CHAPTER 61. CRIMES AND THEIR PUNISHMENT.

ARTICLE 2. CRIMES AGAINST THE PERSON.

§61-2-2. Penalty for murder in first degree.

1 Any person convicted of Murder murder of in the first degree shall be punished by
 2 confinement in the penitentiary for life sentenced to death if any one or more of the aggravating
 3 circumstances enumerated in §61-2-2b of this code have been charged and found to be true

4 without a finding of any one or more of the mitigating circumstances enumerated in §61-2-2c of
5 this code. Any person otherwise convicted of murder in the first degree is sentenced to
6 confinement in a state correctional facility for life without probation or parole.

§61-2-2a. Sentencing procedures for murder in the first degree.

1 (a) Procedure in jury trials. --

2 After a verdict of murder in the first degree is recorded and before the jury is discharged,
3 the court shall conduct a separate sentencing hearing in which the jury shall determine whether
4 the defendant shall be sentenced to death or life imprisonment. In the sentencing hearing,
5 evidence may be presented as to any matter that the court determines relevant and admissible on
6 the question of the sentence to be imposed, including evidence relating to any of the aggravating
7 or mitigating circumstances specified in §61-2-2b and §61-2-2c of this code. Evidence of 8 aggravating circumstances shall be limited to those circumstances specified in §61-2-2b of this
9 code. After the presentation of evidence, the court shall permit counsel to present argument for 10 and against the sentence of death. The court shall then instruct the jury in accordance with 11 subsection (c) of this section. Failure of the jury to unanimously agree upon a sentence does not
12 impeach or in any way affect the guilty verdict previously recorded.

13 (b) Procedure in nonjury trials and guilty pleas. --

14 If the defendant waives a jury trial or pleads guilty, the sentencing proceeding shall be 15 conducted before a jury impaneled for that purpose unless waived by the defendant with the 16 consent of the state, in which latter case the trial judge shall hear the evidence and determine the 17 penalty in the same manner as would a jury.

18 (c) Instructions to jury. --

19 Before retiring to determine the imposition of sentence, the jury shall be instructed by the 20 court as to the following:

21 (1) The aggravating circumstances specified in §61-2-2b of this code for which any
22 evidence has been presented;

(2) Mitigating circumstances, including those specified in §61-2-2c of this code, for which any evidence has been presented;

(3) Aggravating circumstances must be proved by the state beyond a reasonable doubt. Mitigating circumstances must be proved by the defendant by a preponderance of the evidence;

(4) The sentence shall be a sentence of death if the jury unanimously finds the aggravating circumstance specified in §61-2-2b of this code and no mitigating circumstance or if the jury unanimously finds one or more aggravating circumstances which outweigh all mitigating circumstances. The sentence shall be life imprisonment without probation or parole in all other cases;

(5) The court may discharge the jury if it is of the opinion that further deliberation will not result in a unanimous agreement as to the sentence, in which case the court shall sentence the defendant to life imprisonment; and

(6) The court shall instruct the jury on any other matter that may be just and proper under the circumstances.

§61-2-2b. Aggravating circumstances for imposition of capital punishment.

(a) When a defendant is convicted of murder in the first degree, aggravating circumstances shall be when the victim was a law-enforcement officer or first responder intentionally killed while in the performance of his or her duty;

(b) A finding of aggravated circumstances may not be based on circumstantial evidence but requires some physical evidence, such as forensic DNA evidence, or an uncoerced confession.

§61-2-2c. Mitigating circumstances for imposition of capital punishment.

When a defendant is convicted of murder in the first degree, mitigating circumstances include the following:

(1) The defendant was under the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance at the time of the commission of the murder at issue;

5 (2) The capacity of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his or her conduct or to
6 conform his or her conduct to the requirements of the law was substantially impaired at the time of

8 responder;

9 (3) The defendant, at the time of the murder at issue, was 17 years old or younger;

10 (4) The defendant's participation in the murder at issue was relatively minor; and

11 (5) Any other evidence of mitigation concerning the character and record of the defendant
12 and the circumstances of the murder.

§61-2-2d. Sentencing verdict by the jury.

1 After hearing all the evidence and arguments by counsel and after receiving the
2 instructions from the court, the jury shall deliberate and render a sentencing verdict. In rendering
3 the verdict, the jury shall set forth in writing the findings upon which the sentence is based. Based
4 upon these findings, the jury shall set forth in writing whether the sentence is death or life
5 imprisonment without probation or parole.

§61-2-2e. Recording sentencing verdict; imposing sentence.

1 Whenever the jury agrees upon a sentencing verdict, it shall be received and recorded by
2 the court. The court shall thereafter impose upon the defendant the sentence fixed by the jury. In
3 any case in which the death penalty is imposed, execution shall be by lethal injection.

§61-2-2f. Review of death sentence.

3 Appeals. The clerk of the circuit court, within 10 days after receiving the transcript, shall transmit
4 the entire record and transcript to the Supreme Court of Appeals together with a notice prepared
5 by the clerk and a report prepared by the circuit judge. The notice shall set forth the title and docket
6 number of the case, the name of the defendant and the name and address of his or her attorney, a

10 enumerated by way of appeal.

11 (c) With regard to the sentence, the Supreme Court of Appeals shall determine:

12 (1) Whether the sentence of death was imposed under the influence of passion, prejudice
13 or any other arbitrary factor;

14 (2) Whether the evidence supports the jury's or judge's finding of a statutory aggravating
15 circumstance; and

16 (3) Whether the sentence of death is excessive or disproportionate to the penalty imposed
17 in similar cases, considering both the crime and the defendant.

18 (d) Both the defendant and the state shall have the right to submit briefs within the time
19 limitations set forth in the rules by the Supreme Court of Appeals, and to present oral argument to 20 the Supreme Court of Appeals.

21 (e) The Supreme Court of Appeals shall render a written decision which shall include a
22 reference to those similar cases which it took into consideration. The Supreme Court of Appeals,
23 with regard to review of death sentences, shall:

24 (1) Affirm the sentence of death; or

25 (2) Set the sentence aside and remand the case for resentencing by the circuit judge
26 based on the record and argument of counsel. The records of those similar cases referred to by
27 the Supreme Court of Appeals in its written decision shall be provided to the resentencing judge
28 for his or her consideration.

10 section and shall afford the state an opportunity to respond.

13 was secured in connection with the case is preserved pending the completion of proceedings
14 under this section.

15 (d) The court shall order DNA testing pursuant to an application made under subsection (a)
16 of this section upon a determination that testing may produce noncumulative, exculpatory
17 evidence relevant to the claim of the applicant that the applicant was wrongfully convicted or 18 sentenced.

19 (e) The cost of DNA testing ordered under subsection (d) of this section shall be borne by 20 the state or the applicant, as the court may order in the interests of justice, if it is shown that the

23 (g) If the results of DNA testing conducted under this section are unfavorable to the applicant, the court:

(2) Enter any order that serves the interests of justice, including an order:

(A) Vacating and setting aside the judgment;

(B) Discharging the applicant if the applicant is in custody;

(C) Resentencing the applicant; or

(D) Granting a new trial.

(i) Nothing in this section may be construed to limit the circumstances under which a person may obtain DNA testing or other post-conviction relief under any other provision of law.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the state shall preserve any biological material secured in connection with a death penalty case for such period of time as a person remains incarcerated awaiting execution under a death penalty sentence.
