4 as amended; relating generally to the use of gold and silver as legal tender in the state of 5 West Virginia; defining terms; authorizing the State Treasurer to establish the West Virginia
6 Bullion Depository within the State Treasury; making the State Treasurer the administrator
7 of the depository; providing that deposits are held in trust for account holders and are not
8 subject to appropriation; prohibiting payment of interest on deposits; establishing the West
9 Virginia Bullion Depository administrative account; setting forth the duties of the 10 administrator; enumerating the powers of the administrator; setting forth requirements for 11 deposits; authorizing the depository to issue transactional currency; requiring the 12 administrator to promulgate legislative rules and emergency rules subject to certain 13 requirements; exempting depository account contents from state taxation; providing for the 14 confidentiality of depository records; recognizing gold coin issued by the United States as 15 legal tender in West Virginia; and recognizing bullion, specie, and transaction currency,
16 issued by the depository, as legal tender in West Virginia.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia:

CHAPTER 12. PUBLIC MONEYS AND SECURITIES.

ARTICLE 11. THE WEST VIRGINIA LEGAL TENDER ACT.

§12-11-1. Short Title.

1 This article and the amendments to §47-6-4 of this code, shall collectively be known and
2 may be cited as "the West Virginia Legal Tender Act".

§12-11-2. Definitions.

1 "Administrator" means the West Virginia State Treasurer.

2 "Account holder" means the original depositor to a depository account, or a successor or 3 assignee of said depositor.

4 "Bullion" means precious metals that are formed into uniform shapes and quantities such 5 as ingots, bars, or plates, with uniform content and purity, as are suitable for or customarily used in 6 the purchase, sale, storage, transfer, and delivery of bulk or wholesale transactions in precious 7 metals.

8 "Deposit" means the establishment of an executory obligation of the depository to deliver 9 to the order of the person establishing with the depository the obligation, on demand, a quantity of 10 a specified precious metal, in bullion, specie, or a combination of bullion and specie, equal to the 11 quantity of the same precious metal delivered by or on behalf of the depositor into the custody of 12 the depository or a depository agent.

13 "Depositor" means a person who makes a deposit.

14 "Depository" means the West Virginia Bullion Depository authorized by this article.

15 "Depository account" means the rights, interests, and entitlements established in favor of a 16 depositor with respect to a deposit in accordance with this article and rules adopted under this 17 article.

18 "Depository agent" means a person licensed in accordance with this article to serve as an 19 intermediary between the depository and an account holder in making a transaction in precious 20 metals bullion or specie.

21 "Electronic currency" means a representation of physical gold, silver, specie, or bullion 22 which may be transferred through a digital transaction by the owner of that currency and which is 23 fully redeemable as physical gold, silver, specie, or bullion. This representation shall reflect the 24 exact units of physical gold, silver, specie, or bullion in its fractional troy ounce measurement or 25 grams.

"Legal tender" means a recognized medium of exchange authorized by the United States Congress or by any state pursuant to sec. 8 or sec. 10, Art. I of the United States Constitution, respectively, for the payment of debts, public charges, taxes, or dues.

"Precious metal" means a metal, including gold, silver, platinum, palladium, and rhodium, that:

- (1) Bears a high value-to-weight ratio relative to common industrial metals; and
- (2) Customarily is formed into bullion or specie.

"Specie" means a precious metal stamped into coins of uniform shape, size, design, content, and purity, suitable for or customarily used as currency, as a medium of exchange, or as the medium for purchase, sale, storage, transfer, or delivery of precious metals in retail or wholesale transactions.

"Transactional currency" means a representation of actual gold or silver bullion or specie, held in a depository account by a depository account holder, which may be transferred by electronic instruction. That representation shall reflect the exact units of gold and silver bullion or physical specie in the pooled depository account in its fractional troy ounce measurement as provided by this article.

§12-11-3. West Virginia Bullion Depository authorized.

(a) The administrator is hereby authorized to establish a West Virginia Bullion Depository which shall be an agency and instrumentality of this state within the West Virginia State Treasury.

(b) Upon the establishment of the depository, the depository shall serve as the custodian, guardian, and administrator of all bullion and specie deposited with the state pursuant to this article. All bullion or specie held in the depository is held in trust for depository account holders and is not subject to legislative appropriation.

(c) The accounts established in the depository may not be interest-bearing accounts. The depository may not pay interest on a depository account or pay any other amount to the account holder in the nature of interest.

10 (d) Upon the establishment of the depository, there shall be created a separate special
11 revenue account within the State Treasury titled the "Bullion Depository Administrative Account", 12 which shall receive all fees, charges, and penalties collected by the depository as well as any 13 appropriations to the depository from the Legislature. The administrator shall make expenditures 14 from the administrative account for the purposes of implementing, operating, and maintaining the 15 depository. Any balance, including accrued interest and other returns, remaining in the 16 administrative account at the end of each fiscal year may not revert to the General Revenue Fund 17 but shall remain in the fund to be expended as authorized by this article.

§12-11-4. Duties and powers of the administrator.

1 (a) Upon the establishment of the West Virginia Bullion Depository, the administrator may:

2 (1) Administer, supervise, and direct the operations and affairs of the depository and 3 depository agents;

4 (2) Establish and publish the references by which the official exchange rate for pricing
5 bullion and specie transactions in terms of United States dollars or other currency is determined at 6 the time of a depository transaction in reference to fractional troy ounce measurement, and to 7 establish procedures and facilities through which the rates are made discoverable at all 8 reasonable times by system participants, both on a real-time basis and retrospectively;

9 (3) Provide state-of-the-art security measures to prevent theft, fraud, or other unauthorized 10 use or removal of deposits from the depository and to provide for the confidentiality and privacy of 11 account holder information;

12 (4) Maintain insurance coverage sufficient to cover the full value of all deposits in the 13 depository;

14 (5) Maintain adequate records of all depository accounts, and all transactions, deposits,
15 and withdrawals associated with each account;

16 (6) Operate in compliance with all federal and state laws pertaining to bullion storage, 17 management, and transactions; and

18 (7) Enter into a contract with each account holder prior to the opening of an account
19 establishing the respective duties and responsibilities of the depository and the account holder.

20 (b) Upon the establishment of the depository, the administrator with regard to depository 21 administration may:

22 (1) Execute contracts and other instruments for necessary goods and services, employ 23 necessary personnel, and engage the services of private consultants, auditors, counsel, 24 managers, trustees, depository agents, and any other contractor or professional needed for 25 rendering professional and technical assistance and advice to the depository: Provided, That 26 selection of these services is not subject to the provisions of §5A-3-1 et seq.:

27 (2) Assess, collect, and expend reasonable administrative fees, charges, and penalties
28 from account holders and to establish the method by which funds in the Bullion Depository
29 Administrative Account shall be allocated to pay for the administrative and operating costs of the 30 depository:

31 (3) Establish physical standards for gold and silver materials that will qualify as bullion or 32 specie accepted as deposits:

33 (4) Place a lien on a depository account when necessary to secure any fees, charges, or 34 other obligations owed to the depository;

35 (5) Investigate and audit depository account activity and to disqualify or suspend an 36 account holder based on a violation of the contract between the account holder and depository,
37 apparent misconduct, or illegal activity;

38 (6) Employ security officers authorized to carry firearms to ensure the physical security of 39 the depository: Provided, That these officers shall first fulfill the certification requirement for 40 law-enforcement officers under §30-29-5 and take and file an oath of office as required by §6-1-1 41 et seq.:

42 (7) Establish transactional currency, as provided in §12-10-6;

43 (8) Promulgate legislative rules pursuant to §29A-3-1 et seq.; and

44 (9) Take all other necessary actions to carry out the requirements of this article subject to 45 the limitations of applicable state and federal law.

§12-11-5. Deposits.

1 Upon the establishment of the West Virginia Bullion Depository, the administrator shall 2 accept from individuals, for deposit into authorized accounts, gold and silver bullion or specie:
3 Provided, That the administrator may establish minimum standards for materials that will qualify
4 as bullion or specie accepted by the depository through the administrator's legislative rulemaking 5 authority.

§12-11-6. Transactional currency authorized.

1 (a) The West Virginia Bullion Depository may establish a transactional currency, backed by 2 gold and silver bullion or specie, for account holders to utilize. Each unit of the transactional 3 currency issued to an account holder shall represent a particular fraction of a troy ounce of gold or 4 silver held in the account holder's depository account.

5 (b) The value of a unit of the transactional currency at the time of a transaction shall be 6 equal to the value of the appropriate fraction of a troy ounce of gold or silver, respectively at the 7 time of that transaction, as published by the West Virginia Bullion Depository pursuant to 8 §12-10-4(a)(2).

9 (c) The administrator may establish a reasonable fee for the issuance or redemption of the 10 transactional currency and an industry standard merchant fee for use. The administrator shall 11 deposit all transaction currency fee proceeds into the West Virginia Bullion Administrative Fund.

§12-11-7. Rulemaking.

1 (a) Prior to the establishment of the depository authorized by this article, the administrator
2 shall promulgate emergency rules according to the requirements of §29A-3-15 which shall, at a 3 minimum:

4 (1) Establish a procedure for the administrator to determine and publish valuation of bullion
5 or specie by fractional troy ounce, along with the exchange rates of bullion and specie accepted by

6 the depository;

7 (2) Establish account opening requirements;

8 (3) Establish account ownership rights and requirements for joint account ownership,

9 account beneficiaries, and account transfers;

10 (4) Establish account deposit and withdrawal procedures, including but not limited to,

11 procedures for the delivery of deposits to an account holder on demand;

12 (5) Provide for the physical security of deposits and the privacy of account holder

13 information;

14 (6) Provide for regular third-party auditing of the depository and its procedures; and

15 (7) Establish the method by which deposits may be redeemed for money if said redemption

16 is permitted by the rules.

17 (b) Prior to the establishment of transactional currency authorized by this article, the 18 administrator shall promulgate emergency rules according to the requirements of §29A-3-15,

19 which shall, at a minimum:

20 (1) Provide for the determination and publication of the value of transactional currency in 21 real-time;

22 (2) Establish the method by which currency may be redeemed with the depository for

23 bullion or specie; and

24 (3) Establish the method by which account holders will transact in the currency, whether by 25 payment card, digital currency, or other method.

§12-11-8. Exemption from taxation.

1 For the purposes of Chapter 11 of this code:

2 (1) Bullion and specie held in the West Virginia Bullion Depository do not constitute

3 personal property and may not be subject to ad valorem personal property taxation;

4 (2) The exchange of one type of legal tender for another type of legal tender recognized in

5 this state shall not give rise to tax liability; and

(3) The purchase, sale, or exchange of any type of legal tender recognized by this state may not give rise to tax liability.

§12-11-9. Confidentiality.

1 All information pertaining to account holders or individual depository accounts is 2 confidential and exempt from disclosure under chapter 29B of this code. Nothing in this section 3 prohibits disclosure or publication of information in a statistical or other form which does not 4 identify the individual accounts or account holders involved or provide other personal information.

CHAPTER 47. REGULATION OF TRADE.

ARTICLE 6. MONEY AND INTEREST.

§47-6-4. Silver coin as legal tender.

1 The gold or silver coin issued by the government of the United States and any bullion unit
2 or specie accepted for deposit by the West Virginia Bullion Depository shall be a legal tender for 3 the payment of all debts heretofore or hereafter contracted by the citizens of this state, and the 4 same shall be received in payment of all debts due to the citizens of this state, and in satisfaction of 5 all taxes levied by the authority of the laws of this state.

NOTE: The purpose of this bill is to recognize gold and silver bullion and specie as legal tender in West Virginia, to authorize the West Virginia Bullion Depository, and to authorize the depository to issue transactional currency backed by gold and silver.
