A BILL to amend and reenact §48-9-209 of the Code of West Virginia, 1931, as amended, relating to permitting judges to refer parents who knowingly make a false accusation of child abuse or neglect or domestic violence during a child custody proceeding to the appropriate prosecuting authority to determine whether criminal charges are merited for falsely reporting an emergency incident.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia:

ARTICLE 9. ALLOCATION OF CUSTODIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND DECISION-MAKING RESPONSIBILITY OF CHILDREN.

§48-9-209. Parenting plan; considerations.

- (a) When entering an order approving or implementing a temporary or permanent parenting plan order, including custodial allocation, the court shall consider whether a parent:
 - (1) Has abused, neglected, or abandoned a child, as defined by state law;
- 4 (2) Has sexually assaulted or sexually abused a child as those terms are defined in §61-5 8B-1 et seq. and §61-8D-1 et seq. of this code;
 - (3) Has committed domestic violence, as defined in §48-27-202 of this code:
 - (4) Has overtly or covertly, persistently violated, interfered with, impaired, or impeded the rights of a parent or a child with respect to the exercise of shared authority, residence, visitation, or other contact with the child, except in the case of actions taken for the purpose of protecting the safety of the child or the interfering parent or another family member, pending adjudication of the facts underlying that belief; or
 - (5) Has made one or more fraudulent reports of domestic violence or child abuse: Provided, That a person's withdrawal of or failure to pursue a report of domestic violence or child support shall not alone be sufficient to consider that report fraudulent.
 - (b) If a parent or another person regularly in the household of the parent is found to have engaged in any activity specified by subsection (a) of this section, the court shall impose limits

required by the court;

17	that are reasonably calculated to protect the child or child's parent from harm. The limitations that
18	the court shall consider include, but are not limited to:
19	(1) An adjustment of the custodial responsibility of the parents, including, but not limited
20	to:
21	(A) Increased parenting time with the child to make up for any parenting time the other
22	parent lost as a result of the proscribed activity;
23	(B) An additional allocation of parenting time in order to repair any adverse effect upon
24	the relationship between the child and the other parent resulting from the proscribed activity; or
25	(C) The allocation of exclusive custodial responsibility to one of the parents;
26	(2) Supervision of the custodial time between a parent and the child;
27	(3) Exchange of the child between parents through an intermediary, or in a protected
28	setting;
29	(4) Restraints on the parent from communication with, or proximity to, the other parent or
30	the child;
31	(5) A requirement that the parent abstain from possession or consumption of alcohol or
32	nonprescribed drugs while exercising custodial responsibility and in the 24-hour period
33	immediately preceding such exercise;
34	(6) Denial of overnight custodial responsibility;
35	(7) Restrictions on the presence of specific persons while the parent is with the child;
36	(8) A requirement that the parent post a bond to secure return of the child following a
37	period in which the parent is exercising custodial responsibility or to secure other performance

domestic violence, for drug or alcohol abuse, or a program designed to correct another factor; or

(9) A requirement that the parent complete a program of intervention for perpetrators of

(10) Any other	er constraints or conditions	that the court de	etermines to be i	necessary to provide for the safety	of the child, a child's parent	, or any person who	ose safety immed	liately affects the child's welfare.

- (c) If a parent or a person regularly in the home of the parent is found to have engaged in any activity specified in subsection (a) of this section, the court may not allocate custodial responsibility or decision-making responsibility to that parent without making special written findings that the child and other parent can be adequately protected from harm by such limits as it may impose under subsection (b) of this section. The parent found to have engaged in the behavior specified in subsection (a) of this section has the burden of proving that an allocation of custodial responsibility or decision-making responsibility to that parent will not endanger the child or the other parent.
- (d) If the court determines, based on the investigation described in part III of this article or other evidence presented to it, that an accusation of child abuse or neglect, or domestic violence made during a child custody proceeding is false and the parent making the accusation knew it to be false at the time the accusation was made, the court may:
- (1) order Order reimbursement to be paid by the person making the accusations of costs resulting from defending against the accusations. The reimbursement may not exceed the actual reasonable costs incurred by the accused party as a result of defending against the accusation and reasonable attorney's fees incurred; and
- (2) Refer the matter to the appropriate prosecuting authority to determine whether criminal charges are merited under §61-6-20 of this code.
- (e) (1) A parent who believes he or she is the subject of activities by the other parent described in subdivision (5), subsection (a) of this section may move the court pursuant to §49-5-101(b)(4) of this code for the Department of Human Services to disclose whether the other parent was the source of the allegation and, if so, whether the department found the report to be:
 - (A) Substantiated;

67	(B) Unsubstantiated;
68	(C) Inconclusive; or
69	(D) Still under investigation.
70	(2) If the court grants a motion pursuant to this subsection, disclosure by the Department
71	of Human Services shall be in camera. The court may disclose to the parties information received
72	from the department only if it has reason to believe a parent knowingly made a false report.
73	(f) In determining whether the presumption for an equal (50-50) allocation of physical
74	custody has been rebutted, a court shall consider all relevant factors including any of the following:
75	(1) The factors set forth in subsection (a) of this section;
76	(2) Whether the child:
