Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1—Requesting the Division of Highways name bridge number 42-43-0.16, the Becky’s Creek Bridge on Route 43 crossing over the Tygart Valley River in Huttonsville, Randolph County, the “Army Sgt. Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was born on March 15, 1940, in Randolph County to Cecil Wilbert Kittle, Sr., and Omega Virginia Armentrout Kittle. He had a brother, Master Sergeant Floyd A. Kittle, and two sisters, Carolyn Darlene Kittle and Eva Fae Knight; and

Whereas, In July, 1962, Sergeant Kittle married Betty Irene Wilt Kittle. They had two children, Richard Nicholas Kittle and Randall Lee Kittle; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was a career soldier who first entered the Army in July, 1958, after attending Tygarts Valley High School. He served several tours of duty in Europe with the Seventh Army and, in 1961, was involved with activities surrounding the Berlin Wall Crisis while serving with the 51st infantry in Germany; and

Whereas, In 1965 Sergeant Kittle arrived in Vietnam where he served as a helicopter gunner and a paratrooper in Company C, Second

Battalion, Seventh Cavalry, and First Air Cavalry Division (Airmobile). This unit was involved in the heaviest fighting at the Battle of Ia Drang Valley and Chu Pong Mountain, the first major battle in the Vietnam War; and

Whereas, American leaders had decided to use newly developed airmobile tactics by flying in American troops by helicopter and Lieutenant General Hal Moore's First Battalion of the Seventh Cavalry was given this assignment in the Battle of Ia Drang Valley; and

Whereas, The Battle at Ia Drang Valley began on November 14, 1965, and Sergeant Kittle was part of the military's operation to bring troops into Ia Drang Valley to locate the North Vietnamese Army. Lieutenant General Moore had sixteen helicopters to bring in troops which took four hours to get all of his men on the ground. Heavy fire began immediately and the first American soldiers who were dropped off into a small clearing in the Ia Drang Valley, known as Landing Zone X-Ray, were immediately surrounded and attacked by two thousand North Vietnamese soldiers. Dozens of men died within this first wave of attacks during the battle, which continued for three more days; and

Whereas, On November 17, 1965, American military operations were moved to Landing Zone Albany, where U. S. troops were again attacked by the North Vietnamese Army. This second wave of attacks was considered the deadliest ambush of a U. S. unit during the entire course of the Vietnam War. During the night North Vietnamese soldiers walked through the woods executing all wounded American soldiers; and

Whereas, Air strikes and artillery eventually allowed U. S. troops to secure the area and rescue the survivors. More than three hundred of the four hundred fifty U. S. soldiers were killed in the Battle of Ia Drang Valley; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was killed as a result of hostile action while on a search and destroy mission during the Battle of Ia Drang

Valley. He died during the second wave of North Vietnamese attacks on November 17, 1965, at the age of twenty-five. A month later, December 24, 1965, his second son, Randall Lee Kittle, was born; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was one of nine West Virginia soldiers who died at the Battle of Ia Drang Valley. Being a native of Huttonsville, he was also the first Randolph County soldier to be killed in the Vietnam War. He is buried at the Old Brick Cemetery in Huttonsville along with his parents and other family members; and

Whereas, The Battle at Ia Drang Valley set the tone for the remainder of the Vietnam War as American forces continued to rely on air mobility and heavy fire support; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was awarded the Purple Heart, the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal, the National Defense Medal, the Army Good Conduct Medal, the Seventh Cavalry Garry Owen Patch and the Combat Infantry Badge; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle's name is listed on the Vietnam Memorial Wall in Washington, D. C., Panel 3E, Row 82; and

Whereas, The battle in which Sergeant Kittle died was documented in the 1965 CBS Special Report "Battle of Ia Drang Valley" and in the book "We Were Soldiers Once . . . and Young" by Lieutenant General Hal Moore and reporter Joseph Galloway, who was also at the battle. That book also served as the basis of the 2002 movie "We Were Soldiers" starring Mel Gibson; and

Whereas, Two local articles also chronicled the book and movie's significance to West Virginia and the people of Randolph County. The headlines read: "Current Vietnam Film has Personal Meaning for Area Residents" in the March 9, 2002, issue of The Elkins Inter-Mountain newspaper and "We Were Solders: West Virginia

Veterans Remember Battle at Ia Drang Valley” in the March 7, 2002, issue of the Charleston Gazette newspaper. They are archived at the Cultural Center in Charleston and in the Wise Library in Morgantown. Sergeant Kittle’s November 22, 1965, obituary is also archived at The Elkins Inter-Mountain newspaper library (Vol. LIX No. 45); and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor Sergeant Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., for his commitment, dedication and service to his country and to his state, having given the ultimate sacrifice; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 42-43-0.16, the Becky’s Creek Bridge on Route 43 crossing over the Tygart Valley River in Huttonsville, Randolph County, the “Army Sgt. Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to erect signs at both ends of the bridge containing bold and prominent letters proclaiming the bridge the “Army Sgt. Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation and to Sergeant Kittle’s son, Randall Lee Kittle.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to continue studying the needs, challenges and issues facing West Virginia military veterans, West Virginia citizens serving in the armed forces of the United States, the West Virginia National Guard and other military affairs of West Virginia.

Whereas, West Virginia has a proud heritage of military service members, veterans and military family members; and

Whereas, West Virginia is home to more military service members and veterans per capita than any other state in the nation; and

Whereas, The West Virginia National Guard is continuously above service and preparedness strength, has been repeatedly recognized as one of the top forces in the country and its members are nationally renowned for their professionalism, courage and commitment to duty; and

Whereas, Military veteran homelessness, incidents of veteran suicide and diagnoses of post-traumatic stress disorder for veterans are all on the rise with no signs of slowing down unless additional action by the West Virginia Department of Veterans' Assistance and the United States Department of Veterans Affairs is taken; and

Whereas, Additionally, aging veterans of previous conflicts are facing worsening problems as they enter their retirement years; and

Whereas, West Virginia has passed legislation offering in-state military veteran retirees financial benefits in an attempt to increase these veterans' financial stability and to attract out-of- state veterans to retire to West Virginia; and

Whereas, As the state continues to make retiring in West Virginia attractive to military veterans, the overall economic development their residency provides will certainly benefit each and every West Virginian; and

Whereas, Although the retirement benefits of veterans within West Virginia are positive, additional legislative efforts can be pursued to further augment these opportunities; and

Whereas, The Legislature finds that it should take an active role in studying, formulating and implementing resources and programs that support West Virginia citizens serving in the armed forces of the United States, the West Virginia National Guard as well as veterans of military service to better assist them and their family members in getting the care, services and opportunities that they have earned and deserve; and

Whereas, The Select Committee on Veterans Affairs has a demonstrated history of initiating legislation promoting and facilitating the establishment of programs to assist returning veterans, including, but not limited to, the veteran-friendly campus legislation as well as legislation to establish a program for veteran-friendly communities and continues to monitor the implementation and development of such programs; and

Whereas, Because of the state's consistent resident and citizen support of the nation's armed forces and the West Virginia National Guard, the Legislature of West Virginia should continue to receive input and develop measures on a continuing basis during interim periods in order to provide the best available educational, vocational, social and medical support services for our state's military personnel and veterans that it can; and

Whereas, The interim Select Committee on Veterans Affairs provides the Legislature a means to continuously monitor and develop various programs and resources to assist our state's military personnel and military veterans; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to continue studying the needs, challenges and issues facing West Virginia military veterans, West Virginia citizens serving in the armed forces of the United States, the West Virginia National Guard and other military affairs of West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Laird, Kessler (Mr. President), Palumbo, Unger and Plymale offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 12—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance authorize a study of the funding sources currently in place for law-enforcement training and certification programs within the state, the status of those funding sources and whether additional funding is necessary to ensure the continued training and certification of West Virginia law-enforcement officers.

Whereas, In 1981 the Legislature enacted West Virginia Code §30-29-4, which created a special revenue account known as the Law-Enforcement Professional Standards (LEPS) Fund, which consisted of a $2 fee added to court costs in all criminal proceedings and a $2 fee added to the amount of any cash or property bond posted to be deposited into the LEPS Fund upon forfeiture of the bond. The revenue source for the LEPS Fund has not been adjusted for inflation or amended in any way since 1981; and

Whereas, Individual law-enforcement entities are currently charged $1,500 for the entry-level training program required to gain initial certification as a West Virginia law-enforcement officer to help pay for the training. The demands on law-enforcement officers have changed significantly since 1981 due to changes in, among other things, technology and national security. The changing law-enforcement world has created a need for more specified training focusing on, among other things, homeland security and computer crimes; and

Whereas, Funds for the traditional law-enforcement training and certification are expended at a greater rate than funds are being deposited into the LEPS Fund. The LEPS Fund previously needed an emergency deposit of funds from a legal settlement in order to continue the law-enforcement training and certification program. Without any changes to the revenue sources, the State of West Virginia will be unable to pay for the law-enforcement training and certification program in Fiscal Year 2016-2017; and

Whereas, The current funding mechanism for the LEPS Fund does not fully meet the expenses of the current entry-level training and certification program and does not allow for any expenses toward the ongoing professional development and training of officers over their careers. A direct budget allotment may provide the necessary financial stability for the LEPS Fund and allow for elimination of fees, all while providing for a comprehensive and effective law-enforcement training and certification program for new and experienced officers; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to authorize a study of the funding sources currently in place for law-enforcement training and certification programs within the state, the status of those funding sources and whether additional funding is necessary to ensure the continued training and certification of West Virginia law-enforcement officers; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

17-58-238, in Anmoore, West Virginia, the “PFC Nick Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was born in Caulonia, Reggio Calabria, Italy, in 1920, and came to the United States in August, 1922, with his brother Celestino (Charley) and mother Maria Rosa Strangio Cavallaro and settled in Anmoore, West Virginia; and

Whereas, When World War II broke out, Nick Cavallaro, having become an American citizen by then, immediately enlisted in the United States Army and was assigned to the 82nd Airborne; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro participated in battles in North Africa and Sicily, Italy, and was one of the thousands of paratroopers dropped behind German lines the night before the invasion of Normandy, France; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was scheduled to come home on leave when the Battle of the Bulge broke out and his leave was canceled; and

Whereas, Sadly, Nick Cavallaro lost his life in battle at Fosse, Belgium, on January 3, 1945, leaving behind his mother, brother, sister Louise and a host of other family and friends; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was an Italian immigrant and a citizen of Anmoore, West Virginia, and the United States and made the ultimate sacrifice for his adopted hometown and country; and

Whereas, It is fitting to recognize the service and sacrifice of Nick Cavallaro by naming this bridge in his honor as an everlasting tribute to his memory; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name the new bridge on Route 58, bridge number 17-58-238, in Anmoore, West Virginia, the “PFC Nick Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge as the “PFC Nick Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Whereas, The West Virginia professionals, who care for the at-risk children in our state, and the organizations that exist to impact the lives of these children and their families provide quality care in the kids' and families' communities; and

Whereas, This quality care is provided in a variety of settings, including community agencies, hospitals, residential facilities, foster families, emergency shelters and community and educational institutions, and seeks to provide resources and guidance that promotes the safety, well being and permanency of West Virginia's at-risk kids; and

Whereas, West Virginia's child welfare providers dedicate themselves to excellence in their profession through licensing, advocacy, education and professional development; and Maynard Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Bernard C. Maynard was born May 18, 1918, and raised by his grandmother. He died June 27, 2010. He served in the United States Army from June 15, 1942, until November 29, 1944. He was awarded the WWII Victory Medal, Philippine Liberation Ribbon, two Bronze Stars, American Theater Ribbon, Asiatic Pacific Theater Ribbon and a Good Conduct Medal. He married Maggie Hatfield in 1946. They had seven children, adopted two and also took in three other children in need of a home. All of the children are surviving except for one. There are twenty-three grandchildren and thirty-four great grandchildren. He worked in the coal mines, had black lung and retired from the board of education after ten years as a custodian. He helped with the recovery after the Buffalo Creek flood, attended Madison Creek Church until it flooded and then attended Neibert Missionary Baptist. He was also a member of a ham radio club; and

Whereas, It is only fitting that we so honor Bernard C. Maynard for his dedicated and selfless service to his country and for his contributions to Logan County; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name the bridge crossing Madison Creek between Logan and Man, approximately five hundred to six hundred feet below the new bridge at Rita Mall, in Logan County, known as the Midway Plate Girder Bridge, 0.01 mile south of West Virginia Route 10 near the intersection with the Guyandotte River, and NS Rail Road, bridge number 023-10-12.56, the “Tech 4 Grade, 185th Chemical Co., Bernard C. Maynard Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge as the “Tech 4 Grade, 185th Chemical Co., Bernard C. Maynard Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation and to the surviving children and relatives of Bernard C. Maynard.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Plymale, Beach, Stollings, Jenkins and Edgell offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 15—Requesting the Division of Highways to name bridge number 6-2-16.38, 0.73 miles south of County Route 1, on Route 2 in Cabell County, West Virginia, the “Army PFC Homer ‘Clyde’ Farley, Silver Star Recipient, and Army PFC Max O. Farley, Double Bronze Star Recipient, Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Private Homer Farley was born in 1929; and

Whereas, In 1950 Private Homer Farley was in Japan with the 25th I.D., 35th Infantry Regiment; and

Whereas, When war broke out in Korea on June 24, 1950, the 24th Division was the only unit in Korea and was quickly overrun by the masses of NKPA Innum Gun units marching southward toward Pusan. Private Homer Farley's division arrived in Korea on or about July 10, 1950, along with some small numbers of infantry of the 1st Cavalry Division; and

Whereas, The United States forces were pressed into an area and were in jeopardy of being pushed off the Korea peninsula by the overwhelming forces against them when Lt. General Walton Walker, under the command of Supreme Commander Douglas MacArthur, gave a "stand or die" order to troops in Korea and stated, "We will not have another Dunkirk"; and

Whereas, Private Homer Farley's company was attacked on August 18, 1950, and while many of his unit fled the NKP Army, Private Homer Farley got up in the back of a jeep and started firing a .50 caliber machine gun into the enemy. He most certainly took out many of the enemy soldiers to help hold the position but was killed in action that day. For his instantaneous and selfless actions he was awarded the Silver Star for Gallantry in Action, the third-highest military award; and

Whereas, Private Homer Farley was also awarded the Purple Heart, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the National Defense Service Medal, the Korean Service Medal, the United Nations Service Medal, the Korean Presidential Unit Citation and the Republic of Korea Service Medal; and

Whereas, It is a sad coincidence that Private Homer Farley was killed on his brother Max Owen Farley's eighteenth birthday, August 18, 1950. His family was sent a letter from Ira P. Swift, later the Major General commanding the 25th I.D., expressing sorrow and regret for Private Homer Farley's death; and

Whereas, Private Homer Farley is buried in Greenbottom Cemetery, Greenbottom, in Cabell County; and

Whereas, Private Max Farley enlisted in March, 1951, and was sent to Germany for the Allied Occupation of that country following World War II. He was prevented from going to Korea, as he wanted to fight, by his mother when she called her U. S. Senator and told him that she had one son killed in Korea and did not want another one to suffer the same fate; and

Whereas, Private Max Farley was blocked from entering the Korean War for months until it was opened up to volunteer status and his mother could not prevent him from going there and fighting in the war effort. Private Max Farley was assigned to the 40th Infantry Division and received two Bronze Stars for Valor which is given for “Heroism in action against an armed enemy of the United States”. The Bronze Star is the fourth-highest military medal that a soldier can receive; and

Whereas, Private Max Farley also served with the 3rd Armored Division’s 894th Tank Destroyer Battalion at Fort Knox for three years with one year in Iceland to provide security to that country against a possible Soviet attack; and

Whereas, Private Max Farley passed away of lung cancer on June 29, 2007, at the Hospice House in Huntington; and

Whereas, Both Farley brothers served their country and their state with great distinction of honor, Private Homer Farley having made the ultimate sacrifice. It is fitting and proper that they be remembered and acknowledged for their courageous actions and service; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 6-2-16.38, 0.73 miles south of County Route 1, on Route 2 in Cabell County, West Virginia, the “Army PFC Homer ‘Clyde’ Farley, Silver Star Recipient, and Army PFC Max O. Farley, Double Bronze Star Recipient, Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge

as the “Army PFC Homer ‘Clyde’ Farley, Silver Star Recipient, and Army PFC Max O. Farley, Double Bronze Star Recipient, Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways, C. David Farley and the families of Army PFC Homer “Clyde” Farley and Army PFC Max O. Farley.

Senators Edgell, Kessler (Mr. President), Unger, Plymale, Stollings, D. Hall, Jenkins and Fitzsimmons offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 16—Expressing the support of the Legislature of urging Congress to revise the Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Reform Act of 2012.

Whereas, In 1968, the United States Congress created the National Flood Insurance Program, allowing the purchase of flood insurance as an alternative to disaster relief; and

Whereas, This program is now deeply in debt following the widespread devastation caused by Hurricane Katrina and Superstorm Sandy; and

Whereas, In 2012, the United States Congress passed the Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Reform Act of 2012 to bolster the National Flood Insurance Program; and

Whereas, Due to this act, many West Virginia residents and businesses have seen their flood insurance premiums greatly increase; and

Whereas, Many of those affected by increasing flood insurance premiums have historically lived outside of a recognized floodplain; and

Whereas, Floodplain maps are created and administered by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, located outside of West Virginia; and

Whereas, There is a large cost being placed on West Virginia cities and property owners to appeal the incorrect maps; and

Whereas, Traditionally, flood insurance rates have been regionally based, where similar risk factors and like properties are insured; and

Whereas, There is a distinct difference between inland flooding in West Virginia, which often results in permanent residences being cleaned and rehabbed, and coastal flooding, which primarily affects vacation homes that are completely lost; and

Whereas, Under the new law, inland areas and coastal regions are insured together; and

Whereas, This has caused property owners of low-risk primary residences to subsidize flood insurance for vacation homes that are intentionally built in high-risk coastal areas; and

Whereas, While this act is laudable in its intent, it has resulted in an unfair burden and hardship placed on West Virginia residents and businesses; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature expresses the support of urging Congress to revise the Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Reform Act of 2012; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Legislature hereby strongly urges the United States Congress to revisit and revise the Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Reform Act of 2012, in hopes that the unfair burden and hardship placed on West Virginia residents and businesses can be removed; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to members of the West Virginia congressional delegation, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate and the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 17—Requesting the Division of Highways to name bridge number 13-2-0.01, located in Greenbrier County, the “Sgt. James Lee Holcomb Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, James Lee Holcomb was born and raised in Russellville, West Virginia; and

Whereas, After attending Nuttall High School, James Lee Holcomb enlisted in the United States Army; and

Whereas, James Lee Holcomb completed his basic training in Fort Benning, Georgia, and went on to serve in the Panama Canal Zone and then in Korea for thirteen months; and

Whereas, James Lee Holcomb answered the call of duty in Vietnam, where he was wounded twice and received the Combat Infantry Badge and the Bronze Star Medal; and

Whereas, On November 1, 1966, James Lee Holcomb made the ultimate sacrifice for his country when he was killed in action in Vietnam, leaving behind a wife, two children, his siblings and a host of family and friends; and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor the life of James Lee Holcomb by naming this bridge as an everlasting tribute to his memory; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 13-2-0.01, located in Greenbrier County, the “Sgt. James Lee Holcomb Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge as the “Sgt. James Lee Holcomb Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways.

Senators Prezioso, Plymale, Edgell, Unger, Stollings, Laird, Kessler (Mr. President), Snyder, Jenkins, McCabe, Beach, Fitzsimmons and D. Hall offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 18—Recognizing that any additional cuts to the funding for higher education institutions would be detrimental to the growth and the financial well being of West Virginia.

Whereas, Tuition rates have risen five to ten percent each year, both within the state and nationwide; and

Whereas, Future cuts to higher education would perpetuate the perplexing problem of tuition rate increases, making higher education less accessible to West Virginia students; and

Whereas, Retention rates among West Virginia higher education institutions are falling, and higher tuition rates will continue the downward trend of students not completing their two-year and four-year degrees; and

Whereas, Textbook prices have risen threefold the rate of inflation since 1960; and

Whereas, Last year's seven and one-half percent cuts created fiscal hurdles for West Virginia higher education institutions during a time of economic instability; and

Whereas, West Virginia's higher education institutions give a substantial return on investment for every dollar spent; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby recognizes that any additional cuts to the funding for higher education institutions would be detrimental to the growth and the financial well being of West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That budgetary cuts to higher education in West Virginia will not help the serious economic and educational issues that face the state, nor would cuts allow an optimal return on investment; and, be it

Further Resolved, That to achieve a modern and robust economy, educational investment must be a priority; and, be it

Further Resolved, That maintaining reasonable tuition rates that are directly correlated to the retention rates among students in higher education institutions will result in significant economic benefits; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Governor of West Virginia.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Green, D. Hall, Laird, Miller, Tucker, Yost, Wells, Stollings, Jenkins and Carmichael offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 9—Urging construction of a 120-bed state veterans’ nursing home on the Department of Agriculture property in Beckley, West Virginia, adjacent to the state-owned Jackie Withrow Hospital, formerly known as Pinecrest Hospital.

Whereas, The West Virginia Veterans Coalition was established in 1996 to bring the veterans’ service organizations together to present issues concerning the 220,000 veterans residing in the State of West Virginia to the Governor and the Legislature; and

Whereas, The West Virginia Veterans Coalition established a prioritized list of issues to be addressed and their top priority is the construction of a 120-bed state veterans’ nursing home on the Department of Agriculture property in Beckley beside the state Jackie Withrow Hospital, formerly known as Pinecrest Hospital; and

Whereas, The current West Virginia veterans' nursing home located in Clarksburg, adjacent to the Louis A. Johnson Veterans' Administration Medical Center, is currently at its maximum capacity and has a large waiting list for admission; and

Whereas, With a veteran population of over 220,000 there is an overwhelming need for additional nursing home beds to accommodate our veterans as they become unable to take care of themselves; and

Whereas, The current number of veterans in the Beckley Veterans Administration Medical Center catchment area is in excess of 39,000 veterans and the Beckley VAMC only has fifty extended care rehabilitation care beds; and

Whereas, The construction of the West Virginia veterans' nursing home in Clarksburg gave our veterans in that area an outstanding place to spend their final years with fellow veterans, and veterans have the same need in the Beckley area; and

Whereas, The veterans of West Virginia should be treated with dignity and respect and be allowed to spend their final days with fellow veterans in a facility which reflects our state's appreciation for their service and sacrifices; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby urges construction of a 120-bed state veterans' nursing home on the Department of Agriculture property in Beckley, West Virginia, adjacent to the state-owned Jackie Withrow Hospital, formerly known as Pinecrest Hospital; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the West Virginia Veterans Coalition, the Governor of West Virginia and the Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Veterans' Assistance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Whereas, The membership of Leadership Berkeley includes individuals from nearly every facet of Berkeley County's business, professional, religious, governmental, educational, civic, the arts, organized labor and minority organizations who demonstrate a commitment to the community; and

Whereas, In July, 1962, Sergeant Kittle married Betty Irene Wilt Kittle. They had two children, Richard Nicholas Kittle and Randall Lee Kittle; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was a career soldier who first entered the Army in July, 1958, after attending Tygarts Valley High School. He served several tours of duty in Europe with the Seventh Army and, in 1961, was involved with activities surrounding the Berlin Wall Crisis while serving with the 51st Infantry in Germany; and

Whereas, In 1965 Sergeant Kittle arrived in Vietnam where he served as a helicopter gunner and a paratrooper in Company C, Second Battalion, Seventh Cavalry, and First Air Cavalry Division (Airmobile). Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was killed as a result of hostile action while on a search-and-destroy mission during the Battle of Ia Drang Valley. He died during the second wave of North Vietnamese attacks on November 17, 1965, at the age of twenty-five. A month later, December 24, 1965, his second son, Randall Lee Kittle, was born; and

Being a native of Huttonsville, he was also the first Randolph County soldier to be killed in the Vietnam War. He is buried at the Old Brick Cemetery in Huttonsville along with his parents and other family members; and

Whereas, The Battle at Ia Drang Valley set the tone for the remainder of the Vietnam War as American forces continued to rely on air mobility and heavy fire support; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was awarded the Purple Heart, the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal, the National Defense Medal, the Army Good Conduct Medal, the Seventh Cavalry Garry Owen Patch and the Combat Infantry Badge; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle's name is listed on the Vietnam Memorial Wall in Washington, D. C., Panel 3E, Row 82; and

Whereas, The battle in which Sergeant Kittle died was documented in the 1965 CBS Special Report "Battle of Ia Drang Valley" and in the book "We Were Soldiers Once . . . and Young" by Lieutenant General Hal Moore and reporter Joseph Galloway, who was also at the battle. That book also served as the basis of the 2002 movie "We Were Soldiers" starring Mel Gibson; and

Whereas, Two local articles also chronicled the book and movie's significance to West Virginia and the people of Randolph County. The headlines read: "Current Vietnam Film has Personal Meaning for Area Residents" in the March 9, 2002, issue of The Elkins Inter-Mountain newspaper and "We Were Solders: West Virginia Veterans Remember Battle at Ia Drang Valley" in the March 7, 2002, issue of the Charleston Gazette newspaper. They are archived at the Culture Center in Charleston and in the Wise Library in Morgantown. Sergeant Kittle's November 22, 1965, obituary is also archived at The Elkins Inter-Mountain newspaper library (Vol. LIX No. 45); and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 28—Requesting the Division of Highways to name the stretch of road on CR 10/17, approximately at mile post 1.22 as measured on Google Earth from the intersection of CR 10/17 and CR 710/6, a distance of 0.78 miles beyond the indicated point in Lyburn, Logan County, the “Joshua Walls Memorial Highway”.

Whereas, Joshua Walls was born October 16, 1987, to Terry (deceased) and Diana Walls. He had three sisters: Shawn Walls, Sandy Walls and Terri Walls, all deceased. He died January 18, 2012. Josh was a graduate of Man High School, class of 2005, attended Lyburn Freewill Baptist Church and was loved; and

Whereas, Josh, his father and his sister Terri all passed away from the same disease, dyskeratosis congenita. It was believed that Josh would not live past the age of eighteen, but he lived to be twenty-four years of age. He rarely complained about his illness. It is only fitting that we honor Joshua Walls and provide awareness of the disease that took his life, for his dedicated and selfless contributions to his community and Logan County in the face of this debilitating disease; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name the stretch of road on CR 10/17, approximately at mile post 1.22 as measured on Google Earth from the intersection of CR 10/17 and CR 710/6, a distance of 0.78 miles beyond the indicated point in Lyburn, Logan County, the “Joshua Walls Memorial Highway”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the stretch of road as the “Joshua Walls Memorial Highway”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation and to the surviving relatives of Joshua Walls.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Plymale, Kirkendoll, Kessler (Mr. President), Wells, Stollings, Jenkins and Yost offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 21—Urging Supervalu, Inc., to reconsider and reverse its decision to close its warehouse in Milton, West Virginia.

Whereas, Supervalu, Inc., is a grocery industry leader, serving customers through more than three thousand four hundred owned, licensed, franchised and affiliated stores across the country; and

Whereas, Supervalu, Inc., owns and operates a warehouse in Milton, West Virginia, employing nearly one hundred people with well-paying West Virginia jobs, where the rates range from $17.00 to a little over $21.00 per hour, in addition to health care and pension benefits; and

Whereas, On Monday, January 13, 2014, Supervalu, Inc., notified union representatives and their employees that it intended to close the Milton, West Virginia, warehouse effective in April, 2014; and

Whereas, The closure of this facility would be devastating not only to the individuals and families who would be directly affected, but to the local economy and to West Virginia's economy; and

Whereas, As the Milton, West Virginia, warehouse has been historically recognized as an efficient operation, the Senate is calling on Sam Duncan, President and Chief Executive Officer of Supervalu, Inc., and its board of directors to explore all options to keep the warehouse open for business; and

Whereas, The Senate also calls on Sam Duncan, President and Chief Executive Officer of Supervalu, Inc., and its board of directors to work with our local, county, state and federal government leaders to save the jobs of these employees and to avoid the economic loss to West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate urges Supervalu, Inc., to reconsider and reverse its decision to close its warehouse in Milton, West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate pledges its support in working with local, county and federal government leaders, as well as with Sam Duncan, President and Chief Executive Officer of Supervalu, Inc., and its board of directors to ensure the warehouse remains open for business; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to Sam Duncan, President and Chief Executive Officer of Supervalu, Inc., and its board of directors.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Your Committee on Health and Human Resources has had under consideration

Whereas, The Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program is a beneficial federal program which provides federal funds to the state in the effort of relieving the financial burden of purchasing food for those who qualify; and

Whereas, The purchase of certain food items is not conducive to living a healthy lifestyle; and

Whereas, One of the most critical challenges facing our state is reducing obesity as West Virginia has one of the highest obesity rates in the United States. Its implications for our health, our medical care system, our state's budget and our communities are profound; and

Whereas, West Virginia was ranked as one of the worst states with heart-related illness according to the American Heart Association, has one of the highest rates of diabetes in the United States and has one of the poorest ratings of oral health in the country; and

Whereas, West Virginia and other states are precluded from taking action to limit SNAP purchases for unhealthy foods and beverages and from providing incentives for the purchase of fresh fruits and vegetables until the United States Congress addresses the issue within the Department of Agriculture concerning their Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program by altering the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008; and

Whereas, In addition to the nutrition problem, fraud and abuse of the SNAP system is rampant; and

Whereas, Both beneficiaries who sell their SNAP benefits for cash online and retailers who receive fraudulent PIN numbers and collect funds cost the program millions of dollars; and

Whereas, In the last ten years, more than eight thousand retailers have been disqualified for participating in fraud, and in the last year alone, more than forty-four thousand individuals have been disqualified thanks to state government investigations; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby urges the United States Congress to amend the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 to address the issue of stipulations of the Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program in relation to encouraging the program to allow purchases of healthy food items and to discourage fraud; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate urges the United States Congress to take up the issue to adopt SNAP regulations that would prohibit the use of SNAP moneys to purchase unhealthy food items and to allow states to provide incentives for SNAP dollars spent on healthy fruit and vegetables; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate encourages the United States Congress to enact legislation that requires greater controls on required identification, including photographs on SNAP benefit cards, for the use of SNAP benefits in an effort to thwart fraud and abuse; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and each member of West Virginia's congressional delegation.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

Whereas, William Harrison “Bill” Withers, Jr., a singer, songwriter and musician, was born July 4, 1938, in the small coal mining town of Slab Fork, West Virginia. He was the youngest of six children and raised in nearby Beckley, West Virginia. His father died when Bill was thirteen; and

Whereas, Bill Withers enlisted in the United States Navy at age seventeen and served for nine years, during which time he became interested in singing and writing songs. Bill was discharged from the Navy in 1965, and he relocated to Los Angeles in 1967 to begin a musical career. He worked as an assembler for several different companies, including Douglas Aircraft Corporation, while recording demo tapes with his own money and performing in clubs at night. Bill would keep his day job as an assembler well after his subsequent breakthrough success in the music business because of his belief that it was a fickle industry; and

Whereas, On the strength of Bill’s demonstration tapes, he was signed to a record deal by Sussex Records in 1970 and Booker T. Jones was assigned to produce his first album. “Just as I Am” was released in 1971 and included the single tracks, “Ain’t No Sunshine” and “Grandma’s Hands”. Bill won the 1972 Grammy Award for best R&B Song for “Ain’t No Sunshine” and he was also awarded a R. I. A. A. platinum disc for the song. Bill Withers’ second album, “Still Bill”, which was described as “a stone-soul masterpiece” by Rolling Stone magazine, was released in 1972 and included the hit singles “Lean on Me” and “Use Me”. The single “Lean on Me” went to number one the week of July 8, 1972, and Bill was awarded a R. I. A. A. gold disc for the song. The single “Use Me” became his third million seller and brought him another gold disc award. Bill won a second Grammy Award in 1982 for Best R&B Song for “Just the Two of Us”, which was recorded with Grover Washington, Jr.; and

Whereas, Bill Withers was inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame in 2005, and he was honored by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in 2006 with the society’s Rhythm & Soul Heritage Award, which is presented to ASCAP members who have had a major impact on the legacy of rhythm and soul music. Additional honors include multiple Millionaires citations from Broadcast Music Incorporated (BMI); a Soul Train Hall of Fame award; two NAACP Image awards; induction into the inaugural class of the West Virginia Music Hall of Fame; and a Clio award. In 2007 “Lean on Me” was enshrined in the Grammy Hall of Fame; and

Whereas, In addition to his outstanding musical contributions, Bill Withers has also done good works for his native area, including generously donating to help restore Greenwood Memorial Park Cemetery in Beckley and commissioning a painting entitled “Grandma’s Hands” for display at Tamarack in Beckley; and

Whereas, It is only fitting that we recognize Bill Withers for his many accomplishments and for the pride he has instilled in all West Virginians by placing this marker in the town of his birth; therefore, be it

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 32—Requesting the Division of Highways name bridge number 7-5-3.52 (07A069), on County Route 5 crossing the Little Kanawha River in Calhoun County, the “U. S. Army Sergeant Robert Odell Orders Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders was born on March 5, 1926, in Pliny, West Virginia, to W. R. Orders, a bridge builder, and his wife, Beulah; and

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders, after graduating from St. Albans High School in the spring of 1944, joined the U. S. Army only two months after his older brother Kermit died in a P-38 crash in Italy; and

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders served his country in the Pacific Theater during World War II, reached the rank of Sergeant, saw action in the Philippines and sailed into Tokyo Harbor the day after the Japanese surrender; and

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders entered West Virginia University in the fall of 1946 and earned a degree in civil engineering; and

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders, while in Morgantown, met Kathryn Jean Hager of Charleston and married her in 1949; and

Whereas, Upon graduating from West Virginia University, Robert Orders built bridges with his father as half of W. R. Orders and Son; and

Whereas, W. R. Orders and Son's construction of the Annamoriah Bridge, which replaced a ferry across the Little Kanawha River in 1957, secured financial stability for Robert Orders' family and enabled them to return home to West Virginia permanently after a year of living in Aurora, Illinois; and

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders founded Orders Construction Company in 1964, shepherding the business through its formative phase and leading its ascent to becoming one of the most respected construction firms in the state; and

Whereas, Orders Construction Company would eventually build hundreds of bridges across West Virginia in the following fifty years, generating nearly $1 billion of construction work; and

Whereas, Orders Construction Company rebuilt the first landmark Annamoriah Bridge in 2012; and

Whereas, Robert Odell Orders was also known as "Bridge Bob" and passed away on July 4, 2013, leaving behind his wife; children Bob Orders, Jr., and wife Ann and Kathy Lane and husband David; grandchildren Nate Orders and wife Melissa, Chris Orders, Meg Laing and husband Malcolm, Andy Lane and Becca Lane and husband Scott; and numerous great grandchildren; and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor Robert Odell Orders, a respected member of the bridge-building industry, past President of the Contractors Association of West Virginia, a National Director of the Associated General Contractors (AGC) of America, a member of many organizations' boards and a charter member of the West Virginia University Academy of Civil Engineers for Distinguished Alumni, for his prolific contribution to West Virginia's transportation infrastructure; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 7-5-3.52 (07A069), on County Route 5 crossing the Little Kanawha River in Calhoun County, the “U. S. Army Sergeant Robert Odell Orders Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge as the “U. S. Army Sergeant Robert Odell Orders Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways and the family of Robert Odell Orders.

Senators Chafin, Stollings, Cole, Plymale and Jenkins offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 33—Requesting the Division of Highways to name County Route 15 in Mercer County, between mileposts 0.00 and 5.1 from Bramwell, West Virginia, to Montcalm, West Virginia, the “River Road Music Heritage Trail”.

Whereas, The Bluestone River, originating with a trickle out of a spring at East River Mountain, flows its course to the mighty Bluestone Dam in Summers County, West Virginia; and

Whereas, Rock cliffs, small waterfalls, springs and gorges all make up the beauty of the Bluestone River’s seventy-seven miles; and

Whereas, The Bluestone River grows wider and deeper as it collects these mountain streams and creeks; and

Whereas, The Bluestone River collects Simmons Creek at Bramwell and Lorton Lick at Montcalm, the beginning of the River Road; and

Whereas, River Road flows along the Bluestone River and the original Norfolk & Western Railroad line; and

Whereas, The Bluestone River is a geographic divider of coal to its northwest. It was this rich seam of Pocahontas coal that created a coal boom in the 1880s. It was the new industry of coal mining that brought families to southern West Virginia for jobs in mining, railroading and related industries; and

Whereas, These pioneer families brought not only hard-working ethics but also their talents and gifts; and

Whereas, From Simmons Creek to Lorton Lick six families gave the world the enduring gift of their musical heritage; and

Whereas, Working hard for a living from sunrise, relaxation was spent on front porches at dusk, listening to the lonesome whistle of coal and passenger trains chugging up the river, and playing music and singing songs handed down to younger generations. Neighbors up and down the River Road were serenaded at twilight by these families; and

Whereas, The Goins brothers, the Dillon family, the Kirby family, the Duncan family and West Virginia's own Hazel Dickens are well known for their contributions to bluegrass, gospel, traditional mountain music and even rock and roll; and

Whereas, These families made unquantifiable contributions to music during almost a century in the early days of coal; and

Whereas, As Lorton Lick empties into the Bluestone River, the community of Montcalm sprang up, where Hazel Dickens grew up on a mountainside there, overlooking the river; and

Whereas, Hazel Dickens spent a lifetime making others feel good with her songs; and

Whereas, Hazel Dickens' final resting place is in Mercer County; and

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that in this, the 151st year of the State of West Virginia and the 126th year of Bramwell, West Virginia, that the Legislature of West Virginia recognizes the legendary families of bluegrass, gospel and traditional mountain music who were born and grew up along the Bluestone River with the gift of music in their hearts and a desire to share that gift with the world; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name County Route 15 in Mercer County, between mileposts 0.00 and 5.1 from Bramwell, West Virginia, to Montcalm, West Virginia, the "River Road Music Heritage Trail"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name each one-mile stretch of the "River Road Music Heritage Trail" as "The Goins Brothers Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Dillon Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Kirby Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Raines Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail" and "The Hazel Dickens Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", respectively, with "The Hazel Dickens Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail" concluding in Montcalm, West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the "River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Goins Brothers Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Dillon Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail", "The Kirby Family Mile of the River

Road Music Heritage Trail”, “The Raines Family Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail” and “The Hazel Dickens Mile of the River Road Music Heritage Trail”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation and to the Mayor of Bramwell, West Virginia.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Edgell, Unger, Kessler (Mr. President), Stollings and Plymale offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 34—Requesting the Division of Highways to name the bridge north of Middlebourne, on Route 18 near the turnoff to Sellers Road in Tyler County, the “Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault was born in Wheeling, West Virginia, and spent ten years of his life residing in Middlebourne, West Virginia; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault attended and graduated from Tyler Consolidated High School in 1998 where he played football and baseball; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault reenlisted in the National Guard and took his wife’s place when she was recalled to active duty so she could stay stateside and care for their children; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault left his small community to serve and protect the citizens of this great land and the Constitution of this great nation; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault was dedicated to his school, friends and community where he spent an important stint during his life; and

Whereas, Sadly, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault gave his life forever and always on April 9, 2008, serving his country during Operation Iraqi Freedom; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault's memory leaves a proud smile on the faces of the citizens of Tyler County, recounting his grand adventure of twenty-eight years as a student, friend, family member, husband, father and warrior soldier; and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor the life of Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault by naming this bridge in his memory as an everlasting tribute to his service and sacrifice to his country; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name the bridge north of Middlebourne, on Route 18 near the turnoff to Sellers Road in Tyler County, the "Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault Memorial Bridge"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge as the "Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault Memorial Bridge"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senate Resolution No. 29—Recognizing the dedicated service of West Virginia's family physicians to the Legislature on the 25th anniversary of the Doc for a Day Program.

Whereas, In 1989, the West Virginia Academy of Family Physicians began a free medical service program to the West Virginia Legislature during its regular session, known as the Doc for a Day Program; and

Whereas, The Doc for a Day Program is provided at the State Capitol Building by volunteer family physicians from around the state during each day of the legislative session to legislators, staff, government officials and the general public visiting the Capitol Complex; and

Whereas, The Doc for a Day Program is also an educational training and health service forum for medical residents and faculty from the Charleston Division of the West Virginia Medical School and the Marshall University School of Medicine; and

Whereas, The Doc for a Day Program is greatly enhanced in its delivery of medical and emergency services by Capitol Complex Nurse Holly Smith and through strong support by the West Virginia Division of Protective Services; and

Whereas, In addition to providing medical care for cuts, bruises, coughs, colds and flu, the Doc for a Day Program has also provided medical treatment for serious life-threatening injuries and illnesses, including: hypertension, heart attacks, respiratory arrest, aneurysms, strokes, broken bones, head trauma, appendicitis, pneumonia, kidney stones and major lacerations; and

Whereas, Over forty-five thousand patients have received high-quality medical care without charge from the Doc for a Day Program and the knowledge and expertise in family medicine by these physicians and the willingness to share their volunteer medical service has been and continues to be greatly appreciated; and

Whereas, The Doc for a Day Program has served as a model for free medical care programs by many other state legislatures across this nation and has been highly recognized by the American Academy of Family Physicians; and

Whereas, The Second Regular Session of the 81st Legislature marks the 25th anniversary of the Doc for a Day Program; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes the dedicated service of West Virginia's family physicians to the Legislature on the 25th anniversary of the Doc for a Day Program; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate hereby extends its sincere appreciation to the West Virginia Academy of Family Physicians for its outstanding free medical program to the West Virginia Legislature on the 25th anniversary of the Doc for a Day Program; and, be it

Whereas, Lance Corporal Larry G. Williamson was born on February 9, 1947, in Lincoln County to John B. and Georgia Napier Williamson. He had three sisters, Patty Egnor, Peggy Perry (deceased) and Robin Williamson. Larry attended Harts High School, played varsity basketball, was on the school newspaper and was secretary/treasurer of his senior class. He graduated in 1964 and attended Marshall University’s Logan branch for two years. He received basic training at Camp Pendleton, California, and after a brief visit home was ordered to Vietnam and assigned to the 5th Marine Division. He soon received a promotion to Lance Corporal. In Vietnam, Larry was assigned as a squad leader in the First Platoon of Company G. On March 11, 1970, the squad was acting as a blocking force and was located approximately two miles northeast of An Hoa Combat Base in Quang Nam Province. Lance Corporal Larry G. Williamson was killed when a well-concealed explosive device detonated. A squad corpsman rushed to his aid but death had been instantaneous. Lance Corporal Larry G. Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 38—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study options for gradually combining West Virginia’s early childhood programs into a comprehensive system of services for children.

Whereas, Current brain research shows that the brain is most active and most susceptible to experiences during the first three years of life.

A number of early childhood programs currently operating within the state government have differing visions, goals and service populations; and

Whereas, Child care services within the Bureau for Children and Families have traditionally focused on work support, but the educational component should be prioritized and enhanced to improve outcomes for families and children. West Virginia invests in child care services to improve outcomes for both children and adults. The state would benefit by maximizing the potential of existing programs by combining services and creating unified vision, goals and measurable outcomes for the combined childhood programs; and

Whereas, All parties would be best served by consolidating services for young children to reduce confusion regarding the variety of programs and to promote the comprehensive developmental needs of young children; and

Whereas, To create a comprehensive program in which West Virginia's early childhood programs work jointly to maximize investments in the well-being of young children, various models of governance should be studied; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study options for gradually combining West Virginia's early childhood programs into a comprehensive system of services for children; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study options to transfer the Division of Early Care and Education and the Head Start State Collaborative to create a unified vision for early childhood; and, be it

Senator Miller, from the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 42 (originating in the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance conduct a study of topics related to permit requirements for farmers market vendors, including the suitability of the permits, licenses and certifications required to vend at a farmers market, as well as the appropriateness of the fees scale for the permits and their transferability across county lines.

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes a rising and existing consumer-driven market interested in purchasing locally grown food, which keeps food dollars circulating in the state's economy; and

Whereas, Farmers markets are critical incubators for small farm and food businesses because they offer an accessible, entry-level market for reaching consumers directly; and

Whereas, The number of farmers markets and the variety of products sold at farmers markets in West Virginia has increased significantly in the past ten years; and

Whereas, One study by the West Virginia Farmers Market Association found that the state's roughly ninety farmers markets contributed over $4 million to the state's economy in just a six-month period, from July to December, 2012; and

Whereas, One study by the West Virginia Food and Farm Coalition finds that increasing West Virginia farm production to meet the state's in-season demand for fresh fruit and vegetables would create over one thousand seven hundred jobs and add over $120 million to the state's economy; and

Whereas, A 2013 study by the West Virginia Food and Farm Coalition and the West Virginia Farmers Market Association finds that permit fees and requirements for farmers market vendors can vary widely from county to county, and sometimes from one regulatory official to the other. A survey conducted as part of this study found forty-three percent of vendors reporting significant variation in requirements from county to county; and

Whereas, Current food establishment permit categories are not designed for farmers markets and their vendors, but rather for restaurants, grocery stores or concessioners; and

Whereas, A 2012 study by the West Virginia Farmers Market Association finds that farmers market vendors average just $152 in sales on any given market day; and

Whereas, Permits required for farmers market vendors are currently not recognized across county lines, putting additional regulatory and fiscal burdens on vendors selling in more than one county; and

Whereas, The Legislature has found that encouraging locally grown and raised food is important to protect the health and welfare of the citizens of West Virginia; and

Whereas, The Legislature recognizes the importance of strengthening our local and regional food systems for local and regional economic development and health; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study permit requirements for farmers market vendors, including the suitability of the permits, licenses and certifications required to vend at a farmers market, as well as the appropriateness of the fees scale for permits and their transferability across county lines; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

February 19, 2014

The Honorable Jeffrey V. Kessler
President, West Virginia Senate
The Honorable Timothy Miley
Speaker, West Virginia House of Delegates
State Capitol
Charleston, West Virginia

Dear President Kessler and Speaker Miley:

After the submission of my recommended FY 2014 General Revenue Unappropriated Surplus Balance Supplemental Bill (SB 344/HB 4179) on January 14, 2014, there have been a few areas that require adjustments and, therefore, I would like to provide you with additional recommended revisions to the FY 2014 Surplus Supplemental Bill.

As the current fiscal year has progressed, the revenue collections are running behind the estimates for the first seven months of the year. The estimated year-end revenue deficit is now projected to be higher than the previous estimated deficit of $60 million.

The attached revision to this FY 2014 Surplus Supplemental Bill reduces $43 million of expirations and also reduces the recommended appropriation to Medicaid by $43 million. These changes, combined with my recommended adjustments to the FY 2014 General Revenue Supplemental Bill (SB 345/HB 4180) and the FY 2015 Budget Bill, will help to balance the current and upcoming fiscal years.

Thank you for your time and consideration of this matter. Your cooperation is always appreciated. Should you have any questions or require additional information, please call me at any time.

Sincerely,

Earl Ray Tomblin,
Governor.

§8-1-5a. Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program.

(a) Legislative findings. – The Legislature finds and declares that:

(1) The initial Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program brought innovative results, including novel municipal ideas that became municipal ordinances which later resulted in new statewide statutes;

(2) The initial Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program also brought novel municipal ideas that resulted in court challenges against some of the participating municipalities;

(3) The Municipal Home Rule Board was an essential part of the initial Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program but it lacked some needed powers and duties;

(4) Municipalities still face challenges delivering services required by federal and state law or demanded by their constituents;

(5) Municipalities are sometimes restrained by state statutes, policies and rules that challenge their ability to carry out their duties and responsibilities in a cost-effective, efficient and timely manner;

(6) Continuing the Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program is in the public interest; and

(7) Increasing the powers and duties of the Municipal Home Rule Board will enhance the Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program.

(b) Continuance of pilot program. – The Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program is continued until July 1, 2019. The ordinances enacted by the four participating municipalities pursuant to the initial Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program are hereby authorized and may remain in effect until the ordinances are repealed, but are null and void if amended and such amendment is not approved by the Municipal Home Rule Board: Provided, That any ordinance enacting a municipal occupation tax is hereby null and void.

(c) Authorizing participation. –

(1) Commencing July 1, 2013, twenty Class I, Class II, Class III and/or Class IV municipalities that are current in payment of all state fees may participate in the Municipal Home Rule Pilot Program pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(2) The four municipalities participating in the pilot program on July 1, 2012, are hereby authorized to continue in the pilot program and may amend current written plans and/or submit new written plans in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(d) Municipal Home Rule Board. – The Municipal Home Rule Board is hereby continued. The board members serving on the board on July 1, 2012, may continue to serve, except that the chair of the Senate Committee on Government Organization and the chair of the House Committee on Government Organization shall be ex officio nonvoting members. Whereas, William Harrison “Bill” Withers, Jr., a singer, songwriter and musician, was born on July 4, 1938, in the small coal mining town of Slab Fork, West Virginia. He was the youngest of six children and raised in nearby Beckley, West Virginia. His father died when Bill was thirteen; and

Whereas, Bill Withers enlisted in the United States Navy at age seventeen and served for nine years, during which time he became interested in singing and writing songs. Bill was discharged from the Navy in 1965, and he relocated to Los Angeles in 1967 to begin a musical career; and

Whereas, Bill Withers worked as an assembler for several different companies, including Douglas Aircraft Corporation, while recording demo tapes with his own money and performing in clubs at night. Bill would keep his day job as an assembler well after his subsequent breakthrough success in the music business because of his belief that it was a fickle industry; and

Whereas, On the strength of Bill's demonstration tapes, he was signed to a record deal by Sussex Records in 1970 and Booker T. Jones was assigned to produce his first album. "Just as I Am" was released in 1971 and included the single tracks, "Ain't No Sunshine" and "Grandma's Hands"; and

Whereas, Bill Withers won the 1972 Grammy Award for best R&B Song for "Ain't No Sunshine" and he was also awarded a R. I. A. A. platinum disc for the song. Bill Withers' second album, "Still Bill", which was described as "a stone-soul masterpiece" by Rolling Stone magazine, was released in 1972 and included the hit singles "Lean on Me" and "Use Me". The single "Lean on Me" went to number one the week of July 8, 1972, and Bill was awarded a R. I. A. A. gold disc for the song. The single "Use Me" became his third million seller and brought him another gold disc award. Bill won a second Grammy Award in 1982 for Best R&B Song for "Just the Two of Us", which was recorded with Grover Washington, Jr.; and

Whereas, Bill Withers was inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame in 2005, and he was honored by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in 2006 with the society's Rhythm & Soul Heritage Award, which is presented to ASCAP members who have had a major impact on the legacy of rhythm and soul music. Additional honors include multiple Millionaires citations from Broadcast Music Incorporated (BMI); a Soul Train Hall of Fame award; two NAACP Image awards; induction into the inaugural class of the West Virginia Music Hall of Fame; and a Clio award. In 2007 “Lean on Me” was enshrined in the Grammy Hall of Fame; and

Whereas, In addition to his outstanding musical contributions, Bill Withers has also done good works for his native area, including generously donating to help restore Greenwood Memorial Park Cemetery in Beckley and commissioning a painting entitled “Grandma’s Hands” for display at Tamarack in Beckley; and

Whereas, It is only fitting that we recognize Bill Withers for his many accomplishments and for the pride he has instilled in all West Virginians by placing this marker in the town of his birth; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to erect a sign near the intersection of Slab Fork Road, Amy Lane and Harlock Lane in Slab Fork, Raleigh County, West Virginia, on County Route 28/1 that states “Home of Bill Withers”, noted Grammy Award-winning recording artist; and, be it

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault reenlisted in the National Guard and took his wife’s place when she was recalled to active duty so she could stay stateside and care for their children; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault left his small community to serve and protect the citizens of this great land and the Constitution of this great nation; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault was dedicated to his school, friends and community where he spent an important stint during his life; and

Whereas, Sadly, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault gave his life forever and always on April 9, 2008, serving his country during Operation Iraqi Freedom; and

Whereas, Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault’s memory leaves a proud smile on the faces of the citizens of Tyler County, recounting his grand adventure of twenty-eight years as a student, friend, family member, husband, father and warrior soldier; and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor the life of Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault by naming this bridge in his memory as an everlasting tribute to his service and sacrifice to his country; therefore, be it

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 48-18-19.41 (48A101), locally known as Pleasant View Bridge, carrying Route 18 over Point Pleasant Creek, Tyler County, near the turnoff to Sellers Road, the "U. S. Army Staff Sgt. Jesse A. Ault Memorial Bridge"; and, be it

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 50—Requesting the Division of Highways to name that stretch of road on State Route 20 known as the Hinton Bypass between Beech Run Road and Temple Street in Hinton, Summers County, the “Marine Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway”.

Whereas, Mecot Eugene Camara was born in Hinton, West Virginia, on December 28, 1960, to Billie Jean Hoskins Camara, of American ancestry, and Prudencio Camara, of Philippine ancestry. He was raised and educated in Hinton where he met his high school sweetheart Tammy Ratliff. They eventually married on May 5, 1981. They had a son, Mecot Echo Camara, born on March 29, 1982; and

Whereas, Sgt. Mecot E. Camara enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps to serve the country he loved in 1981. He commenced basic training at Parris Island, South Carolina, on January 21, 1981, completing his training on April 4, 1981. This prideful and passionate American then served his country for two years, sacrificing his life after going into Beirut in 1983 as a member of the International Peacekeeping Force in May, 1983. Sgt. Mecot E. Camara lost his life in October, 1983, during a terrorist suicide bombing in the battlefield. He received awards and service recognition including Meritorious Mast, Purple Heart, Combat Action Ribbon, Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal, Navy Unit Commendation, Marine Corp Expeditionary Medal and Sea Service Deployment Ribbon. However, his greatest military achievement was that of being a distinguished U. S. Marine sergeant; and

Whereas, Sgt. Mecot E. Camara was survived by two beautiful sisters and one son, Threase Camara Riggs, Elisa M. Camara and Mecot Echo Camara. The Camara family continues to share the legacy of their beloved Sgt. Camara to inspire West Virginians and Americans that they can be heroes even from small towns and serve and be proud of the America, Land of the Free, while also protecting innocent lives around the world; and

Whereas, Sgt. Mecot E. Camara made the ultimate sacrifice for his country and in doing so represented West Virginia and his country with the highest levels of honor and courage and his sacrifice should not go unnoticed, and naming that stretch of road on State Route 20 known as the Hinton Bypass between Beech Run Road and Temple Street in Hinton, Summers County, the “Marine Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway” is an appropriate recognition of his patriotism, love of liberty and ultimate sacrifice for state and country; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name that stretch of road on State Route 20 known as the Hinton Bypass between Beech Run Road and Temple Street in Hinton, Summers County, the “Marine Sgt. Mecot E. Camara Memorial Highway”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of the Division of Highways is hereby requested to create signs at both ends of the highway, proclaiming this roadway to be the “Marine Sgt. Mecot Camara Memorial Road Highway”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways, Summers County Commission, and to Sgt. Camara’s sisters, Threase Camara Riggs and Elisa M. Camara, and his son, Mecot Camara.

Senators Chafin, Plymale, Jenkins, Green and Cole offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 51—Requesting the Division of Highways to name the bridge that crosses over Hurricane Creek in Wayne County on Route 37, 2.29 miles from the intersection with Route 52, the “Wilburn George ‘Button’ Meredith Memorial Bridge”.

Whereas, Wilburn George “Button” Meredith was born to Wilburn G. Meredith, Sr., and Rose Marie Meredith, and was a brother of Joe Frederick and John Franklin Daugherty; and

Whereas, Mr. Meredith went to Fort Gay Elementary School and Fort Gay High School, home of the Vikings, and was a resident of Fort Gay for forty-seven years; and

Whereas, Mr. Meredith met his wife, Melissa Meredith, when he was twelve years old. They were married during their senior year and were members of the last graduating class of Fort Gay High School. They had two children: A son, Justin Tyler Meredith, and a daughter, Kendra Rose Meredith; and

Whereas, Mr. Meredith always had a smile on his face and loved to joke with everyone. In his youth, Mr. Meredith was a volunteer fireman and volunteered on the Mountain Heritage Day Committee; and

Whereas, Mr. Meredith passed away on June 20, 2013, in Lincoln County, while employed as Transportation Crew Supervisor for the West Virginia Department of Highways, where he had worked for over twenty-three years; and

Whereas, The last year of Mr. Meredith’s life saw the birth of his first grandchild, Braxton Tyler Meredith. In December, 2013, his second grandchild, Meredith Ann Brewer, was born and his third grandchild is scheduled to enter this world April 3, 2014; and

Whereas, Mr. Meredith loved his family and his job and truly cared for the men and women he worked with. He knew many people, and was a true friend not only to those he knew but to total strangers as well. Mr. Meredith could see this bridge from his home and watched as it was being rebuilt. He never got to see it completed; and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor the life of Department of Highways employee Wilburn George “Button” Meredith by naming this bridge in his memory; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name the bridge that crosses over Hurricane Creek in Wayne County on State Route 37, 2.29 miles from the intersection with Route 52, the “Wilburn George ‘Button’ Meredith Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Senators Wells, Kessler (Mr. President), Plymale, Jenkins, D. Hall, Green, Edgell, Cookman, Yost and Unger offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 52—Requesting the Division of Highways to place signage along highways entering West Virginia honoring fallen veterans and Gold Star Families.

Whereas, More than ten thousand men and women from West Virginia have died during twentieth and twenty-first century military actions, either in combat or during the official period of conflict and prior to discharge from the military. The ultimate sacrifices made by these men and women for their country and West Virginia represent the highest levels of honor and courage and should not go unnoticed; and

Whereas, Gold Star Families are those families who have family members who died or were killed serving in the armed forces. They are the families of fallen military heroes, whether they gave their lives in Iraq, Afghanistan, Vietnam, Korea, WWII or another conflict; and

Whereas, Rather than attempt to acknowledge individually each of these fallen warriors and patriots by finding a bridge or stretch of road or highway to be named for the individual veterans, it would be a more worthy form of recognition, homage and honor to these heroes and heroines and the Gold Star Families if signage were erected at the highways that enter West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to place signage along highways entering West Virginia honoring fallen veterans and Gold Star Families; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of the Division of Highways is hereby requested to create and erect signs upon any highway entering the State of West Virginia on which a “Welcome to West Virginia” sign is posted, and any other highway the Division of Highways considers appropriate, posted at a distance of not more than one mile from each border crossing. Each sign shall read “West Virginia is proud to honor its fallen Veterans and Gold Star Families” and shall have affixed to it a gold star symbol similar to the design of the lapel pin approved under 10 U. S. C. § 1126; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Whereas, Deputy Treadway was born May 5, 1950, in Oak Hill, Fayette County; and

Whereas, Following his graduation from Fayetteville High School in 1969, Deputy Treadway joined the U. S. Marine Corps and served his country in Vietnam; and

Whereas, Upon returning home from Vietnam, Deputy Treadway attended the State Police Academy, graduating in November, 1973; and

Whereas, Deputy Treadway spent four and a half years serving first in the Fayetteville Police Department and later in the Fayette County Sheriff’s Department; and

Whereas, Deputy Treadway was tragically killed in the line of duty on October 8, 1975, near Hico, Fayette County, by an assailant, while he and his partner were rendering aid to a motorist; and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor Deputy Treadway’s life and service by naming Fayette Station Road after him; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

ARTICLE 18E. WEST VIRGINIA LAND REUSE AGENCY AUTHORIZATION ACT.

§31-18E-1. Short title.

This article may be known and cited as the West Virginia Land Reuse Agency Authorization Act.

§31-18E-2. Legislative findings.

The Legislature finds and declares that:

(1) Strong communities are important to the social and economic vitality of this state. Whether urban, suburban or rural, many communities are struggling to cope with vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent properties.

(2) Citizens of this state are affected adversely by vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent properties, including properties which have been vacated or abandoned due to mortgage foreclosure.

(3) Vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent properties impose significant costs on neighborhoods, communities, municipalities and counties by lowering property values, increasing fire and police protection costs, decreasing tax revenues and undermining community cohesion.

(4) Vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent properties contribute to blight, invite crime and pests and provide unsafe play spaces.

(5) There is an overriding public need to confront the problems caused by vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent properties through the creation of new tools to enable municipalities and counties to turn vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent spaces into vibrant places.

(6) Land reuse agencies, often called land banks in other jurisdictions, are one of the tools that municipalities and counties may use to facilitate the return of vacant, abandoned and tax-delinquent properties to productive use.

§31-18E-3. Definitions.

As used in this article:

(1) “Board” means the board of directors of a land reuse agency;

(2) “Deconstruct” means to attempt to remove salvageable pieces of a housing unit prior to or as part of demolition or renovation;

(3) “Financial institution” means a bank, savings association, operating subsidiary of a bank or savings association, credit union, association licensed to originate mortgage loans or an assignee of a mortgage or note originated by such an institution;

Whereas, In the past ten years, the Clay Center has provided science, music and art education opportunities to more than four hundred thousand students from fifty-three counties, and has gifted free musical instruments and lessons to over one thousand students in five West Virginia counties; and

Whereas, The Clay Center has provided ten years of world class entertainment, hosting four hundred fifty performances for over two hundred fifty thousand show goers; and

Whereas, More than 1.5 million people from all fifty states have visited the Clay Center since its opening in 2003; and

Whereas, Clay Center activities add approximately $16.4 million to West Virginia's economy each year; and

Whereas, The Clay Center provides a first-class cultural and social environment along with a higher sense of community and creativity for all citizens; and

Whereas, The Clay Center is and will continue to serve as the flagship for cultural offerings in the State of West Virginia; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes ten years of the statewide contributions of the Clay Center for the Arts and Sciences of West Virginia; and, be it

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and, at the request of Senator Unger, and by unanimous consent, returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Tucker, from the Committee on Banking and Insurance, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Banking and Insurance has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 56 (originating in the Committee on Banking and Insurance)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study consumer protection in the event of storm damage to the roofs of residential properties.

Whereas, Many residents of the State of West Virginia have suffered and will likely continue to suffer natural disasters that damage their homes and particularly their roofs; and

Whereas, Many West Virginians have purchased property and casualty insurance and rely on such insurance coverage for the payment of repair costs or replacement costs related to the roofs and roofing components of their homes that were damaged by storms, hail and other natural disasters; and

Whereas, West Virginia residents and roofing contractors may enter into residential roofing contracts with the expectation that payments for the work will be made solely from the proceeds of a property or casualty insurance policy; and

Whereas, Roofing contractors may induce homeowners to contract with them by means of offering them certain discounts that amount to being a reimbursement of their insurance deductible; and

Whereas, Homeowners may be induced into entering into roofing contracts because of a belief that all of the moneys due under such contract will be paid by insurance; and

Whereas, West Virginia homeowners may become legally responsible for part or all of the payments pursuant to such roofing contracts if their insurance carrier subsequently denies all or part of their insurance claim, even though they would not have entered into such contracts but for the expectation of insurance coverage; and

Whereas, Roofing contractors may expend time and money meeting with homeowners, inspecting roofs, preparing estimates, drafting contracts and purchasing roofing materials in anticipation that payments under roofing contracts will be made by the homeowner's insurance carrier; and

Whereas, The Legislature finds that the citizens of the State of West Virginia should be protected from being persuaded from entering into roofing contracts by incorrect or misleading insurance coverage information and monetary inducements that result in them being personally responsible for paying for such roofing work; and

Whereas, In order to protect West Virginia homeowners, their ability to obtain reasonably priced insurance, their ability to obtain correct insurance coverage information and their ready access to quality roofing contractors need all be considered; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study consumer protection in the event of storm damage to the roofs of residential properties; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Whereas, In most areas of West Virginia, the citizens are dependent on their local volunteer or part-volunteer fire companies or departments for residential and commercial building fire protection; and

Whereas, Many of these volunteer or part-volunteer fire companies or departments are experiencing significant financial difficulties in paying for their operating costs, including truck fuel, personal protective equipment, educational and training supplies, replacement equipment, uniforms and vehicles and other authorized expenditures as described in section eight-b, article fifteen, chapter eight of the Code of West Virginia; and

Whereas, Many of these volunteer or part-volunteer fire companies or departments are experiencing significant financial difficulties in paying for the departments' workers' compensation premiums and workers' compensation coverage is required for certification of the department by the State Fire Marshal; and

Whereas, Many of these volunteer or part-volunteer fire companies or departments are experiencing significant difficulties in recruiting new volunteers and retaining current volunteers because of the financial difficulties; and

Whereas, The additional revenues provided to these volunteer or part-volunteer fire companies or departments by the policy surcharge authorized by section thirty-three, article three, chapter thirty-three of the Code of West Virginia is reported to be insufficient to adequately support the maintenance of these fire companies or departments; therefore, be it

Which communication was received and referred to the Committee on Confirmations.

On motion of Senator Green, consideration of the nominations immediately hereinbefore reported was made a special order of business for Saturday, March 8, 2014, at 11 a.m.

The Senate proceeded to the sixth order of business.

Senators Chafin, Cole, Stollings, Jenkins and Green offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 58—Requesting the Division of Highways to name a portion of County Route 8, also known as Beech Creek Road, beginning at the Beech Creek Community Park and ending at County Route 8/03, in Mingo County, West Virginia, the “Valentine ‘Wall’ Hatfield Road”.

Whereas, Valentine “Wall” Hatfield settled his family in a log cabin in 1861 on Beech Creek Road. He married Jane Maynard, who was from a prominent family, and they had eleven children. However, Mr. Hatfield did not live to see his children become adults. His life was interrupted in the 1880s when he was sent to a Kentucky prison for a crime connected with an incident where three McCoy brothers were murdered in the aftermath of the killing of Ellison Hatfield; and

Whereas, Mr. Hatfield was the eldest brother of Devil Anse Hatfield, a justice of the peace and a partner in Devil Anse’s timber business. Unlike the other Hatfields, he voluntarily surrendered to Frank Phillips. Mr. Hatfield was convicted of the murder of the McCoy brothers and was given a life sentence in the Kentucky prison. He died six months later of unknown causes. Mr. Hatfield's body was buried in an unmarked grave, and its location remains unknown; and

Whereas, Mr. Hatfield always maintained his innocence and tried to be the peacemaker among the Hatfields; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name a portion of County Route 8, also known as Beech Creek Road, beginning at the Beech Creek Community Park and ending at County Route 8/03, in Mingo County, West Virginia, the "Valentine 'Wall' Hatfield Road"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs at both ends of the roadway identifying the road as the "Valentine 'Wall' Hatfield Road"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation and to Mr. Hatfield's only living grandchild, Irma Baisden.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Cann, Prezioso, Beach, Edgell, Plymale, Stollings, Unger and Green offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 59—Requesting the Division of Highways to name bridge number 17-79-117.174, on Interstate 79, in Anmoore, Harrison County, West Virginia, heading south, the "U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge", and heading north, the "Staff Sergeant Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge".

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was born in Caulonia, Reggio Calabria, Italy, October 28, 1920, and came to the United States in August,

1922, with his brother Celestino (Charley) and mother Maria Rosa Strangio Cavallaro and settled in Anmoore, West Virginia; and

Whereas, Benjamin Portaro was born in Caulonia, Reggio Calabria, Italy, March 8, 1921, and immigrated to Anmoore, West Virginia, with his family; and

Whereas, When World War II broke out, Nick Cavallaro and Benjamin Portaro both enlisted in the United States Army; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro participated in battles in North Africa and Sicily, Italy, and was one of the thousands of paratroopers dropped behind German lines the night before the invasion of Normandy, France; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was scheduled to come home on leave when the Battle of the Bulge broke out and his leave was canceled; and

Whereas, Sadly, Nick Cavallaro lost his life in battle at Fosse, Belgium, on January 3, 1945, leaving behind his mother, brother, sister Louise and a host of other family and friends; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro was awarded two Purple Heart Medals, the Bronze Star Medal and the Combat Infantryman Badge, as well as various medals by the French and Belgian governments; and

Whereas, Benjamin Portaro was a staff sergeant when he was discharged, having fought in two battles in France before fighting at the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium, where he was captured by German forces and eventually escaped; and

Whereas, Benjamin Portaro was awarded the Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart Medal, POW Medal, Good Conduct Medal, American Campaign Medal, European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal with two bronze service stars, World War II Victory Medal, Combat Infantryman Badge 1st Award, Honorable Service Lapel Button WWII and the Marksman Badge with Rifle Bar; and

Whereas, Nick Cavallaro and Benjamin Portaro were Italian immigrants, cousins and citizens of Anmoore, West Virginia, and fought for their adopted country of the United States of America; and

Whereas, It is fitting to recognize the service and sacrifice of cousins Nick Cavallaro and Benjamin Portaro by naming this bridge in their honor as an everlasting tribute to their memory; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 17-79-117.174, on Interstate 79, in Anmoore, Harrison County, West Virginia, heading south, the “U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”, and heading north, the “Staff Sergeant Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the bridge, heading south, as the “U. S. Army PFC Nick A. Cavallaro Memorial Bridge”, and heading north, the “Staff Sergeant Benjamin T. Portaro Memorial Bridge”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Prezioso, Edgell, Plymale, Stollings, Unger and Green offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 60—Requesting that the Division of Highways name a section of Marion County Route 1, Marion County, West Virginia, from mile post 4.54 to mile post 9.15, the “USAF Sergeant Jerome E. Kiger Memorial Road”.

Whereas, Jerome Elwood Kiger was born in Mannington, Marion County, West Virginia, on December 26, 1921, the son of Jasper Newton Kiger and Mary Peal Kiger; and

Whereas, Jerome Elwood Kiger was educated in the public schools of Marion County, West Virginia, was a 1939 graduate of Mannington High School, Mannington, West Virginia, worked for Westinghouse Electric Company and enlisted in the United States Army Air Corps on August 17, 1942; and

Whereas, From August 17, 1942, through August 16, 1943, Jerome Elwood Kiger trained with Squadron B, Radio School, Army Air Corps, Salt Lake City, Utah; attended flight school; was classified as an AAF MOS 611 Aerial Gunner; and was deployed to serve in the European Theater as a member of the 579th Bomber Squadron, 392nd Bomber Group, Eighth Army Air Force and, through his distinguished service, attained the rank of Sergeant; and

Whereas, On July 21, 1944, the Eighth Air Force launched nine hundred sixty bombers on air raids on key industrial targets in southern Germany, targeting German aircraft plants and numerous targets between the cities of Stuttgart and Munich; and

Whereas, Sergeant Jerome Elwood Kiger was the tail gunner on a B-24 Liberator in the air raids, headed toward the village of Oberpfaffenhofen, near Munich, when the aircraft came under heavy enemy fire; flak severely damaged the aircraft before it reached its target and it crashed southwest of Munich; and

Whereas, Seven crewmen bailed out of the aircraft; one was killed when his parachute failed. The six crew members who successfully landed were captured by the Germans; their fellow crew members, Sergeants Jerome Elwood Kiger and Charles R. Marshall, were presumably in the aircraft when it crashed, and were declared Missing in Action by the United States War Department; and

Whereas, During the following year, investigations and searches were conducted for the wreckage of the B-24 Liberator Bomber, and on July 22, 1945, the United States War Department officially declared Sergeant Jerome Elwood Kiger and his fellow airman, Sergeant Charles Marshall, as Killed in Action, even though neither their crash site nor their remains had been located, and in the interim years no further discovery was made of the official location of the crash site; and

Whereas, On November 23, 2008, Mr. Markus Mooser, a German citizen, contacted Sergeant Kiger's family, reporting that he had found a crash site in the Starnberg district of Bavaria, Germany, which he correlated with the B-24 Liberator airplane that crashed with Sergeants Kiger and Marshall on board, and based on this discovery, the Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command investigated the site and determined that it was the official site of the B-24 airplane crash. Remains were discovered, and the identities of Sergeants Kiger and Marshall were confirmed; and

Whereas, On Sunday, July 21, 2013, the sixty-ninth anniversary of Sergeant Kiger's death, a procession of family, friends, members of the military and representatives of the government accompanied the remains of Sergeant Kiger to Mannington Memorial Park, Mannington, West Virginia, where he was interred between the graves of his father and mother, in a designated grave site prepared for him by his parents prior to their deaths; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kiger was awarded the Air Medal, the American Campaign Medal, the European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal with one Bronze Service Star, the World War II Victory Medal, the Aerial-Gunner Badge Wing and the Army Service Ribbon, and will be awarded posthumously the Army Good Conduct Medal and the Purple Heart Medal; and

Whereas, Sergeant Jerome Elwood Kiger made the supreme sacrifice for his country in a foreign land and brought honor to his family, the citizens of West Virginia and his country; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Division of Highways to name a section of Marion County Route 1, Marion County, West Virginia, from mile post 4.54 to mile post 9.15, the “USAF Sergeant Jerome E. Kiger Memorial Road”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to have made and be placed signs identifying the road as the “USAF Sergeant Jerome E. Kiger Memorial Road”; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Division of Highways.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Beach, Stollings, Fitzsimmons, Miller, McCabe, Wells, Edgell, Plymale, Cann, Unger, Yost, Prezioso, Kessler (Mr. President), Snyder, D. Hall, Jenkins, Green and Williams offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 38—Designating February 26, 2014, as West Virginia Nurses Unity Day.

Whereas, One in forty-three West Virginians is a nurse; and

Whereas, Nurses make a significant contribution of time, energy, heart and care toward the healing of our residents who are ill and suffering; and

Whereas, Nurses are powerful advocates for the health and well-being of all West Virginians, providing education, screening, nursing intervention, evaluation and research to improve the health of West Virginia residents throughout the life span from prebirth to the end of life; and

Whereas, Nurses meet the health needs of West Virginians not only in hospitals and long-term care facilities, but conveniently in their homes, at school, at work, at church, in community health centers, on the phone and on the Internet; and

Whereas, The Institute of Medicine recognizes nurses as key to solving our current rising cost of chronic illness through their expanding leadership as coordinators and collaborators of interdisciplinary health care teams; and

Whereas, The expanding roles of advanced practice registered nurses as nurse anesthetists, nurse midwives and certified nurse practitioners in a variety of specialties provide improved cost-effective access to health services in our rural state; and

Whereas, The American public has voted to acknowledge nurses as the most trusted professionals for twelve years; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby designates February 26, 2014, as West Virginia Nurses Unity Day; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate recognizes and applauds the outstanding contributions made by all of our West Virginia nurses to the health, welfare and safety of our state and all of its citizens; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the appropriate representatives of West Virginia Nurses Unity Day.

At the request of Senator Miller, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

Thereafter, at the request of Senator Beach, and by unanimous consent, the remarks by Senator Miller regarding the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 38 were ordered printed in the Appendix to the Journal.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and, at the request of Senator Unger, and by unanimous consent, returned to the fourth order of business.

Senator Beach, from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 61 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the development, funding and construction of a statewide, fiber optic broadband infrastructure network, known as the broadband middle mile, to be purchased and owned by the state.

Whereas, In building and improving the infrastructure of West Virginia, access to broadband services for all communities is vital; and

Whereas, Access to the Internet and high-speed broadband services is expensive and sometimes nonexistent in many areas of the state, reducing the chances of communities to attract and retain businesses and high-paying jobs; and

Whereas, It is essential to economic development and the viability of many communities that there be statewide access to high-speed, high-quality and inexpensive broadband services; and

Whereas, The National Broadband Plan (NBP) announced by the FCC in March, 2010, visualizes a significantly enhanced commitment to community institutions as an element of the plans for promoting broadband availability; and

Whereas, The plan states that every American community should have affordable access to at least 1 gigabit per second broadband service to anchor institutions such as schools, hospitals and government buildings; and

Whereas, The middle-mile provision is a major issue in reducing the price of broadband Internet service to nonincumbent operators. Internet bandwidth is relatively inexpensive to purchase in bulk at the major Internet peering points; and

Whereas, Middle-mile access, when bought from the incumbent operator, is often much more expensive, and typically forms the major expense of nonincumbent broadband ISPs and inhibits communities' access to high-speed, high-quality and inexpensive broadband services; and

Whereas, The alternative, building out of their own fiber networks, is capital intensive, and thus unavailable to most new operators; and

Whereas, For this reason, many proposals for government broadband stimulus initiatives are directed at building out the middle mile; and

Whereas, The State of West Virginia must work with the NBP to develop a plan for broadband middle-mile infrastructure development and to create a separate infrastructure fund for broadband middle-mile infrastructure projects; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the development, funding and construction of a statewide, fiber optic broadband infrastructure network, known as the broadband middle mile, to be purchased and owned by the state; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the West Virginia Infrastructure and Jobs Development Council develop a draft statewide broadband middle-mile infrastructure plan, including a separate infrastructure fund for broadband middle mile infrastructure projects, and make recommendations on the status of the plan to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 62 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the naming by resolution of roads, bridges and other transportation structures in West Virginia.

Whereas, The naming of roads, bridges, overpasses, intersections and other transportation structures in West Virginia is a practice frequently utilized by the West Virginia Legislature by concurrent resolution to recognize certain individuals or groups, particularly West Virginia military veterans, by naming such transportation structures in their honor; and

Whereas, Each year during the 2012 and 2013 regular sessions of the West Virginia Legislature, approximately two hundred fifty concurrent resolutions were introduced, approximately half of which were House concurrent resolutions or Senate concurrent resolutions directing the Department of Transportation or the Division of Highways to make and place such naming signs; and

Whereas, The trend of naming West Virginia transportation structures by resolution continues during this present legislative session; and

Whereas, It is a worthy undertaking by the West Virginia Legislature to recognize and publicly memorialize those West Virginians who contributed so much to their communities and this state, many of whom made the ultimate sacrifice while defending our country; and

Whereas, Each naming resolution requires numerous resources: Time to draft, consider, revise if necessary and vote on the proposal and, if adopted by both legislative chambers, costs to manufacture, install and maintain the new naming signs; and

Whereas, No criteria are currently in place that provide guidance as to which West Virginians should be honored; and

Whereas, Limitations and requirements as to the content and design of the naming signs do exist, including in West Virginia and federal law, by West Virginia Executive Order and in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices; and

Whereas, There are many important safety considerations to take into account when choosing proper names, including uniformity and conciseness of the name so as to not distract drivers and so that locations can easily be found in case of emergencies; and

Whereas, It is important that appropriate naming conventions be outlined and criteria be established for the naming of West Virginia transportation structures so as to assure the proper use of limited resources and the safety of West Virginians; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the naming by resolution of roads, bridges and other transportation structures in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any rules or legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations, including drafts of naming criteria; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And,

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 63 (originating in the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the necessity of certain tax discounts and credits provided to suppliers and permissive suppliers of motor vehicle fuels.

Whereas, The ongoing economic and commercial development of the State of West Virginia is dependent upon a reliable and well-maintained transportation infrastructure; and

Whereas, Maintenance of our transportation infrastructure is financed through collections into the State Road Fund; and

Whereas, The rotation schedule for the repaving of our highways is lengthening into ever-greater intervals due to the necessary revenues for the State Road Fund not keeping pace with the maintenance needs of our transportation infrastructure; and

Whereas, West Virginia law currently provides that a supplier or permissive supplier, as defined in article fourteen-c, chapter eleven of West Virginia Code, who timely files a return with payment due may deduct, from the amount of tax payable with the return, an administrative discount of one tenth of one percent of the amount of tax payable to this state, not to exceed $5,000 per month; and

Whereas, West Virginia law currently also provides that a supplier or permissive supplier shall deduct three fourths of one percent of the tax due from the licensed distributor as a discount to that licensed distributor for sales from permissive suppliers or suppliers to licensed distributors; and

Whereas, The ability to maintain our transportation infrastructure depends, in part, upon periodic review of our tax policies and revenue structures in order to fund the construction and maintenance of our transportation infrastructure while also reflecting sound business practices in the production and distribution of motor vehicle fuels; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the necessity of certain tax discounts and credits provided to suppliers and permissive suppliers of motor vehicle fuels; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance study whether such discounts and credits, if any, should be continued as part of a sound revenue policy; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that they each be adopted; but with the further recommendation that they first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert D. Beach,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Kirkendoll, unanimous consent being granted, the resolutions (S. C. R. Nos. 61, 62 and 63) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure were taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Kirkendoll, the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Snyder, from the Committee on Government Organization, submitted the following report, which was received:

Your Committee on Government Organization has had under consideration

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 64 (originating in the Committee on Government Organization)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study eliminating certain executive boards, councils, committees, panels, task forces, agencies and commissions that are unnecessary, outdated and extraneous.

Whereas, Some executive boards, councils, committees, panels, task forces, agencies and commissions never had members appointed; and

Whereas, Some executive boards, councils, committees, panels, task forces, agencies and commissions have met their statutory requirements and are now irrelevant; and

Whereas, Some executive boards, councils, committees, panels, task forces, agencies and commissions are now outdated; and

Whereas, Some executive boards, councils, committees, panels, task forces, agencies and commissions have not met in recent years; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study eliminating certain executive boards, councils, committees, panels, task forces, agencies and commissions that are unnecessary, outdated and extraneous; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

And reports the same back with the recommendation that it be adopted; but with the further recommendation that it first be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Herb Snyder,
Chair.

At the request of Senator Snyder, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution (S. C. R. No. 64) contained in the preceding report from the Committee on Government Organization was taken up for immediate consideration.

On motion of Senator Snyder, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Snyder, from the Committee on Government Organization, submitted the following report, which was received:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 66—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study the feasibility of expansion of all forms of pari-mutuel wagering, including advanced deposit wagering, in the state.

Whereas, Thoroughbred racing and the related infrastructure of small businesses including horse breeders, horse trainers, veterinarians, farmers and related agriculture are vital to the economy of West Virginia. The continuing vitality of thoroughbred racing is essential to racinos located within West Virginia and to the revenues received by West Virginia from lawful gaming, which revenues provide substantial support to, among other things, schools and education, West Virginia's seniors and tourism and state parks; and

Whereas, Pari-mutuel wagering provides a significant source of revenue to West Virginia, which revenues are vital to supporting the substantial public policies of West Virginia. The various forms of pari-mutuel wagering, and the pari-mutuel systems through pari-mutuel wagering is accomplished, are rapidly evolving and other states are realizing significant revenues from forms of pari-mutuel wagering not currently utilized in West Virginia such as advanced deposit wagering; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the feasibility of expansion of all forms of pari-mutuel wagering, including advanced deposit wagering, in the state; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the interim study shall include participation by members of the West Virginia Racing Commission, West Virginia Racing Associations, West Virginia Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Associations, West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association, West Virginia Greyhound Owners and Breeders Association and West Virginia University Bureau of Business and Economic Research; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 67—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance perform an interim study to look at a variety of issues involved in the probate process.

Whereas, West Virginia's county clerks want to improve, streamline, update and simplify the current probate process for the benefit of citizens who are administering estates; and

Whereas, County clerks recognize that probate laws and procedures need to be reexamined in light of new technologies and recent changes in estate laws, both state and federal; and

Whereas, County clerks particularly want to ease the process for those who leave behind little or no estate and simplify the process when the deceased is a joint owner of assets and had no assets solely in his or her name; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Legislature hereby requests the Joint Committee on Government and Finance perform an interim study to look at a variety of issues involved in the probate process; and, be it

Senators Unger, Palumbo, Plymale, Snyder, Stollings, McCabe, Wells, Jenkins, D. Hall and Laird offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 68—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to study housing quality and affordability within the state to better meet the needs of all West Virginians regardless of background.

Whereas, Housing is essential to a community's economic success, growth and well-being; and

Whereas, All West Virginians should have access to safe and affordable housing; and

Whereas, Thirty percent of all children under the age of five in West Virginia are in families with incomes below the poverty level who struggle to find safe and affordable housing; and

Whereas, Approximately one hundred fifty-nine thousand West Virginia households, both as renters and homeowners, lack adequate, affordable housing; and

Whereas, It is expected that by 2030 the state's senior population will increase by an additional one hundred seventy thousand individuals, thus putting new demands on housing that would permit seniors to remain in their homes; and

Whereas, One third of both owner-occupied homes and rental units were built before 1960, thus increasing the need for new and rehabilitated housing; and

Whereas, More than five percent of West Virginia homes currently lack complete plumbing, more than double the national average; and

Whereas, There is an urgent need for a comprehensive housing policy that includes effective partnerships and coordination to achieve the greatest impact from available resources; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study housing quality and affordability within the state to better meet the needs of all West Virginians regardless of background; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the West Virginia Housing Policy Group is to provide leadership and organization to this important study; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Stollings, Plymale, Unger, Wells, Jenkins, D. Hall and Laird offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 69—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance instruct the Joint Committee on Health to conduct a study of staffing levels of nurses in health care facilities.

Whereas, Inadequate staffing of nurses can cause a dangerous environment to both patients and workers, leading to increased litigation, increased risk of musculo-skeletal disorders and other health risks, issues with retention and overtime, inability to provide adequate care to patients and employee frustration and burnout; and

Whereas, Facilities can adequately staff nurses in such a manner that more staff is available and present to provide skilled care through “stacking shifts”, or overlapping shifts, to keep employee numbers at a minimum but increase manpower at the beginning and ending of each shift; and

Whereas, Utilizing existing staff in a more efficient manner can be cost effective and beneficial to patient care improvement, staff retention and morale and provide greater continuity of care; and

Whereas, There is a correlation between inadequate nursing staff and poor patient outcomes. High nurse-to-patient ratios are associated with an increase in medical errors, patient infections, bedsores, pneumonia, MRSA, cardiac arrest and accidental death; and

Whereas, The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services found that facilities with staffing levels in the bottom thirty percent were more likely to be among the worst ten percent of facilities for heart failure, electrolyte imbalances, sepsis, respiratory infection and urinary tract infections; and

Whereas, Researchers at the Center for Health Outcomes and Policy Research at the University of Pennsylvania’s School of Nursing concluded that lowering the patient-to-nurse ratios “markedly” improves patient outcomes; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to instruct the Joint Committee on Health to conduct a study of staffing levels of nurses in health care facilities; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Health is to consider the impact of high turnover rates and high levels of temporary nursing staff on the overall operating cost of a facility as well as look at the effect that nurse staffing issues have on patient outcomes; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Health is to look for solutions that rely on shift scheduling to maximize existing staff without creating undue financial hardships on facilities who may need to hire additional nursing staff; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Health report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Stollings, Unger, Wells, D. Hall and Laird offered the following resolution:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 70—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance to authorize a study by the Joint Committee on Health of the benefits of licensing certified professional midwives in the State of West Virginia.

Whereas, The certified professional midwife credential is accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA), an accrediting body that accredits many health care credentials, including the certified nurse-midwife, and is currently recognized in twenty-eight states; and

Whereas, Home births in the United States increased twenty-nine percent from 2004-2009 (CDC) and quality studies have found that birth can safely take place with certified professional midwives at home and in birthing centers; and

Whereas, Births attended by certified professional midwives need fewer interventions and thus result in great cost savings to the state. Certified professional midwives can work in conjunction with obstetricians in births that are difficult or present extraordinary birthing circumstances that require measures often necessary to save the life of either the mother or the child; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to authorize a study by the Joint Committee on Health of the benefits of licensing certified professional midwives in the State of West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Health report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Which, under the rules, lies over one day.

Senators Kessler (Mr. President), Plymale, Snyder, Stollings, Yost, Unger, Beach, McCabe, Wells, Fitzsimmons, D. Hall, Jenkins and Laird offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 39—Recognizing fifty years of Community Action Agencies in West Virginia.

Whereas, In 1964, President Lyndon Johnson signed the Economic Opportunity Act, which created Community Action Agencies and other programs to fight poverty; and

Whereas, Community Action Agencies have been serving low-income families throughout West Virginia's fifty-five counties for the last fifty years, striving to identify the causes of poverty and assisting the impoverished in achieving self-sufficiency; and

Whereas, West Virginia's sixteen Community Action Agencies provide a wide range of services to meet the needs of low-income West Virginians, including Head Start, home weatherization, utility assistance, job training and placement, nutrition for children and the elderly, education assistance, family mentoring and many others; and

Whereas, The employees of Community Action Agencies fight to improve the lives of West Virginians by empowering individuals, strengthening families and building communities; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes fifty years of Community Action Agencies in West Virginia; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate invites all members of the West Virginia Legislature and all citizens of West Virginia to join in recognizing the value and importance of Community Action Agencies in West Virginia; and, be it

Senate Resolution No. 40—Recognizing the Lincoln Public Service District for its action in providing clean, safe, usable water to the citizens of its district.

Whereas, The Lincoln Public Service District serves approximately two thousand one hundred customers, primarily in the eastern section of Lincoln County with some additional customers in the Alum Creek portion of Kanawha County; and

Whereas, Of the two thousand one hundred customers the Lincoln Public Service District serves, about seven hundred customers are provided with water from West Virginia American Water; and

Whereas, On January 9, 2014, West Virginia American Water announced to its customers an order to “do not use” their water due to a chemical spill that had contaminated the water supply; and

Whereas, Upon issuance of this order, the Lincoln Public Service District announced that any individual or group could come to its Coal River, Alum Creek, plant with containers and fill those containers with clean, safe, usable water; and

Whereas, At the same time it was providing clean, safe, usable water to the citizens who were affected by the water contamination, citizens both inside and outside of its district, the staff and management of the Lincoln Public Service District began devising a plan that could switch the flow of water to the seven hundred customers from West Virginia American Water to the Coal River, Alum Creek, plant; and

Whereas, Over the course of the next two days, the staff and management of the Lincoln Public Service District worked in conjunction with both the Lincoln and Kanawha County commissions as well as emergency service providers in both counties to develop a plan for the switch; and

Whereas, On January 12, 2014, just three days after West Virginia American Water issued the “do not use” order, with the Lincoln Public Service District leading the charge, the plan was executed, and clean, safe, usable water was provided to the seven hundred customers living in the contaminated area; and

Whereas, Because of the swift action of the staff and management of the Lincoln Public Service District, those seven hundred citizens of West Virginia continue to have clean, safe, usable water to this day; and

Whereas, The staff and management of the Lincoln Public Service District are a shining example to the people of West Virginia and the United States of America of what can be accomplished with hard work, a strong will and a commitment to the safety and welfare of West Virginia’s citizens; and

Whereas, The staff and management of the Lincoln Public Service District embody the true soul and spirit of what it means to be a West Virginian; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby recognizes the Lincoln Public Service District for its action in providing clean, safe, usable water to the citizens of its district; and, be it Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the staff and management of the Lincoln Public Service District.

At the request of Senator Stollings, unanimous consent being granted, the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration, reference to a committee dispensed with, and adopted.

On motion of Senator Unger, the Senate recessed for one minute.

Upon expiration of the recess, the Senate reconvened and resumed business under the sixth order.

Senators Unger, Palumbo, Plymale, Snyder, Stollings, Yost, Beach, Kessler (Mr. President), McCabe, Wells, Fitzsimmons, Jenkins, D. Hall and Laird offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 41—Designating February 27 as West Virginia Housing Day.

Whereas, An important goal of our government is to eliminate housing discrimination and assure the rights of every citizen to buy, rent and sell housing without regard to race, color, sex, religion, familial status, national origin or handicap, as guaranteed both by Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, as amended, and the laws of the State of West Virginia as enacted by the West Virginia Fair Housing Act of 1992; and

Whereas, The policy of the State of West Virginia is to provide, within constitutional limits, for fair housing throughout the state and to prosecute acts of racial intimidation, harassment or violence while affirming the civil rights of every person seeking a home or residence in this state; and

Whereas, As a result of our fair housing policy and law, West Virginia has one of the highest ownership rates in the United States with, however, a large number of the homes being substandard. It is anticipated that future economic growth in West Virginia may result in the state becoming a senior housing center in the country without coordinated planning. The importance of affordable housing in West Virginia that meets acceptable industry standards cannot be overstated and this need should be recognized; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate:

That the Senate hereby designates February 27 as West Virginia Housing Day; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Senate reaffirms this state's commitment to open housing and equal housing opportunity for affordable housing in West Virginia that meets acceptable industry standards for all citizens of West Virginia and hereby indicates its commitment by designating February 27 as West Virginia Housing Day; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the West Virginia Housing Policy Group.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 71 (originating in the Committee on Government Organization)—Requesting the Joint Committee on Government and Finance conduct a study on the effectiveness and benefits of creating another commission within the State Fire Marshal’s office in regards to matters concerning the State Building Code.

Whereas, The State Fire Commission is composed of thirteen members, and adding more members may create logistical difficulties; and

Whereas, Recent changes to the duties of the State Fire Commission have added the enforcement and monitoring of the State Building Code; and

Whereas, Creating a separate commission in regards to the State Building Code, comprised of qualified and knowledgeable individuals, may allow the State Fire Marshal’s office to be more effective in these matters; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance is hereby requested to study the effectiveness and benefits of creating another commission within the State Fire Marshal’s office in regards to matters concerning the State Building Code; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Joint Committee on Government and Finance report to the regular session of the Legislature, 2015, on its findings, conclusions and recommendations, together with drafts of any legislation necessary to effectuate its recommendations; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the expenses necessary to conduct this study, to prepare a report and to draft necessary legislation be paid from legislative appropriations to the Joint Committee on Government and Finance.

Com. Sub. for Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, Requesting DOH name Becky's Creek Bridge, Randolph County, "U. S. Army Sgt. Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., Memorial Bridge".

On motion of Senator Unger, the message on the resolution was taken up for immediate consideration.

The following House of Delegates amendment to the resolution was reported by the Clerk:

By striking out everything after the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was born on March 15, 1940, in Randolph County to Cecil Wilbert Kittle, Sr., and Omega Virginia Armentrout Kittle. He had one brother, retired Master Sergeant Floyd A. Kittle, and two sisters, Carolyn Darlene Kittle and Eva Fae Collier Knight; and

Whereas, In July, 1962, Sergeant Kittle married Betty Irene Wilt Kittle. They had two children, Richard Nicholas Kittle and Randall Lee Kittle; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was a career soldier who first entered the Army in July, 1958, after attending Tygarts Valley High School. He served several tours of duty in Europe with the Seventh Army and, in 1961, was involved with activities surrounding the Berlin Wall Crisis while serving with the 51st Infantry in Germany; and

Whereas, In 1965 Sergeant Kittle arrived in Vietnam where he served with Company C of the Second Battalion, Seventh Cavalry/First Cavalry Division (Airmobile). This Division was involved in the heaviest fighting at the Battle of Ia Drang Valley and Chu Pong Mountain, the first major battle for the U. S. in the Vietnam War; and

Whereas, American leaders had decided to use newly developed airmobile tactics by flying in American troops by helicopter. The Seventh Cavalry Regiment/First Air Cavalry Division was given this assignment in the Battle of Ia Drang Valley; and

Whereas, The Battle at Ia Drang Valley began on November 14, 1965, and Sergeant Kittle was part of the military's operation to be airlifted into Ia Drang Valley to locate the North Vietnamese Army. Only sixteen helicopters were available to bring in the troops which took four hours to get all of the men on the ground. Heavy fire began immediately and the first American soldiers who were dropped off into a small clearing in the Ia Drang Valley, known as Landing Zone X-Ray, were immediately surrounded and attacked by thousands of North Vietnamese soldiers. Dozens of men died within this first wave of attacks during the battle, which continued for three more days; and

Whereas, On November 17, 1965, American military operations had been moved to Landing Zone Albany, where U. S. troops were again surrounded and attacked by an overwhelming number of North Vietnamese soldiers. This second wave of attacks was considered the deadliest ambush of a U. S. unit during the entire course of the Vietnam War. During the night North Vietnamese soldiers walked through the woods executing all wounded American soldiers; and

Whereas, Air strikes and artillery eventually allowed U. S. troops to secure the area and rescue the survivors. More than three hundred American soldiers were killed in the Battle of Ia Drang Valley; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was killed on November 17, 1965, as a result of hostile action while on a search-and-destroy mission during the second wave of North Vietnamese attacks at the Battle of Ia

Drang Valley. Sergeant Kittle's second son, Randall Lee Kittle, was born on December 24, 1965, approximately one month after his father's death in Vietnam; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was one of nine West Virginia soldiers who died at the Battle of Ia Drang Valley. Being a native of Huttonsville, he was also the first Randolph County soldier to be killed in the Vietnam War. He is buried at the Old Brick Church Cemetery in Huttonsville along with his parents and other family members; and

Whereas, The Battle at Ia Drang Valley set the tone for the remainder of the Vietnam War as American forces continued to rely on air mobility and heavy fire support; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device for heroism and valor in connection to his courageous actions against hostile forces at the Battle of Ia Drang Valley. Sergeant Kittle was also awarded the Purple Heart, the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal, the National Defense Medal, the Army Good Conduct Medal, the Seventh Cavalry Garry Owen Patch and the Combat Infantry Badge; and

Whereas, Sergeant Kittle's name is listed on the Vietnam Memorial Wall in Washington, D. C., Panel 3E, Row 82; and

Whereas, The battle in which Sergeant Kittle died was documented in the 1965 CBS Special Report "Battle of Ia Drang Valley" and in several books including "Reflections on LZ Albany" by retired Lieutenant Jim Lawrence, Lieutenant Rick Rescorla's biography "Heart of a Soldier" by James B. Stewart and "We Were Soldiers Once . . . and Young" by retired Lieutenant General Hal Moore and reporter Joseph Galloway, all of whom were at the battle. The book "We Were Soldiers Once . . . and Young" also served as the basis of the 2002 movie "We Were Soldiers" starring Mel Gibson; and

Whereas, Two local articles also chronicled the books and the movie's significance to West Virginia and to the people of Randolph County. The headlines read: "Current Vietnam Film has Personal Meaning for Area Residents" in the March 9, 2002, issue of The Elkins Inter-Mountain newspaper and "We Were Solders: West Virginia Veterans Remember Battle at Ia Drang Valley" in the March 7, 2002, issue of the Charleston Gazette newspaper. They are archived at the Culture Center in Charleston and in the Wise Library in Morgantown. Sergeant Kittle's November 22, 1965, obituary is also archived at The Elkins Inter-Mountain newspaper library (Vol. LIX No. 45); and

Whereas, It is fitting to honor Sergeant Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., for his commitment, dedication and service to his country and to his state, having given the ultimate sacrifice; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to name bridge number 42-43-0.16, the Becky's Creek Bridge on Route 43 crossing over the Tygart Valley River in Huttonsville, Randolph County, the "U. S. Army Sgt. Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., Memorial Bridge"; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Division of Highways is hereby requested to erect signs at both ends of the bridge containing bold and prominent letters proclaiming the bridge the "U. S. Army Sgt. Cecil W. Kittle, Jr., Memorial Bridge"; and, be it

Kittle, Carolyn Darlene Kittle and Eva Fae Collier Knight, and to his two sons, Randall Lee Kittle and Richard Nicholas Kittle.
