Com. Sub. for Senate Resolution No. 24 (originating in the Committee on the Judiciary)—Calling upon the United States Congress to propose a constitutional amendment overturning the United States Supreme Court's Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission ruling and related cases.

Whereas, In 2010, the United States Supreme Court issued its ruling in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission that enabled corporations and unions to spend unlimited amounts of money to influence the outcome of our elections; and

Whereas, A subsequent ruling, Speechnow.org v. Federal Election Commission, opened the door for individual donors to spend unlimited amounts as well; and

Whereas, The use of so-called Super PACs by wealthy individuals and special interests nationally has driven up the cost of elections to over $6 billion in the federal elections alone and reduced local voices in the democratic process; and

Whereas, In 2012, based upon Citizens United, the U. S. Supreme Court struck down a century-old long-standing Montana campaign finance law, denying states the right to regulate their elections in accordance with their experience of the corrupting influence of money in politics; and

Whereas, The people of West Virginia and all other states should have the power to limit by law the influence of money in their political systems; and

Whereas, On Election Day, 2012, over six million voters across the United States had the opportunity to vote on state and local ballot measures, including the states of Montana and Colorado, calling for a constitutional amendment to limit money in politics, including the entire states of Montana and Colorado, and all proposed resolutions passed with overwhelming and bipartisan support, averaging seventy-five percent of voters in favor; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate calls upon the United States Congress to propose a constitutional amendment overturning the United States Supreme Court's Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission ruling and related cases; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the West Virginia Senate supports an amendment to the United States Constitution to establish that corporations and unions are not entitled to the same rights and protections as natural persons under the Constitution; and, be it

Further Resolved, That such an amendment should assure the power of the federal, state and local governments to limit, regulate and require disclosure of sources of all money spent to influence elections; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the West Virginia Senate requests that the West Virginia Congressional Delegation support such an amendment, work diligently towards its passage and vote at all stages to advance such legislation in the Congress; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Vice President of the United States and the President pro Tempore of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the majority and minority leaders of both houses of Congress and to each United States Senator and Member of the House of Representatives from West Virginia.

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes a rising and existing consumer-driven market interested in purchasing locally raised and naturally raised meats, which typically sell at higher prices than conventional meats; and

Whereas, The market value of West Virginia livestock, poultry and their associated products sold annually was over $513 million during the most recent census of agricultural products; and

Whereas, The cash receipts of cattle and calves totaled $136,736,000, hogs totaled $898,000 and miscellaneous livestock (including sheep, lambs, goats, kids and others) totaled $11,910,000 for West Virginia farmers in 2011, and total sales (including poultry) from livestock products totaled $460,301,000 in that year; and

Whereas, One study finds that 7.4 jobs are created for every 1,000 cattle sent to small meat processing facilities; and

Whereas, One study found that if all of West Virginia's meat and pork was processed within the state, the meat processing industry could employ 2,585 skilled and well-paid workers; and

Whereas, It has been shown that smaller meat processing facilities produce more jobs per $1 million in meat product output than large facilities; and

Whereas, The number of meat processing facilities in the state has declined by forty percent since 1981, from thirty-five commercial plants to twenty-one commercial plants in 2012; and

Whereas, The declining number of inspected meat slaughter and processing facilities is impacting farmers' and producers' ability to meet rising and existing consumer-driven market demand for locally raised meats and the inherent success of a local meat production program depends on the availability of professional processing facilities; and

Whereas, A recent survey found that nearly half of meat slaughter and processing facilities are interested in training programs to improve their business and workforce; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes the importance of strengthening our local and regional food systems for local and regional economic development; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the cultivation of the meat processing industry in the state, including addressing workforce development needs, technical support for processors and overcoming regulatory hurdles; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Ronald F. Miller,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Miller, unanimous consent being granted, the resolutions (S. C. R. Nos. 46 and 47) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development were taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Miller, the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules.

The Senate proceeded to the fifth order of business.

Senator Unger, from the Select Committee on Children and Poverty, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Select Committee on Children and Poverty has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 48 (originating in the Select Committee on Children and Poverty)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the availability of affordable housing in West Virginia; the effect of insufficient affordable housing on a child's education; the best methods to increase availability of affordable housing to those in poverty with children; and potential sources of funding and financing for additional affordable housing.

Whereas, It is recognized that West Virginia lacks sufficient availability of affordable housing for the most impoverished of its citizens; and

Whereas, Those in poverty who face the greatest difficulties with locating safe, affordable housing are families with school-aged children; and

Whereas, The effects of a transient and unstable lifestyle are the greatest on and most detrimental to a child's education; and

Whereas, Several entities exist that provide assistance in addressing this problem, including the West Virginia Housing Development Fund and the West Virginia Affordable Housing Trust Fund; and

Whereas, There are many options in funding additional affordable housing, many of which need further exploration and consideration; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the availability of affordable housing in West Virginia; the effect of insufficient affordable housing on a child's education; the best methods to increase availability of affordable housing to those in poverty with children; and potential sources of funding and financing for additional affordable housing; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate Select Committee on Children and Poverty, the West Virginia Housing Development Fund and the West Virginia Affordable Housing Trust Fund are requested to assist the Joint Committee on Government and Finance in its study of affordable housing availability; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its

findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 49—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the impact of the Limited Video Lottery Act on children and poverty in West Virginia.

Whereas, Since the adoption of the Limited Video Lottery Act, West Virginia has seen an explosion in the number of video lottery machines in operation in West Virginia communities; and

Whereas, Significant numbers of video lottery machines are operated in convenience stores, restaurants and other establishments frequented by West Virginia consumers and wage earners, rather than at destination resorts and large racetracks; and

Whereas, Anecdotal observations by clergy members and social service providers in the rural parts of West Virginia indicate that many families are made to suffer because parents spend unreasonably on video lottery; and

Whereas, The effects of poverty fall disproportionately on children rather than the parents whose actions often impoverish the family; and

Whereas, Adequate time has passed to allow the effects of the Limited Video Lottery Act to be fully realized in West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the impact of the Limited Video Lottery Act on children and poverty in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senate Resolution No. 63—Recognizing the one hundredth year of the West Virginia Division of Highways.

Whereas, Prior to 1913, the West Virginia Legislature designated that all road work was under the direct authority of the county courts and the county road engineer; and

Whereas, In 1913, the West Virginia Legislature saw fit to create the State Road Bureau to oversee a coordinated roadway system to serve the citizens of this state; and

Whereas, The Federal Aid Road Act of 1916 provided federal aid to those states for the improvement of any road on which the United States mail is or may be transported; and

Whereas, The Federal Aid Road Act of 1916 required states to provide a match to receive federal funds to establish a state highway department that shall oversee the maintenance of state highways; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Legislature replaced the State Road Bureau with the State Road Commission in 1917 and agreed to match federal funds and maintain all roads constructed with federal-aid funds; and

Whereas, In 1920, the first bonds were issued under the Good Roads Amendment, which provided up to $50 million for construction of roads to connect county seats in the state; and

Whereas, In 1921, the West Virginia Legislature dedicated motor vehicle license fees to a newly created State Road Fund; and

Whereas, In 1923, the West Virginia Legislature enacted the first gasoline tax of two cents per gallon dedicated to the State Road Fund for the repayment of highway bonds and for the repair, maintenance and reconstruction of roads and highways; and

Whereas, In 1933, the West Virginia Legislature passed an act to place practically all roads on the State Road System and relieve the counties of their maintenance of roads; and

Whereas, Said act transferred 4,417 roads designated as the State's Primary System and 29,098 miles of roadways in a Secondary System; and

Whereas, In 1948, construction began on the state's first limited-access highway: US 119/WV 10 in Logan County; and

Whereas, In November, 1954, the first high-speed expressway was opened as a two-lane toll road from Charleston to Princeton and named the West Virginia Turnpike; and

Whereas, The Appalachian Regional Development Act was passed by Congress in 1965 to promote commerce in Appalachia with the development of a highway system; and

Whereas, The Federal-Aid Highway Act was passed in 1968 by Congress and established the national bridge inspection standards as a result of the 1967 tragedy when forty-six souls lost their lives as a result of the collapse of the Silver Bridge in Point Pleasant; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Legislature renamed the State Road Commission the Department of Highways; and

Whereas, The Department of Highways completed construction of the award-winning New River Gorge Bridge on US 19 in Fayetteville, creating the world's longest single-span steel arch bridge with a length of 3,030 feet and a 876-foot rise above the New River; and

Whereas, In 1988, the Department of Highways completed the final section of Interstate with the opening of Interstate 64 from Sam Black Church to Beckley and the 2,179-foot Glade Creek Bridge in Raleigh County; and

Whereas, In 1989, the West Virginia Legislature reorganized state government, creating a Department of Transportation and renaming the department as the Division of Highways; and

Whereas, During the construction of the Interstate Highway System and the Appalachian Corridor System, the Division of Highways had over ten thousand employees and served as a major economic source for the state by employing thousands of construction workers, suppliers and manufacturers; and

Whereas, With the completion of the majority of major highways, the Division of Highways today oversees approximately thirty-six thousand miles of highways with approximately five thousand employees; and

Whereas, The Division of Highways is only one of four states charged with the massive task of maintaining most highways in the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes the one hundredth year of the West Virginia Division of Highways; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate hereby honors the West Virginia Division of Highways for one hundred years of service in developing a safe statewide transportation system; and, be it

Whereas, The Bluefield Beavers completed an amazing 2012-2013 basketball season, finishing with a record of 25-3 and winning the first boys’ basketball title for Bluefield High School in seventeen years; and

Whereas, The Bluefield Beavers are led by head coach Charles Large and assistant coaches David Hubbard, Tony Webster and Don Jones; and

Whereas, The Bluefield Beavers team consists of players Dakoda Smalls, Brandon Lilly, David Edwards, Anthony Eades, Lykel Collier, Trevor Mullins, Michael Yost, Jordan Ponder, David Woodrum, Corey Coppola, Matthew Woodrum, Douglas Miller, Jordan Masterson and Raheem Reed; and

Whereas, The Bluefield Beavers accomplished this outstanding athletic feat in the one hundredth year of West Virginia high school basketball; and

Whereas, The Bluefield Beavers displayed their strong will and fierce determination for an entire season and will be remembered as one of the best boys’ basketball teams in West Virginia high school sports history; therefore, be it

At the request of Senator Cole, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and resumed business under the sixth order.

Senators Snyder, Stollings, Unger, Wells, Fitzsimmons, Kessler (Mr. President) and Palumbo offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 65—Designating April 10, 2013, as “Crime Victims Day at the Legislature”.

Whereas, The West Virginia Crime Victims Compensation Fund is celebrating Crime Victims Day at the Legislature by providing all of the crime victim agencies and individuals who serve victims of crime an opportunity to educate the members of the Legislature and the public about the many services available to assist victims of crime and their families throughout our state; and

Whereas, The many agencies and individuals serving victims of crime and their families in West Virginia strive to foster the healing of victims and their families through treatment for their many needs including, but not limited to, advocacy for and on behalf of victims and their families, medical treatment and mental health counseling, compensation and restitution; and

Whereas, The many organizations and individuals that provide assistance to victims of crime and their families make valuable contributions to those who have been affected by crime in our state; and

Whereas, West Virginia is proud of the accomplishments and achievements of the many organizations and individuals who serve the needs of victims of crime and appreciate their many contributions to our communities; and

Whereas, There are also many victims or family members present on this special day to foster understanding by the public of the effects of victimization; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby designates April 10, 2013, as “Crime Victims Day at the Legislature”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate expresses its appreciation to the many organizations which serve victims of crime and their families throughout our state and for the dedication of those individuals who serve these organizations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the appropriate official with the West Virginia Crime Victims Compensation Fund.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

At the request of Senator Unger, and by unanimous consent, the Senate returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Stollings, from the Committee on Health and Human Resources, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Health and Human Resources has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 50 (originating in the Committee on Health and Human Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study abuse deterrent formulations for opioid medications.

Whereas, Over one hundred million adults in the United States suffer from chronic pain, including millions with debilitating conditions like arthritis, fibromyalgia and lower back pain; and

Whereas, Chronic pain likely costs West Virginia millions of dollars each year in lost productivity, added health costs and increased expenditures for Medicaid; and

Whereas, The significant and justified concentration of attention on limiting substance abuse in our state has placed health care providers and patients in a difficult position as barriers to pain treatment have been considered; and

Whereas, New technologies are available that can protect the integrity of pain medications so they may not be altered in form for the ease of substance abusers to use illegally; and

Whereas, The federal Food and Drug Administration is currently studying the application of abuse deterrent formulation (ADF) technologies for use in opioid medications; and

Whereas, The introduction of ADF technologies into the pain medication arena is of great potential significance to West Virginia as a method to ensure the continued access of patients to these important medicines and to the general interests of the state as a strategy to limit substance abuse problems; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study abuse deterrent formulations for opioid medications; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is requested to conduct a study on the issues of West Virginians' access to effective pain management medications and the need for the Bureau for Medical Services and the Public Employees Insurance Agency to require the adoption of abuse deterrent formulation technologies for pain medicines in order to assist in the state's continuing efforts to eliminate substance abuse; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 51 (originating in the Committee on Health and Human Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the needs, challenges and issues facing West Virginia's senior citizens in finding personal care services.

Whereas, West Virginia currently has the second largest senior population in the country with sixteen percent of the state's population being sixty-five years of age or older; and

Whereas, It is projected that by 2035 nearly one in four state residents will be sixty-five years of age or older; and

Whereas, It has been estimated that over eight out of ten individuals sixty-five years of age and older will suffer one or more chronic disease conditions in their lifetime with six out of ten facing the need for long-term care; and

Whereas, The availability of personal care services is crucial to allowing individuals to remain in their homes, preserving a better quality of life as they age by avoiding long-term institutional care; and

Whereas, A recent informal survey of personal care providers in West Virginia determined many personal care programs currently operating in the state provide limited hours of service availability, may face workforce issues limiting availability including a lack of educational incentives, training programs and low compensation and have inestimable waiting lists for services; and

Whereas, An increasingly aged population will place more demand on the availability of such personal care services with national studies estimating the need for personal care aides to grow by seventy percent in the current decade; and

Whereas, The current certificate of need standards and processes for personal care services have not been updated for several years which may have the effect of limiting the availability of personal care services and freedom of choice; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to conduct a study of the needs, challenges and issues facing West Virginia's senior citizens in finding personal care services; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its

findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 52 (originating in the Committee on Health and Human Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study tobacco use in West Virginia, with emphasis on cigarette smoking prevalence, smoking-related deaths, smoking-related economic costs and tobacco prevention policies focused on smoke-free workplaces.

Whereas, West Virginia continues to have one of the highest rates of cigarette smoking in the country and despite successes in reducing smoking among West Virginia youth there have yet to be any declines in smoking among West Virginia adults; and

Whereas, According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, cigarette smoking harms nearly every organ in the body and causes 443,000 deaths each year in the U. S. In West Virginia, on average, 3,770 adults age thirty-five and older die each year from diseases related to cigarette smoking and about nineteen percent of all deaths of West Virginia adults age thirty-five and older are caused by cigarette smoking; and

Whereas, Smoking-related economic costs can be separated into: (1) Direct health care costs related to cigarette smoking; and (2) productivity losses due to smoking-related deaths; and

Whereas, It is estimated that the annual direct health care costs resulting from tobacco use is over $700 million, and the estimated annual lost productivity (lost wages and other economic contributions of those who died early) amount to over $1 billion; and

Whereas, Tobacco prevention policies and smoke-free workplaces go hand-in-hand to help combat the costs associated with tobacco use, including in those organizations such as health care facilities and related institutions dedicated to health and the discouragement of tobacco use by the general public. According to the CDC in a 2011 report, it was found that between 11.8 and 23.7 percent of health care workers in the United States, varying according to their role within the industry, are smokers; and

Whereas, The prevalence of smoking among health care workers has been perceived to undermine the public health message of these health care institutions with regards to smoking; and

Whereas, This Legislature shares these public health concerns surrounding tobacco use, and further discussion on how best to address the issue is needed; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study tobacco use in West Virginia, with emphasis on cigarette smoking prevalence, smoking-related deaths, smoking-related economic costs and tobacco prevention policies focused on smoke-free workplaces; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Ron Stollings,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Stollings, unanimous consent being granted, the resolutions (S. C. R. Nos. 50, 51 and 52) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Health and Human Resources were taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Stollings, the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Beach, from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 53 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the disbursement of a portion of West Virginia Turnpike toll receipts for the use of the counties in which the Turnpike is located.

Whereas, The West Virginia Turnpike provides an efficient and rapid means of transit through the counties of Kanawha, Fayette, Raleigh and Mercer; and

Whereas, West Virginia Turnpike's traffic base is mixed, in that it has both an intrastate and a significant interstate component; and

Whereas, The original purposes for the development of the Turnpike included developing and improving tourist facilities and attractions in the state and promoting the agricultural, economic and industrial development of the state; and

Whereas, The restricted access points of the Turnpike's construction provide reduced opportunities for this highway's nonresident travelers to interact with the local economies of communities surrounding the Turnpike's route; and

Whereas, Vehicular accidents, spills of hazardous cargos and other emergency situations on the West Virginia Turnpike have placed increasing demands of time and resources from local emergency response services; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Turnpike generates millions of dollars in toll receipts per year; and

Whereas, Sharing a portion of toll receipts with the counties that host the West Virginia Turnpike could improve emergency responses and tourist facilities in such counties; and

Whereas, Sharing a portion of toll receipts with the counties that provide support to the operation of the West Virginia Turnpike may result in a mutual benefit for those counties and for the West Virginia Parkways Authority; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the disbursement of a portion of West Virginia Turnpike toll receipts for the use of the counties in which the Turnpike is located; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the potential benefits, impact and feasibility of disbursing a portion of West Virginia Turnpike toll

receipts to the counties of Fayette, Kanawha, Mercer and Raleigh, with consideration to be given to the appropriate percentage of those receipts that may suitably benefit the supporting communities and serve the purposes for which the West Virginia Turnpike was established; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 54 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the benefits of consolidating the definitions of “ATV” and similar vehicles for consistency throughout the West Virginia Code and of limiting liability for bike pathways and trail systems.

Whereas, Outdoor recreation involving all-terrain vehicles, other vehicles designed for off-road use and bikes is steadily increasing in popularity in West Virginia and across the country; and

Whereas, The establishment of the Hatfield-McCoy all-terrain vehicle (ATV) trail system has brought a demonstrated economic benefit to the counties in which the trail system is located and has shown West Virginia to be innovative in the development of opportunities for tourism and recreation; and

Whereas, The Legislature provided the seeds for the creation of this ATV trail system by establishing the Hatfield-McCoy Regional Recreational Authority and the legal framework for a multicounty project with participation of public entities, private individuals and businesses; and

Whereas, That essential legal framework included specific provisions defining and limiting the legal responsibilities of landowners and others with interests in property related to the trail system and the responsibilities of those using the trail system; and

Whereas, There are many additional areas within West Virginia that have comparable potential as outstanding tourism and recreation destinations if similar legal definitions and limits are established for property owners and property users; and

Whereas, The Code of West Virginia contains multiple definitions in various locations for the terms “ATV”, “all-terrain vehicle” and “utility terrain vehicle” that have the potential to diverge in inconsistent ways; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the benefits of consolidating the definitions of “ATV” and similar vehicles for consistency throughout the West Virginia Code and of limiting liability for bike pathways and trail systems; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the benefits of limiting liability for government and private entities relating to their acts and services provided in connection with bike pathways and trail systems, and to study the benefit of consolidating definitions for all-terrain vehicles and other off-road, recreational vehicles within a central reference area of the Code of West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts

of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 55 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the consolidation of the operations and functions of the West Virginia Parkways Authority within the Division of Highways.

Whereas, The West Virginia Parkways Authority was created in 1989 and was assigned the powers, duties and functions of the former West Virginia Turnpike Commission; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Parkways Authority has an annual operating budget of approximately $83 million; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Parkways Authority and the Division of Highways both exist as separate administrative agencies within the State Department of Transportation; and

Whereas, Many of the operations and functions of the West Virginia Parkways Authority mirror those of the Division of Highways, including, but not limited to, maintenance of the road surface, rights of way and highway structures, administration of human resources, accounting, purchasing, and project specification and management; and

Whereas, The continued operation of two separate agencies carrying out similar functions perpetuates inherent inefficiencies in the provision of services to the public and unnecessary duplication of costs; and

Whereas, The continued operation of the West Virginia Turnpike as an express vehicular corridor with restricted access to facilitate rapid and safe transit through southern West Virginia will continue to benefit the people and the economy of the State of West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the consolidation of the operations and functions of the West Virginia Parkways Authority within the Division of Highways; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the potential benefits, impact and feasibility of dissolving the West Virginia Parkways Authority and transferring all of the powers, duties and functions of that agency to the Division of Highways while preserving the character of the West Virginia Turnpike as a financially self-supporting highway unit through tolls and restricted access; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 56 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the proposed

Safe and Efficient Transportation Act of 2013 and the potential impact of its implementation in West Virginia.

Whereas, The Safe and Efficient Transportation Act of 2013 was introduced in the 113th Congress on February 12, 2013; and

Whereas, The act would give states the authority to allow 97,000-pound, six-axle vehicles access to the interstate highway system; and

Whereas, Such six-axle trucks carrying 97,000 pounds would maintain weight per axle, tire displacement and braking distance while carrying seventeen percent more ton-miles per gallon than five-axle trucks; and

Whereas, The U. S. Department of Transportation estimates that six-axle trucks would save two billion gallons of diesel fuel annually, a nineteen-percent decrease in fuel consumption; and

Whereas, The sixth axle reduces weight per tire impact on pavement that can help increase pavement wear savings; and

Whereas, The use of six-axle trucks may reduce accidents, reduce costs and benefit the environment and commerce; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the proposed Safe and Efficient Transportation Act of 2013 and the potential impact of its implementation in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the potential benefits, disadvantages, impact and feasibility of implementing the provisions of the Safe and Efficient Transportation Act in West

Virginia, including the effect on West Virginia infrastructure; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert D. Beach,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Beach, unanimous consent being granted, the resolutions (S. C. R. Nos. 53, 54, 55 and 56) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure were taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Beach, the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Laird, from the Committee on Natural Resources, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Natural Resources has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 57 (originating in the Committee on Natural Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study how to maintain the State Park System and find a dedicated source of revenue to address the maintenance, repair and renovation of West Virginia’s beautiful but aging state parks to ensure they continue to provide recreation and enjoyment to the citizens of the state and its visitors.

Whereas, The mission of the West Virginia State Park System since its inception has been to promote conservation by preserving and protecting natural areas of unique or exceptional scenic, scientific, cultural, archeological or historical significance and to provide outdoor recreational opportunities for the citizens of this state and its visitors; and

Whereas, The West Virginia State Park System attracts approximately 6.5 million visitors per year and contributes over $126 million of economic activity to the state; and

Whereas, Many of the facilities, such as the cabins, administrative buildings and picnic shelters were constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s, and many of the lodges were constructed during the 1950s and 1960s and are over fifty years old; and

Whereas, If these aging facilities are not able to be repaired and maintained, visitor safety will be jeopardized and the state parks of West Virginia may not be available to future generations; and

Whereas, There is currently an estimated backlog of maintenance needs to these facilities in excess of $25 million, which continues to increase on a yearly basis when projects are neglected due to lack of funding; and

Whereas, Only $5 million from the state, which comes from lottery revenue, is currently devoted to maintenance, repairs and renovations to these facilities; and

Whereas, The last Legislative Performance Audit of the State Park System suggested that a minimum of $3 million be allotted for this purpose; and

Whereas, HB2060 was introduced, suggesting that an additional soft drink tax be implemented and dedicated to a state park maintenance and improvement fund; and

Whereas, Other states have various dedicated revenue sources, such as Arkansas' one-eighth percent sales tax and North Carolina's real estate transfer tax, devoted to state parks; and

Whereas, A study should be conducted of potential revenue sources that could be devoted to relieving the backlog of current maintenance needs of the State Park System; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study how to maintain the State Park System and find a dedicated source of revenue to address the maintenance, repair and renovation of West Virginia's beautiful but aging state parks to ensure they continue to provide recreation and enjoyment to the citizens of the state and its visitors; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 58 (originating in the Committee on Natural Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the laws pertaining to the use of firearms for hunting and recreational shooting enthusiasts.

Whereas, 247,000 hunters in West Virginia generate over $552,000 annually in economic benefit; and

Whereas, Hunters support wildlife management activities on eighty-one wildlife management areas and eight state forests accounting for more than 400,000 acres and more than one million acres of national forest lands; and

Whereas, There are twenty-six public shooting ranges on wildlife management areas and recreational shooting enthusiasts currently may use them without any fee or hunting license; and

Whereas, The wildlife management is funded with excise taxes generated from the purchase of firearms and ammunition under the Pittman-Robertson Act; and

Whereas, The State of West Virginia desires to encourage and increase the number of hunters and shooting enthusiasts to continue its rich hunting heritage and to financially support the wildlife management areas; and

Whereas, State laws do not require shooting enthusiasts to have a valid hunting license or shooting range permit and therefore their purchase of firearms and ammunition cannot be added to the state's rightful proportion of the excise taxes; and

Whereas, State laws that promote and support recreational shooting and the purchase of firearms and ammunition have a positive impact on hunting opportunities in the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the laws pertaining to the use of firearms for hunting and recreational shooting enthusiasts; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 59 (originating in the Committee on Natural Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the laws, rules and regulations applying to electrical standards for boat docks and marinas to improve the safety of users in memory of Michael Cunningham.

Whereas, West Virginia is known for its beautiful and abundant waterways, lakes and rivers that attract tourists and boost the economy; and

Whereas, Waterways, lakes and rivers should be a safe place for children and families to enjoy; and

Whereas, There have been recent, unfortunate cases where children and adults have been injured and/or killed while swimming in water that was electrified by ungrounded and improper electrical connections to boat docks and marinas, including the death of Michael Cunningham; and

Whereas, Electricity and water create a deadly combination that can paralyze a swimmer and cause drowning; and

Whereas, Children are particularly vulnerable to electrocution and shock in the water; and

Whereas, Bringing boat docks and marinas up to the National Fire Protection Association and National Electric Code Standards for boat docks and marinas is necessary for the protection and safety of all those who enjoy West Virginia waterways, lakes and rivers; and

Whereas, The laws, rules and regulations applying to boat docks and marinas, and the rules, standards and training applicable to licensed electricians and electrical inspectors are complex and require further study to determine how best to implement the requisite changes to the code and rules; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the laws, rules and regulations applying to electrical standards for boat docks and marinas to improve the safety of users in memory of Michael Cunningham; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 60 (originating in the Committee on Natural Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the feasibility of the Division of Natural Resources entering into lease agreements or other cooperative arrangements to provide public hunting and other outdoor recreational opportunities on large tracts of corporate-owned land in southern West Virginia.

Whereas, There are limited public lands available in southern West Virginia for residents to hunt and pursue other outdoor recreational activities; and

Whereas, There are many large tracts of corporate-owned timberlands in southern West Virginia suitable for hunting and other outdoor recreational activities; and

Whereas, There is a potential for utilization of these lands for public hunting and other recreational opportunities through lease agreements or other cooperative arrangements between the Division of Natural Resources and these corporate landowners; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the feasibility of the Division of Natural Resources entering into lease agreements or other cooperative arrangements to provide public hunting and other outdoor recreational opportunities on large tracts of corporate-owned land in southern West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

William R. Laird IV,
Chair.

Your Committee on Government Organization has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 61 (originating in the Committee on Government Organization)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the economic and community development challenges and opportunities associated with abandoned and dilapidated structures in West Virginia.

Whereas, Abandoned and dilapidated residential and commercial structures have negative impacts on local property values and property tax revenue, create increased local expenditures for additional protection and maintenance and serve as health and safety hazards to local communities; and

Whereas, Communities have found that abandoned and vacant buildings create areas for crime and drug activity; and

Whereas, Census data revealed a 41 percent increase in vacant structures in West Virginia between 1990 and 2011; and

Whereas, Demolishing abandoned and dilapidated structures may increase property values and economic potential in surrounding areas; and

Whereas, Increased recruitment of local, regional and national business opportunities relies on maintaining clean, attractive and safe communities; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the economic and community development challenges and opportunities associated with abandoned and dilapidated structures in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

On motion of Senator Palumbo, the Senate requested the return from the House of Delegates of Eng. Com. Sub. for House Bill No. 2815, Clarifying and modifying the process of appointing and terminating guardians for minors.

Passed by the Senate in prior proceedings today,

The bill still being in the possession of the Senate,

On motion of Senator Palumbo, the Senate reconsidered its action by which in earlier proceedings today it adopted the Judiciary committee amendment to the title of the bill (shown in the Senate Journal of today, pages 1427 and 1428).

The vote thereon having been reconsidered,

At the request of Senator Facemire, unanimous consent being granted, Senators Facemire, Plymale, Kessler (Mr. President), Barnes, Beach, Blair, Boley, Cann, Carmichael, Chafin, Cole, Cookman, Edgell, Fitzsimmons, Green, D. Hall, M. Hall, Jenkins, Kirkendoll, Laird, McCabe, Miller, Nohe, Palumbo, Prezioso, Snyder, Stollings, Sypolt, Tucker, Unger, Walters, Wells, Williams and Yost offered the following resolution from the floor:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 62—Urging the United States Army Corps of Engineers and Federal Highways Administration to respect state land use planning processes in carrying out their duties under the National Environmental Policy Act and Clean Water Act and to reject any proposed alternatives which fail to give full effect to state land use planning decisions and urging the United States Environmental Protection Agency to cease its interference with achievement of the goals of state land use planning.

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States of America establishes a system of dual sovereignty in which certain powers and authority are assigned to the federal government and certain powers and authority are reserved to state governments; and

Whereas, The Constitution reserves power and authority over land use planning to state and local governments; and

Whereas, Congress, in the first section of the federal Clean Water Act, makes it clear that “[i]t is the policy of the Congress to recognize, preserve and protect the primary responsibilities of States . . . to plan the development and use (including restoration, preservation and enhancement) of land and water resources”, 33 U. S. C. §1251(b); and

Whereas, Historically, the economies of the coalfield counties of West Virginia have lacked the diversification necessary to sustain them following the extraction of the readily mineable coal in these counties, primarily due to a lack of developable land; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognized the unique ability of the mining industry to address this issue by creating developable land as a post-mine land use. Therefore, it has established a land use planning process calling for Land Use Master Plans to be developed at the county level, subject to standards established by the Office of Coalfield Community Development, to plan for post-coal mining economic development in these areas; and

Whereas, It was the intent of the Legislature that counties emulate in their land use planning processes the model developed by the Mingo County Redevelopment Authority under the direction of former executive director, the late Mike Whitt; and

Whereas, In 2002, the Mingo County Redevelopment Authority hired an engineering company to develop a Land Use Master Plan. The authority entered into a collective agreement with a mining contractor to construct a utilities corridor, whereby the following year the West Virginia Department of Transportation signed a contract with the contractor for construction of the I-73/I-74 King Coal Highway, Red Jacket Section, and the Federal Highway Administration authorized funds for the project; and

Whereas, In 2004, Mike Whitt and the Mingo County Redevelopment Authority were awarded the EPA's Region 3 Phoenix Award, an award that recognizes individuals and groups who are working to solve the critical environmental challenge of transforming abandoned industrial areas into productive new uses. The most notable of new uses are development of the Mingo County Wood Products and Industrial Park; development of the Belo Industrial Park; development of Mingo County Fish Hatchery; construction of the new Mingo Central High School; construction of the Air Transportation Park; and construction of the Coal-To-Liquids Plant; as well as future housing subdivisions, commercial developments and recreation areas such as the Twisted Gun Golf Course; and

Whereas, These plans were developed by the Mingo County Redevelopment Authority through public meetings and public hearings and were eventually approved by the Mingo County commission; and

Whereas, The Mingo County Land Use Master Plan envisions that the land on the top of Buffalo Mountain and vicinity in Mingo County be utilized for construction of the four-lane I-73/I-74 King Coal Highway along with hundreds of acres of flat land alongside it for economic development; and

Whereas, Senator Robert Byrd secured $3 million for infrastructure development for the corridor construction and secured an additional $3.2 million in 2008; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has approved a surface mine permit for Consol of Kentucky which authorizes Consol of Kentucky to mine Buffalo Mountain and vicinity and requires it to provide the road bed for a five-mile segment of the King Coal Highway, along with hundreds of acres of developable land alongside it, all at no cost to the state or the federal government; and

Whereas, The construction of the I-73/I-74 Corridor from Taylorsville to Gilbert Creek, approximately eleven miles, includes infrastructure improvements and planned development, utilizing each valuable section of property for a “greater and better use” as defined in the Clean Water Act of 1972; and

Whereas, The post-mine land use approved by the Department of Environmental Protection for Buffalo Mountain and vicinity fully comports with the Mingo County Land Use Master Plan and will save the federal and state governments over $110 million in highway construction costs and will provide Mingo County the opportunity to achieve a diversified post-coal economy, all as intended by the Legislature; and

Whereas, The Army Corps of Engineers is considering the application of Consol of Kentucky for the permit Consol needs under Section 404 of the federal Clean Water Act in order to accomplish its mining and approved post-mine land use in accordance with the Mingo County Land Use Master Plan; and

Whereas, Incident to the Corps' Section 404 permitting, it is participating with the Federal Highways Administration in development of a Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act for the highway alignment on Buffalo Mountain, economic development, mining and other ancillary activities; and

Whereas, The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is advocating that the Federal Highways Administration and the Corps consider its alternative design for the mine and highway road bed, which would eliminate all of the flat land for economic development along the highway, disregarding and contradicting the Mingo County Land Use Master Plan and the whole purpose behind the land use planning policy established for this sovereign state by the Legislature; and

Whereas, The Federal Highways Administration and the Corps are accepting comments on their Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement through May 22, 2013; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby urges the United States Army Corps of Engineers and Federal Highways Administration to respect state land use planning processes in carrying out their duties under the National Environmental Policy Act and Clean Water Act and to reject any proposed alternatives which fail to give full effect to state land use planning decisions and urges the United States Environmental Protection Agency to cease its interference with achievement of the goals of state land use planning; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the West Virginia Legislature declares that the post-mine land use approved by the Department of Environmental Protection for Buffalo Mountain to be in accordance with the Mingo County Land Use Master Plan and the state's policy for land use planning; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislature strongly believes the alternative design advocated by the United States EPA: (1) Violates the Mingo County Land Use Master Plan and the state's policy for land use planning; (2) cannot be considered to be a legitimate alternative to the design approved by the DEP; and (3) must be rejected by the Army Corps of Engineers and Federal Highways Administration; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislature requests that the United States EPA respect the state's land use planning processes and cease its interference in the state's attempts to achieve the goals of these processes in this case and in all others; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Governor of West Virginia for inclusion, along with any remarks he cares to provide as to the comments of the State of West Virginia on this matter, to the Army Corps of Engineers, Federal Highways Administration, United States EPA, Council on Environmental Quality and such other persons as he sees fit.

At the request of Senator Facemire, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and reference to a committee dispensed with.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution, the same was put and prevailed.

Ordered, That The Clerk communicate to the House of Delegates the action of the Senate and request concurrence therein.

Hall, Jenkins, Laird, McCabe, Miller, Nohe, Palumbo, Plymale, Prezioso, Snyder, Stollings, Sypolt, Tucker, Unger, Walters, Wells, Williams and Yost offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 63—Recognizing July 16 as “Atomic Veterans Day of Remembrance” in West Virginia.

Whereas, On July 16, 1945, the world’s first atomic bomb, code-named “Trinity” was detonated in Alamogordo, New Mexico, and from that date until June 12, 1963, there were 1,054 nuclear devices detonated in tests considered vital to our national security, and approximately 750,000 U. S. military and civilian personnel participated in these experimental endeavors; and

Whereas, Many of the nation’s veterans, including residents of West Virginia, were subjected to varying amounts of radiation because of this testing of atomic weapons; and

Whereas, The potential harm to these veterans was unknown at the time of the testing, resulting in the exposure of many veterans to

harmful doses of radiation and causing them to suffer debilitating, degenerative diseases that affect the veterans and their descendants; and

Whereas, Veterans who were early test subjects were required to sign an oath of secrecy regarding their involvement in the atomic testing, preventing these veterans from informing the Veterans Health Administration of their medical problems that resulted from radiation until 1996, when these veterans were released from their oaths of secrecy; and

Whereas, In 1979, the National Association of Atomic Veterans was created to locate these veterans, to honor the sacrifices they made and to help these veterans and their families in obtaining medical treatment and assistance; and

Whereas, By engaging in a national research and education effort for atomic war veterans, the National Association of Atomic Veterans is promoting early detection of medical problems and research and documentation of the connection between radiation exposure and resultant cancer and other debilitating, degenerative diseases and genetic mutations; and

Whereas, In the time since these detonations, roughly fifty percent of the men and women who participated in the testing have experienced the harmful effects of exposure to ionizing radiation, yet these veterans who were injured in the line of duty received no medals because they were not in combat; and

Whereas, The number of members in this group is rapidly decreasing because of the age of these veterans, and thus it is important to recognize these individuals who sacrificed so much in serving our country and who are deserving of our immense gratitude; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby recognizes July 16 as “Atomic Veterans Day of Remembrance” in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislature encourages the Governor, the Department of Veterans’ Assistance and all West Virginians to take part in this significant observance; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to Haskell Watts, Jr., West Virginia State Commander of the National Association of Atomic Veterans, the Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Veterans’ Assistance and the Governor of West Virginia.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Chafin, Cole, Stollings, Unger and D. Hall offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 64—Requesting the Division of Highways to name County Route 15, Mercer County, between mileposts 0.00 and 5.1 from Bramwell, West Virginia, to Montcalm, West Virginia, the “River Road Music Heritage Trail”.

Whereas, The Bluestone River, originating with a trickle out of a spring at East River Mountain, flows its course to the mighty Bluestone Dam in Summers County, West Virginia; and

Whereas, Rock cliffs, small waterfalls, springs and gorges all make up the beauty of the Bluestone River’s seventy-seven miles; and

Whereas, The Bluestone River grows wider and deeper as it collects these mountain streams and creeks; and

Whereas, The Bluestone River collects Simmons Creek at Bramwell and Lorton Lick at Montcalm, the beginning of the River Road; and

Whereas, River Road flows along the Bluestone River and the original Norfolk & Western Railroad line; and

Whereas, The Bluestone River is a geographic divider of coal to its northwest. It was this rich seam of Pocahontas coal that created a coal boom in the 1880s. It was the new industry of coal-mining that brought families to southern West Virginia for jobs in mining, railroading and related industries; and

Whereas, These pioneer families brought not only hard-working ethics but also their talents and gifts; and

Whereas, From Simmons Creek to Lorton Lick six families gave the world the enduring gift of their musical heritage; and

Whereas, Working hard for a living from sunrise, relaxation was spent on front porches at dusk, listening to the lonesome whistle of coal and passenger trains chugging up the river, and playing music and singing songs handed down to younger generations. Neighbors up and down the River Road were serenaded at twilight by these families; and

Whereas, The Goins brothers, the Dillon family, the Kirby family, the Duncan family and West Virginia's own Hazel Dickens are well known for their contributions to bluegrass, gospel, traditional mountain music and even rock and roll; and

Whereas, These families made unquantifiable contributions to music during almost a century in the early days of coal; and

Whereas, As Lorton Lick empties into the Bluestone River, the community of Montcalm sprang up, where Hazel Dickens grew up on a mountainside there, overlooking the river; and

Whereas, Hazel Dickens spent a lifetime making others feel good with her songs; and

Whereas, Hazel Dickens' final resting place is in Mercer County; and

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that in this, the 150th year of the State of West Virginia and the 125th year of Bramwell, West Virginia, that the Legislature of West Virginia recognizes the legendary families of bluegrass, gospel and traditional mountain music who were born and grew up along the Bluestone River with the gift of music in their hearts and a desire to share that gift with the world; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name County Route 15, Mercer County, between mileposts 0.00 and 5.1 from Bramwell, West Virginia, to Montcalm, West Virginia, the "River Road Music Heritage Trail"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislature is hereby requested to name each one-mile stretch of the "River Road Music Heritage Trail" "The Goins Brothers Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Dillon Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Kirby Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Raines Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail" and "The Hazel Dickens Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", respectively, with "The Hazel Dickens Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail" concluding in Montcalm, West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the "River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Goins Brothers Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Dillon Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Kirby Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Raines Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail" and "The Hazel Dickens Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation and to the Mayor of Bramwell, West Virginia.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Stollings, Yost, Wells, Unger, Williams, Prezioso, Kessler (Mr. President), D. Hall, Jenkins, Tucker and Fitzsimmons offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 65—Designating the State of West Virginia as a Purple Heart State.

Whereas, General George Washington, as the leader of the Continental Army, first introduced the Badge of Military Merit in 1782, instructing that it be awarded “not only [in] instances of unusual gallantry, but also of extraordinary fidelity and essential services in any way”. General Washington went on to describe the figure of a heart in purple cloth, and it eventually became known as the Purple Heart, and is the nation’s oldest military award; and

Whereas, While the badge was not awarded for some years after the Revolutionary War, and only intermittently during the late 1920s, on February 22, 1932, the two hundredth anniversary of George Washington’s birth, General Douglas MacArthur announced the reestablishment of the Purple Heart Medal, in memory and honor of George Washington’s military achievements; and

Whereas, The contributions and sacrifices of the men and women from the State of West Virginia who have served and are serving in the armed forces have been vital in maintaining the freedoms and way of life enjoyed by its citizens; and

Whereas, Many men and women in uniform have given their lives while serving in the armed forces; and

Whereas, Many citizens of the State of West Virginia have earned the Purple Heart Medal as a result of being wounded while engaged in combat with an enemy force, recognized as a singularly meritorious act of essential service; and

Whereas, The State of West Virginia has previously recognized and honored this service and sacrifice by providing for Purple Heart license plates, designating a Purple Heart Trail on West Virginia highways, designating each year by Governor's proclamation that August 7 be designated as West Virginia Purple Heart Day and by West Virginia Code §18B-10-10, the Medal of Honor and Andrew J. Trail Purple Heart Recipient Tuition Waiver, that recognizes Purple Heart recipients with a tuition waiver for undergraduate studies at a state institution; and

Whereas, The people of the State of West Virginia have a great admiration and the utmost gratitude for all of the men and women who have selflessly served their country and this state in the armed forces, and recognize that each made sacrifices to do so; and

Whereas, It is a privilege to honor those whose service and sacrifice was recognized with the awarding of a Purple Heart Medal; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby designates the State of West Virginia as a Purple Heart State; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Governor of West Virginia and the Secretary of the Department of Veterans' Assistance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 67—Urging the United States Congress to support funding and completion of the Coalfields Expressway and King Coal Highway.

Whereas, The Coalfields Expressway, U. S. Route 121, was planned as a four-lane, partial-access highway approximately sixty-five miles in length, to serve an area from Interstate routes 77 and 64 near Beckley, West Virginia, to U. S. Route 23 in Virginia; and

Whereas, The Coalfields Expressway was identified as National Highway System High Priority Corridor Number 29 in 1995; and

Whereas, The Coalfields Expressway, when completed, will be an economic lifeline to this area of high unemployment, and will provide a modern highway, increasing the safety and efficiency of both domestic travel and commercial transport through the coalfields of southwestern Virginia and southern West Virginia; and

Whereas, The King Coal Highway is planned as a four-lane modern artery between Bluefield and Williamson, West Virginia; and

At the request of Senator Unger, and by unanimous consent, the Senate returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Williams, from the Committee on Economic Development, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Economic Development has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 68 (originating in the Committee on Economic Development)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study small business development in West Virginia, and the role of business coaches in encouraging such small business development and growth.

Whereas, West Virginia has a high number of small businesses, which are a key component to the local and state economy; and

Whereas, Small businesses make up the majority of private employers in the United States and are at the forefront of job creation; and

Whereas, Encouraging development of small businesses is a key in growing West Virginia's economy and providing more good-paying jobs to its citizens; and

Whereas, Business coaches play an important role in helping small businesses grow and operate in a manner that encourages better business decisionmaking, especially in situations where the proprietor does not have a background in business or management; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Small Business Development Center is a key resource in assisting West Virginia small businesses grow and leverage their resources in an orderly and intelligent manner through their programs, which include business coaches; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study small business development in West Virginia, and the role of business coaches in encouraging such small business development and growth; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the West Virginia Department of Commerce and the West Virginia Small Business Development Center are requested to assist the Joint Committee on Government and Finance in its study of the small business development and business coaches; and, be it

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 69 (originating in the Committee on Economic Development)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the West Virginia Project Launchpad Act; the feasibility of comprehensive tax credits to encourage development of advanced technologies; and the fiscal impact of enacting such comprehensive tax incentive legislation.

Whereas, Vision Shared plays an important role in helping to create a vibrant and diverse economy in West Virginia; and

Whereas, The Legislature has previously set forth its intent that Vision Shared is to help in working toward developing a comprehensive statewide economic development strategy, effectively coordinate economic development programs statewide and develop meaningful agency and program benchmarks and performance-based evaluations; and

Whereas, Vision Shared, working with a combination of business and labor leaders, has determined that the West Virginia Project Launchpad Act will help West Virginia retain its highly skilled and educated workforce, encourage further business development and assist the Legislature in fulfilling the aforementioned goals; and

Whereas, Despite our highly skilled and educated workforce, West Virginia suffers from a lack of advanced technology businesses, many of which offer good-paying jobs that provide good benefits to their employees; and

Whereas, Encouraging development of such businesses is a key in growing West Virginia's economy, providing more good-paying jobs to its citizens and retaining our high school graduates, college graduates and professionals; and

Whereas, Tax credits are an important element in encouraging business development and relocation in West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the West Virginia Project Launchpad Act; the feasibility of comprehensive tax credits to encourage development of advanced technologies; and the fiscal impact of enacting such comprehensive tax incentive legislation; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

The following amendment to the bill, from the Committee on the Judiciary, was reported by the Clerk and adopted:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 11. WATER POLLUTION CONTROL ACT.

§22-11-6. Requirement to comply with standards of water quality and effluent limitations.

All persons affected by rules establishing water quality standards and effluent limitations shall promptly comply therewith: Provided, That:

(1) Where necessary and proper, the secretary may specify a reasonable time for persons not complying with such standards and limitations to comply therewith, and upon the expiration of any such period of time, the secretary shall revoke or modify any permit previously issued which authorized the discharge of treated or untreated sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes into the waters of this state which result in reduction of the quality of such waters below the standards and limitations established therefor by rules of the board or secretary;

(2) Notwithstanding any rule or permit condition to the contrary, and except for any standard imposed under section 307 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act for a toxic pollutant injurious to human health, compliance with a permit issued pursuant to this article shall be deemed compliance for purposes of both this article and sections 301, 302, 306, 307 and 403 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act. Nothing in this section, however, prevents the secretary from modifying, reissuing or revoking a permit during its term. The provisions of this section addressing compliance with a permit are intended to apply to all existing and future discharges and permits without the need for permit modifications. However, should any such modification be necessary under the terms of this article, then the secretary shall immediately commence the process to effect such modifications; and

(3) The Legislature finds that there are concerns within West Virginia regarding the applicability of the research underlying the federal selenium criteria to a state such as West Virginia which has high precipitation rates and free-flowing streams and that the alleged environmental impacts that were documented in applicable federal research have not been observed in West Virginia and, further, that considerable research is required to determine if selenium is having an impact on West Virginia streams, to validate or determine the proper testing methods for selenium and to better understand the chemical reactions related to selenium mobilization in water. For existing NPDES permits, the department may extend the time period for achieving water quality-based effluent limits for selenium discharges into waters supporting aquatic life uses to July 1, 2012, upon compliance with all federally required public notice requirements for such modifications, upon a finding that the permittee cannot comply with its existing compliance schedule and that an extension is not in violation of any state or federal laws, rules or regulations. The West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection is hereby directed to undertake a comprehensive study relating to selenium and prepare a report detailing such findings and submitting the report to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance no later than January 1, 2010. In conducting such study, the West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection shall consult with, among others, West Virginia University and the West Virginia Water Research Institute.

(4) The Legislature finds that EPA has been contemplating a revision to the federally recommended criteria for several years but has yet to issue a revised standard.

(5) Because of the uncertainty regarding the applicability of the current selenium standard, the secretary is hereby directed to develop within six months of the effective date of this subdivision an implementation plan for the current selenium standard that will include, at minimum, the following:

(A) Implementing the criteria as a threshold standard;

(B) A monitoring plan that will include chemical speciation of any selenium discharge;

(C) A fish population survey and monitoring plan that will be implemented at a representative location to assess any possible impacts from selenium discharges if the threshold criteria are exceeded; and

(D) The results of the monitoring will be reported to the department for use in the development of state-specific selenium criteria.

(6) Within twenty-four months of the effective date of this subdivision, the secretary shall propose rules for legislative approval in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine of this code which establish a state-specific selenium standard that protects aquatic life. Concurrent with proposing a legislative rule, the secretary shall also submit the proposed standard and supporting documentation to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency. The secretary shall also consult with and consider research and data from the West Virginia Water Research Institute at West Virginia University, the regulated community, and other appropriate groups in developing the state-specific selenium standard.

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 1A. WEST VIRGINIA PRISONER LITIGATION REFORM ACT.

§25-1A-2. Exhaustion of ordinary administrative remedies.

(a) As used in this section, an “ordinary administrative remedy” is a formal administrative process by which an inmate submits a grievance seeking redress or presenting concerns regarding any general or particular aspect of prison life which does not involve violence, sexual assault or sexual abuse against an inmate. An ordinary administrative remedy includes, but is not limited to, complaints concerning food quality, health care, appeals of prison discipline, physical plant, classification, staff treatment or some other alleged wrong.

(b) The Commissioner of the Division of Corrections and the Executive Director of the Regional Jail Authority are authorized to establish procedures for ordinary administrative remedies according to their respective authority for issuance of policies governing the conduct of inmates.

(c) An inmate may not bring a civil action regarding an ordinary administrative remedy until the procedures promulgated by the agency have been exhausted.

(d) An ordinary administrative remedy is considered exhausted when the inmate's grievance complies with duly promulgated rules and regulations regarding inmate grievance procedures, has been accepted, fully appealed and has received a final decision from the Commissioner of Corrections or the Commissioner's designee, or the Executive Director of the Regional Jail Authority, or the Director's designee.

(e) The agency shall issue a final decision regarding an ordinary administrative remedy no later than sixty days from the date the inmate filed his or her initial grievance. Computation of the sixty-day time period shall not include time consumed by inmates in preparing any administrative appeal. The agency may claim an extension of time to issue a final decision regarding an ordinary administrative remedy of up to thirty days if the sixty day final decision time frame is insufficient to make an appropriate decision, except in cases involving a threat to health, life or safety of the prisoner. The agency shall notify the inmate in writing of any such extension and provide a date by which the final decision regarding an ordinary administrative remedy will be made.

§25-1A-2a. Exhaustion of administrative remedies which address sexual assault and sexual abuse.

(a) The agency shall not require an inmate to use any informal grievance process, or to otherwise attempt to resolve with staff, an alleged incident involving sexual assault or sexual abuse against an inmate. For purposes of this article, "sexual assault" or "sexual abuse" means any offense which would constitute a violation of article eight-b, chapter sixty-one of this code. The agency shall ensure that:

(1) An inmate who alleges an incident involving sexual assault or sexual abuse may submit a grievance without submitting it to a staff member who is the subject of the complaint; and,

(2) Such grievance may not be referred to a staff member who is the subject of the complaint.

(b) The agency shall issue a final agency decision on the merits of any portion of a grievance within sixty days of the initial filing of the grievance. Computation of the sixty-day time period shall not include time consumed by inmates in preparing any administrative appeal. The agency may claim an extension of time to respond, of up to thirty days, if the normal time period for response is insufficient to make an appropriate decision, except in cases involving threat to health, life or safety of the prisoner. The agency shall notify the inmate in writing of any such extension and provide a date by which a decision will be made.

(c) At any level of the administrative process, including the final level, if the inmate does not receive a response within the time allotted for reply, including any properly noticed extension, the inmate may consider the absence of a response to be a denial at that level.

(d) Third parties, including fellow inmates, staff members, family members, attorneys and outside advocates, shall be permitted to assist inmates in filing requests for administrative remedies relating to incidents involving sexual assault or sexual abuse, and shall also be permitted to file such requests on behalf of inmates. If a third party files such a request on behalf of an inmate, the facility may require as a condition of processing the request that the alleged victim agree to have the request filed on his or her behalf, and may also require the alleged victim to personally pursue any subsequent steps in the administrative remedy process. If the inmate declines to have the request processed on his or her behalf, the agency shall document the inmate's decision.

(e) After receiving an emergency grievance alleging an inmate is subject to a substantial risk of sexual assault or sexual abuse, the agency shall immediately forward the grievance, or any portion thereof that alleges the substantial risk of sexual assault or sexual abuse, to a level of review at which immediate corrective action may be taken, shall provide an initial response within forty-eight hours, and shall issue a final agency decision within five calendar days. The initial response and final agency decision shall document the agency's determination whether the inmate is in substantial risk of sexual assault or sexual abuse and the action taken in response to the emergency grievance.

(f) The agency shall establish procedures for processing an inmate grievance which alleges imminent violence. The commissioner and the executive director shall, by December 31, 2013, propose rules for legislative approval in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code to meet the requirements of this subsection.

(g) An administrative remedy for an allegation of violence, sexual assault or sexual abuse against an inmate is considered exhausted when the inmate's grievance has complied with duly promulgated rules and regulations regarding inmate grievance procedures for imminent violence, sexual assault or sexual abuse, has been accepted, fully appealed and has received a final decision from the Commissioner of Corrections or the Commissioner's designee, or the Executive Director of the Regional Jail Authority, or the Director's designee.

(h) The agency may discipline an inmate for filing a grievance related to sexual assault or sexual abuse only where the agency demonstrates that the inmate filed the grievance in bad faith.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, no inmate shall be prevented from filing an appeal of his or her conviction or from bringing a civil or criminal action alleging violence, sexual assault or sexual abuse, after exhaustion of administrative remedies.

If such a civil or criminal action is ultimately dismissed by a judge as frivolous, then the inmate shall pay the filing costs associated with the civil or criminal action as provided for in this article.

With amendments from the Committee on the Judiciary pending;

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it do pass as amended by the Committee on the Judiciary to which the bill was first referred.

At the request of Senator Prezioso, unanimous consent being granted, the bill (Eng. Com. Sub. for H. B. No. 2352) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Finance was taken up for immediate consideration and read a second time.

The following amendment to the bill, from the Committee on the Judiciary, was reported by the Clerk and adopted:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 3. SURFACE COAL MINING AND RECLAMATION ACT.

§22-3-11. Bonds; amount and method of bonding; bonding requirements; special reclamation tax and funds; prohibited acts; period of bond liability.

(a) After a surface mining permit application has been approved pursuant to this article, but before a permit has been issued, each operator shall furnish a penal bond, on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the secretary, payable to the State of West Virginia and conditioned upon the operator faithfully performing all of the requirements of this article and of the permit. The penal amount of the bond shall be not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for each acre or fraction of an acre: Provided, That the minimum amount of bond furnished for any type of reclamation bonding shall be $10,000. The bond shall cover: (1) The entire permit area; or (2) that increment of land within the permit area upon which the operator will initiate and conduct surface mining and reclamation operations within the initial term of the permit. If the operator chooses to use incremental bonding, as succeeding increments of surface mining and reclamation operations are to be initiated and conducted within the permit area, the operator shall file with the secretary an additional bond or bonds to cover the increments in accordance with this section: Provided, however, That once the operator has chosen to proceed with bonding either the entire permit area or with incremental bonding, the operator shall continue bonding in that manner for the term of the permit.

(b) The period of liability for bond coverage begins with issuance of a permit and continues for the full term of the permit plus any additional period necessary to achieve compliance with the requirements in the reclamation plan of the permit.

(c) (1) The form of the bond shall be approved by the secretary and may include, at the option of the operator, surety bonding, collateral bonding (including cash and securities), establishment of an escrow account, self bonding or a combination of these methods. If collateral bonding is used, the operator may elect to deposit cash or collateral securities or certificates as follows: Bonds of the United States or its possessions of the Federal Land Bank or of the Homeowners' Loan Corporation; full faith and credit general obligation bonds of the State of West Virginia or other states and of any county, district or municipality of the State of West Virginia or other states; or certificates of deposit in a bank in this state, which certificates shall be in favor of the department. The cash deposit or market value of the securities or certificates shall be equal to or greater than the penal sum of the bond. The secretary shall, upon receipt of any deposit of cash, securities or certificates, promptly place the same with the Treasurer of the State of West Virginia whose duty it is to receive and hold the deposit in the name of the state in trust for the purpose for which the deposit is made when the permit is issued. The operator making the deposit is entitled, from time to time, to receive from the State Treasurer, upon the written approval of the secretary, the whole or any portion of any cash, securities or certificates so deposited, upon depositing with him or her in lieu thereof cash or other securities or certificates of the classes specified in this subsection having value equal to or greater than the sum of the bond.

(2) The secretary may approve an alternative bonding system if it will: (A) Reasonably assure that sufficient funds will be available to complete the reclamation, restoration and abatement provisions for all permit areas which may be in default at any time; and (B) provide a substantial economic incentive for the permittee to comply with all reclamation provisions.

(d) The secretary may accept the bond of the applicant itself without separate surety when the applicant demonstrates to the satisfaction of the secretary the existence of a suitable agent to receive service of process and a history of financial solvency and continuous operation sufficient for authorization to self insure.

(e) It is unlawful for the owner of surface or mineral rights to interfere with the present operator in the discharge of the operator's obligations to the state for the reclamation of lands disturbed by the operator.

(f) All bond releases shall be accomplished in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-three of this article.

(g) (1) The Special Reclamation Fund previously created is continued. The Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund is created within the State Treasury into and from which moneys shall be paid for the purpose of assuring a reliable source of capital to reclaim and restore water treatment systems on forfeited sites. The moneys accrued in both funds, any interest earned thereon and yield from investments by the State Treasurer or West Virginia Investment Management Board are reserved solely and exclusively for the purposes set forth in this section and section seventeen, article one of this chapter. The funds shall be administered by the secretary who is authorized to expend the moneys in both funds for the reclamation and rehabilitation of lands which were subjected to permitted surface mining operations and abandoned after August 3, 1977, where the amount of the bond posted and forfeited on the land is less than the actual cost of reclamation, and where the land is not eligible for abandoned mine land reclamation funds under article two of this chapter. The secretary shall develop a long-range planning process for selection and prioritization of sites to be reclaimed so as to avoid inordinate short-term obligations of the assets in both funds of such magnitude that the solvency of either is jeopardized. The secretary may use both funds for the purpose of designing, constructing and maintaining water treatment systems when they are required for a complete reclamation of the affected lands described in this subsection. The secretary may also expend an amount not to exceed ten percent of the total annual assets in both funds to implement and administer the provisions of this article and, as they apply to the Surface Mine Board, articles one and four, chapter twenty-two-b of this code.

(2)(A) A tax credit shall be granted against the tax imposed by subsection (i) of this section to any mine operator who performs reclamation or remediation at a bond forfeiture site which otherwise would have been reclaimed using funds from the Special Reclamation Fund or Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund. The amount of credit shall be determined as provided in this section.

(B) The amount of a reclamation tax credit granted under this subsection shall be equal to the amount that the Tax Commissioner determines, based on the project costs, as shown in the records of the secretary, that would have been spent from the Special

Reclamation Fund or Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund to accomplish the reclamation or remediation performed by the mine operator, including expenditures for water treatment.

(C) To claim the credit, the mine operator shall from time to time file with the Tax Commissioner a written application seeking the amount of the credit earned. Within thirty days of receipt of the application, the Tax Commissioner shall issue a certification of the amount of tax credit, if any, to be allocated to the eligible taxpayer. Should the amount of the credit certified be less than the amount applied for, the Tax Commissioner shall set forth in writing the reason for the difference. Should no certification be issued within the thirty-day period, the application will be deemed certified. Any decision by the Tax Commissioner is appealable pursuant to the provisions of the "West Virginia Tax Procedure and Administration Act" set forth in article ten, chapter eleven of the code. Applications for certification of the proposed tax credit shall contain the information and be in the detail and form as required by the Tax Commissioner.

(h) The Tax Commissioner may promulgate rules for legislative approval pursuant to the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code to carry out the purposes of this subdivision two, subsection (g) of this section.

~~(h)~~ (i)(1) Rate, deposits and review.

(A) For tax periods commencing on and after July 1, 2009, every person conducting coal surface mining shall remit a special reclamation tax of fourteen and four-tenths cents per ton of clean coal mined, the proceeds of which shall be allocated by the secretary for deposit in the Special Reclamation Fund and the Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund.

(B) For tax periods commencing on and after July 1, 2012, the rate of tax specified in paragraph (A) of this subdivision is discontinued and is replaced by the rate of tax specified in this paragraph (B). For tax periods commencing on and after July 1, 2012, every person conducting coal surface mining shall remit a special reclamation tax of twenty-seven and nine-tenths cents per ton of clean coal mined, the proceeds of which shall be allocated by the secretary for deposit in the Special Reclamation Fund and the Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund. Of that amount, fifteen cents per ton of clean coal mined shall be deposited into the Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund.

(C) The tax shall be levied upon each ton of clean coal severed or clean coal obtained from refuse pile and slurry pond recovery or clean coal from other mining methods extracting a combination of coal and waste material as part of a fuel supply.

(D) Beginning with the tax period commencing on July 1, 2009, and every two years thereafter, the special reclamation tax shall be reviewed by the Legislature to determine whether the tax should be continued: Provided, That the tax may not be reduced until the Special Reclamation Fund and Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund have sufficient moneys to meet the reclamation responsibilities of the state established in this section.

(2) In managing the Special Reclamation Program, the secretary shall: (A) Pursue cost-effective alternative water treatment strategies; and (B) conduct formal actuarial studies every two years and conduct informal reviews annually on the Special Reclamation Fund and Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund.

(3) Prior to December 31, 2008, the secretary shall:

(A) Determine the feasibility of creating an alternate program, on a voluntary basis, for financially sound operators by which those operators pay an increased tax into the Special Reclamation Fund in exchange for a maximum per-acre bond that is less than the maximum established in subsection (a) of this section;

(B) Determine the feasibility of creating an incremental bonding program by which operators can post a reclamation bond for those areas actually disturbed within a permit area, but for less than all of the proposed disturbance and obtain incremental release of portions of that bond as reclamation advances so that the released bond can be applied to approved future disturbance; and

(C) Determine the feasibility for sites requiring water reclamation by creating a separate water reclamation security account or bond for the costs so that the existing reclamation bond in place may be released to the extent it exceeds the costs of water reclamation.

(4) If the secretary determines that the alternative program, the incremental bonding program or the water reclamation account or bonding programs reasonably assure that sufficient funds will be available to complete the reclamation of a forfeited site and that the Special Reclamation Fund will remain fiscally stable, the secretary is authorized to propose legislative rules in accordance with article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code to implement an alternate program, a water reclamation account or bonding program or other funding mechanisms or a combination thereof.

(†) (j) This special reclamation tax shall be collected by the State Tax Commissioner in the same manner, at the same time and upon the same tonnage as the minimum severance tax imposed by article twelve-b, chapter eleven of this code is collected: Provided, That under no circumstance shall the special reclamation tax be construed to be an increase in either the minimum severance tax imposed by said article or the severance tax imposed by article thirteen of said chapter.

(†) (k) Every person liable for payment of the special reclamation tax shall pay the amount due without notice or demand for payment.

(†) (l) The Tax Commissioner shall provide to the secretary a quarterly listing of all persons known to be delinquent in payment of the special reclamation tax. The secretary may take the delinquencies into account in making determinations on the issuance, renewal or revision of any permit.

(~~h~~) (m) The Tax Commissioner shall deposit the moneys collected with the Treasurer of the State of West Virginia to the credit of the Special Reclamation Fund and Special Reclamation Water Trust Fund.

(~~m~~) (n) At the beginning of each quarter, the secretary shall advise the State Tax Commissioner and the Governor of the assets, excluding payments, expenditures and liabilities, in both funds.

(~~n~~) (o) To the extent that this section modifies any powers, duties, functions and responsibilities of the department that may require approval of one or more federal agencies or officials in order to avoid disruption of the federal-state relationship involved in the implementation of the federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act, 30 U. S. C. §1270 by the state, the modifications will become effective upon the approval of the modifications by the appropriate federal agency or official.

Your Committee on Education has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 74 (originating in the Committee on Education)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study local funding of public libraries in the State of West Virginia and identify means, methods or mechanisms by which a statewide system of secure, predictable and adequate local funding of our state's public libraries can be implemented.

Whereas, West Virginia public libraries rank seventh in the nation in funding provided by the state, at $5.00 per capita; and

Whereas, West Virginia public libraries rank forty-eighth in the nation when state and local funding are combined; and

Whereas, West Virginia public libraries located in Berkeley, Cabell, Hardy, Harrison, Kanawha, Lincoln, Ohio, Raleigh, Tyler, Upshur and Wood counties enjoyed dedicated and reasonably adequate funding through special acts of the Legislature, which funding is now in jeopardy due to a February, 2013, decision of the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals which removes boards of education as mandatory partners in funding public libraries in those counties; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals decision presents a challenge to arrive at a statewide system of local funding of public libraries, which system plays a vital role in the educational development of children birth through age three, acquisition of early literacy skills, support for K-12 education, support for students pursuing higher education and support for all West Virginians who continue to learn throughout all of their lives; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study local funding of public libraries in the State of West Virginia and identify means, methods or mechanisms by which a statewide system of secure, predictable and adequate local funding of our state's public libraries can be implemented; and, be it

Whereas, Privately owned residential facilities in West Virginia provide treatment and/or services to youth ages 5-21 with developmental disabilities who also have behavioral issues; and

Whereas, The counties in which the residential facilities are located are burdened with the responsibility for the cost of education for school-aged children placed in these privately owned residential facilities; and

Whereas, Many children are placed in these facilities by family members rather than by a state agency and are therefore ineligible to receive education-related services at public expense; and

Whereas, The exact number of students, either parentally placed or by the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources (WVDHHR) is not known; and

Whereas, There does not exist a comprehensive list of residential facilities, nor are the facilities' accreditations known; and

Whereas, Neither reasons nor average length of stay for all children placed in residential facilities is known; and

At the request of Senator Barnes, unanimous consent being granted, Senators Barnes and Tucker offered the following resolution from the floor:

Senate Resolution No. 68—Recognizing the importance of Corridor H and those who have been working hard toward its completion.

Whereas, Interstate 79 in West Virginia and Interstate 81 in Virginia are separated by 150 miles; and

Whereas, These two highways are major conduits for interstate commerce; and

Whereas, Portions of West Virginia through which Corridor H passes realize a significant benefit from interstate transactions in wood products, poultry production and energy resources; and

Whereas, The magnitude of this economic impact is expected to grow as additional sections of Corridor H are completed; and

Whereas, Providing greater access to corridors for interstate transportation is frequently cited as a prerequisite to additional job creation and economic development in West Virginia; and

Whereas, Those businesses operating in the Appalachian Highland areas of West Virginia will realize a greater market share in the energy, agricultural, manufacturing and natural resources industries as a result of the greater access to international markets that will be provided once Corridor H is completed; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes the importance of Corridor H and those who have been working hard toward its completion; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate acknowledges the continued economic vitality that Corridor H brings to the State of West Virginia; and, be it

That §11-1C-5b of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended and reenacted; and that §18-9A-11 of said code be amended and reenacted, all to read as follows:

CHAPTER 11. TAXATION.ARTICLE 1C. FAIR AND EQUITABLE PROPERTY VALUATION.*§11-1C-5b. Assessment for purpose of calculating local share.

(a) This section is effective July 1, 2013 and distribution of state aid pursuant to the local share calculations made pursuant to this section shall occur during the 2014-2015 fiscal year and all fiscal years thereafter.

(b) The Tax Commissioner shall calculate the total assessed values for the purpose of calculating local share for each county each year pursuant to this section and report the total assessed values to the state Board of Education on or before ~~December 1~~ March 5 of each year.

(c) To provide for assessors to assess at sixty percent of market value, it is the intent of the Legislature that local share, as set forth in section eleven, article nine-a, chapter eighteen of this code, be calculated assuming that the types of property included in the assessment ratio study in each county are assessed at a level in which the assessment ratio study indicates would be sixty percent of market value.

(d) For each of Classes II, III and IV as set forth in section five, article eight of this chapter, all real property of the type that is or would be included in the assessment ratio study if sold is assumed for the purpose of calculating local share to be assessed at the amount the property would be assessed at if all the property in the class were adjusted under the assumption that, using a ratio of sixty percent, all the property were under or over assessed to the same extent as that property included in the assessment ratio study so that using the assessment ratio study as an indicator all the property in the class would be assessed at the ratio of sixty percent of market value, subject to the following:

(1) ~~Provided, That if~~ If the sales ratio analysis indicates that assessments are within ten percent of sixty percent of market value, assessments are considered to be sixty percent of market value for the purposes of this section;

(2) For tax years beginning on and after the July 1, 2013 assessment date, for the first tax year when a county's assessments are below sixty percent of market value, including the ten percent variance:

(A) The actual assessed values of the properties to which this subsection applies shall be used for the purposes of calculating local share; and

(B) In addition to any other sanctions and notices the Property Valuation Training and Procedures Commission may elect to adopt or apply, the Commission shall, at a minimum, notify the county assessor that the sales ratio study indicates that assessments are below sixty percent of market value including the ten percent variance; and

(3) For the second consecutive year that assessments are below sixty percent of market value including the ten percent variance, the use of the assumed assessed values after factoring in the ten percent variance shall be used for the purposes of calculating local share in the next succeeding tax year after the first tax year when a county's assessments are below sixty percent of market value, including the ten percent variance, and for succeeding consecutive years thereafter until such time as assessments are not below sixty percent of market value, including the ten percent variance. For the purposes of this subsection, only tax years beginning on or after the July 1, 2013 assessment date may count as the first year.

(e) The amount of the assumed assessed values determined pursuant to subsection (d) of this section shall be added to the actual assessed values of personal property, farmland, managed timberland, public utility property or any other centrally assessed property provided in paragraphs (A), (B), (C) and (D), subdivision (2), subsection (a), section five of this article and the sum of these values is the total assessed value for the purpose of calculating local share.

CHAPTER 18. EDUCATION.

ARTICLE 9A. PUBLIC SCHOOL SUPPORT.

§18-9A-11. Computation of local share; appraisal and assessment of property; public library support.

(a) On the basis of each county's certificates of valuation as to all classes of property as determined and published by the assessors pursuant to section six, article three, chapter eleven of this code for the next ensuing fiscal year in reliance upon the assessed values annually developed by each county assessor pursuant to the provisions of articles one-c and three of said chapter, the state board shall for each county compute by application of the levies for general current expense purposes, as defined in section two of this article, the amount of revenue which the levies would produce if levied upon one hundred percent of the assessed value of each of the several classes of property contained in the report or revised report of the value, made to it by the Tax Commissioner as follows:

(1) The state board shall first take ninety-five percent of the amount ascertained by applying these rates to the total assessed public utility valuation in each classification of property in the county; and

(2) The state board shall then apply these rates to the assessed taxable value of other property in each classification in the county as determined by the Tax Commissioner and shall deduct therefrom five percent as an allowance for the usual losses in collections due to discounts, exonerations, delinquencies and the like. All of the amount so determined shall be added to the ninety-five percent of public utility taxes computed as provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection and this total shall be further reduced by the amount due each county assessor's office pursuant to the provisions of section eight, article one-c, chapter eleven of this code and this amount shall be the local share of the particular county.

As to any estimations or preliminary computations of local share required prior to the report to the Legislature by the Tax Commissioner, the state shall use the most recent projections or estimations that may be available from the Tax Department for that purpose.

(b) Effective July 1, 2013, subsection (a) of this section is void and local share shall be calculated in accordance with the following:

(1) The state board shall for each county compute by application of the levies for general current expense purposes, as defined in sections two and two-a of this article, the amount of revenue which the levies would produce if levied upon one hundred percent of the assessed value calculated pursuant to section five-b, article one-c, chapter eleven of this code;

(2) Five percent shall be deducted from the revenue calculated pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection as an allowance for the usual losses in collections due to discounts, exonerations, delinquencies and the like; and

(3) The amount calculated in subdivision (2) of this subsection shall further be reduced by the sum of money due each assessor's office pursuant to the provisions of section eight, article one-c, chapter eleven of this code and this reduced amount shall be the local share of the particular county.

As to any estimations or preliminary computations of local share required prior to the report to the state board by the Tax Commissioner pursuant to section five-b, article one-c, chapter eleven of this code, including computations necessary for the Governor's proposed budget, the state shall use the most recent projections or estimations that may be available from the Tax Department for that purpose.

(c) Whenever in any year a county assessor or a county commission fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this section in setting the valuations of property for assessment purposes in any class or classes of property in the county, the State Tax Commissioner shall review the valuations for assessment purposes made by the county assessor and the county commission and shall direct the county assessor and the county commission to make corrections in the valuations as necessary so that they comply with the requirements of chapter eleven of this code and this section and the Tax Commissioner shall enter the county and fix the assessments at the required ratios. Refusal of the assessor or the county commission to make the corrections constitutes grounds for removal from office.

(d) For the purposes of any computation made in accordance with the provisions of this section, in any taxing unit in which tax increment financing is in effect pursuant to the provisions of article eleven-b, chapter seven of this code, the assessed value of a related private project shall be the base-assessed value as defined in section two of said article.

(e) For purposes of any computation made in accordance with the provisions of this section, in any county where the county board of education has adopted a resolution choosing to use the provisions of the Growth County School Facilities Act set forth in section six-f, article eight, chapter eleven of this code, estimated school board revenues generated from application of the regular school board levy rate to new property values, as that term is designated in said section, may not be considered local share funds and shall be subtracted before the computations in subdivisions (1) and (2), subsection (a) of this section or in subdivisions (2) and (3), subsection (b) of this section, as applicable, are made.

(f) The Legislature finds that public school systems throughout the state provide support in varying degrees to public libraries through a variety of means including budgeted allocations, excess levy funds and portions of their regular school board levies as may be provided by special act. A number of public libraries are situated on the campuses of public schools and several are within public school buildings serving both the students and public patrons. To the extent that public schools recognize and choose to avail the resources of public libraries toward developing within their students such legally recognized elements of a thorough and efficient education as literacy, interests in literature, knowledge of government and the world around them and preparation for advanced academic training, work and citizenship, public libraries serve a legitimate school purpose and may do so economically. For the purposes of any computation made in accordance with the provisions of this section, the library funding obligation on the regular school board levies which is created by a special act and is due and payable from the levy revenues to a library shall be paid from the county school board's discretionary retainage, which is hereby defined as the amount by which the regular school board levies exceeds the local share as determined hereunder. If the library funding obligation which is created by a special act and is due and payable to a library is greater than the county school board's discretionary retainage, the library funding obligation created by the special act is amended and is reduced to the amount of the discretionary retainage, notwithstanding any provisions of the special act to the contrary. Any excess of the discretionary retainage over the library funding obligation shall be available for expenditure by the county board in its discretion for its properly budgeted purposes.

(g) It is the intent of the Legislature that whenever a provision of subsection (f) of this section is contrary to any special act of the Legislature which has been or may in the future be enacted by the Legislature that creates a library funding obligation on the regular school board levy of a county, subsection (f) of this section controls over the special act. Specifically, the special acts which are subject to said subsection upon the enactment of this section during the 2007 regular session of the Legislature include:

(1) Enrolled Senate Bill No. 11, passed on February 12, 1970, applicable to the Berkeley County Board of Education;

(2) Enrolled House Bill No. 1352, passed on April 7, 1981, applicable to the Hardy County Board of Education;

(3) Enrolled Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 2833, passed on March 14, 1987, applicable to the Harrison County Board of Education;

(4) Enrolled House Bill No. 161, passed on March 6, 1957, applicable to the Kanawha County Board of Education;

(5) Enrolled Senate Bill No. 313, passed on March 12, 1937, as amended by Enrolled House Bill No. 1074, passed on March 8, 1967, and as amended by Enrolled House Bill No. 1195, passed on January 18, 1982, applicable to the Ohio County Board of Education;

(6) Enrolled House Bill No. 938, passed on February 28, 1969, applicable to the Raleigh County Board of Education;

(7) Enrolled House Bill No. 398, passed on March 1, 1935, applicable to the Tyler County Board of Education;

(8) Enrolled Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 450, passed on March 11, 1994, applicable to the Upshur County Board of Education; and

(9) Enrolled House Bill No. 2994, passed on March 13, 1987, applicable to the Wood County Board of Education.

(h) Notwithstanding any provision of any special act set forth in subsection (g) of this section to the contrary, the county board of any county with a special act creating a library obligation out of the county's regular school levy revenues may transfer that library obligation so that it becomes a continuing obligation of its excess levy revenues instead of an obligation of its regular school levy revenues, subject to the following:

(1) If a county board chooses to transfer the library obligation pursuant to this subsection, the library funding obligation shall remain an obligation of the regular school levy revenues until the fiscal year in which the excess levy is effective or would have been effective if it had been passed by the voters;

(2) If a county board chooses to transfer the library obligation pursuant to this subsection, the county board shall include the funding of the public library obligation in the same amount as its library funding obligation which exists or had existed on its regular levy revenues as one of the purposes for the excess levy to be voted on as a specifically described line item of the excess levy: Provided, That if the county board has transferred the library obligation to the excess levy and the excess levy fails to be passed by the voters or the excess levy passes and thereafter expires upon the time limit for continuation as set forth in section sixteen, article eight, chapter eleven of this code, then in any subsequent excess levy which the county board thereafter submits to the voters the library funding obligation again shall be included as one of the purposes of the subsequent excess levy as a specifically described line item of the excess levy;

(3) If a county board chooses to transfer the library obligation pursuant to this subsection, regardless of whether or not the excess levy passes, effective the fiscal year in which the excess levy is effective or would have been effective if it had been passed by the voters, a county's library obligation on its regular levy revenues is void notwithstanding any provision of the special acts set forth in subsection (g) of this section to the contrary; and

(4) Nothing in subdivision (3) of this subsection prohibits a county board from funding its public library obligation voluntarily.

The bill (Eng. Com. Sub. for H. B. No. 2360), as amended, was then ordered to third reading.

Eng. House Bill No. 2434, Relating to compensation in the magistrate court system.

The bill (Eng. H. B. No. 2434), as amended, was then ordered to third reading.

Eng. House Bill No. 2469, Increasing the cap on earnings during temporary reemployment after retirement.

On second reading, coming up in regular order, was read a second time.

The following amendment to the bill, from the Committee on Pensions, was reported by the Clerk and adopted:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 10. WEST VIRGINIA PUBLIC EMPLOYEES RETIREMENT ACT.

§5-10-48. Reemployment after retirement; options for holder of elected public office.

(a) The Legislature finds that a compelling state interest exists in maintaining an actuarially sound retirement system and that this interest necessitates that certain limitations be placed upon an individual's ability to retire from the system and to then later return to state employment as an employee with a participating public employer while contemporaneously drawing an annuity from the system. The Legislature hereby further finds and declares that the interests of the public are served when persons having retired from public employment are permitted, within certain limitations, to render post-retirement employment in positions of public service, either in elected or appointed capacities. The Legislature further finds and declares that it has the need for qualified employees and that in many cases an employee of the Legislature will retire and be available to return to work for the Legislature as a per diem employee. The Legislature further finds and declares that in many instances these employees have particularly valuable expertise which the Legislature cannot find elsewhere. The Legislature further finds and declares that reemploying these persons on a limited per diem basis after they have retired is not only in the best interests of this state, but has no adverse effect whatsoever upon the actuarial soundness of this particular retirement system.

(b) For the purposes of this section: (1) Regularly employed on a full-time basis means employment of an individual by a participating public employer, in a position other than as an elected or appointed public official, which normally requires twelve months per year service and at least one thousand forty hours of service per year in that position; (2) temporary full-time employment or temporary part-time employment means employment of an individual on a temporary or provisional basis by a participating public employer, other than as an elected or appointed public official, in a position which does not otherwise render the individual as regularly employed; (3) former employee of the Legislature means any person who has retired from employment with the Legislature and who has at least ten years' contributing service with the Legislature; and (4) reemployed by the Legislature means a former employee of the Legislature who has been reemployed on a per diem basis not to exceed one hundred seventy-five days per calendar year.

(c) In the event a retirant becomes regularly employed on a full-time basis by a participating public employer, payment of his or her annuity shall be suspended during the period of his or her reemployment and he or she shall become a contributing member to the retirement system. If his or her reemployment is for a period of one year or longer, his or her annuity shall be recalculated and he or she shall be granted an increased annuity due to the additional employment, the annuity to be computed according to section twenty-two of this article. A retirant may accept legislative per diem, temporary full-time or temporary part-time employment from a participating employer without suspending his or her retirement annuity so long as he or she does not receive annual compensation in excess of $15,000: ~~Provided, That a retirant may be employed by the Legislature on a per diem basis without suspension of the retirement annuity if the retirant's annual compensation from the Legislature does not exceed $20,000.~~

(d) In the event a member retires and is then subsequently elected to a public office or is subsequently appointed to hold an elected public office, or is a former employee of the Legislature who has been reemployed by the Legislature, he or she has the option, notwithstanding subsection (c) of this section, to either:

(1) Continue to receive payment of his or her annuity while holding public office or during any reemployment of a former employee of the Legislature on a per diem basis, in addition to the salary he or she may be entitled to as an office holder or as a per diem reemployed former employee of the Legislature; or

(2) Suspend the payment of his or her annuity and become a contributing member of the retirement system as provided in subsection (c) of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, a member who is participating in the system as an elected public official may not retire from his or her elected position and commence to receive an annuity from the system and then be elected or reappointed to the same position unless and until a continuous twelve-month period has passed since his or her retirement from the position: Provided, That a former employee of the Legislature may not be reemployed by the Legislature on a per diem basis until at least sixty days after the employee has retired: Provided, however; That the limitation on compensation provided by subsection (c) of this section does not apply to the reemployed former employee: Provided further; That in no event may reemployment by the Legislature of a per diem employee exceed one hundred seventy-five days per calendar year.

(e) A member who is participating in the system simultaneously as both a regular, full-time employee of a participating public employer and as an elected or appointed member of the legislative body of the state or any political subdivision may, upon meeting the age and service requirements of this article, elect to retire from his or her regular full-time state employment and may commence to receive an annuity from the system without terminating his or her position as a member of the legislative body of the state or political subdivision: Provided, That the retired member shall not, during the term of his or her retirement and continued service as a member of the legislative body of a political subdivision, be eligible to continue his or her participation as a contributing member of the system and shall not continue to accrue any additional service credit or benefits in the system related to the continued service.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-seven-b of this article, any publicly elected member of the legislative body of any political subdivision or of the State Legislature, the Clerk of the House of Delegates and the Clerk of the Senate may elect to commence receiving in-service retirement distributions from this system upon attaining the age of seventy and one-half years: Provided, That the member is eligible to retire under the provisions of section twenty or twenty-one of this article: Provided, however, That the member elects to stop actively contributing to the system while receiving the in-service distributions.

(g) The provisions of section twenty-two-h of this article are not applicable to the amendments made to this section during the 2006 Regular Session.

(17) “Institutional Controls” or “ICs” means administrative and legal controls that do not involve construction or physically changing the site and are generally divided into four categories: 1) Government controls, 2) Proprietary controls, 3) Enforcement tools, and 4) Informational devices. §31-21-3. Declaration of policy.

(a) The Legislature finds and declares that developable land is one of West Virginia’s most valuable resources in terms of net contributions to the state’s economy and tax base.

(b) The Legislature further finds that:

(1) Due to topography, the state has somewhat limited amounts of developable land and that promoting the productive reuse of idled and underutilized commercial, industrial and mining properties will maximize this valuable resource and foster reuse of sites with existing public infrastructure;

(2) An entity that specializes in promoting the productive reuse of idled or underutilized commercial, industrial and mining properties will help the state and its citizenry to plan more wisely for sustainable property reuse and economic development efforts;

(3) An entity created to address and reduce regulatory and economic uncertainty by being a repository of site history and remediation information about formerly used properties can be a benefit to attracting new employers or encouraging businesses to relocate, remain or expand within the state;

(4) An entity that assists the Department of Environmental Protection with a voluntary land stewardship program for the long-term safeguarding of remediated sites using institutional controls and engineering controls can ensure that the remedy remains protective of human health and the environment;

(5) An entity that also assists in identifying formerly used properties that are ready for redevelopment and construction within twelve months or less from acquisition and certifies these properties as “project-ready” for specific industry profiles can increase economic development efforts within the state;

(6) An entity that also acts as a land bank to accept title to formerly used properties as an intermediary step to help seek a purchaser, and ready the properties for reuse through environmental assessment, remediation, building demolition or other efforts, can be a useful ally to the state, local governments, real estate developers and businesses for transacting property conveyances, redevelopment and creating or retaining jobs; and

(7) The promotion of private investment in our developable land and West Virginia businesses will reduce unemployment by creating new or maintaining existing opportunities for the citizens of this state.

§31-21-4. Purpose of article.

The purpose of this article is to provide for the creation of a special purpose nonprofit corporation with a comprehensive mission to:

(1) Assist the DEP in utilizing a voluntary land stewardship program for the long-term safeguarding of IEC Sites to ensure that the remedy remains protective of human health and the environment and to facilitate further economic development and reuse opportunities;

(2) Provide the DEP and other parties with a reliable source of oversight, monitoring and information about IEC Sites under the voluntary land stewardship program;

(3) Establish a land bank as a legal and financial mechanism to accept title to properties and assist in transforming idled and underutilized properties back to productive reuse;

(4) Facilitate reuse and redevelopment by authorizing the conveyance of certain properties to a land bank under a voluntary land bank program and assist the state and local governments with the assembly and clearance of title to property in a coordinated manner;

(5) Promote economic growth by implementing a state certified sites program to identify sites that are ready for construction within twelve months or less and that are certified “project-ready” for specific industry profiles as well as other categories of sites identified for economic development opportunities;

(6) Provide voluntary programs on a fee or subscription basis with the nonprofit corporation to protect human health and the environment as well as assist with a variety of economic development efforts throughout the state; and

(7) Prescribe the powers and duties of the nonprofit corporation; provide for the creation and appointment of a board to govern the nonprofit corporation and to prescribe its powers and duties; and to extend protections against certain environmental liabilities to the nonprofit corporation in order to protect it from liabilities created by third parties.

PART II. WEST VIRGINIA LAND STEWARDSHIP CORPORATION.

§31-21-5. Creation of the West Virginia Land Stewardship Corporation; powers and limitations.

The powers granted under this article are in addition to those powers granted by any other statute or as provided in articles of incorporation filed with the Secretary of State.

(g) The property of the corporation and its income and operations are exempt from all taxation by this state or any of its political subdivisions. Property owned and leased by the corporation as lessor to a commercial lessee or an industrial lessee is hereby declared to be tax exempt and held by the corporation for a public purpose. A payment in lieu of taxes, payable by the lessee, shall be established for any property so leased, in an amount not less than the property tax otherwise payable on the property. (1) The corporation, its employees or agents directly cause an immediate release or directly exacerbate a release of regulated substances on or from a property that is an enrolled site or accepted into the land bank program; or

(2) The corporation, its employees or agents knowingly and willfully do an action which causes an immediate release of regulated substances or violates an environmental act. Liability pursuant to this article is limited to the cost for a response action which may be directly attributable to the corporation's activities, and only if these activities are the proximate and efficient cause of the release or violation. Ownership or control of the property after accepting title in the land bank program does not by itself trigger liability.

(l) The corporation shall adopt a code of ethics for its directors, officers and employees.

(m) The corporation shall establish policies and procedures requiring the disclosure of relationships that may give rise to a conflict of interest. The board of directors of the corporation shall require that any member of the board with a direct or indirect interest in any matter before the corporation disclose the member's interest to the governing body before the board takes any action on the matter.

(n) The programs that are established under this article and administered by the corporation are voluntary programs. Parties can participate in the land stewardship program, certified sites program and land bank program at their option.

on enrolled sites, providing information about remediation, and sharing any health and safety plans or soil management plans that may be associated with an enrolled site in order to assist any planned excavation at the enrolled site.

§31-21-8. Underwriting.

The enrollment and acceptance process to participate in the land stewardship program shall be developed to include an underwriting review that focuses on: (1) The nature and extent of contamination; (2) the selected remedy; (3) the type of services selected and duration thereof; and (4) the financial costs and risks associated with fulfilling the services.

(4) Developing a central source of certified sites and assisting local governments in identifying potential redevelopment properties; and

(5) Demonstrating that the state is committed to promoting and expediting economic development projects for the benefit of its citizenry.

(c) The corporation shall issue a site certification if it determines that the decision ready document has been prepared and completed in accordance with the requirements set forth by the corporation. The corporation may require some or all of the following information set forth in section ten of this article based on the site specific circumstances of the property to be certified.

(d) The issuance of a site certification shall be based on the review and approval of the information submitted to the corporation in an application for the site certification.

Under this program, the corporation is authorized to acquire properties, hold title and prepare them for future use. Prior to acquiring any properties, the corporation shall conduct all appropriate inquiries to determine the environmental conditions or issues associated with a particular property. The corporation shall not acquire title to any property unless all pending liens have been satisfied and released. Liabilities, including, but not limited to, environmental liabilities, shall not pass to the corporation by its acquisition of title. Participation in the land bank program under this article shall not relieve an entity of any of its liabilities.

(b) The objective of the land bank program is to assist state and local government efforts for economic development by accepting formerly used or developable properties and preparing the properties so they can be conveyed to other parties to locate or expand businesses and create or retain jobs in this state.

(c) The corporation may acquire by gift, devise, transfer, exchange, foreclosure, purchase or otherwise on terms and conditions and in a manner the corporation considers proper, real or personal property or rights or interests in real or personal property. The corporation may not accept by any conveyance or other action, any liability for prior pollution or contamination liabilities that occurred on the property prior to its conveyance to the corporation.

(d) Real property acquired by the corporation may be by purchase and sale agreement, lease purchase agreement, installment sales contract, land contract or otherwise as may be negotiated or structured. §31-21-12. Preserve property value.

(a) The corporation may, without the approval of a local unit of government in which property held by the corporation is located, control, hold, manage, maintain, operate, repair, lease as lessor, secure, prevent the waste or deterioration of, demolish and take all other actions necessary to preserve the value of the property held or owned directly by the corporation or by a single purpose entity created by the board for that purpose.

(b) The corporation may take or perform the following with respect to property held or owned by the corporation or by any special purpose entity created by the board:

(4) Remediate environmental contamination on any property held by the corporation.

(c) Except as the corporation otherwise agrees by agreement or otherwise, on terms and conditions, and in a manner and for an amount of consideration the corporation considers proper, fair and valuable, including for no monetary consideration, the corporation may convey, sell, transfer, exchange, lease as lessor or otherwise dispose of property or rights or interests in property in which the corporation directly or indirectly holds a legal interest to any public or private person for value determined by the corporation.

(d) The corporation shall be made a party to and shall defend any action or proceeding concerning title claims against property held directly or indirectly by the corporation.

§31-21-13. Contaminated property.

(a) If the DEP determines that conditions on a property transferred to the corporation under this article present an immediate threat to public health, safety and welfare, or to the environment, the corporation may not convey, sell, transfer, exchange, lease or otherwise dispose of the property until after a determination by the DEP that the threat has been remediated and/or eliminated and that conveyance, sale, transfer, exchange, lease or other disposal of the property by the corporation will not interfere with any of the DEP's response activities and will coordinate with the DEP regarding the corporation's activities at the property.

(b) If the corporation has reason to believe that property held by the corporation may be the site of environmental contamination, the corporation shall provide the DEP with any information in the possession of the corporation that suggests that the property may be the site of environmental contamination.

(c) If property held directly or indirectly by the corporation is a site impacted by contamination, pollution, hazardous substances, hazardous or other wastes as defined in the environmental acts described in section four of this article, prior to the sale or transfer of the property under this section, the property is subject to all of the following:

(1) Upon reasonable written notice from the DEP, the corporation shall provide access to the DEP, its employees, its contractors and any other person expressly authorized by the DEP to conduct an investigation and/or response activities at the property. Reasonable written notice may include, but is not limited to, notice by electronic mail or facsimile, in advance of access as the DEP and corporation may agree.

(2) If the DEP determines it is necessary to protect public health, safety and welfare or the environment, the corporation shall place and record deed restrictions on the property as authorized under state environmental statutes.

§31-21-14. Liberal construction.

This article shall be construed liberally to effectuate the legislative intent and the purposes as complete and independent authorization for the performance of every act and thing authorized by this article. All powers granted shall be broadly interpreted to effectuate the intent and purposes of this article and not as a limitation thereof. The corporation has complete control as if it is a private property owner.

§31-21-15. Exemption from taxation.

The property of the corporation shall be exempt from ad valorem property taxation. Property owned and leased by the corporation as lessor to a commercial lessee or an industrial lessee is hereby declared to be tax exempt and held by the corporation for a public purpose. A payment in lieu of taxes, payable by the lessee, shall be established for any property so leased, in an amount not less than the property tax otherwise payable on the property. The lessee's leasehold interest therein is hereby declared to be a tax exempt leasehold interest held for a public purpose so long as the payment in lieu of taxes is timely paid. Payments made to any county commission, county school board or municipality in lieu of tax pursuant to such agreement shall be distributed as if the payments resulted from ad valorem property taxation. The corporation shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by chapter eleven of this code, except that the corporation shall comply with the employer withholding of tax requirements in sections seventy-one through seventy-six, article twenty-one of said chapter eleven. The corporation shall be exempt from sales and use taxes, business and occupation taxes and all other taxes imposed by a county commission, a municipal corporation or other unit of local government, whether now or hereinafter in effect.

§31-21-18. Conflicts of interest.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, officers and employees of the corporation and its board of directors may hold appointments to offices of any other corporations or businesses and be corporate directors or officers or employees of other entities but are prohibited to be a party or otherwise participate in the transfer of real property and funds from the corporation to the corporations or businesses for which they serve.

§31-21-19. No waiver of sovereign immunity.

Nothing contained in this article may be determined or construed to waive or abrogate in any way the sovereign immunity of the state or to deprive the nonprofit corporation created pursuant to this article, its board of directors, or any officer or employee thereof of sovereign immunity.

ARTICLE 5D. MULTIDISCIPLINARY TEAMS.

§49-5D-3. Multidisciplinary treatment planning process.

(a) (1) A multidisciplinary treatment planning process for cases initiated pursuant to articles five and six of this chapter shall be established within each county of the state, either separately or in conjunction with a contiguous county, by the secretary of the department with advice and assistance from the prosecutor's advisory council as set forth in section four, article four, chapter seven of this code. The Division of Juvenile Services shall establish a similar treatment planning process for delinquency cases in which the juvenile has been committed to its custody, including those cases in which the juvenile has been committed for examination and diagnosis.

(2) The provisions of this section do not require a multidisciplinary team meeting to be held prior to temporarily placing a child or juvenile out-of-home under exigent circumstances or upon a court order placing a juvenile in a facility operated by the Division of Juvenile Services.

(b) The case manager in the Department of Health and Human Resources for the child, family or juvenile or the case manager in the Division of Juvenile Services for a juvenile shall convene a treatment team in each case when it is required pursuant to this article.

Prior to disposition, in each case in which a treatment planning team has been convened, the team shall advise the court as to the types of services the team has determined are needed and the type of placement, if any, which will best serve the needs of the child. If the team determines that an out-of-home placement will best serve the needs of the child, the team shall first consider placement with appropriate relatives then with foster care homes, facilities or programs located within the state. The team may only recommend placement in an out-of-state facility if it concludes, after considering the best interests and overall needs of the child, that there are no available and suitable in-state facilities which can satisfactorily meet the specific needs of the child.

Any person authorized by the provisions of this chapter to convene a multidisciplinary team meeting may seek and receive an order of the circuit court setting such meeting and directing attendance. Members of the multidisciplinary team may participate in team meetings by telephone or video conferencing: Provided, That the provisions of this subsection do not prevent the respective agencies from designating a person other than the case manager as a facilitator for treatment team meetings: Provided however, That written notice shall be provided to all team members of the availability to participate by videoconferencing.

(c) The treatment team shall coordinate its activities and membership with local family resource networks and coordinate with other local and regional child and family service planning committees to assure the efficient planning and delivery of child and family services on a local and regional level.

(d) The multidisciplinary treatment team shall be afforded access to information in the possession of the Department of Health and Human Services Resources, Division of Juvenile Services, law-enforcement agencies and other state, county and local agencies; and the agencies shall cooperate in the sharing of information, as may be provided in sections three(d) and six, article five-d and section one, article seven, all of chapter forty-nine, and any other relevant provision of law. Any multidisciplinary team member who acquires confidential information shall not disclose such information except as permitted by the provisions of this code or court rules.

§49-5D-3c. Multidisciplinary treatment process for status offenders or delinquents.

(a) (1) When a juvenile is adjudicated as a status offender pursuant to section eleven-d, article five of this chapter, the Department of Health and Human Resources shall promptly convene a multidisciplinary treatment team and conduct an assessment, utilizing a standard uniform comprehensive assessment instrument or protocol, to determine the juvenile's mental and physical condition, maturity and education level, home and family environment, rehabilitative needs and recommended service plan, which shall be provided in writing to the court and team members. Upon completion of the assessment, the treatment team shall prepare and implement a comprehensive, individualized service plan for the juvenile.

(2) When a juvenile is adjudicated as a delinquent or has been granted an improvement period pursuant to section nine, article five of this chapter, the court, either upon its own motion or motion of a party, may require the Department of Health and Human Resources to convene a multidisciplinary treatment team and conduct an assessment, utilizing a standard uniform comprehensive assessment instrument or protocol, to determine the juvenile's mental and physical condition, maturity and education level, home and family environment, rehabilitative needs and recommended service plan, which shall be provided in writing to the court and team members. A referral to the Department of Health and Human Resources to convene a multidisciplinary treatment team and to conduct such an assessment shall be made when the court is considering placing the juvenile in the department's custody or placing the juvenile out-of-home at the department's expense pursuant to section thirteen, article five of this chapter. In any delinquency proceeding in which the court requires the Department of Health and Human Resources to convene a multidisciplinary treatment team, the probation officer shall notify the department at least fifteen working days before the court proceeding in order to allow the department sufficient time to convene and develop an individualized service plan for the juvenile.

(3) When a juvenile has been adjudicated and committed to the custody of the Director of the Division of Juvenile Services, including those cases in which the juvenile has been committed for examination and diagnosis, the Division of Juvenile Services shall promptly convene a multidisciplinary treatment team and conduct an assessment, utilizing a standard uniform comprehensive assessment instrument or protocol, to determine the juvenile's mental and physical condition, maturity and education level, home and family environment, rehabilitative needs and recommended service plan. Upon completion of the assessment, the treatment team shall prepare and implement a comprehensive, individualized service plan for the juvenile, which shall be provided in writing to the court and team members. In cases where the juvenile is committed as a post-sentence disposition to the custody of the Division of Juvenile Services, the plan shall be reviewed quarterly by the multidisciplinary treatment team. Where a juvenile has been detained in a facility operated by the Division of Juvenile Services without an active service plan for more than sixty days, the director of the facility may call a multidisciplinary team meeting to review the case and discuss the status of the service plan.

(4) (A) The rules of juvenile procedure shall govern the procedure for obtaining an assessment of a juvenile, preparing an individualized service plan and submitting the plan and assessment to the court.

(B) In juvenile proceedings conducted pursuant to article five of this chapter, the treatment team shall consist of the juvenile, the juvenile's case manager in the Department of Health and Human Resources or the Division of Juvenile Services, the juvenile's parent or parents, guardian or guardians or custodial relatives, the juvenile's attorney, any attorney representing a member of the treatment team, the prosecuting attorney or his or her designee, an appropriate school official and any other person or agency representative who may assist in providing recommendations for the particular needs of the juvenile and family, including domestic violence service providers. In delinquency proceedings, the probation officer shall be a member of a treatment team. When appropriate, the juvenile case manager in the Department of Health and Human Resources and the Division of Juvenile Services shall cooperate in conducting multidisciplinary treatment team meetings when it is in the juvenile's best interest.

(C) Prior to disposition, in each case in which a treatment planning team has been convened, the team shall advise the court as to the types of services the team has determined are needed and type of placement, if any, which will best serve the needs of the child. If the team determines that an out-of-home placement will best serve the needs of the child, the team shall first consider placement at facilities or programs located within the state. The team may only recommend placement in an out-of-state facility if it concludes, after considering the best interests and overall needs of the child, that there are no available and suitable in-state facilities which can satisfactorily meet the specific needs of the child.

(D) The multidisciplinary treatment team shall submit written reports to the court as required by applicable law or by the court, shall meet with the court at least every three months, as long as the juvenile remains in the legal or physical custody of the state, and shall be available for status conferences and hearings as required by the court.

(E) In any case in which a juvenile has been placed out of his or her home except for a temporary placement in a shelter or detention center, the multidisciplinary treatment team shall cooperate with the state agency in whose custody the juvenile is placed to develop an after-care plan. The rules of juvenile procedure and section twenty, article five, chapter forty-nine of the code shall govern the development of an after-care plan for a juvenile, the submission of the plan to the court and any objection to the after-care plan.

(F) If a juvenile respondent admits the underlying allegations of the case initiated pursuant to article five, chapter forty-nine of this code in the multidisciplinary treatment planning process, his or her statements shall not be used in any juvenile or criminal proceedings against the juvenile, except for perjury or false swearing.

The Legislature hereby further finds and declares that any attempt by the Municipal Pension Oversight Board or other entity to recover any of the overpayments would be unjust and create economic hardship for the entities that received overpayments. No entity, including, without limitation, the Municipal Pension Oversight Board, may seek to recover from a relief or pension fund, the Teachers Retirement System or the state any overpayments received from the Municipal Pensions and Protection Fund and the overpayments are not subject to recovery, offset or litigation. Pursuant to the audit by the Treasurer, the amount of $3,631,846.55 is determined owed to specific relief and pension funds through the period of April 27, 2012. The Treasurer is hereby authorized to transfer the amount of $3,631,846.55 from the Unclaimed Property Trust Fund to the Municipal Pensions and Protection Fund, which is hereby reopened for the sole purpose of the transfer and remittances pursuant to this subsection (e), and to use the amount transferred to remit the amounts due to the pension and relief funds. The payment of the $3,631,846.55 to the pension and relief funds is complete satisfaction of any amounts due, and no entity, including, without limitation, the Municipal Pension Oversight Board and any pension or relief fund, may seek to recover any further amounts.

(D) Consideration of the student at full enrollment status in the referring county is for the purposes of funding and calculating attendance and graduation rates only. For any other purpose, a student participating in the academy is considered withdrawn from the public school system;

(4) Articulation of the knowledge, skills and competencies gained through alternative education so that students who return to regular education may proceed toward attainment or may attain the standards for graduation without duplication; and

(5) Consideration of eligibility to take the General Educational Development (GED) Tests by qualifying within the extraordinary circumstances provisions established by state board rule of for a student participating in the Mountaineer Challenge Academy special alternative education program who does not meet any other criteria for eligibility.

(f) (h) Nothing in this section or the rules promulgated under this section compels the Mountaineer Challenge Academy to be operated as a special alternative education program or to be subject to any other laws governing the public schools except by its consent.

~~(g) The state board shall report to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability on or before January 1 of each year on its efforts to cooperate with and support the Mountaineer Challenge Academy pursuant to this section and section twenty-four, article one-b, chapter fifteen of this code.~~

(i) The Legislature makes the following findings regarding students at-risk:

(1) Defeated and discouraged learners:

(A) Any child who is unlikely to graduate on schedule with both the skills and self esteem necessary to exercise meaningful options in the areas of work, leisure, culture, civic affairs and personal relationships may be defined as being an at-risk student;

(B) Problems associated with students at-risk often begin for them in the early grades as they gradually fall further behind in the essential skills of reading, writing and math;

(C) These problems may be accompanied by such behavior patterns as poor attendance, inattentiveness, negative attitudes and acting out in class. These patterns are both symptoms of and added catalysts for students to become increasingly defeated and discouraged learners;

(D) By the middle grades, students with growing skill deficits, usually know they are behind other students and have good reason to feel discouraged. A growing lack of self confidence and self worth, limited optimism for the future, avoidance of school and adults and a dimming view of the relationship between effort and achievement are among the characteristics of defeated and discouraged learners;

(E) Public schools are expected to address the needs of all students, minimizing the likelihood that they will become at-risk and giving additional attention to those who do; however, the circumstances involved with a child becoming at-risk often are complex and may include influences both within and outside of the school environment; and

(F) In fragile homes, a child who is at-risk and is becoming a discouraged and defeated learner often lacks adequate support and may develop peer relationships that further exacerbate the difficulty of reengaging him or her in learning, school and responsible social behavior.

(2) The Legislature further finds that the public schools should not be deterred from seeking and assisting with enrollment of students in an alternative program that helps remedy the discouragement, lessens skill deficits and facilitates a successful return to public school.

(A) For this purpose, subject to approval of the county superintendent, a student enrolled in the public schools of the county may continue to be enrolled while also enrolled in an alternative program subject to the following conditions:

(1) The alternative program is approved by the state board;

(2) The student meets the general description of an at-risk student and exhibits behaviors and characteristics associated with a discouraged and defeated learner;

(3) The alternative program complies with all requests of the county superintendent for information on the educational program and progress of the student;

(4) The alternative program includes a family involvement component in its program. This component shall include, but is not limited to, providing for student and parent participation in activities that help address the challenging issues that have hindered the student's engagement and progress in learning;

(5) The alternative program includes an on site boarding option for students;

(6) The alternative program provides an individualized education program for students that is designed to prepare them for a successful transition back into the public schools; and

(7) The parents or legal guardian of the student make application for enrollment of the student in the alternative program, agree to the terms and conditions for enrollment, and enroll the student in the program.

Eng. House Bill No. 3160, Providing for a pilot initiative on governance of schools jointly established by adjoining counties.

On second reading, coming up in regular order, was read a second time.

The following amendment to the bill, from the Committee on Education, was reported by the Clerk and adopted:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 5. COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION.

§18-5-11. Joint establishment of schools.

(a) The boards of two or more adjoining counties may jointly establish and maintain schools. The title to the school shall be vested in the board of the county in which the school is located. The agreement by which the school is established shall be reduced to writing and entered of record in the minutes of each board.

(b) The boards of the several districts shall determine the site of the proposed school and the amount to be expended for its establishment and equipment. ~~The cost shall be apportioned upon the basis of the respective valuations of the taxable property in each district.~~

(1) The participating counties shall enter a formal agreement regarding the manner in which the cost for the acquisition of the property and equipment shall be apportioned.

(2) The board in the district in which the building is located shall be vested with the control and management of the school, except as may otherwise be provided in the agreement between the counties.

(c) The annual operating costs shall be ~~apportioned among the districts on the basis of the average daily attendance of pupils from each district.~~ the responsibility of the county in which the joint school is located and subject to the allowance transfer set forth in section fourteen, article nine-a of this chapter unless otherwise provided in the agreement between the counties.

(d) For a county board that sends students to a jointly established school in another county and that provides transportation for those students or that otherwise contributes to the support services or instructional program of the school, the net enrollment of the county for the purposes of calculating its basic foundation program as provided in article nine-a of this chapter, only, shall be increased by fifteen one hundredths multiplied by the number of full-time equivalent students from the county who are enrolled in the jointly established school.

§18-5-11a. Joint governing partnership board pilot initiative.

(a) The Legislature finds that many examples exist across the state of students who reside in one county, but who attend the public schools in an adjoining county.

(1) These arrangements have been accommodated by the boards of the adjoining counties and applicable statutes to serve best the interests of the students by enabling them to attend a school closer to their homes.

(2) Typically, these arrangements have evolved because school closures or construction of new schools in the student's county of residence have made a cross-county transfer to an existing school in an adjoining county a more convenient, practical and educationally sound option.

(b) The Legislature further finds that as population changes continue to occur, the boards of adjoining counties may best serve the interests of their students and families by establishing a new school in partnership to be attended by students residing in each of the counties. Particularly in the case of elementary grade level schools established in partnership between adjoining counties, the Legislature finds that each of the county boards, as well as the parents of students from each of the counties attending the school, have an interest in the operation of the school and the preparation of the students for success as they transition to the higher grade levels in the other schools of their respective home counties. Therefore, in the absence of a well defined governance structure that accommodates these interests, the purpose of this section is to provide for a joint governing partnership board pilot initiative.

(c) The pilot initiative is limited to the joint establishment by two adjoining counties of a school including elementary grade levels for which a memorandum of understanding on the governance and operation of the school has been signed. The pilot initiative is subject to amendment of the agreement as may be necessary to incorporate at least the following features of a joint governing partnership board:

(1) The joint governing partnership board is comprised of the county superintendent of each county, the president of the county board of each county or his or her designee, and a designee of the state superintendent;

(2) The board shall elect a chair from among its membership for a two-year term and may meet monthly or at the call of the chair.

(A) Meetings of the board are subject to the open governmental proceedings laws applicable to county boards.

(B) The boards of the respective counties are responsible for the expenses of its members and shall apportion other operational expenses of the board upon mutual agreement.

(C) Once the jointly established school is opened, the meetings of the board shall be held at the school;

(3) All provisions of law applicable to the establishment, operation and management of an inter-county school including, but not limited to, section eleven, article five and section fourteen, article nine-a of this chapter and article eight-i, article four, chapter eighteen-a of this code apply, except that the joint governing partnership board may exercise governing authority for operation and management of the school in the following areas:

(A) Personnel.

(1) Within the applicable laws for employment, evaluation, mentoring, professional development, suspension and dismissal, the powers and duties of the county superintendent are vested in the joint governing partnership board with respect to the employees employed by the county in which the school is located or assigned to the school from the partner county.

(2) The employees are the employees of the employing county board and the partnership board may make recommendations concerning these employment matters to the employing board it considers necessary and appropriate;

(B) Curriculum.

(1) The joint governing partnership board is responsible for the formulation and execution of the school's strategic improvement plan and technology plan to meet the goals for student and school performance and progress.

(2) In its formulation of these plans, the partnership board shall consider the curriculum and plans of the respective county boards to ensure preparation of the students at the school for their successful transition into the higher grade level schools of the respective counties;

(C) Finances. The joint governing partnership board shall control and may approve the expenditure of all funds allocated to the school for the school budget from either county and may solicit and receive donations, apply for and receive grants and conduct fund raisers to supplement the budget; and

(D) Facilities. Consistent with the policies in effect concerning liability insurance coverage, maintenance and appropriate uses of school facilities for the schools of the county in which the school is located, the joint governing partnership board governs the use of the school facility and ensures equitable opportunities for access and use by organizations and groups from both counties.

(b) The joint governing partnership board may adopt policies for the school that are separate from the policies of the respective counties and, working in concert with its local school improvement council, may propose alternatives to the operation of the school which require the request of a waiver of policy, interpretation or statute from either or both county boards, the state board or the Legislature as appropriate.

(c) The superintendents and presidents of county boards of adjoining counties that have in effect on the effective date of this section a memorandum of understanding on the governance and operation of a jointly established school shall report to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability on or before November 1, 2013, on the status of implementation of this section.

(1) Once established, the joint governing partnership board established under this pilot initiative shall remain in effect for five consecutive school years unless authority for the pilot initiative is repealed.

(2) The Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability may request the superintendents and the presidents of the county boards to provide periodic updates on this pilot initiative. Also, at the conclusion of the five-year pilot initiative, they shall report their recommendations on the viability of the joint governing partnership board approach and any recommended changes to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability.

(A) When the five-year period is concluded, by affirmative vote of both boards, the joint governing partnership board shall remain in effect; or

(B) The agreement between the boards for the governance and operation of the school shall revert to the terms in effect on the effective date of this section, subject to amendment by agreement of the boards.

ARTICLE 5A. LOCAL SCHOOL INVOLVEMENT.

§18-5A-2a. Local school improvement council modification for certain jointly established and across county schools.

(a) For the purposes of this section, “parent” or “parents” means the person or persons who have legal responsibility for a student, including parents, guardians or custodians.

(b) Jointly established schools –

(1) In the case of a school that is jointly established by two or more adjoining counties as provided in section eleven, article five of this chapter, the school’s local school improvement council shall be modified to include a composition of parents and at-large members in its membership as follows, notwithstanding subdivisions (4) and (5), subsection (a), section two of this article:

(A) Five parents of students enrolled at the school elected by the parent members of the school’s parent teacher organization. If there is no parent teacher organization, the parent members shall be elected by the parents of students enrolled at the school in such manner as may be determined by the principal. No more than three parents may be residents of the same county; and

(B) Four at-large members appointed by the principal:

(i) Two shall reside in the school's attendance area, but may not be from the same county; and

(ii) Two shall represent business or industry and may not be from the same county.

(C) None of the at-large members is eligible for membership under any of the other elected classes of members.

(2) The local school improvement council shall meet at least once each year with the advisory council as established in the memorandum of understanding or with the joint governing partnership board for the jointly established school as applicable.

(3) Prior to commencing an authorized action under section three of this article for the purpose of proposing alternatives to the operation of the school and for the purpose of requesting a waiver of policy, interpretation or statute if needed to implement the alternative, the local school improvement council shall seek advice from the jointly established school's advisory council or joint governing partnership board.

(c) In the case of a school that is not a jointly established school as provided in section eleven, article five of this chapter, but whose net enrollment includes at least one hundred fifty students whose parents are residents of an adjoining county, upon a petition signed by a majority of the parents of the students who are enrolled at the school, but who reside in an adjoining county, the local school improvement council of the school shall be modified as provided in subdivisions (1) and (2), subsection (a) of this section.

(d) For local school improvement councils under this section who are proposing alternatives to the operation of the school which require the request of a waiver of policy, interpretation or statute under the authority and procedures as set forth in section three of this article, the terms “appropriate board” and “affected board” as used in section three, mean the board or the multiple boards from whom a waiver is necessary for the proposal to be implemented.

That §18-5B-11 of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended and reenacted to read as follows:

ARTICLE 5B. SCHOOL INNOVATION ZONES ACT.

§18-5B-11. Local Solution Dropout Prevention and Recovery Innovation Zone Act.

(a) Legislative findings, intent and purpose. –

The Legislature finds that:

(1) High school graduation is an essential milestone for all West Virginia students and impacts the future success of the individual, community and state;

(2) There are significant correlations between educational attainment and labor market outcomes, greater labor force participation rate, increased employment rates, improved health and decreased levels of poverty and crime. The negative impact on these linkages is most evident in the absence of high school completion;

(3) Dropping out of school is a process, not an event, with factors building and compounding over time;

(4) Students at risk of not completing high school can be identified as early as sixth grade using the indicators of attendance, behavior and course failures. Therefore, a comprehensive graduation plan must include a comprehensive systemic approach that emphasizes early interventions;

(5) Research identifies a number of effective strategies for engaging students that have the most positive impact on improving high school graduation rates. Some of these strategies are school-community collaboration, safe learning environments, family engagement, early literacy development, mentoring and tutoring services, service learning opportunities, alternative and nontraditional schooling, offering multiple pathways and settings for attaining high school diplomas, after-school opportunities, individualized instruction and career and technical education;

(6) Schools cannot solve the dropout problem alone. Research shows when educators, parents, elected officials, business leaders, faith-based leaders, human service personnel, judicial personnel and civic leaders collectively work together they are often able to find innovative solutions to address school and community problems; and

(7) Increasing high school graduation rates is an important factor in preparing a college and career-ready citizenry. Higher education institutions, including community and technical colleges, are essential partners in creating local and statewide solutions.

(b) Therefore, the intent of the Legislature is to provide a separate category of innovation zones designated Local Solution

Dropout Prevention and Recovery Innovation Zones intended to achieve the following purposes:

(1) Provide for the establishment of Local Solution Dropout Prevention and Recovery Innovation Zones to increase graduation rates and reduce the number of dropouts from West Virginia schools;

(2) Provide schools and communities with opportunities for greater collaboration to plan and implement systemic approaches that include evidence-based solutions for increasing graduation rates and reducing the number of dropouts;

(3) Provide a testing ground for innovative graduation programs, incentives and approaches to reducing the number of dropouts;

(4) Provide information regarding the effects of specific innovations, collaborations and policies on graduation rates and dropout prevention and recovery; and

(5) Document educational strategies that increase graduation rates, prevent dropouts and enhance student success.

A message from The Clerk of the House of Delegates announced the amendment by that body, passage as amended with its House of Delegates amended title, to take effect from passage, and requested the concurrence of the Senate in the House of Delegates amendments, as to

Eng. Senate Bill No. 507, Relating to PERS and State Police Retirement System contribution rates.

On motion of Senator Unger, the message on the bill was taken up for immediate consideration.

The following House of Delegates amendments to the bill were reported by the Clerk:

On page two, after the article heading, by inserting a new section, designated section eighteen-a, to read as follows:

§5-10-18a. Reinstatement of service credit for elected officials.

Notwithstanding any provision of this code to the contrary, the reelection of an elected official resulting in a new term of the same or a different office constitutes return to employment for purposes of reinstating previously withdrawn service authorized by section eighteen of this article.;

On page six, section five, after line forty-five, by adding a new section, designated section thirty-five-b, to read as follows:

CHAPTER 18. EDUCATION.

ARTICLE 7A. STATE TEACHERS RETIREMENT SYSTEM.

§18-7A-35b. Temporary early retirement incentives program; legislative declarations and findings; termination date.

Under the prior enactment of this section, the Legislature found and declared that a compelling state interest existed in providing a temporary, early retirement incentives program for encouraging the early, voluntary retirement of those public employees who were current, active, contributing members of this retirement system on April 1, 1988, in the reduction of the number of the employees and in reduction of governmental costs for the employees. The Legislature further found that maintaining an actuarially sound retirement fund is essential and that the reemployment in any manner, including reemployment on a contract basis, by the state of any person who retired under this section is contrary to the intent of the early retirement program and severely threatens the fiscal integrity of the retirement fund. The early retirement program under the prior enactment of this section, offered employees three retirement incentive options. Any person who retired under the provisions of the prior enactment of this section are subject to the restrictions contained in this section.

(a) For the purposes of this section: (1) "Contract" means any personal service agreement, not involving the sale of commodities, that cannot be performed within sixty days or for which the total compensation exceeds $7,500 in any twelve-month period. The term "contract" does not include any agreement obtained by a retirant through a bidding process and which is for the furnishing of any commodity to a government agency; (2) "governmental entity" means the state of West Virginia; a constitutional branch or office of the state government, or any subdivision of state government; a county, city or town in the state; a county board of education; a separate corporation or instrumentality established pursuant to a state statute; any other entity currently permitted to participate in any state public retirement system or the public employees insurance agency; or any officer or official of any entity listed in this subsection who is acting in his or her official capacity; (3) "substitute teacher" means a teacher, public school librarian, registered professional nurse employed by the county board of education or any other person employed for counseling or instructional purposes in a public school in this state who is temporarily fulfilling the duties of an existing person employed in a specific position who is temporarily absent from that specific position; and (4) “part-time elected or appointed office” means any elected or appointed office that compensates its members in an amount less than $2,500 or requires less than sixty days of service in any twelve-month period.

(b) Any member who participated in the retirement incentive program under the prior enactment of this section is not eligible to accept further employment or accept, directly or indirectly, work on a contract basis from a governmental entity: Provided, That the executive director may approve, upon written request for good cause shown, an exception allowing a retirant to perform work on a contract basis: Provided, however, That a person may retire under this section and thereafter serve in an elective office: Provided further, That he or she shall not receive the incentive option he or she elected under the prior enactment of this section during the term of service in that office for which the total compensation exceeds $7,500, but shall receive his or her annuity calculated on regular basis, as if originally taken not under the prior enactment of this section but on a regular basis. At the end of the term and cessation of service in the office, the incentive option resumes. In respect of an appointive office, as distinguished from an elective office, any person retiring under this section and thereafter serving in the appointive office for which the total compensation exceeds $7,500 shall not receive the incentive option he or she elected under the prior enactment of this section during the term of service in that office, but the incentive option resumes during that period: And provided further, That at the end of the term and cessation of service in the appointive office the incentive option provided for under the prior enactment of this section resumes: And provided further, That any person elected or appointed to office by the state or any of its political subdivisions who waives whatever salary, wage or per diem compensation he or she may be entitled to by virtue of service in that office and who does not receive any income from service in that office except the reimbursement of out-of-pocket costs and expenses that are permitted by the statutes governing the office shall continue to receive the incentive option he or she elected under this section. The service may not be counted as contributed or credited service for purposes of computing retirement benefits.

(c) If the elected or appointed office is a part-time elected or appointed office, a person electing retirement under this section may serve in the elective or appointive office with no loss of the benefits provided under the prior enactment of this section.

(d) Prior to the initiation or renewal of any contract for which the total compensation exceeds seven thousand five hundred dollars and entered into pursuant to this section or the acceptance of any elective or appointive office for which the total compensation exceeds seven thousand five hundred dollars, a person who has elected to retire under the early retirement provisions of the prior enactment of this section shall complete a disclosure and waiver statement executed under oath and acknowledged by a notary public. The board shall propose rules for promulgation, pursuant to article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code, regarding the form and contents of the waiver and disclosure statement. The disclosure and waiver statement shall be forwarded to the appropriate state public retirement system administrator who shall take action to ensure that the early retirement incentive option benefit is reduced in accordance with the provisions of this section. The administrator shall then certify that action in writing to the appropriate governmental entity.

(e) In any event, an eligible member who retired under the prior enactment of this section may continue to receive his or her incentive annuity and be employed as a substitute teacher, as adjunct faculty, as a school service personnel substitute, or as a part-time member of the faculty of southern West Virginia community college or West Virginia northern community college: Provided, That the board of directors determines that the part-time employment is in accordance with policies to be adopted by the board regarding adjunct faculty. For purposes of this section, a “part-time member of the faculty” means an individual employed solely to provide instruction for not more than twelve college credits per semester.

(f) Any incentive retirants, under the prior enactment of this section, may not receive an annuity and enter or reenter any governmental retirement system established or authorized to be established by the state, notwithstanding any provision of the code to the contrary, unless required by constitutional provision.

(g) The additional annuity allowed for temporary early retirement is intended to be paid from the retirement incentive account created as a special account in the state treasury and from the funds in the special account established with moneys required to be applied or transferred by heads of spending units from the unused portion of salary and fringe benefits in their budgets accruing in respect to the positions vacated and subsequently canceled under this temporary early retirement program. Salary and fringe benefit moneys actually saved in a particular fiscal year constitute the fund source. No additional annuity shall be disallowed even though initial receipts may not be sufficient, with funds of the system to be applied for the purpose, as for the base annuity.

(h) The executive secretary of the retirement system shall file a quarterly report to the Legislature detailing the number of retirees who have elected to accept early retirement incentive options, the dollar cost to date by option selected, and the projected annual cost through the year two thousand.

(i) Termination of temporary retirement incentives program. – The right to retire under this section terminated on June 30, 1989.

(j) The benefits paid or received by any individual who has elected to retire and his or her continued right to receive any annuity under this the provisions of this section or article may not be reduced or affected by his or her election to public office after retirement. The options available for any such individual to receive compensation for elected office while continuing to receive retirement annuities and benefits shall be determined pursuant to the provisions of section forty-eight, article ten, chapter five of this code. The provisions of this subsection shall be effective retroactively.;

By striking out the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof a new enacting section, to read as follows:

That §5-10-31 of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended and reenacted; that said code be amended by adding thereto a new section, designated §5-10-18a; that §15-2A-5 of said code be amended and reenacted; and that §18-7A-35b of said code be amendment and reenacted, all to read as follows.;

Ordered, That The Clerk communicate to the House of Delegates the action of the Senate and request concurrence therein.

A message from The Clerk of the House of Delegates announced that that body had refused to recede from its amendments, and requested the appointment of a committee of conference of three from each house on the disagreeing votes of the two houses, as to

The jurisdiction for the action is the circuit court of Kanawha County.

(h) If the court determines that a record terminated under this section or rejected in reliance on section 9-516(b)(4) should be reinstated or accepted, the court shall provide a copy of an order to that effect to the Secretary of State. On receipt of an order reinstating a terminated record, the Secretary of State shall refile the record along with a notice indicating that the record was refiled pursuant to this section and its initial filing date. On receipt of an order requiring that a rejected record be accepted, the Secretary of State shall promptly file the record along with a notice indicating that the record was filed pursuant to this section and the date on which it was communicated for filing. A refiled record is considered never to have been ineffective against all persons and for all purposes except that it is not effective as against a purchaser of the collateral that gave value in reasonable reliance on the absence of the record from the files.

(j) Neither the filing office nor any of its employees incur liability for the termination or failure to accept a record for filing in the lawful performance of the duties of the office or employee.

(k) This section does not apply to a record communicated to the filing office by a regulated financial institution or by a representative of a regulated financial institution, except that the Secretary of State may request from the secured party of record on the record or from the person that communicated the record to the filing office, if different and known to the office, additional documentation supporting that the record was communicated to the filing office by a regulated financial institution or by a representative of a regulated financial institution. For the purposes of this section the term “regulated financial institution” means a financial institution subject to regulatory oversight or examination by a state or federal agency and includes banks, savings banks, savings associations, building and loan associations, credit unions, consumer finance companies, industrial banks, industrial loan companies, investment funds, installment sellers, mortgage servicers, sales finance companies and leasing companies.

(l) If a record was communicated to the filing office for filing before the effective date of this section, and its communication would have constituted a violation of subsection (a) of this section if it had occurred on or after the effective date of this section:

(i) Subsections (b) and (c) are not applicable; and

(ii) The remaining subsections of this section are applicable.

On motion of Senator Unger, the message on the bill was taken up for immediate consideration.

The following House of Delegates amendments to the bill were reported by the Clerk:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 5D. WEST VIRGINIA FEED TO ACHIEVE ACT.§18-5D-1. Short title.

This act shall be known and may be cited as the West Virginia Feed to Achieve Act.

§18-5D-2. Legislative findings; intent.

(a) The Legislature finds and declares that:

(1) Every child in school needs to have nutritious meals in order to achieve his or her potential. Providing the best schools and teachers alone does not ensure a child is mentally present and able to learn. A growing body of research establishes that a hungry child is less able to process the information provided and is less likely to be attentive to the lessons being taught.

(2) President Harry S. Truman began the national school lunch program in 1946 as a measure of national security to safeguard the health and well-being of the nation's children and to encourage the domestic consumption of nutritious agricultural commodities and other food. Last year in West Virginia, 32.3 million school lunches were served to students in public schools.

(3) Research shows that healthy eating, proper nutrition and regular physical activity result in students who have: (A) Increased standardized achievement test scores; (B) improved attendance; (C) reduced tardiness; (D) improved academic, behavioral and emotional functioning; and (E) improved nutrition, and for many students, the nutritious breakfast at school is essential.

(4) Schools that provide universal breakfast programs also report: (A) Decreases in discipline and psychological problems; (B) decreases in visits to school nurses; (C) decreases in tardiness; (D) increases in student attentiveness; (E) increases in attendance; and

(F) improved learning environments, and these positive attributes are furthered through comprehensive healthy schools policies that include quality nutrition, integrating physical activity during the school day, and teaching children about the importance of embracing a healthy active lifestyle.

(5) An effective school breakfast program is not an interruption of the school day; it is an integral and vital part of the school day.

(6) The participation rate for the school breakfast program varies greatly among our counties. Those counties which have made a determined effort to increase participation by offering programs to best meet student needs, such as Grab-And-Go Breakfasts, providing Breakfast in the Classroom or providing Breakfast After First Period, are feeding significantly higher percentages of their students.

(7) The West Virginia Center on Budget and Policy reports that in 2011 more than twenty-five percent of the children in West Virginia lived in homes with a household income below the federal poverty line, which is $23,050 for a family of four. About fifty percent of West Virginia children live in homes with a household income below twice the federal poverty level, $46,100 for a family of four, which is approximately the level of the Work Force West Virginia self-sufficiency standard.

(8) The majority of students from families below the self-sufficiency standard are currently not eating breakfast at school. On the average school day during the 2011-2012 school year, less than half of the West Virginia students eligible for a federally funded free breakfast actually received one. On that same average day, only about one third of the students eligible to receive a reduced price breakfast actually received one.

(9) In order to maximize each child's potential to learn and develop, the Legislature, schools and communities must partner to provide the most basic support for learning: nutritious meals.

(10) In order to maximize student participation in school nutrition programs and to reduce the secondary adverse impacts of poverty, it is important that schools provide nutritious meals without a risk to students of being stigmatized as poor.

(11) High rates of childhood hunger and childhood obesity occur simultaneously because children are not receiving healthy, nutritious food. According to the Data Resource Center for Child and Adolescent Health and others, in 2008 West Virginia ranked 44 in overall prevalence of childhood obesity, with 35.5 percent of children considered either overweight or obese.

(12) According to the 2008 Pediatric Nutrition Surveillance System, which assesses weight status of children from low-income families participating in the Women, Infants and Children program, 28.3 percent of low income children age two to five are overweight or obese in West Virginia.

(13) The Food Research and Action Center has found that providing a balanced school breakfast may protect against childhood obesity. School breakfast participation, particularly when combined with comprehensive efforts that include regular physical activity and promote healthy eating habits, is associated with a lower body mass index, a lower probability of being overweight and a lower probability of obesity, all of which help prevent a range of chronic diseases including Type II Diabetes, high blood cholesterol, high blood pressure, heart disease and stroke.

(14) Participation in federally funded meals in child care, preschool, school or summer settings is associated with a lower body mass index among young, low income children.

(15) Private and nonprofit sectors have shown a willingness to commit significant resources to addressing hunger in America, leveraging federal programs and enlisting their employees, customers and clients to improve the availability and accessibility of affordable, healthy food for those in need of assistance.

(16) Public schools in this state and others are adopting a continuum of policies to implement low cost, effective programs that include physical activity, physical education, proper nutrition and the promotion of healthy eating habits, along with involvement by school staff, families and communities, and a variety of resources to assist schools in adopting and implementing these programs are easily accessible on the internet and through the Office of Healthy Schools in the West Virginia Department of Education.

(b) In order to maximize the economies of scale and to access all available federal funds to support our school nutrition programs, the Feed to Achieve initiative directs schools to make available and to promote the federally approved and subsidized meals to all pre-kindergarten through twelfth grade students, to make them readily available and to consider reducing or eliminating the cost to students if sufficient funds become available.

(c) The Legislature intends to provide a framework for the State Board of Education and the county boards of education to provide, as effectively and as efficiently as possible, a minimum of two nutritious meals each school day to all students.

(d) The Legislature intends for the state and county boards of education to enter into public-private partnerships to eventually provide free nutritious meals for all pre-kindergarten through twelfth grade school children in West Virginia.

(e) The Legislature encourages county boards to examine the options available for comprehensive policies and programs to improve student health and promote academic achievement and to establish a comprehensive policy on healthy schools that best meets the needs of their student population.

(f) It is not the intention of the Legislature to allow or encourage parents to abdicate their parental responsibility related to providing healthy, nutritious meals for their children. However, it is the intent of the Legislature that no child be denied nutritious meals.

(g) It is the intent of the Legislature that healthy nutritious school lunches be made available to all students in a manner which maximizes participation and minimizes stigma attached to participating low income students.

§18-5D-3. School nutrition programs.

(a) Each county board of education shall establish and operate school nutrition programs under which, at a minimum, a nutritious breakfast and lunch are made effectively available to all students enrolled in the schools of the county in accordance with the State Board of Education standards. The standards shall include guidelines for determining the eligibility of students for paid, free and reduced meals. The standards shall also establish procedures and guidelines for the Feed to Achieve initiative to allow for the provision of healthy, nutritious meals to all elementary school students, without cost to students, where schools find it practical to do so.

(b) The Feed to Achieve initiative will be phased in for all elementary schools as sufficient funds become available, through donations, contributions and payments made by individuals, communities, businesses, organizations and parents or guardians on behalf of students. Nothing in this article prohibits any school from providing free meals to all of its students.

(c) Each county board of education shall:

(1) Require all schools to adopt a delivery system approved by the state Office of Child Nutrition, no later than the 2015 school year, that ensures all students are given an adequate opportunity to eat breakfast. These approved systems shall include, but are not limited to, Grab-And-Go Breakfasts, Breakfast in the Classroom or Breakfast After First Period; and

(2) Collaborate with the state Office of Child Nutrition to develop strategies and methods to increase the percentage of children participating in the school breakfast and lunch nutrition programs.

(d) In addition to other statistics, the county boards of education, in consultation with the state Office of Child Nutrition, shall determine the number of children in each school who are participating in each meal offered by the school; the number of children who are not eating each meal offered by the school; and the total daily attendance.

(e) The state Office of Child Nutrition shall report to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance, the Select Committee on Children and Poverty and the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability on or before December 31, 2015, and each year thereafter, on the impacts of the Feed to Achieve Act and any recommendations for legislation.

(f) County boards of education may utilize the nonprofit funds or foundations established in section four of this article or other available funds to offset the costs of providing free meals, after school and summer nutrition programs to elementary students.

(g) If at any time federal financial appropriations to this state for school nutrition programs are terminated, county boards of education are hereby authorized, but not required, to continue the programs at their own expense.

(h) Classroom teachers may not be required to participate in the operation of the school breakfast program as part of their regular duties.

§18-5D-4. Creating public-private partnerships; creating nonprofit foundation or fund; audit.

(a) The Department of Education and each county board of education shall promptly establish a fund that is restricted solely for the receipt and expenditure of gifts, grants and bequests for the purposes of this article and may establish in lieu thereof a nonprofit foundation for this purpose. The purpose of the fund or nonprofit foundation is to provide supplemental or matching funds to increase participation in the nutrition programs in the Feed to Achieve initiative set forth in subsection (c) of this section. The Department of Education shall utilize its fund or nonprofit foundation to assist county boards of education in counties whose fund or foundation lacks sufficient business, industry and individual contributors to fund the Feed to Achieve nutrition programs.

(b) Financial support for the fund or foundation may come from either public or private gifts, grants, contributions, bequests and endowments.

(c) Expenditures from the state or county funds or by the foundations shall be used for provision of food to students through any of the programs or initiatives approved by the Office of Child Nutrition, including the following programs: School Breakfast Program, National School Lunch Program, the Summer Food Service Program, the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program, the Child and Adult Care Food Program, the farm-to-school initiative and community gardens. Expenditures may also be made for initiatives developed with the Department of Health and Human Resources and public-private partnerships to provide outreach and nutritional meals when students are not in school.

(d) No administrative expenses or personnel expenses for any of the state departments implementing this act, the State Board of Education, any county board of education, school or program may be paid from the funds or by the foundations.

(e) Individuals or businesses that contribute to the funds or foundations may specify schools or nutrition programs for which the contribution is to be used.

(f) The Department of Education and county boards of education may establish public-private partnerships to enhance current or advance additional nutrition programs that provide nutritious food for children to take home for weekend meals.

(g) The Department of Education and county boards of education shall form or expand existing partnerships with the federal and state departments of agriculture, Department of Health and Human Resources, local master gardeners, county extension agents or other experts in the field of agriculture or gardening to develop community gardens, farm-to-school programs and other such programs that teach students how to grow and produce healthy food and provide healthy food to the students.

(h) The Department of Education shall collaborate with the Department of Health and Human Resources to develop effective strategies and programs such as after school nutrition outreach and programs that improve the healthy lifestyle of all students in prekindergarten through twelfth grade. The Department of Health and Human Resources may propose rules for promulgation in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code to effectuate any programs so developed.

(i) All moneys contributed to a fund or foundation established pursuant to this section and all expenditures made therefrom shall be audited as part of the annual independent audit of the State Board of Education and the county boards of education.;

And,

ARTICLE 3. COSTS, FINES AND RECORDS.

§50-3-2c. Withholding from personal income tax refunds for unpaid fines and costs in magistrate criminal actions, in magistrate criminal appeals to circuit court and for failure to appear in court.

(a) If costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties imposed by the magistrate court upon conviction of a person for a criminal offense as defined by this code, imposed by the circuit court upon judgment on an appeal to circuit court of that conviction, or imposed by either court for failure to appear are not paid in full within one year of the judgment, the magistrate court clerk or, upon a judgment rendered on appeal, the circuit clerk shall notify the Tax Commissioner that the defendant has failed to pay the costs, fines, forfeitures or penalties assessed by the court. The notice provided by the magistrate clerk or the circuit clerk to the Tax Commissioner must include the defendant's Social Security number. The Tax Commissioner, or his or her designee, shall withhold from any personal income tax refund due and owing to a defendant the costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties due, the Tax Commissioner's administration fee for the withholding and any and all fees or other amounts that the magistrate court and the circuit court would have collected had the defendant appeared: Provided, That no withholding shall be made under this section if there is an unsatisfied withholding request made pursuant to section two-b, article ten, chapter eight of this code. The Tax Commissioner's administration fee shall not exceed $25, unless this maximum amount is increased by legislative rule promulgated in accordance with article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code. The administrative fees deducted shall be deposited in the special revolving fund hereby created in the State Treasury, which shall be designated as the Magistrate Fines and Fees Collection Fund, and the Tax Commissioner shall make such expenditures from the fund as he or she deems appropriate for the administration of this subsection.

(b)(1) After deduction of the Tax Commissioner's administration fee, the Tax Commissioner shall remit all remaining amounts withheld pursuant to this section to the clerk of the court that notified the Tax Commissioner of the failure to pay under subsection (a) of this section.

(2) From the amounts received from the Tax Commissioner, the circuit clerk shall distribute the portion thereof that is attributable to costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties owed to magistrate court to the magistrate clerk and distribute the remainder that is attributable to costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties owed to circuit court to the appropriate fund or payee, as applicable and listed in section twenty-eight-a, article one, chapter fifty-nine of this code and as otherwise required by law.

(3) From the amounts received from the Tax Commissioner, or from the circuit clerk under subdivision (2) of this subsection, the magistrate clerk shall distribute applicable costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties owed to the appropriate fund or payee, as applicable and listed in subsection (g), section two-a of this article and as otherwise required by law.

(4) After the costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties are withheld, the Tax Commissioner shall refund any remaining balance due the defendant.

(5) If the refund is not sufficient to cover all the costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties to be withheld pursuant to this section, the Tax Commissioner's administration fee shall be retained by the Tax Commissioner and the remaining money withheld shall be remitted by the Tax Commissioner to the appropriate clerk. The clerk shall then allocate the money so remitted on a pro rata basis as provided in the applicable provisions of subdivision (2) or (3) of this subsection.

(c) In the event the costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties exceed the defendant's income tax refund, the Tax Commissioner shall withhold the remaining balance in subsequent years until such time as the costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties owed are paid in full. The Tax Commissioner shall remit the moneys that he or she collects to the appropriate clerk no later than July 1 of each year. If the circuit court or the magistrate court subsequently determines that any costs, fines, fees, forfeitures, restitution or penalties were erroneously imposed, the clerk of the court shall promptly notify the Tax Commissioner. If the amounts due are paid in full to the court from a source other than the Tax Commissioner after the clerk of the court has provided notice of the failure to pay to the tax commissioner, the clerk of the court shall promptly notify the Tax Commissioner of the payment. If the refunds have not been withheld and remitted, the Tax Commissioner may not withhold and remit payment to the appropriate court and shall so inform the clerk of the court. If the refunds have already been withheld and remitted to the court, the Tax Commissioner shall so inform the clerk of the court. In either event, all refunds for erroneously imposed costs, fines, forfeitures or penalties shall be made by the appropriate court and not by the Tax Commissioner.

(d) Rules. – The Tax Commissioner may propose for legislative approval such rules as may be useful or necessary to carry out the purpose of this section and to implement the intent of the Legislature. Rules shall be promulgated in accordance with article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.;

ARTICLE 2. STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

§18-2-25a. Management of concussions and head injuries in athletics at West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission member high school or middle school.

(a) The Legislature makes the following findings:

(1) Concussions are one of the most commonly reported injuries in children and adolescents who participate in sports and recreational activities. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that as many as 3.9 million sports-related and recreation-related concussions occur in the United States each year;

(2) A concussion is caused by a blow or motion to the head or body that causes the brain to move rapidly inside the skull. The risk of catastrophic injuries or death is significant when a concussion or head injury is not properly evaluated and managed;

(3) Concussions are a type of brain injury that can range from mild to severe and can disrupt the way the brain normally functions;

(4) Concussions can occur in any organized or unorganized sport or recreational activity and can result from a fall or from players colliding with each other or with obstacles;

(5) Concussions occur with or without loss of consciousness, but the vast majority occur without loss of consciousness;

(6) The interscholastic athlete who continues to play or practice with a concussion or symptoms of head injury is especially vulnerable to greater injury and even death; and

(7) Even with generally recognized return-to-play-and-practice standards for concussion and head injury, some affected interscholastic athletes are prematurely returned to play or practice resulting in increased risk of physical injury or death to the athletes in the State of West Virginia.

(b) For the purposes of this section, “interscholastic athlete” means any athlete who is participating in interscholastic athletics at a high school or middle school that is a member of the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission. “Licensed health care professional” means a health care provider whose licensed scope of practice includes the ability to diagnose and treat an injury or disease.

(c) The West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission shall promulgate rules pursuant to section twenty-five of this article that address concussions and head injuries in interscholastic athletes: Provided, That prior to state board approval and notwithstanding the exemption provided in section three, article one, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code, the state board shall submit the rule to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability pursuant to section nine, article three-b, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

(d) The rules required by this section shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Guidelines and other pertinent information to inform and educate appropriate school administrators, coaches, interscholastic athletes and their parents or guardians of the nature and risk of concussion and head injury including the risks of continuing to play or practice after a concussion or head injury;

(2) A concussion and head injury information sheet that shall be signed and returned by the interscholastic athlete and the athlete’s parent or guardian on an annual basis before the interscholastic athlete begins practice or competition;

(3) A requirement that each head coach of an interscholastic sport at a high school or middle school who is a member of the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission complete a commission-approved concussion and head injury recognition and return-to-play protocol course annually;

(4) A requirement that an interscholastic athlete who is suspected by a licensed health care professional or by his or her head coach or athletic trainer of having sustained a concussion or head injury in a practice or game shall be removed from competition at that time;

(5) A requirement that an interscholastic athlete who has been removed from play or practice may not return to play or practice until the athlete is evaluated by a licensed health care professional trained in the evaluation and management of concussions and receives written clearance to return to play and practice from the licensed health care professional;

(6) A list of the respective categories of licensed health care professionals who, if properly trained in the evaluation and management of concussions, are authorized to provide written clearance for the interscholastic athlete to return to play; and

(7) A requirement that all member schools must submit a report to the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission within thirty days of an interscholastic athlete suffering or being suspected of suffering a concussion or head injury in a practice or game. The report must state whether an evaluation by a licensed health care professional verified that a concussion or head injury was actually suffered, whether the athlete received written clearance to return to play or practice and, if written clearance was given, the number of days between the incident and the actual return to play or practice. If written clearance to return to play is given after thirty days of the incident, a report update shall be submitted. The West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission shall compile and submit the reports to the appropriate state and national organization or agencies to analyze and make determinations on whether the rule required by this section needs to be amended or if equipment worn by interscholastic athlete needs to be changed accordingly.;

And,

By striking out the title and substituting therefor a new title, to read as follows:

Sub. for Senate Bill No. 336—A Bill to amend the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, by adding thereto a new section, designated §18-2-25a, relating to establishing protocols and protections to limit and treat injury to youth athletes and students; making legislative findings with respect to concussions and athletic endeavors; defining certain terms; requiring certain rules; and setting forth certain minimum provisions of rules.

(a) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, in the event any member who has ten or more years of credited service or any former member with ten or more years of credited service and who is entitled to a deferred annuity, pursuant to section twenty-one of this article, may at any time prior to the effective date of his or her retirement, by written declaration duly executed and filed with the board of trustees, in the same manner as if he or she were then retiring from the employ of a participating public employer, elect option A provided in section twenty-four of this article and nominate a beneficiary whom the board finds to have had an insurable interest in the life of the member. Prior to the effective date of his or her retirement, a member may revoke his or her election of option A and nomination of beneficiary and he or she may again prior to his or her retirement elect option A and nominate a beneficiary as provided in this subsection. Upon the death of a member who has an option A election in force, his or her beneficiary, if living, shall immediately receive an annuity computed in the same manner in all respects as if the same member had retired the day preceding the date of his or her death, notwithstanding that he or she might not have attained age sixty years, and elected the said option A. If at the time of his or her retirement a member has an option A election in force, his or her election of option A and nomination of beneficiary shall thereafter continue in force. As an alternative to annuity option A, a member or former member may elect to have the preretirement death benefit paid as a return of accumulated contributions in a lump sum amount to any beneficiary or beneficiaries he or she chooses.

(2) In the event any member or former member, who first became a member of the Public Employees Retirement System after the effective date of amendments made to this section during the 2006 regular legislative session and who has ten or more years of credited service and who is entitled to a deferred annuity, pursuant to section twenty-one of this article: Dies without leaving a surviving spouse; but leaves surviving him or her a child who is financially dependent on the member by virtue of a permanent mental or physical disability upon evidence satisfactory to the board; and has named the disabled child as sole beneficiary, the disabled child shall immediately receive an annuity computed in the same manner in all respects as if the member had: (A) Retired the day preceding the date of his or her death, notwithstanding that he or she might not have attained age sixty or sixty-two years, as the case may be; (B) elected option A provided in section twenty-four of this article; and (C) nominated his or her disabled child as beneficiary. A member or former member with ten or more years of credited service, who does not leave surviving him or her a spouse or a disabled child, may elect to have the preretirement death benefit paid as a return of accumulated contributions in a lump sum amount to any beneficiary or beneficiaries he or she chooses.

(b) (1) In the event any member who has ten or more years of credited service, or any former member with ten or more years of credited service and who is entitled to a deferred annuity, pursuant to section twenty-one of this article: Dies; and leaves a surviving spouse, the surviving spouse shall immediately receive an annuity computed in the same manner in all respects as if the member had: (A) Retired the day preceding the date of his or her death, notwithstanding that he or she might not have attained age sixty or sixty-two years, as the case may be; (B) elected option A provided in section twenty-four of this article; and (C) nominated his or her surviving spouse as beneficiary. However, the surviving spouse shall have the right to waive the annuity provided in this section: Provided, That he or she executes a valid and notarized waiver on a form provided by the board and that the member or former member attests to the waiver. If the waiver is presented to and accepted by the board, the member or former member, may nominate a beneficiary who has an insurable interest in the member's or former member's life. As an alternative to annuity option A, the member or former member may elect to have the preretirement death benefit paid as a return of accumulated contributions in a lump sum amount to any beneficiary or beneficiaries he or she chooses in the event a waiver, as provided in this section, has been presented to and accepted by the board.

(2) Whenever any member or former member who first became a member of the retirement system after the effective date of the amendments to this section made during the 2006 regular legislative session and who has ten or more years of credited service and who is entitled to a deferred annuity, pursuant to section twenty-one of this article: Dies; and leaves a surviving spouse, the surviving spouse shall immediately receive an annuity computed in the same manner in all respects as if the member had: (A) Retired the day preceding the date of his or her death, notwithstanding that he or she might not have attained age sixty or sixty-two years, as the case may be; (B) elected option A provided in section twenty-four of this article; and (C) nominated his or her surviving spouse as beneficiary. However, the surviving spouse shall have the right to waive the annuity provided in this section: Provided, That he or she executes a valid and notarized waiver on a form provided by the board and that the member or former member attests to the waiver. If the waiver is presented to and accepted by the board, the member or former member may: (1) Elect to have the preretirement death benefit paid in a lump sum amount, rather than annuity option A provided in section twenty-four of this article, as a return of accumulated contributions to any beneficiary or beneficiaries he or she chooses; or (2) may name his or her surviving child, who is financially dependent on the member by virtue of a permanent mental or physical disability, as his or her sole beneficiary to receive an annuity computed in the same manner in all respects as if the member had: (A) Retired the day preceding the date of his or her death, notwithstanding that he or she might not have attained the age of sixty or sixty-two as the case may be; (B) elected option A provided in section twenty-four of this article; and (C) nominated his or her disabled child as beneficiary.

(c) In the event any member who has ten or more years of credited service or any former member with ten or more years of credited service and who is entitled to a deferred annuity, pursuant to section twenty-one of this article: (1) Dies without leaving surviving him or her a spouse; but (2) leaves surviving him or her an infant child or children; and (3) does not have a beneficiary nominated as provided in subsection (a) of this section, the infant child or children are entitled to an annuity to be calculated as follows: The annuity reserve shall be calculated as though the member had retired as of the date of his or her decease and elected a straight life annuity and the amount of the annuity reserve shall be paid in equal monthly installments to the member's infant child or children until the child or children attain age twenty-one or sooner marry or become emancipated; however, in no event shall any child or children receive more than $250 per month each. The annuity payments shall be computed as of the date of the death of the member and the amount of the annuity shall remain constant during the period of payment. The annual amount of the annuities payable by this section shall not exceed sixty percent of the deceased member's final average salary.

(d) In the event any member or former member does not have ten or more years of credited service, no preretirement death annuity may be authorized, owed or awarded under this section, except as provided in subdivision (4), subsection (a), section fifteen of this article as amended during the 2005 regular session of the Legislature.

(e) Any person qualified as a surviving dependent child under this section, who is the surviving dependent child of a law-enforcement officer who loses his or her life in the performance of duty, in addition to any other benefits due under this or other sections of this article, is entitled to receive a scholarship to be applied to the career development education of that person. This sum, up to but not exceeding $7,500 per year, shall be paid from the fund to any higher education institution in this state, career-technical education provider in this state or other entity in this state approved by the board, to

The following House of Delegates amendments to the bill were reported by the Clerk:

By striking out everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

That §62-6B-2, §62-6B-3 and §62-6B-4 of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended and reenacted, all to read as follows:

ARTICLE 6B: PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION OF STATEMENTS AND TESTIMONY OF CHILD WITNESS.

§62-6B-2. Definitions.

For the purposes of this article, the words or terms defined in this section, and any variation of those words or terms required by the context, have the meanings ascribed to them in this section.

These definitions are applicable unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context.

(1) “Child witness” means a person ~~thirteen years of age or less~~ under the age of sixteen years of age who is or will be called to testify in a criminal matter concerning an alleged violation of the provisions of sections three, four, five and seven, article eight-b, chapter sixty-one of this code in which the child is the alleged victim.

(2) “Live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television” means a simultaneous transmission, by closed-circuit television or other electronic means, between the courtroom and the testimonial room.

(3) “Operator” means the individual authorized by the court to operate the ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television equipment used in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(a) Upon a written motion filed by the prosecuting attorney, the child’s attorney or the child’s guardian ad litem, and upon findings of fact determined pursuant to subsection (b) of this section, a circuit court may order that the testimony of a child witness may be taken at a pretrial proceeding or at trial through the use of live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television.

(b) Prior to ordering that the testimony of a child witness may be taken through the use of live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television, the circuit court must find by clear and convincing evidence, after conducting an evidentiary hearing on this issue, that:

(1) The child is an otherwise competent witness;

(2) That, absent the use of live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television the child witness will be unable to testify due solely to being required to be in the physical presence of the defendant while testifying;

(3) The child witness can only testify if live, two-way closed-circuit television is used in the trial; and

(4) That the state's ability to proceed against the defendant without the child witness' live testimony would be substantially impaired or precluded.

(c) The court shall consider the following factors in determining the necessity of allowing a child witness to testify by the use of live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television:

(1) The age and maturity of the child witness;

(2) The facts and circumstances of the alleged offense;

(3) The necessity of the child's live testimony to the prosecution's ability to proceed as well as any prejudice to the defendant by allowing testimony through closed-circuit television;

(4) Whether or not the facts of the case involve the alleged infliction of bodily injury to the child witness or the threat of bodily injury to the child or another; and

(5) Any mental or physical handicap of the child witness.

(d) In determining whether to allow a child witness to testify through live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television the court shall appoint a psychiatrist or a licensed psychologist with at least five years clinical experience ~~or a licensed clinical social worker with at least five years of significant clinical experience in the treatment~~

~~and evaluation of children~~ who shall serve as an advisor or friend of the court to provide the court with an expert opinion as to whether, to a reasonable degree of professional certainty, the child witness will suffer severe emotional harm, be unable to testify based solely on being in the physical presence of the defendant while testifying and that the child witness does not evidence signs of being subjected to undue influence or coercion. The opinion of the psychiatrist or licensed psychologist ~~or licensed clinical social worker~~ shall be filed with the circuit court at least thirty days prior to the final hearing on the use of live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television and the defendant shall be allowed to review the opinion and present evidence on the issue by the use of an expert or experts or otherwise.

§62-6B-4. Procedures required for taking testimony of child witness by closed-circuit television; election of defendant; jury instruction; sanction for failure to follow procedures; additional accommodation options; recordings and confidentiality.

(a) If the court determines that the use of live, two-way closed-circuit testimony is necessary and orders its use the defendant may, at any time prior to the child witness being called, elect to absent himself from the courtroom during the child witness' testimony. If the defendant so elects the child shall be required to testify in the courtroom.

(b) (1) If live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television is used in the testimony of the child witness, he or she shall be taken into the testimonial room and be televised live, by ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit equipment to the view of the defendant, counsel, the court and, if applicable, the jury. The projected image of the defendant shall be visible for child witness to view if he or she chooses to do so and the view of the child witness available to those persons in the courtroom shall include a full body view. Only the prosecuting attorney, the attorney for the defendant and the operator of the equipment may be present in the room with the child witness during testimony.

Only the court, the prosecuting attorney and the attorney for the defendant may question the child. In pro se proceedings, the court may modify the provisions of this subdivision relating to the role of the attorney for the defendant to allow the pro se defendant to question the child witness in such a manner as to cause as little psychological trauma as possible under the circumstances. The court shall permit the defendant to observe and hear the testimony of the child witness contemporaneous with the taking of the testimony. The court shall provide electronic means for the defendant and the attorney for the defendant to confer confidentially during the taking of the testimony.

(2) If the defendant elects to not be physically present in the courtroom during the testimony of the child witness, the defendant shall be taken into the testimonial room and be televised live, by two-way closed-circuit equipment to the view of the finder of fact and others present in the courtroom. The defendant shall be taken to the testimonial room prior to the appearance of the child witness in the courtroom. There shall be made and maintained a recording of the images and sounds of all proceedings which were televised pursuant to this article. While the defendant is in the testimonial room, the defendant shall be permitted to view the live, televised image of the child witness and the image of those other persons in the courtroom whom the court determines the defendant is entitled to view. Only the court, the prosecuting attorney and the attorney for the defendant may question the child. (c) In every case where the provisions of the article are used, the jury, at a minimum, shall be instructed, unless such instruction is waived by the defendant, that the use of live, ~~two-way~~ closed-circuit television is being used solely for the child's convenience, that the use of the medium cannot as a matter of law and fact be considered as anything other than being for the convenience of the child witness and that to infer anything else would constitute a violation of the oath taken by the jurors.;

And,

By striking out the title and substituting therefor a new title, to read as follows:

Eng. Com. Sub. for Senate Bill No. 461—A Bill to amend and reenact §62-6B-2, §62-6B-3 and §62-6B-4 of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, all relating to child witnesses; allowing for the consideration of testimony by video; increasing the age for which the court may consider allowing for the testimony of a child witness by closed-circuit television for children under the age of sixteen; qualifications of experts which may be appointed to assist the court when reviewing associated motions; and adding to the factors to be considered by the court with regard to associated motions.

(a) Prior to the issuance of assessment bonds or pledging any amounts to payment of tax increment financing obligation debt service, the board shall cause a report to be prepared describing each lot or parcel of land located within the community enhancement district and setting forth the total cost of the project based on the contract with the governmental agency, the accepted bid or bids, or a cost estimate certified by a professional engineer, and all other costs incurred prior to the commencement of construction and the future administrative costs, and the respective amounts chargeable upon each lot or parcel of land and the proper amount to be assessed against the respective lots or parcels of land with a description of the lots and parcels of land as to ownership and location. If two or more different kinds of projects are involved, the report shall set forth the portion of the assessment attributable to each respective project. The board shall thereupon give notice to the owners of real property to be assessed that on or after a date specified in the notice an assessment will be deemed granted against the property. The modified assessment shall be granted against all property in the district for inclusion in the tax ticket or the preparation of modified tax tickets by that sheriff for the affected parcels.

~~(b)~~ (c) Upon completion of a project, the board shall prepare a final report certifying the completion of the project and showing the total cost of the project and whether the cost is greater or less than the cost originally estimated. At the request of Senator Plymale, and by unanimous consent, the Senate returned to the second order of business and the introduction of guests.

The Senate again proceeded to the sixth order of business.

At the request of Senator Kirkendoll, unanimous consent being granted, Senators Kirkendoll, Kessler (Mr. President), Barnes, Beach, Blair, Boley, Cann, Carmichael, Chafin, Cole, Cookman, Edgell, Facemire, Fitzsimmons, Green, D. Hall, M. Hall, Jenkins, Laird, McCabe, Miller, Nohe, Palumbo, Plymale, Prezioso, Snyder, Stollings, Sypolt, Tucker, Unger, Walters, Wells, Williams and Yost offered the following resolution from the floor:

Senate Resolution No. 69—Recognizing July 16 as “Atomic Veterans Day of Remembrance” in West Virginia.

Whereas, On July 16, 1945, the world’s first atomic bomb, code-named “Trinity”, was detonated in Alamogordo, New Mexico, and from that date until June 12, 1963, there were 1,054 nuclear devices detonated in tests considered vital to our national security, and approximately 750,000 U. S. military and civilian personnel participated in these experimental endeavors; and

Whereas, Many of the nation’s veterans, including residents of West Virginia, were subjected to varying amounts of radiation because of this testing of atomic weapons; and

Whereas, The potential harm to these veterans was unknown at the time of the testing, resulting in the exposure of many veterans to harmful doses of radiation and causing them to suffer debilitating, degenerative diseases that affect the veterans and their descendants; and

Whereas, Veterans who were early test subjects were required to sign an oath of secrecy regarding their involvement in the atomic testing, preventing these veterans from informing the Veterans Health Administration of their medical problems that resulted from radiation until 1996, when these veterans were released from their oaths of secrecy; and

Whereas, In 1979, the National Association of Atomic Veterans was created to locate these veterans, to honor the sacrifices they made and to help these veterans and their families in obtaining medical treatment and assistance; and

Whereas, By engaging in a national research and education effort for atomic war veterans, the National Association of Atomic Veterans is promoting early detection of medical problems and research and documentation of the connection between radiation exposure and resultant cancer and other debilitating, degenerative diseases and genetic mutations; and

Whereas, In the time since these detonations, roughly fifty percent of the men and women who participated in the testing have experienced the harmful effects of exposure to ionizing radiation, yet these veterans who were injured in the line of duty received no medals because they were not in combat; and

Whereas, The number of members in this group is rapidly decreasing because of the age of these veterans, and thus it is important to recognize these individuals who sacrificed so much in serving our country and who are deserving of our immense gratitude; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes July 16 as “Atomic Veterans Day of Remembrance” in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate encourages the Governor, the Department of Veterans' Assistance and all West Virginians to take part in this significant observance; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to Haskell Watts, Jr., West Virginia State Commander of the National Association of Atomic Veterans, the Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Veterans' Assistance and the Governor of West Virginia.

At the request of Senator Kirkendoll, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and resumed business under the sixth order.

Senators Cann, Barnes, Facemire, Green, D. Hall, Kirkendoll, McCabe, Tucker, Walters, Wells, Yost and Williams offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 76—Urging Congress to update the Renewable Fuel Standard to allow a broader range of domestic fuel sources, such as natural gas and coal, to be used to make liquid ethanol.

Whereas, The United States needs a balanced and sensible domestic energy policy; and

Whereas, Reducing dependence on foreign oil is not only a matter of national security, but a significant opportunity to enhance economic prosperity and job growth in West Virginia; and

Whereas, Today there are multiple routes to ethanol, including traditional fossil fuels such as natural gas and coal, which are plentiful in West Virginia and several other states in the country; and

Whereas, West Virginia is committed to being a leader in development of a sustainable national energy policy; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby urges Congress to update the Renewable Fuel Standard to allow a broader range of domestic fuel sources, such as natural gas and coal, to be used to make liquid ethanol; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislature of West Virginia urges Congress to pass legislation that promotes growth of domestic alternative fuel sources and reduces dependence on foreign oil; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to members of the United States Senate representing West Virginia; to members of the West Virginia Congressional delegation; to the President of the United States Senate; and to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and reference to a committee dispensed with.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution, the same was put and prevailed.

Ordered, That The Clerk communicate to the House of Delegates the action of the Senate and request concurrence therein.

Senators Unger and Williams offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 77—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance authorize a study of alternative and renewable energy sources, incentives and opportunities including those expressed in the Governor’s five-year energy plan published in 2013.

Whereas, The Legislature has expressed support of the solar industry over the past five years, including Senate Bill 465 that provided an alternative infrastructure and vehicle tax credit in 2011 including electricity from solar; and

Whereas, Alternative and renewable energy portfolio standards need to be improved to include language which establishes a solar renewable energy credit system; and

Whereas, The soft costs associated with solar energy represent an impediment to certain growth of the industry and evaluating appropriate incentives, tax credits and economic stimulus funding sources will promote job growth and energy independence in this state; and

Whereas, Once alternative and renewable energy options are fully investigated and identified the solar industry will be able to thrive and grow in the future and provide for a more diverse energy sector; and

Whereas, A study on how the solar industry can benefit the state including appropriate programs that promote the solar energy sector, providing appropriate incentives in order to encourage a manufacturer to locate a domestic solar facility in this state and providing incentives for institutions of higher education to conduct research and development to help establish West Virginia as a leader in the United States for solar energy projects; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to authorize a study of alternative and renewable energy sources, incentives and opportunities including those expressed in the Governor's five-year energy plan published in 2013; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senators Snyder and Williams offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 78—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the merits of authorizing the Public Service Commission to oversee Internet service providers as public utilities; to establish, prescribe and enforce rates and fees for providers of high-speed Internet services; and to regulate the quality, reliability and availability of Internet services throughout the state.

Whereas, Innovation and rapidly developing technologies are leading to increasing use of interactive content and audio and video streaming that require higher network bandwidth than is available through the telephone dial-up Internet access method; and

Whereas, The availability of affordable, reliable, high-quality Internet network access is an important factor in the development of a competitive workforce, a dynamic business environment, educational achievement and the economic health of residential communities; and

Whereas, The use of Internet services has expanded rapidly in the past twenty years and is highly likely to continue to expand to such extent as to make a commodity of access to Internet services; and

Whereas, In many areas of this state there is very little effective competition to encourage and stimulate price competition among Internet service providers; and

Whereas, Rates for Internet service providers vary widely from state to state and consumers in adjoining states have been able to pay lower rates for similar services than consumers in West Virginia in comparable geographic circumstances; and

Whereas, There is currently no state regulation or oversight of Internet service providers in this state; and

Whereas, It is in the public interest to provide a forum for customers of Internet service providers to comment on rate structures and rate proposals, and to submit grievances regarding the provision of Internet network services and dealings with service providers; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the merits of authorizing the Public Service Commission to oversee Internet service providers as public utilities; to establish, prescribe and enforce rates and fees for providers of high-speed Internet services; and to regulate the quality, reliability and availability of Internet services throughout the state; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2014, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and referred to the Committee on Rules.

ARTICLE 5. JUVENILE PROCEEDINGS.

§49-5-2. Juvenile jurisdiction of circuit courts, magistrate courts and municipal courts; constitutional guarantees; hearings; evidence and transcripts.

(a) The circuit court has original jurisdiction of proceedings brought under this article.

(b) If during a criminal proceeding in any court it is ascertained or appears that the defendant is under the age of nineteen years and was under the age of eighteen years at the time of the alleged offense, the matter shall be immediately certified to the juvenile jurisdiction of the circuit court. The circuit court shall assume jurisdiction of the case in the same manner as cases which are originally instituted in the circuit court by petition.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, magistrate courts have concurrent juvenile jurisdiction with the circuit court for a violation of a traffic law of West Virginia, for a violation of section nine, article six, chapter sixty, section three or section four, article nine-a, chapter sixteen, or section nineteen, article sixteen, chapter eleven of this code, or for any violation of chapter twenty of this code. Juveniles are liable for punishment for violations of these laws in the same manner as adults except that magistrate courts have no jurisdiction to impose a sentence of incarceration for the violation of these laws.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, municipal courts have concurrent juvenile jurisdiction with the circuit court for a violation of any municipal ordinance regulating traffic, for any municipal curfew ordinance which is enforceable or for any municipal ordinance regulating or prohibiting public intoxication, drinking or possessing alcoholic liquor or nonintoxicating beer in public places, any other act prohibited by section nine, article six, chapter sixty or section nineteen, article sixteen, chapter eleven of this code or underage possession or use of tobacco or tobacco products, as provided in article nine-a, chapter sixteen of this code. Municipal courts may impose the same punishment for these violations as a circuit court exercising its juvenile jurisdiction could properly impose, except that municipal courts have no jurisdiction to impose a sentence of incarceration for the violation of these laws.

(e) A juvenile may be brought before the circuit court for proceedings under this article only by the following means:

(1) By a juvenile petition requesting that the juvenile be adjudicated as a status offender or a juvenile delinquent; or

(2) By certification or transfer to the juvenile jurisdiction of the circuit court from the criminal jurisdiction of the circuit court, from any foreign court, or from any magistrate court or municipal court in West Virginia.

(f) (1) If a juvenile commits an act which would be a crime if committed by an adult, and the juvenile is adjudicated delinquent for that act, the jurisdiction of the court which adjudged the juvenile delinquent continues until the juvenile becomes twenty-one years of age. The court has the same power over that person that it had before he or she became an adult, and has the further power to sentence that person to a term of incarceration: Provided, That any such term of incarceration may not exceed six months. This authority does not preclude the court from exercising criminal jurisdiction over that person if he or she violates the law after becoming an adult or if the proceedings have been transferred to the court's criminal jurisdiction pursuant to section ten of this article.

(2) If a juvenile is adjudicated as a status offender because he or she is habitually absent from school without good cause, the jurisdiction of the court which adjudged the juvenile a status offender continues until either the juvenile becomes twenty-one years of age, completes high school, completes a high school equivalent or other education plan approved by the court or the court otherwise voluntarily relinquishes jurisdiction, whichever occurs first. If the jurisdiction of the court is extended pursuant to this subdivision, the court has the same power over that person that it had before he or she became an adult: Provided, That no person so adjudicated who has attained the age of nineteen may be ordered to attend school in a regular, nonalternative setting.

(g) A juvenile is entitled to be admitted to bail or recognizance in the same manner as an adult and shall be afforded the protection guaranteed by Article III of the West Virginia Constitution.

(h) A juvenile has the right to be effectively represented by counsel at all stages of proceedings under the provisions of this article. If the juvenile or the juvenile's parent or custodian executes an affidavit showing that the juvenile cannot afford an attorney, the court shall appoint an attorney, who shall be paid in accordance with article twenty-one, chapter twenty-nine of this code.

(i) In all proceedings under this article, the juvenile shall be afforded a meaningful opportunity to be heard. This includes the opportunity to testify and to present and cross-examine witnesses. The general public shall be excluded from all proceedings under this article except that persons whose presence is requested by the parties and other persons whom the circuit court determines have a legitimate interest in the proceedings may attend: Provided, That in cases in which a juvenile is accused of committing what would be a felony if the juvenile were an adult, an alleged victim or his or her representative may attend any related juvenile proceedings, at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer: Provided, however, That in any case in which the alleged victim is a juvenile, he or she may be accompanied by his or her parents or representative, at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer.

(j) At all adjudicatory hearings held under this article, all procedural rights afforded to adults in criminal proceedings shall be afforded the juvenile unless specifically provided otherwise in this chapter.
