Nursing Home and Assisted Living Annual Report

October 1, 2016 – September 30, 2017

Foreword

This report and the directories of licensed nursing homes and assisted living residences implement the requirements of the West Virginia State Code §§ 16-5C-3(q), 16-5D-3(q), and 16-5N-3(q). In the administration of these articles, the Director of the Office of Health Facility Licensure and Certification (OHFLAC), through delegated authority, submits an annual report to the Governor, the Legislature and the public. The report describes the licensing and investigatory activities of the Department of Health and Human Resources (DHHR) during the year, the nature and status of other activities of the DHHR, and may include comments on the acts, policies, practices or procedures of any public or private agency that affect the rights, health or welfare of residents of nursing homes. The annual report includes a list of all nursing homes and assisted living residences in the state.

Nursing Home Report

Section I

Office of Health Facility Licensure and Certification Nursing Home Program

The Nursing Home Program is responsible for determining the compliance of nursing homes in the State of West Virginia with state licensure regulations. It also determines facility compliance with requirements for participation in the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

Based on findings of on-site inspections (surveys), the Nursing Home Program licenses all nursing homes pursuant to state law. The program also makes recommendations to the United States Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for Medicare (Title XVIII) participation and to the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources' Bureau for Medical Services (BMS) for Medicaid (Title XIX) participation. Other responsibilities include complaint investigations, site approval for new construction, and in the case of facility certification, fire safety inspections.

Nursing Homes and Inspections/Surveys

To operate a nursing home in West Virginia, state licensure and/or federal certification inspections or surveys must be completed which demonstrate compliance with regulations. The licensing period for nursing homes is 15 months.

The average length of time for a survey is determined by the size of the facility, past history of compliance, the number of surveyors, surveyor travel time, and the number and types of citations written. The length of time required for the survey/resurvey process, particularly in nursing homes certified for Medicare and/or Medicaid, has been significantly impacted by federally legislated changes under the provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987. These changes prescribed the methodology and criteria to be used in the long term care survey process. This is a direct result of efforts to review and preserve the rights and quality of life of elderly citizens. All surveys are unannounced and are, by design, required to be scheduled and completed within a nine to 15-month time frame, with an average of 12 months for all facilities. OHFLAC, however, may conduct a survey or complaint investigation at any time, based on a facility's past noncompliance and/or allegations of mistreatment, abuse, neglect, misappropriation of property and/or poor care.

Eight facilities had deficiency-free surveys during the reporting period.

From October 1, 2016, through September 30, 2017, OHFLAC conducted 105 annual surveys. During the same period, 170 complaints were investigated resulting in 52% being substantiated with related or unrelated deficiencies cited.

Under the Alzheimer's/Dementia Special Care Units and Programs legislative rule, there are nine licensed special care units with 253 beds within West Virginia nursing homes.

West Virginia has five state-owned Medicare and/or Medicaid certified nursing facilities.

Regulation and Statute Revision

On July 1, 1963, the Nursing Home Licensure Rule went into effect (64CSR13, revised June 29, 2015). This legislative rule prescribes specific standards and procedures to provide for the health, safety, and protection of the rights and dignity of individuals served by Alzheimer's/Dementia special care units and programs.

On July 1, 2002, Alzheimer's/Dementia Special Care Units and Programs Rule went into effect (64CSR85, revised May 1, 2006). This legislative rule prescribes specific standards and procedures to provide for the health, safety, and protection of the rights and dignity of individuals served by Alzheimer's/Dementia special care units and programs.

On July 1, 2003, the Nurse Aide Abuse Registry Rule went into effect (69CSR6, revised July 29, 2015). This legislative rule established standards and procedures for maintaining the Nurse Aide Registry to protect certain rights of West Virginia nursing facility residents and nurse aides that are employed by these facilities.

Dispute Resolution

According to the Code of Federal Regulations at 42 CFR 488.331 and 42 CFR 488.431, nursing homes have an opportunity to refute survey findings. The state must offer a facility an informal opportunity, at the facility's request, to dispute survey findings upon the facility's receipt of the official statement of deficiencies. This process is known as an informal dispute resolution (IDR), and can be performed in writing, by telephone or in person.

Under West Virginia Code Section 16-5C-12, legislation was passed which made available an independent informal dispute resolution (IIDR) procedure for West Virginia nursing homes. This legislation ensured objectivity regarding the outcome of the IDR decisions by allowing this process to be completed by an independent review organization. A nursing home must make a request for an IDR, including the independent process, in writing during the same ten calendar days they have for submitting a Plan of Correction (POC) for the deficient practices cited as a result of a survey event.

If the IIDR process is selected by a facility, the matter will be assigned to an independent review organization accredited by the Utilization Review Accreditation Committee. The facility may be subject to certain costs such as the cost of a face-to-face conference if one is requested and the cost charged by the independent review organization, should the facility not be successful in its dispute.

During the reporting period of October 1, 2016 to September 30, 2017, OHFLAC received 17 requests for dispute resolution that involved 34 tags.

The chart below details the overall outcome of the ten requests received. Tags upheld required no changes to the deficiency citations, tags reversed required the deficiency citation to be removed, and tags modified required some language to be changed to the deficiency citation.

	IDR	IIDR – State	IIDR – Federal
of Requests	10	4	3
of Tags Disputed	21	9	4
of Tags Upheld	16	3	1
of Tags Reversed	3	2	0
of Tags Modified	2	1	3

Enforcement

Sixteen nursing homes were placed on an enforcement track or cycle for the reporting period. CMS imposed the following types of enforcement action: loss of nurse aide training and competency education program (NATCEP), mandatory denial of payment for new admissions (DPNA) and civil money penalties (CMP).

Two facilities had a DPNA and CMP imposed; ten facilities had a CMP and a NATCEP loss imposed; and four facilities had a DPNA, CMP, and NATCEP loss imposed.

Disclaimer

The information contained in this directory has been gathered from several sources. Where possible, it has been taken from licensing and/or certification files. This information also includes number of beds, daily room rates, full time employees, services and programs available.

Some information, in particular the per diem rates, has been obtained directly from each facility. This information is not substantiated by on-site reviews.

An important caution in using this directory is that the per diem rate usually does not cover all services listed. In considering facilities, careful inquiry should be made as to what services are included in the basic per diem rate.

Assisted Living Report

Section IV

Office of Health Facility Licensure and Certification Assisted Living Program

The Assisted Living Program maintains oversight of Assisted Living Residences (ALR), Residential Care Communities (RCC), and Legally Unlicensed Care Homes (LUH). The Assisted Living Program maintains oversight of Medical Adult Day Care (MADC) programs; however, there are no licensed MADC programs operating in West Virginia at this time.

Assisted Living Program and Inspections/Surveys

Licensure surveys are conducted approximately three months prior to the annual license expiration date. Surveys are performed by a team of professionals including registered nurses, social workers, and life safety/environmental inspectors who have systematically evaluated the ability of each facility to deliver and provide safe care and services to residents in these settings. The average length of time typically required for conducting a survey in a facility is approximately 1.5 - 2 days. All surveys are unannounced with the exception of an initial or change of ownership (CHOW) survey. Those surveys are scheduled only after the facility has provided verification that substantial compliance with licensing standards can be met. During this reporting period, two initial surveys and six CHOW surveys have been conducted.

There are currently 40 small ALRs, 57 large ALRs and two RCCs licensed in West Virginia. These facilities offer a variety of services including limited and intermittent nursing care and through the waiver approval process may provide limited ongoing nursing care allowing residents to remain in the assisted living setting for a longer period of time. Eight ALRs have licensed Alzheimer's Units.

There are 110 LUHs registered with OHFLAC. These homes can admit and provide services to a maximum of three residents after the registration process is completed. Legally unlicensed homes have no routine annual inspection and are only reviewed or entered when a complaint is reported to OHFLAC.

Complaint Investigations

The Assisted Living Program is responsible for receiving and conducting complaint investigations in ALRs, RCCs, and LUHs. Complaints may be lodged anonymously and are received and prioritized for investigation based on the nature and severity of allegations. Complaints are assigned or prioritized for investigation within two days to 45 days, depending on the severity of the allegations.

Complaint investigations are always conducted without prior notice to the facility and are focused specifically on violations of licensing standards. The average length of time from the date of intake to the date of investigation is 14.88 days. Once complaint allegations are investigated and violations of licensing standards are found, the complainant and facility receive written notification of the investigation results and any action that must be taken to correct the violation of standards.

In this reporting period, 117 complaint intakes were received in the Assisted Living Program. There were 59 complaints filed against large ALR facilities, 27 filed against small ALR facilities, 31 filed against LUH facilities, and one filed against RCC facilities. There were 354 allegations of violations against regulatory standards with 123 allegations substantiated and 231 allegations unsubstantiated.

Enforcement

There were three LUHs and no ALRs placed in enforcement during this time period for violations of non-compliance with the regulations. No facilities paid civil monetary penalties.

Reimbursement

There are no federal or state reimbursement funds available for resident care in Assisted Living. Approximately 39 ALRs provide personal care and services to low-income residents with a total of 444 beds. The primary source of income for these individuals is Supplemental Security Income (SSI). These low-income individuals may also qualify for a supplemental income through the Bureau for Children and Families with the Department of Health and Human Resources.

Summary

OHFLAC continues to place emphasis on the systems and processes that assist facilities in complying with licensure standards. Providing opportunities for education and knowledge that will enable the provider to gain more knowledge and a clearer understanding of licensure standards remains the primary goal. There were 32 facilities that received deficiency-free annual surveys for this period.

Regulatory licensing staff continue to participate in educational conferences and seminars sponsored by the West Virginia Assisted Living Association and West Virginia Health Care Association. These conferences provide additional assistance in meeting regulatory standards and focus on cooperation and understanding, two key components that are necessary for continued improvement and regulatory compliance for the provider.

Disclaimer

The information contained in this directory has been gathered from several sources. Where possible, it has been taken from licensing and/or certification files. This information also includes number of beds, daily room rates, full time employees, services and programs available.

Some information, in particular the per diem rates, has been obtained directly from each facility. This information is not substantiated by on-site reviews.

An important caution in using this directory is that the per diem rate usually does not cover all services listed. In considering facilities, careful inquiry should be made as to what services are included in the basic per diem rate.
