9 families, caregivers, and communities in every region of the state; and

10       Whereas, Children, youth, parents, caregivers, and families with lived experience offer 11 essential insight into what strengthens families and how systems can more effectively support 12 long-term stability and success; and

13       Whereas, Meaningful collaboration across systems and cross-sector partners strengthens 14 outcomes and promotes family-centered, sustainable solutions; and

19 Association (Court Appointed Special Advocates), Fairmont State University, and the WV Schools
