Foreword

The make-up of this new Volume 36 of the West Virginia Blue Book remains in substantially the same form that it has in former years. This is done of course, in order that the general public may find the same information in approximately the same place as in former issues.

There will be found new pictorial shots of the various State institutions; one of the official State songs written by a West Virginian, Colonel Julian Hearne; statistical data relating to Oil and Gas, and other information that has not heretofore been included in the Blue Book.

We are particularly indebted to Dr. Charles P. Harper, of Marshall College, who has written for us a historical sketch of West Virginia, which should be of special interest to many of the users.

Our sincere appreciation to all the State, County and City officials, as well as various other contributors who have done so much in helping us compile this latest edition.

J. HOWARD MYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

(West Virginia State Police)

W. E. BURCHETT, Superintendent*Ground Floor, Main Unit, Capitol

Salary of Superintendent: $7,000 per year. Appointed by Governor, with advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of four years.

Board of Commissioners: $10 per diem for days actually served in discharge of duties and expenses; consists of two members, bipartisan, appointed by the Governor, by and with consent of the Senate for a term of two years.

Retirement Board: Consists of the Attorney General, the State Treasurer, the Superintendent, and two members in active service of the department, elected by vote of members, who serve without compensation.

The Department of Public Safety is a state police department with state-wide general police power, created in 1919 to preserve the peace, protect life and property, prevent crime and apprehend criminals. With at least one detachment in each county and a large fleet of two-way radio equipped vehicles, the state police handle a large share of the investigation of major crime and apprehension of dangerous criminals, and take primary responsibility for patrolling the highways, enforcing the traffic laws and preventing motor vehicle accidents, besides many miscellaneous services in the public interest, including duty at the scene of emergencies, riots or disasters.

The Board of Commissioners hears charges filed against any officer or member of the department, including the Superintendent, or appeals of charges filed against officers or members with the Superintendent if the Superintendent fails to suspend or dismiss any officer or member after such charges are filed.

The Retirement Board has power to make, revise and terminate awards from the Department Death, Disability and Retirement Fund to retired or disabled members, or to beneficiaries of deceased members.

DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY*CABELL S. DAVIS, Director*Fourth Floor, East Wing, Capitol

Salary of Director: $7,000 per year. Appointed by Governor, by and with advice and consent of Senate. Term: Six years, subject to will and pleasure of Governor.

Advisory Council: $15 per day for each day actually served in discharge of duties, also necessary expenses. Six members appointed by Governor, by and with advice and consent of Senate. Term: Six years, subject to will and pleasure of Governor. Two members represent employer interests, two employee interests and two the interests of the general public. Meets first Monday in January, April, July and October. Limit of 30 day's service in any year.

Board of Review: $5,550 per year each. Three members appointed by Governor, with advice and consent of Senate. Term: Six years. Nonpartisan. Governor designates chairman.

Purpose is to promote social and economic security by reducing, as far as possible, the hazards of unemployment. Through compulsory system of unemployment reserves, it provides measures of security to families of unemployed persons and guards against menace to health, morals and welfare arising from unemployment. To fulfill these purposes the Department pays weekly unemployment benefits to workers who are unemployed due to lack of work and who are in the labor market. The funds for payment of benefits are derived from a pay roll tax paid by West Virginia employers under the terms of the Social Security Act.

Council serves as advisory body to Director. Board of Review hears and determines disputed claims, appoints examiners, organizes appeal tribunals and exercises such additional powers as may be necessary for the proper conduct of a system of administrative review of disputed claims.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Under Chapter 30, Article I, Code 1931, all boards of examination and registration are governed by the following general rules, unless otherwise specifically provided:

Each board is required to adopt an official seal, make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as it deems best, and hold at least two meetings each year. Each board is also given power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and its officers are authorized to administer oaths.

Each applicant for license or registration must transmit with his application an examination fee of $20, unless a different fee is especially provided by law. Each board is allowed to charge $5 for each license or certificate issued and the same sum for every duplicate thereof. All licenses or certificates of registration are required to be numbered serially and to be signed by a majority of the members of the board, and each board has power to revoke, for cause, the certificate it issues. An applicant who has been refused a license, or a licensee whose certificate has been revoked, has the right of appeal from the action of the board to the Circuit Court of the county in which he resides.

Unless otherwise specified, members of boards are allowed $10 per day for each day actually spent in attending sessions of the board or of its committees and in necessary travel, and are entitled to reimbursement for all actual and necessary expenses in carrying out their official duties.

Each board is required to make a report annually to the Governor on or before the first day of January, and the secretary of each board is required to prepare and maintain a complete roster of all persons licensed or registered by it.

The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present the journal of the preceding day shall be read, to the end that any mistake may be corrected that may have been made in the entries.

2. The presiding officer of the Senate may call a member to the chair who shall exercise his functions for the time being, but no member by virtue of such appointment, shall preside for a longer period than three days.

3. The presiding officer of the Senate shall have the regulation of such parts of the Capitol and of its passage as are, or may be, set apart for the use of the Senate, its officers and committees.

Admittance to Senate Chamber

4. No person except members of the House of Delegates, the heads of the executive departments, the governor's private secretary, ex-members of the legislature, judges of the supreme court of appeals, circuit courts and of other courts of record, representatives of the press duly accredited to the Committee on Rules, and legislative attaches engaged in the proper discharge of their duties, shall be admitted within the Senate chamber while the Senate is in session. No person, not a member of the Senate, shall, while within the chamber when the Senate is in session, seek in any manner whatsoever to influence the vote or opinion of any Senator on any subject of legislative consideration, under penalty of disbarment from the chamber for the remainder of the legislative session. No attaché of the Senate shall, at any time, engage in such activity, under penalty of immediate dismissal of the Committee on Rules.

Duties of the Clerk—Official Journal

5. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk and shall be read the succeeding day. It shall be printed under the supervision of the Clerk and delivered to the members without delay. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for corrections, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith, and from the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto ten copies shall be printed on 6 x 9 heavy weight bond paper, with a certificate at the end thereof signed by the President and Clerk of the Senate certifying that the same is the official Journal of the Senate. They shall be bound in flexible binding and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the Senate of West Virginia," with designation of regular or extra session and the year. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History, and one with the Clerk of the House of Delegates.

6. The Clerk of the Senate shall not suffer any records or papers to be taken from the table, or out of his custody, by any person except a chairman of a committee but he may deliver any bill or paper, directed to be printed, to the printer of the Senate, or to any member of the Senate on taking his receipt for the same.

7. The Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates may interchange messages between the hours of adjournment and that of meeting on the following day, so that said message may be read immediately after the usual order of the day.

Powers of the Senate Over Its Members

8. A majority of the Senators shall be necessary to proceed to business; two members may adjourn, and three members may order a call of the Senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. On a call of the Senate, the doors shall not be closed against any member until his name shall have been twice called.

9. In case of less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply, as well to the first convention of the Senate at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour has arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned.

10. No Senator shall be taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms, on any question of complaint of breach of privilege, until the matter is examined by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and reported to the Senate, unless by order of the President of the Senate.

11. The Senate may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.—(Const., art 6, sec. 25.)

12. The Senate may punish by imprisonment, any person not a member, for disrespectful behavior in its presence; for obstructing any of its officers in the discharge of their duties, or for any assault, threat or abuse of any member for words spoken in debate; but such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 26.)

Privileges of Members

13. Every member, when speaking, shall stand in his own place, and address the President and when he has finished, take his seat.

14. Every member within the Senate chamber, when a question is put, shall vote unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the Senate excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting must be made before the Senate divides or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason why, in his opinion, it ought to be adopted.

15. If a member be called to order, for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate, if any member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exceptions to them have been taken.

Roll Calls

16. No member of the Senate, or other person except the Clerk and his assistants, shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called or counted.

17. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject, without leave of the Senate; nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

18. While the President is reporting or putting a question, none shall entertain private discourse, read, stand up, walk into, out of, or across the Senate Chamber.

19. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Chair, and then the mover shall have the right to explain his views, in preference to any other member.

20. While the President is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter may speak to the question before the negative is put.

21. During any debate, any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may arise and speak to the orders of the Senate, if they be transgressed, in case the President does not; but if the President stands up at any time, he is first to be heard.

Absence Without Leave

22. If any member of the Senate absent himself from the service thereof without leave, except in case of his sickness or other unavoidable cause which may prevent his attendance, the Senate may by order or resolution, direct his absence to be entered on the Journal.

  - X. Miscellaneous business.

Introduction of Bills

33. Each bill shall be prepared in triplicate, signed by the member or members (not to exceed two) by whom it is to be introduced and be filed with the Clerk not later than two o'clock P. M. of the Legislative day next preceding its introduction. The original copy shall be the official bill for the use of the Clerk, committees and for the permanent files; the second for printing or copying; and the third for the use of the press and the public.

Each bill shall be numbered, edited and corrected as to form by the Clerk and reported by him to the Senate on the next Legislative day, under the fifth order of business. In case of urgency, on motion for leave agreed to by a majority of the members present, if a quorum, a member may introduce a bill from the floor.

Bills to Be Read on Three Separate Days

34. All bills originating in the Senate shall be read on three separate days, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays, on each bill, this rule be dispensed with.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

Title of Bills

35. In the title of all bills to amend chapters or sections of the Code, or acts passed since the Code was adopted, the several committees to whom they are referred, or by whom they originated, shall insert the subject matter of the chapter.

36. All engrossed bills shall be fully and distinctly read when put upon their passage.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

Consideration of Bills

37. All bills or business originating in the Senate, shall be considered in the order in which they are introduced and all bills and resolutions received from the House of Delegates shall be introduced in the order in which they are received, unless in either case the Senate otherwise directs

Resolutions to Lie on Table

38. All resolutions, when introduced, shall lie on the table at least one day.

Appropriation Bills

39. Bills making appropriations for the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, and for salaries for officers of the government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 42.)

Reference to Committees

40. All bills passed by and reported from the House of Delegates shall be read by their titles and referred to the appropriate committees unless the Senate otherwise directs. They shall then be proceeded with in the same manner as Senate bills. All bills introduced on leave shall be read by their titles and referred to the appropriate committee without printing, and shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry, and if the committee report a bill different from one introduced such bill shall be received and treated by the Senate as the original bill, and shall be read a first time and printed, unless in any of the aforesaid cases the Senate shall direct otherwise.

41. On each reading of the bill the Clerk shall state whether it is the first, second or third reading of such bill.

42. On the demand of any two members when a bill is being read for amendment, it shall be read section by section, and when the amendments which may be moved shall be disposed of, the question, unless the Senate otherwise order, shall be taken on ordering the bill to be engrossed and read the third time. If a bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments thereto have been made, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform to the amendments. The bill shall then be re-printed, and shall be the engrossed bill. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill. All Senate bills so ordered shall be jacketed, endorsed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the House and returned to the Senate without amendments, or if amended, and the amendments should be agreed to, it shall then be turned over the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a House bill on second reading if the same be amended, the amendment, or amendments shall be noted in full in typewriting on slips of paper, and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the House, and all amendments shall appear in the Senate Journal.

43. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of its passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

Messages

44. Messages may be introduced in any stage of business except when a question is being put by the presiding officer, while the yeas and nays are being called by the Clerk, or while the ballots are being counted.

Passage of Bills and Joint Resolutions

45. When a bill or joint resolution is put upon its passage, the President shall propound the question, "Shall the bill (or joint resolution as the case may be) pass?" On the passage of every bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the Journal. When the bill is on the second reading, and the question is upon striking out, the President shall propound the question: "Shall these words be stricken out?"

Motions

46. When a question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to postpone the question to a different day, to commit, to amend, or to postpone indefinitely, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein arranged.

47. On the first reading of a bill, a motion to reject the bill shall be in order.

Adverse Report by Committee

48. If a committee shall have reported adversely to a bill, the President, immediately after the report of said committee is read shall put the question: "Shall the bill be rejected?", which question shall have precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn.

Reconsideration of Vote

49. The question being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the session be drawn again into debate unless reconsidered, and it shall be in order to reconsider any vote only within two legislative days next after the one upon which such vote was taken. A motion to reconsider shall be in order only when made by a Senator who voted with the prevailing side, and when the vote was not taken by yeas and nays all Senators will be conclusively presumed to have voted with the prevailing side.

50. When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee, and to a standing committee, the question in reference to the standing committee shall be first put.

Division of the Question

51. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question, but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition; nor prevent a subsequent motion to simply strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

52. In filling the blanks, the largest sum and longest time shall be first put.

Previous Question

53. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which being ordered by a majority of the members present, if a quorum, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions, or may be made to embrace and authorize motions and amendments and include the bill to its engrossment and third reading and then, on renewal and second of said motion, to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order pending a motion for or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the President to entertain and submit a motion to commit with or without instructions to a standing or select committee; and a motion to lay upon the table shall be in order on the second and third reading of a bill.

A call of the Senate shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the President that a quorum is not present.

All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Yeas and Nays

54. When the yeas and nays are ordered, or a call of the Senate is directed, the names of the members shall be called in alphabetical order, excepting, however, the name of the President, which shall be called last.

55. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-tenth of the members present, be entered on the Journal and any member may enter any protest on the Journal upon the determination of any question. After the yeas and nays shall have been taken, and before they are counted or entered on the Journal, the Clerk shall read over the names of those who voted in the affirmative and those who voted in the negative, at which time any member shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name.

56. When a bill or joint resolution passed by the Senate shall be amended by the House of Delegates, the question of agreeing to the bill or joint resolution, as amended shall be again voted on by yeas and nays in the Senate, and the result entered upon its Journal. In all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 31.)

57. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.

58. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote shall be viva voce, and be entered upon the Journal.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 44.)

Executive Session

59. When nominations shall be made in writing by the Governor to the Senate, a future day shall be assigned, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise, for taking them into consideration.

60. When acting on the nominations of the Governor, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Clerk, his assistants, the Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper, and all such officers shall be sworn to secrecy.

61. All confidential communications made by the Governor to the Senate and all proceedings thereon, shall be by the members thereof kept secret until the Senate shall, by unanimous affirmative vote of the members present, remove the injunction of secrecy. When an executive session of the Senate has been dissolved, the result of its action upon any executive nomination considered therein shall be forthwith certified to the Governor in a formal communication signed by the President and attested by the Clerk.

62. All information and remarks touching the character or qualification of any person nominated by the Governor to office shall be kept secret. The legislative proceedings and the executive proceedings of the Senate shall be kept and recorded in separate books.

Constitutional Amendment

63. When an amendment to be proposed to the Constitution is under consideration, the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate shall not be requisite to decide any question for amendments, or extending to the merits, being short of the final question.

Adjournment

64. When the Senate adjourns each day, it shall stand adjourned to 2 o'clock P. M., the next day, unless the Senate otherwise direct.

65. When the Senate adjourns each day, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the Chair.

Parliamentary Practice

66. In all cases not provided for by the Rules of the Senate or the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Delegates, the Senate shall be governed by the practice in the House of Representatives of the United States.

Suspension of Rule

67. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate present.

Withdrawal of Bills from Committee

68. Any bill, resolution or business may, by a vote of the majority of the members present, be withdrawn from the committee to which it had been referred or be taken from the table, and placed upon the regular or special calendar of the Senate in such order of business as the Senate may direct.

Nor shall any member of the Legislature be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the State, or any county thereof, authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected. (Const., Art. VI, Sec. 15.)

Oaths

Members of the House of Delegates, before they enter upon their duties, shall take and subscribe to the following oaths or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (of affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of West Virginia, and faithfully discharge the duties of Delegate according to the best of my ability, and that I will not accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing, from any corporation, company, or person, for any vote or influence I may give or withhold, as Delegate, on any bill, resolution or appropriation, or for any act I may do or perform as Delegate." These oaths shall be administered in the hall of the house to which the member is elected, by a Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, or of a Circuit Court, or by any other person authorized by law to administer an oath; and the Secretary of State shall receive and file said oaths subscribed by each member; and no other oath or declaration shall be required as a qualification. Any member who shall refuse to take the oath herein prescribed, shall forfeit his seat; and any member who shall be convicted of having violated the oath last above required to be taken, shall forfeit his seat and be disqualified thereafter from holding any office of profit or trust in this State. (Const., Art. VI, Sec. 16.)

The Speaker of the House of Delegates and the President of the Senate shall each receive an additional compensation of two dollars per day for each day they shall act as presiding officers. No other allowance or emolument than that by this section provided shall directly or indirectly be made or paid to the members of either house for postage, stationery, newspapers, or any other purpose whatsoever.—(Const., Art. VI, Sec. 33.)

Members' salaries are paid on the third Wednesday in January of each year.

Resignation and Filling of Vacancies

Resignations of members of the House should be made to the Speaker, Governor and chairman of the executive committee of the party of which the member belongs in the county from which he was elected.

Vacancies in the House are filled by an appointment by the Governor, in each instance from a list of three qualified persons submitted by the county party executive committee. (Ch. 3, Art. 10, Sec. 6 of the Code.)

Organization of the House

The Legislature shall assemble at the seat of government on the second Wednesday of January in each odd-numbered year. While neither the constitution or statute sets the hour for convening, the custom has been for each house to convene at twelve o'clock noon. The constitution says, "The oldest Delegate present shall call the House to Order at the beginning of each new House of Delegates, and preside over it until the Speaker thereof shall have been chosen and taken his seat." (Const., Art. VI, Sec. 35.) Custom has made it the duty of the Clerk of the previous House to call the House to order and call the oldest Delegate present to the chair.

The session is then opened with prayer, following which the Clerk reads a list of the members as certified by the Secretary of State, and all notices of contested elections. The roll is then called to ascertain those present. The next step in the organization is the administering of the oath of office to the members.

With the conclusion of the above formalities the House is ready to proceed to the election of a Speaker. After this election, the election of other officers, i. e., Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper shall be the next order of business. The election of all officers shall be by viva voce vote.

It is then in order to provide by resolution for the adoption of rules to govern the procedure of the House and for informing the Senate that the House is organized. Upon being likewise informed of the organization of the Senate both houses, by resolution, shall raise a joint committee to visit upon the Governor to inform him that they are organized and that they are in readiness to hear his biennial message.

However, at the session of the Legislature following each general election at which a governor, and other state officials are elected, immediately following the organization of the two houses, they shall meet in joint assembly in the hall of the House of Delegates, when the Speaker, before proceeding to any other business, shall open and publish the election returns in the presence of a majority of each house of the Legislature.—(Const., Art. VII, Sec. 3.)

The message of the Governor is usually delivered in person by the Governor before both houses of the Legislature, assembled in joint assembly. When the Governor desires to deliver his message to the joint assembly, it shall be proper to provide by resolution for the convening of a joint session of the two houses.

ELECTION AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS

Officers and Their Compensation

1. The House, at the commencement of each Legislature, shall elect a Speaker, Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Doorkeeper. All officers, except the Speaker, shall receive such compensation as the House may determine.

2. In the election of officers by the House, the vote shall be given viva voce, and a majority of the whole number of votes given, a quorum being present, shall be necessary to elect. If, upon any vote, there is no election, the person having the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and any votes thereafter given to such person shall not be taken into the counting to affect the result in any way. When two or more members arise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

Questions of Order

6. The Speaker shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the House when demanded by any ten members. He may speak to questions of order in preference to other members, and may make the concluding speech on any appeal from his decision, notwithstanding, he may have before spoken on the question; but no other members shall speak more than once on such appeal without leave of the House.

He shall appoint an official Chaplain whose duty it shall be to present at the convening of each day's session for the purpose of opening the session with prayer.

A motion to excuse a member from voting must be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason therefor.

Members Shall Be in Place When Voting

26. While the yeas and nays are being taken every member shall be in his seat, and during the session of the House no person other than a member shall occupy the chair of a member.

In case a number less than a quorum of the House shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for nonattendance shall be made as the House, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the House. ## ORDER AND DECORUM IN DEBATE

Recognition and Decorum

32. When a member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise in his place and respectfully address the presiding officer as "MR. SPEAKER," and, upon being recognized, shall proceed, confining himself to the question under debate, avoiding all personalities and indecorous or disrespectful language.

When a member arises and addresses the Chair, the Speaker may recognize him by name; but no member in debate shall designate another by name.

Recognition by the Chair

33. When two or more members shall rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the one who is to speak first, and his decision shall be final and not open to debate or appeal. However, in all other cases the member who shall rise first and address the Chair shall be first recognized.

Mover of Question to Have Preference in Debate

34. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Speaker, and then the mover of the question shall have the right to open and close the debate thereon.

Member Out of Order

35. When any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, but may be permitted, with leave of the House, to explain; and the House shall, if appealed to, decide the case, but without debate. If there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be submitted to; if the decision be in favor of the member so called to order, he is at liberty to proceed; if the decision be against him, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House, or such other punishment as the House may properly impose.

Calling to Order for Words Spoken in Debate

36. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down at the Clerk's table. And no member shall be held to answer, or be subjected to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken or other business has intervened after the words were spoken and before the exception to them was taken.

Decorum During Debate

37. While the Speaker is putting the question, ascertaining the result, or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of or across the House; and when a member is speaking, no one shall engage in conversation or pass between him and the Speaker.

Limitation on Debate

38. No member shall speak except in his place, and not more than twice on a question, except by leave of the House. And if a question be pending at the time of an adjournment and is renewed on the succeeding day, no member who shall have spoken twice on the preceding day shall be permitted again to speak without leave of the House. The House by majority vote may limit debate on any question.

Members Not to Be Disturbed While Speaking

39. No one shall disturb or interrupt a member who is speaking, without his permission, except to call to order if he be transgressing the rules.

Speaking Before Negative Is Put

40. When the Speaker is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter may speak to the question before the negative is put.

PUTTING QUESTIONS AND VOTING

Putting Question; Division

41. All questions shall be put distinctly in this form, to-wit: "As many as are in favor [as the question may be] say 'Aye,'" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are opposed say 'No.'" If the Speaker be in doubt as to the result, or if a division is called for by any member, the House shall divide. Those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and be counted, and afterward those in the negative. The count may be made by the Speaker, or, if he so directs, by the Clerk, or two members, one from each side, to be named for that purpose by the Speaker. When the result is ascertained the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House. Such vote shall not be printed in the Journal unless the yeas and nays are called for by not less than nine members of the House prior to the announcement of the decision by the Speaker.

Yeas and Nays

42. On the passage of every bill and joint resolution, and when the yeas and nays on any question are called for by one-tenth of those present, the Speaker shall direct a yea and nay vote to be taken, and every member present shall vote, unless excused. On all roll-calls, when the voting machine is not used, before the result is announced, the Clerk shall read to the House the names of those who voted in the affirmative or in the negative, whichever is the smaller number, and announce the names of those absent and not voting, at which time any member may correct a mistake committed in taking down his vote. The result shall then be announced, and the yeas and nays entered on the Journal, but if the House so orders, the announcement of the result and the entry of the yeas and nays upon the Journal may be postponed to the succeeding day, with liberty to absent members at any time before the result is announced by the Speaker, to appear and vote "Aye" or "No," in the presence of the House; and any member may, in the presence of the House, change his vote before the result is announced. The Journal shall also show those absent and not voting.

When the yeas and nays are called for by a member on any question, the Speaker shall hold this demand in abeyance until debate has closed upon the question under consideration, or until the previous question has been moved and sustained, and if sustained by one-tenth of the members present, the yeas and nays shall be taken.

Upon calls of the House, in taking the yeas and nays, the names of the members shall be called alphabetically, except the name of the Speaker shall be called last.

Pairs

43. Members may pair on any question by filing a signed statement of the same with the Clerk, who shall read the same to the House before the vote is taken. A blank form of pair for use of members shall be provided by the Clerk. No pair shall be recognized unless made in person by the member signing the same, nor unless one or both of the parties thereto are absent.

Division of Question

44. Any member may call for a division of any question before the vote thereon is taken, if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition will remain for the decision of the House, but the member calling for the division of a question shall state in what manner he proposes it shall be divided. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor motion to strike out and insert.

Calling of Yeas and Nays

45. No member or any person shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called.

Tie Vote Loses Question

46. In all cases when the House is equally divided, the question shall be lost.

Verification of Vote

47. When a question upon which the yeas and nays have been taken has prevailed or failed by not more than five votes, the Speaker may, upon request of five members, order a verification of the vote. During such verification, no member shall change his vote unless it was erroneously recorded, nor may any member not having voted cast a vote. A verification must be called for immediately after a vote is announced and before any other business has intervened.

Explanation of Vote

48. No member shall be allowed to make any explanation of his vote during the taking of the yeas and nays; but after the roll has been called and the vote announced, any member may explain his vote and the explanation shall be recorded in the Journal if he requests it. The Speaker may limit the time allowed members for explaining votes.

When Members Not to Vote

49. Any member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House shall disclose the fact and not vote thereon.

Voting by Machine

49-a. A voting machine may be used in taking the yeas and nays on any question, for quorum calls and for determining the result when a division is demanded. When a vote is to be taken on the voting machine the Speaker shall announce the question to be voted upon and direct the Clerk to prepare the machine. The Clerk shall then sound the gong which shall be notice to all members to vote. After reasonable time has been given all members to vote the Speaker shall ask the question, "Have all members voted?" vote himself, if the vote being taken is upon a question on which he is required to vote, and then direct the Clerk to close the machine and ascertain the result. As soon as this is done, the Clerk shall hand the record of the vote to the Speaker and he shall promptly announce the result. No vote may be changed after it has been recorded.

No member shall vote for another member, nor shall any person not a member cast a vote for a member. In addition to such penalties as may be prescribed by law, any member who shall vote or attempt to vote for another member may be expelled as a member of the House or punished in such other manner as the House may determine. If a person not a member shall vote or attempt to vote for any member, he shall be barred from the floor of the House for the remainder of the session and may be further punished in such manner as the House may deem proper, in addition to such punishment as may be prescribed by law.

All other rules governing voting and the taking of the yeas and nays, insofar as applicable, shall apply to taking votes by means of the voting machine.

MOTIONS

Stating the Question

50. When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker; or, being in writing, it shall be passed to the desk and read aloud by the Clerk before debate.

Form of Motion

51. Every motion, except subsidiary or incidental motions, shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desires it; but this exception shall not apply to motions to amend.

Withdrawal of Motions

52. After a motion is stated by the Speaker or read by the Clerk, it is deemed to be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment, unless the previous question has been ordered, in which case it can only be withdrawn by leave of the House.

Order and Precedence of Motions

53. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received except:
1. To adjourn.
  2. To lay on the table.
  3. For the previous question.
  4. To postpone to a day certain.
  5. To go into a Committee of the Whole on the pending question immediately.
  6. To commit to a Committee of the Whole.
  7. To commit to a Standing Committee.
  8. To commit to a Select Committee.
  9. To amend.
  10. To postpone indefinitely.

These several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of another motion to amend; and if carried, the bill is rejected.

Motion to Adjourn

54. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the House is voting, or while a member is addressing the House, or when no business has been transacted since the motion to adjourn has been defeated.

Motions Not Debatable

55. The following motions shall be decided without debate, and shall not be amended:

1. To adjourn.
2. To fix the time to which the House shall adjourn.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
5. To suspend the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days.
6. To recess.

Motions Not in Order

56. No motion directing the appropriation or payment of money shall be in order.

Effect of Indefinite Postponement

57. When a question is postponed indefinitely it shall not be again acted on during the session.

Motion to Reconsider

58. A motion to reconsider any question may be made by any member who voted with the majority, or in case of a tie vote, by any member. This motion shall be made on the same or next succeeding legislative day of the House. Such a motion, if seconded, shall take precedence of all other questions, except the consideration of a conference report or a motion to adjourn, and unless by motion postponed until some future time shall be acted upon at once. A motion to reconsider shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House, and if the House decides to reconsider, any member may thereafter call the subject up for consideration. A motion to reconsider a question, having been put and lost, shall not be renewed.

Debate on Motions to Reconsider

59. Debate shall be allowed on a motion to reconsider only when the question which it is proposed to reconsider is debatable. Where debate upon a motion to reconsider is in order, no member shall speak more than once nor for a longer period than three minutes.

Reconsideration of Question Requiring More Than Majority Vote

60. When a majority of members present vote in the affirmative on any question, but the question be lost because it is one in which the concurrence of a greater number than a majority of a quorum is necessary to an affirmative decision, any member may move for a reconsideration.

Effect of Motion to Table

61. A motion to lay on the table shall only have the effect of disposing of the matter temporarily, and may be taken from the table at any time after the eighth order of business has been passed.

Motion Must Be Germane

62. No motion on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Previous Question

63. When any question is before the House, any member being in order and having the floor may move the previous question, but such motion to be put must be sustained by being seconded by ten members. The question being moved, the Speaker shall say, "Is the motion sustained?" and those favoring the motion shall rise. If a sufficient number arise, the previous question shall be thereby seconded, and the question shall then be put in this form, "Shall the main question be now put?" If this question be decided in the affirmative by a majority of the members voting, a quorum being present, it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions upon which it has been asked and ordered, except when the motion applies to the main question, the member in charge of the measure under consideration, shall have five minutes to close the discussion before the vote is taken; and when the motion applies to an amendment the person proposing the amendment shall have three minutes to close the discussion on the amendment. Should the previous question be decided in the negative, the House shall proceed with the matter before it as though the previous question had not been moved.

When a member moves the previous question he shall specifically state in his motion whether it shall apply to the main question and the amendments or to the amendment or amendments only.

The previous question shall not be admitted in the Committee of the Whole.

(Const., Art. 14, Sec. 2.) When a proposed amendment to the Constitution is under consideration, the vote of a majority of the members present shall be sufficient to decide an amendment thereto or any collateral or incidental questions thereto short of the final question.

[NOTE: Joint resolutions are used only for amendments to the State Constitution and to ratify amendments to the Federal Constitution. Such resolutions do not have to be submitted to the Governor for his approval.]

(2) Concurrent Resolutions: Concurrent resolutions shall be used for the purpose of expressing the sentiments of the Legislature, for authorizing expenditures incidental to the sessions and business of the Legislature, for agreeing upon adjournments beyond the constitutional limitation, for creating special joint committee, for raising a joint assembly and other inferior and incidental purposes of legislation, and such other purposes as the Legislature may deem proper. The adoption of such resolutions must be concurred in by both houses.

(3) House Resolutions: These simple resolutions shall be used for expressing the will or order of the House on matters in which the concurrence of the Senate is not necessary. A House resolution shall be proper to express the sentiments of the body, to authorize expenditures from its contingent fund, for agreeing upon any question, and for all incidental purposes pertaining to the organization and work of the House.

109. All resolutions to be introduced in the House shall be filed with the Clerk not later than two hours prior to the convening of the session at which they are to be introduced. They shall be presented in triplicate and copies shall be for the same purpose as that of bills. This rule does not deny a member the right to introduce a resolution from the floor in case of urgency. The different classes of resolutions shall be numbered by the Clerk and entered in full in the Journal.

Action on Resolutions

110. All joint resolutions shall be referred to the appropriate committee, and when any other resolution is presented, containing no reference of the subject thereto to a committee, it shall lie over for one day, to come up under the ninth order of business unless a majority of the House orders otherwise.

PETITIONS

111. All petitions, remonstrances, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be filed by the member with the Clerk prior to the convening of the House. When in the regular order of business the time is reached for presenting petitions or any such papers, the Clerk shall read a list of those on file, giving the member's name presenting same and a brief resume of the contents thereof, and the same shall be referred to the committee of the member's selection unless otherwise ordered by the House. Each member, upon filing any such petition, remonstrance or other paper, shall endorse thereon his name, and if not so endorsed it shall not be received. The Journal shall show the name of the member presenting such papers, a brief resume of the contents thereof, and the disposition made of same.

AMENDMENTS

Forms For

112. The Clerk shall furnish to members sheets with a proper heading printed in blank upon which amendments shall be written, and all amendments offered shall be on such blanks and bear the name of the member offering the same.

Must Be Germane

113. No amendment shall be in order that is not germane to the matter under consideration; and the Speaker, when the question is raised, shall rule as to the admissibility of the proposed amendment.

Time for Offering

114. Amendments may be offered to any bill or joint resolution and acted upon on their second reading and before they are ordered to their engrossment and third reading. No bill shall be amended on third reading, except by unanimous consent of the members present. Amendments to resolutions other than joint resolutions shall be in order at any time the same are being considered. Committee amendments shall be subject to amendment and shall be disposed of before any other amendments are in order.

Reading and Stating

115. Amendments shall be read by the Clerk and stated by the Speaker before being acted upon.

By Striking Out Enacting Clause

116. A motion to amend by striking out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence over another motion to amend, and, if carried, the bill or resolution is rejected.

Amendment to an Amendment

117. A motion to amend a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of no other motion to amend will be in order. But pending such amendment, a motion to amend in the nature of a substitute, and a motion to amend that substitute, may be received, but shall not be voted upon until the original matter is perfected.

Amendment to Have Precedence Over Substitute

118. If a substitute for a bill or resolution be offered, a motion to amend the original bill or resolution shall have precedence.

Motion to Amend to Have Precedence Over One to Strike Out

119. If a motion be made to strike out part of a bill or resolution, a motion to amend the part proposed to be stricken out shall have precedence.

Filling Blanks

120. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time proposed shall be first put, and the question shall be put on names in the order they were nominated.

No Amendment by Way of Rider

121. No amendment by way of rider shall be received to any bill after engrossment.

Agreeing to Senate Amendments

122. When a House bill or House joint resolution shall be amended by the Senate, the question on agreeing to the bill or resolution as amended shall be again voted on by yeas and nays, and the result entered on the Journal, and in such a case the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the House shall be necessary. (Const., Art 7, Sec. 31.)

Amendment by Section

123. If a bill is being considered section by section, only amendments to the section under consideration shall be in order. After all sections have been considered separately, the whole bill shall be open for amendment except that an amendment seeking to strike out matter previously inserted and containing substantially no new proposition shall not be in order.

Amending Titles

124. After the passage of a bill or joint resolution, amendments to its title may be offered when the title is read for approval.

Amendments to Senate Bills

125. Any Senate bill or resolution may be amended in the same manner as a House bill or resolution. If a Senate bill or resolution is amended the same shall be noted by the Clerk on the jacket containing the same before it is reported to the Senate.

After the reading of a Senate amendment to a House bill or resolution the question shall be, "Will the House concur in the Senate Amendment?" But it shall be in order to move that the House concur in the Senate amendment with an amendment; or that the House refuse to concur and ask the Senate to recede.

If the Senate shall refuse to concur in a House amendment to a Senate bill or resolution, the following motions shall be in order and shall be privileged in the order named: First, That the House recede; Second, That the House insist and ask for a committee of conference; Third, That the House adhere.

Amendments to Be Printed in Journal

126. All amendments proposed, unless withdrawn, shall be printed in the Journal.

Speaking on Amendments

127. On an amendment being moved, a member who has spoken to the main question may speak again to the amendment.

JOURNAL

Clerk to Keep

128. The Clerk of the House, under the direction of the Speaker, shall keep a full and correct Journal of the proceedings.

Approval and Correction

129. When the Journal has been read to the end that any mistake made in the entry may be corrected, if no objection is made, it shall stand approved; but if objection be made, the first question of the House shall be to dispose of the same, and when such objections are disposed of and the Journal corrected, as the House may order, it shall stand as approved.

Printing Official Copies

130. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for correction, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith. From the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal, which shall be properly indexed. In addition thereto six copies shall be printed on 6 x 9 heavy weight bond paper, with a certificate at the end thereof, certifying that the same is the official Journal of the House and the same shall be signed by the Speaker and Clerk. Such printed Journal shall be the official record of the House. They shall be bound in flexible binding, and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the House of Delegates of West Virginia," with designation of regular or special session, as the case may be, and the year. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, and one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History, and one with the Clerk of the Senate.

Journal to Be Printed Daily

131. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to furnish a copy of each day's proceedings of the Journal to the printer, to be printed and distributed without delay.

Inserting Motions in Journal

132. Every written motion made to the House shall be inserted in the Journal with the name of the member making it, unless it be withdrawn on the same day it is submitted.

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES

Rescinding or Amending Rules

133. All propositions to amend or rescind any standing rule or order of the House shall be by resolution and be at once referred, without debate, to the Committee on Rules, and shall be reported therefrom within two days. Any such resolution may be adopted by a majority vote, a quorum being present.

[NOTE: The power to make its rules of procedure is given the House under Sec. 24, Art. 6 of the Constitution.]

Suspension of Rules

134. These rules shall not be suspended, except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present. Unless there be a unanimous consent for the suspension of rules, the vote shall be determined by yeas and nays.

[NOTE: The motion to suspend the rules is usually preceded by a member requesting unanimous consent of the House to do a particular thing. If no one objects the House is deemed to assent, and what is desired is allowed accordingly. If objection is made, then the member may move that the rules be suspended for the specific purpose or object he has in view. A motion to lay on the table may not be applied to a motion to suspend the rules. (Hind's Precedents, Sec. 5405.)]

Manual and Rules

135. On any question of order or parliamentary practice where the rules of the House or the joint rules of the House and Senate are silent or inexplicit, Jefferson's Manual and the Digest of the Rules and Practices of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress shall be considered as authority.

[NOTE: Jefferson's Manual was prepared by Thomas Jefferson for his own guidance as President of the United States Senate in the years he was Vice President, from 1797 to 1801. The House of Representatives, in 1837, by rule which still exists, provided that the provisions of the Manual should "govern the House in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House." The Manual is regarded by English parliamentarians as the best statement of what the law of Parliament was at the time Jefferson wrote it. (House Manual and Digest), 70th Congress, 1st Sess., Sec. 278.]

(f) The gallery of press tables allotted to newspaper correspondents shall be for their exclusive use, and persons not holding correspondents' cards shall not be entitled to admission thereto.

Lounging Prohibited in the Hall of the House

139. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to prevent all persons not connected with the Legislature from assembling in the halls at any time when the House is not in session for the purpose of lounging or loafing. For the purpose of enforcing this rule, the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistants shall be in attendance at all times, and the persistent neglect or disregard of this rule shall be cause for dismissal by the Speaker, or removal.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Joint Assembly

1. Whenever there shall be a joint assembly of the two houses, a brief account of the proceedings shall be entered upon the Journal of each house, except in the joint assembly for counting votes for state officers.

[NOTE: It is the custom to hold joint assemblies in the House Chamber and they are presided over by the Speaker. In such sessions the Clerk of the House acts as Clerk, assisted by the Clerk of the Senate. The President of the Senate is given a seat to the right of the Speaker and seats are arranged for the members of the Senate.]

Joint Assembly to Open and Publish Election Returns

2. As soon as the Senate, being organized, is informed that the House of Delegates is ready to proceed, as provided by section three of article seven of the Constitution, to open and publish the returns of the elections for state officers, the Senate, preceded by its President and other officers, shall repair in a body to the hall of the House of Delegates. Upon their arrival the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Delegates shall announce the presence of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall then address the Speaker of the House, stating that a majority of the Senate have assembled in the hall of the House of Delegates to be present at the opening and publishing of the returns of the elections for state officers, held on the _____ day of _____. The Speaker of the House of Delegates shall invite the President of the Senate to a seat upon his right, and the other members of the Senate and officers thereof to take seats assigned to them, and after announcing that a majority of the House of Delegates is present, shall then open and publish the returns of said election, proceeding by counties in alphabetical order, the Clerks of the two houses each taking down the returns as announced by the Speaker, to be entered upon the Journal of the House; and when completed and estimated the Speaker shall announce the votes received by each person voted for, for each of said offices, and those receiving the largest number of votes shall be by him declared duly elected; and the Senate shall then return to its hall, and if any two or more candidates for any of said offices have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the two houses shall immediately proceed to choose one of such persons for said office by a joint vote, as provided by Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution.

Disagreement and Conference

3. Whenever a measure of one house is amended in the other and the house in which it originated shall refuse to concur in the amendment, the house amending the measure may either insist or recede therefrom. But when a measure originating in one house is amended in the other, the house in which it originated may amend such amendment and a motion therefor shall take precedence of a motion to concur. If said house refuses to concur, the other house may either recede from or insist upon its amendment, and a motion to recede shall take precedence of a motion to insist. The motion to lay on the table or to postpone indefinitely shall not be in order in respect to the motion to recede from or to insist.

A motion to recede having failed shall be equivalent to the adoption of a motion to insist and shall be so entered upon the Journal. A motion to insist being decided in the negative, shall be equivalent to the adoption of a motion to recede and shall be so entered upon the Journal. If the motion to insist prevails, the house so insisting shall request a committee of conference on the subject of disagreement, and shall appoint a committee therefor. The other house may thereupon appoint such committee. Unless a different number is agreed upon, such conference committee shall consist of five members from each house.

Such committee shall consider and report upon only the subject matter of the amendment or amendments which were in disagreement, with necessary consequential changes. The committee shall meet at a convenient time, to be agreed upon by their chairmen, and having conferred freely, shall report to their respective houses the result of the conference. In case of agreement, the report shall be first made, with the papers referred accompanying it, to the house which refused to concur, and there acted upon; and such action, with the papers referred, shall be immediately reported by the clerk to the other house. In case of disagreement, the papers shall remain with the house in which the measure originated. If an agreement is reached, the report shall be made and signed in duplicate by at least a majority of the conferees from each house, one of the duplicates being retained by the conferees of each house.

Messages Between the Houses

4. When a message is sent by one house to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the house to which it is sent, by the Doorkeeper thereof, if it be in session, and then be respectfully communicated to the presiding officer by the person by whom it may be sent, but no message shall be received during a call of the roll. But the Clerk of one house may communicate a message to the Clerk of the other after adjournment, and any message so sent shall be received by the house to which it is sent whenever it may be in session.

Introduction of Bills

5. No bill, other than an appropriation bill, shall be introduced in either house after the fiftieth day of the session unless permission to introduce the bill be given by a concurrent resolution, setting out the title of the bill, and adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each house present and voting.

One House to Notify Other of Rejection of Bill

6. When a bill or resolution passed in one house is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be sent to the house in which the same shall have been passed.

Record of Bills

7. The Clerks of the two houses shall keep separate records or registers, in which shall be recorded every action taken by the Senate and House on each bill and resolution.

Clerks to Endorse Bills

8. The Clerks of the two houses shall endorse on each bill a statement of any action taken by their respective bodies.

Notice to Be in Writing

9. Notice to either house of the action of the other shall be in writing, signed by the Clerk of the house giving such notice.

Each House to Have Control of Own Printing

10. Each house may order the printing of bills, resolutions, reports, and other documents without the consent of the other.

Joint Committees

11. Joint standing committees of the Senate and House shall be appointed as follows:

(1) Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills—To consist of five members from each house.

(2) Committee on Joint Rules—To consist of the presiding officers and two members of each house, to be appointed by the presiding officers.

(3) Joint Committee on Government and Finance.—The Joint Committee on Government and Finance shall consist of five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Delegates, of which not more than three of each House shall be members of the same political party, four of the members of the Senate committee shall be appointed by the President of the Senate and four of the members of the House committee shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House shall be ex officio members of the committee and co-chairmen thereof. The committee shall begin its work as soon as practicable after the adjournment sine die of the regular session of the Legislature.

It shall be the duty of the committee to study and survey generally matters of government and finance and to make a report on its studies and findings, its expenditures and such recommendations as it may deem proper, to succeeding extraordinary and regular sessions of the Legislature; and such committee is hereby vested with power and authority to employ technical and clerical assistants, compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses, the production of books, records, documents and other papers, and shall be vested with and authorized to exercise all power and authority granted such committees by the statutes and Constitution of the State of West Virginia. The offices of the committee shall be maintained at the capitol building in Charleston, West Virginia.

The expenses of the committee shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate and contingent fund of the House of Delegates in equal amounts. The members of the committee shall receive no remuneration for their services other than actual expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties hereunder as approved by the committee.

(4) Such other joint committees as may be provided for by concurrent resolution. A bill or resolution referred to a joint committee may be recalled from such committee by the House in which it originated.

Engrossed Bills to Be Filed With Clerk of House

12. All engrossed bills passed by, and joint and concurrent resolutions adopted by both houses shall be filed with the Clerk of the House to be kept with the rolls of the Legislature and to be used by him in printing and publishing the acts of the Legislature.

Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills

13. The Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills shall consist of five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Delegates, to be appointed by the presiding officer of each house, whose duty it shall be to compare carefully all bills and joint resolutions passed by both houses, with the enrollment thereof, and to correct any errors or omissions they may discover and to make reports to their respective houses from time to time, of the correctly enrolled bills or joint resolutions. It shall be in order for the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills to report at any time.

Printing Enrolled Bills

14. After a bill has been passed by both houses, the type from which it was originally printed shall be corrected as to any typographical errors that may not previously have been corrected and to include any amendments that may have been made by either house since the last printing of the bill. After the type has been so corrected, two hundred copies of the bill shall be printed (except charter bills, of which only twenty-five of each shall be printed). Twelve of these copies shall be on seven and one-fourth by ten bond paper, twenty-pound basis of at least fifty per cent rag content for the use of the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, one of which copies, when properly authenticated, shall become the Enrolled Bill, and the remainder shall be on twenty-pound basis, sulphite bond paper. From these copies all judges shall be furnished enrolled bills as provided for in section fourteen, article one, chapter four of the code.

Authentication of Enrolled Bills

15. Enrolled Bills shall be authenticated by the signature of the chairman of the House Committee and the chairman of the Senate Committee, composing such Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, but in the absence of such chairman another member of the committee may act in his stead, and they shall require all bills and joint resolutions before such authentication to be free from interlineations or erasures and destroy any previous enrollments containing any interlineations or erasures. A certificate, showing in which house the bill originated and when it takes effect, signed by the clerks of the two houses, shall be endorsed on the bill. After enrolled bills and joint resolutions are authenticated as aforesaid, they shall be signed by the Speaker of the House and by the President of the Senate.

Presenting Bills to Governor

16. After a bill shall have thus been signed in each house, it shall be presented by the said committee to the Governor, for his approval. The said committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor, which time shall be entered on the Journal of each house.

Record of Enrolled Bills

17. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Enrolled Bills to keep a record book of all bills presented to the Governor for his approval. The title and number of each bill presented to the Governor shall be entered in this book, and when a bill is presented to him, the date presented and the signature of the Governor, showing receipt of same, shall be entered at the side of each title.

Action of Governor on Bills

18. Every bill disapproved by the Governor shall be returned by him to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, unless the Legislature shall, by its adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after said adjournment.

Every bill approved by the Governor shall, within five days after it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and the fact of said approval communicated by the Governor to the house in which said bill originated.

Every bill which shall be neither approved nor disapproved by the Governor shall immediately, after the expiration of five days from the time it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith engross thereon a certificate to the following effect: "I certify that the foregoing act, having been presented to the Governor for his approval, and not having been returned by him to the house of the Legislature in which it originated within the time prescribed by the Constitution of the State, has become a law without his approval," and shall date and sign the same. The Governor shall notify the house in which the bill originated of each bill becoming a law without his approval.

Upon each bill returned to either house of the Legislature with the objections of the Governor, the Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates shall engross the action, if any, of their respective houses on the reconsideration and passage of said bill, and sign the same.

Joint Meetings of Committees

19. Whenever any bill has been referred by the Senate to one of its standing committees, and the same or like bill has been referred by the House to one of its committees, the chairmen of the respective committees, when in their judgment the interest of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served thereby, may arrange for a joint meeting of their committees for the consideration of such a bill. All joint committee meetings shall be presided over by the chairman of the Senate committee.

What Shall Be Printed in the Journal

20. The following shall always be printed in the Journal of each house:

- (a) Messages from the Governor and messages from the other house, the titles of all bills and the title and text of all resolutions.
- (b) Every vote taken by yeas and nays in each house, and a brief statement of the contents of each petition, memorial, or paper presented to each house.
- (c) A true and accurate account of the proceedings of each house.

Manner of Printing the Journal and Bills

21. In printing the daily Journal of the proceedings of each house there shall be printed at the top of each page, except the first, the date of the Journal and on the last page of each day's Journal shall be printed the calendar for the next day.

At the top of the first page of each bill, preceding the title and number thereof, there shall be printed the name of the person by whom, or the committee by which, it was introduced and the date of introduction; and at the top of each page, except the first, shall be printed the number of the bill.

Use of Legislative Halls and Offices

22. Permission to use, other than for statutory purposes, either Legislative chamber or offices used by the two houses, may be granted by the President of the Senate or Speaker of the House as the case may be. During Legislative sessions, the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate shall have power to regulate the use of the halls and stairways of the parts of the capitol building used by their respective houses, for any purpose whatsoever.

Resolutions

23. Resolutions requiring concurrent action may originate in either house, and shall be of two kinds, namely:

Joint Resolutions: These resolutions shall be used for proposing amendments to the State Constitution and for ratifying amendments to the Federal Constitution. Joint resolutions shall be adopted as provided in section two, article fourteen of the Constitution.

Concurrent Resolutions: Such resolutions shall be used for all purposes not covered by joint resolution as defined above.

Suspension of Joint Rules

24. No Joint Rule shall be suspended, except by a two-thirds vote of each house, and unless there be unanimous consent, such vote shall be taken by yeas and nays.

CONSTITUTIONAL

Declaration of Independence

Constitution of West Virginia

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

MADE BY THE ORIGINAL THIRTEEN STATES IN CONGRESS
AT PHILADELPHIA

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among them, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation.

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our government:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every state of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injuries. A prince, whose character, is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and holds them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in general Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name, and by authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States: that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

*The Constitution, originally consisting of a preamble and seven articles, was adopted September 17, 1787, at a convention in Philadelphia which had assembled on May twelfth of that year. On September 28, 1787, Congress directed that the Constitution be transmitted to the legislatures of the various States to be submitted for ratification or rejection to a convention of delegates chosen in each State.

Under the language of the Constitution, ratification by nine States was necessary. On March 4, 1789, the date which had been fixed for commencing the operations of government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by eleven of the thirteen original states, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 19, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 25, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788.

North Carolina ratified the Constitution on November 21, 1789, and Rhode Island on May 29, 1789. Vermont ratified the Constitution January 10, 1791, and was, by act of Congress approved February 18, 1791, admitted into the Union.

ARTICLE V

Division of Powers

1. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments shall be separate and distinct, so that neither shall exercise the powers properly belonging to either of the others; nor shall any person exercise the powers of more than one of them at the same time, except that justices of the peace shall be eligible to the Legislature.

ARTICLE VI

Legislature

1. The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and House of Delegates. The style of their Acts shall be, "Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia."

Composition of Senate and House of Delegates

2. The Senate shall be composed of twenty-four, and the House of Delegates of sixty-five members subject to be increased according to the provisions hereinafter contained.

[The Senate is now composed of thirty-two, and the House of Delegates of ninety-four members.]

Senators and Delegates—Terms of Office

3. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years, and Delegates for the term of two years. The Senators first elected shall divide themselves into two classes, one Senator from every district being assigned to each class; and of these classes, the first to be designated by lot in such manner as the Senate may determine, shall hold their seats for two years, and the second for four years, so that after the first election, one-half of the Senators shall be elected biennially.

Division of State Into Senatorial Districts

4. For the election of Senators, the State shall be divided into twelve Senatorial districts which number shall not be diminished, but may be increased as hereinafter provided. Every district shall elect two Senators, but where the district is composed of more than one county, both shall not be chosen from the same county. The districts shall be compact formed of contiguous territory, bounded by county lines, and, as nearly as practicable, equal in population, to be ascertained by the census of the United States. After every such census, the Legislature shall alter the Senatorial Districts, so far as may be necessary to make them conform to the foregoing provision.

[There are now sixteen senatorial districts, as provided by Acts of 1937, Ch. 128.]

Senatorial Districts Designated

5. Until the Senatorial Districts shall be altered by the Legislature as herein prescribed, the counties of Hancock, Brooke and Ohio, shall constitute the first Senatorial District; Marshall, Wetzel and Marion, the second; Ritchie, Doddridge, Harrison, Gilmer and Calhoun, the third; Tyler, Pleasants, Wood and Wirt, the fourth; Jackson, Mason, Putnam and Roane, the fifth; Kanawha, Clay, Nicholas, Braxton and Webster, the sixth; Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln, Boone, Logan, Wyoming, McDowell and Mercer, the seventh; Monroe, Greenbrier, Summers, Pocahontas, Fayette and Raleigh, the eighth; Lewis, Randolph, Upshur, Barbour, Taylor and Tucker, the ninth; Preston and Monongalia, the tenth; Hampshire, Mineral, Hardy, Grant and Pendleton, the eleventh; Berkeley, Morgan and Jefferson, the twelfth.

[By the provisions of the reapportionment act of 1937 (Acts 1937, Ch. 128) the number of senatorial districts was increased to sixteen, the number of senators to thirty-two, and the counties rearranged in the various districts.]

Provisions for Delegate Representation

6. For the election of Delegates, every county containing a population of less than three-fifths of the ratio of representation for the House of Delegates, shall at each apportionment, be attached to some contiguous county or counties, to form a Delegate District.

[By the provisions of the Acts of 1901, Ch. 10, the House of Delegates consisted of eighty-six members, each county having at least one member. Since the general election of 1916, the House of Delegates has consisted of ninety-four members, each county having at least one member. See Ch. 30, p. 270, Acts 1915, Regular Session.]

Delegate Apportionment After Census

7. After every census the Delegates shall be apportioned as follows: The ratio of representation for the House of Delegates shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of the State by the number of which the House is to consist and rejecting the fraction of a unit, if any, resulting from such division. Dividing the population of every Delegate District, and of every county not included in a Delegate District, by the ratio thus ascertained, there shall be assigned to each a number of Delegates equal to the quotient obtained by this division, excluding the fractional remainder. The additional Delegates necessary to make up the number of which the House is to consist, shall then be assigned to those Delegate Districts, and counties not included in a Delegate District, which would otherwise have the largest fractions unrepresented; but every Delegate District and county not included in a Delegate District shall be entitled to at least one Delegate.

Designation of Delegate Districts

8. Until a new apportionment shall be declared, the counties of Pleasants and Wood shall form the first Delegate District, and elect three Delegates; Ritchie and Calhoun the second, and elect two Delegates; Barbour, Harrison and Taylor the third, and elect one Delegate; Randolph and Tucker the fourth, and elect one Delegate; Nicholas, Clay and Webster the fifth, and elect one Delegate; McDowell and Wyoming the sixth, and elect one Delegate.

[There are now no delegate districts, each county having at least one member.]

Further Apportionments

9. Until a new apportionment shall be declared, the apportionment of Delegates to the counties not included in Delegate Districts, and to Barbour, Harrison and Taylor counties, embraced in such districts, shall be as follows:

To Barbour, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Doddridge, Fayette, Hampshire, Hancock, Jackson, Lewis, Logan, Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer, Mineral, Morgan, Grant, Hardy, Lincoln, Pendleton, Putnam, Roane, Gilmer, Taylor, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzell, Wirt, Pocahontas, Summers and Raleigh counties, one Delegate each.

To Berkeley, Harrison, Jefferson, Marion, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia and Preston counties, two Delegates each.

To Kanawha County, three Delegates.

To Ohio County, four Delegates.

[Many changes have been made in this apportionment. Kanawha County, the largest in population, now has eleven Delegates.]

Arrangement of Senatorial and Delegate Districts

10. The arrangement of the Senatorial and Delegate Districts, and apportionment of Delegates, shall hereafter be declared by law, as soon as possible after each succeeding census, taken by authority of the United States. When so declared they shall apply to the first general election for members of the Legislature, to be thereafter held, and shall continue in force unchanged, until such Districts shall be altered, and Delegates apportioned, under the succeeding census.

Additional Territory May Be Admitted Into State

11. Additional territory may be admitted into, and become part of this State, with the consent of the Legislature and a majority of the qualified voters of the State, voting on the question. The Board of Public Works shall deliver to the presiding officer of each House the budgets and a bill for all proposed appropriations of the budgets clearly itemized and classified; and the presiding officer of each House shall promptly cause said bill to be introduced therein, and such bill shall be known as the "Budget Bill." The Board of Public Works may, before final action thereon by the Legislature, amend or supplement either of said budgets to correct an oversight or in case of an emergency, with the consent of the Legislature by delivering such an amendment or supplement to the presiding officers of both Houses; and such amendment or supplement shall thereby become a part of said budget bill as an addition to the items of said bill or as modification of or a substitute for any item of said bill such amendment or supplement may affect.

The Legislature shall not amend the budget bill so as to create a deficit but may amend the bill by increasing or diminishing the items therein relating to the Legislature, and by increasing the items therein relating to the judiciary, but except as hereinbefore specified, may not alter the said bill except to strike out or reduce items therein: Provided, however, That the salary or compensation of any public officer shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office; and such bill when and as passed by both Houses shall be a law immediately without further action by the Governor.

Fourth: The governor and such representatives of the boards, officers and commissions of the State expending or applying for State's money as have been designated by the Board of Public Works for this purpose, shall have the right, and when requested by either House of the Legislature it shall be their duty to appear and be heard with respect to any budget bill during the consideration thereof, and to answer inquiries relative thereto.

Sub-Section C—Supplementary Appropriation Bills

Neither House shall consider other appropriations until the budget bill has been finally acted upon by both Houses, and no such other appropriations shall be valid except in accordance with the provisions following:

(1) Every such appropriation shall be embodied in a separate bill limited to some single work, object or purpose therein stated and called herein a supplementary appropriation bill; (2) each supplementary appropriation bill shall provide the revenue necessary to pay the appropriation thereby made by a tax direct or indirect, to be laid and collected as shall be directed in said bill unless it appears from such budget that there is sufficient revenue available; (3) no supplementary appropriation bill shall become a law unless it be passed in each House by a vote of a majority of the members present, and the yeas and nays recorded on its final passage. Each supplementary appropriation bill shall be presented to the Governor of the State as provided in section fourteen of article seven of the Constitution and thereafter all the provisions of said section shall apply.

Nothing in this amendment shall be construed as preventing the Legislature from passing in time of war an appropriation bill to provide for the payment of any obligation of the State of West Virginia within the protection of section ten of article one of the Constitution of the United States.

Sub-Section D—General Provisions

First: If the "Budget Bill" shall not have been finally acted upon by the Legislature three days before the expiration of its regular session, the Governor may, and it shall be his duty to issue a proclamation extending the session for such further period as may, in his judgment, be necessary for the passage of such bill; but no other matter than such bill shall be considered during such extended session except a provision for the cost thereof.

Second: The Board of Public Works for the purpose of making up its budgets shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to require from the proper State officials, including herein all executive departments, all executive and administrative officers, bureaus, boards, commissions and agencies expending or supervising the expenditure of, and all institutions applying for state monies and appropriations, such itemized estimates and other information, in such form and at such times as said board shall direct. The Board of Public Works may provide for public hearings on all estimates and may require the attendance at such hearings of representatives of all agencies, and all institutions applying for state monies. After such public hearings, it may, in its discretion, revise all estimates except those for the legislative and judiciary department, and for the public schools as provided by law.

Third: The Legislature may, from time to time, enact such laws, not inconsistent with this section, as may be necessary and proper to carry out its provisions.

Fourth: In the event of any inconsistency between any of the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of the Constitution, except amendments thereto heretofore made and ratified by the people, the provisions of this section shall prevail. But nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the Governor from calling extraordinary sessions of the Legislature, as provided by section seven of article seven, or as preventing the Legislature at such extraordinary sessions from considering any emergency appropriation or appropriations.

If any item of any appropriation bill passed under the provisions of this section shall be held invalid upon any ground, such invalidity shall not affect the legality of the bill or of any other item of such bill or bills.

Motor Fuel and Motor Vehicle Revenue

Revenue from gasoline and other motor fuel excise and license taxation, motor vehicle registration and license taxes, and all other revenue derived from motor vehicles or motor fuels shall, after the deduction of statutory refunds and cost of administration and collection authorized by legislative appropriation, be appropriated and used solely for construction, reconstruction, repair and maintenance of public highways, and also the payment of the interest and principal on all road bonds heretofore issued or which may be hereafter issued for the construction, reconstruction or improvement of public highways, and the payment of obligations incurred in the construction, reconstruction, repair and maintenance of public highways.

But any tax measure by valuation shall not exceed the aggregate rates authorized by section one of article ten of this Constitution.

WEST VIRGINIA CHILDREN'S HOME

Elkins

Superintendent: Dee B. Gainer. Financial Secretary: Myrtle C. Gainer. Inmates: 43.

The West Virginia Children's Home for orphan and neglected children, located in Elkins, was established by an act of the Legislature in 1899 and formally opened in 1911. In 1935 an appropriation was allotted for an additional unit. The two-story brick structure is located on a 20-acre tract of ground. A modern dairy barn constructed of brick, and a chicken house are located on the Home site and a two-room school building with two teachers, one of whom is the principal, is operated on the County Unit plan. A large open air swimming pool attracts every child to its waters during the three months of operation. In addition to the ground site of the Home, there is a 127-acre farm used for grazing. The purpose of the Home is to train the children between the ages of six to fourteen years, in domestic work, until they can be placed in foster homes. Provisions are made for the children to remain in the Home until they reach the age of 21 years. Religious training is provided by the ministerial and social service students of Davis-Elkins College. All dairy products and summer vegetables consumed, are raised on the Home site and farm. The sanitary conditions of the Home are excellent and the health of the children is very good.

WEST VIRGINIA COLORED CHILDREN'S HOME

Huntington

Superintendent: Roy W. Edwards. Financial Secretary: Arminta M. Miller.
Inmates: 40.

West Virginia Colored Children's Home, located in the City of Huntington, was incorporated in 1900 as West Virginia Normal and Industrial School for Colored Orphans. Purchased by the State in 1911, at which time the name was changed to West Virginia Colored Orphan's Home. For some years the institution was supported by private contributions raised by the general manager and friends and by income from the boarding hall and farm. In 1903 the Legislature made a yearly appropriation of $1,500 and in 1910 this was raised to $3,000. The purpose of this institution is to provide for Negro orphans and neglected children under the age of 19 and such other children of like age that may be surrendered by the Department of Public Assistance or court order to be kept, maintained, educated and trained until they can be placed in foster homes, returned to their own homes or released at the proper age to adequately care for themselves. High School graduates may attend West Virginia State College or Bluefield State College if the Department of Public Assistance, the colleges attended, or other interested organizations help them.

The operating program of this institution provides for the total development of the total child to effective citizenship.

WEST VIRGINIA HOME FOR AGED AND INFIRM
COLORED MEN AND WOMEN*McKendree

Superintendent: George W. Coats. Financial Secretary: Mrs. Gertrude J. Jenkins. Inmates: 90.

The West Virginia Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Men and Women now located at McKendree, Fayette County, was established in Charleston by an Act of the Legislature in 1923. It was first located in Charleston, Kanawha County. In 1928 the Home was moved to Huntington. In September 1941 the Institution was moved to its present site at McKendree, Fayette County. This location is three miles below Prince on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and fifteen miles from Beckley.

At present the Home is under competent management and every effort is made to produce a part of the vegetables, poultry and eggs needed.

A new dining room for the patients has been erected and equipped with new furniture. This makes a total of two dining rooms which take care of the ambulatory patients. There is also a new dining room for the employees.

The kitchen has been completely overhauled and rearranged. It is equipped with electric stoves, dishwashing machine, food mixer and grinder, a coffee urn and a potato peeler. The two large walk-in refrigerators have been overhauled and equipped with new motors for better refrigeration.

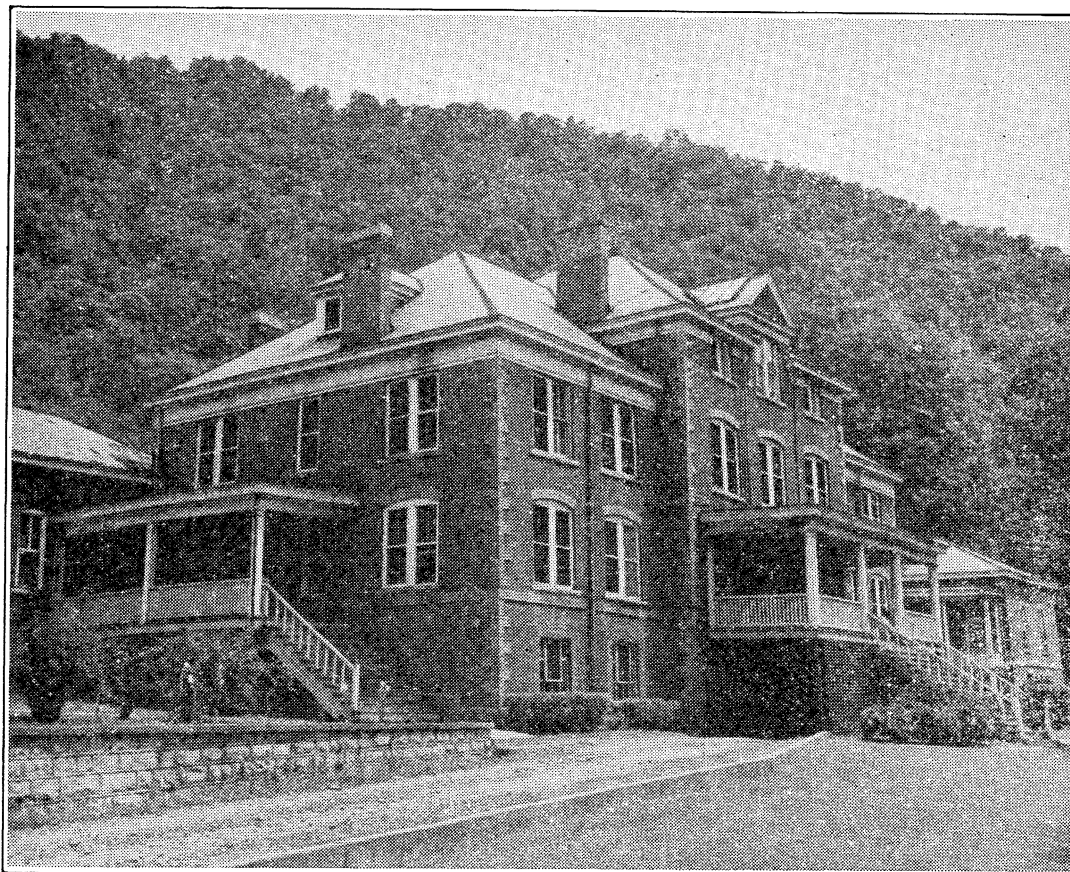

The heating system has been converted from coal to fuel oil in the two main buildings. A chlorinating system has been installed to purify water for the Home, the source of which is a mountain stream.

A dental clinic is maintained for the patients. One additional ward has been added which now gives the Home accommodations for ninety patients.

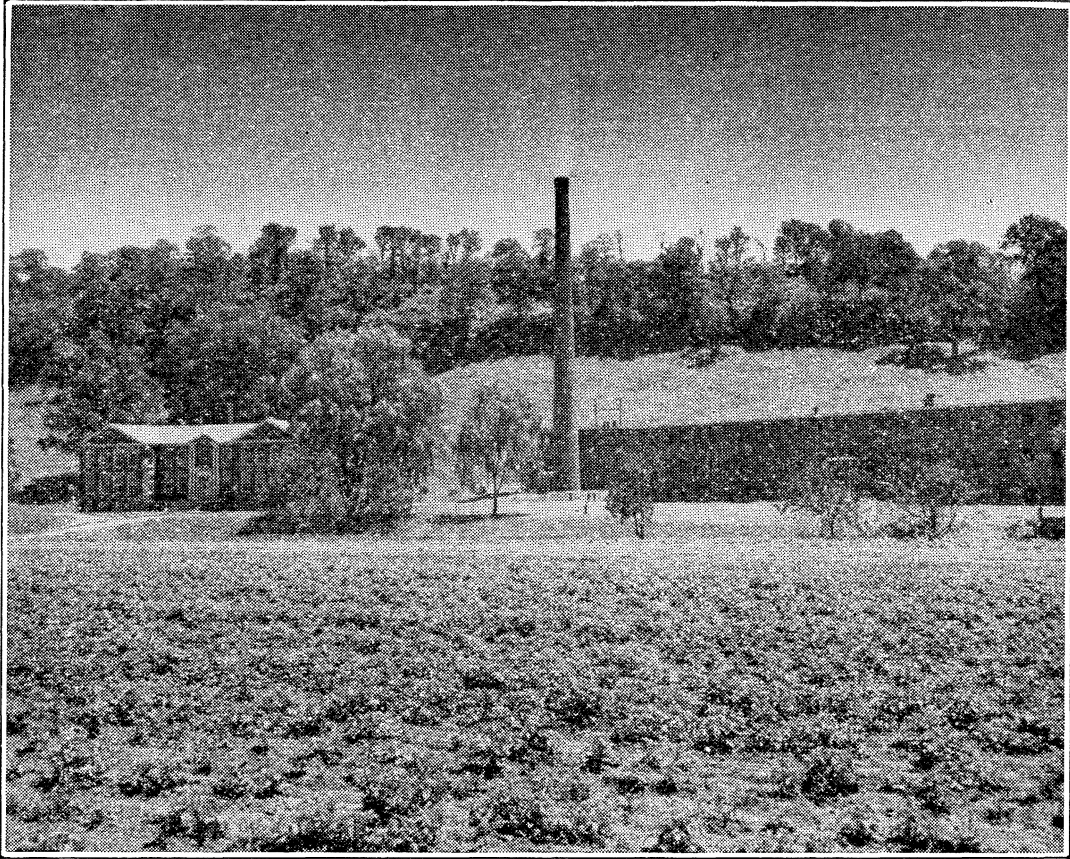

Some of the bath rooms and fixtures have been replaced with new ones. Others will be repaired and remodeled soon. Additional storage space has been provided to take care of food-stuffs and supplies.

The management has taken over three and one-half miles of powerline, which connects it with the main Appalachian powerline at Thayer. This 2,300-volt line was rebuilt and is maintained by the Home for its service.

The personnel for the Home includes the superintendent, secretary, physician, dentist, two nurses, matron, chef and two assistants, two laundresses, two orderlies, utility man and farmer.

WEST VIRGINIA TRAINING SCHOOL

St. Marys

Acting Superintendent: Harry R. Riggs. Inmates: 178.

West Virginia Training School, located three miles north of St. Marys, on State Route 2, was established in 1921 by an act of the Legislature. The farm contains 694 acres and is an ideal location for the institution. The purpose of the institution is the treatment, training and readjustment of mentally defective children. Because of the limited capacity of the institution, admissions are restricted to boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 14, inclusive.

The new unit is used to house the boys. The girls occupy the original unit. The boys and girls are completely separated. A central heating plant supplies heat for both units. This plant is large enough to take care of future buildings.

Many repairs and alterations have been made on the older buildings, and new furnishings and equipment added.

The girls receive standard elementary and accredited first class high school training in the very fine and well planned school program. Classes are offered from the first grade through the twelfth grade. The school is under the close supervision of the State Department of Education, Harrison County School officials, and Salem College. The high school has operated as a first class high school since 1937 and has been used by Salem College as a laboratory school for their high school student teachers since 1950. Some of the courses offered are food, clothing, nutrition, home planning, English, journalism, library training, algebra, mathematics, business training, art, music, physical education, history, civics, sociology, biology and geography. To date 202 girls have been graduated from high school and 466 from eighth grade. The Penitentiary itself is a six-acre enclosure on a ten-acre tract of land surrounded by a solid wall of hand-cut sandstone, 675 x 395 feet, 24 feet high, 7 feet wide at base, tapering to 28 inches at top, on which is a stone walk-way 42 inches wide. Aimed at reducing the hazards of involuntary idleness, several prison industries have been developed through authority of the 1939 Legislature. These shops are now making commodities for which there is a constant demand in the prison and other state institutions. None of the products manufactured are being sold on the open market. Also contributing greatly to relief of idleness is utilization of prisoners on road construction projects. The 1947 Legislature authorized separate management and control of the West Virginia Medium Security Prison at Huttonsville. The West Virginia State Prison for Women has been established at Pence Springs, therefore, all female inmates have been transferred to the new institution.

An additional wing to the Penitentiary is now under construction. When completed, it will provide an additional 640 cells.

In recent years a vocational and educational program has been established. Prison inmates may now acquire a High School Equivalency Diploma, and receive training in a number of vocations.

MEDIUM SECURITY PRISON

Huttonsville

Warden: Ira E. Briers. Financial Secretary: H. B. Walsh. Inmates: 500.

The Medium Security Prison is located on a farm near Huttonsville and is 18 miles south of Elkins on U. S. Routes Nos. 219 and 250. It was established by an act of the Legislature in 1937 and was designed to relieve over-crowding at the West Virginia Penitentiary and at the same time aid in the rehabilitation of prisoners. The majority of the inmates are employed in general farm work but many are employed in other vocational trades. They are quartered in modernly equipped dormitories in which there are no cells. The farm consists of 5,000 acres of which approximately 2,000 acres is suitable for cultivation and pasture. The farm products produced are in excess of the needs of the institution and are sold to other state institutions. The 1947 session of the Legislature separated the Medium Security Prison from the West Virginia Penitentiary and established it as a separate institution. All provisions of the law applicable to the Penitentiary are in effect, except that criminal proceedings against inmates of this institution are brought in the Circuit Court of Randolph County.

WEST VIRGINIA STATE PRISON FOR WOMEN*Pence Springs

*Superintendent: Mrs. Mabel T. Sims. Financial Secretary: Mary D. Barry.
Capacity: 130 inmates. Present population: 82.*

Established by an act of the Legislature in 1947, the West Virginia State Prison for Women is located at Pence Springs, Summers County, near the City of Hinton. Situated on an 84-acre tract, the physical plant consists of: the prison proper, which includes one large main building housing the inmates, women employees, offices, infirmary, security unit of solitary, recreation room, freezing and cooler lockers and class rooms; one smaller building containing the cannery in the basement equipped with modern fixtures for mass production of canned and frozen foods. On the main floor is an auditorium with a seating capacity of one hundred and movie projector equipment for the showing of 16 MM films each week and on all holidays. Also, on the main floor, are the sewing machines and looms for weaving. Garments are made for the use of our institution and on a contract basis for other state institutions. Classes in weaving are taught and articles sold to keep this craft in progress. In addition to these two buildings there is a cottage for the superintendent, a duplex to house the farm superintendent's family and guests of the institution, with a separate and private apartment for the financial secretary; a chicken house, which houses several hundred chickens, an up-to-date piggery and a sewage disposal unit. The larger percentage of the 84 acres is taken up in river bottom land, where farming is done on a large scale, supplying the institution with produce in the summer and canned goods as well as frozen vegetables and fruits for the winter months. Farming and the crafts are utilized for the relief of idleness in addition to giving those vocational training where it is necessary. Tennis and badminton equipment are available in addition to soft and base ball. A complete program of rehabilitation is carried out in this institution and all inmates are on their honor from the day of admission. As a means of public relations our inmates started serving civic and church dinners to nearby organizations through the use of their commissary funds, which has paid good dividends. The inmate choir and sextette are now much in demand and make public appearances almost weekly, which has become one of the best means of acquainting the average citizen of West Virginia with our modern work in penology.

BERKELEY SPRINGS SANITARIUM

Berkeley Springs

Superintendent: Gracen B. Heare.

Berkeley Springs Sanitarium is located in the City of Berkeley Springs. It offers baths and swimming pools which utilize the warm and medicinal waters of Berkeley Springs. Histories of colonists mentioned the qualities of the water as early as 1736. The temperature of the spring water is 74.3 degrees and is invariable, and is said to be helpful in the treatment of rheumatism, gout, diabetes, and skin diseases. The springs have been expanded to include a modern open air swimming pool and an additional new bath house which will have Roman Baths and all other types of baths for year-round use. The new bath house also has a solarium or sun deck, which is modern and meets present day requirements. The sanitarium has no facilities for housing patients, but for those who visit Berkeley Springs for baths, there are adequate hotel and boarding house facilities.

On August 1, 1942, the hospital had a population of 270 patients, its capacity at that time. Additional space has been provided through renovation of one of the buildings until the hospital had facilities for 315 patients. The 1947 Legislature made an appropriation for an Administration Building and a Storage Building. These two buildings have been completed and are now in use. The 1949 Legislature made an additional appropriation for construction of a modern laundry building and for renovation of the old buildings, and upon completion of the renovation and the additional space provided by the removal of the administrative offices from one of the dormitories to the new Administration Building, it will have a capacity of 475 beds which will be filled as rapidly as conditions will permit.

THE AMERICAN FLAG

Our United States flag has 13 horizontal stripes, seven red and six white—the red and white stripes alternating, also a union consisting of white stars of five points on a blue field, which is placed in the upper quarter next to the staff and extending to the lower edge of the fourth red stripe from the top of the flag. Each star represents a State.

Our first flag had the stars placed in a circle but later they were arranged in rows. Now the flag contains 48 stars arranged in six horizontal and eight vertical rows, each star with one point upward. On the admission of a State into the Union a star is added to the flag; the addition taking effect on the 4th day of July next succeeding such admission.

The stars in our flag represent a new constellation of States rising in the West; the field of blue came from the edges of the Covenanters' banner, in Scotland, and signifies the covenant of the United Colonies against oppression; the thirteen stripes showed with the stars, indicate the number of the United Colonies and the subordination of the States to the Union; the red color signifies defiance and boldness, and the white shows purity.

The final form of our flag was fixed by an act of Congress and signed on April 4th, 1818 by President Monroe.

In the arrangement of the stars of the flag, the thirty-fifth star represents the State of West Virginia. Flags with this number of stars were made only from June 1863 to October 1864. One of these flags is now located in the Museum of West Virginia, State Capitol Building, Charleston. A flag consisting of 35 stars was displayed at Gettysburg when Lincoln made his address there on November 19, 1863.

FEDERAL REFORMATORY FOR WOMEN

Alderson

Warden: Nina Kinsella

Associate Warden: Margaret C. Jones

Chief Clerk: Eric W. Jones

The Federal Reformatory for Women is situated in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains in Summers and Monroe Counties. It was established by Act of Congress June 7, 1924, and the buildings and grounds have a value in excess of $2,000,000. It was designed to take care of all women Federal sentenced prisoners in the United States and the insular possessions and has a capacity of 500. There are fifteen buildings housing inmates, a hospital, administration building, a garment shop, laundry, dressmaking and arts, school building and auditorium, home economics department, crafts, cannery, storehouse, shops and an extensive farm with modern dairy, piggery and truck gardens. The Enabling Act specified that each inmate should be given training that would fit her to be self-supporting on her return to society, and the entire program of the institution is based upon this plan for rehabilitation. An intelligent and sincere attempt is made to supplant the old-time theory of punishment with a program of cleanliness, industry and education in citizenship. Classification and casework is highly developed to provide for adequate training within the institution and proper placement in jobs after release.

WEST VIRGINIA NATIONAL GUARD

(Corrected to October 1, 1952)

OKEY L. PATTESON, Governor
Commander-in-Chief

CHARLES R. FOX, Brigadier General
The Adjutant General

The West Virginia National Guard is authorized and governed by Article I, Chapter 15, of the West Virginia Code and is constituted as both State and Federal force by authority of the National Defense Act approved June 3, 1916, as amended to January 1, 1945, inclusive. The National Guard is a reserve component of the Army of the United States and is composed of officers and enlisted men who volunteer for duty and are qualified in accordance with Federal and State regulations governing same. In time of peace, the National Guard is a State force, controlled by the Adjutant General as a principal military representative of the Commander-in-Chief. The Adjutant General issues, in the name of the Governor, all orders to the National Guard, disburses funds appropriated by the State Legislature for this purpose and acts as Chief of Staff for the Commander-in-Chief. In the event of war, insurrection, rebellion, invasion, tumult or a case of imminent danger of said events, or in the event of public disaster, the Governor has power to order the West Virginia National Guard or any part thereof, into the active service of the State and to cause them to perform such duty as he shall deem proper. The National Guard is equipped and paid by the Federal Government, but must meet certain organizational and training standards to qualify for Federal recognition. When Congress declares a national emergency and authorizes the use of armed forces requiring troops in excess of those in the Regular Army, the President of the United States may order the National Guard into the active military service of the United States. Initial enlistments in the National Guard are for a period of three years with reenlistments authorized for either one or three years.

OHIO

Formed in 1776 from the *District of West Augusta (Virginia), and named for the county's principal river, the Ohio, Indian name for "great river." One of the first counties in Virginia organized west of the Allegheny Mountains.

West Liberty (unincorporated), established in 1787, was the county seat from 1776 to 1797.

*The District of West Augusta originally included all of the lands in old Virginia from the Blue Ridge west with the southern boundary of that state to the Mississippi River, embracing much of the territory that now comprises the southwestern part of Pennsylvania and most of the states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. From the original territory, eighteen or more counties in West Virginia and three in Pennsylvania have been carved.

West Liberty State Teachers College, a state institution, was established there in 1870 and a continuation of West Liberty Academy, which was founded in 1838.

Salem—Harrison County

It was originally New Salem, so named because the settlers who established the town came in a body from Salem, New Jersey. They arrived in the spring of 1792. Two years later, in 1794, it was incorporated.

The first civilized habitation on the land now occupied by the City of Salem was a hunter's camp established by Nicholas Carpenter in 1785 who used it for a hunting and trapping center. He also used it for a sort of crude hotel for himself and his men who drove cattle from Clarksburg to the Ohio River at Marietta which was the nearest market.

Samuel Fitz Randolph purchased the property on which the village was founded in 1790. Mr. Randolph had started with a caravan of pioneer settlers from Salem, New Jersey, who crossed the mountains in 1789 and made their first stop at Woodbridgetown, Pennsylvania. Mr. Randolph, a number of Davises, some Maxsons, and others came on to what is now Salem, after a two and one-half year trek from the sea coast.

Salem was the first settlement of Seventh Day Baptists west of the mountains. It is now the home of Salem College, founded in 1888, and the Industrial Home for Girls established in 1898. Glass has been a major industry. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and the George Washington highway and state highway Route No. 23 pass through it. It is the birthplace of Congressman Jennings Randolph and the great writer, Granville Davison Hall, author of Daughter of the Elm, The Rending of Virginia, and many other historical books.

STATE CAPITOL BUILDING

West Virginia's Capitol Building, one of the world's beautiful examples of Italian Renaissance architecture, stands on the north bank of the historic Great Kanawha River in the capital city of Charleston. Its golden dome, rising 300 feet, is a landmark visible both day and night from a number of distant points in the city.

Completed in 1932 at a cost of nearly $10,000,000, the building was designed by Cass Gilbert, an architect of international prominence.

The huge-U-shaped structure consists of a main unit and two wings which are situated on 16 acres of ground. There are 333 rooms and a total floor space of 535,000 square feet. Unlike the exterior of Indiana buff limestone, the interior is laid with Imperial Danby Vermont marble.

In the rotunda is a two-ton crystal chandelier which has 15,000 candle power. It is suspended 180 feet above the floor by a gold chain 54 feet long. Sparkling chandeliers in the House and Senate chambers are made of 10,000 separate pieces of rock crystal.

A specially-prepared paint, "Governor's Blue," covers the walls of the outer reception room of the governor's suite, the show room of the Capitol. A tan rug, 26x60 feet and weighing 1,800 pounds, carpets the floor and is said to be the third largest seamless rug in the world.

Directly beneath the executive suite is the State Museum containing numerous exhibits to illustrate the history, science and social conditions of early West Virginia.

GREAT SEAL OF WEST VIRGINIA

The Great Seal of West Virginia, which also is the Coat of Arms, symbolizes the principal pursuits and resources of West Virginia. Described briefly, the obverse side of the Seal bears the legend, "State of West Virginia," together with the motto, "Montani Semper Liberi" (Mountaineers Are Always Free); a farmer stands to the right and a miner to the left of a large ivy-draped rock bearing the date of the state's admission to the Union; in front of the rock are two hunter's rifles upon which rests a Phrygian Cap, or "Cap of Liberty."

The reverse side of the Seal is not in common use today. It was intended to be employed when the Seal was attached to documents by ribbons and suspended in the manner of a medal.

Joseph H. Diss Debar, of Doddridge County, designed the State Seal in 1863 at the request of the first West Virginia Legislature.

STATE FLAG

Before the design of the present State Flag was officially adopted by the Legislature on March 7, 1929, West Virginia had been represented by several flags which had proved impractical.

Prominently displayed on the pure white field of today's flag and emblazoned in proper colors is the Coat of Arms, the lower half of which is wreathed by Rhododendron. Across the top, lettered on a ribbon, is the constitutional designation—"State of West Virginia." The white field is bordered on four sides by a strip of blue, and for parade purposes all but the staff side are to be trimmed with gold fringe.

STATE BIRD AND TREE

The brilliantly costumed cardinal and the majestic sugar maple are the state bird and tree of West Virginia.

These were officially declared state emblems by a legislative committee of five on June 18, 1949, after tabulating votes cast by public school children, college students and representatives of civic, sportsmen and bird study groups. Both the bird and the tree are found in virtually all parts of the State.

WEST VIRGINIA

Dr. Charles P. Harper, President
West Virginia Historical Society

The history of West Virginia really begins with the development of the American frontier along the Atlantic Coast. Here it was European in a very real sense. It found the settler "European in dress, industry, modes of travel and thought." It took him from the sailing vessel and put him in the dugout or birch-bark canoe. It stripped off the garments of the old world civilization and arrayed him in the hunting shirt and leather britches. It put him in the log cabin and ran a palisade around it. He soon began to plow with a sharp stick, deaden trees with the tomahawk and plant Indian corn. He shouted the Indian war whoop, the forerunner of the famous Rebel yell, and scalped his enemies in Indian fashion. "In short, the settler fitted himself into his frontier environment, and little by little transformed the wilderness into a new product which we call American."

The frontier of the English Empire, which began at the river mouths with such settlements as Jamestown in 1607, had a precarious existence for the next century and a half. Its fate hung in the balance because of the hostility of the Indians, the adversities of nature and the jealousy of other European powers. The second generation of English saw this rivalry turn to war for the control of the continent. For Virginia, these wars kept the frontier red with the blood of British soldiers, the Indians and settlers, whose homes were laid waste by unfriendly Indians and white renegades.

It was during these French and Indian wars that the American frontier took its shape and started upon the conquest of the continent. Although molded of English origins, its character, destiny and spirit became American as "westward the course of Empire moved its way."

At the close of the seventeenth century, the frontier had advanced up the Atlantic river courses, just beyond the "fall line." John Lederer, a German physician, had climbed the Blue Ridge in 1669 and saw the crest of the Alleghanies which form the eastern boundary of West Virginia. Two years later, Colonel Abraham Woods, the great fur trader, sent Captain Thomas Batts, Robert Fallam, Thomas Woods, with Perecute, an Indian guide, to Kanawha Falls on New River. They took possession of the land for the English. In 1716, Governor Spottswood and his "Knights of the Golden Horseshoe" crossed the Valley of Virginia, ascended the Shenandoah Mountains, supposedly to where is now Pendleton county. Eight years later, John Van Meter, a fur trader from New York, explored the South Branch of the Potomac and later, along with his brother, took up large tracts of land in the Eastern Panhandle. Other explorers included John Peter Sally, who found coal in Boone County in 1742 and named Coal River; Christopher Gist, who explored the Ohio River in 1750, the Monongahela and Great Kanawha valleys in 1751.

The advance of the frontier across the Alleghanies brought with it three classes of settlers, who like the waves of the ocean rolled one after the other. First came the pioneer, who depended upon the natural growth of vegetation, called the range, and the proceeds of his hunting for the necessities of life. His agricultural implements were crude, chiefly home-made, and his farming consisted of a crop of corn and a "truck-patch." A log cabin, a timber-deadened field of a dozen acres and perhaps a lean-to stable were enough for his farm. He may or may not have owned the land but in either case, he felt as independent as the "lord of the manor." With a horse, cow and several breeders of swine he struck into the woods with his family and became the founder of a new country. He built his cabin and occupied it until neighbors crowded around him, then lacking elbow room he sold to the next class of emigrants and broke for the "tall timber" or cleared out for the new purchase.

Credit for the first pioneer settler is given to Morgan Morgan, a Welsh merchant-tailor, who moved his family from Delaware to what is now Bunker Hill in 1726. The next year the Germans crossed the Potomac at Old Packhorse Ford and founded Mecklenburg on the site of Shepherdstown. Like the Germans, the Scotch-Irish crossed the Potomac and made settlements in the Shenandoah and South Branch valleys. Harpers Ferry was founded by Robert Harper in 1734. Settlements dotted the South Branch Valley as far south as Pendleton county by the middle of the eighteenth century. Many families had left their moorings there and established homes in the Tygarts, Buckhannon, Monongahela and Ohio valleys. Others followed Jacob Marlin and Stephen Sewell from the New River section to the Greenbrier Valley.

The hostility of the Indians toward the settlers in western Virginia was intensified by the defiance of the English claims by the French whose chain of forts along the headwaters of the Ohio led to the French and Indian wars. To protect the settlers along the foothills of the Alleghenies, the English, under Colonel George Washington, built that "Maginot Line" of forts running southward from the Potomac to the headwaters of the South Branch. The bloody massacres at Fort Upper Tract and Fort Seybert, April 27, 28, 1758, led by Killbuck and his Delaware Indians left Fort Pearsall in Hampshire and Hinkle's Fort in Pendleton as the only defense in the South Branch Valley.

In the Greenbrier Valley, where Cornstalk, the Shawnee chief, destroyed several settlements, and elsewhere the danger did not cease until the Battle of Point Pleasant and the final defeat of the French at Quebec.

Peace and the Treaty of Fort Stanwix caused a rush of settlers across the Alleghenies to the Ohio. By the time of the Revolution, the line of farthest settlements ran from Wheeling through Morgantown, Fairmont, Clarksburg, Buckhannon, Tygarts Valley, Lewisburg and down the Great Kanawha to Point Pleasant. Since no civil government had been provided for this region, except Berkeley county and the "District of West Augusta," plans were made to form a fourteenth colony called Vandalia with its capital at Point Pleasant but the Revolution ended the proposal.

West Virginia's record in the Revolution is noteworthy for a thinly settled section. Besides soldiers from every settlement, it furnished many outstanding leaders who were picturesque frontiersmen. The scouts and rangers included Betty Zane, James Hughes and Lewis Wetzel. Credit is usually given the Battle of Point Pleasant as being the first battle of the Revolution and the attack on Fort Henry as the last.

Many changes resulted from the developments in West Virginia after the Revolution. The next wave of emigrants purchased the land built hewn log houses with glass windows and stone chimneys, occasionally planted orchards, built burr-mills, log schoolhouses, churches, courthouses and exemplified the plain frugal civilized life. A network of roads and canals promised to solve the transportation problem. By 1790 a road was opened between Winchester and Morgantown via Romney and another was extended from Lewisburg to Kanawha Falls. The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, followed later by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the turnpike system provided a network of transportation facilities covering the State by the time of the War Between the States. The census showed rapid growth of population from 55,873 in 1790 to over 300,000 by 1860. The number of slaves grew from 4,504 to 21,736. In this period men of enterprise and capital came. The small village rose to a spacious town or city. Large buildings of brick and stone, extensive fields of grain, orchards, gardens, academies, colleges and churches are seen. The refinements, luxuries and fashions of the age came into vogue.

The War Between the States really began in West Virginia with John Brown's raid on the government arsenal at Harpers Ferry, October 16, 1859. His capture by Colonel Robert E. Lee and trial for treason at Charles Town were important events leading to that struggle. From the time the first land battle of the War was fought at Philippi, May 31, 1861, until the surrender at Appomattox, West Virginia was the scene of engagements, skirmishes and battles. Romney changed hands more than fifty times and important battles were fought at Laurel Hill, Rich Mountain, Scary Creek, Harpers Ferry and Droop Mountain. With public sentiment divided, West Virginia furnished many leaders and men for both the Blue and the Gray. In the Confederate army the most noted generals were Stonewall Jackson, Albert G. Jenkins and John McCausland. In the Union, Jesse Lee Reno, Benjamin Kelley and Joseph A. J. Lightburn.

The fight over secession showed that the leaders of western Virginia were determined to save that section for the Union. Some were for setting up of a state of New Virginia immediately but others persuaded the delegates to the First Wheeling Convention to postpone action until after the referendum on secession. With most of the Confederate soldiers already in the service, 40,000 of the 44,000 votes cast were opposed to joining the Confederacy. The Second Wheeling Convention demanded "the reorganization of the government of the commonwealth" and nullified the Richmond secession convention. Steps for setting up the "reorganized government" of Virginia and the formation of West Virginia were taken rapidly and it was admitted as the thirty-fifth State on June 20, 1863. The constitutionality of the new State has been debated pro and con while West Virginians think of their State as a "war baby" whose legitimacy should not be questioned.

The political reconstruction of West Virginia, like that of the other southern States, was a slow process. It was not until 1871, when the Flick amendment was ratified, that the Confederate veterans were given the privilege of voting. The same year the Democrats, who had won the previous general election, called a constitutional convention which framed the present constitution in 1872. The constitution reorganized the several branches of state government similar to what they are today and substituted the old county court system of Virginia for the county-township arrangement. For the next quarter of a century the Democrats controlled all branches of the state government.

The social and economic adjustments of the new state kept pace with the political following the war. Under the leadership of State Superintendent William R. White educational facilities made great strides. A uniform system of free schools was established in all the counties. Six normal schools for the training of teachers, West Virginia University and the School for the Deaf and Blind were established between 1867 and 1872. The industrial development centered around the expansion of the network of railroads into every section of the state. The recessions and depressions of the seventies checked development but most of the major lines had been completed by the end of the century. The stimulation of coal, oil, gas, timber and allied industries resulted from the building of roads. Agriculture with improved methods continued to be the main occupation of the rapidly growing population.

With the exception of the administration of John J. Cornwell, the World War I governor, the Republicans controlled the state government from the Spanish-American War to the Great Depression. Divided legislatures permitted the election of several Democratic senators and Democratic representatives were elected during the administrations of Woodrow Wilson and in off-year elections. Since the depression, the Republicans have been in the minority in all branches of the government and have elected only a few Congressmen. The Democrats have had a majority of the governors or twelve since the organization of the state and the Republicans eleven, including Governor Farnsworth, the president of the Senate, who served the four-day unexpired term of Arthur I. Boreman, the first governor. There has been almost equal division of party representation in the United States Senate, the Democrats having thirteen and the Republicans eleven.

In World War I the administration gave full cooperation to the national government in enlisting soldiers, providing essential war materials and soliciting funds. Over sixty thousand West Virginians served in the war and the five thousand casualties included 571 killed in action and 194 dying of wounds. Eight hundred and fourteen of the 1,121 dying abroad were returned for burial while most of the others are buried in the Meuse-Argonne Cemetery. Three hundred and thirty-five "Mountaineers" were decorated for heroism by the United States and allied governments. Outstanding West Virginians in the war included the secretary of war, Newton D. Baker; General John L. Hines, chief of staff succeeding General Pershing; General Mason Patrick, head of the Army Air Service; and Julian Lane Latimer, judge advocate of the navy. This year veterans of both World Wars received a cash bonus from the state determined according to the place and length of service.

Important changes in the government of the state were made during the war. Amendments to the constitution provided for an administrative budget, and a $50,000,000 bond issue for a system of state highways connecting county seats. The Department of Public Safety, providing a state police system, was created; a prohibition of child labor law enacted; and provisions made to pay off the Virginia debt.

The political development of the depression era saw a trend toward centralization of government. Amendments to the constitution provided for property tax limitation, changed the date of the inauguration of the governor, a state liquor monopoly instead of prohibition, the attachment of state employees' wages and municipal home rule. The independent and magisterial district elementary and secondary school system was changed to the county unit with increasing amounts of state aid. A Department of Public Assistance was set up to administer old age, mothers' and children's pensions and provide direct relief. The state highway system was further expended to include secondary and farm-to-market roads. Additional taxes levied to meet these state services included a consumers' sales tax, an income tax (repealed during World War II) and an increased gasoline tax.

In World War II, West Virginia again gave full cooperation to the federal government in enlisting soldiers, providing essential war materials and soliciting funds. As in World War I, another West Virginian, Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, who later became Secretary of the Department of Defense, played a great part in the mobilization of the armed forces. Although the history of the war is not complete, the record of the state is one of which to be proud.

Most of the 217,000 in the service were selected by the selective service system under the direction of Brigadier General Carleton C. Pierce and the number called ranged from one hundred and fifty-five the first month to as many as sixty-five hundred in some months. The honor list of 4,865 of the army included 3,041 killed in action, four hundred and forty-one died of wounds, fifteen of injuries, thirteen missing, one thousand non-battle deaths and two hundred and fifty-five in the finding of death classification. The nine hundred and sixty-four honor list of the Navy, Marine and Coast Guard services, which included twelve who died in prisoner of war status, brought the total number of deaths to 5,829. Most of those dying on foreign soil have been brought back to the state for reburial.

The social, cultural and economic development of the state kept pace with the political during the first half of the twentieth century. The population doubled, increasing from 958,800 to 2,005,552. The drift to the urban centers which began at the turn of the century gained impetus during World Wars I and II. In the last decade, twenty-eight of the fifty-five counties lost population. There was also a decided shift of population to the industrial and mining centers in the Ohio valley and south of the Great Kanawha. The number of "urban" places increased from sixteen to fifty-five with Huntington, Charleston and Wheeling ranking the largest in the order named.

West Virginia is usually classified as an industrial state even though two-thirds of its population are living in rural territory. The industrialization era, noticeable at the close of the century, made rapid strides especially during World Wars I and II, with very little setback during the depression. The new chemical and glass industries took their place alongside the rapidly growing coal, oil, gas and allied industries. Only the agriculture and timber industries lagged behind but the conservation programs inaugurated during the depression has kept them in pace with the other developments. In addition to the half-dozen major state parks and a like number of state forests, the state has in it one national park (Harpers Ferry) and two national forests—the Monongahela and George Washington.

In the field of education, great progress has been made. Every girl and boy has an equal opportunity to secure an education at home. Elementary and high schools in every community or county are available for the white and colored pupils separately, either in the town or within reach by school bus. West Virginia University and nine state colleges and a similar number of private colleges provide higher education for approximately twenty thousand students annually. Graduate work for both white and colored is available at Marshall College and the University. Special schools for the deaf and blind and training schools for wayward boys and girls have been provided for both white and Negro children.

The distinguished West Virginians in the administrative, business, literary and political field are legion both at home and abroad. The state points with special pride to the following: John W. and Henry G. Davis, candidates for president and vice-president; Dwight L. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico; John Barton Payne, Secretary of the Interior and Chairman of the American Red Cross; Dr. Israel C. White, geologist; Michael L. Benedum, oil producer; Melville Davisson Post, Margaret Prescott Montague and Pearl Buck, writers; Anna Jarvis, founder of Mother's Day.

West Virginia My Home Sweet Home

(Official West Virginia State Song)

Words and Music by
Col. JULIAN G. HEARNE, Jr.
(Wheeling, West Va.)

Moderato, with feeling

WEST VIR-GIN-IA MY HOME, SWEET HOME, My WEST VIR-GIN-IA MY HOME, SWEET HOME, Where

heart beats with last-ing love for you, Where my roots are so moun-tains and hills and val-leys too, And the orch-ards, the deep, where my fore-fath-ers sleep, Where kin-folks and friends are staunch and farms, tim-ber lands, all have charms, And fac-t'ries and mines are on re-

This is not to be done in hill-billy fash on, but more like the sentimental "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny".

true; — Where the Blue of the North, and the Grey of the view; — There I work, and I play, and I wor-ship Sun-

South long have blend-ed in per-fect har-mon-y, — Where the day, in that land where the moun-tain-eers are free, — Oth-er

East meets the West, and de-rives from each the best, That's WEST VIR-GIN-IA,
States are o k, it's a grand old U S A, But WEST VIR-GIN-IA'S

HOME, SWEET HOME for me! — WEST VIR-
HOME, SWEET HOME for me!

West Virginia My Home Sweet Home. 2. Copyright Assigned to STAR MUSIC & RECORDING STUDIOS, Pittsburgh 12, Pa.

By act of the forty-eighth Legislature, "West Virginia, My Home Sweet Home" became one of the official state songs for West Virginia. Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 11 was adopted March 3, 1947.

1950 CENSUS OF POPULATION

(As prepared by Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department Commerce)

POPULATION OF WEST VIRGINIA, APRIL 1, 1950

(This is the fifth of a series of reports presenting final population figures for selected areas in each State. In this series, reports are numbered alphabetically by States. Additional reports will be issued as final figures for other States become available).

The total population of West Virginia on April 1, 1950, was 2,005,552, according to final figures for the State released today by Roy V. Peel, Director, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. During the previous 10 years, the population of the State increased by 103,578, or 5.4 percent, over the 1,901,974 inhabitants enumerated in 1940. Among the States, West Virginia ranked twenty-ninth in population. The present population of West Virginia is about 4½ times as large as its population 80 years ago when it was first separately enumerated in a Federal census.

West Virginia has always been a State with the preponderance of its population living in rural territory. According to the new urban definition, West Virginia had an urban population of 698,324 and a rural population of 1,307,228. The urban population comprised 34.8 percent of the total population of the State.

Between 1940 and 1950, 27 of West Virginia's 55 counties gained population and 28 lost population. Of the counties which lost population, all but 2 were predominantly rural, and 19 had no urban population at all. The counties of West Virginia ranged in size from Wirt with a population of 5,119 to Kanawha with a population of 239,629.

West Virginia had a total of 214 incorporated places and 77 unincorporated places of 1,000 inhabitants or more. These places ranged in size from Montrose town with a population of 79 to Huntington city with a population of 86,353. The 214 incorporated places contained 802,827 inhabitants, or 40.0 percent of the total population of the State. Of these places 55 had 2,500 inhabitants or more and a combined population of 644,443. The population of the 7 unincorporated places of 2,500 or more was 29,506, and the combined population of the 70 smaller unincorporated places was 103,154.

Under the urban definition established for use in the 1950 Census, urban territory has been defined to comprise (a) places of 2,500 inhabitants or more incorporated as cities, boroughs, towns, and villages; (b) the densely settled urban fringe, including both incorporated and unincorporated areas, around cities of 50,000 or more; and (c) unincorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more outside any urban fringe. All other territory is classified as rural. According to the definition used in previous censuses, urban territory was designated as all incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more and areas (usually minor civil divisions) classified as urban under special rules relating to population size and density.

In both definitions, the most important component of the urban territory is the group of incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more. A definition of urban territory restricted to such places, however, would exclude a number of equally large and densely settled places, merely because they were not incorporated places. Under the old definition, an effort was made to avoid some of the more obvious omissions by the inclusion of the places urban under special rules. Even with these rules, however, many large and closely built-up places were excluded from the urban territory. To improve the situation in the 1950 Census, the Bureau of the Census set up, in advance of enumeration, boundaries for urban-fringe areas around cities of 50,000 or more and for unincorporated places outside urban fringes. All the population residing in urban-fringe areas and in unincorporated places of 2,500 or more is classified as urban according to the new definition. Consequently, the special rules of the old definition are no longer necessary.

According to the new urban definition, the 1950 urban population of West Virginia included the following components: (1) The 644,443 inhabitants of the 55 incorporated places of 2,500 or more; (2) the 29,506 inhabitants of the 7 specially delineated unincorporated places of 2,500 or more; (3) the 24,375 persons living in the incorporated places under 2,500 and unincorporated territory in the urban fringes of Charleston, Wheeling, and Huntington. Since the first element comprises the urban population under the old urban definition, the aggregate population of the remaining elements—53,881—represents the net gain in the West Virginia urban population which resulted from the change in definition.

POPULATION OF MAGISTERIAL DISTRICTS

(The "districts" shown in the table are magisterial districts. 1950 figures are not necessarily comparable with figures for 1940 or earlier dates shown in 1940 Census Reports because of boundary changes in some areas. Boundary changes will be described in table 6 of the forthcoming report on number of inhabitants for West Virginia.)

FOREST SERVICE

(U. S. Department of Agriculture)

MONONGAHELA NATIONAL FOREST

Headquarters: Elkins

Monongahela National Forest was proclaimed by President Woodrow Wilson on April 28, 1920, under the Weeks Law. This law of 1911 provides for cooperation by states with the United States in the protection of watersheds of navigable streams. In West Virginia, the national forest was established mainly for flood protection in the Ohio and Potomac River valleys. It is one of a system of 152 national forests and the only national forest wholly in West Virginia.

In administration, the public forest is dedicated to the protection, development, and management of all its resources for the greatest good to the greatest number.

Within the proclaimed boundary there are 1,673,747 acres of which 805,905 acres are owned by the United States. Directly in charge of the national forest is the Forest Supervisor. In the national forest are five ranger districts, each in charge of a district ranger.

The public forest is administered in cooperation with the game, fish, law enforcement and forestry divisions of the Conservation Commission of West Virginia, as for example, in wildlife habitat improvement work, stream stocking, and other wildlife management activities. By law, twenty-five per cent of receipts from the sale of timber and other products and use fees is returned to the nine national forest counties.

At Parsons is one of the largest forest tree nurseries east of the Mississippi River. Its production capacity of 5,000,000 tree seedlings yearly is for the reforesting of eastern national forests. The Conservation Commission of West Virginia is presently utilizing these nursery facilities, cooperating in meeting its reforestation needs.

FISHING STREAMS AND SPECIES

For the benefit of anglers who desire information relative to stocked fishing streams and nearest towns in which hotel accommodations can be found, the following list has been prepared. Numerous other streams and tributaries other than these listed have received substantial stockings of fish. These, however, are the largest, most important and probably the most capable of supporting extra heavy angling pressure. It must be understood that the order in which they are listed does not indicate the number of fish placed in the stream or the anglers chances of catching fish. Fishing in any of these streams does not necessarily indicate that the Conservation Commission promises the limit of fish to each fisherman. This is intended merely as a guide.

DEPTH AVAILABLE FOR NAVIGATION

(Data furnished by the War Department)

Ohio River—Improvement of the Ohio River, as authorized by Congress in the River and Harbor Act of June 25, 1910, provides for a channel depth of 9 feet in the entire 981 miles of the river by the construction of locks and dams and open channel work. The system of locks and dams throughout the river provides a navigable depth of 9 feet at ordinary river stage. New dams of modern design have been completed near Hogsett, West Virginia, (Gallipolis Locks and Dams), at Montgomery Island, 32 miles below Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and at Emsworth Locks, 6.2 miles below Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Monongahela River, West Virginia and Pennsylvania—The existing project provides for improvement of the river by 13 locks and dams to afford slack-water navigation for its entire length from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to one mile above Fairmont, a distance of 128 miles. The project is approximately complete and the controlling depth between Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Lock 11 (Uffington, West Virginia) 104.95 miles above the mouth is 9 feet and above Lock 11, 7 feet to the upper limits of the project.

Kanawha River, West Virginia—The existing project provides for the construction of 3 modern dams on the Kanawha River, with twin locks at London, Marmet and Winfield, and the Gallipolis locks and dam on the Ohio River, near Hogsett, West Virginia, to furnish a 9-foot navigable depth from the Ohio to a point 90.57 miles above the mouth. The dams at London and Marmet were completed in 1934, and the Winfield dam in 1937. The Gallipolis locks and dam were completed in October, 1937, thus making available a channel depth of 9 feet from the mouth of the river to the head of navigation.

Big Sandy River, West Virginia and Kentucky, including Levisa and Tug Forks—Under the existing project, 3 locks and dams were constructed on the main river, and one lock and dam were constructed each on Levisa Fork and Tug Fork. Only the lower lock and dam on the main river is in operation at the present time to provide slack-water depth of 6 feet from the Ohio River to a point about 7 miles above the mouth. The remaining two structures on the main river have movable dams which are placed in use only at such times as the needs of navigation require. The Levisa Fork Lock and Dam No. 1 and the Tug Fork Lock and Dam No. 1 have not been operated for several years.

Tygart River Reservoir—The Tygart River Dam, located on the Tygart River, 2¼ miles upstream from Grafton, as authorized by the Public Works Administration January 11, 1934, and approved by Congress in the River and Harbor Act of August 30, 1935, provides for a dam 1,880 feet long and 207 feet high for the storage of 290,000-acre tract of water to control floods and aid navigation in the Monongahela River. The dam has been completed and is now in operation as a unit in the reservoir system for the protection of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and the upper Ohio Valley generally.

Bluestone Reservoir Project—This project, located on the New River near Hinton, was authorized by Presidential executive order in 1935 and approved by Congress under the Flood Control Act of 1936. Construction of the project was begun early in 1942; however, the work was suspended in 1944 because of the war emergency. Construction was resumed in January 1946, and has been prosecuted steadily to the present advanced stage of project completion. The project is expected to cost about thirty million dollars when completed late in 1950. The dam will be 165 feet high and 2,061.5 feet long. The reservoir will have a capacity of 631,000 acre-feet to serve a drainage area of 4,565 square miles. During periods of low and normal flows in New River, the elevation of the reservoir will vary about 5 feet, with a minimum pool of 7.8 miles in length and 1,020 acres in area that will utilize about 11,000 acre-feet of the total reservoir capacity. The remaining reservoir capacity will be reserved for impoundment of flood flows as required for flood control.

Little Kanawha River, West Virginia—The existing project provides for 5 locks with fixed dams, to give a navigable depth of 4 feet from the mouth of the river to Creston, a distance of 48 miles. Under this project one lock and dam was constructed and 4 were purchased from the Little Kanawha Navigation Company. Only the lower lock and dam is in operation at the present time to provide a slack water depth of 4 feet from the Ohio River to a point about 14 miles above the mouth. The remaining structures are placed in use only at such times as the needs of navigation require.

- The American Library Association's proposed minimum requirements for listing as a county library have been applied by the West Virginia Library Commission in classifying county libraries in West Virginia. 1. (a) Gives service to all or the major portion of a county or (b) Operates under a county, or regional library law. 2. Receives at least 10 cents per capita income or $5,000 whichever is larger. (In computing income the actual appropriations plus rentals, fines, etc., are included.) 3. Circulates at least 2 books per capita. 4. Gives direct book service to rural people through the medium of branches, stations, bookmobiles, etc. "Libraries must meet three of the four qualifications and must meet 1 and 4."
- Taken from total adult circulation.
- American Library Association recommends budget proportions as follows: 60% personnel, 20% books, 20% operation and a minimum expenditure of $1.50 per capita. The national average is .73 per capita.
- Appropriation for West Virginia Library Commission. Since Commission supplements library service for ALL public libraries in the state, the whole appropriation is included in grand total of state-wide income for public libraries for purpose of giving more accurate picture of per capita income of public library service in the state.
- Unexpended balance result of difficulty in locating qualified librarians. Budget for shelving for new headquarters was not expended, because Commission is still in old quarters.
- Includes 7,609 for South Charleston.
- Included in Kanawha County.
- 7,609 included in Kanawha County.
- 5,630 counted with Monroe.

Five Libraries in the State are supported by subscription or privately: CHARLES TOWN, WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, ROMNEY, UNION and MADISON.

OIL AND GAS DEVELOPMENTS, 1951

Morgantown, West Virginia

ABSTRACT

The total number of wells drilled in West Virginia in 1951 reported to March 21, 1952, was 696, a decrease of 48, or 6.3 per cent. Permits to drill or deepen total 744 or 104 less than in 1950, or a decrease of 12.3 per cent. Abandoned during the year were approximately 345 gas wells and 654 oil wells, which includes estimates for wells abandoned under original drilling permit numbers. Wells completed were: gas, 463; oil, 71; oil and gas, 15; storage, brine water injection, and pressure, 30; dry holes, 117. Compared with 1950, gas wells increased 46, or 11 per cent; oil wells decreased 35, or 49 per cent; oil and gas wells decreased 19, or 56 per cent; storage et al. wells, no change; dry holes decreased 40, or 25.5 per cent. Depth of wells completed ranged from 200 to 9,085 feet compared with 220 to 6,097 feet in 1950. The 9085-foot well was actually shut down at that depth at end of 1950 as reported last year but was not then considered completed. Total footage drilled (2,014,576) increased 29,636 feet, or 1.5 per cent over 1950. The average depth of wells (2,895 feet) increased 227 feet, or 8.5 per cent over 1950. The total initial daily open flow of the gas wells was 355,853 MCF, a decrease of 112,541 MCF, or 24 per cent under 1950. The size of the gas wells ranged from 6 to 16,817 MCF, compared with 11 to 25,000 MCF in 1950. The total daily initial oil was 1122 bbls., 406¼ bbls. less than in 1950, or 26.6 per cent. The size of the oil wells ranged from 2 to 180 bbls. daily, compared with 0¼ to 80 bbls. in 1950. The number of wells drilling or unreported if completed at the end of the year was 306, 7 less than at the end of 1950. Letters were sent to 223 operators regarding 442 wells not reported. Replies were received from 155 operators regarding 353 wells, leaving 68 operators unheard from regarding 89 wells. The average size of gas wells was 757 MCF compared with 1079 MCF in 1950, a 30 per cent decrease. The average size of the oil wells was 14.2 bbls. compared with 12.4 bbls. in 1950, an increase of 14.5 per cent. Preliminary estimates of production for 1951: gas, 194,630,000 MCF, a decrease of 2,580,000 MCF under 1950, or 1.3 per cent; oil, 2,757,000 bbls., a decrease of 31,000 bbls. under 1950; or 1¼ per cent. The estimated number of producing wells at the end of 1951: gas, 14,000; oil, 14,000. Table (not subject to copyright) gives statistics by counties.

The table of oil and gas operations in West Virginia by counties in 1951 gives the salient facts regarding drilling results. Comparison totals for 1947, 1948, 1949, and 1950 are also shown in the bottom four lines of the table.

Permits to drill or deepen issued by the State Department of Mines totaled 744, or 104 less than were issued in 1950, a decrease of 12.3 per cent. 46 more gas wells, 35 less oil wells, 19 less oil and gas wells, and 40 less dry holes were completed in 1951 than in 1950.

Total completions were 696 as against 744 in 1950, a decrease of 6.3 per cent. Wayne County, with 66 completions, topped the list of completions by counties, followed by Mingo with 64, Lincoln with 60, Jackson with 53, Calhoun with 43, Ritchie with 43, Putnam with 40, and Gilmer with 35. These eight counties accounted for 405 completions or 58 per cent of the total completions. Of the wells uncompleted or reported if completed at the end of the year, 135 or 44 per cent were from these same eight counties.

Drilling depths ranged from 200 to 9,085 feet, as against 220 to 6,097 feet in 1950. However, the 9,085-foot depth was actually drilled in 1950 and reported as shut down at that depth at the end of the year since it was not considered completed.

If this well is eliminated and put back in 1950 table, the deepest actually drilled in 1951 would be 6,566 feet for one of the brine (rock salt) wells in Marshall County.

The total footage drilled (2,014,576) increased 29,636 feet over the 1950 total, or 1.5 per cent. The 1950 total was 1,984,940 feet. The total footage drilled does not include any footage for wells tabulated as drilling. The actual footage drilled would be slightly less than given if the original depths of wells deepened were known and subtracted from the total given.

The average depth (2,895 feet) is 227 feet or 8.5 per cent greater than in 1950 (2,668 feet).

The total initial daily open flow of the gas wells was 355,853 MCF, or 112,541 MCF less than in 1950, or 24 per cent.

The range in size of the gas wells was 6 to 16,817 MCF, compared with 11 to 25,000 MCF in 1950.

The average size of the gas wells was 757 MCF, or 322 less than in 1950, or 30 per cent.

The daily initial oil was 1122 bbls., a decrease of 406¼ bbls., or 26.6 per cent. The range in size of the oil wells was 2 to 180 bbls., compared with 0¼ to 80 bbls. in 1950. The average size of the oil wells was 14.2 bbls., compared with 12.4 bbls. in 1950, an increase of 14.5 per cent. In calculating the average size of the wells, one-half the total oil and gas wells was added to the total gas wells and total oil wells as given in the third and fourth columns of the table.

At the end of the year, 306 wells were drilling or unreported if completed. Letters were sent to 223 operators regarding 442 wells not reported. Replies were received from 155 operators regarding 353 wells, leaving 68 operators unheard from concerning 89 wells.

Eight counties (Mingo, Preston, Kanawha, Putnam, Logan, Wayne, Lincoln, and Jackson in that order) had a daily initial open flow of gas of 266,578 MCF, or approximately 75 per cent of the State's total.

Preston County with its 9 wells had the largest average daily open flow of 4,471 MCF.

Two counties (Jackson and Calhoun) had daily initial oil of 841 bbls., or approximately 75 per cent of the State's total, with over 50 per cent of the total number of oil wells being drilled in these two counties.

In arriving at the number of producing wells at the end of 1951, it has been assumed that 345 gas wells and 654 oil wells were abandoned during 1951, which numbers taken from previous estimates plus 1951 completions give 14,000 gas wells and 14,000 oil wells. Abandonment plats and abandonment records have not all been received as of this date and even with these data it is sometimes impossible to tell what kind of a well was abandoned since symbols are sometimes left off the plats and records often leave off statement whether oil or gas. It would be necessary to contact the companies or inspectors for each of these wells or inspect hundreds of farm maps to make sure it was tabulated correctly.

Preliminary estimates of production for 1951 are: gas, 194,630,000 MCF, a decrease of 2,580,000 MCF under 1950, or 1.3 per cent; oil, 2,757,000 bbls., a decrease of 31,000 bbls. under 1950 or 1¼ per cent.

New-field wildcats include a Berea gas well in Wood County, a Big Lime gas well in Boone County, a Big Lime gas well in Mingo County; an Oriskany gas well in Wirt County; a Maxton Sand gas well in Webster County (first production for this county); and a Salt Sand gas well in Pleasants County. Additional locations have been made near these wells, some of which have secured production while others are still drilling.

Important wildcats which proved unsuccessful were drilled to the Oriskany Sand in Putnam and Wood Counties.

Successful extensions of gas fields were drilled in Ritchie, McDowell, and Wyoming Counties, while some failures in this category were drilled in Gilmer, Mason, Raleigh, and Wood Counties.

WEST VIRGINIA STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Although public health officials look to the local health program as the important factor in the actual promotion of public health in a state some space should be given to the move of the State Department of Health to the new State Office Building. In February, 1952, the more than half of the divisions and bureaus of the State Department of Health, housed in various parts of Charleston, moved into the State Office Building along with those units of the Department with offices in the Capitol Building.

For the first time in nearly 20 years the five divisions and 12 bureaus are under the same roof. Occupying the entire fifth floor and half of the fourth floor of the State Office Building, the Department is now in a position to work more closely together, with less effort, and certainly with a greater saving of time. The only remaining unit outside the building is the State Hygienic Laboratory. By virtue of the work entailed it would not be feasible to house the Laboratory anywhere other than space specifically constructed to meet the needs.

A much needed addition to the Department's over-all office plan is a Conference room and Library. Some of the public health laws provide for quarterly meetings of the medical licensing board, state board of health, hospital construction advisory council, and others. In addition the State Director of Health is on various advisory boards and committees and the Conference room is in constant use with meetings which otherwise were held in rented or borrowed space. Other departments of the State Government use this room for official business.

Looking to the future, the 1951 Legislature appropriated $200,000 to be matched by Federal monies from the Hill Burton Act in the amount of $312,000 for the construction of a State Hygienic Laboratory. This very vital service to the citizens of West Virginia has been drastically handicapped over the years due to inadequate working quarters. Construction will begin in the spring of 1953 and should be ready for occupancy in about 18 months.

Realizing that any governmental agency can only move as fast as public opinion, a consultant in health education was added to the staff of the Bureau of Health Education in the spring of 1952. A concerted effort was made to stimulate existing community health councils and to develop the organization of new councils. It is generally agreed that public health makes its greatest progress when representative citizens in a community come together to identify health problems and then implement programs to solve them.

Funds provided for the protection of the health of the citizens of West Virginia are still below the accepted national minimum of $2.00 per capita. The Department functioned last year with a budget of $2,549,919. Due to a reduction in Federal appropriation this over-all figure is less than the 1951 fiscal appropriation. Of the total, 35 per cent comes from state appropriation, 32 from local sources, and the remaining 33 per cent from Federal government. The present budget makes it impossible for the Department to compete with other state health departments, industry, or business in obtaining the services of qualified persons to maintain the state's most valuable asset, a healthy citizenry.

During the calendar year, 1951, there were 50,920 resident live births recorded for a birth rate of 25.0 births per 100,000 population. During the same period there was a total of 17,058 resident deaths in the state, a decrease of 401 from 1950. The ten leading causes of death, diseases of the heart; cancer; vascular lesions of central nervous system, accidents excluding motor vehicles, pneumonia and influenza, motor vehicle accidents, tuberculosis (all forms), premature births; nephritis and nephrosis and general arteriosclerosis, accounted for 77.7 per cent of the total number of deaths for the year. Infant deaths decreased 205 over the 1950 total and decreases in the number of deaths were noted among the several preventable diseases such as whooping cough, measles, etc.

The State Hygienic Laboratory added to its already crowded working schedule the initiation of, and successful progress toward the solution of a problem which has long impaired the adequate detection of diabetes.

Through the dental health program, 17 towns or cities have either put fluorine in the water; have passed resolutions authorizing the fluoridation of water or have it under consideration. A population of 300,000 is being served by the 17 municipal water systems concerned. Ten counties in the state now have remedial dental clinics, staffed by part-time personnel and operated either in schools, health offices or private practitioners' offices. In addition a mobile dental clinic was operated by the Bureau of Dental Health in several counties in the state not having this service.

Through an increase in appropriation from $75,000 to $90,000 per annum, the Division of Cancer Control gave aid to 5,485 residents of West Virginia with a symptom of cancer and without sufficient money for medical care. During the past year 898 new patients made application to the Division. One new Tumor Clinic was organized in the state, bringing the total to 14 being operated by general hospitals.

The period just past was marked by the lowest recorded incidence of diphtheria and typhoid fever for any year in the history of West Virginia. For the fourth consecutive year there were no reported cases of smallpox.

Heart disease, America's number one killer, was first given active consideration in 1950 when a demonstration clinic was organized in the Kanawha-Charleston Health Department. This has led to five heart clinics now operating in the state. Another step in an effort to lessen this needless waste of life was the planning of a program whereby free penicillin will be provided to the medically needy for the prevention of heart disease in rheumatic fever patients.

Over 104,000 X-rays for the detection of tuberculosis were given through the operation of one portable and two mobile X-ray units. The Bureau of Tuberculosis Control, through a $25,000 annual appropriation made by the last legislature, is now in a position to offer a much needed service, that of pneumothorax re-fills for out-patient treatment of indigent patients.

Control of the venereal diseases in the state has progressed to the point where the closing of the West Virginia Medical Center, an in-patient service, was indicated. These services are being continued on an out-patient basis at the Kanawha-Charleston Health Department's Venereal Disease Clinic. The venereal disease problem in West Virginia is by no means licked, but the results of years of work by the Bureau at least are more gratifying.

Early in the year the Bureau of Industrial Hygiene concluded a comprehensive survey of atmospheric pollution in the great Kanawha Valley Industrial Area. This project was a cooperative endeavor of industry, citizens and the State Department of Health. A public service of significance, it was but one phase of the Bureau's program to benefit not only the citizens but the thousands of industrial workers in the state.

One of the basic functions of public health is environmental sanitation. Through the Division of Sanitary Engineering the Department continued to provide safe water, milk and disposal of sewage to the people of West Virginia. Impetus was given to the food handling program through sanitation inspections of food handling establishments and instructions of persons dispensing food to thousands of people.

There are now 118 child conferences operating in the state, giving health supervision to around 20,000 pre-school children. The premature nursery continues to show results by last year saving the lives of prematurely born babies that otherwise might have died. Of the 174 babies admitted to the nursery, 123 lived, giving a mortality rate for the year of 29.3%, a low figure compared to a very few years back. The Division of Maternal and Child Health continues to turn attention to the problem of Rheumatic Fever in the state.

Last year 112 hospitals and medical care institutions were approved and granted licenses by the Bureau of Hospitals and Medical Care. Under the Hill Burton Act the Bureau brought to conclusion the processing of applications for the construction of new hospitals in the state, additions to existing institutions and plans for the State Hygenic Laboratory.

The State Committee of Barbers and Beauticians conducted examinations for 200 applicants. They issued 189 certificates of registration and 132 registrations for junior barbers and beauticians. Inspections were made of around 2,500 barber and beauty shops in the interest of sanitary facilities.

The Bureau of Public Health Nurses gave emphasis to training programs by holding conferences, seminars, institutes, encouraging the nurses to attend workshops and by giving a limited number of scholarships. There are 164 health nurses in the state giving some type of service in the majority of the counties.

The Bureau of Health Education, in cooperation with the voluntary agencies, conducted a one-day health education workshop which will become an annual affair. The work of this Bureau is increasing with the demands placed on it by the ever-increasing work of the other divisions and bureaus of the Department.

While the problem of trained personnel is ever present, yet it can readily be seen that health work in West Virginia continues to keep the pace set a few years back, that of expanding existing programs and adding new projects as the need arises. Public health today is a "household" word and as more persons become conscious of the saving in lives and money, both to the individual and to the state, effected by a good health program, demands for additional services are made on the Department. Every effort is made to meet these demands even with limited resources.

COLLECTION OF REVENUE, BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX AND TRANSPORTATION PRIVILEGE TAX

West Virginia has imposed since 1921 a Business and Occupation Tax in some form. This tax has been known erroneously as the "Gross Sales Tax," a designation which has included the privilege tax imposed on certain carrier corporations by the terms of Article 12-A, Chapter XI of the Code of West Virginia, as well as the Business and Occupation Tax imposed by the terms of Article 13 of said Chapter XI. Collections by virtue of these two tax laws are deposited to the credit of the general revenue fund of the State, and constitute the largest single source of the State's general revenue raised by so-called "indirect" taxation.

These taxes are license taxes imposed for the privilege of engaging in business in West Virginia. The amount of tax to be paid is usually measured by the amount of gross income received before the deduction of any expense whatsoever. Under the production and manufacturing classifications of the Business and Occupation Tax Law the measure of the tax is the value of the article produced or manufactured as shown by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof, provided, the proceeds of sale are indicative of the true value of the article. Every person in business is subject to the tax and if more than one person engages in a single activity or transaction, as in the case of the contractor and subcontractor, each must pay the tax on his entire income regardless of the tax paid by the other.

Business activities under Article 13 are classed and taxed as follows:

A. Production of Coal and Other Natural Resource Products. The tax is measured by the value of the articles mined or produced as shown by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof by the producer, the rates being applied against the value of the entire production in West Virginia, regardless of the place or sale or the fact that deliveries are made to points outside the State.

Coal .....	On each $100.00 value, $1.30
Sand, gravel, or other mineral products not quarried or mined; oil, blast furnace slag.....	On each 100.00 value, 3.90
Natural gas (exemptions include deduction of $5,000 annually) .....	On each 100.00 value, 7.80
Limestone or sandstone quarried or mined; and timber.....	On each 100.00 value, 1.95
Other natural resource products.....	On each 100.00 value, 2.60

B. Manufacturing. The tax is measured by the value of the articles manufactured, compounded or prepared for sale in West Virginia, as shown by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof by the manufacturer or person compounding or preparing the same. The rate of 39 cents on each $100.00 value applies against the value of the entire production in West Virginia, regardless of the place of the sale or the fact that deliveries are made to points outside the State.

C. (1) Business of Selling Tangible Property, Other Than at Wholesale. The rate, 50 cents on each $100.00 value, applies against the gross income of the business, without any deduction on account of the cost of the goods sold, operating or other expenses, or losses.

C. (2) Business of Selling Tangible Property at Wholesale. The rate, 19½ cents on each $100.00 value, applies against the gross income of the business, without any deduction on account of the cost of the goods sold, operating, or other expenses, or losses.

D. Public Service or Utility Business. The rates set out below apply against the gross income of the business without deduction of cost of operation, expenses or losses of any kind.

Street Interurban and Electric Railways.....	On each $100.00 value, $1.30
--	--------------------------------

Electric Light and Power Companies (sales and demand charges, domestic purposes and commercial lighting).....	On each 100.00 value, 5.20
Water Companies .....	On each 100.00 value, 4.00
Electric Light and Power Companies (all other sales and demand charges):
Natural Gas Companies: Toll Bridges.....	On each 100.00 value, 3.90
Other Public Utilities—(Except telegraph and telephone companies, railways and other transportation companies) .....	On each 100.00 value, 2.60

E. Contracting Business. The rate, $2.00 on each $100.00 value, applies against the gross income of the business. The term "gross income" is defined as meaning total receipts of the business without deduction for the cost of labor or material, operating, or other expenses, or losses.

G. Amusement Business. The rate, 65 cents on each $1.00 value, applies against the gross income of the business, "gross income" being defined as including the total receipts without any deduction on account of the cost of operation, or other expenses, or losses.

H. Service Business or Calling Not Otherwise Specifically Taxed. The rate, $1.00 on each $100.00 value, applies against the entire gross income of the business, with no deduction on account of cost of operation, taxes, losses or other expenses.

I. Rents, Royalties, Fees and Interest from the Use of Real or Personal Property of Corporations or Associations Only. The rate, $1.00 on each $100.00 value, applies against the entire gross income of the business, with no deduction on account of cost of operation, taxes, losses or other expenses.

Business activities under Article 12-A are classed and taxed as follows:

A. Motor Vehicle Carriers, Railroad Car Corporations, Express Corporations or Companies. $1.50 on each $100.00 of gross intra-state income, and $1.50 on each $100.00 of pro-rated (to determine part derived from West Virginia business) net income from all business.

B. (1) Telephone Corporations. $2.75 on each $100.00 of gross intra-state income and $2.75 on each $100.00 or pro-rated (to determine part derived from West Virginia business) net income from all business.

(2) Telegraph Corporations. $5.00 on each $100.00 of gross intra-state income and $3.50 on each $100.00 pro-rated (to determine part derived from West Virginia business) net income from all business.

C. Pipe Line Corporations. $3.50 on each $100.00 of gross intra-state income and $3.50 on each $100.00 of pro-rated (to determine part derived from West Virginia business) net income from all business.

D. Persons or Corporations, Operating Steamboats or Other Floating Property. $2.50 on each $100.00 of gross intra-state income, and $2.50 on each $100.00 of pro-rated (to determine part derived from West Virginia business) remaining gross income from all business.

E. Railroad Corporations. 50 cents on each $100.00 of assessed value of all property within the State of West Virginia, and $4.00 on each $100.00 of pro-rated (to determine part derived from West Virginia business) net income from all business.

To the normal rates imposed by Article 12-A there is added, in all cases, a surtax of 30 percent of the normal tax.

Annual exemption of $50.00 and an additional credit of 10 percent of the tax due after deduction of said exemption is provided under both the Business and Occupation and Transportation Privilege Tax Statutes.

Authorized agents of municipalities having a Gross Sales Tax Ordinance are permitted to inspect and make copies of returns filed with the State Tax Commissioner upon the written request of the Mayors of such municipalities.

TOURIST TRAVEL IN WEST VIRGINIA, 1952

AN ANALYSIS OF WEST VIRGINIA'S VACATION TRAVEL TRADE

During the past two years West Virginia's tourist business has set two important new records. In 1951 the total estimated number of vacation parties from other states for the first time exceeded the total population of West Virginia. In 1952 income from the tourist business passed the $150 million mark by a wide margin, setting an all-time record for travel expenditures in West Virginia.

Here is a report on the standing of an industry in West Virginia that has tripled its customers and almost quadrupled its income since the end of World War II. All statistics are from the 1952 Annual West Virginia Vacation Travel Survey conducted by the West Virginia Industrial and Publicity Commission.

Tourist Volume

The number of out-of-state vacationers visiting West Virginia has more than tripled since 1946, the first year in which measurements of tourist volume were made. In 1952 the total is slightly less than in 1951 but far above any other previous year. The growth of vacation travel in West Virginia since 1946 is shown below in terms of vacation parties:

Year	Number of Vacation Parties	Estimated
1946	.....	664,000
1947	.....	1,000,000
1948	.....	1,471,039
1949	.....	1,438,800
1950	.....	1,742,916
1951	.....	2,009,240
1952	.....	2,008,884

For 1952 the number of vacation parties may be multiplied by 3.3, the average number of persons per party. This results in a total of 6,629,317 individual visitors.

Income from Tourist Trade

Tourist expenditures increased in 1952 to an estimated $158,099,092 and total 19 per cent above the $132,951,411 estimated for 1951. These figures apply only to visitors from outside the state and do not include expenditures by residents of West Virginia. Growth of West Virginia's income from the tourist business is shown below:

Tourist Expenditures in West Virginia

Year	Estimated
1946	$ 44,276,000
1947	78,000,000
1948	146,500,000
1949	107,190,600
1950	119,581,467
1951	132,951,411
1952	158,099,092

Income from tourists is very widely distributed in the economy of West Virginia as illustrated by the breakdown of the 1952 expenditure total below:

$39,524,773	was spent for purchases in retail stores
34,781,800	was spent for food
26,876,846	was spent for lodging
18,971,891	was spent for auto expense including gasoline
14,228,918	was spent for amusements and theaters
11,066,936	was spent for other forms of transportation
7,904,954	was spent for confectioners and roadside stands
4,742,973	was spent for incidentals

West Virginia Travel Trends

The significant, and highly important, trend revealed in the 1952 survey of West Virginia's tourist business is that income increased at a much greater rate than physical volume.

While the number of vacation parties was roughly equal to the previous year, income from tourists increased 19 per cent in 1952. Some of this increase in total tourist expenditures was caused by higher prices for goods and services purchased but the major factor was an increased length of stay per party resulting in higher average expenditure per party. For several years the average length of stay of tourist parties in West Virginia has been declining. In 1948 the average party stayed 4.9 days in West Virginia, in 1951 average length of stay dropped to 3.5 days. In 1952, however, the trend was reversed and length of stay climbed to 4.4 days.

It is widely recognized that persuading a tourist party to stay a day longer has the same effect income-wise as attracting another party that may stay only a single day. In bringing about an increase of almost a whole day in the average length of stay and thereby adding some $25 million to its gross business the West Virginia travel industry generally has proved that it is capable of rendering satisfactory service and doing an aggressive selling job to its guests.

The decline in the average length of stay and the necessity of serving more different customers to derive the same benefit was pointed up in the 1951 survey of vacation travel in West Virginia. The problem involved the ratio of transient visitors to long-term guests. Transient visitors are those who pass through West Virginia enroute to vacation objectives in other states. Long-term guests are those who spend all or most of their vacation time in West Virginia, whether in one spot or touring from place to place. While the transients are greater in number (and entirely welcome), long-term guests naturally are more desirable from the economic point of view.

The most difficult problem in increasing the proportion of long-term visitors lies in the limited number of resort-type facilities available. These facilities, both public and private, are being expanded from year to year. They are still far from sufficient to supply present demand, however. Noteworthy opportunities for new enterprises in this field exist in many sections of the state. Although fairly substantial investments are required for mountain lodges, inns, dude ranches and other resorts providing some recreational facilities, there now is every reason to believe that they can be profitable operations in West Virginia.

Facilities for transient tourists have been greatly expended in the last few years. A large number of new motels were built during 1952 and hotels and tourist homes also have expanded.

Another important trend noted during 1952 was a substantial increase in spring and autumn business. Although the vacation travel survey did not include adequate means of measuring additional volume in so-called "off seasons", reports from various sources indicate that the level of business in those periods was much greater than in 1951. The state parks system noted important gains when it instituted for the first time reduced rates for vacation cabins during spring and autumn. This procedure brought about an increase of about 25 per cent in utilization of state park and state forest facilities. Private tourist operators also reported that high volume tourist travel began much earlier (some said early April) and lasted much later than in previous years.

SEVENTH ANNUAL WEST VIRGINIA VACATION SURVEY, 1952*How Do You Count Tourists?

How to arrive at a reasonably accurate approximation of the number of tourists visiting a particular area has proved a perplexing problem to every agency connected with the American travel business. Numerous survey methods have evolved and have been used in measuring the travel volume of different states and areas. Some systems are elaborate, some relatively simple. All tourist surveys, however, have two characteristics in common; they cannot be completely accurate because of the size and diverse character of the market that they measure, and they cannot be strictly comparable because of the many differences in measuring procedures.

With these problems in mind the West Virginia Industrial and Publicity Commission in 1946 worked out a travel survey method based upon available facilities and within the means of the limited budget available for the purpose. No attempt was made to conduct an elaborate survey similar to those made in some other states. The purpose was to provide a yardstick for measuring the relative value of West Virginia's vacation travel trade for different years and to disclose trends that would be important to both tourist service business and to the Commission in building up the trade in the future.

Here is the procedure used without alteration in each of the seven West Virginia vacation travel surveys. For data on tourist traffic volume, the survey uses statistics from 11 permanent automatic traffic counters on principal highways at widely separated points in the state. It should be pointed out that these 11 check points do not by any means carry all of the tourist traffic in West Virginia. This factor alone tends to make the estimates derived conservative. Since the automatic counters record visitor and resident alike, visual checks are made at or near each check point for a full day once during each summer month. These checks involve the recording of the state of registration of each passing vehicle and make possible the determination of the percentage of foreign licensed passenger cars in relation to total traffic. These data are provided through the cooperation of the Planning Division of the State Road Commission.

Applying the percentage of out-of-state licenses to the automatic counter totals for the three summer months—June, July and August—produces a total tourist travel figure for those months. At the outset of these surveys, an average of several national travel studies showed that approximately 74 per cent of all vacation travel occurs during June, July and August. For the purposes of this survey the tourist traffic total for June, July and August is considered to be 74 per cent of the annual total and, by the proper mathematics, the total estimate for the year is obtained.

There is considerable reason to believe that the proportion of spring and autumn travel in West Virginia has increased sufficiently to lower the percentage accorded the summer months. This would operate to increase the total estimate for the year. For example, a national survey completed in 1951 by the Curtis Publishing Company shows that only 52 per cent of all vacation travel occurs during the summer months. If that figure were applied to the West Virginia survey, the total estimated income from tourists in the Mountain State during 1952 would be $224,987,245 rather than $158,099,092 obtained with the standard 74 per cent now used. However, to retain the comparability of the latest survey with previous studies in the same series, the 74 per cent proportion will be used until more tangible evidence of a lower summer proportion is available.

It should be noted that travelers arriving by train, plane and bus are not included in these estimates. While it is recognized that automobile travelers constitute the bulk of West Virginia's tourist trade, the volume of visitors arriving by other modes of transportation is increasing rapidly. Increased airline service to West Virginia and the importance of rail transportation to certain resort areas is significant.

The sponsors of the survey go direct to the tourist for data on travel expenditures and habits. A post card questionnaire is distributed to tourist parties by hotels, tourist courts, tourist homes, state parks, service stations, and roadside parks cooperating with the Industrial and Publicity Commission. The cards are self-addressed to the Commission's offices in Charleston so that the tourist may return them direct. In addition to several questions regarding the tourist's expenditures and habits enroute, the card has space for suggestions or criticisms, most of which prove to be constructive. Some personal interviews with tourist parties are used to check the accuracy of the questionnaire returns. Although the questionnaires are tabulated without reference to previous years, the various averages have been remarkably similar each year. The data from the questionnaires together with the volume data provide the basis for the annual estimates of tourist volume and expenditures.

As a further check on the validity of the survey, an independent survey of tourist operators in West Virginia was added in 1949. Besides confirming a general increase in business, this survey brings numerous suggestions for improving the Commission's promotional program.

The sponsors make no claim as to the infallibility of these surveys, but they believe that they are extremely conservative in their statement of West Virginia's income from out-of-state vacation travelers.

HOW MANY TOURISTS?

Visual surveys of passenger car traffic in West Virginia during the three summer months revealed a higher percentage of out-of-state cars during June in 1952, slightly lower percentages in July and August. Comparative figures are shown below:

Total traffic recorded by 11 automatic counters was higher in 1952 than in 1951. Comparative figures are shown below:

1952 .....	1,394,970	1,459,590	1,549,659

Applying the percentages of foreign licensed cars to the automatic counter totals, it is found that a total of 1,486,574 tourist parties traveled in West Virginia during June, July and August. Considering this figure to be 74 per cent of the annual total, it is estimated that 2,008,883 out-of-state parties visited West Virginia during the year 1952.

HOW MUCH DID THEY SPEND?

Information about vacation spending and other characteristics of West Virginia's 1952 visitors was obtained through post card questionnaires and personal interviews. Results of the spending survey are shown below, with comparative figures for previous years.
