as shown by the 1930 census.

Central, Cove, Grant, Greenbrier, McClellan, New Milton, Southwest and West Union are the eight magisterial districts, the town of West Union having an independent school district. The property of this county in 1930, was assessed as follows: Real estate, $7,055,100; personal property, $3,762,235; public utility property, $10,305,126, making a total assessment of $21,122,461.

West Union situated on Middle Island Creek, at an elevation above sea level of 836 feet, is the county seat. In 1930 its population was 984.

FAYETTE COUNTY

Fayette, one of the largest counties of the state, both in area and population, was created in 1831 and named in honor of the distinguished Frenchman, Marquis de La Fayette.

Its land area is 666.5 square miles and the population of the county in 1930 was 72,050, as compared with a population of 60,377 in 1920.

In 1930, the property assessment was: Real estate, $24,711,025; personal property, $8,006,665; public utilities, $24,520,367; a total assessment of $57,238,057. This is divided among the seven magisterial districts of Fayetteville, Falls, Kanawha, Mountain Cove, Nuttall, Sewell Mountain and Quinnimont.

Fayette is one of the leading counties of the state in the production of coal, with timber as another important natural resource. The Kanawha river begins at Gauley Bridge, in this county, being formed by the junction of the New and Gauley rivers. The New River Gorge, in which is the famous Hawks Nest, is a panorama of striking scenic beauty.

Fayetteville, the county seat, was established in 1837, on a high plateau at an elevation of 1,850 feet. Its population of 659 in 1920 had grown to 1,143 in 1930.

The other important incorporated cities and towns in this county, with their 1930 populations are: Montgomery, 2,906; Mount Hope, 2,361; Oak Hill, 2,076; Ansted, 1,404; Pax, 608 and Thurmond, 462; Powelltown and Boomer, unincorporated, in 1930 had populations of 1,323 and 1,213 respectively. Each of these represents a considerable increase over the 1920 population.

Fayette county is the location of two state institutions. The New River State College, under the management of President C. H. Martin, is located at Montgomery. Originally established as a preparatory branch of West Virginia University, it later became the West Virginia Trades School and still later, was made a school of college grade and given its present name.

The other is McKendree Emergency Hospital, at McKendree, with Dr. M. V. Godbey as Superintendent. This is an emergency hospital for medical and surgical cases, particularly for those accidentally injured.

GILMER COUNTY

Gilmer county, through which flows the Little Kanawha river, was established in 1845, and takes its name from Thomas Walker Gilmer, governor of Virginia in 1840, and later a representative in Congress and Secretary of the Navy in President Taylor's cabinet. The county has an area of 331 square miles and in 1930 contained a population of 10,641, the 1920 population being 10,688.

As assessed in 1930, the property in the county was valued as follows: Real estate $6,524,450; personal property $2,719,980; public utility property, $5,218,129; total, $14,462,559.

The four magisterial districts of the county are Center, Dekalb, Glenville and Troy, with the town of Glenville maintaining an independent school district.

Glenville, the county seat was first named Hartford when established, the name being changed to Glenville in 1856. The town has an elevation of 734 feet and its 1920 population increased to 799 in 1930.

The Glenville State Teachers' College, a state institution, located at Glenville, was established in 1872 and is now under the management of President E. G. Rohrbaugh.

The other municipalities in Gilmer county are Rosedale, (lying in both Braxton and Gilmer counties), 175, Layopolis, with a population in 1930 of 198 and Troy with a population of 101.

GRANT COUNTY

Grant county, formed from Hardy county in 1866 and named in honor of General Ulysses Simpson Grant, is one of the farming, grazing and fruit growing counties of the South Branch Valley, with a considerable coal development in its western section. It has a land area of 461 square miles and has three magisterial districts, Grant, Milroy and Union. Its 1920 population was 8,993 as compared with a population of 8,441 in 1930. The assessed valuation of all property in the county in 1930 was $6,668,274, which was made up as follows: Real estate, $4,003,510; personal property, $1,900,604; public utilities, $764,160.

Petersburg, the county seat, located on the South Branch of the Potomac, at an elevation of 937 feet, had a population in 1920 of 834, which increased in 1930 to 1,410. Petersburg has an independent school district. It is the site of St. John's Academy, an institution of secondary learning, maintained by the Lutheran Church, under the management of Rev. A. E. Krause, President.

Bayard, in the western section, with a 1930 population of 743 is the only other municipality in the county.

HAMPSHIRE COUNTY

Hampshire, another agricultural county of the South Branch Valley, is the oldest county in West Virginia, having been organized in 1757 and was named from the English shire of the same name. It has a land area of 648 square miles and its 1930 population was 11,836. Among its natural curiosities is Ice Mountain on which, even on the hottest days, ice may be found by merely overturning the loose lying surface rocks.

The county has seven magisterial districts. Mill Creek, Romney, Springfield, Sherman, Capon, Bloomery and Gore. The property valuation in the county in 1930 was: Real estate, $4,096,870; personal property, $2,196,440; public utilities, $3,798,423; a total assessment of $10,091,733.

Romney, the county seat, is one of the oldest towns in the state, having been laid out in 1762 and named from the English town of Romney. Its elevation above sea level is 926 feet and its 1920 population of 1,028 increased to 1,441 in 1930. Here is located the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind, under the management of Superintendent Parley DeBerry.

Capon Bridge, with a 1930 population of 192, is the only other municipality in the county.

HANCOCK COUNTY

Hancock, the smallest county in the state, with an area of 83 square miles, is the northern tip of the Northern Panhandle. It was created in 1848 and in 1920 had a population of 19,975, which increased to 28,511 in 1930, a growth of 8,536. It was named for John Hancock, first signer of the Declaration of Independence.

The property valuation in the county in 1930 was: Real estate, $18,420,570; personal property, $4,357,760; public utility property, $3,265,810; total, $26,044,140. The county is divided into three magisterial districts, Butler, Clay and Grant, New Cumberland and Chester maintaining independent school districts.

Hancock, an industrial county, is the chief producer of fire clay, fire brick and tile in the state, and has deposits of coal and iron ore as other natural resources.

New Cumberland, the county seat, was laid out in 1839 and was originally called Vernon. It is located on the Ohio river, at an elevation of 667 feet above sea level. It had a population of 2,300 in 1930, the population in 1920 being 1,816.

Chester, an industrial city, increased its population from 3,283 in 1920 to 3,701 in 1930. Hollidays Cove, lying in Brooke and Hancock counties, had a population of 1,213 in 1920 and of 4,480 in 1930.

HARDY COUNTY

Hardy, in the tier of the South Branch Valley counties, is an agricultural county, with timber as an important natural resource. It was formed in 1785 and has an area of 575.52 square miles. The population of the county increased from 9,601 in 1920 to the 1930 figures of 9,816. It was named for Samuel Hardy, a distinguished Virginian.

The county has four magisterial districts, Capon, Lost River, Moorefield and South Fork. The total assessed property valuation in the county in 1930 was $5,776,525, of which $3,236,080 was real estate, $2,088,890 personal property and $451,555 public utility property.

Moorefield, the county seat, at the junction of the South Branch of the Potomac and the South Fork of the South Branch, has an elevation above sea level of 820 feet and was established in 1777. Its 1920 population of 630 increased to 734 in 1930.

Wardensville, on the Cacapon river, with a population in 1930 of 325 (of which 189 are in the corporate limits), is the only other municipality in the county. Near this town is the Reymann Memorial Farm, a state owned experimental farm, the gift of Anton and Paul O. Reymann.

HARRISON COUNTY

Harrison county, formed in 1784, took its name from Benjamin Harrison, the distinguished Virginian who was the father of William Henry Harrison, ninth President of the United States, and the great grandfather of Benjamin Harrison, twenty-third President.

It contains large coal, oil and gas fields under development, important industries and manufacturing plants and, in addition, is one of the foremost agricultural and grazing counties. It had a population of 74,793 in 1920, which grew to 78,567 in 1930. Its area is 417.85 square miles.

The county is divided into ten magisterial districts, Clark, Clay, Coal, Eagle, Elk, Grant, Sardis, Simpson, Ten Mile and Union with three independent school districts, Bridgeport, Clarksburg and Salem.

In 1930, the total assessed valuation of property in the county was $120,399,032; of this $74,031,570 was real estate; $20,011,460 personal property and $26,356,042 public utility property.

Clarksburg, the county seat, was named after George Rogers Clark, the famed explorer, and settled in 1764. Its elevation above sea level is about 1,000 feet, while the population figures of 27,869 in 1920 increased to 28,866 in 1930. Clarksburg is one of the chief manufacturing cities of the state.

Salem, chartered in 1794, in 1930 had a population of 2,943. It is the site of Salem College, maintained by the Seven Day Baptists. The West Virginia Industrial Home for Girls, a state correctional institution for wayward girls, of which Miss Jennie F. Sutton is superintendent, is also located at Industrial.

The other important municipalities in the county, with their 1930 populations are: Shinnston, 2,802; Nutter Fort, 1,825; Bridgeport, 1,567; Lumberport, 1,289; and West Milford, 349.

JEFFERSON COUNTY

Jefferson county, the tip of the Eastern Panhandle, was formed in 1801 and named for Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence and third President of the United States. It is an agricultural and horticultural county, drained by the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers, with an area of 212.41 square miles. Its population in 1920 was 15,729 and in 1930, 15,780.

The county is divided into the five magisterial districts of Charles Town, Kabletown, Middleway, Shepherdstown and Harpers Ferry. The total assessed value of the property in the county in 1930 was $21,268,-424; of this $11,177,215 represented real estate, $4,651,740 personal property and $5,439,469 public utility property.

Charles Town, the county seat, was established in 1786 and takes its name from Charles Washington, a brother of the first President. It has an elevation of 530 feet above sea level and had, in 1920, a population of 2,527. The 1930 census gives it a population of 2,434.

Shepherdstown, established in 1762, is the seat of Shepherd State Teachers' College, a state educational institution under the management of President W. H. S. White. Here James Rumsey built and experimented with his steamboat and here is the monument to his memory, erected by the state. The population of the town in 1920 was 1,063 and in 1930 was 888.

Harpers Ferry, the lowest point in the state, with an elevation of but 240 feet above sea level, was established in 1763 but not incorporated until 1851. It was the scene of the historic raid of John Brown, in 1859, on the government arsenal located there. It had a population of 713 in 1920 and of 705 in 1930. Storer College, a school of higher learning for Negroes, is located at Harpers Ferry.

Other important municipalities in Jefferson county, with their populations as shown by the 1930 census are: Ranson, 1,002 and Bolivar, 616.

KANAWHA COUNTY

Kanawha county ranks first among the counties of the state in population and taxable wealth, and third in size, with a land area of 914.39 square miles. Its population of 119,650 in 1920 increased to 157,667 in 1930, a growth of 48,062. The total assessed valuation of the property in the county in 1930 was $218,609,214. This was divided as follows: Real estate, $132,608,780; personal property, $26,627,700; public utility property, $59,372,734. The county received its name from its principal river, which was named from an Indian tribe once dwelling in the county.

The ten magisterial districts into which the county is subdivided are: Charleston, Poca, Jefferson, Malden, Elk, Loudon, Washington, Big Sandy, Union and Cabin Creek, with Charleston, Nitro and St. Albans having independent school districts.

The county is rich in such natural resources as coal, oil and gas, which have attracted to the county many industries and manufacturing plants. The section of the Kanawha Valley at and near Charleston is the location of many large chemical plants and is known as one of the great chemical manufacturing centers of the United States.

Charleston, the county seat, located at the junction of the Elk and Kanawha rivers, was organized in 1795. It has an elevation of 601 feet above sea level and in 1920 had a population of 39,608. The 1930 census gave the population as 60,408, an increase of 20,800.

Charleston has been the capital city of the state since 1885, having also been the capitol during the five year period, 1870-1875.

South Charleston, in which is located the United States Naval Ordnance Plant, was chartered in 1917. Its 1920 population of 3,650 had grown to 5,904 in 1930.

St. Albans, at the mouth of Coal river, increased its 1920 population of 2,825 to 3,254 in 1930.

Other important municipalities in the county, with their populations as shown by the 1930 census are: Clendenin 1,217; Dunbar, 4,189; Marmet, 1,200; Cedar Grove, 1,110; Eastbank, 476; Pratt, 325; Osborne, 167 and Glasgow, 614.

West Virginia State College, formerly called West Virginia Collegiate Institute, is located in the county at Institute. It was established by the legislature in 1891 and is not only the ranking Negro college of the state, but holds high rank among the Negro colleges of the United States. It is under the management of its president, Dr. John W. Davis.

Also located at Institute is another state institution, The State School for Colored Deaf and Blind, which was established in 1926 and is directed by Superintendent James L. Hill.

LEWIS COUNTY

Lewis county, in the central part of the state, was formed in 1816, and has an area of 391.35 square miles. In 1930 its population was 21,794, an increase of 1,339 over its 1920 population of 20,455. It was named after Colonel Charles Lewis, a famous soldier and leader among the Virginia pioneers, who was killed at the battle of Point Pleasant in 1774.

The county has well developed natural resources of oil and gas, and is also an agricultural and horticultural county. It has five magisterial districts, Collins Settlement, Court House, Freeman's Creek, Hacker's Creek and Skin Creek, and two independent school districts, Weston and Jane Lew.

The assessed valuation of the wealth of the county in 1930 was: Real estate, $15,962,580; personal property, $5,964,160; public utility property, $11,997,277; a total assessment of $33,924,017.

Weston, the county seat, was established in 1818. It has an elevation of 1,009 feet and in 1920 had a population of 5,701. The population increased by 2,945, to 8,646 in 1930.

Jane Lew, the only other municipality in the county, was laid out in 1835. In 1920 it had a population of 560 and in 1930 a population of 445.

The Weston State Hospital for the Insane, the first public institution of the state, located at Weston, is managed by Dr. Cecil Denham, superintendent.

Jackson's Mills, in this county, was the boyhood home of the famous Confederate general, Thomas J. ("Stonewall") Jackson and is the location of the state supported 4-H Camp for boys and girls. The 4-H work originated in West Virginia but rapidly spread over the entire country.

LOGAN COUNTY

Logan county, in the southern tier of counties, with an area of 438 square miles, was created in 1824. It has sixteen workable seams of coal and is one of the most important coal producing counties of the state. It was named for Logan, the Indian chieftain, of the Oneida tribe.

The county has three magisterial districts, Chapmanville, Logan and Triadelphia. The 1930 population of 58,534 represents an increase of 17,528 over the population of 41,006 in 1920.

The total assessed valuation of the property in the county in 1930 was $44,245,865. Of this $22,913,770 was real estate, $6,682,185 personal property and $14,649,910 public utility property.

Logan, the county seat, located on the Guyandotte River, was established in 1826 as Lawnsville, the name being later changed to Aracoma and still later to its present name. It is 682 feet above sea level. Its population of 2,998 in 1920, had grown by 1,398 to 4,396 in 1930. Man, also incorporated, had a 1930 population of 835 and Yolyn, unincorporated, 422.

MARION COUNTY

Marion county, created in 1842, is in the northern section of the state and has a land area of 313.55 square miles. Its seven magisterial districts are, Fairmont, Grant, Lincoln, Mannington, Paw Paw, Union and Winfield, with two independent school districts, Fairmont and Union. The county was named for General Francis Marion, known in history as "The Swamp Fox."

The county, although in an agricultural section, has a great coal development and is also the location of many industrial plants. In 1930, its taxable property was assessed as follows: Real estate, $63,567,539; personal property, $14,936,087; public utility property, $21,842,872; a total of $100,346,498.

Marion county, in 1920, had a population of 54,571 and in 1930 of 66,665, an increase of 12,094 in the decade.

Fairmont, the county seat, established in 1820, is located on the Monongahela River, at an elevation of 883 feet above sea level. Its 1920 population of 17,851 had increased to 23,159 in 1930.

The Fairmont State Teachers' College, established in 1868, and now under the management of President Joseph Rosier, and Fairmont Emergency Hospital, under the direction of Dr. William A. Welton, Superintendent, are two state institutions located at Fairmont.

Other municipalities in the county, with their populations as shown by the 1930 census returns are: Mannington, 3,261; Fairview, 836; Farmington, 819; Monongah, 1,909; Rivesville, 1,700 and Worthington, 405.

MARSHALL COUNTY

Marshall, one of the northern counties of the state, was erected in 1835 and has an area of 310 square miles, out of which the county's nine magisterial districts have been formed—Cameron, Clay, Franklin, Liberty, Meade, Sand Hill, Union, Washington and Webster. Moundsville has an independent school district. The county was named for the eminent jurist, John Marshall, for thirty-four years Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. In 1920 it had a population of 33,681, which had grown to 39,831 in 1930, an increase of 6,150.

Marshall is both an agricultural and industrial county, with a large number of manufacturing plants located in or near its principal cities. Among its natural resources, coal, oil and gas have been developed.

The taxable property of the county, in 1930, was assessed as follows: Real estate, $27,135,460; personal property, $9,044,350; public utility property, $14,921,457; a total of $51,101,267.

Moundsville, established in 1832, is the county seat and takes its name from Mammoth Mound, sixty-nine feet high and nine hundred feet in circumference at the base, which is situated in the city. Moundsville is 689 feet above sea level and, in 1920 had a population of 10,669. The population in 1930 was 14,411, an increase of 3,742.

The West Virginia Penitentiary, established in 1866, and now under the management of Warden A. C. Scroggins, is located at Moundsville.

The other incorporated places in the county, with populations as shown by the 1930 census are: Benwood, 3,950; Cameron, 2,281; Glendale, 799 and McMechen, 3,710.

MASON COUNTY

Mason county, lying on the Ohio river, was formed in 1804 from part of Kanawha county. Although the county has many industrial plants and has developed its principal natural resource, coal, it is mainly an agricultural, horticultural and live stock county. It was named in honor of George Mason, a noted lawyer of Virginia and author of that state's constitution.

The county has an area of 475 square miles and in 1920 had a population of 21,459. The 1930 census fixes the population at 20,788. There are ten magisterial districts in the county, Lewis, Waggener, Arbuckle, Cooper, Clendenin, Cologne, Graham, Hannan, Robinson and Union and three independent school districts, Hartford, Mason and Point Pleasant.

In 1930 the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the county was as follows: Real estate, $9,092,510; personal property, $2,455,525; public utility property, $6,191,821; a total assessment of $17,739,856.

Point Pleasant, the county seat, is located at the junction of the Ohio and Kanawha rivers at an elevation above sea level of 569 feet. It had a population in 1920 of 3,059, which had increased to 3,301 in 1930. The battle of Point Pleasant, October 10, 1774, between the confederated Indian tribes under the Shawnee chieftain, Cornstalk, and the Virginians, was the chief and bloodiest battle of Dunsmore's War. The federal and state governments have erected a monument at Point Pleasant to commemorate this event.

Other municipalities in the county, with populations as shown by the 1930 census are: Mason City, 691; Hartford, 465; Henderson, 330 and Leon, 282. New Haven, unincorporated, had a 1930 population of 562.

The Lakin Hospital for the Colored Insane, under the management of Dr. C. C. Barnett, Superintendent, is located in Mason county, at Lakin, as is also the State Industrial School for Colored Boys, which is under the direction of Superintendent S. S. Gordon.

Camp William G. Conley, named for Governor William G. Conley, leased by the state and built and maintained by the federal government, is located at Point Pleasant. It is the permanent camp for the 150th Infantry, (formerly the 2nd) West Virginia National Guard.

MERCER COUNTY

Mercer county, one of the southern counties of the state, was formed in 1837. Its land area of 419 square miles is divided into five magisterial districts, Beaver Pond, East River, Plymouth, Rock and Jumping Branch. The county was named in honor of General Hugh Mercer, of Revolutionary War fame.

In 1920 the population of the county was 49,558. This had increased by 10,765 to 61,323 in 1930. The taxable property in the county in 1930 was: Real estate, $30,004,990; personal property, $10,167,573; public utility property, $23,075,430; a total of $63,247,993.

Princeton, the county seat, was established shortly after the county was created. It has an elevation of 2,450 feet above sea level. Its population increased from 6,224 in 1920 to 6,955 in 1930.

Bluefield, the location of the shops of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, is the largest city in the county. A small village in 1892, its population in 1920 was 15,282 and this increased to 19,339 in 1930.

The Bluefield State Teachers' College, a state school for colored youth, was established in 1895 at Bluefield. It is under the direction of President R. P. Sims.

Concord State Teachers' College, established in 1872, is located at Athens and is under the management of Dr. J. Frank Marsh, President.

Other municipalities in the county, with populations shown by the 1930 census are: Athens, 628; Bramwell, 1,574; Matoaka, 929 and Oakvale, 261.

MINERAL COUNTY

Mineral county, the second county in the state formed after the separation from Virginia, was erected in 1866 and takes its name from its mineral resources. It is also an agricultural and fruit growing county.

It has an area of 349 square miles, from which the six magisterial districts of Elk, Piedmont, New Creek, Welton, Frankfort and Cabin Run have been formed, Keyser maintaining an independent school district.

In 1920, the county's population was 18,849, which increased to 20,084 in 1930. The taxable property in the county in 1930 was assessed as follows: Real estate, $10,634,330; personal property, $3,230,810; public utility property, $8,765,875; a total of $22,631,015.

Keyser, the county seat, is situated on the North Branch of the Potomac river, at an elevation above sea level of 801 feet. Its population was 6,003 in 1920 and 6,248 in 1930.

Potomac State School, under the management of President Joseph W. Stayman, is located at Keyser. Originally established as a preparatory branch of the state university, it is now a junior college.

Piedmont, incorporated in 1856, had a population of 2,835 in 1920 and of 2,241 in 1930.

Other municipalities of the county are: Ridgeley, having a population in 1920 of 1,709, which increased to 1,972 in 1930, and Elk Garden, with a population of 299 in 1930.

According to the well known Lincoln historian, Dr. W. E. Barton, of Foxboro, Massachusetts, and a legislative commission appointed in 1929, Nancy Hanks, mother of Abraham Lincoln, was born on Mike's Run, in this county, near Keyser.

MINGO COUNTY

Mingo county, the youngest county in the state, was formed in 1895. This is one of the largest coal producing counties, agriculture being secondary. It has an area of 416 square miles, which has been divided into the six magisterial districts of Hardee, Harvey, Lee, Magnolia, Stafford and Warfield. There are three independent school districts, Williamson, Kermit and Mingo. The county was named for the Indian tribe of which Logan was chief.

The population increase has been rapid. The 1920 population of 26,364 was an increase of 35.7 per cent over that of 1910, and the 1930 population of 38,319 represents a further increase of more than 30 per cent since 1920.

In 1930, the total assessment of all taxable property in the county was $40,331,292; of this $13,886,465 was real estate; $4,755,653 personal property and $21,689,174 public utility property.

Williamson, the county seat, is located on the Tug river at an elevation above sea level of 660 feet. Its population increased from 600 in 1900 to 3,800 in 1910; to 6,819 in 1920, and to 9,410 in 1930. Williamson not only has large yards of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, but is the shipping center of an extensive coal field.

Three other incorporated places in the county are Kermit, with a 1920 population of 636 and of 749 in 1930 and Matewan, whose population of 851 in 1920 had grown to 932 in 1930, and Gilbert with a 1930 population of 451.

MONONGALIA COUNTY

Monongalia, a northern county, with the Mason and Dixon line separating it from Pennsylvania, may well be called the mother county of northern West Virginia. From it some twenty-one counties, three of them now in Pennsylvania, were taken, in whole or in part, leaving the county with a present area of 358 square miles.

The county was named for the Monongahela river, which flows through it, the different spelling of the county and river having occurred through error. It has seven magisterial districts, Battelle, Morgan, Clay, Cass, Grant, Clinton and Union, with Morgantown having an independent school district. It is an agricultural and coal producing county.

In 1920 the county's population was 33,618 and this increased by 16,465 to 50,083 in 1930. The total assessed valuation of the property in the county in 1930 was $85,669,274, which represented the following values: Real estate, $54,414,580; personal property, $13,004,145; public utility property, $18,250,549.

Morgantown, the county seat situated on the Monongahela river, at an elevation of 822 feet above sea level, was established in 1775. Its 1920 population of 12,127 increased to 16,186 in 1930.

The most important and largest educational institution in the state, West Virginia University, is located at Morgantown, with Dr. John R. Turner as President.

Other municipalities in the county, with their 1930 populations, are: Blacksville, 269; Riverside, 940; Sabraton, 1,717; Star City, 1,121; and Westover, 1,633.

MONROE COUNTY

Monroe county, in the extreme southeastern section of the state, was organized in 1799 and has a land area of 457 square miles. Its six magisterial districts are, Red Sulphur, Second Creek, Springfield, Sweet Springs, Union and Wolf Creek, with Alderson having an independent school district.

The county had a population in 1920 of 13,141 and 11,949 in 1930. Located in a blue grass region, it is an agricultural, grazing and stock raising county. It has many well known medicinal springs. The county was named for James Monroe, fifth President of the United States.

In 1930 the assessed valuation of the property in the county was: Real estate, $7,060,570; personal property, $1,861,080; public utility property, $1,288,408; a total assessment of $10,210,058.

Union, the county seat, was established in 1800 and is situated 2,100 feet above sea level. In 1920 the town's population was 439, and 331 in 1930.

Alderson, on the Greenbrier river, lies in both Monroe and Greenbrier counties. It was incorporated in 1880 and in 1920 had a population of 1,401, which had slightly increased to 1,458 in 1930. Alderson Academy, maintained by the Baptists of West Virginia, is located at Alderson. The federal institution for female delinquents is also located there.

Peterstown, another municipality in the county, had a 1920 population of 293 and of 333 in 1930.

MORGAN COUNTY

Morgan county, in the Eastern Panhandle, was formed in 1820, and named in honor of General Daniel Morgan, a Revolutionary War leader. It has an area of 233 square miles, with six magisterial districts, Allen, Bath, Cacapon, Rock Gap, Sleepy Creek and Timber Ridge.

The 1920 population of the county was 8,357, which increased slightly to 8,406 in 1930. The property in the county, in 1930, was assessed as follows: Real estate, $3,898,056; personal property, $1,472,457; public utility property, $9,145,452; a total assessment of $14,515,965. The county is largely agricultural and horticultural, with considerable development of its sand mines.

Berkeley Springs, the county seat, was established under the name of Bath in 1776, which is still its corporate name, the town being called by the postoffice name of Berkeley Springs. It is 612 feet above sea level and in 1920 had a population of 980, which increased to 1,039 in 1930. It is noted for its medicinal springs, now owned by the state, the curative value of the waters having been known since 1747.

Paw Paw, also a municipality in this county, increased its 1920 population of 689 to 781 in 1930.

McDOWELL COUNTY

McDowell County, the southern tip of the state, was formed in 1858, and named for James McDowell, Governor of Virginia, 1843-1846.

The county has an area of 533 square miles, underlaid with twenty-eight workable coal seams, the development of which has made McDowell the banner coal county of the state. It has six magisterial districts, Adkin, Browns Creek, Northfork, Elkhorn, Big Creek and Sandy River.

The county's population in 1920 was 68,571, which grew to 90,479 in 1930, an increase during that decade of 21,908. In 1930, the total assessment for taxation of the property in the county was $80,217,911, which was divided as follows: Real estate, $44,751,107; personal property, $11,390,225; public utility property, $24,076,579.

Welch, incorporated in 1893, in the large coal producing section of the county, became the county seat in 1892. It is 1,304 feet above sea level and in 1920 had a population of 3,232. This increased in 1930, to 5,376.

Welch Emergency Hospital, originally established by the state as Miners Hospital No. 1, but now an emergency hospital for medical and surgical cases, is located at Welch and is managed by Dr. A. G. Rutherford, Superintendent.

Other municipalities in the county, together with their populations as shown by the 1930 census, are: Iaeger, 1,066; Kimball, 1,467; Keystone, 1,897; Clark, 787; and War, 1,392.

NICHOLAS COUNTY

Nicholas County, established in 1818, and named for Wilson Cary Nicholas, Governor of Virginia, 1814-1817, has an area of 680 square miles, from which seven magisterial districts have been formed, Summersville, Grant, Beaver, Hamilton, Wilderness, Kentucky and Jefferson. Richwood has an independent school district.

While farming is carried on throughout the county, the development of the natural resources, such as coal and timber, has been quite extensive.

The population of the county in 1920 was 20,717 and 20,686 in 1930. The total property assessment of the county in 1930 was $17,885,894, of which $12,492,535 represented real estate, $3,636,350 personal property and $1,757,009 public utility property.

Summersville, the county sea, established in 1820 and incorporated in 1860, is 1,894 feet above sea level and in 1920 had a population of 279. The population increased to 536 in 1930.

Richwood, on the Cherry River, the largest municipality in the county, is one of the state's newer industrial towns, having been incorporated in 1901. Its 1920 population was 4,331, which increased to 5,720 in 1930. It is the center of the lumber industry of the county, and has among other important plants, what is said to be the largest clothes pin plant in the world.

OHIO COUNTY

Ohio County, in the Northern Panhandle, was formed in 1776 and has an area of 107 square miles. This is divided into the following ten magisterial districts; Center, Clay, Liberty, Madison, Richland, Ritchie, Triadelphia, Union, Washington and Webster. The county takes its name from its principal river.

The population of the county in 1920 was 62,892 and it increased by 9,185 to 72,077 in 1930, according to the census return for that year.

While Ohio County is among the small counties in area, it is among the wealthiest, as is shown by its assessed property valuation of $110,-921,087 in 1930. Real estate represents $69,278,050 of this amount, personal property, $26,882,404 and public utility property $14,760,633.

Wheeling, a place of importance in the history of its section since 1769, is an industrial center located on the Ohio River at an elevation of 678 feet above sea level. It is the chief city of northern West Virginia and the second largest in population in the state. Its 1920 population of 56,208 had increased to 61,659 in 1930. It has been the county seat of Ohio County since 1797 and was incorporated in 1806. It was twice the Capital of West Virginia, from the state's formation to April 1, 1870, and again from May 1, 1875 to May 1, 1885. Wheeling is the center of the iron and steel industry of the state.

West Liberty, established in 1787, was the county seat from 1776 to 1797. West Liberty State Teachers' College, a state institution, was established at West Liberty in 1870 and was a continuation of the West Liberty Academy, founded in 1838. The College is now under the management of its President, J. S. Bonar.

Triadelphia, another incorporated place in the county had a population of 299 in 1920 and of 302 in 1930.

PENDLETON COUNTY

Pendleton County, at the head of the South Branch Valley, was established in 1788 and named for Edmund Pendleton, a distinguished statesman and jurist of Virginia. It has an area of 699 square miles. In 1920 the population of the county was 9,652 and 9,660 in 1930.

Pendleton County is an agricultural and live stock county, with timber as its chief natural resource. It is divided into the six magisterial districts of Franklin, Mill Run, Circleville, Union, Sugar Grove and Bethel.

In 1758, at Fort Upper Tract and Fort Seybert, occurred two Indian massacres, the Indians being led by Killbuck, a Shawnee chieftain. Spruce Knob, in this county, is the highest point in the state, its elevation being 4,860 feet. Other points of scenic interest are Seneca Rocks and the Smoke Hole section.

In 1930, the taxable property of the county was assessed as follows: Real estate, $4,059,670; personal property, $1,646,260; public utility property, $13,080; a total assessment of $5,719,010.

Franklin, the county seat and only municipality in the county, was established in 1794. It is located on the South Branch of the Potomac River at an elevation of 1,730 feet above sea level and in 1920 had a population of 320, which increased to 431 in 1930.

PLEASANTS COUNTY

Pleasants, a northwestern county on the Ohio River, was formed in 1851 and named in honor of James Pleasants, who represented Virginia in the United States Senate and was its governor, 1822-1825. The county has an area of 132 square miles, divided into six magisterial districts, Lafayette, Union, Washington, Grant, Jefferson and McKim.

The population of the county, in 1920, was 7,379 and 6,545 in 1930. In 1930, the total assessed value of its taxable property was $8,551,478, of which $3,551,465 represented real estate, $2,408,440 personal property and $2,591,573 public utility property. It is an agricultural county, with developments of oil and gas.

St. Marys, the county seat, only incorporated place in the county, is located on the Ohio River and has an elevation above sea level of 724 feet. It was established in 1851. Its 1920 population of 1,648 had increased to 2,182 in 1930. The West Virginia Training School (for mental defectives) is now being constructed at Bradley, near St. Marys.

POCAHONTAS COUNTY

Pocahontas County, in the Appalachian Highlands, was formed in 1821 and named for Pocahontas, the Indian princess. It has an area of 904 square miles, being the fourth largest county in the state. Its population in 1920 was 15,002 and in 1930 was 14,555.

The county has been called the birthplace of rivers. It is mountainous and has many peaks, 4,500 feet in height. The four magisterial districts of the county are Edray, Greenbank, Huntersville and Little Levels.

In 1930, the taxable property in the county was assessed as follows: Real estate, $7,826,410; personal property, $3,338,620; public utility property, $3,398,886; a total assessment of $14,563,916.

Marlinton, the county seat, since 1891, is located on the Greenbrier River, at an elevation of 2,131 feet above sea level. It was first settled in 1749, being known as Marlin's Bottom until 1887, when the present town was laid out. In 1920 its population was 1,117 and in 1930, as shown by the census report, was 1,586.

Huntersville, unincorporated, was the county seat from 1822 to 1891, when the county seat was moved to Marlinton.

The three other municipalities in the county, with their 1930 populations are: Cass, 708; Durbin, 498; and Hillsboro, 220.

The Denmark Sanitarium, a tuberculosis sanitarium for the negro race, under the direction of Dr. B. A. Crichlow, Superintendent, is located at Denmark, in this county.

The site of the Battle of Droop Mountain, the most extensive Civil War conflict in the state, which occurred on November 6, 1863, in this county, was acquired by the state in 1929, and is now a Battlefield Park.

PRESTON COUNTY

Preston, a northern county, was formed in 1818 and named in honor of James Patton Preston, thirteenth governor of Virginia. It has a land area of 650 square miles and in 1920 had a population of 27,996. This had increased, in 1930, to 29,043.

The county is largely agricultural and is well known by its grain and cereal products, but has extensive coal developments. It has eight magisterial districts: Kingwood, Valley, Lyon, Reno, Union, Portland, Pleasant and Grant.

The total assessed value of the property in the county in 1930 was $28,348,116, divided as follows: Real estate, $14,711,590; personal property, $4,722,200; public utility property, $8,914,326.

Kingwood, the county seat, established in 1811, has an elevation of 1,962 feet above sea level. Its 1920 population of 1,417 had increased to 1,709 in 1930.

The other incorporated towns in Preston County, with populations as shown by the 1930 census, are: Albright, 343; Brandonville, 82; Bruce-ton Mills, 116; Masontown, 924; Newburg, 745; Reedsville, 345; Rowlesburg, 1,573; Terra Alta, 1,474; and Tunnelton, 595.

The Hopemont Sanitarium, a tuberculosis sanitarium for the white race, under the management of Dr. George F. Evans, Superintendent, is located at Hopemont, in this county, near Terra Alta.

Camp Dawson, on the Cheat River, near Kingwood, owned and controlled by the state, is the permanent camp for the 201st Infantry (formerly the 1st) West Virginia National Guard. The camp was named in honor of Ex-Governor William M. C. Dawson.

PUTNAM COUNTY

Putnam County, named in honor of General Israel Putnam, the New England soldier and patriot, was established in 1848. It has a land area of 336 square miles, which is divided into the six magisterial districts of Buffalo, Curry, Poca, Scott, Teays Valley and Union. Winfield and Nitro maintain independent school districts.

Lying on both sides of the Kanawha River, the county is agricultural, with some oil and gas developments. Its greatest natural resource, coal, is largely developed, with mines at many places in the county.

In 1920 the county had a population of 17,531, the population in 1930 being 16,737. The total assessment of the property in the county in 1930 was $15,370,948, divided as follows: Real estate, $6,679,920; personal property, $2,402,755; public utility property, $6,288,273.

Winfield, the county seat, laid out in 1848 and named for General Winfield Scott, of Mexican War fame, is located on the Kanawha River, at an approximate altitude of 570 feet. Its 1920 population of 253, increased slightly in 1930 to 294.

Buffalo, incorporated in 1837, had a population in 1930 of 316, the 1920 population being 300.

Hurricane, on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, in the center of the tobacco growing section, became a municipality in 1888. In 1920 its population was 666, which increased to 1,293 in 1930.

RALEIGH COUNTY

Raleigh County, established in 1850 from part of Fayette County and named for Sir Walter Raleigh, the English adventurer and soldier, has a land area of 597 square miles. From this have been formed the following seven magisterial districts; Shady Springs, Richmond, Clear Fork, Trap Hill, Slab Fork, Marsh Fork and Town.

The county had in 1920, a population of 42,482. This increased by 25,590, or slightly more than sixty per cent to 68,072 in 1930.

The county lies in the drainage basin of the New, Guyandotte and Coal Rivers, and with its nineteen workable seams of coal, has become one of the great coal producing counties of West Virginia. These coal developments furnish a ready market for the agricultural products of the county.

In 1930, the taxable property of the county was assessed as follows: Real estate, $30,398,134; personal property, $7,279,525; public utility property, $11,688,000; making a total assessment of $49,365,659.

Beckley, the county seat, chartered in 1837, has an elevation of about 2,400 feet above sea level and is the center of the coal-producing section of the county. This city has made a rapid growth in the last decade, its 1930 population of 9,357, having increased by 5,308 from 4,149 in 1920.

Rutherford Sanitarium, established in 1927 for the treatment of tuberculosis among the white race, is located at Beckley, under the management of Dr. Geo. F. Grissinger, Superintendent.

Other incorporated towns in the county, with their 1930 populations are: Lester, 609; Mabscott, 1,260; and Sophia, 611, all substantial increases over the populations of 1920.

RANDOLPH COUNTY

Randolph, the largest county in the state with an area of 1,036 square miles, was organized in 1789 and named in honor of Edmund Jennings Randolph, a distinguished jurist and governor of Virginia, 1786-1789. The county is agricultural, with large developments of its natural resources of coal and timber.

The county has nine magisterial districts; Beverly, Dry Fork, Huttonsville, Leadsville, Middlefork, Mingo, New Interest, Roaring Creek and Valley Bend, with the city of Elkins maintaining an independent school district.

The population of the county in 1920 was 26,804 and in 1930 was 25,049. The total assessed valuation of the property in the county in 1930 was $22,236,224; of this $12,275,720 represented real estate, $4,549,285 personal property; and $5,411,219 public utility property.

Elkins, the county seat, was established in 1889 and takes its name from its founder, Stephen Benton Elkins, United States Senator from West Virginia from 1895 until his death in 1911. It is located on the Tygarts Valley River at an elevation of 1,903 feet above sea level. Its 1920 population of 6,788 increased to 7,345 in 1930.

Beverly, established in 1790, is the oldest town in the county and was the county seat from 1787 to 1898, when Elkins was selected. The town had a population of 442 in 1920 and of 431 in 1930.

Davis and Elkins College, an institution of higher learning maintained by the Southern Presbyterian Church is located at Elkins. It is under the presidency of Dr. James E. Allen.

The West Virginia Children's Home is also located at Elkins. This is a state institution for the care of dependent and neglected children and is now under the direction of Mrs. Jessica P. Lehman, Superintendent.

At Elkins also, and close to the Children's Home, is the West Virginia Odd Fellows Home, which is maintained by that fraternal order for aged members, their wives, or widows, and dependent children.

The other incorporated towns in Randolph County, with 1930 populations are: Huttonsville, 303; Mill Creek, 723; Montrose, 114; and Womelsdorf, 373.

RITCHIE COUNTY

Ritchie County was established in 1843 and has an area of 453 square miles. From this there have been formed four magisterial districts; Clay, Grant, Murphy and Union, with Harrisville having an independent school district. The county was named for Thomas Ritchie, a distinguished journalist of Richmond, Virginia.

The population of the county was 16,506 in 1920 and 15,594 in 1930.

This county, in addition to agriculture and grazing, has well developed oil and gas sections. In 1930, the taxable property of the county was assessed as follows: Real estate, $10,084,390; personal property, $5,915,360; public utility property, $8,736,473, a total assessment of $24,736,223.

Harrisville, the county seat, established in 1832 and incorporated in 1869, has an elevation of 1,192 feet above sea level. The town's population of 1,036 in 1920 had increased to 1,192 in 1930.

The other incorporated places in Ritchie County, with 1930 populations are: Auburn, 166; Cairo, 607; Ellenboro, 330; Pennsboro, 1,616; and Pullman, 184.

ROANE COUNTY

Roane County, in the western central section of the state, was formed in 1856 and named in honor of Judge Spencer Roane, a distinguished jurist of Virginia.

It has a land area of 522 square miles, which has been divided into the following seven magisterial districts; Spencer, Curtis, Geary, Harper, Reedy, Smithfield and Walton; Spencer maintains an independent school district.

The county's population was 20,129 in 1920, and 19,478 in 1930. The assessed valuation of the taxable property in the county in 1930 was: Real estate, $9,028,310; personal property, $6,187,140; public utility property, $12,145,315; a total of $27,360,765.

Roane is an agricultural and grazing county with important developments of its oil and gas areas.

Spencer, the county seat, was settled in 1812 and was established under its present name in 1858. It has an altitude of 719 feet and its 1920 population of 1,765 had increased in 1930 to 2,493. It is the location of the Spencer State Hospital, an institution for the care and treatment of the insane of the white race, which is now under the management of Dr. D. D. Chapman, Superintendent.

Reedy, the only other municipality in the county, had a slight increase in population from 373 in 1920 to 405 in 1930.

SUMMERS COUNTY

Summers County was formed in 1871, after the separation from Virginia and was named in honor of George W. Summers, a distinguished jurist of Fayette County. It has an area of 369 square miles and contains six magisterial districts; Greenbrier, Forest Hill, Green Sulphur, Jumping Branch, Talcott and Pipestem, with Hinton having an independent school district.

The population of the county increased in 1930 to 20,468 from its 1920 population of 19,092. The county is largely agricultural with some coal developments in the section adjacent to Fayette and Raleigh Counties.

The 1930 returns of property values for taxation were: Real estate, $7,479,670; personal property, $1,896,388; public utility property, $8,104,555; a total assessment of $17,480,613.

Hinton, the county seat, was established in 1873 and incorporated in 1880. It lies at the junction of Greenbrier and New Rivers at an elevation of 1,385 feet above sea level. Its population in 1920 was 3,912 and in 1930 was 6,654. In 1927, Avis, with a population of 1,635, and Bellepoint were taken into the corporate limits of Hinton.

TAYLOR COUNTY

Taylor, a northern central county, was created in 1844 and has a land area of 175 square miles. The county has five magisterial districts; Court House, Booths Creek, Flemington, Fetterman and Knottsville, with two independent school districts, Grafton and Pruntytown. Although some uncertainty exists as to who was honored in the naming of the county, it probably took its name from John Taylor, a Virginia soldier and statesman, 1750-1824.

The county is agricultural, with extensive developments of its principal natural resources, coal and timber. The population in 1920 was 18,742 and increased slightly to 19,114 in 1930.

The taxable property of the county in 1930 was assessed as follows: Real estate, $12,168,720; personal property, $3,738,510; public utility property, $7,550,614; a total assessment of $23,457,844.

Grafton, the county seat, located on the Tygarts Valley River at an elevation of 1,000 feet above sea level, had a population in 1920 of 8,517 and in 1930 of 7,737. It is a terminal point on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the location of extensive railroad shops. West Virginia's only National Cemetery, for the care of which an annual appropriation is made by the legislature, is located at Grafton.

Pruntytown, established in 1801, was the original county seat, losing this honor to Grafton in the 1880's. It is the location of The West Virginia Industrial School for Boys, a correctional institution for white boys, which is under the direction of Superintendent H. E. Flesher.

Flemington, another municipality in the county, was incorporated in 1860, and in 1930 had a population of 617.

TUCKER COUNTY

Tucker County, formed in 1856, has a land area of 405 square miles and has the seven magisterial districts of Black Fork, Dry Fork, Clover, Davis, Fairfax, Licking and St. George. The population of the county in 1920 was 16,791 and 13,374 in 1930. The county was named for Henry St. George Tucker, an eminent jurist and statesman of Virginia.

The county, while agricultural, has large quantities of coal and timber, which have been largely developed. In 1930, the total assessed valuation of the taxable property in the county was $9,701,898, of which $6,083,420 was real estate, $1,628,670 personal property and $1,989,808 public utility property.

Parsons, the county seat, is located on the Cheat River at an elevation of 1,650 feet above sea level. In 1920 it had a population of 2,001 and in 1930 of 2,012.

TYLER COUNTY

Tyler County, established in 1814, has a land area of 260 square miles. This is divided into the six magisterial districts of Centerville, Ellsworth, Lincoln, Meade, McElroy and Union. The county maintains a county high school and Sistersville an independent school district. The county has a well developed oil and gas production, in addition to its horticultural and agricultural products. It was named in honor of John Tyler, eighth governor of Virginia and father of John Tyler, tenth President of the United States.

The county, in 1920, had a population of 14,186 and in 1930 of 12,785. The taxable property in the county in 1930 was: Real estate, $6,467,075; personal property, $4,483,817; public utility property, $5,187,170; a total of $16,138,062.

Middlebourne, the county seat, was established in 1813, the present incorporation dating from 1871. It has an elevation of 754 feet above sea level and in 1920 had a population of 929, the population in 1930 being 769.

Sistersville, on the Ohio River, was incorporated in 1839. It has for years been an important oil and gas center. Its population in 1920 was 3,238 and 3,072 in 1930.

The other municipalities in the county, with their 1930 populations are: Centerville, 152; Friendly, 170; Paden City, which lies partly in Wetzell County, 2,281.

UPSHUR COUNTY

Upshur, a central county of the state, was formed in 1851. It has a land area of 351 square miles, which is divided into six magisterial districts as follows: Buckhannon, Banks, Meade, Union, Washington and Warren. An independent school district is maintained by the city of Buckhannon, and a county high school by the county. The county was named for Abel Parker Upshur, an eminent statesman and jurist of Virginia.

Upshur is one of the important agricultural counties of the state, but contains large coal deposits, which have been extensively developed. The 1920 population of the county was 17,851, which had slightly increased to 17,944 in 1930.

In 1930, the assessment of property values in this county were: Real estate, $10,129,145; personal property, $2,712,100; public utility property, $2,441,982; a total assessment of $15,283,227.

Buckhannon, the county seat, was established in 1816. It has an altitude of 1,432 feet and its 1920 population of 3,785 grew to 4,374 in 1930.

The West Virginia Wesleyan college, located at Buckhannon, was established in 1887. It is maintained by the Methodist Episcopal Church of West Virginia and is one of the important institutions of higher learning in the state. It is directed by Dr. Roy McCusky, President.

Adrian, unincorporated, had a 1930 population of 653.

WAYNE COUNTY

Wayne County, formed in 1842, was named in honor of General Anthony Wayne, of Revolutionary War fame. The county has an area of 517 square miles and in 1920 had a population of 26,012. The population had increased, in 1930, to 31,206. It is both an agricultural and coal producing county.

Ceredo, Butler, Union, Stonewall, Lincoln, Grant and Westmoreland are the seven magisterial districts of the county. The county maintains a county high school and Ceredo an independent school district. Wayne's taxable property, in 1930, had a total assessed value of $39,459,656, divided as follows: Real estate, $12,831,755; personal property, $2,695,515; public utility property, $23,932,386.

Wayne was established as the county seat when the county was organized and was incorporated in 1882. It has an elevation above sea level of 707 feet and in 1920 had a population of 446, which increased to 675 in 1930.

Other important incorporated places in this county, with populations as shown by the 1930 census are: Ceredo, 1,164; Kenova, 3,680; and Cassville (whose postoffice is Fort Gay), 664.

WEBSTER COUNTY

Webster, the last county in West Virginia to be erected before the separation from Virginia, was organized in 1860 and named in honor of the New England orator and statesman, Daniel Webster.

The county has an area of 583 square miles. It had a population of 11,562 in 1920, which increased in 1930 to 14,216. Of its natural resources, timber has been most largely developed. It has many mineral springs, of which Webster Springs is the best known.

The four magisterial districts of the county, Fork Lick, Glade, Holly and Hacker Valley, in 1930 had a total assessed value of $11,012,200; of this $7,009,355 represented real estate, $2,567,710 personal property and $1,435,135 public utility property.

Webster Springs is the county seat, that being the name of the post-office, although the official name of the municipality is Addison. It is located on the Elk River at an elevation of 1,509 feet above sea level. In 1920 it had a population of 679, which increased to 976 in 1930.

Cowen, 1930 population, 491, and Camden-on-Gauley, 435, are the two other incorporated places in this county.

WETZEL COUNTY

Wetzel County, formed in 1846, is an agricultural county, with important developments of its oil and gas producing sections. It has an area of 357 square miles, which has been divided into the seven magisterial districts of Center, Church, Clay, Grant, Greene, Magnolia and Proctor. The county takes its name from Lewis Wetzel, a famous frontier character and Indian fighter.

The county had a population of 23,069 in 1920 and 22,334 in 1930. The taxable wealth of the county was assessed in 1930 as follows: Real estate, $8,541,480; personal property, $6,104,480; public utility property, $15,764,779; a total assessment of $30,410,739.

New Martinsville, the county seat since the creation of the county, was established in 1838 and is located on the Ohio River at an elevation of 630 feet above sea level. It had a population of 2,341 in 1920, which increased to 2,814 in 1930.

The other municipalities of the county, with 1930 populations are: Brooklyn (P. O. New Martinsville), 779; Hundred, 788; Littleton, 648; Pine Grove, 820; Smithfield, 609; and Paden City (lying in both Wetzel and Tyler Counties), 2,281.

WIRT COUNTY

Wirt County, formed in 1848, has a land area of 218 square miles, which is divided into seven magisterial districts, Burning Springs, Clay, Elizabeth, Newark, Reedy, Spring Creek and Tucker. Elizabeth and Burning Springs have independent school districts. Elizabeth Joint School District is maintained by the town of Elizabeth and Elizabeth Magisterial District.

It is an agricultural county, but was the pioneer county of the state in the development of oil and gas territory, the Burning Springs field dating from 1820. The county was named for William Wirt, a Marylander, who gained fame as an author, orator and lawyer, in his adopted state of Virginia.

The county's population in 1920 was 7,536 and in 1930 was 6,358. In 1930, the total assessed value of the taxable property in the county was $5,572,052; divided as follows: Real estate, $3,684,720; personal property, $1,470,970; public utility property, $416,362.

Elizabeth, the county seat, settled in 1796, and made a town in 1817, is situated on the Little Kanawha River, at an altitude of 646 feet. Its 1920 population of 681 had increased to 716 in 1930.

WOOD COUNTY

Wood County, lying on the Ohio River, was established in 1798 and has a land area of 364 square miles, which is divided into the ten magisterial districts of Clay, Harris, Lubeck, Parkersburg, Slate, Steel, Tygart, Union, Walker and Williams. Wood is a rich agricultural and manufacturing county.

The county was named in honor of James Wood, Governor of Virginia at the formation of the county. The population of the county in 1920 was 42,300, which increased by 14,215 to 56,521 in 1930.

The taxable property in the county was assessed in 1930 as follows: Real estate, $48,854,710; personal property, $16,496,380; public utility property $12,153,540; a total assessed value of $77,504,630.

Parkersburg, the county seat, located at the junction of the Ohio and Little Kanawha Rivers at an altitude of 616 feet, is an important manufacturing and trading center. Its 1920 population of 20,050 increased to 29,623 in 1930. Blennerhasset Island, near Parkersburg, in the Ohio River, is well known because of Herman Blennerhassett's participation in Aaron Burr's conspiracy.

Williamstown, on the Ohio River north of Parkersburg, is another municipality of Wood County. In 1920 it had a population of 1,793 and in 1930, as shown by the census returns, of 1,657.

WYOMING COUNTY

Wyoming County, in the extreme southern section of the state, was formed in 1850 and has a land area of 502 square miles. It has seven magisterial districts; Baileysville, Barkers Ridge, Center, Clear Fork, Huffs Creek, Oceana and Slab Fork.

The county, with thirty-one seams of workable coal, is one of the state's great coal producing counties, although its agricultural products are of no slight value. It takes its name from the Wyoming tribe of Indians. The population of the county in 1920 was 15,180, which increased to 29,926 in 1930.

In 1930, the total assessed value of the wealth in the county was $28,538,833; of this $17,122,580 represented real estate values, $1,783,070 personal property and $9,633,183 public utility properties.

Pineville, the county seat since its removal from Oceana some years ago, is located near the center of the county at an altitude of 1,323 feet and had a population of 304 in 1920, which had increased in 1930 to 462.

Mullens, the county's largest municipality and center of its coal industry, had a population of 1,425 in 1920. This increased to 2,356 in 1930. Corinne, another important town, had a 1930 population of 494.

482 1930 POPULATION OF COUNTIES BY CIVIL DIVISIONS

Minor Civil Divisions.—The primary divisions of the counties of West Virginia are termed "magisterial districts." These magisterial districts include the secondary divisions, which are incorporated as cities, towns, or villages. The following table shows the population of each county by magisterial districts, cities, towns, and villages for the last three censuses. The population of the secondary divisions is shown under the population of the magisterial districts in which they are respectively situated and is included in the total population given for the district. Several of the cities are coextensive with the magisterial districts in which they are located, and some of the larger cities comprise two or more districts or parts of districts. Where an incorporated place occupies parts of two districts, the total population of the place is given in connection with the presentation for the first district.

POPULATION OF COUNTIES BY MINOR CIVIL DIVISIONS: 1930, 1920 AND 1910

(The "Districts" shown in the table are magisterial districts. For changes in boundaries, etc., between 1920 and 1930, see footnotes; for those between 1910 and 1920, see Reports of the Fourteenth Census (1920), Vol. I, Table 53.)

HOWARD MASON GORE
Commissioner of Agriculture

BIOGRAPHY

HOWARD MASON GORE, (Republican), Commissioner of Agriculture, was born October 12, 1877, on a farm in Coal District, Harrison county, three miles north of Clarksburg. The family of his mother, Marietta P. (Rogers) Gore, has been engaged in farming in the bluegrass region of West Virginia since 1778 and in 1842 the forbears of his father, Solomon D. Gore, located on the farm which is still the family homestead.

He was married to Roxilene Corder Bailey, of Taylor county, West Virginia, who died March 6, 1907. He was educated in the public schools of Coal District, Clarksburg High School, and in 1900 was graduated from West Virginia University. Intensely interested in education, he was a member of the State Board of Education, 1920-1924. As a student of agricultural problems and as one of the founders and patrons of boys' and girls' club organization work, he is well known throughout the country. During the World War he served West Virginia as Assistant Food Administrator, being especially assigned to the settlement of difficulties growing out of the administration of the food act in West Virginia and elsewhere. He is a member of a committee of fifteen chosen to work out the livestock marketing work. At the request of national farm organizations he went to Washington in 1921 to do special work in the Department of Agriculture. When this work was completed he became Chief of Trade Practice, Division of the Packers and Stock Yards Administration, and in this capacity established a national reputation in handling the problems of the Department. On September 17, 1923, he was appointed by President Coolidge as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture. In 1924, by a majority of more than forty thousand, he was elected Governor of West Virginia, serving from March 4, 1925, to March 3, 1929. Shortly before his election as Governor, he was appointed by President Coolidge as Secretary of Agriculture, succeeding Secretary Henry C. Wallace, deceased, and served as Secretary until his inauguration as Governor. On February 4, 1931, he was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture by Governor Wm. G. Conley to fill the unexpired term of the late John W. Smith. In addition to his public service and his work with the agricultural organizations of the nation, he has been actively engaged in the hotel, banking and mercantile business. He is a Baptist, Mason, Odd Fellow, Moose, Knights of Pythias, Phi Sigma Kappa and Phi Beta Kappa. He is chairman of the Drought Relief Committee for West Virginia, president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau Cooperative Association and director of the Producers Cooperative Live Stock Association.

HARRY PRESTON HENSHAW

BIOGRAPHY

HARRY PRESTON HENSHAW, (Democrat), of Bunker Hill, Berkeley county, member of the State Road Commission, was born in Berkeley county on December 21, 1886. He was educated in the public schools of that county and then attended Shenandoah Military Academy, at Winchester, Virginia, and West Virginia University. He has been for years a successful farmer and fruit grower in the Eastern Panhandle, that section of the state so well known horticulturally. He has had a long and distinguished political career, which began with his election to the House of Delegates from Berkeley county in 1916. He was elected to the Senate from the Fifteenth District in 1920 and served through six consecutive sessions, beginning with 1921 and ending with the session of 1931, on the last day of which he resigned upon appointment as a member of the State Road Commission. Conservative in his views and deliberate in action, he was an influential member of the Senate and in several sessions, his party's floor leader. He has actively advocated and supported, both in and out of the legislature, the good roads development of the state, is acquainted with the road situation in the state and is well qualified for his membership on the Commission. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, Sons of American Revolution, Beta Theta Pi fraternity, an Elk, Mason and Lodge of Perfection.

HAROLD P. TOMPKINS

BIOGRAPHY

HAROLD P. TOMPKINS, (Republican), of Charleston, member of the State Road Commission, son of H. P. and Addie (Elswick) Tompkins, was born in Cabin Creek District of Kanawha county, on September 20, 1888. After receiving his early education in the public schools of Cedar Grove, he attended Marshall College, from which he graduated in 1908, and studied law at West Virginia University, 1909-1910. He served for three successive terms as mayor of Cedar Grove and in 1917 removed to Charleston and entered upon a business career, bearing largely upon the development of the natural resources of southern West Virginia, particularly coal, oil and gas. He organized several corporations and served as president and treasurer. From the beginning of the movement for a good roads system, Mr. Tompkins worked earnestly and consistently for its success and was a member of the committee that drafted the original good roads law. He has served as president of the Southern West Virginia Automobile Club, West Virginia Automobile Association and Charleston Kiwanis Club (also as District Governor, West Virginia District) and member good roads committee Charleston Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club. He is identified with various commercial organizations and is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Sigma Nu fraternity, the Masonic Order, Scottish Rite and Shrine. Through his business training and activities and his thorough knowledge of the road needs of the state, Mr. Tompkins is well equipped for his present position.

M. Z. WHITE

BIOGRAPHY

M. Z. WHITE, (Republican), of Williamson, President of the Senate, was born on September 6, 1872, at Deep Valley, Green county, Pennsylvania, and was educated in the public schools of that state. Early in life he came to West Virginia, established himself at Williamson, Mingo county, and was soon identified with its political and business activities, serving as chief deputy sheriff, president of the county court, president of the chamber of commerce and Mayor of Williamson. He is now president of the First National Bank of Williamson. Senator White was first elected to the Senate in 1910 from the Sixth District and served in the sessions of 1911 and 1913. From 1914 to 1918 he was warden of the state penitentiary and, in a successful term, abolished all forms of corporal punishment and substituted the honor system. He served as chairman of the Republican State Committee from 1918 to 1922, when he was again elected to the Senate and served in the sessions of 1923 and 1925, being elected President of the Senate in 1925. Elected again to the Senate in 1926, he was chosen as President of the Senate in the sessions of 1927 and 1929 and when elected, in 1930, to the Senate for the fourth time, he was again, in the 1931 session, chosen its President for the fourth time, a deserved honor never before conferred upon a member of that body. As President during his four terms, by his parliamentary skill and as chairman of the Committee on Rules, he expedited the business coming before the Senate and presided over its deliberations with ability and fairness. President White is a member of the Capitol Building Commission, Yorktown Sesquicentennial Commission and George Washington Bicentennial Commission. He is a Methodist, an Elk, Odd Fellow and Mason.

GASOLINE TAX*The 1923 Law

On April 27, 1923, the Legislature of West Virginia passed an Act imposing a tax on gasoline, which became operative July 26, 1923.

The salient features of the Act were:

A rate of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold in West Virginia.

Gasoline purchased outside West Virginia and used within the State was subject to tax, the user being deemed a "wholesaler" under the Act the purchaser being held liable for the tax on all inter-state shipments from points outside West Virginia to points within the State; but the seller was permitted, by office regulation, to assume and pay the tax on such shipments.

The tax applied on all gasoline sold in West Virginia regardless of the purpose for which the same was to be used, no deductions being allowable on account of gasoline sold to be used in the operation of motor boats, agricultural tractors, stationary gasoline engines, gasoline used in the process of manufacturing or dry cleaning, or in air compressors, etc.; no deductions were allowed on account of gasoline sold to the Federal Government.

Office regulations required refiners to pay the tax on all sales made to retail dealers and to consumers, but they were authorized to sell gasoline to wholesale dealers and jobbers, the purchaser to assume the tax. Refunds were allowed to wholesalers to cover the tax previously paid on gasoline sold and delivered outside of West Virginia.

Under the Act, dealers were not required to pay the tax on gasoline used in their own motor equipment, in the conduct of their business (the subject of the tax being the privilege to sell) and wholesale dealers and jobbers handling gasoline on which the tax had been previously paid, were allowed refunds to cover the tax paid on gasoline used and gasoline lost by leakage and evaporation.

The 1925 Law

The extraordinary session of the Legislature of 1925 on June 4th, passed a new gasoline tax law operative July 1, 1925, imposing a license tax on producers and sellers of gasoline—$25.00 annually for wholesalers or distributors, and $5.00 annually for retailers; and also an excise tax at the rate of three and one-half cents per gallon on gasoline sold or used in West Virginia. This act repealed the 1923 Act, the former act remaining effective only for the collection of all taxes and penalties accruing thereunder up to and including June 30, 1925.

The important features of this Act were:

- (1) The imposition of a license tax on producers and sellers of gasoline.
- (2) The rate was increased over the old law from two cents to three and one-half cents per gallon.
- (3) Gasoline used as well as gasoline sold was made subject to the tax.
- (4) The first seller was required to pay the tax in all instances except where the gasoline was shipped in inter-state commerce.
- (5) Common carriers were required to furnish details regarding deliveries of gasoline made to points in West Virginia.
- (6) Any tax paid on gasoline used for purposes other than in the operation of motor vehicles was made subject to refundment.

The 1927 Law

On April 25, 1927, the Legislature of 1927, at the regular session, passed a new gasoline tax law, in effect from passage, which increased the excise tax from three and one-half to four cents per gallon, effective July 1, 1927. This act reduced the annual license tax on wholesalers or distributors from $25.00 to $5.00, and the license tax on retail dealers from $5.00 to $1.00. It also repealed the 1925 Act, but left that act in full effect for the collection of all taxes and penalties accruing thereunder up to and including June 30, 1927.

The important changes in this Act are:

- (1) The tax rate is increased from three and one-half to four cents per gallon.
- (2) The license tax is reduced.

GASOLINE TAX

- (3) The tax is made a lien.
 (4) The excise tax is made a trust fund and failure to surrender such taxes to the state tax commissioner is made a felony.
 (5) In case of delinquency in payment of tax the state tax commissioner is given power of distraint and sale.
 (6) The state tax commissioner is given power to require surety bonds from dealers.

Under the provisions of these Acts collections have been made and requisitions for refund have been issued as follows:

NOTE—The foregoing statement contains complete detailed information relating to gasoline tax collections based on cash receipts and disbursements. Payments are credited to the months in which deposited and refunds are debited to the months in which the requisitions are issued. Payments are due within thirty days after the close of the month. Payments in most cases are mailed on or about the last of the month. If they are not received until after the close of the month, they become receipts for the following month. To illustrate: A payment on sales in July is due August 30th. The remittance is mailed August 30th and received September 1st. In this statement the remittance is credited to September.

In some previous editions of the West Virginia Legislative Hand Book the figures given were based on accruals. Where that basis is used the tax is credited to the month or year during which the gasoline was sold regardless of when collected.

FARM POPULATION

The farm population as shown for 1930 comprises all persons living on farms, without regard to occupation. The farm population figures for 1920 include, in addition, those farm laborers (and their families) who, while not living on farms, nevertheless lived in strictly rural territory outside the limits of any city or other incorporated place. Though the number of additional persons thus included is believed not to have been very great, some allowance should be made for this difference in definition when comparing the figures. Further allowance should be made for the fact that the 1920 census was taken in January, when considerable numbers of farm laborers and others usually living on farms were temporarily absent, while the 1930 census was taken in April, when by reason of the advancing season the number of persons on the farms was appreciably larger.

URBAN AND RURAL AREAS

Urban population, as defined by the Census Bureau, is in general that residing in cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more, the remainder being classified as rural.

*The term "family," as used in making the count, referred to above, signifies a group of persons, whether related by blood or not, who live together as one household usually sharing the same table. One person living alone is counted as a family, and, at the other extreme, all the inmates of an institution, or all the persons living in a boarding house, are ordinarily counted as one family.

(a) Not including salaried employees.
 (b) Manufacturer's profits can not be calculated from the census figures, because no data are collected for certain expense items, such as interest on investment, rent, depreciation, taxes, insurance, and advertising.
 (c) The aggregates for cost of materials and value of products include large but indeterminable amounts of duplication due to the use of the products of some industries as materials by others.
 (d) Rated capacity of prime movers plus rated capacity of electric motors driven by purchased energy. Separate figures for these two types of power equipment will be given in later reports.
 (e) The figures for 1919 refer to all establishments having products valued at $500 or more, whereas the minimum value-of-products limit for subsequent years was $5,000. This change had very little effect on the comparableness of the figures for different census years, with the exception of those for number of establishments.
 (f) Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Gilmer, Grant, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Lincoln, Mineral, Pleasants, Putnam, Summers, Tucker, Tyler, Webster, Wirt, and Wyoming counties; combined in order to avoid disclosing data for individual establishments. It is possible that upon further analysis of the figures it will be found that statistics for one or more of these counties can be published separately in later reports. No manufacturing establishments were reported from Wirt county.
 (g) Summary statistics for these cities were assembled and published (in mimeographed form) at the biennial census for 1927. Statistics for Huntington will be published later if it is possible to give separate figures without disclosing an approximation of the data for individual establishments.

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

APPORTIONMENT ACT OF 1863

By an act of the legislature passed September 10, 1863, the State of West Virginia—for the purposes of congressional representation—was divided into three districts, as follows:

First District—Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Wetzel, Tyler, Pleasants, Doddridge, Harrison, Ritchie, Wood, Wirt, Gilmer, Calhoun and Lewis counties.

Second District—Taylor, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Tucker, Barbour, Upshur, Webster, Pocahontas, Randolph, Pendleton, Hardy, Hampshire, Berkeley and Morgan counties.

Third District—Kanawha, Jackson, Mason, Putnam, Cabell, Clay, Wayne, Logan, Boone, Braxton, Nicholas, Roane, McDowell, Wyoming, Raleigh, Fayette, Mercer, Monroe and Greenbrier counties.

Under the first apportionment act the State had the following representation in the lower house of congress, the names of the members coming in the numerical order of the districts which they respectively represented, and the same applies to subsequent re-apportionment acts.

*Enumeration of 1870 incomplete in Southern States. Percentages in this column for 1860-1870 and 1870-1880 represent estimated true rates of increase.

†In comparing this percentage of increase with that shown for the decade 1910-1920; allowance should be made for the fact that the period between the censuses of 1910 and 1920 was less than a full decade, and that between the 1920 and 1930 censuses was more than a full decade. An increase of 16.1 per cent for 123 months (the time between Jan. 1, 1920, and Apr. 1, 1930) is equivalent to 15.7 per cent for exactly 10 years; and the 1920 increase for 116½ months (the time between Apr. 15, 1910, and Jan. 1, 1920) is equivalent to 15.4 per cent for 120 months. Making this adjustment, the rate of increase for the decade ending in 1930 is only slightly higher than that for the preceding decade.

PARCEL POST RATES

PARCEL POST RATES

Rates on postage on fourth class matter—to be fully prepaid—are by the pound, according to distance or zone a fraction of a pound being computed as a full pound. These rates, including the 2-cent additional charge, are shown in the following table and paragraph (a):

(a) Parcels subject to the pound rates, mailed for delivery within the first or second zone, are, when the distance by the shortest regular mail route from the office of origin to the office of delivery is 300 miles or more, chargeable with postage at the rate of 8 cents for the first pound and 2 cents for each additional pound, a fraction of a pound being computed as full pound.

NOTE.—On parcels collected on rural delivery routes the postage will be 2 cents less than shown in the foregoing table when for delivery anywhere within the first three zones and 1 cent less when for delivery in any other zone, provided they are endorsed "Mailed on rural route", to show that they are not subject to the additional charge.
