Senators Chafin, Cole, Williams, Plymale, Kessler (Mr. President), McCabe, Wells, Yost, Jenkins, Barnes, Beach, Blair, Boley, Cann, Carmichael, Cookman, Edgell, Facemire, Fitzsimmons, Green, D. Hall, M. Hall, Kirkendoll, Laird, Miller, Nohe, Palumbo, Prezioso, Snyder, Stollings, Sypolt, Tucker, Unger and Walters offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 43—Memorializing the life and public service of a favored son, James Howard “Buck” Harless.

Whereas, James Howard “Buck” Harless was born October 14, 1919, in Taplin, West Virginia, to Bessie Brown Harless and her husband Pearly J. Harless. Soon after his birth, his mother died of pneumonia, and he was taken in and raised by his mother’s sister Rosa and her husband George Erastis “Ras” Ellis of Gilbert; and

Whereas, When James Howard “Buck” Harless was young, he was given the nickname “Buster” and townspeople referred to him as

Buster Ellis. It was later that he came to be known as Buck Harless. Throughout his life he cherished the love and support he received from Ras and Rosa Ellis, whom he considered his mom; and

Whereas, James Howard “Buck” Harless attended Gilbert public schools and graduated high school in 1937. During that time his first real job was working for George Crago, who operated a garage and wrecker service in Gilbert. He learned from George Crago a business philosophy of trust, honor and commitment to excellence through hard work and dedication to customer satisfaction; and

Whereas, As a child of the Great Depression, James Howard “Buck” Harless yearned to attend college but was unable to fulfill that dream for lack of money; and

Whereas, On February 25, 1939, James Howard “Buck” Harless eloped with his high school sweetheart June Montgomery, the beginning of a marriage that spanned sixty years and produced two children, Larry Joe and Judy. In the early years of their marriage he worked at Red Jacket Coal Corporation, first as a laborer and later in its engineering department. June Harless died in April, 1999; and

Whereas, In 1947 James Howard “Buck” Harless was offered an opportunity to own a one-third interest in a small sawmill that was doomed to failure without proper management and operation. He dedicated himself to the task, bought out his partners in short order and made a success of the operation. This was the beginning of what was to become International Industries, Inc., a collection of diverse companies with a worldwide imprint; and

Whereas, On January 23, 1955, a day that began with his feeling utterly alone and lost ended in tranquility and a sense of redemption when James Howard “Buck” Harless opened his heart to the Lord at the Gilbert Presbyterian Church. No other event had such a profound, lasting impact on his life; and

Whereas, In 1966 Georgia Pacific Corporation purchased his lumber operations, making James Howard “Buck” Harless a multimillionaire at the age of forty-seven. Rather than retire, he acted on the suggestion of his son Larry, who worked with his father, to operate sawmills in South America. Against substantial odds, they succeeded where multinational companies failed; and

Whereas, In the 1970s, along with friends - among them Fred Shewey and Frank Allara - James Howard “Buck” Harless entered the coal business in southern West Virginia. The timing was fortuitous because the price of coal soared to record highs, ensuring business success and adding greatly to his personal wealth. He also added multi-state manufacturing and real estate businesses to his enterprise family; and

Whereas, Even though he oversaw wide-ranging business interests, James Howard “Buck” Harless served his church, community and state with dedication and commitment. He served on numerous boards and civic organizations. He supported West Virginia University and Marshall University in substantial ways. He provided many with the opportunity to attend college. While his philanthropic activities are well noted, the breadth and depth are known to but a few because he did not seek favor through his actions, but rather he tried to make a difference and use his wealth to serve the greater good; and

Whereas, Former President George W. Bush credited James Howard “Buck” Harless with his election to the nation’s highest office, because Buck cast the two hundred seventieth electoral vote, providing the margin of victory in the Electoral College; and

Whereas, Over the years, James Howard “Buck” Harless amassed a legion of friends, all of whom he held dearly in his heart. He considered friendship the most valuable thing that a person could have, and he felt more blessed with friends than with monetary wealth; and

Whereas, James Howard “Buck” Harless passed away peacefully on January 1, 2014, with his wife Hallie by his side and surrounded by family; and

Whereas, From a life of humble beginnings in rural West Virginia to the ends of the world, it is fitting to recognize and honor James Howard “Buck” Harless for his many community and philanthropic achievements and his dedication to his church, his community and his state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby memorializes the life and public service of a favored son, James Howard “Buck” Harless; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate expresses its sincere gratitude to James Howard “Buck” Harless for his everlasting contributions to the State of West Virginia; and, be it

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the Senate returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Kirkendoll, from the Committee on Pensions, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Pensions has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 74 (originating in the Committee on Pensions)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the inclusion of mental hygiene commissioners in the Public Employees Retirement System.

Whereas, Mental hygiene commissioners are appointed and serve at the will and pleasure of the chief circuit judge of their judicial district; and

Whereas, Mental hygiene commissioners provide valuable services to the State of West Virginia; and

Whereas, Mental hygiene commissioners are not considered employees as currently defined in the Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) and are therefore not permitted to contribute to or receive benefits from PERS for their service as mental hygiene commissioners; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the inclusion of mental hygiene commissioners in the Public Employees Retirement System; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Art Kirkendoll,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Kirkendoll, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution (S. C. R. No. 74) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Pensions was taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Kirkendoll, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Beach, from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 75 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study providing each county commission authority to participate in the construction and maintenance planning of its roads and bridges and to impose taxes and provide for the financing of such transportation infrastructure construction.

Whereas, Safe roads and bridges are vital and essential to West Virginia's economic development and public health and safety; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Department of Transportation is responsible for the sixth-largest state-maintained highway network in the nation based on roadway mileage; and

Whereas, With approximately thirty-six thousand miles of public roads, West Virginia is one of only four states in which no local municipalities share ownership; and

Whereas, State government is responsible for over ninety-two percent of public highways; and

Whereas, Counties have no structure or mechanism for funding road maintenance; and

Whereas, Providing county commissions with greater ability to influence road and bridge development in renovation and new construction may increase economic development and the safety of West Virginia's transportation infrastructure; and

Whereas, Alternative funding mechanisms are essential to developing and progressing road and bridge projects; and

Whereas, Providing county commissions with the authority to impose taxes and fees to aid the construction and maintenance of transportation infrastructure could be one such alternative funding mechanism; and

Whereas, The Legislature should consider giving county commissions authority to contribute to the improvement of West Virginia's roads and bridges; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study providing each county commission authority to participate in the construction and maintenance planning of its roads and bridges and to impose taxes and provide for the financing of such transportation infrastructure construction; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 76 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study allowing municipalities to designate a special class of taxicabs that may be operated only during designated evening and early-morning hours and that may consist of personal vehicles.

Whereas, West Virginia law prohibits the operation of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs; and

Whereas, The operation of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs should be discouraged and safe transportation practices should be promoted; and

Whereas, In many areas of West Virginia taxicabs are not readily available, particularly during evening and early-morning hours when persons under the influence of alcohol or drugs are most likely to seek to travel home; and

Whereas, Permitting municipalities, by ordinance, to create a special class of taxicabs that may only operate during specific evening and early-morning hours when there is an increased transportation demand can promote the safety of West Virginians by providing them with an alternative to driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs; and

Whereas, Such special taxicabs would be allowed to be operated by owners using their personal vehicles, but these special taxicabs would be limited to operating during designated days and hours; and

Whereas, Municipalities, by ordinance, would determine licensing and insurance requirements for this special class of taxicab and provide penalties for operating them outside of the authorized designated days and hours; and

Whereas, The number of taxicabs in such newly designated class in any municipality would be limited; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study allowing municipalities to designate a special class of taxicabs that may be operated only during designated evening and early-morning hours and that may consist of personal vehicles; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 77 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the policies on land uses within airport runway protection zones and issues of control over such zones.

Whereas, The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) in recent years has provided new guidance concerning airport runway protection zones (RPZ); and

Whereas, A runway protection zone is a two-dimensional trapezoidal area at ground level prior to the threshold or beyond the runway end to enhance the safety and protection of people and property on the ground; and

Whereas, Studies indicate that half of all general aviation accidents occur during take off or landing; and

Whereas, RPZs are of prime concern to the protection of people and property as well as to maintaining full utility of airport facilities; and

Whereas, The FAA recommends that airport owners own the property under the runway approach and departure areas to at least the limits of the RPZ; and

Whereas, The FAA Office of Airports must evaluate and approve any proposed land use located within the limits of land controlled by the airport owner of an existing or future RPZ that is not specifically allowed; and

Whereas, Federal funding and safety should not be jeopardized through noncompliance with RPZs; and

Whereas, Control over land comprising RPZs by West Virginia airports is of the utmost importance; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the policies on land uses within airport runway protection zones and issues of control over such zones; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Tucker, from the Committee on Banking and Insurance, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Banking and Insurance has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 78 (originating in the Committee on Banking and Insurance)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study improving borrowing terms of banks lending to insurance companies in West Virginia.

Whereas, Banks have been authorized to lend to insurance companies since 1932 but banks do not have the same protection as secured creditors to insurance companies under state laws as they do to depository institutions under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act; and

Whereas, The recent financial crises have shown both the importance of access to liquidity for healthy financial companies and also the importance of secured creditors' rights in capital market transactions; and

Whereas, To benefit both the banks and the insurance companies operating in West Virginia, legislation may be required to improve the borrowing terms, including conforming state insolvency provisions governing insurance companies to similar federal provisions and changing the liquidity collateral requirements; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study improving borrowing terms of banks lending to insurance companies in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Gregory A. Tucker,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Tucker, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution (S. C. R. No. 78) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Banking and Insurance was taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Tucker, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Miller, from the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 79 (originating in the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance conduct a study of topics related to developing cottage food industries and small farms in West Virginia, focusing on raw milk, charcuterie, heritage chickens and other animals, goat farming and goat cheese, beekeeping, maple syrup and honey, high tunnel crops, niche crops and flowers, specialized aquaculture and hobby farming.

Whereas, The term “cottage food industries” helps describe many of the small and local home-based food businesses that are cropping up throughout the country; and

Whereas, Cottage foods started expanding in 2007 and throughout the Great Recession to help people find easier ways to make some additional income, with the side benefit of helping local economies; and

Whereas, As the local food movement has become more popular, more states have added or improved cottage food laws to allow these small farm and home food businesses to exist legally; and

Whereas, Most cottage food laws have limitations such as what types of products are allowed, where a business can sell and how much they can sell in a year; and

Whereas, Consumer dollars spent on local cottage food industries stay in the state’s economy and continue to circulate, creating jobs and opportunities throughout our communities; and

Whereas, Awareness of the importance of the security of and the availability of access to a reliable local supply of fresh, diverse and interesting food products is also now a consumer preference; and

Whereas, Promoting the development of cottage food industries and small farms in West Virginia, with a focus on raw milk, charcuterie, heritage chickens and other animals, goat farming and goat cheese, beekeeping, maple syrup and honey, high tunnel crops, niche crops and flowers, specialized aquaculture and hobby farming, will help expand, diversify and improve the agriculture in the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to conduct a study of topics related to developing cottage food industries and small farms in West Virginia, focusing on raw milk, charcuterie, heritage chickens and other animals, goat farming and goat cheese, beekeeping, maple syrup and honey, high tunnel crops, niche crops and flowers, specialized aquaculture and hobby farming; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

That the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended by adding thereto a new section, designated §5B-1-8, to read as follows:

ARTICLE 1. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

§5B-1-8. Financial assistance for small businesses during state of emergency.

(a) The Department of Commerce is authorized to make short-term, low-interest loans available to small businesses located in counties listed in a state declaration of a state of emergency. The purpose of these loans is to mitigate the effects of business losses resulting from the conditions giving rise to the state of emergency where other forms of compensation or relief are not available.

(b) For purposes of this section, an eligible, small business means a business with less than seventy-five full-time or full-time equivalent employees, operating lawfully within this state and in compliance with the state's tax, unemployment compensation and workers' compensation laws, and which meets the criteria specified by the Department of Commerce by rule for issuance of a loan.

(c) The loan program provided by this section shall only be available when the Governor makes a written finding, following a declaration of a state of emergency by either the Governor or the Legislature, that a substantial portion of small businesses within the relevant counties require emergency financial assistance and authorizes the Department of Commerce to issue loans through this program.

(d) Following the Governor's finding and authorization, an eligible, small business may make application for an emergency assistance loan at any time within the duration of a state of emergency, declared pursuant section six, article five, chapter fifteen of this code, and up to ninety days after the termination of the state of emergency. The application shall be made to the division or office designated by the Secretary of Commerce to administer the loan program. Only one loan will be permitted to a business for losses arising out of a declared state of emergency and shall only be available to a business that is located within a county identified in the declaration of the state of emergency. Eligibility provisions of this subsection may apply to any state of emergency, declared by the Governor or the Legislature, that is in effect upon the effective date of this section, but in no event shall loans be made for business losses incurred or originating prior to January 1, 2014.

(e) The principal amount of any loan provided under this section shall not exceed $15,000 and the interest rate of the loan shall be fixed at a rate equal to half of the federal prime interest rate published at the time of execution of a written agreement between the agency and the loan recipient. The period of duration for loans shall be not more than twenty-four months. The provision of loans is subject to the availability of funds and shall not exceed an aggregate amount of $2 million per declared state of emergency, unless a greater amount is authorized by subsequent appropriation of the Legislature.

(f) Payments of interest on loans provided pursuant to this section shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

(g) Loans will only be provided upon execution of a written agreement with the Department of Commerce, or with the authorized designee of the Secretary of Commerce. The duty to repay the principal and pay the interest constitutes a debt to the state. The Secretary of Commerce or his or her designated representative is authorized to enforce, by any legal means, the provisions of the written agreement and to pursue collection of any and all amounts due under the terms of the written agreement.

(h) Following the effective date of this section, the Secretary of Commerce shall designate an office or division within the Department of Commerce to administer the loan program and shall, acting through the designated office or division, promulgate emergency rules and propose corresponding legislative rules for consideration and authorization by the Legislature to describe and delineate the manner in which application for loans will be submitted and reviewed, the criteria for approval of loan applications, including, but not limited to, the credit history of the applicant, and other provisions necessary for the efficient administration of this program.

(i) When the Governor authorizes the Department of Commerce to issue loans hereunder following the declaration of a state of emergency, the Secretary of Commerce shall make a report to the Legislature's joint committee at the conclusion of each fiscal year in which the loan program is in effect and loans are outstanding, regarding the number of businesses that have applied for loans, the number of loans approved, the amounts awarded, the number of employees affected thereby and a financial statement including the balance of funds available and the aggregate amount of principal and interest outstanding and due to the state.

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Committee on Government and Finance study the development and stimulation of craft beer production and sales in the state, including review of fees, taxation and other regulatory provisions impeding or promoting the establishment of new craft beer businesses.

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes a rising and existing consumer-driven market interested in purchasing locally available and naturally produced food and drink; and

Whereas, The brewing of beer in low-volume production runs using traditional brewing and creative skills to produce distinctive styles and brands is a growth industry with positive public esteem and broad approval; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes the importance of strengthening our local and regional food and beverage production for the economic development of the state; and

Whereas, West Virginia has not yet conducted a focused review of the potential role of craft beer production and sale in a state economic development plan; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

Whereas, The Legislature desires to continuously find ways to improve and reform the criminal justice system that would enhance public safety and optimize state services; and

Whereas, The Legislature is faced with the difficult and critical task of balancing the state's budget with limited resources, and further recognizes that the state's county officials are facing similar difficulties on the local level; and

Whereas, Realigning these existing agencies into a bureau under the Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety may eliminate any overlap in similar services, such as programming, training, medical and food service, file sharing and data collection, that are currently provided by each agency, respectively; and

Whereas, Restructuring these agencies under the Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety may allow savings by increasing the efficiency of the agencies and eliminating any service overlap; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study restructuring or realigning the Division of Corrections, Regional Jail and Correctional Facility Authority, Board of Probation and Parole and the Division of Justice and Community Services under the Department of Military Affairs and Public Safety; and, be it

Your Committee on Government Organization has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 84 (originating in the Committee on Government Organization)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the implementation of a statewide advertising program to promote the tourism industry in West Virginia.

Whereas, Travel spending by all overnight and day visitors in West Virginia was $5.1 billion in the 2012 calendar year, the equivalent to approximately $13.9 million per day; and

Whereas, Travel spending in West Virginia has increased by 6.3 percent per year since 2000; and

Whereas, During 2012, visitor spending in West Virginia directly supported approximately forty-six thousand four hundred jobs with earnings of approximately $1.1 billion; and

Whereas, Local and state government revenues generated by travel spending were $707 million in 2012, not including property taxes; and

Whereas, Without these government revenues generated by travel spending, each household in West Virginia would have had to pay an additional $924 in state and local taxes to maintain current service levels; and

Whereas, State spending on tourism advertising has, and continues to, decrease; and

Whereas, Due to the recent chemical spill event, West Virginia's image may have been severely tarnished on a national level; and

Whereas, Other states, such as Michigan, have undertaken a systematic, well-funded advertising program to promote tourism in their states and to improve their images, both nationally and internally; and

Whereas, Because the continuing growth of West Virginia's tourism economy is of major importance to all our citizens, it is in the best interest of the State of West Virginia to implement an advertising program to promote the tourism industry in West Virginia and to improve the state's image; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the implementation of a statewide advertising program to promote the tourism industry in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senator Beach, from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 50, Requesting DOH name portion of State Rt. 20, Hinton, Summers County, “Marine Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway”.

And reports back a committee substitute for same as follows:

Com. Sub. for Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 50 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Division of Highways to name that stretch of road on State Route 20 known as the Hinton Bypass between Beech Run Road and Temple Street in Hinton, Summers County, the “USMC Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway”.

Whereas, Mecot Eugene Camara was born in Hinton, West Virginia, on December 28, 1960, to Billie Jean Hoskins Camara, of American ancestry, and Prudencio Camara, of Philippine ancestry. He was raised and educated in Hinton where he met his high school sweetheart, Tammy Ratliff. They eventually married on May 5, 1981. They had a son, Mecot Echo Camara, born on March 29, 1982; and

Whereas, Sgt. Mecot E. Camara enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps to serve the country he loved in 1981. He commenced basic training at Parris Island, South Carolina, on January 21, 1981, completing his training on April 4, 1981. This proud and passionate American then served his country for two years, sacrificing his life after going into Beirut in 1983 as a member of the International Peacekeeping Force in May, 1983. Sgt. Mecot E. Camara lost his life in October, 1983, during a terrorist suicide bombing. He received awards and service recognition including Meritorious Mast, Purple Heart, Combat Action Ribbon, Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal, Navy Unit Commendation, Marine Corps Expeditionary Medal and Sea Service Deployment Ribbon. However, his greatest military achievement was that of being a distinguished U. S. Marine Corps sergeant; and

Whereas, Sgt. Mecot E. Camara was survived by two beautiful sisters and one son, Threase Camara Riggs, Elisa M. Camara and Mecot Echo Camara. The Camara family continues to share the legacy of their beloved Sgt. Camara to inspire West Virginians and Americans that they can be heroes even from small towns and serve and be proud of America, Land of the Free, while also protecting innocent lives around the world; and

Whereas, Sgt. Mecot E. Camara made the ultimate sacrifice for his country and in doing so represented West Virginia and his country with the highest levels of honor and courage and his sacrifice should not go unnoticed, and naming that stretch of road on State Route 20 known as the Hinton Bypass between Beech Run Road and Temple Street in Hinton, Summers County, the “USMC Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway” is an appropriate recognition of his patriotism, love of liberty and ultimate sacrifice for state and country; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name that stretch of road on State Route 20 known as the Hinton Bypass between Beech Run Road and Temple Street in Hinton, Summers County, the “USMC Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of the Division of Highways is hereby requested to create signs at both ends of the highway, proclaiming this roadway to be the “USMC Sgt. Mecot Camara Memorial Road Highway”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways, the Summers County commission and to Sgt. Camara’s sisters, Threase Camara Riggs and Elisa M. Camara, and his son, Mecot Camara.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 52, Requesting DOH place signage along highways entering WV honoring fallen veterans and Gold Star Families.

And reports back a committee substitute for same as follows:

Com. Sub. for Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 52 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Division of Highways to place signage along highways entering West Virginia honoring fallen veterans and Gold Star Families.

Whereas, More than ten thousand men and women from West Virginia have died during twentieth and twenty-first century military actions, either in combat or during the official period of conflict and prior to discharge from the military. The ultimate sacrifices made by these men and women for their country and West Virginia represent the highest levels of honor and courage and should not go unnoticed; and

Whereas, Gold Star Families are those families who have family members who died or were killed serving in the armed forces. They are the families of fallen military heroes, whether they gave their lives in Iraq, Afghanistan, Vietnam, Korea, WWII or another conflict; and

Whereas, Rather than attempt to acknowledge individually each of these fallen warriors and patriots by finding a bridge or stretch of road or highway to be named for the individual veterans, it would be a more worthy form of recognition, homage and honor to these heroes and heroines and the Gold Star Families if signage were erected at the highways that enter West Virginia; and

Whereas, One sign each should be placed at the ten most visible and most traveled highways entering West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to place signage along highways entering West Virginia honoring fallen veterans and Gold Star Families; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of the Division of Highways is hereby requested to create and erect signs upon the ten most heavily traveled highways entering the State of West Virginia on which a “Welcome to West Virginia” sign is posted near a border crossing. To the extent permissible by signage rules and regulations, each sign should read “West Virginia is proud to honor its fallen Veterans and Gold Star Families” and have affixed to it a gold star symbol similar to the design of the lapel pin approved under 10 U. S. C. §1126; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 59, Requesting DOH name bridge on I-79 in Harrison County “U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge” and “Staff Sergeant Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge”.

And reports back a committee substitute for same as follows:

Com. Sub. for Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 59 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Division of Highways to name bridge number 17-79-117.174, on Interstate 79, in Anmoore, Harrison County, West Virginia, heading south, the “U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”, and heading north, the “U. S. Army SSGT Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was born in Caulonia, Reggio Calabria, Italy, October 28, 1920, and came to the United States in August, 1922, with his brother Celestino (Charley) and mother Maria Rosa Strangio Cavallaro and settled in Anmoore, West Virginia; and

Whereas, Benjamin Portaro was born in Caulonia, Reggio Calabria, Italy, March 8, 1921, and immigrated to Anmoore, West Virginia, with his family; and

Whereas, When World War II broke out, Nick Cavallaro and Benjamin Portaro both enlisted in the United States Army; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro participated in battles in North Africa and Sicily, Italy, and was one of the thousands of paratroopers dropped behind German lines the night before the invasion of Normandy, France; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was scheduled to come home on leave when the Battle of the Bulge broke out and his leave was canceled; and

Whereas, Sadly, Nick Cavallaro lost his life in battle at Fosse, Belgium, on January 3, 1945, leaving behind his mother, brother, sister Louise and a host of other family and friends; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was awarded two Purple Heart Medals, the Bronze Star Medal and the Combat Infantryman Badge, as well as various medals by the French and Belgian governments; and

Whereas, Benjamin Portaro was a staff sergeant when he was discharged, having fought in two battles in France before fighting at the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium, where he was captured by German forces and eventually escaped; and

Whereas, Benjamin Portaro was awarded the Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart Medal, POW Medal, Good Conduct Medal, American Campaign Medal, European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal with two bronze service stars, World War II Victory Medal, Combat Infantryman Badge 1st Award, Honorable Service Lapel Button WWII and the Marksman Badge with Rifle Bar; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro and Benjamin Portaro were Italian immigrants, cousins and citizens of Anmoore, West Virginia, and fought for their adopted country of the United States of America; and

Whereas, It is fitting to recognize the service and sacrifice of cousins Nick Cavallaro and Benjamin Portaro by naming this bridge in their honor as an everlasting tribute to their memory; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 17-79-117.174, on Interstate 79, in Anmoore, Harrison County, West Virginia, heading south, the “U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”, and heading north, the “U. S. Army SSGT Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge, heading south, as the “U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”, and heading north, the “U. S. Army SSGT Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

The Senate proceeded to the sixth order of business.

Senators Palumbo, Cole, Yost, Stollings, Plymale, Snyder, Beach, Carmichael, Laird, Jenkins, D. Hall, Green, McCabe, Wells, Tucker, Prezioso and Fitzsimmons offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 47—Designating the month of March, 2014, as American Red Cross Month.

Whereas, Founded in 1881 and chartered by Congress in 1905, the American Red Cross acts in times of need in West Virginia, in this country and around the world; and

Whereas, The American Red Cross is one of the most recognized humanitarian organizations and provides compassionate care to those who suffer disasters; and

Whereas, American Red Cross volunteers have provided food, clothing, shelter and mental health support to victims of disasters every year; and

Whereas, The American Red Cross has assisted close to one thousand families and provided over $500,000 in financial assistance in the West Virginia region over the past year; and

Whereas, The generosity of contributions of time and money by the people of West Virginia help the American Red Cross restore vital services to families in times of need; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby designates the month of March, 2014, as American Red Cross Month; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate hereby recognizes the American Red Cross for its contributions to this state, the United States and the world; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the West Virginia representatives of the American Red Cross.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Senators Kessler (Mr. President), Yost, Stollings, Plymale, Snyder, Beach, Carmichael, Laird, D. Hall, Green, McCabe, Wells and Prezioso offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 48—Recognizing the sister-state relationship of West Virginia with the Republic of China (Taiwan) on the occasion of its thirty-fourth anniversary.

Whereas, August 4, 2014, will mark the thirty-fourth anniversary of a sister-state relationship between West Virginia and Taiwan; and

Whereas, For the past thirty-three years, the sister-state relationship with Taiwan has been strengthened through the efforts of the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office resulting in better mutual understanding; and

Whereas, In the year 2014, the West Virginia Senate urges support for a United States-Taiwan bilateral investment agreement and strongly encourages Taiwan's participation in the Trans-Pacific Partnership as soon as possible; and

Whereas, The dedication of our partners from Taiwan to achieving positive outcomes in investment, information, communication technology services and other areas is a testament to Taiwan's economic opening and deepening ties with regional and global partners; and

Whereas, The Republic of China (Taiwan), with a population of twenty-three million, has endeavored to improve cross-Strait relations since President Ma Ying-Jeou came to power in 2008, and it is encouraging that eight rounds of talks have been held and eighteen agreements have been signed between Taiwan and mainland China since then; and

Whereas, The cross-Strait Economic Cooperation Framework Agreement (ECFA), signed on June 29, 2010, can serve as an effective platform for cross-Strait interactions and contribute to normalization of trade and economic relations between Taiwan and mainland China; and

Whereas, Taiwan's absence from the international organizations dealing with climate change like the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change has impeded Taiwan's ability to respond to natural disasters like Typhoon Morakot, which struck Taiwan in the summer of 2009; and

Whereas, The Taoyuan International Airport is a key air transport hub in the Asia-Pacific region, ranked the world's fifteenth largest by cargo volume in 2012, and four hundred sixteen Americans traveled to Taiwan for business and leisure during 2012. Consolidating aviation safety and regulation in Taiwan is also a priority for Americans' safety and best interests; given Taiwan's prominent role in regional air control and transport services like meaningful participation in the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO), it would be beneficial for Taiwan to safeguard the traveling of passengers from home and abroad; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes the sister-state relationship of West Virginia with the Republic of China (Taiwan) on the occasion of its thirty-fourth anniversary; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate affirms its support for West Virginia's sister-state relationship with Taiwan; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the appropriate representatives from the Republic of China (Taiwan).

Whereas, The Marshall University Forensic Science Center DNA Laboratory is one of the nation's only university-based and accredited forensic DNA testing laboratories; and

Whereas, The Marshall University Forensic Science Center DNA Laboratory serves as the data, record and sample archive for the convicted offenders database in West Virginia; and

Whereas, The Marshall University Forensic Science Center DNA Laboratory has assisted in crime laboratories with DNA testing and analysis of sexual assault kits and property crime evidence in West Virginia and other jurisdictions throughout the nation; and

Whereas, The Marshall University Forensic Science Center DNA Laboratory has provided relationship testing in support of human identification for the West Virginia Office of the Chief Medical Examiner and other states; and

(c) The authority of the Secretary of State to deny, refuse to renew, suspend, revoke or impose conditions on a commission as a notary public does not prevent a person from seeking and obtaining other criminal or civil remedies provided by law.

Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), section four of this article, the failure of a notarial officer to perform a duty or meet a requirement specified in this article does not invalidate a notarial act performed by the notarial officer. The validity of a notarial act under this article does not prevent an aggrieved person from seeking to invalidate the record or transaction that is the subject of the notarial act or from seeking other remedies based on law of this state other than this article or law of the United States. This section does not validate a purported notarial act performed by an individual who does not have the authority to perform notarial acts.

A licensee may contest a cited deficiency as contrary to rule, regulation or law or unwarranted by the facts, or any combination thereof.

(b) The independent informal dispute resolution process is not a formal evidentiary proceeding and utilization of the independent informal dispute resolution process does not waive the right of the licensee to request a formal hearing with the secretary.

(c) The independent informal dispute resolution process shall consist of the following:

(1) The secretary shall transmit to the licensee a statement of deficiencies attributed to the licensee and request that the licensee submit a plan of correction addressing the cited deficiencies no later than ten working days following the last day of the survey or inspection, or no later than ten working days following the last day of a complaint investigation. Notification of the availability of the independent informal dispute resolution process and an explanation of the independent informal dispute resolution process shall be included in the transmittal.

(2) When the licensee returns its plan of correction to the secretary, the licensee may request, in writing, to participate in the independent informal dispute resolution process to protest or refute all or part of the cited deficiencies within ten working days. (3) The Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources (hereinafter "secretary") shall approve and establish a panel of at least three independent review providers: Provided, That in lieu of establishing a panel, the secretary may use an existing panel of approved independent review providers. When a licensee requests an independent informal dispute resolution process, the secretary shall choose one independent review provider from the approved panel to conduct the process.

(10) If the secretary accepts the determination, the secretary shall issue an order affirming the independent review provider's determination within ten working days of receiving the independent review provider's determination.

(11) If the independent review provider determines that the original statement of deficiencies should be changed as a result of the independent informal dispute resolution process and the secretary accepts the determination, the secretary shall transmit a revised statement of deficiencies to the licensee within ten working days of the independent review provider's determination.

(12) The licensee shall submit a revised plan to correct any remaining deficiencies to the secretary within ten working days of receipt of the secretary's order and the revised statement of deficiencies.

(1) If the licensee requests a face-to-face conference, the licensee shall pay any costs incurred by the independent review provider that exceed the cost of a telephonic conference, regardless of which party ultimately prevails;

(2) If the independent review provider's decision supports the entirety of the originally written contested deficiency or adverse action taken by the secretary, the licensee shall reimburse the secretary for the cost charged by the independent review provider; or

(3) If the independent review provider's decision supports some of the originally written contested deficiencies, but not all of them, the licensee shall reimburse the secretary for the cost charged by the independent review provider on a pro-rata basis as determined by the secretary.

(e) Establishment of the independent informal dispute resolution process does not preclude licensees from utilizing other informal dispute resolution processes provided by statute or rule in lieu of the independent informal dispute resolution process.

(f) Administrative and judicial review of a decision rendered through the independent informal dispute resolution process may be made in accordance with article five, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

(g) Any decision issued by the secretary as a result of the independent informal dispute resolution process shall be made effective from the date of issuance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 85—Requesting the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources study the needs, challenges and issues related to the aging water infrastructures in West Virginia, water shortages and the lack of safe drinking water available to all citizens of West Virginia.

Whereas, The importance of safe drinking water to public health, the environment and the economic welfare of our communities is undisputed; and

Whereas, The January 9, 2014, chemical spill in the Elk River that affected the water supply for three hundred thousand West Virginians brought national and state attention to water quality; and

Whereas, The four hundred thirty residents of Bud, West Virginia, a small town in Wyoming County, have been without water for the past six months as result of the death of the owner of the local water company; and

Whereas, Due to aging water systems in McDowell County that frequently break, nearly three thousand of its residents experience water outages or are continuously under water-boil notices; and

Whereas, Many residents in Summers County face poor water quality or well contamination as a result of septic systems that empty into or near water sources; and

Whereas, Many West Virginians must continually replace filtration systems that corrode due to the poor water quality; and

Whereas, While nine counties were affected by the January, 2014, chemical spill that adversely affected the water quality of three hundred thousand residents, many additional rural West Virginians face similar water quality issues on a daily basis; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Infrastructure and Jobs Development Council estimates that forty percent of households statewide are not served by a public water system; and

Whereas, Infrastructure funds in the 2015 State Budget have been slated to be cut from $40 million to $20 million, even though the need for investment in water infrastructure continues to far outpace the amount of funding that is available at all levels of government; and

Whereas, Congress has cut funding for the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund loan program in recent years; and

Whereas, The Region 1 Planning and Development Council estimates it would cost more than $250 million to meet priority water and sewage needs in the state's southernmost six counties alone; and

Whereas, The Legislature finds that it should take an active role in studying, formulating and implementing resources that address the causes of the lack of quality water around the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources is hereby requested to study the needs, challenges and issues related to the aging water infrastructures in West Virginia, water shortages and the lack of safe drinking water available to all citizens of West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Commission on State Water Resources work with the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources in its study; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Blair, Kessler (Mr. President), Barnes, Beach, Boley, Cann, Carmichael, Chafin, Cole, Cookman, Edgell, Facemire, Fitzsimmons, Green, D. Hall, M. Hall, Jenkins, Kirkendoll, Laird, McCabe, Miller, Nohe, Palumbo, Plymale, Snyder, Sypolt, Tucker, Unger, Walters, Wells, Williams, Yost, Stollings and Prezioso offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 86—Requesting the School Building Authority to waive local matching requirements and fund all needed improvements for the West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind.

Whereas, The West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind facilities are outdated, do not meet all the life and safety codes and are not compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act, yet serve a population most in need of compliant classrooms and quarters; and

Whereas, The facilities of the West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind are not optimized for twenty-first century technology and learning experiences which are especially critical to the workforce and life-skills development of the school's students; and

Whereas, No residential or educational facility on its campus has undergone significant renovation during the past twenty years and no new residential construction for instructional or student purposes has been undertaken in the last forty years; and

Whereas, Children and youth from counties all over the state attend the West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind, yet these counties are neither responsible for the cost of their educations nor the maintenance of these facilities; and

Whereas, The Legislature created the School Building Authority, dedicated state revenues for its purposes and has resisted binding intrusion into its affairs and revenues; and

Whereas, The Governor, in recognition of the state's difficult budget situation, has frozen certain spending and hiring, recommended broad reductions in his requested budgets for successive years and recommended expirations from the Revenue Shortfall Reserve Fund and various legislative and other funds to make ends meet; and

Whereas, The School Building Authority exists to meet the needs of all public schools of the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests that the School Building Authority waive local matching requirements, which are irrelevant to these schools that are operated exclusively by the State, and fund all needed improvements to the West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind in accordance with its expertise; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the State Superintendent of Schools, the Superintendent of the West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind, the Executive Director of the School Building Authority, the Secretary of State and the Governor of West Virginia.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Palumbo, Yost, Unger, D. Hall, Green and McCabe offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 87—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the allocation of behavioral health spending on community-based support services.

Whereas, The appropriations for behavioral health facilities are much greater than appropriations for more cost-effective community-based support services; and

Whereas, Community support services reduce recidivism through active participation in safe and stable environments; and

Whereas, Recovery support services provide opportunities for change, enabling individuals to accept responsibility in improving their own health and well-being; and

Whereas, The Governor’s Advisory Council on Substance Abuse recommends peer support, recovery coaching and transitional housing to reduce substance abuse; and

Whereas, Peer support is a fact-based, proven alternative to hospitalization; and

Whereas, The Legislature finds that it would be of greater benefit to the public if people lived in their own homes and received support directly from their communities; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the allocation of behavioral health spending on community-based support services; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the study be conducted in collaboration with the West Virginia Behavioral Health Planning Council, the West Virginia Behavioral Healthcare Providers Association, the Partnership of African American Churches and the Fair Shake Network; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Stollings, Wells, Yost, Plymale, Snyder, Kessler (Mr. President), Unger, Carmichael, Prezioso, Laird, McCabe, Jenkins, D. Hall and Green offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 50—Designating the week of March 3-9, 2014, as Multiple Sclerosis Awareness Week.

Whereas, Multiple sclerosis (MS) is a neurological disease of the central nervous system, affecting 2.3 million people worldwide, and each hour someone is newly diagnosed; and

Whereas, The National Multiple Sclerosis Society – Blue Ridge Chapter reports that in our state more than four thousand people are diagnosed with MS, and that the disease generally strikes people in the prime of life, between ages twenty through fifty, and causes unpredictable effects in which the progression, severity and specific symptoms cannot be foreseen, and the cause and cure for this often debilitating disease remain unknown; and

Whereas, The National Multiple Sclerosis Society – Blue Ridge Chapter has been committed for more than thirty-three years to a world free of MS, heightening public knowledge about and insight into the disease; and

Whereas, Since 1946, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has been a driving force of MS research, relentlessly pursuing prevention, treatment and a cure and has invested more than $771 million in groundbreaking research; and

Whereas, Funds raised through the National Multiple Sclerosis Society fuel the efforts of nearly three hundred twenty-five research projects globally, totaling $40 million annually, at the best medical centers, universities and other institutions throughout the United States and abroad, and because of this MS research has never been more hopeful than it is today; and

Whereas, Discovering the cause, finding a cure and preventing future generations from being diagnosed with MS are important tasks that all Americans and West Virginians should support; and

Whereas, The Senate recognizes the importance of finding the cause and cure of MS, a chronic and often devastating disease, and expresses its appreciation and admiration for the dedication that the National Multiple Sclerosis Society – Blue Ridge Chapter has shown toward a future free of multiple sclerosis; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby designates the week of March 3-9, 2014, as Multiple Sclerosis Awareness Week; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate encourages everyone to “Go Orange” at the Capitol on March 6, 2014, in support of discovering the cause, finding a cure and preventing future generations from being diagnosed with multiple sclerosis; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the representatives of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society – Blue Ridge Chapter.

At the request of Senator Stollings, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and, at the request of Senator Unger, and by unanimous consent, returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Laird, from the Committee on Natural Resources, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Natural Resources has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 88 (originating in the Committee on Natural Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the financial sustainability and profitability of amenities at West Virginia state parks and state forests, such as golf courses, skiing, tubing, swimming pools, picnic shelters, horseback riding, hiking and biking trails, nature centers, naturalist programming, wildlife and bird watching, children's programming, playgrounds, basketball and tennis courts, baseball fields, boating, skeet shooting and hunting and fishing.

Whereas, The mission of the West Virginia state parks and state forests has been to promote conservation by preserving and protecting natural areas of unique or exceptional scenic scientific, cultural, archeological or historical significance and to provide outdoor recreational opportunities for the citizens of this state and its visitors; and

Whereas, West Virginia state parks and state forests attract approximately 6.5 million visitors per year and contribute over $126 million of economic activity to the state; and

Whereas, State parks and state forests provide numerous amenities to their visitors and guests, including golf courses, skiing, tubing, swimming pools, picnic shelters, horseback riding, hiking and biking trails, nature centers, naturalist programming, wildlife and bird watching, children's programming, playgrounds, basketball and tennis courts, baseball fields, boating, skeet shooting and hunting and fishing; and

Whereas, The state park and state forest amenities are necessary to encourage out-of-state guests to visit and stay in the parks and forests and spend money in the area to help the local economy; and

Whereas, More importantly, West Virginia citizens rely on state park and state forest amenities for their own enjoyment and recreational use; and

Whereas, For many local residents, the state parks and state forests are the only venue for outdoor recreation; they are the only local venues for picnics, family reunions, church outings, weddings, golfing, playgrounds for children, safe swimming areas, ball courts, safe hiking and biking and teaching youngsters to hunt, fish and experience nature; and

Whereas, Proudly, the State of West Virginia can say that many state park and state forest amenities are offered free-of-charge or at a low cost to guests and citizens; and

Whereas, As a result of this, state park and state forest amenities are not monetarily profitable when singled out and evaluated individually, but yet, as a whole, they generate hundreds of millions of dollars in economic activities and are greatly profitable to citizens' quality of life; and

Whereas, State park and state forest amenities are essential to economic development, family values, preserving our cultural heritage, preserving the state's most beautiful natural and historic areas, promoting healthy lifestyles and fighting obesity and diabetes and exposing children and adults to outdoor sports and recreation; and

Whereas, State park and state forest amenities cannot be evaluated solely based upon their profitability; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the financial sustainability and profitability of amenities at West Virginia state parks and state forests, such as golf courses, skiing, tubing, swimming pools, picnic shelters, horseback riding, hiking and biking trails, nature centers, naturalist programming, wildlife and bird watching, children's programming, playgrounds, basketball and tennis courts, baseball fields, boating, skeet shooting and hunting and fishing; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 89 (originating in the Committee on Natural Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study reassigning the operation of Berwind, Laurel Lake, Plum Orchard, Bluestone and Panther Wildlife Management Areas to the Wildlife Resources Section of the Division of Natural Resources.

Whereas, Five wildlife management areas—Berwind, Laurel Lake, Plum Orchard, Bluestone and Panther—were assigned without express statutory authority in the late 1970s to the Parks and Recreation Section of the Division of Natural Resources to operate; and

Whereas, No additional recreational facilities were ever developed on these areas beyond what existed at the time of transfer by the Parks and Recreation Section; and

Whereas, These wildlife management areas remain primarily for the benefit and enjoyment of hunters and anglers due to their rustic nature and designation as wildlife management areas; and

Whereas, The wildlife management areas provide valuable wildlife habitats and in order to maintain the same requires the skill and expertise of wildlife managers and biologists with the Wildlife Resources Section of the Division of Natural Resources; and

Whereas, These wildlife management areas cost the Parks and Recreation Section over $800,000 to operate and maintain. In light of budget deficits and the closure of various recreational amenities in the Parks and Recreation Section, such as the “soft” closure of Hawks Nest State Park, transfer of these wildlife management areas back to the Wildlife Resources Section will alleviate the budget crisis for state parks; and

Whereas, These wildlife management areas are eligible for federal Pittman-Robertson Act funds, while state parks with recreational amenities are not. Panther also receives mineral royalties that are not shared with parks; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study reassigning the operation of Berwind, Laurel Lake, Plum Orchard, Bluestone and Panther Wildlife Management

Areas to the Wildlife Resources Section of the Division of Natural Resources; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

William R. Laird IV,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Laird, unanimous consent being granted, the resolutions (S. C. R. Nos. 88 and 89) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Natural Resources were taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Laird, the resolutions was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Snyder, from the Committee on Government Organization, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Government Organization has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 90 (originating in the Committee on Government Organization)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study moving the State Forensic Laboratory to the Supreme Court and the feasibility of utilizing other crime labs within the state.

Whereas, The State Forensic Lab is currently located under the State Police, but is not considered such by the internal policy of the State Police; and

Whereas, It is currently difficult for the State Forensic Laboratory to accomplish its duties under the State Police; and

Whereas, The money provided to the State Forensic Lab is inadequate; and

Whereas, Moving the State Forensic Lab could be beneficial to the state; and

Whereas, Utilizing crime labs at Marshall University, West Virginia University and other facilities throughout the state may help to eliminate the significant backlog of cases that the State Forensic Lab experiences, thus allowing for more efficiency and more swift justice; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study moving the State Forensic Laboratory to the Supreme Court and the feasibility of utilizing other crime labs within the state; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

Herb Snyder,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Snyder, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution (S. C. R. No. 90) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Government Organization was taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Snyder, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Prezioso, from the Committee on Finance, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Finance has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 91 (originating in the Committee on Finance)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the advisability and feasibility of creating a cost-effective and portable group government-managed retirement savings program made available to small businesses and their employees by the State Treasurer, including the compliance costs and legal implications to the state and its small businesses that could result from applicable federal law as well as the tax treatment accorded to the investment options pursuant to applicable federal law under such a program, or to encourage and promote currently available private sector financial and retirement security opportunities for small businesses and their employees through portable defined contribution plans, such as Simple IRA, SEP, 401(k), 457, Regular/Roth IRA and individual annuities, which are already available in the commercial marketplace.

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that in a recent AARP survey, nearly seventy percent of West Virginians expressed anxiety about their savings for retirement; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that current commercial employer-sponsored retirement plans offer more than eighty-three million American workers and their families the opportunity to accumulate savings and improve their retirement security, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that, even for those workers age thirty-five to forty-four, median job tenure is only 5.3 years with the current employer, which demonstrates the need for portable and flexible retirement solutions; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that the savings and investments held in the current commercial retirement system represents the largest share of American households' total accumulated financial wealth with retirement assets of $20.8 trillion outside of Social Security benefits; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that according to the AARP many employees and small businesses lack information on how to best plan for retirement, and forty-five percent or three hundred ninety-four thousand seven hundred three West Virginia workers would benefit from improved information as to how to access employer-sponsored or payroll deduction retirement savings available in the private market or in a proposed new government-managed plan; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that while no state has implemented a Voluntary Employee Retirement Accounts (VERA) program to offer small businesses an opportunity to establish a basic retirement savings option for employees under the administration of a government agency, West Virginia should conduct such a study since some states are currently exploring these governmental options; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that a VERA plan in West Virginia may provide workers a simple way to save for retirement which will result in fewer West Virginians relying on public safety net services, saving taxpayer dollars; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that there is a need to determine if any potential retirement program by VERA would be less expensive and not in direct competition with the viable and robust employee and employer portable retirement programs already offered by banks, financial institutions, insurance brokers, private insurers and their licensed agents; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that a complete fiscal analysis needs to be conducted in order to determine the financial implications of a proposed allocation of $3 million in state-managed funds from the transfer of money from the Unclaimed Property Trust Fund in the Treasurer's Office for start-up of the VERA program, as well as all costs determinant to investment and actuarial compliance with federal securities laws; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that state government-managed IRAs could be a disincentive for employers considering the sponsorship of 401(k) or Simple IRA plans and may cause some employers to drop existing plans to avoid required employer contributions, which generally account for a significant portion of an employee's retirement assets, and such results would be contrary to the intended purpose of VERA to enhance employee savings; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes the AARP's recommendation for a common sense solution that will help individuals save and take control of their own financial future; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes that as an alternative to a state government-managed retirement program for small business employers and employees, a congruent study should be conducted to determine if the state would be better served by launching educational campaigns promoting existing retirement plan options currently available in the private sector to employers and employees, and through financial literacy programs to promote tax credits and incentives for 401(k) and other currently available retirement savings plans; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That The Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the advisability and feasibility of creating a cost-effective and portable group government-managed retirement savings program made available to small businesses and their employees by the State Treasurer, including the compliance costs and legal implications to the state and its small businesses that could result from applicable federal law as well as the tax treatment accorded to the investment options pursuant to applicable federal law under such a program, or to encourage and promote currently available private sector financial and retirement security opportunities for small businesses and their employees through portable defined contribution plans, such as Simple IRA, SEP, 401(k), 457, Regular/Roth IRA and individual annuities, which are already available in the commercial marketplace; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

CHAPTER 46A. WEST VIRGINIA CONSUMER CREDIT AND PROTECTION ACT.

ARTICLE 6J. PROTECTION OF CONSUMERS FROM PRICE GOUGING AND UNFAIR PRICING PRACTICES DURING AND SHORTLY AFTER A STATE OF EMERGENCY OR STATE OF PREPAREDNESS.

§46A-6J-1. Emergencies and natural disasters - Taking unfair advantage of consumers.

The Legislature ~~hereby~~ finds that during emergencies and major disasters, including, but not limited to, tornadoes, earthquakes, fires, floods, storms or civil disturbances or where a large-scale threat exists, some merchants have taken unfair advantage of consumers by greatly increasing prices for essential consumer goods or services. While the pricing of consumer goods and services is generally best left to the marketplace under ordinary conditions, when a declared state of emergency or state of preparedness results in abnormal disruptions of the market, the public interest requires that excessive and unjustified increases in the prices of essential consumer goods and services be prohibited. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to protect citizens from excessive and unjustified increases in the prices charged during or shortly after a declared state of emergency or state of preparedness for goods and services that are vital and necessary for the health, safety and welfare of consumers. Further, it is the intent of the Legislature that this article be liberally construed so that its beneficial purposes may be served.

This requirement may be met by adding or blending sand, sawdust, lime, leaves, soil or other materials that have been approved by the ~~director~~ secretary prior to disposal. Alternative sewage sludge disposal methods can be utilized upon obtaining written approval from the ~~director~~ secretary. No facility may accept for land filling in any month sewage sludge in excess of twenty-five percent of the total tons of solid waste accepted at the facility for land filling in the preceding month.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this code to the contrary, a commercial solid waste facility that is not located in a karst region as determined by the West Virginia Geologic and Economic Survey may lawfully receive drill cuttings and drilling waste generated from horizontal well sites above the monthly tonnage limits of the commercial solid waste facility under the following conditions and limitations:

(1) (A) The drill cuttings and associated drilling waste are placed in a separate cell dedicated solely to the disposal of drill cuttings and drilling waste; and

(B) The separate cell dedicated to drill cuttings and associated drilling waste is constructed pursuant to the standards set out in this article and legislative rules promulgated thereunder; and

(C) The facility has obtained any certificate of need, or amended certificate of need, authorizing such separate cell as may be required by the Public Service Commission in accordance with section one-c, article two, chapter twenty-four of this code.

(2) The secretary may only allow those solid waste facilities that applied by December 31, 2013, for a permit modification to construct a separate cell for drill cuttings and associated drilling waste, to accept drill cuttings and associated drilling waste at its commercial solid waste facility without counting the deposited drill cuttings and associated drilling waste towards the landfill's permitted monthly tonnage limits, until September 30, 2014.

(3) No solid waste facility may exclude or refuse to take municipal solid waste in the quantity up to and including its permitted tonnage limit while the facility is allowed to lawfully receive drill cuttings or drilling waste above its permitted tonnage limits.

(h) Any solid waste facility taking drill cuttings and drilling waste must install radiation monitors by January 1, 2015. The secretary shall promulgate emergency and legislative rules to establish limits for unique toxins associated with drill cuttings and drilling waste including, but not limited to, heavy metals, petroleum-related chemicals, (benzene, toluene, xylene, barium, chlorides, radium and radon and establish the procedures the facility must follow if that limit is exceeded: Provided, That said rules shall establish and set forth a procedure to provide that any detected radiation readings above any established radiation limits will require that the solid waste landfill immediately cease accepting all affected drill cuttings and drilling waste until the secretary has inspected said landfill and certified pursuant to established rules and regulations that radiation levels have returned to below the established radiation limits. Any truck load of drill cuttings or drilling waste which exceeds the radiation reading limits shall not be allowed to enter the landfill until inspected and approved by the Department of Environmental Protection.

(i) The total amount of waste received at a commercial solid waste landfill with one or more operating cells on its property may not exceed the total volume of its permitted capacity for that facility in any month, and the quantities of drill cuttings and drilling waste received at that facility shall be counted and applied toward the facility's established tonnage cap.

(j) On or before January 1, 2015, the secretary shall submit an investigation and report to the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on Water Resources and the Legislature's Joint Committee on Government and Finance which examines: (1) The hazardous characteristics of leachate collected from solid waste facilities receiving drill cuttings and drilling waste, including, but not limited to, the presence of heavy metals, petroleum-related chemicals (benzene, toluene, xylene, etc.) barium, chlorides, radium and radon; (2) the potential negative impacts on the surface water or groundwater resources of this state associated with the collection, treatment and disposal of leachate from such landfills; and (3) the technical and economic feasibility and benefits of establishing additional and/or separate disposal locations which are funded, constructed, owned and/or operated by the oil and gas industry.

§22-15-11. Solid waste assessment fee; penalties.

(a) Imposition. – A solid waste assessment fee is hereby imposed upon the disposal of solid waste at any solid waste disposal facility in this state in the amount of one dollar and seventy-five cents per ton or part thereof of solid waste. The fee imposed by this section is in addition to all other fees and taxes levied by law and shall be added to and constitute part of any other fee charged by the operator or owner of the solid waste disposal facility.

(b) Collection, return, payment and records. – The person disposing of solid waste at the solid waste disposal facility shall pay the fee imposed by this section, whether or not such person owns the solid waste, and the fee shall be collected by the operator of the solid waste facility who shall remit it to the tax commissioner.

(1) The fee imposed by this section accrues at the time the solid waste is delivered to the solid waste disposal facility.

(2) The operator shall remit the fee imposed by this section to the tax commissioner on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the month in which the fee accrued. Upon remittance of the fee, the operator is required to file returns on forms and in the manner as prescribed by the tax commissioner.

(3) The operator shall account to the state for all fees collected under this section and shall hold them in trust for the state until remitted to the tax commissioner.

(4) If any operator fails to collect the fee imposed by this section, he or she is personally liable for such amount as he or she failed to collect, plus applicable additions to tax, penalties and interest imposed by article ten, chapter eleven of this code.

(5) Whenever any operator fails to collect, truthfully account for, remit the fee or file returns with the fee as required in this section, the tax commissioner may serve written notice requiring such operator to collect the fees which become collectible after service of such notice, to deposit such fees in a bank approved by the tax commissioner, in a separate account, in trust for and payable to the tax commissioner and to keep the amount of such fees in such account until remitted to the tax commissioner. Such notice remains in effect until a notice of cancellation is served on the operator or owner by the tax commissioner.

(6) Whenever the owner of a solid waste disposal facility leases the solid waste facility to an operator, the operator is primarily liable for collection and remittance of the fee imposed by this section and the owner is secondarily liable for remittance of the fee imposed by this section. However, if the operator fails, in whole or in part, to discharge his or her obligations under this section, the owner and the operator of the solid waste facility are jointly and severally responsible and liable for compliance with the provisions of this section.

(7) If the operator or owner responsible for collecting the fee imposed by this section is an association or corporation, the officers thereof are liable, jointly and severally, for any default on the part of the association or corporation, and payment of the fee and any additions to tax, penalties and interest imposed by article ten, chapter eleven of this code may be enforced against them as against the association or corporation which they represent.

(8) Each person disposing of solid waste at a solid waste disposal facility and each person required to collect the fee imposed by this section shall keep complete and accurate records in such form as the tax commissioner may require in accordance with the rules of the tax commissioner.

(c) Regulated motor carriers. – The fee imposed by this section and section twenty-two, article five, chapter seven of this code is considered a necessary and reasonable cost for motor carriers of solid waste subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission under chapter twenty-four-a of this code. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, upon the filing of a petition by an affected motor carrier, the Public Service Commission shall, within fourteen days, reflect the cost of said fee in said motor carrier’s rates for solid waste removal service. In calculating the amount of said fee to said motor carrier, the commission shall use the national average of pounds of waste generated per person per day as determined by the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

(d) Definition of solid waste disposal facility. – For purposes of this section, the term “solid waste disposal facility” means any approved solid waste facility or open dump in this state, and includes a transfer station when the solid waste collected at the transfer station is not finally disposed of at a solid waste disposal facility within this state that collects the fee imposed by this section. Nothing herein authorizes in any way the creation or operation of or contribution to an open dump.

(e) Exemptions. – The following transactions are exempt from the fee imposed by this section:

(1) Disposal of solid waste at a solid waste disposal facility by the person who owns, operates or leases the solid waste disposal facility

(2) Reuse or recycling of any solid waste;

(3) Disposal of residential solid waste by an individual not in the business of hauling or disposing of solid waste on such days and times as designated by the ~~director~~ secretary is exempt from the solid waste assessment fee; and

(4) Disposal of solid waste at a solid waste disposal facility by a commercial recycler which disposes of thirty percent or less of the total waste it processes for recycling. In order to qualify for this exemption each commercial recycler must keep accurate records of incoming and outgoing waste by weight. Such records must be made available to the appropriate inspectors from the division, upon request.

(f) Procedure and administration. – Notwithstanding section three, article ten, chapter eleven of this code, each and every provision of the “West Virginia Tax Procedure and Administration Act” set forth in article ten, chapter eleven of this code shall apply to the fee imposed by this section with like effect as if said act were applicable only to the fee imposed by this section and were set forth in extenso herein.

(g) Criminal penalties. – Notwithstanding section two, article nine, chapter eleven of this code, sections three through seventeen, article nine, chapter eleven of this code shall apply to the fee imposed by this section with like effect as if said sections were applicable only to the fee imposed by this section and were set forth in extenso herein.

(h) Dedication of proceeds. – The net proceeds of the fee collected by the tax commissioner pursuant to this section shall be deposited at least monthly in an account designated by the ~~director~~ secretary. The ~~director~~ secretary shall allocate twenty-five cents for each ton of solid waste disposed of in this state upon which the fee imposed by this section is collected and shall deposit the total amount so allocated into the "Solid Waste Reclamation and Environmental Response Fund" to be expended for the purposes hereinafter specified. The first one million dollars of the net proceeds of the fee imposed by this section collected in each fiscal year shall be deposited in the "Solid Waste Enforcement Fund" and expended for the purposes hereinafter specified. The next two hundred fifty thousand dollars of the net proceeds of the fee imposed by this section collected in each fiscal year shall be deposited in the "Solid Waste Management Board Reserve Fund", and expended for the purposes hereinafter specified: Provided, That in any year in which the Water Development Authority determines that the Solid Waste Management Board Reserve Fund is adequate to defer any contingent liability of the fund, the Water Development Authority shall so certify to the ~~director~~ secretary and the ~~director~~ secretary shall then cause no less than fifty thousand dollars nor more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars to be deposited to the fund: Provided, however, That in any year in which the Water Development Authority determines that the Solid Waste Management Board Reserve Fund is inadequate to defer any contingent liability of the fund, the Water Development Authority shall so certify to the ~~director~~ secretary and the ~~director~~ secretary shall then cause not less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars nor more than five hundred thousand dollars to be deposited in the fund: Provided further, That if a facility owned or operated by the state of West Virginia is denied site approval by a county or regional solid waste authority, and if such denial contributes, in whole or in part, to a default, or drawing upon a reserve fund, on any indebtedness issued or approved by the Solid Waste Management Board, then in that event the Solid Waste Management Board or its fiscal agent may withhold all or any part of any funds which would otherwise be directed to such county or regional authority and shall deposit such withheld funds in the appropriate reserve fund. The ~~director~~ secretary shall allocate the remainder, if any, of said net proceeds among the following three special revenue accounts for the purpose of maintaining a reasonable balance in each special revenue account, which are hereby continued in the State Treasury:

(1) The “Solid Waste Enforcement Fund” which shall be expended by the ~~director~~ secretary for administration, inspection, enforcement and permitting activities established pursuant to this article;

(i) Findings. – In addition to the purposes and legislative findings set forth in section one of this article, the Legislature finds as follows:

(1) In-state and out-of-state locations producing solid waste should bear the responsibility of disposing of said solid waste or compensate other localities for costs associated with accepting such solid waste;

(2) The costs of maintaining and policing the streets and highways of the state and its communities are increased by long distance transportation of large volumes of solid waste; and

(3) Local approved solid waste facilities are being prematurely depleted by solid waste originating from other locations.

(j) The “Gas Field Highway Repair and Horizontal Drilling Waste Study Fund” is hereby created as a special revenue fund in the State Treasury to be administered by West Virginia Division of Highways and to be expended only on the improvement, maintenance, and repair of public roads of three lanes or less located in the wasteshed from which the revenue was received that are identified by the commissioner of highways as having been damaged by trucks and other traffic associated with horizontal well drilling sites or the disposal of waste generated by such sites, and that experience congestion caused, in whole or in part, by such trucks and traffic that interferes with the use of said roads by residents in the vicinity of such roads: Provided, That up to $750,000 from such fund shall be made available to the Department of Environmental Protection from the same fund to offset contracted costs incurred by that Division of Environmental Protection while undertaking the horizontal drilling waste disposal studies mandated by the provisions of subsection (j), section eight of this article. Any balance remaining in the special revenue account at the end of any fiscal year shall not revert to the General Revenue Fund but shall remain in the special revenue account and shall be used solely in a manner consistent with this section. The fund shall consist of the fee provided for in subsection (k) of this section.

(k) Horizontal drilling waste assessment fee. – An additional solid waste assessment fee is hereby imposed upon the disposal of drill cuttings and drilling waste generated by horizontal well sites in the amount of one dollar per ton, which fee is in addition to all other fees and taxes levied by this section or otherwise and shall be added to and constitute part of any other fee charged by the operator or owner of the solid waste disposal facility: Provided, That the horizontal drilling waste assessment fee shall be collected and administered in the same manner as the solid waste assessment fee imposed by this section, but shall be imposed only upon the disposal of drill cuttings and drilling waste generated by horizontal well sites.

Each magisterial district shall contain at least one voting precinct and each precinct shall have but one voting place therein.

Each precinct within any urban center shall contain not less than three hundred nor more than one thousand five hundred registered voters. Each precinct in a rural or less thickly settled area shall contain not less than two hundred nor more than seven hundred registered voters, ~~unless upon a written finding by the county commission that establishment of or retention of a precinct of less than two hundred voters would prevent undue hardship to the voters, the Secretary of State determines that such precinct be exempt from the two hundred voter minimum limit.~~ A county commission may permit the establishment or retention of a precinct less than the minimum numbers allowed in this subsection upon making a written finding that to do otherwise would cause undue hardship to the voters. If, at any time the number of registered voters exceeds the maximum number specified, the county commission shall rearrange the precincts within the political division so that the new precincts each contain a number of registered voters within the designated limits: Provided, That any precincts with polling places that are within a one mile radius of each other on or after July 1, 2014, may be consolidated, at the discretion of the county clerk and county commission into one or more new precincts that contain not more than three thousand registered voters in any urban center, nor more than one thousand five hundred registered voters in a rural or less thickly settled area: Provided, however, That no precincts may be consolidated pursuant to this section if the consolidation would create a geographical barrier or path of travel between voters in a precinct and their proposed new polling place that would create an undue hardship to voters of any current precinct.

If a county commission fails to rearrange the precincts as required, any qualified voter of the county may apply for a writ of mandamus to compel the performance of this duty: Provided, That when in the discretion of the county commission, there is only one place convenient to vote within the precinct and when there are more than seven hundred registered voters within the existing precinct, the county commission may designate two or more precincts with the same geographic boundaries and which have voting places located within the same building. The county commission shall designate alphabetically the voters who ~~will be~~ are eligible to vote in each precinct so created. Each ~~such~~ precinct shall be operated separately and independently with separate voting booths, ballot boxes, election commissioners and clerks, and whenever possible, in separate rooms. No two of ~~such~~ the precincts may use the same counting board.

(b) In order to facilitate the conduct of local and special elections and the use of election registration records therein, precinct boundaries shall be established to coincide with the boundaries of any municipality of the county and with the wards or other geographical districts of the municipality except in instances where found by the county commission to be wholly impracticable so to do. Governing bodies of all municipalities shall provide accurate and current maps of their boundaries to the clerk of any county commission of a county in which any portion of the municipality is located.

(c) To facilitate the federal and state redistricting process, precinct boundaries ~~must~~ shall be comprised of intersecting geographic physical features or municipal boundaries recognized by the U. S. Census Bureau. For purposes of this subsection, geographic physical features include streets, roads, streams, creeks, rivers, railroad tracks and mountain ridge lines. The county commission of every county ~~must~~ shall modify precinct boundaries to follow geographic physical features or municipal boundaries and submit changes to the ~~West Virginia office of Legislative Services~~ Joint Committee on Government and Finance by June 30, 2007, and by June 30, every ten calendar years thereafter. The county commission ~~must~~ shall also submit precinct boundary details to the U.S. Census Bureau upon request.

~~The West Virginia office of Legislative Services shall be available for consultation with the county commission regarding the precinct modification process: Provided, That nothing in this subsection removes or limits the ultimate responsibility of the county commission to modify precinct boundaries to follow geographic physical features.~~

~~(d) The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of section twenty-eight, article four of this chapter relating to the number of voters in precincts in which voting machines are used.~~

~~(e)~~ (d) The county commission shall keep available at all times during business hours in the courthouse at a place convenient for public inspection a map or maps of the county and municipalities with the current boundaries of all precincts.

ARTICLE 16. NONINTOXICATING BEER.

§11-16-3. Definitions.

For the purpose of this article, except where the context clearly requires differently:

(1) “Brand” means a nonintoxicating beer product manufactured, brewed, mixed, concocted, blended, bottled or otherwise produced, or imported or transhipped by a brewer or manufacturer, the labels of which have been registered and approved by the commissioner that is being offered for sale or sold in West Virginia by a distributor who has been appointed in a valid franchise agreement or a valid amendment thereto.

(~~1~~) (2) “Brewer” or “manufacturer” means any person firm, association, partnership or corporation manufacturing, brewing, mixing, concocting, blending, bottling or otherwise producing or importing or transshipping from a foreign country nonintoxicating beer or nonintoxicating craft beer for sale at wholesale to any licensed distributor. Brewer or manufacturer may be used interchangeably throughout this article. A brewer may obtain only one brewer’s license for its nonintoxicating beer or nonintoxicating craft beer.

(~~2~~) (3) “Brewpub” means a place of manufacture of nonintoxicating beer owned by a resident brewer, subject to federal and state regulations and guidelines, a portion of which premises are designated for retail sales of nonintoxicating beer or nonintoxicating craft beer by the resident brewer owning the brewpub.

(~~3~~) (4) “Class A retail license” means a retail license permitting the retail sale of liquor at a freestanding liquor retail outlet licensed pursuant to chapter sixty of this code.

(4) (5) “Commissioner” means the West Virginia Alcohol Beverage Control Commissioner.

(5) (6) “Distributor” means and includes any person jobbing or distributing nonintoxicating beer or nonintoxicating craft beer to retailers at wholesale and whose warehouse and chief place of business shall be within this state. For purposes of a distributor only, the term “person” means and includes an individual, firm, trust, partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, association or corporation. Any trust licensed as a distributor or any trust that is an owner of a distributor licensee, and the trustee or other persons in active control of the activities of the trust relating to the distributor license, is liable for acts of the trust or its beneficiaries relating to the distributor license that are unlawful acts or violations of article eleven of this chapter notwithstanding the liability of trustees in article ten, chapter forty-four-d of this code.

(7) “Franchise agreement” means the written agreement between a brewer and a distributor that is identical as to terms and conditions between the brewer and all its distributors, which agreement has been approved by the commissioner. The franchise agreement binds the parties so that a distributor, appointed by a brewer, may distribute all of the brewer’s nonintoxicating beer products, brands or family of brands imported and offered for sale in West Virginia, including, but not limited to, existing brands, line extensions and new brands all in the brewer’s assigned territory for the distributor. All brands and line extensions being imported or offered for sale in West Virginia must be listed by the brewer in the franchise agreement or a written amendment to the franchise agreement. A franchise agreement may be amended by mutual written agreement of the parties as approved by the commissioner with identical terms and conditions for a brewer and all of its distributors. Any approved amendment to the franchise agreement becomes a part of the franchise agreement. A brewer and a distributor may mutually agree in writing to cancel a franchise agreement. A distributor terminated by a brewer as provided in this article and the promulgated rules no longer has a valid franchise agreement. If a brewer has reached an agreement to cancel a distributor or has terminated a distributor, then a brewer may appoint a successor distributor who accedes to all the rights of the cancelled or terminated distributor.

(8) “Franchise distributor network” means the distributors who have entered into a binding written franchise agreement, identical as to terms and conditions, to distribute nonintoxicating beer products, brands and line extensions in an assigned territory for a brewer. A brewer may only have one franchise distributor network: Provided, That a brewer that has acquired the manufacturing, bottling or other production rights for the sale of nonintoxicating beer at wholesale from a selling brewer as specified in subdivision (2), subsection (a), section twenty-one of this article shall continue to maintain and be bound by the selling brewer’s separate franchise distributor’s network for any of its existing brands, line extensions and new brands.

~~(6)~~ (9) “Freestanding liquor retail outlet” means a retail outlet that sells only liquor, beer, nonintoxicating beer and other alcohol-related products, as defined pursuant to section four, article three-a, chapter sixty of this code.

~~(7)~~ (10) “Growler” means a glass ceramic or metal container or jug, capable of being securely sealed, utilized by a brewpub for purposes of off-premise sales of nonintoxicating beer or nonintoxicating craft beer for personal consumption not on a licensed premise and not for resale.

(11) “Line extension” means any nonintoxicating beer product that is an extension of brand or family of brands that is labeled, branded, advertised, marketed, promoted or offered for sale with the intent or purpose of being manufactured, imported, associated, contracted, affiliated or otherwise related to a brewer’s existing brand through the use of a brewer, its subsidiaries, parent entities, contracted entities, affiliated entities or other related entities’. In determining whether a nonintoxicating beer product is a line extension, the commissioner may consider, but is not limited to, the following factors: name or partial name; trade name or partial trade name; logos; copyrights; trademarks or trade design; product codes; advertising promotion or pricing.

(8) (12) “Nonintoxicating beer” means all natural cereal malt beverages or products of the brewing industry commonly referred to as beer, lager beer, ale and all other mixtures and preparations produced by the brewing industry, including malt coolers and nonintoxicating craft beers with no caffeine infusion or any additives masking or altering the alcohol effect containing at least one half of one percent alcohol by volume, but not more than nine and six-tenths of alcohol by weight, or twelve percent by volume, whichever is greater. The word “liquor” as used in chapter sixty of this code does not include or embrace nonintoxicating beer nor any of the beverages, products, mixtures or preparations included within this definition.

(9) (13) “Nonintoxicating beer sampling event” means an event approved by the commissioner for a Class A retail Licensee to hold a nonintoxicating beer sampling authorized pursuant to section eleven-a of this article.

§11-16-21. Requirements as to franchise agreements between brewers and distributors; transfer of franchise by distributor; franchise distributor network; notice thereof to brewer; arbitration of disputes as to such transfer; violations and penalties; limitation of section.

(a) On and after July 1, 1971, it shall be unlawful for any brewer to transfer or deliver to a distributor any nonintoxicating beer, ale or other malt beverage or malt cooler without first having entered into an equitable franchise agreement with such distributor, which franchise agreement and any amendments to that agreement shall be in writing, shall be identical as to terms and conditions with all other franchise agreements and any amendments between such brewer and its other distributors in this state in its approved franchise distributor network, all as approved by the commissioner and which shall contain a provision in substance or effect as follows:

(1) The brewer recognizes that the distributor is free to manage his or her business in the manner the distributor deems best and that this prerogative vests in the distributor, subject to the provisions of this article, the exclusive right: ~~to~~ (A) To establish his or her selling prices; (B) ~~to select~~ have the distribution rights to the brands and line extensions of nonintoxicating beer products that are bound by franchise agreements specifying a distributor's assigned territory and that are assigned to a franchise distributor network, and, further, that the distributor may determine which brands and line extensions of nonintoxicating beer products he or she wishes to handle; and (C) to determine the efforts and resources which the distributor will exert to develop and promote the sale of the brewer's nonintoxicating beer

Consequently, the brewer expects that the distributor will price competitively the nonintoxicating beer products handled by the distributor, devote reasonable effort and resources to the sale of such products and maintain a satisfactory sales level.

(2) The franchise agreement binds the parties so that a distributor, appointed by a brewer, may distribute all of the brewer's nonintoxicating beer products, brands or family of brands imported and offered for sale in West Virginia, including, but not limited to: existing brands, line extensions and new brands in the brewer's assigned territory for the distributor. All brands and line extensions being imported or offered for sale in West Virginia must be listed by the brewer in the franchise agreement or a written amendment to the franchise agreement. A franchise agreement may be amended by mutual written agreement of the parties as approved by the commissioner with identical terms and conditions for a brewer and all of its distributors. Any approved amendment to the franchise agreement becomes a part of the franchise agreement.

~~(2)~~ (3) Whenever the manufacturing, bottling or other production rights for the sale of nonintoxicating beer at wholesale of any brewer is acquired by another brewer, the franchised distributor and franchise distributor network of the selling brewer shall be entitled to continue distributing the selling brewer's nonintoxicating beer products as authorized in the franchised distributor's existing franchise agreement and the acquiring brewer shall market all the selling brewer's nonintoxicating beer products through said franchised distributor and franchise distributor network as though the acquiring brewer had made the franchise agreement and the acquiring brewer may terminate said franchise agreement only in accordance with subdivision (2), subsection (b) of this section: Provided, That the acquiring brewer may distribute any of its other nonintoxicating beer products through its duly authorized franchises and franchise distributor network in accordance with all other provisions of this section. Further, this subdivision shall apply to the brewer, successor brewers and also any successor entities of a brewer who shall be bound by the existing franchise agreement and the franchise distributor network, unless all the parties mutually agree, in writing, to change or cancel the existing franchise agreement and franchise distributor network or unless the brewer terminates a distributor as provided in this article and the promulgated rules.

(b) It shall also be unlawful:

(1) For any brewer, ~~or brewpub~~ resident brewer or distributor, or any officer, agent or representative of any brewer, ~~or brewpub~~ resident brewer or distributor, to coerce or persuade or attempt to coerce or persuade any person licensed to sell, distribute or job nonintoxicating beer, ale or other malt beverage or malt cooler at wholesale or retail, to enter into any contracts or agreements, whether written or oral, or to take any other action which will violate or tend to violate any provision of this article or any of the rules, regulations, standards, requirements or orders of the commissioner promulgated as provided in this section;

(2) For any brewer, ~~or brewpub~~ resident brewer or distributor, or any officer, agent or representative of any brewer, ~~or brewpub~~ resident brewer or distributor, to cancel, terminate or rescind without due regard for the equities of such brewer, ~~or brewpub~~ resident brewer or distributor and without just cause, any franchise agreement, whether oral or written, and in the case of an oral franchise agreement, whether the same was entered into on or before June 11, 1971, and in the case of a franchise agreement in writing, whether the same was entered into on, before or subsequent to July 1, 1971. The cancellation, termination or rescission of any such franchise agreement shall not become effective for at least ninety days after written notice of such cancellation, termination or rescission has been served on the affected party and the Commissioner by certified mail, return receipt requested: Provided, That said ninety-day period and said notice of cancellation, termination or rescission shall not apply if such cancellation, termination or rescission is agreed to in writing by both the brewer and the distributor involved. ~~or~~

(c) In the event a distributor desires to sell or transfer his or her franchise and assigned territory in the brewer or resident brewer's franchise distributor network, such distributor shall give to the brewer, or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer at least sixty days' notice in writing of such impending sale or transfer and the identity of the person, firm or corporation to whom such sale or transfer is to be made and such other information as the brewer or resident brewer may reasonably request. Such notice shall be made upon forms and contain such additional information as the Commissioner by rule or regulation shall prescribe. A copy of such notice shall be forwarded to the commissioner. The brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer shall be given sixty days to approve or disapprove of such sale or transfer. If the brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer neither approves nor disapproves thereof within sixty days of the date of receipt of such notice, the sale or transfer of such franchise shall be deemed to be approved by such brewer or resident brewer. In the event the brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer shall disapprove of the sale or transfer to the prospective franchisee, transferee or purchaser, such brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer shall give notice to the distributor of that fact in writing, setting forth the reason or reasons for such disapproval. The approval shall not be unreasonably withheld by the brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer. The fact that the prospective franchisee, transferee or purchaser has not had prior experience in the nonintoxicating beer business or beer business shall not be deemed sufficient reason in and of itself for a valid disapproval of the proposed sale or transfer, but may be considered in conjunction with other adverse factors in supporting the position of the brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer. Nor may the brewer or ~~brewpub~~

resident brewer impose requirements upon the prospective franchisee, transferee or purchaser which are more stringent or restrictive than those currently demanded of or imposed upon the brewer's brewer or brewpub's resident brewers or other distributors in the State of West Virginia. A copy of such notice of disapproval shall likewise be forwarded to the commissioner and to the prospective franchisee, transferee or purchaser. In the event the issue be not resolved within twenty days from the date of such disapproval, either the brewer, brewpub resident brewer, distributor or prospective franchisee, transferee or purchaser shall notify the other parties of his or her demand for arbitration and shall likewise notify the commissioner thereof. A dispute or disagreement shall thereupon be submitted to arbitration in the county in which the distributor's principal place of business is located by a board of three arbitrators, which request for arbitration shall name one arbitrator. The party receiving such notice shall within ten days thereafter by notice to the party demanding arbitration name the second arbitrator or, failing to do so, the second arbitrator shall be appointed by the chief judge of the circuit court of the county in which the distributor's principal place of business is located on request of the party requesting arbitration in the first instance. The two arbitrators so appointed shall name the third or, failing to do so within ten days after appointment of the second arbitrator, the third arbitrator may be appointed by said chief judge upon request of either party. The arbitrators so appointed shall promptly hear and determine and the questions submitted pursuant to the procedures established by the American Arbitration Association and shall render their decision with all reasonable speed and dispatch but in no event later than twenty days after the conclusion of evidence. Said decision shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law and shall be based upon the justice and equity of the matter. Each party shall be given notice of such decision. If the decision of the arbitrators be in favor of or in approval of the proposed sale or transfer, the brewer or brewpub resident brewer shall forthwith agree to the same and shall immediately transfer the franchise to the proposed franchisee, transferee or purchaser unless notice of intent to appeal such decision is given the arbitrators and all other parties within ten days of notification of such decision. If any such party deems himself or herself aggrieved thereby, such party shall have a right to bring an appropriate action in circuit court. Any and all notices given pursuant to this subsection shall be given to all parties by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

(d) The violation of any provision of this section by any brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer shall constitute grounds for the forfeiture of the bond furnished by such brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer in accordance with the provisions of section twelve of this article and shall also constitute grounds for sanctions in accordance with sections twenty-three and twenty-four of this article. Moreover, any circuit court of the county in which a distributor's principal place of business is located shall have the jurisdiction and power to enjoin the cancellation, termination or rescission of any franchise agreement between a brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer and such distributor and, in granting an injunction to a distributor, the court shall provide that the brewer or ~~brewpub~~ resident brewer so enjoined shall not supply the customers or territory of the distributor while the injunction is in effect.

On motion of Senator Unger, the message on the bill was taken up for immediate consideration.

The following House of Delegates amendments to the bill were reported by the Clerk:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 2. UNDERGROUND MINES.

§22A-2-43. Actions to detect and respond to excess methane.

The following actions are required to detect and respond to excess methane. Subsections (a) through (f) of this section pertain to methane testing with hand-held devices:

(a) Hand-held testing required. – In any mine, no electrical equipment or permissible diesel-powered equipment may be brought in by the last open crosscut until a qualified person tests for methane. If one percent or more methane is present, the equipment may not be taken into the area until the methane concentration is reduced to less than one percent. Thereafter, subsequent methane examinations shall be made at least every twenty minutes while any electrical or diesel-powered equipment is present and energized.

(b) Location of tests. – Tests for methane concentrations under this section shall be made at least twelve inches from the roof, face, ribs and floor.

(c) Working places and intake air courses. –

(1) When one percent or more methane is present in a working place or an intake air course, including an air course in which a belt conveyor is located or in an area where mechanized mining equipment is being installed or removed:

(A) Except intrinsically safe atmospheric monitoring systems (AMS), electrically powered equipment in the affected area shall be de-energized and other mechanized equipment shall be shut off.

(B) Changes or adjustments shall be made at once to the ventilation system to reduce the concentration of methane to less than one percent.

(C) No other work shall be permitted in the affected area until the methane concentration is less than one percent.

(2) When one and five-tenths percent or more methane is present in a working place or an intake air course, including an air course in which a belt conveyor is located or in an area where mechanized mining equipment is being installed or removed:

(A) Except for the mine foreman, assistant mine foreman or individuals authorized by the mine foreman or assistant mine foreman, all individuals shall be withdrawn from the affected area. If a federal or state mine inspector is present in the area of the mine where one and five-tenths percent or more of methane is detected, the federal or state mine inspector and the miners' representative, if any, may remain in the area with the mine foreman, assistant mine foreman or other individuals authorized by the mine foreman or assistant mine foreman.

(B) Except for intrinsically safe AMS, electrically powered equipment in the affected area shall be disconnected at the power source.

(d) Return air split. –

(1) When one percent or more methane is present in a return air split between the last working place on a working section and where that split of air meets another split of air or the location at which the split is used to ventilate seals or worked-out areas, changes or adjustments shall be made at once to the ventilation system to reduce the concentration of methane in the return air to less than one percent.

(2) When one and five-tenths percent or more methane is present in a return air split between the last working place on a working section and where that split of air meets another split of air or the location where the split is used to ventilate seals or worked-out areas, except for the mine foreman, assistant mine foreman or individuals authorized by the mine or assistant mine foreman, all individuals shall be withdrawn from the affected area. If a federal or state mine inspector is present in the area of the mine where one and five-tenths percent or more of methane is detected, the federal or state mine inspector and the miners' representative, if any, may remain in the area with the mine foreman, assistant mine foreman or other individuals authorized by the mine foreman or assistant mine foreman.

(3) Other than intrinsically safe AMS, equipment in the affected area shall be de-energized, electric power shall be disconnected at the power source and other mechanized equipment shall be shut off.

(4) No other work shall be permitted in the affected area until the methane concentration in the return air is less than one percent.

(e) Return air split alternative. –

(1) The provisions of this paragraph may apply if:

(A) The quantity of air in the split ventilating the active workings is at least twenty-seven thousand cubic feet per minute in the last open crosscut or the quantity specified in the approved ventilation plan, whichever is greater.

(B) The methane content of the air in the split is continuously monitored during mining operations by an AMS that gives a visual and audible signal on the working section when the methane in the return air reaches one and five-tenths percent and the methane content is monitored as specified in the approved ventilation plan.

(C) Rock dust is continuously applied with a mechanical duster to the return air course during coal production at a location in the air course immediately outby the most inby monitoring point.

(2) When one and five-tenths percent or more methane is present in a return air split between a point in the return opposite the section loading point and where that split of air meets another split of air or where the split of air is used to ventilate seals or worked-out areas:

(A) Changes or adjustments shall be made at once to the ventilation system to reduce the concentration of methane in the return air below one and five-tenths percent.

(B) Except for the mine foreman, assistant mine foreman or individuals authorized by the mine foreman or assistant mine foreman, all individuals shall be withdrawn from the affected area. If a federal or state mine inspector is present in the area of the mine where one and five-tenths percent or more of methane is detected, the federal or state mine inspector and the miners' representative, if any, may remain in the area with the mine foreman, assistant mine foreman or other individuals authorized by the mine foreman or assistant mine foreman.

(C) Except for intrinsically safe AMS, equipment in the affected area shall be de-energized, electric power shall be disconnected at the power source and other mechanized equipment shall be shut off.

(D) No other work shall be permitted in the affected area until the methane concentration in the return air is less than one and five-tenths percent.

(f) Bleeders and other return air courses. –

The concentration of methane in a bleeder split of air immediately before the air in the split joins another split of air, or in a return air course other than as described in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, shall not exceed two percent.

(g) Machine-mounted methane monitors. –

(1) Approved methane monitors shall be installed and maintained on all face cutting machines, continuous miners, longwall face equipment and other mechanized equipment used to extract coal or load coal within the working place.

(2) The sensing device for methane monitors on longwall shearing machines shall be installed at the return air end of the longwall face. An additional sensing device also shall be installed on the longwall shearing machine, downwind and as close to the cutting head as practicable. An alternative location or locations for the sensing device required on the longwall shearing machine may be approved in the ventilation plan.

(3) The sensing devices of methane monitors shall be installed as close to the working face as practicable.

(4) Methane monitors shall be maintained in permissible and proper operating condition and shall be calibrated with a known air-methane mixture at least once every fifteen days and a record of the calibration shall be recorded with ink or indelible pencil by the person performing the calibration in a book prescribed by the director and maintained on the surface. Calibration records shall be retained for inspection for at least one year from the date of the test. To assure that methane monitors are properly maintained and calibrated, the operator shall use persons properly trained in the maintenance, calibration and permissibility of methane monitors to calibrate and maintain the devices.

(h) Automatic de-energization of ~~extraction apparatus~~ electrical equipment or shut down of diesel equipment. –

When the methane concentration at any machine-mounted methane monitor reaches one percent, the monitor shall give a warning signal. The warning signal device of the methane monitor shall be visible to a person operating the equipment on which the monitor is mounted. The methane monitor shall automatically de-energize ~~the extraction apparatus on the machine on which it is~~

~~mounted, but not the machine as a whole to facilitate proper mining procedures~~ electric equipment or shut down diesel-powered equipment on which it is mounted when:

(1) The methane concentration at any machine-mounted methane monitor reaches one and ~~twenty-five one hundredths~~ five-tenths percent; for a sustained period or

(2) The monitor is not operating properly.

The ~~machine's extraction apparatus~~ machine may not again be started in that place until the methane concentration measured by the methane monitor is less than one percent.

~~(i) Compliance schedule for machine refit.=~~

~~Within one hundred twenty days of the effective date of the amendments to this section, the Board of Coal Mine Health and Safety shall promulgate legislative rules pursuant to article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code establishing calibration procedures, defining the term "sustained period" for purposes of implementing this section, and establishing a compliance schedule setting forth the time frame in which all new and existing face cutting machines, continuous miners, longwall face equipment and other mechanized equipment used to extract coal or load coal within the working place shall be refitted with methane monitors. Enforcement of subsections (g) and (h) of this section shall not commence until after the time frame is established by rule.;~~

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 92—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance instruct the Joint Committee on Health to study the benefits and costs of direct reimbursement rates paid by the Bureau for Medical Services for mental health therapy services that have been provided by Master’s-prepared, independently licensed mental health therapists.

Whereas, Mental health therapy services offered for the prevention, early intervention and treatment of mental health, behavioral health, substance abuse and emotional conditions and disorders are an effective and recognized course of treatment; and

Whereas, It is anticipated that improved access to quality mental health therapy by Master’s-prepared, independently licensed mental health therapists can effectively address, reduce and eliminate many of the most pressing health, social and behavioral problems facing West Virginia; and

Whereas, Using tanning beds also increases the risk of wrinkles and eye damage and changes skin texture; and

Whereas, Further study is requested to ensure that all who use tanning beds understand the risks when making the decision to tan; therefore, be it

Whereas, The LAJVAMC is a Level II complexity facility, serving a veteran population of approximately seventy thousand in North Central West Virginia and neighboring counties in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland; and

Whereas, The LAJVAMC provides inpatient services such as acute medicine, surgery, acute psychiatry, Substance Abuse Residential Rehabilitation Treatment Program (SARRTP), PTSD Residential Rehabilitation Program (PRRP), Psychosocial Residential Rehabilitation Treatment Program (PRRTP) and nursing home care; and

Whereas, The LAJVAMC provides outpatient services such as ambulatory surgery, audiology, cardiology, dental, dermatology, diabetes, ENT, gastroenterology, general internal medicine, general surgery, gynecology, hematology/oncology, infectious disease, nephrology, nutrition, occupational therapy, ophthalmology, optometry, pain, physical therapy, podiatry, primary care, prosthetics, behavioral medicine (including substance abuse, telepsychiatry, PTSD, etc.), pulmonology, recreation therapy, rheumatology, social work, speech pathology, urology and vascular surgery; and Senate Resolution No. 52—Memorializing the life of Jeffrey S. Taylor, a native of Midway, West Virginia, who gave his life in defense of his country.

Whereas, Jeffrey S. Taylor spent his first eighteen years in Midway, West Virginia, where he graduated from Independence High School in Coal City; and

Whereas, Jeffrey S. Taylor enlisted in the U. S. Navy on June 20, 1994, and completed basic training in Great Lakes, Illinois, in August, 1994. He was also a graduate of Field Medical Service School in Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, and became a Navy SEAL following Underwater Demolition/SEAL Training in Coronado, California; and

Whereas, Jeffrey S. Taylor was also a Basic Airborne and Military Freefall Parachute School graduate, and in addition to SEAL Team Ten, his previous duty stations include the Navy Medical Center, Portsmouth, the 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, SEAL Team Eight and USS Theodore Roosevelt (CVN 71); and

Whereas, Sadly, Hospital Corpsman First Class Jeffrey S. Taylor died June 28, 2005, while conducting combat operations in Afghanistan. He was killed when the MH-47 Chinook helicopter he was aboard crashed into the rugged mountains of eastern Afghanistan. The helicopter was en route to provide support to troops on the ground when it was shot down by enemy forces. He was assigned to SEAL Team Ten, Virginia Beach; and

Whereas, Hospital Corpsman First Class Jeffrey S. Taylor's military awards include the Bronze Star with Combat "V" for Valor, Purple Heart, Navy Commendation Medal with Combat "V" for Valor, Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal, Combat Action Ribbon, Afghanistan Campaign Medal, posthumously, Presidential Unit Citation, Navy Unit Commendation (2), Meritorious Unit Commendation, Navy "E" Ribbon, Good Conduct Ribbon (4), Navy Fleet Marine Force Medal, Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal, National Defense Service Medal (2), Global War on Terrorism Service Medal and Sea Service Deployment Ribbon (3) as well as numerous other personal and command awards; and

Whereas, It is fitting that today we honor the life of Hospital Corpsman First Class Jeffrey S. Taylor, who made the ultimate sacrifice for his country; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

Further Resolved, That the Senate expresses its most sincere condolences to the family of Hospital Corpsman First Class Jeffrey S. Taylor; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the family of Hospital Corpsman First Class Jeffrey S. Taylor.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the Senate returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Stollings, from the Committee on Health and Human Resources, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Health and Human Resources has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 95 (originating in the Committee on Health and Human Resources)—Requesting the Legislative Oversight Commission on Health and Human Resources Accountability to study the necessity and improvement of long-term care planning in West Virginia.

Whereas, The baby boomer generation is coming of age to retire and it is important to examine the entire spectrum of long term care which both addresses the current and future plans of West Virginia to care for our senior citizens; and

Whereas, West Virginia seemingly has no long-range plan to deal with this wave of retiring and aging citizens; and

Whereas, The “baby boomer tsunami” is a reality. According to the U. S. Census Bureau, there are more than seventy-seven million boomers in the United States and by 2030, this demographic (born between 1946 and 1964) will represent an estimated twenty percent of the population. This means more than ten thousand baby boomers will turn sixty-five every day for the next sixteen years; and

Whereas, West Virginia’s senior population presents an even greater challenge since West Virginia is second only to Florida in the average age of its population; and

Whereas, This is not only a statewide issue. There are seniors who are awaiting services in certain geographic areas where the availability of services differs simply due to location; and

Whereas, Services provided by county aging programs and their delivery areas are limited by the funding available to meet the needs of the retiring population; and

Whereas, There is a severe need for more resources and placement options for West Virginia's aging population. Some states have Medicaid paid group homes and/or assisted living facilities that West Virginia does not have. There would be a need for specialized adult family care providers, who would specialize in working with often difficult elderly consumers, which West Virginia cannot currently meet; and

Whereas, Our existing infrastructure is already stretched beyond capacity and an aging population is only going to continue to overload an already overburdened system; and

Whereas, West Virginia needs to explore options and develop a long and short-range plan to address the needs of our aging population by addressing such areas as: Continuum of long-term care service strategies, exploration of strategies being employed by other states, technical assistance from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services and other Federal agencies, payment formula and fiscal analysis which impact of aging population, provider availability by region and workforce availability by region; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislative Oversight Commission on Health and Human Resources Accountability is hereby requested to study the necessity and improvement of long-term care planning in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislative Oversight Commission on Health and Human Resources Accountability report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 96 (originating in the Committee on Health and Human Resources)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Health to conduct a study on the cost of emergency transportation and billing practices of air-ambulance companies operating in West Virginia.

Whereas, Families are occasionally faced with the difficult decision of having to hire an air ambulance to transport their loved ones in cases of severe and immediate medical emergencies; and

Whereas, The emotional toll of dealing with a family member whose medical condition is so intense and extreme can cause people to lose sight of anything except caring for their loved one; and

Whereas, In situations where a need arises that requires a loved one to be transported via helicopter to a health care facility where they can receive needed and often life-saving medical attention, the cost of the transport is not the first consideration when making arrangements for the transport; and

Whereas, Air-transportation vendors who are not participants in an insured plan but who transport a plan member or plan member's family member often submit requests for payment well beyond what is felt to be reasonable and necessary; and

Whereas, These bills present a burden to families who, upon receipt, attempt to make arrangements to negotiate the rate but find that once the service has been rendered that the air-transportation company is reluctant to negotiate a reduction in the charge; and

Whereas, Striking a balance between a reimbursement rate that families can afford to pay and a reasonable fee for service that provides air-transportation operators a respectable profit is a difficult endeavor; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Health is hereby requested to conduct a study on the cost of emergency transportation and billing practices of air-ambulance companies operating in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Health report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

Ron Stollings,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Stollings, unanimous consent being granted, the resolutions (S. C. R. Nos. 95 and 96) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Health and Human Resources were taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Stollings, the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Plymale, from the Committee on Education, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Education has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 97 (originating in the Committee on Education)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study the governance of the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission.

Whereas, The West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission is incorporated, with the consent of the State Board of Education, as a nonprofit, nonstock corporation; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission is composed of the principals, or their representatives, of those secondary schools whose county boards of education have certified in writing to the State Superintendent of Schools that they have elected to delegate the control, supervision and regulation of their interscholastic athletic events and band activities of the students in the public secondary schools in their respective counties to the commission; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission was in existence for fifty-one years before the enactment of West Virginia Code §18-2-25, which allows the county boards of education to delegate the control, supervision and regulation of interscholastic athletic events and band activities to the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission; and

Whereas, West Virginia Code §18-2-25 has not been amended since 1967; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the governance of the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Chair.

Whereas, Lester W. “Cappy” Burnside, Jr. served in the U. S. Army and retired as a Captain in the U. S. Army Reserve; and

Whereas, In January 1990, Senator Robert C. Byrd announced that the FBI Identification Division would relocate to West Virginia, in order to implement the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS), a new computer system to identify fingerprints in a matter of minutes. Just as Cappy Burnside was taking office as President of Harrison 2000, a new economic development initiative, the organization learned that FBI teams would be looking in several counties for a possible site for the facility; and

Whereas, Cappy Burnside then promptly organized an FBI property committee, began discussions with property owners, evaluated utility extensions to each potential site in Harrison County and established personal relationships with FBI officials. Each of these efforts contributed to the final chemistry for a successful project. By late June, FBI officials asked Harrison 2000 to option 1000 acres adjacent to I-79 by August 1 of that year; and

Whereas, For a year and a half, Cappy Burnside put aside many of his duties with his business and most of his time for leisure with his family to concentrate on securing the FBI project for Harrison County. Whereas, Twenty years after these events, Route 279 (Jerry Dove Exit 124), has opened an entire area for development resulting in Charles Pointe, White Oaks, and United Hospital Center and further economic development and well-being of Harrison County; and

Whereas, Cappy Burnside has participated in many community groups including: Association of Industrial Development: Board of Directors; Clarksburg Industrial Development Corporation: President, 1989-1990; Boy Scouts of America, Central West Virginia Council: Board of Directors; North Bend Rails to Trails Foundation: Advisory Board; American Society of Highway Engineers, Central West Virginia Chapter: President, 1989; Mon Valley Tri-State Network; Clarksburg Planning and Zoning Commission: Member; Salvation Army Advisory Board; Clarksburg Kiwanis Club: President 1969-1970. Until 2006, he was a board member of the Friends of West Virginia Public Radio, having also served as chair in 1995 and then as treasurer; and

Whereas, He was president and treasurer of Consolidated Supply Company until he closed the business in 1992 and, in recent years, he was a consultant to building supply firms specializing in materials for highways and bridges; and

Whereas, Naming a bridge on Route 279 for Cappy Burnside is an appropriate recognition of his contributions to the economic development and well-being of Harrison County; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name the bridge on Route 279 between the FBI CJIS Division and Route 50 crossing Interstate 79, bridge number 17-279-1.66 (17A314), in Harrison County (Jerry Dove Exit 124), the “Lester W. ‘Cappy’ Burnside, Jr. Bridge”; and, be it

CHILDREN.

PART II – PARENTING PLANS

§48-9-209a. Child conceived as result of sexual assault or sexual abuse by a parent; rights of a biological parent convicted of sexual assault or abuse; post-conviction cohabitation; rebuttable presumption upon separation or divorce.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a child custodial responsibility or parenting time dispute involves a child who is conceived as a result of acts by which one of the child's biological parents has been convicted of sexual assault, pursuant to section three, four or five, article eight-b, chapter sixty-one of this code, or of sexual abuse by a parent, guardian or custodian, pursuant to section five, article eight-d, chapter sixty-one of this code, the court shall not allocate custodial responsibility to the biological parent convicted of the sexual assault, and the convicted parent has no right to parenting time with the child unless the court finds by clear and convincing evidence set forth in written findings that it is in the best interests of the child, adequately protects the child and the victim of the sexual offense and that the person or persons with custodial responsibility of the child consent thereto.

(b) Subsection (a) does not apply if:

(1) The biological parents are husband and wife at the time of the offense and, after the date of conviction, cohabit and establish a mutual custodial environment for the child; or

The convicted parent has no right to parenting time with the child unless the court finds by clear and convincing evidence set forth in written findings that, despite the rebuttable presumption required by this subsection, a custodial responsibility or parenting time arrangement with the convicted parent is in the best interests of the child, adequately protects the child and the victim of the sexual offense, and that the victim of the sexual offense consents thereto.

(d) A denial of custodial responsibility or parenting time under this section does not by itself terminate the parental rights of the person denied custodial responsibility or parenting time, nor does it affect the obligation of the person to support the minor child.

The division has a vested interest in maintaining the health and safety of wildlife as part of its wildlife management objectives, as well as encouraging the long tradition of deer hunting in this state. By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 5. AIR POLLUTION CONTROL.

§22-5-20. Regulating carbon dioxide emissions from existing fossil fuel-fired electric generating units.

(a) The Department of Environmental Protection, in consultation with the Department of Environmental Protection Advisory Council, shall establish separate standards of performance for carbon dioxide emissions from existing coal-fired electric generating units in accordance with subsection (b) and from existing natural gas-fired electric generating units in accordance with subsection (c). The standards of performance developed and proposed under any state plan to comply with Section 111 of the Clean Air Act should allow for greater flexibility and take into consideration the additional factors set forth in subsection (d) as a part of any state plan to achieve targeted reductions in greenhouse gas emissions which are equivalent or comparable to the goals and marks established by federal guidelines.

(b) Standards of performance for existing coal-fired electric generating units. – Except as provided under subsection (d), the standard of performance established for existing coal-fired electric generating units under subsection (a) shall be based upon:

(1) The best system of emission reduction which, taking into account the cost of achieving the reduction and any nonair quality health and environmental impact and energy requirements, has been adequately demonstrated for coal-fired electric generating units that are subject to the standard of performance;

(2) Reductions in emissions of carbon dioxide that can reasonably be achieved through measures undertaken at each coal-fired electric generating unit; and

(3) Efficiency and other measures that can be undertaken at each coal-fired electric generating unit to reduce carbon dioxide emissions from the unit without switching from coal to other fuels, cofiring other fuels with coal or limiting the economic utilization of the unit; and

(4) Additional regulatory mechanisms that provide flexibility in complying with the standards, including: (A) Emissions trading with credited reduction for any unit that was in operation January 1, 2011, or thereafter, and fleet wide averaging; (B) other alternative implementation measures that are determined to further the interests of West Virginia and its citizens including state programs such as clean energy programs that mandate reduced energy consumption resulting in avoided emissions, emission reductions, or a reduction in the state's carbon dioxide intensity whereby the state shall credit equally based on the output to the generators located in the state that are subject to carbon dioxide performance standard rules under Section 111(d) of the Clean Air Act.

(c) Standards of performance for existing natural gas-fired electric generating units. – Except as provided in subsection (d), the standard of performance established for existing gas-fired electric generating units under subsection (a) shall be based upon:

(1) The best system of emission reduction which, taking into account the cost of achieving the reduction and any nonair quality health and environmental impact and energy requirements, has been adequately demonstrated for natural gas-fired electric generating units that are subject to the standard of performance;

(2) Reductions in emissions of carbon dioxide that can reasonably be achieved through measures at each natural gas-fired electric generating unit; and

(3) Efficiency and other measures that can be undertaken at the unit to reduce carbon dioxide emissions from the unit without switching from natural gas to other lower-carbon fuels or limiting the economic utilization of the unit.

(d) Flexibility in establishing standards of performance. – In developing a flexible state plan to achieve targeted reductions in greenhouse gas emissions, the Department of Environmental Protection shall endeavor to establish an achievable standard of performance for any existing fossil fuel-fired electric generating unit, and examine whether less stringent performance standards or longer compliance schedules may be implemented or adopted for existing fossil fuel-fired electric generating units in comparison to the performance standards established for new, modified or reconstructed generating units, based on the following:

(1) Consumer impacts, including any disproportionate impacts of energy price increases on lower income populations;

(2) Nonair quality health and environmental impacts;

(3) Projected energy requirements;

(4) Market-based considerations in achieving performance standards;

(5) The costs of achieving emission reductions due to factors such as plant age, location or basic process design;

(6) Physical difficulties with or any apparent inability to feasibly implement certain emission reduction measures;

(7) The absolute cost of applying the performance standard to the unit;

(8) The expected remaining useful life of the unit;

(9) The impacts of closing the unit, including economic consequences such as expected job losses, if the unit is unable to comply with the performance standard;

(10) Impacts on the reliability of the system; and

(11) Any other factors specific to the unit that make application of a modified or less stringent standard or a longer compliance schedule more reasonable.

(e) State plan requirement. – The Department of Environmental Protection shall propose or submit to the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency a state plan which includes achievable performance standards for existing sources, and a combination of additional measures designed to meet the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency’s guidelines, consistent with the considerations, goals and parameters set forth in this section.

The bill (Eng. Com. Sub. for H. B. No. 4560), as amended, was then ordered to third reading.

Eng. House Bill No. 4588, Protecting unborn children who are capable of experiencing pain by prohibiting abortion after twenty weeks.

On second reading, coming up in regular order, was read a second time.

At the request of Senator Stollings, as chair of the Committee on Health and Human Resources, and by unanimous consent, the unreported Health and Human Resources committee amendment to the bill was withdrawn.

The following amendment to the bill, from the Committee on the Judiciary, was reported by the Clerk:

By striking out everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

That the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended by adding thereto a new article, designated §16-2M-1, §16-2M-2, §16-2M-3, §16-2M-4, §16-2M-5 and §16-2M-6, all to read as follows:

ARTICLE 2M. THE PAIN-CAPABLE FETUS PROTECTION ACT.

§16-2M-1. Findings.

The Legislature finds that there is substantial medical evidence that a fetus is capable of experiencing pain by twenty weeks after fertilization.

§16-2M-2. Definitions.

For purposes of this article, the following words and phrases have the following meanings:

(1) “Attempt to perform or induce an abortion” means an act or an omission of a statutorily required act that, under the circumstances as the person believes them to be, constitutes a substantial step in a course of conduct planned to culminate in the performance or induction of an abortion in this state in violation of the applicable provisions of this code.

(2) “Fertilization” means the fusion of a human spermatozoon with a human ovum.

(3) “Fetus” means the developing young in the uterus, specifically the unborn offspring in the postembryonic period from nine weeks after fertilization until birth.

(4) “Medical emergency” means a condition that, on the basis of a reasonably prudent physician’s reasonable medical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant female that it necessitates the immediate abortion of her pregnancy without first determining post-fertilization age to avert her death or for which the delay necessary to determine post-fertilization age will create serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function.

(5) “Non-medically viable fetus” means a fetus that contains sufficient fetal anomalies so as to render the fetus medically futile or incompatible with life outside the womb in the reasonable medical judgment of a reasonably prudent physician.

(6) “Physician” means a person with an unlimited license to practice allopathic medicine pursuant to article three of chapter thirty of this code or osteopathic medicine pursuant fourteen of chapter thirty of this code.

(7) “Post-fertilization age” means the age of the fetus as calculated from the fertilization of the human ovum.

(8) “Probable post-fertilization age of the fetus” means, in reasonable medical judgment and with reasonable probability, the post-fertilization age of the fetus at the time an abortion is planned to be performed.

(9) “Reasonable medical judgment” means a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent physician, knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved.

§16-2M-3. Determination of post-fertilization age.

Except in the case of a medical emergency or a non-medically viable fetus, no abortion may be performed or induced or be attempted to be performed or induced unless the physician performing or inducing it has first made a determination of the probable post-fertilization age of the fetus or relied upon such a determination made by another physician. In making this determination, the physician shall make such inquiries of the patient and perform or cause to be performed medical examinations and tests as a reasonably prudent physician, knowledgeable about the case and the medical conditions involved, would consider necessary to perform in making an accurate diagnosis with respect to post-fertilization age.

§16-2M-4. Abortion of fetus of twenty or more weeks post-fertilization age prohibited.

(a) No person may perform or induce, or attempt to perform or induce, an abortion upon a female when it has been determined, by the physician performing or inducing or attempting to perform or induce the abortion or by another physician upon whose determination that physician relies, that the probable post-fertilization age of the fetus is twenty or more weeks, unless in the reasonable medical judgment of a reasonably prudent physician there exists a non-medically viable fetus or the patient has a condition that, on the basis of a reasonably prudent physician's reasonable medical judgment, so complicates her medical condition as to necessitate the abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death or to avert serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function.

(b) When an abortion upon a patient whose fetus has been determined to have a probable post-fertilization age of twenty or more weeks is not prohibited by subsection (a) of this section, the physician shall terminate the pregnancy in the manner which, in reasonable medical judgment, provides the best opportunity for the fetus to survive, unless, in reasonable medical judgment, termination of the pregnancy in that manner would pose a greater risk either of the death of the patient or of the substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the patient than would other available methods.

§16-2M-5. Reporting.

(a) Any physician who performs or induces an abortion shall report to the Bureau for Public Health. The reporting shall be on a schedule and on forms set forth by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Resources no later than December 31, 2014. The reports shall include the following information:

(1) Post-fertilization age:

(A) If a determination of probable post-fertilization age was made, whether ultrasound was employed in making the determination, and the week of probable post-fertilization age determined.

(B) If a determination of probable post-fertilization age was not made, the basis of the determination that a medical emergency existed or that there existed a non-medically viable fetus.

(2) Method of abortion;

(3) If the probable post-fertilization age was determined to be twenty or more weeks, the basis of the determination that there existed a non-medically viable fetus or that the patient had a condition which so complicated the medical condition of the patient that it necessitated the abortion of her pregnancy in order to avert her death or avert a serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function; and

(4) If the probable post-fertilization age was determined to be twenty or more weeks, whether the method of abortion used was one that, in reasonable medical judgment, provided the best opportunity for the fetus to survive and, if such a method was not used, the basis of the determination that termination of the pregnancy in that manner would pose a greater risk either of the death of the patient or of the substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the patient than would other available methods.

(b) Reports required by subsection (a) of this section may not contain the name or the address of the patient whose pregnancy was terminated nor may the report contain any information identifying the patient. These reports shall be maintained in strict confidence by the department, may not be available for public inspection, and may not be made available except pursuant to court order.

(c) Beginning June 30, 2016, and annually thereafter, the Department of Health and Human Resources shall issue a public report providing statistics for the previous calendar year compiled from all of the reports covering that year submitted in accordance with this section for each of the items listed in subsection (a) of this section. Each report shall provide the statistics for all previous calendar years from the effective date of this section, adjusted to reflect any additional information from late or corrected reports. The Department of Health and Human Resources shall take care to ensure that none of the information included in the public reports could reasonably lead to the identification of any patient upon whom an abortion was performed or induced.

§16-2M-6. Penalties.

(a) Any person who intentionally or recklessly performs or induces an abortion in violation of this article is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined up to $4,000.

(b) No penalty may be assessed against any patient upon whom an abortion is performed or induced or attempted to be performed or induced.

That §16-13A-18a of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended and reenacted; and that §24-2-4a and §24-2-4b of said code be amended and reenacted, all to read as follows:

CHAPTER 16. PUBLIC HEALTH.

ARTICLE 13A. PUBLIC SERVICE DISTRICTS.

§16-13A-18a. Sale, lease or rental of water, sewer, stormwater or gas system by district; distribution of proceeds.

In any case where a public service district owns a water, sewer, stormwater or gas system, and a majority of not less than sixty percent of the members of the public service board thereof deem it for the best interests of the district to sell, lease or rent such water, sewer, stormwater or gas system to any municipality or privately-owned water, sewer, stormwater or gas system, or to any water, sewer, stormwater or gas system owned by an adjacent public service district, the board may so sell, lease or rent such water, sewer, stormwater or gas system upon such terms and conditions as said board, in its discretion, considers in the best interests of the district: Provided, That such sale, leasing or rental may be made only upon: (1) The publication of notice of a hearing before the board of the public service district, as a Class I legal advertisement in compliance with the provisions of article three, chapter fifty-nine of this code, in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the county or counties wherein the district is located, such publication to be made not earlier than twenty days and not later than seven days prior to the hearing; (2) approval by the county commission or commissions of the county or counties in which the district operates; and (3) approval by the public service commission of West Virginia.

In the event of any such sale, the proceeds thereof, if any, remaining after payment of all outstanding bonds and other obligations of the district, shall be ratably distributed to any persons who have made contributions in aid of construction of such water, sewer, stormwater or gas system, such distribution not to exceed the actual amount of any such contribution, without interest, and any balance of funds thereafter remaining shall be paid to the county commission of the county in which the major portion of such water, sewer, stormwater or gas system is located to be placed in the general funds of such county commission: Provided, That no such distribution shall be required in the case of a sale between political subdivisions of the state.

CHAPTER 24. PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

ARTICLE 2. POWERS AND DUTIES OF PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

§24-2-4a. Procedure for changing rates after June 30, 1981.

After June 30, 1981, no public utility subject to this chapter except those utilities subject to the provisions of section four-b and section four-d of this article, shall change, suspend or annul any rate, joint rate, charge, rental or classification except after thirty days' notice to the commission and the public, which notice shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the schedule then in force and the time when the changed rates or charges shall go into effect; but the commission may enter an order suspending the proposed rate as hereinafter provided. The proposed changes shall be shown by printing new schedules, or shall be plainly indicated upon the schedules in force at the time, and kept open to public inspection: Provided, That the commission may, in its discretion, and for good cause shown, allow changes upon less time than the notice herein specified, or may modify the requirements of this section in respect to publishing, posting and filing of tariffs, either by particular instructions or by general order.

Whenever there shall be filed with the commission any schedule stating a change in the rates or charges, or joint rates or charges, or stating a new individual or joint rate or charge or joint classification or any new individual or joint regulation or practice affecting any rate or charge, the commission may either upon complaint or upon its own initiative without complaint enter upon a hearing concerning the propriety of such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice; and, if the commission so orders, it may proceed without answer or other form of pleading by the interested parties, but upon reasonable notice, and, pending such hearing and the decisions thereon, the commission, upon filing with such schedule and delivering to the public utility affected thereby a statement in writing of its reasons for such suspension, may suspend the operation of such schedule and defer the use of such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice, but not for a longer period than two hundred seventy days beyond the time when such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice would otherwise go into effect; and after full hearing, whether completed before or after the rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice goes into effect, the commission may make such order in reference to such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice as would be proper in a proceeding initiated after the rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice had become effective: ~~and~~ Provided, That in the case of a public utility having two thousand five hundred customers or less and which is not principally owned by any other public utility corporation or public utility holding corporation, the commission may suspend the operation of such schedule and defer the use of such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice, but not for a longer period than one hundred twenty days beyond the time when such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice would otherwise go into effect; and in the case of a public utility having more than two thousand five hundred customers, but not more than five thousand customers, and which is not principally owned by any other public utility corporation or public utility holding corporation, the commission may suspend the operation of such schedule and defer the use of such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice, but not for a longer period than one hundred fifty days beyond the time when such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice would otherwise go into effect; and in the case of a public utility having more than five thousand customers, but not more than seven thousand five hundred customers, and which is not principally owned by any other public utility corporation or public utility holding corporation, the commission may suspend the operation of such schedule and defer the use of such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice, but not for a longer period than one hundred eighty days beyond the time when such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice would otherwise go into effect; and after full hearing, whether completed before or after the rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice goes into effect, the commission may make such order in reference to such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice as would be proper in a proceeding initiated after the rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice had become effective: Provided, however, That, in the case of rates established or proposed that increase by less than twenty-five percent of the gross revenue of the public service district, there shall be no suspension period in the case of rates established by a public service district pursuant to section nine, article thirteen-a, chapter sixteen of this code, and the proposed rates of public service districts shall go into effect upon the date of filing with the commission, subject to refund modification at the conclusion of the commission proceeding. In the case of rates established or proposed that increase by more than twenty-five percent of the gross revenue of the public service district, the district may apply for, and the commission may grant, a waiver of the suspension period and allow rates to be effective upon the date of filing with the commission. The public service district shall provide notice by Class I legal advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation in its service territory of the percentage increase in rates at least fourteen days prior to the effective date of the increased rates. Any refund determined to be determined to be due and owing as a result of any difference between any final rates approved the commission and the rates placed into effect subject to refund shall be refunded by the public service district as a credit against each customer's account for a period of up to six months after entry of the commission's final order. Any remaining balance which is not fully credited by credit within six months after entry of the commission's final order shall be directly refunded to the customer by check: Provided further, That if any such hearing and decision thereon is not concluded within the periods of suspension, as above stated, such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice shall go into effect at the end of such period not subject to refund: And provided further, That if any such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice goes into effect because of the failure of the commission to reach a decision, the same shall not preclude the commission from rendering a decision with respect thereto which would disapprove, reduce or modify any such proposed rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice, in whole or in part, but any such disapproval, reduction or modification shall not be deemed to require a refund to the customers of such utility as to any rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice so disapproved, reduced or modified. The fact of any rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice going into effect by reason of the commission's failure to act thereon shall not affect the commission's power and authority to subsequently act with respect to any such application or change in any rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice. Any rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice which shall be approved, disapproved, modified or changed, in whole or in part, by decision of the commission shall remain in effect as so approved, disapproved, modified or changed during the period or pendency of any subsequent hearing thereon or appeal therefrom. Orders of the commission affecting rates, charges, classifications, regulations or practices which have gone into effect automatically at the end of the suspension period are prospective in effect only.

At any hearing involving a rate sought to be increased or involving the change of any rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice, the burden of proof to show the justness and reasonableness of the increased rate or proposed increased rate, or the proposed change of rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice shall be upon the public utility making application for such change. The commission shall, whenever practicable and within budgetary constraints, conduct one or more public hearings within the area served by the public utility making application for such increase or change, for the purpose of obtaining comments and evidence on the matter from local ratepayers.

Each public utility subject to the provisions of this section shall be required to establish, in a written report which shall be incorporated into each general rate case application, that it has thoroughly investigated and considered the emerging and state-of-the-art concepts in the utility management, rate design and conservation as reported by the commission under subsection (c), section one, article one of this chapter, as alternatives to, or in mitigation of, any rate increase. The utility report shall contain as to each concept considered the reasons for adoption or rejection of each. When in any case pending before the commission all evidence shall have been taken and the hearing completed, the commission shall render a decision in such case. The failure of the commission to render a decision with respect to any such proposed change in any such rate, charge, classification, regulation or practice within the various time periods specified in this section after the application therefor shall constitute neglect of duty on the part of the commission and each member thereof.

Where more than twenty members of the public are affected by a proposed change in rates, it shall be a sufficient notice to the public within the meaning of this section if such notice is published as a Class II legal advertisement in compliance with the provisions of article three, chapter fifty-nine of this code, and the publication area for such publication shall be the community where the majority of the resident members of the public affected by such change reside or, in case of nonresidents, have their principal place of business within this state.

The commission may order rates into effect subject to refund, plus interest in the discretion of the commission, in cases in which the commission determines that a temporary or interim rate increase is necessary for the utility to avoid financial distress, or in which the costs upon which these rates are based are subject to modification by the commission or another regulatory commission and to refund to the public utility. In such case the commission may require such public utility to enter into a bond in an amount deemed by the commission to be reasonable and conditioned upon the refund to the persons or parties entitled thereto of the amount of the excess if such rates so put into effect are subsequently determined to be higher than those finally fixed for such utility.

No utility may make application for a general rate increase while another general rate application is pending before the commission and not finally acted upon, except pursuant to the provisions of the next preceding paragraph of this section. The provisions of this paragraph shall not be construed so as to prohibit any such rate application from being made while a previous application which has been finally acted upon by the commission is pending before or upon appeal to the West Virginia supreme court of appeals.

§24-2-4b. Procedures for changing rates of electric and natural gas cooperatives, local exchange services of telephone cooperatives and municipally operated public utilities.

(a) The rates and charges of electric cooperatives, natural gas cooperatives and municipally operated public utilities, except for municipally operated commercial solid waste facilities as defined in section two, article fifteen, chapter twenty-two of this code, and the rates and charges for local exchange services provided by telephone cooperatives are not subject to the rate approval provisions of section four or four-a of this article, but are subject to the limited rate provisions of this section.

(b) All rates and charges set by electric cooperatives, natural gas cooperatives and municipally operated public utilities and all rates and charges for local exchange services set by telephone cooperatives shall be just, reasonable, applied without unjust discrimination or preference and based primarily on the costs of providing these services. The rates and charges shall be adopted by the electric, natural gas or telephone cooperative's governing board and in the case of the municipally operated public utility by municipal ordinance to be effective not sooner than forty-five days after adoption: Provided, That notice of intent to effect a rate change shall be specified on the monthly billing statement of the customers of the utility for the month next preceding the month in which the rate change is to become effective or the utility shall give its customers, and in the case of a cooperative, its customers, members and stockholders, other reasonable notices as will allow filing of timely objections to the rate change or full participation in municipal rate legislation. The rates and charges or ordinance shall be filed with the commission, together with any information showing the basis of the rates and charges and other information as the commission considers necessary. Any change in the rates and charges with updated information shall be filed with the commission. If a petition, as set out in subdivision (1), (2) or (3), subsection (c) of this section is received and the electric cooperative, natural gas cooperative or telephone cooperative or municipality has failed to file with the commission the rates and charges with information showing the basis of rates and charges and other information as the commission considers necessary, the suspension period limitation of one hundred twenty days and the one hundred-day period limitation for issuance of an order by a hearing examiner, as contained in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, is tolled until the necessary information is filed. The electric cooperative, natural gas cooperative, telephone cooperative or municipality shall set the date when any new rate or charge is to go into effect.

(c) The commission shall review and approve or modify the rates upon the filing of a petition within thirty days of the adoption of the ordinance or resolution changing the rates or charges by:

(1) Any customer aggrieved by the changed rates or charges who presents to the commission a petition signed by not less than twenty-five percent of the customers served by the municipally operated public utility or twenty-five percent of the membership of the electric, natural gas or telephone cooperative residing within the state;

(2) Any customer who is served by a municipally operated public utility and who resides outside the corporate limits and who is affected by the change in the rates or charges and who presents to the commission a petition alleging discrimination between customers within and without the municipal boundaries. The petition shall be accompanied by evidence of discrimination; or

(3) Any customer or group of customers who are affected by the change in rates who reside within the municipal boundaries and who present a petition to the commission alleging discrimination between customer or group of customers and other customers of the municipal utility. The petition shall be accompanied by evidence of discrimination.

(d) (1) The filing of a petition with the commission signed by not less than twenty-five percent of the customers served by the municipally operated public utility or twenty-five percent of the membership of the electric, natural gas or telephone cooperative residing within the state under subdivision (1), subsection (c) of this section shall suspend the adoption of the rate change contained in the ordinance or resolution for a period of one hundred twenty days from the date the rates or charges would otherwise go into effect or until an order is issued as provided herein.

(2) Upon sufficient showing of discrimination by customers outside the municipal boundaries or a customer or a group of customers within the municipal boundaries under a petition filed under subdivision (2) or (3), subsection (c) of this section, the commission shall suspend the adoption of the rate change contained in the ordinance for a period of one hundred twenty days from the date the rates or charges would otherwise go into effect or until an order is issued as provided herein. A municipal rate ordinance enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section and municipal charter or state code that establishes or proposes a rate increase that results in an increase of less than twenty-five percent of the gross revenue of the utility shall be presumed valid and rates shall be allowed to go into effect, subject to refund, upon the date stated in that ordinance. In the case of rates established or proposed that increase by more than twenty-five percent of the gross revenue of the municipally operated public utility, the utility may apply for, and the commission may grant, a waiver of the suspension period and allow rates to be effective upon enactment.

(e) The commission shall forthwith appoint a hearing examiner from its staff to review the grievances raised by the petitioners. The hearing examiner shall conduct a public hearing and shall, within one hundred days from the date the rates or charges would otherwise go into effect, unless otherwise tolled as provided in subsection (b) of this section, issue an order approving, disapproving or modifying, in whole or in part, the rates or charges imposed by the electric, natural gas or telephone cooperative or by the municipally operated public utility pursuant to this section.

(f) Upon receipt of a petition for review of the rates under the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, the commission may exercise the power granted to it under the provisions of section three of this article, consistent with the applicable rate provisions of section twenty, article ten, chapter eight of this code, section four, article nineteen, chapter eight of this code, and section sixteen, article thirteen, chapter sixteen of this code. The commission may determine the method by which the rates are reviewed and may grant and conduct a de novo hearing on the matter if the customer, electric, natural gas or telephone cooperative or municipality requests a hearing.

(g) A municipal utility shall be required to refund revenues collected from rates enacted that are disapproved or modified upon subsequent order of the commission entered in a proceeding under this section. Any refund determined to be due and owing as a result of any difference between the municipal rates placed into effect subject to refund and any final rates approved the commission shall be refunded by the municipal utility as a credit against each customer's account for a period of up to six months after entry of the commission's final order. Any remaining balance which is not fully refunded by credit within six months after entry of the commission's final order shall be directly refunded to the individual customer by check.

~~(g)~~ (h) The commission may, upon petition by a municipality or electric, natural gas or telephone cooperative, allow an interim or emergency rate to take effect, subject to refund or future modification, if it is determined that the interim or emergency rate is necessary to protect the municipality from financial hardship attributable to the purchase of the utility commodity sold, or the commission determines that a temporary or interim rate increase is necessary for the utility to avoid financial distress. In such cases, the commission ~~may~~ shall waive the 45-day waiting period provided for in subsection (b) of this section and the one hundred twenty-day suspension period provided for in subsection (d) of this section.

~~(h)~~ (i) Notwithstanding any other provision, the commission has no authority or responsibility with regard to the regulation of rates, income, services or contracts by municipally operated public utilities for services which are transmitted and sold outside of the State of West Virginia.

§5B-2E-7. Amount of credit allowed for tourism development project; approved projects.

(a) Approved companies are allowed a credit against the West Virginia consumers sales and service tax imposed by article fifteen, chapter eleven of this code and collected by the approved company on sales generated by or arising from the operations of the tourism development project: Provided, That if the consumers sales and service tax collected by the approved company is not solely attributable to sales resulting from the operation of the new tourism development project, the credit shall only be applied against that portion of the consumers sales and service tax collected in excess of the base tax revenue amount. The amount of this credit is determined and applied as provided in this article.

(b) The maximum amount of credit allowable in this article is equal to twenty-five percent of the approved company's approved costs as provided in the agreement: Provided, That, if the tourism development project site is located within the permit area or an adjacent area of a surface mining operation, as these terms are defined in section three, article three, chapter twenty-two of this code, from which all coal has been or will be extracted prior to the commencement of the tourism development project, or the tourism development project site is located on or adjacent to recreational property owned or leased by the state or federal government and when the project is located on property owned or leased by the state or federal government, the project has received prior approval from the appropriate state or federal agency, the maximum amount of credit allowable is equal to thirty-five percent of the approved company's approved costs as provided in the agreement.

(c) The amount of credit allowable must be taken over a ten-year period, at the rate of one tenth of the amount thereof per taxable year, beginning with the taxable year in which the project is opened to the public, unless the approved company elects to delay the beginning of the ten-year period until the next succeeding taxable year. This election shall be made in the first consumers sales and service tax return filed by the approved company following the date the project is opened to the public. Once made, the election cannot be revoked.

(d) The amount determined under subsection (b) of this section is allowed as a credit against the consumers sales and service tax collected by the approved company on sales from the operation of the tourism development project. The amount determined under said subsection may be used as a credit against taxes required to be remitted on the approved company's monthly consumers sales and service tax returns that are filed pursuant to section sixteen, article fifteen, chapter eleven of this code. The approved company shall claim the credit by reducing the amount of consumers sales and service tax required to be remitted with its monthly consumers sales and service tax returns by the amount of its aggregate annual credit allowance until such time as the full current year annual credit allowance has been claimed. Once the total credit claimed for the tax year equals the approved company's aggregate annual credit allowance no further reductions to its monthly consumers sales and service tax returns will be permitted.

(e) If any credit remains after application of subsection (d) of this section, the amount of credit is carried forward to each ensuing tax year until used or until the expiration of the third taxable year subsequent to the end of the initial ten-year credit application period. If any unused credit remains after the thirteenth year, that amount is forfeited. No carryback to a prior taxable year is allowed for the amount of any unused portion of any annual credit allowance.

§5B-2E-7a. Amount of credit allowed for tourism development expansion project; approved projects.

(a) Approved companies are allowed a credit against the West Virginia consumers sales and service tax imposed by article fifteen, chapter eleven of this code and collected by the approved company on sales generated by or arising from the operations of the tourism development expansion project: Provided, That the tourism development expansion project tax credit allowed under this section is separate and distinct from any credit allowed for a tourism development project in accordance with the provisions of section seven of this article: Provided, however, That if the consumers sales and service tax collected by the approved company is not solely attributable to sales resulting from the operation of the tourism development expansion project, the credit shall only be applied against that portion of the consumers sales and service tax collected in excess of the base tax revenue amount. The amount of this credit is determined and applied as provided in this article.

(b) The maximum amount of credit allowable in this article is equal to twenty-five percent of the approved company's approved costs as provided in the agreement: Provided, That, if the tourism development expansion project site is located within the permit area or an adjacent area of a surface mining operation, as these terms are defined in section three, article three, chapter twenty-two of this code, from which all coal has been or will be extracted prior to the commencement of the tourism development project, or the tourism development project site is located on or adjacent to recreational property owned or leased by the state or federal government and when the project is located on property owned or leased by the state or federal government, the project has received prior approval from the appropriate state or federal agency, the maximum amount of credit allowable is equal to thirty-five percent of the approved company's approved costs as provided in the agreement.

(c) The amount of credit allowable must be taken over a ten-year period, at the rate of one tenth of the amount thereof per taxable year, beginning with the taxable year in which the project is opened to the public, unless the approved company elects to delay the beginning of the ten-year period until the next succeeding taxable year. This election shall be made in the first consumers sales and service tax return filed by the approved company following the date the project is opened to the public. Once made, the election cannot be revoked.

(d) The amount determined under subsection (b) of this section is allowed as a credit against the consumers sales and service tax collected by the approved company on sales from the operation of the tourism development expansion project. The amount determined under said subsection may be used as a credit against taxes required to be remitted on the approved company's monthly consumers sales and service tax returns that are filed pursuant to section sixteen, article fifteen, chapter eleven of this code. The approved company shall claim the credit by reducing the amount of consumers sales and service tax required to be remitted with its monthly consumers sales and service tax returns by the amount of its aggregate annual credit allowance until such time as the full current year annual credit allowance has been claimed. Once the total credit claimed for the tax year equals the approved company's aggregate annual credit allowance no further reductions to its monthly consumers sales and service tax returns will be permitted.

(e) If any credit remains after application of subsection (d) of this section, the amount of credit is carried forward to each ensuing tax year until used or until the expiration of the third taxable year subsequent to the end of the initial ten-year credit application period. If any unused credit remains after the thirteenth year, that amount is forfeited. No carryback to a prior taxable year is allowed for the amount of any unused portion of any annual credit allowance.

~~(f) The total amount of tourism development expansion project tax credits for all approved companies pursuant to this section may not exceed one million five hundred thousand dollars each calendar year.~~

In addition, a person is a "new employee" only if the person's duties are on a regular, full-time and permanent basis:

(A) "Full-time employment" means employment for at least eighty hours per month at a wage not less than the amount specified in subdivision (1), subsection (d) of this section; and

(B) "Permanent employment" does not include employment that is temporary or seasonal and therefore the wages, salaries and other compensation paid to the temporary or seasonal employees will not be considered for purposes of this section even if the compensation paid to the temporary or seasonal employee equals or exceeds the amount specified in paragraph (A) of this subdivision.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, no taxpayer or group of taxpayers may gain entitlement to more than $37.5 million total aggregate tax credit under this section and no taxpayer, or group of taxpayers, in the aggregate may apply more than $2.5 million of annual credit in any tax year under this section, either in the form of a refund or directly against a tax liability or in any combination thereof. This limitation applies to initial tax credit attributable to qualified investment in a qualified professional services destination facility, and to qualified investment in a follow-up project expansion, so that credit attributable additively and in the aggregate to both may not be applied to exceed $2.5 million annual credit in any tax year.

(1) Application of credit. – The amount of credit allowable under this subsection shall be taken over a ten-year period, at the rate of one tenth of the amount thereof per taxable year, beginning with the taxable year in which the eligible company places the qualified professional services destination facility, or part thereof, in service or use in this state, unless the eligible company elected to delay the beginning of the ten-year period until the next succeeding taxable year. This election shall be made in the annual income tax return filed under chapter eleven of this code for the taxable year in which the qualified professional services destination facility is first placed into service or use by the taxpayer. Once made, the election may not be revoked. The annual credit allowance is taken in the manner prescribed in subdivision (3) of this subsection (c): Provided, That if any credit remains after the initial ten year credit application

(ii) Electing small business corporations, limited liability companies, partnerships and other unincorporated organizations shall allocate the credit allowed by this article among their members in the same manner as profits and losses are allocated for the taxable year.

No person, entity, company, or eligible company authorized or entitled to any tax credit allowed under this section or any member of the unitary group or any member of the controlled group of which the taxpayer is a member, may gain entitlement to any other economic development tax credit or economic development tax incentive which relates to the investment or activity upon which the credit authorized under this section is based.

(G) (i) In order to effectuate the purposes of this subdivision (3), the Tax Commissioner may propose for promulgation rules, including emergency rules, in accordance with article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

(ii) The Tax Commissioner may apply any amount of the tax credit otherwise available to a Taxpayer under this article, to pay any delinquent West Virginia state tax liability of the taxpayer, and interest and penalties as applicable.

(v) The West Virginia Development Office shall not issue more than one certification for any follow-up project expansion; and

(a) On or before July 1, 2016, each existing public water utility which draws and treats water from a surface water supply source or a surface water influenced groundwater supply source shall submit to the commissioner an updated or completed source water protection plan for each of its public water system plants with such intakes to protect its public water supplies from contamination. Every effort shall be made to inform and engage the public, local governments, local emergency planners, local health departments and affected residents at all levels of the development of the protection plan.

(b) The completed or updated plan for each affected plant, at a minimum, shall include the following:

(1) A contingency plan that documents each public water utility's planned response to contamination of its public surface water supply source or its public surface water influenced groundwater supply source;

(2) An examination and analysis of the public water system's ability to isolate or divert contaminated waters from its surface water intake or groundwater supply, and the amount of raw water storage capacity for the public water system's plant;

(3) An examination and analysis of the public water system's existing ability to switch to an alternative water source or intake in the event of contamination of its primary water source;

(4) An analysis and examination of the public water system's existing ability to close its water intake in the event the system is advised that its primary water source has become contaminated due to a spill or release into a stream, and the duration of time it can keep that water intake closed without creating a public health emergency;

(5) The following operational information for each plant receiving water supplies from a surface water source:

(A) The average number of hours the plant operates each day, and the maximum and minimum number of hours of operation in one day at that plant during the past year; and

(B) The average quantities of water treated and produced by the plant per day, and the maximum and minimum quantities of water treated and produced at that plant in one day during the past year;

(6) An analysis and examination of the public water system's existing available storage capacity on its system, how its available storage capacity compares to the public water system's normal daily usage and whether the public water system's existing available storage capacity can be effectively utilized to minimize the threat of contamination to its system;

(7) The calculated level of unaccounted for water experienced by the public water system for each surface water intake, determined by comparing the measured quantities of water which are actually received and used by customers served by that water plant to the total quantities of water treated at the water plant over the past year. If the calculated ratio of those two figures is less than eighty-five percent, the public water system is to describe all of the measures it is actively taking to reduce the level of water loss experienced on its system;

(8) A list of the potential sources of significant contamination contained within the zone of critical concern as provided by the Department of Environmental Protection, the Bureau for Public Health and the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management. The exact location of the contaminants within the zone of critical concern is not subject to public disclosure in response to a Freedom of Information Act request under article one, chapter twenty-nine-b of this code. However, the location, characteristics and approximate quantities of potential sources of significant contamination within the zone of critical concern shall be made known to one or more designees of the public water utility, and shall be maintained in a confidential manner by the public water utility. In the event of a chemical spill, release or related emergency, information pertaining to any spill or release of contaminant shall be immediately disseminated to any emergency responders responding to the site of a spill or release, and the general public shall be promptly notified in the event of a chemical spill, release or related emergency.

(9) If the public water utility's water supply plant is served by a single-source intake to a surface water source of supply or a surface water influenced source of supply, the submitted plan shall also include an examination and analysis of the technical and economic feasibility of each of the following options to provide continued safe and reliable public water service in the event its primary source of supply is detrimentally affected by contamination, release, spill event or other reason:

(A) Constructing or establishing a secondary or backup intake which would draw water supplies from a substantially different location or water source;

(B) Constructing additional raw water storage capacity and/or treated water storage capacity, to provide at least two days of system storage, based on the plant's maximum level of production experienced within the past year;

(C) Creating or constructing interconnections between the public water system with other plants on the public water utility system or another public water system, to allow the public water utility to receive its water from a different source of supply during a period its primary water supply becomes unavailable or unreliable due to contamination, release, spill event or other circumstance;

(D) Any other alternative which is available to the public water utility to secure safe and reliable alternative supplies during a period its primary source of supply is unavailable or negatively impacted for an extended period; and

(E) If one or more alternatives set forth in paragraphs (A) through (D) of this subdivision is determined to be technologically or economically feasible, the public water utility shall submit an analysis of the comparative costs, risks and benefits of implementing each of the described alternatives;

(10) A management plan that identifies specific activities that will be pursued by the public water utility, in cooperation and in concert with the Bureau for Public Health, local health departments, local emergency responders, local emergency planning committee, and other state, county or local agencies and organizations to protect its source water supply from contamination, including, but not limited to, notification to and coordination with state and local government agencies whenever the use of its water supply is inadvisable or impaired, to conduct periodic surveys of the system, the adoption of best management practices, the purchase of property or development rights, conducting public education or the adoption of other management techniques recommended by the commissioner or included in the source water protection plan;

(11) A communications plan that documents the manner in which the public water utility, working in concert with state and local emergency response agencies, shall notify the local health agencies and the public of the initial spill or contamination event and provide updated information related to any contamination or impairment of the source water supply or the system's drinking water supply, with an initial notification to the public to occur in any event no later than thirty minutes after the public water system becomes aware of the spill, release or potential contamination of the public water system;

(12) A complete and comprehensive list of the potential sources of significant contamination contained within the zone of critical concern, based upon information which is directly provided or can otherwise be requested and obtained from the Department of Environmental Protection, the Bureau for Public Health, the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management and other resources; and

(13) An examination of the technical and economic feasibility of implementing an early warning monitoring system.

(c) Any public water utility's public water system with a primary surface water source of supply or a surface water influenced groundwater source of supply that comes into existence on or after the effective date of this article shall submit prior to the commencement of its operations a source water protection plan satisfying the requirements of subsection (b) of this section.

(d) The commissioner shall review a plan submitted pursuant to this section and provide a copy to the Secretary of the Department of Environmental Protection. Thereafter, within one hundred eighty days of receiving a plan for approval, the commissioner may approve, reject or modify the plan as may be necessary and reasonable to satisfy the purposes of this article. The commissioner shall consult with the local public health officer and conduct at least one public hearing when reviewing the plan. Failure by a public water system to comply with a plan approved pursuant to this section is a violation of this article.

(e) The commissioner may request a public water utility to conduct one or more studies to determine the actual risk and consequences related to any potential source of significant contamination identified by the plan, or as otherwise made known to the commissioner.

(f) Any public water utility required to file a complete or updated plan in accordance with the provisions of this section shall submit an updated source water protection plan at least every three years or when there is a substantial change in the potential sources of significant contamination within the identified zone of critical concern.

(g) Any public water utility required to file a complete or updated plan in accordance with the provisions of this section shall review any source water protection plan it may currently have on file with the bureau and update it to ensure it conforms with the requirements of subsection (b) of this section on or before July 1, 2016.

(h) The commissioner's authority in reviewing and monitoring compliance with a source water protection plan may be transferred by the bureau to a nationally accredited local board of public health.

§16-1-9d. Wellhead and Source Water Protection Grant Program.

(a) The commissioner shall continue the Wellhead and Source Water Protection Grant Program.

(b) The fund heretofore created to provide funds for the Wellhead and Source Water Protection Grant Program is continued in the state treasury and shall be known as the Wellhead and Source Water Protection Grant Fund. The fund shall be administered by the commissioner and shall consist of all moneys made available for the program from any source, including but not limited to all fees, civil penalties and assessed costs, all gifts, grants, bequests or transfers from any source, any moneys that may be appropriated and designated for the program by the Legislature and all interest or other return earned from investment of the fund. Expenditures from the fund shall be for the purposes set forth in this article to provide water source protection pursuant to the program and are not authorized from collections but are to be made only in accordance with appropriation by the Legislature and in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twelve of this code and upon the fulfillment of the provisions set forth in article two, chapter eleven-b of this code: Provided, That for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2014 and 2015, expenditures are authorized from collections rather than pursuant to an explicit appropriation by the Legislature. Any balance, including accrued interest and other returns, remaining in the fund at the end of each fiscal year shall not revert to the general revenue fund but shall remain in the fund and be expended as provided by this section.

(c) In prospectively awarding any grants under the Wellhead and Source Water Protection Grant Program, the commissioner shall prioritize those public water systems where there is the highest probability of contamination of the water source based on the source water assessment report or the source water protection plans which were previously performed. Priority shall also be extended to publicly owned public water systems over privately owned public water systems.

(d) The commissioner, or his or her designee, shall apply for and diligently pursue all available federal funds to help offset the cost of completing source water protection plans by the deadlines established in section nine-c of this article.

(e) The commissioner may receive any gift, federal grant, other grant, donation or bequest and receive income and other funds or appropriations to contribute to the Wellhead and Source Water Protection Plan Grant Program.

§16-1-9e. Long-term medical study.

The Bureau for Public Health shall endeavor to engage the Centers for Disease Control and other federal agencies for the purpose of creating, organizing and implementing a medical study to assess any long-term health effects resulting from the chemical spill that occurred on January 9, 2014, and which exposed the public to chemicals, including 4-methylcyclohexane.

The commissioner shall conduct such study pursuant to the authority granted to the commissioner pursuant to article one, section six, chapter sixteen of this code: Provided, That, in the event the commissioner determines that, in order to adequately perform such study, additional authority is required, the commissioner shall provide a report of such additional authority requested to the Governor and the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

The commissioner shall cause to be collected and preserved information from health providers who treated patients presenting with symptoms diagnosed as having been caused or exacerbated as a result of exposure related to the January 9, 2014, chemical spill. The commissioner shall analyze such data and other information deemed relevant by the commissioner and provide a report of the commissioner's findings regarding potential long-term health effects of the January 9, 2014, chemical spill to the Joint Committee on Health by January 1, 2015, including the results of its efforts to engage federal cooperation and assistance for a long-term comprehensive study on the costs of conducting such study on behalf of the state.

§22-26-3. Waters claimed by state; water resources protection survey; registration requirements; agency cooperation; information gathering.

(a) The waters of the State of West Virginia are hereby claimed as valuable public natural resources held by the state for the use and benefit of its citizens. The state shall manage ~~the quantity of and~~ protect its waters effectively for present and future use and enjoyment and for the protection of the environment. Therefore, it is necessary for the state to determine the nature and extent of its water resources, the quantity of water being withdrawn or otherwise used and the nature of the withdrawals or other uses: Provided, That no provisions of this article may be construed to amend or limit any other rights and remedies created by statute or common law in existence on the date of the enactment of this article.

(b) The secretary shall conduct an ongoing water resources survey of consumptive and nonconsumptive surface water and groundwater withdrawals by large-quantity users in this state. The secretary shall determine the form and format of the information submitted, including the use of electronic submissions. The secretary shall establish and maintain a statewide registration program to monitor large-quantity users of water resources. ~~of this state beginning in 2006.~~

(c) Large-quantity users, except those who purchase water from a public or private water utility or other service that is reporting its total withdrawal, shall register with the department of ~~Environmental Protection~~ and provide all requested survey information regarding withdrawals of the water resources. Multiple withdrawals from state water resources that are made or controlled by a single person and used at one facility or location shall be considered a single withdrawal of water. Water withdrawals for self-supplied farm use and private households will be estimated. Water utilities regulated by the Public Service Commission pursuant to article two, chapter twenty-four of this code are exempted from providing information on interbasin transfers to the extent those transfers are necessary to provide water utility services within the state.

(d) Except as provided in subsection (f) of this section, large-quantity users who withdraw water from a West Virginia water resource shall comply with the survey and registration requirements of this article. Registration shall be maintained annually by every large-quantity user ~~by certifying~~, on forms and in a manner prescribed by the secretary. ~~that the amount withdrawn in the previous calendar year varies by no more than ten percent from the users' baseline average or by certifying the change in usage.~~

(e) The secretary shall maintain a listing of all large-quantity users and each ~~such~~ user's baseline average water withdrawal.

(f) The secretary shall make a good faith effort to obtain survey and registration information from persons who are withdrawing water from in-state water resources, but who are located outside the state borders.

Homeland Security and Emergency Management, Marshall University, West Virginia University and regional, county and municipal planning authorities may enter into interagency agreements with the secretary and shall cooperate by: (i) Providing information relating to the water resources of the state; (ii) providing any necessary assistance to the secretary in effectuating the purposes of this article; and (iii) assisting in the development of a state water resources management plan. The secretary shall determine the form and format of the information submitted by these agencies.

(h) Persons required to participate in the survey and registration shall provide any reasonably available information on stream flow conditions that impact withdrawal rates.

(j) The secretary shall, to the extent reliable water withdrawal data is reasonably available from sources other than persons required to provide data and participate in the survey and registration, utilize that data to fulfill the requirements of this section. If the data is not reasonably available to the secretary, persons required to participate in the survey and registration are required to provide the data. Altering locations of intakes and discharge points that result in an impact to the withdrawal of the water resources ~~by an amount of ten percent or more from the consecutive baseline average~~ shall also be reported.

(k) The secretary shall report annually to the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources on the survey results. The secretary shall also make a progress report ~~every three years~~ annually on the ~~development~~ implementation of the State Water Resources Management Plan and any significant changes that may have occurred since the ~~survey report~~ State Water Resources Management Plan was submitted in ~~two thousand six~~ 2013.

(l) In addition to any requirements for completion of the survey established by the secretary, the survey must accurately reflect both actual and maximum potential water withdrawal. (n) The secretary may propose rules pursuant to article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code as necessary to implement the survey registration or plan requirements of this article.

(o) The secretary is authorized to enter into cooperative agreements with local, state and federal agencies and private policy or research groups to obtain federal matching funds, conduct research and analyze survey and registration data and other agreements as may be necessary to carry out his or her duties under this article.

(p) The department, the Division of Natural Resources, the Division of Highways and the Conservation Agency (cooperating state agencies) shall continue providing matching funds for the United States Geological Survey's (USGS) stream-gauging network to the maximum extent practicable. Should a cooperating state agency become unable to maintain its contribution level, it should notify the USGS and the commission of its inability to continue funding for the subsequent federal fiscal year by July 1 in order to allow for the possible identification of alternative funding resources.

§22-26-5. Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources.

(a) The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Delegates shall each designate five members of their respective houses, at least one of whom shall be a member of the minority party, to serve on a joint legislative oversight commission charged with immediate and ongoing oversight of the water resources survey, registration and development of a state water resources management plan. §22-26-6. Mandatory survey and registration compliance.

(a) The water resources survey and subsequent registry will provide critical information for protection of the state's water resources and, thus, mandatory compliance with the survey and registry is necessary.

(b) All large-quantity users who withdraw water from a West Virginia water resource shall complete the survey and register ~~such~~ use with the department of ~~Environmental Protection~~. Any person who fails to complete the survey or register, provides false or misleading information on the survey or registration, or fails to provide other information as required by this article may be subject to a civil administrative penalty not to exceed $5,000 to be collected by the secretary consistent with the secretary's authority pursuant to this chapter. Every thirty days after the initial imposition of the civil administrative penalty, another penalty may be assessed if the information is not provided. The secretary shall provide written notice of failure to comply with this section thirty days prior to assessing the first administrative penalty.

§22-26-7. Secretary authorized to log wells; collect data.

(a) In order to obtain important information about the state's surface and groundwater, the secretary is authorized to collect scientific data on surface and groundwater and to enter into agreements with local and state agencies, the federal government and private entities to obtain this information.

(1) (b) Any person who installs a community water system, noncommunity nontransient water system, transient water system, commercial well, industrial or test well shall notify the secretary of his or her intent to drill a water well no less than ten days prior to commencement of drilling. The ten-day notice is the responsibility of the owner, but may be given by the drilling contractor.

(2) (c) The secretary has the authority to gather data, including driller and geologist logs, run electric and other remote-sensing logs and devices and perform physical characteristics tests on nonresidential and multifamily water wells.

(3) (d) The drilling contractor shall submit to the secretary a copy of the well completion forms submitted to the ~~Division of Health~~ Bureau for Public Health for a community water system, noncommunity nontransient water system, transient water system, commercial well, industrial or test well. The drilling contractor shall also provide the well GPS location and depth to groundwater on the well report submitted to the secretary.

(4) (e) Any person who fails to notify the secretary prior to drilling a well or impedes collection of information by the secretary under this section is in violation of the Water Resources Protection and Management Act and is subject to the civil administrative penalty authorized by section six of this article.

(5) (f) Any well contracted for construction by the secretary for groundwater or geological testing must be constructed at a minimum to well design standards as promulgated by the ~~Division of Health Bureau for Public Health~~. Any wells contracted for construction by the secretary for groundwater or geological testing that would at a later date be converted to a public use water well must be constructed to comport to state public water design standards.

§22-26-8. State Water Resources Management Plan; powers and duty of secretary.

(a) The secretary of the ~~Department of Environmental Protection~~ shall oversee the development of a State Water Resources Management Plan to be completed no later than November 30, 2013. The plan shall be reviewed and revised as needed after its initial adoption. The plan shall be developed with the cooperation and involvement of local and state agencies with regulatory, research or other functions relating to water resources including, but not limited to, those agencies and institutions of higher education set forth in section three of this article and a representative of large quantity users. The State Water Resources Management Plan shall be developed utilizing the information obtained pursuant to said section and any other relevant information available to the secretary.

Persons identified as large-quantity users prior to the effective date of this subsection shall report actual monthly water withdrawals, or monthly water withdrawals by a method approved by the secretary, for the previous calendar year by March 31 of each succeeding year. Persons identified as large-quantity users on or after the effective date of this subsection shall submit their initial annual report no later than March 31, 2016, and subsequent annual reports by March 31 of each year thereafter.

ARTICLE 30. THE ABOVEGROUND STORAGE TANK ACT.

§22-30-1. Short title.

This article may be known and cited as the Aboveground Storage Tank Act.

§22-30-2. Legislative findings.

(a) The West Virginia Legislature finds the public policy of the State of West Virginia is to protect and conserve the water resources for the state and its citizens. The state's water resources are vital natural resources that are essential to maintain, preserve and promote human health, quality of life and economic vitality of the state.

(b) The West Virginia Legislature further finds the public policy of the state is for clean, uncontaminated water to be made available for its citizens who are dependent on clean water as a basic need for survival, and who rely on the assurances from public water systems and the government that the water is safe to consume.

(c) The West Virginia Legislature further finds it in the public policy of the state that clean, uncontaminated water be available to its businesses and industries that rely on water for their economic survival, and the well-being of their employees. These include hospitals and the medical industry, schools and educational institutions, the food and hospitality industries, the tourism industry, manufacturing, coal, natural gas and other industries. Businesses and industries searching for places to locate or relocate consider the quality of life for their employees as well as the quality of the raw materials such as clean water.

(d) The Legislature further finds that large quantities of fluids are stored in aboveground storage tanks within the state and that emergency situations involving these fluids can and will arise that may present a hazard to human health, safety, the water resources, the environment and the economy of the state. The Legislature further recognizes that some of these fluids have been stored in aboveground storage tanks in a regulated manner insufficient to protect human health, safety, water resources, the environment and the economy of the state.

§22-30-3. Definitions.

For purposes of this article:

(1) “Aboveground storage tank” or “tank” means a device made to contain an accumulation of more than one thousand three hundred twenty gallons of fluids that are liquids at standard temperature and pressure, which is constructed primarily of noncarbon materials, including wood, concrete, steel, plastic or fiberglass reinforced plastic, which provide structural support, more than ninety percent capacity of which is above the surface of the ground, but does not include any process vessel. The term includes stationary devices which are permanently affixed, and mobile devices which remain in one location on a continuous basis for sixty or more days, and includes all ancillary aboveground pipes and dispensing systems up to the first point of isolation and all ancillary underground pipes and dispensing systems connected to the aboveground containers to the first point of isolation. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code to the contrary, shipping containers, including railroad freight cars, subject to federal regulation under the Federal Railroad Safety Act, 49 U.S.C. §§20101-2015, as amended, including, but not limited to, federal regulations promulgated thereunder at 49 CFR 172, 173 or 174, or subject to other federal law governing the transportation of hazardous materials are not subject to any provision of this article or of article thirty-one of this chapter. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code to the contrary, barges or boats subject to federal regulation under the United States Coast Guard, United States Department of Homeland Security, including but not limited to federal regulations promulgated at 33 CFR 1, et seq., or subject to other federal law governing the transportation of hazardous materials are not subject to any provision of this article or of article thirty-one of this chapter.

(2) “Department” means the West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection.

(3) “Nonoperational storage tank” means an empty aboveground storage tank in which fluids will not be deposited or from which fluids will not be dispensed on or after the effective date of this article.

(4) “Operator” means any person in control of, or having responsibility for, the daily operation of an aboveground storage tank.

(5) “Owner” means a person who holds title to, controls or owns an interest in an aboveground storage tank, including owners of tanks immediately preceding the discontinuation of a tank’s use. “Owner” does not mean a person who holds an interest in a tank for financial security, unless the holder has taken possession of and operated the tank.

(6) “Person”, “persons” or “people” means any individual, trust, firm, owner, operator, corporation or other legal entity, including the United States government, an interstate commission or other body, the state or any agency, board, bureau, office, department or political subdivision of the state, but does not include the Department of Environmental Protection.

(7) “Process vessel” means tanks, containers or other vessels utilized in a facility in the manufacturing process through which there is a steady, variable, recurring or intermittent flow of materials. This does not include tanks used for storage of materials prior to their introduction into the production process or for the storage of finished products or by-products of the production process.

(8) “Public groundwater supply source” means a primary source of water supply for a public water system which is directly drawn from a well, underground stream, underground reservoir, underground mine or other primary source of water supplies which is found underneath the surface of the state.

(9) “Public surface water supply source” means a primary source of water supply for a public water system which is directly drawn from rivers, streams, lakes, ponds, impoundments or other primary sources of water supplies which are found on the surface of the state.

(10) “Public surface water influenced groundwater supply source” means a source of water supply from a public water system which is directly drawn from an underground well, underground river or stream, underground reservoir or underground mine, and the quantity or quality of the water in that underground supply source is heavily influenced, directly or indirectly, by the quantity and quality of surface water in the immediate area.

(11) “Public water system” means:

(A) Any water supply or system which regularly supplies or offers to supply water for human consumption through pipes or other constructed conveyances, if serving at least an average of twenty-five individuals per day for at least sixty days per year, or which has at least fifteen service connections, and shall include:

(i) Any collection, treatment, storage and distribution facilities under the control of the owner or operator of the system and used primarily in connection with the system; and

(ii) Any collection or pretreatment storage facilities not under such control which are used primarily in connection with the system.

(B) A public water system does not include a system which meets all of the following conditions:

(i) Consists only of distribution and storage facilities and does not have any collection and treatment facilities;

(ii) Obtains all of its water from, but is not owned or operated by, a public water system which otherwise meets the definition;

(iii) Does not sell water to any person; and

(iv) Is not a carrier conveying passengers in interstate commerce.

(12) “Release” means any spilling, leaking, emitting, discharging, escaping, leaching or disposing of fluids from an aboveground storage tank into groundwater, surface water or subsurface soils. The term shall also include spilling, leaking, emitting, discharging, escaping, leaching or disposing of fluids from an aboveground storage tank into a containment structure or facility that poses an immediate threat of contamination of the soils, subsurface soils, surface water or groundwater: Provided, That the overflow or spillage of up to twenty gallons of fluid during the loading or unloading of liquids shall not be required to be reported if the overflow or spillage is wholly contained within a containment structure or facility, it is promptly cleaned up, and no portion of the overflow or spillage escapes onto the ground or into adjacent surface water.

(13) “Secondary containment” means a safeguard applied to one or more tanks that prevents the discharge into the waters of the state of the entire capacity of the largest single tank and sufficient freeboard to contain precipitation. In order to qualify as secondary containment, the barrier and containment field must be sufficiently impervious to contain fluids in the event of a release, and may include double-walled tanks, dikes, containment curbs, pits or drainage trench enclosures that safely confine the release from a tank in a facility catchment basin or holding pond.

(14) “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Department of Environmental Protection, or his or her designee.

(15) “Source water protection area” for a public groundwater supply source is the area within an aquifer that supplies water to a public water supply well within a five-year time-of-travel, and is determined by the mathematical calculation of the locations from which a drop of water placed at the edge of the protection area would theoretically take five years to reach the well.

(16) “Zone of critical concern” for a public surface water supply is a corridor along streams within a watershed that warrants more detailed scrutiny due to its proximity to the surface water intake and the intake’s susceptibility to potential contaminants within that corridor. The zone of critical concern is determined using a mathematical model that accounts for stream flows, gradient and area topography. The length of the zone of critical concern is based on a five-hour time of travel of water in the streams to the water intake, plus an additional one-fourth mile below the water intake. The width of the zone of critical concern is one thousand feet measured horizontally from each bank of the principal stream and five hundred feet measured horizontally from each bank of the tributaries draining into the principal stream.

§22-30-4. Inventory and registration of existing aboveground storage tanks.

(a) To assure protection of the water resources of the state, the secretary shall compile an inventory of all aboveground storage tanks in existence this state, regardless of whether it is an operational or nonoperational storage tank on the effective date of this article. The secretary shall prescribe an inventory and registration form for this purpose within thirty days of the effective date of the enactment of this article.

(b) At a minimum the inventory form shall identify the ownership of the tank, tank location, date of installation if known, type of construction, capacity and age of the tank, the type and volume of fluid stored therein, and the identity of and distance to the nearest groundwater public water supply intake and/or nearest surface water downstream public water supply intake.

(c) If the inventoried tank is regulated under any existing state or federal regulatory program, the owner of the tank shall be required to provide the identifying number of any license, registration or permit issued for the tank, and identify the regulatory standards and requirements the tank is required to meet.

(d) Any aboveground storage tank placed into service on or after the effective date of this section, but prior to the establishment of a permit program, shall complete and submit an inventory form with the secretary.

(e) Upon receipt of an inventory form, the secretary shall determine whether the storage tank is required to meet the minimum design, construction, inspection, secondary containment, leak reporting and performance standards equivalent to or greater than the standards and requirements established under an existing license or permit issued for the individual storage tank, storage tank farm or site on which the storage tank is located.

(f) The secretary may charge a reasonable fee to cover the cost of maintaining and overseeing the inventory and registration program. The fee may be set by emergency and legislative rules proposed for promulgation in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code: Provided, That for persons owning a commercial establishment which utilizes an aboveground storage tank for public sale of gasoline, diesel fuel, off road/heating oil or kerosene, if the tank has an adequate secondary containment system, or the tank is double walled, and the owner is submitting a tier II report to the local Emergency Medical Services 911 Center and to local first responders, and permitting of the establishment is as a retail facility and is not being regulated as a storage facility (tank farm), that tank shall only be subject to a one-time registration fee.

(g) On and after October 1, 2014, it shall be unlawful for any owner or operator to operate or use an aboveground storage tank subject to this article which has not been properly registered or for which any applicable registration fee has not been paid.

§22-30-5. Aboveground Storage Tank Regulatory Program; promulgation of appropriate aboveground tank standards; permitting procedures and waiver requirements; rulemaking requirements.

(a) The secretary shall promulgate for review and consideration by the West Virginia Legislature as legislative rules during the 2015 Regular Session of the West Virginia Legislature, on all matters related to this article.

(b) To assure further protection of the water resources of the state, the secretary shall develop a regulatory program for new and existing aboveground storage tanks incorporating nationally recognized tank standards such as those standards developed by the American Petroleum Institute (API), the Steel Tank Institute (STI) or comparable authorities, and taking into account the size, location and contents of the tanks. At a minimum, the program shall include the following:

(1) A requirement to submit a verified application for a permit containing information as may be prescribed by the secretary;

(2) Performance standards for design, construction, installation, maintenance, corrosion detection and maintenance, release detection and prevention and secondary containment to ensure the structural integrity of the storage tank and the secondary containment;

(3) Requirements for maintaining a leak detection system, inventory control systems together with tank testing or a comparable system or method designed to identify releases from aboveground storage tanks in a manner consistent with the protection of human health, safety, water resources and the environment;

(4) Requirements for maintaining records of any monitoring or leak detection system, corrosion prevention, inventory control system or tank testing system;

(5) Requirements for early detection of releases and immediate reporting of releases;

(6) Requirements for developing a corrective action plan to expeditiously respond to any releases;

(7) Requirements for the closure of aboveground storage tanks and remediation to prevent future releases of fluids or materials to the state's water resources;

(8) Requirements for certification of installation, removal, retrofit, corrosion and other testing and inspection of aboveground storage tanks, leak detection systems and secondary containment by a qualified registered professional engineer regulated and licensed by the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, or by an individual certified to perform tank inspections by the American Petroleum Institute, or by a person holding certification under another program approved by the secretary;

(9) Requirements for life-cycle management of aboveground storage tanks that include mitigation and corrosion prevention plans that include, but are not limited to:

(A) A life-cycle maintenance schedule for the use of protective coatings and or other repair, rehabilitation, and maintenance methods used for the preservation of aboveground storage tanks;

(B) A process for ensuring that corrosion prevention and mitigation is carried out according to corrosion prevention industry standards adopted by the secretary for aboveground storage tanks that includes the use of industry trained and certified:

(i) Protective coatings personnel to carry out surface preparation operations and coating application on any type of substrate and or surface, but especially concrete and steel;

(ii) Cathodic protection experts for all aspects of corrosion prevention projects requiring knowledge of the design, installation, monitoring or maintenance of a cathodic protection system; and

(iii) Inspectors to ensure best practices and standards are adhered to on a corrosion prevention and mitigation project;

(C) A plan to prevent environmental degradation that could occur as a result of carrying out corrosion prevention and mitigation including, but not limited to, the careful handling and containment of hazardous materials, not including the contaminant within, removed from the interior and or exterior of an aboveground storage tank; and

(D) Use of industry experts for consultation and direct to determine whether to approve a corrosion prevention and mitigation plan, or any part therein, the secretary shall consult, and interact directly with, corrosion industry experts specializing in the training and certification of personnel to carry out corrosion prevention and mitigation methods.

(10) The assessment of permit application and registration fees as determined by the secretary;

(11) Permit issuance only after the application and any other supporting documents have been submitted, reviewed and approved by the secretary, and that permits may be issued with certain conditions or contingencies;

(12) A requirement that any aboveground storage tank maintenance work shall commence within six months from the date the permit was issued and must be completed within one year of commencement. If the work has not started or is not completed during the stated time periods, the permit shall expire and a new permit shall be required unless a written extension is granted by the secretary. An extension may be granted only if the applicant can demonstrate that the delay was not deliberate and that the delay will not present harm to human health, safety, water resources or the environment;

(13) A procedure for the administrative resolution of violations including the assessment of administrative civil penalties;

(14) A procedure for any person adversely affected by a decision or order of the secretary relating to the aboveground storage tank program to appeal to the Environmental Quality Board, pursuant to the provisions of article one, chapter twenty-two-b of this code;

(15) In coordination and cooperation with the Bureau for Public Health and the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management, create a process and procedure for identifying any aboveground storage tanks which are located within a defined zone of critical concern for a public water system's surface water intake or within a defined source water protection area for a public water system's groundwater intake, and determining whether additional permit requirements and inspections should be imposed on that tank or facility by requiring the issuance of any new permit pursuant to this article, or by amending any existing permit which may pertain to that tank or facility, under this chapter, or by any other article of this chapter;

(16) Requirements for maintaining written or electronic records that log at least the following information for each aboveground storage tank: Tank numbers, additives, verifiable content levels, deliveries, amounts and quantities, dispensing, repairs and maintenance; and including the requirement that such logs be signed by the owner or a designated responsible supervisor, and be available for inspection upon request of the secretary; and

(17) Compliance with a nationally recognized tank standard as solely determined by the department, shall be deemed compliance with the requirements that are developed in accordance with subsection (9) of this section.

§22-30-6. Annual inspection and certification.

(a) Every owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank regulated herein shall have an annual inspection of each tank performed by a qualified registered professional engineer or a qualified person working under the direct supervision of a registered professional engineer, regulated and licensed by the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, or by an individual certified to perform tank inspections by the American Petroleum Institute, or by a person holding certification under another program approved by the secretary. Every owner or operator shall submit, on a form prescribed by the secretary, a certification from the engineer that each tank, associated equipment, leak detection system and secondary containment structure meets the minimum standards established by this article or by the secretary by rule.

(b) The certification form shall be submitted to the secretary on or before January 1, 2015, and each year thereafter.

§22-30-7. Financial responsibility.

The secretary shall promulgate rules requiring owners and operators to provide evidence of adequate financial resources to undertake reasonable corrective action for releases of fluid from aboveground storage tanks. The means of demonstrating adequate financial responsibility may include, but not be limited to, providing evidence of current insurance, guarantee, surety bond, letter of credit, proof of assets, trust fund or qualification as a self insurer.

§22-30-8. Corrective action.

(a) Prior to the effective date of the emergency and legislative rules promulgated pursuant to the authority granted under this article, the secretary is authorized to:

(1) Require the owner or operator to develop a preliminary corrective action plan taking into consideration the types of fluids and types of tanks on the premises;

(2) Require the owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank to undertake prompt corrective action to protect human health, safety, water resources or the environment from contamination caused by a release; or

(3) Undertake immediate corrective action with respect to any release or threatened release of fluid from an aboveground storage tank when, in the judgment of the secretary, the action is necessary to protect human health, safety, water resources or the environment from contamination caused by a release.

(b) The corrective action undertaken or required by this section shall be what may be necessary to protect human health, water resources and the environment from contamination caused by a release, including the ordered cessation or closure of a source of contamination and the ordered remediation of a contaminated site. The secretary shall use funds in the Protect Our Water Fund established pursuant to this article for payment of costs incurred for corrective action taken by the secretary in accordance with this article. In undertaking corrective actions under this section and in issuing orders requiring owners or operators to undertake the actions, the secretary shall give priority to releases or threatened releases of fluid from aboveground storage tanks that pose the greatest threat to human health, water resources or the environment.

(c) Following the effective date of rules promulgated pursuant to this article, all actions or orders of the secretary shall be in conformity with those rules. Following the effective date of the rules, the secretary may undertake corrective action with respect to any release or threatened release of fluid from an aboveground storage tank only if, in the judgment of the secretary, the action is necessary to protect human health, safety, water resources or the environment from contamination, and one or more of the following situations exists:

(1) If no person can be found within thirty days, or a shorter period as may be necessary to protect human health, safety, water resources and the environment, who is an owner or operator of the aboveground storage tank at issue and who is capable of carrying out the corrective action properly;

(2) A situation exists that requires immediate action by the secretary under this section to protect human health, safety, water resources or the environment;

(3) The cost of corrective action to be expended on an aboveground storage tank exceeds the amount of resources that the owner or operator can reasonably be expected to possess based on the information required to be submitted pursuant to this article and, considering the fluid being stored in the aboveground storage tank in question, expenditures from the Protect Our Water Fund are necessary to assure an effective corrective action; or

(4) The owner or operator of the tank has failed or refused to comply with an order of the secretary under this article or of the Environmental Quality Board under article one, chapter twenty-two-b of this code to comply with appropriate corrective action measures ordered by the secretary or the Environmental Quality Board.

(d) The secretary may draw upon the Protect Our Water Fund in order to take action under subdivision (1) or (2), subsection (c) of this section if the secretary has made diligent good-faith efforts to determine the identity of the owner or operator responsible for the release or threatened release and:

(1) The secretary is unable to determine the identity of the owner or operator in a manner consistent with the need to take timely corrective action; or

(2) The owner or operator determined by the secretary to be responsible for the release or threatened release has been informed in writing of the secretary's determination and has been requested by the secretary to take appropriate corrective action but is unable or unwilling to take proper action in a timely manner.

(e) The written notice to the owner or operator must inform the owner or operator that if it is subsequently found liable for releases pursuant to this section, the owner or operator will be required to reimburse the Protect Our Water Fund for the costs of the investigation, information gathering and corrective action taken by the secretary.

(f) If the secretary determines that immediate response to an imminent threat to human health, safety, water resources or the environment is necessary to avoid substantial injury or damage thereto, corrective action may be taken pursuant to this section without the prior written notice required by subdivision (2), subsection (d) of this section. In that case, the secretary must give subsequent written notice to the owner or operator within fifteen days after the action is taken describing the circumstances that required the action to be taken and setting forth the matters identified in subsection (e) of this section.

§22-30-9. Spill prevention response plan.

(a) Within one hundred eighty days of the effective date of this article, each owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank shall submit a spill prevention response plan for each aboveground storage tank. Owners and operators of aboveground storage tanks shall file updated plans required to be submitted by this section no less frequently than every three years. Each plan shall be site-specific, consistent with the requirements of this article, and developed in consultation with Bureau for Public Health, county and municipal emergency management agencies. The spill prevention response plan shall at a minimum:

(1) Identify and describe the activity that occurs at the site and identify applicable hazard and process information, including a specific listing and inventory of all types of fluids stored, amount of fluids stored, and wastes generated that are stored in aboveground storage tanks at the facility. The plan shall include the material safety data sheets (MSDS) required by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration for all fluids in use or stored in aboveground storage tanks at the facility. The material safety data sheets must include the health hazard number identified by the National Fire Protection Association. The plan shall also include drawings of the aboveground storage tank facility, including the locations of all drainage pipes and water outlets;

(2) Identify all facility-related positions with duties and responsibilities for developing, implementing and maintaining the facility's plan. The plan shall describe in detail the chain of command at the aboveground storage tank facility and list all facility emergency coordinators and all known emergency response contractors;

(3) Provide a preventive maintenance program that includes monitoring and inspection procedures, including identification of stress points, employee training programs and security systems. The plan shall include a description of potential sources and areas where spills and leaks may occur by drawings and plot plans and shall identify specific spill prevention measures for those identified areas;

(4) Detail the specific response that the aboveground storage tank facility and contract emergency personnel shall take upon the occurrence of any release of fluids from an aboveground storage tank at the facility;

(5) Provide contact information obtained by the owner or operator of the aboveground storage tanks from the county and municipal emergency management agencies and the nearest downstream public water supply intake, and designate the person or persons to be notified in the event of a release from an aboveground storage tank; and

(6) Provide the secretary with all other requested information.

(b) Each owner of an aboveground storage tank with an approved spill prevention response plan shall submit to the secretary a revised plan or addendum to the plan in accordance with the requirements of this article if any of the following occur:

(1) There is a substantial modification in design, construction, operation or maintenance of any aboveground storage tank or associated equipment, or there are other circumstances that increase the potential for fires, explosions or releases of fluids;

(2) There is a substantial modification in emergency equipment at the facility;

(3) There are substantial changes in emergency response protocols at the aboveground storage tank facility;

(4) The plan fails in an emergency;

(5) The removal or the addition of any aboveground storage tank;
or

(6) Other circumstances occur about which the secretary requests an update.

(c) The secretary shall approve the spill prevention response plan or reject the plan and require modifications as may be necessary and reasonable to assure the protection of the source water of a public water system from a release of fluids from an aboveground storage tank. If rejected, the owner of the aboveground storage tank shall submit a revised plan to the secretary for approval within thirty days of receipt of notification of the secretary's decision. Failure to comply with a plan approved by the secretary pursuant to this section is a violation of this article.

(d) Nothing contained in this section relieves the owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank from his or her obligation to report any release immediately to the department's emergency notification telephone number.

§22-30-10. Notice to local governments and water companies.

The owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank facility shall provide as required by the secretary public notice to any public water system where the facility is located within the system's identified groundwater supply's source water protection area or within the system's surface water supply's zone of critical protection, to the local municipality, if any, and to the county in which the facility is located. The notice shall provide a detailed inventory of the type and quantity of fluid stored in aboveground storage tanks at the facility and the material safety data sheets (MSDS) associated with the fluid in storage. The owner or operator shall also provide as required by the secretary a copy of the spill prevention response plan and any updates thereto, which have been approved by the secretary pursuant to this act, to the applicable public water systems and county and municipal emergency management agencies.

§22-30-11. Required signage.

Every aboveground storage tank shall display the signage, if any, required by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration; the tank registration number, when issued by the secretary; and the emergency contact number for the owner or operator of the tank and the emergency contact number for the Department of Environmental Protection's Spill Reporting Hotline. For the purposes of this section, the requirements for prominently posted signage shall be specified in the rules proposed for promulgation by the secretary pursuant to this article and article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

§22-30-12. Aboveground Storage Tank Administrative Fund.

(a) The secretary shall collect annual registration fees from owners or operators of each aboveground storage tank in an amount to be promulgated in the legislative rules authorized by this article to be used by the secretary to defray the costs of administering this article: Provided, That for facilities covered by an individual National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit, a permit issued under article six or six-a of this chapter or a Spill Prevention Control and Countermeasure plan, no separate registration fee or permit fee shall be assessed pursuant to this article. All registration and permit fees and the net proceeds of all fines, penalties and forfeitures collected under this article, including accrued interest, shall be paid into a special revenue account, hereby created within the State Treasury, designated the Aboveground Storage Tank Administrative Fund.

(b) At the end of each fiscal year, any unexpended balance, including accrued interest, on deposit in the Aboveground Storage Tank Administrative Fund shall not be transferred to the General Revenue Fund, but shall remain in the Aboveground Storage Tank Administrative Fund for expenditure pursuant to this section.

§22-30-13. Protect Our Water Fund.

(a) Each owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank located in this state shall pay an annual fee to establish a fund to assure adequate response to leaking aboveground storage tanks: Provided, That for facilities covered by an individual National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit, a permit issued under article six or six-a of this chapter or a Spill Prevention Control and Countermeasure plan, no separate registration fee or permit fee shall be assessed pursuant to this article. The amount of fees assessed pursuant to this section shall be set forth by rule. The fees must be sufficient to cover the regulatory oversight and services to be provided by designated agencies, including necessary technical and administrative personnel. The proceeds of the assessment shall be paid into a special revenue account, hereby created within the State Treasury, designated the Protect Our Water Fund. The fund shall be administered by the secretary. Expenditures from the fund shall be solely to respond to leaking aboveground storage tanks, and are not authorized from collections but are to be made only in accordance with appropriation by the Legislature and in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twelve of this code and upon the fulfillment of the provisions set forth in article two, chapter eleven-b of this code: Provided, That for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2014 and 2015, expenditures are authorized from collections rather than pursuant to an explicit appropriation by the Legislature. At the end of each fiscal year, any unexpended balance, including accrued interest, on deposit in the Protect Our Water Fund shall not be transferred to the General Revenue Fund, but shall remain in the Protect Our Water Fund for expenditure pursuant to this section.

(b) Each owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank subject to a fee assessment under subsection (a) of this section shall pay a fee based on the number of aboveground storage tanks he or she owns or operates, as applicable. The secretary shall vary the fees annually to a level necessary to produce a sufficient fund at the beginning of each calendar year.

(c) At the end of each fiscal year, any unexpended balance, including accrued interest, on deposit in the Protect Our Water Fund shall not be transferred to the General Revenue Fund, but shall remain in the Protect Our Water Fund.

(d) The secretary may enter into agreements and contracts and to expend the moneys in the fund for the following purposes:

(1) Responding to aboveground storage tank releases when, based on readily available information, the secretary determines that immediate action is necessary to prevent or mitigate significant risk of harm to human health, safety, water resources or the environment from contamination caused by a release of fluid from aboveground storage tanks in situations for which no federal funds are immediately available for the response, cleanup or containment: Provided, That the secretary shall apply for and diligently pursue all available federal funds at the earliest possible time;

(2) Reimbursing any nonresponsible parties for reasonable cleanup costs incurred with the authorization of the secretary in responding to an aboveground storage tank release; or

(3) Reimbursing any nonresponsible parties for reasonable costs incurred with the authorization of the secretary responding to perceived, potential or threatened releases from aboveground storage tanks.

(e) The secretary, through a cooperative agreement with another state regulatory agency, in this or another state, may use the fund to compensate the cooperating agency for expenses the cooperating agency incurs in carrying out regulatory responsibilities that agency may have pursuant to this article.

§22-30-14. Public access to information.

(a) The public shall have access to all documents and information submitted to the agency, subject to the limitations contained in the state Freedom of Information Act, article one, chapter twenty-nine-b of this code. Records, reports or information obtained from any persons under this article may be disclosed to other officers, employees or authorized representatives of this state or federal agency implementing the provisions of this article or any other applicable law related to releases of fluid from aboveground storage tanks that impact the state's water resources.

(b) A list of the potential sources of significant contamination contained within the zone of critical concern as provided by the Department of Environmental Protection, the Bureau for Public Health and the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management may be disclosed. The exact location of the contaminants within the zone of critical concern is not subject to public disclosure in response to a Freedom of Information Act request under article one, chapter twenty-nine-b of this code. However, the location, characteristics and approximate quantities of potential sources of significant contamination within the zone of critical concern shall be made known to one or more designees of the public water utility, and shall be maintained in a confidential manner by the public water utility. In the event of a chemical spill, release or related emergency, information pertaining to any spill or release of contaminant shall be immediately disseminated to any emergency responders responding to the site of a spill or release, and the general public shall be promptly notified in the event of a chemical spill, release or related emergency.

§22-30-15. Inspections, monitoring and testing.

(a) For the purposes of developing or assisting in the development of any rule, conducting any study, taking any corrective action or enforcing any provision of this article, any owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank shall, upon request of the secretary:

(1) Furnish information relating to the aboveground storage tanks, their associated equipment and contents;

(2) Conduct reasonable monitoring or testing;

(3) Permit the secretary, at all reasonable times, to inspect and copy records relating to aboveground storage tanks; and

(4) Permit the secretary to have access to the aboveground storage tanks for corrective action.

(b) For the purposes of developing or assisting in the development of any rule, conducting any study, taking corrective action or enforcing any provision of this article, the secretary may:

(1) Enter at any time any establishment or other place where an aboveground storage tank is located;

(2) Inspect and obtain samples of any fluid contained in an aboveground storage tank from any person;

(3) Conduct monitoring or testing of the aboveground storage tanks, associated equipment, contents or surrounding soils, surface water or groundwater; and

(4) Take corrective action as specified in this article.

(c) Each inspection shall be commenced and completed with reasonable promptness.

(d) To ensure protection of the water resources of the state and compliance with any provision of this article or rule promulgated thereunder, the secretary shall inspect at least annually any aboveground storage tank facility located within the zone of critical concern of a public water system with a public surface water supply source or a public surface water influenced groundwater supply source.

§22-30-16. Administrative orders; injunctive relief.

(a) When the secretary determines, on the basis of any information, that a person is in violation of any requirement of this article or the rules promulgated thereunder, the secretary may issue an order stating with reasonable specificity the nature of the violation and requiring compliance within a reasonable specified time period, or the secretary may commence a civil action in the circuit court of the county in which the violation occurred or in the circuit court of Kanawha County for appropriate relief, including a temporary or permanent injunction. The secretary may, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, stay any order he or she issues upon application, until the order is reviewed by the Environmental Quality Board.

(b) In addition to the powers and authority granted to the secretary by this chapter to enter into consent agreements, settlements, and otherwise enforce this chapter, the secretary shall propose rules for legislative approval to establish a mechanism for the administrative resolution of violations set forth in this article through consent order or agreement as an alternative to instituting a civil action.

§22-30-17. Civil and criminal penalties.

(a) Any person who fails to comply with an order of the secretary issued under subsection (a), section sixteen of this article within the time specified in the order is liable for a civil penalty of not more than $25,000 for each day of continued noncompliance.

(b) Any owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank who knowingly fails to register or obtain a permit required by this article for an aboveground storage tank or submits false information pursuant to this article is liable for a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 for each aboveground storage tank that is not registered or permitted or for which false information is submitted.

(c) Any owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank who fails to comply with any requirement of this article or any standard promulgated by the secretary pursuant to this article is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 for each day of violation.

(e) Any person convicted of a second or subsequent willful violation of subsection (d) of this section or knowingly and willfully violates any provision of any permit, rule or order issued under or subject to the provisions of this article is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be imprisoned in a correctional facility not less than one nor more than three years, or fined not more than $50,000 for each day of violation, or both fined and imprisoned.

(f) Any person may be prosecuted and convicted under the provisions of this section notwithstanding that none of the administrative remedies provided in this article have been pursued or invoked against said person and notwithstanding that civil action for the imposition and collection of a civil penalty or an application for an injunction under the provisions of this article has not been filed against such person.

(g) Where a person holding a permit is carrying out a program of pollution abatement or remedial action in compliance with the conditions and terms of the permit, the person is not subject to criminal prosecution for pollution recognized and authorized by the permit.

(h) Civil penalties are payable to the secretary. All moneys collected under this section for civil fines collected under this article shall be deposited into a restricted account known as the Protect Our Water Fund. All money deposited into this account shall be used by the secretary solely to respond to leaking aboveground storage tanks.

§22-30-18. Appeal to Environmental Quality Board.

article may appeal to the Environmental Quality Board, pursuant to the provisions of article one, chapter twenty-two-b of this code.

§22-30-19. Duplicative enforcement prohibited.

No enforcement proceeding brought pursuant to this article may be duplicated by an enforcement proceeding subsequently commenced under some other article of this code with respect to the same transaction or event, unless the subsequent proceeding involves the violation of a permit or permitting requirement of other article.

§22-30-20. Reporting and accountability.

(a) Every year, the secretary shall submit a report to the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources and the Joint Committee on Government and Finance which assesses the effectiveness of this article and provides other information as may be requested by the commission to allow it to assess the effectiveness of this article, including, without limitation, the secretary's observations concerning all aspects of compliance with this article and any legislative rules promulgated pursuant hereto, the regulatory process, and any pertinent changes to federal rules or regulations.

(b) The secretary shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements related to the administration of the Aboveground Storage Tank Administrative Fund and shall make a detailed annual report to the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources and the Joint Committee on Government and Finance addressing the administration of the fund.

(c) The secretary shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements related to the administration of the Protect Our Water Fund and shall make a specific annual report to the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources and the Joint Committee on Government and Finance addressing the administration of the fund.

§22-30-21. Interagency cooperation.

(a) In implementation of this article, the secretary shall coordinate with the Department of Health and Human Resources, the West Virginia Public Service Commission, the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management and local health departments to ensure the successful planning and implementation of this act, including consideration of the role of those agencies in providing services to owners and operators of aboveground storage tanks and public water systems.

(b) The secretary shall also coordinate with state and local emergency response agencies to prepare and issue appropriate emergency response plans to facilitate a coordinated emergency response and incident command and communication between the owner or operator of the aboveground storage tank, the state and local emergency response agencies and the affected public water system.

(c) The secretary shall also coordinate with the State Fire Marshal in addressing the periodic inspection of local fire departments to include a requirement for inspectors to examine and identify the status of National Incident Management System fire department personnel training.

§22-30-22. Imminent and substantial danger.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter to the contrary, upon receipt of evidence that an aboveground storage tank may present an imminent and substantial danger to human health, water resources or the environment, the secretary may bring suit on behalf of the State of West Virginia in the Circuit Court of Kanawha County against any owner or operator of an aboveground storage tank who has contributed or who is contributing to imminent and substantial danger to public health, safety, water resources or the environment to order the person to take action as may be necessary to abate the situation and protect human health, safety, water resources and the environment from contamination caused by a release of fluid from an aboveground storage tank.

(b) Upon receipt of information that there is any aboveground storage tank that presents an imminent and substantial danger to human health, safety, water resources or the environment, the secretary shall provide immediate notice to the appropriate state and local government agencies and any affected public water system. In addition, the secretary shall require notice of any danger to be promptly posted at the aboveground storage tank facility containing the aboveground storage tank at issue.

§22-30-23. Promulgation of rules.

The secretary shall promulgate emergency and legislative rules as necessary to implement the provisions of this article in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

(b) The secretary may receive and expend money from the federal government or any other sources to implement this article.

(c) The secretary may revoke any registration, authorization or permit for a violation of this article or the rules promulgated hereunder.

(d) The secretary may issue orders, assess civil penalties, institute enforcement proceedings and prosecute violations of this article as necessary.

(e) The secretary, in accordance with this article, may order corrective action to be undertaken, take corrective action or authorize a third party to take corrective action.

(f) The secretary may recover the costs of taking corrective action, including costs associated with authorizing third parties to perform corrective action. Costs may not include routine inspection and administrative activities not associated with a release.

§22-30-25. Scope of article; waiving additional permitting requirements for certain categories of aboveground storage tanks; establishing a process for granting waivers for additional categories of ground storage tanks, by legislative rule, upon verification that the category of tanks are regulated under comparable or more rigorous protective state or federal standards.

(a) While all aboveground storage tanks shall be required to participate in the inventory and registration process set forth in section four of this article, the following categories of containers and tanks shall not be required to be permitted under section five of this article, either because they do not represent a substantial threat of contamination, or they are currently regulated under standards which meet or exceed the protective standards and requirements set forth in this article:

(1) An aboveground storage tank containing drinking water, filtered surface water, demineralized water, noncontact cooling water or water stored for fire or emergency purposes;

(2) Any natural gas or propane tanks regulated under NFPA 58-30A or NFPA 58-30B;

(3) Septic tanks and home aeration systems;

(4) A pipeline facility, including gathering lines, regulated under the Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act of 1968 or the Hazardous Liquid Pipeline Safety Act of 1979, or an intrastate pipeline facility regulated by the West Virginia Public Service Commission or otherwise regulated under any state law comparable to the provisions of either the Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act of 1968 or the Hazardous Liquid Pipeline Safety Act of 1979;

(5) Equipment or machinery containing substances for operational purposes, including integral hydraulic lift tanks, lubricating oil reservoirs for pumps and motors, electrical equipment and heating and cooling equipment;

(6) A mobile tank, truck or rail car that is located on a site for less than sixty consecutive calendar days;

(7) Liquid traps or associated gathering lines related to oil or gas production and gathering operations;

(8) A surface impoundment, pit, pond or lagoon;

(9) Aboveground storage tanks for which spill prevention, control, and countermeasure plans are required by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) under 40 CFR Part 112 (oil pollution prevention), unless located within a zone of critical protection.

(b) The Department of Environmental Protection may designate, by legislative rule, additional categories of aboveground storage tanks which for which an individual aboveground storage tank permit may be waived, after confirming that the tank is regulated under an existing state or federal regulatory permit or enforceable standard which includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Secondary containment with an impermeable base, which is sufficient to fully contain the contents of the tank or the contents of the largest tank in the group of tanks in the event of a leak from spilling out onto the ground or adjacent surface water;

(2) Spill prevention, leak detection and control and inspection requirements which meet or exceed the standards established by the article or by rules promulgated thereunder;

(3) Regular inspections and routine integrity testing requirements which are equally protective to the requirements established pursuant to this article or any rules promulgated thereunder; and

(4) Emergency response and notification requirements which are at least as prompt and comprehensive as the emergency response and notification requirements established by this article or any rules promulgated thereunder.

(c) In lieu of requiring a separate permit issued under this section, the secretary may adopt rules that would allow the requirements of this article to be incorporated into, and enforced through, the state-only portion of a National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit or a permit under article six or six-a of this chapter.

(d) If the aboveground storage tank or tanks' location is to be regulated pursuant to a general NPDES permit or an individual NPDES permit, the secondary containment, spill prevention, leak detection and control requirements, inspection requirements, reporting requirements and routine integrity testing requirements for that tank or tanks are to be specifically set forth as enforceable permit conditions and requirements.

ARTICLE 31. THE PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY PROTECTION ACT.

§22-31-1. Short title.

This article may be known and cited as the Public Water Supply Protection Act.

§22-31-2. Legislative findings.

(a) The West Virginia Legislature finds that it is in the public policy of the State of West Virginia to protect and conserve the water resources which are relied upon by the state and its citizens. The state's water resources are vital natural resources that are essential to maintain, preserve and promote human health, quality of life and economic vitality of the state.

(b) The West Virginia Legislature further finds that it is the public policy of the state that clean, uncontaminated water be available for its citizens who are dependent on clean water as a basic need for survival, and who rely on the assurances from public water systems and the government that the water is safe to consume.

(c) The West Virginia Legislature further finds that it is the public policy of the state that clean, uncontaminated water be available to its businesses and industries that rely on water for their economic survival, and the well-being of their employees. These include hospitals and the medical industry, schools and educational institutions, the food and hospitality industries, the tourism industry, manufacturing, coal, natural gas and other industries. Businesses and industries searching for places to locate or relocate consider the quality of life for their employees as well as the quality of the raw materials such as clean water.

(d) The Legislature further finds that large quantities of fluids are stored in aboveground storage tanks, below ground storage tanks, in impoundments and other locations which pose a threat of potential contamination to surface waters and groundwaters which are relied upon as primary sources of public water supplies in the state. Emergency situations involving these fluids can and will arise that may present a hazard to human health, safety, the water resources, the environment and the economy of the state.

(e) It is important that the public water systems, the responding emergency providers and regulatory inspectors and personnel require complete and accurate information regarding the volume, identity, characteristics and qualities of each potential source of significant contamination to efficiently and accurately anticipate and respond to any associated threat to the public posed by a leak or spill event.

(f) The Legislature also finds it reasonable and appropriate to impose additional regulatory oversight and reporting requirements for potential contaminants which are in close proximity to a public water intake, due to the sudden and devastating impact that potential contaminants in that zone pose to a public water system's critical source of supply.

§22-31-3. Definitions.

For the purposes of this article:

(1) “Potential source of significant contamination” means a facility or activity that stores, uses or produces compounds with potential for significant contaminating impact if released into the source water of a public water supply.

(2) “Public water system” means:

(A) Any water supply or system which regularly supplies or offers to supply water for human consumption through pipes or other constructed conveyances, if serving at least an average of twenty-five individuals per day for at least sixty days per year, or which has at least fifteen service connections, and shall include:

(i) Any collection, treatment, storage and distribution facilities under the control of the owner or operator of the system and used primarily in connection with the system; and

(ii) Any collection or pretreatment storage facilities not under such control which are used primarily in connection with the system.

(B) A public water system does not include a system which meets all of the following conditions:

(i) Consists only of distribution and storage facilities and does not have any collection and treatment facilities;

(ii) Obtains all of its water from, but is not owned or operated by, a public water system which otherwise meets the definition;

(iii) Does not sell water to any person; and

(iv) Is not a carrier conveying passengers in interstate commerce.

(4) “Public groundwater supply source” means a primary source of water supply for a public water system which is directly drawn from a well, underground stream, underground reservoir, underground mine or other primary source of water supplies which is found underneath the surface of the state.

(5) “Public surface water supply source” means a primary source of water supply for a public water system which is directly drawn from rivers, streams, lakes, ponds, impoundments or other primary sources of water supplies which are found on the surface of the state.

(6) “Public surface water influenced groundwater supply source” means a source of water supply from a public water system which is directly drawn from an underground well, underground river or stream, underground reservoir or underground mine, and the quantity and quality of the water in that underground supply source is heavily influenced, directly or indirectly, by the quantity and quality of surface water in the immediate area.

(7) “Zone of critical concern” for a public surface water supply is a corridor along streams within a watershed that warrants more detailed scrutiny due to its proximity to the surface water intake and the intake’s susceptibility to potential contaminants within that corridor. The zone of critical concern is determined using a mathematical model that accounts for stream flows, gradient and area topography. The length of the zone of critical concern is based on a five-hour time of travel of water in the streams to the water intake, plus an additional one-fourth mile below the water intake. The width of the zone of critical concern is one thousand feet measured horizontally from each bank of the principal stream and five hundred feet measured horizontally from each bank of the tributaries draining into the principal stream.

§22-31-4. Inventory of potential sources of significant contamination in a zone of critical concern; registration; permitting; and notice.

(a) To assure protection of the water resources of the state, the secretary, working in collaboration with the Bureau for Public Health and the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management, shall compile an inventory of all potential sources of significant contamination contained within a public water system's zone of critical concern for all public water systems whose source of supply is obtained from a surface water supply source or a surface water influenced groundwater supply source.

(b) If the secretary shall determine that a designated potential significant source of contamination is not currently permitted and subject to regulation by the secretary under one or more articles of this chapter, and the secretary determines that the public interest in protecting the public drinking waters of the state warrant additional regulation and inspection of the site to protect the public interests, the secretary may require the owner and operator of that facility to register and obtain a permit for its location pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(c) Within sixty days of the date receiving notice from the secretary of the facility's obligation to register pursuant to this article, the owner or operator shall register the location pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(d) The secretary shall prescribe a registration form for this purpose within thirty days of the effective date of the enactment of this article. Any potential significant sources of contamination within a public water system's defined zone of critical concern which are required to register with the Department of Environmental Protection pursuant to this section shall do so within sixty days from the receiving notice of their obligation to register.

(e) Any potential source of significant contamination placed into service on and after the effective date of this section, but prior to the establishment of a permit program, may be required to register by the secretary at any time.

(f) The secretary may charge a reasonable fee to cover the cost of the registration and permitting program. The fee may be set by emergency and legislative rules proposed for promulgation in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code: Provided, That for facilities covered by an individual National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit, a permit issued under article six or six-a of this chapter or a Spill Prevention Control and Countermeasure plan, no separate registration fee or permit fee shall be assessed pursuant to this article.

§22-31-5. Promulgation of rules.

The secretary shall promulgate emergency and legislative rules as necessary to implement the provisions of this article in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

§22-31-6. Powers and duties of secretary.

(a) In addition to the powers and duties prescribed in this chapter or otherwise provided by law, the secretary has the exclusive authority to perform all acts necessary to implement this article.

(b) The secretary is authorized to utilize his or her authority under the West Virginia Water Pollution Control Act to require appropriate permitting and any other conditions or limitations to assure protection of water intakes in zones of critical concern.

(c) The secretary may receive and expend money from the federal government or any other sources to implement this article.

(d) The secretary may revoke any registration, authorization or permit for a violation of this article or the rules promulgated hereunder.

(e) The secretary may issue orders, assess civil penalties, institute enforcement proceedings and prosecute violations of this article as necessary.

(f) The secretary, in accordance with this article, may order corrective action to be undertaken, take corrective action or authorize a third party to take corrective action.

(g) The secretary may recover the costs of taking corrective action, including costs associated with authorizing third parties to perform corrective action. Costs may not include routine inspection and administrative activities not associated with a release.

§22-31-7. Public access to information.

(a) Subject to the exemptions listed in section four, article one, chapter twenty-nine-b of this code, the public shall have access to all documents and information submitted to the agency in accordance with this section pursuant to the state Freedom of Information Act. Records, reports or information obtained from any persons under this article may be disclosed to other officers, employees or authorized representatives of this state or the United States Environmental Protection Agency or of this state if the officers, employees or authorized representatives are implementing the provisions of this article or any other applicable law related to releases of contaminants tanks that impact the state's water resources.

(b) In submitting data under this article, a person required to provide the data may designate the data that he or she believes is entitled to protection under this section and may submit the designated data separately from other data submitted under this article. A designation under this subsection shall be made in writing and in a manner as the secretary may prescribe.

(c) The Department of Environmental Protection shall provide a copy of the compiled list of contaminants in each zone of critical concern to the affected public water system, the Bureau for Public Health, the Department of Environmental Protection and the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management. This will enable those entities to possess a compiled list of the types, quantities, characteristics and locations of all of the known potential contaminants within the zone of critical concern for each public water supply. If any of the submitted information is requested to be kept confidential and good cause is found to grant the request, for reasons of security or other legitimate public interest concern, the protected information shall be redacted from public view and kept confidential, and it shall not be subject to public release in response to a Freedom of Information Act request made under chapter twenty-nine-b of this code.

§22-31-8. Inspections, monitoring and testing.

(a) For the purposes of developing or assisting in the development of any rule, conducting any study, taking any corrective action or enforcing any provision of this article, any owner or operator of designated site of potential contamination within a zone of critical concern shall, upon request of the secretary:

(1) Furnish information relating to the site and potential contaminants on the site, their aboveground and underground storage tanks, their associated equipment and contents;

(2) Conduct reasonable monitoring or testing;

(3) Permit the secretary, at all reasonable times, to inspect and copy records relating to the facilities and equipment used to store or contain the potential contaminants; and

(4) Permit the secretary to have access to the site for corrective action.

(b) For the purposes of developing or assisting in the development of any rule, conducting any study, taking corrective action or enforcing any provision of this article, the secretary may:

(1) Enter at any time any establishment or other place on the site or where the potential contaminant is located;

(2) Inspect and obtain samples of any fluid contained or stored on the site from any person;

(3) Conduct monitoring or testing of the site and any associated aboveground storage tanks, underground storage tanks, associated equipment, contents or surrounding soils, surface, water or groundwater; and

(4) Take corrective action as specified in this article.

(c) Each inspection shall be commenced and completed with reasonable promptness.

(d) To ensure protection of the water resources of the state and compliance with any provision of this article or rule promulgated thereunder, the secretary shall inspect at least annually any designated site of potential contamination which is located within the zone of critical concern for a public water system's surface water intake.

(e) Due to the potential impact of contaminants within a zone of critical concern on public drinking water supplies, whenever there is an apparent spill of a chemical or substance within a zone of critical concern for a public water system, the Director of the Bureau for Public Health, and his or her representatives or designees, shall have the same right to enter, inspect and conduct sampling and monitoring at any site that is extended by this article to the Department of Environmental Protection.

§22-31-9. Prohibition of general NPDES permits within a zone of critical concern for sites with aboveground storage tanks; and authorizing the Division of Environmental Protection to require individual NPDES permit for any other site when deemed appropriate.

Because of the potential public health impact of pollution to downstream public water intakes in a watershed basin designated in an area of critical concern, on and after September 1, 2014, any permittee which presently holds a National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) general permit pursuant to the West Virginia Water Pollution Control Act which has an aboveground storage tank as defined by article thirty of this chapter on a site which is located within any public water system's zone of critical concern must apply for and hold an individual permit under that act. The secretary shall also have the authority to require other holders of a general NPDES permit to obtain an individual NPDES permit, when deemed appropriate to protect the public water supply. Any general NPDES permit held currently under that act shall remain in effect until the individual NPDES permit is either issued or denied.

§22-31-10. Civil and criminal penalties.

(a) Any person who fails to comply with an order of the secretary issued pursuant to this article in the time specified in the order is liable for a civil penalty of not more than $25,000 for each day of continued noncompliance.

(b) Any owner or operator of a site designated as a potential source of significant contamination within a zone of critical concern above a public water intake who knowingly fails to register or obtain a permit for an aboveground storage tank or submits false information pursuant to this article is liable for a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 for each aboveground storage tank that is not registered or permitted or for which false information is submitted.

(c) Any owner or operator of a site designated as a potential source of significant contamination within a zone of critical concern above a public water intake who fails to comply with any requirement of this article or any standard promulgated by the secretary pursuant to this article is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 for each day of violation.

(d) Any person who knowingly and intentionally violates any provision of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be confined in a regional jail for a period of time not exceeding one year, and be fined an amount not to exceed $25,000.

(e) Any person convicted of a second or subsequent willful violation of subsections (b) or (c) of this section or knowingly and willfully violates any provision of any permit, rule or order issued under or subject to the provisions of this article is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be imprisoned in a correctional facility not less than one nor more than three years, or fined not more than $50,000 for each day of violation, or both fined and imprisoned.

(f) Any person may be prosecuted and convicted under the provisions of this section notwithstanding that none of the administrative remedies provided in this article have been pursued or invoked against said person and notwithstanding that civil action for the imposition and collection of a civil penalty or an application for an injunction under the provisions of this article has not been filed against such person.

(g) Where a person holding a permit is carrying out a program of pollution abatement or remedial action in compliance with the conditions and terms of the permit, the person is not subject to criminal prosecution for pollution recognized and authorized by the permit.

A person aggrieved or adversely affected by an order of the secretary made and entered in accordance with the provisions of this article may appeal to the Environmental Quality Board, pursuant to the provisions of article one, chapter twenty-two-b of this code.

§22-31-12. Public Water System Supply Study Commission.

(a) There is hereby established the Public Water System Supply Study Commission which is created for the purpose of studying and reporting back to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance on the following subject matters:

(1) A review and assessment of the effectiveness and the quality of information contained in updated source water protection plans required for certain public water systems by the provisions of section nine-c, article one, chapter sixteen of this code;

(2) A review and assessment of the effectiveness of legislation enacted during the 2014 Regular Session of the West Virginia Legislature, as it pertains to assisting public water systems in identifying and reacting or responding to identified potential sources of significant contamination, and increasing public awareness and public participation in the emergency planning and response process;

(3) The extent of available financing and funding alternatives which are available to existing public water systems to pursue projects which are designed to create alternate sources of supply or increased stability of supply in the event of a spill, release or contamination event which impairs the water system's primary source of supply;

(4) A review and consideration of the recommendations of the U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard and Investigation Board after its investigation of the Bayer CropScience incident of 2008; and

(5) Any recommendations or suggestions the Study Commission may offer to improve the infrastructure of existing public water systems, to provide safe and reliable sources of supplies, and to pursue other measures designed to protect the integrity of public water service.

(b) The study commission shall consist of the following twelve members, who shall be appointed and comprised as follows:

(1) Four members appointed by the Governor, one of whom shall be a professional engineer experienced in the design and construction of public water systems; one of whom shall be a hydrologist or other expert experienced in determining the flow characteristics of rivers and streams; one of whom shall be an environmental toxicologist or other public health expert who is familiar with the impact of contaminants on the human body; and one citizen representative;

(9) One nonvoting member appointed by the Speaker of the House of Delegates.

(c) Reports by the Commission shall be submitted to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance on or before December 15 of each year, beginning December 15, 2014.

All public water utilities that provide water to more than one hundred thousand customers, including public service districts providing water service and municipally owned and operated utilities, subject to the requirements and limitations of this article, shall implement a regular monitoring system as specified to the same technical capabilities for detection as utilized by the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

§24-2G-2. Requirements.

(a) Each public water utility, public service district or municipal water system, as set forth in section one of this article, shall provide testing for contamination of its water supply by the following contaminants:

By striking out everything after the enacting section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE 4. SALARIES, WAGES AND OTHER BENEFITS.

§18A-4-14. Duty-free lunch and daily planning period for certain employees.

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section seven, article two of this chapter, every teacher who is employed for a period of time more than one half the class periods of the regular school day and every service person whose employment is for a period of more than three and one-half hours per day and whose pay is at least the amount indicated in the state minimum pay scale as set forth in section eight-a of this article shall be provided a daily lunch recess of not less than thirty consecutive minutes, and the employee shall not be assigned any responsibilities during this recess. The recess shall be included in the number of hours worked, and no county shall increase the number of hours to be worked by an employee as a result of the employee being granted a recess under the provisions of this section.

(b) Every teacher who is regularly employed for a period of time more than one half the class periods of the regular school day shall be provided at least one planning period within each school instructional day to be used to complete necessary preparations for the instruction of pupils. No teacher may be assigned any responsibilities during this period, and no county shall increase the number of hours to be worked by a teacher as a result of such teacher being granted a planning period subsequent to the adoption of this section (March 13, 1982). The use of the entire period of time allotted for a planning period is determined by the teacher.

This does not prohibit any teacher from participating in school related activities or conducting school related meetings during a planning period at his or her discretion. Administrators may not require a teacher to attend meetings, training or any other work related event during a planning period. A planning period begins once students are physically delivered to another teacher or dismissed from a class.

(1) For grades where the majority of the student instruction is delivered by only one teacher, the planning period shall be no less than forty minutes; and

(2) For grades where students take separate courses during at least four separate periods of instruction, most usually delivered by different teachers for each subject, the planning period shall be the length of the usual class period taught by the teacher, but no less than forty minutes. Principals, and assistant principals, where applicable, shall cooperate in carrying out the provisions of this subsection, including, but not limited to, assuming control of the class period or supervision of students during the time the teacher is engaged in the planning period. Substitute teachers may also be utilized to assist with classroom responsibilities under this subsection: Provided, That any substitute teacher who is employed to teach a minimum of two consecutive days in the same position shall be granted a planning period pursuant to this section.

(c) Nothing in this section prevents any teacher from exchanging his or her lunch recess or a planning period or any service person from exchanging his or her lunch recess for any compensation or benefit mutually agreed upon by the employee and the county superintendent or his or her agent: Provided, That a teacher and the superintendent or his or her agent may not agree to terms which are different from those available to any other teacher granted rights under this section within the individual school or to terms which in any way discriminate among those teachers within the individual school, and a service person granted rights under this section and the superintendent or his or her agent may not agree to terms which are different from those available to any other service personnel within the same classification category granted rights under this section within the individual school or to terms which in any way discriminate among those service personnel within the same classification category within the individual school.

~~(d) The state board shall conduct a study on planning periods. The study shall include, but not be limited to, the appropriate length for planning periods at the various grade levels and for the different types of class schedules. The board shall report its findings and recommendations to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability no later than December 31, 2013;~~

And,

Senators Unger, Kessler (Mr. President), Beach, Carmichael, Cole, Edgell, Facemire, Fitzsimmons, D. Hall, Laird, Miller, Palumbo, Sypolt, Wells, Yost and Tucker offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 98—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance establish a special study commission to review the January, 2011, United States Chemical, Safety and Hazard Investigation Board’s Pesticide Chemical Runaway Reaction Pressure Vessel Explosion Investigation Report on the August 28, 2008, explosion at the Bayer CropScience, LP facility in Institute, West Virginia.

Whereas, On August 28, 2008, there was an explosion at the Bayer CropScience, LP facility in Institute, West Virginia, that killed two persons and injured eight others; and

Whereas, In January, 2011, the United States Chemical, Safety and Hazard Investigation Board issued Report No. 2008-08-I-WV on the explosion; and

Whereas, In its investigative report the United States Chemical, Safety and Hazard Investigation Board cited four key issues: (1) Process Hazards Analysis; (2) Pre-Startup Safety Review; (3) Process Safety Information and Training; and (4) Emergency Planning and Response; and

Whereas, In addition to making its findings and conclusions the investigative report also set forth recommendations to the following governmental units: (1) The Director of the Kanawha-Charleston Health Department; (2) the Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources; (3) the Secretary of the Department of Environmental Protection; (4) the Kanawha-Putnam Emergency Planning Committee; and (5) the West Virginia State Fire Marshal; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to establish a study commission to review the January, 2011, United States Chemical, Safety and Hazard Investigation Board's Pesticide Chemical Runaway Reaction Pressure Vessel Explosion Investigation Report on the August 28, 2008, explosion at the Bayer CropScience, LP facility in Institute, West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance designate the respective Senate and House of Delegates chairs of the Judiciary, Finance and Health committees, the cochairs of the Joint Legislative Oversight Commission on State Water Resources and public health and safety professionals, such as the Director of the Kanawha-Charleston Health Department, the Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources, the Secretary of the Department of Environmental Protection, the Kanawha-Putnam Emergency Planning Committee and the West Virginia State Fire Marshal, to the special study commission; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senators Walters, Barnes, Blair, Boley, Carmichael, Chafin, Cole, Fitzsimmons, D. Hall, M. Hall, Jenkins, McCabe, Nohe, Palumbo, Snyder, Sypolt, Williams, Tucker and Yost offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 99—Requesting the Joint Standing Committee on Education study the ratio of elementary and secondary school students to administrators and compare those ratios to those of the other forty-nine states.

Whereas, Education, especially elementary and secondary education, is singularly important in the preparation of a student's ability to participate and prosper in the modern global economy; and

Whereas, Resources dedicated to sustaining and improving the state's educational system should, as much as possible, directly support and benefit student learning in the classroom; and

Whereas, In order to thoroughly consider and deliberate future education-related legislation, the Legislature requires that sufficient fact-based data be available; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Standing Committee on Education study the ratio of elementary and secondary school students to administrators and compare those ratios to those of the other forty-nine states; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Standing Committee on Education report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senators Walters, Barnes, Blair, Boley, Carmichael, Chafin, Cole, Cookman, Fitzsimmons, M. Hall, Nohe, Sypolt and Tucker offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 100—Requesting the Joint Standing Committee on the Judiciary study the costs and benefits of summary jury trials.

Whereas, The costs of small-claims litigation is an increasingly large burden upon small businesses operating within the State of West Virginia; and

Whereas, Methods of alternative dispute resolution have helped in reducing the burden of litigation on both plaintiffs and defendants in civil matters, and have further unburdened the state's trial and appellate courts from some matters which would otherwise place increased demands upon the civil justice system; and

Whereas, Summary jury trials are increasingly used as a method of alternative dispute resolution in jurisdictions around the country; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on the Judiciary is hereby requested to study the costs and benefits of summary jury trials; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Standing Committee on the Judiciary study the history, practice, costs and benefits of summary jury trials, whether they may serve as a means of alleviating some of the burdens placed on West Virginia's civil justice system, which types of cases should be referred to or excluded from the practice of summary jury trials, whether the decision of a summary jury trial should be binding upon the parties thereto and under what circumstances summary jury trials should be binding on the parties thereto; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Standing Committee on the Judiciary report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Unger offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 101—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study increasing the amount of physical activity required in schools.

Whereas, Childhood obesity is an epidemic in West Virginia and the United States. According to a report from the Trust for America's Health and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, if the obesity rates continue to grow at current rates over the next two decades, the health and economic cost to our state and the nation will be staggering; and

Whereas, West Virginia has some of the highest rates of the highest-cost and highest-incidence health problems related to obesity and physical inactivity: Type 2 diabetes, coronary, heart disease and stroke, hypertension, arthritis and obesity-related cancers; and

Whereas, Researchers estimate that the medical costs of adult obesity in the United States range from $147 billion to nearly $210 billion per year and that Medicare and Medicaid will pay $61.8 billion of those costs. In West Virginia, a recent economic study found that in 2009 the direct medical cost of obesity was $8.9 million; and

Whereas, Childhood obesity is responsible for $14.1 billion in direct medical costs nationally. In West Virginia the estimated direct medical cost to Medicaid for treatment of childhood obesity in 2013 was $198.1 million; and

Whereas, Providing healthy, nutritious meals and snacks in schools will help curb the rise in childhood obesity but that alone is not enough to address the obesity epidemic; and

Whereas, There is a large body of scientific evidence demonstrating that regular physical activity promotes growth and development in children and teens and has multiple benefits for physical, mental and cognitive health; and

Whereas, A study by the Institute of Medicine found that physical activity is related to lower body fat, greater muscular strength, stronger bones and improvements in cardiovascular and metabolic health, as well as improvements in mental health by reducing and preventing conditions such as anxiety, depression and enhancing self-esteem; and

Whereas, West Virginia was ranked the number-two state nationally in adult physical inactivity in a 2013 report by the Trust for America's Health and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation; and

Whereas, Children and teens have low levels of physical activity. For example, former military leaders report that twenty-seven percent of young Americans are too overweight to serve in the military; and

Whereas, According to a 2005 national literature review reported in Pediatric Exercise Science, students in middle and high school engaged in moderate to vigorous physical activity during physical education class for twenty-seven to forty-seven percent of class time; and

Whereas, A study reported in the West Virginia Medical Journal found that elementary school physical education classes provide moderate to vigorous physical activity for less than twenty-seven percent of the recommended class time rather than the recommended fifty percent. West Virginia children are generally not receiving the necessary intensity of activity nor the minimum of sixty minutes per day of moderate to vigorous physical activity; and

Whereas, Research shows that physically active children are more likely to thrive academically and socially. There is evidence that physically fit children have higher scholastic achievement, better classroom behavior and less absenteeism than their unfit counterparts; and

Whereas, Children and teens spend more than half of their waking hours at school which makes school an ideal location to increase physical activity; and

Whereas, Schools have historically been leaders in supporting the well-being of our children and teens by providing health screenings, immunizations and nutrition programs while training them to be productive citizens and lifelong learners. The next step in nurturing and developing healthy productive children and teens is to engage them in regular physical activity. Our schools can and should play a major role in efforts to make our children and teens more active, putting them on a track toward better health and performance in school and throughout life; and

Whereas, The schools cannot accomplish this alone; the necessary improvements in our children's health and well-being will require collaboration between the families, communities and schools; and

Whereas, In 2005, the Legislature enacted the Healthy Lifestyles Act; however, there is no mechanism to assure implementation and many students are not receiving the benefits of the required physical education; and

Whereas, The availability of online resources and peer training greatly improves teacher and principal perception and participation in physical activity programs; and

Whereas, Teachers and principals report that physical activity has been successfully incorporated into classroom teaching in some schools in West Virginia through “Let’s Move! West Virginia” programs such as activity breaks and active learning without the need for special facilities or additional physical education teachers or expanding the school day; and

Whereas, Schools face challenges in providing needed physical education and physical activity to students. Lack of staff and equipment and increased pressure to raise test scores and greater demands to meet content standards and objectives time impeded efforts to provide adequate physical education and activity. Regardless of the challenges, schools must provide physical education and physical activity in order to assure their health and well-being and halt the obesity epidemic afflicting our children and teens; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study increasing the amount of physical activity required in schools; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its

findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration and referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senators Cann, Yost, Prezioso and Unger offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 53—Memorializing the life of James Dominick LaRosa, businessman, philanthropist and distinguished West Virginian.

Whereas, James Dominick LaRosa was born on December 22, 1926, the son of James and Emilia (Cava) LaRosa; and

Whereas, James Dominick LaRosa, upon graduation from Washington Irving High School in Clarksburg in 1944, attended West Virginia University and graduated in 1948 with a degree in Business Administration, after which he went to work with his father at LaRosa Fuel Company; and

Whereas, James Dominick LaRosa assumed the position of President of LaRosa Fuel Company at the age of thirty-five and became committed to the values taught to him by his parents by becoming invested in enhancing and improving quality of life for his family, his community and all of north-central West Virginia; and

Whereas, James Dominick LaRosa was a visionary, using his success in business to benefit everyone around him—from local and regional commercial development and attracting world renowned talent Pete Dye to north-central West Virginia to design the Pete Dye Golf Club, to assisting local civic groups, government agencies and animal rights groups. His passion for philanthropy will be felt by many future generations of West Virginians to come; and

Whereas, James Dominick LaRosa is a shining example to the world of what can be accomplished with perseverance, strong will, a compassionate heart and a genuine love for his state and his fellow West Virginians; and

Whereas, Sadly, James Dominick LaRosa passed away on February 15, 2014, at the age of eighty-seven, bringing an end to a long, productive life of dedicated public service; and

Whereas, Although he is gone, James Dominick LaRosa left his accomplishments and successes in life behind for everyone to remember him by and his spirit will resound throughout the hills of West Virginia forever; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby memorializes the life of James Dominick LaRosa, businessman, philanthropist and distinguished West Virginian; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate acknowledges and is truly grateful for James Dominick LaRosa's dedication and commitment to his community and the State of West Virginia and expresses its sincere condolences to the many family members and friends he left behind, as we mourn the loss of a great West Virginian; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the family of the late James Dominick LaRosa.

At the request of Senator Cann, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and, without objection, returned to the third order of business.

A message from The Clerk of the House of Delegates announced the adoption by that body and requested the concurrence of the Senate in the adoption of LaRosa Memorial Bridge”.

At the request of Senator Unger, and by unanimous consent, the message was taken up for immediate consideration and reference of the resolution to a committee dispensed with.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution, the same was put and prevailed.

Ordered, That The Clerk communicate to the House of Delegates the action of the Senate.

At the request of Senator Unger, unanimous consent being granted, the Senate again proceeded to the sixth order of business.

Senators Walters, Cole, Yost and Unger offered the following resolution:

Furthermore, the provisions of this section apply to all employers that employ certified persons who work in mines, regardless of whether that employer is an operator, contractor, subcontractor or otherwise.

~~(c) The employer or his or her agent shall notify the director at least quarterly, on a form prescribed by the director, of the number of preemployment substance abuse screening tests administered during the prior calendar quarter and the number of positive test results associated with the substance abuse screening tests administered.~~

~~(d) The employer or his or her agent shall notify the director, on a form prescribed by the director, within seven days following completion of an arbitration conducted pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement applicable to the certified person, if any, of discharging a certified person for violation of the employer's substance abuse screening policy and program. (4) Notice shall result in the immediate temporary suspension of all certificates held by the certified person who failed the screening, pending a hearing before the board of appeals pursuant to section two of this article: Provided, That notification pursuant to this subsection shall not result in the immediate temporary suspension of any certificate held by a certified person who is subject to a collective bargaining agreement unless and until the arbitration is concluded and the discharge is upheld, and no certificate held by a certified person who is subject to a collective bargaining agreement shall be suspended or revoked unless the discharge is upheld in arbitration.

(e) (d) Suspension or revocation of a certified person's certificate as a miner or other miner specialty in another jurisdiction by the applicable regulatory or licensing authority for substance abuse-related matters shall result in the director immediately and temporarily suspending the certified person's West Virginia certificate until such time as the certified person's certification is reinstated in the other jurisdiction.

(f) (e) The provisions of this article shall not be construed to preclude an employer from developing or maintaining a drug and alcohol abuse policy, testing program or substance abuse program that exceeds the minimum requirements set forth in this section. The provisions of this article shall also not be construed to require an employer to alter, amend, revise or otherwise change, in any respect, a previously established substance abuse screening policy and program that meets or exceeds the minimum requirements set forth in this section. The provisions of this article shall require an employer to subject its employees who as part of their employment are regularly present at a mine and who are employed in a safety-sensitive position to preemployment and random substance abuse tests: Provided, That each employer shall retain the discretion to establish the parameters of its substance abuse screening policy and program so long as it meets the minimum requirements of this article. For purposes of this section, a "safety-sensitive position" means an employment position where the employee's job responsibilities include duties and activities that involve the personal safety of the employee or others working at a mine.

(c) Nothing in this section prevents any teacher from exchanging his or her lunch recess or a planning period or any service person from exchanging his or her lunch recess for any compensation or benefit mutually agreed upon by the employee and the county superintendent or his or her agent: Provided, That a teacher and the superintendent or his or her agent may not agree to terms which are different from those available to any other teacher granted rights under this section within the individual school or to terms which in any way discriminate among those teachers within the individual school, and a service person granted rights under this section and the superintendent or his or her agent may not agree to terms which are different from those available to any other service personnel within the same classification category granted rights under this section within the individual school or to terms which in any way discriminate among those service personnel within the same classification category within the individual school.

~~(d) The state board shall conduct a study on planning periods. The study shall include, but not be limited to, the appropriate length for planning periods at the various grade levels and for the different types of class schedules. Reclassifying counties.

On motion of Senator Unger, the message on the bill was taken up for immediate consideration.

The following House of Delegates amendments to the bill were reported by the Clerk:

By striking out everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

That §7-7-1 and §7-7-4 of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, be amended and reenacted, all to read as follows:

ARTICLE 7. COMPENSATION OF ELECTED COUNTY OFFICIALS.

§7-7-1. Legislative findings and purpose.

(a) The Legislature finds that it has, since January 1, ~~2003~~ 2007, consistently and annually imposed upon the county commissioners, sheriffs, county and circuit clerks, assessors and prosecuting attorneys in each county ~~board~~, new and additional duties by the enactment of new provisions and amendments to this code. The new and additional duties imposed upon the aforesaid county officials by these enactments are such that they would justify the increases in compensation as provided in section four of this article, without violating the provisions of section thirty-eight, article VI of the Constitution of West Virginia.

(b) The Legislature further finds that there are, from time to time, additional duties imposed upon all county officials through the acts of the Congress of the United States and that such acts constitute new and additional duties for county officials and, as such, justify the increases in compensation as provided by section four of this article, without violating the provisions of section thirty-eight, article VI of the Constitution of West Virginia.

(c) The Legislature further finds that there is a direct correlation between the total assessed property valuations of a county on which the salary levels of the county commissioners, sheriffs, county and circuit clerks, assessors and prosecuting attorneys are based, and the new and additional duties that each of these officials is required to perform as they serve the best interests of their respective counties. Inasmuch as the reappraisal of the property valuations in each county has now been accomplished, the Legislature finds that a change in classification of counties by virtue of increased property valuations will occur on an infrequent basis. However, it is the further finding of the Legislature that when such change in classification of counties does occur, that new and additional programs, economic developments, requirements of public safety and the need for new services provided by county officials all increase, that the same constitute new and additional duties for county officials as their respective counties reach greater heights of economic development, as exemplified by the substantial increases in property valuations and, as such, justify the increases in compensation provided in section four of this article, without violating the provisions of section thirty-eight, article VI of the Constitution of West Virginia.

(d) The Legislature further finds and declares that the amendments enacted to this article are intended to modify the provisions of this article so as to cause the same to be in full compliance with the provisions of the Constitution of West Virginia and to be in full compliance with the decisions of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia.

§7-7-4. Compensation of elected county officials and county commissioners for each class of county; effective date.

(1) The increased salaries to be paid to the county commissioners and the other elected county officials described in this ~~subsection~~ section on and after July 1, ~~2006~~ 2014, are set out in subdivisions (5) and (7) of this subsection. Every county commissioner and elected county official in each county, whose term of office commenced prior to or on or after July 1, ~~2006~~ 2014, shall receive the same annual salary by virtue of legislative findings of extra duties as set forth in section one of this article.

(2) Before the increased salaries, as set out in subdivisions (5) and (7) of this subsection, are paid to the county commissioners and the elected county officials, the following requirements must be met:

(A) The Auditor has certified that the ~~proposed annual county budget for the fiscal year beginning the first days of July 1, 2006; fiscal condition of the county, considering costs, revenues, liabilities and significant trends of the same; maintenance standards; and the commitment to the provision of county services~~ has increased sufficiently improved over the previous fiscal year in years so that there exists an amount sufficient for the payment of the increase in the salaries set out in subdivisions (5) and (7) of this subsection and the related employment taxes: Provided, That the Auditor may not approve the budget provide the certification for the payment of the increase in the salaries where any proposed annual county budget containing anticipated receipts which are unreasonably greater or lesser than that of the previous year. For purposes of this ~~subdivision~~ subsection, the term "receipts" does not include unencumbered fund balance or federal or state grants; Provided, That the Auditor shall not be held liable for relying upon information and data provided by a county commission in assessing the county's fiscal condition or a proposed annual county budget; and

(B) Each county commissioner or other elected official described in this subsection in office on the effective date of the increased salaries provided by this ~~subsection~~ section who desires to receive the increased salary has prior to that date filed in the office of the clerk of the county commission his or her written ~~agreement to accept request for~~ request for the salary increase. The salary for the person who holds the office of county commissioner or other elected official described in this ~~subsection~~ section who fails to file the written ~~agreement request~~ request as required by this paragraph shall be the salary for that office in effect immediately prior to the effective date of the increased salaries provided by this ~~subsection~~ section until the person vacates the office or his or her term of office expires, whichever first occurs.

Any request for a salary increase shall use the following language:

I [name of office holder] the duly elected [name of office] in and for the County of [name of county], West Virginia, do hereby request a salary increase pursuant to W. Va. Code §7-7-4, as amended. This salary increase is effective July 1, 2014.

(3) If the Auditor has failed to certify that there is an insufficient projected increase in revenues to pay the increased amount sufficient for the payment of the increase in the salaries and the related employment taxes pursuant to section, then the salaries of that county's elected officials and commissioners shall remain at the level in effect at the time certification was sought.

(4) In any county having a tribunal in lieu of a county commission, the county commissioners of that county may be paid less than the minimum salary limits of the county commission for that particular class of the county.

Following discussion,

Senator Plymale moved the previous question, which motion prevailed.

Copies of the requests for information from a medical peer review committee may be provided to the subject physician or podiatrist if, in the discretion of the board, the provision of such copies will not jeopardize the board's investigation. In the event that copies are provided, the subject physician or podiatrist is allowed fifteen days to comment on the requested information and such comments must be considered by the board.

The chief executive officer of every hospital shall, within sixty days after the completion of the hospital's formal disciplinary procedure and also within sixty days after the commencement of and again after the conclusion of any resulting legal action, report in writing to the board the name of any member of the medical staff or any other physician or podiatrist practicing in the hospital whose hospital privileges have been revoked, restricted, reduced or terminated for any cause, including resignation, together with all pertinent information relating to such action. The chief executive officer shall also report any other formal disciplinary action taken against any physician or podiatrist by the hospital upon the recommendation of its medical staff relating to professional ethics, medical incompetence, medical professional liability, moral turpitude or drug or alcohol abuse. Temporary suspension for failure to maintain records on a timely basis or failure to attend staff or section meetings need not be reported. Voluntary cessation of hospital privileges for reasons unrelated to professional competence or ethics need not be reported.

Any managed care organization operating in this state which provides a formal peer review process shall report in writing to the board, within sixty days after the completion of any formal peer review process and also within sixty days after the commencement of and again after the conclusion of any resulting legal action, the name of any physician or podiatrist whose credentialing has been revoked or not renewed by the managed care organization. The managed care organization shall also report in writing to the board any other disciplinary action taken against a physician or podiatrist relating to professional ethics, professional liability, moral turpitude or drug or alcohol abuse within sixty days after completion of a formal peer review process which results in the action taken by the managed care organization. For purposes of this subsection, "managed care organization" means a plan that establishes, operates or maintains a network of health care providers who have entered into agreements with and been credentialed by the plan to provide health care services to enrollees or insureds to whom the plan has the ultimate obligation to arrange for the provision of or payment for health care services through organizational arrangements for ongoing quality assurance, utilization review programs or dispute resolutions.

Any professional society in this state comprised primarily of physicians or podiatrists which takes formal disciplinary action against a member relating to professional ethics, professional incompetence, medical professional liability, moral turpitude or drug or alcohol abuse shall report in writing to the board within sixty days of a final decision the name of the member, together with all pertinent information relating to the action.

Every person, partnership, corporation, association, insurance company, professional society or other organization providing professional liability insurance to a physician or podiatrist in this state, including the State Board of Risk and Insurance Management, shall submit to the board the following information within thirty days from any judgment or settlement of a civil or medical professional liability action excepting product liability actions: The name of the insured; the date of any judgment or settlement; whether any appeal has been taken on the judgment and, if so, by which party; the amount of any settlement or judgment against the insured; and other information required by the board.

Within thirty days from the entry of an order by a court in a medical professional liability action or other civil action in which a physician or podiatrist licensed by the board is determined to have rendered health care services below the applicable standard of care, the clerk of the court in which the order was entered shall forward a certified copy of the order to the board.

Within thirty days after a person known to be a physician or podiatrist licensed or otherwise lawfully practicing medicine and surgery or podiatry in this state or applying to be licensed is convicted of a felony under the laws of this state or of any crime under the laws of this state involving alcohol or drugs in any way, including any controlled substance under state or federal law, the clerk of the court of record in which the conviction was entered shall forward to the board a certified true and correct abstract of record of the convicting court. The abstract shall include the name and address of the physician or podiatrist or applicant, the nature of the offense committed and the final judgment and sentence of the court.

Upon a determination of the board that there is probable cause to believe that any person, partnership, corporation, association, insurance company, professional society or other organization has failed or refused to make a report required by this subsection, the board shall provide written notice to the alleged violator stating the nature of the alleged violation and the time and place at which the alleged violator shall appear to show good cause why a civil penalty should not be imposed. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of article five, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code. After reviewing the record of the hearing, if the board determines that a violation of this subsection has occurred, the board shall assess a civil penalty of not less than $1,000 nor more than $10,000 against the violator. The board shall notify any person so assessed of the assessment in writing and the notice shall specify the reasons for the assessment. If the violator fails to pay the amount of the assessment to the board within thirty days, the Attorney General may institute a civil action in the circuit court of Kanawha County to recover the amount of the assessment. In any civil action, the court's review of the board's action shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of section four, article five, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, when there are conflicting views by recognized experts as to whether any alleged conduct breaches an applicable standard of care, the evidence must be clear and convincing before the board may find that the physician or podiatrist has demonstrated a lack of professional competence to practice with a reasonable degree of skill and safety for patients.

Any person may report to the board relevant facts about the conduct of any physician or podiatrist in this state which in the opinion of that person amounts to medical professional liability or professional incompetence.

The board shall provide forms for filing reports pursuant to this section. Reports submitted in other forms shall be accepted by the board.

The filing of a report with the board pursuant to any provision of this article, any investigation by the board or any disposition of a case by the board does not preclude any action by a hospital, other health care facility or professional society comprised primarily of physicians or podiatrists to suspend, restrict or revoke the privileges or membership of the physician or podiatrist.

(c) The board may deny an application for license or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry in this state and may discipline a physician or podiatrist licensed or otherwise lawfully practicing in this state who, after a hearing, has been adjudged by the board as unqualified due to any of the following reasons:

(1) Attempting to obtain, obtaining, renewing or attempting to renew a license to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry by bribery, fraudulent misrepresentation or through known error of the board;

(2) Being found guilty of a crime in any jurisdiction, which offense is a felony, involves moral turpitude or directly relates to the practice of medicine. Any plea of nolo contendere is a conviction for the purposes of this subdivision;

(3) False or deceptive advertising;

(4) Aiding, assisting, procuring or advising any unauthorized person to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry contrary to law;

(5) Making or filing a report that the person knows to be false; intentionally or negligently failing to file a report or record required by state or federal law; willfully impeding or obstructing the filing of a report or record required by state or federal law; or inducing another person to do any of the foregoing. The reports and records covered in this subdivision mean only those that are signed in the capacity as a licensed physician or podiatrist;

(6) Requesting, receiving or paying directly or indirectly a payment, rebate, refund, commission, credit or other form of profit or valuable consideration for the referral of patients to any person or entity in connection with providing medical or other health care services or clinical laboratory services, supplies of any kind, drugs, medication or any other medical goods, services or devices used in connection with medical or other health care services;

(7) Unprofessional conduct by any physician or podiatrist in referring a patient to any clinical laboratory or pharmacy in which the physician or podiatrist has a proprietary interest unless the physician or podiatrist discloses in writing such interest to the patient. The written disclosure shall indicate that the patient may choose any clinical laboratory for purposes of having any laboratory work or assignment performed or any pharmacy for purposes of purchasing any prescribed drug or any other medical goods or devices used in connection with medical or other health care services;

As used in this subdivision, "proprietary interest" does not include an ownership interest in a building in which space is leased to a clinical laboratory or pharmacy at the prevailing rate under a lease arrangement that is not conditional upon the income or gross receipts of the clinical laboratory or pharmacy;

(8) Exercising influence within a patient-physician relationship for the purpose of engaging a patient in sexual activity;

(9) Making a deceptive, untrue or fraudulent representation in the practice of medicine and surgery or podiatry;

(10) Soliciting patients, either personally or by an agent, through the use of fraud, intimidation or undue influence;

(11) Failing to keep written records justifying the course of treatment of a patient, including, but not limited to, patient histories, examination and test results and treatment rendered, if any;

(12) Exercising influence on a patient in such a way as to exploit the patient for financial gain of the physician or podiatrist or of a third party. Any influence includes, but is not limited to, the promotion or sale of services, goods, appliances or drugs;

(13) Prescribing, dispensing, administering, mixing or otherwise preparing a prescription drug, including any controlled substance under state or federal law, other than in good faith and in a therapeutic manner in accordance with accepted medical standards and in the course of the physician's or podiatrist's professional practice. ~~Provided, That a~~ A physician who discharges his or her professional obligation to relieve the pain and suffering and promote the dignity and autonomy of dying patients in his or her care and, in so doing, exceeds the average dosage of a pain relieving controlled substance, as defined in Schedules II and III of the Uniform Controlled Substance Act, does not violate this article. A physician licensed under this chapter may not be disciplined for providing expedited partner therapy in accordance with the provisions of article four-f, chapter sixteen of this code;

(14) Performing any procedure or prescribing any therapy that, by the accepted standards of medical practice in the community, would constitute experimentation on human subjects without first obtaining full, informed and written consent;

(15) Practicing or offering to practice beyond the scope permitted by law or accepting and performing professional responsibilities that the person knows or has reason to know he or she is not competent to perform;

(16) Delegating professional responsibilities to a person when the physician or podiatrist delegating the responsibilities knows or has reason to know that the person is not qualified by training, experience or licensure to perform them;

(17) Violating any provision of this article or a rule or order of the board or failing to comply with a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum issued by the board;

(18) Conspiring with any other person to commit an act or committing an act that would tend to coerce, intimidate or preclude another physician or podiatrist from lawfully advertising his or her services;

(19) Gross negligence in the use and control of prescription forms;

(20) Professional incompetence; or

(21) The inability to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry with reasonable skill and safety due to physical or mental impairment, including deterioration through the aging process, loss of motor skill or abuse of drugs or alcohol. A physician or podiatrist adversely affected under this subdivision shall be afforded an opportunity at reasonable intervals to demonstrate that he or she may resume the competent practice of medicine and surgery or podiatry with reasonable skill and safety to patients. In any proceeding under this subdivision, neither the record of proceedings nor any orders entered by the board shall be used against the physician or podiatrist in any other proceeding.

(d) The board shall deny any application for a license or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry in this state to any applicant who, and shall revoke the license of any physician or podiatrist licensed or otherwise lawfully practicing within this state who, is found guilty by any court of competent jurisdiction of any felony involving prescribing, selling, administering, dispensing, mixing or otherwise preparing any prescription drug, including any controlled substance under state or federal law, for other than generally accepted therapeutic purposes. Presentation to the board of a certified copy of the guilty verdict or plea rendered in the court is sufficient proof thereof for the purposes of this article. A plea of nolo contendere has the same effect as a verdict or plea of guilt. Upon application of a physician that has had his or her license revoked because of a drug-related felony conviction, upon completion of any sentence of confinement, parole, probation or other court-ordered supervision and full satisfaction of any fines, judgments or other fees imposed by the sentencing court, the board may issue the applicant a new license upon a finding that the physician is, except for the underlying conviction, otherwise qualified to practice medicine: Provided, That the board may place whatever terms, conditions or limitations it deems appropriate upon a physician licensed pursuant to this subsection.

(e) The board may refer any cases coming to its attention to an appropriate committee of an appropriate professional organization for investigation and report. Except for complaints related to obtaining initial licensure to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry in this state by bribery or fraudulent misrepresentation, any complaint filed more than two years after the complainant knew, or in the exercise of reasonable diligence should have known, of the existence of grounds for the complaint shall be dismissed: Provided, That in cases of conduct alleged to be part of a pattern of similar misconduct or professional incapacity that, if continued, would pose risks of a serious or substantial nature to the physician's or podiatrist's current patients, the investigating body may conduct a limited investigation related to the physician's or podiatrist's current capacity and qualification to practice and may recommend conditions, restrictions or limitations on the physician's or podiatrist's license to practice that it considers necessary for the protection of the public. Any report shall contain recommendations for any necessary disciplinary measures and shall be filed with the board within ninety days of any referral. The recommendations shall be considered by the board and the case may be further investigated by the board. The board after full investigation shall take whatever action it considers appropriate, as provided in this section.

(f) The investigating body, as provided for in subsection (e) of this section, may request and the board under any circumstances may require a physician or podiatrist or person applying for licensure or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry in this state to submit to a physical or mental examination by a physician or physicians approved by the board. A physician or podiatrist submitting to an examination has the right, at his or her expense, to designate another physician to be present at the examination and make an independent report to the investigating body or the board. The expense of the examination shall be paid by the board. Any individual who applies for or accepts the privilege of practicing medicine and surgery or podiatry in this state is considered to have given his or her consent to submit to all examinations when requested to do so in writing by the board and to have waived all objections to the admissibility of the testimony or examination report of any examining physician on the ground that the testimony or report is privileged communication. If a person fails or refuses to submit to an examination under circumstances which the board finds are not beyond his or her control, failure or refusal is prima facie evidence of his or her inability to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry competently and in compliance with the standards of acceptable and prevailing medical practice.

(g) In addition to any other investigators it employs, the board may appoint one or more licensed physicians to act for it in investigating the conduct or competence of a physician.

(h) In every disciplinary or licensure denial action, the board shall furnish the physician or podiatrist or applicant with written notice setting out with particularity the reasons for its action. Disciplinary and licensure denial hearings shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of article five, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code. However, hearings shall be heard upon sworn testimony and the rules of evidence for trial courts of record in this state shall apply to all hearings. A transcript of all hearings under this section shall be made, and the respondent may obtain a copy of the transcript at his or her expense. The physician or podiatrist has the right to defend against any charge by the introduction of evidence, the right to be represented by counsel, the right to present and cross examine witnesses and the right to have subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum issued on his or her behalf for the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents. The board shall make all its final actions public. The order shall contain the terms of all action taken by the board.

(i) In disciplinary actions in which probable cause has been found by the board, the board shall, within twenty days of the date of service of the written notice of charges or sixty days prior to the date of the scheduled hearing, whichever is sooner, provide the respondent with the complete identity, address and telephone number of any person known to the board with knowledge about the facts of any of the charges; provide a copy of any statements in the possession of or under the control of the board; provide a list of proposed witnesses with addresses and telephone numbers, with a brief summary of his or her anticipated testimony; provide disclosure of any trial expert pursuant to the requirements of Rule 26(b)(4) of the West Virginia Rules of Civil Procedure; provide inspection and copying of the results of any reports of physical and mental examinations or scientific tests or experiments; and provide a list and copy of any proposed exhibit to be used at the hearing: Provided, That the board shall not be required to furnish or produce any materials which contain opinion work product information or would be a violation of the attorney-client privilege. Within twenty days of the date of service of the written notice of charges, the board shall disclose any exculpatory evidence with a continuing duty to do so throughout the disciplinary process. Within thirty days of receipt of the board's mandatory discovery, the respondent shall provide the board with the complete identity, address and telephone number of any person known to the respondent with knowledge about the facts of any of the charges; provide a list of proposed witnesses with addresses and telephone numbers, to be called at hearing, with a brief summary of his or her anticipated testimony; provide disclosure of any trial expert pursuant to the requirements of Rule 26(b)(4) of the West Virginia Rules of Civil Procedure; provide inspection and copying of the results of any reports of physical and mental examinations or scientific tests or experiments; and provide a list and copy of any proposed exhibit to be used at the hearing.

(j) Whenever it finds any person unqualified because of any of the grounds set forth in subsection (c) of this section, the board may enter an order imposing one or more of the following:

(1) Deny his or her application for a license or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry;

(2) Administer a public reprimand;

(3) Suspend, limit or restrict his or her license or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry for not more than five years, including limiting the practice of that person to, or by the exclusion of, one or more areas of practice, including limitations on practice privileges;

(4) Revoke his or her license or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry or to prescribe or dispense controlled substances for a period not to exceed ten years;

(5) Require him or her to submit to care, counseling or treatment designated by the board as a condition for initial or continued licensure or renewal of licensure or other authorization to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry;

(6) Require him or her to participate in a program of education prescribed by the board;

(7) Require him or her to practice under the direction of a physician or podiatrist designated by the board for a specified period of time; and

(8) Assess a civil fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $10,000.

(k) Notwithstanding the provisions of section eight, article one, chapter thirty of this code, if the board determines the evidence in its possession indicates that a physician's or podiatrist's continuation in practice or unrestricted practice constitutes an immediate danger to the public, the board may take any of the actions provided in subsection (j) of this section on a temporary basis and without a hearing if institution of proceedings for a hearing before the board are initiated simultaneously with the temporary action and begin within fifteen days of the action. The board shall render its decision within five days of the conclusion of a hearing under this subsection.

(l) Any person against whom disciplinary action is taken pursuant to the provisions of this article has the right to judicial review as provided in articles five and six, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code: Provided, That a circuit judge may also remand the matter to the board if it appears from competent evidence presented to it in support of a motion for remand that there is newly discovered evidence of such a character as ought to produce an opposite result at a second hearing on the merits before the board and:

(1) The evidence appears to have been discovered since the board hearing; and

(2) The physician or podiatrist exercised due diligence in asserting his or her evidence and that due diligence would not have secured the newly discovered evidence prior to the appeal.

A person may not practice medicine and surgery or podiatry or deliver health care services in violation of any disciplinary order revoking, suspending or limiting his or her license while any appeal is pending. Within sixty days, the board shall report its final action regarding restriction, limitation, suspension or revocation of the license of a physician or podiatrist, limitation on practice privileges or other disciplinary action against any physician or podiatrist to all appropriate state agencies, appropriate licensed health facilities and hospitals, insurance companies or associations writing medical malpractice insurance in this state, the American Medical Association, the American Podiatry Association, professional societies of physicians or podiatrists in the state and any entity responsible for the fiscal administration of Medicare and Medicaid.

(m) Any person against whom disciplinary action has been taken under the provisions of this article shall, at reasonable intervals, be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate that he or she can resume the practice of medicine and surgery or podiatry on a general or limited basis. At the conclusion of a suspension, limitation or restriction period the physician or podiatrist may resume practice if the board has so ordered.

(n) Any entity, organization or person, including the board, any member of the board, its agents or employees and any entity or organization or its members referred to in this article, any insurer, its agents or employees, a medical peer review committee and a hospital governing board, its members or any committee appointed by it acting without malice and without gross negligence in making any report or other information available to the board or a medical peer review committee pursuant to law and any person acting without malice and without gross negligence who assists in the organization, investigation or preparation of any such report or information or assists the board or a hospital governing body or any committee in carrying out any of its duties or functions provided by law is immune from civil or criminal liability, except that the unlawful disclosure of confidential information possessed by the board is a misdemeanor as provided in this article.

(o) A physician or podiatrist may request in writing to the board a limitation on or the surrendering of his or her license to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry or other appropriate sanction as provided in this section. The board may grant the request and, if it considers it appropriate, may waive the commencement or continuation of other proceedings under this section. A physician or podiatrist whose license is limited or surrendered or against whom other action is taken under this subsection may, at reasonable intervals, petition for removal of any restriction or limitation on or for reinstatement of his or her license to practice medicine and surgery or podiatry.

(p) In every case considered by the board under this article regarding discipline or licensure, whether initiated by the board or upon complaint or information from any person or organization, the board shall make a preliminary determination as to whether probable cause exists to substantiate charges of disqualification due to any reason set forth in subsection (c) of this section. If probable cause is found to exist, all proceedings on the charges shall be open to the public who are entitled to all reports, records and nondeliberative materials introduced at the hearing, including the record of the final action taken: Provided, That any medical records, which were introduced at the hearing and which pertain to a person who has not expressly waived his or her right to the confidentiality of the records, may not be open to the public nor is the public entitled to the records.

(q) If the board receives notice that a physician or podiatrist has been subjected to disciplinary action or has had his or her credentials suspended or revoked by the board, a hospital or a professional society, as defined in subsection (b) of this section, for three or more incidents during a five-year period, the board shall require the physician or podiatrist to practice under the direction of a physician or podiatrist designated by the board for a specified period of time to be established by the board.

(r) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, the board may, at any time, on its own motion, or upon motion by the complainant, or upon motion by the physician or podiatrist, or by stipulation of the parties, refer the matter to mediation. The board shall obtain a list from the West Virginia State Bar's mediator referral service of certified mediators with expertise in professional disciplinary matters. The board and the physician or podiatrist may choose a mediator from that list. If the board and the physician or podiatrist are unable to agree on a mediator, the board shall designate a mediator from the list by neutral rotation. The mediation shall not be considered a proceeding open to the public and any reports and records introduced at the mediation shall not become part of the public record. The mediator and all participants in the mediation shall maintain and preserve the confidentiality of all mediation proceedings and records. The mediator may not be subpoenaed or called to testify or otherwise be subject to process requiring disclosure of confidential information in any proceeding relating to or arising out of the disciplinary or licensure matter mediated: Provided, That any confidentiality agreement and any written agreement made and signed by the parties as a result of mediation may be used in any proceedings subsequently instituted to enforce the written agreement. The agreements may be used in other proceedings if the parties agree in writing.

§30-3-16. Physician assistants; definitions; Board of Medicine rules; annual report; licensure; temporary license; relicensure; job description required; revocation or suspension of licensure; responsibilities of supervising physician; legal responsibility for physician assistants; reporting by health care facilities; identification; limitations on employment and duties; fees; continuing education; unlawful representation of physician assistant as a physician; criminal penalties.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) “Approved program” means an educational program for physician assistants approved and accredited by the Committee on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs or its successor;

(2) “Health care facility” means any licensed hospital, nursing home, extended care facility, state health or mental institution, clinic or physician’s office;

(3) “Physician assistant” means an assistant to a physician who is a graduate of an approved program of instruction in primary health care or surgery, has attained a baccalaureate or master’s degree, has passed the national certification examination and is qualified to perform direct patient care services under the supervision of a physician;

(4) “Physician assistant-midwife” means a physician assistant who meets all qualifications set forth under subdivision (3) of this subsection and fulfills the requirements set forth in subsection (d) of this section, is subject to all provisions of this section and assists in the management and care of a woman and her infant during the prenatal, delivery and post-natal periods; and

(5) “Supervising physician” means a doctor or doctors of medicine or podiatry permanently and fully licensed in this state without restriction or limitation who assume legal and supervisory responsibility for the work or training of any physician assistant under his or her supervision.

(b) The board shall promulgate rules pursuant to the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code governing the extent to which physician assistants may function in this state. The rules shall provide that the physician assistant is limited to the performance of those services for which he or she is trained and that he or she performs only under the supervision and control of a physician permanently licensed in this state but that supervision and control does not require the personal presence of the supervising physician at the place or places where services are rendered if the physician assistant’s normal place of employment is on the premises of the supervising physician. The supervising physician may send the physician assistant off the premises to perform duties under his or her direction but a separate place of work for the physician assistant may not be established. In promulgating the rules, the board shall allow the physician assistant to perform those procedures and examinations and, in the case of certain authorized physician assistants, to prescribe at the direction of his or her supervising physician, in accordance with subsection (r) of this section, those categories of drugs submitted to it in the job description required by this section. Certain authorized physician assistants may pronounce death in accordance with the rules proposed by the board which receive legislative approval. The board shall compile and publish an annual report that includes a list of currently licensed physician assistants and their supervising physician(s) and location in the state.

(c) The board shall license as a physician assistant any person who files an application together with a proposed job description and furnishes satisfactory evidence to it that he or she has met the following standards:

(1) Is a graduate of an approved program of instruction in primary health care or surgery;

(2) Has passed the certifying examination for a primary care physician assistant administered by the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants and has maintained certification by that commission so as to be currently certified;

(3) Is of good moral character; and

(4) Has attained a baccalaureate or master's degree.

(d) The board shall license as a physician assistant-midwife any person who meets the standards set forth under subsection (c) of this section and, in addition thereto, the following standards:

(1) Is a graduate of a school of midwifery accredited by the American College of Nurse-Midwives;

(2) Has passed an examination approved by the board; and

(3) Practices midwifery under the supervision of a board-certified obstetrician, gynecologist or a board-certified family practice physician who routinely practices obstetrics.

(e) The board may license as a physician assistant any person who files an application together with a proposed job description and furnishes satisfactory evidence that he or she is of good moral character and meets either of the following standards:

(1) He or she is a graduate of an approved program of instruction in primary health care or surgery prior to July 1, 1994, and has passed the certifying examination for a physician assistant administered by the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants and has maintained certification by that commission so as to be currently certified; or

(2) He or she had been certified by the board as a physician assistant then classified as Type B prior to July 1, 1983.

(f) Licensure of an assistant to a physician practicing the specialty of ophthalmology is permitted under this section: Provided, That a physician assistant may not dispense a prescription for a refraction.

(g) When a graduate of an approved program who has successfully passed the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants' certifying examination submits an application to the board for a physician assistant license, accompanied by a job description as referenced by this section, and a $50 temporary license fee, and the application is complete, the board shall issue to that applicant a temporary license allowing that applicant to function as a physician assistant.

(h) When a graduate of an approved program submits an application to the board for a physician assistant license, accompanied by a job description as referenced by this section, and a $50 temporary license fee, and the application is complete, the board shall issue to the applicant a temporary license allowing the applicant to function as a physician assistant until the applicant successfully passes the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants' certifying examination so long as the applicant sits for and obtains a passing score on the examination next offered following graduation from the approved program.

(i) No applicant may receive a temporary license who, following graduation from an approved program, has not obtained a passing score on the examination.

(j) A physician assistant who has not been certified by the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants will be restricted to work under the direct supervision of the supervising physician.

(k) A physician assistant who has been issued a temporary license shall, within thirty days of receipt of written notice from the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants of his or her performance on the certifying examination, notify the board in writing of his or her results. In the event of failure of that examination, the temporary license shall terminate automatically and the board shall so notify the physician assistant in writing.

(l) In the event a physician assistant fails a recertification examination of the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants and is no longer certified, the physician assistant shall immediately notify his or her supervising physician or physicians and the board in writing. The physician assistant shall immediately cease practicing, the license shall terminate automatically and the physician assistant is not eligible for reinstatement until he or she has obtained a passing score on the examination.

(m) A physician applying to the board to supervise a physician assistant shall affirm that the range of medical services set forth in the physician assistant's job description are consistent with the skills and training of the supervising physician and the physician assistant. Before a physician assistant can be employed or otherwise use his or her skills, the supervising physician and the physician assistant must obtain approval of the job description from the board. The board may revoke or suspend any license of an assistant to a physician for cause, after giving the assistant an opportunity to be heard in the manner provided by article five, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code and as set forth in rules duly adopted by the board.

(n) The supervising physician is responsible for observing, directing and evaluating the work, records and practices of each physician assistant performing under his or her supervision. He or she shall notify the board in writing of any termination of his or her supervisory relationship with a physician assistant within ten days of the termination. The legal responsibility for any physician assistant remains with the supervising physician at all times including occasions when the assistant under his or her direction and supervision aids in the care and treatment of a patient in a health care facility. In his or her absence, a supervising physician must designate an alternate supervising physician but the legal responsibility remains with the supervising physician at all times. A health care facility is not legally responsible for the actions or omissions of the physician assistant unless the physician assistant is an employee of the facility.

(o) The acts or omissions of a physician assistant employed by health care facilities providing inpatient or outpatient services are the legal responsibility of the facilities. Physician assistants employed by facilities in staff positions shall be supervised by a permanently licensed physician.

(p) A health care facility shall report in writing to the board within sixty days after the completion of the facility's formal disciplinary procedure and after the commencement and conclusion of any resulting legal action, the name of any physician assistant practicing in the facility whose privileges at the facility have been revoked, restricted, reduced or terminated for any cause including resignation, together with all pertinent information relating to the action. The health care facility shall also report any other formal disciplinary action taken against any physician assistant by the facility relating to professional ethics, medical incompetence, medical malpractice, moral turpitude or drug or alcohol abuse. Temporary suspension for failure to maintain records on a timely basis or failure to attend staff or section meetings need not be reported.

(q) When functioning as a physician assistant, the physician assistant shall wear a name tag that identifies him or her as a physician assistant. A two and one-half by three and one-half inch card of identification shall be furnished by the board upon licensure of the physician assistant.

(r) A physician assistant may write or sign prescriptions or transmit prescriptions by word of mouth, telephone or other means of communication at the direction of his or her supervising physician. A fee of $50 will be charged for prescription-writing privileges. The board shall promulgate rules pursuant to the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code governing the eligibility and extent to which a physician assistant may prescribe at the direction of the supervising physician. The rules shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) Provisions and restrictions for approving a state formulary classifying pharmacologic categories of drugs that may be prescribed by a physician assistant are as follows:

(s) A supervising physician may not supervise at any one time more than three full-time physician assistants or their equivalent, except that a physician may supervise up to four hospital-employed physician assistants. No physician shall supervise more than four physician assistants at any one time.

(t) A physician assistant may not sign any prescription, except in the case of an authorized physician assistant at the direction of his or her supervising physician in accordance with the provisions of subsection (r) of this section. A physician assistant may not perform any service that his or her supervising physician is not qualified to perform. A physician assistant may not perform any service that is not included in his or her job description and approved by the board as provided for in this section.

(u) The provisions of this section do not authorize a physician assistant to perform any specific function or duty delegated by this code to those persons licensed as chiropractors, dentists, dental hygienists, optometrists or pharmacists or certified as nurse anesthetists.

(v) Each application for licensure submitted by a licensed supervising physician under this section is to be accompanied by a fee of $200. A fee of $100 is to be charged for the biennial renewal of the license. A fee of $50 is to be charged for any change or addition of supervising physician or change or addition of job location. A fee of $50 will be charged for prescriptive writing privileges.

(x) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, failure to timely submit the required written documentation results in the automatic expiration of any license as a physician assistant until the written documentation is submitted to and approved by the board.

(y) If a license is automatically expired and reinstatement is sought within one year of the automatic expiration, the former licensee shall:

(1) Provide certification with supporting written documentation of the successful completion of the required continuing education;

(2) Pay a renewal fee; and

(3) Pay a reinstatement fee equal to fifty percent of the renewal fee.

(z) If a license is automatically expired and more than one year has passed since the automatic expiration, the former licensee shall:

(1) Apply for a new license;

(2) Provide certification with supporting written documentation of the successful completion of the required continuing education; and

(3) Pay such fees as determined by the board.

(aa) It is unlawful for any physician assistant to represent to any person that he or she is a physician, surgeon or podiatrist. A person who violates the provisions of this subsection is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for not less than one nor more than two years, or be fined not more than $2,000, or both fined and imprisoned.

(bb) All physician assistants holding valid certificates issued by the board prior to July 1, 1992, are licensed under this section.

PHARMACY INTERNS AND PHARMACIES.

§30-5-3. When licensed pharmacist required; person not licensed pharmacist, pharmacy technician or licensed intern not to compound prescriptions or dispense poisons or narcotics; licensure of interns; prohibiting the dispensing of prescription orders in absence of practitioner-patient relationship.

(a) It is unlawful for any person not a pharmacist, or who does not employ a pharmacist, to conduct any pharmacy or store for the purpose of retailing, compounding or dispensing prescription drugs or prescription devices.

(b) It is unlawful for the proprietor of any store or pharmacy, any ambulatory health care facility, as that term is defined in section one, article five-b, chapter sixteen of this code, that offers pharmaceutical care, or a facility operated to provide health care or mental health care services free of charge or at a reduced rate and that operates a charitable clinic pharmacy to permit any person not a pharmacist to compound or dispense prescriptions or prescription refills or to retail or dispense the poisons and narcotic drugs named in sections two, three and six, article eight, chapter sixteen of this code: Provided, That a licensed intern may compound and dispense prescriptions or prescription refills under the direct supervision of a pharmacist: Provided, however, That registered pharmacy technicians may assist in the preparation and dispensing of prescriptions or prescription refills, including, but not limited to, reconstitution of liquid medications, typing and affixing labels under the direct supervision of a licensed pharmacist.

(c) It is the duty of a pharmacist or employer who employs an intern to license the intern with the board within ninety days after employment. The board shall furnish proper forms for this purpose and shall issue a certificate to the intern upon licensure.

(d) The experience requirement for licensure as a pharmacist shall be computed from the date certified by the supervising pharmacist as the date of entering the internship. If the internship is not registered with the Board of Pharmacy, then the intern shall receive no credit for the experience when he or she makes application for examination for licensure as a pharmacist: Provided, That credit may be given for the unregistered experience if an appeal is made and evidence produced showing experience was obtained but not registered and that failure to register the internship experience was not the fault of the intern.

(e) An intern having served part or all of his or her internship in a pharmacy in another state or foreign country shall be given credit for the same when the affidavit of his or her internship is signed by the pharmacist under whom he or she served, and it shows the dates and number of hours served in the internship and when the affidavit is attested by the secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy of the state or country where the internship was served.

(f) Up to one third of the experience requirement for licensure as a pharmacist may be fulfilled by an internship in a foreign country.

(g) No pharmacist may compound or dispense any prescription order when he or she has knowledge that the prescription was issued by a practitioner without establishing a valid practitioner-patient relationship. An online or telephonic evaluation by questionnaire, or an online or telephonic consultation, is inadequate to establish a valid practitioner-patient relationship: Provided, That this prohibition does not apply:

(1) In a documented emergency;

(2) In an on-call or cross-coverage situation; ~~or~~

(3) For the treatment of sexually transmitted diseases by expedited partner therapy as set forth in article four-f, chapter sixteen of this code; or

An authorized advanced practice registered nurse may write or sign prescriptions or transmit prescriptions verbally or by other means of communication.

(b) For purposes of this section an agreement to a collaborative relationship for prescriptive practice between a physician and an advanced practice registered nurse shall be set forth in writing. Verification of the agreement shall be filed with the board by the advanced practice registered nurse. The board shall forward a copy of the verification to the Board of Medicine and the Board of Osteopathic Medicine. Collaborative agreements shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Mutually agreed upon written guidelines or protocols for prescriptive authority as it applies to the advanced practice registered nurse's clinical practice;

(2) Statements describing the individual and shared responsibilities of the advanced practice registered nurse and the physician pursuant to the collaborative agreement between them;

(3) Periodic and joint evaluation of prescriptive practice; and

(4) Periodic and joint review and updating of the written guidelines or protocols.

(c) The board shall promulgate legislative rules in accordance with the provisions of chapter twenty-nine-a of this code governing the eligibility and extent to which an advanced practice registered nurse may prescribe drugs. Such rules shall provide, at a minimum, a state formulary classifying those categories of drugs which shall not be prescribed by advanced practice registered nurse including, but not limited to, Schedules I and II of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, antineoplastics, radiopharmaceuticals and general anesthetics. Drugs listed under Schedule III shall be limited to a 72-hour supply without refill. The rules shall also include a provision that advanced nurse practitioners licensed under this chapter may not be disciplined for providing expedited partner therapy in accordance with the provisions of article four-f, chapter sixteen of this code. In addition to the above-referenced provisions and restrictions and pursuant to a collaborative agreement as set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of this section, the rules shall permit the prescribing of an annual supply of any drug, with the exception of controlled substances, which is prescribed for the treatment of a chronic condition, other than chronic pain management. For the purposes of this section, a “chronic condition” is a condition which lasts three months or more, generally cannot be prevented by vaccines, can be controlled but not cured by medication and does not generally disappear. These conditions, with the exception of chronic pain, include, but are not limited to, arthritis, asthma, cardiovascular disease, cancer, diabetes, epilepsy and seizures and obesity. The prescriber authorized in this section shall note on the prescription the chronic disease being treated.

(d) The board shall consult with other appropriate boards for the development of the formulary.

(e) The board shall transmit to the Board of Pharmacy a list of all advanced practice registered nurses with prescriptive authority. The list shall include:

(2) The prescriber’s identification number assigned by the board;
and

(2) Conviction of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude;

(3) Violation of any provision of this article regulating the practice of osteopathic physicians and surgeons;

(4) Fraud, misrepresentation or deceit in procuring or attempting to procure admission to practice;

(6) Advertising by means of knowingly false or deceptive statements;

(7) Advertising, practicing or attempting to practice under a name other than one's own;

(8) Habitual drunkenness or habitual addiction to the use of morphine, cocaine or other habit-forming drugs.

(b) The board shall also have the power to suspend or revoke for cause any certificate of authorization issued by it. It shall have the power to reinstate any certificate of authorization suspended or revoked by it.

(c) An osteopathic physician licensed under this chapter may not be disciplined for providing expedited partner therapy in accordance with the provisions of article four-f, chapter sixteen of this code.

ARTICLE 14A. ASSISTANTS TO OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

§30-14A-1. Osteopathic physician assistant to osteopathic physicians and surgeons; definitions; Board of Osteopathy rules; licensure; temporary licensure; renewal of license; job description required; revocation or suspension of license; responsibilities of the supervising physician; legal responsibility for osteopathic physician assistants; reporting of disciplinary procedures; identification; limitation on employment and duties; fees; unlawful use of the title of osteopathic physician assistant; unlawful representation of an osteopathic physician assistant as a physician; criminal penalties.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) “Approved program” means an educational program for osteopathic physician assistants approved and accredited by the Committee on Allied Health Education and Accreditation or its successor.

(2) “Board” means the Board of Osteopathy established under the provisions of article fourteen, chapter thirty of this code.

(3) “Direct supervision” means the presence of the supervising physician at the site where the osteopathic physician assistant performs medical duties.

(4) “Health care facility” means any licensed hospital, nursing home, extended care facility, state health or mental institution, clinic or physician’s office.

(5) “License” means a certificate issued to an osteopathic physician assistant who has passed the examination for a primary care or surgery physician assistant administered by the National Board of Medical Examiners on behalf of the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants. All osteopathic physician assistants holding valid certificates issued by the board prior to March 31, 2010, are licensed under the provisions of this article, but must renew the license pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(6) “Osteopathic physician assistant” means an assistant to an osteopathic physician who is a graduate of an approved program of instruction in primary care or surgery, has passed the National Certification Examination and is qualified to perform direct patient care services under the supervision of an osteopathic physician.

(7) “Supervising physician” means a doctor of osteopathy permanently licensed in this state who assumes legal and supervising responsibility for the work or training of an osteopathic physician assistant under his or her supervision.

(b) The board shall propose emergency and legislative rules for legislative approval pursuant to the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code, governing the extent to which osteopathic physician assistants may function in this state. The rules shall provide that:

(1) The osteopathic physician assistant is limited to the performance of those services for which he or she is trained;

(2) The osteopathic physician assistant performs only under the supervision and control of an osteopathic physician permanently licensed in this state but such supervision and control does not require the personal presence of the supervising physician at the place or places where services are rendered if the osteopathic physician assistant’s normal place of employment is on the premises of the supervising physician. The supervising physician may send the osteopathic physician assistant off the premises to perform duties under his or her direction, but a separate place of work for the osteopathic physician assistant may not be established; ~~and~~

(3) The board may allow the osteopathic physician assistant to perform those procedures and examinations and, in the case of authorized osteopathic physician assistants, to prescribe at the direction of his or her supervising physician in accordance with subsections (p) and (q) of this section those categories of drugs submitted to it in the job description required by subsection (f) of this section; and

(4) An osteopathic physician assistant may not be disciplined for providing expedited partner therapy in accordance with the provisions of article four-f, chapter sixteen of this code.

(c) The board shall compile and publish an annual report that includes a list of currently licensed osteopathic physician assistants and their employers and location in the state.

(d) The board shall license as an osteopathic physician assistant a person who files an application together with a proposed job description and furnishes satisfactory evidence that he or she has met the following standards:

(1) Is a graduate of an approved program of instruction in primary health care or surgery;

(2) Has passed the examination for a primary care or surgery physician assistant administered by the National Board of Medical Examiners on behalf of the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants; and

(3) Is of good moral character.

(e) When a graduate of an approved program submits an application to the board, accompanied by a job description in conformity with this section, for an osteopathic physician assistant license, the board may issue to the applicant a temporary license allowing the applicant to function as an osteopathic physician assistant for the period of one year. The temporary license may be renewed for one additional year upon the request of the supervising physician. An osteopathic physician assistant who has not been certified as such by the National Board of Medical Examiners on behalf of the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants will be restricted to work under the direct supervision of the supervising physician.

(f) An osteopathic physician applying to the board to supervise an osteopathic physician assistant shall provide a job description that sets forth the range of medical services to be provided by the assistant. Before an osteopathic physician assistant can be employed or otherwise use his or her skills, the supervising physician must obtain approval of the job description from the board. The board may revoke or suspend a license of an assistant to a physician for cause, after giving the person an opportunity to be heard in the manner provided by sections eight and nine, article one of this chapter.

(g) The supervising physician is responsible for observing, directing and evaluating the work records and practices of each osteopathic physician assistant performing under his or her supervision. He or she shall notify the board in writing of any termination of his or her supervisory relationship with an osteopathic physician assistant within ten days of his or her termination. The legal responsibility for any osteopathic physician assistant remains with the supervising physician at all times, including occasions when the assistant, under his or her direction and supervision, aids in the care and treatment of a patient in a health care facility. In his or her absence, a supervising physician must designate an alternate supervising physician but the legal responsibility remains with the supervising physician at all times. A health care facility is not legally responsible for the actions or omissions of an osteopathic physician assistant unless the osteopathic physician assistant is an employee of the facility.

(h) The acts or omissions of an osteopathic physician assistant employed by health care facilities providing in-patient services are the legal responsibility of the facilities. Osteopathic physician assistants employed by such facilities in staff positions shall be supervised by a permanently licensed physician.

(i) A health care facility shall report in writing to the board within sixty days after the completion of the facility's formal disciplinary procedure, and after the commencement and the conclusion of any resulting legal action, the name of an osteopathic physician assistant practicing in the facility whose privileges at the facility have been revoked, restricted, reduced or terminated for any cause including resignation, together with all pertinent information relating to such action. The health care facility shall also report any other formal disciplinary action taken against an osteopathic physician assistant by the facility relating to professional ethics, medical incompetence, medical malpractice, moral turpitude or drug or alcohol abuse. Temporary suspension for failure to maintain records on a timely basis or failure to attend staff or section meetings need not be reported.

(j) When functioning as an osteopathic physician assistant, the osteopathic physician assistant shall wear a name tag that identifies him or her as a physician assistant.

(k) (1) A supervising physician shall not supervise at any time more than three osteopathic physician assistants except that a physician may supervise up to four hospital-employed osteopathic physician assistants: Provided, That an alternative supervisor has been designated for each.

(2) An osteopathic physician assistant shall not perform any service that his or her supervising physician is not qualified to perform.

(3) An osteopathic physician assistant shall not perform any service that is not included in his or her job description and approved by the board as provided in this section.

(4) The provisions of this section do not authorize an osteopathic physician assistant to perform any specific function or duty delegated by this code to those persons licensed as chiropractors, dentists, registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, dental hygienists, optometrists or pharmacists or certified as nurse anesthetists.

(l) An application for license or renewal of license shall be accompanied by payment of a fee established by legislative rule of the Board of Osteopathy pursuant to the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

(m) As a condition of renewal of an osteopathic physician assistant license, each osteopathic physician assistant shall provide written documentation satisfactory to the board of participation in and successful completion of continuing education in courses approved by the Board of Osteopathy for the purposes of continuing education of osteopathic physician assistants. The osteopathy board shall propose legislative rules for minimum continuing hours necessary for the renewal of a license. These rules shall provide for minimum hours equal to or more than the hours necessary for national certification. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, failure to timely submit the required written documentation results in the automatic suspension of a license as an osteopathic physician assistant until the written documentation is submitted to and approved by the board.

(n) It is unlawful for any person who is not licensed by the board as an osteopathic physician assistant to use the title of osteopathic physician assistant or to represent to any other person that he or she is an osteopathic physician assistant. A person who violates the provisions of this subsection is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $2,000.

(o) It is unlawful for an osteopathic physician assistant to represent to any person that he or she is a physician. A person who violates the provisions of this subsection is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for not less than one nor more than two years, or be fined not more than $2,000, or both fined and imprisoned.

(p) An osteopathic physician assistant may write or sign prescriptions or transmit prescriptions by word of mouth, telephone or other means of communication at the direction of his or her supervising physician. The board shall propose rules for legislative approval in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code governing the eligibility and extent to which an osteopathic physician assistant may prescribe at the direction of the supervising physician. The rules shall provide for a state formulary classifying pharmacologic categories of drugs which may be prescribed by such an osteopathic physician assistant. In classifying such pharmacologic categories, those categories of drugs which shall be excluded include, but are not limited to, Schedules I and II of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, antineoplastics, radiopharmaceuticals, general anesthetics and radiographic contrast materials. Drugs listed under Schedule III are limited to a 72-hour supply without refill. In addition to the above-referenced provisions and restrictions and at the direction of a supervising physician, the rules shall permit the prescribing an annual supply of any drug other than controlled substances which is prescribed for the treatment of a chronic condition other than chronic pain management. For the purposes of this section, a "chronic condition" is a condition which last three months or more, generally cannot be prevented by vaccines, can be controlled but not cured by medication and does not generally disappear. These conditions include, but are not limited to, arthritis, asthma, cardiovascular disease, cancer, diabetes, epilepsy and seizures and obesity. The prescriber authorized in this section shall note on the prescription the condition for which the patient is being treated. The rules shall provide that all pharmacological categories of drugs to be prescribed by an osteopathic physician assistant be listed in each job description submitted to the board as required in this section. The rules shall provide the maximum dosage an osteopathic physician assistant may prescribe.

(q) (1) The rules shall provide that to be eligible for such prescription privileges, an osteopathic physician assistant must:

(A) Submit an application to the board for prescription privileges;

(B) Have performed patient care services for a minimum of two years immediately preceding the application; and

(C) Have successfully completed an accredited course of instruction in clinical pharmacology approved by the board.

(2) The rules shall provide that to maintain prescription privileges, an osteopathic physician assistant shall:

(A) Continue to maintain national certification as an osteopathic physician assistant; and

(B) Complete a minimum of ten hours of continuing education in rational drug therapy in each licensing period.

(3) Nothing in this subsection permits an osteopathic physician assistant to independently prescribe or dispense drugs.

If the county board finds that the student did commit the alleged violation, the county board may expel the student.

(d) The actions of any pupil student which may be grounds for his or her suspension or expulsion under the provisions of this section shall be reported immediately to the principal of the school in which the pupil student is enrolled. If the principal determines that the alleged actions of the pupil student would be grounds for suspension, he or she shall conduct an informal hearing for the pupil student immediately after the alleged actions have occurred. The hearing shall be held before the pupil student is suspended unless the principal believes that the continued presence of the pupil student in the school poses a continuing danger to persons or property or an ongoing threat of disrupting the academic process, in which case the pupil student shall be suspended immediately and a hearing held as soon as practicable after the suspension.

The pupil student and his or her parent(s), guardian(s) or custodian(s), as the case may be, shall be given telephonic notice, if possible, of this informal hearing, which notice shall briefly state the grounds for suspension.

At the commencement of the informal hearing, the principal shall inquire of the pupil student as to whether he or she admits or denies the charges. If the pupil student does not admit the charges, he or she shall be given an explanation of the evidence possessed by the principal and an opportunity to present his or her version of the occurrence. At the conclusion of the hearing or upon the failure of the noticed student to appear, the principal may suspend the pupil student for a maximum of ten school days, including the time prior to the hearing, if any, for which the pupil student has been excluded from school.

The principal shall report any suspension the same day it has been decided upon, in writing, to the parent(s), guardian(s) or custodian(s) of the pupil student by regular United States mail. The suspension also shall be reported to the county superintendent and to the faculty senate of the school at the next meeting after the suspension.

(e) Prior to a hearing before the county board, the county board shall cause a written notice which states the charges and the recommended disposition to be served upon the pupil student and his or her parent(s), guardian(s) or custodian(s), as the case may be. The notice shall state clearly whether the board will attempt at hearing to establish the student as a dangerous student, as defined by section one, article one of this chapter. The notice also shall include any evidence upon which the board will rely in asserting its claim that the student is a dangerous student. The notice shall set forth a date and time at which the hearing shall be held, which date shall be within the ten-day period of suspension imposed by the principal.

(f) The county board shall hold the scheduled hearing to determine if the pupil student should be reinstated or should or, under the provisions of this section, must be expelled from school. If the county board determines that the student should or must be expelled from school, it also may determine whether the student is a dangerous student pursuant to subsection (g) of this section. At this, or any hearing before a county board conducted pursuant to this section, the pupil student may be represented by counsel, may call his or her own witnesses to verify his or her version of the incident and may confront and cross examine witnesses supporting the charge against him or her. The a hearing shall be recorded by mechanical means unless recorded by a certified court reporter. The hearing may be postponed for good cause shown by the pupil student but he or she shall remain under suspension until after the hearing. The state board may adopt other supplementary rules of procedure to be followed in these hearings. At the conclusion of the hearing the county board shall either: (1) Order the pupil student reinstated immediately at the end of his or her initial suspension; (2) suspend the pupil student for a further designated number of days; or (3) expel the pupil student from the public schools of the county.

(g) A county board that did not intend prior to a hearing to assert a dangerous student claim, that did not notify the student prior to the hearing that a dangerous student determination would be considered and that determines through the course of the hearing that the student may be a dangerous student shall schedule a second hearing within ten days to decide the issue. The hearing may be postponed for good cause shown by the pupil student, but he or she remains under suspension until after the hearing.

A county board that expels a student, and finds that the student is a dangerous student, may refuse to provide alternative education. However, after a hearing conducted pursuant to this section for determining whether a student is a dangerous student, when the student is found to be a dangerous student, is expelled and is denied alternative education, a hearing shall be conducted within three months after the refusal by the board to provide alternative education to reexamine whether or not the student remains a dangerous student and whether the student shall be provided alternative education. Thereafter, a hearing for the purpose of reexamining whether or not the student remains a dangerous student and whether the student shall be provided alternative education shall be conducted every three months for so long as the student remains a dangerous student and is denied alternative education. During the initial hearing, or in any subsequent hearing, the board may consider the history of the pupil's student's conduct as well as any improvements made subsequent to the expulsion. If it is determined during any of the hearings that the student is no longer a dangerous student or should be provided alternative education, the student shall be provided alternative education during the remainder of the expulsion period.

(h) The superintendent may apply to a circuit judge or magistrate for authority to subpoena witnesses and documents, upon his or her own initiative, in a proceeding related to a recommended student expulsion or dangerous student determination, before a county board conducted pursuant to the provisions of this section. Upon the written request of any other party, the superintendent shall apply to a circuit judge or magistrate for the authority to subpoena witnesses, documents or both on behalf of the other party in a proceeding related to a recommended student expulsion or dangerous student determination before a county board. If the authority to subpoena is granted, the superintendent shall subpoena the witnesses, documents or both requested by the other party. Furthermore, if the authority to subpoena is granted, it shall be exercised in accordance with the provisions of section one, article five, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code.

Any hearing conducted pursuant to this subsection may be postponed: (1) For good cause shown by the pupil student; (2) when proceedings to compel a subpoenaed witness to appear must be instituted; or (3) when a delay in service of a subpoena hinders either party's ability to provide sufficient notice to appear to a witness. A pupil student remains under suspension until after the hearing in any case where a postponement occurs.

The county boards are directed to report the number of pupils students determined to be dangerous students to the state board. ~~of Education~~ The state board will compile the county boards' statistics and shall report its findings to the Legislative Oversight Commission on Education Accountability.

(i) Pupils Students may be expelled pursuant to ~~the provisions of~~ this section for a period not to exceed one school year, except that if a pupil student is determined to have violated the provisions of subsection (a) of this section the pupil student shall be expelled for a period of not less than twelve consecutive months, subject to the following:

(1) ~~Provided, That the~~ The county superintendent may lessen the mandatory period of twelve consecutive months for the expulsion of the pupil student if the circumstances of the pupil's student's case demonstrably warrant;

(2) Upon the reduction of the period of expulsion, the county superintendent shall prepare a written statement setting forth the circumstances of the pupil's student's case which warrant the reduction of the period of expulsion. The county superintendent shall submit the statement to the county board, the principal, the faculty senate and the local school improvement council for the school from which the pupil student was expelled. The county superintendent may use the following factors as guidelines in determining whether or not to reduce a mandatory twelve-month expulsion:

(1) (A) The extent of the pupil's student's malicious intent;

(2) (B) The outcome of the pupil's student's misconduct;

(3) (C) The pupil's student's past behavior history; ~~and~~

(4) (D) The likelihood of the pupil's student's repeated misconduct; and

(j) In all hearings under this section, facts shall be found by a preponderance of the evidence.

(k) For purposes of this section, nothing herein may be construed to be in conflict with the federal provisions of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 U. S. C. §1400 et seq.

(l) Each suspension or expulsion imposed upon a pupil student under the authority of this section shall be recorded in the uniform integrated regional computer information system (commonly known as the West Virginia Education Information System) described in subsection (f), section twenty-six, article two, chapter eighteen of this code.

(1) The principal of the school at which the pupil student is enrolled shall create an electronic record within twenty-four hours of the imposition of the suspension or expulsion.

(2) Each record of a suspension or expulsion shall include the pupil's student's name and identification number, the reason for the suspension or expulsion and the beginning and ending dates of the suspension or expulsion.

(3) The state board ~~of Education~~ shall collect and disseminate data so that any principal of a public school in West Virginia can review the complete history of disciplinary actions taken by West Virginia public schools against any pupil student enrolled or seeking to enroll at that principal's school. The purposes of this provision are to allow every principal to fulfill his or her duty under subsection (b), section fifteen-f, article five, chapter eighteen of this code to determine whether a pupil student requesting to enroll at a public school in West Virginia is currently serving a suspension or expulsion from another public school in West Virginia and to allow principals to obtain general information about pupils' students' disciplinary histories.

(m) Principals may exercise any other authority and perform any other duties to discipline pupils students consistent with state and federal law, including policies of the state board. ~~of Education~~

(n) Each county board is solely responsible for the administration of proper discipline in the public schools of the county and shall adopt policies consistent with the provisions of this section to govern disciplinary actions.

(o) For the purpose of this section, “principal” means the principal, assistant principal, vice principal or the administrative head of the school or a professional personnel designee of the principal or the administrative head of the school.

§18A-5-1d. Return to school through Juvenile Drug Court for certain students.

(a) When a student is expelled from school pursuant to section one-a of this article, the county board, county superintendent or principal for the school from which the student was expelled or the parent, guardian or custodian may refer the student to a Juvenile Drug Court, operated pursuant to section two-b, article five, chapter forty-nine of this code. Upon such referral, the judge assigned to Juvenile Drug Court shall determine whether the student is an appropriate candidate for Juvenile Drug Court.

(b) If the judge determines the student is an appropriate candidate for Juvenile Drug Court, then the court has jurisdiction over the student in the same manner as it has jurisdiction over all other persons in Juvenile Drug Court. Such jurisdiction over students includes the ability to issue any of the various sanctions available to the Juvenile Drug Court, including temporary detention.

(c) (1) Successful completion of Juvenile Drug Court or certification by the Juvenile Drug Court judge that the student is making satisfactory progress toward successful completion of Juvenile Drug Court warrants consideration for reduction of the expulsion period, pursuant to section one-a of this article.

(2) The Juvenile Drug Court shall notify the county superintendent of such completion or certification. The county superintendent shall arrange a meeting with the Juvenile Drug Court treatment team, the court and the student assistance team of the school from which the student was expelled to discuss the student’s history, progress and potential for improvement.

(3) The student assistance team shall evaluate and recommend whether the student's expulsion period should be reduced and the student reinstated in school.

(4) The student assistance team's recommendation shall be presented to the superintendent, who shall make the final determination. The superintendent shall prepare a statement detailing reasons for or against school reinstatement and submit the statement to the county board. If the superintendent determines to reduce the expulsion period, he or she shall submit the statement required by subsection (i), section one-a of this article and place the student in an appropriate school within the district.

(5) A student to be reinstated shall be permitted to return to school no later than the tenth regular school day following notice by the court to the superintendent regarding the student's successful completion or satisfactory progress toward successful completion of Juvenile Drug Court.;
