THE GREAT SEAL OF WEST VIRGINIA

INTRODUCTION

In this edition of the Blue Book all state, federal, county and municipal registers have been completely revised and the section devoted to clubs and associations enlarged so as to include all fraternal organizations of a statewide character.

Much new material has been added. A table has been compiled and is included in the new industrial section which shows at a glance the chief industrial and agricultural products of each county. There is also shown the ten leading coal, oil and gas producing counties in West Virginia.

Lists have been compiled, by home counties of members, of United States Senators and Congressmen from West Virginia and members of the State Senate and House of Delegates for the period from 1863 to 1938. Other new material includes a complete climatic summary for West Virginia for the past quarter of a century; the date of the establishment of all penal and correctional institutions, state hospitals and sanitariums, with number of inmates and patients; and a list showing school newspapers and magazines published at all of the universities, colleges and high schools in West Virginia.

As usual, the various sections have been inserted alphabetically. There has been but one change in the lay-out of the book. The federal section has been inserted immediately following the set-up of the state departments.

There has been a further elimination of white space, and more type has been reduced so as to make it possible to include much additional material that has heretofore of necessity been omitted.

Again the editor desires to express his sincere thanks to state, federal, county and municipal officials, and to all others who have so cheerfully and willingly aided in the compilation of data used in this edition of the Blue Book.

CHARLES LIVELY.

THE NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION IN WEST VIRGINIA

By GLENN S. CALLAGHAN
State Director

The National Youth Administration is the outgrowth of a very urgent need in the lives of young people. It answered the call for something to be done about a deep-rooted social and economic evil that had grown up as a result of a rapidly changing society with which the young people themselves had little or nothing to do. Ushered into an age of highly technical specialization, the very peculiar situation in which the young people found themselves was accentuated by one colossal catastrophe after another, such as dust storms, severe droughts and unprecedented floods. They were caught in the whirlwind of a severe social and economic depression that rendered millions of them helpless in the present and hopeless in the future. For youth the picture was dark and distressing indeed.

This situation was very materially allayed when, on June 26, 1935, the National Youth Administration was created by executive order of President Roosevelt, whereupon he declared, "I have determined that we will do something for the nation's unemployed youth because we can ill afford to lose the skill and energy of these young men and women. They must have their chance in school, their turn as apprentices, their opportunity for job finding and a chance to work and earn a living for themselves. The yield on this investment should be high." West Virginia's yield on this investment has been high.

The major objectives of the National Youth Administration are: (1) To provide part-time employment on selected projects for young people between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five who come from needy families; (2) To provide part-time employment for needy high school, college and graduate students between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five so that they may continue their training process, and to somewhat prevent an already overworked unemployment market; (3) To provide the planning, development and consummation of desirable projects which not only give youth employment and work experience, but materially benefit other youths and their communities; (4) To provide job training, counseling and placement for young people.

There are two distinct phases of the National Youth Administration which embody the foregoing major objectives. They are (1) educational aid and, (2) work program. The allocations to West Virginia from presidential limitations and congressional appropriations for the two phases of the National Youth Administration from July 1, 1935, to June 30, 1939, are, for the several fiscal years, as follows:

(1) Educational Aid

1935-36	.....	$410,667.66
1936-37	.....	415,462.63
1937-38	.....	301,325.00
1938-39	.....	324,565.00
Total	.....	$ 1,452,020.29

(2) Work Program

1935-36	.....	$369,576.97
1936-37	.....	690,805.10
1937-38	.....	870,912.00
1938-39	.....	1,046,950.00
Total	.....	$ 2,978,244.07
Total	.....	$ 4,430,264.36

There are approximately 375 junior and senior high schools, 21 colleges and one graduate school in West Virginia participating in the Educational Aid Program. The monthly earnings are as follows:

School Aid (junior and senior) maximum.....	$	6.00
College Aid, maximum $20, average.....		15.00
Graduate Aid, maximum $40, average.....		30.00

For the period beginning in 1935 and ending in June, 1939, approximately 25,000 different young people in West Virginia schools have been afforded aid.

The work program provides work activity for about 5,000 young people from needy families between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, who are otherwise unemployed and out of school. The average over-all per capita cost in West Virginia is about $18.00 per month, $16.00 of which, on the average, goes to the youngster for his labor.

These young people in the past 32 months have completed about 1500 units of work in West Virginia in the way of constructing school buildings, community centers and recreation centers, rehabilitating schools and school grounds, building recreational areas, play fields and athletic fields, enhancing the sanitary and health conditions in the communities, building bus shelters, bus stops, roads, streets, water systems and swimming pools, digging wells, and building cisterns, playground equipment, tennis courts, stadiums, vocational, trade and industrial school units and work shops.

Units of work being operated for girls include sewing, weaving, nurse aides, clerical, library, etc.

The National Youth Administration operates in both phases of its program in every county in the state. All phases are open to both negro and white youth.

A special work project activity of the works program, denominated Resident-Work Training, is now being operated at the following points in West Virginia:

New River State School, Montgomery (boys).

Parkersburg (girls).

Potomac State School of West Virginia University, Keyser (boys)

West Virginia State School, Institute (negro boys and girls).

Parsons (boys).

St. Marys (boys).

The following additional project activity is contemplated for the near future:

Glenville State College (boys).

Pineville (girls).

Hamlin—agriculture (boys and girls).

Wardensville—agriculture (boys and girls).

Under this phase of the work program an effort is made to give job experience and related training on the "earn while you learn" principle.

The National Youth Administration does not undertake to turn out first class or finished craftsmen or journeymen, but only to assist each youth through his experience and training to decide definitely on his life's work and then to give him enough training to make him more eligible for private employment as an apprentice or as a trade helper. In other words, it is its purpose to take youth who have been denied many opportunities as far as education and trade training are concerned and give them these opportunities. The National Youth Administration finds boys and girls on one opportunity level and attempts to raise them to a higher opportunity level as a result of the experience and training received on the work program.

There is no vested interest in the principle involved in the National Youth Administration, but the significance of its deep-rooted social and economic aspect gives such power and momentum to its operation that it fulfills a most important and significant need in the functional life of the nation.

ARTICLE I

Relation to the Government of the United States

1. The State of West Virginia is, and shall remain, one of the United States of America. The Constitution of the United States of America, and the laws and treaties made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land.

Internal Government and Police

2. The government of the United States is a government of enumerated powers, and all powers not delegated to it, nor inhibited to the States, are reserved to the States or to the people thereof. Among the powers so reserved to the States is the exclusive regulation of their own internal government and police; and it is the high and solemn duty of the several departments of government, created by this Constitution, to guard and protect the people of this State from all encroachments upon the rights so reserved.

Continuity of Constitutional Operation

3. The provisions of the Constitution of the United States, and of this State, are operative alike in a period of war as in times of peace, and any departure therefrom, or violation thereof, under the plea of necessity, or any other plea, is subversive of good government, and tends to anarchy and despotism.

Representatives to Congress

4. For the election of representatives to congress, the State shall be divided into districts, corresponding in number with the representatives to which it may be entitled; which districts shall be formed of contiguous counties, and be compact. Each district shall contain, as nearly as may be, an equal number of population, to be determined according to the rule prescribed in the Constitution of the United States.

ARTICLE II

The State

1. The territory of the following counties, formerly parts of the Commonwealth of Virginia, shall constitute and form the State of West Virginia, viz.:

The counties of Barbour, Berkeley, Boone, Braxton, Brooke, Cabell, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Fayette, Gilmer, Grant, Greenbrier, Hampshire, Hancock, Hardy, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Kanawha, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Marion, Marshall, Mason, McDowell, Mercer, Mineral, Monongalia, Monroe, Morgan, Nicholas, Ohio, Pendleton, Pleasants, Pocahontas, Preston, Putnam, Raleigh, Randolph, Ritchie, Roane, Summers, Taylor, Tucker, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Webster, Wetzel, Wirt, Wood and Wyoming. The State of West Virginia includes the bed, bank and shores of the Ohio River, and so much of the Big Sandy River as was formerly included in the Commonwealth of Virginia; in all territorial rights and property in, and jurisdiction over the same, heretofore reserved by, and vested in, the Commonwealth of Virginia, are vested in and shall hereafter be exercised by the State of West Virginia. And such parts of the said beds, banks and shores as lie opposite, and adjoining the several counties of this State, shall form parts of said several counties respectively.

[All of the territory of West Virginia was taken from the Commonwealth of Virginia and in the first constitution forty-four of the above named counties were designated as forming the State of West Virginia, and in addition the counties of Berkeley, Hampshire, Hardy, Jefferson, Morgan and Pendleton were to be admitted should the constitution be adopted by a vote of the people of the districts comprising the counties. The districts adopted the constitution and these six counties became a part of the State.

The remaining five counties were created by acts of the legislature as follows: Mineral County, from Hampshire County, on February 1, 1866; Grant County, from Hardy County, on February 14, 1866; Lincoln County, from parts of Cabell, Putnam, Kanawha and Boone Counties, on February 23, 1867; Summers County, from parts of Greenbrier, Monroe, Mercer and Fayette Counties, on February 27, 1871; and Mingo County, from Logan County, on February 23, 1895.]

Powers of Government in Citizens

2. The powers of government reside in all the citizens of the State, and can be rightly exercised only in accordance with their will and appointment.

Requisites of Citizenship

3. All persons residing in this State, born, or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall be citizens of this State.

Equal Representation

4. Every citizen shall be entitled to equal representation in the government, and, in all apportionments of representation, equality of numbers of those entitled thereto shall, as far as practicable, be preserved.

Provisions Regarding Property

5. No distinction shall be made between resident aliens and citizens as to the acquisition, tenure, disposition or descent of property.

Treason, What Constitutes—Penalty

6. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. Treason shall be punished according to the character of the acts committed, by the infliction of one, or more, of the penalties of death, imprisonment or fine, as may be prescribed by law.

"Montani Semper Liberi"—State Seal

7. The present seal of the State, with its motto, "Montani Semper Liberi," shall be the great seal of the State of West Virginia, and shall be kept by the Secretary of State, to be used by him officially, as directed by law.

Writs, Commissions, Official Bonds—Indictments

8. Writs, grants and commissions, issued under the authority of this State, shall run in the name of, and official bonds shall be made payable to the State of West Virginia. Indictments shall conclude, "Against the peace and dignity of the State."

ARTICLE III

Bill of Rights

1. All men are, by nature, equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights, of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot by any compact, deprive or divest their posterity, namely: the enjoyment of life and liberty, with the means of acquiring and possessing property, and of pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety.

Magistrates Servants of People

2. All power is vested in, and consequently derived from the people. Magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at all times amenable to them.

Rights Reserved to People

3. Government is instituted for the common benefit, protection and security of the people, nation or community. Of all its various forms, that is the best which is capable of producing the greatest degree of happiness and safety, and is most effectually secured against the danger of maladministration; and when any government shall be found inadequate or contrary to these purposes, a majority of the community has an indubitable, inalienable and indefeasible right to reform, alter or abolish it in such manner as shall be judged most conducive to the public weal.

Writ of Habeas Corpus

4. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended. No person shall be held to answer for treason, felony or other crime, not cognizable by a justice, unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury. No bill of attainder, ex-post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of a contract, shall be passed.

Excessive Bail Not Required

5. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted. Penalties shall be proportioned to the character and degree of the offense. No person shall be transported out of, or forced to leave the State for any offense committed within the same; nor shall any person, in any criminal case, be compelled to be a witness against himself, or be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty for the same offense.

Unreasonable Search and Seizure Prohibited

6. The rights of the citizens to be secure in their houses, persons, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated. No warrant shall issue except upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, or the person or thing to be seized.

Freedom of Speech and Press Guaranteed

7. No law abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, shall be passed; but the Legislature may, by suitable penalties, restrain the publication or sale of obscene books, papers, or pictures, and provide for the punishment of libel, and defamation of character, and for the recovery, in civil actions, by the aggrieved party, of suitable damages for such libel, or defamation.

Relating to Civil Suits for Libel

8. In prosecutions and civil suits for libel, the truth may be given in evidence; and if it shall appear to the jury, that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives, and for justifiable ends, the verdict shall be for the defendant.

Private Property, How Taken

9. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use, without just compensation; nor shall the same be taken by any company, incorporated for the purpose of internal improvement, until just compensation shall have been paid, or secured to be paid, to the owner; and when private property shall be taken, or damaged, for public use, or for the use of such corporations, the compensation to the owner shall be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by general law: Provided, That when required by either of the parties, such compensation shall be ascertained by an impartial jury of twelve freeholders.

Safeguards for Life, Liberty and Property

10. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, and the judgment of his peers.

Political Tests Condemned

11. Political tests, requiring persons, as a prerequisite to the enjoyment of their civil and political rights, to purge themselves by their own oaths, of past alleged offenses, are repugnant to the principles of free government, and are cruel and oppressive. No religious or political test oath shall be required as a prerequisite or qualification to vote, serve as a juror, sue, plead, appeal, or pursue any profession or employment. Nor shall any person be deprived by law of any right, or privilege, because of any act done prior to the passage of such law.

Military Subordinate to Civil Power

12. Standing armies, in time of peace, should be avoided as dangerous to liberty. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power; and no citizen, unless engaged in the military service of the State, shall be tried or punished by any military court, for any offense that is cognizable by the civil courts of the State. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, except in the manner to be prescribed by law.

Right of Jury Trial

13. In suits at common law, where the value in controversy exceeds twenty dollars exclusive of interest and costs, the right of trial by jury, if required by either party, shall be preserved; and in such suit before a justice a jury may consist of six persons. No fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any case than according to the rules of the common law.

[This section, prior to its amendment, read as follows: "In suits at common law, where the value in controversy, exclusive of interest and costs, exceeds twenty dollars, the right of trial by a jury of twelve men, if required by either party, shall be preserved; except that in appeals from judgments of justices, a jury of a less number may be authorized by law; but in trials of civil cases before a justice no jury shall be allowed and no fact tried by a jury shall in any case be otherwise re-examined than according to the rules of common law."

The amendment as set forth above was proposed by joint resolution of March 7, 1879, and was adopted at the general election in 1880. Vote on the amendment: For ratification, 56,482; against ratification, 34,073; majority, 22,409.]

Trial of Crimes—Provisions in Interest of Accused

14. Trials of crimes, and misdemeanors, unless herein otherwise provided, shall be by a jury of twelve men, public, without unreasonable delay, and in the county where the alleged offense was committed, unless upon petition of the accused, and for good cause shown, it is removed to some other county. In all such trials, the accused shall be fully and plainly informed of the character and cause of the accusation, and be confronted with the witnesses against him, and shall have the assistance of counsel, and a reasonable time to prepare for his defense; and there shall be awarded to him compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor.

Religious Freedom Guaranteed

15. No man shall be compelled to frequent or support any religious worship, place or ministry whatsoever; nor shall any man be enforced, restrained, molested or burthened, in his body or goods, or otherwise suffer, on account of his religious opinions or belief, but all men shall be free to profess, and, by argument, to maintain their opinions in matters of religion; and the same shall, in no wise, affect, diminish or enlarge their civil capacities; and the legislature shall not prescribe any religious test whatever, or confer any peculiar privileges or advantages on any sect or denomination, or pass any law requiring or authorizing any religious society, or the people of any district within this State, to levy on themselves, or others, any tax for the erection or repair of any house for public worship, or for the support of any church or ministry, but it shall be left free for every person to select his religious instructor, and to make for his support such private contract as he shall please.

Right of Public Assembly Held Inviolable

16. The right of the people to assemble in a peaceable manner, to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives, or to apply for redress of grievances, shall be held inviolable.

Courts Open to All—Justice Administered Speedily

17. The courts of this State shall be open, and every person, for an injury done to him, in his person, property or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law; and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay.

Conviction Not to Work Corruption of Blood or Forfeiture

18. No conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

Hereditary Emoluments, Etc., Provided Against

19. No hereditary emoluments, honors or privileges shall ever be granted or conferred in this State.

Preservation of Free Government

20. Free government and the blessings of liberty can be preserved to any people only by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.

ARTICLE IV

Elections and Officers

1. The male citizens of the State shall be entitled to vote at all elections held within the counties in which they respectively reside; but no person who is a minor, or of unsound mind, or a pauper, or who is under conviction of treason, felony, or bribery in an election, or who has not been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county in which he offers to vote, for sixty days next preceding such offer, shall be permitted to vote while such disability continues; but no person in the military, naval or marine service of the United States shall be deemed a resident of this State by reason of being stationed therein.

Mode of Voting by Ballot

2. In all elections by the people, the mode of voting shall be by ballot; but the voter shall be free to vote by either open, sealed or secret ballot, as he may elect.

Voter Not Subject to Arrest on Civil Process

3. No voter, during the continuance of an election at which he is entitled to vote, or during the time necessary and convenient for going to and returning from the same, shall be subject to arrest upon civil process, or be compelled to attend any court, or judicial proceeding, as suitor, juror or witness; or to work upon the public roads or except in time of war or public danger to render military service.

Persons Entitled to Hold Office—Age Requirements

4. No person, except citizens entitled to vote, shall be elected or appointed to any State, county or municipal office; but the Governor and Judges must have attained the age of thirty, and the Attorney General and Senators the age of twenty-five years, at the beginning of their respective terms of service; and must have been citizens of the State for five years next preceding their election or appointment, or be citizens at the time this Constitution goes into operation.

Oath or Affirmation to Support the Constitution

5. Every person elected or appointed to any office, before proceeding to exercise the authority, or discharge the duties thereof, shall make oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this State, and that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his said office to the best of his skill and judgment; and no other oath, declaration, or test shall be required as a qualification, unless herein otherwise provided.

Provisions for Removal of Officials

6. All officers elected or appointed under this Constitution, may, unless in cases herein otherwise provided for, be removed from office for official misconduct, incompetence, neglect of duty, or gross immorality, in such manner as may be prescribed by general law, and unless so removed they shall continue to discharge the duties of their respective offices until their successors are elected, or appointed and qualified.

General Elections, When Held—Term of Officials

7. The general elections of State and county officers, and of members of the legislature, shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, until otherwise provided by law. The terms of such officers, not elected, or appointed to fill a vacancy, shall, unless herein otherwise provided, begin, on the first day of January; and of the members of the Legislature, on the first day of December next succeeding their election. Elections to fill vacancies, shall be for the unexpired term. When vacancies occur prior to any general election, they shall be filled by appointments in such manner as may be prescribed herein, or by general law, which appointments shall expire at such time after the next general election as the person so elected to fill such vacancy shall be qualified.

[The original section provided that the general election should be held on "the second Tuesday of October," and the change was made in order that the election of state officers would fall on the same day as the presidential election. The original section also provided that the terms of office of members of the legislature should begin on the first day of November next succeeding their election, but the amendment provided that the term should begin on the first day of December.

The amendment as set forth above was proposed by joint resolution of February 21, 1883, and ratified at the general election in 1884. Vote on the amendment: For ratification, 66,181; against ratification, 25,422; majority, 40,759.]

Further Provisions Regarding State's Officers and Agents

8. The Legislature, in cases not provided for in this constitution, shall prescribe, by general laws, the terms of office, powers, duties and compensation of all public officers and agents, and the manner in which they shall be elected, appointed and removed.

Impeachment of Officials

9. Any officer of the State may be impeached for maladministration, corruption, incompetency, gross immorality, neglect of duty, or any high crime or misdemeanor. The House of Delegates shall have the sole power of impeachment. The Senate shall have the sole power to try impeachments and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto. When sitting as a court of impeachment, the President of the Supreme Court of Appeals, or, if from any cause it be improper for him to act, then any other judge of that court, to be designated by it, shall preside; and the Senators shall be on oath or affirmation, to do justice according to law and evidence. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust or profit, under the State; but the party convicted shall be liable to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment according to law. The Senate may sit during the recess of the Legislature for the trial of impeachments.

Fighting of Duels Prohibited

10. Any citizen of this State, who shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, either in, or out of the State, fight a duel with deadly weapons, or send or accept a challenge so to do, or who shall act as a second or knowingly aid or assist in such duel, shall, ever thereafter, be incapable of holding any office of honor, trust or profit in this State.

Safeguards for Ballots

11. The Legislature shall prescribe the manner of conducting and making returns of elections, and of determining contested elections; and shall pass such laws as may be necessary and proper to prevent intimidation, disorder or violence at the polls, and corruption or fraud in voting, counting the vote, ascertaining or declaring the result, or fraud in any manner upon the ballot.

Registration Laws Provided For

12. The Legislature shall enact proper laws for the registration of all qualified voters in this State.

[This section, prior to its amendment, read as follows: "No citizen shall ever be denied or refused the right or privilege of voting at an election because his name is not or has not been registered or listed as a qualified voter."

The amendment was proposed by joint resolution of February 22, 1901, and adopted at the general election in 1902. Vote on the amendment: For ratification, 55,196; against ratification, 25,379; majority, 29,817.]

ARTICLE V

Division of Powers

1. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Department shall be separate and distinct, so that neither shall exercise the powers properly belonging to either of the others; nor shall any person exercise the powers of more than one of them at the same time, except that justices of the peace shall be eligible to the Legislature.

ARTICLE VI

Legislature

1. The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and House of Delegates. The style of their Acts shall be, "Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia."

Composition of Senate and House of Delegates

2. The Senate shall be composed of twenty-four, and the House of Delegates of sixty-five members subject to be increased according to the provisions hereinafter contained.

[The Senate is now composed of thirty-two, and the House of Delegates of ninety-four members.]

Senators and Delegates—Terms of Office

3. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years, and Delegates for the term of two years. The Senators first elected shall divide themselves into two classes, one Senator from every district being assigned to each class; and of these classes, the first to be designated by lot in such manner as the Senate may determine, shall hold their seats for two years, and the second for four years, so that after the first election, one-half of the Senators shall be elected biennially.

Division of State Into Senatorial Districts

4. For the election of Senators, the State shall be divided into twelve Senatorial Districts which number shall not be diminished, but may be increased as hereinafter provided. Every district shall elect two Senators, but, where the district is composed of more than one county, both shall not be chosen from the same county. The districts shall be compact, formed of contiguous territory, bounded by county lines, and, as nearly as practicable, equal in population, to be ascertained by the census of the United States. After every such census, the Legislature shall alter the Senatorial Districts, so far as may be necessary to make them conform to the foregoing provision.

[There are now sixteen senatorial districts, as provided by Acts of 1937, Ch. 128.]

Senatorial Districts Designated

5. Until the Senatorial Districts shall be altered by the Legislature as herein prescribed, the counties of Hancock, Brooke and Ohio, shall constitute the first Senatorial District; Marshall, Wetzel and Marion, the second; Ritchie, Doddridge, Harrison, Gilmer and Calhoun, the third; Tyler, Pleasants, Wood and Wirt, the fourth; Jackson, Mason, Putnam and Roane, the fifth; Kanawha, Clay, Nicholas, Braxton and Webster, the sixth; Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln, Boone, Logan, Wyoming, McDowell and Mercer, the seventh; Monroe, Greenbrier, Summers, Pocahontas, Fayette and Raleigh, the eighth; Lewis, Randolph, Upshur, Barbour, Taylor and Tucker, the ninth; Preston and Monongalia, the tenth; Hampshire, Mineral, Hardy, Grant and Pendleton, the eleventh; Berkeley, Morgan and Jefferson, the twelfth.

[By the provisions of the reapportionment act of 1937 (Acts 1937, Ch. 128) the number of senatorial districts was increased to sixteen, the number of senators to thirty-two, and the counties rearranged in the various districts.]

Provision for Delegate Representation

6. For the election of Delegates, every county containing a population of less than three-fifths of the ratio of representation for the House of Delegates, shall at each apportionment, be attached to some contiguous county or counties, to form a Delegate District.

[By the provisions of the Acts of 1901, Ch. 10, the House of Delegates consisted of eighty-six members, each county having at least one member. Since the general election of 1916, the House of Delegates has consisted of ninety-four members, each county having at least one member. See Ch. 30, p. 270, Acts 1915, Regular Session.]

Delegate Apportionment After Census

7. After every census the Delegates shall be apportioned as follows: The ratio of representation for the House of Delegates shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of the State by the number of which the House is to consist and rejecting the fraction of a unit, if any, resulting from such division. Dividing the population of every Delegate District, and of every county not included in a delegate district, by the ratio thus ascertained, there shall be assigned to each a number of Delegates equal to the quotient obtained by this division, excluding the fractional remainder. The additional Delegates necessary to make up the number of which the House is to consist, shall then be assigned to those Delegate Districts, and counties not included in a Delegate District, which would otherwise have the largest fractions unrepresented; but every Delegate District and county not included in a Delegate District shall be entitled to at least one Delegate.

Designation of Delegate Districts

8. But such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session, and shall not prevent the punishment of any offense, by the ordinary course of law.

Accounting for State Monies

27. Laws shall be enacted and enforced, by suitable provisions and penalties, requiring sheriffs, and all other officers, whether State, county, district or municipal, who shall collect or receive, or whose official duty it is or shall be to collect, receive, hold or pay out any money belonging to, or which is, or shall be, for the use of the State or of any county, district, or municipal corporation, to make annual account and settlement therefor. Such settlement, when made, shall be subject to exceptions, and take such direction, and have only such force and effect, as may be provided by law; but in all cases such settlement shall be recorded, and be open to the examination of the people at such convenient place or places as may be appointed by law.

"Majority" Defined

32. Whenever the words, "a majority of the members elected to either house of the Legislature," or words of like import, are used in this Constitution, they shall be construed to mean a majority of the whole number of members to which each house is, at the time, entitled, under the apportionment of representation, established by the provisions of this Constitution.

Compensation of Members

33. The only change made in section 33 was to strike out the words "four dollars per day" and insert "five hundred dollars per annum." Each supplementary appropriation bill shall be presented to the governor of the State as provided in section fourteen of article seven of the Constitution and thereafter all the provisions of said section shall apply.

Sub-Section D—General Provisions

First: If the "Budget Bill" shall not have been finally acted upon by the Legislature three days before the expiration of its regular session, the governor may, and it shall be his duty to issue a proclamation extending the session for such further period as may, in his judgment, be necessary for the passage of such bill; but no other matter than such bill shall be considered during such extended session except a provision for the cost thereof.

The board of public works may provide for public hearings on all estimates and may require the attendance at such hearings of representatives of all agencies, and all institutions applying for state monies. After such public hearings, it may, in its discretion, revise all estimates except those for the legislative and judiciary departments, and for the public schools as provided by law.

Third: The Legislature may, from time to time, enact such laws, not inconsistent with this section, as may be necessary and proper to carry out its provisions.

Fourth: In the event of any inconsistency between any of the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of the Constitution, except amendments thereto heretofore made and ratified by the people, the provisions of this section shall prevail. But nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the governor from calling extraordinary sessions of the Legislature, as provided by section seven of article seven, or as preventing the Legislature at such extraordinary sessions from considering any emergency appropriation or appropriations.

If any item of any appropriation bill passed under the provisions of this section shall be held invalid upon any ground, such invalidity shall not affect the legality of the bill or of any other item of such bill or bills.

When for any five successive years after the year 1869, the owner of any tract of land containing one thousand acres or more, shall not have been charged on such books with State tax on said land, then by operation hereof, the land shall be forfeited and the title thereto vested in the State. But if, for any one or more of such five years, the owner shall have been charged with State tax on any part of the land, such part thereof shall not be forfeited for such cause. And any owner of land so forfeited, or of any interest therein at the time of the forfeiture thereof, who shall then be an infant, married woman, or insane person, may, until the expiration of three years after the removal of such disability, have the land, or such interest charged on such books, with all State and other taxes that shall be, and but for the forfeiture would be, chargeable on the land, or interest therein for the year 1863, and every year thereafter with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum; and pay all taxes and interest thereon for all such years and thereby redeem the land or interest therein: Provided, Such right to redeem shall in no case extend beyond twenty years from the time such land was forfeited."

RULES OF THE SENATE

(Regular Session, 1937)

Presiding Officer

1. The President of the Senate may appoint a President pro tempore, who during the absence of the President shall preside and perform all the duties of the President. The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present the journal of the preceding day shall be read, to the end that any mistake may be corrected that may have been made in the entries.

2. The presiding officer of the Senate may call a member to the chair who shall exercise his functions for the time being, but no member by virtue of such appointment, shall preside for a longer period than three days.

3. The presiding officer of the Senate shall have the regulation of such parts of the Capitol and of its passages as are, or may be, set apart for the use of the Senate, its officers and committees.

Admittance to Senate Chamber

4. No person except members of the House of Delegates, the heads of the executive departments, the governor's private secretary, ex-members of the legislature, judges of the supreme court of appeals, circuit courts and of other courts of record, representatives of the press duly accredited to the Committee on Rules, and legislative attaches engaged in the proper discharge of their duties, shall be admitted within the Senate chamber while the Senate is in session. No person, not a member of the Senate, shall, while within the chamber when the Senate is in session, seek in any manner whatsoever to influence the vote or opinion of any Senator on any subject of legislative consideration, under penalty of disbarment from the chamber for the remainder of the legislative session. No attache of the Senate shall, at any time, engage in such activity, under penalty of immediate dismissal by the Committee on Rules.

Duties of the Clerk—Official Journal

5. The Journal of the Senate shall be daily drawn up by the Clerk and shall be read the succeeding day. It shall be printed under the supervision of the Clerk and delivered to the members without delay. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for corrections, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith, and from the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal. In addition thereto ten copies shall be printed on 6 x 9 heavy weight bond paper, with a certificate at the end thereof signed by the President and Clerk of the Senate certifying that the same is the official Journal of the Senate. They shall be bound in flexible binding and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the Senate of West Virginia," with designation of regular or extra session and the year. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History and one with the Clerk of the House of Delegates.

6. The Clerk of the Senate shall not suffer any records or papers to be taken from the table, or out of his custody, by any person except a chairman of a committee, but he may deliver any bill or paper, directed to be printed, to the printer of the Senate, or to any member of the Senate on taking his receipt for the same.

7. The Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates may interchange messages between the hours of adjournment and that of meeting on the following day, so that said message may be read immediately after the usual order of the day.

Powers of the Senate Over Its Members

8. A majority of the Senators shall be necessary to proceed to business; two members may adjourn, and three members may order a call of the Senate, send for absentees, and make any order for their censure or discharge. On a call of the Senate, the doors shall not be closed against any member until his name shall have been twice called.

9. In case a less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any and all absent members as the majority of such members shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient; and, in that case, the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund. And this rule shall apply, as well to the first convention of the Senate at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session, after the hour has arrived to which the Senate stood adjourned.

10. No Senator shall be taken into custody by the Sergeant-at-Arms, on any question of complaint of breach of privilege, until the matter is examined by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and reported to the Senate, unless by order of the President of the Senate.

11. The Senate may punish its own members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not twice for the same offense.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 25.)

12. The Senate may punish by imprisonment, any person not a member, for disrespectful behavior in its presence; for obstructing any of its officers in the discharge of their duties, or for any assault, threat or abuse of any member of words spoken in debate; but such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the termination of the session.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 26.)

Privileges of Members

13. Every member, when speaking, shall stand in his own place, and address the President and when he has finished, take his seat.

14. Every member within the Senate chamber, when a question is put, shall vote unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the Senate excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting must be made before the Senate divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced, and it shall be decided without debate, except that the member making the motion may briefly state the reason why, in his opinion, it ought to be adopted.

15. If a member be called to order, for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate, if any member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exceptions to them have been taken.

Roll Calls

16. No member of the Senate, or other person except the Clerk and his assistants, shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called or counted.

17. No member shall speak more than twice upon the same subject, without leave of the Senate; nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

18. While the President is reporting or putting a question none shall entertain private discourse, read, stand up, walk into, out of, or across the Senate Chamber.

19. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Chair, and then the mover shall have the right to explain his views, in preference to any other member.

20. While the President is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter may speak to the question before the negative is put.

21. During any debate, any Senator, though he has spoken to the matter, may arise and speak to the orders of the Senate, if they be transgressed, in case the President does not; but if the President stands up at any time, he is first to be heard.

Absence Without Leave

22. If any member of the Senate absent himself from the services thereof without leave, except in case of his sickness or other unavoidable cause which may prevent his attendance, the Senate may by order or resolution, direct his absence to be entered on the Journal.

Absence With Leave

23. No member of the Senate shall absent himself from its service without leave first obtained.

The chairman of each standing committee of the Senate shall cause to be kept for the purpose, a record of every meeting of such committee, wherein shall be entered:

(b) The attendance of members of the committee at each meeting thereof.

(c) The name of any person appearing before the committee, and the interest represented by him.

Any member of such standing committee may cause a notation to be made upon the record aforesaid of the reason for his absence at any former meeting of the committee; and in the absence of any such explanatory note, the presumption shall be that his absence was without reasonable cause.

All meetings of the committees, other than executive sessions, shall be open to the public.

On the adjournment of each session of the Legislature, the chairman of the respective committees shall deliver to the Clerk of the Senate the record book herein provided for, and it shall be the duty of such Clerk to preserve the same among the archives of his office.

Select Committees

26. Select committees shall consist of not less than three nor more than five members unless the Senate shall direct otherwise.

Committee on Privileges and Elections

28. The Committee on Privileges and Elections shall examine the oaths taken by each member, and the evidence of their election, and report to the Senate.

Committee to Examine Clerk's Office

29. The Committee to examine the Clerk's Office shall see that all papers belonging thereto are properly filed, labeled and put away in the presses, and the books belonging to the office are chronologically arranged, and shall make report thereof to the Senate at each session.

Committee of the Whole

30. When the Senate shall resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole, the President shall leave the chair and appoint a chairman to preside in the Committee.

31. The Committee of the Whole shall consider and report on such subjects as may be committed to it by the Senate. The rules of the Senate shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole, so far as they are applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking, concerning the previous question, and taking the yeas and nays. The proceedings in the Committee of the Whole shall not be recorded on the Journal of the Senate, except so far as reported to the Senate by the chairman of the committee.

Order of Business

32. The order of business of the Senate shall be:

- I. To read the Journal.
- II. To dispose of Communications from the House of Delegates and the Executive.
- III. To receive reports from Standing Committees.

- IV. To receive reports from Select Committees.
- V. To receive bills, resolutions, motions and petitions.

- VII. Senate and House Bills on third reading.
- VIII. Senate and House Bills on second reading.
- IX. Senate and House Bills on first reading.
- X. Miscellaneous business.

Bills to be Read on Three Separate Days

33. All bills originating in the Senate shall be read on three separate days, unless in case of urgency, by a vote of four-fifths of the members present, taken by yeas and nays, on each bill, this rule be dispensed with.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

Title of Bills

34. In the title of all bills to amend chapters or sections of the Code, or acts passed since the Code was adopted, the several committees to whom they are referred, or by whom they originated, shall insert the subject matter of the chapter.

35. All engrossed bills shall be fully and distinctly read when put upon their passage.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 29.)

Consideration of Bills

36. All bills or business originating in the Senate, shall be considered in the order in which they are introduced and all bills and resolutions received from the House of Delegates shall be introduced in the order in which they are received, unless in either case the Senate otherwise directs.

Resolutions to Lie on Table

37. All resolutions, when introduced, shall lie on the table at least one day.

Appropriation Bills

38. Bills making appropriations for the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, and for salaries for officers of the government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 42.)

Reference to Committees

39. All bills reported from the House of Delegates shall be referred to the appropriate committee on the first reading. All bills introduced on leave shall be read by their titles and referred to the appropriate committee without printing, and shall be treated in committee as resolutions of inquiry, and if the committee report a bill different from the one introduced such bill shall be received and treated by the Senate as the original bill, and shall be read a first time and printed, unless in any of the aforesaid cases the Senate shall direct otherwise.

40. On each reading of a bill, the Clerk shall state whether it is the first, second or third reading of such bill.

41. On the demand of any two members when a bill is being read for amendment, it shall be read section by section, and when the amendments which may be moved shall be disposed of, the question, unless the Senate otherwise order, shall be taken on ordering the bill to be engrossed and read the third time. If a bill should be ordered to its engrossment and third reading and amendments thereto have been made, the type from which the bill was originally printed shall be changed to conform to the amendments. The bill shall then be re-printed, and shall be the engrossed bill. If no amendments are made the bill as originally printed may be ordered to its third reading and shall become the engrossed bill. All Senate bills so ordered shall be jacketed, endorsed with their number, title, by whom introduced, and if the bill is finally passed, the date of its passage and the signature of the Clerk. If a bill should be passed by the House and returned to the Senate without amendments, or if amended, and the amendments should be agreed to, it shall then be turned over to the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills. In the case of a House bill on second reading if the same be amended, the amendment or amendments shall be noted in full in typewriting on slips of paper, and attached to the bill at the proper place by the Clerk before the bill is returned to the House, and all amendments shall appear in the Senate Journal.

42. When a bill or resolution of the House of Delegates is passed or rejected by the Senate, the fact of its passage or rejection, with the bill or resolution, shall be communicated to the House of Delegates.

Messages

43. Messages may be introduced in any stage of business except when a question is being put by the presiding officer, while the yeas and nays are being called by the Clerk, or while the ballots are being counted.

Passage of Bills and Joint Resolutions

44. When a bill or joint resolution is put upon its passage, the President shall propound the question, "Shall the bill (or joint resolution as the case may be) pass?" On the passage of every bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the Journal. When the bill is on a second reading, and the question is upon striking out, the President shall propound the question: "Shall these words be stricken out?"

Motions

45. When the question is pending, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, for the previous question, to lie on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to adjourn the question to a different day, to commit or amend, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein arranged.

46. On the first reading of a bill, a motion to reject the bill shall be in order.

Adverse Report by Committee

47. If a Committee shall have reported adversely to a bill, the President immediately after the report of said committee is read shall put the question: "Shall the bill be rejected?", which question shall have precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn.

Reconsideration of Vote

48. The question being once determined must stand as the judgment of the Senate, and cannot during the session be drawn again into debate unless reconsidered, and it shall be in order to reconsider any vote only within two legislative days next after the one upon which such vote was taken. A motion to reconsider shall be in order only when made by a Senator who voted with the prevailing side, and when the vote was not taken by yeas and nays all Senators will be conclusively presumed to have voted with the prevailing side.

49. When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee, and to a standing committee, the question in reference to the standing committee shall be first put.

Division of the Question

50. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question, but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition; nor prevent a subsequent motion to simply strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

51. In filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be first put.

Previous Question

52. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which being ordered by a majority of the members present, if a quorum, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions, or may be made to embrace and authorize motions and amendments and include the bill to its engrossment and third reading and then, on renewal and second of said motion, to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order pending a motion for or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the President to entertain and submit a motion to commit with or without instructions to a standing or select committee; and a motion to lay upon the table shall be in order on the second and third reading of a bill.

A call of the Senate shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the President that a quorum is not present.

All incidental questions or orders arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether an appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Yeas and Nays

53. When the yeas and nays are ordered, or a call of the Senate is directed, the names of the members shall be called in alphabetical order.

54. The yeas and nays on any question shall, at the desire of one-tenth of the members present, be entered on the Journal and any member may enter any protest on the Journal upon the determination of any question. After the yeas and nays shall have been taken, and before they are counted or entered on the Journal, the Clerk shall read over the names of those who voted in the affirmative and those who voted in the negative, at which time any member shall have the right to correct any mistake committed in enrolling his name.

55. When a bill or joint resolution passed by the Senate shall be amended by the House of Delegates, the question on agreeing to the bill or joint resolution, as amended, shall be again voted on by yeas and nays in the Senate, and the result entered upon its Journal. In all such cases the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 31.)

56. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be necessary.

57. In all elections of officers which may take place in the Senate the vote shall be viva voce, and be entered upon the Journal.—(Const., art. 6, sec. 44.)

Executive Session

58. When nominations shall be made in writing by the Governor to the Senate, a future day shall be assigned, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise, for taking them into consideration.

59. When acting on the nominations of the Governor, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Clerk, his assistants, the Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper, and all such officers shall be sworn to secrecy.

60. All confidential communications made by the Governor to the Senate and all proceedings thereon, shall be by the members thereof kept secret until the Senate shall, by unanimous affirmative vote of the members present, remove the injunction of secrecy.

61. All information and remarks touching the character or qualification of any person nominated by the Governor to office, shall be kept secret. The Legislative proceedings and the executive proceedings of the Senate shall be kept and recorded in separate books.

Constitutional Amendment

62. When an amendment to be proposed to the Constitution is under consideration, the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate shall not be requisite to decide any question for amendments, or extending to the merits, being short of the final question.

Adjournment

63. When the Senate adjourns each day, it shall stand adjourned to 2 o'clock P. M. the next day, unless the Senate otherwise direct.

64. When the Senate adjourns each day, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the chair.

Parliamentary Practice

65. In all cases not provided for by the Rules of the Senate or the Joint Rules of the Senate and House of Delegates, the Senate shall be governed by the practice in the House of Representatives of the United States.

Suspension of Rule

66. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor and no rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate present.

Withdrawal of Bills from Committee

67. Any bill, resolution or business may, by a vote of the majority of the members present, be withdrawn from the committee to which it had been referred or be taken from the table, and placed upon the regular or special calendar of the Senate in such order of business as the Senate may direct.

ELECTION AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The House, at the commencement of each Legislature, shall elect a Speaker, Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Doorkeeper. All officers, except the Speaker, shall receive such compensation as the House may determine.

Vote to be Viva Voce

2. In the election of officers by the House, the vote shall be given viva voce, and a majority of the whole number of votes given, a quorum being present, shall be necessary to elect. If, upon any vote, there be no election, the person having the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and any votes thereafter given to such person shall not be taken into the counting to affect the result in any way. But if two or more have the lowest and equal number of votes, they may be voted for again. No question before the House, or in committee of the whole, shall be voted on by ballot.

DUTIES AND RIGHTS OF THE SPEAKER

Call to Order

3. The Speaker shall take the chair on each legislative day precisely at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned; shall immediately call the members to order and, after prayer, if a quorum is present, proceed to the order of business.

Preservation of Order

4. The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum while the House is in session; enforce the rules and orders of the House; prescribe the order in which business shall come up for consideration, subject to the rules and orders of the House; announce the question of business before the House when properly requested by any member; receive all messages and communications; put to vote all questions which are properly moved; announce the result of all votes and authenticate, when necessary, the acts and proceedings of the House.

Decorum in Debate

5. In debate, the Speaker shall prevent personal reflections and confine members to the question under discussion, but he shall not engage in any debate, or propose his opinion on any question without first calling some other member to the chair. When two or more members arise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

Questions of Order

6. The Speaker shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the House when demanded by any ten members. He may speak to questions of order in preference to other members, and may make the concluding speech on any appeal from his decision, notwithstanding, he may have before spoken on the question; but no other members shall speak more than once on such appeal without leave of the House.

When properly requested by a member, the Speaker shall inform the House upon any point of order or practice pertinent to the business before it.

Preserving Order in Galleries

7. The Speaker shall have general control of the House Chamber, lobbies, and rooms and of the corridors and passages in that part of the Capitol assigned to the use of the House. In all such cases the members present may take such measures to prevent a repetition of such misconduct, either by the infliction of censure or such other penalty, as may be authorized by law, on the parties thus offending, as the House may deem best.

Presiding Officer in Absence of Speaker

8. The Speaker may designate by an appointment in writing entered upon the Journal of the House, any member to perform the duties of the chair for a period not exceeding three consecutive legislative days, but for no longer period, except by special consent of the House, and the members so designated shall be during the time for which he is designated, vested with all the powers and duties conferred by these rules, or by law, upon the Speaker. The Speaker shall have the right to call any member to the chair to perform the duties of Speaker but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

Every Member to Vote

25. Every member present when a question is put, or when his name is called, shall vote unless he is immediately and particularly interested therein, or the House excuses him. When a member arises and addresses the Chair, the Speaker may recognize him by name; but no member in debate shall designate another by name.

Recognition by the Chair

33. When two or more members shall rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the one who is to speak first, and his decision shall be final and not open to debate or appeal. However, in all other cases the member who shall rise first and addresses the Chair shall be first recognized.

Mover of Question to Have Preference in Debate

34. No question shall be debated until it has been propounded by the Speaker and then the mover of the question shall have the right to open and close the debate thereon.

Member Out of Order

35. When any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, but may be permitted, with leave of the House, to explain; and the House shall, if appealed to, decide the case, but without debate. If there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be submitted to: if the decision be in favor of the member so called to order, he is at liberty to proceed; if the decision be against him, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House, or such other punishment as the House may properly impose.

Calling to Order for Words Spoken in Debate

36. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down at the Clerk's table. And no member shall be held to answer, or be subjected to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken or other business has intervened after the words were spoken and before the exception to them was taken.

Decorum During Debate

37. While the Speaker is putting a question, ascertaining the result, or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of or across the House; and when a member is speaking, no one shall engage in conversation or pass between him and the Speaker.

Limitation on Debate

38. No member shall speak except in his place, and not more than twice on a question, except by leave of the House. And if a question be pending at the time of an adjournment and is renewed on the succeeding day, no member who shall have spoken twice on the preceding day shall be permitted again to speak without leave of the House. The House by majority vote may limit debate on any question.

Members Not to Be Disturbed While Speaking

39. No one shall disturb or interrupt a member who is speaking, without his permission, except to call to order if he be transgressing the rules.

Speaking Before Negative is Put

40. When the Speaker is putting the question, any member who has not spoken before to the matter may speak to the question before the negative is put.

PUTTING QUESTIONS AND VOTING

Putting Question; Division

41. All questions shall be put distinctly in this form, to-wit: "As many as are in favor [as the question may be] say 'Aye';" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are opposed say 'No'." If the Speaker be in doubt as to the result, or if a division is called for by any member, the House shall divide. Those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and be counted, and afterward those in the negative. The count may be made by the Speaker, or, if he so directs, by the Clerk, or two members, one from each side, to be named for that purpose by the Speaker. When the result is ascertained the Speaker shall rise and state the decision of the House. Such vote shall not be printed in the Journal unless the yeas and nays are called for by not less than nine members of the House prior to the announcement of the decision by the Speaker.

Yeas and Nays

42. On the passage of every bill and joint resolution, and when the yeas and nays on any question are called for by one-tenth of those present, the Speaker shall direct the roll to be called, and every member present shall answer "Aye" or "No" when his name is called, unless excused. Before the result is announced the Clerk shall read to the House the names of those who voted in the affirmative, and then those who voted in the negative, at which time any member may correct a mistake committed in taking down his vote. The result shall then be announced, and the yeas and nays entered on the Journal, but if the House so orders, the announcement of the result and the entry of the yeas and nays upon the Journal may be postponed to the succeeding day, with liberty to absent members at any time before the result is announced by the Speaker, to appear and vote "Aye" or "No," in the presence of the House; and any member may, in the presence of the House, change his vote before the result is announced. The Journal shall also show those absent and not voting.

Upon calls of the House, in taking the yeas and nays, the names of the members shall be called alphabetically, except the Speaker shall be called last.

Pairs

43. Members may pair on any question by filing a signed statement of the same with the Clerk, who shall read the same to the House before the vote is taken. A blank form of pair for use of members shall be provided by the Clerk. No pair shall be recognized unless made in person by the member signing the same, nor unless one or both of the parties thereto are absent.

Division of Question

44. Any member may call for a division of any question before the vote thereon is taken, if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition will remain for the decision of the House, but the member calling for the division of a question shall state in what manner he proposes it shall be divided. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor motion to strike out and insert.

Calling of Yeas and Nays

45. No member or any person shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table while the yeas and nays are being called.

Tie Vote Loses Question

46. In all cases when the House is equally divided, the question shall be lost.

Verification of Vote

47. When a question upon which the yeas and nays have been taken has prevailed or failed by not more than five votes, the Speaker may, upon request of five members, order a verification of the vote. During such verification, no member shall change his vote unless it was erroneously recorded, nor may any member not having voted cast a vote. A verification must be called for immediately after a vote is announced and before any other business has intervened.

Explanation of Vote

48. No member shall be allowed to make any explanation of his vote during the taking of the yeas and nays; but after the roll has been called and the vote announced, any member may explain his vote and the explanation shall be recorded in the Journal if he requests it. The Speaker may limit the time allowed members for explaining votes.

When Members Not to Vote

49. Any member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House shall disclose the fact and not vote thereon.

Voting Machine

49-a. A voting machine may be used in taking the yeas and nays on any question, for quorum calls and for determining the result when a division is demanded. When a vote is to be taken on the voting machine the Speaker shall announce the question to be voted upon and direct the Clerk to prepare the machine. The Clerk shall then sound the gong which shall be notice to all members to vote. After reasonable time has been given all members to vote the Speaker shall ask the question: "Have all members voted?" vote himself, if the vote being taken is upon a question on which he is required to vote, and then direct the Clerk to close the machine and ascertain the result. As soon as this is done, the Clerk shall hand the record of the vote to the Speaker and he shall promptly announce the result. No vote may be changed after it has been recorded.

No member shall vote for another member, nor shall any person not a member cast a vote for a member. In addition to such penalties as may be prescribed by law, any member who shall vote or attempt to vote for another member may be expelled as a member of the House or punished in such other manner as the House may determine. If a person not a member shall vote or attempt to vote for any member, he shall be barred from the floor of the House for the remainder of the session and may be further punished in such manner as the House may deem proper, in addition to such punishment as may be prescribed by law.

All other rules governing voting and the taking of the yeas and nays, insofar as applicable, shall apply to taking votes by means of the voting machine.

MOTIONS

Stating the Question

50. When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker; or, being in writing, it shall be passed to the desk and read aloud by the Clerk before debate.

Form of Motion

51. Every motion, except subsidiary, or incidental motions, shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desires it; but this exception shall not apply to motions to amend.

Withdrawal of Motions

52. After a motion is stated by the Speaker or read by the Clerk, it is deemed to be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment, unless the previous question has been ordered, in which case it can only be withdrawn by leave of the House.

Order and Precedence of Motions

53. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received except:

1. To adjourn.
2. To lay on the table.
3. For the previous question.
4. To postpone to a day certain.
5. To go into a Committee of the Whole on the pending question immediately.
6. To commit to a Committee of the Whole.
7. To commit to a Standing Committee.

8. To commit to a Select Committee.
9. To amend.
10. To postpone indefinitely.

These several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of another motion to amend; and if carried, the bill is rejected.

Motion to Adjourn

54. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the House is voting, or while a member is addressing the House, or when no business has been transacted since the motion to adjourn has been defeated.

Motions Not Debatable

55. The following motions shall be decided without debate, and shall not be amended:

1. To adjourn.
2. To fix the time to which the House shall adjourn.

Motion to Reconsider

58. A motion to reconsider any question may be made by any member who voted with the majority, or in case of a tie vote, by any member. This motion shall be made on the same or next succeeding legislative day of the House. Such a motion, if seconded, shall take precedence of all other questions, except the consideration of a conference report or a motion to adjourn, and unless by motion postponed until some future time shall be acted upon at once. A motion to reconsider shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House, and if the House decides to reconsider, any member may thereafter call the subject up for consideration. A motion to reconsider a question, having been put and lost, shall not be renewed.

Debate on Motions to Reconsider

59. Debate shall be allowed on a motion to reconsider only when the question which it is proposed to reconsider is debatable. Where debate upon a motion to reconsider is in order, no member shall speak more than once nor for a longer period than three minutes.

Reconsideration of Question Requiring More Than Majority Vote

60. When a majority of members present vote in the affirmative on any question, but the question be lost because it is one in which the concurrence of a greater number than a majority of a quorum is necessary to an affirmative decision, any member may move for a reconsideration.

Effect of Motion to Table

61. A motion to lay on the table shall only have the effect of disposing of the matter temporarily, and may be taken from the table at any time after the eighth order of business has been passed.

Motion Must Be Germane

62. No motion on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Previous Question

63. When any question is before the House, any member being in order and having the floor may move the previous question, but such motion to be put must be sustained by being seconded by ten members. The question being moved, the Speaker shall say, "Is the motion sustained?" and those favoring the motion shall rise. If a sufficient number arise, the previous question shall be thereby seconded, and the question shall then be put in this form, "Shall the main question be now put?" If this question be decided in the affirmative by a majority of the members voting, a quorum being present, it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions upon which it has been asked and ordered, except when the motion applies to the main question, the members in charge of the measure under consideration, shall have five minutes to close the discussion before the vote is taken; and when the motion applies to an amendment the person proposing the amendment shall have three minutes to close the discussion on the amendment. Should the previous question be decided in the negative, the House shall proceed with the matter before it as though the previous question had not been moved.

When a member moves the previous question he shall specifically state in his motion whether it shall apply to the main question and the amendments or to the amendment or amendments only.

The previous question shall not be admitted in the Committee of the Whole.

When a proposed amendment to the Constitution is under consideration, the vote of a majority of the members present shall be sufficient to decide an amendment thereto or any collateral or incidental questions thereto short of the final question.

[NOTE: Joint resolutions are used only for amendments to the State Constitution and to ratify amendments to the Federal Constitution. Such resolutions do not have to be submitted to the Governor for his approval.]

(2) Concurrent Resolutions: Concurrent resolutions shall be used for the purpose of expressing the sentiments of the Legislature, for authorizing expenditures incidental to the sessions and business of the Legislature, for agreeing upon adjournments beyond the constitutional limitation, for creating special joint committees, for raising a joint assembly and other inferior and incidental purposes of legislation, and such other purposes as the Legislature may deem proper. The adoption of such resolutions must be concurred in by both houses.

(3) House Resolutions: These simple resolutions shall be used for expressing the will or order of the House on matters in which the concurrence of the Senate is not necessary. A House resolution shall be proper to express the sentiments of the body, to authorize expenditures from its contingent fund, for agreeing upon any question, and for all incidental purposes pertaining to the organization and work of the House.

Introduction

109. All resolutions to be introduced in the House shall be filed with the Clerk not later than two hours prior to the convening of the session at which they are to be introduced. They shall be presented in triplicate and copies shall be for the same purpose as that of bills. When the proper order of business is reached, the Clerk shall proceed in the same manner as if they were introduced from the floor. This rule does not deny a member the right to introduce a resolution from the floor in case of urgency. The different classes of resolutions shall be numbered by the Clerk and entered in full in the Journal.

Action on in House

110. All joint resolutions shall be referred to the appropriate committee, and when any other resolution is presented, containing no reference of the subject thereof to a committee, it shall lie over for one day, to come up under the ninth order of business unless a majority of the House orders otherwise.

Petitions

111. All petitions, remonstrances, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be filed by the members with the Clerk prior to the convening of the House. When in the regular order of business the time is reached for presenting petitions or any such papers, the Clerk shall read a list of those on file, giving the member's name presenting same and a brief resume of the contents thereof, and the same shall be referred to the Committee of the member's selection unless otherwise ordered by the House. Each member upon filing any such petition, remonstrance or other paper, shall endorse thereon his name, and if not so endorsed it shall not be received. The Journal shall show the name of the member presenting such papers, a brief resume of the contents thereof, and the disposition made of same.

AMENDMENTS

Forms For

112. The Clerk shall furnish to members sheets with a proper heading printed in blank upon which amendments shall be written, and all amendments offered shall be on such blanks and bear the name of the member offering the same.

Must Be Germane

113. No amendment shall be in order that is not germane to the matter under consideration; and the Speaker, when the question is raised, shall rule as to the admissibility of the proposed amendment.

Time for Offering

114. Amendments may be offered to any bill or joint resolution and acted upon on their second reading and before they are ordered to their engrossment and third reading. No bill shall be amended on third reading, except by unanimous consent of the members present. Amendment's to resolutions other than joint resolutions shall be in order at any time the same are being considered. Committee amendments shall be subject to amendment and shall be disposed of before any other amendments are in order.

Reading and Stating

115. Amendments shall be read by the Clerk and stated by the Speaker before being acted upon.

By Striking Out Enacting Clause

116. A motion to amend by striking out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence over another motion to amend, and, if carried, the bill or resolution is rejected.

Amendment to an Amendment

117. A motion to amend a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of no other motion to amend will be in order. But pending such amendment, a motion to amend in the nature of a substitute, and a motion to amend that substitute, may be received, but shall not be voted upon until the original matter is perfected.

Amendment to Have Precedence Over Substitute

118. If a substitute for a bill or resolution be offered, a motion to amend the original bill or resolution shall have precedence.

Motion to Amend to Have Precedence Over One to Strike Out

119. If a motion be made to strike out part of a bill or resolution, a motion to amend the part proposed to be stricken out shall have precedence.

Filling Blanks

120. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time proposed shall be first put, and the question shall be put on names in the order they were nominated.

No Amendment by Way of Rider

121. No amendment by way of rider shall be received to any bill after engrossment.

Agreeing to Senate Amendments

122. When a House bill or House joint resolution shall be amended by the Senate, the question on agreeing to the bill or resolution as amended shall be again voted on by yeas and nays, and the result entered on the Journal, and in such a case the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the House shall be necessary. (Const., Art. 7, Sec. 31.)

Amendment by Section

123. If a bill is being considered section by section, only amendments to the section under consideration shall be in order. After all sections have been considered separately, the whole bill shall be open for amendment except that an amendment seeking to strike out matter previously inserted and containing substantially no new proposition shall not be in order.

Amending Titles

124. After the passage of a bill or joint resolution, amendments to its title may be offered when the title is read for approval.

Amendments to Senate Bills

125. Any Senate bill or resolution may be amended in the same manner as a House bill or resolution. If a Senate bill or resolution is amended the same shall be noted by the Clerk on the jacket containing same before it is reported to the Senate.

After the reading of a Senate amendment to a House bill or resolution the question shall be, "Will the House concur in the Senate amendment?" But it shall be in order to move that the House concur in the Senate amendment with an amendment; or that the House refuse to concur and ask the Senate to recede.

If the Senate shall refuse to concur in a House amendment to a Senate bill or resolution, the following motions shall be in order and shall be privileged in the order named: First, That the House recede; Second, That the House insist and ask for a committee of conference; Third, That the House adhere.

Amendments to Be Printed in Journal

126. All amendments proposed, unless withdrawn, shall be printed in the Journal.

Speaking on Amendments

127. On an amendment being moved, a member who has spoken to the main question may speak again to the amendment.

JOURNAL

Clerk to Keep

128. The Clerk of the House, under the direction of the Speaker, shall keep a full and correct Journal of the proceedings.

Approval and Correction

129. When the Journal has been read to the end that any mistake made in the entry may be corrected, if no objection is made, it shall stand approved; but if objection be made, the first question of the House shall be to dispose of the same, and when such objections are disposed of and the Journal corrected, as the House may order, it shall stand as approved.

Printing Official Copies

130. After the printed Journal has been approved and fully marked for correction, the type from which it was printed shall be changed in accordance therewith. From the type so corrected shall be printed the number of copies required by law for the regular bound volumes of the Journal, which shall be properly indexed. In addition thereto six copies shall be printed on 6x9 heavy-weight bond paper, with a certificate at the end thereof, certifying that the same is the official Journal of the House and the same shall be signed by the Speaker and Clerk. Such printed Journal shall be the official record of the House. They shall be bound in flexible binding, and bear the imprint on the back, "Official Journal of the House of Delegates of West Virginia," with designation of regular or special session, as the case may be, and the year. After being signed by the proper officers, two of these copies shall be retained in the office of the Clerk, and one copy shall be lodged in the office of the Governor, one with the Secretary of State, one with the Department of Archives and History, and one with the Clerk of the Senate.

To Be Printed Daily

131. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to furnish a copy of each day's proceedings of the Journal to the printer, to be printed and distributed without delay.

Inserting Motions

132. Every written motion made to the House shall be inserted in the Journal with the name of the member making it, unless it be withdrawn on the same day it is submitted.

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES

Rescinding or Amending Rules

133. All propositions to amend or rescind any standing rule or order of the House shall be by resolution and be at once referred, without debate, to the Committee on Rules, and shall be reported therefrom within two days. Any such resolution may be adopted by a majority vote, a quorum being present.

[NOTE: The power to make its rules of procedure is given the House under Sec. 24, Art. 6 of the Constitution.]

Suspension of Rules

134. These rules shall not be suspended, except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present. Unless there be a unanimous consent for the suspension of rules, the vote shall be determined by yeas and nays.

[NOTE: The motion to suspend the rules is usually preceded by a member requesting unanimous consent of the House to do a particular thing. If no one objects the House is deemed to assent, and what is desired is allowed accordingly. If objection is made, then the member may move that the rules be suspended for the specific purpose or object he has in view. A motion to lay on the table may not be applied to a motion to suspend the rules. (Hind's Precedents, Sec. 5405.)]

Manual and Rules

135. On any question of order or parliamentary practice where the rules of the House or the joint rules of the House and Senate are silent or inexplicit, Jefferson's Manual and the Digest of the Rules and Practices of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress shall be considered as authority.

[NOTE: Jefferson's Manual was prepared by Thomas Jefferson for his own guidance as President of the United States Senate in the years he was Vice-President, from 1797 to 1801. The House of Representatives, in 1837, by rule which still exists, provided that the provisions of the Manual should "govern the House in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House." The Manual is regarded by English parliamentarians as the best statement of what the law of Parliament was at the time Jefferson wrote it. (House Manual and Digest), 70th Congress, 1st Sess., Sec. 278.]

MISCELLANEOUS RULES

Persons Admitted to the Floor

136. No person except Senators, elective state officers, heads of state departments, ex-Governors, members of Congress, Judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals, Judges of Circuit and other Courts of record, former members and officers of the House and Senate, members of other State Legislatures, the Governor's secretary, members of the press when properly accredited, attaches when actually engaged in work for the House or a member thereof, the Clerk of the Senate and his assistants, may be admitted upon the floor of the House, except by permission of the Speaker. At the convening of the House, the Sergeant-at-Arms shall see that all persons, except those covered by this rule, retire from the floor of the House.

Lobbying in the House Chamber

137. No person engaged in lobbying shall be permitted upon the floor of the House at any time while the House is in session, and any person transgressing this rule shall be removed from the floor of the House, and be debarred from the privilege of the floor during the remainder of the entire session. The Speaker is charged with the enforcement of this rule and it shall be the duty of any member, officer or employee of the House to inform the Speaker of any violation of this rule.

Newspaper Correspondents

138. (a) Any person accorded the privilege of a newspaper correspondent must be the telegraphic correspondent of a daily newspaper, or of a recognized press association, who is not engaged in any department of the state government, or in any other business, or must be the official reporter of a Charleston daily newspaper; and no more than one representative of each newspaper shall be admitted to the press tables or press gallery at one time.

(b) All applications for admission to the press gallery or press table must be made to the Speaker. Such applications shall state the name of the newspaper, its location, times of publication, and be signed by the applicant.

(c) The Speaker shall verify the statements made in such application, and if the application is approved by him, he shall issue a correspondent's card, signed by him.

(d) The correspondents shall not visit the members in their seats during the session of the House, and shall abide by such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Rules Committee of the House.

(e) The card issued by the Speaker must be presented when required by any Sergeant-at-Arms. It shall not be transferable. The transfer or loan of such card to any one shall be followed by its cancellation and the withdrawal of all its privileges from the correspondent so offending.

(f) The gallery or press tables allotted to newspaper correspondents shall be for their exclusive use, and persons not holding correspondent's cards shall not be entitled to admission thereto.

Lounging Prohibited in the Hall of the House

139. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to prevent all persons not connected with the Legislature from assembling in the halls at any time when the House is not in session for the purpose of lounging or loafing. For the purpose of enforcing this rule, the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistants shall be in attendance at all times, and the persistent neglect or disregard of this rule shall be the cause for dismissal by the Speaker, or removal.

Peddling Prohibited

140. No person shall be permitted to hawk, peddle or offer for sale any article of traffic at any time within the hall of the House; and it shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to strictly enforce this rule.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF DELEGATES*(Regular Session, 1937)*Joint Assembly

1. Whenever there shall be a joint assembly of the two houses, a brief account of the proceedings shall be entered upon the Journal of each house, except in the joint assembly for counting votes for state officers.

[NOTE: It is the custom to hold joint assemblies in the House chamber and they are presided over by the Speaker. In such sessions the Clerk of the House acts as Clerk, assisted by the Clerk of the Senate. The President of the Senate is given a seat to the right of the Speaker and seats are arranged for the members of the Senate.]

Joint Assembly to Open and Publish Election Returns

2. As soon as the Senate, being organized, is informed that the House of Delegates is ready to proceed, as provided by section three of article seven of the Constitution, to open and publish the returns of the elections for state officers, the Senate, preceded by its president and other officers shall repair in a body to the hall of the House of Delegates. Upon their arrival the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Delegates, shall announce the presence of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall then address the Speaker of the House, stating that a majority of the Senate have assembled in the hall of the House of Delegates to be present at the opening and publishing of the returns of the elections for state officers, held on the _____ day of _____. The Speaker of the House of Delegates shall invite the President of the Senate to a seat upon his right, and the other members of the Senate and officers thereof to take seats assigned them, and after announcing that a majority of the House of Delegates is present, shall then open and publish the returns of said election, proceeding by counties in alphabetical order, the Clerks of the two houses each taking down the returns as announced by the Speaker: to be entered upon the Journal of the House; and when completed and estimated the Speaker shall announce the votes received by each person voted for, for each of said offices, and those receiving the largest number of votes shall be by him declared duly elected; and the Senate shall then return to its hall; and if any two or more candidates for any of said offices have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the two houses shall immediately proceed to choose one of such persons for said office by a joint vote, as provided by Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution.

Disagreement and Conference

3. Whenever a measure of one house is amended in the other and the house in which it originated shall refuse to concur in the amendment, the house amending the measure may either insist or recede therefrom. But when a measure originating in one house is amended in the other, the house in which it originated may amend such amendment and a motion therefor shall take precedence of a motion to concur. If said house refuses to concur, the other house may either recede from or insist upon its amendment, and a motion to recede shall take precedence of a motion to insist. The motion to lay on the table or to postpone indefinitely shall not be in order in respect to the motion to recede from or to insist.

A motion to recede having failed shall be equivalent to the adoption of a motion to insist and shall be so entered upon the Journal. A motion to insist being decided in the negative shall be equivalent to the adoption of a motion to recede and shall be so entered upon the Journal. If the motion to insist prevails, the house so insisting shall request a committee of conference on the subject of disagreement, and shall appoint a committee therefor. The other house may thereupon appoint such committee. Unless a different number is agreed upon, such conference committee shall consist of five members from each house.

Such committee shall consider and report upon, only the subject matter of the amendment or amendments which were in disagreement, with necessary consequential changes. The committee shall meet at a convenient time, to be agreed upon by their chairman, and having conferred freely, shall report to their respective houses the result of the conference. In case of agreement, the report shall be first made, with the papers referred accompanying it, to the house which refused to concur, and there acted upon; and such action, with the papers referred, shall be immediately reported by the Clerk to the other house. In case of disagreement, the papers shall remain with the house in which the measure originated. If an agreement is reached, the report shall be made and signed in duplicate by at least a majority of the conferees from each house, one of the duplicates being retained by the conferees of each house.

Messages Between the Houses

4. When a message is sent by one house to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the house to which it is sent, by the Doorkeeper thereof, if it be in session, and then be respectfully communicated to the presiding officer by the person by whom it may be sent, but no message shall be received during a call of the roll. But the Clerk of one house may communicate a message to the Clerk of the other after adjournment, and any message so sent shall be received by the house to which it is sent whenever it may be in session.

Introduction of Bills

5. No bill, other than an appropriation bill, shall be introduced in either house after the fiftieth day of the session unless permission to introduce the bill be given by a concurrent resolution, setting out the title of the bill, and adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of each house present and voting.

One House to Notify Other of Rejection of Bill

6. When a bill or resolution passed in one house is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be sent to the house in which the same shall have been passed.

Record of Bills

7. The Clerks of the two houses shall keep separate records or registers, in which shall be recorded every action taken by the Senate and House on each bill and resolution.

Clerk to Endorse Bills

8. The Clerks of the two houses shall endorse on each bill a statement of any action taken by their respective bodies.

Notice to Be in Writing

9. Notice to either House of the action of the other shall be in writing, signed by the Clerk of the House giving such notice.

Each House to Have Control of Own Printing

10. Each House may order the printing of bills, resolutions, reports and other documents without the consent of the other.

Joint Committees

11. Joint standing committees of the Senate and House shall be appointed as follows:

(1) Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, to consist of five members from each House.

(2) Committee on Joint Rules, to consist of the presiding officers and two members of each House, to be appointed by the presiding officers.

(3) Such other joint committees as may be provided for by concurrent resolutions. A bill or resolution referred to a joint committee may be recalled from such committee by the House in which it originated.

Engrossed Bills to Be Filed With Clerk of House

12. All engrossed bills passed by, and joint and concurrent resolutions adopted by, both houses shall be filed with the Clerk of the House to be kept with the rolls of the Legislature and to be used by him in printing and publishing the acts of the Legislature.

Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills

13. The Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills shall consist of five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Delegates to be appointed by the presiding officer of each house, whose duty it shall be to compare carefully all bills and joint resolutions passed by both houses with the enrollment thereof, and to correct any errors or omissions they may discover and to make reports to their respective houses from time to time, of the correctly enrolled bills or joint resolutions. It shall be in order for the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills to report at any time.

Printing Enrolled Bills

14. After a bill has been passed by both houses, the type from which it was originally printed shall be corrected as to any typographical errors that may not previously have been corrected and to include any amendments that may have been made by either house since the last printing of the bill. After the type has been so corrected two hundred copies of the bill shall be printed (except charter bills, of which only twenty-five of each shall be printed.) Twelve of these copies shall be on seven and one-fourth by ten bond paper, twenty pound basis of at least fifty per cent rag content, for the use of the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, one of which copies when properly authenticated, shall become the enrolled bill, and the remainder shall be on twenty pound basis, sulphite bond paper. From these copies all judges shall be furnished enrolled bills as provided for in section fourteen, article one, chapter four of the code.

Authentication of Enrolled Bills

15. Enrolled bills shall be authenticated by the signature of the chairman of the House Committee and the chairman of the Senate Committee, composing such Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, but in the absence of such chairman another member of the committee may act in his stead, and they shall require all bills and joint resolutions before such authentication to be free from interlineations or erasures and destroy any previous enrollment containing any interlineations or erasures. A certificate, showing in which House the bill originated and the date it takes effect, signed by the Clerks of the two Houses, shall be endorsed on the bill. After enrolled bills and joint resolutions are authenticated as aforesaid, they shall be signed by the Speaker of the House and by the President of the Senate.

Presenting Bills to Governor

16. After a bill shall have thus been signed in each house, it shall be presented by the said committee to the Governor, for his approval. The said committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor, which time shall be entered on the Journal of each house.

Record of Enrolled Bills

17. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Enrolled Bills to keep a record book of all bills presented to the Governor for his approval. The title and number of each bill presented to the Governor shall be entered in this book and when a bill is presented to him, the date presented and the signature of the Governor, showing receipt of same, shall be entered at the side of each title.

Action of Governor on Bills

18. Every bill disapproved by the Governor shall be returned by him to the house in which it originated, with his objection thereto unless the Legislature shall by its adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after said adjournment.

Every bill approved by the Governor shall, within five days after it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and the fact of said approval communicated by the Governor to the house in which said bill originated.

Every bill which shall be neither approved nor disapproved by the Governor, shall immediately after the expiration of five days from the time it is presented to him, be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith engross thereon a certificate to the following effect: "I certify that the foregoing act, having been presented to the Governor for his approval, and not having been returned by him to the house of the Legislature in which it originated within the time prescribed by the Constitution of the state, has become a law without his approval," and shall date and sign the same. The Governor shall notify the house in which the bill originated of each bill becoming a law without his approval.

Upon each bill returned to either house of the Legislature with the objections of the Governor, the Clerks of the Senate and House of Delegates shall engross the action, if any, of their respective houses on the reconsideration and passage of said bill, and sign the same.

Joint Meetings of Committees

19. Whenever any bill has been referred by the Senate to one of its standing committees, and the same or like bill has been referred by the House to one of its committees, the chairman of the respective committees, when in their judgment the interest of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served thereby, may arrange for a joint meeting of their committees for the consideration of such bill. All joint committee meetings shall be presided over by the chairman of the Senate committee.

What Shall Be Printed in the Journal

20. The following shall always be printed in the Journal of each House:

- (a) Messages from the Governor and messages from other House, the titles of all bills, and the title and text of all resolutions.
- (b) Every vote taken by yeas and nays in each House, and a brief statement of the contents of each petition, memorial, or paper presented to each House.
- (c) A true and accurate account of the proceedings of each House.

Manner of Printing the Journal and Bills

21. In printing the daily Journal of the proceedings of each house there shall be printed at the top of each page, except the first, the date of the Journal and on the last page of each day's Journal shall be printed the calendar for the next day.

At the top of the first page of each bill, preceding the title and number thereof, there shall be printed the name of the person by whom or the committee by which it was introduced and the date of introduction; and at the top of each page, except the first, shall be printed the number of the bill.

Use of Legislative Halls and Offices

22. Permission to use other than for statutory purposes, either Legislative chamber or offices used by the two houses may be granted by the President of the Senate or Speaker of the House as the case may be. During legislative sessions, the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate shall have power to regulate the use of the halls and stairways of the parts of the capitol building used by their respective houses, for any purpose whatsoever.

Resolutions

23. Resolutions requiring concurrent action may originate in either House, and shall be of two kinds, namely:

Joint Resolutions: These resolutions shall be used for proposing amendments to the State Constitution and for ratifying amendments to the Federal Constitution. Joint resolutions shall be adopted as provided in section two, article fourteen of the Constitution.

Concurrent Resolutions: Such resolutions shall be used for all purposes not covered by joint resolutions as defined above.

Suspension of Joint Rules

24. No Joint Rule shall be suspended except by a two-thirds vote of each House, unless there be unanimous consent, such vote to be taken by yeas and nays.

WEST VIRGINIA STATE FLAG

The present design for the West Virginia state flag was adopted by the legislature March 7, 1929. The proportions are the same as those of the United States ensign.

The field is pure white, upon the center of which is emblazoned in proper colors the coat-of-arms of the state, upon which appears the date of the admission of West Virginia into the Union and the motto "Montani Semper Liberi" (Mountaineers Always Freeman).

Above the coat-of-arms of the State of West Virginia there is a ribbon lettered, "State of West Virginia," and a wreath of rhododendron maximum in proper colors is arranged appropriately around the lower part thereof. The field of pure white is bordered by a strip of blue on four sides.

THE STATE FLOWER

The rhododendron, or big laurel (rhododendron maximum), was named as the official state flower under the provisions of a joint resolution adopted by the legislature of West Virginia January 23, 1903, during the administration of Governor Albert Blakeslee White.

THE GREAT SEAL OF WEST VIRGINIA

(See Frontispiece)

The seal, adopted by the Legislature September 26, 1863, was designed by Diss Debar, of Saint Clara, Doddridge County, who served as Commissioner of Immigration under Governor Boreman, and who was a member of the Legislature of 1864.

WEST VIRGINIA JOURNALISM HALL OF FAME

ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL, (1833-1899), was editor of Wheeling Intelligencer, 1856-1882. Urged so successfully the formation of this state that he is now often referred to as the "Father of West Virginia." Achieved national recognition at the Republican National Convention in 1880, when he declared he "carried his sovereignty under his own hat." Intellectual, independent, fearless. (Elected 1935.)

ANDREW PRICE (1871-1930), was connected with the Pocahontas Times from 1892 to his death. Lawyer and student of history. President of the West Virginia Historical Society for many years. Author of "West Virginia Anthology," "Western Waters," and "Dreams," the last a book of poetry. A man of genius, energy, magnetic personality and great love and ambition for his state. (Elected 1935.)

JOHN GABRIEL JACOB, was born at Wellsburg in 1826. Edited newspapers for fifty years. His editorials in the Herald, a newspaper of high moral tone, were reprinted throughout the Nation. Ardent supporter of Lincoln. Strong for public improvements. Active in establishing the state public school system. Author of "The Life and Time of Patrick Glass," (Lewis and Clark expedition story) and "Brooke County Record," (1870-1882). Long regarded as the nestor of the press of the Northern Panhandle. (Elected 1937.)

ENOS W. NEWTON was editor of what was once pronounced the "most important newspaper published in the trans-Allegheny country" before the Civil War, publishing the first issue of his Kanawha Republican in 1841. As early as 1842, urged separate statehood for western Virginia. Advocated common free schools for state. Able writer. Excluded from his columns personal abuse. Considered a "gentleman of culture and refinement." (Elected 1937.)

†In comparing this percentage of increase with that shown for the decade 1910-1930, allowance should be made for the fact that the period between the censuses of 1910 and 1920 was less than a full decade, and that the period between the 1920 and 1930 censuses was more than a full decade. An increase of 16.1 per cent for 123 months (the time between January 1, 1920, and April 1, 1930) is equivalent to 15.7 per cent for exactly ten years; and, the 1920 increase for 116½ months (the time between April 15, 1910, and January 1, 1920) is equivalent to 15.4 per cent for 120 months. Making this adjustment, the rate of increase for the decade ending in 1930 is only slightly higher than that for the preceding decade.

*Enumeration of 1870 incomplete in southern states. Percentages in this column for 1860-1870 and 1870-1880 represent estimated true rates of increase.

*A minus sign (—) indicates net emigration or excess of departures over arrivals. The figures for net immigration are based upon the arrivals and departures of both aliens and citizens, and differ from those published by the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, since they relate only to continental United States and therefore exclude the movement of population between foreign countries and the outlying territories and possessions and the net migration between the outlying possessions and the mainland.

*The term "center of population", as used by the Census Bureau, is that point which may be considered as the center of gravity of the United States; in other words, the point upon which the United States would balance if it were a rigid plane without weight and the population distributed thereon, with each individual being assumed to have equal weight and to exert an influence on a central point proportional to his distance from the point.

In terms of latitude and longitude, the 1930 center is located in latitude 39° 3' 45" North, longitude 87° 8' 6" West. The closeness with which the center of population throughout its westward movement has clung to the thirty-ninth parallel of latitude is remarkable. The point farthest north was reached in 1790 and farthest south in 1830, but the difference was only 21.4 miles.

OUTDOOR RECREATION IN WEST VIRGINIA STATE PARKS AND FORESTS

By PAUL D. OLEJAR
Director of Education, Conservation Commission

The vital beauty of West Virginia's mountains and valleys has long been a source of pride to her citizens. It was not until 1933, however, that general interest in potentialities inherent for outdoor recreation reached the point where active development of natural scenic resources was begun by the state. In the five years since the Conservation Commission of West Virginia was created and charged with beautification, development, protection and use of natural scenic resources, a careful program has been carried out. Acquisition of suitable forested lands, their development, and their operation and maintenance as public areas has followed the pattern which would preserve the fineness and beauty of nature and make it easily available to all the people. Today there are almost 80,000 acres of state forests and state parks, divided into seventeen areas which constitute unspoiled forested shrines to West Virginia's wealth of renewable natural resources.

While development of state forests and state parks is somewhat parallel, there is a vital difference in the point of emphasis. Whereas a state park is a publicly-owned wooded area devoted primarily to outdoor recreation, with wildlife development a secondary consideration, a state forest is a publicly-owned area devoted primarily to timber growth and ultimate forest utilization, wildlife conservation and public recreation.

There are other differences. State park lands were purchased with money appropriated by the legislature for the purpose. They were and are in process of development by the Civilian Conservation Corps, under technical supervision of the Conservation Commission and the National Park Service. Equipment, operation, and maintenance is financed by direct legislative appropriation. State forest lands were purchased with funds accruing from the apportionment by law of hunting and fishing license revenues. Development is by the Civilian Conservation Corps under technical supervision of the Conservation Commission and the United States Forest Service. Equipment, operation and maintenance is financed by legislative appropriation.

Thus, hunting and fishing license fees are not in any way involved in acquisition, development and operation of state parks; they are used for the acquisition of state forests, but not for their development or operation. Because of these administrative differences, the two types of public lands have individual characteristics and atmosphere.

State Parks

To the person who takes time to become a part of the mountains, assuming their slow pace, a sojourn in a state park will reveal countless delights of nature. There are trails through dense woods, trails that are not spoiled by too meticulous pruning of shrubbery; trails that lead to beaver dams, to the grazing grounds of deer and to the hunting lands of raccoon and bear. A special arboretum, or similar treasure-chest of nature, offers endless diversion to the student or lover of rare wild flowers and plants. The wilds are friendly, tuned to luxurious dwelling outdoors.

Concentrated in recreational centers are cabins, authentic in pioneer architecture and artistic in their appointments, yet so carefully spaced and sheltered by the green boughs of pine, hemlock, laurel and rhododendron that each seems an entity in the vastness of the quiet forest. Dams of earth and stone, products of the rugged strength of hundreds of Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees, impound sparkling mountain waters to form lakes and ponds.

Such is the atmosphere of a state park. True, comfort, and convenience are not forgotten. Rather it is enhanced by the well-appointed administration buildings, nerve centers of the parks. The convenience of curio shops, museums of local and historical and botanical interest, recreation halls for group diversions, and locker rooms found in many such headquarters, add to the zest of a visit. Well-equipped cafes at Watoga and Babcock are a comfort to those who would dine well far from cities. Trained and courteous young men and women are always on hand to explain, to guide, and to help. Friendly service is the watchword. Nor is the small child ignored in the midst of nature. Swings, slides and wading pools in several parks keep him occupied, safely corralled in his own play ground.

In the rush of living, some persons feel they cannot take the time to build friendship with nature. They content themselves with fleeting glimpses of the long sweep of a mountain from a car window. Yet even for such there is opportunity in a state park to enjoy the outdoors with more satisfaction. Winding foot trails and shaded picnic areas are found in each park, inviting a pleasant stay for an hour or two. Open stoves where a steak can be broiled over a wood fire, or a potato given the fine flavor of chestnut in the ashes, are well-placed near tables and benches and water lines. Fishing, boating, and swimming afford other opportunities for recreation. Bicycles and well-gaited horses are on hand in most parks.

For one who can stay a while, the log cabin is the center of living. There are seventy of these cabins. Furnishings are largely in maple, with complete kitchen and living equipment utilizing the push-button conveniences of hot water and electricity. The fireplace of native stone is a focal point of activity. Services such as ice deliveries and other aids to a smooth running household make living close to nature easy for those not accustomed to such outings. Although the Conservation Commission has provided these things, it clings to the belief that a well-equipped cabin is not an end in itself, merely the means to an end. Such facilities do not make a park, for without the softening effect of trees, the accent of perfumery of flowers, the flash of wild animals and the chatter of birds, they are prosaic, uninspiring.

Needless to say, at the beginning of the development there was much that was untried and unventured. Problems peculiar to this state had to be solved. However, a general plan has been followed in the major state park areas. Cacapon, Lost River, Watoga, Babcock, Tomlinson Run and Holly River state parks are classified as major areas, and all others as roadside or monumental areas. Tomlinson Run and Holly River occupy peculiar positions, the first because development, not yet complete, is on a metropolitan park basis, and the latter because it was developed entirely by federal government agencies and was taken over temporarily for administration and operation by the Conservation Commission. Yet, in scope, they are major parks.

In the public mind, the recreational facilities exemplified by cabins and picnic grounds might seem to encompass the entire park, yet, actually, they occupy but a small portion of the area undergoing development. This large area, comprising from 80 to 96 per cent of each park, has been set aside as a game refuge within which propagation and protection of game is fostered and healthy forest growth cultivated. This vast section, which is not penetrated by the forty miles of motor roads within the parks and by but few of the seventy miles of foot and horse trails, is seldom visited by the public. These game areas are devoid of development in the sense of construction, except for the administrative trails. In this manner elements detrimental to forest and game conservation are held to a minimum. Protection is provided by the Parks Division.

The restoration of these areas to a better-than-normal state of production includes stocking of some game species, such as turkey, rabbits, quail and deer; artificial feeding of game in winter by means of 200 feeding stations; environmental improvement including planting of game food and cover crops in small open areas; and, stocking of fish in streams and in the artificial lakes in the recreational centers. All this is coupled with adequate and vigilant fire protection. Nature does the rest.

While development has followed a general plan, each state park has definite character. For instance, Babcock (3,231 acres), in Fayette County, is the most rugged, with a seven-mile-long Y-shaped gorge formed by Glade and Mann's Creeks, two excellent trout streams. An attractive swimming pool is a popular feature.

Cacapon (5,027 acres), in Morgan County, enfolds a high mountain from which rolling hills and verdant valleys may be seen on all sides. An artificial lake provides trout, bass fishing and boating. The picnic facilities, drawing gatherings from neighboring states, are the most complete in the state park system.

Lost River (3,235 acres), in Hardy County, possesses the historical and restful charm belonging to a spa once owned by the family of General "Lighthorse Harry" Lee. Its medicinal white sulphur spring still bubbles forth in a grove of stately and beautiful trees. This park surely is a haven for one who needs rest and the invigorating uplift of nature's gifts.

Holly River (4,500 acres), in Webster County, has a beautiful setting of laurel and rhododendron for its recreational area. A concrete swimming pool, wading pools for children and elaborate picnic grounds are important features offered here. Electricity and running water are not available.

Tomlinson Run (224 acres), in Hancock County, is under development as a metropolitan center, catering to short-term visits by large groups desiring outings.

Watoga (10,049 acres), in Pocahontas County, is the largest of our state parks. It perhaps has the most diversified and luxuriant growth of wild flowers and shrubs. Its artificial lake, extensive bridle paths, and high elevation make it extremely popular.

There are five roadside parks, which serve the casual passerby who finds time to view a scenic wonder, study a historical spot or rest a moment. These parks embrace some of the most outstanding scenic points in the state. Three are well-developed and two are in process of development. Hawks Nest State Park, overlooking the famous New River gorge in Fayette County, is perhaps the best known. Here a museum, picnic shelter, tables, benches and stoves in a grove of trees invite the traveler to tarry. The overlook is most always filled with sightseers. Blackwater Falls, a 63-foot curtain of water in Tucker County, annually draws thousands of visitors. This is beyond question West Virginia's most magnificent waterfall. Picnic tables and benches along the deep, rugged Blackwater Canyon are always wind-swept and cool on the hottest summer day.

Droop Mountain Battlefield in Pocahontas County is the site of the most extensive engagement fought on West Virginia soil during the Civil War. It is well-developed for picnicking and nature study and two cabins are available for those who like the high elevation and inspiring vistas.

Pinnacle Rock, in Mercer County, is under development, and plans for the development of Carnifex Ferry are now under consideration by the Commission.

Our state forests embrace a total of 52,000 acres. Their development, while stressing game management and timber growth, has an important place in public recreation. Already the game conservation program in state forests has paid dividends in public hunting in Seneca State Forest, in Pocahontas County. It will pay additional dividends in other state forests as the game supply increases sufficiently to warrant regulated shooting. Fishermen have already been showered with bounties from state forests.

In the recreational construction activity of the CCC, hundreds of miles of roads and trails have been built. While many miles are used principally for administrative purposes, fire protection and game management, most of these roads and trails are open to travel by the public. There are 397 miles of truck trails, 154 miles of minor roads and 12 miles of major highways. There are also 53 miles of foot trails and 335 miles of horse trails.

State forest cabins bring the guest close to nature. They provide comfortable living in the outdoors without the refinements of electricity and running water, but the log fires and adequate furnishings are cheerful and inviting.

State Forests

Seneca (11,049 acres), first state forest acquired and developed, provides picnic areas, a playground for children, a modern fire tower and fire trails which cause the skier or snowshoe hiker to speculate on winter sport possibilities. Eight cabins have been built, two of which front on the Greenbrier River. In the artificial lake literally thousands of small pan fish swim. There is boating and swimming. A dozen beaver dams, both at the lake and on other streams in the forest, invite inspection and conjecture at the work of this industrious engineer of the woods.

Thirteen cabins on Twelvepole Creek have been built in Cabwaylingo State Forest (6,482 acres), in Wayne County. Its two picnic and play areas, and the remnants of railroad development found in the forest, intrigue hundreds. An artificial lake is under construction.

Cooper's Rock State Forest (12,915 acres), in Monongalia and Preston Counties, fronts beautiful Cheat Lake and includes the famed Cooper's Rocks which long have been a mecca for enterprising hikers and nature lovers. Now a motor road brings the visitor to this magnificent view. A second picnic area has been developed.

Kumbrabow, with 9,425 acres in Randolph County, is largely a timber farm, but its skyline drive entices those who like to leave the beaten path for new motoring adventures. A trout rearing station is maintained here, and parties using the picnic area find it a source of much interest.

Kanawha (6,075 acres) in Kanawha County, the newest of our state forests, is being developed into a woodland area where the thousands who live within ten miles of the forest may find nature at her best. A swimming pool, picnicking and other facilities will soon be provided.

Greenbrier State Forest (4,500 acres), in Greenbrier County, takes in much of Kate's Mountain, below which nestles the Greenbrier, world-famous resort at White Sulphur Springs. Its trails lead to a twelve-mile skyline drive overlooking svelte panoramas.

Tourists and Recreation

How has the public responded to such developments? A brief inspection of attendance records will answer this question. In 1937, four state forests, four of the major parks and three roadside parks were open to public use. The parks were not opened until the first of July. There was recorded an attendance of 160,000. During the summer of 1938, all parks but Tomlinson Run, and all state forests but Greenbrier and Kanawha, were open and there was a recorded attendance of 315,000. In addition several thousand persons visited the areas under general construction.

While state parks and state forests are designed primarily for West Virginians, they occupy an important role in the state's development of the tourist industry. Some 55,000 park and forest visitors in 1938 came from other states and foreign countries. Every state in the Union was represented.

It is a matter of pride that West Virginia's scenic resources are so magnificent. It is a fortunate thing, perhaps, that they have not been over-exploited in the past, because now West Virginia can profit from some of the mistakes made in other parts of the country.

It is true that West Virginia's hills and valleys are not widely known at present as tourist or vacation lands. This can be remedied. It likewise is true that the reason West Virginia's scenic resources draw such rapt praise from visitors is because the scenery is fresh and natural, the roadsides uncluttered and untarnished. This is an immense asset in the state's efforts to share more profitably in the five-billion dollar tourist industry of this nation. State parks and state forests cherish this unspoiled beauty. And while the Conservation Commission has many other duties which are akin to development of scenic natural resources, it is ready to further meet its obligations in this respect by careful development from the present state, so that such resources may become a very profitable cash account for the people of West Virginia.

DEPTH AVAILABLE FOR NAVIGATION

(Data Furnished by the War Department—Revised to November 1, 1938)

Ohio River—Improvement of the Ohio River, as authorized by Congress in the River and Harbor Act of June 25, 1910, provides for a channel depth of 9 feet in the entire 981 miles of the river by the construction of locks and dams and open channel work. The system of locks and dams throughout the river provides a navigable depth of 9 feet at ordinary river stage. New dams of modern design have recently been completed near Hogsett, West Virginia (Gallipolis Lock and Dam), and at Montgomery Island, 32 miles below Pittsburgh.

Monoongahela River, West Virginia and Pennsylvania—The existing project provides for improvement of the river by 13 locks and dams to afford slack-water navigation from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to 4 miles above Fairmont, a distance of 131 miles. The project is approximately complete and the controlling depth between Pittsburgh and Morgantown, 101.5 miles above the mouth is 8 feet, and above Morgantown 7 feet to the upper limits of the project.

Kanawha River, West Virginia—The existing project provides for the construction of 3 modern dams on the Kanawha River, with twin locks at London, Marmet and Winfield, and the Gallipolis lock and dam on the Ohio River, near Hogsett, West Virginia, to furnish a 9-foot navigable depth from the Ohio to a point 90.57 miles above the mouth. The dams at London and Marmet were completed in 1934, and the Winfield dam in 1937. The Gallipolis lock and dam was placed in operation during the year thus making available a channel depth of 9 feet from the mouth of the river to the head of navigation.

Big Sandy River, West Virginia and Kentucky, including Levisa and Tug Forks—The existing project provides for 3 locks and dams on the main river, 2 locks and dams each on Levisa Fork and Tug Fork, and regulating works below Lock No. 1, reaching to the Ohio River. The 3 locks and dams on the main river and the lower lock and dam on each fork have been constructed, providing a slack-water depth of 6 feet from the Ohio River to Louisa, Kentucky, 27 miles, and thence to Cox Branch on Levisa Fork and to Bear Branch on Tug Fork, 17.5 and 12.5 miles, respectively, above Louisa.

Tygart River Reservoir Project—The Tygart River Dam, located on the Tygart River 2 1/4 miles upstream from Grafton, as authorized by the Public Works Administration January 11, 1934, and approved by Congress in the River and Harbor Act of August 30, 1935, provides for a dam 1,880 feet long and 209 feet high for the storage of 290,000 acre-feet of water to control floods and aid navigation in the Monongahela River. The dam has been completed and is now in operation as a unit in the reservoir system for the protection of Pittsburgh and the upper Ohio Valley generally.

Bluestone Reservoir Project—The proposed Bluestone Reservoir, located on the New River, 2 1/2 miles above Hinton, was authorized by Executive order dated September 12, 1935, and approved by Congress in the Flood Control Act of June 22, 1936. The project, designed to afford flood control in the Kanawha and Ohio Valleys, the development of power, and as an aid to navigation, provides for a concrete gravity type dam 180 feet high and 2,060 feet long, and a reservoir with a surface area of 9,040 acres and storage capacity of 625,000 acre-feet, extending 35 miles up New River, 7 miles up Bluestone River, and 10 miles up Indian Creek. Congress in the Flood Control Act of June 28, 1938, modified the provisions of the act of June 22, 1936, and authorized the acquisition of all necessary lands, easements and rights-of-way. Funds for the dam have not as yet been made available.

INDUSTRY IN WEST VIRGINIA

By EARLE L. ELMORE

Director of Research, West Virginia Chamber of Commerce

West Virginia is rich in natural resources. It is doubtful whether any other state can compare with this state on the basis of value of mineral resources per unit of population. Despite its relatively small area, it ranks first in the production of bituminous coal, producing from its fifty-odd seams well over a hundred million tons a year. Many gas and oil sands store large petroleum resources. Approximately four million barrels of oil, one hundred fifty billion cubic feet of natural gas, and forty-six million gallons of natural gasoline are produced annually. Vast limestone, sand, gravel and building stone resources form the basis of an increasing manufacturing industry. Natural brines form an abundant source of sodium, bromine and their chemical derivatives, chlorine, magnesium and other raw materials utilized by a rapidly expanding chemical industry.

A study of industry in West Virginia must concern itself with the industries engaged in the production of these natural resources; the industries servicing the production industries with power, transportation, equipment and communication; wholesale and retail trade which serve the production industries and their employees; the other service industries which provide personal and other services for those engaged in production industries; agriculture which provides food; and the process and manufacturing industries which utilize the raw materials produced.

A summary of the number of persons engaged in industry and the income paid out in 1935, the last year for which complete data is available, will be found in the following table:

Totals.....	555,735	$ 660,346,000

*Total amount of money paid out as salaries, wages, dividends, rent and entrepreneurial withdrawals.

The accompanying chart shows the income paid out by industrial divisions for the period from 1929 to 1935. In 1936, the income paid out was $680,000,000, and in 1937 the total reached $729,000,000 for all industries in the state.

A brief summary for each industrial division follows, in which certain data are given. The length of the discussion has varied according to the statistical material on hand and no attempt has been made to indicate the importance of an industry by length of treatment.

The Bituminous Coal Industry

West Virginia ranks first in the production of bituminous coal, well over a hundred million tons being produced each year from its fifty-odd commercial seams. Our present unmined reserves of coal are estimated at approximately fifty billion tons available in seams above three feet in thickness. Bituminous coal production is the most important industry in West Virginia.

From earliest record to the end of 1937, 3,250,000,000 tons of coal have been produced in West Virginia.

The total West Virginia production in 1937 was 118,680,000 tons or 26.8 per cent of the total United States production of 442,455,000 tons. This West Virginia coal had an estimated value of $214,000,000 at the mines.

The following table shows a comparison of the distribution of coal for the years 1936 and 1937:

	1936	1937
Coal used in operation of mines.....	462,369	403,905
Coal sold local trade and tenants	3,005,903	3,008,953
Coal used in beehive coke ovens at mines.....	373,303	438,205
Coal shipped from mines .....	114,417,804	114,828,965
Totals.....	118,259,379	118,680,028

In 1937, about 118,000 men were employed in producing 118,680,000 tons of coal. The industry paid approximately $120,000,000 in salaries and wages during the year.

In 1937 more than half of the state's coal was produced in four counties. McDowell County led with 22,852,772 tons, or 19 per cent; Logan was second with 15,432,927 tons, or 13 per cent; Raleigh was third with 14,567,337 tons, or 12 per cent; and Fayette was fourth with 12,851,148 tons, or 10.7 per cent. Production figures for other counties will be found elsewhere in this book.

The two great service industries, steam railways and electric power, are dependent on the coal industry for a large part of their business. The coal companies form an important market for electrical equipment, tools, mine cars, motors, explosives, lubricants, mine props, lumber and many other commodities.

The salaries and wages of mine employees are expended for food, clothing, and all the articles for sale by retail stores. Large sums are spent for entertainment, amusements, and personal services. Each three production workers require two service workers to supply their needs in commodities and services.

Production of Coke

Total production of coke (beehive and byproduct coke) in 1937 continued the steady upward trend begun in 1933. A total of 1,343,914 tons were produced in 1934; 1,603,584 in 1935; 1,702,792 in 1936; and, 1,807,898 in 1937.

Coke is used chiefly in foundries in the production of pig iron and other iron and steel products. The byproducts, ammonia, gas and tar, form the basis for a rapidly expanding chemical process industry.

Non-Coal Mining and Quarrying

The mining and quarrying industry, exclusive of coal, constitutes a very small part of the total mining industry in West Virginia. The vast limestone, sand, gravel, building stone, and refractory clay resources, although but slightly developed, are gradually forming a basis of an increasing manufacturing industry.

The following table shows the production and value of products of the non-coal mining and quarrying industry in 1937:

Product	Tons	Value
Sand and Gravel .....	2,407,911	$ 2,349,356
Limestone (crushed and broken) .....	2,564,220	2,450,548
Sandstone (crushed and broken) .....	945,820	1,246,008
Fire Clay .....	48,619	94,413
Lime .....	47,544	349,033
Totals.....	6,014,114	$ 6,489,358

Sand and gravel production depend largely upon the construction industry for a market. A large part of the gravel is used as unprepared material for construction of roads.

Crushed stone is used largely to supply aggregate for concrete construction, and the demand, therefore, bears a definite relation to the area of concrete pavements, to sales of portland cement, and to the volume of building construction.

Limestone is used extensively in metallurgy, principally as a flux in blast furnaces and other metallurgical plants to form a slag to carry off the impurities in ores and metals.

The chief uses of lime are in agriculture for soil treatment, in building construction, and in paper mills, glass works and other chemical process industries.

Fire clay is used chiefly for the production of firebrick and tile.

Salaries and wages paid to 2,300 employees in the non-coal mining and quarrying industries were approximately $2,100,000 in 1937.

Limestone is available for cement materials, building purposes, crushed stone, flux, agricultural lime and other purposes in the following counties: Jefferson, Mineral, Preston, Berkeley, Monongalia, Marlon, Tucker, Mercer, Monroe, Ohio and Greenbrier.

Sand and gravel occur in abundance in every county in the state. Sandstone suitable for building and for crushing for use in the construction industry also occurs widely.

Red-burning clays which harden at a low temperature occur widely and are used in the manufacture of brick. Fire clay, a clay comparatively free from iron and alkalies, used in the manufacture of furnace linings and fire brick, occurs in Braxton, Hancock, Harrison, Kanawha, Marlon, Mineral, Monongalia, Preston, Taylor, Tucker and Wayne Counties.

Natural Gas

West Virginia ranks fifth in the production of natural gas in the United States. Only Texas, California, Louisiana and Oklahoma produce more natural gas annually than West Virginia.

Active drilling and increased pipe-line construction were conspicuous features of the natural-gas industry in West Virginia in 1937, according to reports by David B. Reger, consulting geologist, and R. C. Tucker, assistant State Geologist, Morgantown, West Virginia.

Gas well completions numbered 680, and their total open-flow capacity exceeded one billion cubic feet per day, increases of 48 and 89 per cent, respectively, over 1936. The spectacular growth of the Oriskany sand fields in Kanawha County continued and was largely responsible for the phenomenal increase in new productive capacity. There were 100 successful Oriskany sand completions in 1937, with a total of 691,954,000 cubic feet of open-flow capacity. Altogether, 184 wells have been drilled in the field, of which only 20 were dry holes. The average capacity per well was 5,627,000 cubic feet, with closed pressures ranging from 1,200 to 2,000 pounds. As of January 1, 1938, approximately 50,000 acres were regarded as proved for Oriskany gas in the three pools near Charleston, Kanawha County. Large quantities of natural gasoline are extracted from the Oriskany gas. The maximum recovery, when the wells are new and operating at the highest pressure, is about 700 gallons per million cubic feet of gas produced, but the average is probably about 400 gallons per million.

Many test wells were drilled in other parts of the state in search of Oriskany production in 1937, but the only successful completion outside of the known fields was reported in Peytona district, Boone County, where a 300,000 cubic-foot flow was developed from the Oriskany sand at a rock pressure of 1,230 pounds.

The most important new discovery of 1937 was the Glenville gas pool, Gilmer County. It was opened in January by the completion of a 5,600,000 cubic-foot well in the Maxon sand. The intensive drilling that followed resulted in 42 gas wells out of 47 wells drilled, with 43,612,000 cubic feet of new production. Unlike the discovery well, most of this gas was in the Big Injun sand at an average depth of 1,700 feet. The productive limits of the field have not yet been defined, but it may connect with other productive territory to the northeast and southwest.

The leading counties in gas development in 1937 and the number of successful wells drilled in each were: Boone 54, Braxton 31, Cabell 48, Calhoun 46, Gilmer 82, Kanawha 134, Lincoln 44, Ritchie 56, and Wayne 26. The record of Cabell County is unusual in that only one dry hole resulted from 49 completions. It is estimated that West Virginia produced 153 billion cubic feet of gas in 1937, an increase of 11 per cent over 1936.

Petroleum and Natural Gasoline

In 1937 there was produced in West Virginia 3,845,000 barrels of Pennsylvania-grade crude petroleum. Although most of the field activity centered in the development of the Oriskany gas reserves, the number of oil wells increased. Production, however, continued to decrease from the 1936 total of 3,847,000 barrels. Most of the oil production is in the counties in the western half of the state.

There were approximately 18,600 producing wells on December 31, 1936. The value of the 1936 production at the wells was $8,200,000.

Preliminary figures for 1937 indicate that 1,598,000 barrels of gasoline were produced in West Virginia. In the same period, 4,670,000 barrels of gasoline were consumed chiefly as motor fuel.

Manufacturing

In West Virginia the manufacturing industry, which is limited primarily to the valleys of the Ohio and the Kanawha rivers, is the second largest with respect to the number of employees and the income paid out. However, important textile industries are located in the Eastern panhandle, and the Monongahela valley has glass and steel plants.

Natural brines are available as a source of chlorine, sodium, magnesium, bromine, and their chemical derivatives, and of other fundamental raw materials for the industry of today. It is estimated that the source of these brines contains well over eight billion tons of salts. The utilization of natural brines, coal, oil, natural gas and other mineral resources has made the Great Kanawha Valley one of the foremost chemical centers in the United States.

The chemical industry in the Great Kanawha Valley extends from Nitro to Gauley Bridge. Some of the more important chemical products are: Chlorine, bromine, magnesium, sodium, barium, ammonia and their chemical derivatives. Other plants utilize electrical energy in electric furnaces to obtain high temperatures necessary to produce a variety of metal alloys. Intermediate compounds used in rubber, plastic, and rayon industries are produced in large quantities.

Byproduct coke ovens produce coke and tar which form the basis for many synthetic chemicals. The huge quantities of cheap natural gas from the new developments in the nearby Oriskany sands are just beginning to be used for the basic raw materials for many hydrocarbons and their derivatives.

Chemical plants which produce sulphuric acid, zinc products, chlorine, bromine, dyes and other products are located in Harrison, Marshall, Mason, Ohio and Cabell counties.

West Virginia's large deposits of low grade iron ore were used in Colonial times. While iron and steel are still among the important products of manufactures in West Virginia, the state's ores are no longer used commercially because of the superior quality of those of other fields.

The Wheeling district, composed of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall Counties, is the important iron and steel center. Pig iron, wire, sheet metal, and structural steel are only a few of the products.

Originally the state could boast of the finest stands of virgin timber in the east. A policy of exploitation has greatly reduced this asset. At the present time, however, scientific methods of harvesting forest products will prolong indefinitely the source of materials of the important timber industry.

In 1935, 183 active mills reported 252,974 thousand feet of lumber sawed, of which 51,917 thousand feet were softwoods and 201,057 thousand feet were hardwoods. The softwoods consisted chiefly of hemlock, spruce, and white pine, and the hardwoods of ash, basswood, beech, birch, chestnut, hickory, maple, oak, walnut, and yellow poplar. Other forest products included lath, shingles, veneers, staves, clothes pins, pulp, paper and many other articles.

The glass industry of this state ranks third in the United States. Only Pennsylvania and Ohio produce more glass and glass products than West Virginia. In 1935 its products were valued at $40,000,000, and employment was given 11,811 persons who earned more than $14,000,000 in salaries and wages.

The ceramic industry is another important industry. In only the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio and New Jersey does the value of pottery, porcelain and other clay products exceed the value of that produced in West Virginia. In 1935, the value of ceramic products was more than $14,000,000 and employment was given to 7,500 persons whose earnings totaled $7,708,000.

In West Virginia the ceramic industry centers in Hancock County which, with the neighboring areas in Ohio and Pennsylvania, forms a district which is generally known as the "ceramic center of the United States."

In 1935, there were 84,443 persons engaged in 1,045 manufacturing establishments who received $95,412,000 in salaries and wages. The products were valued at $373,310,000, of which $173,142,000 had been added by manufacture.

Agriculture

With respect to the number of persons engaged, agriculture ranks second only to mining and quarrying among the industries of West Virginia, accounting for 18 per cent of the total number in 1929 and 21.5 per cent in 1935. According to the 1935 Federal Farm Census, the "back-to-the-farm" movement from 1930 to 1935 was much more pronounced in West Virginia, where the farm population increased 25 per cent, than in the whole country where the increase amounted to only 4.4 per cent.

The total farm population in 1935 was 561,919 persons. Of this number, 165,995 were gainfully employed. A breakdown of this figure shows that 104,154 were farmers, owners and tenants; 593 were managers and other salaried employees; 15,062 were wage earners; and 46,216 were classified as family laborers.

The gross income from agricultural production in 1935 is estimated at $57,-650,000, a decline of 31.5 per cent from 1929.

In 1935, corn was the most important crop. Braxton, Jefferson, Greenbrier, Mason, and Wayne counties excelled in corn production in the order named; however, corn was an important crop in all counties.

Jefferson and Berkeley Counties were first and second in the production of winter wheat. Preston was first in the production of oats and buckwheat. Randolph, Preston, Pocahontas, and Nicholas Counties were the most important growers of potatoes. Roane, Randolph, Jackson, Greenbrier, and Marshall Counties produced the greatest tonnage of hay in 1935.

Apples, peaches, cherries, pears, plums, and other fruits are grown in all counties. Berkeley, Hampshire, Jefferson, Mineral and Morgan Counties form one of the finest fruit growing areas in the United States.

Greenbrier, Harrison, Roane, Jackson, Braxton and Lewis Counties are important cattle raising counties. Horses, mules, swine, cattle and sheep are raised in every county.

Construction

The construction industry has made very rapid recovery from 1933, and in 1938 the value of construction contracts awarded during the first ten months reached $25,894,000, a figure greater than that reached in 1929 or 1937. The estimated 6,000 employees will probably earn more than $7,500,000 in salaries and wages in 1938.

Residential housing construction is keeping pace with heavy construction in 1938. Low interest rates on money and government insurance of housing loans have stimulated the unusual activity in all types of construction.

Electric Light and Power, Gas and Water Industries

The production of electrical energy is an important industry in West Virginia. The abundance of cheap fuel and water power is responsible for the production by the power industry of electrical energy for the important coal and manufacturing industries as well as for the lighting of towns and cities. About twice as much electrical energy is exported to other states as is imported.

Electrical energy is produced by large plants which utilize coal as fuel at Power, Brooke County; Rivesville, Marion County; Logan, Logan County; and Cabin Creek, Kanawha County. Smaller plants are situated in all sections of the state. Large hydro-electric developments are located at Cheat Lake, Monongalia County, and Hawk's Nest, Fayette County. Smaller hydro-electric units use water power at the locks on the Great Kanawha River.

Water power accounted for about thirteen per cent of the power produced in 1937. For the first ten months of 1938, the total energy produced was about sixteen per cent under the same period in 1937.

There are about 2,500 persons engaged in the production of electrical energy and the distribution of water and gas. They receive about $7,000,000 in salaries and wages during the year. The revenue received for power and water amounts to more than $30,000,000 annually.

Transportation

The transportation industry is the important service industry serving our mines, factories and trade in the distribution of commodities. This industry may be divided into four classes, viz.: Steam railroads, electric railways, motor transportation, and pipe line transportation, steam railroads and motor transportation being the most important.

The steam railroads carry our important coal production and manufactured products to market. Motor transportation serves wholesale and retail trade. The pipe lines carry our oil and gasoline to refineries and markets. Electric railways, as carriers of passengers and freight in our cities, have been displaced to some extent by motor transportation.

The steam railroads have about 15,000 employees, and about 11,000 persons are employed in motor transportation. Only slightly more than 100 employees each are engaged in electric railway and pipe line transportation. The wages paid are as follows: Steam railroads, $21,000,000; motor transportation, $11,000,000; electric railways $129,000; and pipe lines $250,000.

Communication

Telephone and telegraph industries in West Virginia employ about 1,500 persons, who receive approximately $1,640,000 in salaries and wages each year.

Wholesale and Retail Trade

There are about 9,000 persons engaged in wholesale trade in West Virginia. Of this number about 600 are entrepreneurs and 8,400 employees. The net sales amount to approximately $230,000,000 annually.

Retail trade employs about 37,000 persons as employees, and about 17,000 are entrepreneurs. The volume of retail trade amounts to about $390,000,000 annually.

The compensation of employees in wholesale trade amounts to $13,000,000 and $2,000,000 is withdrawn by entrepreneurs.

In retail trade, about $30,000,000 is paid out as compensation to employees, and $15,000,000 is withdrawn by entrepreneurs.

Finance

Banking in West Virginia employs about 1,600 persons annually. About $2,600,000 is received in salaries.

About 4,500 persons are employed in the insurance field. The compensation of agents amounts to $18,000,000 annually.

The 1,100 persons engaged in the real estate business receive $2,000,000 annually.

Service Industries

For convenience in this report, we have divided the service industries into five classes as follows: Recreation and amusements; personal service; professional service; domestic service; and miscellaneous service. The data supplied for these services includes entrepreneurs and their withdrawals.

In 1935, there were 1,438 persons engaged in the recreation and amusements industries who received $1,044,000 in compensation.

There were 9,439 persons engaged in professional service, such as the practice of medicine, surgery, nursing, law, etc. They received, in 1935, $20,739,000 in compensation.

Personal service, as defined here, includes employees of hotels, laundries, dyeing and cleaning shops, and barber and beauty shops. In 1935, there were 10,229 persons engaged in personal service industries who earned $7,822,000 in compensation.

There were 29,175 persons engaged in domestic service in 1935, who received $24,340,000 in compensation for their services.

Miscellaneous services include business services and mechanical repair services. In 1935, there were 2,279 persons engaged in these services. Their compensation amounted to $2,603,000.

Government

In 1935, there were about 5,000 persons employed by the state government, 1,600 by county governments, 2,400 by city and town governments and 20,640 by the state board of education and county boards of education, the grand total being 29,640 employees. These employees received compensation as follows: State government, $6,100,000; county government, $2,370,000; city and town government, $2,900,000; public education, $20,830,000; total, $32,200,000.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.—William Tyler Page.

THE PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America
And to the Republic for which it stands,
One Nation, indivisible,
With liberty and justice for all.

RESUME OF 1938

War clouds darkened foreign skies in 1938, and unrest was general throughout the world, but West Virginia managed to maintain a steady course through it all. In short, it was an average year, if there is such a thing as an average year in the life of a state.

In explanation, it may be said that there were no governmental happenings of startling nature. Business conditions were not as good as they had been in the recent past, but they were not nearly as bad as those of 1930-34, which still are vivid in the memory of all. Public finances, always short of actual needs, at least were up to expectations.

Perhaps the event of greatest domestic interest during the year was the election in November. Since there were no state-wide candidates, campaigns were only of district or county-wide interest, and, as was to be expected, the total vote cast was far below that which results when issues of wider appeal are involved.

Tickets throughout the state were headed by candidates for Congress, and in only one instance was the status quo upset. In the First District, A. C. Schiffer, of Wheeling, candidate on the Republican ticket, defeated the incumbent, Representative Robert L. Ramsay, of Follansbee. Representatives Jennings Randolph, Andrew Edmiston, George W. Johnson, John Kee and Joe L. Smith, all Democrats, were reelected.

Congressional results were indicative of the legislative trend, 14 Democrats and 3 Republicans being elected to the State Senate, and 70 Democrats and 24 Republicans to the House of Delegates. At the regular session of the legislature, which will convene January 11, 1939, the Senate will be composed of 27 Democrats and 5 Republicans:

With the dawn of 1938, the so-called "recession," begun about August, 1937, was still affecting business conditions in West Virginia. Indeed, there were few encouraging signs until the closing months of the current year, although the general feeling among businessmen was not one of despair, but rather of hope, a hope that was being fulfilled as the year ended.

During the first nine months of 1938, wages paid by subscribers to the workmen's compensation fund totaled $221,474,675, as against $285,883,216, for the corresponding period in 1937. Coal production in the first 10 months of 1938 aggregated 75,067,517 tons, compared with 100,636,121 tons for the same period in 1937.

Bank debits during the first ten months in three of the state's largest cities, Huntington, Charleston and Wheeling, totaled $863,364,000, while for the same period in 1937, such debits totaled $1,085,042,000. Consumers sales tax collections for the first nine months of the current year were $5,725,741, against $6,445,350 collected for the same period in 1937.

It will thus be seen that the volume of business in most lines in 1938 was not up to that of 1937, but as the year neared a close there appeared to be a firm undertone and a feeling of optimism. The business index again pointed sharply upward.

The year just closing was remarkable in that it was the first since 1930 in which no session of the legislature was held. Instead, a continuing study of many governmental problems was made by an interim committee set up by the 1937 legislature. According to Governor Holt, findings of this committee will form the basis of the state administration's legislative program.

In a radio address delivered on the night of October 26, 1938, the Governor outlined some of the objectives which he hopes to attain at the forthcoming session of the legislature, one of the most important of which is the adoption of a new method of aid for schools, designed to encourage counties to raise a greater share of school costs locally, and removing from the present system the objectionable feature that provides for reduction in state aid as additional local funds are raised by taxation. The proposed system would provide for participation in the distribution of state funds when state and local funds permit a county to exceed minimum standards. In cases where revenues are sufficient, counties would not be required to lay maximum levies in order to obtain state aid. This, together with a reallocation of levies, will, the Governor believes, allow many more counties to exceed minimum standards and at the same time have a reasonable building program without voting added levies.

Another important objective is the creation of a system of summary courts, the judges of which would receive salaries. Thus, the objectionable fee system would be abolished. The courts would supplant the present justice of the peace system, although Governor Holt added that the effective date of the proposal could be arranged so as to prevent the removal of any judge or justice of the peace during the term for which he has been elected.

Governor Holt further stated that he hopes to have the legislature consider measures permitting the payment from county-wide levies of old magisterial or special district debts; providing for the appointment of additional employees by the state tax commissioner to cooperate with county assessors in an effort to equalize assessments throughout the state; retaining the extra one cent gasoline tax imposed by the 1937 legislature in order to supplement inadequate state road funds; and, continuing the operation of the state government without the imposition of additional general taxes.

The Governor also indicated that he would like to see a substantial sum appropriated for free text books, and stated that he is interested in the passage of bills establishing adequate and efficient supervision over parolees and probationers; promoting and safeguarding the health, safety and welfare of those who toll; maintaining the public assistance program on a sound business-like basis; and, permitting the wages and salaries of public employees to be garnisheed on a "periodic recovery" basis rather than seizure of the entire wage.

Several personnel changes in official life occurred in 1938. Early in the year, Howard L. Robinson resigned as United States District Attorney for the Northern District of West Virginia and was succeeded by Joe V. Gibson, of Kingwood, who had served for several years as Assistant United States Attorney. In October, George I. Neal resigned as United States Attorney for the Southern District, and L. R. Via, of Huntington, was named as his successor.

Dr. Chauncey S. Boucher resigned in July as president of West Virginia University, and the board of governors chose C. E. Lawall, head of the school of mines, as acting president. On September 1st, the resignation of William B. Mathews as acting clerk of the Supreme Court of Appeals became effective. The court selected Benjamin B. Jarvis, Circuit Clerk of Harrison County, as his successor.

During the year, the construction of two public projects worthy of special mention was begun. They were the Department of Public Safety's radio broadcasting system, and the new medium security prison, located near Huttonsville, in Randolph County.

In 1938, the first unemployment compensation benefit payments were made, and many thousands of persons received some aid from this source. In February, following several adverse court decisions, the National Bituminous Coal Commission voided its entire minimum price structure. As the year ended, the commission was gathering data upon which to build anew.

The new law imposing a filing fee upon candidates in primaries had its first application in 1938 and generally was credited with materially shortening the primary ballots. State credit was sound, as reflected by the sale of two $500,000 road bond issues at an interest rate of a small fraction more than 1.98 per cent.

Most of the state's festivals played return engagements in 1938, and there were several new ones. Celebrations included the Spud and Splinter Home Coming and Festival, at Richwood; the Tomato Festival, at Berkeley Springs; the Potato Festival, at Point Pleasant; the Mountain State Forest Festival at Elkins; the Tobacco Festival at Huntington; the Apple Harvest Festival at Martinsburg; the Preston County Buckwheat Home Coming at Kingwood; the Strawberry Festival at Buckhannon; and, the Rhododendron Festival at Webster Springs.

The World Fair Commission held several meetings during the year. Following the selection of a site, prominently located, plans were immediately laid to complete West Virginia's exhibit in time for the opening of the fair in the spring of 1939. In mid-December, L. T. Bengtson, of Charleston, was named by the commission as architect to design the state exhibit.

In addition to Governor Homer A. Holt, ex-officio chairman, and J. B. McLaughlin, Commissioner of Agriculture, the commission is composed of Miss Emma K. Davis, of Clarksburg, C. W. Martin, of Charleston, and the following members of the legislature who served during the regular session of 1937; Charles E. Hodges, President of the Senate; James K. Thomas, Speaker of the House of Delegates; Fred C. Allen, of Marlinton, Dan B. Fleming, of St. Marys, and A. L. Helmick, of Thomas, members of the Senate; and, Hugh Paul, of Logan, Stephen J. Russek, of Wheeling, and Kenneth S. Kurtz, of Weston, members of the House of Delegates.

No review of 1938 should omit the fact that it was the year in which the last levy for the famous Virginia debt was laid. This subject is of sufficient interest to deserve more than passive reference.

After West Virginia seceded from the mother state, our first constitution provided for the payment of our just share of Virginia's public debt. It was agreement upon this share, however, which was the stumbling block for decades. A discussion of the difficulties in the settlement of the debt would necessarily be lengthy and tedious. Suffice it to say that the disagreement between the two states appeared insoluble when, on February 26, 1906, the commonwealth of Virginia instituted in the Supreme Court of the United States a suit in equity against the state of West Virginia.

Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine, was appointed Master to ascertain the facts so that a decision upon the amount of the debt could be reached in accordance with legal principles. It was a task of formidable proportions, inasmuch as many valuable and important records had been destroyed or lost, and most persons who had a personal knowledge of the facts had passed away.

On June 14, 1915, the Supreme Court rendered formal judgment against West Virginia for $4,215,622.28, with interest at 4 per cent from January 1, 1861, to 1891, and at 3 per cent from 1891 to July 1, 1915. This meant that the interest alone amounted to $8,178,307.22, and that, on January 1, 1915, interest and principal aggregated $12,393,929.50. The court specified further that the entire sum should bear interest at 5 per cent until paid.

When the West Virginia Legislature finally took action in 1919, the debt actually totaled $14,562,867.16. In that year, West Virginia made a cash payment to Virginia of $1,062,867.16, and for the remainder due provided for the issuance of bonds, aggregating $13,500,000, payable in 20 years, and bearing interest at the rate of 3½ per cent. Since that date, the bonds have been called and reissued at lower rates of interest.

At last the final chapter in this famous case, long a matter of controversy in the legislature, is about to be written. When a state warrant for the final installment of $560,000.00 is delivered on June 15, 1939, West Virginia's debt to the Mother State will have been paid in full.
