INDEPENDENT VERIFICATION AND VALIDATION FACILITY

100 University Drive, Fairmont 26554

Website: www.nasa.gov/centers/ivv/home/index.html

Located in the heart of West Virginia's emerging technology sector, the NASA Independent Verification and Validation Facility was established in 1993 as part of an agency-wide strategy to provide the highest achievable levels of safety and cost-effectiveness for mission critical software. The operation was founded under the NASA Office of Safety and Mission Assurance as a direct result of recommendations made by the National Research Council and the Report of the Presidential Commission on the Space Shuttle Challenger Accident. Since then, the site has experienced continual growth in personnel, projects, capabilities, and accomplishments. Its efforts have contributed to the improved safety record of NASA since its inception. Today, the facility is governed by the Goddard Space Flight Center located in Greenbelt, Maryland.

NATIONAL RADIO ASTRONOMY OBSERVATORY

Route 28/92, P.O. Box 2, Green Bank 24944

Website: <https://science.nrao.edu/facilities/gbt/>

The National Radio Astronomy Observatory was founded in 1956 in Green Bank, West Virginia. The Green Bank site was originally chosen because of its sheltered, valley location and its distance from large population centers. The natural mountain bowl surrounding Green Bank helps protect it from man-made radio interference, which is harmful to sensitive radio astronomy observations. In addition, Green Bank is in the center of a 13,000-square-mile area known as the National Radio Quiet Zone. This area, created by federal regulations, is protected from harmful radio frequency interference broadcasts.

Site Director: Dr. Karen O'Neil

Business Manager: Michael J. Holstine, PE
